Plan: County Eyes Challenge vousness without causing a your nerves and wash them

> By ED PRICKETT Herald Staff Writer

The Seminole County Commission today instructed County Attorney Joe Mount to look into the legal possibilities of opposing the City of Sanford's plan to operate a sanitary landfill on an 85.45-acres site at SR-46A and Oregon

Today's action came after a spokesman from the 46A Environmental Protection Association said there is "no need. requirement or excuse" for another dump in Seminole County. "The county dump at Geneva is more than adequate for all users," said Horace Paul, the organization's spokesman

Representatives from the same group are expected to attend a public hearing Thursday at 8 p.m. of the Sanford Planning and Zoning Commission considering a request to rezone land for the proposed landfill from residential to agricultural.

In January, the Sanford City Commission reed to buy the 85.45-acre site for $320,437 from a group of out-of-state investors. Santo operate the landfill. Paul said 40 or 50 persons belong to the 46A association. He said he has petitions with 500 signatures of residents near the proposed landfill site opposing the landfill.

Commission Chairman Dick Williams said residents of unincorporated areas near the landfill will have no say in the matter. Williams called Sanford's action "a much more deadly circumstance than so-called double taxation."

Commissioner John Kimbrough said the county needs to determine solid reasons why the dump shouldn't go there before entering the fray. Commissioner Bill Kirchhoff agreed the attorney should "look into" the issue and "advise us legally where we stand."

In a letter to the commission today, Paul said the proposed dump "would certainly be a public nuisance with attendant litter, rats, flies, birds, noise and of course the odor "Value of property adjacent to and in the vicinity of the proposed dump will be depreciated," Paul said. "It is interesting to note that almost all property surrounding the site is in unincorporated areas of the county and is not within Sanford city limits." Paul's letter also raised the possibility that private wells in the vicinity of the proposed dump "would be polluted and very possibly the water supplies of the Cities of Sanford and Lake Mary would be polluted."

'Much more deadly circumstance

Sanford officials contend a city-operated landfill would be cheaper than using county landfill facilities and that all DER health and safety regulations would be met by the city in operating a landfill. These rules, they say, will insure safety of the water supply and homes near the landfill.

The letter said over 85 acres would be taken off the tax rolls. It said about one-half million dollars would be spent on land and equipment to set up and operate a dump that is "totally unnecessary." Paul's letter also says if Sanford sets up its own dump it will pave the way for other municipalities to do the same.

By a 3-2 vote, the Seminol County Commission today decided not to spend $78,000 this year that was budgeted for construction of a park near the Apple Valley subdivision in southern Seminole County. Commissioner Harry Kwiatkowski, a Democrat, asked that the funds be spent to develop Sanlando Park in line viul budgetary commi made last year. But Commission Chairman

Dick Williams, a Republican who has been feuding with Kwiatkowski over the park. disagreed and voted not to spend the money. Commissioners John Kim-

E. J. was just a boy. Now, he's 36, and twice a month you can find him out in front of the courthouse in Sanford doing as good as he can do.

A big man, E. J. stoops and bends, scooping out blind mosquitoes, dead fish - an occasional empty bottle someone lazily lobbed into the fountains in front of the courthouse. You can spot him there. Usually, he wears green shirt. And he has on waist-high waders to keep the water out.

"Ahhh, I'm getting along," says E. J. as he bends and scoops. E. J. takes pride in his job. "You're got to," he says.

Seems though, he always ends up with the task of cleaning the

"Yeah, I suppose so. I usually wind up with it." As a county maintenance technician, E. J. could draw other tasks. Maybe one of the reasons he gets the moat cleanup detail is because when he gets through, the bottom of the pond shines. Literally shines.

E. J. keeps on bending and scooping until it's clean. Not half clean. Really clean. One time, though, E. J. just gave it all up. Quit. Went over to the Sanford Naval Station, where the money was better. "But I came back. I got word that the Naval Center was going to close, so I came back," E. J. says.

Supreme Court Going Easy

On Panama Canal Query

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Supreme Court today refused to immediately consider whether the Carter administration has the constitutional power to surrender control of the Panama Canal Zone to Panama. The justices turned down a request by six members of Congress and a U.S. citizen living in the Canal Zone that the court expedite consideration of their appeal from a lower court.

The appeal charges that the President and secretary of state have no power to enter into a treaty giving away control of a U.S. territory. It claims that such power is reserved specifically for Congress by the Constitution.

He Wants Porpoises Protected

WASHINGTON (AP) - A California Republican is hoping to convince the House to go easy on the porpoise when lawmakers debate legislation this week to increase the number of marine mammals which tuna fishermen may kill. The tuna-porpoise issue is at the top of the agenda as the House returns Wednesday from a five-day Memorial Day recess. On Thursday, lawmakers turn their attention to President Carter's proposal for a Department of Energy.

Cause Of Fire Investigated

SOUTHGATE, Ky. (AP) - The hunt for bodies has given way to a search for clues to the fire that in moments consumed the Beverly Hills Supper Club, killing at least 160 diners and nightclub patrons. Late Monday, a giant crane began ripping down the brick and wood facade, finishing what the fire started. Southgate Fire Chief Dick Riesenberg said he is "absolutely certain" the rubble will yield no more victims.

Flight Luggage Limits Up

WASHINGTON (AP) - Just in time for summer vacation, new rules are going into effect permitting travelers on most overseas flights to carry a lot more luggage. Beginning Wednesday, free baggage allowances on most flights will be based on the number of pieces a passenger is carrying and on their size rather than on weight, the Civil Aeronautics Board says.

Satellite Destroyer Weapon

WASHINGTON (AP) - Russia's latest test of a satellite-destroying weapon, conducted despite an appeal from President Carter for a ban on such weapons, ended in apparent failure, U.S. intelligence sources believe.

A Soviet interceptor satellite went past its target satellite at a distance of less than 50 miles in the test last week, Russia's first in about five months, the sources say,

U.S. experts acknowledge it is difficult to tell whether such a test is a success or a failure without knowing Soviet technical objectives at the current stage of development. But U.S. study of the results has produced a consensus that the May 23 intercept test failed.

FBI Joins Investigation

Of $400,000 Art Heist

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) - The FBI has been called into the investigation of what local police believe is an international theft of 1827 prints valued at $400,000 from the Audubon House museum.

The theft of the 437 rare John J. Audubon prints, which included pictures of 18 birds found only in the Caribbean, such as the flamingo and whitecrowned pigeon, was discovered Saturday.

The prints were probably sold before the burglary was done, said Key West policeman Neal Chancellor. "It was a highly professional group and the paintings may be out of the country by now."

The prints are copper-plate engraved copies of watercolors by the naturalist. The 200 sets of prints made from the plates were then colored by hand, working from Audubon's originals and his notes.

Tax Relief Bill To Askew

TALLAHASSEE (AP) - The legislature has passed and sent to the governor a bill hailed as a major property-tax relief measure. It will aid as many as 20,000 lowincome homeowners.

Final passage to the proposal, to permit some property owners to defer their taxes until after death, was by a 35-0 Monday vote in the Senate. Its chief sponsor was Sen. Kenneth Myers, D-Miami.

The bill (SB95) would allow a homeowner to defer property taxes amounting to more than five per cent of his annual income with the amount becoming a lien on his property. The deferrals could continue until the amount of the lien totaled 80 per cent of the taxable value of the home.

Vandals Damage Loader

Sheriff's deputies today were probing vandalism to earthmoving machinery in south Seminole. Edward Bailey of Bailey's Field Dirt Excavating reported damages of more than $500 to a frontend loader. Deputy R.W. Gregory said Bailey reported the machine was parked in a vacant lot across from 100 North Spring Lake Drive when someone put sand in the exhaust, hydraulic and lubrication systems and pulled the dash panel apart. Gregory said a grease gun, wrenches and a "slow moving"

sign, total value $50, were reported stolen from the machine. Sheriff's deputies jailed

Daniel Hopkins, 40, of 192 W. Warren St., Longwood, Monday on a circuit court warrant charging the obtaining of property by worthless check. Bond for Hopkins was set at 35,000, according to county jail records.

CITY OF SANFORD WASTES TAXPAYERS MONEY

HAS $350,000 TO DUMP INTO GARBAGE LANDFILL BUT NO MONEY FOR STORM SEWERS, SIDEWALKS, OR FIREMEN

Whether the City of Sanford uses its own tax money or federal

"revenue sharing" or "grant" money - - - you've paid the property or income taxes to raise it. What do you want them to do with it?

- How is it that federal money is allegedly available for a garbage landfill, but not for the storm sewer modernization and enlargement that's been badly needed for years? Sanford's growth forces more and more storm water through antique and undersized lines.
- "If federal revenue sharing funds . . . had been sufficient, we (the City Commission) would like to have had curbs, gutters and sidewalks on all streets," said Mayor Lee Moore (Herald 5-19-77), about the complaints of black neighborhoods. The black community is the economic core of Sanford, providing most of the labor force for agribusiness, manpower to attract industry, and customers for
- City firefighters had to beg for a raise in starting salaries in January from the city's general fund. They have been promised the raise in October, from $8,141.22 for a 56-hour week to $9,372.19 ($2.80. hour to $3.22 hour). Starting policemen get $4.10-hour, $9,372.19 for 44 hours. We depend on these people to protect our lives, safety, homes and businesses; and these salaries are scandalously low for the quality of personnel and services we demand.

HOW MUCH WILL THE GARBAGE LANDFILL COST?

$350,000 is the most conservative figure, just to start up the new garbage landfill-you may be sure it will actually cost much, much more. The figures are: Land purchase (under contract) . $320,437.50 Initial engineering (already paid)

4.800.00 Land preparation estimate . 26,647.16# Total $351,884.66

+ Ifigure taken from city manager's file in January, before major modifications required by state environmental agency

7 YEAR USE:

Current city plans are to use only 23 acres of the 85.45 acres for only 7 years. $320,400 divided by 23 acres equals $13,900 per acre to dump garbage on. The rest of the land obviously will not be usable

USING THE COUNTY LANDFILL:

The city manager says the old airport dump cost about $20,000 per year to operate; but the land was free. If Sanford buys the proposed parcel and uses it for the planned 7 years, the land and start-up costs alone will be $50,000 per year. ($350,000 divided by 7 years equals $50,000 per year).

The city manager says the county is now charging Sanford an average $5,000 per month to use the county landfill. $5,000 times 12 months equals $60,000 per year. Sanford can save $10,000 per year using the county landfill in the remote Osceola area, using their own figures. Does this make sense?

WILL BE ONLY CITY NOT USING COUNTY LANDFILL:

. . . And the others aren't paying that much more. For example, Altamonte Springs charges $2.50 a month to the customer; approximately another $1.50 per household is added from general revenues, for an actual total cost of about $4 per month. Sanford's 6,650 customers now pay $3.95 per month.

ESTIMATED OPERATING COSTS:

The $20,000 annual operating cost estimate is based on obsolete methods no longer acceptable to the state and federal environmental agencies.

Volusia County is considering a plan to "convert from burying raw garbage (a sanitary landfill) to a shredding operation, which has the effect of sanitizing solid waste and eliminating a multitude of other expensive treatment requirements mandated by the State Department of Encost $6 million to install." (DeLand Sun-News 1-31-77) contract carried an assessed valuation of $152,600 on the 1976 tax rolls. The city will lose this tax income. Can Sanford afford this when 49 per cent of the assessable land in the city is already tax-exempt?

OSS ON THE TAX ROLLS: The 85.45 acres under

OTHER HIDDEN COSTS

EX-LANDFILL VIRTUALLY USELESS: The land will be off the tax rolls and severely diminished in value for years, because not even a parking lot could be built on it without special state permission. The Department of Environmental Regulation severely restricts the uses to which old landfill can be put.

A DER official said the regulations were "for the safety aspects With conventional building techniques you could have problems like shifting foundations and cracking pavements Early in the game there's the possibility of gas developing there. You'd probably need to wait for several years." (Herald 2.7.77)

OVERPRICED LAND: The total parcel of 85.45 acres is overpriced at $320,437.50 or $3,750 per acre. Less than a week before the city signed the contract to buy the land, a 47-acre tract less than a thousand feet away changed hands for ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS AN ACRE. (Kastner to Adair on 1-3-77)

CITY-COUNTY VENDETTA: The county has been selected as the enforcement arm for the state environmental agency to supervise possible pollution sources in Seminole, such as landfills. The taxpayers are vironmental Regulation. A shredding facility . . . would going to make the lawyers on both sides rich with the endless squabbling in store.

WEST SANFORD RESIDENTS TO BECOME ENDANGERED SPECIES?

DECOMPOSITION GAS DANGEROUS:

The city's own engineering report outlines the dangers to nearby homes and schools: "Landfill gas is important to consider. . . because methane can explode and mineralization of groundwater can occur if carbon dioxide dissolves and forms carbonic acid. (Appendix 1-7) . Methane gas has moved from a landfill and accumulated in explosive concentrations in sever lines and nearby buildings. Gas from landfills has also killed nearby vegetation, presumably by excluding oxygen from the root zone." (Appendix 1-25) 'The potential movement of gas, is, therefore, an essential element to consider when selecting a site It is particularly important in residential areas." (Appendix 1-8)

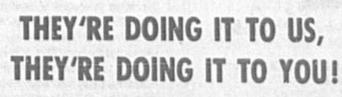

ANIMAL DANGER:

Wild, abandoned and stray animals are naturally attracted to garbage, even in landfills: ".... the county animal control department reported wild dogs were harassing county employees who work at the landfill in northeast Seminole County." (Sentinel 4-3-77) Rats, raccoons, wild dogs and cats - all within one-half mile of Idyllwilde Elementary.

UNDERGROUND FIRES:

The county operated a "modern, up to date" landfill at Sanlando, 1970-73. Residents recall two underground fires (similar to muck fires) which couldn't be put out for weeks. When machines broke. down, the comparatively well-equipped county had no back-up equipment to cover the garbage, so it baked in the sun producing terrible smells, blowing litter, and a sudden increase in animal numbers.

Begin's Bark May Be Worse Than Bite

We would have to look inside the heads of Israeli voters to know exactly what they were saying with their stinging defeat of the Labor Party in the recent elections. It clearly was a signal for change, but the mix of foreign and domestic issues in the election makes it risky to assume what changes the voters had in mind.

The Arabs are being too hasty with their reaction that "this means war." They are reading more than they should into the hard-line stance of the victorious Likud party toward Arab-Israeli issues and into the hawkish personality of the Likud leader and next prime minister, Menahem Begin. Mr. Begin must govern with a coalition. Coalitions require compromises. The extent of those which Mr. Begin must make to form his government and sustain a majority in the Knesset are yet to emerge.

True, Israel's defense policies under the Labor government and her "special relationship" with the United States were targets of the Likud campaign. But Labor also was defending itself against scandals in the government of former Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin, and against inflation and widespread economic discontent. The latter issues doubtless accounted for many votes drained away from labor by the "New Democratic Movement for Change" that picked up 14 seats in the Knesset.

Mr. Begin's defiance of American pressure on Israeli policy - especially on the issue of the occupied territories - may have received less of an endorsement than he might like to believe.

Announcing plans to visit Washington as soon as a cabinet is sworn in, Mr. Begin declares that he does not intend to let the United States impose a peace settlement in the Middle East. He can save his breath. President Carter has been saying all along that the United States will not attempt to impose a settlement.

What Mr. Carter is trying to impose on both sides is an obligation to begin talking in realistic terms about the issues that divide them - for the Arabs, a recognition of Israel's right to a peaceful existence: for the Israelis, a recognition of the right of Palestinian refugees to a permanent "homeland," and on down the line. He has been appealing for open-mindedness, a quality not often evident in the political rhetoric on either side.

Israelis have voted for a change in the status quo, but that surely does not mean closing the door on negotiations at Geneva or elsewhere which could lead to an end of the state of war in the Middle East. Mr. Begin's bark may turn out to be worse than his bite when he moves from a position of leader of an opposition party to the seat of power in a coalition government.

Limited Partnership

In opening his televised "town hall" exchange with Los Angeles area residents, President Carter stressed the importance of government's "partnership" with the people in dealing with domestic and foreign policy issues.

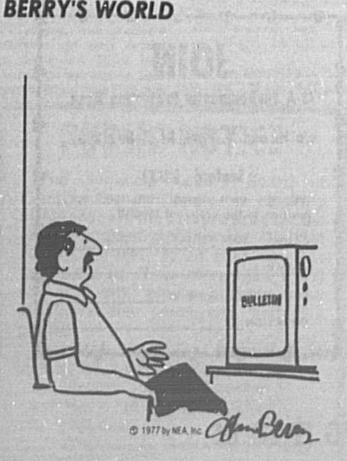

But the range of questions, suggestions and presidential esponses revealed the wide gap between invididual concerns and leadership's commitment to the collective national welfare. Self-interest cannot always be reconciled with the total public demand on government or government's effort to heed the demand. Mr. Carter's continuing "dialogue with the people"

For 15 years, dog, you lived behind my mother's home. For 15 years, dog, you burnmed meals off the

I also explained about your grin, dog. You had one alright. When things went your way, dog, you rinned. Literally grinned.

But if things didn't go your way, the howling would set in. And you got your way then, dog. Either that, or the howling didn't stop.

generals who are always fighting the last war, imerican politics has more than its share of candidates convinced that they can win by waging last year's campaign.

For those countless politicians who assume that last year's formula for victory also is next year's key to surefire success, the current subject of fascination is the man who went from obscurity to the presidency in two years.

Many of the would-be officeholders who have analyzed Jimmy Carter's somewhat unconventional drive for the White House have concluded that the single most important element of his strategy was his decision to begin full-time campaigning as early as 1974.

The result is that a small army of men and women who aspire to political office in 1978 already are hand-shaking, fund-raising and even publicly announcing their candidacies - months before most politicians started organizing for past elections.

The best evidence of what's happening comes from the professional political consultants and campaign managers who provide behind the THE LONDON ECONOMIST scenes counsel as well as crucial technical services such as survey research, advertising and public relations to hundreds of office-seekers in every even-numbered year.

"Right now, we've pretty much lined up our ge of clients for 1978, something we never had at a comparable time in the past," says world the vice-presidents' wife, Joan Mondale, Douglas L. Ford in the 1976 presidential campaign.

Richard Wirthlin, president of Decision Making Information, a Santa Ana, Calif, firm which provides polling services to Republicans, recalls that his first 1978 contender was signed up only one week after the 1976 election.

Wirthlin says he now is advising not only a bevy of 1978 office-seekers but also a 1980 candidate - and he ascribes that unprecedented early rush principally to the example set by Carter.

"At this time in 1975, we had six candidates for Senate seats and governorships in various states," says Peter D. Hart, head of a Washington firm which bears his name and does survey research for Democrats.

"Today we have 12 candidates in that category. It's filling up much more quickly than ever before," adds Hart, who also boasts a 1980 candidate and says he will be able to accept only five more 1978 contenders before reaching the point where he must turn away prospective

Joe Rothstein is a partner in the Washington firm of Rothstein-Buckley, most of whose clients are Democrats. He picked up his first 1978 client in the spring of 1976 and says that "right now, 1976 election."

Brevard Wins Chase For Ruben Cotton

Ruben Cotton, Mr. Basketball around Seminole High School the last couple of years, signed on the dotted line this morning. throwing his towel and talents in with Brevard Community College of Cocoa.

"Pound-for-pound and inch-for-inch, Ruben is the best catch in Florida." says Brevard coach Jim Oler. "I feel he is our most important guard signee since Harold Fox."

Cotton, who averaged 21 points on power basketball last season, will have to develop an outside shot to compete in JuCo basketball, according to Oler. "We have talked about it. and with his attitude and desire, I feel he is going to be very good. In fact, if we can play him at point guard, he should be able to go on to any school in the country." Brevard topped a number of other attractive basketball offers for Cotton's services the next two years. Seminole Community College had hoped to sign him, however the 6-1 senior opted for Oler's program, which has produced 13 straight state tournament appearances and two trips to the national tournament. Last March Brevard lost in the state finals to Gulf Coast.

Joe Mills, coach of last year's team, said Cotton was "at the top" of the list of the most outstanding players to have played under him in his 18-year coaching career.

according to the lawsuit. The city didn't collect any taxes on the shopping center between 1963 and 1976, according to the court complaint, but on Sept. 14, 1976 Casselberry adopted ordinance number 315 for the levy and collection of property taxes. For the fiscal year ending Sept. 30, 1977 county Propert Appraiser Terry Goembel assessed and county Tax Collector G. Troy Ray collected $4,842 in city property taxes on the shopping center for Casselberry. McConnell and Wetenhall paid the taxes under protest, according to the lawsuit.

No hearing date has been set for the lawsuit, which asks the court to rule Goembel and Ray in violation of Casselberry ordinance number 99.

The shopping center owners are asking the court to order the money refunded with interest and to rule that the 1963 annexation ordinance is still valid and binding upon the city of Casselberry and its agents.

Planning to welcome the summer season with a bang - and a picnic and a song - is the Central Florida Chorale. The group of Sanford area singers will be serving chicken barbecue dinners and singing to entertain diners at the Central Florida Zoo Park on Saturday from 4 -7 p.m. Among the singers preparing homemade baked beans, coleslaw, rolls and iced tea to accompany the chicken will be
