Nikita Jokes About Bomb 'Mistake'

Says Blast Bigger Than Scientists Figured It To Be

MOSCOW (UPI)—Premier Nikita Khrushchev said today Soviet scientists made a mistake Monday and exploded a nuclear bomb more powerful than 50 megatons.

Informed sources said Khrushchev told a cheering session of the Soviet Communist party congress that the scientists had intended to set off only the 50-megaton blast he had predicted in an earlier speech to the congress.

But Khrushchev said, according to the sources, that the explosion turned out to be bigger than the scientists figured.

Khrushchev joked about the "mistake," according to those who heard him speak in the Kremlin's Palace of Congresses. "We shall not punish them (the scientists) for it," he said.

The crowd in the auditorium burst into applause and laughter.

Scientists in Western Europe and Japan reported that the big blast Monday was about 2.5 times as large as the Oct. 23 explosion of 30 megatons—making it equal possibly to as much as the detonation of 75 million tons of TNT.

In Washington, however, the Atomic Energy Commission said preliminary indications were that the latest explosion was equal to 30 megatons.

Books also will be in the area to be annexed from Nov. 13 through Nov. 17 at Anderson's Grocery Store, Sanlando Trailer Court, corner of Hwy. 17-92 and SR 434.

Rolling places for the Dec. 5 election, when three councilmen also will be named, will be in the City Hall and in the Recreation Building of the Sanlando Trailer Court. Folls will be open from 7 a. m. until 7 p. m.

Polos Routed In 2 Border Clashes

BERLIN (UPI)—West Berlin police twice routed Communist police with tear-gas attacks in border fights during the night, West Berlin authorities reported today.

Police headquarters said the Communist police fled in disorder from two points on the border when Western police used tear-gas grenades to defend themselves.

Western police said that at one stage of the battle, the Communists brought their machine pistols into firing position but were ordered to stop.

There is absolutely no truth to the report that two astronauts went to the moon in one spaceship and both charged the U. S. government with $1,241.83 in mileage.

Here's an interesting story out of Broward County: We quote from a wire service release:

"Two suits, filed in Circuit Court today (Saturday) in the wake of a Broward County property re-assessment, contend county commissioners in Florida have no powers.

Carl Haasen, counsel for the plaintiffs, told newsmen that under a 1944 constitutional change, "county commissioners can sit around and gossip, but that's all."

There is absolutely no truth to the report that the Herald sports editor and photographer went to the Leesburg game in the same car and both put in for mileage.

The Sheriff's office turned in $9,751.67 in excess fees from the 1960-61 budget.

What's this about music being piped into the cells at the new county jail?

Here's a breakdown on costs at the jail:

Contractor — $275,000; steel cells, $126,707; $7,250 for kitchen equipment; elevator, $15,606; office furniture, $10,897.

Building permits in Sanford really soared from September of 1960 to this past September: Last year's September total was set at $1,971,221. This September, $2,335,825.

Is it true that officials at the Palm Hotel are upset because they were left out of the Herald progress edition? By the way, you can pick a copy up at the Herald office.

The deadline for youngsters to enter the Christmas theme contest is midnight Wednesday. All entries must be sent to Hamilton Pope, care of the Jaycees, Box 339. The contest is open to youngsters grades one to six.

By the way, the only polling places in the city election will be at city hall.

Attention County Road Dept.: Longwood residents are wondering just how long it's going to take to finish up that small strip of Orange Ave. from the Longwood city limits on out to Hwy. 17-92.

WINTER PARK—The 2nd Annual 8th Congressional District Forum, open to the public, will be held at Winter Park's Langford Hotel, Monday, Nov. 13, from 2-4 p. m., featuring Sen. Holland, and Rep. Herlong.

Sugar Curbs Off

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Acreage restrictions will be off sugar cane in the main and growing areas of Florida and Louisiana in 1962 for the third consecutive time—and probably the last time.

Kin Of Jet Victim Thanks Sanford For Helping Hand

Sanford today was called the greatest city adjacent to any Navy installation in the U. S. by the mother-in-law of one of the fliers killed in the Oct. 12 Navy jet crash here.

In a warm letter to the City Commission, Mrs. Charles Jones of Pasadena, Calif., wrote:

"During the air tragedy over your City October 13 when two Navy jets collided leaving six men dead, many of the parents urgently flew or otherwise came to Sanford to be with their loved ones in this hour of need.

"I came to your City to be with my daughter, Charlene, the widow of Lt. Bruce H. Graham, and stayed in Sanford about five days in order to handle the necessary business arising from this accident. I was able to observe by my personal contact the feelings and sympathies of the citizens of your community; and I want to express on behalf of my daughter, her children and my family our gratitude for all the favors and co-operation extended to us during this period.

"In enlisting the aid of a local attorney to assist with the legal work, this gentleman would charge nothing for the services. My daughter had her hair done at a local beauty parlor prior to the Church services without any cost. Even the kennel where the family pet was lodged would not accept payment for this service. In addition, many of the town's people telephoned asking if there was

"OH, WHAT A KOOKIE KAPER!" cries a pretty little fairy, suddenly surrounded by a bunch of weirdies who are trying to scare her. An unfriendly clown, a shivery ghost, a fierce pirate and a leering devil all hover over the poor little fairy—(does she know that they are really just the boys next door?)

The Spooking Hour Is Drawing Nigh

Once again the world of reality will be invaded for a night by weird creatures from out of the darkness, as Seminole County children celebrate the ancient autumnal festival of Halloween tonight.

At Southside School, all is in readiness for (un-filled) activities for Halloween for children and adults too. Mrs. Robert Graham, chairman of the carnival, and all her committee workers are ready for the children.

Trick or treating for a worthy cause will be the children of Grace Methodist Church in Pinecrest, the Community Presbyterian Church in Lake Mary and the children of the Casselberry Methodist Church, who will ring doorbells for UNICEF, asking for pennies to go to the aid of children all over the world.

Those working for UNICEF will carry special containers and wear tags to identify themselves.

Oviedo Woman Dies In Crash

A 65-year-old Oviedo woman died late Monday night after being hit by a car on SR 419 in Oviedo, the Florida Highway Patrol reported.

The woman was identified as Lydia Wright. Driver of the car was William Burek of Winter Park. No charges were filed.

Trooper J. L. Sikes said the woman was hit after she walked out behind a bus.

Hattie Hits Belize

MIAMI (UPI)—The main force of Hurricane Hattie tore into the British Honduran coast near Belize this morning with huge waves, torrential rains and 150-mile-an-hour winds, the Miami Weather Bureau said.

DeLand Man Dies Of Crash Injuries

John McCormick, 19, DeLand, critically injured last Monday in a two-car collision in Geneva, died over the weekend at Orange Memorial Hospital.

Another man in the mishap, Harley Cox of Oviedo died shortly after the accident which occurred at the intersection of SR 426 and SR 46.

Knowles Denies Bids Restricted

City Manager W. E. Knowles today denied any restrictive bidding or, specifications in regard to vehicle bids and declared all city bidding is "strictly open."

Knowles made the statement after the City Commission meeting in special session Monday, agreed to readvertise all bids and specifications for two police cars, four pick-up trucks and a compact car after a Sanford dealer said the bids were "restrictive."

Donald Bates, Studebaker dealer, appeared before the board questioning the low bids on two of the items. He said he was low on the pick-up trucks and compact car.

At an earlier meeting, the commission opened bids with the apparent low bid Ford Dealer, Strickland-Morrison.

Knowles said that all car dealers will be invited to attend the next City Commission meeting Nov. 13 to render their views on whether any bids were restrictive.

In other business, the board agreed to allow Sarah Arnold to hold teenage dancing at 1223 W. 13th St. on a trial basis.

Shopping Center Drainage Asked

County Engineer Carlton Bliss will ask the County Commission this afternoon to consider possible legal action to condemn drainage rights-of-way for the shopping center on Hwy. 17-92 and SR 436 or, the center might abandon any expansion plans.

Bliss said that two residents have refused to give drainage rights-of-way. Bliss was authorized on Aug. 29 to attempt to get rights of way after an attorney for the center said that some relief must be given or the expansion plans would be abandoned.

At the present time, only Public Food Market is located at the center.

Eastern Shopping Centers Inc. attorney Joel Wells Jr. cited the need for a drainage plan calling for digging of some 3,500 feet of canal.

Judge Williams Officiates At Ceremonies Here

Circuit Judge Volie Williams this afternoon dedicated the new half million dollar jail with these words: "May we never need one any larger."

Before a large crowd, Judge Williams urged a "critical self-appraisal" to put a stop to crime so that jails will be unnecessary.

"One of the unfortunate circumstances of this life," Judge Williams said, "is that jails are necessary. But then that is equally true of hospitals, fire departments, mental institutions and even the laws of man under which we live."

"Many of the people who will occupy the second floor of this building will be in because of the failure of those who will be forever outside it. The increase in crime is much greater than our corresponding increase in growth, the judge emphasized.

"My experience on the bench leads me to the inescapable conclusion that its greatest cause is the moral decay of our society. If only our sense of brotherhood, of neighborhood, of compassion would keep pace with our scientific achievements, perhaps we would not need so many correctional institutions and jails."

"Such statements," Judge Williams continued, "may well brand me as a bleeding heart; but I must confess that while my heart does go out to many young offenders, it is simply because I have not the power to place their parents in jail in their stead."

Judge Williams explained that if the parents of juvenile offenders had loved them, "our prison population could be reduced by very nearly one half."

"Some of these parents think so little of their responsibility, they even refuse to come to court with their offspring."

"While jails are necessary, our answer lies not in the construction of more and more of them, but in critical self-appraisal as to what we can do to reverse the present trend," he said.

"While few, if any, people, connected with law enforcement believe in molly-coddling prisoners, society's interest is best served by providing at least an opportunity for a felon to rehabilitate himself. This building is evidence that the society now demands something more than its Pound of flesh and instead, is willing to pay for a modern jail.

Judge Williams also complimented the past county commission for planning, and financing the jail and well as the board which saw to its fruition."

Hoot Owls Return From Exercises

The Hoot Owls of Heavy Attack Squadron Nine began to return home following a 10 day period of operation aboard the USS Saratoga. The ship was conducting operations with the Second Fleet along the Atlantic Coast exercise simulating nuclear attacks.

VAH-9 and the other squadrons of Air Group Three which were embarked aboard the Saratoga, received the personal congratulations of Admiral Anderson, chief of naval operations, for an outstanding job during the exercise. Admiral Anderson came with Secretary of Defense McNamara, Attorney General Robert Kennedy, and other high government officials.

They were introduced to Cdr. T. A. Wakfield, commanding officer of the Hoot Owls, and the other squadron commanders of Air Group Three.

Following the informal introductions in Nine's ready room, the visitors were escorted to the bridge where they witnessed an Air Power demonstration put on by the Saratoga's Air Group in which Nine took its usual vanguard part, leading the rest of the Air Group in a flyby which was said by the Admiral to be one of the finest he had seen.

Wagner said that he was proud of the outstanding performance of the squadron in the exercise and, as always, was pleased to be back home again in Sanford.

The City Directory is a peculiar book, alone in its field, and with a style all its own. Like the dictionary, it says much in a few words, many of them abbreviated to a "skeleton." While it does not attempt to rate credit, it does furnish clues in this direction; it distinguishes between corporations and copartnerships, bachelors and benedicts, misses and matrons, employers and employes, executives and janitors. It is democratic in that alphabetical sequence is the ironclad rule of priority in the listings. Thus one may note that here for once pauper and millionaire, ragamuffin and Beau Brummel, workman and "big wheel," hod carrier and captain of industry, scrubwoman and social dowerer, "Judy O'Grady and the Colonel's Lady," rich man, poor man, beggar man and thief, rub elbows.

The new edition is a substantial handy volume, listing 14,176 names in Sanford and vicinity. The combined names of man and wife are considered as only one name, the Publishers pointed out.

Special features of the Directory include the designations of tenant-owned and rented homes, heads of households, marital status, wives' names, and homes and places of business having telephones, a numerical telephone directory and an illustrated story of the city by the Chamber of Commerce.

The Publishers commented on Sanford's wide business diversity, pointing out that they found many different kinds of business and professional enterprises in operation here, ranging alphabetically from Abstractors to Xerography and chronologically from "Piano Tuners" to Television, and running the diversified gamut through "Automobile Renting," "Saw Filers," "Food Storage Plants," "Laundries-Self Serve," "Dairy Products," "Dry Goods," "General Merchandise," "Baby Sitters," etc.

The Sanford City Directory functions as a sort of ambassador for this busy city over the country, showing outsiders "who's who, what, where and how," the Publishers pointed out. The latest issue of the book is distributed to numerous branches of the free Directory Library System operated country-wide by the members of the Association of North American Directory Publishers, of which R. L. Polk & Co. is a member. The local unit of this out-of-town Directory Service is maintained at the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, for the free-reference use of the public.

Fresh Start!

The cars people remember—the idea-starters, the trend-setters—throw away all the old ideas, start fresh... and make history. Such a car is coming from Ford in a few weeks. You'll recognize the name—but that's all that's the same! It's an all-new kind of Ford... right size... right price... right between Galaxie and Falcon.

We borrowed the name from one of yesterday's famous Ford's—the Fairlane 500. And we borrowed absolutely nothing else.

The new Ford Fairlane 500 is a completely new size—right between Galaxie and Falcon. For just about everybody it's just the right size... with the room, the ride, the comfort of a big car... the economy and easy handling of a small one.

The new Ford Fairlane 500 has a completely new price—right between Galaxie and Falcon. For just about everybody it's just the right price—well below previous Fairlanes, under many compacts.

Unique new size—like no other new car you've seen this year

The new Ford Fairlane 500 is a foot shorter than the Fairlanes that came before it. You zip through traffic, park in places that used to be out limits.

A just right 197 inches from stem to stern, the new Ford Fairlane 500 is still as big inside as some of the biggest Ford's ever built. The explanation is a completely new unified body which shapes bulk, saves room.

Twice-a-year maintenance

Twice-a-year maintenance is now a fact. Routine service has been reduced to a minimum—30,000 miles on many items, no more than twice a year or 4,000 miles on the rest. You go 30,000 miles between major lubrications, 6,000 miles between oil changes and minor lubrications. Go two years—or 30,000 miles—without changing engine coolant antifreeze. The car adjusts its own brakes.

New V-8 gem from the world's most dazzling collection

Its name is the Challenger V-8. The world's newest Eight, it was designed specifically for the Fairlane 500. Thirty years of Ford V-8 leadership inspired it; new Ford foundry techniques made it possible.

Drive it. You're in for a powerful surprise: the hand that honed those big Thunderbird V-8's put the final polish on this one. But perhaps the biggest surprise of all is the Challenger V-8's thrift.

For those who want even greater savings, there is a new Fairlane Six that delivers gasoline mileage many compacts would envy.

Teams of new Ford's are on the move from coast to coast as part of Preview Run U.S.A. See and drive the all-new Fairlane 500 in advance of introduction. It's the best car fine ever priced so low. You'll find it at your Ford Dealer's in a few weeks.

Tough Job

A grand jury is the most powerful investigative body in our country. It is the watchdog of the people. A grand jury has tremendous powers and also has a responsibility to use those wisely.

The Seminole County fall term grand jury is to be headed for its thorough investigation into Civil Defense and the county home.

It takes courage and time for the grand jury to delve into governmental operations. It is their responsibility to ascertain whether our tax money is being spent wisely. It is their responsibility to determine whether our elected officials have conducted themselves and their offices properly.

When public officials are doing a good job and handling the taxpayers' money properly, the grand jury should commend them. If anyone has not met his official responsibility, the grand jury SHOULD AND MUST ADVISE THE PUBLIC.

We commend our grand jury for the time and effort its members are expending to thoroughly investigate the work of public employees.

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

Although men gladly offer liquor and cigars to the girls they seek as paramours, they veto such bad habits in girls they wish to marry, for men still employ a 6-4-6 standard. Use the cigarette yardstick below as a shrewd "fortune telling" method regarding human personality. It helps you diagnose people.

CASE K-436: Dr. D. K. Purroy, is one of our leading American psychologists.

Recently he completed a survey of college students who smoked cigarettes vs. those who did not smoke.

Many similar surveys have been made on this same point in the past 50 years, with almost identical results.

So, before we announce his findings, let's see how well you readers can diagnose human behavior.

Do you think the smokers made higher grades than the non-smokers?

If a student smoked half a pack a day, did he score higher or lower in school marks than the fellow who smoked more than a full pack per day?

What about the students who drop out of college? Do the smokers or the non-smokers furnish the largest percentage of such dropouts?

Cigarette Fortune Telling

The use of cigarettes is really quite an interesting method of analyzing personality.

It is far superior to other fortune telling methods, and you can have a lot of fun employing cigarettes as a yardstick for personality analysis.

For example, if a child has been overly regimented and coerced, will he be more likely to smoke than the child whose parents have treated him more as an equal?

If a child is a victim of a social inferiority complex, is he more likely to accept a cigarette at a party, or less likely?

If a child is small for his age or a physical weakling, will it be more likely to smoke or less likely?

Prodigal Son Test

Remember the Biblical Prodigal Son? He was the second son. In the typical family, will the oldest child be more likely to smoke than the younger child, or vice versa?

In college, will the freshmen students from country villages be more likely to accept cigarettes at a fraternity "smoker" than the fellows from a large city?

Is a fraternity or sorority member more likely to smoke cigarettes than a non-member?

Is a former newspaper boy or fellow who has always earned his own money, more likely to smoke cigarettes than the fellow who has always lived on an allowance or family "dole"?

Is a girl who smokes more likely to reek of excessively strong perfume than the non-smoking coed?

Do men prefer girls who smoke or who do not smoke?

Cigarette Psychology

Although smoking slightly dulls our mental alertness, this is not regarded as the main reason why smokers make lower grades than the non-smokers.

Those college students who did not use cigarettes averaged 1.98 on the University of Maryland's 4-point grading scale.

The boy who smoked half a pack per day rated 1.92, while those who used more than a pack per day dropped to a 1.88 grade average.

More of the smokers dropped out of college. And the overly regimented kids try to smoke to protest against their childhood domination.

Younger children, like the Prodigal Son, tend to smoke more than oldest. The "allowance" or "dole" kids smoke more than those who earn their own money.

Fraternity people, being socially more sheep-like, smoke more. And smoking coeds can't smell themselves as well, so overly perfume. Men routinely veto smoking girls when they ask our Scientific Marriage Foundation for wives.

Improvements In Poor Italian Areas

By R. H. HASKELL

NAPLES (Sp)— Coming from Brindisi, on our way from Greece to the liner which will take us back to the United States, I drove through what is officially listed as the poorest farming area of Italy. The economy of these provinces is so much below the level of the rest of the country that special credits have been established to facilitate loans to agriculture, industry and to promote tourism.

It is true that these areas are not good by American standards, but they are so much better than most parts of rural Greece we visited as to seem almost prosperous.

There are many signs of improvement. Entire towns knocked out in the war have been rebuilt. Many standardized small farm homes dot the countryside. There is much more mechanized farm equipment than would be seen on our drive of like length in Greece.

On our way here we spent the night in Salerno. One who was there during the war probably would not recognize it. The beachfront is lined with new ten-and twelve-story apartments and hotels. Back from the sea, however, in areas which escaped demolition, there are still two-deck streets which would be hardly wide enough for one large American car.

Most of the time as we have been driving we have had lunch picnics of olives, cheese, bread and wine. We parked beside the road in the mountains of Central Italy to have our lunch as an old shepherd walked by. We invited him, more by gestures than words, to join us. This elderly, almost toothless man was particularly interested in a glass of the wine. He did accept a few of the many olives, a small piece of bread and a little cheese. When we tried to give him more, he indicated it was too much for us to do and politely withdrew. These mountain people can have a natural dignity and a sort of charm that comes through even when there is a definite language barrier.

The new express roads of Italy are marvelous. They compare favorably to the New Jersey Turnpike and have combination gas station-restaurants-stores which would put to shame the accommodations of any American toll roads I have traveled.

The Italian driver is a fast-moving person. On the road near Milan there were spots at turn-offs where a speed limit of 100 kilometers, or 60 miles an hour, was posted. The rest of the time we would be driving at 85 m.p.h. or a little more to have cars pass us as if we were stationary. It is one spot where the super-expensive car can be used to its full speed value.

Another big change is the amount of obvious prostitution. During the previous visit, most street corners had hives of women trying to pick up a man. This time on a walk of some forty-five minutes we saw only four girls soliciting or waiting for the chance to do so. It used to be that there were more girls than this on most corners.

Henry McLemore

I had a cup of hot tea in a cool corner yesterday with a man of many talents.

Crack grocery clerk, top movie star, unexcelled automobile battery repairman, washing machine salesman, disc jockey, stage and movie director, advertising salesman, radio announcer, husband father, and expert gardener.

He's a man of many assets, too. Tall, handsome, gracious, knowing and, not to be overlooked, the owner of Audrey Hepburn.

His name is Mel Ferrer and he acts in movies only to "refuel his bank account," to use his own words.

"I don't like acting in movies or any other kind of acting," Ferrer said. "An actor has to be handsome — all handsome. He must think of himself all the time, and that tires me. I only act to get enough money to afford the luxury of directing and producing. Mind you, I'm not knocking the movies. They have been awfully good to me—a lot better, let's say, than grocery stores and battery shops."

Never having met a really fine battery recharger, we were interested in that phase of Ferrer's career.

"It was a good one," he laughed. "even though I had been ill and couldn't use my right arm. I may well have been the only left-handed battery man in Los Angeles. I was one of the hungriest, for sure."

Ferrer talked about those days in the early 1940's, when he was novel dealing with racial discrimination.

Ferrer is now making a movie for Royal Films called "The Black Lancers." Most of the footage was shot in Yugoslavia. In December he reports to Columbia under a producer-director contract to shoot a movie entitled "Return Fare." It will be filmed in Africa.

We mentioned the movie "Lili." "Wonderful little picture," Ferrer said, "but what a fight we had to make it. The studio wanted to take the simple, sweet story and blow it up into a big musical. The studio actually disowned it, you know. Not a studio person of any importance came to the premiere. Just washed their hands of it. They were ashamed to have it bear their name. Then when it turned out to be a sleeper, and got rave notices—well, I hardly have to tell you the studio's reaction."

Ferrer was a director before he was an actor.

"You'll never guess what my first picture behind the camera was. No use trying. It was the 'Girl of the Lumberlot' for Columbia. A 'B' picture with two capital 'B's.' The budget was just about what a night on the town costs now, and the shooting schedule was 14 days. I took 18 days and there was heck to pay. It made money, but I quit."

Ferrer quit, he explained, when Jose Ferrer (no kin, although Mel has a brother named Jose) offered him the lead in "Strange Fruit," a dramatization of the novel dealing with racial discrimination.

"Wonderful little picture," Ferrer said, "but what a fight we had to make it. The studio wanted to take the simple, sweet story and blow it up into a big musical. Ray Cromley

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON—(NEA) — If Nikita Khrushchev is adding 50-megaton bombs to his arsenal, it may indicate his missile program is in far worse shape than had been suspected here.

A 50-megaton warhead is needed for military use only if the intercontinental ballistic missiles that will carry that warhead are somewhat inaccurate. That is, a 50-megaton warhead is needed if the 6,000-mile ICBMs are going to miss major missile sites by two to three miles.

If Khrushchev, in a war, wants to knock out "hardened" Titan, Atlas and Minuteman missile sites, his intercontinental missiles will have to be accurate if they're small. So called hardened sites are protected from all but the most direct hits. If Red missiles are not so accurate, they will have to be large enough to make up for their inaccuracy.

Some scientists have calculated that a one-megaton bomb must land within five-eighths of a mile of a hardened site to knock it out. A 50-megaton bomb or warhead would have to land within one and two-thirds miles.

But, they calculate, a 50-megaton bomb or warhead could knock out a hardened site if it landed within three miles of target.

Present Soviet ICBM accuracy is not believed great enough to count on knocking out a hardened U. S. missile site with the first shot.

If Soviet war plans call for starting with a sneak attack, Khrushchev must make certain that his first ICBMs knock out the major U. S. missile sites on the first blow. By the second strike, U. S. missiles should have been fired and the sites empty.

This means Khrushchev must have accurate ICBMs or he must have big ones.

Recent reports seem to indicate that Khrushchev is having trouble with his intercontinental missiles. They don't seem to be hitting close to target. Most of this inaccuracy will be corrected with time.

of course. But there is some thinking that Khrushchev is convinced that his missiles are not going to be accurate enough to do the precise jobs for some time to come.

There's another aspect to the Russian nuclear testing and the 50-megaton bomb. The bomb, exploded at a Russian test site and not out in space could deposit quite a bit of radioactive, human-damaging strontium 90 in the Soviet wheatlands. A considerable amount might be taken up by the next wheat crop, now being planted.

Already, the Soviet Union may be having its troubles as a result of the 20-plus tests already conducted.

Scientists here understand that in the majority of the important blasts, tricky wind currents — "high pressure cells"—have funneled the fallout down and over some of the major wheat areas.

U. S. Department of Agriculture men are anxious to get samples of this wheat, to see just how much dangerous strontium 90 has been absorbed into the grain.

The Department of Agriculture researchers note that strontium 90 is a radioactive element which can cause a great deal of harm to men, women and children, even in small amounts—if they take it internally as in bread or milk.

Today there are more than 34 million women in the labor force.

Today there are almost 10 million women who are heads of households.

Today there are 700,000 wives who support unemployed husbands.

And, without the gal who stays at home to tend the children and the kitchen range, many a man would not have any leftovers from his pay check for a savings account, to pay insurance premiums, to pledge against a loan or invest in securities.

Reads like without us women, progress, the economy and our population would come to a standstill. But, don't we make mistakes; haven't we still lots to learn?

This is what I asked Hilda H. Kellman, trust officer of the State Bank of Blue Island, Ill., and new president of the National Association of Bank Women. I asked it with special reference to the handling of finances.

Thoughtfully, Miss Kellman searched her experience, explaining that in a small city the banker along with the clergyman and the family doctor. Finally she offered this checklist for women:

Make sure you make a will. Many women fail to realize that husbands usually leave all their property to their wives, believing the wife in turn will leave it to their children. Unless she has a will, however, the state could intervene and a husband's best-laid plans be shattered.

While should be reviewed, kept up-to-date with changing tax laws and family situations.

Make sure that the family insurance program covers the mortgage on your home. Then you'll always have a roof over your head.

Try to have enough liquid savings so that you may never be forced to sell securities, real estate or a business interest at a loss.

Make certain you personally meet any key advisers working with your husband on your money. This includes his lawyer, banker, insurance agent, investment counselor.

Even if you don't pay the household bills, keep the checkbook balanced and plan the family spending and savings program, you should know how.

Learn about all the services your local bank offers. You'd be surprised how much this might save you in time, money and anguish.

Ask your husband for a letter of instructions. It should fully cover what you should do in the event of his death.

BY THE HORNS

By JOHN A. SPOLSKI

You can tell it in the sound of the pins. It's an established fact that it takes approximately two weeks for brand new pins to start to show signs of life and it's being proved by the scores rolled this past week. As an "eggs and ampie," take James Waller who bowls for Barley's Sinclair five-somes in the Jet Lane Keglers League. He barely nipped the six pin and it took off like a rocket against the four-pin to convert the nearly impossible 4-4 split. (If they're so full of life wise guy, how 'cum they don't drop over when you roll? I say... someone's been adding unwanted ad libs to my column!) Let's face it, the only reason I don't want to show off and make this split is... I'M A MISERABLE SHOT!

and Verna Bolton was hi series 448. Good going' gals. Coming in as a sub in the HI Nooners League, Kathy Murphy bombed 'em home with a 172. hi for the league as Shirley Simas led the girls in series with a 483. Other good scores include Betty Callan's 100 and Pat Foster's 168. Looking at the action in the Douglas Aircraft League, we find Kathy Murphy on top here, too with a 178/482 series for the women as husband Gerald Murphy hi with a 12 and Ed Gonzalez had a 551 series, hi for the entire league. The Sandpurs had some new names on the top of their price lists this week as Midge Woods bowled hi single with a 174 and the only leftie whom I know that rolls a back-up ball, Maxine Kuehler roared thru with a big 584 series, with handicaps. As per usual the Star League had lots of 200 games with the highest being John Wright's 242/388 series. Some other really, really big ones were Carl Von Herbulis (here he is again) bowling for Buddy's Auto with a 233; Marilyn Kennels Garry Fox 222 & Duffy's Jerry Riley with a 216. Following right a fter the "Stars" in the City League it was Gerald Behrens noosing out Phil Roche with a 215-214 respectively. HI Series for one night was Roche's 551. That league's really tightening-up with almost anyone and everyone in a position to cop the pennant. Orville Jones was "Top Kick" in the Friday afternoon Spare Ribbers with a 182/511 series. Bowling for VAH-1 in the morning of the same day for Miller's Navy Wives League, Fran Mackey had a winning combination with a 187/457. Checking over the statistics of the Mr & Mrs League, Claude Foster had hi game and series for the men with a 230/548. In the meantime, Lucy Meyer was hi singles gal with a 198 and Betty's Smith led the series dept. with a 487. It was Dot Button day in the "T League" as she swept thru all honors with a 215/533 series. I'm quite certain that this is one gal who can and will deliver the big game and series more consistently in the future. That long summer vacation up New York way dampened Dot's early games just a little bit. Now she's back on her winning way again. The Thursday morning Kingswood Bidra/Sunland League had Judy Clark roll the hi game with a 172 as Elaine Kosteival bowled big series—480. That's all for this week. See you again next TUESDAY!

Squeaks, Heartbreaks Provide Thrills In Business League

Squeaks and heartbreakers provided the thrills in the Tuesday night Businessmen's League last week as the top five teams retained their positions in the standings. Headlining the near-misses was the Autonetics No. Two team as they dropped two points to Davis Builders by a total of three pins, losing the first game by two and the third by one. Seminole Sporting Goods topped Town Pump by three in the third game but dropped the series point by only four and the league leading Leroy Bentons led Autonetics No. One by only six sticks in total pins to take the match by a three to one count and held their two game lead. Carl Von Herbulis led the week's individual effort department with a 208-373, closely followed by Ed Michalek's 201-311-371, Harold Johnson's 209-370 and Ernest Bows with 208-216-380. The old pro, Clarence Wallis, Sr., came through with a 561 series without a 200 game for his series. Others topping the 300 mark for three games were Cudding, Barnes, Gerald Behrens, Muretz, Blackwelder, Ken Stone, Earle, Murphy and Terrill. Sam Lindstrom continued his mastery of the old nemesis, the split as he felled the 3-10 again this week and joined Mike Acardi and Frank Stone in converting the 5-10. Wally Balsler, Ed Michalek and Floyd Martin also topped the 3-10 and Martin and A's Add Scouts KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI)—Bill Pesedel and Danny Reagan were added to the Kansas City Athletics scouting staff Monday. Pesedel, a former National League pitcher, will talent-scout the Pacific Northwest while Reagan scouts Southern California for the A's.

No More Free Rides For Starr

GREEN BAY, Wis. (UPI)—There's no more free rides to the bank for Green Bay quarterback Bart Starr. The 6-1, 200-pound former Alabama ace has "arrived" as one of the National Football League's top quarterbacks. Starr, now midway through his first full season as Green Bay's No. 1 signal caller, is making the so-called experts and rival coaches alike sit back and take a second look. "One of the Packers' most underrated players," says Baltimore Coach Weeb Ewbank about Starr. Norm Van Brocklin of the Minnesota Vikings, a pretty good quarterback himself in his playing days, also lauded Starr, saying he feared the Packers' passing attack more than their powerful rushing.

Such words of praise weren't always issued. In fact just last week a St. Paul sportswriter had claimed the Packers were great "in spite of Starr, not because of him." "The Packers' running power and defense do the job and then Starr gets a free ride to the banks," said Don Riley of the St. Paul Pioneer Press. If nothing else, last Sunday's performance against the Vikings should have impressed Riley as well as other of Starr's detractors. With the Packers' running attack slowed to a walk by injuries to Paul Hornung and a superb job of defending Jim Taylor, Starr took command and completed 18 of 24 passes for 311 yards and two touchdowns—using a wet ball and playing on a slippery field. The performance boosted his season totals to 93 completions in 150 throws (62 per cent) for 1,391 yards and eight touchdowns. He's averaging 9.3 yards for every pass thrown—a figure that should slow critics who claim Starr can't throw the long "bomb."

Starr has already passed for more yards this year than he did last and has doubled his touchdown pass total. He credits speedy receivers like Max McGee, Boyd Dowler and Ron Kramer for the new-found success at throwing the long one. "Take Dowler," he says. "He's so fast he can outrun the secondary. This forces the defense to lay back and then we can come back and fire short hooks to him." He credits McGee with having "some of the best moves of any end in the league" and about Ron Kramer—who's risen to stardom this year after four years of bench warming: "I can't say enough about him. He's been playing with a bum shoulder, but still tears into the opposition like a bull. That's the kind of desire that makes this team a great one."

Rides 4 Winners NEW YORK (UPI)—Willie Shoemaker, Aqueduct's leading jockey, booted home four winners Monday—Dead Ahead ($4.90), Count J. Amiel ($3.90), Practical Joker ($3.90) and Rain Dance ($4.30).

SEC, Big 10 Dominate Top Ten

NEW YORK (UPI)—Four teams each from the Big Ten and Southeastern conferences dominated the top 10 in the United Press International college football ratings today with Michigan State and Mississippi 1-2 for the second week in a row. Minnesota moved into the select group in the No. 10 spot following its 23-20 victory over Michigan. Notre Dame, ninth last week, dropped all the way to 20th after being upset by Northwest.

Is Ted To Blame For Lack Of Fans?

BOSTON (UPI)—Was it because Ted Williams had retired that Boston Red Sox attendance plunged 279,777 last season? "Nope," concludes the Red Sox brass, thereby exploding an assumption of long-standing that the colorful Williams personally was responsible for as much as half of the million or so in annual Fenway Park attendance. The fact is, according to Red Sox Vice President Dick O'Connell, that Boston home attendance really dropped only 33,000 from Williams' final season to the first Red Sox campaign without him. O'Connell, a combination general manager, business boss, and chief tenant executive of Tom Yawkey's American League club, says the reasons for the attendance loss were: 1. The Red Sox didn't win, and 2. a radical slash in ticket sales through a grocery chain. "There's no doubt that Williams had an effect on Red Sox attendance for years and years," O'Connell said. "But the biggest single reason we dropped to 830,333 paid last season was because we didn't have a winner. The second reason is that we cut our promotion ticket arrangement (with First National Stores) to one month instead of most of the season and required that you buy twice the amount of groceries in the year before in order to get a free ticket."

Monroe Harbor Holds Loop Lead

Monroe Harbor put edge on their lead in the HI-Nooners League when they won three points from Stenstrom Realty. WSRF won four points from Team Eight and Team One won three points from Shoemaker Construction, while Lovely Lady was winning 2 1/2 points from the CPO Wives. June Kennedy found the right spot for the 3-10 split as she converted it three times; Marty Kinard, Gerry White, Kathy Murphy and Betty Callan also picked up the same split. Marjorie Kipp spared the 7-4 and Shirley Simas the 3-10.

Ohio State in fifth place and Iowa in ninth. Southeastern Conference powers besides Mississippi were: Alabama in the No. 4 spot; Georgia Tech in No. 6 and Louisiana State in No. 7.

FSU Halfback Kicked Off Team

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—Florida State halfback Keith Kinderman was kicked off the football team Monday for breaking training rules. He dropped out of school immediately and left for his home in Forest Park, Ill., near Chicago. Kinderman, a junior who transferred to FSU this fall from Gulf Coast Junior College in Panama City, had been the Seminoles' leading ground gainer this season. In six games he averaged 4.8 yards per carry in gaining a total of 285 yards.

His top games were against Richmond, when he gained 42 yards, and against Georgia, when he carried for 101 yards. Around the SEC—Quarterback Pat Trammell, the sparkplug in Alabama's undefeated season, holds the Southeastern Conference total offense lead this week while Mississippi fullback Billy Ray Adams tops ground gainers. Trammell has passed for 666 yards and rushed for 204 for a total of 870 yards to 745 for Jerry Woolum of Kentucky. Hank Leason of Vanderbilt is third in total offense with 699 yards, according to statistics released by SEC Commissioner Bernie Moore's office today.

Adams picked up 105 yards last week to take over the leadership in rushing with 393 yards compared to 379 for Alabama fullback Mike Fraechla. Don Goodman of Florida is third with 295 yards. Tom Hutchinson of Kentucky continues his mastery of the pass receivers with 33 for 363 yards and three touchdowns. Jeff Stirling of Vanderbilt is second with

Inter-City Golf Match Set Sunday

Participants in the next inter-city golf match, which will be held Sunday, Nov. 5 at Mid-Florida Golf Course, are requested by Bill Foult, tournament chairman, to sign up as soon as possible. Results of the Individual Points Tournament held Sunday at the Mayfair Country Club follow: First prize was won by Hugh Grier, Baine Weber won second prize and Frank Durso and "Pappy" Pearson tied for third. Closest to the pin on No. 16 was Dr. "Dub" Epps. Major feat of the tournament was Baine Weber's "angle 8" on the 11 (par 5) hole. The Get-Acquainted Tourney for Navy and civilian golfers of Sanford will be held Nov. 26, at the Mayfair Club.

The only "outside" teams in this week's top 10 were third-ranked Texas and eighth-ranked Colorado. Besides its four representatives in the top 10 group, the Big Ten also had three among the second

10. Purdue and Northwestern followed Missouri, and Michigan was No. 17. Wyoming was rated 16th, Auburn 18th and Utah State 18th. Kansas and UCLA were tied for 18th place and Notre Dame was 20th.

Miller of Tulane is second with 83 punts averaging 35.8 yards per try. Bill Richardson of Alabama leads in punt returns with 18 for 166 yards. Woolum remains the SEC's top passer with 67 completions in 151 tries for 837 yards. Trammell is second with 49 completed in 81 tosses for 606 yards.

West Coast College Grid On Decline—Newell Says

NEW YORK (UPI)—Pete Newell, University of California athletic director, today blamed the decline of West Coast football on "pro football, a cycle of losing and increased interest in other sports."

Newell, a former Bears basketball coach, said the cause of such a decline also comes from lagging alumni activity and a reluctance of good players to go with a losing team "because they want to play with a winner." "I'm not talking about the dollar when I refer to the alumni," Newell explained at a New York football luncheon Monday. "I mean that winning is taken for granted, they stop talking up their college to good young players and the momentum runs down before you realize it has happened."

Robson Moves Into 1st Place

Robson Sporting Goods came through in the Wednesday night Sandpurs League to win three games from Stemper Agency and move into first place. Stemper Agency managed to take one game, moving to second spot with Jet Inn close behind. After two aces games, Welsh Tire Shop succeeded again for the second week to take four games, this time from Jet Inn. Maxine Koehler and Judy Bentley rallied a 594 and 585 handicap series to help Welsh Tire Shop team to a 2041 handicap series.

Tribe Signs Katt

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UPI)—Former major league catcher Ray Katt was signed today as first base coach for the Cleveland Indians, completing the Tribe's coaching staff for 1962. Manager Mel McGaha last week announced the signing of Sally Parker as the third base coach. Mel Harder was retained as pitching coach.

Alix of Sanford and McRoberts Tires battled this week with Alix of Sanford taking three games and losing one to McRoberts Tires to remain in fifth position. Spitta were easy pickens for Jimmie Livingston 3-10, Vicki Pie 5-7-9, Vicki Carter 3-10 and Maxine Koehler and Gladys Pinter the 4-8. Allee Anderson rolled the only turkey for the night.

THE PHANTOM

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: How do you stop swapping Christmas gifts with people whom you hardly ever see? Our Christmas list includes people we haven't seen in years. It is expensive, and takes a lot of my time. We are remembered with a gift from them, too, but I would rather get off the hook and not have to send them one. Is there an inoffensive way to terminate this type of pointless gift-giving?

SINCERE

DEAR SINCERE: Yes. Write them a note around Thanksgiving time and tell them you are "thankful" for friends with whom you can be perfectly candid. Explain that you are trimming your Christmas gift list, and are sending them a card instead of a gift this year. Unless they are very unreasonable people, they will appreciate your good sense, and will reciprocate accordingly.

DEAR ABBY: Do you believe there is such a thing as a confirmed bachelor?

THE GIRLS AT PRUDENTIAL

DEAR GIRLS: Yes. He's a man who thinks that the only thoroughly justified marriage was the one that produced him.

DEAR ABBY: I don't know what to do about my son. He is 29, and was married last June to a fine young woman (a school teacher) after a courtship of three years. Since their marriage he has left her and come home three times. Each time I sent him back. He is accustomed to my cooking and housekeeping, and his wife doesn't do things the way I did. He tells me that he is much happier at home with me. (I am a widow, and raised him alone since he was 3). I blame myself because he never was as crazy about this girl as she was about him, but I persuaded him to marry her for his own good. What should I do now?

A YOUNG MAN'S MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Your son is not emotionally ready for marriage. And he may never be without your help. Urge him to talk to a doctor. Your 20-year-old "baby" is about to strangle on his mother's umbilical cord.

CONFIDENTIAL TO IOWA GIRL: Your conscience is a thousand witnesses. Consider first your baby and you will never regret it.

Highlights

TV Time Previews

7:30-8:30 p.m. (NBC) Laramie—"Last Journey"—Color. A matter of vindication is involved. Just released from prison, John Col wants to regain stolen money to clear his name. He asks help of Slip Sherman (John Smith), but there's trouble ahead with Cole's old partner, Rod Cameron guest-stars as the ex-con. Cast regulars include Bob Fuller and Spring Byington.

8-8:30 p.m. (CBS) The Dick Van Dyke Show.—You'll miss regulars Rose Marie, Morey Amsterdam and Richard Deacon, who do not figure in this episode, which in flashback recalls how Rob Petrie (Van Dyke) as an army sergeant first met his wife-to-be (Mary Tyler Moore), who visited his camp as a USO entertainer. Not as full of laughs as some previous episodes, but nevertheless has amusing moments, particularly as provided by rubber-faced Marty Ingels, who plays an army buddy of the series star.

8:30-9 p.m. (NBC) Alfred Hitchcock—"Cop For A Day." Walter Matthau is the main attraction in this entry. Currently starring on Broadway in "A Shot in the Dark," where he enacts a decadent French aristocrat, here he goes to the opposite extreme playing a hood who, along with his partner, pulls a holdup of a bank messenger. It results in murder—with an eyewitness to the shooting! Also featured in the cast: Glenn Cannon and Tom Begley.

8:30-9 p.m. (CBS) Red Skelton—"Freddie's Romance." Freddie the Free-loader crashes society in this rollicking episode. Mistaken for an eccentric blueblood at a smart-set masquerade party, Freddie is introduced by his hostess to her beautiful daughter, Phyllis Burton, played by Rhonda Fleming. Always the gentleman, Freddie invites Phyllis and her mother to luncheon the next day at the city dump. He serves "dump stew." Joey Pay adds to the hilarity as Muggsy, Skelton's hobo pal.

8-10 p.m. (NBC) Dick Powell—"Out of the Night." Seventeen years after World War II, former Capt. Colin Shatner (Dick Powell) returns to the village in Italy where he had been hidden from the enemy after bailing out of his bomber. There had been reprisals with the villagers for refusing to divulge his whereabouts, and the captain vowed to kill the one responsible for those who were shot. Featured in the cast are Ziva Rodan and John Van Drorlan.

10-11 p.m. (CBS) The Gary Moore Show. A "Razz Ma Tazz Me" show, which is the title of the opening number. The regulars, of course, are Deward Kirby, Carol Burnett and Marion Lorne. Add to a hot touch, Gene Verdon, musical comedy star who lit up the Broadway sky with such successes as "Can-Can," "Damn Yankees" and "Redhead," makes a guest appearance. Comedian Jack Carter is also featured in a comedy routine. Funniest skit of the show, "The Broken Arm," finds Carol Burnett cast as the queen of a mythical European country, bringing about an international crisis. "That Wonderful Year" is 1907, when Oklahoma joined the Union, the Lusitania made its maiden voyage, the first Mother's Day was observed and Teddy Roosevelt set out to "Bust The Trusts."

10-11 p.m. (NBC) Cain's Hundred—"The Penitent." This one has an enigma for Cain to unravel. It looks like racket boss Lou Strode is still dealing in narcotics, despite the plus night-club front. His son was killed driving off a cliff while under the influence of dope; and his wife is under psychiatric care from resultant shock. But "Uncle Lou" has a good side to him as well; having made generous contributions to a children's clinic. Hercules Bernard gives a convincing performance as the racketeer, who keeps everybody guessing until the end, as to whether or not he's still part of the Dope ring or actually gone legit. Starring Mark Richman, with Leo Penn and Philip Abbott.

10-11 p.m. (ABC) Close-up—"The Awesome Servant." Like Frankenstein, automation has developed an electronic "monster," which, though it has been of immense help, has also created fear of unemployment among factory workers, office employees, and heavy industry. Heard on the program discussing the problem, among others, are Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg, as well as a worker who has lost his job to a machine. Seen in action are machines and computers aiding mankind as well as adding to his worries.

We The Women:

By Ruth Millet

"If American women were as interested in improving their conversation as they are in making the most of their looks, what charmers they would be." So says a man who reads this column. He goes on to explain: "It's when she opens her mouth that a woman either draws people to her or turns them against her. It's a shame how many women do the latter through just a few bad conversational faults. The faults that really grate on most men are these: "Talking too much and in too opinionated a manner. When a woman in a mixed group takes over conversationally, she irri-ates every man forced by politeness to listen while she holds forth on first one subject and then another.

"Falling to really listen when others talk. Women who don't really listen always give themselves away by wandering eyes, inane comments, tense, nervous gestures.

"Not letting others finish their sentences. Women who are bad at this will talk as loud as necessary to drown out the person who is trying to get a word in edgewise.

"Concentrating so much on unimportant details they never make the point of the story they set out to tell. 'Let me see, was

Jacoby On Bridge

By Oswald Jacoby

The principle of anticipation lies in closely with the subject of the four-card major suit opening. Some experts never open four-card majors, some do only on rare occasions. My own practice is not to open four-card spade suits, but to open four-card heart suits once in a while. Other experts open all four-card majors, but even that group doesn't open them very often.

This leads to the occasional use of the three-card minor suit opening as a general utility bid to be made when you have no satisfactory suit opening.

Of course, you frequently reach the same final contract with any choice of opening. Thus, South would have arrived at four spades if he had opened one spade even more surely than after his actual and proper (under any normal American system), club opening.

East took his ace of hearts and returned the suit. From that point on there was nothing to the play of the hand, South was able to draw trumps and wind up losing those two heart tricks plus one diamond. Dummy's odd club went on the queen of hearts.

A club opening or immediate club shift would have beaten the hand. This time the club bid stopped that lead, but some other time it might stop a desirable club lead, so don't count that as an advantage for this type short suit opening. The advantage is that when you later bid your major your partner knows definitely that you only have four cards in that suit.

MAISON ET JARDIN, the fabulous new House and Garden art and cultural center established at Sleepy Hill Farm between Maitland and Altamonte Springs by Caroline and Harold Walsh, opened its season Monday. Eight concerts have been scheduled, the first to be given on Saturday evening, Dec. 30, by the Florida Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Henry Maser, and the second slated for January 15. Many Longwood Residents Attend 'Open House' At Enlarged Library

By BETTIE SMITH
Many residents of Longwood and its surrounding areas attended Open House at the Longwood Library on Oct. 23.
The enlarged library is the fruit of many years labor by the Civic League, now celebrating its 80th year, which was organized, primarily, to begin a library for the community.
The hall was beautifully decorated with plants and flowers furnished by members under direction of Mrs. Otis Lee and Mrs. H. F. McTeek using a gold color theme in keeping with the anniversary year.
Mrs. J. H. Hanga, librarian, and Miss Dorothy Heath, assistant, led guests on a personally conducted tour of the facility while Mrs. J. A. Bistline, only charter member of the club now active in the organization, greeted guests at the door and kept the guestbook. Also assisting with the hospitalities were Mrs. B. R. Gray and Mrs. S. L. Tupper, 25-year members with Mrs. Tupper, historian, in charge of the scrapbook display.

Mayor and Mrs. A. R. Lofmann headed the group of city dignitaries and their wives attending the event which was under the general supervision of Mrs. E. P. Richards, chairman. Assisting her were Mrs. R. C. Carlson, Mrs. Opal McElroy and Mrs. M. E. Rudolph. Also taking part were Mrs. C. E. Searcy, Mrs. W. J. Hartley, Mrs. Hallie LaVirgne and Mrs. John Beams.
Mrs. L. L. Cox, president of the League, personally greeted guests and offered assistance in all phases of the evening's entertainment where necessary.
Refreshments of punch and assorted cakes were served with Mrs. Otis Lee, Mrs. McTeek, Mrs. Gray and Mrs. Garland Shaw in charge of arrangements.

Longwood Women Organize New Catholic Circle

By BETTIE SMITH
Mrs. Vester Elgin of Palmetto St. was hostess last week at an organizational meeting of the St. Catherine of Siena Circle of the Lake Mary Church of the Nativity Catholic Women's Club.
The project, "Hanging Sanctuary Lamp," was presented by Fr. William Trainer as the circle's goal of work.
Officers elected were Mrs. J. A. Hopkins, president; Mrs. William DeRosa, vice president; Mrs. Garland Shaw, secretary, and Mrs. Ann Hopkins, treasurer.
Chairmen named were Mrs. Vester Elgin, ways and means; Mrs. M. R. Blankenship, sunshine; Mrs. Eugene Beige, telephone; Mrs. Luz G. Ansley, publicity; and Mrs. G. A. Gazeley, devotional.
The next meeting of the group will be held at 8 p.m. on Nov. 15 at the home of Mrs. Ann Hopkins. All women of the church in this area are invited to join the new circle.

County Seeks Private Funds For CD Poll

Commission Cancels Surplus Aid To Needy Program

Shipping Costs, Federal Controls Cited By Avery

The County Commission canceled its commodity surplus aid to the needy program on the suggestion of Commissioner James P. Avery who earlier this year championed the program and worked toward its adoption.

"You all know how much I wanted it here," Avery said Tuesday afternoon.

Avery stressed that Seminole County would have to bear the cost of shipping the food stuff from Jacksonville to Sanford. "It would cost about $700 every other month," he explained.

Avery was also upset about the regulating powers of the federal government. "We won't have anything to say on who will benefit from the program... it will strictly be up to the federal government."

The commission had already agreed to use the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad warehouse on W. First St. to conduct the program.

In other business, at the lengthy meeting which ran well over five hours, the commission accepted the new franchise directive and agreed to make copies available to interested citizens to look over in the zoning office.

A south Seminole developer, Rex Meredith complained to the board that interested persons should have a chance to look over the directives before it is put on the books.

The commission also overruled a zoning board decision and agreed to rezon an area on Cameron Ave. from C-1 to M-1 for use as a possible salvage yard.

Despite objections from adjacent property owners, Commissioner John Fitzpatrick said, "We have got to provide areas for business and get away from agriculture."

Heard a report from the committee studying the feasibility of moving the county agent and home demonstration agent's office from the courthouse to the road department camp at the county home facility. Both Commissioners Vernon Dunn and Ted Williams said the move was feasible.

The board also agreed that a meeting between the county attorney and zoning board attorney was a "must" in an effort to start some form of legal action to move an abandoned house at Lake Brantley.

3 From Seminole Hurt In Head-On

Three Seminole County youngsters were listed in "serious" condition today after a head-on two car collision on Hwy. 17-92 in Winter Park early this morning. Winter Park police reported. Injured were David Brown, 136 Garrison Dr., Sanford, Diane Wharton, 18 and Wanda Jeddin, both of Longwood.

Brown is suffering from possible chest injuries while the two girls received "extreme cuts and bruises," according to hospital authorities.

Police said the Brown vehicle hit a car operated by the Wharton girl at about 8 a. m. this morning.

Brown was charged with reckless driving and driving on the wrong side of the road.

Both cars were demolished.

Hurricane Aid Rushed Belize

MERIDA, Mexico (UPI)—Aid was rushed from several points by sea and air today to Belize, a sleepy British Honduras seaport reduced to a shambles by the onslaught of Hurricane Hattie. Reports filtering in from the shattered area indicated that Belize, which was rebuilt after being destroyed by a hurricane in 1931, once again was a victim of near-total devastation.

West Berlin Tightens Border Curbs On Reds

BERLIN (UPI)—West Berlin police today began demanding identity papers of all Russians in civilian dress trying to enter the Western sector of the city.

The action apparently was approved by the United States, Britain and France in retaliation against attempts by East German Communist police to restrict the movements of Allied officials in East Berlin.

The East German newspaper Neues Deutschland told its readers for the first time today that Soviet tanks were used on the Berlin city border last week.

The Communist newspaper did not say when the tanks were used, or that they were still hidden in a bombed-out ruin in East Berlin.

The one-paragraph mention of the Russian tanks came as incidents continued to erupt along the city border.

West Berlin police and Communists tossed 19 tear-gas grenades at each other late Tuesday night. At another place, the East Germans hurled rocks at West Berlin police.

An American correspondent, Eric Pace, 23, of Life magazine, was held at the Friedrichstrasse checkpoint for nearly five hours.

Seminole-Brevard Talks On Nova Project Set Up

The County Commission Tuesday authorized James P. Avery to set up a joint meeting with Sen. Bernard Parrish and economic and military advisers from Seminole and Brevard counties to discuss the Nova "impact" will mean to Seminole County.

Avery called for the informal meeting for the purpose of "getting the facts."

In other business, the board was told by Attorney Mack Cleveland Jr. that the Ocala Air Base will be turned over to them Nov. 14. Commissioner Vernon Dunn suggested some sort of policy regarding the base but the rest of the board favored a "wait and see" policy.

Avery said that right now "I've been offered twice what we paid for it."

In other business, the board authorized County Engineer Carlton Bliss to write the State Road Department to initiate "action" on drainage rights-of-way at the shopping center on Hwy. 17-92 and SR 436.

Two property owners have refused to grant a right-of-way and Avery suggested state action because the right-of-way was on a state road.

AROUND THE CLOCK

By LARRY VERSHEL

Nobody asked me but didn't the County Commission commit a major "boo boo" on this commodity surplus program. We would like to ask, will it be an illegal expenditure of funds if the commission doesn't go through with the proposed lease with the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad?

Attention art lovers! You can see some lovely copies of Monet's late period, the best of Utrillo and an early Landor! at the new county jail. Let's hope the Sheriff starts cataloging the other art treasures. There's a painting in his office unsigned. Looks like a Monet but Judge Volle Williams tells us that the stroke work rules him out.

Speaking of the jail, Sheriff Hobby reported that he may move the prisoners in Thursday.

Volusia County Sheriff Rodney Thurstby looked on with envy at the jail dedication. He's been after a new facility for many, many years.

One more item on the jail, it will be a long time before we will hear another brilliant speech like the one Judge Williams delivered at the ceremonies. Short, sharp and hitting the mark.

Nobody asked me, but why didn't the County Commission check all their facts on the surplus food program before they spent taxpayers' money and now have to drop it?

The next time the commission holds a secret ballot they ought to make sure the janitor cleans up after the meeting and not leave the results in the waste paper basket. By the way, the last time a secret ballot was held was when the board discussed an increase in salaries in February.

Looks like the re-roofing job on the courthouse will be eliminated and a patch job started, according to Ted Williams.

The County Commission apparently attempted to keep the witches and goblins from the courthouse. They met until the witching hour...

By the way, the successful bid for the post office has been awarded and work will start next week but we still must sit by until we get the official word from Washington.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY: If Patrick Henry thought taxation without representation was bad, he should see it with representation.

Supt. of schools R. T. Milwee told us this morning that from now on he will put the yearbook photographs up for bid. No more first choice to out-of-town photographers.

RIO DE JANEIRO (UPI)—A Panair do Brasil DC7 airliner with 83 persons aboard crashed and burned today during an attempted landing at Guararapes airport in the northeastern Brazilian city of Recife.

Fidel Seeking Overthrow Of Latin Regimes

WASHINGTON (UPI)— The United States charged today that the Cuban regime of Fidel Castro is "seeking to subvert and overthrow the constitutional governments of the Americas."

U. S. Ambassador to the Organization of American States de-Lezeps S. Morrison made the charge in a note distributed to the OAS delegations.

The note also charged that the Castro regime is "intimately associated with the aims of purposes of the Sino-Soviet bloc."

Attached to the note were copies of joint communiques issued by Cuban and Communist leaders. One of the communiques was issued jointly Sept. 20 by the Soviet and Cuban governments. The other was issued Oct. 2 by the Chinese and Cubans.

Through these statements, the United States said, the Castro regime has made Cuba "an appendage of the Sino-Soviet bloc."

In an accompanying letter to OAS Secretary General Jose A. Mora, Morrison said:

"These communiques show that the Castro regime is neither ideologically an adherent of the inter-American system nor a part of the non-aligned world."

"Even more important to the states of this hemisphere... is the emphasis which these Communiques place on the Castro regime as an example... for people seeking to subvert and overthrow the constitutional governments of the Americas."

The four candidates are Ray Slaton, J. A. Bistine, Don Bales and Mrs. Harry Eichelberger.

HAROLD JOHNSON

County Elects Attorney By Secret Vote

The County Commission Tuesday afternoon, by a secret ballot, elected Harold Johnson to replace Mack Cleveland Jr. as county attorney at a starting salary of $3,600 a year.

Board Chairman J. C. Hutchinson called for the secret ballot and in a matter of seconds, Hutchinson said that Johnson is the new county attorney. The result of the balloting was thrown in a waste basket.

After the meeting, Hutchinson suggested to a Herald reporter that he not look in the basket to see how each commissioner voted.

Before the action was taken, Hutchinson said that Attorney Kenneth Leffler withdrew his name as a candidate and that S. J. Davis advised him that he didn't have the time.

The only other attorney in the running was Wallace Albritton who insiders predicted had the best chance for the post.

Johnson is associated with the Cleveland law firm. Cleveland, who is also state representative, had been county attorney for seven years. He announced his resignation because of an increased business load.

Johnson will take over the job as county attorney starting today.

Light Bulb Sale Continues Tonight

Workers in the Sanford Lions Club are winding up their light bulb sale tonight and Thursday night and they ask that all who wish to buy bulbs and help in the drive to light their way by turning on porch lights.

Chairman Cecil Carlton announced today that the Lions have already sold approximately one-half of their quota and are grateful to the people of Sanford who have purchased the packages, which contain eight bulbs of assorted sizes.

"This house-to-house call will give other Sanford citizens an opportunity to purchase a good supply of bulbs to have on hand and at the same time help the Lions Blind Fund, which supports the Glaucoma Clinics and eye testing program to save your sight," Carlton said.

Voters' Approval For 3-Mill Levy To Be Sought

County Commissioner John Fitzpatrick today starts the long, hazardous, burdensome task of "rounding up some private capital" to conduct a straw poll regarding a proposed 3-mill levy for a $4 million dollar civil defense program next year.

County Attorney Mack Cleveland Jr. told the commission Tuesday afternoon that the state attorney ruled that the use of county funds for that purpose was not authorized.

Chairman J. C. Hutchinson suggested the possibility of using the Sanford Herald poll on Civil Defense (now being conducted) but Fitzpatrick said "let's defer action and maybe I can round up some private money to finance the vote."

(The Herald will make public its impartial poll Friday. Thus far it has received well over 1,000 ballots.)

County Commissioner Vernon Dunn asked the board to look into the possible use of LST's for a key disaster operation center (Suggested in the Herald two weeks ago) and both Fitzpatrick and James P. Avery said the plan had a lot of merit.

However, Avery said he talked with "experts" and the cost per month would exceed $1,200 in paint alone.

The board took no action on Dunn's proposal.

West Preparing New Autobahn Test

BERLIN (UPI)—The West was prepared today for a possible new test of Allied rights of access to Berlin on the Autobahn from Helmstedt through East Germany.

Company A of the 20th Engineer Battalion, newly arrived in Europe from the United States, is scheduled to take the 110-mile superhighway trip sometime this week.

It will replace Company D of the 17th Engineer Battalion.

Army officials declined to state exactly when the troops will arrive in West Berlin. But their passage through the Communist zone could pose another test of access rights.

The Russians Sunday interfered with these efforts by stopping three U. S. military patrols from going onto the highway from West Berlin.
