Teen Aged Work Hard At Summer Music Foundation

BREVARD, N. C., Aug. 2.—(AP)—An eager bunch of barefoot, blue-jeaned teen-agers, summer camping near here, is doing the music work on a Southern grown music culture.

A cacophony of orchestra, choral, voice and instrument echoes through their mountain haven, deep in the heart of the Blue Ridge. Blending with the shouts of swimmers and the ping of tennis balls.

Out of this tested combination, its leader is convinced, will come a home-grown Dixie music culture that will take.

"The veneer of imported music has peeled off Southern cultural hides like bark off a slippery elm," contends native North Carolinian Jim Pfohl, director of the camp. "The South must grow its own performers, develop its own organizations, to come of age in music."

Transylvania Music Camp, which Pfohl is directing for the civic, non-profit Brevard Music Foundation, is trying to fill that big order.

Mrs. Henry N. Carrier, a great-granddaughter of showman P. F. Barnum and president of the foundation, believes the camp and its annual post-camp festival has attained a development "as the nucleus of a Southern-born music culture of national import."

Growth of the camp during its first years here may justify her optimistic south-wide outlook. It is comparable, but not patterned after, the annual high schoolers music camp at Interlochen, Mich., and Boston Symphony Conducter Serge Koussevitzky's Berkshire camp.

It began with a handful of campers, most of them from North Carolina. It was Pfohl's personal project and he recruited the students from among his contacts in the area.

Director of music at Davidson College, near Charlotte, N. C., After two summers of musically successful but financially tight operations, the foundation was formed. It took over the camp and added a music festival.

The camp and its festival have prospered. Enrollment this year is nearly 125 boys and girls between the ages of 12 and 18 drawn from ten states.

Four scholastic are offered. A fifth will be set up by violinist Carroll Glenn, a southern native of Chester, S. C., with proceeds from a camp concert. Her husband, pianist Eugene List, will appear with the camp band in another concert.

The ambition of the festival knows no bounds. This year it will close its Aug. 12-14 and 19-21 season with what may be the South's first full orchestral and choral performance of Beethoven's Ninth Symphony.

The instructional staff of 65 is drawn from the nation's leading opera, symphony, philharmonic and ballet societies.

Five hours a day is devoted to rehearsal or practice and lessons. Tuesday and Saturday night and Sunday afternoon concerts, open to the public, are well-attended.

Practice studios dot the hillside above the camp lake. A basketball court open on two sides, serves as the auditorium for orchestra and band rehearsals. Porches of the mess hall, administration building, and other camp structures often are the scene of rehearsals for smaller groups.

Outstanding performers among the students remain on after the seven-week camp season for a few others who come in for the occasion to make up the 70-piece festival orchestra, which Pfohl directs.

While it is the festival, now approaching its fourth season, that has gained attention for the foundation, it is the camp and its work on which the South can hope to build its own music culture, Pfohl contends.

"We are showing the South that music is for normal, average people, and not something foisted off on a gullible public by a bunch of screwballs and crackpots. It is that prejudice, as much as anything, that has blocked the spread of music in the South."

California grows almost one-half of the nation's commercial supply of fruits and nuts.

The boyhood home of General Dwight D. Eisenhower at Abilene, Kansas, was dedicated as a national shrine June 22, 1947.

Eleven letter-winners will return to Navy for the 1949 football season, while 16 monogram wearers are lost by graduation.

The ceiling of the store is white and walls are light green. Mirrors have been placed on columns. The asphalt tile flooring is a dusty rose shade and is bordered with gray carpet. Paint work was done by Senkrik Glass and Paint Co.

A balcony at the rear provides office space and underneath this is the stock room. Carpenter work was done by Martin W. Temple under Mr. Cowan's supervision.

Material was provided by Hill Lumber Co. Plumbing fixtures were installed by Lee Brothers. The Sherman Concrete Pipe Co. provided concrete for the sidewalks.

Miss Dobbs heads the millinery and lingerie department which features nationally advertised products. John Davis is in charge of shoes, and estimates there is room for 10,000 pairs of shoes for men, women, children and infants.

Mrs. J. R. Ervin is manager of the children's department which includes a line of children's wear from sizes for infants to those 15 years of age.

James Robson, Jr. has charge of the mens department which features a complete line of nationally advertised mens' clothing in the latest styles.

Mr. Cowan began business in Sanford, Sept. 19, 1930 with a small clothing store at 500 Sanford Avenue. In 1934 he moved to 430 Sanford Avenue and in 1938 to 311 East First Street. In the spring of 1945 he purchased the Cowan Building, completely remodelled it, and on Oct. 25, 1948 opened his new clothing store.

"Since that time the business completely outgrew the facilities of the store and made it necessary to have new and larger quarters," he declared. "He reiterated his faith in the future growth of Sanford, which he said, he hopes to share."

Charles Wert Makes Store Improvements

Charles Wert has completed a number of improvements in his jewelry store on First Street, including installation of mirrors on the walls and ceiling and of new fluorescent and spot lighting.

The first Continental Congress was called by Massachusetts and Virginia in 1774.

Adjournment

At least, they want the House to finish its business by then, even though the Senate decides to carry on until September or later.

Small College

For the students and teachers who stayed on the campus and a few who arrived early the hardships were not avoided.

Woodrow J. Walling of Petersburg, Alaska, said "Farragut is helping the families get away," Black said. "We've wired state officials and civic groups for help, too."

Congress Action

(Continued From Page One) ning to testimony from the experts who helped draft it. Lawmakers said later that the testimony included "impressive" figures on Russia's military strength.

Conservation Plan (Continued From Page One) included: Seeding 27,710 acres to permanent pasture; planting of 5,228 acres to forest trees; clearing of 10,280 acres for new pastures;

Labor Survey

(Continued From Page One) to 2,000, up from 1,000 in its own kitchen," Katz-Ruchy said sarcastically. He said the foreign office had "falsified a few passages in translation, just to keep up the tradition."

The Polish delegate described the codex as "just prison regulations for the flogging of prisoners and quoted documents which he cited as proof that compulsory labor exists in British colonies."

The American resolution on forced labor, he said, was an investigation of hatred and incitement to war propaganda.

Commenting on the prospects for such a probe, Fernand Behoussier of Belgium said: "If there is not a survey on the spot we might as well not set up an investigating commission at all."

Road Department

Dora High School Class of 1949, whose photograph appears on the cover of the current Ladies Home Journal, and who was escorted in a parade spearheaded by Orlando's public Air Force band of 28 members. Earlier in the day Lois was paraded and honored in Orlando.

Residents of the little town of Swanton where Lois lives, are still talking of the parade which came there with her from Mt. Dora, and where the Air Force band played. Lois has been employed at Cypress Gardens this summer as one of the much photographed beauties who wander about there on the scenic walks.

James Stout was recently elected president of the newly formed Mount Dora Tennis Club. Dr. R. W. Thomson, vice president; Tom Williams, secretary; Renee Malone, treasurer; Dr. Hugo Curry was named the club pro. The club is out to secure new members, especially from among a class of 70 now being instructed in the town by Dr. Curry.

Meat Prices (Continued From Page One) shipments of fruits to markets already overwhelmed with inferior quality threaten to send down prices still lower in the coming weeks.

"Hot humid weather hastened the ripening of most fruits, and heavy harvests were way ahead of last year," the institute's market analysts said. "Canners are holding off on big peach and pear crops, which, together with larger yields, lower consumer incomes, and hand-to-mouth buying promises considerably lower prices."

"Total production of major deciduous fruits will be at least one-eighth larger than in 1948," The Agriculture Department headlined these foods on its most-plentiful list for this week: tomatoes, nationally, lettuce in the Northeast and West, snap beans in the Southeast, peaches in the Midwest and canteloupes in the Southwest.

The Dun & Bradstreet wholesale food price index this week advanced to $5.84 from $5.73 a week ago and compared with $7.18 a year ago. The figure represents the total wholesale cost of a pound each of 31 foods in general use.

Four Officials (Continued From Page One) deputies, N. Stokes McCutley, William Hartline, and John Heckley, contended the mob forced them to surrender the negroes.

The indictments climaxed a two-day grand jury investigation. Dr. Samuel Green, grand dragon of the Association of George Klans, headed a group of 70 witnesses summoned to testify.

Sheriff Lynch and his deputies arrested the men at the home of a negro woman. Lynch said they had been causing a disturbance. The arrests, he said, a mask job burned a wooden cross in front of the house, took the prisoners from him and rushed them off to the flogging ground.

Governor Asks Strict Marriage Laws For Georgia

Talmadge Says Steps Are Being Taken To Correct Problem

TAMPA, Aug. 4.—(AP)—The Governor of Georgia, answering a Tampa juvenile judge's protest about child marriages in that state, said steps are being taken to correct the situation.

Governor Herman Talmadge wrote Judge Paul Kirkhiter that a bill tightening up on issuance of marriage licenses, especially to non-resident couples, is expected to come before the Georgia legislature in January.

Georgia also recently enacted a law, similar to Florida's, requiring a waiting period between application for a marriage license and issuance of the license. That is expected to cut down the number of Florida couples going to Georgia to be married.

Judge Kirkhiter wrote Governor Talmadge after the Rev. John P. Lane was shot to death here by the father of the Baptist preacher's 13-year old bride. They were married in a Georgia element.

Judge Kirkhiter said he had many complaints about girls 13 to 17 years old going to Georgia to be married without their parents' knowledge.

Governor Talmadge added that whatever laws are in effect, it is up to license-issuing officials to be careful that juveniles do not make false affidavits about their age.

Meanwhile, the minister who married the Lanes said "I had no reason to doubt it."

Truman Conference

at his news conference, Mr. Truman said he doesn't particularly care whether it remains in the bill. He said all he wants is to see that European pact countries are properly taken care of.

He also said the bill ought to be passed as quickly as possible in the manner in which it was sent to Congress.

The President also discussed Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, China, excise taxes, a loan to Mexico and other matters.

Concerning Mrs. Roosevelt, a reporter asked whether it is true that she has offered to resign as a member of the U. S. delegation to the United Nations because of a difference with Francis Cardinal Spellman over federal aid to education.

Mr. Truman replied that Mrs. Roosevelt offered to resign—as she does every year—just to give him a free hand to appoint anyone he wants.

But he said she's going back to the United Nations in her same job.

The President said Mrs. Roosevelt expressed no reason for her offer. He said he thought it was only her customary politeness, and noted that she made her annual offer at the usual time.

The President announced that the State Department is publishing tomorrow a volume on United States relations with China, particularly during the last five years.

He said his main purpose in asking the secretary of state to never do anything in better faith in my life than perform that ceremony.

The Rev. Walter P. Spivey, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Ashburn, Ga., was a visitor in Tampa.

Spivey said he had been criticized severely by many persons for performing the marriage.

He said the license gave the girl's age as 22 and "I had no reason to doubt it."

publish this record at this time is to insure that our Far Eastern policy shall be based on informed and intelligent public opinion.

He said the role of this government in its relations with China has been subject to considerable misrepresentation, distortion and misunderstanding.

When a reporter asked if Mr. Truman sees any improvement in the economic situation, he grinned and said all he knows is what he reads in the papers. He added that even the Wall Street Journal says there has been an improvement.

A reporter asked if it is true that a loan to Mexico has been refused because of a Mexican refusal to pay certain past claims. Mr. Truman said the United States has not refused to make a loan to Mexico that it is still under consideration, and that he is hopeful it will be worked out.

Concerning a bill recently passed by Congress to give the secretary of defense more power to unify the armed forces, Mr. Truman said he is having it analyzed and he will probably sign it if it is in the form he thinks it is.

President Truman was asked about a report that James V. Hunt, a former Army officer who has been mentioned in a Senate committee's inquiry into operations of "five percenters," brought 2,500 books of pocket matches inscribed "Swiped from Harry S. Truman" last December from a match company in St. Louis.

The President commented that anyone has a right to buy matches. He said it was the first he had heard of such a purchase.

He said he did not receive any and that he doesn't know Hunt, and that he doesn't know Hunt.

Roger White, a lawyer for Hunt, told a reporter the matches were bought at the request of the White House for use on Mr. Truman's presidential campaign trip last fall.

A "five percenter" is a man who helps others get government contracts in return for a percentage of the proceeds.

A FORMER Broadway showgirl, Mrs. Blanche Lane (above), 28, was slain by her estranged patrolman husband, William, 30, who surprised his wife and her married sweetheart, Arnold Myers, 37, in her home. Evidence showed Lane applied on the pair for more than an hour and a half before killing them. The patrolman then shot himself to death. (Continued)

Rural Common Sense

By Spuds Johnson

"Institute time" will soon be here for Florida farm folks, and it is hoped that as many of them as possible will take advantage of it.

There will be three institutes this year—the Citrus Institute and the Poultry Institute at Camp Quince and the Farm and Home Institute at Camp Cherry Lake in Madison County.

The Citrus Institute will be held August 22 to 26, the Farm and Home Institute August 25 and 26, and the Poultry Institute August 29-September 3. Each year, literally hundreds of rural people who are interested in general farming, in poultry production, or in fruit production attend these popular institutes, and they always go home benefited by the things they have learned, by the pleasant and friendly association they have had with others, and the recreation they have enjoyed.

The camps where these institutes are held will accommodate only about 100 overnight guests, but many other farmers and farm women attend the sessions during the day and return to their homes or to lodging places in nearby towns to spend the night.

The persons who attend them do so to get away from the farm for a day or two and to see others, to discuss their common problems, to learn more about crops, marketing, and other important matters from agricultural leaders and each other, and to enjoy the recreation the institutes afford. They hear talks by research and extension workers who have studied their problems, they ask questions and offer comment at round table discussions, they get together and sing with great enthusiasm, they tell tall stories, they go fishing and swimming, and they have the pleasure of making many new friends.

That the institutes, directed by the State Agricultural Extension Service in cooperation with other agencies and groups, are very worthwhile and beneficial is shown by their increasing popularity over the years. They contribute to the progress and welfare of the individual and the agriculture of the state as a whole.

The institutes are fine examples of the American way of life—the friendly, cooperative, and earnest assemblage of free people to discuss their problems and to work for their own betterment and the welfare and progress of the state and nation.

organization will be the task of a future high level meeting. "We are looking forward to meeting the French, Belgians, Dutch and Portuguese in France tomorrow and the next day."

The naval chief said the U. S. commanders did not come here with any ready-made plan. Rather, he said, the mission was to exchange views and report back to the U. S. government.

U. S. Army General Bradley, emerging with benefit from the heavily guarded conference room, declined to discuss what form the Atlantic Pact defense plan would take, who might be its commander or where its headquarters might be.

It is reported that the United States government is offering wheat for export sale at about 80 cents less than the going price at domestic markets, according to an announcement from Washington.

"Innocent bystanders" may well wonder who is doing our national government the most harm, Communist infiltrators, or five-percenters.

Iron City, Ga., has joined the parade of cities banning the wearing of KKK regalia. In Birmingham William Morris, top Alabama Klux Klansman is ordered back to jail.

Strongest argument in favor of a sales tax, and most fallacious, is the statement that hundreds of thousands of tourists come to Florida every year, but their children in Florida schools do not pay a dime of taxation for their support.

John Temple Graves fairly roars with approval that the South is no longer the nation's "Economic Problem No. 1."

Dascon Scruggs, a Leon county politician and lobbyist, who tried to bribe Senator Alford for $2,000 to vote against the anti-bookie bill, is acquitted by the jury of his peers.

Uncle Sam's Wheat

The United States government is offering wheat for export sale at about 80 cents less than the going price at domestic markets, according to an announcement from Washington. The wheat it is offering comes from stocks which have been bought by the Commodity Credit Corporation to support the price of wheat.

Any explanation is likely to resemble the classic joke about the sidewalk merchant who was buying apples for five cents each and selling them for three. He said he could afford to sell at a loss because he did such a large volume of business.

But if they can make their picket lines stick, and if they have chosen accurately the places to be picketed, the women of Cary could hardly find a more effective channel for their campaign.

Many of the states, including Florida, have failed to take strong and continuous action against indiscriminate dumping of sewage and industrial and other contaminating wastes into the public waters within their boundaries.

Florida's allotment under this program is $15,198. Admittedly, it is not much. It can, however, serve as a starter, stimulate surveys and help in produce a comprehensive program to be acted upon by the 1951 legislature.

That a concerted fight against water pollution is needed in Florida is beyond debate. There are numerous contaminated streams and lakes. Contaminations in some sections are nothing less than a disgrace.

I wonder when World War II legislation will be over. The Reorganization Act provides that Congress shall adjourn on July 31 unless we are at war or unless there is a national emergency.

The House has acted on most of the measures which the Administration has placed on the "quota" list. There remains the controversial Federal Aid to Education bill.

THE WORLD TODAY

By JAMES D. WHITE, AP Foreign News Analyst (For DeWitt Mackenzie)

There's bound to be a lot of argument over this: General MacArthur announces that he has broken up the Zaihatu, the economic giants of pre-war Japan.

These light family trusts were a fundamental part of Japan's economic and political fabric. They made and sold everything from needles to battleships.

When Japan was opened to the outside world about 80 years ago, they began pushing their own economic horizon up to and beyond Japan's new frontiers.

Control of Japan was a matter of a balance struck among the relative strengths of the Zaihatu, politicians, and military.

The process went something like this: To finance an invasion, say, of north China, the government would sell bonds.

But as late as 1923 after the tide had turned against Japan and Tojo was trying to take over the nation's economy for a greater effort, the Zaihatu stopped...

Personally, most Zaihatu people are well-educated and very charming individuals. As family trusts, however, they stood for one of the most primitive things about Japan.

The Strength Of Character

This little story comes to us from the Poonoon in Pennsylvania. These vigorous footballs that grow lightly from the slopes of the Blue Ridge Mountains. They are within deer-shot of where we live.

Har romance with the young architect had ended with rather a decision, she had it in effect without delay. Once she had said goodbye and turned to go, she didn't turn to wave or look back again.

For months afterward, he'd walk out in front of his stone arched and look a hole through the mountains on the other side. The actual distance across was not more than four miles, but the enchantment of color in the haze...

Which, of course certainly didn't staunch the flow of his blood, this was her. It was like blood, this longing, and it seemed to be taking him slowly out of himself.

Now this, as we've already said, is not a story out of the past. Nor is it so much a sad story as a bit of bygone power, the personal power of a man's will or, rather, a girl's will.

For several years things had gone on this way. He was a somewhat inconclusive sort of personality anyway, and he carried so much and so long that all other considerations in life took on diminishing value.

By the time she was twenty-four, when she was married, she had already been through a divorce.

There Are 5 Ways To Get Alcoholics To Stay On Wagon

By ALTON L. BLAKEBLEE Associated Press Science Reporter NEW YORK—There are five ways to help alcoholics to get and stay on the wagon.

Special drugs that make the drinker sick are one way. The drinker afterward, he becomes sick and nervous. The success of this method is limited. If he takes a drink, even when they don't receive the drug first.

Another way, sometimes, causes vomiting. It is given just before the person is given a drink. The chronic drunkard can reform, but usually can't take even one drink again without starting off on a binge.

A second approach is psychological. Chronic drinking may be due to some emotional problem or frustration. If this is straightened out, the reason for the compulsion to drink may be removed.

A third approach is moral—buildings or spiritual, as typified by Alcoholics Anonymous. Here the person gets help and encouragement from people who face the same problem, and lick it.

Fourth is a new kind of therapy—psychological make-up. Such studies may show why people differ for a much in the effects of alcohol on them.

 gram of public works."
 "Our public works program," Dewey said, "is the first line in our attack against recession. . . . We have a reserve of public construction ready to go and I am happy to report, have the money in the bank to pay for it."

 The committee said the state had $575,000,000 available on Apr. 1 for public works construction. About $191,000,000 is under contract, the report said, and $381,000,000 is to go under contract this year.

Beaches Of France

 the water is blue and refreshing. From Cannes to Nice the distance is about 25 miles. The weather is thickly settled. The weather is quite warm during the day, but the nights are cool.
 The trees, shrubbery and flowers are about the same we have in Florida. There are some citrus trees but I saw only one kind of palm tree.
 Back of both Cannes and Nice are high hills sloping toward the coast. The elite live in the hills. Their houses are attractive and big. I saw no new houses being erected. This part of France was untouched by the war. Only a few bombs fell in Nice.
 As far as one can see on the surface the people of France are so happy, at least as happy, as most people are in this rapidly changing world. We don't happen to live in a day where happiness is easily received. Happiness is the result of the whole self being united.
 There are too many disrupting forces in our modern world for our lives to be united as they should be.
 Anyway the French are not hungry. They have houses to live in, though most of them are old, and those who want to wear clothes have plenty to keep them comfortable.
 France's problem is that there are two distinct Frances. This distinction runs back to the revolution and farther. The few determine how the life of France is to be administered.
 The masses have never shared equally in the on-going of the republic. This is the basis for Communism in France. Those in authority are now seeking to remedy this long injustice and as they do Communism subsides.
 If France can find a way to adjust her economic life in a way that more of the common people can have in the good things I mean by good things, more bread, more conveniences and more security Communism will die. Otherwise, nothing can prevent it from spreading.
 Communism feeds upon unmet, unmet desires.
 I find myself not desiring to linger here. It's too much like where I came from to get a rest. If we try to find a way to get to Boston, Hungary. But so far I have failed. I may have better luck in Paris. I want to get a little rest behind the Iron Curtain.

 sold two outstanding Jersey bulls to the Southeastern Artificial Breeding Association, Asheville, N. C. Monolo Sybil Pompey, eight years old, had 17 daughters whose average production was 1,656 pounds of milk and 59 pounds of butterfat higher than their dams. His son, Sybil Pompey Royal Lad, six years old, had nine daughters with average production 1,876 pounds of milk and 72 pounds of butterfat more than their dams.
 These bulls join 26 other proved bulls in the Southeastern stud, from which semen is shipped daily to 56 artificial breeding associations in North Carolina, Virginia, Georgia and Florida and on alternate days to Indiana.
 The report issued by the Bureau of Dairy Industry shows that

2,000 bulls are now giving service to 317,001 herds in 1,364 artificial-breeding associations throughout the Nation. The rapid growth of the program is shown by the increase over 1948 of 91,684, or 40.8 percent, in number of herds, and 668,833 or 38.4 percent, in number of cows.

"GROWERS' GUARANTY"
 VACUUM FOODS' REVOLUTIONARY CROP PURCHASE PLAN

"I congratulate Vacuum Foods for starting such a worthwhile program for the citrus growers of the state"
 says NATHAN MAYO, Florida Commissioner of Agriculture

- A GUARANTEED MONTHLY INCOME—all year round —TO COVER ALL YOUR PRODUCTION COSTS!
- A GUARANTEED MINIMUM PRICE for your entire crop—NOT LESS THAN $1.00 PER BOX DELIVERED!
- A GUARANTEED MARKET for your entire crop—AT MARKET PRICE WHEN MORE THAN $1.00!

Industry holds first real price protection

The announcement of Vacuum Foods' revolutionary Growers' Guaranty plan has met with unprecedented acclaim throughout the citrus industry.

Nathan Mayo, Florida Commissioner of Agriculture, says: "This is a big undertaking for an individual company and I congratulate Vacuum Foods for starting such a worthwhile program for the citrus growers of the state."

"The most favorable thing we've had . . . it is gratifying to know we've got a floor," says H. C. Brown, Clermont, Grower.

"The fact that even one firm has a floor under the price is bound to have its psychological effect," says M. C. Peters, Florida-gold Citrus Corp., Lake Alfred.

"One of the most helpful and stabilizing things ever done for the industry," says Henry L. Pringle, Leesburg, Grower.

To selected growers of quality oranges, Vacuum Foods now offers the opportunity of enrolling in the Growers' Guaranty plan.

If you qualify, you benefit from the first genuine price support plan in the citrus industry.

Growers' Guaranty not only provides a guaranteed minimum price for your orange crop, but gives you additional advantages never before offered to orange growers by any agency, public or private.

How Growers' Guaranty works

1. A limited number of quality growers will be enrolled immediately in Growers' Guaranty, for a one, two, or three-year period at the growers' option.
2. If you qualify, you agree to deliver to Vacuum Foods at picking time a certain number of boxes of oranges—the quantity to be based upon an estimate of your crop yield for the coming season.
3. Vacuum Foods guarantees to purchase your crop at the full average market price paid by Vacuum Foods for all oranges purchased from all sources during the month or seasonal period when your crop is picked.
4. Vacuum Foods guarantees to pay you a minimum contract price of not less than $1.00 per box delivered, regardless of market conditions.
5. When the agreement goes into effect, you immediately begin to earn a guaranteed monthly income that is enough to more than cover all normal production costs at Vacuum Foods' risk! This cash income is paid to you each month throughout the whole year, at the rate of 5¢ per box per month on your entire estimated orange crop plus an extra amount at picking time. For example, if your agreement covers 4000 boxes, your monthly cash income under Growers' Guaranty is $200.00!
6. If the average market price at the time of delivery is less than $1.00, under Growers' Guaranty you still receive the full $1.00, less the amounts already paid to you. And if the average market price is more than $1.00, Vacuum Foods guarantees you the difference, whatever it is! Growers' Guaranty gives you double protection—protection against losses in low markets, protected profits in high markets!

What Growers' Guaranty offers you

- A guaranteed minimum price for your orange crop
- A guaranteed monthly income all year round
- A guaranteed market for your crop at full market price
- Priority in handling your fruit in the event of crop damage
- A permanent "home" for your fruit in the expanding segment of the citrus industry
- Secured income without assessments, regardless of general market conditions, for the life of your agreement.

How to find out more about Growers' Guaranty

Your regular dealer can give you full information about the revolutionary Vacuum Foods' Growers' Guaranty plan.

Discuss it with him. Let him explain the details, answer your questions, estimate your own monthly income and minimum yearly income based on the estimated yield of your own grove.

Or, if you prefer, write direct to Vacuum Foods for information on Growers' Guaranty. Address your request to the personal attention of Mr. R. A. (Bob) Funder, Manager Fruit Procurement Department, Vacuum Foods Corporation, Plymouth, Florida.

Remember, only a limited number of growers can be enrolled in Growers' Guaranty. Therefore, it is to your advantage to obtain complete information without delay.
