

Chicago Teachers Seek Protection

CHICAGO (UPI)—The Chicago teachers union has reported a survey indicating teachers in 71 "blackboard jungle" Chicago schools fear for their personal safety.

The union, Local 1 of the American Federation of Teachers, said teachers at 78 schools wanted full-time police protection and inspectors at 64 asked for part-time protection.

John M. Forbes, president of the union, said the organization queried 500 teacher delegates a week after the rape-slaying of Mrs. Josephine Keane by a 14-year-old fifth grader at the Le. Champlin school on Chicago's South side. Of those queried, 400 responded.

The answers cited frequent vice behavior problems at 27 schools; while 163 had severe problems less often; 182 schools said problems occurred daily but were minor, while 30 schools said discipline was no problem. At 27 of the schools, classrooms and hallways were listed as dangerous before and after school.

Trainer Not So Long On Memory As Elephant

FORT LEE, N. J. (UPI)—An elephant never forgets—but his trainer does sometimes.

Sidney, a six-ton 22-year-old elephant, was left behind at Fallsides Amusement Park Sunday night when the Clyde Beatty-Cole Bros. Circus pulled up stakes and headed for Philadelphia.

The oversight was discovered when trainer Steve Fanning counted only 30 trunks at Philadelphia's Lighthouse Field instead of 31.

"I was frozen with fear for the moment," said Fanning.

Then it was recalled that Sidney had been temporarily anchored behind a building where he was being taught a new routine between shows.

Fanning reclaimed Sidney and took him to Philadelphia.

Sidney was expected to remember the incident for some time. So was Fanning.

Senate's Redistricting Plan Termed Best For Seminole

Seminole County bills rewriting the civil service law for Sanford and regulating pleasure boats in lakes were in the legislature today and Reps. Mack Cleveland and Gordon Frederick had their eyes on the congressional redistricting act.

Cleveland said this morning the Senate action putting Seminole into a district with Volusia, Citrus, Sumter, Marion, Lake and Osceola counties "appears the most satisfactory for Seminole County."

Also in the House is the boat regulation measure requested by the County Commission. This bill will give authority to law enforcement officers to make boaters adhere strictly to speed and other regulations while operating in lakes near homes, beaches and other private property.

Wednesday's calendar was upset by action expelling Rep. E. Bert Riddle of Walton County for asking "an immoral question" of a young girl.

Riddle, an elderly member serving his third term in the House, was expelled from the body by an 82-0 vote. He was charged with handing the girl a note asking "an immoral question," according to a special House investigating committee.

Miami Advertising Firm Attaches Cuban Tobacco

MIAMI (UPI)—Miami advertising executive Erwin Harris Wednesday secured legal attachments on 14 carloads of Cuban tobacco and a Cuban cargo plane flown here at the order of a crewman who pulled a pistol to enforce his demand.

The tobacco was attached at West Palm Beach after arriving by ferry from Havana. The cars were put on a siding pending determination whether the tobacco is still Cuban property or now belongs to American purchasers.

Several hours later, the cargo plane flew here and Harris attached it. He is seeking to satisfy a $500,000 judgment against the Cuban government for some advertising work.

District Immigration Director Edward F. Abrams said he understood the Havana-based plane, carrying a pilot and two crewmen, was delivering newspapers to several Cuban cities when one of the crewmen, seeking political asylum, forced the pilot to fly here.

Abrams said the pilot and the other crewman wished to return to Cuba. He declined to release the names of any of the three.

HIRE NOW is the slogan of a job drive instituted here in a proclamation by Mayor Joe Baker, shown with Don Hahn, manager of the employment service office, who is meeting.

City Joins In Employment Drive

Mayor Joe Baker today called on Sanford employers to "staff their plants and business now to prove their faith in the free enterprise system."

His appeal was made in a proclamation endorsing the nationwide "HIRE NOW" drive being spearheaded in Sanford by the Sanford office of the Florida State Employment Service. The drive has also been endorsed by the governor.

Signs for the campaign are "When They Work, You Profit. HIRE NOW!"

Mayor Baker said the drive is being undertaken to fill existing job openings which in turn will create new employment opportunities.

He noted that the time was propitious for a hiring push because many economic indicators show that the national economy is on the rise.

"I credit upon all local employers, leaders of industry and labor, and members of civic, veteran and fraternal organizations," he said, "to cooperate and assist the Florida State Employment Service to carry out a successful job drive, thus increasing local payrolls and creating the buying power necessary to maintain a healthy and sound economy."

Weather Conditions Play Large Role In Insect Size

By ERNIE LUNDBERG
Asst. Seminole County Agent

Weather conditions, temperature, rain, humidity and other factors may affect citrus insect and mite populations directly or indirectly through effects on predators, parasites and diseases. Each pest has a more or less regular annual cycle, influenced by seasonal weather changes.

In some cases a change in the weather may influence infestations almost immediately. In others the departure from normal may not occur for many months. To illustrate, the past winter was one of the coldest in recent years in that there were below accumulated hours below 45 degrees than in other recent years, not that it got critically cold during any one period. This condition caused citrus trees to go dormant early and remain so longer or later in the spring than normal. Because of this, new growth started later than usual, but because of good growing conditions it expanded and matured too quickly for aphids to become a problem.

Rapid growth plus the lack of prolonged rainy periods or periods of early morning fog and high humidity has resulted in very light melonose infections of the leaves. Fred Lawrence, citrusiculturist, Florida Agricultural Extension Service, says the weather has been in the grower's favor, and barring unforeseen tricks of nature, this could well be a year of top quality fruit, internally and externally. In discussing the citrus pests situation, Mr. Lawrence warned that a rapid increase in rust mite activity is underway. In most areas, infestations have reached the highest range for this time of year in the past ten years.

We are told that no matter how stubborn the Russians are in negotiation, we must keep coming back to the council table. We never know when a breakthrough might be scored.

Well, there has been one. It's small, but real. The announcement comes from a British scientist who has been busy these many years collecting all the known varieties of fleas.

The collector already possesses about 95 percent of the identified varieties. The others, all quite rare, exist only in the Soviet Union. Now, joy to the world, we are told that the Iron Curtain will be lifted just high enough to let these rare fleas sneak under and join the others.

Unity in the flea world isn't much, but it's a start.

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

CASE #494: Jim B., aged 22, was in a fox hole in Korea a few years ago.

During the artillery barrage, with buddies dying all around him, he realized that he might be killed at any minute.

Alone under the stars, with the shells bursting everywhere and giving a hellish brightness to the mountain terrain, Jim felt that he was almost literally knocking on heaven's portals.

So he figured he ought to say something. But he didn't know how to talk to God.

Fortunately, he was spared, so he wrote a letter home to his mother a few days later and described the situation just mentioned.

"But, Mother," he added, "you let me down!

"You never sent us kids to Sunday School and never even taught us to pray.

"So there I was, right on the verge of eternity, and I didn't even know how to commence or what to say to the Lord.

"Please correct this error with me and Buddy before they get away from you, for it is an awful sensation to face death and not even know how to speak to God."

Teenage delinquency is being spotlighted widely in America today.

But we have an edge in Applied Psychology that states:

"Bad kids usually have bad parents!"

And those "bad" parents are not necessarily immoral or robbers and killers.

No, you can be a "bad" parent just because of your "sins of omission" rather than any overt sins of commission.

Most parents won't deliberately act like Dickens' Fagin and teach their children to steal or swear or drink or smoke or be cynical of the opposite sex and indulge in illicit affairs.

But many parents "omit" needed training even before the kindergarten age.

This involves moral training, so never be guilty of having your child send you a letter as Jim's mother received.

Take your children to Sunday School where generous teachers donate their Sabbath mornings to try to plant and nurture idealism in the souls of your youngsters.

"But I prefer to wait till my child is old enough to make his own decision about churches," many parents say.

That is wrong. You don't wait till he is a legal adult to teach him toilet habits or the use of a toothbrush, or the meaning of stop lights on dangerous auto highways!

So see that he is likewise tutored in moral "stoplights" even before the kindergarten age.

All good parents should teach a child to pray and to attend church, as well as return thanks for his food at the table. Do you?

If not, you are a delinquent parent, guilty of sins of omission! You should also teach him games and safety measures, such as swimming, tooth-brushing, etc.

And tutor him in fondness for books. The "library habit" is vital to his college success, so start it NOW.

Send for my 200-point "Tests for Good Parents," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit).

Use them to avoid being a delinquent parent via sins of omission. Discuss these Rating Scales at P-TA, too.

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Mankind has been doing such a lousy job of running human affairs on this planet that it's a pleasure to report—for a day, and a change of pace, on how the battle against the bugs is coming along.

It's the insects that crawl under rocks—and stay there till the radiation count has died down to zero—which will have to start building a new civilization after the present generation of men blow this one into oblivion with nuclear weapons.

The only alternative is to send Astronaut Alan B. Shepard and his good-looking wife to some uninhabited planet as a new Adam and Eve.

Or, like Father Noah and his tribe, the shepherds might herd a flock of animals—two by two, the hippo-pot-a-mus and the ka-kangaroo—onto a space ship called The Ark. They could stay in orbit till their Geiger counters show it's safe to come back. But that might be a long, long time. And meanwhile, the insects would have taken over.

It's the Department of Agriculture that checks up on insect life

Way Back When

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Telephone switchboards were operated by teenage boys in the first few years of telephony, but the service left much to be desired, according to Pacific Telephone. Women operators proved more competent, and dependable and had taken over by the 1890's, the company said.

What's Your Hobby?

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI)—Mrs. Jason Barnes has a hobby: collecting soap. Her bathroom is lined with huge pickle jars containing all sizes of soap bars. She has hundreds of cakes of soap in many different shapes. They resemble monkeys, camels, golf balls, baseballs, fruits, fish, roses and other flowers. "It's good clean fun," she said.

today. And its research service scientists have recently discovered some really amazing things about bug life.

Insect "insects" are just as important a part of the Washington scene as are the human insects who get written up in the papers and put on the air so much, so it shouldn't be amiss to give the true insects a little better coverage as the mosquito season opens.

Want to know why mosquitoes bother some people and leave others alone, for instance?

The latest copy of "Agricultural Research" reports that a prominent Canadian entomologist (bug-ologist) recently remarked that "a real noise-minded, noiseless man in a white suit could avoid all annoyance from mosquitoes—if he would just stop breathing."

That's the trick. Learn how to stop breathing.)

Speaking of space exploration, a team of Agricultural Research Service scientists has discovered that the lowly cockroach has an important role to play in astro-nautics.

They found that a species known as the Madeira roach, which is extremely hardy, is well suited for space travel. Madeira is lightweight and requires less air and food than organisms of a higher order. Also, Madeira can withstand atomic radiation and multiple "G" acceleration better than mammals.

Shepard withstood 4 Gs—four times the pull of gravity—in his pressurized suit and capsule. A Madeira roach could do a lot better than that.

Madiera could be housed in a 12-ounce metal container in a spacecraft. And the entomologist figure they can get an electro-psychological signal from the roach which could be telemetered back to earth. Next thing you know the roaches will be piloting space craft and following man wherever he tries to escape.

Another big bug discovery is that the two-spotted spider mite which attacks almost all plants grown in greenhouses can be combated by introducing two predator mites; one found in the U. S., the other imported from West Germany.

The predator mites eat the two-spotted spider mites, having a life cycle of only 8 to 12 days for each generation, have become immune to all the chemical sprays and fumigants now known.

Then, all that will be needed will be a spray to kill the predator mites.

Department of Agriculture has just issued the 1961 edition of its handbook on insecticide recommendations. It's full of fascinating bug lore for professional gardeners and farmers. You can get a copy for 65 cents from Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington 25, D. C.

VENTIMIGLIA, Italy—I have been envious of travel writers for years, chiefly because of one trait they all have and I seem to lack.

They always manage to get up at dawn in a foreign city and watch the sun rise over the rooftops, and stroll the streets before the place comes alive for the day. They revel in the flower and vegetable markets, the early cafes and coffee bars, and the air of mystery that (they say) cloaks a city in the early, early hours.

This has always been impossible for me, for I am a born late sleeper. The cock's crow is a lullaby to me, and the sunrise twitter of birds only makes me snuggle deeper. I usually hit the streets around 10:30, still rubbing my eyes. The dawn glow is off of things by then. The birds and roosters have gone back to the sack, the eyes of the fish in the markets are taking on a glaze, and the flowers are being fed aspirin to make them hold up their once-dewy heads in the stalls.

This morning, here in Ventimiglia, thanks to a cough that wouldn't stop, and a tickle in my throat that was as persistent as a house-to-house salesman, I was up and out of the hotel before dawn's rosy fingers had a good grip on the horizon.

I made straight for the city's famed flower market where, so my guidebook said, the loveliest blooms of the Italian Riviera were to be seen at their best. Maybe so, but I was there too early. The blooms were still sleeping, and so were the bloom sellers. All I saw was a vast shed, its concrete floor cold underfoot, and needing a good sweeping.

There was an air of mystery about the deserted streets, I'll admit, but who do you think provided the mystery? I did. As the lone stroller, I was twice looked up and down by policemen on their beats, and one followed me a couple of blocks as if to see that I didn't tamper with any pulled cutlers.

It was cold, too. The air off the sea was damp and chilly, and I wished I had left on my pajama top under my sports shirt.

I did find some fishermen just landing their night's catches. They were down by their boats, which they had hauled up on the rocky beach, and were unloading what looked like big sardines by the handful.

"Good morning, colorful fishermen!" I said, but they went on yanking fish from their boats and didn't have the time or inclination to answer my greeting.

I looked at my watch and it was 3:30. I thought surely I would see a travel writer or two, and perhaps entice one into a cafe for a coffee, provided I could find a cafe that was open.

The vegetable market was beginning to come to life when I got there and I must admit that I did spend an enjoyable half hour watching men and women set up their stalls and lay out the potatoes, carrots, asparagus, lettuce, and tomatoes, and print the price tags.

I patted a local cat, who ran away as if I had struck him with a knife, and was licked by a dog who was standing guard by a barrow of what looked like squash.

At 6:15 I decided that I had enough and went back to the hotel and managed to get back in the room without disturbing Mary or Megan. Soon I was sound asleep and I slept until 11. Then I showered, shaved and went out on the town—at the proper hour, I might add.

Q—How much does a commercial bank charge to sell securities for a customer?—R. M.

A—Dear R. M.: The fee varies, some banks might make no charge. If a charge is made, it is usually a flat fee regardless of the number of shares or amount of capital involved. For example, one large New York bank makes a flat charge of $3. Such a charge is added to the regular broker's fee. This is because banks cannot become members of any stock exchange, but funnel their securities sales and purchases through brokers just as you would.

I am not certain why you would want a bank doing your securities business for you unless you live in a town where there is no brokerage office or you did not wish to be influenced by a broker's suggestions. If, on the other hand, a bank handles your investments via a custodian and/or advisory account, the fee for handling stock and bond sales and purchases is included in the fee you pay for that service.

Q—My wife and I are covered by Blue Cross. Our 17-year-old daughter lives with us. She is not married, but she is going to have a baby. Is she covered by our Blue Cross policy?—D. B.

A—Dear D. B.: Under many Blue Cross family contracts only the wife is covered. Check your local Blue Cross plan.

Q—What is the National Defense Education Act? Who is eligible.—E. M.

A—Dear E. M.: It provides federal funds for college scholarships. It is due to expire June 30, 1962, but President Kennedy has asked Congress to make the act permanent.

The funds go to several hundred colleges which select students to whom they make loans. If interested in this type of aid, check whether your chosen college has such funds available. If granted, loans are limited to $1,000 a year or a total of $5,000. This loan is repayable over a 10-year period at 3 per cent interest. Repayment need not begin until one year after the youngster ceases to be a full-time student.

Q—What is a holding company?—A. C.

A—Dear A. C.: A holding company is a corporation which owns the securities of another company, in most cases with voting control.

Oviedo Boys, Girls Get Awards

The Oviedo High School luncheon was the scene of the school's annual athletic banquet.

Following the dinner, Coach Paul Mikler, athletic director of Oviedo High School, introduced Professor H. J. Laney, a former principal of Oviedo High, who introduced sports into the local school.

Laney spoke of the size of the school when he was principal here, over 31 years ago, and now, also the subjects taught then and now. Then he told of many amusing incidents during his reign as principal, especially dealing with some of the athletes of those days—some who have been fathers of later athletes at Oviedo High, or uncles, etc.

Coach Mikler then thanked Laney before introducing those giving awards to the athletes of 1961. First was Mrs. Marian Jones, who presented the four Jones awards.

The award to the girl voted the best guard on the girls' team went to Miss Betty Duda, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Duda Jr. and sister of Mike, who received the Jones award for most valuable player for two years.

The Jones award for the most valuable player to his team this year went to Kenneth Sparks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sparks.

Two other awards given by Mrs. Jones were the girl and boy making the most foul shots on the two teams. Miss Marian Fabray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fabray, also captain of the team, again received this award. The other award went to Roy Wainright, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben G. Wainright.

Then Mrs. James Parlin, better known as Marguerite, spoke of the successful year her girls had had. Even though they had only a few games, they never lost a game. The award for the girl voted by her teammates as best-all-round went to Miss Marian Fabray, captain of the team and a member of this year's graduating class. Miss Sandra Bellhorn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Bellhorn, received a silver basketball for four letters in basketball.

Basketball letters went to Marian Fabray, Betty Duda, Sandra Bellhorn, Gerald Bok, Katherine Duda, Barbara Beasley, and Karen Franklin, all seniors; Eleanor Duda, Leora Daugherty, juniors; and Suzanne Parlin, a sophomore.

Eleanor Duda, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand Duda, was elected to be captain of next year's basketball team.

Coach Jim Palmer, who coached the junior varsity, spoke on his team's record, a 9-9 mark for the year, with most of the opposing teams formed of juniors and seniors while his was mainly sophomores, with a couple of eighth graders included.

Letters went to Jimmy Jones, Thad Lingo, Wesley Swenson, John Jakubcin, Jimmy Courier, Ralph Johnson, Danny Gammage and Bobby Penta. All were sophomores except Jimmy Courier and Danny Gammage, eighth graders.

Mikler then told of his basketball and baseball team's season record. He also spoke of some of his stars of previous years. He was mighty proud of the baseball team for going to the finals in the baseball tournament with DeLand, defeating Pierson and Lyman by large majorities to do so.

He presented the award for the boy voted the best-all-round in basketball and baseball, one voted by teammates. Again Kenneth Sparks was the honored athlete.

Kaline, Colavito Pull One-Two Again For Detroit To Keep Lead

United Press International — There has been a lot of potent one-two punches in baseball down through the years, but for a quick knockout these days, the Detroit Tigers heartily recommend Al Kaline and Rocky Colavito.

Kaline and Colavito may not have the sheer finesse that Paul and Lloyd Waner used to display, nor the brute power of a combination like Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig, but they get the job done just the same and that's what is important to the first-place Tigers.

The two Detroit outfielders worked in perfect tandem on Wednesday night and when they were through with their handiwork, the Tigers had won another ball game, 5-4, over the Minnesota Twins, and retained their 4 1/2 game lead in the American League race.

First, Kaline ruined Camillo Pascual's string of 20 consecutive scoreless innings by hammering a homer into the left field bleachers in the third inning. The blow put Detroit ahead, 1-0, and was the first of Kaline's three hits in the game.

Then Colavito high-lighted a four-run rally in the fifth inning by smashing his 11th homer of the season with one on. The homer gave Don Mossi a 5-0 lead and although he needed help from Bill Fischer in the seventh, he still was credited with his fifth straight victory against no defeats.

Zollo Versalles and Harmon Killebrew hit homers for the Twins, while Lennie Green had a double and a single to extend his hitting streak to 21 straight games.

In other AL games, Baltimore swept a two-nighter from Chicago, 2-1 and 5-3; Cleveland defeated Los Angeles, 7-1; Kansas City edged Washington, 4-5, and New York topped Boston, 3-2.

San Francisco widened its National League lead to a full game with a 5-4 victory over Cincinnati; St. Louis downed Los Angeles, 7-2; Philadelphia beat Milwaukee, 7-1 and Pittsburgh defeated Chicago, 7-3.

The Orioles won both their games from the White Sox on home runs. Gus Triandos' fifth homer of the season off Bob Shaw broke a 1-1 tie in the seventh inning of the opener and gave Skippy Brown his fourth victory. Ron Hansen's three-run homer in the eighth inning of the nightcap helped reliever Wes Stock gain his first victory. Frank Baumann threw only one pitch in relief but was the loser.

Gary Bell held the Angels to four hits, one of them a homer by Leon Wagner, in recording his second win for the Indians. The Tribe chased loser Jerry Casale with a four-run burst in the third after he had yielded a homer to Johnny Romano in the second inning.

Walks in Winning Run — Reliever Pete Burnside of the Senators walked Jerry Lumpe with the bases full in the ninth to force in the winning run for the Athletics. Jim Archer started for the A's — on orders from KC owner Charles Finley — and gave up six hits and four runs in seven innings. Reliever Bill Kunkel was the winner.

Tony Kubek brought the Yanks their victory over the Red Sox with a bases-loaded single in the ninth off Tracy Stallard. Chet Nichols was the loser, however. Ralph Terry pitched a three-hitter and struck out six for his second victory. Roger Maris and Gary Geiger hit homers.

Harriett's Leads Bowlerette Loop — Standings in the Jet Bowlerettes now find Harriett's Beauty Nook in first place with 16 wins, with Dawn's and Mary Esther's both close behind with 15 each and Leland in fourth with 14 wins.

Evelyn Kichler picked up the 5-10 split and Mary Boyd made the 3-7, while Sally Mamele topped the 6-7.

High game for the team went to Mary Esther's 7-0, and Dawn's took the team series with a 1-0-0.

A new sponsor, the Toy Corral, is welcomed to the Jet Bowlerettes league this week.

Leesburg Hurler Loses No-Hitter By 1-0 Score

By United Press International — Bob Olson of Leesburg pitched a no-hitter game against Orlando in the Florida State League Wednesday night, but lost the game 1-0.

Orlando won the game in the third inning when a third strike on Dodger catcher Gene Conaway got away from Leesburg catcher Bill Shirah. Conaway made first on the error, stole second, moved to third on a wild pitch and scored on an error.

Orlando hurler Carmelo Acquino picked up the decision with a two-hit shutout.

It will be the second whirl for the top pros on the 6,660-yard, par 71 Speedway golf course, and unless the course is far tougher than it was a year ago, the scoring could be phenomenal.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am a divorcee who is keeping company with a bachelor. He lives in an apartment with a woman he calls his "housekeeper." I have seen her and she doesn't look like a housekeeper to me.

DEAR GREEN: Whatever he "needs her for," she is filling the bill. With his set-up, I can't figure out why he needs YOU!

DEAR ABBY: My wife saves bottles, boxes, bags and rags, and also toys. I gave some of her toys to an 8-year-old girl in our neighborhood, and my wife called the girl's mother and asked for the toys back.

DEAR "I WONDER": If I were you, I would stop wondering and get a doctor's opinion.

DEAR ABBY: I have been married only a short time and already I am getting annoyed with my husband's mother. I work, and the minute I get home, my telephone starts ringing. She calls me every blessed day at this hour and asks a million questions. She talks from 30 to 40 minutes about nothing.

DEAR YOUNG: One of the worst mistakes a young bride can make is to complain to her husband about his mother. Gather your courage and ask your mother-in-law nicely to please wait until after dinner time to call you.

We The Women:

By Ruth Millet

A psychology professor estimates that only one girl in 10 goes to college for the intellectual life. The other nine are more interested in getting a husband. For heaven's sake, professor, don't criticize the girls for that!

And if by going away to college a girl manages to meet and eventually marry a young man who has a bright future ahead of

The remarkable thing is that the one girl in 10 isn't smart enough to figure out that in four years on a college campus a girl ought to be able to acquire both a B.A. and a title—"Mrs."

There's good, applied psychology in Ruth Millet's booklet, "How to Have a Happy Husband." Send 25 cents to Ruth Millet Reader Service, c/o The Sanford Herald, P. O. Box 489, Dept. A, Radio City Station, New York 19, N. Y.

Jacoby On Bridge

A Floridian writes, "I held the North hand in one of our local duplicates and jumped right to four spades after East had over-called my opening spade bid and my partner and West had passed.

How could it be bid? It is lay down, but it is one of those claims that just can't be reached scientifically.

TU Key Previews

Thursday's top television shows are previewed and selected by TV Key's staff of experts who attend rehearsals, watch screenings, and analyze scripts in New York and Hollywood:

Summer Sports Spectacular—"On the Pole." An exciting, timely study of the tension and heart-break surrounding the famed 500-mile auto race in Indianapolis, which takes place next Tuesday. Filmed one year ago at the speedway prior to and during the big race, the story concentrates on last year's favorite, Eddie Sachs, who did start on the pole but was unable to finish. You'll understand why Sachs and other drivers feel that winning the 500 is their ultimate professional ambition. Producer Don Pennacker captures both the camaraderie and the fierce competitiveness among the drivers. You'll not be unmoved by the finale of this on-the-spot report—among the best sports coverage on TV and the finest to date of auto-racing. The first of two first-rate CBS hour-long public service shows this evening. 7:30 p. m. (CBS).

Zane Grey—"Desert Flight." (Repeat) Well-handled chase story about three bank robbers being tailed by a posse. Host Dick Powell plays a robber who still has a few good instincts left, and James Coburn, a top western villain on TV, gives him some aid. Coburn is fine and Powell is pleasant to watch. 8:30 p. m. (CBS).

My Three Sons—"Trial By Separation." Adorable episode. Mike and his girl-next-door Jean are graduating from high school and think they must decide whether they're really in love and should get married. They use a trial separation as a test and find both their families. It's sensitively handled and lots of fun. (But we know Mike can't marry the girl because Cynthia Pepper, who plays Jean, is set to star as Margie in a new series next season.) 9 p. m. ABC.

Ernie Ford—"A Repeat." This is Ernie's condensed version of "The Mikado," and though he sings the Gilbert and Sullivan songs straight, he handles the narration in his well-known folksy style. In the latter disconcerting songs, from "A Wandering Minstrel I," "Three Little Maids From School" to "My Object All Sublime," will delight you. (color) 9:30 p. m. NBC.

The Untouchables—"The King of Champagne." Newcomer Michael Constantine is fine as a bootlegger who has discovered a new way to make fake champagne. He tries to corner the market and is saddled with a crude and dominating uncle in control of the purse strings. Violence is by-passed in this one except for a moment when Elliot Ness is almost throttled to death. 9:30 p. m. NBC.

CBS Reports—"The Trials of Charles deGaulle." The major issue here is one which historians and philosophers have debated for centuries, but it's new to network TV—what happens to a Democracy when the military assumes too much power. Particularly interesting sequence illustrates how deGaulle is presently being attacked from the political right for "giving up" Algeria, and from the left for assuming increased powers bordering on the dictatorial. Jacques Soustelle is customarily persuasive as he argues the case that deGaulle is leading France to perdition, and other spokesmen challenge Soustelle's position. An absorbing study of this delicate issue facing French Democracy. 10 p. m. CBS.

Silent Please—"The Sad Clowns." Above average. The title of this entry is extremely accurate but don't let it stand in your way. Master comedian Charlie Chaplin, Buster Keaton and Harry Langdon may seem extraordinarily sad in these early portraits of their famous lost-soul characterizations. But their ingenuity, humility and artistry are so wonderfully appealing, you'll be fascinated even if you don't laugh. Well handled throughout. 10:30 p. m. ABC.

Your Health Department

Last week, we discussed the basic law and some details about budget.

Section 4 of the law provides that the personnel of the minimum full-time local health unit shall consist of a director, who shall be a doctor of medicine, a public health nurse, a sanitary officer and a clerk. All of these people shall be selected from those especially trained in public health administration and practice.

Some of the small counties in Florida have combined their efforts so that one director, known as Health Officer, covers two or even three counties. Some of the more populous counties have two or more doctors of medicine. Counties such as Seminole require only one physician.

Over a period of years, the State Board of Health has studied the needs of the counties for personnel staffing for well-rounded public health programs. The Board considers that one public health nurse is required for each 5,000 population, which would provide eleven (11) nurses for Seminole County. There are five (5) now employed. The Board also considers that one sanitarian is required for each 10,000 population, which would provide five (5) for Seminole County. Three (3) are now employed. Clerical personnel are added as the work other personnel warrants. There are now two clerks in the Seminole County Health Department. Other personnel utilized in public health are mental health workers, health education workers, nutritionists, dentists, dental assistants, and in the larger counties, sanitary engineers. Seminole County has one mental health worker whose salary is paid by the State Board of Health. Other specialists are provided by the State Board as consultants on an as-needed basis, including psychiatrists, psychologists and even lawyers.

Now, more about budget. The State Board of Health recently provided figures showing the per capita contributions of the 67 counties toward support of the respective County Health Departments. The figures included all local sources, such as millage, school boards, etc. High for the State is Liberty County, which contributes $2.84 for each citizen in the county. Low man on the totem pole is Pasco County with a per capita contribution of .94 cents. Average for the State is .87 cents. Seminole County contributes 46 cents, about half the State average. Other counties with population approximating that of Seminole are Lake (1.02) Monroe (93 cents) and Lee (76 cents). Orange County contributes 63 cents, Volusia County $1.17, and Brevard County $1.08. Seminole County is number 52 down the list of 67 counties in Florida in terms of its per capita contribution.

Health Director Outlines Department Work

Dr. Clyde Brothers, director of the Seminole County Health Department, told the Kiwanis Club Wednesday:

"Since I have started to work here about 15 months ago, I have found that very few people know anything about the work of the Health Department and what is known is mostly misinformation."

Brothers said that, with this in mind, he had appointed himself a one-man public education committee, to try to bring to the citizens of Sanford a better idea of what the Health Department does for them.

"The main function of the Health Department," said Brothers, "is to prevent disease, especially communicable disease."

In this are included the control and eradication of preventable diseases through inoculations and vaccinations. Public education, especially in schools, to maintain high standards of health and sanitation in the county is another phase.

The department also carries on an extensive program of hospitalization of the indigent, persons who are acutely ill or injured and are unable to pay. The burden rests on the physicians, who charge no fee, and on the hospital, but the Health Department implements, and supervises the patients' care. Last year, 89 persons received hospital care through the county-state program.

Other phases of the work include the furnishing, and control of TB drugs, to prevent recurrence of the disease in patients released from sanitariums; Drugs for victims of rheumatic fever, who must have prolonged treatment to prevent damage to the heart; Diabetes patients also must take insulin for their entire life time, and they are furnished with the medicine and also instruction and help by the nurses.

Environmental sanitation is another important phase of the Health Department's work and the three sanitarians employed here are kept busy with inspections of all sources of food, restaurants, schools, caterers, dairies, grocers, markets and all food handlers. Water sources are also checked constantly.

The mental health department of the Health Department have their hands full too, supervising discharged patients, helping them to adjust, find jobs, and educating the families to deal with the problems confronting them. Although only a beginning has been made, it was noted that there has been only a 20 percent return to the sanitarium for mental patients from the county.

Two outlying clinics have recently been established, one in Longwood, and more recently in Oviedo and these are maintained by the public health nurses, for the aid of people in outlying areas.

The Health Department does not treat any patients, but refers them to a local physician. Among other organizations which the department calls on for assistance, Dr. Brothers listed the Crippled Children's Commission, the Sunland Training Center for the Mentally Retarded, the Cancer Society, the Heart Association, the TB Association, National Polio Foundation, the Cerebral Palsy Foundation, the Assn. for Mentally Retarded Parent-Teacher groups, and all of the civic clubs. All of these help out when called upon to assist in the needs of the underprivileged.

Speed Marks Set By 3 Navy Jets During Same Day

NEW YORK (UPI)—Records are made to be broken in the jet age.

A Navy F4H Phantom jet fighter screamed across the country from Los Angeles to Brooklyn Wednesday in three hours and three minutes, breaking the old transcontinental mark of 3:07:48 set by the Air Force in 1957.

But seven minutes later, another Navy Phantom jet, its drag parachute buffeting in the wind, touched down to set an even faster cross-country record of two hours and 57 minutes.

And seven minutes after that, another record was set, the last of the day, when a third Phantom jet made the same 2,448.9 mile hop in two hours, 47 minutes and 17 seconds.

The last record, set by pilot Lt. Richard F. Gordon, 31, Seattle, flying with radar officer Lt. (j.g.) Bobbie R. Young, 34, Modesto, Calif., won the Bendix Trophy Award on its average speed of 668.7 miles an hour.

All three jets, besides breaking records, broke the sound barrier and with it scores of windows in New Jersey.

The three planes flew most of the way at 50,000 feet, but three times they came down to 30,000 feet for in-flight refueling.

Vice President's Trip To Bring About Changes

Voluntary Help In Castro Tractor Demand Criticized

By United Press International
Indifference and anger today greeted President Kennedy's plan to ask Americans for voluntary "tractors for prisons" donations to free 1,300 Cubans held by the Fidel Castro regime here.

A nationwide United Press International survey of editorial and public reaction showed only a smattering of organized support, and widespread opposition to what the Miami Herald called "a dictator's blackmail."

"What has come over the United States?" the Herald said editorially. "After 16 years of doing it, it has now become automatic to sneeze every time a tyrant takes snuff."

Most public reaction was with Kennedy, but against any sort of deal with Castro. Mrs. Walter V. Hickey, a Chicago housewife, said she "would like to have our boys back, but Castro starts with a finger, then a foot, and then the whole thing."

A Pittsburgh attorney said "as far as Americans contributing individually and voluntarily to help these prisoners, I am not against that. But I have no faith in Castro or in any of his promises and the U. S. government should not engage officially in bargaining with him."

Immediate support was isolated, and centered largely in the East. A New York City citizens committee for "Operation Heroes" included publisher Henry Luce and William Randolph Hearst Jr., actor Ralph Bellamy, department store magnate Bernard S. Gimbel, and union leader David Dubinsky.

Kennedy asked Dr. Milton Eisenhower, United Auto Workers chief Walter Reuther and Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt to coordinate efforts on a national level.

The New York Daily News called the committee members "well-meaning boys and girls who thought they had a firm deal going with the bearded grasshopper."

The suddenness of the appeal appeared responsible for part of the drive's sluggishness. In New York City, more than half the persons contacted by United Press International had not heard of the proposed exchange.

A Queens housewife, Mrs. Claudia Long, called Castro's offer a "trick of some sort . . . it puts us on the spot to show whether or not we are as altruistic as we claim to be."

College students generally were opposed to the trade. A University of Maryland student said Kennedy "has made it official now that the United States of America should pay ransom to that bearded boob." Kenneth Duffield of College Park, Md., wondered "how soon will Fidel be sending up another delegation asking for 800 airplanes for the next 1,300 prisoners?"

At the University of Minnesota, St. Paul, international relations student Caroline Dolliff of New York called the proposal a "diplomatic triumph that we needn't give Castro."

Most newspaper editorial reaction was divided between outright opposition and acknowledgment of the government's and the nation's quandary.

will be some changes made as a result of Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson's Asian trip. They may not even be publicly announced. But there is every indication an "action follow-through" lies ahead.

Topically, his recommendations will involve a broad range of activities — military aid, economic assistance and cooperation, U. S. Information Agency operations and a general new diplomatic approach keyed to people-to-people relations.

An immediate result of the Southeast Asian crisis, and his trip is President Kennedy's special message asking additional millions for defense of that area. Johnson's trip obviously helped Kennedy frame the terms of this request.

Where is Johnson likely to press for specific action?
He has left little doubt he thinks U. S. diplomats should get out of their "air conditioned comfort" and meet the masses in the countries where they serve. He cites new Ambassador Kenneth Galbraith's activity in India as a fine example. And his own experience will not be lost on foreign service personnel if Johnson has anything to do with it. The vice president was tireless in his handshaking and scoring doing it.

Johnson also is expected to call for some kind of reorganization of USIA that will give it greater stature both in countries abroad and in the State Department itself. In a world where communications are about to leapfrog in progress through space techniques, nothing short of the best will serve the free world adequately in the test against communism, Johnson believes. This means personnel improvement, too.

Johnson also will press for swift improvement of the military "shield" against communism needed in Southeast Asia. In this he clearly reflects President Kennedy's concern about the Red guerrilla threat in that area. This means increases in military assistance and advisory forces, as well as a sharp boost in equipment and training for native troops, particularly in Viet Nam. The vice president made it emphatically clear no country on his two-week, 23,000 mile trip asked for American combat troops, and none was promised.

Finally, Johnson is concerned about the real underlying need—greater cooperation between Asian governments and the United States, and among the foreign governments of the region themselves. To promote this, he and Kennedy propose a Pacific regional conference, perhaps at Guam, to consider mutual exchange of knowhow in fields like education, housing, land reform and the like.

Lyman Students Win Ratings
Barbara Diggs and John Wagner, Lyman Band students, received superior ratings at the State Band Meet which was held May 13 in Miami.

Barbara's rating was for her twirling solo and John's saxophone solo won him the award.

Receiving an excellent rating was a majorette corps of Barbara and Gail Chandler, Juffy Gamgama and Eileen Kler.

Primary Grades Prepare Program
Longwood Elementary's primary students in Mrs. Kathleen Bucher's class are preparing a program for their end-of-school party to which parents will be invited.

During the festivities the children will display many of the facts learned in math, music, manners and civic duty teachings through the year.

In Miss Fannie Reese's class, the children are making a study of moths and butterflies.

'Furniture Tips' Topic Of Meeting
Members of the Lake Mary Home Demonstration Club held their May meeting at the home of Mrs. Olan Boutwell at 10:30 a.m. Tuesday.

Mrs. William Heinbeck, president of the group, displayed items made by members during the past year including hats, grapes, marble earrings, chenille poodles and yarn kittens.

Miss Myrtle Wilson, Seminole County home demonstration agent, presented the program lecture for the month on furniture. Ten facts she advised the women to remember in making furniture selections were versatility and flexibility, ease of maintenance, frame, cover, webbing and filling, spring cushion and upholstery and the tailoring. She also advised that another important factor in making purchases is "know your dealer."

Following the program and covered dish luncheon attended by 14 members, Mrs. Mabel Brown, hostess of the day, adjourned the meeting with prayer.

On June 15, the Lake Mary Club will take part in the annual picnic and installation of officers at Rock Springs.

Concert Nets $411 For Band
Lyman High's annual band concert, held earlier this month in the school auditorium, received monetary contributions in the amount of $411 to be applied to payment of the new uniforms.

Among the entertainment highlights were Wayne Murphy, Terry Harmon and Frank Evans doing "The Three Jets" and Alice Ann Hull, trombone solo and John Wagner, saxophone solo. A majorette quartet routine and a twirling solo by Barbara Diggs proved very popular numbers as did the closing selections from The Chorales.

Franciscan friars were the first white men to set foot in what is now Nevada.

Divided
GALVESTON, Tex. (UPI) — R. E. Jones and his ex-wife, Margaret, are a divorced couple who really know how to make a property settlement.

Right down the middle. With a hand-saw. That's the way they split up their house. Each lives in one side of it.

They were divorced in 1953 and the judge told them to divide things equally. But they decided to postpone it until their five younger children were reared.

Jones, 62, built the 18-by-39 foot house in 1942.

"Margaret and I sat down and talked it over," he said. "It was her idea to cut the house in half."

He said Wednesday it took him several weeks to get it cut apart, but he finished it over the past weekend and has moved his half three feet away from her half.

"The edges are kind of rough now," Jones said. "I'm going to start closing up the sides this weekend."

"We felt we were too old to be out looking for a new place to live, and this was the only way to reach a settlement without selling the house."

Class Of 1941 Plans Reunion
A class reunion of the 1941 graduating class of Seminole High School will be held June 17 at the Capri with dinner at 7 p. m.

Plans are now being made for the annual meeting of many of the 106 students who graduated at that time. George Eick is in charge of arrangements and reservations may be made by calling Eick or Mrs. Robert Lippincott. Wives, husbands and sponsors of the class are also invited.

Longwood Classes Busy At Review For End Of Term
Students in Room 605 at Longwood's Elementary School have hung curtains to aid in darkening the room when filmstrips and slides are shown in science and social studies work.

Sixth graders in James Merriweather's class are studying various offices of public service such as the Health Dept., water supply, sewage disposal and garbage and rubbish disposal.

Those in Room 505 are busy working on scrapbooks about Russia as a social studies project.

Fifth grade social study work is on South America and students are working on individual projects in science study.

All classes are reviewing for final exams.

Police, Rain Rout 'Storm Troopers'

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — The fuhrer of the American Nazi Party and his disheveled "storm troopers" were in jail today after police and a thunderstorm broke up their "hate campaign."

All 10 of the uniformed, swastika-embroidered Nazis were arrested Wednesday night in front of the Civic Theater at the opening of the film "Exodus."

Only hours before the arrests in the rain-flooded streets, fuhrer George Lincoln Rockwell had praised police as "absolutely professional, neither for us nor against us."

Police Supt. Joseph Giarrusso ordered all 10 frisked, arrested, and booked into jail on a state charge of acting in a manner which could "unreasonably disturb or alarm the public."

A car bearing Washington plates and the Nazi "hate bus," a Volkswagen marked with racial signs which had been covered over with butcher paper, were impounded by police.

Before the arrests at the theater, part of the group had tried to picket a NAACP rally with signs saying the "head of the NAACP is a Communist Jew." Police shoed them away as a traffic hazard.

The Nazis were ordered to cover their "hate bus" signs by police as they entered town Tuesday night, also in a rainstorm, and were refused admission to one motel and ordered out of another Wednesday morning.

Lake Mary Firemen Buy New Equipment

Ed Zimmerman, president of the Lake Mary Volunteer Fire Dept. and fire district commission chairman, today made a long-awaited and greatly welcomed announcement for the firemen and for residents of the fire district and for those of adjoining areas which are protected by the department.

Working through state and local Civil Defense authorities, Zimmerman said, the fire dept. has bought a 1951 ton-and-a-half truck and a LaFrance water pump.

Ralph Abell, volunteer chief, and Zimmerman went to the Starks surplus headquarters last Thursday to inspect the equipment. Also making the trip was District 3 County Commissioner Jim Avery and County Road Supt. J. C. Lavender.

Zimmerman said the truck, a former piece of Navy equipment, has a low mileage and will cost $150. Cost of the pump was set at $50. After two years, during which the equipment must be available for civil defense use in case of emergencies, titles will be turned over to local fire district officials.

Members of the department already are at work mounting the pump and after this is completed they will hold more frequent drills in order that, as the truck is assembled, the men will become thoroughly prepared to use it and also will be familiar with its care and maintenance.

Additional items already in use which were paid for from tax funds are four firemen's hats, two all-purpose smoke masks and two hand lamps, Zimmerman reported.

These already have proven their value on several occasions in recent weeks, he said, citing the use of a mask when a fireman removed a burning mattress from a Loch Arbor home recently which allowed the men to confine the damage to one bedroom.

The lights, he said, have been used a number of times to keep people from stepping on live electric wires.

In reporting on progress of the area fund-raising letter drive now being conducted in areas not included in the taxed district, the department official cautioned that although the new equipment had been acquired at a very low cost, funds still will be needed for a special pressure tank for

Survival Courses Close For Summer

Personal Survival Courses for the Seminole County area drew to a close until next fall with the completion of the Geneva class on Monday night and of the Altamonte Springs class on Tuesday night.

All courses throughout the county during the year have been jointly sponsored by the Adult Education Program and the local Civil Defense Unit.

A total of 238 certificates have been presented to students completing the 12-hour course. Twelve classes were held, five in Sanford, two in Longwood, two in Altamonte Springs and one each in Oviedo, Lake Mary and Geneva. According to tabulations received from state officials, Seminole County classes have attained the highest average attendance of any held in Florida. They also report that Tom Richey, local instructor, has conducted more classes than any member who was qualified with him as an instructor's course.

E. S. Douglass, local Adult Education Supervisor, and A. B. Peterson Sr., director of Seminole County Civil Defense, are gratified with the response shown by the public in these classes. They also have expressed their appreciation of the record set by Richey.

Interest has been so high that already the first three classes slated for the fall have been reserved by local civic and religious groups. Any individual or group wishing to make reservations for the courses which will open in September may do so by phoning Peterson or Mrs. C. R. Bowers.

Longdale Developer Harry Logan was guest speaker at the May meeting of the Longwood Chamber of Commerce.

B. G. Henderson presided at the meeting in Town Park and the invocation delivery was by L. L. Cox.

He pointed out the number of new industries locating in the area and called attention to the advantages which will come with the locating of a freeway on SR 434 to the new Interstate 4 which will run just west of Longwood.

"With a little effort on the townspeople's part, Longwood soon could grow to a population of 4,000 persons," he advised in conclusion.

Lyman Principal Praises Student Group Activities

By BETIE SMITH

The Lyman High Student Council wound up its year of service by celebrating at a picnic last Friday.

The outing held at Sanlando Springs, was financed from the council treasury and members were excused from sixth period classes in order to get an early start.

Principal Ralph Diggs, on a number of occasions, has praised his student council as well as other student officials and groups of the school.

At the time he announced plans for conducting the first mass instruction classes in Seminole County, he also related the many ways Lyman's student organizations benefit the school.

He cited as examples the council members and those of the Beta Club, who early in the second semester and upon their own choice, set up an interschool free tutoring service for their fellow students who needed extra work. These boys and girls, he said, gave up study hall periods and many even worked before and after school hours in the program.

Another example was that of the Future Teachers Club whose members serve as substitute teachers when a faculty member has to be away for two or three days.

"For instance," Diggs said, "during the County Science Fair two instructors were at Seminole High for two days. The Future Teachers took over and saved the county $48 which would have been paid to adult substitutes. In absence of short duration, student teachers are very satisfactory for an adult would be unable to sufficiently familiarize himself with the study program and with the students to do much more than merely preside over each class."

"Journalism students, through management and sale of their monthly paper, were able to purchase the school a new typewriter and an electric mimeograph machine several weeks ago.

"Student nurses, who gain practical one-the-job training at the hospital, also are on hand at the school to assist with the clinic program and to apply first aid treatment when the need arises.

"Those of the Athletic Club operate on a plan similar to that of a fraternal organization. If they see a fellow athlete headed for trouble in his studies or social life, they quietly begin stepping in to help him out," Diggs said.

Other groups such as the bands, glee clubs and the drama club have entered local, district and state competitions, the principal continued, "and have helped establish the fact that our school is 'right up there with the best.' In addition, they sponsor concerts, dinners and other money-raising projects to pay their own way through a year's program," he added.

"Upon occasion," Diggs revealed, "I hear comments referring to our student group activities as 'extra curricular.' This, I feel, is an inaccurate term. Any program that is worthwhile doing, is worth incorporating in the daily school work and is part of the student's life here. Various groups hold their meetings during school hours and their members all maintain a high grade level. I don't call this training and work 'extra curricular.'"

Civic Group Sets Annual Dues, Discuss By-Laws

By ATLANTA MCGINNIS

Seventeen members of the Forest City Community Assn. Executive Board met Monday at the Forest City Baptist Church on Lake Branley Road.

Opening prayer was given by H. R. Hamby and presiding was Allen Forward, association president.

Business considered at the meeting included a discussion of feasible projects which could be undertaken in the future and a review of the by-laws.

Hamby moved that annual dues for association membership be set at $1 which received a second from E. S. Benjamin. Voting was unanimously in favor of the action.

Forward urges all members to attend the next general meeting which is scheduled at the church on June 3 at 8 p.m.

"These meetings especially are important just now," he advised, "since members of this newly organized group are trying to form a fire district for the area embracing voting precinct 12."

Playmate!

By ATLANTA MCGINNIS

It doesn't happen in every family that the youngest catches a black snake for his playmate!

Mrs. Thomas Ruffin of Forest Lake Dr., Forest City, reports that recently she found her 18-month-old son, Chris, playing with a three-foot black snake out in the back yard.

The small toddler was holding the snake's head in one hand and its tail in the other, Mrs. Ruffin said, and "it took all the courage I could muster to remove it from his grasp," she admitted.

Chuluota Float Has Its Troubles, But Makes Hit In Parade At Beach

Officials of the Chuluota George M. Jacobs Memorial Post 223 have reported that the Post Float, with the theme "In Flanders Field the Poppies Blow, Between the Crosses, Row on Row," was a successful entry in the parade held at the Cocoa Beach convention last weekend.

Wendell N. Jepson, post publicity chairman, reports that the entry was a lot of "hard work in a short time and then it all most missed the big event when the tractor broke down enroute to the parade." Radio stations in Cocoa and Cocoa Beach and officers of the State Highway Patrol located another tractor, however, and, driven by a fellow Legionnaire from Cocoa's Post 22, the Chuluota entry made it on time.

"The men are very grateful," Jepson says, "to Bob McAllister of Oviedo for use of his equipment although it didn't make it all the way."

In describing the float, the Chuluota chairman reports that it was made up of row on row of white crosses set in a field of green with red poppies interspersed throughout. On the back was the inscription "Let Us Forget."

Riding on the float were Don Berney of Fourth St., a bugler Gene Runyon and A. Thompson, color guard and Vincent Chambers and A. Swann, color bearers. Making up the rifle team were Fred Stumpf, George Packard, Abe Boldman and A. George.

Casselberry Maps Ready For Issue

Casselberry Fire Chief Paul Bates advised today that due to the large number of requests received for the Casselberry street map, prepared as a supplement of the new area directory, a limited number of copies have been printed in advance and now are ready for distribution.

He further stated that announcement of the department's intention to publish a directory has received widespread and valuable publicity which is a favorable asset to the town.

Requests for copies have been received from metropolitan newspapers of the Miami, Tampa and Jacksonville areas as well as from many other individuals and businesses in other parts of the state.

Personal requests have come from as far north as Madison, Wis., and Salem, Mass., Bates reported.

DeBary Firemen Adopt Area Plan

By MRS. ADAM MULLER

The DeBary Volunteer Fire Dept., upon requests from residents of neighboring areas, has worked out a plan for providing fire protection in these sections.

Chief Edward Healy reports that a resolution adopted at a recent meeting of the firemen will permit one piece of fire fighting equipment to be used against structural fires in Enterprise, North Lake Monroe, Benson Junction and that area bordering Lake Monroe which lies between Interstate 4 and the Florida Power Corp. plant on Enterprise Rd.

Healy says that a $2 per year donation will be requested for the service, payable in advance, and those residents who do not make this donation will not receive protection.

Miss Helen Snodgrass will receive the money in the Enterprise area and Henry G. Thurman will serve as collector in the Lake Monroe area.

Bear Lake Circle Hears Lecture On Gloxinias

By ATLANTA MCGINNIS

The last meeting before summer adjournment of the Bear Lake Garden Circle was held at the home of Mrs. Richard Scott on Shriley Dr.

Under discussion were plans for the Circle's entrance in the Christmas Tree Lane project, an annual event sponsored by the Orlando Garden Club.

Chairman vacancies were filled and members discussed possible summer projects.

On the program, Mrs. Rudolph Nelson of Holiday Ave., lectured on the raising and culture of gloxinias. Several plants were displayed in various stages of growth by the guest who also led a question and answer period.

The September hostess will be Mrs. J. W. Malone of Shriley Dr.

FIRE CHIEF CLAUDE LAYO (right) receives checks from J. D. Kirkland, left, and Ted Waltz, center, toward the purchase of fireworks for the big Fourth of July celebration to be held in Longwood over the summer holiday. Kirkland is the owner of J. D.'s Market and Waltz owns Ted's T. V. Appliance Shop. Waltz also donated the Presto electric cooker, displayed on the decorated truck, which is being used to advertise the coming event. Lyman Boy Wins Medal Of Valor

Lyman High School Student Marvin Jewell is one of four young men in the state to receive the Bronze Medal of Valor for "gallant, conspicuous, heroic action when the danger to self was known."

Jewell's award came for his work in installing an emergency generator at the Klamath Hospital on Sept. 10 last year during the Hurricane Donna emergency. A baby girl was born in the hospital just 20 minutes after the installation was completed.

The medal presentations were made by Brig. Gen. Stephen D. McElroy, national commander of Civil Air Patrol.

New Lyman Gym Nearly Completed

The new Lyman High School gymnasium, expected to be completed by June 12, needs only sanding, some plaster work and several minor jobs done before it will be ready for use.

The basketball court is done and with each new step, student anxiety for the facility to be opened is growing, faculty members report.

Lyman Installs FTA Officers

New officers of the Lyman Future Teachers Club were installed at the last meeting of this school term on Tuesday.

Taking over next year will be Darlene Shea, president; June Kilgus, vice president; Beverly Yates, secretary; Glida Pettinari, treasurer and Barbara Komisar, historian.

AN OLD-FASHIONED COUNTRY FAIR is being planned on the grounds of St. Mary Magdalen's new school, Saturday, beginning at 10 a. m. It is located at Maitland Blvd. and Spring Lake Rd. in Altamonte Springs. Manning the booth with the old-fashioned lemonade barrel will be two old-time barkers, left, Bill Tidale and right, Fred DeFillips. In the booth, from left are Susan and Ann DeFillips.

Lake Monroe Jottings . . .

By MRS. H. L. JOHNSON

Hello again. . . . Two proud parents in Monroe are Wesley and Thelma Giles. Daughter Sharon made the Honor Society at Seminole High School. Congratulations Sharon and keep up the good work. That is really something of which to be proud. . . . Recently at the Monroe school, the second and third grades held a palm tree planting ceremony on the school grounds. Miss Arie Mann had given the two palm trees to the two grades. So, under the supervision of their teachers, Miss Mable Chapman and Mrs. Eunice Lee, they put their names in a bottle and planted it under the palm trees. Wasn't that cute? The school sure has a nicely landscaped yard and the children are taking part in keeping it nice. . . . The Lake Monroe Home Demonstration Club is sponsoring an essay contest for the eighth grade class on "Americanism" and will award three prizes to the winners at their promotion exercises on June 3 at the school. . . . Monroe was saddened again this past week with the untimely passing of Ruby K. Elliott. She will be sadly missed by every one who knew her and our sympathy goes out to Uncle Lee and Aunt Allie Keller, her parents, and to her sisters and brother. She also left behind three wonderful girls and a son, Billy, who is stationed with the Navy in

Mayport. Relatives here from out of the state were Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Keller, Mrs. Hazel Dinnens and Miss Evelyn Keller of Knoxville, Tenn. . . . We sure glad to see an old girl friend and former Monroeite, Annie Belle Kinard. I sure wish I could have been able to talk to her longer because we have so many old memories to talk over. I am going down to Miami one of these days before very long to see my brothers and I will look her up as that is where she now lives. Will also go to see Annie McArthur too. . . . The Halsey Swagerty had visitors from Knoxville this past week. Harvey Cain and his wife spent a short time with them on their way home. . . . The school baseball team won another game Friday by defeating the Enterprise team. Good going boys. Keep it up. . . . Jeri Wheatland was on the program of the Joan Johnson dances entertainment given at the Seminole High School auditorium Saturday evening. Jeri is a very talented girl and will go far if she keeps it up. I understand she has taken up the organ, now, too. That is just wonderful. . . . Monroe sure has some talented teenagers. I could name quite a few. . . . Tolar and Vonnelle Rabun gave a hamburger fry for son, Terry, on Friday evening at their home. Games were played and dancing enjoyed to hi-fi. Terry is a member of the eighth grade promotion class. Twenty boys and girls were present for the occasion. . . . Grace Edwards and I had the pleasure of being guests at the annual banquet Monday evening at the Seminole High School Band at its annual banquet Monday evening. A roast beef dinner was most delicious and the strawberry shortcake was, well let us say, it added poundage to those who were on diets. I met the bandmaster's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cowley, who were here from Tampa for the event. They are a most charming couple. You feel like you have known them always. A Monroe boy, Charles Rabun will be drum major next year. Congratulations Charles. . . . Hear Lynn Giles hurt her leg in a fall at home Sunday. Hope it isn't serious. Lynn. . . . Mrs. J. C. Sapp had a birthday dinner at her home Sunday for Mr. Sapp, also daughter, Clara White, and Eddie John and Carol White who all have birthdays this month. . . . Herbert and Jessie Muse were hosts to the eighth grade class on Saturday evening at their home on the Wekiva River. Barbecued chicken was the main dish on the menu. Games and a baseball game were greatly enjoyed by the boys and girls and the grown ups present. Helen Stapler, Sammie Keel, Mrs. Braaswell and Louise Roberts assisted with the arrangements.

Lyman P-TA Installs Officers

New Lyman High School Parent-Teacher Assn. officers were installed at ceremonies conducted during the May meeting of the group in the school auditorium.

James Birkenmeyer, past president, served as installing officer for Burbon Farrell, president; Mrs. William Ramsey, vice president; Mrs. Clara Balmer, secretary, and Glen Humes, treasurer.

A program of musical entertainment was presented by members of the Junior High Chorus under direction of Mrs. Dorothea Benson.

Mrs. Pat Dome, outgoing president, announced that $300 has been raised to aid the school library in the purchase of needed books which are to be selected by Principal Ralph Diggs and Librarian R. Gamble.

Announcement also was made that the association has made two $50 scholarships available to qualifying graduates who plan to attend college.

Betas Take Trip

Thirty Forest Lake Academy Beta Club members, accompanied by Miss Mary Elam and William Fuchs, traveled by school bus to the Central Florida Museum for a recent visit to the planetarium.

Court Of Honor, Pageant Set By Lake Mary Scouts

Lake Mary Boy Scout Troop 342 will hold a Court of Honor and the annual Indian Pageant at the Lake Mary Scout Park beginning at 7 p. m. Friday.

The court of honor is scheduled to open the program and will take place in the Scout Hut. Following, at 8 p. m., the Braves and Maidens will present their program of ritual dances around a huge campfire in the park dance circle.

The boys, under the direction of Scoutmaster Harold Keen and junior assistants, have been preparing for the show for the past several months. Assistant scoutmasters are Richard Scott, Indian lore; Robert Norwood, drill instructor; David Willis, camping; and Paul Chauncy, individual patrol work.

The dance routines include Entry Fire Dance, Rattle Dance, Sun Dance, Chicken Dance, Medicine Dance, Social Dance, Chippewa Deer Hunter, Fluffy Dance, Elks Mystery, Stop Fow Wow, Blanket Dance, Foolish Hunters, Eagle Dance and Rabbit Dance.

Scouts taking part in the program will be Josh Chase, Randall Chase, Chuck Scott, Eddie Wanka, Kenny Dooley, Danny Tillis, Bob Lee, Raymond Norwood, Bob Corbin, Greg McPherson, Bob Jackson, Topper Avanceal, Jay McCracken, Jim Hay, Greg Haush, Danny Wiremann, Ronnie Rose, Larry Chester and the junior assistants.

Indian maidens who make guest appearances with the boys are Susie Stubbings, Carolyn Keen and Judi Taylor.

On Saturday at 3 p. m. the dance team has been invited to perform at the Casselberry Cub Pack meeting at the Community Methodist Church. Cubmaster Walter Khroner of Fern Park also has invited the scouts to remain for a swimming party and picnic supper which will follow the pack meeting and dances.

Race To Moon Decision Hailed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congress today hailed President Kennedy's decision to race Russia to the moon, and space agency officials predicted the United States would get there first.

Chairman Robert S. Kerr, (D-Okla.), and Overton Brooks, (D-La.), of the Senate and House Space Committees, threw their backing behind Kennedy's proposal for a five-year, $7 billion to $8 billion program to put an American on the moon by 1970.

Federal Space Agency Director James E. Webb and Deputy Director Hugh Dryden confidently predicted they would win the race with Russians to send a man to the moon and bring him back.

Brooks said Kennedy's request meant the United States had taken a truly bold step into the New Frontier beyond the earth's atmosphere. He called it "a tremendous stride forward."

Kerr told a space conference in Tulsa Thursday that Kennedy had "pushed the button on a booming new space age." He said he believed the American people and Congress would respond favorably to the challenge.

Democrats and Republicans alike predicted Congress would approve the $549 million increase proposed for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration in the fiscal year beginning next July 1.

If the president's request is approved, NASA's budget for the coming fiscal year would jump from $1,235,300,000 to $1,784,300,000.

The largest single increase asked for by the President was a $130 million boost for the Apollo space craft. The Apollo is designed to eventually carry a three-man crew on a voyage around the moon.

In another recommendation, the president requested $76 million for research and construction of facilities needed to develop the enormous Nova space booster which NASA hopes will carry man to the moon.

Jaycees Officer Installation Fete Tonight

Johnny Davis, new state president of the Jaycees, will install local president-elect Garnett White and other new officers at ceremonies at the Shrine Club tonight.

A banquet will begin at 7:30 p. m. for all the Jaycees and their guests. George Shearouse, new national director from Orlando, will also be present along with Jim Godwin, Leesburg, Fourth District vice president.

Retiring president John Alexander will present awards to outstanding members who have served during his administration this past year.

Eichmann Killed Boy, Man Says

JERUSALEM (UPI) — Adolf Eichmann, the man charged with driving six million Jews to the gas chambers under the Nazi regime, beat a Jewish boy to death with his own hands for stealing cherries from his garden in Budapest, a Jewish witness testified today.

Abraham Gordon, 35, told the court trying Eichmann for mass murder that he himself saw the former Gestapo colonel drag the boy screaming to a toolshed heard yells and beating inside, saw Eichmann leave the toolshed disheveled and cursing, and later saw his bodyguards drag the boy's swollen, bloodied body away.

"This was the first murder I ever witnessed in my life," he told the court.

This was the first time the court has heard a charge that Eichmann actually committed a murder with his own hands.

Gordon stuck firmly to his story despite raking cross-examination by defense counsel Robert Servatius and searching questions by the three-man bench of Israeli judges.

Eichmann listened intently in his glassed-in prisoner's box. Usually he pays little attention to the witnesses, but this time he scribbled notes furiously.

Two Executives' Wives Murdered

PLAINFIELD, N. J. (UPI) — The wives of a Mack Truck Co. vice president and a Wall Street bond broker apparently were murdered early today a few hours after they were reported abducted from their auto by two men, police said.

Police arrested one suspect within a few hours after the bodies were found, and said they expected to pick up a second man shortly. They refused to identify the suspect.

Home Rule Proposal Dies In Committee

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The Senate Constitutional Amendments Committee today abandoned for this legislative session controversial proposals for a lieutenant governor and limited home rule for counties.

Proposed revision of articles in the state Constitution dealing with these subjects were left to die in committee with final adjournment of the Legislature next Friday.

The action came shortly before the House went into session to act on a motion for reconsideration of its vote Thursday killing the lieutenant governor proposal.

Bulletin

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The compromise teacher pay package providing a $200 raise for all teachers and a $400 merit raise for superior teachers passed the Senate today, paving the way for a conference committee settlement of the state budget bill.

Loan Fraud Charged

JACKSONVILLE (UPI) — Two more persons were arrested here Thursday in connection with allegedly fraudulent applications for VA and FHA mortgage loans, bringing the total arrested to 19 within two weeks. The two were Benjamin Brocher and Ralph Green, both officials of the B. I. G. Construction Co. They were charged with causing a false statement to be submitted in obtaining a loan insured by the Federal Housing Administration.

Britons Ponder Title For Plain Armstrong-Jones

LONDON (UPI) — Tradition-minded Britons busily tried out the sound of new titles today for Antony Armstrong-Jones, confidant of the royal family who would not let his child be born a commoner.

The announcement Thursday that Princess Margaret is expecting to give birth in the fall—probably October or November—set off a national guessing game to pick a title for her husband.

"Fifth in line to be a commoner?" asked one newspaper headline in disbelief.

Senate Okays Federal School Aid Proposal

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The fate of federal aid to education rested today squarely in the House — traditional graveyard of school aid — but chances this year were counted stronger than any.

The Senate Thursday night approved by a 65-34 vote a $2.5 billion, three-year program of financial help for public grade and high schools. It would pay for more classroom construction and ease the burden of paying teachers' salaries.

House school aid supporters predict passage. Opponents forecast only a hard fight and possible defeat.

Questions and answers about the $2.5 billion school aid bill approved by the Senate:

Q—Who would get help under the bill?

A—All of the 50 states, plus the territories and the District of Columbia. They would use federal grants to help finance public elementary and high schools.

Q—How would the money be distributed?

A—The program calls for dividing $650 million in each of three years under a formula which bases each state's share on its population of school-age children and its income per child.

Q—Then some states would get a larger amount per school-age child?

A—Yes. Grants per school-age child range from $9.35 in Connecticut to $37.74 in some low-income states and territories. In addition, the bill continues the present program which divides about $300 million annually among school districts with enrollments which are inflated by nearby federal installations such as military installations.

Q—How would the states spend the federal grants?

A—For school construction and for teachers' salaries, as proposed by President Kennedy; also for school operating expenses such as the purchase of text books, library books and regular school supplies as well as the pay of non-teaching school employees.

Q—How about church schools and other private schools?

A—As recommended by the president, no help would be given to any private schools under the general education bill. Another education bill is in the works, however, extending the National Defense Education Act. Some congressional leaders expect that this other bill will be altered to include an expanded program of aid for private schools.

Q—What about segregated schools; would they be helped?

A—The Senate rejected proposals which specifically would have required — and would have forbidden — the withholding of federal assistance from states which have not made progress in conforming to the Supreme Court's desegregation order. The administration says the bill carries no authority to penalize segregated schools.

Q—What happens now to the education plan?

A—The House Labor and Education Committee has cleared a similar bill for floor action. Although President Kennedy's three-year plan called for $2.5 billion the first year with a $1.5 billion increase in each of the next two years and despite some changes in the allocation formula, Kennedy was expected to give approval to such a measure.

Woodruff Questions Building Report

Dr. Ralph Woodruff of Englewood, N. J., one of the owners of the Woodruff Building at First St. and Park Ave., said today that he would like "to set the facts straight" on reports about the value and prices reportedly offered for the building. In fact, he said, the building could be bought for the same price paid for the controlling interest in 1957.

Woodruff wrote a letter to The Herald regarding comments in

Nazis In Another Jail-Threaten Rescue Action

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — The vanguard of American Nazism tried out their second local jail today, hoping for the appearance of a Nazi rescue party armed with tear gas.

City police geared to receive a group from Pensacola, calling itself the "National Nazi Party," and headed by Doug Oleifke, 27, who promised Thursday to come here.

Oleifke, who said he took part in racial rioting in Montgomery, Ala., this month, said he and five comrades "have supplies of tear gas, roofing nails and other things if anything starts."

Police said "let them come. We're ready too." The remark came as police sources reported Oleifke and his group left Pensacola for New Orleans Thursday night.

Oviedo Constable Seeks Burglar

Oviedo Constable George A. Kelsey today reported two robberies, apparently the work of a "cat burglar," in the town Thursday night.

Kelsey said that the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Hardy was broken into and $20 in cash taken. Also burglarized was the James Partin home where the thief got $18 in cash and a portable TV set.

"Both parties were sleeping at the time of the robberies," Kelsey said, "and the thief must be pretty slick because we have found no clues as yet."

"Identification numbers or records on the TV weren't available either," he added.

Promotion Runs Through Tonight

"Operation 25," a new type auto sales promotion, pioneered here by Strickland-Morrison Motors will continue through tonight.

The management at Strickland-Morrison announced that this is the most effective sales promotion they have ever had in the 50 years they have been in business in Sanford and Seminole County.

a story in the paper from a city commission meeting in which a statement was made that the building is assessed at $40,000 for taxation, but that an offer of $125,000 for it had been refused by the owners.

"Here is what the letter said: 'Regarding the recent item and editorial comments in your paper on the Woodruff Building, I wish to set the facts straight: 'First—No offer of $125,000 has ever been received nor turned down by the Woodruff family.

"Second—The controlling interest in this building was bought in Nov. 1937, on the basis of $93,000.

"We will gladly accept the same amount for this choice business location. No profit is involved and I'm sure you and others will agree that after four years of municipal growth and with a bright future for Sanford, that is not unreasonable."

Residents Hear Charter Explained

By MONA GRINSTEAD

More than 80 North Orlando residents attended a called meeting by Mayor Frank Fasula Thursday to discuss a number of questions on the charter brought up since the village council annexed a 48-acre section at its May 2 meeting.

Neither Art Ferrin, spokesman of the group protesting the annexation, or Lawrence Swafford, former District 3 County Commissioner, were present. Fasula announced earlier this week that both men had been invited.

Before getting into discussion of the charter items under question Fasula announced that B. Robert Swartzburg, a Miami architect, has been named the new president of the North Orlando Co. with John Schwartz as his associate.

He told the residents that differences which have sprung up since the annexation should be strictly a village matter and again advised that the water company, the North Orlando Co., the North Orlando Utilities Co. and the North Orlando Village all are separate and should be questioned as such.

He explained that when the charter was drawn it had contained a clause which would allow the village to be placed under bonded indebtedness, however, this was changed to read that the action only can be taken when a full council is elected by the residents.

Various other items including a candidate's qualifying fee and village franchises were interpreted by the mayor who concluded by saying "if this charter isn't legal, all of us would like to know it... let's pool our resources and work together to find out."

David G. Tilson and R. C. Sullivan were appointed to contact representatives of Ferrin's group and arrange a meeting with village representatives to "iron out the difficulties."

Mayor Fasula offered to bring in any lawyer the people wanted to read and explain the charter to them and said he "would go along with anything the people wanted in order to get the issue settled."
