Prairie Lake, Paola Political Rallies Draw Biggest Crowds

Persons Interested In GS Development Urged To Meeting

The political rallies held Friday and Saturday night will possibly set the pattern of the remaining number of gatherings to be held in various sections of the county. In Paola, Friday night, possibly one of the largest crowds to gather up to that time, packed into the Wilson School auditorium to hear the state of candidates speak on their platforms.

However, it was the first time that a candidate was booed from the audience at the conclusion of his talk. Robert A. Bennett, after deriding the press for not carrying the facts on the 17-92 controversy, he said, "I don't believe the press has brought out the facts about the highway."

Other candidates spoke on about the same subjects as they had brought out at other rallies.

However, City Commissioner John Krider, attending opening sessions of the Florida State League Friday night, and appearing on a television program in behalf of the league could not be present to speak on his own behalf.

City Commissioner David Gatchel who had appeared to speak for Krider, was not allowed to speak since he did not bring a written request that the substitution be allowed.

Gus Schmah, a candidate for the County Commission, and Lewis Tate, a candidate for Justice of the Peace, did not speak on their platforms. They merely poked fun at their opponents which drew laughs from the audience.

The Paola Rally was the first held in the county when the candidates did not leave the audience until all of the candidates had spoken. Tension between candidates was in evidence, however they refrained from making such tension public in their talks before the Rally.

More than 250 attended the Rally Saturday night at the Prairie Lake American Legion Hall on 17-92. A turkey dinner was served preceding the speaking which got underway at 8 o'clock.

The loudest ovation given any candidate in the race so far went to Charlie Beck at the Saturday night affair. Following Beck's brief statement that "I need the job," the entire audience broke out in a tumultuous handclapping applause.

Robert A. Cobb apologized to Clerk of Court O. P. Herndon for quoting an erroneous figure in the retirement pay Herndon would receive. He corrected the figure from $315 to $267.75 and said, "When I am wrong I am willing to admit it."

O. P. Herndon publicly accepted the apology and commented "It takes more intentional fortitude to apologize than to hit you in the face."

The night before, Herndon had struck back at Cobb when he said, "There has been some sarcasm about my retirement. What he has said is false. He is continually talking about salary and money, all of which is secondary to me. I don't intend to quit. I am astounded and surprised that he would turn on me at this time. I am astounded at the contemptible statements he has made at this time." However, Herndon Saturday night, following the acceptance of the apology said, "I admire him."

SHS Band To Give Fantasy 'Colorama' Tomorrow Night

When the Pinecrest School auditorium curtain is raised tomorrow night at 8 o'clock the Seminole High School Band, dressed in formal and dinner jackets will render the fantasy "Colorama" conducted by its Director Ernest Cowley.

Other numbers that will be equally as thrilling are a trumpet solo with band accompaniment by Sidney Vihlen and the trumpet 14 in "Bugler's Holiday" played by Joe Fisher, Sidney Vihlen and Sgt. Leslie Smith.

Unique because an actual typewriter will be used, the band will present Leroy Anderson's "Typewriter", a novelty number of rhythm produced on the typewriter with band accompaniment.

Sgt. Hayes of the percussion section will play the typewriter and Sgt. Bill Hester will play the percussion section with the typewriter bell part. This number is a relatively new one and several of the band members who attended the University of Miami summer camp the past summer had the privilege of playing it conducted by its composer.

The Seminole High School dance band with Sgt. Leslie Smith as its leader will present several numbers during the concert. Ten numbers will be played by the band which will be conducted by the senior officers.

"Bo" Dalfovo who has already distinguished himself as Sanford's youngest bandmaster will be on hand to wild the baton for the march "On The Square."

The concert is sponsored by the Seminole High School Band and Orchestra Association.

Mathers To Attend Convention

Dr. Daniel H. Mathers, of Sanford, will officially represent the Seminole County Medical Society at the 82nd annual convention of the Florida Medical Association being held May 13-16 at Miami Beach. It was announced today by Dr. Samuel M. Day, secretary-treasurer of the Association.

The Sanford physician was chosen by members of the local medical society as a member of the Association's House of Delegates.

Dr. Day stated that Dr. Mathers, together with representatives of the other 35 county medical societies, determines the policies of the Association. The 148 delegates convene each year at the time of the annual convention.

Presented to the delegates for consideration will be many reports and proposals prepared by committees appointed by the Association's president, Dr. John D. Milton, of Miami.

In addition to the sessions of the House of Delegates, the convention program features scientific assemblies, during which eminent medical authorities from Florida and throughout the United States will present addresses, according to Dr. Day.

The list of speakers includes Dr. Elmer Hess, Erie, Pa., president of the American Medical Association; Dr. Dwight H. Murray, Napa, Calif., its president-elect; Dr. John W. Cline, San Francisco, a past president; Dr. Shields Wrenn, Boston, president of the American Board of Pathology; Dr. James J. Callahan, Chicago, professor of surgery at Loyola University's Stritch School of Medicine and Dr. Lauren H. Smith, Philadelphia, chief physician of Pennsylvania Hospital.

Dr. Day announced that beginning May 12, medical and surgical specialists who engage in general practice will attend annual meetings of the groups representing their particular fields.

All 300 members of the Florida Medical Association are not expected to attend the convention. Those who do attend will provide arrangements for their patients to receive adequate medical care during their absence. Dr. Day stated.

Williams To Head Engineering Section

A Sanford man, this morning, was named Chief of the Engineering and Design Section at the Sanford Naval Auxiliary Air Station.

Fred H. Williams, who has seen the commissioning of the local Naval Station twice, in 1942 and again in 1931, assumed the duties today of engineering pertaining to the Sanford Naval Auxiliary Air Station's Public Works Department.

The duties of Williams will include the advance planning and preparation of necessary working drawings and specifications and the necessary layout work as required by the maintenance division of the local Navy station.

Captain Robert W. Jackson, on hand to greet Williams as he assumed the new position, said "We're delighted to have an old-timer back aboard to help us out on the current expansion program."

Williams said "After five years active Naval service I am happy to be back with the Navy. I have seen this station commissioned twice and was working on the area when it was developed by the City as a CAA field."

Lt. E. Levin, Public Works Officer of the Sanford Naval Auxiliary Air Station commented, "We're most anxious to have Mr. Williams with us and it is most fortunate that he has had experience with the Public Works projects of the Navy."

Williams is a member of the Sanford Rotary Club, a member of the Presbytery Church, a member of the Florida Engineering Society, and served as Public Works Officer for the Naval Reserve Training Center in Orlando. He holds a reserve commission as Lt. Commander (CEC) and is a registered professional engineer and surveyor. He is a graduate of the University of Florida, Class of 1929 with a Civil Engineering degree.

John C. Brown, Civilian Personnel Officer of the Sanford Naval Auxiliary Air Station said this morning "I am very happy to have Mr. Williams as a part of the civilian force of this station."

Servicemen Group Adopts Charter, Bylaws At Session

The Christian Servicemen's Committee met Friday at the School Administration Building with Ben C. Steele presiding.

A constitution and bylaws were adopted.

James Gut, George Touhy and Michael Grier were appointed to nominate officers to serve for the first year of the organization. Joe Coggeshall was named as the temporary treasurer.

Acting Secretary Jack R. Brooks was instructed to proceed with correspondence looking toward the securing of a director for the proposed service men's center. J. C. Davis, H. E. Purvie and Homer Oshorn were designated to investigate the third floor of the Brusley-Pulston Building for a possible location of the center.

The next meeting of the committee is set for Sunday May 6, 2:30 p. m.

Pictorial Review Of FP&L Office Here In Magazine

A four-page pictorial review of the Florida Power and Light Company's office and plant facilities in Sanford appeared in the "Sunshine Service News" magazine, a widely distributed company magazine published by the Florida Power and Light Company, printed in Miami.

The picture story of the Sanford office, facilities and personnel appears in the Annual Report Edition of the magazine which is even more widely distributed than the normal edition of the trade publication.

Practically every phase of the company's operation is depicted through photographs of 18 various scenes beginning with the general commercial office, meter reading, schools, planning and civic endeavors of employees on to the plant operations and outside crew services.

Sanford through its industrial expansion and news of growth of the business facilities, is receiving widespread recognition throughout the State and over the nation.

Lions Convention Delegates Told

By Mrs. Raymond Morris

Delegates to the Florida State Lions Convention to be held at Pensacola April 28 through May 2 were summoned by President Allen Vickers at the Thursday night Lions Club meeting. The delegates are Henry Stump, Robert Schaff and Raymond Morris, with C. K. Fisher named an alternate.

The delegates will be accompanied by their wives.

The club was entertained by a color film entitled Enterprise in America and was supplied by chairman of the day Henry Stump the theme of the picture, based on the enterprise of the American people, showed what small communities can do in attracting industry to expand in new locations, helping to make America great.

Vickers announced also that of the 30 clubs in Dist. 33-B the local club ranked fifth at the close of the membership and attendance count of which ran through Sept. 1 to April 5.

Peters' Family Expresses Thanks

"We don't know that we had so many friends," said Mrs. Steve Peters as she expressed her appreciation today for all that had been done for them following the recent destruction of their home, furnishings, and clothing, by fire.

"I want to especially thank the Kiwanis Club, Mr. Ken Gustavson, and all of the people, everyone of them, for their generous gifts," Mrs. Peters said.

"We are very grateful to the people who have been very good to us," the mother of ten children said, "they have been very good to us in so many ways."

Mrs. Peters speaking for her husband and children, as well as expressing her own thanks for the many gifts received, said "We are looking forward now to rebuilding our home."

Charges Dismissed Against Kelsey

Charges against George Kelsey were dismissed this morning by Judge Vassar Carlton, in Circuit Court, when two witnesses refused to testify.

Assistant State's Attorney Volte A. Williams Jr. requested the court to grant a continuance of the case but was denied.

Kelsey, suspended Constable in the Oviedo District, was represented by Attorney Tom Watson of Orlando.

It is believed that Kelsey will be reinstated as constable by Governor LeRoy Collins following the dismissal of charges brought about by two indictments handed down by the Grand Jury one of which was dismissed several weeks ago.

Fleet Reserve Assn. Opens Nominations For Navy Contest

The Fleet Reserve Association, with headquarters in Washington, D. C., has opened nominations in a contest to determine the typical Navy wife, according to the local Navy Recruiter in Sanford.

Entries will be limited to wives of career entitled personnel and must be accompanied by an essay on "Why I'm Proud to be a Navy Wife."

Recruiting personnel who visit Sanford on a regular schedule said that a number of entries are expected to be received from the Sanford area.

First, second and third place finalists will be chosen at Long Beach, Calif. on Sept. 15. First place winner will be given a two-weeks' all expense trip to Hawaii with her family plus a cash prize. Closing date for the contest has been set for June 15.

Meltzer Donates Shirts To Local Gift, Loan Closet

Hyman Meltzer, President of the Sanford Manufacturing Company, last week, sent two dozen men's night shirts from his New York plant as a contribution to the Gift and Loan Closet, Seminole Unit, American Cancer Society.

Such items are in great demand for use by indigent patients who apply to the local Gift and Loan Closet of the Seminole County Unit, American Cancer Society, during treatment for cancer.

"This generous gift was gratefully received," said Mrs. Gertrude Dingfelder, chairman of the Seminole County Unit.

Sanlando Springs Tells New Offering

Residents of Seminole County may now obtain annual family or individual memberships which will permit daily visits to Sanlando Springs, L. S. Damon, acting manager, announces.

The policy allows frequent visitors to Sanlando Springs to participate in all the special events which are open to the public as well as closed affairs which would be designed for members only.

Manager, Damon requests that applications for membership be made in person and explain they cannot be accepted through the mail or by telephone.

'Publishing Great Newspaper' To Be Subject Of Speaker

H. Hudson Myers of De Bray will speak on "Publishing A Great Newspaper" at a meeting of the Pilgrim Fellowship, 7:30 p. m., Thursday, April 26, in the new edition of the Pilgrim Community Church, Orange City Hills, Route 17-92, Orange City.

The speaker will have on display certain articles which are important in printing newspapers. These will also be facsimile pages of the New York Times back to 1850, some of which are: "The Gettysburg Address, Assassination of Lincoln, The Page Or $5,000,000 Offered By The Notorious Boss Tweed Gang, First Atlantic Cable, First X-ray, First Electric Light, The Nation Spanned By Railroad Tracks, The Great Chicago Fire, and Custer's Last Stand, as well as many others.

In addition, Myers will place on view a copy of "The Story of the New York Times" 1831-1931, presented to him by Published Sulzberger over his signature on the paper's 100th anniversary.

Myers is retired from the New York Times and is a member of the New York Times Thirty-Year Club and the Times Square Club No. 1034 New York.

The general public is invited to hear the speaker.

We Must Work Together To Improve Our Shopping, Business District

Facts are facts—no matter how they present themselves—and they must be faced. In recent months there has been quite a bit of talk about our "downtown shopping area."

And so much has been said in comment, conversation, and in written words that we feel sure a great many people must have wondered, as we did, whether there was anything individual citizens could do about a problem so vast and complex.

That's why we decided to sit down to study the situation. And the more we studied, the more we became convinced that the key to future accomplishment—and the key to future improvement—is the private citizen working in joint voluntary effort with others like himself.

Perhaps the most significant fact we discovered was that a great many solutions to our "downtown shopping area" situation have already been worked out in many communities and cities across the country. Groups of enterprising, civic-minded citizens have cooperated effectively with their public officials to tackle problems like ours head-on.

All that we can hope to accomplish in these columns is to report on examples of success as an inspiration and guide to our loyal citizens here.

You will particularly note that we are not attempting to give any one answer—for there is no master plan that will solve all of our problems. Instead, there are ideas, new approaches and new developments, most of them proved in action.

What we are trying to put across is the fact that ease and comfort for the shopper are measures of progress.

A shopping center or business district is not only a measure of progress, but a true index of our culture.

The creation of a new and modern business shopping area embodies developments in technology, invention, industrial progress, education, finance, and so many other things that our whole cultural heritage goes into producing it.

The shopping center is a way of life to which we were committed by the most through-going of our social revolutions, the one initiated by the passenger automobile and the motor truck. Historically, we have dealt piecemeal with the problems created by larger populations and the increase in transportation that signifies and creates increase in wealth. In our community we are still in the curious condition of trying to adopt a shopping center designed for horse-drawn traffic to the necessities of the automobile age.

It is a fortunate community that has a shopping center or business district in 1956, which adequately and effectively takes care of its shoppers. More often a community has reason to congratulate itself if by 1956 it has a shopping center that it should have had in 1946. However, with the tremendous strides in population gain and industrial expansion, the latter years have completely changed Sanford's business district picture.

We must point out that the projects accomplished in other communities show what can be done. Just as clearly, they show what must be done.

In the March 17 issue of Business Week we were amazed at the progress made by Fort Worth, Texas in a "Master Plan" for revitalizing the Central Core of the city.

It is explained that Fort Worth is the first city in the United States to redesign completely its central business and shopping district in order to cope with the blight and traffic congestion that threatens to strangle it and many other cities.

Plans have been made to revamp as much as 300 acres in an area that has become choked with traffic problems, parking problems, along with maintaining a complete flow of traffic.

We don't visualize doing the City of Sanford's business and shopping district over in a matter of hours or overnight. But, as Fort Worth has done, attempt to create a long-range plan—a 15-year project—to convince the shopping public that Sanford is alive and wants the trade from each one of the community's citizens.

Fort Worth has problems similar to Sanford although they are on a smaller scale here. The same kind of things that are creating havoc all over the nation such as downtown slum clearance, narrow alleys unable to handle truck traffic, one-fine residential areas that are becoming blighted with growth, are becoming the big problem here.

And, to top things off, these conditions are destined to get worse.

Like those who were determined to do something about it in the Texas City, there are no stop-gap measures to take care of the situation. Free bus rides into the city's shopping area, one-way streets in an attempt to alleviate traffic congestion, and other temporary measures serve no purpose in an aggressive plan to improve and to bring shoppers into the business and shopping district.

J. Saxton Lloyd, chairman of the State Development Commission told delegates to a Garden Club convention in Tallahassee recently that "If we are going to be big, we must act our size." His remarks were centered around an address in which he said the State must inventory its resources, improve its highways and municipal parking facilities in the light of present population trends "which could mean that it's not impossible that Florida will have a population of as much as 12 million by 1975."

In other words, Mr. Lloyd predicted that it's possible that we triple in population. It's a big job, a radical job, it is so big that it staggers the imagination. But it must be done.

DEEP IN THE HEART OF TEXAS

War Prisoners' Dreams Haunting

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—The dreams of war prisoners are haunting things.

Because they can do little but dream and wait, their dreams have an intensity beyond the dreams of ordinary people. They dream of love, and money, and power, and food—but mostly food.

Many prisoners of war, when their nightmare ordeal is over and they return to peacetime living, forget the dreams they once found refuge in.

But not Gil Bloom, who for 13 months as a prisoner of the Germans dreamed constantly of—But let's tell his story from the beginning.

Gil, a tall, powerfully built private from South Orange, N. J., joined the U. S. Rangers shortly after the abortive raid on Dieppe. He himself fought at Gafsa in Tunisia, Gela in Sicily, Salerno and Cassino in Italy.

A few days after the Anzio landing he was with spearheading elements of Rangers when his entire outfit was trapped and captured by a larger German force after seven murderous hours of battle.

He and 125 other Rangers, huddled so closely together in a single cattle car that they had to sleep standing up; rode for seven days and six nights before reaching Germany. In that time they were given only a single meal.

Pfc. Bloom began to dream of food. Constantly hungry in dreary months that followed in a prison camp near Danzig, he found his dreams came down to a single vision.

"Day and night I dreamed of nothing but steaks. The biggest, juiciest steaks a man could think of. And mountains of snowy ice cream," he said. "And I made up my mind that if I ever got out alive, I'd spend the rest of my life surrounded by steaks and ice cream."

To escape the onrushing Russians, his captors started Gil and the other prisoners on a march across Germany in mid-January of 1945. They walked 700 miles before American troops liberated them in April.

"We had to scavenge what we could from the countryside," he recalled. "There were no meals. We started with 300 men, and there were only 350 to 400 left when we were freed. The rest had dropped out."

Gil's weight had dropped from about 175 pounds to 88 pounds. He fainted in the chowline waiting for his first real meal and spent weeks in a hospital.

"When I came home food was priests, rabbis, doctors, lawyers and city officials and to drop big names in making their 'pitch.' When a prospect balked at contributing, the caller would say 'Just a minute, the mayor will speak to you.' Then another salesman would take over, posing as 'the mayor.'"

The Better Business Bureau says the "Gold Star Wives Service Foundation" collected 2 1/2 million dollars by mailing out punchboards, cheap wallets, greeting cards and Levi's Prayer medallions, but got less than $400,000 after "fund-raising expenses."

He couldn't get enough of it." He went back into his old business as an electrical contractor. But Gil couldn't get that wartime dream out of his head. He wanted to be surrounded by steaks.

Today he is. Gil took his capital and, teamed up with a Greenwich Village restaurateur named Johnny Johnson, opened a steak and chop house called "The Charcoal Room" at 45th St. and 2nd Ave., not far from the United Nations.

The place boomed from the start. One gimmick that helped: Patrons were allowed to don a chef's cap and cook their own steaks.

"People like to show off a little," explained Gil tolerantly. Now that his dream has come true Gil is as cheerful as a child with a new toy.

"I like to see people happy, and they're never happier than when they're eating," he said. "There's only one road to happiness—through the stomach. I found that out."

Gil admires a good trencherman and says heavy-weight champion Rocky Marciano is the best he knows.

"I can go two rounds at the table with him and that's about all," he admitted. "Rocky can put down a four-pound steak and then call for lamb chops. But I got filled up on a two-pound steak plus a dish of ice cream covered with chocolate syrup and whipped cream."

But achieving a dream always carries with it a penalty. Gil, surrounded by steaks and ice cream, now weighs 215 pounds—and is considered going on a diet.

MISS FLORIDA CHOSEN
MIAMI (AP)—Florida's representative in the Mrs. America contest at Ormond Beach on May 7 will be Mrs. Annie Lee Tate, 33, slender, brunette mother of three children.

Folks Falling For Swindlers, Get-Rich-Quick Promoters

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chief Inspector David Stephens of the U. S. Post Office Department read the teletype message and shook his head wearily.

"It's a vicious racket. . . vicious. The wonder is that people are still falling for it."

The message, from Chicago, told how postal inspectors had arrested a swindler who preyed on scores of bereaved families by mailing cheap Bibles addressed to the deceased for $5 C. O. D.

The Chicago incident is just a drop in the nationwide bucket as the fast-buck boys, charity racketeers, mail-order gypsies, "hollor-night" crawls and other fly-by-night operators fleece the American public out of millions.

In the charity field alone, the Better Business Bureau estimates at least 120 million dollars a year falls into the hands of charlatans and get-rich-quick promoters. Four billion dollars is contributed annually to legitimate charities.

In the Chicago "Bible swindle," the culprit watched obituary notices in newspapers and mailed out 100 Bibles C. O. D. In the names of the dead persons. Survivors assumed the deceased had ordered the books and paid for them.

Police hunce squads and postal authorities are constantly on the alert for such "charity swindlers."

"The Bible swindle is an old trick," Stephens said. "I recall seeing it at least 30 years ago, and it probably goes back long before that. Nowadays we get a lot of variations on the same theme."

Stephens, whose nationwide force of 1,000 postal inspectors investigate through-the-mail crimes ranging from extortion, fraud and forgery to mail theft, said the charity racket is the most lucrative of all.

In a recent case, he said, involving an outfit which billed itself as the "Department of California Handicapped War Veterans"—implying it was an official state agency—and solicited funds for alleged hospital care of veterans.

In three months, he said, the promoters took in $136,000 and pocketed $97,000 for expenses. Ten firms were indicted for mail fraud and conspiracy after postal inspectors cracked down.

In another case, Stephens said, a Pittsburgh man sent out $28,000 letters a month containing cheap plastic crucifixes along with an emotion appeal for $1 to aid Catholic charity. He was taking in $1,200 a day when postal inspectors tapped on his door. He is under mail fraud indictment.

Stephens said the Post Office Department is getting many complaints about so-called charity organizations and outright swindlers flooding the mails with unsorted merchandise-ballpoint pens, neckties, cheap wallets, goodluck pieces "guaranteed" family coats-of-arms and other gimmicks. Usually it is offered on "10 day approval" terms.

As long as the trash isn't sent C. O. D. and doesn't violate postal regulations against fraud as deception, there is little the Post Office Department can do about it.

"But we can warn the public," Stephens said, "and we investigate all complaints."

Leland E. McCarthy, managing director of the Washington Better Business Bureau, offers his advice:

"There is absolutely no legal obligation to return anything you didn't order, even if it's accompanied by stamps in cover return postage. You can keep the stamps or give them to some worthwhile charity.

"And you can do what you like with the merchandise, without paying for it, unless the sender calls at your home in person or sends an agent to collect it within 30 days. Even then you can demand storage charges."

"The kind of charity fund raising campaign we don't like and are fighting all the time is where they have paid promoters," McCarthy said. "We've found that in most cases only 10 or 15 percent of the money goes to charity."

"The best charities get along on six or eight per cent for operating expenses, or less."

McCarthy said the National Assn. of Better Business Bureaus, a nonprofit group established in 1920, recently issued warnings about a new outfit which claims to help veterans get employment free of charge.

TODAY'S BIBLE VERSE

And they that believed were together and had all things common.—Acts 2:44—They expected the end of the world immediately. Many since that day have made similar anticipations though the Bible definitely says that no man knows the time of the end. People believe what they want to believe often. This mistake made paupers of the saints of Jerusalem, and the church at large took up collection for them for many years after.

NEW YORK (AP)—America still suffers from growing pains. Gigantic as almost everything already is—you talk about billions today while still trying to comprehend millions—there are services and goods you want more of right now and others you're told you'll want more of soon.

The pains show up first in these inadequate services or goods, later in the search for money to meet the new or expected demands, and finally in the mounting paper work just to keep track of the bigger operations.

American Telephone & Telegraph is so convinced that more people are going to want to talk more to others in more places that it is the first corporation to announce a two-billion-dollar outlay in one year for expansion.

But it's only one of many corporations and industries putting up huge sums either to keep up with their customers or to beat out their rivals for markets, here now or expected in the years ahead.

And the search for new sources of raw materials to feed America's widening maw will take still more stacks of money or credit.

Big and little companies are spending to develop new iron deposits or to find ways to produce iron more economically from old ore bodies. They are bringing in more aluminum and copper. They plan more steel mills to meet the greater demand and replace ancient furnaces. They talk of more newsmprint. The oil industry is looking years ahead in its search for new fields. And industry looks for more water, either in conserving present sources or experimenting with taking the salt out of the sea.

America Suffers Growing Pains

The airplanes are having their financial growing pains. They are looking for stacks of dough to ease their way into the jet age. Individuals aren't immune. As Americans' standards of living grow higher, the quest for funds to keep up with the Joneses or to keep up with the new models of the auto and gadget makers can be painful indeed.

Makes Friends
with the Meanest Roads
(Have you tried Buick's great new ride?)

THE SWEET WAY a '56 Buick rides on all sorts of roads

It is something you find nowhere else on wheels. Capricious roads that twist and turn—unruly roads that rock and roll—tired roads, battered and beaten—they all seem to wear company manners the moment a Buick approaches.

Why? Simply because Buick comes with what it takes to put any road on its best behavior—the completely ride-engineered combination of chassis, engine and automatic drive that is obtainable in no other car.

And that's gospel truth whether you drive a new SPECIAL, CENTURY, SUPER or ROADMASTER.

No other car matches the firm, true tracking of Buick's own ride foundation—battered by brawny X-braced frame and torque-tube drive—cushioned on coil springs and deep-oil shock absorbers.

No other has such width of tread and length of wheelbase within dimensions so trim and tidy that Buicks turn, park and garage more easily than smaller cars.

No other duplicates the assurance of steering, brakes and rear axle so precisely geared and gaited for the nimble handling that's a safety "must" in modern cars.

And certainly no other name plate promises the soaring sweep of power that wells from the big 322-cubic-inch V8 bench every new Buick bonnet.

Nor does any other automatic drive put power to its car's rear wheels with the swift, unruffled pace of Variable Pitch Dynaflo®—and that goes double every time you "switch pitch" for whip-quick, super passing.

But why stop to count reasons—when results are what you're after?

Wouldn't you rather really feel Buick's new "sense of direction" on straightaway, curves and corners?

Wouldn't you rather relax in supreme comfort while tooling this powerful performer over roads you always hated to travel?

Well, sir, we cordially invite you to drop in on us and do just that.

Make it this week, won't you? Sample the ride that has charms to win any old road—and get first-hand figures on prices that make Buick owning a more positive pleasure.

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

Lake Monroe News

BY GRACE THURSTON

The Lake Monroe Home Demonstration Club had a very successful Cancer Drive Monday evening, thanks to the hard working ladies of the group.

They are as follows: Mrs. C. E. Hittell, Mrs. Clover Morris, Mrs. Annie MacArthur, Mrs. Ruth Griffin, Mrs. C. E. Jackson, Mrs. J. A. Andrews, Mrs. J. H. Tindall, and Mrs. C. P. Rayburn. The hard working ladies collected $105.00.

The Home Demonstration club will meet Monday evening April 23 at the school lunch room at 7 p. m. to be shown a film on Cancer Dressing.

The Lake Monroe Home Demonstration Club won the "Fallen Skis" at the County Council Home Demonstration, on Wednesday.

The Lake Monroe Club out did The Prince Rainer Wedding by staging one of their own. They entertained the group with a Mock Wedding, which proved to be a huge success.

The track team returned from the conference meet with honors. As a result letters were earned by Phillip Byrd, Johnny Yeakle, John Butler, Al Collins, Murray Nance, Wayne McCoy, Dor Mathieu, Sid Whiten and Bobby Little. Good Luck tomorrow team.

Wednesday, Governor LeRoy Collins visited the high school. He was met by a group of students and a number of pictures were taken. The Governor gave a short speech to the student body. Being behind on his busy schedule he did not stay as long as we would have liked.

As a result of the election held Tuesday morning, Jim Hawkins and Elizabeth Woodruff will reign as May Day King and Queen. Now the secret is just who the attendants are. Boys, the dance is only two weeks off. . . . have you a date?

Friday morning and that evening at 8 p. m. the curtain rang up at SHS on "The Lady of the Terrace." The operetta was given by the Glee Club. Pat Harrington and Kenneth Ramsey were the leads, while Bobbie Crutchfield played the "lady." Others in the cast included Kaye Jenkins, Joe Davis, Richard Tison, Shirley Anderson, Yvonne Cullen, Wayne McCoy, and Randall Collins. It was a splendid performance and everyone concerned deserves much praise.

Now for the gossip! Dottie Meets, when did you learn to do those lovely arabesques? Why will Teddy Walker be glad when the operetta is over, doesn't he like for Kenneth to make love to Pat?

Date . . . "Why don't you get off the Mary Grace—go around?" Janice, why is May 15 so important? What is this we hear about Joe and Shirley and "Violent" love making during rehearsals?

When did Jim Hawkins get his sore throat? Someone said R. Crutchfield is for the Byrds and Little, have at long last learned the "proper" way to dance. Bye now . . .

'Peer Gynt' Will Be Presented At Pinecrest Friday

BY MARY DEE LIBREY

Friday, April 27, the sixth graders are giving the play "Peer Gynt" in the auditorium of Pine Crest School.

We are giving it to raise money for Vera Drossa Vera is a girl of 14 who lives over in Germany. She has a mother and five sisters. Her father was killed by the communists. Every year Mrs. Campbell's classroom sends $50 dollars to the "Save the Children Federation" to buy things for Vera because her family gets only $4 dollars a month. We think Vera is well worth working for. She helps her mother, who has heart trouble, and she delivers papers at four o'clock in the morning to earn extra money.

We recently had a report from "Save the Children Federation" that Vera's bike had been stolen so now she has to walk to deliver papers.

We have found pen pals for two of Vera's sisters. Her sister Dora, who is now living with a family in Canada, has a pen pal in Georgia, who has invited Dora to see her. Some time this summer Dora is going to see Peggy and if possible she will come to see us here in Sanford.

The main characters in our play are Peer Gynt, Jimmy Terwilliger; Ase, Randy Caton; Woman in Green, Mary Dee Librey; Aitra, Louise Higgenbotham; and Solveig, Marylea Mock. We are handicapped by having only six girls in our room so we have to use fifth grade girls. We have had to use a boy as a leading lady.

OES Chapter Two Reads Resolutions, Drapes Charter

A lovely meeting of Seminole Chapter No. 2 Order of Eastern Stars was held Thursday night at the Masonic Temple.

The hall was beautifully decorated with baskets of red and white gladioli and blue delphinium, sprinkled with gypsophila.

Blue vases holding white and pink carnations were used advantageously around the room. The Star Punt stations were marked with vases of flowers in the emblematic colors. Mrs. F. H. Wait, Worthy Patron and P. H. Wait, Worthy Patron presided in the East.

Just as the various phases of the work was given by R. W. Turner, Past Patron and his committee. Resolutions were read and the charter draped in honor of a departed member, Wurt W. Warner.

Plans were made for as many as possible to attend Grand Chapter April 24-26 to be held in Miami Beach.

The next meeting, May 3, will be observed as "Mothers Night."

Mrs. Helen Lounhart and her committee were in charge of the decorations and refreshments for the evening. The dining room was beautifully decorated with pink and white carnations. Lighted pink tapers cast a soft glow over the dainty party refreshments.

CLUB HAS MEET

Pat Smith called the 4H Club of the Sanford Junior High School to session at 12:15 in the auditorium of the school Friday. Jackie Ashley called the roll. Projects were shown and the members received their 4H pins.

The group discussed plans for a party. The session then adjourned at 2:05. Approximately 40 members were present along with Miss Myrtle Wilson, sponsor.

Lake Mary Choir Sings At Service

The Youth Choir of the Lake Mary Baptist Chapel presented a program of scripture and songs Wednesday evening at the regular prayer meeting services under the direction of Mrs. Dolma Nettles and Mrs. Clara Ogden.

Opening song was "Let the Children Come" Scripture of the Old and New Testament was given by Diana Wilson, Pat Dorman, Donna Beard, Elizabeth Ogden, Danny Nettles, Richard Dorman and Jimmy Ogden.

The little children of the choir sang "The Bible Song" and included Carolyn Wilson, Diane Nettles, Wanda Nixon, Diane Ogden and Bobby Morris.

The program was closed with "The Bible is the Best Book" by the choir.

Fine Arts, American Home Depts. Have Joint Meeting In Club

The Fine Arts Department of the Woman's Club met with the American Home Department for its regular meeting Tuesday at 8 p. m.

The meeting was presided over by the chairman, Mrs. Willis Peacock. The opening prayer was given by Mrs. George.

During the business meeting members voted to have as a project for next year working with other interested groups in the community toward development of a Youth Center.

Mrs. Harriman introduced Mrs. C. C. Welch who is one of Sanford's favorite story-tellers. Mrs. Welch began her talk by stressing the values gained from reading and listening to or telling stories—she mentioned especially moral and spiritual values; character building and vocabulary building. "Things to be learned are remembered better through story-telling," she said. Mrs. Welch feels it is impossible to drive a person to read—we acquire the desire to read in childhood, usually through family influence or by being exposed to good story-telling outside the home.

Mrs. Welch read an original poem and concluded her talk by telling a story by Maxwell Ma. That was thoroughly enjoyed by her audience.

The American Home Department welcomed the following new members, Mrs. Robert Mahan, Mrs. Warren Knowles, Mrs. Howard Sigmund and Mrs. John Sauls.

Hostesses for the evening were, Mrs. Douglas Stenstrom, Mrs. Bill Kirk, Mrs. Forest Breckenridge, Mrs. Al Hunt, Mrs. Harriman, Mrs. George Wells, and Mrs. Willis Peacock.

Those present at the meeting were, Mrs. John Carlton, Mrs. James Ebern, Mrs. B. C. Moore, Mrs. W. P. Yesley, Mrs. S. J. Nix, Mrs. W. C. Hires, Mrs. R. L. Bass, Mrs. George Wells, Mrs. N. V. Farmer, Mrs. Raymond Smith, Mrs. D. A. Gregory, Mrs. Breckenridge, Mrs. J. P. Wilson, Mrs. Roger Harris, Mrs. Rapa Austin Smith, Mrs. Stephen Ter Horst, Mrs. S. G. Harriman, Mrs. F. T. Meriwether, Mrs. Bill Kirk, Mrs. Al Hunt, Mrs. Willis Peacock and Mrs. Barbara Ruppel. Guests present were Mrs. Peter Jurine, Mrs. Betty Weston, Mrs. Ruth Hawthorne and Mrs. J. C. E. Connell.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. William Cunningham of Charleston, S. C. have returned home after staying for a short while with Mrs. Sam Hampton and family.

Mrs. R. F. Grider of Louisville, Ky. is visiting for a week with Mr. and Mrs. John Ivey and family.

Fred Kirshner of the Raymond Studio will attend the convention of the Florida Photographers Association in St. Petersburg today through Wednesday in order "to inform himself" on the newest trends in photography.

Mrs. F. T. Meriwether, Mrs. R. C. Moore and Mrs. Ralph Austin Smith of the Sanford Woman's Club left this morning to attend the convention of the Florida Federation of Woman's Clubs in Lakeland. Mrs. J. N. Gilson left Thursday to attend the same convention.

Mrs. Mary Eula Holtzclaw, Mrs. Mary Alice Wyatt and Mrs. Linnin Moore, left today for Miami Beach to attend the 81st Grand Chapter Session of the Order of the Eastern Star which convenes April 23-25.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hardesty have had as their guests Mr. and Mrs. Jack A. Jones, Sharon Pa. and William Shook of Akron, Ohio. Their home is on 2417 Orange Ave.

KEEP FLORIDA CLIMBING . . .
KEEP COLLINS
KEEP FLORIDA in Capable Hands

"Keep Florida climbing toward its destiny without faltering, without detouring and without risking set-backs under untried or unstable leadership," says Governor LeRoy Collins.

What does this mean?

During 16 short months of outstanding leadership under Governor LeRoy Collins, Florida has grown faster than any other major State in the Nation, advancing at an amazing rate in population, industry, business and tourist business.

Florida is SOLID

Under LeRoy Collins' calm, experienced leadership, Florida has come of age. There has been no scandal, no racketeering, no sham and no hypocrisy. Governor Collins has brought Florida the greatest roadbuilding program in history. His record in every part of the State administration is one that is envied by other States—and recognized over the Nation. This recognition is important to Florida's future—and to you, your jobs, your pocketbooks, your children's future.

LeRoy Collins' record shows that he has kept every pledge he ever made—and every pledge has been for the good of Florida.

Keep Florida's government in capable hands, clean and honorable hands. Re-elect the man best qualified to direct Florida's government for the next four years—Governor LeRoy Collins.

A Doctor in the Family

By ELIZABETH SEIFERT

CHAPTER ONE

THIS WOULD be a crisp winter's day, bright and clear, and once more the country was at war, with the problems of young men heavy upon the hearts of women—Linda was thoughtful before the fire, remembering that other day, that other day, of peace and doubt, and an urgent feeling that life was overly short. That time was the winter of 1942-43.

The place was the small town of Valsheim in the Missouri Ozarks, a beautiful little town built into a fold of the mountains, its edges touched by a forest, every street a very progressive town; admittedly it was ruled by the wealth and the prestige of one family, the Thorntons, whose sturdy built old home, a columned porticoed affair of white-painted bricks, stood serenely aloof at the end of Main street. At the other end stood the fifty-bed hospital where Dr. Alan Thornton was surgeon-in-charge.

Old Jasper Thornton ruled the farmers of the community, and his stockmen, by virtue of his own big farm, his blooded stock, his horse stables, his feed mill—his character and his personality.

In November of 1942, Jasper Thornton was a bit past seventy, a huge man, as strong as an old oak, and as mighty. He spoke to all people in the same loud tone.

For almost fifty years, this man had been married to Bertha Merritt, a tall, erectly slender woman, with masses of dark-white hair, and a kindly correct face and eye. She was a quiet woman, and firm, leaning heavily upon the statistical fact that her family was a bit older than Jasper's old family. She was called "Aunt Sam" by her children, and by her servants.

The bathroom had been new, made especially for her when she came to Fiddlers Green as a bride, but the plumbing was "faded on," and through the pipes, as well as through the air ducts of the furnace, came smells and sounds which Linda could trace to the far reaches of this big house. The smell of coffee which richly perfumed the bathroom came from Bertha's big bedroom. With Clew in attendance, the old lady would be sitting up in bed, relishing that first cup of the day.

Intrigued by her little game of looking at the family members through sound and smell, Linda wrapped herself in a thick towel, smiled, and tidied the bathroom. She had only a faint memory of Alan's departure an hour earlier, the now would be there in his work at the hospital, happy to be so lost.

Linda selected a flannel skirt, a crisp white blouse, a cashmere cardigan, brown pumps. She sat down at her dressing table to comb the tangles out of her red curls and look at the day's page in her memo book. November 21, 1942.

Ten years ago! The town's librarian was such a pretty girl, people had said when she'd come in all the position. They said it again, probably, when it became known that she would marry the young doctor, the Thorntons' son!

What a catch for an outside girl! To Linda it had seemed like a there had, years before, come a black time of error and shame to the family. And John Thornton no longer lived in Valsheim, his name was seldom spoken.

The youngest of the Thornton children was Margaret, who had been a widow for almost nine years. Slender, dark and lovely, she was like Jasper's little prim mare, showing her good breeding, her good lines and cleanly pointing them along to her children; Bill, who was an Army flier, and twins, Jim and Ann, born seven months after a cranky horse had killed their father. The twins were healthy little beasts with strawberry-colored hair and a few teeth missing.

This was the family in wartime, in 1942.

It was Linda's wedding anniversary, and Alan's—her tenth. Bertha, whose pleasure it was to gather her family about her at regular intervals, had seized upon this excuse to have a family party. Except for John and Bill, lately, she saw each one of them every day, but she liked the feel of having all the threads in her hand at once.

That morning Linda woke with the thought of the party before her. It was still dark beyond the window. The open fire was not yet freshened, but the room was not cold. Alan had closed the window, and the thermostat of the new furnace started to do its job at six.

"None of this!" she said aloud, and sat straight up, swung her legs to the side of the mattress and fished down for her slippers. Then she stood upon the floor and reached a hand for the robe which lay upon the nearby chair. Smiling, she turned to the bathroom for her warm shower.

The bathroom had been new, made especially for her when she came to Fiddlers Green as a bride, but the plumbing was "faded on," and through the pipes, as well as through the air ducts of the furnace, came smells and sounds which Linda could trace to the far reaches of this big house.

The smell of coffee which richly perfumed the bathroom came from Bertha's big bedroom. With Clew in attendance, the old lady would be sitting up in bed, relishing that first cup of the day.

Intrigued by her little game of looking at the family members through sound and smell, Linda wrapped herself in a thick towel, smiled, and tidied the bathroom. She had only a faint memory of Alan's departure an hour earlier, the now would be there in his work at the hospital, happy to be so lost.

Linda selected a flannel skirt, a crisp white blouse, a cashmere cardigan, brown pumps. She sat down at her dressing table to comb the tangles out of her red curls and look at the day's page in her memo book. November 21, 1942.

Ten years ago! The town's librarian was such a pretty girl, people had said when she'd come in all the position. They said it again, probably, when it became known that she would marry the young doctor, the Thorntons' son!

What a catch for an outside girl! To Linda it had seemed like a fairy tale come to life—though not because Alan's family was rich. Alan himself, the dark and gentle man, with his own dreams and plans, had become Linda's single dream. She wanted only to do the things that Alan dreamed of, to accept Alan's decisions—because she loved him.

His successes had become her triumphs, his disappointments... With his hand in hers, they had together faced what the hospital meant to them. Jasper meant well; hundreds of thousands of dollars had gone into the building and its equipment. It was a fine thing for a man to do, both for his community and for his surgeon son. Except that that son had wanted to be a brain specialist, to be free to work and to study elsewhere toward that end.

But here was the hospital, built and equipped by Jasper. Alan and Linda had spent in England while he studied brain surgery. Could a man refuse such a gift from his father? Perhaps.

"It was your mother's idea," Jasper had said.

"I—don't know what to say to either of you," had been Alan's first response.

He had talked to Linda. The struggle to reach a decision was long and difficult, but it came at last to an end.

"Here I would be working among my own people," Alan told Linda. "A healing hand is valuable wherever there's a human link."

"D'you suppose," he asked, troubled, "that Father knows what Ma'am wanted?"

"To keep her remaining son close by? Of course he knows. That's why the decision can be yours."

"That's my girl!" he'd rewarded her loving and unquestioning loyalty. And so the decision was made, with no regrets.

But so much depended on her having a child. Bertha's acceptance of Linda as a member of the family; Alan's wife should have perpetuated the Merritt and the Thornton blood and, certainly, the Thornton name. Linda knew the full measure of her failure, and the yearning to belong, to do her part, grew to be unbearable.

Alan loved her, Alan was good to her—but often it seemed that he needed Linda much less than his operations of her failure, and the yearning to belong, to do her part, grew to be unbearable.

From the minute he had decided to go into the hospital as surgeon-in-charge, Alan had become completely absorbed in his work there. And now the war—

This would mean—he already meant—that he was too busy, too absorbed, to know that he had a wife.

Linda had no child and, for much of the time, she had no husband either. Why celebrate a marriage when she had no husband?

Jasper would cut down a barren tree in his orchards, or sell a mare that did not produce good foals. He had driven his wretched son from his home.

Why then have a union between a man and a woman any good if it failed to produce even companionship? What use was Linda as a wife to Alan? What good was she to the family?

Roberts Started For 7th Year In Select Circle

By JACK RAND
The Associated Press

Robin Roberts to win 20 games as close to a sure thing as you get in baseball.

The Philadelphia Phillies see a head start toward a seventh straight year in the select circle. But he insists he never set a goal, just doing his best for the club.

He doesn't put too much stock in low-hitters either. With him a "winning game" in which he gives nine hits is a better job than a lost one-hitter.

His first two starts this season illustrate. He barely staggered through against Brooklyn opening day, yet he won it. Yesterday at Philadelphia, he needed a tight effort to beat Johnny Antonelli's three-hitter. He gave the New York Giants five hits but Antonelli threw one bad pitch—at three-run homer by Ted Kazanski and the Phillis won 3-1.

The Giants climbed on Curt Simons, making his first start, and batted out a 9-7 edge in the second game. Willie Mays hit a three-run homer off reliever Bob Miller in the ninth.

Don Newcombe got on the beam with a three-hitter as Brooklyn downed Pittsburgh 4-1 in a game called by rain in the seventh.

Milwaukee remained in the National League lead by slugging St. Louis 13-5 in the second game after S. Louis took the first 10-4 on an eighth-run sixth inning.

Homers by Bernie Banks, Monte Irvin and Solly Drake gave the Chicago Cubs a 5-4 decision over Cincinnati. Their second game was called by darkness, a 1-1 tie after seven innings.

The New York Yankees cooled off the Boston Red Sox, taking three in a row at Yankee Stadium to tighten their grip on the American League lead. Five Red Sox errors and homers by Don Larson, Yogi Berra and Joe Collins added up to a 13-6 Yankee victory.

Billy Pierce of Chicago shut out Kansas City with three hits 3-0 in a quick turnaround by the White Sox, who were slugging 15-1 by the A's Saturday.

Two homers by Detroit's Al Kaline helped account for a first-game victory over Cleveland 6-4, but Bob Lemon went the route for the first time since last May 30 to give the Tribe an even break with a 5-2 verdict in the nightcap.

Rookie Fred Besana topped Washington in Baltimore's 7-3 opening victory, but Camille Rasual earned a split for Washington with a 4-1 four-hitter in the second.

Besana May Be One To Bolster Orioles

By GORDON BEARD

BALTIMORE (AP)—A rookie who saw his first major league game only six days ago may be the pitching Mavener Paul Richards of the Baltimore Orioles is looking for to bolster his thialy managed staff.

Fred Besana, 6-foot-3 left-hander from Roseville, Calif., made his first big league start yesterday. He gained credit for a 7-3 victory over the Washington Senators, although he needed help from veteran relievers Harry Douthett and George Zvernick.

The 25-year-old 200-pounder has had only two years minor league experience. He was purchased last fall from Oakland of the Pacific Coast League, where he had a 6-10 record in 1955. He was in the Air Force the previous four years.

In Boston last Tuesday, Besana watched his first game in the big time as the Orioles opened against the Red Sox. The following day he blanked Boston without a hit in two innings of relief.

With veteran souter Bill Wright getting his lumps in spring training and in two regular season starts, Richards decided to give Besana a starting assignment. He originally intended to use the rookie as a relief pitcher.

The youngster came through handsomely yesterday after a shaky start before 21,707 local fans. He gave up three walks and an infield single in the first inning and the Senators tallied three runs.

After that, he allowed only five hits and three walks until he was yanked in the seventh when the first two batters reached base.

Auto Racers Meet Violent Deaths

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Two well-known auto racers died violent deaths yesterday in separate races in California.

Walt Faulkner of Long Beach, Calif., was crushed to death when his 1956 Ford went out of control in a qualifying trial at the West Coast Speedway at Vallejo and rolled over several times. Promoter Fred Agajanian said Faulkner was thrown partially out of the car because his waist belt held but his shoulder strap snapped.

Ernie McAfee, 37, of Beverly Hills, Calif., died instantly when his powerful Ferrari crashed into a tree at 75 miles per hour on a sharp hairpin turn in the first fatal accident in seven years of road racing in the national sports car races at Pebble Beach. Officials said his brakes locked.

Driver George Amick of Los Angeles was injured and knocked out of the 500 mile Indianapolis classic Memorial Day when his 1956 Ford also sped out of control at Vallejo and rolled over several times. All of his harness straps held. He suffered a broken left wrist and possible concussion.

Richards was so impressed by Besana's performance he said he intended to give him more starting assignments, along with Doug Ferrarese, another young lefty with promise.

Chicks Off To Good Start In Campaign For 2nd Pennant

By MERCER BAILEY
THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Memphis Chicks are off to a terrific start in their campaign for a second straight Southern pennant. They roost atop the standings with an 11-8 record and boast a three-game bulge over challenging Birmingham and Atlanta.

But are the Chicks as good as the won-lost record indicates, or have they merely fattened their average at the expense of a couple of lightweight clubs?

The Chicks' current road trip may shed some light on the subject. Memphis opened a four-game series with suddenly saucy Atlanta tonight, then journey to Birmingham for a three-game set with the Barons.

Jack Cassini's Chicks whipped New Orleans twice yesterday, 7-0 in the 11-inning opener and 6-3 in the nightcap, running their victory string to five straight. Atlanta, which lost five of its first seven games, also extended its winning streak to five with 6-2 and 8-2 triumphs over Nashville Chattanooga edged Birmingham 8-7 and Little Rock, looking like champions instead of cellarites for a change, blasted Mobile 9-2.

Memphis has streaked off to its impressive record at the expense of Little Rock and New Orleans, clubs which were generally rated poor and fair, respectively, in pre-season alreups. The Chicks won five of six from the Travs, six of eight from the Pels.

Pel Manager Andy Cohen, whose club lost four straight to Memphis, sees the Chicks as the team to beat for the pennant, noting:

"The club was almost set by the start of the season and by the time the others get squared away this one will be hard to handle... It has the right combination... enough experience, along with good young players."

Funeral Tomorrow For E. C. Gordon

E. C. Gordon Sr. passed away suddenly at the local hospital Sunday.

Born July 21, 1862, in Walthamville, Ga., Mr. Gordon had lived in Sanford for the past seven years coming from Jacksonville. He was a member of the Grand Park Baptist Church of Jacksonville and a member of the Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way with the A.C.L. Mr. Gordon made his home at 1328 W. Third St. and had been with the A.C.L. for the past 22 years as section foreman. He was a veteran of World War I.

Survivors are his wife, Mrs. Clara Gordon of Sanford; four children, E. C. Gordon Jr., Jacksonville; J. A. Gordon of Sanford; Mrs. F. F. Bentley, Sanford; and Miss James Bosler of Jacksonville; four grandchildren, two brothers, Clarence Gordon, Miami Springs; and George Gordon of Savannah, Ga.; four sisters, Mrs. Flora Thompson, Miss Preston Gordon, Miss Alva Gordon, and Mrs. Ruth Waltham all of Ludewig, Ga.

Funeral services will be at 4:30 p. m. Tuesday at Brison Funeral Home with the Rev. B. G. Brown of Lake Monroe Baptist Church officiating. Burial will be in Oak Lawn Memorial Park.

Mrs. Hawley Has Fatal Heart Attack In De Bary Friday

Mrs. Frederick G. Hawley of DeBary suffered a fatal heart attack Friday, endeavoring to put out a brush fire.

Whisked by a high wind the fire threatened the come of her absent neighbors Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Lucas. Mrs. Hawley phoned the Lucas' lawn hose on the flames.

As nearby residents ran to the scene they saw Mrs. Hawley fall. Mrs. Hawley had lived in De Bary for 3 1/2 years moving there from Norwich, Ontario, Canada. She attended the United Church of DeLand.

Surviving are her son Arthur S. Hawley, Sacramento, Calif., two grandchildren, Karolya and Fred Hawley, Sacramento; four sisters, Miss M. E. Scott, Cookeville, Ont., Mrs. Russell Hurst, Ferry Sound, Ont., Mrs. George Fraser, Elora, Ont., and Miss M. P. Scott, New York City.

The funeral will be Tuesday at 2:30 from the Brison Funeral Home with the Rev. W. P. Brooks Jr., of the First Baptist Church of Sanford officiating.

Burial will be at a later date in Ontario.

Business Is Good At Local Market

"Business continued good at the Sanford State Farmers' Market last week," said Sandy Anderson, Manager of the local market, in his weekly news report.

"There was somewhat of an increasing confidence on the part of most salesmen because of the 51 varieties of produce and fruit sold," he said.

The report said "The market, piecewise, represented a condition of strengthening on the majority of items sold."

Sales over the market platform amounted to $4,451 units at a gross valuation of $120,239.60.

Available for the trade this week, said Sandy Anderson, will be a good volume of cabbage, celery, potatoes, beans, cucumbers, corn, tomatoes, squash, peppers and fruit along with 20 other varieties.

Not counting irrigation, use of water on farms is estimated at 3 1/2 billion gallons daily.

YOU'RE NEVER OLD

You're Young As Long As You Look Ahead
By Spring Byington

Looking ahead is the secret of youth. And if you're a woman past 60, as I am, who's going to stop you from looking ahead to new experiences if that's what you want?

All my life, till about six months ago, I had been looking ahead to taking flying lessons but I had never got around to it. I've always loved to fly, enjoyed the freedom of the infinite skies, but I never flew my own plane. Well, one has to make a start. So I leafed through the telephone directory and decided to go to the Glendale Airport school near my home in Hollywood Hills. I phoned for an appointment, and the next day drove out for my first flying lesson. It was a lovely day.

The instructor introduced himself as Tom Ryan, and I learned later that he was the lumber-in-law of Vice-President Nixon. Whatever he was to Nixon he didn't look very kindly at me. Imagine, a tiny grandmother who should know better, approaching him for flying lessons. When I told him I acted on the "December Bride" television show, it didn't make matters any better.

"No publicity gag?" Mr. Ryan wanted to know. I assured Mr. Ryan that I was never more serious in my life, that I was determined to learn to fly, and that I had always loved flying so much, even as a girl, that I was one of the first females ever to go up in the rickety Flying Jennys of World War I. So he proceeded to give me about eight hours of ground les-

Troopers To Get 'Summertime Look'

Florida Highway Patrol Troopers ought to be able to take things with cooler heads for the next few months.

Trooper T. Mark Mack and Patrolman Carl Williams will be wearing their summer gear now which includes a new-fangled, lightweight fibre woven coat that looks like a real Panama but it isn't. The new John B. Stetson creation is from imported fibres and is extremely dressy and gives the troopers "a real new summertime look."

In addition to the new look hats, which are being used for the first time by the patrol, the men have doffed the wintertime black ties and are wearing Simpson Soulees summer shirts with collars thrown back sports style.

State troopers wear warm weather garb until October 15.

Although half the German libraries were destroyed in World War II there is more reference material in the country than ever before.

Kelsey, Priest Will Meet For 1st Time On Same Rostrum

Two candidates will meet for the first time tomorrow night on the same rostrum to speak on their platforms and candidacies.

The Democratic Rally tomorrow night will be held in Oviedo at the High School Gymnasium where George Kelsey, a candidate in the race for Constable in the Oviedo District, will meet Paul Priest, a candidate for the same position.

The ladies of the Methodist Church at Oviedo will serve supper from 6 to 8 o'clock tomorrow night immediately preceding the Rally. Proceeds from the supper will benefit the building fund of the Methodist Church.

Introducing the candidates will be Jim Lee, of Oviedo, Chairman of the Seminole Democratic Executive Committee which sponsors the series of rallies being held throughout the county.

Crowds are expected to be the largest yet to attend one of the rallies as competition becomes keener between candidates in the various races for local political offices.

REBEL BANDS GUNNED

ALGIERS, Algeria (AP) — More than 30 French planes machine-gunned two big rebel bands for two hours Sunday in the Moroccan frontier, French sources said today.

The bands were described as "completely disorganized." Oran was reported still without a regular water supply as a result of nationalist sabotage at the week end.

MACY CLERKS RETURN

NEW YORK (AP)—Clerks returned to their counters at R. H. Macy & Co. department stores today after a 13-day walkout.

Striking members of the Retail, Wholesale and Department Store Workers Union ratified a new contract last night. The agreement provides for $5-a-week wage increase spread over the next three years.

C. E. Milsted, 40, Dies In Lake Mary

Clarence E. Milsted, 40, died April 20 at 10 a. m. at his home in Lake Mary following a short illness.

Born Dec. 22, 1915 at Pineapple, Ala., he had lived in Lake Mary for 10 years. He attended the Lake Mary Baptist Chapel, and was a veteran of World War II and a member of the American Legion of Sanford. He had been in the insurance business for several years, coming to Lake Mary from Tampa.

Survivors include his widow Mrs. Ruth Milsted of Lake Mary; two daughters, Miss Deloris and Miss Cecilia Milsted, Lake Mary; three sisters, Mrs. J. C. Faircloth, of Oviedo; Mrs. Dewey Tripp, Melbourne; and Mrs. Dora Lindsey of Ocala; two brothers, O. E. Milsted of Pittsburgh, Pa.; and M. C. Milstead, Charlotte, S. C.

Funeral services were held at 4:30 p. m. yesterday at Brison Funeral Home with the Rev. Herbert Frith and the Rev. W. P. Brooks Jr. officiating. Burial was at Oak Lawn Memorial Park.

Aspirants Will Talk At Jaycees

City Commission Approves Utility Easement Vacating

A brief session of the Board of Sanford City Commissioners was held last night at the City Hall.

Adjourning before ten o'clock the commissioners approved the vacating of utility easements east of French Ave. and between Katherine Court and 24th St., relocating the easement on the east boundary of property owned by M. R. Strickland.

Public hearings were set, but dates not announced, to consider recommendations of the Zoning and Planning Commission. According to the action taken at last night's meeting the hearings will include the rezoning from R-1-B to C-1 the east 40 feet of lots four and 10, Block nine, in Highland Park.

Another hearing will be the rezoning of an area from C-2 to R-1-R all land south of the extension of the south right-of-way line of Commercial St. and north of West First St., between Tamarind and Mangoustine Ave., together with lots seven and eight of Block Y.

The third hearing will be held on the recommendation that Lots nine through 14, Block Y, north of West First St. and West of Popular Ave., be rezoned from its present classification of C-2 to an R-1-X district. The controversy over the rezoning was brought about by the purchase of property by Otto McDaniel in the C-2 district for the construction of a garage and body shop. Attorney Edwin Shihuler presented a petition signed by residents of the area requesting the rezoning because of the obnoxious condition to the six houses in the immediate area.

Jaycees Are Ready To 'Paint Town'

Members of the Seminole County Junior Chamber of Commerce will "paint the town" tonight in an effort to get out the vote in the forthcoming Democratic Primary on May 8.

Headed by M. L. Raborn Jr., the Jaycees "Get Out The Vote" Committee will be wielding paint brushes on sidewalk stencils to remind local citizens to "please vote."

The group of young businessmen will meet at 7:30 this evening at the Jaycee Information Booth to begin their sidewalk stencil campaign in an effort to boost the vote and create interest in the coming election.

Tomorrow the Jaycees expect to have every corner reflecting the appeal to vote in every direction that will meet the pedestrian's eye.

Five candidates for the office of Seminole County Sheriff will be heard Thursday at the Seminole County Junior Chamber of Commerce luncheon meeting to be held at the Yacht Club.

Those who will speak before the young businessmen's organization this week are: Cha lie Beck, J. D. Cordell, J. L. Hobby, Porter Lansing, and Ollie G. Owens. Candidates are given an opportunity to speak on their platforms and desires to hold the office for which they are contesting.

The sheriff's race has been one of the "hot spots" in the bitterly contested race for public office in Seminole County. Last week, in Altamonte Springs, Ollie G. Owens stated before a slim crowd, "It has been rumored that Mr. Hobby and myself are tied up in this campaign for the sheriff's office. I would like to state here that I am running on my own merits and record. I think Mr. Hobby is trying to run his campaign on someone else's merits. There is no connection between my campaign and Mr. Hobby's campaign."

However, two nights later, in Fern Park at the Praelis Lake American Legion building, the speaker with the briefest presentation drew the biggest ovation when Charlie Beck told the crowd of about 200 "I believe the people of Seminole County want an honest, hard working sheriff. That's why I am asking for the job."

With two weeks remaining in the campaign before the May 8 Primary, each candidate is making the most of his time seeking votes in every section of the county.

Tonight, the candidates will be in Oviedo at the High School Gymnasium, when each one in every race will be given an opportunity to state his Iowa and platform before the voters of that district. Each speaker is allotted five minutes and is introduced by James Lee, Chairman of the Seminole County Democratic Executive Committee.

A benefit dinner will be served beginning at 5:30 this evening by the ladies of the Oviedo Methodist Church. Proceeds from the dinner will go to the building fund of the new Methodist Church in Oviedo.

It is expected that the largest crowd yet to attend a Democratic rally in Seminole County will be seen in Oviedo this evening when two candidates for Constable, George Kelsey and Paul Priest, next door neighbors will be heard for the first time. Kelsey, yesterday, appeared before Judge Vassar Carlton when charges against him were dropped after two Negroes refused to testify. The case grew out of indictments handed down by the grand jury, one of which was dismissed earlier.

Tennis Clinic Set At Mayfair Courts Friday, Saturday

In an effort to promote interest in tennis among the young people of Sanford and Seminole County a Tennis Clinic is being held in Sanford at the Mayfair Inn Tennis Courts Friday and Saturday of this week and operated by Sidney Summerfield, a member of the National Lawn Tennis Association, and Tennis Pro at Daytona Beach and Nantucket, R. I.

The clinic is being financed jointly by the City of Sanford's Recreation Department headed this year by John Angel, and the Florida State Bank, and sponsored by the Seminole County Junior Chamber of Commerce Tennis Tournament Committee.

Robert Crumley, chairman of the Jaycee Tennis Tournament Committee, revealed today that Summerfield, who will conduct the clinic Friday afternoon beginning at 3:30 and again on Saturday from 9:30 a. m. to 12 noon and from 2 p. m. to 7 p. m., will bring with him an assortment of training aids to be used during the two-day event.

Crumley said that the clinic would be available to young people of Sanford and Seminole County from 10 to 18 years of age.

The clinic, said Crumley, is the forerunner to the following weekend, May 4 and 5 at which time the Jaycees will have their annual Tennis Tournament.

In addition to Summerfield, Crumley said today, Frank Deame, Mayfair Inn Tennis Pro, is contributing his time as a coach and director of the clinic and the tournament.

The winner and runnerup of the tournament to be held May 4 and 5 will be sent to the Florida State Jaycee Tournament in Coral Gables June 1, 2 and 3 for the third annual tournament of the Jaycee organization. The two winners will be sponsored by the Seminole County Jaycees, said Crumley. Winners of the State Tournament will be sent to the national tournament to be held in August in Oak Park, Ill.

CofC Industrial Report Appears In Magazine

A five-point Industrial Committee report of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce appears in this week's edition of the Sem-O-Gram circulated by the Chamber of Commerce to all of its members.

Negotiations are underway, according to the circular, with the Florida Power and Light Company for an industrial survey of Sanford and Seminole County. This survey will bring up-to-date the information that is provided for prospective industrial expansion of the City and county.

A special prospectus and survey is being developed for a proposed dock and terminal project to be located on the St. Johns River and Lake Monroe at Sanford is the second item of the report. Efforts are being made to attract the Howard Hughes' Aircraft plant to this area with the preparation of a special survey for that purpose.

An electronics manufacturing plant prospect is being furnished with a survey of Sanford and Seminole County which has just been completed.

The Industrial Committee of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce is now in contact with local wood fabricating plants looking for Florida locations.

A heading which appeared above the report of the chamber's Industrial Committee shows that bank deposits in Seminole County on March 31, 1956 were $22,191,691.

Boat, Ski Club Asks For Parking, Launching Aids

Due to the large number of boats using the St. Johns River, the Sanford Boat and Ski Club, backed by Seminole Commissioners John Melich and W. Brown Miller, and the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, requested last Friday the State Road Department to provide adequate outdoor launching and trailer parking facilities.

The all day effort to beach the boats participating in the Silver Dollar Cruise, and the continually growing number of outdoor enthusiasts, precipitated the request from neighboring counties and from throughout Central Florida.

Ullie Green, engineer for the State Road Department in the Fifth District, said that "It makes me feel good to see the facilities constructed by the State being so widely used. I feel that the taxpayers money is being spent wisely in providing these facilities."

ACL Safety Meet Slated Tomorrow

The Second Quarterly Meeting of the Jacksonville District Safety Committee will be held in assembly room of the new station beginning at 7 o'clock tomorrow evening.

Judge Ernest Housholder will be guest speaker. ACL personnel, their families and friends are cordially invited to attend, it was told.

Weather

Fair with little temperature change through Wednesday; low tonight 56-58.

Segregation Issue Entails Verbal Blows In Governor's Race

Careless, Negligent Driving Is Charged Against 2 Drivers

Charges of careless and negligent driving were placed against the drivers of both cars which collided at the intersection of Palmetto Ave. and Fourth St. yesterday afternoon shortly after 6 o'clock, according to the Sanford Police Department.

Edgar M. Swalm, 69, a teller at the Sanford Atlantic National Bank, and his wife, Mrs. Kate Swalm, 50, were injured in the two car collision which damaged the front ends of both cars.

Swalm was traveling north on Palmetto Ave., driving a 1950 Chrysler when it collided with a 1954 Ford Sedan traveling east on Fourth St.

Investigating officers of the Sanford Police Department included Captain Arnold Williams and Patrolman Carl Dodson and Joe Hickson.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Swalm were taken to the Seminole Memorial Hospital where it was reported that Mr. Swalm has a fractured neck and other injuries while Mrs. Swalm is suffering from multiple cuts and bruises.

Mrs. Mary F. Smith, 40, of 112 South French Ave. was driving the Ford and was uninjured.

Mr. and Mrs. Swalm were on their way home, 1518 Sanford Ave. when the accident occurred.

15 More Groups Plan Sanlando Springs Outings

Fifteen groups, in addition to 10 previously announced, have made arrangements for special outings at Sanlando Springs during the remainder of this month and in May and June and bringing the total to 3,000 persons in special parties, it was announced today.

Some 50 persons visited the recreational park yesterday under the supervision of the Sanford United Service Organization.

Other groups not previously announced include, Clermont public schools, Thursday; Cocoa High School, Saturday; Brevard Jewish Brotherhood, Melbourne, and Philanthropic Society, Montverde School, both Sunday; and the Lake Wales School Garden Club, April 30.

Oviedo Junior High School, May 2; Mount Dora High School, May 9; Pleron and Oviedo High Schools, May 15; Contemporary Club of Winter Park, May 16; Girl Scouts, May 18; and Clermont High School, May 22.

Candidates Give Views

Governor Lelloy Collins continues his lead in straw polls being conducted in various sections of the State.

The Fort Lauderdale Daily News concluded its straw poll yesterday and announced the results.

Final results of the poll which began April 15 show Governor Collins in a smashing majority over all other candidates in the gubernatorial contest.

The tally revealed Governor Collins 83.8 per cent; Fuller Warren 7.0 per cent; Sumter Lowry 3.3 per cent; Farris Bryant 3.3 per cent; Peaslee Streets 0.3 per cent; Park 0.3 per cent; and Price 0.0 per cent.

In other political activities around the State:

The segregation issue boiled up anew in Florida's governorship race yesterday coincident with new U. S. Supreme Court decisions dealing with the subject.

The court outlawed segregation of passengers on all public buses and turned down a request by the state of Florida for a rehearing of an earlier ruling directing that a Negro be admitted without delay to the University of Florida Law School.

Gov. Collins said the court's refusal to reconsider the Virgil Hawkins case "does not mean that segregation has been broken in our state universities" and declared every legal means would be taken to preserve segregation.

Sumter L. Lowry, in a televised speech at Miami, said "We are not going to have this thing rammed down our throat" and repeated that if he is elected governor there would be no mixing of the races in his choice.

Both Lowry and Fuller Warren, in Dade County speeches, made reference to a convention of Negro preachers and their families opening in Miami Beach May 2.

Warren called the convention an "impending peril."

"They will occupy a number of hotels here and so integration will move upon us at Miami Beach," the former governor said in a talk to a pep rally of campaign chairman.

While Collins, Lowry and Warren traded verbal blows over the segregation issue, another gubernatorial candidate, Farris Bryant, hit at Collins for campaign spending.

Bryant said Collins had proposed to the 1955 Legislature a plan to limit campaign spending and now was leading the field in the amount of money spent during the current campaign.

Ground Is Broken For Winter Park Telephone Building

To meet the demands of its subscribers and the rapidly growing area which includes Altamonte Springs, Longwood, and Carberry the Winter Park Telephone Company broke ground today for a new telephone equipment building, to be located at the corner of Welbourne and New York Aves.

This building, the first section of a long-range building program, is designed to house equipment of the latest type, known as Crossbar equipment.

C. H. Galloway, president of the company, explained, "This Crossbar equipment will enable the company to connect into the nationwide intercity dialing network designed by the Bell System. This will eventually allow our subscribers to dial their own long distance numbers as they now dial their local numbers. From a service standpoint, the new equipment will also provide many advantages, one of which is the so-called 2-5 numbering plan. Each central office will have an exchange prefix, such as Midway followed by five numbers. This will reduce the confusion that now exists between Winter Park and Orlando telephone numbers. The new equipment will also provide additional facilities which we hope will enable us to continue on a ready-to-serve basis."

"The new building," Galloway continued, "will house the new equipment, along with the test-board and operators' switchboards. New sections as they are added will expand to the north and west, along with additional floors as they are needed. It is planned to move our Commercial and Engineering Offices to an additional building in 1959, which will be constructed at the corner of West Morse Boulevard."

"Our schedule," Galloway stated, "is to put this new building and equipment into service in September of 1957, at which time we will provide Metropolitan telephone service, that is, Winter Park-Orlando two-way toll free service."

The telephone company has also purchased land near the south city limits of Altamonte Springs where a central office building will be constructed at a later date to house new equipment to serve the northern section of the area.

Galloway pointed out that with the completion of the building and the installation of the Crossbar type equipment, Winter Park will enjoy telephone service provided by equipment of the most modern design now available to the telephone industry.

Galloway also announced that B. A. Galloway, vice president, has been appointed company representative in charge of construction of the new building and installation of the new equipment when the building has been completed.

In this regard, B. A. Galloway estimated that the building would be completed in November of this year and that the first of the new equipment would arrive in December.

The new Winter Park Telephone Company building which cost approximately $240,000 is designed by James Gamble Rogers II, well-known local architect. Rogers also designed the Company's present building at 132 E. New England Ave. which currently houses the Commercial Office, Executive Offices, and Central Office Equipment.

B. A. Galloway further announced that the construction contract for the new building had been awarded to the Richards Construction Company. The Richards Construction Company is a well-known company that gained recent distinction in constructing the Winter Park Hospital, and the Commercial Bank at Winter Park.

Collins Leads In Straw Poll Vote
