Mrs. J. U. Fields, president of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, blames the federal government for many of the country's crimes of violence. The government advertises the sale of old army and navy revolvers, she says, and thus makes it possible for criminals to arm themselves.

CHAPLINS SETTLE DOWN FOR COURT BATTLE TO FINISH

Exchange Of Statements By Principals In Filmom's Latest Scandal Brings Out Few Of Family Skeletons

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 4.—(AP)—Overtures for a truce between Charlie Chaplin and his estranged wife having failed, they settled down today for a finish fight in court after an exchange of statements which brought some of the family skeletons out of the luxurious closets of the film comedian's Beverly Hills mansion.

Chaplin late last night issued a statement to the Associated Press in which he denied Mrs. Chaplin's charges. He said he had never intended to make her happy but that she preferred acquaintances of her own and entertainments staged without the presence of Mr. Chaplin. He also charged she had abused the privilege of unlimited credit he had granted her in the shops and cafes of Los Angeles.

Shortly after this statement was issued Mrs. Chaplin countered with one in which she accused the film comedian of avoiding her because she was "not intellectual" and of calling her family "yellow." She also maintained she had made many of her own clothes after marriage.

The latest break followed a conference between attorneys for both Mr. and Mrs. Chaplin at which an effort was made to learn what kind of a property settlement would be necessary to keep the case out of court. No agreement was reached. George Beebe, representing Mrs. Chaplin, has been talking about sums in excess of $1,000,000.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 4.—(AP)—The offer of Robert E. McMurray of Wichita, Kan., father of Mrs. Chaplin, to hold her in her marital troubles, was refused by the daughter last night. McMurray had accused his divorced wife, Mrs. Chaplin's mother, of extravagance.

Mrs. Chaplin said: "Due to the fact that my father hasn't contributed five cents to my support since I was two and a half years old and now, through the newspapers, insults me with his reports offered to help me and my mother, who has always advised me against extravagance, I will not accept his help nor do I need his sympathy."

"As far as my mother is concerned I can prove that she is not in any way to blame for my troubles with Mr. Chaplin, and when the times arrives, the world will know why my mother lived with me at different times during my married life."

LAST RITES FOR RINGLING WILL BE ON MONDAY

Circus Owner And Financier Passes Away Friday Night At Sarasota After Illness Started By A Slight Cold

Brain Hemorrhage Leads To His Death

Last Resting Place Of Body Has Not Been Determined As Yet By His Relatives

SARASOTA, Fla., Dec. 4.—(AP)—Funeral services for Charles Ringling, nationally known circus owner and financier, who died at his home here Friday night following a cerebral hemorrhage, will be held here Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Whether burial will be here had not been definitely determined this morning.

Four weeks ago Mr. Ringling developed pneumonia and the general weak condition which resulted handicapped him in his fight for life when he was stricken by the hemorrhage.

Members of the immediate family were at the bedside when Mr. Ringling died. John Ringling, brother and closest living relative, arrived at the bedside shortly after the onslaught of the last development of his brother's illness, and remained there until the end came.

Several days ago when Mr. Ringling rallied from the pneumonia attack, only to suffer a relapse, Dr. Willbur Post of Chicago, a personal friend and former family physician of the Ringlings, was called here for a conference, but returned home after remaining here several days, following the reappearance of signs of recovery.

Charles Ringling was born in McGregor, Iowa, Jan. 19, 1864 and was one of a family of seven brothers, only one of whom now survives. The surviving brother is John Ringling, who also lives here and is part owner of the circus.

In addition to his brother, Mr. Ringling is also survived by his widow, Mrs. Ringling, his son, Robert Ringling, his daughter, Mrs. Hooper Lancaster, and several grandchildren. He has been a resident of Sarasota for the past 16 years. His palatial home here, recently completed, is considered one of the finest in the state.

On of the close personal friends of Mr. Ringling is Vice President Dawes.

Recalls Rise Of Ringlings
BARABOO, Wis., Dec. 4.—(AP)—The death of Charles Ringling at Sarasota, Fla., recalls to Baraboo the early struggles of the seven Ringling brothers in the circus business and their subsequent rise to wealth and fame.

The Ringlings up to a few years ago were an integral part of Baraboo's business and social life. An impressive theater, a hospital, and other civic gifts, however, are now the only reminders to Baraboo of the huge circus that used to winter in the hills around Baraboo. The circus moved several years ago to Bridgeport, Conn.

ATLANTA, Dec. 4.—(AP)—Students of Agnes Scott College for Women, a suburb near here, heard an address on war prevention by Mrs. Luda Aimes Meade today because city fathers, including the mayor and members of the American Legion are "opposed to the people she runs with."

Mrs. Meade, vice president of the National Council for Prevention of War, with headquarters at Washington, was to have been the guest of the students at their chapel exercises. Dr. J. R. McCain, president of the college, cancelled the invitation yesterday in a telegram from Jackson, Miss., where he is visiting.

CONNELLY NAMED POSTAL GAIN IN ON CANAL BOARD NOVEMBER MADE BY GOV. MARTIN PUBLIC BY HALL

Active Worker For Deeper Waterways And Canal Is Occupy Seat On Important Navigation Committee

A. P. Connelly, head of the real estate firm of Connelly and Sons, appointed a member of the Upper St. Johns river navigation board this morning by Governor John W. Martin, according to a report received by The Herald from Tallahassee. The appointment fills the vacancy on the board caused by the death of Col. George W. Knight.

Mr. Connelly has been one of the pioneers in the fight for the canal between the St. Johns river and the Indian river and has also been active in the work to have the channel of the St. Johns between this city and Palatka deepened. His appointment did not come as a surprise, according to those closely associated with him.

At the present time he is chairman of a committee of the Sanford Chamber of Commerce which has taken up the matter of the deeper channel with the United States Board of Engineers. The committee last week filed with the board a report showing the increase in tonnage on the river, and the adverse report turned in by the district engineer, Col. Mark Brook.

In a statement issued this afternoon Mr. Connelly said: "I hope to see the canal a reality and I believe that progress toward its completion will soon be noticed. I will now, as heretofore, give all the time possible to the furtherance of this work."

"The fight for the deep channel between this city and Palatka has only begun and we are going to do our utmost to gain that improvement," he added.

Mr. Connelly has been one of the most active members of the Sanford Chamber of Commerce since its organization and he has headed a large number of important committees in the past few years.

Boy Suspect Sought All Over The Nation

CHICAGO, Dec. 4.—(AP)—The unclaimed body of a youth who killed himself at a hotel here four weeks ago was believed early today possibly to be that of Erdman Olson, sought as the murderer of Clara Olson at Prairie Du Chien, Wisconsin.

Sheriff Harry Sherwood of Prairie Du Chien, viewed the body at the morgue and found it resembled that of the boy charged with slaying the 22-year-old girl whose body was unclaimed Thursday along a logging trail in the Kickapoo valley.

The dead youth was registered at the hotel where he took his life as "John Carr."

Approaching Date For City Election Creating Interest

The race for the office of City Commissioner, which is to be decided next Tuesday, is said to be on in full swing with both candidates, S. O. Chase and Volle Williams, working among the voters of the city in an effort to win favor at the polls.

Mr. Chase now holds the office and is running for re-election. Mr. Williams announced his candidacy one month ago.

The voting place is to be at the City Hall, the booths to be set up in the assembly room of the City Commission. The polls are to open at 7:30 o'clock a. m. and are to close at sundown.

One hundred and eighty new voters have registered at the office of City Clerk L. E. Phillips since the last election held in the city. The registration books closed last Saturday. While no accurate count has been made of the number of people in Sanford qualified to vote, it is said that with the heavy registration at the last election and the present, which has just closed, there is the largest number of voters ever registered in the city.

Indictments Against Mrs. Hall And The Others Are Quashed

Defendants In Slaying Case Upon Motion By State's Attorney

Trio Acquitted Slaying Case

SOMERVILLE, N. J., Dec. 4.—(AP)—All defendants in the Hall-Mills murder case were released from custody today, when Superior Justice Charles W. on motion of Attorney General Katzenbach, quashed indictment which was against them after day's acquittal of Mrs. Mills, Mrs. Stevens Hall and her husband, Willie and Henry, for the murder of Eleanor R. Mills.

The indictments quashed were: Mrs. Hall and her husband and their cousin Henry, charged with the murder of Rev. Edward Henry Carpenter, charged with the murder of Mrs. Mills. Attorney General Katzenbach took charge of the prosecution. Special Prosecutor John Simpson telephoned that he would not come to Somerville to prosecute the case.

"My brothers and I are glad to have had an opportunity to face the situation in court. We are glad to have gone on the witness stand and have obtained complete vindication. We shall not be able to acknowledge the money which we have received. I shall appreciate it if the state will give the word of the witness."

Mrs. Hall went to her home in New Brunswick and her friends and neighbors congratulated her. The verdict leaves the case of Rev. Mr. Hall and Mrs. Hall a deserted farm outside Brunswick on the night of 1922, as great a mystery. The state's case was built on circumstantial evidence, the exception of the testimony of Mrs. Gibson. Her money was bitterly attacked the defense.

Some 11,000,000 words were typed to newspapers during the trial. The official records, 1,110,000 words, a total of 1,110,000 words, 100 states and 76 for the total cost of the trial in the amount of $1,000,000.

When the jurors were discharged and returned to their homes, W. Young, a juror who was attacked by Senator Blaine, his summation, accompanied by Attorney General Katzenbach, proprietor of the hotel, an affidavit for the arrest of the juror, by the state, was issued.

Mr. Wagner paid a compliment to the management of the Hotel Forrest Lake, saying that the service and accommodations there had proven to be a credit to the city and that he expected a great amount of good would be derived from having such a magnificent hotel in the city.

Manning's Attack Annulment Proceeding

ROME, Dec. 4.—While heads of Protestant churches in New York declined last part yesterday to be in the controversy between Bishop William T. Manning and Bishop John J. Connelley, over the annulment proceeding, evidence indicates that the Vatican will reply to Dr. Manning's attack in his Thanksgiving message from Rome, received during the week-end. The pope believes whatever decision required for the annulment will be made by American bishops. Cardinal Hayes has preserved silence, holding that the annulment is a matter for the American hierarchy. Leaders Amused

Official utterances of Protestant leaders there was evident of amusement at the ecclesiastical feud provoked by the incident. It was asserted that Bishop Manning leans toward the Catholic party in his own church, but that his indignation at the Roman Church's action presents him a nice predicament.

"I observed one eminent man who withheld his name from what of a tempest in a teacup is this country; it confirms the divorce granted the Duke and Duchess of Borghese and if it brings out to them what are the odds?"

clergymen, however, in Bishop Manning's characterization of the Vatican's intervention as "impertinent." Among them were the Rev. Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick, regarded as the Baptist Modernist, and the John Roach Straton, of the Baptist Church, Pundit and spokesman.

Fosdick backs Manning's position, on the other hand, which concurred in the Bishop's statement.

"regard," said Dr. Fosdick, "of the Park Avenue Baptist church and professor at Union Theological Seminary, 'the action of the Vatican as grossly impertinent. All Americans ought to react deeply. Bishop Manning is entirely right in what he says.'"

Straton charges both the Catholic and Episcopal Churches with promoting marital discord by "worldliness" they tolerate, "in the annulment an evil that the two communions ought to great wealth."

"think," said Dr. Straton, "that Bishop Manning's contention that the action of the Roman Catholic church in invading the precincts of another sect is an impertinence based on an assumption of superiority as to historical and spiritual authority that does not in any way exist, is well taken."

Straton accuses Episcopalians of "will any further, however, that Episcopal Church, in its relations to other denominations, has assumed very much the same attitude of self-appointed superiority, evidenced by the exclusion of other Protestant ministers from pulpits, its claim to an exclusive apostolic succession, etc."

"If all the parties in the Manning case had not been people of vast wealth would we ever have had such a case? Is any one so simple as to believe they would have given any annulment proceedings after long years of living together and after a family of children had been born?"

The very thought is really laughable. So far, therefore, as I am concerned—since I have been asked for my opinion—I will say it is a case of the pot calling the kettle black, and I think that the whole world will have a subdued but deep-seated laugh at the expense of both these communions."

Dr. Straton ended a lengthy statement by appealing for a return to the "simplicity, holiness, soul-winning power and plain brotherhood founded by the Carpenter of Nazareth, who was the Saviour of the world and who alone has told the whole truth about the proper union of man and woman in marriage."

NEARLY HALF OF BUYERS OF DODGE AUTOS PAY CASH

Figures Supplied By Official Of Detroit Manufacturer Indicate Trend Toward The Outright Purchase Of Cars

New York, Dec. 3. Nearly 400 artists from the Pacific Coast to New York, are represented in the winter exhibition of the National Academy of Design, which opened yesterday in the Fine Arts Building, 215 West Fifty-seventh Street. The usual reception brought out throngs of art enthusiasts from all ranks of society, although a formal tone pervaded. Dignity and formality also characterize the exhibition. It is comprised of no fewer than 321 paintings and 75 works in marble and bronze. By far the majority are the products of the non-affiliated, while sixty-three Academicians and seventy-six associates are represented. The exhibition is the first under the presidency of Cass Gilbert, the architect. He with the various members of the Academy council, received the guests throughout the afternoon.

Many Western Pictures Shown

The showing is notable for its number of Western pictures, two of which are listed among the prize winners and hang prominently on the north wall of the Vanderbilt gallery.

One is a striking conception of an Indian native of the Western plains, "A Hunter of Taos," by Oscar E. Birmingham, who received the Altman second prize. The other is Walter Ufer's landscape picture, "A Discussion" in which he presents a wayside conversation between desert horsemen. The splendor of the remote Zion Canyon, in Southern Utah, is revealed in a large landscape by Howard Russell Butler, and William Ritcheil brings to Eastern eyes a bold impression of Pacific Coastal waters.

There are many prominent portraits and figure pictures in the show. The secret of the picture, "108 West Fifty-seventh Street," with which Wayman Adams won the Altman first prize of $1,000 is revealed as a portrait of the brothers Melch art dealers of the even address. A spirited marble head of an effeminate appearing individual is catalogued as a portrait of Keats, by Malvina Hoffmann. Arthur Bodanzky, of the Metropolitan, also is characterized in a bronze head by Brenda Putnam.

More Work a Sensation

A bid for the sensational is made by five foot picture of a summer picnic, which he entitles "Cars, Lunch Boxes, Paper Napkins and People." The seventy-seven figures may be counted about the landscape if one so desires.

Records and regulations of the American Automobile Association are now officially recognized by the International Automobile authorities.

calling the kettle black, and I think that the whole world will have a subdued but deep-seated laugh at the expense of both these communions."

Their uniforms may not be as brilliant, but their work is just as colorful as that of the Canadian Mounted Police. Their organization is too young to have the traditions of the Texas Ranger behind it, but they are making interesting history every day. They ride a "bee" that stretches from the pleasant coasts and cliffs below San Diego to the blazing heat of Sonora desert east of Yuma over trails that even those hard bit Spanish pioneers of long ago christened the "Jornal del Muerto." Journey of death.

They are the boys of the Border Patrol of the United States Immigration Service, who, 24 hours out of the 24, and 365 days of the year, watch the Mexican border for Uncle Sam to see that no unwanted aliens "crack the gate," and make their way illegally into his country.

Four or five years ago there were only sixteen men employed on the Border Patrol between Tijuana and the sixty miles east of Yuma where the Southern California district ends. Then came the passage of the Johnson bill restricting immigration from the European nations, and where the patrol before had the single task of keeping out mongrel Chinese, there was added the much more difficult job of barring the way against natives of a dozen European nations. Entrance to Mexico is open to any alien and from Mexico thousands of Europeans who have been unable to obtain legal entry to the United States yearly attempt to cross the line.

Today there are 71 men in the Border Patrol in this district. They are mounted, not on horses, but with a fleet of Chevrolet cars, recently purchased for their use by the government. Hitherto the men have owned their own cars but a late change in policy led to the purchase of the Chevrolet fleet for their use.

They persons are aware of the tight watch maintained on lonely mountain roads, on slim tracks through the desert on the huge meadow land of San Diego's back country. You never know where you will find the Border Patrol at work, which, of course, is decidedly inconvenient for the men who make a business of smuggling aliens.

The very first trip of one of the Chevrolet fleet, for example, resulted in the arrest of three smugglers and two Chinese. Patrol inspectors E. Spies and R. V. Armstrong were camped in the Warner ranch meadows, where old Butterfield trail forks from the San Diego road and goes east over the pass down the valley of San Felipe.

In the chilly November dawn they halted a car with a single passenger. A search showed nothing suspicious in the car, and the driver, obviously nervous, was told to proceed. A few moments later came a second car, but it Chinese and two alleged smugglers. Realizing that the first car was a scout car, Spies held the prisoners while Armstrong leaped into the Chevrolet and set out after the scout car. In spite of the fact that his car was stiff and new and that the fleeing car had a long head start, Armstrong caught his man at Oak Grove. The three alleged smugglers face the prospect of a two year, jail sentence and the Chinese will be deported.

From 90 to 150 arrests per month are made by the men in the Border Patrol service working along the Mexican line. Perhaps half of these are Chinese and the remainder are chiefly aliens from the south of Europe. While the smuggling of aliens has scarcely reached the excellent degree of organization that the bootlegging industry has attained, it is practiced by an even more ruthless class of citizen.

Their price scale runs from $100 to $1,000, depending upon where the smuggled individual is landed, and the difficulties attending it. Border reports have it that smugglers are quite as apt to murder their customers as to make an attempt to deliver them across the line, and that many an alien is summarily ushered into quite another country than that to which it is no easy job, this Border Patrol service, and has more than its share of long hours, danger and discomfort. It requires a degree of initiative, of fact, of quick observation and resolute courage that not every applicant for the work possesses. The men long in the service develop an uncanny skill in picking out aliens.

Their initiative is proven by an act of the Imperial Valley Inspector, who through an emergency faced the task of guarding

SAFE DRIVING IS DEPENDENT ON TIRES, SAYS RAY

Tires Must Be Constructed So That Action Of Brakes Is Changed To Road Level

"Upon the tires of an automobile rest a large share of the responsibility for motoring safely." This statement was made by J. B. Ray, Sanford Firestone dealer who gave a brief explanation of the part played by tires in braking an automobile. "Unless the tires are so constructed as to transfer the action of the brakes to the road surface, the braking will be largely nullified and the car will slide, slip and skid." "Both tire and automotive engineers have recognized for years that the trend of the tire must be designed not only to give traction for the car to go ahead but to stop as well. "In developing the Full-Size Balloon, the Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. also produced the greatest and most efficient equipment from a safety standpoint. "The wider tread of the Full-Size Balloon gives double the usual road grip and greater braking surface. There is firm attraction under any footing and the car promptly responds to the application of the brake pedal. "The more numerous tread buttons, with their multiplied non-skid edges, convey a stronger, more positive action to the road—skidding and sliding are practically eliminated. Balloons also add to the safety of the car by providing easy steering control at all times.

Attractive Window Featured in Store Of Local Jeweler

The window of H. C. Vielle, Sanford jeweler, is attracting great amount of attention through its fashionable manner of dress and is said to be one of the most attractive in the city at the present time. Christmas goods are displayed in the window amid decorations jewelry, suitable for gifts. Fringing the top edges are wreaths of holly and green ribbons, harmonizing with the store. The lights throw a soft glow over the display that lends to the attractiveness. On each side of the window are new traveling cases, opened to show all the accessories and in the velvet cases. The floor of the window is in velvet, and the background carries the same material. Several other merchants are preparing their Christmas windows.

N. C. GETS NET MEET JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Dec. 4.—The 1927 Southern conference tennis tournament will be held at the University of North Carolina. The tournament is scheduled the second Friday and Saturday in May. "A little Christmas jewel car" containing two keys to the Studebaker automobile purchased are given to the buyer, who hangs the box on the family Christmas tree. The car is delivered Christmas morning or Christmas eve. "We are now working on our 1928 'Keys to Happiness' campaign and we know we will make many new friends by it."

"In these days of traffic congestion and narrow thoroughfares the question of braking and car control looms large in the mind of every motorist and is one of the reasons for the widespread popularity of Firestone Balloons.

'Keys to Happiness' Plan Offered by Studebaker Is Fast Growing In Popularity

Probably no other instrument of achieved the fame and symbolic practical and general use has glory that is claimed by the little piece of hardware called a key, said Mr. Mr. Fort, local Studebaker dealer, yesterday. "The key has been made immortal in history, fiction, song, drama, and art," said Mr. Fort. "The 'keys to the city' have been famous for centuries. No celebrated guest ever visits an American city, town, or village, without being presented with the 'keys' to that community. The Prince of Wales has thousands of them. Queen Marie was given scores of these symbols of American hospitality. In fact, I believe that famous European guests would reach many times around the earth if placed end to end. "But there is yet another 'key' story that is rapidly growing famous in America and that is the 'Keys to Happiness' plan of the Studebaker Corporation. "A little Christmas jewel car" containing two keys to the Studebaker automobile purchased are given to the buyer, who hangs the box on the family Christmas tree. The car is delivered Christmas morning or Christmas eve. "We are now working on our 1928 'Keys to Happiness' campaign and we know we will make many new friends by it."

Heavier Shipments Of Lettuce Go Out During Past Week

Including shipments of Thursday, a total of 212 cars of truck were shipped from the Sanford district during a period of one week. The previous week showed a total of only 50 cars, 32 of which were lettuce, 10 romaine and 8 escarole. The closing price, f.o.b. on lettuce late Friday was $1.25; being considerably lower than during the early part of the week. Last Saturday there was an upward tendency on the market, which had then reached $2 for some grades. This price was considered an excellent one. Truck shipments from the lower counties of the state have been reaching the market in an ever increasing quantity, hence the drop in price the past few days. A continuation of a $1.25 market will be satisfactory to most growers, however. Practically all of the local output of lettuce will be rolling by the end of next week, many farmers having already cut or preparing to cut today and Monday. Loading operations have been under way at practically every siding in the county. Due to the small shipments of eggplant, peppers and beans during the week there have been no accurate reports. A few farmers carbed in on a high market for

No Engine Fumes in Buick closed cars
In the 1927 Buick, the new Vacuum Ventilator pulls engine fumes and gases from the crankcase and ejects them outside the car. This vital new Buick improvement does away with noxious odors. It adds greater luxury and pleasure to enclosed car operation. The Vacuum Ventilator serves another very important purpose. It prevents crankcase vapors from condensing and diluting the oil. Owners of 1927 Buicks are advised to drain their crankcase oil only 4 times during the year. For luxury, and for economy, own a Buick. BUICK MOTOR COMPANY, FLINT, MICH. THE GREATEST BUICK EVER BUILT. Will Get Through, If—

"All I can do is ask my girl not to drink liquor at the parties, or when she goes for automobile rides with the young folks. If I can just be sure she will not drink liquor, I believe she will get through all right."

THE PROVINCE of Ontario, dry for 10 years, has gone wet. At that new American "wet" cheer me, but without reason.

JILLY SUNDAY SAYS he will run for President as a dry if Governor Smith, a wet, is nominated by the Democrats, and the Republicans nominate anybody but an out-and-out prohibitionist.

Boys with their hip-flasks, girls with their bottles for the gin-party, vile little creatures who think they are creditable members of society—and here and there among them an eager, innocent, impressionable little girl or boy who can "get through" only if they are strong enough to leave the drinks untouched!

Only In Spots Is It Anything

If every man and woman in Sanford were required to make truthful answer to the question, "To what political party do you belong, and why?" what would the answers be? Why, for instance, are you a Democrat?

THE SANFORD FORUM

Editor The Herald:
Returning to the controversy over the Marlborough Vanderbilt marriage thirty years ago, the legitimacy of their offspring, and the present status of the concerned parties, and to forever settle the entire affair, the attention of the warring ministers of the gospel and followers of and believers in Jesus Christ as the Son of God and the Lawgiver Supreme, is called to His words as follows:

THE LEYLAND LINE and the Atlantic Transport Line of our general steamships, now owned by Americans, will soon, it is said, follow the White Star Line into British ownership.

WEAL, TH, "EASY" money, makes this country, it is able men and its government give up two cents.

THE UNITED STATES government recently exhibited in New York City the most powerful searchlight ever made. Its power equals that of 2,000,000,000 candles, eight times as much light as all the lights on New York's Broadway.

The light is so powerful that a man 40 miles away could read his newspaper by it. A fine light, but it does not compare with the sun, which is ninety-three million miles away, and so powerful we cannot look at it.

The two billion candle searchlight is supposed to help us find enemy aircraft flying over our cities. What good would it do us to find them?

The government also employs "searchlight" to show how high up the enemy aircraft are flying, and "listening machines" that make it possible to hear approaching airplanes more than 10 miles away.

All interesting, but not very useful if airplanes attack our cities. What is needed is airplanes, and that unfortunately is what the country has not got.

It is reported that Kordal Amundsen had no part in the plans for the flight. And he did nothing on the flight itself. After he and I signed our contract he came over to America and delivered lectures. He was gone for six months, during which time I was in Rome, getting ready for the flight.

As to his lecture, Nobile says the only change he will make in it is to cease being silent as to Amundsen's part in the flight.

He has an English translation of a letter of thanks he says Dr. Ralph Thomassen, president of the Aero Club, sent to the Italian government in which Gen. Nobile is credited with having made the flight possible.

The quarrel of the explorers broke out shortly after the Norge landed in Alaska after Nobile made a statement which Amundsen claimed took the credit of leadership from the real commanders.

Literature Department
 Especial attention is called to the fact that the play reading planned for the evening of Dec. 7 by the Literature Department has been postponed until Dec. 14. This play, "His Japanese Wife," is being given under the direction of Mrs. J. B. Cogburn, and promises to be delightful. Further announcements will be made later.

There is so much accumulated business to be considered that Mrs. Brown asks for a meeting of the Literature Department for this purpose on Wednesday afternoon. There will be no program, except the reading of a short Japanese farce by Mrs. R. G. Davey. The department will give its second Christmas party to the children of all club members on the afternoon of Dec. 22, with Mrs. W. M. M. Kinmon as hostess.

Plans are already made and rehearsals begun for the presentation on Feb. 3 of the fine modern play by Augustus Thomas, "Her Husband's Wife." Under the direction of Bart Nason, and with the Milne for its showing, this play will be presented in truly a professional manner.

Music Department
 The committees are busy with plans for the Cecil Arden concert to be given on Jan. 10. Mrs. R. E. Tolur, who has charge of tickets, announces that they are being printed and may be obtained from her next week. She suggests their use as Christmas presents, and the prices are extremely moderate. The regular ticket sale will open on Tuesday after Christmas.
 An interesting item is the fact that in crossing on the S. S. George Washington this summer, Mrs. D. P. Drummond, last year's chairman of the Music Department, had the pleasure of meeting Miss Arden, and of hearing her in a steamer concert. Mrs. Drummond is enthusiastic over the beauty of the singer, and was enraptured with her exquisite voice.
 The Music Department is planning for this month's meeting a program of Christmas Carols.

Welfare Department
 At the business meeting last Wednesday the new chairman, Mrs. L. P. Hagun, was confirmed by vote of the general club, and she accepted her important office in a few earnest words. The work for December will consist in assisting the Seminole County Welfare Board in the assembling, packing and delivering of Christmas baskets for the beneficiaries of the fine organization. The date for this will be announced later, also the plans for systematic work.
 On Friday morning of this week, the Garden Circle will meet promptly at 10 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Sam Dighton on Hughey street for the discussion of plans and appointing of committees for the Annual Flower Show. At the conclusion of this business, there will be a garden run to the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Simes in Loch Aroor. The garden of this place is scarcely a year old, and yet is so beautiful, and so cleverly planned to utilize every natural advantage that it will prove a profitable study for those planning changes in their own grounds. There will be no individual notices sent out for this meeting, and circle numbers are requested to be promptly at Mrs. Dighton's at the time mentioned.
 Very general satisfaction is in evidence over the election of Mrs. J. C. Gibbs as recording secretary to fill the place recently left vacant through a resignation. Mrs. Gibbs served the past administration as parliamentarian, and is a valuable addition to any board of managers, as she is an experienced club woman, wise in counsel.

There will be no meeting until Dec. 16, on which date the annual offering for the Children's Home Society will be taken along with the bridge party. Mrs. Raymond Key and Mrs. L. P. McCuller will be hostesses. Visitors and members will welcome this opportunity to bring gifts of toys, new clothing or money for these little ones. The boxes will be packed immediately and forwarded to Mr. Fagg to make a part of a lovely Christmas for the children in the receiving home.

The dancing classes will have to be discontinued unless more interest is taken. A ballroom will be formed at once, if application is made.

Parliamentary Law
 The club parliamentarian, E. M. Galloway, announced a business meeting Wednesday classes in Parliamentary Law will be arranged early in the new year. The press chairman at this meeting took pleasure in acknowledging the magnificent cooperation of the two Sanford newspapers. They are most generous in space for advance stories, placing them up prominently, and the Woman's Club business meetings will take first page place along with those of other civic clubs. At this time, the departments will make their own reports of their meetings, and their big public functions. The society reports of both newspapers will gladly take notes over the telephone, but they insist upon having them the very day of the event if possible.

The two visitors of this week brought messages which every club woman should take to heart. Messages of individual responsibility, and of the many grand opportunities for service. Our own president brings out the pungent truth that if every one would do her own small bit, good work would go strongly forward without an undue burden upon any one woman.

There will be no meeting until Dec. 16, on which date the annual offering for the Children's Home Society will be taken along with the bridge party. Mrs. Raymond Key and Mrs. L. P. McCuller will be hostesses. Visitors and members will welcome this opportunity to bring gifts of toys, new clothing or money for these little ones. Vote for Volie A. Williams For City Commissioner!

Economy Is His Platform Economy Is What Sanford Needs Today Economy Is His Promise if Elected Tuesday

Sanford faces many vital problems that must be solved in the coming few months. A man is needed on the City Commission who has a mind of his own, who does his own thinking. Volie A. Williams is in a position to devote the necessary time to the office of Commissioner and is the man best suited to serve the rank and file of our people in a way they wished to be served.

IT FAILED...

One of the most regrettable things, which has occurred in some time, was brought out at the weekly luncheon of the Chamber of Commerce Thursday. For quite a while some of our good citizens have argued that a certain small group in our city desired to dictate every detail of our city affairs, even as to how we should vote, and at this meeting an effort was made to put the Chamber of Commerce record as favoring one of its two member candidates for city commissioner (understand our chamber is, of course, a non-political body) but it failed to work.

It certainly is to be regretted that some few, who have so long dictated feel that they can go so far. The voting population of Sanford is most certainly intelligent enough to vote for the man they desire to have as city commissioner... The above letter was sent to Volie A. Williams, this morning, and is on file.

10 Reasons Why We Should VOTE FOR S. O. CHASE

1. A sound practical business executive.
2. Thoroughly experienced in handling large affairs. Sanford has an assessed valuation of $20,000,000—therefore needs the experience of one accustomed to handling large affairs.
3. Six years splendid achievement to his credit as a city commissioner.
4. Not a wild optimist nor a sordid pessimist—just a well balanced man of mature mind and judgment—dependable to the last degree.
5. For six years he has been solving community problems—he knows governmental machinery and how to get things done—he has done them.
6. His statewide reputation as a man of unimpeachable character and sound business judgment has given the city standing among the financial markets of the country.
7. Because a community is rarely privileged to commend the public service of a man like S. O. Chase.
8. Because Sanford can absolutely count upon not being led astray by some new theoretical fetish that will prove costly to the citizenship.
9. A man seeking results rather than limelight—giving service and not selfishness.
10. An honest Christian gentleman.

MEMBERS OF S I C CONSIDERING AMENDMENT

ANNVILLE, Dec. 4.—(P)—Members of Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Conference today considered constitutional amendment 24 by-laws or the present rules. Following the presentation of the proposal late last night, the members were to formally accept them.

The constitutional proposal when two other amendments were dropped last night. The latter was withdrawn because it was offered by members of Alabama Institute. It sought to amend the constitution of the Southern Conference the past provided in seven conferences. Under the proposal each member conference would have been 400 annually to pay the such a commissioner who he had powers to deal with problems with sanctioning executive committee withdrawn after the constitutional amendments was reported it unfavorable amendment sought to be manner of electing a of the conference. Of the University of Virginia provided that they be held in alphabetical by conference instigating in 1926-27 with city of Kentucky. Representatives asked that it temporarily.

The remaining amendment word "colleges" as used in rules as "any educational institution which offers a four-year course leading to a baccalaureate degree and at least 100 male students in college grade or in a membership of the Southern Collegiate Athletic Association was specified that the Navy should be considered although they do not meet the requirements."

The committee on amendments recommended the 15 of the 24 proposals, rejected five and reported on four.

The official sanction between the University of Alabama and Stanford was seen in the comfortable report in a by-laws to permit teams to play post season with other teams.

Nevertheless Walker kept to the plan he had for fighting a man like Flowers, which crowded him, and kept on crowding. At times Mickey was out-scored three or four to one, but when he got in a poke it did some damage to Flowers, and often slowed him up. Walker apparently was never in any danger of being stopped from Flowers' punches. But he always was in great danger of being out-pointed. However, when he let go with all he had it seemed to turn all in his favor.

Flowers was failing fast in the ninth, being staggered with a solid clout, and coming in an instant to receive another lick that sent him sprawling around. The Tiger rolled over and came back to his feet, almost in the same motion, and resumed fighting. Both were trading punches at the end of the tenth.

The decision of Referee Yanger, who was selected just before the title bout, was first greeted by boos, and then by cheers.

Yanger told the press he gave the fight to Walker because Mickey did all the punching and Flowers did not close his hands, but was content to hit with open gloves.

The fight was only settled when the decision was made to meet as a committee of the whole.

The proposal to bar a college player from participation with a club, other than college, when an admission was charged or a collection was favorably reported, was favorably reported. The conference met today as a committee of the whole in execution. Representatives of the were barred from the it was first announced they would not be allowed any, that the meeting be restricted to voting debate after long discussion night's session, the coaches attended.

At her conventions all meetings that of the executive committee have been thrown open, however, the executive committee announced that the constitution for executive sessions and assemblies and that complaints had been heard was no enforced.

'TIGER' FLOWERS LOSES CROWN TO MICKY WALKER

CHICAGO, Dec. 4.—(P)—Tiger Flowers, the praying deacon from the Southland, has lost his middleweight boxing crown to Mickey Walker, beating back from the Elba of his lost middleweight title, but the referee's decision last night was not recorded by many scribes at the ringside.

Most of the fight critics believe that Flowers had the best of the 10-round bloody argument in the historic coliseum, although Walker was going strong in the closing rounds and had the Georgian on the mat in the ninth.

At any rate, the two will meet again within 30 days, under agreement arranged before the fight, for which Jack Keenan, manager of the new champion, posted a forfeit of $65,000.

Chicago is rapidly becoming known as the Waterloo of titleholders, Flowers being the second champion to drop his crown here since boxing was legalized some months back, while a third lost his laurels, so far as this state is concerned, by action of the State Boxing Commission. Sammy Mandel recently annexed the light weight crown of Rocky Kansas, while the boxing commission named Bud Taylor as bantamweight champion, and barred Charley Rusenberg from the state, when a match between the two blew up.

Flowers' manager expressed the belief that the Tiger was entitled to the victory, but said the decision was given in good faith.

"We had a good referee in there," Walk Miller said. "He decided Walker won, so it must be so. However, Flowers was hit low two times and these punches took the steam out of him."

Nearly 11,000 persons jammed the coliseum, paying between $85,000 and $90,000 to see the exchange of titular honors. Flowers received half the gate receipts, less than 10 per cent of the state's commission, while Walker's share was 10 per cent.

The fight was remarkably fast from the start. In the last two rounds Walker staggered the Tiger at least twice, and once put him flat on his back. This latter episode occurred in the ninth round, but Flowers made an acrobatic recovery to an upright position.

Walker was at a disadvantage from the fourth round on, when Flowers opened up a cut over Mickey's left eye.

Nevertheless Walker kept to the plan he had for fighting a man like Flowers, which crowded him, and kept on crowding. At times Mickey was out-scored three or four to one, but when he got in a poke it did some damage to Flowers, and often slowed him up. Walker apparently was never in any danger of being stopped from Flowers' punches. But he always was in great danger of being out-pointed. However, when he let go with all he had it seemed to turn all in his favor.

The NUT CRACKER by Joe Williams

DETROIT players who questioned George Moriarty's eyesight and judgment last summer, are sure to spend a few restless moments during the winter.

DURING those lean years with the Athletics, "Stuffy" says he never stopped at first, it was two bats or no contact with the opposing batsmen.

WHEN interviewed as to the best methods of saving money, Ty Cobb baseball's first millionaire player, replied, "Just let the other fellows spend it."

"They must have been, I didn't see any of them," admits Tony.

HARVARD says Princeton has become very uncouth in its football play and unless it reforms it is to be cut from the Crimson social register.

Football is no longer a sport at Harvard, merely for class reunions.

THERE are still some smart men in college. Only the other day a southern institution decided wrestling was no longer a sport and put the ban on it.

We shall now hear from the Detroit players.

Hoppe Declares He Will Quit Game of 3-Cushion Billiards

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—(P)—Will Hoppe will retire from three-cushion billiards tonight, a victim of the second time of table cloth washing which he claims has been tried to handicap him at crucial moments of his play.

The veteran balk line star announced that he never again would engage in a three-cushion contest from the green blaze of a table cloth he has been playing a 600 game match against Gus Capulos for the past few days.

It was found to have been badly cut by an unidentified person that a new cloth had to be used last night.

In the spring of 1921, P. H. Caneffax cut the cloth on which he was playing 3-cushion billiards, claiming the original covering of the table had become too slow for his bats, was suspended for a year by the Three-Cushion League after denouncing the slashing.

Hoppe says that the knife was used each time after he had overcome the lead of his opponent, Hoppe, after trailing Capulos since Monday went to the front Thursday.

With a good game last, the one block of fifty points, however, miles required the lead 50 to 0. They will complete the match tonite.

While at work, Capulos, Hoppe topped Caneffax and Capulos as a "cushion player" who require an exceptionally fast cloth to make their "running english" effective.

He pointed out it was only natural that a cloth would become slower after eight blocks had been played.

THE more cars you have been looking at lately, and driving, the more profoundly will you be impressed by the new 1927 Chandler.

When you settle down behind the wheel in the deep, downy cushions of a new Chandler, and begin to tease the accelerator, you get the feeling that this is your style of car—a car you'll always enjoy driving.

When it comes to getaway, to weaving dexterously through traffic, it seems as if the cars all around you are nailed on the spot!

Chandler owes its masterly performance to the remarkable balance and co-ordination of all parts and all details—and to the powerful rhythm of its marvelous motor.

Here's beauty. Here's power. Here's a real 18-carat automobile—with centralized chassis lubrication—an oil purifier, an air cleaner, 4-wheel brakes, thermostatic cooling control, self-adjusting spring shackles—advantage after advantage—and at the lowest prices in all Chandler history. Automobiles Slide Into Parking Space By Means Of Extra Wheels

BALTIMORE, Md., Dec. 4.—A new invention, which will make it possible to park automobiles in a space only half as wide as the car itself, is being demonstrated here today. The device, which is known as the "Slide-into-Parking" system, is being demonstrated by a group of engineers from the University of Maryland. The system operates as follows: A hydraulic jack lifts the car from the street in a second. When the car is above the street, the engine power is used to drive the wheels. There is no danger of an accident, as the main gear of the car must be in neutral before the lift can operate. Using this invention, the motorist can pick a parking space the length of his car and maneuver into it sideways. This affords all available room on a street for parking. Space can also be saved in public and private garages. A private garage need be nothing more than a diminutive building a few inches longer and wider than the car itself.

Grease to Take Place of Bathing in Marathon Swimming Contest

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 4.—(AP)—A grease threatens to eliminate cumbersome bathing suits in the $25,000 swim from Santa Monica to the California coast scheduled Jan. 15, next. Mrs. Schommel of New York would use 10 black axle grease and thick attire as possible for the event, has many of the 200 or more expecting to compete. Mrs. Schommel, who claims records for all distances between five and fifty miles, said she saw "no immodesty in discarding the regulation bathing costume." Mrs. Clemington Corson, first mother to swim the English channel, was reported to have said she would withdraw from the coast event if even Mrs. Schommel carried out her proposal. The heavy coating of grease, not only would counteract the cold currents encountered in the channel, but might also serve to keep sharks away. Sharks, it was said, avoid dark bodies. Mrs. Clara Belle Barrett, of Los Angeles, who swam the English channel last summer, thinks that women show common sense in discarding all garb for long distance swims. She still has scars from suits she wore in practicing for the channel swim, and as for the question of modesty, she says all real sportswomen forget their bodies.

Standard Found To Work On Auto Fuel

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—A standard by which the anti-knock value of fuels may be ascertained has been discovered by Dr. Graham Edgar, research chemist of Yonkers, N. Y. It's a new octane, a chemical compound of the hydrocarbon series, the use of which is to fuels as the use of a yardstick is to cloths. It measures the ability of an anti-knock compound to keep an engine from knocking, when mixed with ordinary fuels. The octane itself is an ideal anti-knock compound, but its cost prevents its use in large quantities. It does not knock, with normal heptane, another compound in ordinary gasoline which knocks violently. Dr. Edgar produces mixtures which can duplicate the knocking characteristics of any motor fuel. Thus it is possible to state the anti-knock quality of any fuel in terms of the proportion of these two constituents in an equivalent mixture.

New Six Cylinder To Use Knight Motor

DETROIT, Dec. 4.—The Knight sleeve-valve six-cylinder engine may soon be seen in a new car, yet unnamed, that will sell close to the $1,000 mark. An automobile organization has been formed here, headed by many leaders in the automotive industry, to build and promote the car. Among those reported as actively interested are J. N. Willys, John A. Nichols, R. N. Harger, R. H. Allen and D. R. Wilson, and was shown in six new European models that were displayed at the Paris Salon and at the Olympic Salon in England. Like the proposed car, the organization backing it is yet unnamed although it has opened offices here and it is understood that a manufacturing plant is soon to be purchased.

Beware of November

November is the most dangerous month in the year for pedestrians and motorists, says Dr. Louis L. Dublin, of the National Safety Council. During this month the streets and highways are just as crowded as during pleasant weather, but early darkness, rain, snow and slush are added handicaps to driving.

European Stations Adopt New Wave Length Schedule For Broadcasting

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—While American radio fans are expecting serious interference from broadcasting stations, Europe is getting ready to carry out its well organized co-operative program of orderly wave transmission, free from interference. After several months of extensive tests, which followed a series of conferences between the principal nations of Europe, a new wave length schedule will be adopted by every European station some time by the end of December. Europe is said to have solved the interference problem, which is so acute here today, through co-operation. To really appreciate what has been accomplished over there in the matter of broadcast regulation on an international scale it is necessary to have a picture of conditions only several months ago. While there are not nearly as many stations in the whole of Europe as there are in half of the United States, interference was nevertheless severe, because of the proximity of states and because each nation had its own wave length regulations, made independently of the other and suited to its own particular needs. For instance, receiving sets had to be designed and manufactured for the fans with a wave length range of 200 to 4,000 meters, because these were stations operating at every point within that wide range. Efforts to have the Eiffel station, one of the pioneers in Europe, transmit on a wave lower than 2,400 meters failed when made by French and foreign fans whose instruments would not tune any higher than 600. On the other hand, European listeners equipped with long wave sets could not hear the fine broadcasting of the British stations, who transmitted on a comparatively low wave range. When one considers that it is just as easy for a European fan to tune in several foreign stations this side at about 5 o'clock in the afternoon, a feat which would have been practically impossible with the longer wave lengths formerly in use by the highest powered stations abroad, except with specially built receivers. The real location of wave lengths has not solved the problem of station identification. It becomes a difficult matter for a European fan who is not a linguist to decipher over the loud speaker the call letters of Spanish, French, Italian, German, Swedish or Rumanian stations, which all can be tuned in within a few minutes. While music is an international language, it becomes necessary to adopt some general method to identify the stations regardless of its nationality. Several methods have been suggested to the International Bureau and among them are the use of Esperanto, which could be understood everywhere, and transmission of the station call letters in Morse international code, following the spoken call-letter announcement. The real location of wave lengths in Europe is of interest to Americans from several angles. In the first place, it means that the pos-ibility of receiving foreign stations is increased, since they will be more within the wave length range of our own receivers. It means, too, that a new field for American radio apparatus has been opened up. Soon there will be many more American made radio receivers on European markets. If our exporters get busy and if the interest in radio which this change has brought about keeps up.

1926 Again Chevrolet's Greatest Year

In 1925 Chevrolet astonished the automotive world by attaining an annual production never before reached by any manufacturer of gearless automobiles.

Yet, so spectacular has been the increase in demand for Chevrolet cars, that a new and even more brilliant record is the climax for 1926.

Thus, for two years in succession, Chevrolet has broken all its previous records and has set a new mark in automobile history.

This splendid achievement results from a car of the highest quality and at a low price.

That the vast majority of Chevrolet cars are built to the highest standards of performance, safety, appearance, and economical operation is proved by Chevrolet's success. Come in and see this record-breaking car.
