Projects Announced For Civic Building

By Mona Grinstead
The North Orlando Civic Association has announced plans for making a number of improvements to the Civic Building in the Village Recreation Area.

A new door will be installed at the main entrance and the old one moved to the adjoining concession stand. Purchase of paint to repaint the building was authorized at last week's meeting of the association and a work day for this job will be announced

Retired Folks To Elect Officers

By Joan Magin
The annual election meeting of the Chulona Retired Folks Club will be held Thursday in the Community Building with a ham dinner at 6 p.m.

Plans for the meeting were made recently when members of the board of directors met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Morrison on Sixth Street.

New members are always welcome and invited to attend.

in the near future. Fire Chief Bill Hahn has volunteered to make two new tables, one to be used for business meetings and one for recreation.

Efforts to remedy difficulties with the water system, a constant problem since the association leased the building last year, will be undertaken and a four-burner surface unit for cooking will be installed in the kitchen. Eventually, the entire kitchen will be rearranged and a sink, already available, will be installed when work on the water system is completed.

A gas heater and a meter tank have been installed and a second heater, donated by James Brazil of Cortez Avenue, possibly will be put in the concession stand.

The Village Council last week voted to investigate possibility of having a shell surface put on the road leading into the area when paving of N. Edgemon Avenue is done by the North Orlando Company. It was agreed that the shell surface would help eliminate hazards of entering the roadway which becomes almost impassable in wet weather.

A meeting of the new officers will be called in the near future at which time committee chairmen will be appointed and plans for the coming year will be outlined.

Business Firms Head List Of UF Donors

Officials of the United Fund of Seminole County have announced that Sanford business firms employing five or more persons headed the list in total amount of contributions to the 1953 campaign.

The campaign to date, as was announced Monday by Campaign Chairman Paul D. Lewis, Jr., has produced $22,911. Mrs. E. F. Ganas, executive secretary of the Fund organization, said that this was an increase over last year's receipts but it was slightly more than $15,500 less than the 1952 objective.

Business firms with five or more employees produced $7,081 for the 1953 United Fund drive. The Sanford Naval Air Station was the second largest group donor. The campaign at the base, under the direction of Capt. J. Mayo came up with $5,281. In third place was Sanford commercial employes who posted $4,758.

A total of $3,570 came from various commercial firms in Sanford, $2,541 from professional gifts, $2,062 from special gifts, $1,807 from the Colored division and $1,490 from advance gifts.

Other contributions received from the public division which included federal, state, county and hospital employes, $828 from Fern Park, $825 from Casselberry, $246 from Geneva, $206 from Lake Mary, $119 from Longwood, $110 from Forest City, $100 from Lake Monroe, $68 from Altamonte Springs, and $50 from various clubs and organizations.

No reports have been received from Bear Lake, Chuluota and North Orlando. Oviedo has its own campaign and does not participate in the Seminole drive.

Growing Roses In Florida Explained In Altamonte

By Julia Bartes

Earl Nelson of Apopka, wholesale grower of rose bushes for retail outlets, was guest speaker for the January meeting of the Altamonte Springs Garden Club.

Nelson pointed out that roses can be grown successfully in Florida by using the proper root stock and by devoting some time each week in the rose garden. For root stock he recommended the Fortuniana. The Dr. Huey and Multiflora stock have been used extensively in Florida while the Fortuniana planting has been limited until recently due to problems of propagation. After five years of testing it has been found that the Fortuniana outperforms the other varieties, develops less severe leaf chlorosis or systems of iron deficiency, is more resistant to semioctid attacks and has more tolerance to crown gall.

Nelson, emphasizing that good rose culture begins with preparation of beds, suggested a layer of organic matter, peat or compost, on top of the soil and fertilizer. He also suggested that a sample of soil be taken to the County Agent who will recommend an amendment to bring about the proper acidity.

He cautioned that a $3 plant pot in a five cent soil will produce one cent worth of pleasure.

Members were warned against pruning their rose bushes too far back since each leaf on the bush manufactures food for the entire plant thus creating a relation to the number of leaves and the production of blooms.

Application of fertilizers, 200 or 300 should be applied, once or twice every six weeks with a decrease in the amount used during the winter months and an increase during the summer.

An all-purpose spray or dust should be used once a week covering both top and bottom of the leaves.

Plants should be set about five feet apart for larger varieties and three or four feet apart for smaller growth specimens.

In closing, Nelson advised that a bulletin, "Roses in Florida," is available from the county agent and reminded that "footprints in a rose garden are a good guide for successful rose growing and that rewards for taking care of rose gardens are unlimited."

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Medcalf were welcomed as new members during the business meeting held following the program. Plans also were made for the group to sponsor a fish fry on Feb. 20 as the club's project for the year.

Sears Catalog Store Moving To Pinecrest

Negotiations have been completed for the relocation of the Sears, Roebuck and Company catalog sales store in Sanford. It was announced today by C. B. Livesey, general manager of the Sears mail order plant in Atlanta, which will service the local store.

Bellemead Construction, of Daytona Beach, has leased to Sears new store space in the Pinecrest Shopping Center at 2701-B Orlando Drive. The Sears store will be removed from East First Street the latter part of February, according to Melvin Fair, district sales manager who will supervise this store.

John Krider, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, hailed the development as an important step in the growth of Sanford as a shopping center for this area. "Sears new Catalog Sales store will attract many customers to Sanford from extended trading areas and all local merchants will profit by the additional traffic thus provided," Krider explained.

"Several unique shopping services will be available at the new store", David Grimm, manager, said in an interview. All 140,000 items in the Sears General Catalog will be available from the new store through the operation of the telephone order department which will operate to further speed the orders from customers who find it inconvenient to come to the store for their shopping. The many Sears customers in this area who have Sears appliances will be happy to know that enlarged service facilities will be available through the local store as well as a fire and battery installation facility, which will enable customers to have their tires installed immediately after their purchase.

"We are delighted to join with the developers of the Shopping Center in providing larger and better shopping services to our customers in this area," Mr. Livesey said. "Our decision to invest in a newer larger Catalog Sales Office with better facilities to service our customers in Sanford is an indication of our complete faith in the future of this area as a growing market center. We regard our new store here as a local unit, employing local people and catering to local needs. As a member of the local Community of Merchants, we shall strive to discharge our responsibility of citizenship as fully as any merchant should."

Legions Calls For Anti-Red Legislation

The Campbell-Lossin, Post No. 58 of the American Legion has adopted a resolution calling for the immediate enactment of legislation by the Congress to halt all subversive activities of the Communist Party of the United States by all of its members and fellow travelers, according to Post Commander Frank Holmes and Adjutant Eugene Stovall.

The resolution drafted by the Post's Americanism Committee and adopted by a unanimous vote of the membership, says that the recommended action includes those organizations and individuals known only to the Department of Justice and to Congress, and that such legislation should provide for the arrest, confinement and deportation of such agents and conspirators.

The resolution came as the result of the U. S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia's recent reversal of a lower court verdict that the Communist Party of the U. S. had willfully refused to register under terms of the 1950 Subversive Activities Control Act.

The resolution has been forwarded to various Legion headquarters units for consideration at the next annual convention of the American Legion.

Tass Reports Arrest Of Ax Killer

MOSCOW (UPI) — A 27-year-old Soviet draft dodger has been arrested and accused of the ax murders of three schoolboys and two women, it was announced today.

Tass, the official Soviet news agency, made an unusual excursion into crime news to report that Vladimir Ionesyan and his "mistress and accomplice, A. Dmitriyeva," were arrested for murder in Moscow and the town of Ivanovo.

Ionesyan also was charged with rape and assault. The arrest of the ax killer who has been terrorizing Moscow was first reported Sunday night by semi-official sources.

Passengers on Soviet buses were told the good news Sunday night over loudspeakers: "Citizens, don't be alarmed. The murderer has been caught."

Full Probe Of Florida Land Deal Promised By Senate Unit

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate investigators today promised a full inquiry into the Florida land deal in which Sen. George A. Smathers, D-Fla., and former senate aide Robert G. (Bobby) Baker were associated.

Experts Profile Wayward Youths

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UPI) — California's typical male juvenile delinquent goes to church on occasion, associates with the "wrong crowd," dislikes school—and comes from an unstable home.

And if it happens that he doesn't have a downright dislike for school, he at least is "indifferent" to it.

This profile was put together by the California Youth Authority (CYA) from statistics gathered in 1953 on youngsters committed to the CYA's care.

The agency found that 45 per cent of California's male delinquents attended church occasionally during the two years before they were committed to youth authority institutions. Twenty-six per cent attended often and 25 per cent did not attend.

Most of the youngsters, the CYA added, had many delinquent contacts before they were committed.

Castro In Quick Trip To Moscow

MOSCOW (UPI) — Cuban Premier Fidel Castro got a bear-hug greeting from Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev today on his arrival for a surprise visit and talks expected to center on U. S. troubles in Panama.

It was below zero when Castro's Soviet jet landed after a nine-hour flight from sunny Havana, but Western observers said Castro's welcome was as warm as the one he received in May, when he spent more than a month here.

The visit was announced suddenly Sunday night, and the Cuban people did not learn of it until after Castro was airborne. The Soviets said Khrushchev invited the bearded Cuban "again to visit the Soviet Union in winter time to exchange opinions on questions of mutual interest to rest, to acquaint himself with the winter landscape and hunt in the snow-clad forests of the Soviet Union."

Western observers said these topics were likely to dominate the talks:

- The rioting in Panama;
- Cuba's loyalty to Moscow;
- The U. S. economic blockade of Cuba and recent Allied moves to trade with the island, including Britain's $11 million bus sale.

Family Tree's Roots Deep

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI) — The American Elter Society conducted its first annual family reunion after obtaining a non-profit charter in Missouri.

The Society includes 90 Elter-named members. The family-tree research society is looking for more members, according to Thomas C. Elter of Bala-Cynwyd, Pa., the president.

Dale Elter, church editor of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch of the Society's business manager, Henry R. Elter of Bloomington, Ill., and Evelyn Elter of Springfield, Ill., are directors.

Dale Elter says the family dates back to about half a dozen Elters who came to this country from Switzerland around 1735. Most American Elters, he said, are descendants of the early Elter settlers, but others have migrated from Europe and settled in Lancaster county, Pennsylvania.

Perfect Fielder Philadelphia

WSCS Honors Pastor's Wife

By Jane Casselberry
The WSCS of the Casselberry Community Methodist Church honored Mrs. Delmas Copeland, wife of the minister, at a surprise shower following last Thursday night's meeting.

Members of the organization in the various circles presented her with many lovely baby gifts.

Mrs. Philip Caeser was in charge of the program and spoke on ways that women can follow Christ's commission, "Go Ye Unto All the World."

During the business meeting, conducted by Mrs. Arthur Putman, president, reports were heard from secretaries and circle chairmen.

The group voted to contribute $10 to the Bethune Cookman College at Daytona Beach for a race relations Sunday.

The Sunshine Circle asked for contributions for their rummage sale, scheduled for Feb. 22-23, and for old Christmas cards which the group is sending to missionaries overseas.

The 25th Anniversary of the Women's Society of Christian Service will be celebrated on Wednesday, Feb. 12, at a covered dish luncheon in Weaver Hall.

U. S. To Defend Panama Canal, Keep Good Neighbor Policy

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States pledged today to defend the Panama Canal while attempting to maintain the "Good Neighbor" policy in its dealings with the Republic of Panama.

Also meeting with Johnson were Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara, Central Intelligence Director John A. McCone, and McGeorge Bundy, the President's special assistant for national security affairs.

Johnson received a full report on the Panama situation from Mann, who emphasized that U. S. forces had "behaved admirably under extreme provocation by mobs and snipers attacking the Canal Zone," the White House said.

The United States had a first-things-first attitude toward Panama's renewed demand for revision of the treaty permitting U. S. occupation and operation of the Canal Zone.

The first matter, officials said, was to assure restoration of law and order.

Then, they said, there were "practical problems" on which discussion could be resumed — problems which do not require treaty revision.

A cooperation commission was named Monday in Panama to resolve all questions on law and order, but it is not empowered to go into the treaty revision question.

Ferry Skipper Free Of Phony Papers Charge

MIAMI (UPI) — British skipper Harold Derber, who tried to start a Cuban refugee ferry, was acquitted Monday on charges of presenting U. S. authorities with false papers when he brought his first boat of Cubans to Key West.

But the shuttle boat promoter is still in jail, this time in connection with a bad check charge.

Federal Judge Charles Fulton said Monday the government had failed to prove that Derber knew the papers he handed over for his ferry ship — the Nana — were phony.

Derber was kept in custody on the warrant of a peace officer charging him in connection with passing a bad check and immigration authorities indicated they are still interested in him.

In Derber's first trial in December, the jury failed to reach a decision and a mistrial was declared. Derber was arrested on Oct. 24 when he arrived at Key West with about two dozen azules on what he said would be a trial run for the shuttle. He has been in jail since.

Goldwater Off To Shaky Start In Flubbing Some Questions

By Holmes Alexander
WASHINGTON — One of the best things that happened to Candidate Eisenhower in 1952 was the long-remembered gibe by the Scripps-Howard papers that Ike was "running like a dry creek." It was after this friendly prodding that the general began to speak up about "the mess in Washington," and climaxed his campaign with the promise that he would "go to Korea" and see if honorable peace were possible.

On this precedent, it would be doing Barry Goldwater a timely favor to say, in baseball lingo, that he hasn't yet found the strike zone, but has been delivering a series of wild pitches and has been throwing more bean balls than strikes.

His tactics may not hurt him much early in the game, but they are storing up trouble. In 1960 Goldwater taunted Lyndon Johnson many times for hanging onto his Senate nomination while also running on the national ticket. Johnson, said Goldwater, was doing this because he expected the Kennedy-Johnson ticket to lose. The same logic, of course, now applies to the Arizona Senator, who's running simultaneously for his Senate seat and the GOP nomination. True, he may resign the Senate nomination later, and thus rub out this impression of no-confidence. But till he does so, he is caught in a catch-win attitude, which is incompatible with his ringing battle cry of "Why not victory?"

Goldwater's forte has been frankness, but he began his campaign by falling away from this strong position. What are his reasons for refusing to debate Governor Rockefeller? As the present front-runner, Goldwater could decline for that reason alone. Instead, he says in one interview that he is campaigning on principles and not personalities. In another interview, he scoffs at Rockefeller as a "New Frontiersman," and hence not worthy of debate.

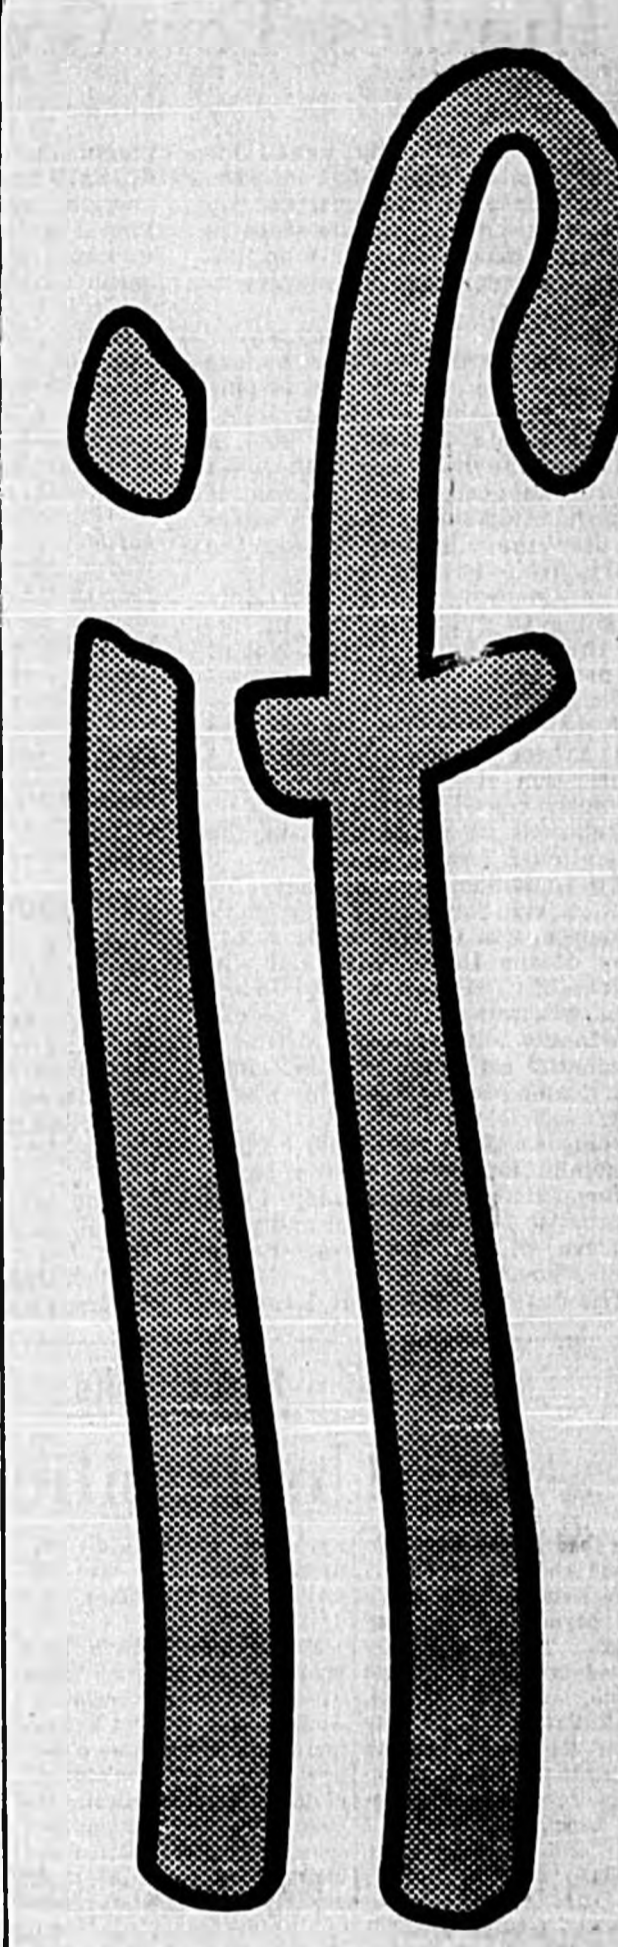

Unhappily, the true reason for the Senator's seeming timidity was suggested in "Meet The Press" telecast on Jan. 5. It was an occasion when he showed what was either a flustered inability to ad lib dialogue or an alarming ignorance of the American Constitution, the foundation rock to which he clings. Surely, Goldwater ought to know from his years in the Senate that a President can recall an Ambassador and sever diplomatic relations with any country at will. It is not true, as Goldwater seemed to say, that such action required consent of Congress. Luckily, Goldwater made this bluff on a discussion panel, for it would have been much more hurtful in debate. But he didn't sound like a man who'd worked up much familiarity with the Constitution.

All this is said, and more could be added, by way of urging Goldwater to speak only from knowledge, or not at all. A modest and honest man, he owes that much to his vast following of admirers, hitherto uncritical of him, and to his own chances to win. As a conservative in this era of liberalism, Goldwater begins under a handicap which he cannot carry to victory by treating his Republican rivals as non-existent, and by merely reciting the conservative catechism. He must prove himself, as well as his ideas, to be superior to those in competition. He cannot win by punching at straw men. He must slug it out with men named Rockefeller, Stassen, Romney, Scrantom, Nixon as well as a lady named Smith, and with their respective convictions on the issues at stake.

Above all, Goldwater has the burden of making millions of Americans believe that he can outdo Lyndon Johnson in the handling of the national economy, the race question, the programing of legislation and the conduct of relations with allies and enemies. It is stuffy writing, I know, to catalogue so many truisms about presidency-seeking, but political commentators have some obligations, too. One obligation, surely, is to hold up the mirror to the candidates themselves. No politician is well served by flattery. Those who want Goldwater to make a good showing will merit his thanks by saying that, so far, he isn't doing so.

DR. AND MRS. THOMAS LARGEN, Dr. and Mrs. Louis Perez and Mrs. Jerry Covington (from left) are shown chatting as they arrived at the Mayfair for the Policeman's Ball Saturday evening.

The 12th Annual Policeman's Ball, Saturday night at the Mayfair Inn, attracted a capacity crowd. The ballroom was attractively decorated for the occasion, with tables circling the dance floor.

Lou Feldman and his orchestra provided music for dancing, including everything from the sedate waltz to the lively cha-cha.

Many winter visitors were seen enjoying the ball and renewing acquaintances made in other years. Out-of-town guests from neighboring cities and from as far away as Jacksonville, remembering the festive affair from other years, were here to join in the fun.

Capt. Arnold Williams, representing the police department, awarded door prizes during the evening to Mrs. William McEntyre, Apopka, an AM-PM radio, and large hams to Jerry Covington, Pinecrest Drive, and Bob Ray, Flamingo Drive.

Garden Gate

By Woodrow Circle
It is interesting to note during the past few weeks, how well we have profited from the experience of last winter's frosts. Our basic landscape plantings have been replaced with cold hardy evergreens such as podocarpus, pittosporum, viburnum, ardisia and various types of Junipers. The tropical plantings that required so many hours of protection, for the most part, are treated as annual plantings this year.

If you have not yet replaced your basic landscape plantings, January is an excellent time to take stock of your home garden and plant more of the cold resistant shrubs.

Trees are in their dormant stage during January and February, and the best time for transplanting them. So many of our trees have been removed to make way for housing developments. The Florida Federation of Garden Clubs is putting much emphasis on tree planting during the next two years and it is their goal to plant 100,000 trees over the State of Florida. We hope that Sanford and Seminole County will rank at the top of the list in this tree planting program.

Asaleas and camellias are coming into bloom and now is a good time to incorporate these plants in your gardens. The many varieties of asaleas are most effective in landscape plantings, but do remember to color group them. Keep asaleas and camellias well watered.

Now is the time to remove caladium bulbs from the soil and dry and store them in temperature not below 60 degrees. Replant again in the spring.

It will soon be time to fertilize our lawns. Why not take time now and prepare a lawn-fertilizing schedule for the next year? Don't wait until the grass turns yellow to give more food. With a planned schedule, you can keep your lawn at its best throughout the year.

For those in the Sanford area who wish to learn more about plants and their growth in the area, we can think of no better source of learning than to become a member of our local Garden Club. Some 325 active members in the area who, by their membership and knowledge acquired in the club, are becoming expert gardeners and flower arrangers. Not only do we learn how to cultivate plants, but also the artistic use of plant material. If you are interested in learning more about the art of gardening, contact any one of our 325 members for sponsorship in the Garden Club.

Prints And Polka Dots Fashion News For Spring

By Gay Pauley
UPI Women's Editor
NEW YORK (UPI)—Prints make a big splash in the spring fashion picture.

Prints come in abstracts copied right from modern art galleries. Prints come in florals, most of the splashes of posies exaggerated far beyond the size of the original. Prints in almost every collection include polka dots sized from pennies to pancakes. And there are the jungle prints, splashy designs repeating the leaf and flower theme of the tropics.

Prints for both day and evening dresses showed through the spring collections unveiled last week for the nation's visiting fashion reporters, in the semi-annual "press week" staged by New York designers-manufacturers.

Designer Mollie Parnis did jungle prints in clear blue, red and green combination in daytime costumes of silk surah. Jo Copeland reached into the posy patch to pick floral prints sized from natural yellow rosebuds to high exaggerated.

For Norrell, it's the boyish look for the girls. His models' coiffures were copies of the Paris bus boy cut—parted far over on one side and brushed across the forehead. Ears showed, but there were sideburns plastered down.

Hemerocallis Circle Meets With Mrs. Lind

Mrs. Carl Lind was hostess to members of the Hemerocallis Circle, Sanford Garden Club, for the January meeting. Mrs. Robert Martin was co-hostess.

Carl Lind, guest speaker for the circle, showed films on water conservation and gave an informative talk to the group on the amounts of water used in the home per day and the quantities needed for plants and trees.

Cheese cake, chocolate pie and coffee were served by the hostesses.

More than 150 officers wives are expected to turn out to elect a new president and vice president of the Naval Officers Wives Club at a coffee Thursday.

The coffee will begin at 10 a. m. in the NAS ballroom. The officers wives of VAI-11 and Det. 8 are hostesses for the affair and have worked hard to turn the ballroom into a replica of places on the Mediterranean Sea.

During the imaginary flight to the Med the wives will choose either Mrs. C. B. Moore, Mrs. W. A. Yellock or Mrs. W. E. Markley as president. The biographies of these ladies have been presented in previous issues of this column.

Running for vice president are Mrs. James Olson and Mrs. Alan Weeks.

Mrs. Olson and her husband are both natives of Daytona Beach, but did not meet until they were attending Station University. After duty in many places the Olsons came to Sanford and have been here for a year and a half.

Rainey Olson's Navy activities include being the vice president of the wives club at the line school in Monterey, hospitality chairman while in Norfolk as part of the Forrestal unit, representative to the OWC at Pensacola and secretary of the Basic Standardization Group at Pensacola.

The Olsons have two daughters, Karen, 13, and Kimberly, eight. Besides caring for them Rainey enjoys water skiing on the lake in front of their home.

Kinny Weeks has been a Navy wife for only four years and decided the best way to learn about the life was to jump in with both feet and run for vice president.

She was elected as an NOW representative from VAI-1 and has worked in Navy Relief and the thrift shop.

She met her husband while attending college in Kingsville and was married two weeks after graduation. The Weeks' have one daughter, Shelley who was just two years old recently.

Ginny's hobbies include listening to good music and sewing. With her degree in music and education she has done some substitute teaching.

A farewell coffee for Mrs. LeRoy Heath, wife of the commanding officer of VAI-7 and Mrs. Edward Decker, wife of the executive officer of the squadron, will be held Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Bryan B. Brown.

Cdr. Brown will take over as skipper of VAI-7 at change of command ceremonies in Norfolk on Jan. 27. The squadron is now deployed on a three week shakedown cruise, but will be in Norfolk at that time.

Officers wives of VAI-7 will meet at 10 a. m. to say their goodbyes to Mrs. Heath and Mrs. Decker.

Mrs. Warren Hoellar, wife of the chief of staff officer, was welcomed to her first meeting of the staff officers wives held at the home of Mrs. Raymond Milburn.

Mrs. Milburn served a variety of open faced sandwiches, cookies and small cakes with coffee. During the business session Mrs. James Mayo discussed the forthcoming election and change of board officers of the NOW club.

Other wives attending the meeting were Mrs. David Dearolph, Mrs. Leigh Eberly, Mrs. Wallace Holton, Mrs. W. E. Markley, Mrs. Orville McGuire, Mrs. Cliff Nelson, Mrs. John Hoganson, and Mrs. Herbert Moreland.

High honors went to Mrs. O. E. Gearty at a VAI-11-Det 8 officers wives bridge recently and Mrs. B. W. Bartholomew took second place.

The bridge was held at the home of Mrs. A. R. Blunden who served creme puffs, brownies, cakes and mints to the ladies.

Participating in the bridge game were Mrs. J. F. Barlow, Mrs. R. S. Best, Mrs. R. S. Davidson, Mrs. J. R. Deaton, Mrs. W. E. Donahue, Mrs. R. D. Field, Mrs. J. M. Rupeals, Mrs. W. A. Yellock and Mrs. M. D. Werner.

New officers of the VAI-11 officers wives club were elected at the club's January meeting held at the home of Mrs. James Morgan. Assisting in the election were Mrs. Don Pe-

Ivan and Mrs. George Kimmons.

Mrs. Kimmons presided over her first meeting of the club as wife of the commanding officer of the squadron.

Those elected were Mrs. Mrs. Clinton Dowell, NOW representative and Mrs. Martin Sheridan, NOW alternate; Mrs. James Goss, Mrs. LeRoy Hawkins, Mrs. Muri Husted and Mrs. Robert Kuhlke, pons; Mrs. Lawrence Pinzel, Mrs. William Shattuck, Mrs. William Rose and Mrs. Kuhlke, hospitality.

Mrs. Harlan Bakke, thrift shop; Mrs. Stern Balte, bridge; Mrs. Gordon Kuehn treasurer and Mrs. Gerald Coffee assistant treasurer; Mrs. Earl Achord and Mrs. George Kimmons, publicity; Mrs. Frank Branson, hostess chairman.

The hostesses served doughnuts, Danish pastries, fruitcake and coffee to the 60 wives attending.

"That basic black dress" will get its share of not-so-gentle spoofing at the Naval Officers Wives election and change of board coffee Thursday.

A skit which shows how the Navy wife can use the dress at home and abroad will be presented by wives from the Naval Air Station's groups and squadrons.

Mrs. J. A. deGanahl of VAI-9 will narrate the fashion show which has been produced by officers wives of VAI-11 and Det. 8, who are the hostesses for the function.

Modeling in the show will be Mrs. Michael Durant, and Mrs. G. F. Wilster of VAI-1, Mrs. G. H. Dalgie of VAI-3, Mrs. J. L. Lindt of VAI-5, Mrs. LeRoy Heath and Mrs. Tedford Cann of VAI-7, Mrs. J. D. Moloney of VAI-9, Mrs. D. B. Mitchell of VAI-11, Mrs. Stanley Stanul of the station and Mrs. James Mayo of the staff.

Thirty-five station officers wives met for a luncheon Thursday at the Capri restaurant where Mrs. Vincent Law and Mrs. David Olmstead were hostesses.

Attending their first meeting of the group were Mrs. Paul Polgar and Mrs. Clinton MacDonald, Mrs. W. E. Markley, Mrs. C. A. MacDonald, Mrs. W. C. Faldmeyer and Mrs. J. H. Gorman were guests.

Mrs. Olmstead, the newly elected president of the club, announced the new committee heads for the first six months of 1964, as follows:

Mrs. J. A. Williams, NOW board representative; Mrs. Leonard Ellingwood and Mrs. F. G. Wolfe, hospitality; Mrs. F. G. Plapp, thrift shop; Mrs. Polgar, Good Samaritan charity project; Mrs. C. J. Morosini, publicity, and Mrs. Dietrich, secretary-treasurer.

Mrs. Ralph Noll won the doorprize.

Candidates for president of the Naval Officers Wives club will meet with officers wives of VAI-5 during a coffee at the home of Mrs. Paul Werner.

Wives of the commanding officers and executive officers of the various squadrons also attended.

The table was decorated with an Indian brave and napkins with pictures of Indians on them were lettered with "The Savage Sons." Refreshments included a cake with the names of the presidential candidates written on it with icing.

Guests were Mrs. W. E. Markley, Mrs. W. A. Yellock, Mrs. C. B. Moore, the candidates. Others were Mrs. Jesse Tait, Mrs. Charles Morosini, Mrs. Hugh O'Hara and her mother-in-law, Mrs. Freda O'Hara of Pennsylvania, Mrs. Stanley Stangel, Mrs. James Mayo, Mrs. LeRoy Heath, Mrs. Bryan Brown, Mrs. L. J. Reinhart, Mrs. J. F. Barlow and Mrs. Earl Bartholomew.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am 23 years old (male) and need your help. Recently, in a joking way, I gave a girl a cheap imitation ring I picked up at a dime store. Now she's trying to tell me that no matter how cheap the ring is, as long as I gave it to her, we are officially engaged. I tried to tell her it was all a gag, but she is threatening to sue me for breach of promise. Can she do this? A buddy of mine who is attending law school says she can.

GETTING WORRIED DEAR GETTING: I am no lawyer, but I can tell you that anybody can sue whom-ever he (or she) wants to sue and all the defendant can do is try to defend himself. If she brings suit against you (which I think is unlikely) she will have to prove that the ring was given to her together with your promise to wed. If she can do that, Brother, you are in trouble.

DEAR ABBY: Do you remember way back when you invited people over for a meal and they came and ate with such enthusiasm that it made you feel that it was worth every bit of trouble you went to? What has happened to those days? I had a Thanksgiving dinner for 20 and I carried more than half the food off the table untouched. Nobody wanted any sweet potatoes (too fattening!) and all my lovely home-made rolls were passed up. Somebody gk-me if the peas had butter on them and only 5 out of 20 would even taste my pecan pie! Everybody is either on a diet or watching their cholesterol. It's no fun to cook any more. What's the answer?

DISAPPOINTED HOSTESS DEAR HOSTESS: Next time take the whole lot of 'em to a restaurant and let them order what they want.

DEAR ABBY: I just had a thirty-minute argument with a boy on the phone and hope that you can settle the question: When a boy talks to a girl, who is supposed to hang up first? I really don't think it makes much difference, but he says the girl is definitely supposed to hang up first. Is there any such rule?

DEAR FRIEND: As far as I know, there is no such rule, but it really doesn't make much difference as long as SOMEBODY hangs up after thirty minutes.

Jacoby On Bridge By Oswald Jacoby

One of the first things a budding bridge player learns is that even a fair five card suit is rebidable. Somewhere else in whatever bridge book he is studying there will be a statement along the lines that there is no reason to rebid a suit merely because it is rebidable.

Somewhat or other the student aridly learns the corollary and it may be years, perhaps forever, before bitter experience will teach this latter point to him.

South was right pleased with his 17 high card points, strong spade suit and generally good distribution. The fact that his partner was unkind enough to pass his one spade opener hardly dampened his ardor. True, a slam was unlikely, but in case East were moned bid on four to the king-jack? He decided on the spade rebid and was promptly doubled.

North had nowhere to go except home and he wished he had gone there before starting the rubber. South toyed with the idea of running to three diamonds, but that could and would have been a case of jumping right out of the frying pan into the fire.

West opened the six of hearts and when the stroke of battle had cleared away South had paid an 800-point penalty. Of course, it wasn't a total loss. Had South passed, as he should have, East might have played and made two hearts or East and West might actually have worked their way to a three no-trump game, which they would have made.

We The Women: By Ruth Millott

There's a lot of satisfaction and not too much drudgery in the job of homemaking for the woman who:

Is more concerned with creating a happy, pleasant home for her family and its friends than in gaining a reputation for being a perfect housekeeper.

Has managed to organize her household and gain the co-operation of her family in doing their share of the chores so that she never feels like a slave to a house.

Makes an occasional "day off" for herself an important part of her schedule.

Is always busy planning or working on some new project to make her house more comfortable, convenient, or attractive.

Isn't unhappy about things she would like for the house, but can't afford.

Takes small mishaps in stride instead of letting them upset her so much that she upsets the whole family.

Doesn't burden herself with the care and protection of a lot of useless objects.

Does whatever has to be done when it should be done, instead of dreading every hard chore.

Deeply enjoys entertaining friends and relatives and making them welcome.

Isn't thrown off base by a sudden change in plans or schedule.

Gets great satisfaction out of being at home to welcome her children when they return from school and her husband when he returns from work.

Is proud of being a housewife and would never think of apologizing to anyone for her chosen career by referring to herself as "just a housewife."

Archbishop Confirms Local Class

By Donna Estes

The Most Reverend Archbishop Joseph P. Hurley, bishop of St. Augustine, stressed the absolute necessity of unity in each parish in a talk before the first class to be confirmed in the Church of the Nativity, Lake Mary, during ceremonies held last Friday evening at the church.

He emphasized cooperation between the parishioners and their pastor and explained the importance of the laity in the propagation of the faith.

The Archbishop spoke particularly to the children concerning the spiritual value of the Sacrament of Confirmation and impressed upon them their role in society as members of the Catholic Church. Confirmation was conferred upon 60 children and recent adult converts with John Kennedy Jr., president of the Holy Name Society, serving as sponsor for the boys and Mrs. John MacFarlane, president of the Catholic Women's Club, as sponsor for the girls. Chaplains to the Archbishop were Rev. Ralph Kaiser and Rev. Angelo Libera. Master of ceremonies was Rev. Lawrence Cunningham. Also assisting at the ceremonies were Rev. Terrance Farrelly and Rev. Donald Noonan.

Troubleshooter Kennedy Off To Far East

Kennedy will confer with Indonesian President Sukarno in Tokyo on Thursday about Indonesia's dispute with the newly formed state of Malaysia.

The attorney general was scheduled to meet with President Johnson at 10:30 a.m. EST today for a last-minute briefing on his trip.

Sukarno's threats against the Malaysian Federation have stirred increasing tensions in Southeast Asia, and Johnson is under pressure from Congress to withdraw aid to Indonesia if Sukarno does not mend his ways.

The main purpose of Kennedy's mission apparently is to dissuade Sukarno from his announced intention to "crush" Malaysia.

Several weeks ago Johnson sent a special note to Sukarno expressing grave concern over the military buildup in the Malaysian crisis.

Kennedy met with Sukarno once before, in February 1962, as President Kennedy's personal emissary. The attorney general helped settle the Indonesians' territorial dispute with the Dutch over West Irian, a part of the old Netherlands New Guinea, and has been highly regarded by the Indonesians since then.

A Method Behind Goulart's Madness

NEW YORK — (NEA) — It costs Russia a million dollars a day to keep Fidel Castro in power in little Cuba. How could Nikita Khrushchev possibly maintain an outright Red regime in Brazil, South America's largest country with a population of some 80 million?

In some Latin American countries the Communists openly proclaim their aim to create Red dictatorships by means of violent revolution. But their strategy in Brazil is different. Brazil is like a gigantic suction pump in the heart of the Western Hemisphere. Khrushchev understands that a Brazil drifting through inflation, corruption and wildcat strikes can pull into its own chaos the rest of Latin America.

This also appears to be Goulart's policy. He must know that economic and political chaos is communism's best ally on the continent.

Much U. S. aid to Brazil is thus being frittered away. The regime's oil monopoly, Petrobras, has just been given the right to control oil imports into Brazil. Since Petrobras by Goulart's admission is dominated by the Communists, this means Russia will have a virtual oil monopoly in the country.

NEW YORK — (NEA) — President Johnson was poorly advised by his Latin American experts when he offered U. S. aid to solve Brazil's huge foreign debt problem.

Few governments in Latin America deserve U. S. help less than President Goulart's pro-Communist regime in Brazil.

"I believe our continued cooperation can make a vital contribution to the welfare of both our people," Johnson said in his message to Goulart.

What people?

Surely not Brazil's middle class, which is being crushed economically by a devastating inflation fostered by the government.

Not the millions of hungry workers and peasants whose substandard living conditions have declined drastically under Goulart's regime.

Certainly not the American taxpayers whose hundreds of millions of dollars in aid to Brazil have lined the pockets of corrupt politicians and fled demagogues.

Why should President Johnson bolster the prestige of the man who openly proclaims his hate for the United States and his ambition to subvert the Alliance for Progress?

"The United States must help Goulart solve Brazil's foreign debt problem or face a Communist revolution," a U. S. diplomat told this writer on a recent tour of Brazil.

What the State Department apparently fails to understand is that the Reds do not seek a revolution in Brazil. At this stage they want permanent inflation and a state of chaos that will bleed the United States while keeping Latin America unsettled and on the brink of revolution.

Italian Red Party Show Steady Loss

ROME (UPI)—Italy's Communist Party, which gained a million new votes in national elections last April, actually has been losing membership steadily over the past 10 years, according to a top Communist official.

Enrico Berlinguer, organizational secretary of the party, has compiled a report showing Communist membership down from 2,145,317 in 1954 to 1,614,880 in 1963—a 25.6 per cent drop.

The Italian Communist Party still is the largest in the western world and second outside the Iron curtain only to the Indonesian party.

But despite their huge vote gain last April, the Communists lost 10,000 members last year alone. Their membership is increasingly made up of retired people living on pensions, and less and less of young people and workers.

These facts put a new perspective on the political situation in Italy and would seem to back up what many observers have said about the Communist gain in the April, 1963, elections: that it was primarily a protest vote against the governing parties rather than a vote for the Communists.

The Communist vote skyrocketed from 6,700,000 in 1958 to 7,767,601 last April, giving the party 25.3 per cent of the total, the highest it has ever polled.

But contrasting with this, the Communists at the end of 1962 counted only 643,733 industrial workers among their membership, compared to 856,314 in 1954. This is all the more significant in view of the fact that Italy's industrial force has increased sharply during this same period. In 1964, one of every four industrial workers was a Communist; today, the ratio is one of eight.

Retired people, who were an insignificant fraction of the membership 10 years ago, now number 113,086, or 7 per cent of the party membership.

The crisis in the Italian Communist Youth Federation—composed of people below voting age—is even more dramatic than in the party itself. From a high of 430,908 members in 1954, the federation slipped to only 172,200 in 1963.

a 60 per cent decline.

Only in three categories—retired workers, domestic servants and farmers owning their land — has Communist membership increased in the last 10 years. It is down for industrial workers, farm workers, sharecroppers, small businessmen, professional people and teachers, technicians, students and housewives.

The biggest drop in Communist membership in a single year—210,000—occurred in 1957, right after the Hungarian revolution had been crushed by Soviet tanks. The 1957 total membership was 1,825,312.

The membership has continued to decline every year since then except for 1960 when it went up by 3,900.

The Delbarton Garden Club, in conjunction with Governor Farris Bryant's proclamation designating Jan. 12-18 as "Tree Planting Week," and with other garden clubs in the state, will participate in the program.

Accommodations Law Beaten

By United Press International

The university town of Chapel Hill, N. C., despite the threat of renewed civil rights demonstrations, refused Monday night to pass the South's first public accommodations law.

Instead, the town's board of aldermen voted 4-2 for a substitute motion that named a new committee to seek the voluntary lowering of racial barriers in still-segregated establishments.

James Farmer, national director of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE), had said earlier that Chapel Hill, site of the University of North Carolina, was "the key to the South and the nation." He warned that if a public accommodations law wasn't passed by the aldermen, anti-integration demonstrations would be resumed.

Aldermen Roland Guidez,

who voted for the substitute motion, said "I shall not be intimidated or pushed in any way by pressure tactics or civil disobedience demonstrations."

At Greensboro, N. C., Human Relations Committee Chairman W. O. Conrad urged citizens to patronize firms which have integrated their services and have hired qualified Negro employees. He said the failure of local authorities to act on integration was "inviting the federal government to pass laws on what we should be doing ourselves."

Elsewhere in the nation: Mobile, Ala.: The South-eastern regional director of the U. S. Civil Service Commission appointed a five-man committee to investigate federal agencies in south Alabama for possible discrimination against Negroes in hiring or promotions.

Richmond, Va.: The State Pupil Placement Board assigned 10 Negroes to predominantly white schools and approved the transfers of five Negroes from a white school to a Negro school because of changes of residence.

Bridges pleaded not guilty Monday in Volusia County court to charges of intoxication and resisting arrest. He is free under $335 bond.

DeBary BPW Has Program

The January meeting of the Delbarton Business and Professional Women's Club was held last Tuesday evening at the Delbarton Restaurant with Mrs. Bert Lederhaus presiding.

Guest speaker was Constable Oscar Papineau who spoke on the new and old traffic laws to be enforced. He pointed out that many of these minor infractions were the causes of accidents and urged all to read the list of regulations and obey the rules in an effort to cut down the Florida Road accident toll.

The next meeting of the club will be held at 7:30 p. m., Feb. 4, at the office of Dr. George Frison Sr. on Highway 17-92. Marie Accardi will be hostess and will present a program on membership.

Rattle Now Out Of 'Pogo Stick'

HOUSTON (UPI) — U. S. scientists and engineers have just about harnessed the "flying pogo-stick."

And the nation's astronauts should feel a little more comfortable and a lot safer when they take over the reins a year or so from now.

"Pogo-stick" was the dubious distinctive nickname dreamed up by an anonymous but imaginative critic for the Air Force's Titan-2 intercontinental ballistic missile (ICBM).

The tag was descriptive of the missile's tendency to vibrate from nose to nozzle at the rate of 11 times per second while flying through space.

One space agency official said the astronauts would be "shaken to the teeth" and "rattled to the eyeballs" by the intensity of the "pogo-stick vibrations."

The Air Force went to work to tone down the "pogo-stick" to what NASA considered a "tolerable level." Today, says Jerome B. Ham-mack, chief of the Gemini program's launch vehicle launch systems integration, "the Air Force is deserving of commendation" for the way in which the problem was attacked and controlled.

As a temporary solution, Air Force specialists rigged military test versions of the Titan-2 with accumulator-type devices and spring mechanisms in the propellant line and fuel pump areas of the booster, to absorb a lot of the intensity.

Two Titan-2 rockets flew from Cape Kennedy late last year with the "fixes." Information from both flights indicated "the values are within our allowances," said Ham-mack.

Seminole Rejects Orange Offer

SEMINOLE COUNTY'S "official family" for the next year was photographed Tuesday afternoon following the reorganization meeting of the County Commission. Commissioners are seated, from the left: John Alexander, Lee Gary, Chairman James P. Avery Jr., Gen. J. C. Hutchison and John Fitzpatrick. ### Avery Elected Chairman Of County Board

James P. Avery Jr. was elected chairman for the next year at the reorganizational meeting of the County Commission Tuesday afternoon. Gen. J. C. Hutchison was chosen vice chairman.

General Hutchison, in nominating Avery for the position, said he wanted to step down because of the pressure of business. John Alexander nominated General Hutchison as chairman.

The secret ballot resulted in a 2-2 tie, with one abstention. In a second ballot, Avery was elected by a vote of 3-2.

Members then chose themselves unanimously for judicial positions: John Fitzpatrick, courthouse and jail; Lee Gary, county health department, and Alexander, Osceola airport.

Alexander, pointing to the high traffic accident rate at the intersection of Onora Road and Highway 17-92, recommended the Commission request the State Road Department make a study for possible safety factors to alleviate the situation. The Commission concurred.

Bitter Cold Causes 140 Deaths In East

By United Press International Bitter cold nipped storm-weary Easterners today and sent temperatures tumbling below freezing across the Southland. The weather-connected death toll reached at least 140.

Subzero temperatures knifed into New England and near-zero readings were reported southward to the Carolina highlands. Florida citrus growers burned smudge pots and old tires to ward off the crop-cripping cold.

The mercury hovered one degree above freezing at Tampa, but dipped to 26 at Jacksonville, and 21 at New Orleans, La.

The same clear skies that kept temperatures crisp during the night were expected to help a warming trend later in the day, with some melting of the East's massive snow drifts predicted in sunny areas.

Most highways were clear but slippery through the Midwest and East. Some secondary roads were still treacherous and some streets in some of the nation's largest cities were still snow-clogged.

New Chairman Praises Work Of Hutchison

Following his election as chairman of the Seminole County Board of County Commissioners, James P. Avery Jr. this morning issued a statement. He succeeds Gen. J. C. Hutchison, who stated he was stepping down because of the "pressure of personal business."

"During the three years just passed, General Hutchison has well served the people of Seminole County as chairman of their Board of County Commissioners."

"The job was made doubly difficult by the recent rapid progress and growth that has been accomplished to such a degree it will set the standard of conduct of future boards for many years to come."

"His leadership, while of necessity being forceful, was never exercised without dignity, consideration and sincerity. His decision to serve the fourth year of his term of office on the board not as chairman was his and when made known caused a reaction from each and every member of the board of dismay and chagrin."

"Because his example of devotion to duty was so evident at all times, I could not refuse to accept when he asked to be allowed to submit my name in nomination. Even then agreement was reached only after he graciously consented to give me benefit of his experience by advising and guiding through those important situations which surely will rise this coming year."

Joint Site For University Unacceptable

By Julian Stenstrom Seminole County Commissioners Tuesday afternoon declined to enter into an agreement with Orange County Commissioners and jointly proposed a site for the proposed East Central Florida University to the Florida Board of Control.

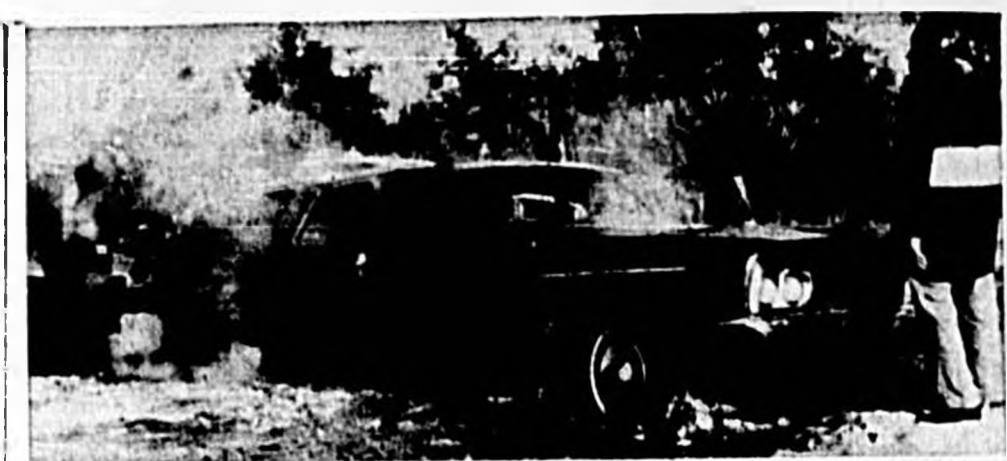

Members of the Seminole board, meeting jointly with members of the Sanford City Commission and the local site committee of the county's Chamber of Commerce, rejected the plan proposed by Orange County officials because it would lend no prestige to Seminole since by far the major portion of the site would be located in Orange.

Gen. J. C. Hutchison, who was chairman of the Seminole Board of County Commissioners, notified Commissioner F. B. Sarguine of the Orange County board that Seminole officials appreciated the offer by Orange County but it was the opinion of most of Seminole's civic leaders that it was imperative that the offer be declined.

In Orlando, Sarguine said that the Orange County Commissioners were not requesting Seminole officials to withdraw their other sites, and that the bid was made just to prove to the Board of Control that "we aren't falling over this competition."

The site proposed by Orange County is located only six miles east of Orlando's city limits and approximately two miles north of east SR 50 on the east side of the Alafaya Trail.

Sarguine is quoted as saying that "We will now have to pull the site away from the county line so that we can be sure of buffering the site with our own zoning."

EXPLODING CHEMICALS caused a fire which destroyed this $4,000 station wagon on Highway 46 just west of Paola. George Bennett Hammond, Eustie, jumped from the moving car when the chemicals he was carrying exploded. The blaze was extinguished by the Lake Mary Volunteer Fire Department. Trooper Tommy Tomlinson and Deputy Sheriff Charles Hogan investigated. (Herald Photo)

Cold Hits Vegetables But Citrus Is Spared

ROBERT E. LEE

New Director Of Sanford Atlantic Named

Shareholders of Sanford Atlantic National Bank, in an annual meeting, have elected Robert E. Lee, of Oviedo, as a new director.

Lee was born and reared in Oviedo. He is a graduate of the University of Florida, having earned a bachelor of science degree in animal husbandry. He served in the Navy during World War II, Lee is a rancher and is associated in business with his father, C. S. Lee. He is a member of the Methodist Church in Oviedo and has held many civic positions. He is past president of the County Farm Bureau, past president of the Seminole County Cattleman's Association, has served on the Seminole County Soil Conservation District Board, and was awarded the honor in 1960 of being selected the outstanding farmer in Seminole County.

Re-elected to the board were George A. Ortugas, chairman; Howard Hodges, Roy Mann, G. A. Speer Jr., H. B. Pope, Ira Southward, George D. Bishop, William Hemphill, Scott Burns and A. K. Shoemaker Jr.

Elected to the official position of auditor of the bank was DeWitt T. Mathews Jr., who has been with the bank for about a year. Mathews came to Sanford from Jacksonville, where he was in the auditing department of the Atlantic National Bank for three years.

LAKELAND (UPI) — The coldest weather since the coldest weather since the crop-killing 1962 freeze dealt a severe blow today to South Florida's multi-million dollar vegetable crop but the citrus industry escaped with light damage.

"An eight-hour siege of frost in South Florida caused severe damage to tender truck crops, subtropical fruit and ornamental plants," said the Dade County Agricultural Department.

All available agents were sent out into the fields to check frost damage to the tender tomatoes, beans, sugar cane and other crops which supply the nation's dinner tables during the winter.

Temperatures dropped into the 20's in South Florida and held there for more than eight hours early today, long enough to ruin crops despite exhaustive efforts at artificial heating.

Smoking heaters burned through the night over much of the state as growers fought the bitter cold.

"It's too early to tell much now until we have had a chance to inspect the fields," said a Dade County agent, "but it looks like damage will be extensive."

Florida Citrus Mutual officials said today that a shift of the wind to the northeast caused temperatures to begin to rise slightly. The wind shift was recorded at about midnight in Lake County, and at about 3 a. m. in Marion County.

Mutual reported considerable firing of furnaces in Lake and Marion counties, but spotty firing elsewhere in the citrus belt.

"In most instances, the temperature and durations, were not realized with the result being no measurable damage," said Mutual executive vice president Robert W. Rutledge.

Krider Talks About Canal

A general review of the progress and development of the proposed St. Johns-Indian River Canal was given today by John Krider, chairman of the Canal Authority, when he addressed a meeting of the Canal Authority of Florida in Orlando.

Krider discussed the beginning of efforts to create the authority, how it progressed through the Florida Legislature, and how the organization proceeded to reach its present stage of development.

Krider said that the group meeting in Orlando today gave consideration to other waterways which eventually could link Sanford with the Gulf Intracoastal Waterway which in 1962 handled more than 67 million tons of commodities.

A report issued by the American Waterways Operators, Inc., indicated that the Atlantic Intracoastal Waterway, during 1962, carried more than three million tons of freight.

Concert Tuesday At High School

Mutual Concert ticket holders were reminded today by Judge Vernon Mize, president of the organization, that the Columbia Boys Choir will present a concert at Seminole High School Tuesday night.

Mize said that membership tickets are transferable and members who cannot attend may permit another person to use the tickets.

Midshipmen at the Sanford Naval Academy will be special guests of the concert as well as Tuesday's program, the second in a series of three sponsored by the organization this season. Capt. John Williams accepted an invitation on behalf of the Academy.

It's A 'Hootenanny' In The White House

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A finger-snapping, foot-tapping "hootenanny" highlighted President and Mrs. Johnson's first formal state dinner Tuesday night at the White House.

The 72-year-old Segni, who speaks little English, seemed to enjoy the mixture. He was seen to tap his foot to the strains of "When the Saints Come Marching In" as performed by the New Christy Minstrels group.

The selections from Italian grand opera were chosen to please the Segnis. The Johnsons also included a number of well-known American of Italian descent among the 140 guests invited to the lavish dinner in the executive mansion's state dining room. Composer Gian-Carlo Menotti and former baseball great Joe Di Maggio were unable to attend because bad weather disrupted their travel plans. Present, however, were singer Tony Bennett, reporter magazine editor-publisher Max Ascoli, a number of congressmen of Italian descent and officials of several Italian-American publications.
