Sanford Pair Die In Crash

Funeral and burial services will be conducted in Stuart, Fla., for Mahlon H. Billingsley, 82, and his wife, Maudie C. Billingsley, 78, of 2428 Willow Avenue, killed Saturday in a two-vehicle collision in Alabama.

Mr. and Mrs. Billingsley were returning from a two-week visit at Long Beach, Calif. According to the Dothan (Ala.) Eagle this morning, the couple was proceeding south on U. S. Highway 231, about one mile south of Midland City when they turned left in front of a station wagon driven by Eugene C. Clouse Jr., 42, of Ozark.

MIAMI (AP) — With half the long Memorial Day weekend to go, the Florida Highway death toll stood at 17 — almost two-thirds the holiday total predicted by the Florida Highway Patrol.

Two Hurt In Mishap On SR 46

Seemingly in this morning's fog has been cited as the cause of an accident on SR 46, two miles west of Geneva, which saw two persons hospitalized at 6:50 a.m. today.

According to Florida Highway Patrol Trooper Robert Lowring, Charles Daniel Heller of Titusville was slowing to stop for a stopped school bus when the rear end of his vehicle was struck by the rear of a 1965 Buick Wildcat driven by Richard Garland Dunn of Rest Haven Road, Geneva.

Dunn was admitted to Seminole Memorial Hospital with head injuries. His brother, James Harmon Dunn, a student at Sanford Naval Academy was treated at the hospital and released. Surviving Mr. Billingsley are a brother and three sisters, Harry Billingsley, Miss Rosalee Billingsley and Mrs. Cleo Hinton, of Vidalia, and Mrs. Edith Krasbaum, of Miami.

Senate Set To OK Port Authority Bill

TALLAHASSEE (Sp.) — Seminole County Port Authority's prime legislative measure, now before the Senate local government committee, is expected to be reported favorably to the Senate as a whole and voted on this week.

Members of the Seminole-Orange legislative delegation were confident the Senate approval since the bill was approved by the House of Representatives last week.

The legislation would permit Seminole County Commission to allocate $50,000 of its racing tax funds to the Port Authority. The Port Authority, under a 1965 law, derives funds from a half-mill ad valorem tax but law does not permit it to pledge those moneys as collateral for loans, etc.

The "sneaking" of more track funds will permit the Port Authority to use this money as collateral for a $800,000 loan from Sanford industrialist Jess Paulnick.

'I Think He's Dead, Daddy'

Five-year-old David Picher of Loch Arbor will go home from Seminole Memorial Hospital today, from the worse for his close brush with death Saturday and with his parents thinking Dr. M. Arthur Nesmith is the greatest.

David, without his parents consent Saturday, went swimming in Lake Army and was found shortly afterwards, by Suzie Nesmith, 7, floating face down and apparently drowned.

The doctor responded immediately to his daughter's screams—"I think he's dead, Daddy"—applied heart massage and mouth to mouth resuscitation and brought young David back to life.

Dr. Nesmith and a neighbor, Al Wallace, took the boy on to the hospital working on the youth as they went along.

David is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Barton Picher of 422 West Crystal Drive, Loch Arbor.

Deltona, DeBary Days Called 'Success' Here

New customers were assured for Downtown Sanford as a result of the Deltona-DeBary Days held downtown this past weekend, according to Joe Garrett of Department Store and co-chairman of the Lucky Key promotion, sponsored by Downtown Sanford "We Care" merchants.

Officials of the promotion stated that they feel the objective of the idea was met in gaining new customers for Downtown Sanford by showing shoppers along the main ideas getting ready to leave on vacations and other happenings.

Circuit Bill 'Amended' To Death?

The House of Representatives Bill to combine Seminole, Orange and Osceola Counties into one judicial circuit may have been amended to death on the floor of the House Friday.

The measure (which at first had received approval local bar associations approved and in a switch then strong objection) was supported by the entire legislative delegation.

Through the action of the Brevard County delegation the bill was amended to place Seminole and Brevard in one circuit, Orange and Osceola in another and the remaining four counties — St. Lucie, Indian River, Martin and Okechobee — in still another circuit.

The amendment passed by one vote. It struck out provision for Seminole County to have an assistant state's attorney as originally provided.

The bill, as amended, was sent back to committee for reconsideration on motion by Rep. Henry Land.

The idea of Treasurer Christa with valuable prizes to holders of Lucky Keys was a new one for downtown, said Garrett and will bear repeating.

Memorial Rites Planned Here

Special Memorial Day Services have been planned in the area to recognize the sacrifice of the honored dead of the nation's wars.

Services will be held by Fleet Reserve Association Branch 147 at 10 a.m., Tuesday at the branch home on Seminole Boulevard at the lake front in Sanford and the public is invited.

A flag and flag pole given to the Evergreen Cemetery in Enterprise by Robert D. GIBB American Legion Post 259 of Delray will be dedicated at Memorial Day Services scheduled for 10 a.m. Flags will be placed on graves of the 12 veterans buried there, ranging from the Civil War to Korean War.

Rev. Michael J. Kippinbrook of All Saints Episcopal Church of Enterprise will be speaker and Post Chaplain Sidney Swales will give the invocation. A fitting song and buglers from the Sanford Naval Air Station will participate.

Over 200 persons attended the parade and Memorial Services held Sunday afternoon at Memorial Park in Casselberry with Kenneth Meyer, past commander of American Legion Sixth District, as principal speaker.

Dr. Luis Perez of Sanford and American Legion's Sixth District Committee member Robert C. Boyle were principal speakers at the Memorial Services sponsored by the Great Chuluota Community Club at the community recreational area Sunday afternoon.

5 GIs Killed FT. KNOX, Ky. (AP) — At least five soldiers were killed and 10 others were injured, two seriously, Sunday when two "Huey" helicopters crashed and burned.

Under this ruling, a juvenile's rights will be protected. Attorney Thomas Freeman said he might not otherwise receive. "If a 15-year-old man is entitled to counsel, imagine how much more a 15-year-old boy needs council. A bad experience in court could scar a boy for life," Freeman said.

Juvenile Judge Karlisle Housholder does not see the decision in the same light, however. "It will slow down the normal procedure in handling cases," the Judge stated. "So far as I know there is no provision in Florida state law to provide funds for it."

If an offender desires an attorney and can afford one, we always welcome an attorney in court," Judge Housholder said. "I am hamstrung to follow the decision. The only way would be to slow down the normal procedure in handling cases."

Milwee-A Job Well Done

All great and even ordinary people know what they contributed; or what they believed. They are known for their feelings, appreciations, purposes, intentions, motivations, loves, emotions, and beliefs.

But beyond all these, men are distinguished by what they have done and what they do. Action, most assuredly is a crucial test of man's worth.

The calendar months have accumulated into nearly 14 and one half years of outstanding service as Superintendent, by R. T. Milwee, to the parents, children, and teachers of Seminole County.

During this period of time Seminole County, under his effective leadership has emerged from a pupil enrollment of 5,000 to 17,000 and a total instructional force of 700. Since 1952, nine new school plants have been added to house the increased enrollment as well as numerous additions to existing facilities.

His tireless efforts were instrumental in securing Seminole Junior College, for the benefit of all residents of our county.

His leadership has been characterized by personal involvement in all phases of the educational program and community endeavors.

He has brought to the public school system of this county a long range program to fit the educational needs of all. We enjoy the benefits and approval of the State Department of Education and the valid recognition of a strong educational program, because of his unselfish desire to serve the people of this county.

The problems and challenges confronting him have been unpredictable and complex. At all times he has risen to the task with a solution in the best interest of all the people.

In his ever-changing and always demanding position, he has been a dynamic influence in civic community, and church affairs.

His capacity to feel deeply, to know thoroughly, and to act skillfully has brought a true balance in all phases of our county. If it is true that man is distinguished by what he has done, Supt. R. T. Milwee has added greatly to a distinguished educational career of service.

His shoes will be hard to fill.

Analysis Of The News

WASHINGTON (AP) — A couple of years ago a Texas Democrat, Rep. James C. Wright, told Congress probably every member of it has knowingly evaded the purpose of a federal law limiting election campaign expenses.

The law, passed in 1955, says no candidate for the House can spend more than $5,000 in his bid for election and no candidate for the Senate can spend more than $25,000.

But this limit applies only to spending by the candidates themselves. The law does not apply to committees set up to help them, and there is no limit on the number of such committees.

Although Wright made his statement two years ago, Congress was not sufficiently disturbed to do anything about it. The same rumor of protest has been going on for years. Nothing was done.

Last year President Johnson sent a special message to Congress, urging a number of reforms not only because of the loopholes in present law, but because these laws are ludicrously out of date.

For example, the cost of the presidential campaign has more than doubled in the past decade. The cost of the 1964 campaign was more than 25 percent higher than the one in 1950 and over 60 percent higher than in 1956.

But Congress practically ignored what Johnson suggested in 1960 except for a law it passed allowing a taxpayer to tell the government to take $1 from his income tax return as a campaign contribution. Now this year Congress is about to kill it.

Then Thursday Johnson sent a brand new message to Congress proposing a number of reforms. But it's pretty late in the 1967 session and Congress will probably do nothing this time, either.

In an example showing emphasis on the law putting a limit of $5,000 on how much a candidate for the House can spend personally, take the 1966 House race in Cincinnati between Bob Taft Jr., a Republican, and Rep. John J. Gilligan, a Democrat, who lost his seat in that contest to Taft.

The money spent in Taft's behalf was almost $169,000 and Gilligan's was at least $80,000. This was done through committees.

Wright said two years ago the high cost of campaigning is making it impossible for any but the wealthy — "or the willing wards of the wealthy" — to run for office.

Campaigning has changed — and the costs, too — thanks to radio, television and the airplane. In one way the voters have benefited by the technological advances, since they are better able to see and hear the candidates.

But Johnson warned Thursday that in another way they are being "harmful" to the public. Private wealth increasingly becomes an artificial and unrealistic arbiter of qualifications and the source of public leadership is thus severely "narrowed."

For example the present law limits to $5,000 the contribution anyone can make to a single candidate for federal office — including the presidency — and contributions to any national committee supporting a candidate.

But the law does not forbid an individual to make $5,000 contributions to any number of committees supporting a single candidate or party. And, again, there is no limit on the number of such committees.

In such a case Johnson suggests a $5,000 limit on the total amount that could come from any individual, his wife or minor children to a single candidate's campaign.

He also proposed — but this was only one of a number of proposals — to abolish the present arbitrary, and phony, limits on the total spending of a candidate for federal office.

Congress, however, will probably sit on its hands, feel disturbed, and do nothing.

Welcome Wagon Warns

Mrs. St. deVries, South Seminole Welcome Wagon hostess, told The Herald today she has received reports that unauthorized telephone solicitations are being made for magazine subscriptions in the county in the name of Welcome Wagon.

"Welcome Wagon has never sold and is not selling subscriptions of any kind," Mrs. deVries said. She urged anyone receiving such calls to report them to her or the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce immediately.

She said she would be glad to report them to the Chamber of Commerce immediately.

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Very shortly, a flock of "Romney-for-President" committees will start sprouting in mountain, midwestern and eastern states.

One already exists in Wisconsin, headed by Wilbur Henn, one GOP nominee for the U. S. Senate. Some Romney officials feel, however, that it was launched without sufficient fanfare.

The intent hereafter is to stage at least some of these things with a bit of drama. State committee organizers may journey to Romney's office in Lansing, get their pictures taken with the Michigan governor and declare lasting fealty.

All this comes under the Department of Keeping Up the Momentum. If the announcements are fairly well-spaced over the next six weeks, the governor's forces will suddenly find themselves operating in the brightly lit showcase at the next GOP governors' party in Jackson Hole, Wyo., June 29-30.

It is what comes after that may hurt Romney's agents.

Peter could understand world problems and the function of the United Nations when it was put in simple terms. But a lot of statesmen can't communicate even with adult voters, because they fail to use proper analogies and short words. So send for the advertising booklet below. It will also help clergymen and doctors, teachers and the U. N.

CASE, 5555, Peter, aged 6, is our daughter Judy's second oldest.

"Mamma," he inquired, "why do we send soldiers far away to Viet Nam to fight?"

"And are the Communists the bad guys?"

"STRAIGHT TALK" Judy first reminded Peter that the Communists include his people of various races.

"There are American Communists," she began, "as well as Cuban and Chinese and Russian Communists."

"So you must not imagine that any color or race of people are automatically Communists," but the Communists are bad. They kill and steal and shoot down children and mothers, as well as grown men."

"Yes, Mamma," Peter replied, "but why did we send our soldiers far away?"

"To which Judy replied as follows:

"Well, suppose some robbers broke into the house here at the end of our block and killed people."

"Would you call the police there or wait till they had broken into our own house?"

"Peter instantly said he'd call the police as soon as he knew they had attacked even the house at the far end of their block."

"To which Judy then replied that war soldiers are simply acting like world policemen, trying to help the little countries by moving the furniture around."

With spring comes a ritual that mama loves and papa hates — moving the furniture around.

Burey, 47, an interior designer, said his hitch involved the fact that his wife's father was a twin and that they had adopted twin sons, Dallas and Paul, now 4.

Pair Gambles $150 On Twins ... Win $2,000

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. — (AP) — For a $150 gamble, the Douglas Bureys now have $2,000 — but Mrs. Burey had to give birth far away to accomplish it.

The payoff was a check that arrived Thursday from Lloyd's of London, a firm that has a reputation for unusual insurance policies.

The money was earned May 15 when Mrs. Burey, 2, gave birth to Damon, a boy and Neighton, a girl.

The Bureys said they took out the insurance against twins because, as Mrs. Burey put it, "My husband is a bum and he likes to gamble."

Burey, 47, an interior designer, said his hitch involved the fact that his wife's father was a twin and that they had adopted twin sons, Dallas and Paul, now 4.

A woman rarely feels more nervous than when she is wearing a borrowed wig to a wedding.

An author may be a literary lion to the public, but to his publisher he more often seems an ungrateful, trained bear with bad manners.

When men through the ages have preached the advantages of moderation in living and the disadvantages of excess, but until a fellow has had a really rough hangover himself the virtues of sobriety are only hearsay.

Unless he is a schoolteacher or a copy editor, any guy who has to call attention to himself by using a ball point pen with red ink is in pretty pitiful shape. If he wants to show off, he could do much better by learning how to balance a paper clip upright on the tip of his nose.

Skiers' Snow Bonanza

PINKHAM NOTCH, N.H. — Thousands of skiers from the Northeast are schussing a late-season snow bonanza on Mt. Washington.

But the cold weather has been hard on the sun tanners and Tuckerman Ravine girl watchers.

At this season girls usually ski in shorts or swim suits in the vast 1,000-foot-high bowl. Sun reflecting from the glittering snow fields makes it warmer than a beach in midsummer.

With a cold wind blowing Sunday only pretty Joanne Couture, 16, of Montreal, tried a swim suit. After one chilly schuss she donned slacks and a sweater.

Unless it rains hot water, Tuesday should offer the best Memorial Day skiing in the 40 years in which records have been kept in Tuckerman Ravine.

Two feet of snow fell Friday atop a snow cover that has hardly melted on the high slopes since winter.

Snow is at least 25 feet deep in the floor of the ravine at tree line.

The ravine was closed briefly after the Friday storm because White Mountain National Forest rangers feared tons of new powder snow might cause an avalanche.

However, Bruce Ray, the chief snow ranger, reported that hurricane-force winds scooped most of the new powder off the face of the bowl, ending the avalanche danger.

Joe Dodge, veteran Appalachian Mountain Club hutmaster now retired in Conway, N.H., says, "There is more snow in the ravine today than any year on this date since 1926."

Bruce Slout, present club hutmaster adds, "If this weather holds, the June skiing should break all records."

Coach Payne — "21 Years of Service"

Gaither, Main Speaker At Lyman Sports Banquet

The Lyman High School Athletic Association held its Annual All Sports Banquet at the school cafeteria on Friday night with Florida A & M Football Coach A. S. (Ake) Gaither as its featured speaker.

Coach Gaither, who has coached six national Negro championship teams and sent 20 of his players on to pro ball, urged the Lyman sports fans to conserve our human resources, reminding them that "America's richest possessions are its young men."

Prior to Coach Gaither's inspiring talk, the Lyman coaching staff presented awards to various performers in the different sports.

Principal Carlton Henley introduced baseball coach, Jim Payne, recognizing his 21 years of service to the school and the fact that his baseball team won the first Orange Belt Conference Championship this season.

Coach Payne presented the most valuable player award to John Tiptle, who led the team in 10 of 23 vital offensive departments this season. Coach Payne then presented the awards as Outstanding Pitcher to Charlie Newell, who had a 1-2 record with two no hitters and three shut-outs this spring.

Both boys have received scholarships to Seminole Junior College.

In the absence of track coach, Jerry Smith, Vice Principal and Athletic Director Richard Silvers presented the Most Valuable Track Award to Junior half miler Ed Davidson, who was one of two Lyman boys to participate in the state meet.

Head Football Coach Richard Cole presented the Coach Fitcher-Cockrell named player award to Alan Clark as his most valuable performer.

Clark was the low man for Lyman in all but one game this year and played in the Citrus

Copeland then presented the most improved awards, stating that last fall's team was the "finest group of young state athletes that he ever had."

Junior End Bruce Stuart received the most improved award. Stuart led the Hounds in pass receiving and was named to the Orange All-Conference team.

Outstanding Back was Paul Lambert, who was team captain for the Greysouths in both his junior and senior years and was named three times to all OBC teams. This past fall, Lambert was the leading rusher in the OBC rolling up 814 yards in nine games.

Outstanding lineman was Danny Overton, who was named to the honorable mention All State team and also was lineman of the year in Seminole County. Overton has received a football scholarship to Austin Peay State College in Tennessee.

Junior Varsity basketball coach Tom Barnes then presented the annual JV award to Bobby Owens, who came off the bench in the second half of the season to spark the Greysouths to a 14-8 record.

Head Basketball Coach Murray Arnold presented the Most Valuable Player award to Junior guard and forward Mike Hargis, who was All OBC and All County while averaging 18.4 points per game.

Coach Arnold praised a "truly dedicated effort by senior Lesay West while presenting him the Most Improved of the Lyman Athletic Boosters, presented by the Bill Prector Scholastic Award to Darrell All-gier, Bobby Eldridge and Paul Lambert.

Jones Aims For 2nd Victory

Yanks Hopeful In Speed Classic

AMONG THE FAVORITES in the Indianapolis 500 auto race Memorial Day are, left to right, Mario Andretti, Dan Gurney and Parnelli Jones. Andretti starts from the "pole" after a qualifying speed of almost 160 m.p.h., while Gurney will be right alongside him at the green flag and Jones will pilot unique turbine-powered car from the second row.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Parnelli Jones, the American auto race driver, who has watched a Scotsman and an Englishman wheel into the Indianapolis 500 Memorial Day race for two straight years, has sound hopes of ending the trend Tuesday in the 300-mile Memorial Day race.

Italian-born but thoroughly Americanized Mario Andretti, Nazareth, Pa., will start from the No. 1 position and Gurney, No. 1 on his car. He earned the number 1 separately, the pole start with a record 168.962 mph in a Gerhardt-Ford.

Although Jones' qualifying speed earned him only a second place in the event if his on-row start, he had been tabbing an ailing gear box on the 10-mile trial run. After a new transmission was built by an Indianapolis firm special-izing in helicopter gears, Jones showed in practice he could pass anybody in the field.

Jones, 1963 winner, will share the second row with A. J. Foyt Jr. of Houston, Tex., the 1962 and 1964 winner, and Foyt's teammate, former motorcycle champion Joe Leonard, San Jose, Calif., in Foyt-designed Coyote Fords.

The third row lineup will be Lloyd Ruby, Wichita Falls, Tex., who was winning the '66 race until his engine failed, and brothers Bobby and Al Unser of a famous Albuquerque, N.M., racing family.

Mechanical troubles and late qualifications left the five foreign starters far back in the field. Jim Clark of Scotland, 1965 winner, will start 16th; Denis Hulme of New Zealand, 1964 winner, will start 17th; Jackie Stewart of Scotland, 1966 winner, will start 18th; and Graham Hill of England, 1961, and Jochen Rindt of Austria, 1962.

Seminole's Seniors Sting Varsity 19-6

The annual spring frolic between Seminole High School's departing seniors and the 1967 varsity football squad produced a number of important points at Sanford's Municipal Stadium on Friday night.

First of all, graduating seniors learned their lessons well in demonstrating their football prowess and defeating the eleventh graders and next year's varsity gridiron unit, 19 to 6.

However, and this is the primary reason for the tilt, it gave the Fighting Seminoles' Head Mentor Ralph Stumpf the opportunity of evaluating next year's crop. "The Seniors played the kind of game we expected, with Whigham directing the running and aerial bombardment," said Stumpf.

"I'm more than pleased with the way our boys handled themselves, especially so in the second half when they played the seniors on even ground. The defensive play of Mike Long and Stuart Cleveland was outstanding, all night long," added Stumpf.

The potential of next year's team looks good with the balance of alternating quarterbacks Skipper Sembrick and Bobby Lundquist and the backfield running of Billy Braken, Mett Morgan and John Neuman.

On the line, Jim Hemphill and Barney Hendrick provide ample experience and beef to form the nucleus of a strong football process and defeat the eleventh graders and next year's varsity gridiron unit, 19 to 6.

As far as Stumpf is concerned, "many other high school coaches, his main concern is his lack of depth. An example of this problem was fullback Neuman's injury in the second quarter requiring the Seminoles to operate with three halfbacks in the backfield.

"I think that we'll get by the time our fall season gets underway and that there'll be a number of additional recruits out for the team in the fall. It made all of us feel good when the seniors agreed that they had trouble following the ball in the second half, proving that with less than three weeks of practice together as a unit, next year's team does have the potential of being a good team," concluded Stumpf.

Oviedo Shifts Harper to QB?

The Orange team edged out the White team at the annual intersquad game to climax spring training at Oviedo Friday night. Fullback Joe Patton hit paydirt late in the final quarter for the only TD of the game. Since Harper rounded the end for the Orange squad for the added point of the 7-0 victory.

Friday night brought many surprises for the Oviedo fans. Simon Harper made his premier performance in the quarterback slot. Harper had played halfback all during the regular season play this past year. Joe Patton made a surprising switch from the line to the backfield during spring training. Patton had filled one of the tackle positions this past season. His hefty 190 pounds put added weight in the line backfield.

Junior Tommy Moon and Jerry Pressley made their debuts on the gridiron Friday

Church Softball League Has New Leaders

The long reigning softball dynasty came to an abrupt end for the All Souls team in the Sanford Church Softball League as they dropped their play-off tilt with First Baptist 16 to 7.

Both teams finished with a 10-2 regular season record requiring the special game which featured Otto Thomas as the winning pitcher, who also made some fine fielding plays from the mound.

Leading the First Baptist hitters were Skipper Sembrick and Bobby Lundquist, who combined for three hits each. Bobby Lundquist, who also made some fine fielding plays from the mound.

Swim Team Shines

The winners collected 18 base knocks to top the All Souls team, four of those by Rick Gleason and Lawrence Pi-vec with two hits each.

In the American Little Major League, the league leading Florida State Bank team to a 1-2 triumph over Goodyear.

The bankmen had only four hits in scoring these 22 runs by George Pivce, Danny Robertson, Steve Parrish and Gary Pruitt. Jerry Farrell with two hits and Joe Payton with a double led the Goodyear team.

In other action, Sanford Atlantic defeated George's 4 to 2 to remain only one game out of first place as Willie Wall pitched a double and Wayne Russell had two first place ribbons.

Directed by volunteer coach Burtie Coffee, the local swimmers competed in the Knights of Columbus meet against other schools from the area who had teams in the event for the past five years, featuring many A.A.U. members on their teams.

"Considering that our boys and girls are mostly without prior tournament experience and that they've only started to train a little more than five weeks ago, I think that they did remarkably well," said Coach Coffee.

Seventh grader Lee Putnam brought the large local "floating section" to its feet when during the final ten yards of the 50 yard free style, he came from behind and won the event with a time of 30.4.

Pat Killeine of the eighth grade swam his best time in the 50 Breaststroke and won first place with a time of 37.8. Killeine also did well in the 50 Butterfly, placing third with a time of 36.7.

Mrs. Coffee stated that the team will be treated to a picnic at Silver Lake next as their reward for the fine showing made at the meet and for their perseverance in being members of the first year's squads.

The girls' team placed sixth in their overall events while the boys' squad came in fourth.

Indians Whitewash Longwood

Amazing Terry Baker continued his fabulous pitching in the Seminole Senior League this weekend, firing a one hitter as his Casseberry Indians whitewashed Longwood 6-0 and remained unbeaten in the league standings on Saturday night at Cooper Field in Casseberry.

Baker, who is just 14 years old, has won four games with-out a loss, while hurling 36 innings and allowing only two unearned runs. He handicapped the Braves without a hit until the sixth inning Saturday when Larry Chantun rapped a single, Chantun was later erased in a double play and Baker faced a minimum of 21 batters in the seven inning game.

Charlie Mathews struck three singles and Jim Lura and Steve North lined two more for Coach Ed Dowell's hard hitting Indians, who are making a shambles of the Senior League team.

The Altamonte Twins and Casseberry Indians continued their battle for supremacy in the Major League. Coach Paul Brannon's Twins blanked Sunland 6-0 on Friday night as Bobby Stockman hurled a sparkling three hitter. Eddie Nuss rapped a pair of singles for the league leading twins.

Casseberry, which trails in the standings by one and a half games, scored two runs in the seventh inning on Saturday night to edge Longwood 5-3. Larry Brown was the winning hurler for the Indians challenging up 14 strikeouts in six innings of mound work. Lee Cote came in on the seventh and struck out the side for Casseberry to get the save. Carl Wahlitz paced the Indians with a single and a double, while Doug Sturgill had a pair of singles for Longwood.

Third place Lake Mary tripped up North Orlando 8-0 on Saturday morning, with Bob Bordeaux hurling a one hitter. A single by Bobby Sharp in the fourth inning was the only North Orlando hit. Power hitting Ricky NeSmith belted a home run and a pair of singles, while teammate Mike Dell laced two singles and a double.

In the other Senior League play over the weekend, the Altamonte Twins moved out of the cellar, whipping Sunland 11-2 behind the three hit pitching of Paul Crouse. Bobby NeSmith led the Twins at the plate with three singles.

Also in Senior League play, North Orlando edged Lake Mary 6-5 on Saturday afternoon with Billy Elder the winning pitcher. Mike Ridd and John Durham had two singles apiece for Lake Mary.

Torre On Hit Spree Thanks To Lasagna

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS — Ah, the wonders of a properly prepared lasagna.

Popeye relies on spinach but lasagna does the trick for Joe Torre, Atlanta's Brooklyn-born catcher.

One Torre gets a taste of the real thing, he's tough to contain. He went on a six-for-seven tear Sunday that helped the Braves gain a split of their doubleheader at New York. The Mets took the opener 6-3 but Atlanta captured the nightcap 7-3.

The lasagna didn't do much for his slumping teammates, who had managed just five runs in four games before Sunday, but it certainly straightened out Torre.

He smashed a bases-empty home run and two other hits in the first game but couldn't overcome four hits and five runs against Tommy Davis as the Mets won their third straight.

"Yes," he admitted, "my mother made some lasagna last night. I had a couple of the boys over and we had a good time."

MIGHTY WAVES

Ocean waves possess incredible power. They can wash out steel breakwaters as if they were built of sand and can hurl rocks weighing many tons onto the tops of cliffs more than 100 feet high.

English Mariner Ends Solo World Trip

PLYMOUTH, England (AP) — Sir Francis Chichester, the ancient mariner of the new Elizabethan age, settled down today to enjoying "some of the delights of shore life."
Behind him was an epic 28,500-mile, single-handed circumnavigation of the globe in his 36-foot yacht Gipsy Moth IV. For the 167 days of the outward voyage to Sydney, Australia, and the 119 days of the return voyage around Cape Horn, he was alone with the sea and the sky.
But the 65-year-old seaman said as he stepped ashore Sunday night that he was looking forward to some peace and quiet.
"Although you would think after four months I would have had enough peace and quiet," he said with a grin from under his blue yachting cap. "I'm looking forward to getting ashore and facing some of the delights of shore life."
High on the list, he said, was "the best dinner, by the best chef, in the best surroundings and the best company—after four months of my own cooking."
"There are so many things but that is one thing I am quite certain about," he added.
He spent his first night ashore in a second-floor bedroom of a four-story, white Georgian mansion within sound of the sea. From his bedroom he looked down on a statue of Sir Francis Drake, the first Englishman to sail around the world. He sailed from Plymouth in 1577, during the reign of Queen Elizabeth I.
Elizabeth II sent Chichester a "welcome home" cable which his wife delivered when she and their son Giles, 20, joined him aboard the Gipsy Moth at the entrance to Plymouth Sound.
An armada of small boats scurried around Gipsy Moth Cannon in the citadel fort crashed out a 10-gun salute. Big ships tooted their sirens. Motorists blew their horns.
Some 250,000 spectators cheered, shouted, whistled and sang "For He's a Jolly Good fellow."

'Glades Fires Blot Out Sun

MIAMI (AP) — Smoke from Everglades muck fires blotted out the sun much of Florida's southeastern coast early today and was so thick at Cocoa Beach that workers en route to the moonport were delayed in a gigantic traffic tie-up.
No one was injured in the huge jam but police said 14 cars were involved in a chain reaction collision at the junction of U. S. 1 and the causeway leading to Cocoa Beach.
Visibility was restricted by smoke to five miles for aircraft but was much less on the ground in many areas.
"The Weather Bureau at Miami said a ridge of high pressure hovering over Florida's eastern half is holding the smoke. "The high pressure ridge acts like a box," said a Weather Bureau spokesman, "the smoke goes up to about 6,000 feet and bounces back down."

Plan A New And Different Shower

The traditional wedding anniversary shower has evolved into the "no surprise" party and secrecy has become an open list which only by-passes the conventions of first year paper gifts, fifth year wood, etc. All rules are off at the "no surprise" party except to select gifts from a specially compiled list. Started in a small way several years ago by daughters of wealthy socially, professionally and politically prominent families, the party concept is so sound that it is not surprising it has grown into a trend. It eliminates the embarrassment of useless gifts or substitute gifts which the honoree gets early needs or wants to fit into her home decor. This party has the ingredients for success - built-in from the very start. As hostess, step one is to alert the guest of honor that a party for her is in the making. Now together you decide on a mutually convenient date to hold it, make a guest list of her intimate friends, decide the things she would most like to receive at her shower for married life. Make Gift List Since the gift opening is the high spot of the shower, assure your gift for her is the most the hostess is a gem in her eyes by making a list of suggested items.

1) Your honor guest's assistance, itemize the silver, china and crystal she needs to complete her set. Opposite each, note the store where obtainable. 2) Plan a shopping trip together. Have her show you specific items she would like to have. In regard to linen, make detailed notes as to sizes of tables, beds, color preferences in curtains and bedspreads. Does she like linen monogrammed or prefer printed? 3) Of what stuff is her dream kitchen made? Does she yearn for gleaming copper utensils or France's fire proof porcelain? See the electrical appliances she admires. 4) If you have been casting about for an idea for your hostess gift, introduce the subject of kitchen flooring. Show her samples of popularly priced asphalt tile, for example, with its lovely textured look. Be sure to show her samples of granite tiles. 5) Make copy lists of items covering a wide price range to enclose with each invitation. A postscript to this list informs guests you are acting as "gift coordinator." Enclose a copy of the list with each party invitation. Be sure your listed items cover a wide price range, so freedom in choosing a gift guaranteed to please. A postscript to this list would inform all that you are acting as "gift coordinator" and would like to register the selection of any listed item where duplication would be questionable before the purchase is made.

Medical News

One of the 1969 consequences of establishing a successful family planning clinic is that the plague of illegal abortions drops sharply. This observation was made by Dr. Donald P. Swartz, director of obstetrics and gynecology at New York's Harlem Hospital and Samuel M. Washik, professor of maternal and child health and associate dean of the Graduate School of Public Health at the University of Pittsburgh. Dr. Swartz reported that illegal abortions have dropped by 50 percent in the last four years since a family planning clinic was established in 1962. Dr. Washik said that various sections of this country and abroad show there is a steady drop in abortion if contraceptive devices are readily available. When women are given a choice of contraceptives, and when cost is no barrier, about 60 percent of them select the pill, Dr. Swartz said. Next in popularity by far is the intra-uterine device (IUD), chosen by 30 percent. The physicians made these observations at a recent meeting here of the American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists.

Engagement Testing Time - Designed To Be Broken

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — A broken engagement is an emotional tragedy for most young couples. But even more tragic, according to clergymen, marriage counselors, sociologists and young people themselves, is a marriage based on appreciation and misunderstanding. "I think you lose the value of an engagement if you don't break it," said Dr. Daniel N. Wiener. "Then it has no use at all." Looking at the engagement as a time for couples to test their abilities to get along and also as an announcement of their marriage, Dr. Wiener said couples should make sure that their engagement is a test period.

As a marriage counselor and a psychologist, Dr. Wiener believes that couples could set certain rules for each other that "somewhat imitate the marriage relationship—like not dating anyone else, and planning finances." Engagement apprehensions should be discussed immediately, he said, otherwise they reappear in the marriage and may become more serious. "Some times I get bridal gitters," said Judy Blachowski, 21, a newly engaged girl. "I start thinking that I am going to be with this person for the rest of my life—maybe he's not the right one." These thoughts occurred soon after she received her engagement ring, said Miss Blachowski. They were fairly common ones, however, that she believed most girls know.

Other, more serious, things which engaged girls thought might lead to a broken engagement were continued fighting and a lack of communication. "I think it's bad if a couple can't talk things over," said Alice Zimmerman. "It's bad if they're always picking at each other. I think it's hard if your ideas are really different—about furniture, for instance." "An engagement is a real time of stress. The girl is much more interested in the wedding than the boy . . . that's all she's thinking about. The guy might be thinking about his job and school."

According to David Torbett, instructor in the family studies department at the University of Minnesota, there are several things a young couple should be thinking about during their engagement. "The couple must learn to communicate effectively," he said. "For an engaged couple, this is perhaps the time to get down their facts. They must learn about what it costs to run a home—do pay for insurance and utilities. Twenty-one or two is about the average age for marriage now, and many couples are limited in this sort of experience." But even more tragic, according to clergymen, marriage counselors, sociologists and young people themselves, is a marriage based on appreciation and misunderstanding. "I think you lose the value of an engagement if you don't break it," said Dr. Daniel N. Wiener. "Then it has no use at all." Looking at the engagement as a time for couples to test their abilities to get along and also as an announcement of their marriage, Dr. Wiener said couples should make sure that their engagement is a test period.

Premarital sex, Torbett said, is no more common than in previous times, but he thought young couples are discussing it more often. "They're going down the sexual trail," he said. "But if they are in love, it will be very difficult not to respond." "If young people didn't want to make love most of the time during the period of their engagement," says Amy Vandervell in her "New Complete Book of Etiquette," "it wouldn't seem normal." "Everyone around them is conscious of how they feel and, up to a certain point, touched by their ecstasy. But if this joy becomes too tactile, onlookers are visibly embarrassed."

Miss Vandervell stresses that "engagements were made to be broken. If more engagements were honestly viewed before marriages are entered into there would be far fewer divorces." "If a girl decides to break her engagement she returns the man's ring," Miss Vandervell says. "Although legally it is hers to keep—a gesture that would certainly be considered mercenary . . . Gifts that she may have received from friends are returned to them with tactful notes of explanation . . ." Sometimes a prolonged engagement—a year or two—can be harmful for a couple, said Dr. Wiener. "I think it's a stall—a way of avoiding a decision. My impression is that engagements are less formal, less long, and less likely to be broken, because they don't see any advantage to it. They can do anything they want to do during their relationship without an engagement."

Miss Blachowski, however, thought a long engagement gave couples a chance to do more thinking, instead of thinking too soon about planning a wedding. "I think a lot of girls think that once their engagement is in

Teague First Choice -- Keeth

Patrolman politics may determine who will be Seminole County's next superintendent of schools, succeeding R. T. Milwee, resigned.

Seminole County's five-man School Board is divided 3-2, three Democrats and two Republicans, but it was learned today, it agreed on the submission of the names of two Democrats as No. 1 and No. 2 choices in recommendation to Republican Gov. Claude Kirk for appointment of Milwee's successor.

Seminole-Orange legislative delegation in split 9-2, nine Republicans and two Democrats, and according to reports from Tallahassee favor the appointment of a Republican to the school post. It is said, the GOP Governor would like to name a Republican to the job, if there is a qualified Republican educator in Seminole County.

Douglas Stratton, School Board attorney, said today after a request by The Sanford Herald . . . he could find no specific requirement in the law that the Governor must appoint a resident of the county as school superintendent. He added the Florida statutes do provide the office of school superintendent is declared vacant if the elected incumbent removes from the county.

Stratton also said the attorney general in 1964 returned an opinion there is no constitutional or statutory requirement an appointed superintendent must be a qualified elector of a county.

The board attorney said, however, in his opinion the Governor must appoint a qualified elector as school superintendent because the law requires that a candidate for the office must be a qualified elector of the county.

The School Board has agreed to submit the name of Walter Teague to fill Milwee's unexpired term as school superintendent, The Herald learned today.

Teague, last week, said he didn't want the job. However, he apparently may change his mind and will make his decision tomorrow.

The House already has approved the measure, which would permit the Seminole County Commission to transfer $20,000 in race track tax receipts to the Port Authority.

The Senate appropriations committee Monday approved a capital outlay bill of $10.6 million for school construction, including $12.3 million for Seminole Technical University at Oviedo, $1.9 million for Seminole Junior College and $28,260 for Seminole Vocational-Technical School.

The Senate appropriations committee Monday approved a bill to vote on Seminole County Port Authority's principal legislative measure, according to Sen. Robert E. (R. - Windermere), chairman of the Seminole-Orange legislative delegation.

AL KEETH

Milwee submitted his letter of resignation to the Governor Friday. It contained just one sentence: "I herewith tender my resignation as superintendent of public instruction of Seminole County effective June 30, 1967."

Keeth said today the board would, of course, want a Seminole County man to fill the post. "But, you never know what the Governor might do," Keeth added the board was unanimous in its choice of Teague.

Teague is presently administrative assistant and served in that post for the past 14 years.

Dinner Honoring Milwee Scheduled Here June 6

A testimonial dinner to honor or Supt. of Schools R. T. Milwee will be held at the Civic Center June 6 at 7 p.m. John Angel, co-chairman of the event reported today.

Milwee, after some 15 years as a superintendent of schools, is to be succeeded by Walter Teague, who will assume his post June 30.

Angel said the public is invited to attend and reservations can be made by calling him at the school (828-8808) or at home, (322-3351).

The deadline for reservations is 10 a.m. next Monday.

'Supreme Self Sacrifice' ... Did Not Die In Vain'

GLENN FRIDDLE

By DONNA ESTES

O, say does that Star Spangled Banner yet wave, O'er the Land of the Free and the Home of the Brave? Two of Seminole County's finest young men made the supreme sacrifice in the Vietnam War to "protect all of you at home," their relatives told The Herald today in personal interviews.

The military life, however, backlogged and soon after graduation from The Citadel, he entered the service.

As a captain in the elite Green Berets, he distinguished himself time and again with heroic actions. He particularly stressed in letters to his mother, his affection for the Vietnamese people and his strong belief in the righteousness of Americans fighting for the freedom of others.

"These people need our help," he wrote. "They are so pitiful and have so little in the way of material things. They are good people."

He was killed in October, 1962 of severe burns and injuries received when the helicopter in which he was flying was on a reconnaissance mission.

Glenn Friddle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Friddle of Lakewood, was a mild-mannered and quiet boy. His neighbors often smiled when they saw him preparing to leave, very often, on one of his hunting jaunts with his faithful dog, Trouble, and his trusty shotgun.

Glenn, too, admired the military and his favorite hobby other than hunting was his love of history and sketches and paintings of the Civil War. He was quite a talented youth and his paintings show inspiration and character.

It was a surprise to his friends when he announced in June of 1962, soon after graduation from Lyman High School, that he had enlisted in the Army, not the glorious Air Force or Navy, but the Army.

"The Army is where the real fighting men are—in the infantry, that is where I want to serve," he was often heard to say.

Today his parents are in Georgia deprecating his grave in the Arlington of the South, Marietta National Cemetery.

He died while leading his men to battle on Aug. 9, 1966. He was awarded the Bronze Star posthumously.

Sanford GI Killed In Viet Battle

As the nation began to observe a "holiday" dedicated to America's fallen war heroes a Sanford family mourned their son who fell in hand to hand combat with the Viet Cong near Saigon.

PFC Shelton Morgan, 19 year old infantryman attached to the 22d Infantry is the 11th Seminole Countyman to give his life in Vietnam.

Son of Mrs. Rutha Morgan, 126 Anselmy Ave., and Malmes Morgan, employee of the City of Sanford, young Morgan was born in Sanford and attended Brown's High School in Sanford, Fla. He left for Fort Benning last October, coming home on leave for Christmas holidays before reporting to Fort Polk, La.

The family has been notified that their son will be flown home this week to Williams Grove, Md. for interment in Rostown Cemetery.

Two Sanford Teens Jailed

Two Sanford teenagers are in jail today on three charges and $2,600 bond after they are accused of spraying homes in Midway with chemical fire extinguisher.

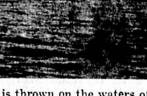

The two, Richard Bowes, 823 Park Ave., 15, and Daryl G. McLain, 19, of 708 Elm, were arrested early this morning by police officers Lt. Edward Hayden and Patrolman Charles Tate.

They are charged with disturbing private property and possession of stolen goods.

Memorial Wreath is Thrown on the Waters of Lake Monroe by John Hamilton, (left), branch chaplain of Fleet Reserve and Vern Feddersen, director, at Memorial Day Services held this morning by Fleet Reserve Association Branch 147.

One guy got a chocolate cake from home . . . It took about 18 days . . . You can imagine what the cake looked like when it got to Korea . . . On the package it said "handle with care, perishable." The guy who got the package was from Topeka, Kan. He never opened it. He just carried it with him all of a time. He was a funny sort of a guy who was always talking about his mother. He was killed six days later. Among his effects was the unopened cake. Nobody knew what to do about it. . . . When I think about war I remember that beat-up package from Topeka, Kan. . . . unopened . . . with the words "handle with care, perishable," on the yellow wrapping . . . It was enough to make a guy sick.

Two Sanford Teens Jailed

The soldiers waited to move up to the front. They had studied stud poker and "craps." You played with Korean money or U. S. script. You gambled recklessly . . . What difference did it make when you might die in a matter of a few hours. One guy lost $50 in 20 minutes . . . He didn't say a word. Just got up and went back to his outfit. He was killed by a sniper four days later . . . I had $14 of that guy's money and promised myself I would never spend it . . . I forgot all about it when we hit Seoul.

Sometimes at night you didn't realize it was war. It was the same night over Brooklyn, N. Y., or Sanford, Fla. There wasn't much difference except the smell.

You try to write a letter telling them at home what happens when the first guy drops . . . you know everybody feels sick, or when they throw in a few grenades and the sky goes . . . You try to tell them about the cold . . . and water up to your waist . . . and the bugs crawling . . . I mean what the good . . . I mean a lot of people don't know. Never will know. They don't want to know.

Peaky the Goose, Bumpo action, bubble gum blowing and were hottest all have parts in the play-time activities scheduled for the 1967 Summer Session of the Sanford Recreation Department.

Since Sanford boys and girls of all ages are invited to participate in the summer session of events started for June 5 through July 21, it follows that Peaky will find many new friends who are willing to claim a goose as a pal.

According to Jim Jernigan, Department director, Peaky took up abode on the spacious grounds of the Civic Center area, following visitors to the locality in a toe-to-toe fashion, ignoring the shooing he (7) hears while soliciting friends.

Hobo Day, Tuesday, June 20, is on the calendar of events for the Elementary "Planned and Supervised" comprehensive playground activity, while Bumpo is the newest craze in games found in the new Youth Wing of the rec center where many of the Teen Center activities will take place.

Blowing bubbles from gum will be a contest for Sanford children six to 12 years of age on Tuesday, June 12, and past experience has shown that bubbles have a sneaky way of going up . . . all over a young face. And even that is part of the fun, the small contestants agree.

Jernigan outlined the Summer Vacation period as an opportunity for residents of the City of Sanford to learn as they play.

A seven-week session has been programmed for various age groups.

The Elementary program line will feature swimming, games, athletic contests, music, arts and crafts, dance instruction and a variety of other activities and events.

The program will operate out of Civic Center daily, Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 12 Noon. It will be under adult leadership and supervision.

Mrs. Sue Torres, a Seminole County public school teacher, will make this her seventh year as Senior Playground Supervisor.

Assistant supervisor, Mrs. Mary Hobert, is returning for her seventh year, also, having been associated with the rec program during her college days and continuing after she returned to teach in the county's public schools.

For the Teen Division of the summer session the special activities will include tennis, horseback riding, ceramics, dancing, sailing, Civic Center activities, chair classes for teen girls, youth dances and patio parties. All activities are open to Junior high ages and above.

Parents interested in having their children enroll in the session should contact the Civic Center this week. The program (Continued on Page 10)
