Johnson Resolution Before Senate Today

President Coolidge Reiterates Faith in Hughes' Stand That U. S. Is Not Involved

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—In no degree dissuaded from their purpose by emphatically stated confidence of administration in effect of Paris reparations agreement, senate irreconcilables went ahead Wednesday with plans to press an acute inquiry into the whole subject at meeting of the senate foreign relations committee.

Secretary Hughes was called upon Wednesday by the senate for a copy of the Paris reparations agreement together with such information concerning the circumstances surrounding negotiations "as may be necessary to full understanding of its terms." A resolution of inquiry by Senator Johnson, Republican, of California, on senate irreconcilables was adopted without discussion.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—The administration reinforced its support of the Paris reparations agreement Tuesday while the senate irreconcilables were broadening their plans for a thorough examination of the settlement and the circumstances surrounding it.

A White House pronouncement not only affirmed President Coolidge's confidence in the settlement but also stated that nothing had taken place in Paris to involve the United States in the affairs of Europe, but added that reports to the contrary could be dismissed as unimportant gossip.

The irreconcilable senators added nothing to their previous expressions of skepticism on that point, but they considered seriously a proposal to extend the terms of a pending resolution of inquiry so as to ask not only for a copy of the Paris agreement but for a statement also of the considerations which led to its signature by the American delegates. The resolution, proposed by Senator Johnson, Republican, of California, is to come up in the foreign relations committee Wednesday and its supporters expect it to be adopted without delay.

Johnson Resolution

Should the Johnson resolution in its expanded form eventually receive the approval of the senate itself, it would provide a vehicle for a direct exchange of opinions between the administration and opposition senators, and in the belief of some senate leaders might culminate in the dying days of the short session.

Sanford Kiwanians Commemorate 10th Club Anniversary

With approximately 30 members present, the Sanford Kiwanis club celebrated Wednesday afternoon at the Montezuma hotel the tenth anniversary of the founding of the order. The chief speakers of the occasion were Dr. E. D. Brownlee, president and T. L. Dumas, past president of the local club.

Dr. Brownlee spoke upon the meaning of Anniversary Week which is being observed by Kiwanis clubs throughout the country. The objects of Kiwanis, as emphasized by the speaker are to give first place to the human and spiritual values of life rather than the material. He declared that the object of the club was to encourage daily living of the Golden Rule in all human relationships and to develop intelligent and aggressive citizenship.

The speaker summed up the ideals of the organization as the creating and maintaining of a sound public opinion and high idealism that will make possible an increase of righteousness, justice, patriotism and good will.

The objects of the club to be sought during the present year were outlined as a program in behalf of the underprivileged child; to stimulate and add to civic interest and to direct Kiwanis influence in affairs of public interest and to promote closer relations between the farmer and the city man.

Visitors introduced to the club were Russell Wilson, Philadelphia; Charles C. Kunz, Philadelphia; Frank Griffin, Detroit, and Mr. and Mrs. and Mrs. J. B. Nixon and their daughter Lois.

Members present were: Rev. E. D. Brownlee, R. H. Berg, L. C. Debut, C. A. Byrd, B. D. Caswell, T. L. Dumas, A. C. Fort, J. C. Hutchinson, J. H. Jackson, E. F. Lane, W. T. Langley, T. W. Lawton, S. M. SENATE WRITES FINIS IN NAVAL OIL LEASE CASE

Majority Report of Committee Investigating Teapot Dome Leases, Accepted and Matter Becomes a Closed Chapter

Only Brief Debate On Subject Is Held

Senator Walsh Attacks Report of Minority Group Proclaiming It Tissue of Half-Truths

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—The senate has written its final word in the checked and memorable history of its naval oil lease inquiry by approving after discussion, proposal by contrast the majority report of its investigating committee, sharply criticizing leases and certain official acts connected with them.

The report, submitted in the closing minutes of the session by Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, prosecutor for the committee, was approved by a vote of 40 to 30 after the senate had rejected, 42 to 28, a minority report presented by Spencer of Missouri, on behalf of himself and four other Republicans of the committee.

Action came after comparatively brief debate on a subject which occupied much of the attention of the senate at the last session and led to institution of the pending leases of the naval oil reserves granted to Edward L. Doheny and Harry Sinclair by Albert B. Fall, as secretary of the interior.

The minority report, which defended the principle of the leasing of naval oil reserves and held Edward L. Doheny and Harry Sinclair and his assistants blameless in connection with the leases, drew support from only Republicans. The Democrats voted solidly for the Walsh report and were joined by six Republicans and one Farmer-Labor, Shipstead of Minnesota.

Calling up the majority report, Senator Walsh declared the minority report "a tissue of half truths, misrepresentations and arguments characterized by the most partisan bias." Senator Spencer, in reply, said in connection with the oil leases, "was a biased, unfair report in many particulars."

Senator Walsh disagreed with the minority that the majority had held Mr. Doheny and his assistants blameless in connection with the leases. In that connection, Senator Bruce, Democrat, Maryland, who supported the Walsh report, asserted he did not consider this report an imputation upon the honorable discharge of his duties by Mr. Doheny, whose retirement as secretary of the navy came during the inquiry and after the senate formally had requested the president to demand his resignation.

This drew a declaration from Senator Hefflin, Democrat, Alabama, that he considered Mr. Doheny "equally as guilty as Albert B. Fall" in connection with the oil leases. He added that in his belief, Doheny and Sinclair had paid from $1,000,000 to $2,000,000 for the leases which they had obtained from the interior department during Fall's administration as secretary.

Spencer Offers Substitute
Senator Spencer, in offering a substitute motion for the adoption of the minority report, declared there was much in the majority findings with which he and some of the Republicans on the committee agreed, but that this report contained statements which were unfounded and criticisms of government departments "which are unwarranted."

Progress Being Made In Erection Of Model Home For Display In Sanford

With virtually all of the interior plastering finished, Sanford contractors are rushing in every way practicable the work on the model home. The home, when completed and furnished, is to be placed on display for 30 days after which it will be sold. The home is located in Pine Heights, in a section destined, it is said to become one of Sanford's most desirable residential districts.

Already the building is taking on the appearance of a home. Exterior plastering, which is stucco, has already been applied. There remains installation of windows, laying floors and completing parts of the plumbing and wiring systems yet to be done. The roof, which is of composite material, tinted red, provides a pleasing contrast with gray surface of the wall finish.

When completed the dwelling will present a pleasing adoption of the Spanish type of architecture. Its appearance, however, is not to be attractive from the outside alone.

It is so arranged that it will be well lighted by natural means which automatically includes excellent ventilation through the arrangement of giving each room in the house exposure in three directions.

Every effort that is compatible with moderate cost will be made to add to the comfort of the building. Furniture will be selected both for utility and beauty while the various fixtures are to be placed at points of greatest convenience.

People of Sanford are watching with unusual interest the progress of construction and it is expected that an almost continuous stream of visitors will pass through the building after it is thrown open for inspection.

BREAKDOWN OF OPIUM PARLEY NEAR AT HAND

Serious Situation Has Arisen at International Gathering of Delegates at Geneva

Cecil Opposed To U. S. Suggestions

Impossible To Place Limit Upon Opium Smoking in the East

GENEVA, Jan. 21.—So serious a situation developed Tuesday at the International Opium conference that many of the delegates after adjournment Tuesday night frankly voiced the opinion Wednesday that a complete breakdown Wednesday was a possibility.

Viscount Cecil, of Chelwood, the chief British representative, who is leading the fight against the American proposals, said tersely: "Things are critical." He added that he expected to be the first speaker at Wednesday's session and that he would oppose the American suggestion for the suppression of opium smoking in the Far East within 15 years, because he was convinced the adoption of such a plan would mean only decaying the world.

Viscount Cecil declared it was impossible to inaugurate any fixed limit for the abolition of opium smoking because of the heavy smuggling in the Far East, asserting that in any event the present conference was not authorized to take up the problem of opium smoking, which belonged in the agenda of the earlier conferences, which was confined to countries having Far Eastern possessions.

Ireland Hills Britain

A clash at the forenoon session of the conference between G. Porter, head of the American delegation and Viscount Cecil was followed in the afternoon by Ireland breaking away from the British lead and striking a blow at British hegemony over her dominions and commonwealth. Michael MacWhite, the Irish free state envoy at Geneva, came out flatly for the American project and flayed the convention drawn up by the first opium conference, saying it neither laid a tribute on the altar of ideals nor adversely affected the material advantages which many of the interested powers derive from opium traffic. That was why, Mr. MacWhite declared, he deemed his duty to support the American proposal for practical measures gradually to suppress opium traffic.

After praising the example set by Japan for the abolition of opium smoking, Mr. MacWhite demanded that the doors be thrown wide open for discussion of all aspects of the opium evil and insisted some of the delegations were under the impression that something was being kept in the dark and that efforts were being made to thwart free and wholesome discussions.

Another Dramatic Feature

Another dramatic feature was the address of Dr. Alfred Sze the Chinese delegate who warned the so-called "opium bloc" powers that China had awakened and that it the powers failed to subordinate their interests to the common interests, and did not cease to exploit the Chinese and the Far East they would be held responsible not only by the world as a whole, but in particular by 400,000,000 Chinese. Dr. Sze predicted that if the powers refused to act, the Orient would be swept by a tidal wave of moral indignation which would have repercussions on the economic and political structure of the entire world.

The clash between Mr. Porter and Viscount Cecil started when Mr. Porter indignantly repudiated accusations made by Viscount Cecil Monday that the American people were using more opium and narcotic drugs than the people of India, which is a great opium-producing country and where the opium is eaten by the natives. He declared Viscount Cecil's charge false and characterized it as a vile slander upon the people of the United States. The British representative withdrew his charge with an apology for having made it, but he was so affected by Mr. Porter's speech that he wanted to go back to England immediately. Fellow delegates, however, succeeded in calming him.

Pickpocket Steals Woman Cops Purse

It's a dirty, lowdown pickpocket that will stoop to steal the pocket puff, lip-stick and badge of a lady cop. But just this happened to the woman police officer of the Capitol Theatre, New York. Yetta Jacobs, the police-woman, had been detailed to the Capitol to keep an eye on "dips," the technical word for the light fingered gentry who make a living picking pockets.

One afternoon Miss Jacobs thought she would sit down and give the movie the once-over. The celluloid drama was a full of heart throbs as a Missouri found dog is full of fleas. In an unguarded moment she placed her hand-bag on an adjoining seat and kept her eyes glued on the silver sheet. This unguarded moment cost Miss Jacobs $12, her badge, powder-puff, lip-stick, pass on the B. M. T. and the Third Avenue Railroad and a monthly ticket to Rockville Centre, Long Island. "Who ever finds any or all of this plunder will reap a sweet kiss," says the lady cop of the Capitol.

New Theft Records Are Set By Clerks During Past Year

Clerks who stole from their employers during 1924 went on rampages that set new records in defalcations and embezzlements, judging by annual figures made public by the American Surety Company. Not only did the number of defaulting employees increase ten per cent but in amounts stolen the business crooks made away with thirty seven per cent more than before.

There is but one class of employe in which a new record for honesty was made—that of public officials, among whom there were fewer defaults than during the previous year. In almost every other type of business the shortcomings of the defaulter were increasing.

More dishonesty among those entrusted with private funds as administrators or trustees, more burglaries and huge increases in forgeries were noted through the year.

"Dishonesty among employes is not the kind of criminal conduct that can be designated a crime wave, even though it assumes large proportions," says F. W. Laurentz, president of the American Surety Company. "There are forces constantly at work in the lives of employes which lead to the first dishonest act. Countless numbers of embezzlers have indicated during the past year that the first stolen dollars were but "a loan from the cash account," but too many such loans were made before long the amount became too big to repay.

Danger From Flood In Several States Appears To Be Past

(Continued from page 1.) dated by flood waters of the Savannah. At Augusta, Ga., the Savannah reached a stage of thirty-five feet, ten inches and still was rising. South Carolina officials issued a warning to tourists to avoid unnecessary travel over flooded roads. Traffic on the Central and Southern highways of the state was at a standstill. Florida-bound tourists were reported held up by high water in Alabama, Georgia and South Carolina.

Property Loss Heavy

No official estimate of property and crop damage in Georgia and Alabama, the two states bearing the brunt of the flood, could be obtained. The loss, however, was said to be heavy. Dispatches from Birmingham said the property loss would go into the thousands of dollars.

Predictions of colder weather by Tuesday and the end perhaps of the downpour of rain brought some assurance to Alabama that the crest of the flood soon would be reached. The Alabama river reached a stage between fifty-three and fifty-four feet at Selma and thousands of acres of lowlands were flooded. At Montgomery the river was 17 feet above flood stage and the city was fearing a recurrence of the 1919 flood when the gas and light plants were thrown out of commission.

Fair Weather Predicted

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—Coming in the nick of time, fair weather was predicted today and tomorrow. All southern states recently menaced by floor says a weather bureau report issued Tuesday morning. JACKSONVILLE, Jan. 20.—Not enough attention is being given to the children by the churches, according to Roy O. Wyland, director of the bureau of church relations, Boy Scouts of America. In an address before the Kiwanis club here he quoted statistics, the accuracy of which he would not comment upon, to the effect that 98 per cent of the money spent by churches for equipment is for adult equipment, and two percent for the kids." Teaching boys "that good little boys go to Heaven is all right," Mr. Wyland said, "but you have to interest a growing boy, a bundle of nerves and activity to keep his mind on the subject."

SPECIALIST URGES DESTRUCTION OF THRIP BREEDERS

Special Effort Should Be Made To Clear Out Weeds Before Citrus Trees Blossom to Prevent Infection

GAINESVILLE, Jan. 21—As the time for the blossoming of citrus trees approaches, it is important that the grower free his grove of thrip-harboring weeds. If he has not done so already, such weeds are mostly those with large blossoms which are attractive to thrips.

The white blossomed needle, or sticks light, so common in the groves of the southern part of the state, is one of the most important winter hosts of thrips. This often grows along the banks of ditches and other out of the way places not usually reached by the cultivator. Such places should be mowed. H. Watson, entomologist of the Florida Experiment Station, says that the blossoms of this plant will harbor as many thrips as will orange blossoms, and if allowed to blossom all winter will breed innumerable thrips to spread to the citrus blossoms as soon as they open.

The presence of these weeds in a grove, Professor Watson advises, "always leads to a heavy infestation of thrips. Indeed, experience during the last two seasons has shown that it is useless to spray for thrips as long as these weeds remain in the grove. Mowing the weeds is a much cheaper and more effective method of dealing with an infestation of thrips. They often invade a grove in which there are no weeds. But the presence of weeds with attractive blossoms is sure to result in heavy infestations. Destroy the weeds in mid-winter so that the infestation of thrips will have time to die out before the blossoms open."

"The winged adults will fly away as soon as the blossoms wilt but the wingless young cannot fly and will remain on what whatever vegetation they can find until their wings grow out, a period of three or four weeks. Therefore, it is important that the weeds be cut at least a month before the citrus trees bloom."

Efforts will be made to secure settlers for approximately 5,000,000 acres of farming land by the Northeastern Oklahoma Chamber of Commerce, with headquarters at Tulsa.

Poultry Embargo Effect Entries In Volusia County Fair

DELAND, Jan. 21—The embargo on importation of poultry recently put into effect in Florida will in no way detract from the quality or quantity of fowls on display at the second Annual Volusia county fair in this city Jan. 27 to 31, inclusive, according to an announcement made by the management of this department of the county fair, as many of the entries offered the Volusia fair from other states had already arrived before the embargo was declared.

This year's benching facilities of the show have been doubled, yet the management has found it necessary to turn away a large number of fowls offered in competition due to lack of space.

In addition to the standard bred varieties found on poultry farms of Florida, the display will include such rare birds as Yokohama fowl of Japan, odd in its appearance because of its long tail; Lakenvelders of Netherlands, with black head and tail and white body; golden and silver campines of Belgium; La Fleche of France; several varieties black Polish, bearded golden Polish, white Polish and non bearded silver Polish; and a number of Silkies, a Japanese fowl with quill-less feathers and black faces. These birds attracted more than ordinary attention at the fair last year.

Bantam fanciers will enjoy viewing one of the largest collections of little fowls ever on exhibition, among them the birds of one of the biggest exhibitors of bantams in America, including Orientals, game, ornamental and American breeds.

A special feature of the poultry show will be the extensive exhibit of water fowls, including Emden geese, Toulouse geese, brown Chinese geese, white China geese, gray African geese, a rare pair of Egyptian geese, Rouen ducks, white and black Muscovy ducks, penciled, fawn and white and fairy white Indian Runner ducks, wildwood ducks, wild Mallards, crested white ducks, English call ducks, East India, Mandarin, Blue Swedish and Cayuga ducks.

Scholarly Quiet Of Oxford Broken

OXFORD, England, Jan. 21.—An entire block in the center of Oxford, comprising some 40 old buildings, is to be sold by the city within the next six months. Several hundred years ago the city bought this strip of waste land lying outside the walls and along the horsemarket, for a mere song. Now the leases are at an end, and the freehold is extremely valuable. A portion already has been sold to a concern operating a cheap arcade and another sale to a garage company is under way.

As the block extends nearly the whole length of the Broad and back to Ship Street, the university, and especially Balliol, Trinity, Exeter and Jesus colleges, are greatly concerned. The introduction of large shops and garages in this area would mar one of the finest streets left in Oxford, and add to the noise and traffic problems as well.

The university and the colleges concerned are too poor to buy the block, no attempt is being made to have it purchased by wealthy subscribers for university purposes. In the meantime the city is going on with the sale. Now that the colleges have taken to purchasing their supplies from wholesalers outside Oxford, there is no love lost between the university and city authorities.

Feathered Here Of Verdun "Goes West"

TOURS, France, Jan. 21.—A hero of the war, cited in a number of the army and decorated for exceptional bravery and gallantry at Verdun has just died of old age. He was ten years old.

His name was Carrier Pigeon No. 183-11AF and attached to one of his legs he proudly wore a ring, equivalent to the Medaille Militaire, awarded to him in June, 1916, with the following citation:

"On three different occasions, during the battle of Verdun, under heavy fire ensured the rapid transport of very important messages. In particular carried to headquarters the communications of Major Raynal, defender of Fort Vaux, on June 3, 1916, at a time when the major's troops, completely surrounded, were deprived of any other means of communications. The flights were done under most unfavorable atmospheric conditions."

Since the Armistice the pigeon had been kept as an honored guest in the army dovescotes.

5 records in 6 weeks!

Mt. Wilson!

A stock Cleveland Six made this famous 9 1/2 mile California climb in 24 minutes 47.04 seconds—reducing the previous record by more than a minute and capturing the coveted Los Angeles Evening Express Trophy.

and Mt. Diablo!

A second new power and performance record was hung up when a stock Cleveland Six hurled to the top of Mt. Diablo—covering the tortuous 11.6 mile roadway in 22 minutes 36.3-3 seconds.

and Mt. Baldy!

With gears locked in high, a stock Cleveland Six reached the summit of Mt. Baldy in 14 minutes 31.3-5 seconds. By this unexampled feat of high gear power and flexibility, more than 2 minutes were slashed from the existing record and the Pomona (Cal.) Bulletin Trophy was won.

and Frisco to Portland Run!

Driven through blinding storms, a Cleveland Six sedan traveled between San Francisco and Portland, Oregon in 21 hours and 29 minutes. This new road record lowered by more than 4 hours the schedule of the crack Shasta Limited, famous Pacific Coast flyer between these cities.

and 1000 Miles in 848 Minutes!

On the Culver City (Cal.) Speedway a stock Cleveland Six averaged over 70 miles an hour for 14 continuous hours without mechanical adjustments or even tire trouble. Never has any stock car given a more brilliant exhibition of speed and ability to withstand terrific punishment.

BY establishing five sensational new performance records in six weeks, the Cleveland Six demonstrated qualities of power, speed, stamina and roadability that have no parallel in motor-om today!

Each in itself a feat of heroic proportions, the five records as a group constitute the most impressive proof of engineering and manufacturing greatness hitherto presented to the motor-ing public!

Its Greatest Values Cannot Be Copied

The Chassis is Patented

As its Coach Body changed the whole trend to closed cars, so the Essex Chassis likewise forecasts the mechanical design of the future.

Essex provides stability without unnecessary weight. It has economy without sacrifice of performance.

It is low priced without disappointment in looks or reliability.

It is more than up-to-date in design. It is in advance of any car with which its price can be compared.

In quality Hudson and Essex are alike. The patents which make the Super-Six the most enduring, smoothest motor and give it all advantages sought in eight cylinders, prevent any from copying its chassis as has been so generally done in copying the Coach body.

TIION Golf Teams Meet D BY Friday In Match BERS For Silver Trophy

At the meeting Friday night R. Dean, president of the club, extended a special welcome to the ladies present and urged them to co-operate in every way possible in the promotion of the Sanford Golf Club. W. D. Clark, who conducted what has been frequently called "the best golf course in Florida" was present and spoke on the importance of local people playing golf and the benefits derived therefrom.

Frank MacNeill, secretary and treasurer of the club, and chairman of the committee on professional matches, reported that an effort is underway to secure professional international matches in Sanford. He assured the club that George Duncan and Abe Mitchell might be brought here during the latter part of February for a very nominal fee.

BIG CIRCULATION IS REPORTED BY SANFORD LIBRARY

The annual conference of the Florida Library association was held in St. Petersburg in April, at which the Sanford librarian conducted a round table on library methods. Efforts are being made to organize a State Library Commission, which is a forward movement in the development of library work in the state.

"On July 1, the City commissioners appropriated $3,000 for the maintenance of the library. This does not include janitor service, lights, heat, insurance or repairs. A financial report will be made at the end of the fiscal year, June 30. Prior to this appropriation the library received a monthly allowance, which was audited each month by the city auditor, L. R. Phillips.

"The Sanford Herald has extended courtesies in giving us regular newspaper publicity, which has also been furnished us by the Sanford Signal. Reviews and lists of books, various announcements and new items have constantly appeared, and the annual report has been published in full. These notices are all kept in the library scrap book as a record for future use. The Milane and Princess theatres have also, at our request shown free slides, advertising and library. This publicity is of great value to our work and is highly appreciated.

"A large number of books and magazines have been donated by interested members. A valuable wall clock was given by the Idlers Club, and two handsome sets of andirons by Mrs. A. E. Hill and Mr. S. D. Chase. A number of ladies have contributed their time and talent in maintaining the story hours, and others have been interested in beautifying the grounds with shrubs and plants and paid for, and 8 were not returned, in most cases by parties who had left town. 31 messenger calls were made to recover overdue books. A large number of books were mended and 33 were rebound. Instead of a rent collection, a two-day shelf was started for recent fiction and has proved successful.

The Sanford Herald and Sanford Signal have donated their papers for our files, and the Southern Utilities made no charge for the water used last year. The schools, Womans' club and individual members have also co-operated in various ways, to all of whom sincere thanks are extended.

"Two assistants at half time each have been appointed, Mrs. F. P. Rines and Mrs. T. O. Owen. Miss Martha Fox gave several months assistance last winter and unable to accept an appointment late. Mrs. Whitner Jr., has been assisting temporarily.

"Needs of Library.
"The library needs a larger appropriation in order to effectively carry on its work. More books should be added to every department, including reference books and magazines, and a larger number should be sent to the binder's for rebinding books of a permanent value. The staff should also be increased to two assistants at full time each.

"The American Library association is making a survey of library conditions throughout the country, in order to determine the methods used, salaries paid, state library laws in force, and all other matters pertaining to library administration. A questionnaire of 4,000 questions has been sent to every librarian for full information, the aim being to further standardize library work and increase its usefulness in every phase of library service.

"The librarian wishes to thank the Board of Trustees for the cordial support and interest they have shown, also Mr. W. B. Williams, the city manager for his valued co-operation, and the staff for the assistance they have rendered.

Respectfully submitted,
Anne Van Ness Brown,
Librarian.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

BETTER THAN SILVER AND GOLD—Godliness with contentment is great gain. For we brought nothing into this world, and it is certain we can carry nothing out.

THEN YOU WILL BE A MAN

When the cards are stacked against you And you go in and win; When you cast "blunder" from your work And feel at ease within;

MULTITUDES HAVE FOUND THEIR HAPPINESS

In a harmless hobby. In noble friendships. In regular healthful recreation. In mental development.

Exercise and Brain Fag

Nearly everyone knows what it means to be just "dog tired", and to sense the almost impossibility of "making the grade" to the bedroom. It is not the healthy weariness which comes from cutting trees in a lumber camp, or pulling stroke oar on the varsity crew.

Lawyers, doctors, business men, clerks, and stenographers, are in large degree sufferers of "brain fag". They spend their days, and long days too, at their desks forcing extreme mental concentration upon some important task at hand.

With such people the only remedy is exercise, that is, premeditated, calculated exercise. On a cold morning it requires considerable will power to jump out of bed and go through with Walter Camp's Daily Dozen before breakfast.

HELENA LORENZ WILLIAMS

Helena Lorenz Williams has prepared an article for the Brooklyn Chamber of Commerce in which she says: "Mental fatigue, is the commonest malady of our day. It is probably caused by the congestion of the blood vessels at the base of the brain, and is the result of overconcentration, worry or other mental strain."

How often do you find a sufferer of "brain fag" who fails absolutely to realize just what is the matter with him. He may have headaches, insomnia, or a peculiar tired feeling throughout his whole body, which he may blame malaria or some equally innocent disease germ for when in reality his trouble is nothing but the manifestation of too much mental work and too little physical work.

IT SEEMS TO BE ABSOLUTELY SETTLED

IT SEEMS TO BE ABSOLUTELY settled that the people are not to be allowed to operate their own power plant on which they have spent $140,000,000 of public money. That being the case, Henry Ford ought to come back to the fight. The House undoubtedly will vote to let him have Muscle Shoals.

TELL THEM THE IMPORTANCE OF SAVING

How many of Sanford's High School boys and girls have savings account in the local banks? How many have been taught the value of the savings habit, or have been shown the monetary results of compounded interest?

This is a lesson which not only should be inculcated into young people in their own homes but also should be an important part of any high school curriculum. Nearly every boy is able to earn a few dollars a week outside of his school hours; nearly every girl is able to save something out of her allowance.

SHIPPING FRUITS WITHOUT ICE

The matter of refrigeration in shipping tropical fruits has been accepted generally as being the only means by which such fruits could reach the northern markets in edible condition.

PROFANITY

The trouble with profanity, de-working room, the shop, on the chere a writer, is not so much that train or in the hotel. The old sin is plain wicked as that it is just loon was one environment in which plain dirty. And that is about all swearing fitted best.

As Brisbane Sees It

Italy is All Right. Please, Mr. Ford. Japanese Skill. Three Killed at Once. BY ARTHUR BRISBANE (Copyright 1924)

RECENT AND unnecessarily alarming news from Italy has disturbed Italy's friends in this country and, what is more serious, it had, for a while, a bad effect upon Italian exchange.

It is a pleasure to announce that Italian currency recovered notably yesterday, and it is a duty to warn any gambler inclined to sell Italian exchange short that he is certain to be badly pinched before he finishes with that experiment.

YOU MUST take with many grain of salt alarmist reports from Italy. Travelers may proceed to Italy as usual and find the usual warm Italian welcome, comfortable and delightful living at very reasonable prices, and as great safety for themselves and their families as an Italian family would find here in the United States.

THE SENATE, after floundering passes the Underwood Muscle Shoals Bill which would give gigantic public property to private corporations to be exploited on the usual basis of taking the last dollar that the traffic will bear.

THE COLLEGE MAN AND THE WORLD

OUR GOVERNMENT

OUR GOVERNMENT says the financial arrangement in Paris, too deep for the average man, will give to the United States its fair share of the German money, and at the same time will net us up in any way or make us responsible for German payments or anything else.

THAT'S GOOD NEWS

THAT'S GOOD news and let us hope there is no "IF" in it. The Europeans are clever gentlemen and their intense satisfaction with the settlement might make suspicious minds uneasy.

THIRTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

THIRTY-FIVE years ago Ogden Mills, very rich, built the Mills Building in Wall Street, New York, ten stories high. It was considered a marvelous structure. Now the Equitable Trust Company will tear it down and build a 34-story building in its place to cost $12,000,000.

THERE IS NOTHING UNUSUAL

THERE IS nothing unusual about a thirty-four-story building. The interesting thing is the Equitable lease on the new building, which runs well into the next century.

LONG BEFORE THE LEASE ENDS

LONG before the lease ends the new building will be torn down. By that time the flying machine will have replaced the suburban train and all buildings will be done over to meet flying machine conditions.

"How cooked can a modern business man be and still be straight?" This question was propounded at a college dinner in New York by a young lawyer, who, in behalf of the recent graduates of an Eastern university, had been asked to give utterance to some of the first impressions of a young alumnus upon his entrance into the life of the world.

The question awakens the inquiry as to whether the colleges of America are today sending into the world trained leaders or subservient followers whether graduates enter their special careers with a real message and mission, or whether or not, however, optimistically they may begin their work their high purposes are buried beneath the rush of practical and material affairs.

More than half a million students are today studying in our secondary schools and institutions of higher learning, with a money expense to the nation involving many millions of dollars. Ten of thousands of teachers and trained educators are devoting years of hard and faithful service in preparing these American youths for life. Are these students, after graduation, assuming real leadership? Are they contributing vision, judgment, and guidance in the great national enterprises sufficiently definite and valuable to compensate the country for the sacrifices in time, money, and life that are made for the support and continuance of our educational institutions?

There seems to be a difference of opinion concerning this subject even in these times of vast educational enterprises. A business man of high repute wrote recently as follows:

"Do not consider that our colleges are meeting the obligation you must know that the most conspicuously successful people in business were conspicuously poor at the start, both financially and educationally. Grover Cleveland, who was not a college graduate once said that the perpetuity of our institutions and the public welfare depended upon the simple business-like arrangement of the affairs of the Government."

This is the frequently expressed opinion of men of business and affairs, who present the successful careers of self-made men as an argument against collegiate education. This argument, however, fails to take into account that the same dogged persistence which has brought success to many of our present-day leaders in industrial and national life would have lost nothing in efficiency by college training.

Ask these masters of the business world who have risen by their individual force what they most regret in life. In nine cases out of ten, the answer will be, "The lack of an opportunity for education." And they will usually add: "But my sons shall have an education. They shall not be handicapped as I have been."

For the practical proof of the genuineness of this feeling, one has simply to read over the names in the catalogues of the great universities and colleges of America, where the names of the sons of virtually all the great business and professional men will be found.

While, therefore, we must take it for granted that Americans generally believe in a collegiate education, we may still question whether the colleges are really equipped for leadership the young men who they are sending into our modern life. What, after all, do the colleges give? Out of one hundred graduates asked what they had gained in college, twenty-one said "Broader views of life," or perspective.

Long ago John Ruskin said that the greatest thing a human being can do in the world is to see something, and then go and tell what he has seen in a plain way. To make the undergraduate see something beyond the commonplace is still the purpose of education. This enlarged vision is often the salvation of the individual student. It furnishes the impulse of a new affection. It attaches him to some great, uncomprehended task. It gives him a mission great enough and hard enough to keep his feet beneath him. It saves him by steadying him.

PRESBYTERIAN WOMAN'S AUXILIARY GIVES DELIGHTFUL LUNCHEON

The Reciprocity Day luncheon and program given by the Women's Auxiliary of the Presbyterian Church Monday afternoon proved to be the greatest event in the history of the local auxiliary. Invitations to the get-together meeting were not only sent to members of the church and congregation, but to the auxiliaries of DeLand, Orlando, Umatilla, Apopka and Oakland. At the appointed hour of 1:00 o'clock 125 ladies found their places at the luncheon table by means of numbered place cards. The ladies had previously been "tagged" with a card bearing a number and their name, each lady thus being able to know her neighbor without a formal introduction. The social rooms of the church never looked lovelier than on this occasion, the walls being a bow- der of feathery bamboo and flame- vine. The luncheon tables were very attractive with lovely sweet peas in crystal baskets tied with cool green tulle. During the setting of a de- licious three course luncheon, Mrs. Williams, president of the local auxiliary greeted the guests with a warm word of welcome not only to the affair but to the "City Sub- stantial." A number of con- stants were responded to by the visiting ladies. As the guests rose to leave the table the entire assembly joined in singing, "Blest be the Tie That Binds." Mrs. McKinnon, chairman of the program committee, announced

SOROSIS CLUB FURNISHES PROGRAM FOR WOMAN'S CLUB MUSICAL TEA

Tuesday afternoon the Music Department of the Sanford Woman's Club gave the fourth of a series of musical teas with which it has been delighting music lovers with this winter. The setting for this musical tea was a "Country Club," gay cre- tione draperies, wicker furniture and sporting paraphernalia, gave a realistic country club air. The color scheme of gold and white of the Sorosis Club, of Orlando was used. Stately palms with golden calen- dulas and shaded lights were used in decorating. The tea table was lovely; upon a cover of gold and white was placed a graceful silver basket filled with calendula and fern. Silver hold- ers with golden tapers were placed at the corners. The guests were greeted upon their arrival by Mrs. Henry Wight, president of the club, Mrs. D. P. Drummond, chairman of the de- partment, Mrs. A. M. Phillips and Mrs. Frank Woodruff. The delightful and thoroughly enjoyed program of the afternoon was given by the Sorosis Club of Orlando. Mrs. Drummond the chairman, gave a charming greeting to the Sorosis Club and expressed ap- preciation for the courtesy of the program. She then introduced Mrs. E. M. Shearer the president of Sorosis who gave a very pleasant greeting from Sorosis. Mrs. Shearer introduced Mrs. T. P. The guests were seated at small tables centered by small golden colored flower pots holding each a calendula. Mrs. W. M. Scott presided at the tea table.

The Art of Beauty

HOT SHOVELS, WINE, AND MYRRH REQUIRED IN OLD BEAUTY RECIPES

Nowadays when lady wishes to apply a cleansing cream, astringent, hair tonic, or other beauty lotion, she merely opens a dainty little bottle or jar where the preparation is all ready for use. Not so with the woman of even a few centuries ago. When she wished a beauty treatment she had to assemble half a dozen ingredi- ents, mix them carefully accord- ing to formula, perhaps even cook them and cool them. Consider the difference, too, in the methods of applying them. Compare the re- lative comfort between sitting in an easy chair in your boudoir pat- ting on an astringent, and going thru the inquisition process de- scribed in this ancient astringent recipe, supposed to tone up the skin and remove crow's feet: "Heat a shovel red hot, and on it throw a pinch of powdered Myrrh, meantime throwing a thick towel over the head and bending over the shovel to get the fumes directly upon the face. Repeat this three times, then heat the shovel a fourth time and spray on a little white wine. Let the fumes penetrate, and repeat the pro- cedure three times." It is obvious that this recipe was in vogue in the days when white wine was more available than it is today! A popular hair-ointment of 1400 A. D. was made by the following recipe: "Mix sal-marine, vitriol, and nitrate of potassium; grind to- gether with dried roots of swallow- wort, oil of popple, bile of an ox, a very little opia, Arabic gum, alum, sulphur, and ginger. Rub the hair with this preparation and leave all morning." Another "hair-raising" recipe of olden times reads: "Take dried casis from the Orient, grind them to powder, and mix them in equal proportions with the yolks of eggs that have been boiled; then mix with wild honey. Rub on the hair

In the evening, wrap the head in a kerchief, and wash in the morning with olive oil soap and fresh water. No wonder women had no careers and took no part in the world's work in those days when good grooming demanded so much time and work! An etiquette book of less than a century ago admonishes women that the "only safe way to color the face is to dip a bit of red silk in some wine and rub on the cheeks where the color is desired." In the twentieth century, with rouges which meet the most string- ent requirements as to purity, we should scarcely consider this method desirable or even safe, and one can imagine that the ladies of this period who had to depend on red silk for their coloring must have had some bizarre color ef- fects! They would certainly be astonished if they could see their great-great-grand-daughters of to- day blithely ordering the rouges and powders by the box, and for each toilette, choosing from their wide selection, Blanche, Naturelle, Mandarine, Ashes of Rosea, or whatever rouge is best suited to the particular costume and oc- casion.

New Heavyweight Champion Wrestler Gives All Credit For Victory To Wife

CHICAGO, Jan. 21.—Wayne "Big" Munn, the new world's heavyweight wrestling champion who weighs approximately an eighth of a ton, admits he owes his prized title to the wise counsel of his four feet, two inches tall wife.

The conqueror of Ed "Strangler" Lewis Tuesday told how an indomitable desire to play, instead of attending to business, took him from oil selling in Sioux City, Iowa, to professional athletics—after he had been urged by his young wife to make the leap.

In 1919, after Munn returned from the war, he went to representing an oil refining company in Sioux City. But the desire for the play was too great. In his university days he had liked football, basketball and track, but was "plumb daffy", as he expressed it, about wrestling.

"That's where my wife comes in"

Munn said. "She counselled in this way:

"Well, if you like athletics better than you do business, get yourself a job in athletics. You can't do both—play when you are supposed to work."

Munn, however, smilingly refused to admit that it was his wife who advised him first to take up a career as a boxer. The records say that Munn, in the ring'siders' language, was a "flop" as a fighter. In his very first professional engagement he was knocked out.

Munn is starting his championship reign "flat broke" figuratively speaking.

His first big shot came when he engaged Lewis in Kansas City. The gate nearly hit the $40,000 mark but Munn's share, after paying training expenses, wrestling partners, splitting with his manager and what-not, was reduced to a small roll.

Sig Haugdahl To Enter Fast Field In Tampa Races

TAMPA, Jan. 21.—Announcement of the entry of Sig Haugdahl, world's record king in the automobile races that feature the South Florida state fair on Tuesday, Feb. 3, was made here Tuesday by Manager P. T. Streidjor.

Haugdahl is now at Daytona Beach with his eight-in-a-row Miller machine but will arrive in Tampa early next week to begin tuning up on the local track. In the competition here he will clash with a half score of the nation's best dirt track drivers. The Tampa race meet on Feb. 3 officially opens the 1925 American national championship battles and officials of the International Motor Contest association, the governing body controlling American dirt track racing will be on hand to officiate.

Lew Tendler Sore At Course Taken By Benny Leonard

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Jan. 21.—Jack Zivic, of Pittsburgh, conqueror of Lew Tendler of Philadelphia, in a furious bout here Tuesday night, will go after the lightweight champion recently created by Benny Leonard, if he can make the weight James Bronson, Zivic's manager announced Tuesday.

Bronson said he would place Zivic in the hand of Jimmy DeForest, veteran trainer for 30 days to develop the fighter's poise.

Zivic who weighed 144 pounds in Tuesday night's fight, scored a technical knockout over Tendler in the fifth round of a 10 round bout.

of the veteran Jack Zivic, Tendler finally was defeated in the fifth round of a ten round bout.

Leonard and Tendler clashed in Jersey City July 27, 1922, and in the opinion of sporting writers, the champion's margin of victory was very slight. On July 23, 1923, they met again in New York, and again the champion successfully defended his title.

Tendler conquered Joe Tiplitz in 10 rounds at Philadelphia on Dec. 24 of last year. From the weight announced at Pittsburgh, 138½ pounds, the Philadelphiaian is able to make the lightweight limit, but his defeat at the hands of Zivic undoubtedly precludes any possibility of his entering the tournament for the crown for which he strived so valiantly.

FOR WORKING PEOPLE

It is just the medicine needed to purify the system and restore the vim and ambition of health. Price 60c. Sold by Laney's Drug Store.

Anglers' Contest To Provide Sport At Volusia Co. Fair

DELAND, Jan. 21.—An innovation among the special events at the second annual Volusia County Fair, opening on Jan. 27 and continuing to Jan. 31, inclusive, will be a fisherman's tournament to be staged in front of the grandstand at 10 o'clock the morning of Jan. 28, the second day of the fair.

Leading anglers of this section propose at this time to launch a movement for the organization of a Volusia county chapter of the Isaak Walton League of America. An address will be delivered by Cecil R. Phillips, executive secretary of the Florida Game and Fresh Water Fish Protective Association.

The tournament will be in charge of F. M. Curry of Deland and of George P. Johnson of Daytona Beach, superintendents. In addition to the prizes already announced, a large number of awards will be donated by leading manufacturers of fishing tackle. Contestants will be permitted to use their own outfits. Practice plugs and leads will be furnished by the management of the tourney. No charge will be made for admission to the grandstand during this event.

AMERICAN CASES IN DIVORCE LEAD IN PARIS COURT

Number of American Divorces Is Less by Nine Than All Other Foreigners Combined; State Laws In U. S. Apply

PARIS, Jan. 21.—American divorces granted in the Paris courts during 1923 numbered 143 out of a total of 749. While the percentage of American divorces as regards the total number seems relatively small, it is much more important when one considers that all the divorces obtained by other foreigners of all nationalities during 1923 amounted to only 151.

A special legislation governs the issuing of divorces to American citizens in France and none is in course of preparation.

After the McAdoo-Huger divorce in 1923, which caused some criticism, it being claimed that the existing laws had not been observed, the then Premier Poincaré ordered an investigation to be made at the court house, "into the facility with which divorces were granted to Americans in France."

The inquiry proved that both McAdoo and Huger had legal domiciles in France and that a duly registered certificate thereof had been filed.

The present legislation in France provides that in the applications for divorces emanating from American citizens the laws of the various states in which they live in the United States shall apply.

Berlin Applauds To Century Old Music

BERLIN, Jan. 21.—As if in sharp contrast to the ultra modern tendencies recently observable in the first nights at the Staatsoper, the Deutsches Opernhaus, another of Berlin's four operatic institutions, has gone back to the fifties of the past century for a first-night, by producing Adolphe Adam's comic opera, "If I Were King." This return to the melodious, uncomplicated, charming airs of the age of Cechubini, Auber, Herold, Flotow and Donizetti is the most significant as it also marks the gradual return of French opera to the German stage.

In its modern dress, with all the latest technical possibilities of the stage brought into play, Adam's opera was a decided success and numerous repetitions are planned.
