Is it true that three major television companies are dickering for the rights to film a twice monthly western TV series in the court house?

City Manager W. E. Knowles has received plans, specifications and price of a manufactured family fallout shelter that has been reviewed and accepted by Civil Defense. Anyone wishing information on the shelter is asked to contact Knowles, or the building official's office at City Hall.

One thing you can't take away from the County Commission. . . . In the past eight months there has never been one mention of any commissioner saying "This is off the record." . . . I wonder how many other governing bodies can say that.

Does the County Commission know that the week of Sept. 14 has been designated as Civil Defense week throughout the county. . . . I wonder how the boys are going to celebrate it.

City Manager W. E. Knowles still isn't talking about those drapes except to tease us about the colors. Should be put up this week. . . . The rods are up now.

By the way the landscaping at the county jail will be around $800 and not $5,000 as was reported Wednesday.

There will be a Republican candidate opposing Vernon Dunn in the District 4 County Commission race next year. . . . That is if Mr. Dunn chooses to run.

Brazil Military Action Reported

RIO DE JANEIRO (UPI)—Brazil's 2nd Army, Navy and Air Force were reported today to have started operations against the southernmost state of Rio Grande do Sul, stronghold of supporters of Vice President Joao Goulart.

The daily newspaper Journal of Brazil said the action had started early this morning.

According to the newspaper an announcement issued by the national telecommunications council said that "military operations against forces in Rio Grande do Sul have started and combined operations of the 2nd Army, the Navy, and the Air Force are being carried out."

The military action was reported as Goulart flew to South America to take over the Brazilian presidency vacated last Friday by Janio Quadros.

All Out Drive

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UPI)—African delegates to the United Nations pledged an all-out campaign today to obtain "complete satisfaction" in racial incidents involving colored diplomats.

Wave Weakening

MIAMI (UPI)—An easterly wave in the eastern Gulf of Mexico "weakened considerably" overnight, hurricane forecaster Arnold Sugg said today.

Massive Arms Race Expected

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviet Union's announcement that it will resume nuclear tests on its own set the stage today for a massive armaments race aimed at producing weapons of millions of TNT-tons of explosive force.

The decision announced in Moscow Wednesday night appeared certain to boost international tensions to a new high. The manner in which the Soviets made their move startled diplomatic observers with its boldness.

In announcing its decision to resume nuclear testing, the Soviet government set as one of its immediate goals the perfection of a 100 million-ton superbomb which could be carried by missiles anywhere in the world.

"The Soviet Union has worked out projects of creating a series of super-powerful nuclear bombs with a yield equivalent to 20, 30, 50 and 100 million tons of TNT," the announcement said.

"Powerful rockets, similar to those which Maj. Yuri Gagarin and Maj. Gherman Titov used for their unrivaled cosmic flights around earth, can deliver such nuclear bombs to any point on the globe from which an attack on the Soviet Union or other Socialist countries might be launched."

The announcement, which puts the blame for the resumption of the tests on the West, said Moscow would now concentrate on developing weapons that "can cool the hotbeds in the capitals of some NATO powers."

It charged that the United States is planning to resume its own nuclear testing program and is threatening war over Berlin.

A White House announcement said the United States now considered itself freed from its promise not to conduct nuclear tests. The statement withheld any definite decision on test resumption, condemned Moscow's move and said it increased the danger of "a thermonuclear holocaust."

Soviet Decision Called 'Brutal Slap In Face'

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (UPI)—The impact of the Soviet Union's decision to resume nuclear testing hit the unaligned nations today like "a brutal slap in the face" on the eve of their conference here.

Reaction among the delegates to the meeting of 24 non-aligned nations ranged from bewilderment to anger at Moscow's unilateral move. They were embittered because Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev had chosen the day before their conference to make his announcement.

"It's like a brutal slap in the face," said one delegate.

"Fanatic, incomprehensible and dangerous," said another.

The blunt Soviet action contrasted sharply with the diplomatic appeal made by President Kennedy in a message to the conference Wednesday night.

The President's message was welcomed by neutral diplomats as the first positive Western reaction to their conference of uncommitted nations.

850 Youngsters 'Enjoy' Annual Jaycee Fishing Rodeo Here

"Did you ever go a-fishing on a bright summer day?" Ask this question of 850 Sanford children today and you would get a big "Yes!"

For there were that many boys and girls between the ages of one and 14 years of age who trooped down to the Jaycee's Annual Fishing Rodeo at Lake Carola in Fort Mellon Park Wednesday afternoon to get themselves a cane pole, with hook, line and sinker already attached and a nice can of bait.

Then the little fishers set in earnestly to catch the 250 fishes (who could hardly avoid all that many hooks.)

Patrolman Earl Bourquard fired the pistol shot that started off the fishing and ended it when all the catches were counted it was found that:

The biggest fish was caught by a girl, Debra Turner, who had a nice 15 ounce one. She was in the six to ten year old group.

Next was James Headley with an eight and a half ounce fish, in the 11 to 14 age group.

Patrick Howard has a nice little five ounce bream for the largest fish in the one to five year old class.

The most fish, 26, were caught by Emmett Davidson, in the 11 to 14 age group.

Dale Rowell, in the six to ten year old group, caught 13 little fishes, and was just about the happiest boy there.

Martin Noyes, in the youngest age group proved to be quite a fisherman and caught 10.

The smallest fish were caught by Dale Sipes, Jane Hale and Brian Woods. Hale's and Jane's weighed half an ounce and Brian's weighed three quarters of an ounce.

"Not quite as many fish were caught this year," said Arch Hosick, chairman of the Fishing Rodeo, "but little Debra Turner caught the biggest fish in years."

Those who caught the biggest fish also caught the biggest prizes, $25 savings bonds, donated by Sanford Atlantic Bank, Florida State Bank, and J. Bralley Odham.

Fishermen who caught the most got $5 gift certificates from Toy Corral and Kel's 5 and 10 and Florida Power and Light gave $5 cash.

McCroly's and Touchlon's gave $2.50 gift certificates for the smallest fish and GAC Finance gave $2.50 cash.

Bait was contributed by Crow's Fish Camp and Five Points Bait Shop; Bait Cups by Burger King; Tackle by Stanley and Rogers Hardware and Robson's Sporting Goods.

Ice cream was given by Foremost Dairies and soft drinks by

County Sends GSA First Payment Of $7,525 On Osceola Air Base

A check for $7,525 was sent to the General Services Administration in Atlanta today as a binder on the purchase of the Osceola Air Base by Seminole County, according to Mack Cleveland Jr., County attorney.

The total price offered for the tract on the St. Johns River was $75,250. Formal decision to buy the base was made last Tuesday at the board meeting when a resolution was adopted to this effect.

This project will probably be important to the Nova project providing the Sanford-Canaveral

Canal can be completed in the immediate future.

Chamber of Commerce manager John Krider had earlier reported that the county was in the running for the solid fuel plant for this massive project.

Upon acceptance of the offer by the federal government the County will make another payment of $7,525, or 10 per cent of the purchase price, Cleveland said. After that the base will be paid for over a period of 10 years.

Negotiations for the purchase of the tract were started two years ago, said Krider, a former county commissioner.

At that time the House and Senate subcommittees on Armed Services were asked to declare the land surplus and turn it over to the GSA for disposal.

The 1,000 acre tract originally cost the U. S. Government $1.5 million and the county is buying it for a fraction of this cost.

STATE REP. Mack Cleveland Jr. Wednesday was named to one of 12 committees which will make special studies for the legislature's standing research group. Cleveland will serve on the education committee.

Legislative Council Committees Named

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—Legislative council committees will meet soon to tackle problems ranging from nuclear legislation to agriculture.

Rep. Harry Westberry of Jacksonville, council chairman, named members to 12 committees Wednesday to study state problems during the coming two years.

Each of the committees will conduct hearings and make studies of their subjects, reporting to the 1963 session of the Legislature. In addition to members of the council, each committee will have at least two senators and two representatives not members of the council.

$100,000 Park To Be Constructed In North Orlando

By MONA GRINSTEAD
Plans for North Orlando's Recreation Park, representing more than $100,000 in capital improvements, were announced at a special meeting of the North Orlando Civic Assn. Monday night.

Playground facilities will include two tennis courts, a volleyball court, four shuffleboard courts, a picnic area with barbecue pits, an archery area, a children's playground, a miniature golf course and a baseball diamond.

Also in the 20-acre park will be a three-acre fresh water lake for boating, fishing and skiing plus a 40,000 sq. ft. by 70-foot swimming pool, with a 10-foot by 20-foot children's wading pool.

A large clubhouse with locker rooms will provide civic and social organizations of the community with ample meeting quarters and free parking for more than 100 automobiles will be included.

Bids are out on the clubhouse building specifications and actual construction is expected to get underway in the very near future.

Although the North Orlando Co. will prepare property and donate materials, Civic Assn. officials have issued an appeal for volunteer workers to meet at the site on Sept. 9 to help with shelters over the shuffleboard courts and other general construction of the recreational facilities. All persons who can in any way assist with the work are urged to join their neighbors to speed the playground to its completion.

Governor Orders Speedup of CD

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—Gov. Farris Bryant, citing the "sense of urgency which grips our nation," ordered Florida counties and municipalities Wednesday to speed their plans for Civil Defense.

Bryant, who graduated this week from a two-week Civil Defense survival course, issued an executive order that counties and cities make "appropriate plans" for keeping government functions in operation in the event of threatened or actual enemy attack. The order will be implemented by local action.

It directs the counties and cities to make plans for protection of public property and records, mutual assistance to neighboring counties, protection of citizens and a public information program.

The Seminole County Commission earlier had cut the Civil Defense budget and refused to go along with plans from CD director A. B. Peterson Sr. on the need for a county-wide warning system.

Speedy Foreign Aid OK Nears

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Both houses of Congress were set today to give speedy approval to their compromise $4.2 billion foreign aid authorization bill.

Senate leaders planned to call up the administration - accepted measure which provides a five-year development loan program early in the day. The Senate is meeting at 9 a. m. partly for that purpose. House action was expected to follow this afternoon.

House-Senate conferees gave the modified bill their final approval Wednesday. Although many senators were disappointed that the compromise eliminated President Kennedy's plan to finance the loan program through treasury borrowing, rather than annual appropriations, the new measure goes beyond existing law.

Senate Foreign Relations Chairman J. William Fulbright, (D-Ark.), called it "vastly better" than any previous aid measure. He made it clear he felt the Senate bill was "stronger" and that he saw little hope of getting the borrowing approach next year.

Kennedy Not Giving Up On School Aid Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The conservative House coalition that killed President Kennedy's public school construction bill moved today to deny him a hook on which to hang another school aid effort next year.

The House voted 242-169 Wednesday to kill the $325 million construction bill, the key provision of the Kennedy education program. A few hours later, Kennedy told his news conference that "although defeat today was quite clear, and although defeat today indicates it would be difficult to find a satisfactory formula, we will attempt to do so."

"Everyone is for education," Kennedy said, "but they are all for a different education bill. . . We will be back next year."

In voting against the proposal, the House also knocked off two popular existing aid programs attached to the construction program as "vestments."

However, the two programs—"impacted areas" aid and portions of the National Defense Education program—were almost sure to be revived and approved separately. But there was a difference of opinion on how long they should be extended.

Kennedy Democrats wanted to hold them to simple one-year extensions, presumably hoping to attach them next year to another general school aid bill.

Rep. Carroll D. Kearns, (R-Pa.) ranking GOP member of the House Education Committee, planned to push for action on his bill to extend the two programs for two years. This would take them out of any school aid battle next year.

Wednesday's crashing defeat for Kennedy did not directly affect the remaining college aid portion of his education proposals. This was a five-year, $1.5 billion loan and grant program for construction of college classrooms, libraries and laboratories.

Kennedy said he was "hopeful" that Congress would vote on the higher education program this session because it is "desperately needed."

Ganas Named President Of Teachers' Group

The classroom Teachers' Association of Seminole County held its first meeting of the 1961-1962 school year Friday afternoon at Seminole High School. This meeting was the second official meeting of the new organization.

The C.T.A. of Seminole County was organized in April of this year. A constitution committee, composed of teacher representatives from each school in the county, presented a constitution for approval of the general body of county teachers. With the adoption of the constitution, the C.T.A. was officially born in Seminole County.

The purposes of the new organization are stated in the constitution. They are: to promote with the teachers' group the spirit of active participation in solving school problems; to guarantee quality service to the students and the community through an improved school program; to cooperate in community projects so that more understanding develops between community and teacher; and to encourage teachers to develop a spirit of professional ethics.

The constitution provided for standing committees in the areas of membership, problem review and recourse, program improvement, public relations, legislative affairs and teacher education and professional standards.

Membership in the county C.T.A. is only open to teachers who teach at least one half of each school day and who do not have the power to hire or dismiss other school personnel.

At county wide elections, held at Seminole High School, Fred Ganas was elected president, Salvatore Manfre, vice president, Mrs. Edna Humphrey, secretary, and Mrs. Ann Samuels, treasurer.

Appointed to the standing committees were: Mrs. Helen Westgate of Sanford Junior High School to the membership committee; Ralph Brewer of Lyman High School, review and recourse committee; Don Hasley of Altamonte Springs Elementary School to the program improvement committee; Ira Hindman, public relations committee; Mrs. Barbara Hartwig, the legislative committee; and Mrs. Margaret Manfre to the teacher education and professional standards committee.

The elected officers, the committee chairmen, and school representatives serve as an executive board.

A speaker's bureau has been set up, with teachers ready to respond to any invitations for information. Any organizations wishing to take advantage of the service and learn more of educational problems are invited to contact Mr. Hindman at Seminole High School.

Officials Elated Over Mix Reception

ATLANTA (UPI) — City officials refused to hide their elation today over the successful entry into four public high schools of nine young Negroes, ending 100 years of hard-core classroom segregation in this Deep South capital.

But authorities said police would remain on constant duty around the desegregated schools as long as necessary.

Shamrock Oil Company Opening Station Here

All Shamrock service stations are company owned and operated thus, according to a company spokesman, eliminating the distributor or so called middle man. This type of operation plus other internal economies allows Shamrock to pass substantial savings on to its customers.

A feature of the grand opening ceremonies Friday and Saturday at the new station will be a free

Yanks, Mantle Pick-Up Pace

United Press International
Mickey Mantle, something of a "forgotten man" the past 10 days, got back in the race again today, not so much with Babe Ruth, but in that rather neglected one with the Detroit Tigers.

Mantle had begun to ask whatever became of Mantle.
He hadn't hit a home run since Aug. 23rd and most of the experts already had written him off as a possible threat to Ruth's record any more this year.

Mantle insisted all along that he was more interested in helping the New York Yankees win than he was in breaking the Babe's record.
Roger Maris, it seemed, might need an armageddon car next year, but Mantle seemed perfectly content to bicycle his way down to the bank with a World Series share.

At any rate, Mantle broke the dry spell Wednesday night when he scored his 47th homer — his first in 10 days — to help the Yankees defeat the Minnesota Twins, 4-2.

Mantle's homer, off loser Jim Kat, kept him two games ahead of Ruth's record pace, but far more important, to manager Ralph Houk, anyway, it also helped the Yankees increase their lead to 2½ games over the menacing second-place Tigers.

Maris drove in one of the Yankees' runs with one single in three official trips as Bill Stafford limped the Twins to four hits for his 15th victory.

The Chicago White Sox took the Tigers over the hurdles, 7-4, the Cleveland Indians handed the Washington Senators their 12th straight loss, 9-0, the Boston Red Sox clipped the Kansas City Athletics, 9-3, and the Baltimore Orioles crushed the Los Angeles Angels, 11-4.

In the National League, the Los Angeles Dodgers climbed to within 3½ games of first place with a 5-2 victory over the Chicago Cubs. Pittsburgh downed first-place Cincinnati, 2-1, San Francisco nipped Milwaukee, 2-1, and Philadelphia defeated St. Louis, 4-3.

Juan Pizarro registered his 11th victory for the White Sox by hurling a five-hitter against the Tigers and striking out 10. Floyd Robinson led Chicago's 13-hit attack, driving in three runs with as many hits. The Tigers were without the services of first baseman Norm Cash, who complained of a severe pain in the forehead before the game and was taken to an eye specialist.

Two-run homers by Charley Neal and Norm Sherry carried the Dodgers to their victory over the Cubs. Johnny Podres ran his record to 17-4 although Larry Sherry relieved him in the seventh and blanked the Cubs without a hit the rest of the way.

Tom Surdiant checked the Reds on four hits to win his fourth game for the Pirates since they brought him up from the minors last month.

Gubner Shoots For Triple Win

TEL AVIV, Israel (UPI)—Gary Gubner of New York University, who walked off with one of the United States' first three gold medals in the Maccabiah Games, was favored to win another today and show Israeli track fans their first 60-foot shot yet.

The 23-pound New Yorker, who tossed the shot 60 feet, 7½ inches in the U.S.-Russian track meet this summer in Moscow, won the discus event with most record sets of 163 feet, ½ inch on Wednesday's opening program.

Gubner also plans to compete in the weight-lifting events later in his quest for a "triple" in the Jewish Olympics.

The other U.S. winners in the opening 10 track and field events for men and women Wednesday were Steve Damaskis, a 21-year-old NYU graduate, and Bill Bachrach, a Yale University graduate from Plymouth, Ohio. Damaskis clipped two-ten-ha of a second off the games' 400-meter record with a winning time of 48.8 seconds and Bachrach won the 10,000 meter run in 33:1.6, finishing more than 100 yards ahead of his nearest pursuer.

Recall Trio
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Pitchers Carl Bouldin or Norwood, Ohio, and Roy Heiser of Baltimore and infielder Eddie Brinkman of Cincinnati were called up by the Washington Senators today from their Middletown, Ky., farm team in the Appalachian League.

Two Teams Tied For Kegler Lead

In the summer Seminole County Businessmen's League, with one more night of league play remaining, Owen's Golf and Betty Anne's Hair Stylists remain tied with 44 wins each, both having split 2-2 with their opposition Tuesday night.

Farnon Builders still have a mathematical chance of first place finish with 46 wins and the league's highest per-cent.

In fourth place is ACL with 38 followed closely by Senkarik's Paint and Glass 37, and Ride-A-White Stables 35 to lead the second division, comprised of Florida Forestry Corp., Town Pump, Businessmen's League, which is expected to have 16 teams.

Blackwelder was named president, Lindstrom vice president and Mowetz, secretary and treasurer.

Brazil Boxer Named Fighter Of Month

NEW YORK (UPI)—Unbeaten Eder Jofre of Brazil was named "fighter of the month" today by The Ring Magazine because of his impressive second defense of the NBA world bantamweight championship against Ramon Arias at Caracas, Venezuela, Aug. 16.

When Jofre stopped Arias of Venezuela in the seventh round, the 118-pound co-champion extended his unbeaten professional string to 43 bouts, including three draws.

Johnny Caldwell of Ireland, who is recognized as world bantam champion in Europe, was ranked as top contender today in The Ring ratings.

Harold Johnson of Philadelphia, the NBA world light heavyweight champion, was ranked second to Jofre in distinguished performance during the month because of his title defense against Eddie Cotton at Seattle Tuesday night. Johnson won a split decision.

The Ring magazine continued to rate Sonny Liston of Philadelphia as top heavyweight contender although he still is under indefinite suspension by the National Boxing Association for two brushes with the law. Henry Cooper of England again is ranked number two contender, followed by Eddie Machen of Portland, Ore., and Lavorante.

Moss Will Scout
CHICAGO (UPI)—Les Moss, who wound up a 12-year career as an American league catcher with a .347 lifetime average in Harold Johnson of Philadelphia, the NBA world light heavyweight champion, was ranked second to Jofre in distinguished performance during the month because

Lyman Greyhounds To Be Lighter Than Last Year

It's too early to make any predictions, but we are looking "pretty good" in practice, says Bill Proctor, grid coach at Lyman High School in Longwood.

The team will be lighter than last year, but the Greyhounds have eight lettermen returning, including three seniors. Coach Proctor is looking over two prospects to fill the quarterback slot. One of these boys, Johnny Criswell, a 180 pound junior is a converted defensive guard. The other is a transfer to Lyman, Ronnie Lane, a 180 pound senior.

Among the more promising prospects, said Coach Proctor is Gordon Hobgood, a 150 pound back, who is showing up very well in practice.

Other returning lettermen are Ronnie Huggins, a 153 pound senior end; Marvin Fellows, a 145 pound junior guard; Ricky McCanna, a 185 pound junior guard; Roy Lisk, the big boy of the squad who is a senior and weighs 248; Paul Balckford, a 155 junior halfback; Carl Presley, a 150 pound senior fullback, and Johnny Williams, a 170 pound senior back.

Augmenting this core of lettermen is a squad of 43 which, for the first time, is divided into a senior and junior varsity. Proctor says that the plan is to divide the squad so that the varsity will have 22 men and the junior varsity 23. The first game will be with

Crystal River at Crystal River. As to the outcome of the game Coach Proctor said that is "anybody's guess as to who will win." Last year Lyman beat Crystal River by the score of 21 to 7, but Coach Proctor said that Crystal River improved in the latter part of the season and that if this improvement carries over to this season

Lyman will have its work cut out come Sept. 15.

Lyman's full schedule includes, after Crystal River, Ocoee, at Longwood, Sept. 22; Newberry, there, Sept. 29; Adm. Farragut, Longwood, Oct. 6; Florida Military School, Longwood, Oct. 13; South Sumpter, Longwood, Oct. 20; St. Leo, there, Oct. 22; St. Cloud, Longwood, Nov. 3; Florida High, Tallahassee, Nov. 10, and Inverness, Longwood, Nov. 17.

Members of Coach Proctor's staff are Buck Metts of Sanford, who is an assistant with the senior squad; Rupert Jenkins and Barker Houghton of the junior squad and Walt Durus and Ed Gratton of the junior high squad.

Hambletonian Winner Used Strategy, Speed

DU QUOIN, Ill. (UPI)—Strategy as well as speed made Harlan Dean a standout winner of the Hambletonian, the most prized stake in the harness racing record book.

Harlan Dean, owned by Keystone Stables, Meadowlands, Pa., won the $131,578 stake, picking up prize money of $77,264 himself, in straight heats, the fastest ever trotted in the Hambletonian, and set two world records.

Partially, his success resulted from injury. He was lame when he came out of winter quarters in Florida, and his driver, Jimmy Arthur, said he almost was "sent back."

But a strategic decision kept him in competition and he was raced lightly, working out the soreness. He had so little action that when the field of 13 began the first heat of the Hambletonian, it was only the ninth race this season for Harlan Dean.

His speed was unquestioned, since he pressed one of the favorites, Caleb, to a world record equalling performance at Springfield, Ill., earlier this month, and another favorite, Matastar, to a top triumph in the American National.

Old Faithful O'Connell Off The Grid Retirement Bench

BUFFALO, N. Y. (UPI)—Tommy O'Connell, the reliable veteran who hoped to retire to the coaching sidelines this year, found himself back in uniform again today — the big hope of Coach Ramsey to instill some punch and spirit in the listless offense of the American League Buffalo Bills.

Desperate for a quarterback, Ramsey called upon the 30-year-old O'Connell to take over for the injured Johnny Green when the latter was benched for at least a month with a shoulder separation. Green's loss aggravated an already acute quarterback problem as rookie John Talley of Northwestern had proved entirely inadequate and been released while Richie Lucas, the unpredictable former All-American from Penn State, still lacked the vital spark so necessary in directing a professional football team.

"O'Connell is now our quarterback," Ramsey said following Buffalo's 28-10 loss to the Boston Patriots last Friday night in Providence, R. I. "The experimenting at that position is over."

O'Connell, who cut his pro eye-teeth with the formidable Cleveland Browns, threw 15 passes against Boston, completing 10 for 115 yards and one touchdown.

Plunker back Elbert Dubenion, one of the real speed boys of the American Football League, turned in several sensational long runs in the loss to Dallas and appears to be better than ever. And Buffalo's tough defense unit, one of the best in the league, is back almost intact.

Sandy Koufax Moving Out From Barney's Shadow

United Press International
NEW YORK (UPI)—In the annals of Dodger baseball a man named Rex Barney stands as a monument to terrifying speed and scatter-armed futility.

The youngster wasn't ready for the major leagues but the bonus rule demanded he be kept with the parent club two years. It was a harrowing period in which he was chained to the bench and used infrequently. The promise was there—as with Barney—but again the control was lacking.

By 1954 he won 11 games, but he lost that many, too. He fanned 131 hitters. But he walked 105, and he led the league in wild pitches.

Still, the promise was always there. In 1959, Sandy tied the major league record by striking out 18 hitters in a nine inning game and established marks for the most strikeouts in two and three consecutive games. Yet his record was a mere eight wins against six losses.

Last year it got worse for him again. He won eight but he dropped 13 and that wiliness relegated him to the bullpen.

Barney could throw a baseball through the backstop—and did—and the hitters were paled by the wayward bullets he fired.

But they also knew that if they stood there long enough they'd get more walks than the Post Office Department and this lack of control eventually forced him out of the game.

There were those who thought that this, too, might be the eventual fate of a young man named Sandy Koufax.

Koufax was a strapping youngster of 18 when he signed a bonus contract with the Dodgers in 1955. He had baseball aspirations at the University of Cincinnati but fate lured him in as a last ditch college pitcher and the collegians couldn't combat the power of his arm. The Dodgers, avid for strong arms and undeterred by the Barney business, grabbed him.

At the start of this season, Koufax in six years had won 36 and lost 40 games. But now, suddenly, he is a winner. His mark this time is 15-9 and he has pitched 12 complete games. And, as a payoff on perseverance, he has struck out 212 batters which menaces the National League record for a left-hander set by Rube Marquard of the Giants in 1911 with 237.

It's an average of 9.26 strikeouts per game, an all-time high in the National League.

The answer is a new-found control.

"We got him to shorten his stride and follow through more on his delivery," explained pitching coach Joe Baker. "He started getting his breaking stuff over and keeping the ball down. Now he can throw curves when he's behind in the count. Before it had to be the fast ball."

Tom Rychlec the light wing, Monte Crockett has improved tremendously as a blocker and pass receiver and is pressing the veteran Rychlec as a starter.

O'Connell, Dubenion, left halfback Art Baker of Syracuse make up the Bills offensive backfield. Two other offensive threats who will see plenty of action are rookie Fred Brown, a breakaway runner from Georgia, and the veteran Wray Carlton.

Title Bout Is Postponed

LONDON (UPI)—Co-middleweight champion Terry Downes scheduled title defense against Paul Penier of Boston must be postponed at least two months because of a hand injury suffered by the British titleholder.

Downes revealed Wednesday that he suffered the injury to his left hand when he fell down a flight of stairs.

VP At Large

It takes an effort to recall the surprise which greeted Lyndon Johnson's unexpected acceptance last year of the No. 2 spot on the Democratic presidential ticket. Here was a man actually contemplating giving up the power of his position as majority leader in the Senate for the somewhat less than vital duties of vice president.

Johnson, to be sure, played it shrewdly like the professional he is by running for re-election to the Senate simultaneously in his home state of Texas. But to some, this bifurcation of his appeal to the voters made his complete political retirement look even more like a distinct possibility.

It takes an effort to recall this because Johnson has been treading in anything but the backwaters of the vice presidency for the past eight months. He has been in the swim of government in a vigorous fashion. And most of this effort has been in unfamiliar international waters, to stretch the metaphor as far as it will go.

As President Kennedy's personal envoy, he has been to Geneva, Africa, the Philippines, Formosa, Japan, Thailand, Viet Nam, Pakistan, India and most recently, Berlin. The value of these trips to the President should not be understated.

Like other areas of the Constitution, what is not said about the vice president is more important than the few duties specified. Yet only in recent years, especially during Richard Nixon's tenure, has the office become anything more than an honorary sinecure for the heir apparent, potentially significant though it be.

Vice President Johnson's trip to Berlin may be viewed chiefly as a boost to the morale of the West Berliners, and in that respect it apparently was a successful maneuver. But another point is of overriding importance.

At one time, it would have been the peripatetic John Foster Dulles hopping on the plane to Berlin. But it was not the secretary of state, it was the vice president—the second in line—who went to that city the other day.

That fact is not lost on the Berliners, nor on others, who have never viewed the office of the U. S. vice president with the disdain that has been bred among ourselves by familiarity with this aspect of our constitutional system—at least, as it once was.

The vice president may be developing into something new on the American scene—Prime Minister and Plenipotentiary for Foreign Affairs. This would be much more than errand boy and much less than president, yet would be a unique and important position all its own. It could handle certain functions, such as a prestige visit to a foreign land, less easily carried out by the president or the secretary of state, while freeing them for concentration on other facets of foreign policy.

This Vice President Johnson seems already to have done in large measure. At the same time, he has been sharpening his knowledge of international political currents, both overall and in particular areas of the world.

This first-hand experience being gained by the vice president certainly will not be counted superfluous in the remaining three years of the administration.

To The Editor

Dear Editor,
An Apprenticeship to Freedom. This is the age of anxiety and we are the youth of this age. We are called upon to serve, to be ready for the Korean, the Berlin, the Laoses that threaten the freedom and the security of our western way of life. We are put to sea, hurled aloft, put ashore in the games of war—the practiced drills, the simulated actions, the readied waiting. We sacrifice our todays in hope for our tomorrows. We are serving our apprenticeship to freedom.

There comes a time when each of us will be released from service, to return home, to seek the life we are free to choose. Soon I am going home. Some ask me what I will do and I might well answer, I have a life to now live.

These have been long thoughtful years and I am not soon to forget the hard lessons I have learned. To this freedom I once had assumed as a birthright may I now add something of youthful insight. May I be more appreciative of my new freedom than those before me who sacrificed so much more than I and yet so soon forgot the Monte Cassinos, the Bastonges, the deadly D-Days of their youth.

We are young and alive and apt to believe we will always be so. Typical of youth, we live with the hopes, the promises, the expectations for our tomorrows. But in this age of anxiety, in these days of our youth, we must not forget our apprenticeship to freedom.

Sincerely yours,
Byron H. Dudley

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Few city folks realize it yet, but the Department of Agriculture—created to help farmers—is getting into nonfarm rural development on a big scale, even in towns and small cities. Many of its new programs of rural area development have nothing to do with raising crops.

Most recent expansion of these nonagricultural services comes in a $100-million appropriation from the new Area Redevelopment Administration. This was set up to help depressed areas open new industries and improve community facilities. Department of Agriculture has been designated to administer the programs in the 460 chronically depressed rural counties in 28 states.

Also, under law omnibus housing legislation passed this year $430 million was earmarked for rural construction and modernization loans. For the first time loans to nonfarmers for nonfarm housing in small towns are included in the program. They are to be administered by Farmers Home Administration. Since 1949, FHA has loaned over $300 million to 44,000 farmers for housing, but now it enters a new field.

Rural Electrification Administration, with over 1,000 local co-ops is now authorized to make loans to small manufacturers for machinery using rural or small-town labor.

Also, REA co-ops in Wisconsin and Oklahoma have just won the right to continue power service to formerly rural areas, but may be annexed by cities. This practice may spread.

About $78 million are being made available this year for small watershed protection and flood prevention projects. In the three months since President Kennedy signed the Area Development Act, the administration has approved 54 such projects. This is the largest number of new starts in a like period by the Agriculture of Department since the small watershed development program was initiated by former Secretary Charles Brannan in the Truman administration.

The program was stepped up by new legislation in 1956. Since that time 1,500 communities have initiated application for projects, 325 have been authorized, 41 completed, 163 put under construction, 109 given engineering services and only 12 dropped for various reasons. But now the program is to be accelerated, with emphasis on aid to industrial development in rural communities.

One prize example cited is in Culpeper, Va. This is a town of 3,000 in a rolling county of 1,000 farms, 90 miles from Washington.

A bad flood had set the county back hard. But under the small watershed plan, the local soil conservation district got $168,000, the county kicked in $70,000 and the state $377,000. The $615,000 total built three dams which created a revolution.

The area got a good water supply system and flood prevention was provided. Several new industries moved into town, off-farm jobs were provided for underemployment and prosperity began to come back.

To manage these and other, older Department of Agriculture programs, a new Office of Rural Area Development has been set up under John A. Baker, director of agricultural credit services in the department.

A rural areas development board will co-ordinate the work of 12 Department of Agriculture agencies operating in this field, under the direction of Turley Mace, a former assistant to Baker.

Other agencies include soil conservation, forest, stabilization and conservation, marketing and several research and reporting services.

Federal Extension Service is setting up state committees of local officials, co-ops, farm organizations, churches, civic, business and labor groups. Two or more counties in an area will then be able to work together on plans which will contribute to the economic progress of farm and town.

U. S. Ambassador Arthur H. Dean and British deputy negotiator Sir Michael Wright yesterday over time to put finishing touches on the joint Western approach, an appeal to the Soviets to reach an agreement to ban tests under international control.

The United States has recently embarked on a campaign to portray its willingness to reach agreement, and informed sources predicted Dean would renew that claim today.

Panel OKs Negro As Lifetime Judge

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate Judiciary Committee yesterday approved the nomination of the first Negro ever given a lifetime appointment as a federal district judge.

The nominee is James B. Parsons who was named by President Kennedy to be federal judge for the Northern District of Illinois.

Howard is still unmarried because he fails to use the sure-fire musical instrument that will wrap every girl around his little finger. You can be a plug ugly, yet run circles around the matinee idols if you employ the smart "horn tooting" strategy below. It is also the success formula in business as well as in romance.

CASE J-482: Howard H., aged 37, is a handsome bachelor.

He registered with our Scientific Marriage Foundation 6 months ago and was soon introduced by mail to a couple of very attractive girls between 28 and 33.

"Dr. Crane," one of them later wrote her opinion of Howard, "he is a talented man and good looking."

"But he is as naive as a kindergarten child in some ways. On our first visit, for example, he let me know that he was writing to another girl."

"This is a common reaction of men. It is because they want to whet a girl's admiration by such indelicate boasting of their popularity with other women?"

"I work in an insurance office and the salesmen are constantly trying to brag about how many women are chasing them. Why?"

Why does the peacock strut its stuff in front of the peahen? Apparently to attract her attention to its fine plumage and thus generate envy, plus a desire to win its favor.

This same tendency underlies a lot of male psychology. Men thus try to put themselves on the back by telling how many girls they have kissed.

They hope to promote jealousy in their present companion by mentioning other attractive women.

The male thus thinks such bragging will raise his appeal to the present girl friend by stimulating her jealousy.

Instead it often rebuffs her as such a crude, childish display of sex egotism that she loses her original interest in the man.

Instead of tooting his own horn in this childish manner, a smart man toots the horn of his female companion by paying her compliments.

But most men are not deft in romance. They are awkward in use of language and very dumb as regards practical psychology.

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

"I want to feel important" is the brand that is indelibly tattooed across their chests.

When they first meet a girl friend, she may be shy and fall to start a eulogy of the man.

So he feels he simply must let her know how important he is. In his kindergarten grasp of social amenities, he bluntness starts tooting his own horn.

Men, get help to psychology. If you want a girl to think you are tops and a super duper escort, Toot Her Horn, not your own.

This means you should praise her in big gobs. Ask for her advice or opinions, for then she feels so important (and thus happy) that she will want another date.

A marriage is thus the end result of a pair of psychological "musicians" each of whom tooted the other's horn until they were drawn together.

If you toot your own horn, as Howard does, you drive the girl away. She thinks you are a boor and a crude egotist.

But, toot her horn and she will think you have good judgment. The more compliments you offer her, the more she will respect your wisdom and good taste. You rise in importance.

Before long, you will thus rate so high in her regard that she will consider you her Prince Charming.

This is why a lot of ugly men have beauty queens enamored of them. It's the deft horn tooting that does it.

Your Pocketbook

Does this apply to you? "Instead of poverty resulting from inadequate wages or high interest rates, we have poverty today resulting from financial mismanagement, overbuying, status seeking, debt selling and ignorance of the many complicated—although legal—schemes for separating a man from his paycheck via "easy payments."

This quote comes from John F. Sullivan, family financial counseling specialist for Credit Union National Association, Inc.

To help deal with this problem, CUNA is launching a fourth service for credit union members. In addition to the saving, lending and insurance programs already offered, the goal is to train 100,000 family financial counselors from within credit union membership.

The program is set to roll in over 80 geographic areas with a drive to recruit volunteers for the training.

One of the topics to be studied in depth by CUNA forums under this program is the wise use of credit.

No one is against using credit; it is good for you, good for the economy. But do you know how to resist sales pressures, especially when coupled with easy payment plans? Or with referral plans where the seller says you may get a product for next to nothing if you'll just refer him to some of your friends and they buy his product? More often than not in such cases you wind up paying a handsome price for your purchase.

CUNA urges you to figure the costs of all kinds of credit, especially those revolving credit plans that can add as much as 18 percent to your bill.

Sullivan points out that consumer bankruptcies are rising at an alarming rate. He says we must be taught how to avoid this biggest pitfall of all and to understand that going bankrupt is an expensive dodge.

Florida has had at least one first team All-SEC football player every year since 1935.

Marvin Milam Guest Of Honor At Farewell Party

Bud's Restaurant was the scene of an enjoyable party Saturday afternoon and evening. Marvin Milam, former owner who recently sold the business, was honored with a surprise open house celebration, as a farewell gesture. Friends, employees and customers called to bid goodbye to Marvin and his family. Background music was provided during the appointed hours by Mrs. Jay Beck at her chord organ and a record player, both loaned for the occasion.

The party table was centered with a punch bowl and a decorated cake bidding "Farewell" and "Good Sailing to the Milams wherever they go." A miniature rocking chair, complete with pipe and tobacco stand that "Old Rocking Chair Had Marvin."

Mints, nuts and hors d'oeuvres were also served to the many who called, even during a downpour of rain. Hostesses were Nippy Nolan, Maxine Vanzura and Mrs. Dot D'Andrea, assisted by Mrs. Beck. The two Negro women who served the guests entered into the gaiety of the celebration by wearing hibiscus in their hair and Hawaiian leis around their necks. Mr. and Mrs. Milam's daughter, Joyce, was unable to attend the party. She was in Seminole Memorial Hospital recuperating from a tonsillectomy.

By MARIAN R. JONES
Miss Marilyn Partin recently celebrated her 14th birthday with a party at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Partin, in Oviedo.

The carpenter of the Partin home was gaily decorated with crepe paper streamers and balloons in the Oviedo school colors of black and orange and large letters proclaimed "Happy Birthday" to Marilyn.

Sixteen guests played games, danced and participated in a treasure hunt. The group divided into two groups for the hunt and the "Jesse James gang" won over the "Kit Carson clan."

Encourage Kids In Right Dress

Children no matter what their age, are never too young to be properly dressed for school. A little girl, in too many ruffles or frills, is as much "out of her class" as though her lessons were not up to average class standards. Thus a boy's outfit that's just right for the playground, however clean and fresh it may be—"off base" for the classroom.

Parents can help their children develop this important sense of knowing what to wear, and when. Don't imply that his choice of blue jeans is a disgrace. They are sturdy, comfortable, ideal for play. On the other hand, don't allow be-ruffled party-type dresses to go to school.

Avoid buying a size or two larger than is needed. It's not economical and wasteful. The child grows awkward and unsteady and all the joy of having something new is overshadowed because the child is well aware that he looks absurd.

Buy the correct size, then take advantage of the "grow" features which most clothes have today. Look for deep hems, wide seams, let-down room on cuffs—these extras in ready-made clothing, are plus-features that help apparel "grow" with the normally-growing child.

Business Briefs

The familiar orange and black A & W Root Beer stand on French Avenue, near 20th St. has taken on new appearance as well as a new owner.

Otto Plack, formerly of Midlothian, a suburb of Chicago, purchased the popular restaurant franchise recently, and immediately started a program of enlargement and modernization.

After "shopping over considerable part of Florida, the Placks finally decided that Sanford was the best site for their requirements for a home town. They will be living with their three children in their newly purchased home at 2400 Laurel Avenue.

Something new has been added to the catering scene in the Sanford area, with the opening last week of the Maryland Fried Chicken Drive-in, on Highway 17-92 in Fern Park, just a mile north of Maitland Plaza.

The idea of preparing fish, shrimp and chicken dinners and other foods in quantity for parties, picnic, boat cruises, church functions and other large groups as well as individuals is the joint idea of Al Constantine and Warren Truesdell, both experienced restaurant men.

Constantine, who came to Florida from Delaware three years ago, still owns the successful Constantine's Restaurant on the Orange Blossom Trail, and Truesdell has had varied restaurant experience in Cleveland, Ohio.

The special recipe as well as much of the equipment used in the preparation of Maryland Fried Chicken and other foods were specially designed and prepared by the two partners to give their dishes "a distinctive taste and flavor."

Famed Actor Coburn Dies

NEW YORK (UPI) — Charles Coburn, 64, the moped actor who tramped the boards for 25 years in one of the longest careers in show business, died Wednesday of heart failure after a minor throat operation.

Coburn had undergone the operation at Lenox Hill Hospital to correct a lingering illness that last week forced him to spend 6 1/2 hours daily for intravenous feedings while on a road tour of "You Can't Take It With You." His last performance was in Indianapolis Sunday, ending a week's record-breaking appearance.

Coburn, one of the most beloved and renowned oldtimers despite his talent for scene stealing, won an Academy Award in 1942 as the best supporting actor for his role in "The Night of the Hunter."

His career spanned the old time stock company, Broadway, radio, movie and TV.

Coburn, who wore the moped over his right eye because of a stigmata-like mark born in Macon, Ga., June 19, 1877, his first contact with the theatre came after his family moved to Savannah when at 13 he was mistaken for a playhouse manager for a program boy. He rose to become manager of that theatre.

His marriage to Ivah Hills in 1905 was one of the great real-life love stories of the theatre.

Reservists Advised On Family Policy

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The 76,000 American military reservists to be called to active duty beginning Oct. 1 will be advised against taking their families to stations in the United States, the Defense Department said today.

The department previously pointed out that reservists would not be eligible to take families overseas. This is because a year's remaining duty abroad is required for overseas movement of families, while the reservists are being called for only 13 months in all.

Shortage of housing was given as the reason for discouraging movement of dependents to the vicinity of U. S. stations. But the department said the reservists will be "treated the same as all other active duty personnel."

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: For the last four months I have been going out with a boy (I will call him "A") who is 22. When I first met "A" at the swimming pool, I noticed he had a deep scar running down his chest, and I asked him how he got it. He told me that while in the Army he was cut during combat practice.

Recently, his younger brother told me that "A" was in a knife fight with another boy when he was 17, and that both boys were sent to an Industrial School. If this story is true, I know I can't go out with "A" any more. Should I believe "A's" GIRL brother?

DEAR GIRL: Start with "A" and ask some questions. Chances are you won't get to "Z" before you find out what you want to know.

DEAR ABBY: How can I get people to mind their own business? I haven't had a haircut in 75 years. I wear it brushed out, and hanging to my waist. Almost every day someone says, "Why don't you cut that stuff off?" Or, "Gee, isn't that mop a lot of trouble?"

To be truthful, it IS a lot of trouble. But I like it this way, and I'm the one who has to take care of it. How can I get people to quit staring at me and making remarks? I am 87 years old and don't need anyone to tell me how to wear my hair.

LONG HAIR

DEAR LONG: If you are "stared at" and almost every day someone remarks on your hair, perhaps you ought to treat yourself to a professional opinion at a smart beauty salon. But if you are determined to wear it that way, don't be offended if folks stare and make remarks. How many other women your age sport a 15 years' growth of hair brushed out and hanging to the waist?

DEAR ABBY: I just read a letter in your column signed "A Private Affair" from a woman who was criticized because she didn't cry at her mother's funeral.

I have been a nurse for nearly half a century, and have witnessed many deaths and the families' reaction to them. I have observed that those who did the most work, caring for the departed during his (or her) lifetime, were usually the ones who took the death most quietly. It is the ones who neglected the lost one who carry on in public and go into hysterics. To say that one is callous and unfeeling because he or she doesn't cry in public is cruel and unjust.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "IN A JAM": There is NO law whereby you can FORCE a man to marry you.

"Are things rough?" Let Abby help you solve your problem. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and send to Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Highlights

Thursday's top shows as previewed and selected by TV Key's staff of experts who attend rehearsals, watch screenings and analyze scripts in New York and Hollywood:

Summer Sports Spectacular—"Tournament of Thrills." Later this evening, via "CBS Reports," you're going to be told to drive carefully. But for this hour you can relax and watch skilled, professional stunt men doing the craziest things on wheels. Taped at New York's State Fair, stunts range from flying through the air off a ramp to driving through fire. Most of us have seen these wild auto shows but tonight you'll ride with them as cameras and mikes are in the cars. 7:30 p. m. (CBS).

Frontier Justice—"The Fearful Courage." (Repeat) A killer stalks a widow hiding in an abandoned cabin. With her is a fellow who is helping her escape. A bit improbable but convincing thanks to the performances of Ida Lupino and James Whitmore. This one is vintage '68. 8:30 p. m. (CBS).

My Three Sons—"Sunday Drive." (Repeat) A delightful half hour based on this show's usual nothing. It's a lovely spring day and neighbor Pearson is bubbling over with enthusiasm and poetry. The poor man ends up with a carload of uninvited guests seeking a free ride in the country. Robert Lieb is fine as the harassed neighbor, but credit goes once again to the director for a beautiful pacing job. 9 p. m. (ABC).

CBS Reports—"The Great Holiday Massacre." (Repeat) A grim but enlightening report about millions of sneaky people—meaning your TV Key previewer, probably you, and all those other drivers who contribute to the needless carnage on America's roads. You'll hear a state trooper, the hero of the show, comment on the "lowest form of human life," and listen to another traffic official make a sensible suggestion: regulation to insure the installation of additional safety devices by auto manufacturers. Two bits of advice for you—watch this program and install safety belts in your car. 10 p. m. (CBS).

Jack Paar—George Gobel, who's rehearsing for a Broadway show, takes a seat with Jack tonight and he should be amusing. Also on hand is magazine writer Eleanor Harris who's going to Berlin the same time as Jack. (Color) 11:15 p. m. (NBC).

TELEVISION star Carol Burnett crowns the new "Miss Imperial Polk County" at Cypress Gardens, assisted by last year's queen, Mary Lynn McCutcheon of Winter Haven. Twenty year old Shirley Jane Wilkins of Dundee won the 1961-62 title in the annual pageant which was viewed by more than 3,000 Polk County guests.

We The Women:

By Ruth Millet

In their own living rooms American families grouped together before their TV sets have watched in hushed and prayerful silence both times that America sent a man alone into space.

The courage of the men in the capsule, the fear for his safety, the mystery of outer space, the appeal of the unknown to the imagination of the watchers—are as awe-inspiring as anything the magic of television has even been able to bring into the lives of the American people.

time for cuteness, the entertainment as usual, the meaningless chatter that is all part and parcel of the average television show.

When a man is about to risk his life for us, don't we owe his courage, his selflessness, his dedication something better than a couple of men bandying silly words with a pretty girl in the usual feeble TV effort to fill up time before the "main attraction"?

How can TV be so insensitive as this? A man being shot into space isn't a TV spectacular but a human being meeting an awe-inspiring test of courage and stamina and self-reliance ordinary individuals are rarely permitted to share even remotely.

In being able to let us sit safely in our homes and in a small way share such an experience TV is a privileged medium.

Surely the industry could meet such a situation with more dignity, inspiration and imagination than has been shown so far.

You get more than one good idea when you read Ruth Millet's booklet, "How to Have a Happy Husband." Send 25 cents to Ruth Millet Reader Service, c/o Sanford Herald, P. O. Box 489, Dept. A, Radio City Station, New York 19, N. Y.

Jacoby On Bridge

By Oswald Jacoby

Recently I had the doubtful pleasure of watching a hard luck Joe player defend a hand.

He sat East and after a short period of apparent concentration played the jack of spades on dummy's nine. He smiled triumphantly when the jack held and looked around for new worlds to conquer.

He finally shifted to a heart and South went about the business of wrapping up game and rubber. It wasn't difficult. He took the heart trick, entered dummy with a diamond, lost the club finesse to West's king and covered queen of spades with dummy's king. Double dummy, he could have played low and made four odd, but four clubs, three diamonds and two hearts gave him the game.

"If only I had a third spade," complained East, "but then I am never lucky."

"If only you knew what you were doing," said West. "My seven of spades were clearly the fourth best and you had a cinch to beat the hand. Go right up with the ace of spades and return the jack. That-dummy ducked I could establish my last two spades while I still held the king of clubs."

West was right. This is one time that a winning finesse turned out to be a luxury.

Slade Airfield To Close For Repairs

The Slade Airport between Longwood and Sanlando Springs will be closed Sept. 1 for the repair to the runway and filling of holes, according to F. E. Slade, the owner.

The airport is a grass field, said Slade, and the repairs are necessary because the dry weather killed the sod and left bare sand spots. This caused holes to come in the surface of the field when plane wheels rolled over these bare spots. The field will get a dressing of top soil and be reseeded in time for the opening of the busy season.

The field is used by businessmen for their planes and by crop dusters who operate in the area.

city in 1948, the sharp-featured U. S. military governor for Germany rallied the U. S. forces there.

He refused West Berliners with the enthusiasm to beat the blockade, and they did.

And when it was over, and he retired, he told them that if they ever needed him again "I would come back on my hands and knees."

He is going back. President Kennedy Wednesday announced he is sending Gen. Lucius D. Clay, the man Congress called "the hero of Berlin, back to the city that regards him as a mighty symbol of resistance to Red pressure.

Kennedy announced Wednesday that Clay would embark on the task Sept. 15 and "serve as long as the special arrangement seems desirable."

West Berlin faced a more dangerous crisis because of Communist barriers, Clay was certain to be welcomed back. This time he will go as Ambassador Clay, the President's personal representative, not as a general of a conquering army.

He already has been back to West Berlin, accompanying Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson earlier this month on a moral boosting visit to the Red-encircled city.

The President told his news conference Wednesday that "the situation in Berlin is a serious one and I wish to have the advantage of having on the scene a person of General Clay's outstanding capacity and experience."

Kennedy said Clay's appointment "will not change the existing responsibilities of our military and diplomatic officers in Germany and Berlin." But, he added, Clay would add to "our resources of judgment and action."

New 7-11 Store Set To Open Its Doors Friday

The first 7-11 store in Sanford opens its doors to the public Friday at 7 a. m. and continues until 11 p. m. every day of the week, at the same hours.

Friday and Saturday will be grand opening days for the new store, which is located on Country Club Road, at the corner of Hardy Ave., just west of the Country Club Manor subdivision.

The compact store measures approximately 2,400 square feet and carries a full line of food items including frozen foods, fresh produce and a complete line of dairy items.

7-11 pioneered the open front drive-up store in Florida, opening the first such store in Miami in 1964. Since that time a number of other markets have been established.

Robert Devreaux will be the manager of the new store, coming here from Orlando. He will be assisted by George Cubbison, retired Navy man.

ROBERT DEVREAUX is manager of the new 7-11 store opening Friday. He lives with his wife Betty, daughter Linda and son Robbie.

Auto Workers Putting Pressure On General Motors

DETROIT (UPI) — The United Auto Workers union started to put the pressure on General Motors today in hopes of reaching agreement before a government-prompted strike deadline expires Sept. 8.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther said he would discuss with GM today, "just where we are in negotiations, economic problems and review other contract matters."

Wednesday Reuther took a hot and cold tack in discussing the UAW-GM talks.

He made it clear that the union was far from satisfied with General Motors offers to date but insisted the union "is not looking for a strike."

He said the UAW would not insist that GM or Ford or Chrysler follow exactly the profit-sharing line laid down in the union's agreement with American Motors.

Reuther then sharply turned a corner and insisted that GM and the others would have to "match" the AMC agreement in some way before any settlement is possible.

GM Vice President Louis Beaton, meanwhile, was telling newsmen that the Big Three offer would put an extra $1,000 in the pay envelopes of GM workers during the three year period proposed.

Reuther and American Motors President George Romney held a joint news conference Wednesday to announce the final form of the AMC agreement.

In essence the agreement provides that the company will set up a reserve fund from profits before taxes then an annual payment amounting to 10 per cent of profits before taxes will be placed in the employees "progress sharing" fund to pay for increased benefits.

In addition to the original 10 per cent reserve fund the employees will get a 3 per cent stock deposit, the stock to be voted by trustees and the dividends to be paid into the fund. At the end of two years the employees may take the stock or convert it into cash.

Tom Smith, first team left end, will be playing in front of his home town folks Nov. 4, when the Gators meet Georgia Tech in Atlanta.

Bricklaying Course Set At Crooms

A course in Block and Bricklaying will be organized at Crooms Academy at 6 p. m. Sept. 11, according to an announcement from E. S. Douglass, director of vocational and adult education in Seminole County, today.

The instructor will be Leroy Brown Jr. a member of the faculty of Crooms Academy. Brown is a graduate of Tuskegee Institute in Alabama and is a native of Seminole County.

All the equipment necessary for this course is supplied by the Seminole County School Board and includes a powered masonry saw, drafting equipment for sketching as well as hand tools. The course will include related mathematics.

The only charge is a registration fee of $2 plus the cost of the text. All those interested in taking the course should report to Crooms Academy at 6 p. m., Sept. 11.

Further information is available from Douglass at his office at 202 E. Commercial Ave.

COUNTY NEWS THURSDAY, AUGUST 31, 1961 PAGE 13

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Crackdown Ordered

The County Commission is to be commended for its action Tuesday in ordering a crackdown on all speed violators around schools in Seminole County.

The board, working on the suggestion by Commissioner James P. Avery, asked that all law enforcement officers around county schools "crackdown hard" on violators speeding in school zones.

We agree with Avery that if this enforcement is not carried out, statistics at the end of the year will not be pleasant.

Sanford-DeBary Society Elects New Officers

At a recent meeting of the Sanford-DeBary Patriotic Society held at the home of James Talmadge in Sanford, Mr. Talmadge was sworn in as president by Commander J. Andrews. The new president then installed Miss Alice Busby as recording secretary.

Forty members of the society had written an outline and recommendations for teaching the merits of Americanism versus evils of Communist Conspiracy which is to be taught in the Florida schools starting in September of 1962. This, with an accompanying letter was sent to Governor Bryant and three members of Congress.

The Society has received letters from Hon. R. Stalling and the Hon. Syd Herlong praising them for their efforts and submitting some helpful suggestions. From these letters developed a discussion on how much time should be devoted to the study of Communism and how much should be done in active work. Each member was given a copy of "Masters of Deceit" by J. Edgar Hoover of the FBI and this primer on communism will be available to any member of the community who would like to borrow a copy.

North Orlando CD Program A 'Success'

North Orlando Civil Defense survival training program has been very successful according to Arthur Rhodes, head of the Civil Defense program there. The first class in this program ended Tuesday evening with 22 men receiving their diplomas in the North Orlando Fire Hall.

Rhodes also stated that the possibility of a community shelter, as well as individual shelters, has been discussed. However, Mayor Frank Fasula has received a letter from the Civil Defense Headquarters stating that there are no funds available for shelters at this time. Mayor Fasula added that there is no land available for community shelters in North Orlando.

Within a few weeks Rhodes expects to have a complete program worked out which will include first aid, rescue, transportation and a system of warning for attack. He also plans to have block wardens to whom people in each block can turn in case of emergency. The program is designed to accommodate disaster of any sort.

Anyone in this area needing help or advice may contact Rhodes or Robert Stephenson. A meeting will be scheduled later to tell residents what has been done for them and to answer questions they may have.

Another class in Civil Defense is being formed now and is scheduled to start next week. In conjunction with this, a First Aid class is being organized to begin the same week, but meetings will be on a different night in case someone wishes to enroll in both courses.
