

Struggling With A Secretary Is A Job, Boyle Says

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK—(AP)—Things are different since "my sec" arrived. Too different.

"My sec" is short for "my secretary."

My sec is short herself. She is also blonde, blue-eyed and pretty. She is also married to a Mormon and has two children. She is one of my wife's best friends. Her name is Laurie.

It wasn't through honest merit, that I joined the men of distinction who have office secretaries. It came about in this wise:

One morning I came to work and found a small, disheveled blonde fiercely burrowing into the knee-high litter of books, magazines, papers, letters, and old cigar butts atop my desk. She was making strangling noises, so I pulled her out—and recognized her.

When I asked if she had lost one of her children in there or something, she said:

"No, silly, I'm working for you now—cleaning up this mess."

"Who hired you?"

"Your wife, Frances, did. She came in here the other day and saw this pile of junk on your desk, and she's afraid it'll topple over and kill you. I'm here to help you get rid of it."

"And here's Laurie going to get the money to pay you?"

"Out of her fur coat fund," said Laurie.

Well, that stopped me. I had given Frances some money at Christmas for the family fur coat fund. This fund has been going on ever since we were married eleven years ago. But every time it has gotten big enough to buy the left forefoot of a silver fox pelt, we have had to dip into the fund for one emergency or another.

As a matter of fact, my wife lately has fallen into the wasteful habit of calling it the "Frances Boyle Memorial Fur Coat Fund," on the theory that by the time there's enough in it to actually buy a fur coat she will be wearing wings and a long white robe (trotton).

So if Frances now wanted to rob her own fund to hire me a secretary for a few weeks, what could I do? Nothing.

"Okay, Laurie," I said. "I give up. You're me see. What's for dinner?"

She pulled open a crumpled desk drawer. A 1947 edition of the world almanac and a withered apple core (probably late 1946) tumbled to the floor.

"Let's get rid of all this junk," she said sternly. Like my mother, Laurie looks at the ceiling while she's talking to you—if she's really angry. And Laurie was looking at the ceiling.

For days and days she has been throwing away the dear, wonderful rubbish of my life with ruthless hands. Every last handful takes something out of my heart.

Laurie soon will depart, as she has the desk about whipped.

"Then you can turn over a clean new leaf," she said.

Bless my sec! How can I tell her I quit looking for bright new pages years ago? I have felt for some time it is better to live the pages as life itself turns them—good or bad, old or new. There's always something on every page to like or learn from.

And I know it won't be long before the desk is piled high and happy again. The creakers will be back, one by one. I'm going to buy them a new jar of library paste for a welcome home party. And then I can spend my time at the office in the old way.

But that fur coat fund for Frances? I'll have to start it all over again.

BIBLE VERSE TODAY

Godly enough in modern Christian democracies, the people are few. Tens of millions are better clothed, better housed, better fed and educated than kings were a few thousand years ago. Their riches are correspondingly appalled, and they definitely are in their right. —L. T. M.

The Tampa Tribune reveals that Lawrence Warren is a Ku Klux on his staff. But that's nothing.
President Roosevelt put one of them on the Supreme Court.

The Governor of Ohio, after a little maneuvering, finds that in 1944 over $400,000 was paid by his state to some 7,000 unemployed Ohioans who were vacationing in Florida and California. Fortunately for us, most of it, $147,000 that came to Florida, which just goes to show how much more favor Florida receives among the unemployed at least.

The value of lumber and fish in Seminole County has been revealed by the State Game and Fish Commission with more than 454,000 pounds of fish caught in Seminole County last year and worth over a million dollars to its citizens. In addition to that alone, 4824 quail, 24 wild turkeys and 77 deer died in this county. The Seminole County Sportsman's Association deserves great credit for its success in restocking Seminole County fields and streams.

From the number of crimes we read about that go unreported in this country, we sometimes get the impression that a person can rob a bank or commit a murder with impunity, but the Census Bureau reveals that 152 prisoners were put to death in this country last year.
In one kind of crime or another Murder accounted for 128 cases, theft for 24, burglary, 1. Almost half of them took place in five states: South Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, New York and Pennsylvania.

You may think you may not have to pay any part of the taxes which are currently being squandered by state and federal governments, but if you smoke cigarettes, or drink beer, you help to bear the load. The State Game and Fish Department reveals that average price of citrus fruit during the first seven months of this year totalled $20,225,500, which would amount to about 15 million dollars a year, just about enough to pay the cost of State Welfare.

We are glad to learn from the Department of Agriculture that food prices have not been as high as we seemed to be under the inflation. It now seems, according to the department, that during the period from April to July, last year, the average family used only 11 per cent of its spendable income for the same amount of food it bought with 23 percent of its income in the 1933-39 period.

Allotting Steel

If there is not enough steel to go around among the industries using it, the supply should be apportioned as fairly as possible among all users, except that industries which are considered essential should get as much as they need for producing things which the nation has to have. The systematic allotment of steel and other scarce materials makes sense. At the same time, the power to do it is one which could be very dangerous in unscrupulous hands.

The power to allot steel does exist. If the law requested by the Administration should be enacted, then it would be placed in the hands of the President. When there was no doubt about the power was held by the makers of steel. If they did not consciously exercise it then money in the market would be the allotting power—in other words, the available steel would go to the highest bidder. Under the present voluntary allotment law a kind of in-between situation exists: the allotments are worked out by industry with the action of the government.

No matter where the power rests—with steel makers, with the government or with the buying power of money in the open market—it could be pernicious, if wrongly used. The power allotted steel is the power to control all industries which must have steel. Therefore no matter who is given this power, we depend for right use of it on the moral integrity of people.

The same thing is true of all the rights and privileges and power which pertain to what we call the American way of life. The whole pattern depends on the morals of people. As long as most Americans want what is best for all of us, our way of life is secure. Where personal profits or the lust for political power has become more important to individual than to the national good, trouble is bound to ensue.

Mutual Assistance

Russia's competition to the Marshall Plan has recently been more strongly enhanced under the name "Council of Economic Mutual Assistance."

That the assistance in the case of the satellite nations is to come from mutual aid is brought out by scrutiny of documents. The procedure involved in that which Russia has adopted since the end of war. The fact of all the goods manufactured or produced in Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Poland, and Romania must be sent to Russia.

Thus the quantities of oil, tobacco, cotton goods, shoes and machines turned out by the workmen in these countries are not primarily for their own consumption. They must take what is left after shipments to Russia, and from the poor grades must come also whatever products they sell for barter or exchange to Western powers. Russia controls the prices which are low on sales to the Soviet Union.

The charges against the continued success of the Council of Economic Mutual Assistance seem to be heavy. Underground movements are already under way in some of the satellite countries. So strongly individualistic people will continue indefinitely to furnish the cream of its production for the benefit of an outside government, especially one which imposes its will on its nationals by police state methods.

Gratitude Train

The Gratitude Train sent to this country from France, an answer to our own Friendship Train, is a gesture which will be understood and appreciated by all Americans.

The people of this country have extended material generosity to Europe in many ways, individually, in private projects and through government programs. It is natural to ask, sometimes, if this generosity is appreciated.

The Gratitude Train, like the Friendship Train, is laden with a collection of all sorts of things that individuals would be willing to give, as their own personal tokens. It is a kind of bread-and-butter gift which can be accepted as a happy symbol of real friendliness for what Americans have given to France and the rest of Europe.

Canners Hold Line
On Fruit Prices To
Net Grower Profit

LAKELAND, Feb. 4 (Special)—Prices paid by Florida citrus canners for oranges they processed since the California freeze early in January were credited today for "holding the line" on FOB fresh fruit sales and netting the growers a profit despite the collapse of the auction market.

Reviewing the January price picture on Florida oranges, the Citrus League of Florida here said that canners' prices for fruit during the last week in January brought the grower an average of about 80 cents per box on the tree, which would mean a net profit of 25 or 30 cents per box.

During the same period, the FOB price for fresh oranges netted the grower about a nickel less, the League reported, while auction sales went in the red by 16 cents or more.

"Roughly the same picture is true for the third week," Homer E. Hooks, League secretary, said. "While in the first and second weeks the canner price gained steadily as FOB quotations held about the same and the auction markets began their downward trend."

"Canners' prices during the month definitely held the line against a threatened drop in the marketation that our pay check didn't cover quite as many groceries as it did before the war."

John Ivey, trying to find a suitable location for the proposed swimming pool, quotes Selective Service statistics to prove that Florida, with more miles of coastline, more inland lakes and streams, than any other state in the union, ranks third from the bottom in the number of people who know how to swim. The answer to that is not many people learn how to swim in the ocean, where waves hamper the beginner, or widely scattered lakes or streams, but rather in swimming pools where supervision and instruction are available. Only the more venturesome have learned to swim in Florida where the nearest of natural water has reacted against the construction of swimming pools.

THE WORLD TODAY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Moscow thus far has failed to intimidate small but sturdy Norway and so keep her from considering the idea of joining the projected North Atlantic Alliance now being discussed in Washington.

In reply to pointed Russian inquiry, Norway has stated that she finds it necessary to seek increased security through defensive cooperation.

Security from what? Well, the Oslo government didn't say, but there's only one Wolf pack running in Europe today. That's the Reds.

The United States and the other prospective members of the alliance—Canada, Britain, France, Belgium, and Luxembourg—are observed at Norway's display of courage. And well they may be for that rugged Scandinavian country is an important (perhaps vital) link in the anti-Communist defenses of Western Europe.

The Washington conference is expected to give Norway quick support in her resistance to Moscow's pressure.

This development holds special interest for you communists, because Norway is an old and tried friend. Eve fished her lovely streams—explored her awe-inspiring fjords, climbed her towering peaks and even have albedown the precipitous face of one of them and learned to eat cheese for breakfast.

Eve always liked Norway and her hospitable, straightforward folk. I like her more now. It adds courage to a land of a few more than 3,000,000 people to tell myself to Moscow where to head in.

At the beginning of the last war she was a staunch neutral. On April 9, 1940, she learned to her dismay that neutrality isn't worth a tinker's damn when a powerful aggressor goes on the move. Hitler invaded and quickly overran her.

Why should the English go out of their way to perform such a difficult military operation? Well, there are several reasons, most of which have to be taken into account in present day strategic considerations.

Norway links Britain on the North Sea. This rugged Scandinavian country also is a formidable sentinel for the Skagerrak gate to the Baltic which washes a long way between the North Sea and And Norway provides invaluable stretch of the Bolshevik Empire air and naval bases.

The Russian ministry in Oslo asked (1) whether Norway intended to join the North Atlantic Alliance and, if so (2) whether this would obligate her to grant bases to foreign powers. Oslo replied that she was examining the possibilities of an Atlantic Security arrangement but didn't intend to grant bases unless she was threatened with attack.

Naturally that answer can't give much satisfaction to Moscow.

It seems obvious that if Norway joins the Atlantic Alliance, it will create bases of her own which would immediately be made available to her allies in event of aggression.

Thus she would become a major link in the defenses of the Western nations against the Communists.

It's easy to see why Moscow is showing worry and asking questions. And why Premier Stalin has been making unofficial offers to meet President Truman for "peace" parley in Communist territory.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 4—(AP)—

The district attorney says several amateur friendship clubs are being taken over by "gangsters and racketeers who plan to use them as a wedge to establish the numbers racket in southern California.

District Attorney William E. Simpson made this statement following a raid yesterday on the club Algiers, where nearly $25,000, mostly in $1 bills, was seized. Officers said the club was making fake payoffs.

Circulation Of Papers Hits All-Time High

NEW YORK, Feb. 4—(UPI)—U.S. daily and Sunday newspaper circulation hit an all-time high in 1944, the eighth consecutive year in which a new record has been established.

The figures were released yesterday by Editor and Publisher and will appear in the trade publication's 1945 International Year Book to be issued later this month.

Total daily newspaper circulation was 52,285,297 at the end of 1944, a 12 per cent gain over the 1943 figure. Sunday circulation was 46,308,081, or 2.7 per cent above the previous year.

In 1948, there were 12 more dailies, all evening papers, than in 1947, bringing the total number of dailies in the U. S. to 1,781. It was the fifth consecutive year in which the total number of dailies has risen.

WOMAN BURNS

NEW YORK, Feb. 4—(UPI)—A housewife burned to death outside her home last night. Police expressed belief she had saturated her clothing with cleaning fluid and set herself afire.

Police said her husband was awakened shortly before midnight by the glare of flames outside his bedroom window. He rushed out side, and with a blanket smothered the fire that enveloped his wife.

Major League Clubs Go All Out To Bolster Sagging Hill Staffs

NEW YORK, Feb. 4—(AP)—Pitching won the Major Leagues pennants for Cleveland and Boston last year and nobody realizes that more than the 14 club owners who wound up as also rans.

[Determined to bolster their mound staffs, the magnates went all out this winter for pitching strength, number of trades involving hurlers, picked the minors nearly clean of top moundmen and handed out fabulous bonuses to college stars.

The Chicago Cubs have landed

Ces McLean, Dutch Leonard and

Walter Dubiel; the Philadelphia

Phils' have acquired Russ Meyer,

Hank Borowy and Ken Trinkel;

and the Chicago White Sox have obtained Floyd Bevens, Billy

Pierce, Ernie Groth and Bob Kuzava.

Pittsburgh signed Cliff

Chambers, Murry Dickson and Bob

Milner; the New York Yankees,

Fred Sanford, Washington, Joe

Haynes and Ed Kleiman; Cleveland, Frank, Papich and Early

Wynn and the St. Louis Browns,

Red Embree and Dick Starr.

Although they failed to complete a deal, the Boston Red Sox have come up with several promising youngsters to help their sagging mound staff. It was the lack of pitchers to cope with the Tribe's four Feller, Bob Lemon and Gene

Bearden that cost them the American League flag in 1948.

Owner Tom Yawkey lured Frank

Ogden, Yale great, into joining the Bosox with a $75,000 bonus induc-ment. Boston also brought up one to a trial with the Dodgers.

SOCER TOP SPORT

MADRID, (UPI)—Soccer, not bullfighting, is Spain's national sport now.

While there are a few hundred bullfighters in Spain, recent staistics show that 30,571 soccer players are registered in this country.

Of this figure, 27,564 are amateurs, the rest professional. In Catalonia alone there are 807 soccer clubs, grouping 7,689 players.

Soccer also is deeply rooted in Andalusia, the native region of the most famous Spanish bullfighters. There are 3,470 players on the 489 Andalusian teams.

It is estimated that every Sunday about 300,000 fans attend the seven matches of the First Divilion League Championship. Bull-fighting never provided statistics like that.

FDR's Health

T. Miller hospitals in St. Paul, Minn. He is a fellow of the American Medical Association, the American Academy of Ophthalmology and Otolaryngology, and the American College of Surgeons. The editors of Look say Dr. Wold for many years has searched the medical record of U. S. Presidents "to show their illnesses could affect their lives, and in turn their nation's history."

Dr. Wold says, "I am sorry to say, a marked turn for the worse followed his trip to Cairo and Tehran last May." The article continues:

"That he was a sick man was readily recognized at his press conferences. Dr. Wold declared,

"About this time, a parade of doctors was called to the White House. Everyone refused to talk for publication, but some of the physicians privately discussed Roosevelt's symptoms."

"They agreed that he had had a stroke and was suffering from general deterioration, and two of them doubted that he could live until July 1, 1944."

"The late President became seriously ill again in March, 1944, when stricken by severe bronchitis. He shook off the illness, and after convalescence at Bernard M. Baruch's plantation in Georgetown, S. C., seemed to be 'back on the road to complete health.'

"The recovery was short-lived, however, said Dr. Wold, and in June, 1944, one examining physician gave a private opinion that 'there was a 50-50 chance that Roosevelt wouldn't live to end out his term—the third one.'

As Mr. Roosevelt entered his fourth term, the changes in health were reflected in the late President's appearance and actions, the article said.

"Mr. Roosevelt suffered the third stroke on Mar. 26, 1945, at Hyde Park, Dr. Wold said.

Mindzenty Trial

Cardinal, Externay said he had never requested financial support for royalist activities from the Cardinal.

Like Cardinal Mindszenty, Eszterhazy denied the charges of plotting to overthrow the Communist-dominated government.

"Please still be to come from the other defendants," the Rev. Miklos Nagy, Secretary of the Catholic Action Organization; the Rev. Bela Szepenyi, a priest, and Laszlo Toth, a journalist.

The letter which Cardinal Mindszenty recently wrote was written in the month before his arrest Dec. 26. Cardinal Mindszenty told the court he will see things differently from them when he drafted this letter, and I want to repeat what I said yesterday—that I regret this error."

The Roman Catholic Primate of Hungary said he wrote the letter with instructions that it be forwarded to the bishops and archbishops of Hungary on the day he was arrested. It said my admissions of guilt on his part would be because of weakness of the flesh." He said today: "I want to be considered that letter to null and void."

The Cardinal said the court had not hindered him in his defense and that he had access to his lawyers at all times. He disputed a contention by Presiding Judge Vilmos Olthys, that the latter had "shorted" this court."

The letter did not reflect on the five-man peoples court which is trying him. The Cardinal said, because it was written before his arrest, contents of the letter have been broadcast for the last two weeks by the Voice of America. The broadcasts said the letter cleared the Cardinal beforehand of any statement he might make under duress after his arrest.

Cardinal Mindszenty testified in a composed manner today. This contrasted with his appearance just right at the close of the 13-hour opening session.

At that time he appeared shaken when the prosecution charged he had written a letter asking U. S. Minister Chapin to help him escape prison and flee Hungary by plane. His muddled reply to a question by the court as to whether he had written that letter was repeated in the record as an affirmative answer. (Chapin said he had not received such a letter.)

Woman Arms Flat To Keep Husband Out

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—A blonde former Philadelphia social woman today barred the door of her luxuriant Manhattan apartment to her husband and rendered the barricade with armed clubs and multiple locks.

Mrs. Edith Marie Lyons, 41, has lived for 11 years in an atmosphere of an armed forces in a battle growing out of a separation suit she has filed against Robert P. Lord, 46, wealthy attorney and manufacturer.

She had got in her husband out of the apartment to the timber and hired two armed men to break up his action. But in November, she launched a counter attack with private detectives of her own and took possession of West 55th Street flat.

Chairman Max Baucus, 52, left the Senate Banking Committee closed Monday afternoon to go to the White House to meet President Truman.

We should be able to get up for action in the Senate today," he told reporters.

In addition, Baucus said, he will call down his committee's support of the bill.

Senator Edward G. Teller of California, who has been in the lead in pushing for subsidies on health, food, etc.

"Who are they?" he asked today. "How can they do that way? How many in the Senate?" How do they do it?" small incomes?" Do they care about the low income bracket what can be done to get them and keep them out?"

"I'm going to vote for some kind of housing," Baucus said in an interview. "But I can't vote for voting subsidies forever. I need to find out why it is necessary in so many instances what can be done about it."

Planned economy, Chairman Baucus said, is a banking subcommittee to some public hearings on the administration's new program.

Hoover Raps Drives To Exempt Agencies From Reorganization

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 (AP)—The former President said these "propaganda drives" were aimed at the government. In response to prompted by the House Select Committee, Hoover specifically referred to the U.S. Army Engineers and certain public works agencies.

Senator Glen Taylor (D-Tulsa) received 2,000 telegrams protesting the plan. Hoover said:

"They claim Engineers have minimized their anxiety and the trend all over the country. They have provided the chance before the Senate had a chance to vote on the bill."

He added that it would be "unfair" to exempt any attorney who had such exemption which Attorney Fred Fisher was sentenced to three to 10 years in prison in June 1947 while awaiting trial on charges before Judge E. P. Adams of López County, Tex.

In a Reed deferred today decision Justice Buttler Murphy and Douglas voice dissenting opinion. Justice Black agreed with the dissent written by Douglas.

Fisher's argument before Adams was rebuffed in an appeal filed by his lawyer who filed a suit for compensation. Fisher's appeal was filed with the Supreme Court.

Attorneys speculate as to the reason for the cold temper and the obvious animosity of the judge. Petitioners' Fisher's client was a negro, perhaps that was the reason. Perhaps the fact that one of the opposing counsels was the nephew son of the author, Adams, was also a factor.
