Police inspect dealerships to thwart thieves

By Nick Pfelfauf
Staff Writer

Thursday, members of the City/County Auto Theft Task Force and the Department of Highway Safety and Motor Vehicles conducted an inspection of used car dealerships, vehicle repair shops and paint shops along Highway 17-92.

The inspections encompassed nearly 40 dealerships from Sanford to the Seminole County line in Maitland.

The inspections were done to ensure dealerships are keeping accurate records. The operation also focused on vehicles that were on site for resale, repair, service or storage.

Sheriff's spokesman Steve Olson reported the investigation uncovered numerous violations.

"Some were minor," he said, "while others were serious administrative violations."

In one case, a dealership was closed because the dealer's license was not current for the address. The dealership, Best Value Auto Sales, 1820 Highway 17-92 in Longwood, was to reopen as soon as management gets its affairs in order.

City/County Auto Theft Task Force members gave the businesses that were not compliant with Florida law, a list of recommendations so that they may become compliant.

Olson said the businesses will be checked again in the next 60 days. If the dealers don't comply, they could face criminal sanctions, or the possible loss of their dealer's license, or both.

Seminole County Deputy Manager Cindy Coto, although a last minute applicant for the position of Volusia County Manager, survived the first County Council review.

Coto, who submitted her application Wednesday, was one of 28 candidates seeking the job. The Volusia County Council went into session Thursday morning to review the applications and when the smoke had cleared, Coto's name was still on the list along with four others, Patrick Miller of Palm Springs, James Roberts of Key West, Michael Roberto of

Railroad work at CR 427 postponed — again

By Nick Pfelfauf
Staff Writer

Work on rail crossings of CR 427, already postponed twice, is now being scheduled once again.

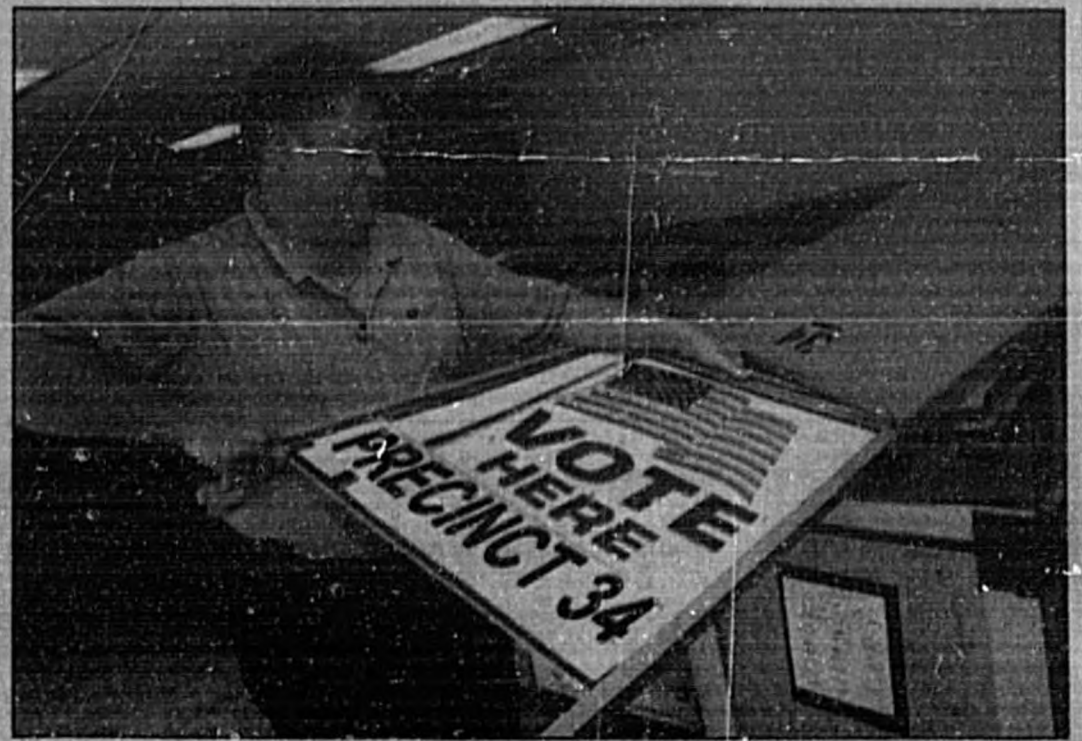

The work, consisting of upgrading the CSX railroad tracks at these locations, was originally scheduled in early August. Then it was reched-uled for mid-August. CSX, however, subsequently informed Seminole County that the work had to be delayed a second time because of track work being conducted in other areas.

Now, the work and related road closures have been rescheduled, but only approx-

Theater season opens Sept. 22

By Michelle Jeria

SANFORD — Four dead men in plaid are coming to town in September.

"Forever Plaid," a musical, starts the 2000-01 entertainment season at the Helen Stairs Theatre. Performances will begin Sept. 22.

"This is a wonderful play," said Helen Stairs, president of the Ritz Board of Directors. "I saw it in Canada, and when the performance was over, I didn't even realize it. The play is that good."

"Forever Plaid," written and originally directed and choreographed by Stuart Ross, takes place in the 1950s, Stairs said. It's about a quartet on its way to a big show when a bad accident occurs.

All four men are killed, but they don't make it to heaven. Instead, they remain in purgatory until a second chance to perform the show comes along. Only after they perform the show can they make it into heaven. "There's a lot of slapstick in it," Stairs said. "And, the music's great."

Starring in the musical are Seminole Countians Danny Bellemah, Robert Delmedico, Nikko Elliott and Joe Garcia. The four men were selected during an audition of more than 20 other actors.

"They are wonderful actors," Stage Manager Nichole Preston-Baum said. "During the audi-

County reopens fire station

From Staff Reports

Seminole County Fire station 13 in Forest City is back in full operation. The facility was officially reopened as of 4 p.m. Thursday.

The station had been closed because of a reported bacteria contamination of water. Units were moved out of the station to insure adequate hygienic environment for the employees.

"The decision was made to relocate the units temporarily due to the bacteriological results of the past few water samples taken," said Terry Schmitt, Fire Chief of Seminole County.

An independent 4,000 gallon water tank has now been placed on site, to supply water to the shower and toilet facilities. Boiled water will continue to be supplied to the station for drinking and cooking.

All tests conducted since the installation of the water tank have revealed adequate amounts of chlorine," said John Cochran of the Seminole County Health Department. He added that the new system will be tested weekly to ensure the chlorine levels are adequate. There will also be daily testing for bacteria over a five day period after the well casing and distribution system have been disinfectant.

Seminole County will continue plans made at recent meetings to secure a new well water line to the station which is should take three months to install.

Police search for pawn shop robbery suspect

From Staff Reports

The Seminole County Sheriff's Office is seeking information in connection with an armed robbery of a pawnshop at approximately 10 a.m. Thursday. Value Pawn is located on Highway 17-92 in Fern Park.

According to sheriff's spokesman Steve Olson, after entering the store, the suspect strolled around for 10 to 12 minutes, looking at stereos and TV equipment prior to the holdup. He then pulled out a gun and took an undisclosed amount of money from the employee behind the cash register. The cashier, along with another employee, were then ordered into the back room while the suspect made his get-away. They told deputies they did not see whether he fled on foot or was in a vehicle.

He is described as a black male, about 300 pounds, in his middle to late 20s. He was wearing prescription glasses, a tan ball cap, blue jeans and a red shirt. He was armed with a .38 caliber revolver.

Anyone with information regarding this armed robbery is asked to call Investigator John Parker at 407-663-6952 as soon as possible.

AFC East: Indianapolis Colts face difficult foes

By Howard Biner
NEA SPORTS

Life is tough in the AFC East. For 2000, the most difficult schedules in the NFL belong to, in order, Buffalo, Miami, Indianapolis and the New York Jets. New England faces the sixth hardest slate.

Going into the 2000 season, here's a look at the division (with the teams listed in their approximate order of strength):

1. INDIANAPOLIS COLTS: With an 0-5 career mark in the playoffs, head coach Jim Mora is eager for another shot. The Colts — third in the NFL in scoring in 1999 and 17th in points allowed — have high hopes, too.

The league's top young passer is Peyton Manning

(4,135 yards, 26 touchdowns). All-NFL running back Edgerrin James led the league in rushing (1,553 yards, with 13 touchdowns) as a rookie. All-NFL wide receiver Marvin Harrison (115 receptions, 1,663 yards, 12 touchdowns) is a veteran. Tight end Ken Dilger is one of the best.

Defensive linemen Chad Bratzke and Ellis Johnson are rising stars.

2. NEW YORK JETS: Rookie head coach Al Groh is working in the shadow of legendary Bill Parcells, who retired to the front office. The Jets closed out their season at 7-2 after an injury-riddled 1-0 start.

Back from a torn Achilles tendon, veteran quarterback Vinny Testaverde gets help from running back Curtis Martin (1,464 yards). Wide receiver Wayne Chrebet is game.

The All-NFL stars are center Kevin Mawae and linebacker Mo Lewis.

Three of the record four first-round draft picks — defensive end Shaun Ellis, linebacker John Abraham and tight end Anthony Becht — might contribute right away.

3. MIAMI DOLPHINS: The Dolphins are the only NFL team to go through the 1990s without a losing season. Now they've lost coach Jimmy Johnson and quarterback Dan Marino to retirement. Dave Wannstedt is the new head coach.

For so-so passer Damon Huard, Miami went 5-1. Running back J.J. Johnson had only 3.4 yards per carry. But the Fish were 13th in the league in scoring. Credit All-NFLer Olindo Mare's field goal record. And a lack of turnovers.

The defense, which was 19th in the NFL in points allowed, features All-NFL linebacker Zach Thomas and All-NFL cornerback Sam Madison.

4. BUFFALO BILLS: Don't look for Bruce Smith, Thurman Thomas or Andre Reed. The last big links to Buffalo's four straight Super Bowls are gone.

Coach Wade Phillips returns most of a defense — including linebacker Sam Cowart, nose tackle Ted Washington and defensive end Phil Hansen — that was second in points given up. At a glance, though, the stoppers don't seem so talented.

Nor does the offense, which was 16th in scoring. Quarterback Rob Johnson takes over for ailing Doug Flutie (3,171 yards, 19 touchdowns). Neither Antowain Smith nor Jonathan Linton ran for 700 yards. Wide receiver Eric Moulds is a big-play guy.

5. NEW ENGLAND PATRIOTS: Defensive expert Bill Belichick jumped to New England after spurning the head-coaching job with the New York Jets.

He inherits a squad that was seventh in points allowed. All-NFL safety Lawyer Milloy teams with cornerback Ty Law. Up front, pass rusher Willie McGinest (9 sacks) and linebacker Chris Slade know how to foil an attack.

Quarterback Drew Bledsoe (3,985 yards, 19 touchdowns) and wide receiver Terry Glenn (69 catches, 1,147 yards) lead the pass-oriented offense. It was tied for 20th in scoring. The running game needs a boost from rookie J.R. Redmond.

AFC EAST IN 1999: INDIANAPOLIS, 13-3 (champion); BUFFALO, 11-5 (wild card); MIAMI, 9-7 (wild card); NEW YORK, 8-8; NEW ENGLAND, 8-8.

AFC Central: Lucky Titans are good

By Howard Biner
NEA SPORTS

Luck in the playoffs helped the Tennessee Titans become the surprise AFC champion. But they did beat Jacksonville three times last season.

Going into the 2000 season, here's a look at the division (with the teams listed in their approximate order of strength):

1. TENNESSEE TITANS: They lost the Super Bowl by one yard on the last play. Tennessee's 13-3 mark was the best ever for a wild-card playoff team. Coach Jeff Fisher's Titans were 7-1 in games won by a touchdown or less.

Behind quarterback Steve McNair (2,179 yards passing, 12 touchdowns) and running back Eddie George (1,304 yards, 9 touchdowns), they were seventh in the league in scoring. Tight end Frank Wycheck (69 catches) and All-NFL offensive guard Bruce Matthews helped.

The Titans were 15th in points allowed last season. All-NFL defensive end Jevon Kearse had 14.5 sacks as a rookie. Import linebacker Randall Godfrey is tough.

2. JACKSONVILLE JAGUARS: The Jags, under coach Tom Coughlin, were an NFL-best 14-2 in 1999. No other team has been to four straight playoffs and played in two conference title games in the past three years.

First in the league in points allowed last season and sixth in scoring, Jacksonville burned out while failing to defeat Tennessee.

Quarterback Mark Brunell, running back Fred Taylor and All-NFL offensive tackle Tony Boselli star. Linebacker Hardy Nickerson was imported to help All-NFL linebacker Kevin Hardy. Offensive tackle Leon Searcy and All-NFL free safety Carnell Lake are out for the season with injuries.

3. BALTIMORE RAVENS: They closed out the season with a 6-3 burst. Note: quarterback Tony Banks (2,136 yards, 17 touchdowns) started the last 10 games.

The Ravens have been in Baltimore since 1996 without a winning year.

Coach Brian Billicek's team was 14th in the league in scoring and sixth in points allowed in 1999. Veteran tight end Shannon Sharpe was a good pickup. All-NFL linebacker Ray Lewis, defensive end Michael McCrary and safety Rod Woodson lead the defense.

4. PITTSBURGH STEELERS: Free agency has decimated coach Bill Cowher's Steelers at last. They opened at 5-3 in 1999 and finished at 1-7.

Import quarterback Kent Graham figures to replace ineffective Kordell Stewart. Rookie wide receiver Maxico Burreas fits in. But running back Jerome Bettis can't wear out. Linebacker Levon Kirkland and safety Lee Flowers are the only notables on the defense, which was tougher against passing than rushing.

5. CINCINNATI BENGALS: At 52-108 in the 1990s, the Bengals set an NFL record for most losses in any decade. The club hasn't been to the playoffs since 1990. Coach Bruce Coaklet is 21-36 in four seasons in Cincinnati.

Young quarterback Aklil Smith is backed by veteran import Scott Mitchell. Rookie wide receiver Peter Warrick must replace injured Darnay Scott (out for the season) and Carl Pickens (departed). The Bengals gave up the most points in the NFL.

6. CLEVELAND BROWNS: The Browns scored the fewest points in the league in 1999 and allowed the third most. Coach Chris Palmer needs big help.

Quarterback Tim Couch (2,477 yards, 15 touchdowns) and wide receiver Kevin Johnson (66 catches, 986 yards) are coming off rookie years. Veteran running back Eric Rieft is an import.

Defensive end Courtney Brown was the No. 1 draft pick in the NFL this season. He can support outside linebacker Jamir Miller on the right side of the defense.

AFC CENTRAL IN 1999: JACKSONVILLE, 14-2 (champion); TENNESSEE, 13-3 (wild card); BALTIMORE, 8-8; PITTSBURGH, 6-10; CINCINNATI, 4-12; CLEVELAND, 2-14.

NFC Central: Bucs have points to make

By Howard Biner
NEA SPORTS

Falling just six points short of the Super Bowl is something the Tampa Bay Buccaneers don't want to repeat.

If their offense improves, Green Bay won't catch up in the NFC Central.

Going into the 2000 season, here's a look at the division (with the teams listed in their approximate order of strength):

1. TAMPA BAY BUCCANEERS: Defense is what coach Tony Dungy counts on. The Bucs were third in the NFL in 1999 in points allowed. An All-NFL trio — linebacker Derrick Brooks, defensive tackle Warren Sapp and safety John Lynch — lead the stoppers. Defensive linemen Brad Culpepper and Childi Ahanotu boost the strong front wall.

On offense, Tampa Bay was just 27th in the league in scoring. It lost the NFC title game to St. Louis 11-6. Mike Alstott is the All-NFL fullback.

All-NFL center Jeff Christy is new here. He's joined by guard Randall McDaniel and wide receiver Keyshawn Johnson, two more star imports. Quarterback Shaun King must emerge.

2. GREEN BAY PACKERS: The Pack hasn't had a losing year since quarterback Brett Favre took over in 1992. But he's thrown 46 interceptions in the past two seasons. In 1999, GB was 26th in the NFL in turnovers. Running back Dorsey Levens (1,034 yards) and wide receiver Antonio Freeman (74 catches) can do better, too.

The team was 10th in scoring last season, but 20th in points allowed.

Mike Sherman, Green Bay's new coach, has a defense that collected only 30 sacks. On the defensive line, import Russell Maryland must help Santana Dotson and Vonnie Holiday. Veteran safety LeRoy Butler can still make plays.

3. CHICAGO BEARS: Not since 1990 have the Bears won a division title.

Coach Dick Jauron expects young quarterback

Cade McNown and young running back Curtis Enis to step up. Chicago tied for 25th in scoring last season. All-NFL kick returner Glyn Milburn is a threat. Wide receivers Bobby Engram and Marcus Robinson can play.

To get better, the offense has to reduce turnovers.

The defense tied for 20th in points allowed. Cornerback Thomas Smith and defensive end Phillip Daniels are top-quality imports. Rookie linebacker Brian Urlacher can have an impact, too. Defensive tackle Jim Flanagan and safety Tony Parrish make contributions.

4. MINNESOTA VIKINGS: Despite the longest tenure (eight seasons) of any NFL coach, Dennis Green has worries. No team in the league made more turnovers in 1999. Second-year quarterback Daunte Culpepper isn't accurate enough. Departures left holes on offense. The key remaining stars: All-NFL wide receiver Cris Carter (1,241 yards), wide receiver Randy Moss and All-NFL punter Mitch Berger.

The defense was 18th in the NFL in points given up, and 27th in yards allowed. So linebacker Bryce Paup was added and three defensive linemen were drafted. Safety Robert Griffith hits hard. Linebacker Ed McDaniel is very quick.

5. DETROIT LIONS: They made the playoffs without star running back Barry Sanders, who retired. The Lions were 15th in scoring and 14th in points allowed. However, quarterback Charlie Batch must stay healthy. He throws to wide receivers Herman Moore and Germaine Crowell. Running back James Stewart isn't Barry Sanders.

It's a good thing coach Bobby Ross also has place kicker Jason Hanson.

Defensive linemen Robert Porcher (who had a contract feud) and Luther Ellias (a Pro Bowl choice) were the big stoppers. Middle linebacker Stephen Boyd and cornerback Bryant Westbrook must get more from their talent in order to boost the Lions.

Rogers' experience carries him to victory

By Hank Sanders
SPECIAL TO THE HERALD

SAMSULA - Justin Drawdy (#12) was confident after winning the Super Late Model feature Friday at Orlando Speedworld, and he looked especially stout in the heat race last Saturday (August 26th) at New Smyrna Speedway.

He lined up on the outside pole with David Rogers' #11 TM Ranch Dodge inside at the start of the feature. Drawdy came off 4 in the Hamke chassis Monte Carlo and powered past Rogers to take the lead going into turn 1. He drove a smart, fast race until Rogers' experience let him slip under Drawdy and grab the lead and eventually the win. Travis Kittleman drove the #98 Bob Steel Chevrolet to third place finish over Jeff Emery #12, and Jeff Anderson #10 who put on a good show.

Chad Allman was back in the Gator Golf #67, and held off a hard charging Tank Tucker driving Randy Dye's #43 Country 93.1/Speedway Dodge Avenger to take the checkers in the Late Model feature.

Tank Tucker came away with the runner-up spot ahead of rookie challenger Chad Pierce in the #57 Biscuits and Gravy/ASM Chevy. Roger Wren and Bruce Lawrence completed the field.

Wow! Jim "Hook" Flynn #57 drove a perfect race to get his first career New Smyrna Speedway modified win over a hard charging Bill Quinn in his brand new Lethander #13 Blue rocket.

Flynn was overcome with emotion as his crew congratulated him in victory lane. The fans were happy to see him get one, especially with a big field of good cars on hand.

Mark Vandevender was a close third in the Document Tech #7. Wayne Southard ran fourth over Rookie Brad Bascom in the AM 540 white car.

Lightning struck twice as 14-year-old rookie Eric Powell took advantage of a mechanical problem on Marty Pierce's #75 Mustang to drive to his first mini stock victory in only his seventh start.

Powell was so stunned as he was congratulated in Victory Lane that he barely managed to thank his dad Freddie, Bobby Sears, Arlyn Nofsinger and the rest of his crew.

Seeing anyone get their first win is a huge thrill and Flynn and Powell will be telling their grandchildren about this night.

Charlie Staats ran second. J.D. Duncan filled in for Jim Engstrom in the #37 to drive a great race finishing third, with Rex Christensen and Jamie McCague filling out the top 5 spots at the finish line.

Bob Andercheck's #90 KOA/Martins Camaro fell out last week, but was back with a vengeance to dominate the Sportsman field. Bill Fuller again ran strong in the #43 to take second over Steve Reddit in the #1 Blue Pontiac Grand Prix. New driver John McKeogh was fourth in the Firebird #69. David Love drove brother Bill's #2 for fifth.

Again, a huge field of super stocks that have become a crowd favorite. Tim Ewing put the cap on a great night for the "Hot Racing" team by notching a big win over Daytona's Charlie Metz in the Toy Box #57 and Jim Winterstein's #13 Olds. Ed "High Side" Zikowski charged on the top side to fourth over the Dodge of Mike Hendrix.

We have a two-time winner in Strickly Stock...Brent Brown drove the #57 black Business Archives/Hoot racing Buick boat to his second win in a row over Joe Arnold in the #1, Chris Sadowski in the #37. Steve Dembenak and Richard Boulton.

The Allison Legacy Cars put on quite a show as they had a seven-car tangle on the first lap. The night became easier and Brad May took the win over Emily Harkins with Jeff Conyers, Andy Chisholm and Doug Benjamin, Jr. filled out the top five.

This Saturday (September 2), the fast half-mile will host a Super Late Model 50-Lap Special along with heats and features in Mini Stocks, Super Stocks, Modifieds, Sportman, Strickly Stock and Spectator Races. The Late Models will have the week off.

Next week (Saturday, September 9th) the 1st Annual Mattress Race will be run along with a special appearance by the Antique Cars and a Demolition Derby.

Also on the card will be features only in the regular FASCAR divisions of Super Late Model, Late Model, Mini Stocks, Super Stocks, Modifieds, Sportman, Strickly Stock and Spectator Races.

Gates open a 5 p.m. and racing begins at 7 p.m. every Saturday night at the track located at the corner of SR. 44 and CR 419, between New Smyrna, DeLand and Daytona.

 tions, we were looking first and foremost for great voices since the songs are in four-part harmony, which can be difficult. "And, a little bit of acting didn't hurt."

The musical's director is Alton LaThrop and musical director and pianist is Doug Sinning.

According to Preston-Baum, everything is following schedule for opening night.

"We are really excited," Preston-Baum said. "This will be the first musical performed in the theater."

Performance dates include Sept. 22, Sept. 23, Sept. 29 and Sept. 30. All performances begin at 8 p.m. and tickets are $25 for the general public and $20 for students, seniors and children.

Other performances scheduled for the new season include

Cherish the Ladies, an all-women traditional Irish Band, on Oct. 7; The Moscow Boys Choir on Dec. 2; The Dukes of Dixieland, an evening of New Orleans jazz on Jan. 6; Mother Hicks, a children's story, on Feb. 1; John Amos in "Halley's Comet" on March 3; and "Having Our Say," the story of the Delany sisters, on May 4.

Members of the theater are asking the community to come out to support and enjoy the first entertainment season at the Helen Stairs Theatre.

"This is the community's theater, and the community needs to support it," Stairs said. "Things community members can do include volunteering, becoming members, buying season tickets and attending the performances."

The theater, originally known as the Milane Theater, was built in 1923 and included 823 seats, contained a four-story fly and an orchestra pit. In 1936, after the Milane Theater was acquired by new management, the theater was renamed the Ritz, which closed in 1978. In 1984, it reopened as the Showtime Cantina.

Four years later, the theater was once again closed and remained vacant until 1998 when renovations began. It reopened as the Helen Stairs Theatre earlier this year.

"The board achieved the rebuilding of the theater," Stairs said. "Now the community needs to come out and show its support."

"So, we'll see you there." For more information about ticket information, call 407-321-8111.

More Americans are going broadband to surf the 'net

More than 2 million U.S. households already have high-speed Internet access — commonly known as "broadband" — and many more are expected to by year-end.

Should yours be among them? To help you decide, here's a quick guide to broadband services and providers:

To appreciate broadband, you first have to understand bandwidth — the speed limit of digital information traveling through an electric wire or wire-lessly through the air. The most commonly used bandwidths in the consumer market are expressed in kilobits, or thousands of bits per second (kbps). The standard 56k modem can move data at a maximum rate of 56 kbps. Broadband refers to a bandwidth of at least 128 kbps.

Broadband allows data to flow continuously from the Internet to your computer. It's on whenever your computer is turned on, so you never have to dial a number for access. New broadband services will do more than just show you Yahoo's home page a few seconds sooner. They'll give you access to many new Web sites and services that a 56k dial-up connection simply can't accommodate conveniently — sharing home videos, say, or accessing complex multi-media Web sites rapidly.

In theory, any company with a right-of-way to your home can provide broadband service. However, the majority of people who have broadband service today use a cable TV connection. Most of the rest get broadband through a phone line.

Cable systems are designed like small networks, sharing bandwidth among a group of subscribers. The more people online, the less bandwidth available for each home. Most cable systems now offer just one provider — usually either AT&T's Excite@Home or Time Warner's Road Runner. A special modem, separate from the cable-TV converter box, handles the Internet traffic. One call to your local cable company should tell you whether you can get cable modem service.

Telephone access, commonly known as DSL (digital subscriber line), uses a digital signal to transmit large amounts of information over an existing phone line — without interfering with voice calls. DSL also uses a special modem.

DSL doesn't have the maximum bandwidth capacity of cable, but because DSL works on a private line, its bandwidth isn't shared and so doesn't slow down as usage increases. However, a DSL signal can't be used over distances more than two to three miles from the telephone company's central switching office. Until the technology advances, homes too far from that office can't receive DSL service at all. There are several types of DSL available. To locate providers in your area, go to www.dslreports.com or www.getspeed.com.

While one company handles everything involved with cable installation, deregulation of local phone service has opened the DSL market to independent companies that, in turn, contract with Internet Service Providers (ISPs). Your local phone company is also involved. That makes DSL installation more complex.

Installation service with either technology can be expensive, but many providers offer free or discounted installation and equipment (in addition to the modem, you may also need an approximately $40 network card for your computer) in return for a year's contract. If your computer is relatively old and can't accept a network card, you may need to replace it.

You can expect to pay $40 to $45 a month for broadband service, whichever type you chose. Our nationally representative survey of households with broadband service shows that neither technology can claim an advantage in speed or reliability, although cable-modem service had a slight edge in cost and in ease of set up and technical support.

If you're interested in acquiring broadband, start by investigating the cable and DSL providers in your area, as well as the ISPs. An especially attractive introductory offer, an alliance with a good ISP or a company's reputation for good service and customer support should ultimately matter the most.

Sodas are OK, but these cool drinks hit the spot

Summer is the season for sipping tall, cool drinks. And I don't mean soda.

Let's face it, soda is low on nutrition and high in sugar (or artificial sugar). Likewise, bottled iced tea and many "juices" (or juice-flavored drinks) are in the same boat. I admit that there are times when nothing, at least for me, is as satisfying as a cold Coke, and I have lately developed a thing for Root 66 brand Key lime soda (it's got a nice, tart kick). OK, so I'm not nutritionally perfect. But I know what I should be doing.

Marialisa Calta
What I should be doing is drinking lots and lots of plain water — 64 ounces daily is recommended. But I like to augment that half-gallon with tasty, homemade drinks. They are easy to make and offer fresh flavors not available in store-bought concoctions. Plus, I get to control the level of sweetness.

I am very fond of making "sodas" with the flavored syrups that you see in bars these days (they are often used to flavor coffees). My favorite is a mixture of chilled seltzer and tamarind syrup over ice. Serve it with a slice of lime and you have about the most refreshing drink you can imagine. I'm also very fond of making iced tea. Although I sometimes use the powdered kind, I think it often results in a muddy, bitter drink. It's better to take the very few minutes needed to boil some water, brew some real tea, and chill it.

But there's lots more ideas to explore. The following recipes come from several sources: One is "The Best American Recipes 1999" by Fran McCullough and Suzanne Hamlin. The "We Drink It" was invented by Ginny Callan, a former Vermont restaurateur and author of "The Horn of the Moon Cookbook," and "Beyond the Moon Cookbook." The cucumber drink comes from "Drinks Without Alcohol," by Jane Brandt; her recipe notes indicate it's a perfect drink to take to the beach in a cooler. I've also included from her book a delightful iced coffee recipe, with great flavors from bitters and vanilla extract.

BLUEBERRY LEMONADE
1 cup sugar
6 cups water
grated zest of 1 to 3 lemons
1 pint blueberries, rinsed and stemmed
1 to 1-1/2 cups fresh lemon juice (5 to 8 lemons)
ice
fresh mint sprigs for garnish

Mix the sugar, water and lemon zest in a nonreactive saucepan. Warm over medium-high heat, stirring to dissolve the sugar. When the sugar has completely dissolved, remove the pan from the heat and pour the mixture into a large pitcher. Refrigerate for an hour or longer.

When the sugar mixture has chilled, combine the blueberries with the lemon juice in a blender and puree. Add to the pitcher and stir well to blend. Strain through a sieve into another pitcher. (It can be made up to a day before serving and kept chilled.)

To serve, pour into tall, ice-filled glasses and garnish each with a sprig of mint. Yield: 2 quarts, or 8 8-ounce servings.

— Recipe from "The Best American Recipes 1999," by Fran McCullough and Suzanne Hamlin (Houghton Mifflin, 1999). It is credited to Hay Day, a Connecticut market and take-out shop.

Blueberry Lemonade, garnished with mint sprigs, gets an extra zing from lemon zest.

SPARKLING CITRUS CIDER
2-1/2 cups fresh or bottled fresh (not reconstituted) orange juice
1-1/2 cups fresh or reconstituted frozen tangerine juice
1 bottle (25.4 ounces) sparkling apple cider, chilled (see note)
1/4 cup grenadine (optional)

If the juices have lots of pulp, strain them through a cheese-cloth-lined colander or sieve into a large pitcher; otherwise, just pour into the pitcher. Chill.

To serve, add the chilled cider and stir. Pour 3/4 cup into each of eight glasses, preferably Champagne glasses. Serve immediately. Or, for a rosy hue, slowly pour about 1-1/2 teaspoons of grenadine down the side of each glass — don't stir — just before serving. Yield: 8 servings.

Note: you can substitute sparkling wine for sparkling cider.

Light magazine.

WE DRINK IT
16 ounces grape juice
16 ounces orange juice
16 ounces chilled sparkling water
ice
1 lime, cut into 6 wedges

Mix the juices and sparkling water together and pour over ice. Serve with a lime wedge. Yield: 6 8-ounce servings.

— Recipe from Ginny Callan, author of "Horn of the Moon Cookbook," (Harper & Row, 1987) and "Beyond the Moon Cookbook," (HarperCollins, 1996)

TROPICAL CUCUMBER
1-1/2 to 2 cups lemonade
2 cups sugar
2 quarts cold water
zest of 2 lemons
1-1/2 cups fresh lemon juice (8 lemons)
1 cup fresh lime juice (6 limes)
1 cup thinly sliced cucumber fresh mint leaves, for garnish

The night before serving, pour the lemonade into an ice cube tray and freeze.

Combine the sugar and 2 cups of the water in a medium-size pan. Boil for 1 minute. Remove from heat.

Add the lemon zest to the sugar syrup and allow to steep for 7 to 10 minutes. Remove the zest and discard.

Add the remaining 6 cups water, the lemon and lime juice and the cucumber to the sugar syrup. Stir well and chill (overnight is good length of time).

To serve, pour over the lemonade ice cubes. Garnish with mint leaves, if desired. Yield: about 12 8-ounce servings.

— Recipe from "Drinks Without Alcohol," by Jane Brandt (Workman Publishing, 1999)

Angostura bitters
1/2 teaspoon vanilla extract
1 tablespoon sugar
1 quart club soda, chilled maraschino cherries and water-thin slices of orange, for garnish

The night before serving, pour the cold coffee into an ice cube tray and freeze overnight.

When ready to serve, place the hot coffee, bitters, vanilla extract and sugar into a large, heat-resistant pitcher. Allow to cool.

Place 2 coffee ice cubes in each of six glasses. Divide the coffee mixture equally among the glasses.

Fill the glasses to the top with club soda, and garnish each one with a cherry and an orange slice speared on a toothpick. Yield: 6 8-ounce servings.

Business of the Month

Yachter Family Chiropractic Center

On September 18, Dr. Dan Yachter will be opening the Yachter Family Chiropractic Center in The Lake Mary Shopping Center, 3577 Lake Emma Road, Suite 121. Dr. Dan was raised in south Florida. He attended the University of Florida, receiving a Bachelor of Science degree in Nutritional Science. He completed his studies in Chiropractic at Lile University in Marietta, Georgia. His decision to attend Chiropractic School was based on watching his father, after receiving Chiropractic Care, heal and completely recover from lifelong chronic pain and an assortment of disabling health conditions. Dr. Dan was fascinated with the idea that a person could heal from within, without the use of drugs, surgery, and harmful side effects.

Dr. Dan received his Chiropractic degree in 1997, graduating with honors. He interned at Lenox Family Chiropractic Center in Kissimmee, the largest Chiropractic Clinic in the state and 2nd largest in the world. While working with Ben Lenox, the owner and founder of the center, he had the opportunity to interact with a large diversity of people. He received extensive training in the areas of Family Chiropractic. One as well as necessary, nutritional, pediatric, orthopedic, sports, work and accident injuries, spinal reconstruction, car, sports performance and injury, nutritional consulting, and chronic and difficult cases.

Without question, one of the greatest experiences of all was to be able to work side by side with Dr. Ben Lenox, the Island Stars Chiropractic, Frenselle and Gerry Rossen, opposing Team Doctors, who will be traveling to Australia this fall to care for the team during the 2000 Summer Olympics.

During his year internship, Dr. Dan was active in the community, conducting sports injury prevention and ergonomic evaluations for the Osceola County School System, (administrators, instructors and support staff), Wal-Mart, Target, SAMS, Quik/Genade, and Mercury Marine. He also provided complimentary care and adjustments to the coaches and athletes of the wrestling and football teams of the 4 high schools in the county. He organized the largest children's charity event in Osceola County history, Kid Day America/International, attracting the attention of the Mayor and City Commissioners. Since then he has organized 10 Kid Day America events.

Following his internship at the Kissimmee Lenox Family Chiropractic, he was offered the position of clinic director of the St. Cloud/World Gym location of the Lenox Family Chiropractic Center. Within 4 months Dr. Yachter had quadrupled the practice, adjusting and caring for 600,000 patients each week, making it one of the largest solo practices in the state. He has performed over 75,000 adjustments within a 3 year period.

Dr. Dan is actively involved on a state and national level, holding memberships in the Florida Chiropractic Society, the International Chiropractic Association and the International Pediatric Chiropractic Association. In 1999, he was placed on The Florida Chiropractic Board of Sports and Performance and Injury.

Dr. Dan traveled around the country visiting the most outstanding Chiropractors in the profession in order to gain from their wisdom and experience and to be able to offer the same level of quality to his patients. These doctors include: 45 top practitioners, the team doctors for the Dallas Cowboys, the inventor of the Chiropractic adjusting technique and the largest solo practitioner in the world.

Dr. Dan will deliver high quality care to Central County residents and beyond, recognizing the importance of the art of spinal correction and the science of chiropractic and its application to the full and effective care of the patient, the concept of mal-function and disease, and the importance of covering up the symptoms or to treat a patient's area when it is necessary.

Yachter Family Chiropractic Center, 3577 Lake Emma Road, Suite 121, Lake Mary, FL 32746. Tel: (407) 323-6633. Fax: (407) 324-9955. <http://www.yachterfamily.com>

An American right: declarations of faith

Give me the ability to be charitable, forgiving, patient, with my fellow man, help me to understand my neighbor as I understand myself, Amen.

Harry S. Truman

Confessions occur whenever religion pours into the political arena. The latest involves Democratic vice presidential nominee Joe Lieberman.

Although Lieberman's name is not likely to be a household name for tolerance, some have begun criticizing him.

These critics say that Lieberman is a secularist, a man who is not devout, and his call for more religion in public life is an effort to Americanize who are less religious.

I would hope that Mr. Lieberman continues his long and eloquent prayer that there has been no more intolerance in this country. I trust he respects the boundaries between church and state.

Calcium deposits are common, but are not related to supplements

DEAR DR. GOTT: I have calcium deposits in my spine. Would calcium tablets relieve my arthritis pain or simply make matters worse? I am a 70-year-old grandmother.

DEAR READER: Calcium supplements will neither affect your pain of arthritis nor make matters worse.

The pain is caused by stimulation of nerves in and around joints (including the spine), resulting from inflammation (such as seen in gout and rheumatoid arthritis) or from the age-related wearing-down of joint surfaces (seen in osteoarthritis). In general, therapy for arthritis pain consists of anti-inflammatory drugs (of which there are many, ranging from ibuprofen to Vioxx) and physical therapy to maintain joint fluidity and range of motion.

As each of us ages, calcium in the body shifts location, leaving bone and appearing in the linings of arteries and in tendons. This unavoidable phenomenon is unrelated either to total body calcium or to calcium intake. Rather, it is due to poorly understood age-related changes in tissue metabolism.

Because a deficiency in bone calcium (osteoporosis) is common in older people, physicians have experimented with various methods to prevent this loss. Exercise, a balanced diet, hormone pills (for women), and other prescription medication have been shown to retard the loss of bone calcium. In addition, calcium supplements (with vitamin D) slow the onset of osteoporosis, without harming metabolism. Therefore, you should consider taking 1,000 to 1,500 milligrams of extra calcium (with about 500 international units of vitamin D) for this reason, if your doctor agrees.

Also as a consequence of aging, calcium deposits may form around the spinal bones, causing "lipping" (seen as a shelf-like protrusion on X-rays) that can rub against nerves to cause pain. This is related to the shift in calcium that I alluded to above. Such deposits are not related to calcium supplements.

Because the therapy for the pain of arthritis and the treatment of osteoporosis have undergone such revolutionary changes in the past few years, you should check with your physician to learn what options are available to you. To give you related information, I am sending you a copy of my Health Report "Osteoporosis." Other readers who would like a copy should send $2 plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to P.O. Box 2017, Murray Hill Station, New York, NY 10156. Be sure to mention the title.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I bruise very easily, even after minor trauma — or, in some instances, no trauma at all. Could the daily aspirin tablet I take be playing a role?

DEAR READER: Normal blood clotting depends on a complex series of chemical reactions. As an integral part of this process, tiny blood cells (platelets) play a crucial role by sticking together to form a superstructure that supports the clotting chemicals. When platelets lose their adhesiveness and fail to aggregate, a blood clot cannot readily form.

Aspirin (and similar compounds) disrupt platelet stickiness. Therefore, these inexpensive drugs are often used to prevent common diseases, such as stroke and heart attacks, that are related to inappropriate blood clotting. As little as one baby aspirin a day (one-fourth the strength of a standard adult tablet) will significantly reduce the speed with which blood coagulates.

I suspect that aspirin is the cause of your bleeding tendency, a common reaction in people who are so treated.

Spontaneous or easy bruising is not harmful but can be annoying at times because of discomfort and the obvious cosmetic effects.

If your doctor has told you to take aspirin because you are at high risk for stroke or heart attack, you will simply have to put up with the bruising. On the other hand — because aspirin therapy is not recommended for most adults — if you are taking it on your own, I suggest you discontinue it, and see if your susceptibility to bruising disappears in a week or so.

I should add that unexplained bruising may also reflect a serious clotting disorder not related to aspirin; such diseases include leukemia and thrombocytopenia (a primary disease of platelets), both of which must be aggressively addressed. Therefore, while I suspect that your problem is aspirin-related, you may wish to check with your physician to make sure no serious ailment is to blame.

It's time to get the mud out of our eyes

In the countdown to the Seminole County polls opening on Tuesday morning, we are able to announce the winner of the "Mud-Flung-At Award."

You've probably guessed — he's Daryl McLain. Keen political observers are pressed to remember so much mud slinging at an individual candidate. McLain, a former rodeo cowboy, hasn't tasted so much dirt since being flung from a bronco named "Beelzebub."

As expected, Bob West and Don Nicholas bad-mouthed McLain from the get-go. They covet his District 5 seat on the County Commission. If this wasn't enough of a burden, County Chairman Carlton Henley has shamelessly campaigned for Nicholas — and against McLain. And, this just in: Commissioner Grant Maloy used some of his District 1 re-election campaign funds to purchase a newspaper ad that attacks Mr. McLain. Improprieties of this nature deserve special recognition.

Russ White

Most of the vagrant opinions about Mr. McLain are without visible means of support. He's a county commissioner and a good one. He has integrity and morals. He's not the anti-Christ as some might have you believe.

There's a saying that there's more devil in the self-righteous than righteousness in the devil. The Seminole County Commission Chambers have seats not pews. Elected officials, not preachers adopt policy and set a budget in order to enhance our quality of life. Seminole County isn't heaven but it seems to be a pleasing stopover. We have nice schools, nice neighborhoods, nice places to work and play. Good men and women work each day to keep it this way. Elected officials. County and city employees.

For the past eight years, Daryl McLain has served his community well as a commissioner. He's been a champion not only to those in his District (which includes his hometown, Sanford) but to residents throughout the county.

As you will see on the editorial page of this weekend's Seminole Herald, we have endorsed Mr. McLain in Tuesday's Republican Party Primary. It's time to get the mud out of our eyes.

Russ White's column appears daily in the Seminole Herald.

Mother disagrees that abusive boyfriend's ways have changed

DEAR ABBY: Last fall, my live-in boyfriend was abusive to me. My parents chipped right in and helped me move back to my hometown. They were wonderful and supportive even though I'd let them down in the past. They even bought a house so my children and I would have somewhere to live.

This boyfriend went to classes, did a lot of praying and I believe he's actually changed. I really do! Abby, he's the father of one of my children. We've started seeing each other and it really feels right. We want to get married.

My mother refuses to accept that he could have changed, and makes it clear she doesn't approve. She says if I get back together with him, they will have wasted all that time and money they invested in bailing me out. She says it's my low self-esteem that makes me want to see him.

I don't know how to resolve this. I'm in my late 30s yet I still want my parents' approval. Please help.

DAUGHTER OF AN IRON-WILLED IOWA MOM

Dear Abby

Your mother knows you better than I do. She loves you and doesn't want to see you hurt again, and I can't fault her for that.

Daughter, I'm extremely skeptical about your chances of success in this relationship. If you decide to pursue it, I wish you the best of luck because I'm convinced you're going to need it.

A small percentage of abusers — those who are truly determined and self-motivated — can change if they receive long-term counseling. Only time (at least another year of counseling) will tell if this leopard has been able to change his spots.

Under no circumstances should you reconcile with him unless you maintain financial independence. That way, if he should backslide, you won't have to depend on anyone to bail you out. Should you decide to marry this "prize" I urge you to have a rock-solid prenuptial agreement so that you will be taken care of.

So your parents feel they have not "wasted" the money they invested in trying to help you, sell or rent the house and give the proceeds to them.

DEAR ABBY: I quit my job last year to stay at home with my children. All of a sudden, friends and neighbors began calling me to run errands, watch their children, sew costumes for the school plays, etc. Nobody seemed to understand that being a mother is a full-time job.

Finally, I found a way to stop all the requests for favors: I made up fliers advertising myself as a "domestic consultant." I offered to baby-sit, pick up dry cleaning and groceries, sew and do other odd jobs for a negotiable fee.

The calls are much less frequent now. When someone does call, he or she is prepared to pay me fairly for child care and errand running. When I get requests for things that would interfere with plans I've made with my children (or don't want to do), I simply tell the caller, "I am overbooked."

ALREADY WORKING (THANK YOU VERY MUCH)

DEAR ALREADY WORKING (TYVM): You're a clever woman and you may have devised a method from which other stay-at-home parents can benefit.

DEAR ABBY: A good friend of mine was married recently, without a traditional reception. I have now been invited to a postnuptial reception for the couple. Does a postnuptial reception carry an obligation to send a gift?

BOB IN OHIO

DEAR BOB: Yes, it does. If you attend the reception, a token of your good wishes is in order.
