Fifty years ago the 12 southern states had four wood-pulp mills with a combined capacity of 50,000 short tons, which was then two per cent of the national pulp output for paper making. Today, says the National Geographic Magazine, 67 southern pulp mills can produce some 13 million short tons, 67 per cent of national capacity.

Britain, U.S. Form Counter-Attack Against Soviet Propaganda

By JOSEPH W. GRIGG
PARIS (UP)—The United States and Britain organized a counter-attack today to smash the Soviet propaganda onslaught aimed at weakening the NATO alliance and frightening Europe out of setting up U. S. missile bases.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles flew in from Washington to join British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd who arrived Thursday night. They were expected to throw their full weight behind the Anglo-American counterattack.

With statements of the 15 NATO countries streaming by plane and train for the greatest international gathering here since the 1919 Versailles Conference, Moscow laid down a massive, drumfire barrage of pleas and threats to the West. The summit meeting starts Monday with the heads of state of all NATO members present. Diplomatic sources said the Moscow statements were carefully worded to take advantage of individual fears and distrusts in a major effort to split the North Atlantic alliance wide open.

Tried All Tricks
Moscow took advantage of the split over Suez, French anger at Anglo-American arms shipments to Tunisia and a host of minor grievances of NATO members against the United States.

U. S. and British diplomats already here moved swiftly to counteract the Soviet moves in behind the scenes talks with other delegates.

It will be strengthened even more Saturday when President Eisenhower files in from Washington and joins British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, French Premier Felix Galliard and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer in a major "little summit" talks.

The Moscow drive began Wednesday with "peace" notes to the Western "Big Three" and Germany. In a second round Thursday night Moscow proposed a peace treaty between the Soviet Union and the United States and in notes to all United Nations members called for a non-aggression treaty between NATO and the Communist Warsaw Pact.

Weather
Fair and warmer today and tonight; lowest tonight 38 to 44. Partly cloudy and warmer Saturday.

7 Month Old Baby Dies In House Fire Yesterday

Kiwanians Stage Annual Ladies' Night At Mayfair

The Sanford Kiwanis Club staged one of its annual Ladies' Night events last night at the Mayfair Inn with entertainment under the direction of Ed Lane, a former District Governor.

The ballroom of the Mayfair Inn was the scene of the Ladies' Night and Kiwanians and their wives watched by candlelight a two-hour entertainment extravaganza and climaxed the evening with dancing.

Top performers came from the Royal School of Dance with Mrs. Edith Royal in charge. There were eight numbers including the Royalettes, a group of dancers; Evelyn Hussey and Kip Watson; Eunice Brumbaugh, Russ Brumbaugh and Kip Watson in a hand balancing act; and other solo numbers in soft shoe and tap.

An accompanist led off the evening's entertainment with solo numbers and others in which she asked the audience to join.

Stealing the show, however, was Frank Mebane Jr., manager of the Mayfair Inn and a Kiwanian, when he staged his version of "What's My Line" using a panel from the audience which included A. L. Wilson, Mrs. Patty Gatchel, Mrs. Audrey Speer, and Edwin Shindholer. Guests of the panel were Mrs. Mae Lane, Irving Pryor and Mayor David Gatchel.

Climaxing the evening's entertainment was Pete Bokur and his trio along with a new trio introduced by Frank Mebane Jr. called the "Dining Room Dolls."

A seven-month-old Negro baby was burned to death last night when a frame dwelling on Southwest Road was destroyed by fire.

First reports of the fire were at 5:30 p. m. yesterday when a neighbor, W. R. Brown, called the Sanford Fire Department.

Both the Navy Fire Department and the Sanford Department answered the alarm. However, the house was fully involved on their arrival.

The infant daughter, Lenora, was at home with her three brothers and sisters at the time neighbors said "a stove exploded."

It was reported at the scene of the fire that one of the children ran to a neighbor's house and asked for help to put the fire out on the stove.

The frame dwelling was completely destroyed and neighbors were unable to save any furnishings of the home so quickly the blaze consumed the home.

Occupants of the home were Jimmy and Julia Davis. Julia Davis had left the four children at home when she went to pick up her husband from work at Hunt's Lincoln-Mercury.

The charred body of the baby was recovered by firemen when they were told it was last seen lying on a settee in the front part of the home.

Mozel Takes 4 Stroke Lead In PGA Tourney; Breaks Course Record

Pro, Stan Mozel failed to be disturbed by freezing weather here yesterday and took a four stroke lead in the third Annual Mayfair Inn Open. He carded a fabulous 62 on the beautiful 6,200 yard course and established a new record here in Sanford.

With old man weather plaguing some of the greatest, Stan played his best round in competitive golf with a 9 under par score.

The foot 8 inch shot-maker has only played in three tourneys in the current four so big-time golf is fairly new to him. He is Pro at the Essex Fells Club in New Jersey where he also fired a non-competitive 62. He has earned the title of champ in the 1955 New Jersey Open, 1956 New Jersey PGA, and the Texas Junior championship.

Stan's card read as follows: 4-4-4-3-3-3-3-3-3-3-3-3-3-4-3-4-2-3-3-3-4-3-3-3-4-4-4-3-4-4-3-3-6.

Two other favorites here in Sanford, Ed Oliver and Ed Furgol, carded identical sixty eights. They were also joined by Gay Brewer of Cincinnati and Ernie Doros of North Carolina.

The Amateurs were led in the first day of play by 19 year old Gary Cowan 1955 Canadian Jr. Champ. He was able to combat the cold weather and come in with a two over par—73. His closest competitor was all-service champ, Bob Benning of Camp LeJeune, North Carolina, who fired a 75 for the first round.

Tomorrow that field will be out and the competitors for the top money in the $15,000 event will be set to fight it out down to the wire. It will be interesting to see if the young Mozel will be able to keep up the pace until the final day. The weather man has predicted (Continued on Page Seven)

Rotarians To Hear Musical Program At Luncheon Meet

Sanford Rotarians, at their regular weekly meeting next Monday noon, will again have the opportunity of hearing the Edgewater "Choralaires" in a program of music appropriate to the Christmas Season. T. W. (Tommy) Mero, general program chairman of the club, announced this morning.

This selected group from Edgewater High School, is under the direction of Mrs. Estelle M. Thomas who, according to Mero, puts on quite a show, herself, in the manner in which she introduces the various numbers. The group arrives in a chartered bus dressed in colorful Christmas costumes and, in the past, has made a big hit with the local Rotarians, Mero said.

Club president Myron A. (Mike) Beck calls attention of members of the local club to the change of Monday's meeting place, the Parish House of Holy Cross Episcopal Church, in order that the singing group may be properly presented.

Odham To Resign As Milk Board Chairman

TALLAHASSEE (UP)—J. Brailey Odham, plans to resign as chairman of the State Milk Commission as soon as he feels the commission is in "good enough shape" for him to leave.

Odham said at the end of Thursday's long session he will probably resign in several months "because my job is finished."

But Odham and the commission met today to consider at a hearing whether the big Borden dairy firm should have its license for plants in Tampa, Orlando and Pensacola revoked. The hearing was scheduled Thursday but had to be postponed.

The commission contends the dairy owes milk producers in the three areas more than $18,000 and must show adequate cause for not paying them or have its license to operate in those areas revoked. Borden tried unsuccessfully Wednesday to get a court injunction to prevent the commission from revoking the license.

Odham, who fought to have price controls abolished as a legislator and in two unsuccessful campaigns for the governorship, was named to the commission chairmanship by Gov. LeRoy Collins last Aug. 7. Collins and Odham agreed that price controls on milk should be removed at the retail level.

Last month, under Odham's constant urging, the commission voted to suspend controls at all but the producer level. The order is effective Monday, but already prices have been cut in chain stores and supermarkets throughout the state as a result of the action.

The Sanford contractor said in disclosing he will probably resign that "I do not want to make a career of the milk business. . . I took this job to fight price controls and now they have been taken off."

He said he had "considered calling the governor last week and resigning," but felt the commission was not in "good enough shape" for him to leave so soon.

At its meeting Thursday, the commission formally approved an action taken seven months ago by the "old" commission which allows Lake Wales Producer Hobson Rucks, who supplies one-fourth the milk bought by the Orlando Foremost Dairy plant, to increase his herd and begin to sell to the Foremost plant in Miami.

Ordinarily, under commission regulations a producer would lose his contract with the first plant if he did this, but Foremost had agreed to the plan.

'Explosion' Causes Havoc In Sanford

An airplane capable of speeds faster than sound caused havoc in the Sanford area yesterday.

Shortly after 2 o'clock an explosion occurred which brought people in Sanford from their homes, offices, stores and businesses out on the street to find out where such an explosion might occur.

So terrific was the explosion that a number of windows were broken in the downtown area. The plate glass window at The Sanford Herald shattered and windows at Western Auto Associate Store and Sanford Herald shattered and windows cracked.

Rumors in Sanford spread like wildfire and anything that might appear to have been a cause rapidly circled the area by word of mouth from one to another.

A plane, appearing to be a Voodoo Jet Bomber was seen in a pattern over the golf course where the Mayfair Inn PGA tournament was in progress. The plane was headed toward Sanford and the Lake Monroe area.

It was reported, unofficially, that the plane was from the Pinecastle Air Force Base. The sound barrier was broken as it apparently passed over Lake Monroe.

The Sanford Herald was notified by SNAS officials that no plane from the Sanford Naval Air Station was in the air capable of breaking the sound barrier and from no source has there been official information that a plane from any area was near Sanford.

Ike Leaves For NATO Talks

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower flies the Atlantic under a doctor's care today on a momentous mission to revamp the Free World's defenses against Russia's space-age missile threat.

But his mission to install new force and unity into the North Atlantic Treaty Organization NATO allies promised to be extremely difficult.

The President was expected to prepare an "affirmative as possible" answer to the Soviet proposal for high level East-West talks which is spearheading their campaign to upset the vital NATO "summit" conferences starting Monday in Paris.

Such a reply was urged by Adlai E. Stevenson, two-time Democratic presidential opponent, who said the Allies must continue to try and negotiate a settlement with the East "not by capitulation, but by agreement."

Ike Leaves Today
Eisenhower was scheduled to leave for Paris aboard the Columbine III late today. He is expected to land in Paris Saturday morning.

Russia threw a warning at Britain against being a base for NATO missiles on the eve of this attempt to weld the West into a stronger scientific and military unit. The warning was contained in a 3,000 word letter from Soviet Premier Nikolai A. Bulganin to British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

There was no indication whether Eisenhower would reply to Bulganin before or after the Paris meeting. But a State Department official said the reply would "try to be as affirmative as possible" when it comes.

Precaution Taken
Every precaution was being taken to insure the President's safe flight across the ocean. British and American warships have been deployed along the route in the event the plane is forced down.

The mission promised to be one of the most critical of the former allied supreme commander's career. The President will seek to create new missile bases on the European continent and establish nuclear weapons stockpiles as two major deterrents to Russia touching off an atomic World War III.

Eisenhower also will seek formulation of a weapons agreement and an arrangement to pool scientific information among the allies. All these objectives involve complex problems which must be solved before they become a reality.

Temperature Starts Rise In Sanford Area

"The temperature is rising nicely," were the words of Sandy Anderson, Asst. Manager at the Sanford State Farmers' Market this morning.

Temperatures in Sanford and the Sanford area ranged from 27 to 31 this morning and there was plenty of ice where water pipes were broken yesterday and where sprinkler systems were left on.

Temperatures rose because of the cloudiness last night. It is reported that the temperatures will be 30 to 25 degrees warmer today than yesterday.

Sandy Anderson, in his report to the Director of the Florida State Farmers' Markets said "It's very hard to determine just what varieties, volume and quality of vegetables are available through our market" as he estimated the movement of fruits and vegetables through the local market.

"It's a guessimate instead of an estimate," Anderson told a Sanford Herald reporter.

The forecast made by the market's assistant manager for the week of Dec. 23 revealed that there will be a light volume of cabbage of fair quality, a light volume of celery of fair quality, a light volume of green onions, and a very light volume of lettuce of fair to poor quality.

Elsewhere, United Press reported a subfreezing cold wave, the worst in more than two decades, gripped the Southland for the second straight night, claiming a heavy toll in lives and damage to crops.

Dixie residents shivered in temperatures in the teens as far south as eastern Georgia early today. Temperatures plunged into the 20s in upper Florida where crop damage was estimated in the millions of dollars.

The two-day cold wave, the bitterest southern freeze since 1931, was expected to break today with the advance of a western warming trend.

Takes Heavy Toll
The cold snap has been blamed for more than 50 deaths, at least 25 of them in fires as southerners overtaxed heating units in an effort to keep warm. Others died from exposure and in traffic accidents on snow-slicked roads.

Florida's 300-million-dollar vegetable crop was hardest hit by the frigid winds which sent readings as low as 18 Thursday in the north section of the state.

Growers in the Lake Okeechobee vegetable area reported their crops 50 to 100 per cent destroyed by the freeze.

Scattered damage was reported to Florida's 30-million-dollar citrus crop and growers hurried to harvest oranges and grapefruit to prevent further damage.

Fire Kills Eight
The most tragic fire killed eight persons, six of them children, when a Negro tenant family's frame home was destroyed by flames in Ellabell, Ga. The blaze was blamed on an overheated woodstove.

The United Press count of fire victims by states included 9 in Virginia, 8 each in Georgia and Kentucky, 2 each in North and South Carolina and Alabama, and 1 each in Florida, Illinois, Texas and Pennsylvania.

Snow spread Thursday night from Minnesota across parts of the Great Lakes into the North Atlantic states and Pennsylvania. Amounts were generally light except at Syracuse, N. Y. where a 4-inch fall was reported.

Firemen Answer 3 Calls Yesterday

The Sanford Fire Department answered three alarms late yesterday during the cold period of the day.

At 3:30 p. m. the local fire department answered the alarm outside of the city limits where a small baby was burned to death.

At 6:32 a defective heating unit of an air conditioner at the office of the Florida Power and Light Company caused minor smoke damage.

The last call was at 7:05 when an automobile was afire in front of Sanford Grammar School on Seventh St.

THE WINDOW

There is a store that is displaying this scene of Christ's birth in all its beautiful simplicity. People walk by the window and stop and look—and when they go on again the tired lines seem to be erased from their faces. For the moment, they have forgotten the "hustle and bustle" of holiday preparations. Instead, the peace of Christmas drifts over them like the softly falling snow. Look at those beautifully carved figures and at that tiny babe. Makes you realize, doesn't it, that Christmas after all, is the birth day of our Lord, and should be celebrated first of all where most birthdays are celebrated—at home. In this case, that means the Church.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

TV In Review

By WILLIAM EWALD
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK — It was back on Sept. 18 that "Wagon Train," an NBC-TV excursion, began trekking out from the Midwest toward the promised land, California.

Well, here it is almost Christmas and that darned wagon train still is bogged down in tundra country. Ward Bond and Robert Horton, the two gun-toting gentlemen who run the train, are having more trouble getting out to the West Coast than Walter O'Malley and his Brooklyn Dodgers.

"Kraft Theatre" is a terribly irritating show. Week after week, it promises so much, but delivers so little.

Wednesday night's drama on NBC-TV was typical. The play had a heroic theme—the fight of a few in an occupied country against tyranny, the realization by some neutral citizens that freedom is everyone's right. It also had a competent cast—Elliott Nugent, Walter Abel, Basil Rathbone, Ann Harding.

But like so many Krafts, it fizzled. There is an air of cheapness about each "Kraft Theatre," an atmosphere of insufficient rehearsals, dull staging, choppy writing. I suspect the limpness of the show is not so much the fault of its creative personnel, but rather of its comparatively meager budget.

The channel swim: "The Seven Lively Arts," CBS-TV quality show, will call it quits after its Feb. 18 outing. Rita Gam and Hume Cronyn have been added to the cast of "The Bridge of San Luis Rey," a CBS-TV spec set for Jan. 21.

Kate Smith looked much slimmer on Wednesday night's "Pat Page Show"—a well-designed dress and skillful lighting helped.

Ralph Edwards had a nice plug for the rival network Wednesday night on his NBC-TV "This Is Your Life"—a tribute to Dennis Weaver of CBS-TV's "Gunsmoke."

Pat Conway of ABC-TV's "Tomboy Territory" is getting hitched to Pamela Duncan, an actress who worked in an early episode of the western.

NBC-TV's "Omnibus" will switch to Tuesday evening on Jan. 14. Jack Paar will take "Tonight" to Miami Beach for the week of Jan. 13 and Arlene Francis will take her NBC-TV show to Silver Springs, Fla., for two weeks in January.

CBS-TV has decided to spot its "New York Philharmonic Young People's Concerts" on Jan. 18, Feb. 1, March 8 and April 19. The latest Nielsen give "Treasure Hunt" a 11.4 rating, highest of any NBC-TV daytime show. And that's why you're going to see a nighttime version in the present Nat Cole spot starting Dec. 21.

FASHION SHOW
VIENNA (UP)—A fashion congress of all Communist countries in Eastern Europe will be held in the Romanian capital of Bucharest on June 12, 1968. Bucharest Radio said today. Clothes to be shown "will satisfy practical needs" and will be a contrast to the "exaggerated fashions in the capitalist countries," the broadcast heard here said.

YOUTH TO THE RESCUE
SWEETWATER, Tenn. (UP)—A busload of school children got a chance to play firemen Thursday. Bus driver Doney Lile organized the 23 students into a bucket brigade when he spotted a farmhouse on fire. The blaze had been put out by the students by the time firemen arrived.

SHIP AND TUG IMPALED ON REEF—The Italian stormy sea later broke up the larger ship but the passenger ship Citra de Treponti founders on a reef off the coast of Sicily while the tug that was sent to help (right) also is driven aground. The overboard and four other crewmen are missing.

Russians Started Satellite Study Eleven Years Ago

By JOSEPH L. MYLER
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON — An American scientist reports that the Russians began "active study and research" on earth satellites more than seven years ago.

This country did not launch an artificial moon project until July, 1958.

The scientists, Dr. Lloyd V. Berkner, said he learned at about the time Sputnik I was born "that the Soviets have had the instrumented satellite under active study and research since 1950."

Berkner, president of the Associated Universities, Inc., of New York, is vice chairman of the World International Geophysical Year IGY Committee. He spoke Wednesday at the University of Maryland.

Early Studies Made
In 1945, he said, the U. S. Navy made "preliminary studies of an earth satellite... to determine whether such a satellite could be launched at that time and whether it was likely to have a military effect on World War II."

The conclusion was that rocketry "had not advanced sufficiently to conceive such a project at the moment and that the project would be so long in coming to fruition that it could have little or no influence on the war."

In 1954 the world committee preparing for IGY proposed launching of artificial moons as a tool of science.

U. S. Announced First
This country announced July 29, 1955, that it would make the attempt, and Russia formally made a similar announcement Sept. 11, 1956.

It was at an IGY rockets and satellites conference here last Sept. 30—Oct. 5 that Berkner learned, in a talk with Soviet scientist A. A. Blagonravov, that the Russians actually had been doing satellite research since 1950.

It was on Oct. 4 that the USSR announced successful launching of Sputnik I.

The Sputniks, he said, demonstrate that the United States "is in a race for intellectual leadership."

Berkner said this should be good for America and humanity at large.

Do-It-Yourself Casualties Are Sweeping Country

By DELOS SMITH
United Press Science Editor
NEW YORK — Power tools in the hands of amateur amateurs are "homicidal" tools, according to an authoritative medical summing-up of the wave of do-it-yourself casualties now sweeping the country.

Fatalities have been relatively few, fortunately, but lacerations, multiple fractures, and burns have been common. Contrary to medical expectations, however, relatively few fingers of do-it-yourselfers have been amputated by hand power saws—the deep cuts into flesh haven't been that deep.

The tone of the summing-up in the technical publication "Pulver Spectrum" was tolerant and resigned. "Perhaps there will always be a totally idiotic sector of the population to climb a metallic ladder near electric wires," it remarked.

Doesn't Know
"Do-it-yourself has merely wide ened the opportunities for these people to wipe themselves out, or at any rate present themselves battered and bleeding all over the doctor's office floor."

The summing-up had no fault to find with the "do-it-yourself spirit." Indeed, it found the spirit admirable. "The catastrophe of do-it-yourself is in not knowing," it said.

"Professional workmen may be less than gifted," the publication said. "Often their sole advantage is a body of information which is, as a matter of fact, rather limited and not even up-to-date. Presumably the patient who amassed funds enough to buy a glittering new homicidal tool has the wit to learn techniques that are simple enough but, at first, merely unknown to him."

Too Eager
But the average do-it-yourselfer doesn't undertake even to read up on those techniques before he "unwraps his new gadget and looks eagerly about for a place to use it." Now, take the hand power saw. Usually it has a wire by which it may be grounded, but often there is no ground to which it can be attached.

So the do-it-yourselfer standing on damp ground runs it on, ignorant that perhaps a short-circuit will direct 110 volts of alternating current into the handle and so into his hand. He can neither guide the tool nor turn it off since electric current is paralyzing his muscles. "The result is a picturesque, deep laceration of the thigh, usually, not far from the femoral artery."

Russian Women Are Seeking To Wear Slacks

By GAY PAULEY
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK — The Russians beat us to the launching of an earth satellite, but they're bringing up the rear in another department.

Dispatches from behind the iron curtain report women of East Germany and other areas of southern Russia are demanding the right to wear slacks. But at the moment, their progress is negative.

Well, I have news for Soviet officialdom. It may as well give in. When woman is determined to wear the pants, man eventually accedes.

It took some doing in this country, too, before slacks and other types of trousers became accepted for lounge, sports and even street wear.

West German women also are in the act, but seem to be gaining ground. A group of girls in a public school in Oldenburg defied the principal's ban on long pants, but went to court when he sent them home. The ruling: What the girls wore was none of the principal's business.

Fined On Spot
The East German girls haven't fared so well, but some just ignore official opposition. One report from Moscow says that in a resort town on the Black Sea coast, women are fined on the spot if they appear in public in slacks.

I suggest the Russian women who want to wear trousers line themselves up a few pioneers like the West's Mrs. Amelia Bloomer or Mariene Dietrich. And, point out that pants aren't new in women's apparel.

Joan of Arc put on boy's clothing in the 15th Century. George Sand was a famous exponent of trousers in the early 19th Century.

In 1840, along came Mrs. Amelia Jenks Bloomer, who campaigned for temperance, woman suffrage, and a reform in women's dress. Her followers became known as the Bloomer Girls.

Rosie The Riveter
Came 1913, and a New York style authority, Ethel Traphagen, now head of the Traphagen School of Fashion, shocked Fifth Avenue with her variation of pants for street wear. She donned a taffeta dress with trouser skirt, a protest against the then-fashionable hobbles.

Mariene Dietrich glamorized them in the 1930s, and it wasn't long until slacks topped by mink coat became a standard costume in Hollywood.

Rosie the Riveter and World War II assured them a permanent place in the American woman's wardrobe, says one leading manufacturer, Evan-Picone. The woman wore trousers to the factories, and kept right on wearing them at home after the war.

Florida marsh rabbits are virtually water animals. Their fur is slick, glossy and water-resistant and they swim as naturally as muskrats, with only the tops of their heads showing.

A Swap With Death: Ignore Law Enforcement Agency Warnings

Regardless of the warnings, the advice, the pleadings from every phase of law enforcement in the state and from every humane angle that such approaches can be made, automobile accidents on highways and roads continue to take a daily toll of property damage, injuries and even lives.

Police Departments, County Sheriffs, and Highway Patrols pound away daily at warnings to motorists to slow down and live!

Editorials, such as this one today, lay the traffic accident story before automobile drivers. Yet, the clock around, accidents continue to snuff out valuable lives, injure innocent workers, and pile up tremendous property damage bills.

The gory story of automobile smashups has no effect on drivers of the moment—even though the very sight of maimed and injured bodies stand out as a warning to those behind the wheel.

Automobiles loaded with children plow through school buses plainly marked at maximum 15-mile-per-hour speeds at a minimum of 25 miles an hour and even more. Yet, place that same driver into a conversation and he or she will deplore traffic conditions and the danger to children crossing streets near schools.

Watch any street with a stop sign, and across that barrier motorists will dart without even stopping momentarily to see if oncoming traffic might meet him in the center of the intersection.

The motorist on the highway will soar his speedometer above the 65 mile an hour limit even though warning signs fairly stare one in the face as he speeds into a death trap.

Curves scrape rubber off of automobile tires as they screech their way around too fast for human safety and mechanical endurance.

Others dare to pass—on hills—in heavy traffic—in face of oncoming cars—under any condition motorists dare to be outdone even if it takes the full endurance of an automobile's motor to barely scrape by without crashing into others.

Seemingly there is no lesson through carefully, or shall we say, driving sanely which motorists can be cajoled into driving.

The Christmas holidays are just ahead of us. Families will be headed to nearby and faraway homes for a day or more.

Death isn't a very pleasant gift for Christmas. Neither do we want to give our lives just for the pleasure of "doing as we please" at the wheel of an automobile.

This Christmas—above all—make happiness the top item on your list of gifts—not death. Slow down and live, whether at business or pleasure here at home or on long trips.

There's No "Financial Elite"

Today more than 8,500,000 Americans—one out of every 12 adults—are shareholders in our corporations, and their ranks continue to grow steadily. So a very apt question is: What kind of people make up this big and expanding group?

President Keith Funston of the New York Stock Exchange gives a three-phased answer to that question, and here's the substance of it.

First, shareholders do not constitute "... a financial elite." They come from every walk of life, every geographic area, and every income level. The majority of them are in the middle and lower income groups—and the largest single entry consists of housewives.

Second, they are a reservoir of financial capital (that is, savings) which is capable of supplying many of the billions of new dollars needed to finance sound economic growth both in this country and in other friendly countries.

Third, all these people are voluntarily investing for a long term in companies they believe in. Therefore, to quote Mr.

Funston directly: "They are, perhaps without articulating it, free enterprisers in the most literal sense. They are also moved by the conviction that if the key to progress is more and better plants, producing more and better goods, then the money to build those plants comes best from free individuals."

The significance of widespread share ownership has been captured in a striking and felicitous phrase—People's Capitalism.

Propaganda Weakness Shows

One of the most serious political consequences of Sputnik is that all over the world there has been a wakening of faith in democracy as opposed to totalitarianism and discipline. American propaganda is partly responsible for this development because it replies to Russian claims about the Soviet system of slavery by opposing to it the American system as a whole.

It stressed that because of the American economy and "the people's capitalism," America could do things better than Russia. A concern with publicity rather than freedom is superior to material achievements, but the stress on the latter has helped to produce doubts of America.

When Khrushchev is so vulnerable to bombardments of truth, why should there be self-serving and Fancy Dan propaganda? On the world scene, Madison Avenue technique and gimmicks do not work as well as propaganda. It seems difficult to drive this lesson home, but until it is learned, this country is likely to take propaganda lickings from Moscow.

Many Americans are inclined to think about ideological struggles with Russia off the top of their heads, without learning more of the facts involved. American policy for carrying on this struggle must be thought through more carefully.

TIPO
President Eisenhower isn't the only chief executive whose health has caused alarm in the last few weeks. Word has leaked to a European capital that President Tito of Yugoslavia recently collapsed while trying to get up from his arm chair and fell to the floor of his Belgrade residence. Specialists were hurriedly called in. They found, however, that Tito's collapse was not serious — it was due to physical exhaustion and fatigue.

STEVENSON
Adlai E. Stevenson has high praise for the way Secretary of State John Foster Dulles cooperated with him during his short-lived tour as State Department policy adviser. But Stevenson isn't so sure about the White House attitude. There is some suspicion in Stevenson's office that Sherman Adams, the President's assistant, and James C. Hagerty, his press aide, never really went along with Dulles on the role given him. That undoubtedly figured in Stevenson's decision not to attend the North Atlantic Treaty Organization meeting in Paris next week.

"NO, THANKS!"

The experts expect a firm "no" from the European allies at the NATO meeting to the American proposal to set up missile bases aimed at Russia, on their territory. The continental NATO allies don't want them. They need Moscow's threat that they would be obliterated if war came, because they say Russia obviously has the missiles necessary. And they aren't convinced after last week's Vanguard fiasco that the United States will even have rockets to equip the bases for a long time.

BEACHHEAD
The State Department fears Communism may again establish a Latin-American beachhead in Guatemala soon. The left-wing Revolutionary Party, backed by the Communists, is set to sweep the Jan. 19 presidential election. Its opposition is split five ways, and there's little chance of closing ranks. Guatemala was well on the way to constitutional government until the assassination in July of President Carlos Castillo Armas, who ousted Communist-dominated President Jacobo Arbenz Guzman in 1954.

SPORTS OUTLOOK
Another attempt will be made within the next two weeks to get a National League baseball club for New York. A group of New York City civic planners is expected in proposal to the mayor's special committee that the city firm build a ball park. Once that is done, the group is said to be ready to guarantee the committee that a wealthy club owner would dispose of the club he now owns and buy another to transfer to New York.

Veterans Corner

Here are authoritative answers from the Veterans Administration to questions of interest to former servicemen and their families:

Q: My wife and I are Korean veterans, attending school under the GI Bill. We have a small child. May each of us claim our child as a dependent for GI allowance purposes?

A: Yes, you may claim both your wife and child as dependents. You may claim the child alone.

Q: I have a chance to get a better job with a better future in another city. If I change jobs and sell my GI house, could I get my GI loan rights restored so I could buy another home?

A: Yes, it is possible to get your GI loan rights restored under your circumstances. A voluntary change of employment for a better job may be considered a valid reason for restoration. VA also must be relieved of liability on the old guaranty.

Q: I understand there's a limit on VA outpatient dental treatment. I have a dental condition that is service-connected and rated at 30 percent. Will I be limited in my dental treatment?

A: No. Since you are receiving compensation for your dental condition, you may apply for dental treatment at any time and receive as many treatments as are necessary for your condition.

Q: I am a 35-year-old World War II veteran getting a pension for a total and permanent non-service-connected disability. Must I wait until I reach age 65 before my monthly payments will be raised from $68.15 to $78.75?

A: No. Your monthly payments will be increased to $78.75 after you have been on the VA pension rolls for 10 years.

Soviet Russia probably has strengthened the likelihood that the North Atlantic Treaty Organization meeting will be a success.

In an attempt to sabotage the conference, Soviet Premier Niko- la S. Bulganin has sent personal letters to the heads of government of the Chief NATO allies and to "neutralist" Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru of India. But the attempt is so obvious that it is pretty sure to backfire. Only a few days ago, the outlook for the big meeting which is to open in Paris Monday was grim.

Commonest Of Cancers Most Likely To Be Cured

By NORMAN R. HUNNING, M.D.
THE most common form of the cancer, skin cancer, is the most likely to be cured, provided, of course, that proper treatment has begun promptly. So for your own good, it's important to be alert for any change in the size or color of a mole or a melanotic freckle.

The melanotic freckle in the precancerous stage often appears first as a dark brown spot. Occasionally, it will be black when it is first noticed.

Most Are Harmless
Most of us have moles which are entirely harmless. But sometimes a lesion called sebaceous keratosis is mistaken for a benign mole. Such a lesion is often pigmented and slightly raised. It comes ulcerated or begins bleeding. If it is located under a nail, it should also be removed.

The first change usually is a change in size of one portion of the mole with the papule growing to the size of a pea or cherry. It will probably become ulcerous and bleed easily.

Prompt Removal
A mole also requires prompt removal if it shows any change in color or size, if it is raised or constantly irritated, or if it becomes ulcerated or begins bleeding. If it is located under a nail, it should also be removed.

Oviedo High School Has Stunt Night

OVIDEO—Once again the Oviedo High School Auditorium was the mecca for all those enjoying the annual One-Act play nights. It was filled to capacity for the occasion. The tenth graders presented "Mama's Getting Married," the eleventh, "Fath said No," and the twelfth, "The Farmer's Daughter." Sponsors were Mrs. Lucy Smith, Miss Kathleen Watt and Paul Miller.

Miss Carolyn Anderson directed the musical program presented by the Freshmen in the between acts skits. Charles Parker was so good he was voted the best actor of the evening. He was in the tenth grade play, Shirley Ann Partin, a twelfth grader, was likewise for the girls. The plays brought forth gales of laughter all evening.

It was hard to determine the winner. The twelfth and tenth grades were so close a recent had to be taken with the applause meter, the tenth edging out the twelfth by a very narrow margin. Last year when the vote was so close, we attributed the tenth grade chosen due to the thunderous applause given by the smaller, on the front rows. This year it was really a toss-up. Congratulations to the winners and sponsors.

Don't discount the eleventh graders. Their play was extremely good. Miss Watt deserves a lot of credit as well as the students.

Conning The News

By VIRGINIA CONN, Society Editor
Frigid gloom hung over Sanford today as the coldest weather in ten years swirled around the usually mild climate of town of celery and citrus. The story was the same everywhere — cars stalled, flowers and shrubbery wilted and brown. It made me glad that I had not worked harder to make my garden a place of beauty. I feel deep sorrow for those who have lost their gardens.

At the golf course the same sorry tale was told. Here the men who follow the sun were working hard to hit the ball without shivering. Although some mighty good scores were turned in, the majority suffered from overexposure to the elements, and it was the general consensus of opinion that those who had to tee off in the early morning had freeze suffering with pieces of ice in their hands against a background of drooping palms. Overcoats, gloves and woolly hats were much in evidence.

Flannel pajamas seem to prove the perfect substitute for northern long winter woollies—and many a gentleman was thus sturdied. Today I will not mention their names. Sure is a good idea, even for those downtown.

Jo McDaniel and Muriel Scott were huddled by the information booth, half hoping no one would buy a ticket—didn't want to take their hands out of their pockets. There was absolutely no doubt about it. Yesterday was perhaps one of the coldest days in golfing history, and a miserable trick to play on Sanford where the winters are usually perfect for this sport. Last year during the last day of the P. G. A., I remember in particular, it was extremely warm and pleasant.

Chatted with two of the pro's wives who are travelling with their husbands this season. And not only their husbands—each has a child. The girls were finding it somewhat surprising for Florida weather.

Tommy Peterson was living in a Winter Wonderland this morning when he went out to build a fire under his water pipe. Large icicles were hanging from trees and bushes—his father, Bart, was in the same situation—no water, but fairly land everywhere.

Of course, I pulled the brainy of the week and did not drain my radiator or get anti-freeze. So today I'll have a luncheon at the Mayfair Inn Wednesday—in the Bataan Room. Hostesses were Louise Andrus, Margaret Hendrick and Timmy Tension. The tables were decorated for Christmas, naturally. The head table held a white tree with varicolored Christmas balls. Greens and bright balloons the length of the other tables. A place card of miniature tree marked each seat. Surprises were

Miss Partin, Mr. Slayton United In Impressive Oviedo Ceremony

OVIDEO—Miss Shirley Ann Partin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Edward Partin, of Oviedo, and Harvey Joe Slayton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Folk Decator Slayton of Goldenrod, exchanged rings and pledged their troth in a beautiful candlelight service performed by the Reverend Charles G. Swagerty in the Chuluota Baptist Church on Thursday, Dec. 12, at 6 p. m.

Baskets of white gladiol and pom pom chrysanthemums banked against a setting of wedding palms and branched candelabras and a kneeling bench placed before an altar interlaced with smilax and chrysanthemums formed the background for the occasion.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was radiant in a gown of de-luxured satin and imported chauntilly lace. The fitted bodice had a Sabrina neckline finished with scallops and embroidered with seed pearls. Self-covered buttons closed the long sleeves, which came to points at the wrists. The voluminous skirt with scattered lace appliques centered with seed pearls, featured wide lace panels front and back and ended with a full chapel train. Her finger tip veil of pure silk illusion was attached to a crown of lace embroidered and outlined with seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white orchids.

Miss Mary Ann Slayton, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor. Her gown was white satin overlaid with net. Her headdress was a half cap of white net and red carnations. She carried a bouquet of red carnations.

Mary Jane Kelsey, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Kelsey, was flower girl. She wore a gown of white satin fashioned like that of the bride and her headdress was a half cap of white net and white carnations. She carried a white basket of rose petals.

Dick Parker, cousin of the bridegroom, served as best man. Ushers were James A. Partin and George A. Kelsey while Tommy Partin, brother of the bride, served as junior usher.

The mother of the bride chose for her daughter's wedding a gown of dusty rose lace with matching accessories. Her corsage was a lavender orchid.

William H. Martin rendered the nuptial music. Mrs. William H. Martin, soloist, sang I Love You Truly and the Lord's Prayer.

The reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Niblick, cousins of the bride, immediately following the wedding ceremony.

The entrance hall of the spacious home was graced with a large memory candle. The living room was enhanced with white wedding decorations.

The bride's table, overlaid with a white embroidered linen and lace cloth, was centered with a tiered wedding cake, flanked with silver candelabras bearing burning white tapers. The punch table, centered with a crystal punch bowl was flanked with silver candelabras and burning white tapers. The table was overlaid with a white lace cloth. Overhead hung large wedding bells of white lace and net.

Miss Melanie Jackson, a classmate of the bride, kept the bride's bouquet.

For traveling the bride chose a black wool suit with a white fur collar, with which she wore a white fur hat and gloves and black accessories.

On her shoulder was pinned the white orchid from the center of her bride's bouquet.

Following a short wedding trip, the couple will be at home in Goldenrod.

Undefeated SHS Team Will Face Lyman Tonight

By JERRY COVINGTON
Coach Bud Laver will send his undefeated Sanford Seminoles against the Lyman Greyhounds here tonight in a double header. The Jr. Varsity is slated to begin at 7:30 and will be followed by the Varsity Game. Both hold identical records of 3-0 for the young season.

Figures in all three outings and has been outstanding in the rebounding department. Football star, Mike Tanny will also receive the nod to play under the basket and he is expected to do great things. Mike is a flashy ball handler and could prove to be the difference in any ball game.

Forward Bruce McCoy hit four set shots in a row against New Smyrna last week and possesses the ability to come through tonight in the same fashion. He is very deceptive and is also good help under the basket.

Sophomore flash, Ray Lundquist, who hit for 19 points Tuesday will be filling in one of the guard spots here tonight. He is a very fine defensive man as well as being able to break through for lay-ups.

Senior John Barley will see action at the other guard against the Greyhounds. Ken McMurray, Billy Tyre, Wally Phillips, Cliff McKibbin, Gerald Jones, Allan Swain, and Cecil Dandridge will also be called upon to add to the action.

This makes up the well-rounded squad that shows possibilities of bringing Sanford its most successful basketball season in many years. Plan to come to the High School tonight for a very fine contest.

Today's Sports Parade

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — John David Crow became a man at an early age, which may help to account for the fact that today that blond Texas Aggie grid star is everybody's All-American and the Back of the Year.

John David, as he is called, is a 215-pound halfback who hits like a bulldozer. The only phase of football where he is better than as an offensive threat is when he clobbers a guy on defense.

It's all part and parcel of his very beginning. Because when John David was born the forceps slipped, and since then the left side of his face has been paralyzed. The left eye never closes, not even when the violence of his "play" buries it into the sod. When he smiles his face is lop-sided, for the inert left side of his mouth stays where it is, as the right side rises.

"He would be a very handsome lad," somebody once said to Coach Bear Bryant, "if it wasn't for that affliction."

Fits "Nice" Description
Bryant stared the fellow in the eye and said: "When he carries the ball, he's the most handsome lad I've ever seen."

Underneath that lop-sided smile, John David Crow is a handsome young man of 22 who fits the description "nice." He is easy-going, down-to-earth, modest and yet, with it all, a very self-possessed young man who stands a tall, straight 6 feet 2.

Youngsters can be very acid and unkind. They were to John David when he was growing up with lop-sided smile and the eye which never closes. So through grammar school and through high school he had to learn to "take it" with the grin which grows on you the more you see it.

Receives Heisman Trophy
Proof of how far he came with that early maturity and reciprocal drive is the fact that Crow got his start in the tiny paper mill town of Springhill, La., a hamlet up in the northwest corner near Arkansas. He tried for West Point but never heard from the Academy after they received his transcript. They probably made a mistake, because John David carried a B average in math through Texas A&M where he majored in business administration.

Today he is the toast of the football world, having received the Heisman Memorial Trophy award Wednesday night as the Player of the Year. Next, after an appearance in the Gator Bowl against Tennessee and the All-Star game at Honolulu, he'll appear in the livery of the Chicago Cardinals.

Peanut Bowl Tilt Tonight At 8 p.m.

By JERRY COVINGTON
The fathers of the fifth grade Tigers, and the fathers of the sixth grade Lions, meet tonight at 7:30 in the Memorial Stadium in what is said to be the battle of the "century". The fifth grade champs will also go against the sixth grade champs in a contest that will mean the school championship.

Under the direction of Lt. Cdr. Louis Hoop, this P. T. A. event is expected to draw a very fine crowd. The weatherman has promised warmer weather for the big event and Hoop urges all parents and football fans to turn out and support this cause. Tickets are on sale at all the drug stores and also may be purchased at the gate.

Lightning George Pittard will captain his Lions as they go against Captain Cy Fitton's fifth grade Tigers. Both squads have been through good workouts in preparation for the tilt and the captains report that they are ready for the "rough stuff". The Lions will depend mainly on a running attack while the Tigers possess a deadly passing game.

It should prove very interesting and exciting throughout the entire contest and it will be well worth while seeing. Some of the city's leading citizens will be participating so come out and hear the bones "crack". Kickoff time is set for 7:30.

HUMAN POLAR BEAR—The frigid weather didn't seem to bother 48-year-old William Wohl as he walked ashore from Lake Michigan after his daily swim from a Chicago beach. Wohl, who's been swimming in cold weather for four years to keep himself in "top notch shape," declares the water warm, although the air's temperature was just 21 degrees above zero.

Kennel Club Holds Opening Tomorrow Nite

Pre-season schooling races terminated at the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club last night and now everything is in readiness for the popular track's gala opening tomorrow night. Post time is 8:10 p. m. and eleven races are on tap, highlighted by the tenth, event, the annual Inaugural Handicap.

This is the first time in many years that the opening date has fallen on a weekend and with the cold weather moderating track operator Jerry Collins expects both attendance and mutual play records to skyrocket to an all-time high.

A force of painters and workmen has been busy at the track for months and it has never looked more beautiful. Requests for reservations in the luxurious, glass-enclosed clubhouse have been received from all parts of the South. And the races can be watched in comfort from the main grandstand for it is warmed by heat reflectors.

Ed's Deacon Jones, 1956 Inaugural winner and track champion, will try again for the Inaugural trophy, having schooled himself into a spot in this annual speed classic.

But to pick up a second Inaugural trophy the Deacon will have to really pour on the steam for he will be meeting the strongest opposition of his career. Racing Secretary R. C. Williamson has never had so many greyhound stars to select from in picking the Inaugural field and he is making the most of the opportunity. Greyhounds that have attracted his attention and are almost certain to become Inaugural contenders are Rockin Jo, Happy Steve, Knocker, Casual Sue, Trans Taylor, Steppin Jim and Collins. All have made impressive records on other tracks.

Following tomorrow night's opening there will be racing nightly, except Sunday, through March 31st. Matinees are scheduled for Wednesdays and Saturdays with the first daylight card on tap next Wednesday, starting at 2 p. m.

Scientist Warns Against Over-Use Of 'Happy Pills'

By DELOS SMITH
 United Press Science Editor
NEW YORK (UP) - Other ages had their "tranquilizing drugs" too, a medical scientist has reminded the profession - and some of those drugs eventually blocked the general progress of the peoples who used them generously.

Prof. Julius Pomerance of New York Medical College specified that he referred to "alcohol, tobacco, betel nut, coca leaf, opium and heroin." His was the newest voice raised in warning against the over-prescribing and over-use of happy pills.

"Tension and anxiety are not only products of progress - they are also factors in its development," he said. "Anxiety creates the drives that lead us to progress. Tranquilizing drugs of the past have moderated drives, altered physical structure and destroyed emotional patterns. In this sense they have impeded progress."

Anxiety Provides Drive

He granted that it was "not pleasant to live with constant anxiety." But, he continued, realistic situations of living produce anxiety - quite realistically. And it is the anxiety and the "drives" anxiety mobilizes that permit the mastering of the situations, he said, adding: "To destroy these anxieties may destroy our mechanisms for handling these situations."

His warning was circulated among medical men through the technical journal of the American Geriatrics Society. It was based upon the premise that the role of the physician cannot be replaced with drugs. Drugs can only establish the role of friend, helper and true mediator, and then prescribes with full knowledge of the drug and the patient.

"The age of medical chemistry drugs" but it also has encouraged laxity in diagnosis. He thought would be "a great advantage for mankind if a drug were able to overcome the neurotic drives which lead us to unhappiness. Unhappiness has created extremely valuable fortunate facts, when carefully considered, leave little hope that such a drug has been found."

He said the tranquilizers chlorpromazine and rauwolfia serpentina had been proven to have real effects in body chemistry and were both useful in the treatment of some severe mental disorders. He questioned that real facts in body chemistry has been proven the case of meprobamate which is marketed under the trade names of "miltown" and "equanil."

Quiz Show Winners

By FRED DANES
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK (AP)—What would you do if you became one of these TV-created American folk heroes known as quiz show big money winners?
If the past is any guide, chances are you'd spend the lot wisely or not at all.
Up-dating the doings of the brainy bankbusters, we find that Charles Van Doren, who left "Twenty One" with $129,000, now has a wife, a more sumptuous apartment in Manhattan, a $60,000-a-year contract with NBC as a consultant on educational programming, and is writing a book. He still teaches literature at Columbia, where his salary was raised $100 to $4,500.

August to join an Ohio tool manufacturing firm. He bought a home at Galien, Ohio, and set up a fund for his children.
Financier's Daughter's Wedding
Gino Frato, the opera-loving New York shoemaker who won $22,000 on "Question," financed his daughter's wedding and a family visit to Italy.
He returned to a $10,000-a-year job as "spodwill ambassador" for a manufacturer of heels. Gino employs another shoemaker to run his shop and still lives in the modest apartment he rented before all this happened.
The biggest TV money winner to date, 11-year-old Robert Strom, had his $24,000 placed in a trust fund that should take care of his future needs. Jockey Billy Pearson, whose knowledge of art won him a total of $66,000, spent some of the loot on valuable works of art and a yacht. He plans a 'round-the-world trip aboard the yacht.

Police Lectures
The first winner on "94,000 Question," New York patrolman Redmond O'Hanlon, a Shakespearean expert, used part of his $16,000 to enlarge his home and buy a station wagon. He retires from the force in eight years and then plans to become a college professor. Since winning in June, 1955, O'Hanlon has in his spare time delivered lectures and written a book on The Bard.
Showgirl Barbara Hall, another Shakespearean authority, banked her $64,000 winnings. She is now rehearsing for her first part in a "legit" Broadway production.
Marine Capt. Richard McCutchen, a cooking expert and the first top winner on "94,000 Question," resigned from the Marines last

SOCIETY NAMES TRUSTEE
WASHINGTON (UP)—The National Geographic Society has named Laurence S. Rockefeller, a leading conservationist, to its 24-member board of trustees. Rockefeller, president of Rockefeller Brothers, Inc., is the 67-year-old son of John D. Rockefeller Jr., who was responsible for the restoration of colonial Williamsburg, Va. He will serve on the Society's board for life.

Woman's View

By GAY FAULEY
United Press Women's Editor
NEW YORK (AP)—It makes me wince to see what Gene Moore does with a girl's best friend, diamonds.
They're supposed to be precious stones, but Gene drags them casually through mud puddles, tosses them into snow, even "bakes" them in a pot-bellied stove.
It's part of his job as the display man responsible for all the local and visiting gawkers queuing in front of Tiffany's on Fifth Avenue these days.
Unveils Christmas Displays
This week, Moore unveiled his Christmas window displays and had quite an audience in spite of the rain and subway strike. Maybe the $500,000 Tiffany diamond, a rare canary type, helped. Moore suspended it in one window, with a backdrop of a Venetian street scene. He said he was inspired by a visit to Venice last summer. But to give a Yuletide touch, he replaced the usual pigeons with snow and sprinkled it with lesser diamonds.

"Handling that $500,000 stone always scares me," said the young display man, whose unorthodox settings for jewelry have made him the talk of the town. "And emeralds... I'm always afraid I'll drop one and it'll shatter."
"I suppose these are fears no girl would have."
Elsama Emmer
Moore, a native of Alabama, studied at Chicago's Academy of Fine Arts and started in life as a portrait painter. He said hunger drove him to the display field, first for a chain of shoe stores, then to specialty shops, and now to the jewelry store.
In two years at Tiffany's, he has had diamonds "floating" on a running stream using a fish tank motor to agitate the water and invisible plastic discs to hold the diamonds on the surface; rubles pouring forth, like blasts of heat, from pot-bellied stoves, and pearl bracelets casually draped across a miniature highway lined with telephone poles.

Spain ceded Florida to the United States Feb. 23, 1819.
Iowa was named after a Sioux tribe whose name meant "one who puts to sleep."

'58 Year Of Decision For Cotton Industry

Southern Year-Ender
Editor's Note: This is one of a number of year-end dispatches on news and feature developments in the South in 1957, written by United Press Staff correspondents.
By JOE McDAVID
United Press Staff Correspondent
MEMPHIS (AP)—A year of decision for the cotton industry is coming in 1958.
The fiber which once dominated the South's economy has steadily lost markets to synthetics and foreign cotton for more than a quarter of a century.

Cotton leaders believe 1958 may reverse the trend. They pin their hopes on indications of increased industry-wide support of legislation to revamp cotton controls.
But until money from the 1958 crop begins to roll in, the cotton industry, and especially the farmer, faces a tight financial squeeze.
Bad Crop Year
Bad weather this year dealt cotton a body blow that was felt all the way from the farm to its nerve center—the cotton exchanges.
Heavy spring rains delayed planting. Excessive rain fall throughout the growing season kept cotton plants "scrappy" and full of foliage.
Then came an early frost, which pops open unripened bolls.
Size of the crop was drastically reduced, but probably more important, cotton grades were lowered.
The final official estimate of 1957 cotton production placed the crop at 11,010,000 bales—down 2,300,000 bales from 1956.
The yield per acre was only 300 pounds as compared with 400.
Cotton merchant Caffey Robertson summed it up when he waved toward his sample room and said: "All low grade stuff. Government warehouses are bulging with low-grade cotton, and we get another cropful of the same."
Added to Surplus
Because the market already was glutted with low-grade cotton, buyer Berry Brooks said most of this year's crop will go into government loan. That will add to the weighty cotton surplus that is depressing the industry.
Last year, farmers received up to 35 cents a pound for some of their cotton. This year, the price has ranged down to 20 cents a pound.
Since cotton is the only source of cash income for many farmers, some will have to borrow to see them through the winter. Then they will go further into debt to buy seed, fertilizer and insecticides in the spring.
C. C. Smith, head of cotton operations for the National Bank of Commerce here, said established landowners who "have roots in

Cooper Always Gets Top Leading Ladies

By VERNON SCOTT
United Press Hollywood Staff
HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Gary Cooper, who's starred with three generations of great leading ladies, is co-starring in a new movie with a glamour girl who can't act her way out of a soap opera, according to critics.
The newcomer is Susy Parker, the sultry beauty who drew critical brickbats in her first picture, "Kiss Them For Me." The reviews of Susy's smolder were so severe there were no bars left for Jayne Mansfield's acting in the picture.
Susy shifted to TV with a "Playhouse 90" performance in "The Death of Manolete." Her video gambit stirred up more abuse than ever.
Instead of dropping from sight or heading for the actor's studio, a La Monroe, Susy has landed a top role opposite Cooper. And O! Cooper likes the idea.
"I usually choose my leading ladies," he said in his clipped, non-committal way. "There's a cast approval clause in my contract. And this isn't the first time I've worked with a girl starting out in the movie business."
"Susy is a beautiful, warm girl with a nice personality. She has the desire to become a star and she might just be great."
Helped Girls To Stardom
Cooper started Marlene Dietrich, Sylvia Sydney, Grace Kelly, Joan Leslie and Patricia Neal on the road to stardom when the girls were testing their celluloid wings.
In his own quiet way the spine-thrilled actor has managed to snag off the best of Hollywood's leading ladies down through the years, which puts him in a class by himself when it comes to screen lovers.
You can separate his co-stars into three separate eras, starting with the newest crop of beauties.
Audrey Hepburn, Ruth Roman, Grace Kelly, Elizabeth Montgomery and Lorraine Day climbed the stardom ladder playing opposite Cooper in the past few years.
Go back 10 years and Cooper's leading ladies were Ingrid Bergman, Joan Leslie, Susan Hayward, Lauren Bacall and Teresa Wright.
Now go back to the 1930s and you'll find the tall Montana man starting with Carole Lombard, Paulette Goddard, Barbara Stanwyck, Marie Oberon, Loretta Young, Joan Crawford and Ann Harding.
You can go back further, but of Cooper just as soon you wouldn't.
No Box Office Duels
He's made 90 pictures in his career and seldom has one been a boxoffice dud. Gary says much of his success has been due to his choice of glamorous girls.
"I think I've chosen some mighty good ones," he says. "The greatest actress I ever worked with was Helen Hayes. The only two I regret never having appeared with are Grete Garbo and Olivia DeHavilland."
"And if I had to bet on it, I'd say Susy's going to do herself real good."

West Still Holds 'Margin Of Power' Ike Tells NATO Conference

PARIS (UP)—President Eisenhower told the opening session of the West NATO summit conference today the West still holds "the margin of power."

But he said the Western nations "must work to maintain this lead over the Communist bloc" because the triumph of freedom over despotism is not inevitable.

"It takes a lot of hard work and sacrifice by a lot of people to bring about the inevitable," he declared. The President said in his keynote speech the Atlantic alliance nations are willing to join the Soviet Union in bringing "under rational control in the common interest" what he termed "vast physical forces which cast a pall over the world."

"Until that can be done," Eisenhower said, "we must continue to create and sustain within the free world the necessary strength to make certain of the common security. All of us must have the assurance that the strength will be used to sustain peace and freedom."

"We are in a fast-running current of the great stream of history," he said. "Heroic efforts will long be needed to steer the world toward true peace."

Eisenhower's address set the tone for the meeting of the chiefs of state of the NATO alliance who have gathered here to seek an answer to recent Soviet scientific and diplomatic successes.

He met first with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan to align Anglo-American policies and then used the full weight of his immense personal prestige in a speech aimed at infusing the alliance with new strength and unity.

Authoritative sources indicated Eisenhower's opening statement would lead the three-day, 13-nation meeting into an agreement on the future setting up of U. S. missile bases in Western Europe—the key issue facing the conference.

Eisenhower spoke in the modernistic, box-like Chateau de la Seigne from the Eiffel Tower. He spoke as the only one of the 15 heads of government present who is also chief of state.

Eisenhower went through a full Sunday schedule, appearing in despite his long drive through the Paris street in cold weather on his arrival Saturday. The President.

—Attended special services at the American Cathedral and sat through the 75-minute service in apparent excellent spirits. Ironically, the professional hymn was a 19th Century Russian tune.

—Sent a cable to Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru stating the United States was prepared "to stop nuclear tests immediately" on condition other nations did not take advantage of the interval "to conceal the threat of nuclear war."

—The cable was in reply to Nehru's appeal to America and Russia to halt the tests.

Downtown Drug Store Gutted By Flames Today

A fire gutted the stockroom and kitchen of Roumillat and Anderson Drug Store this morning shortly before 8 o'clock.

Extent of damage had not been determined, at a late hour this morning, but smoke damage throughout the three-story Brumley-Puleston building will be extensive.

The fire started, according to Francis Roumillat, when a pan of grease on the restaurant's cook stove caught fire and spread flames into the stove's hood where an accumulation of grease was ignited. Spreading flames through the exhaust pipe caught wood frame and walls.

Fire spread quickly through the stockroom and onto the balcony of the stock room.

Fire Chief Mack N. Cleveland Sr. said that had the fire been reported five minutes later "the entire building would have been involved."

"It was easy to get to the fire," said Chief Cleveland, "because the store was open and firemen had access to the flaming room."

One fireman remarked "This would have been a flaming inferno had we not arrived at the scene when we did."

One of the new pumpers and the aerial truck responded to the alarm. "The stockroom was completely involved when we arrived," said Chief Cleveland as he surveyed the damage and inspected possible locations where sparks could have remained.

All of the Brumley-Puleston Building was filled with thick smoke. The smoke was so thick firemen were forced to fight the fire wearing gas masks.

The front of Roumillat and Anderson's Drug Store was not touched by the flames but smoke passed through the store to the prescription department and parts of the front of the store building.

Smoke billowed from office windows of the building as windows were opened to rid the building of smoke.

R. N. Blackwelder, manager of Penney's next door to Roumillat and Anderson, said that there was no damage to his building at all. Some smoke seeped into the stockroom portion of Penney's but not to such quantities that would cause damage.

A new office, that was to have been occupied by Stenstrom Realty Co., was damaged by water. The ceiling and walls of the new office, originally scheduled to be opened tomorrow were damaged by water only.

Bergstrom Photo Studio, just over the stock room of the drug store, had film, paper and chemicals damaged from heat and other equipment damaged from smoke.

Chief Cleveland said this morning that the fire was brought under control in less than 20 minutes and clean-up work began when smoke was cleared from the building.

Five Seminoles Selected For All Conference Squad

By JERRY COVINGTON

The coaches of the Orange Belt Conference met last Thursday night and selected five Sanford Seminoles to the All-Conference squad. This was the largest number from any squad and also the largest number the school has ever had selected.

Co-Captains Eddie Barbour and Billy Tyre, Center Jack Stotsky, Tackle Claude Hittell, and Junior guard, David Stanley were all unanimous selections. Eddie paced the offensive attack throughout the season and Tyre, Hittell, Stotsky, and Stanley made up the bulk of the great defense that brought the school its finest season. All Seminoles fans are in full agreement with the selections and feel that these lads have brought many honors to the city and school. They are all fine athletes and citizens and should go a long way.

The Herald, sports fans, and students of Seminole High School extend warm congratulations to all of these Seminoles.

C. Monty Bush, chairman of the Brahman Bowl, also presented the most valuable player trophy to Hittell. Claude was a tremendous defensive player in the bowl classic making eleven tackles, nullifying and completely stopping Ellis and Company. The strapping six-footer was very honored and stated that it was his greatest thrill since playing in sports at Seminole High.

Red Barbour, famed sports announcer of the New York Yanks, was also on hand to see all these awards passed out to these football heroes of SHS. Red played here as a lad and received a big thrill in sharing in the happiness of the squad. He told of his successes in life and urged every student to "work his hardest every day" to be a complete success in life.

Over 500 Attend Market Dedication

The Sanford State Farmers' Market was officially opened and dedicated Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock with more than 500 local citizens attending the ceremony.

Dignitaries from Sanford, the Sanford area, and from Tallahassee attended the official opening.

Agriculture Commissioner Nathan Mayo, dedicated the huge market for the second time as he spoke at both a luncheon preceding the ceremonies, held at the Mayfield Inn and at the program held at the market itself.

Mayo called attention to the fact that he first dedicated the market in 1934 as a "guinea pig" toward establishing a state market system.

"I want to extend the regrets of the Governor and other members of the Cabinet who were unable to attend," Mayo said.

"I felt it was my duty and an honor to dedicate the same market twice," he said. "It cost a lot of money but it may have been a blessing in disguise."

Mayo said that the markets have done more for the farmer than anything else that could have been done for them. He admitted that the Sanford Market is the best one "in the state." It handles a greater variety of vegetables, produce and fruit than any of the others in the state, he said.

L. H. Lewis, Director of the State Market System told the luncheon group that "markets do have a tremendous influence."

"We consider we have an outstanding building," said Lewis, and speaking of the future he commented "we'll get there faster and better cooperatively toward a common goal."

Senator Douglas Stenstrom told the luncheon group "This is a real letter day so far as agriculture is concerned in our county."

"We have something that will be a milestone in Seminole County," he said. And turning to the officials from the State Department of Agriculture he said "We're deeply indebted to you for what you have done."

Representative Mack N. Cleveland Jr. served as Master of Ceremonies at the luncheon. Attended by several officials from the Sanford Naval Air Station, Representative Cleveland in introducing them said "We are happy to share our significant accomplishments with our friends of the Navy."

Post Office Offers Hints On Mailing Cards, Packages

Postmaster Joel S. Field reminds everybody today that service windows at the Post Office will be open from 8 a. m. until 6 p. m., including Wednesdays and Saturdays, to take care of the growing flood of outgoing Christmas cards and gifts.

He says it looks as though this Christmas season will break all previous records and asks that everyone help ease the pressure by going to the Post Office before 10 a. m. or between 1:30 p. m. and 3:30 p. m. to mail Christmas cards and packages. Put first-class postage on all Christmas cards, along with the return address. To speed their delivery, secure free labels from the Post Office indicating "all for local delivery" and "all for out-of-town delivery" then sort and tie cards in two separate bundles with the addresses all facing one way.

Address all packages and cards accurately and clearly, include postal zone numbers, and be sure the stamps are firmly attached. Mail all packages and cards for distant states immediately, and there for local delivery should be mailed at least a week before Christmas.

Negro Youth Loses Control Of Car, Hits 'Phone Pole

An automobile, driven by a 17-year-old Negro youth, crashed into a telephone pole on Grapeville Ave. this morning shortly after 7 o'clock.

Clarence Corley, 17, son of Edward Corley was driving his father's car south on Grapeville Ave. when he lost control of the car as he apparently attempted to turn into a road leading to Dongalaw City just off Grapeville.

A brother, Willie Corley, was a passenger in the car and received an abrasion of the forehead and a cut lip as he was thrown forward in the automobile from the impact. The front end of the car was a total loss.

Deputy Sheriff A. E. Evans, at the scene, said that Clarence Corley will be charged with operating a car without a driver's license and failure to have the car under control.

For the third consecutive month the top bombardier at NAS is from Heavy Attack Squadron Eleven. He is Raymond Hite. A-lafion Ordinanceman First Class of 127 Luair Drive, Sanford. Hite also won top honors for the month of November.

The contest has been running for two months. Each month the ten bombardiers at NAS with the best bombing scores are announced by Ledr. C. F. Volunteer Firemen Answer Urgent Call In Upsala Area

The Lake Mary Fire Department answered its first call of the Christmas season when it responded to an urgent call from the Upsala Section of Loch Arbor last Friday afternoon around 7:30 p. m.

Within minutes after sounding the alarm, all Lake Mary Volunteer fire-fighting equipment supported by eight volunteer firemen were on the scene ready for action.

Volunteer Fire President Ed Zimmerman stated that the use of chemicals or water was unnecessary as the fire was caused by faulty wiring and was controlled in the shutdown of electric current.

The fire occurred outside the zone of responsibility of the Sanford Fire Department, Zimmerman stated.

Friends Help Local Fire Victims

By J. Marion Harman Sr.

A friend in need is a friend indeed!

How many times have you heard that adage? Perhaps many times folks around Sanford have had an opportunity to hear it, and on Thursday night of last week the adage was again proven true.

Jimmy and Julia Davis, a Negro couple who lived on Southwest Road, owned their frame dwelling. It was well furnished and many modern conveniences were installed to take care of their needs and the needs of four children, including a seven-month-old baby.

However, tragedy struck and their home was destroyed by fire while Julia was downtown to pick up her husband from his work at Hunt Lincoln-Mercury.

The children were in the house, all four of them, when a kerosene stove exploded. Three of the children got out of the burning inferno. But the baby, lying on a couch was burned to death.

"That is when folks 'pitched in' to help Jimmy Davis and his wife Julia as well as the three children."

By Friday night, the Negro couple were located in a rental home, one month's rent paid, furniture, bedding, groceries, and other necessities furnished them.

The employees of Hunt Lincoln-Mercury all pitched in to help out. Echols Bedding Company assisted, as did the Furniture Center, and Lodge Grocery. Thrifty Service Station helped out, too. And the Salvation Army furnished the one month's rent, bed clothing, and $6 for food.

There was clothing for Jimmy, clothing for Julia, and possibly clothing for the youngsters, too. The living room, two bedrooms, fuel oil, drugs, and other things were there for the couple's use.

Willie F. Hunt, of Hunt Lincoln-Mercury, and employer of Jimmy Davis, said "It was wonderful the way people responded when someone really needed help."

"Tragedy is a terrible thing and no one knows when, where or how it will strike. But the reassuring thing is that here in Sanford folks think about one another sharing with neighbors, wherever they are, in their moments of happiness and in the time of need."

It might be well to keep that adage in front of us, for in many ways it has been revealed that "A friend in need is a friend indeed!"
