

WORLD

IN BRIEF

Begin In Fair Condition As Coalition Passes Test

JERUSALEM (UPI) — Israeli Prime Minister Menachem Begin, 66, who suffered a heart attack in parliament prior to a crucial vote on the survival of his government, was listed today in fair condition. By the end of the day, Begin was resting comfortably on the knees of his 70-year-old aide, Yehoshua Katsav, who is recovering from a heart attack in his 33rd year of power, mustering a 60-54 vote to dissolve the Legislature and hold new elections. By the end of the day, Begin was resting comfortably in the cardiac intensive care unit at Hadassah Hospital and feeling almost no pain, Gotsman said. The prime minister's condition was listed as fair.

Gunman Dead After Siege

WURZBURG, West Germany (UPI) — A gunman believed to be an American soldier, who held two hostages at gunpoint during a 17-hour siege in a U.S. Army base bank, was shot dead today by West German anti-terrorist sharpshooters. Military spokesman said the gunman died at Leyton Barracks in the Bavarian city of Wurzburg ended shortly before 1 a.m. 7 p.m. EDT after negotiators coaxed the gunman from the American Express bank with promise of part payment on his $1.4 million ransom demand.

Brazilians Welcome Pope

BRASILIA, Brazil (UPI) — Pope John Paul II, who arrived in Brazil to a warm welcome from hundreds of thousands of faithful, has warned the military rulers of the world's largest Catholic country a nation without justice invites violence. On the second day of his 15-day tour of Brazil, the pope was to travel today to Belo Horizonte, the South American nation's third largest city.

Neat Hijacker Surrenders

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (UPI) — A well-dressed hijacker, who held 50 passengers of an Argentine jet hostage, surrendered meekly to authorities to end a 12-hour runway drama in which maintenance men defied one of the airplane's tires. None of the passengers on the Aerolineas Argentinas domestic flight from Mar del Plata to Buenos Aires were injured during the ordeal in which a special commando team rescued the aircraft and helped at least five of the hostages escape.

Schmidt Angers Red Hosts

MOSCOW (UPI) — West German Chancellor Helmut Schmidt paid a visit today to a Nazi prison of war cemetery and then returned talks with Soviet President Leonid Brezhnev and other officials on crucial East-West issues. Schmidt, who apparently angered his hosts Monday with his blunt denials of a total Soviet withdrawal of its 35,000 troops from Afghanistan, was also believed to have conceded to a Soviet request to sign an expanded trade agreement.

WEATHER

NATIONAL REPORT: A squall line of violent winds clocked at up to 70 mph struck Salt Lake City, tearing a gaping hole in the copper dome of the state Capitol, downing trees and causing an undetermined number of power outages. In the Southwest, where the oppressive heat wave again lashed a three-state section of the Sun Belt, authorities said the record temperatures were linked to as many as 51 deaths and forecasters said a tropical storm may be needed to blow the deadly high pressure system out of the area. High winds blew into Salt Lake City at about 5 p.m. EDT Monday, uprooting trees and shattering windows in buildings. A number of minor injuries were attributed to the gale.

AREA READINGS (8 a.m.): temperature: 78; overnight low: 73; yesterday's high: 91; barometric pressure: 30.01; relative humidity: 100 percent; winds: calm.

WEDNESDAY TIDES: DAYTONA BEACH: High: 11:48 a.m., 2:08 p.m.; Low: 9:28 a.m., 5:30 p.m. PORT CANAVERAL: High: 11:40 a.m., 12 p.m.; Low: 9:19 a.m., 5:30 p.m.; BAYPORT: High: 5:29 a.m., 4:32 p.m.; Low: 10:58 a.m., 11:44 p.m.

BOATING FORECAST: St. Augustine to Jupiter Inlet, Out 30 Miles: Winds mostly westerly around 1 knots today, becoming variable tonight and Wednesday. Seas 2 to 4 feet. Winds and seas higher near scattered thunderstorms mostly in the south part.

AREA FORECAST: Partly cloudy through Wednesday. A slight chance of afternoon or evening thunderstorms. High in the low 90s and low tonight in the 70s. Winds variable, mostly westerly 10 miles an hour or less. Rain probability percent today, tonight and Wednesday.

Metric-Half Gallon Sale. ABC LIQUORS. In our fight against birth defects, March of Dimes.

Evening Herald. Published July 1, 1980 - Vol. 72, No. 267. Telephone: 321-4612.

Area To Receive 238 'Lifeline' Units

By DAVID M. RAZLER
Herald Staff Writer

More than 200 bedridden, disabled Seminole County residents soon will be able to call help at the touch of a button.

The Seminole County Sheriff's Department and the Visiting Nurses Association of Orange, Osceola and Seminole counties signed a $101,000 contract Monday afternoon for the purchase of the first 238 Lifeline home units.

At the touch of a button, the small electronic packages will send a message to the sheriff's computer, telling dispatchers help is needed at the home of a person unable to go to a phone to dial for help.

The boxes also can be set to trigger themselves if the person they are assigned to does not reset a timer every 12 hours.

The first units are expected to be installed in September, said Visiting Nurses Administrator Fred Holman.

Although officials have been preparing the program for months, the last few weeks have been a race against time, Holman said.

The state Community Care for the Elderly funds, which paid for 90 percent of the home units and the equipment needed by the sheriff to receive the coded signals expired at midnight today, meaning the contracts submitted by the nursing organization, equipment supplier and sheriff's office had to be entered into by Monday, he said.

The Visiting Nurses will decide over the next few weeks who is eligible for the units. Holman said the highest priority is for an elderly, physically infirm person living alone without any family in the area.

People with family or friends nearby, who have their own transportation or can care for themselves will receive lower priority, he estimates.

The program was developed by Schuckman after he saw a demonstration of the boxes produced by a Boston firm.

The home system is basically an automated phone dialer which calls a special life line to the sheriff's office computer. The home box then transmits its number and the computer prints out the address and medical problems of the box holder on a terminal in the sheriff's dispatcher's office, following help to be sent in seconds.

Schuckman said the main problem was securing the grant and finding an agency to administer distribution of the units.

The second problem was solved with cooperation from the Visiting Nurses. The first was solved only last week, when Seminole County's bid for state funds was selected over two proposals from other counties.

Seminole County will be the first county in the state with the Lifeline system, although Brevard County is developing a similar system, Holman said.

Schuckman said the system has proven very effective in other communities. He and Holman say they both hope for additional funding in years to come so the initial number of units can be increased to the point where all county residents who need one can get one.

Agency Recommends Health Service Study

By DIANE PETRYK
Herald Staff Writer

The feasibility of a low-cost Health Maintenance Organization to serve Seminole and Orange counties may be studied locally under a $75,000 federal grant.

Health Maintenance organizations (HMOs) are made up of members who pay a flat monthly fee for which they receive any and all necessary medical care through member doctors, hospitals and clinics. HMOs emphasize preventive medicine through periodic check-ups at no extra cost.

The Health Systems Agency of East Central Florida (HSA-ECF), a health services advisory group, has recommended approval of Orlando General Hospital's request for a federal grant to make the feasibility study. The hospital will contribute $25,000.

Seminole Memorial Hospital Administrator James Tesar said the HMO concept is a good one, but the success of each individual HMO depends on how it is managed.

"Some HMOs, like those in California, have been very successful," Tesar said. "Others have come and gone."

It is possible to receive improved medical care if one belongs to an HMO, he said.

"Theoretically, with an HMO you get annual physicals and things like that. Things we tend to put off because of their cost," he said. "But under an HMO it doesn't cost extra."

Wall Wozniak, administrator of Orlando General, said the hospital is interested in determining if pre-paid health care can be provided in the two counties as a means of containing health costs.

He Points To Reputation, Voting Record

JOHNSON said Monday the basis of the state's case against the third-grade teacher is that she used "excessive force" when she paddled 6-year-old Wayne Foley on May 15. There is no set definition of when force becomes "excessive," he said, explaining that decision is made by the jury hearing a case.

Caskey was charged with the crime, for which she could be sentenced to up to a year in jail if convicted, based on an investigation and report to the state attorney's office by Sanford police.

Her attorneys entered a plea of not guilty shortly after she received the summons informing her the charge had been filed.

The paddling incident was reported to police the night it happened, said Sanford Sgt. W.R. Bernokey. Following the report, the child was taken to Seminole Memorial Hospital, where large bruises on his buttocks were photographed by Seminole Medical Examiner G.V. Garay.

Johnson said he has not been told when the motion to dismiss the charge will be heard. Trial on the case is scheduled for sometime in July, before County Judge Harold Johnson.

BURGLARY IN ALTAMONTE SPRINGS — A 5-year-old neighbor of an Altamonte Springs man has provided deputies with a description of the person who robbed the child's home.

Deputies say the youth watched as a man forced open the window of Robert C. Casco's home, 1217 Olana Road, at 9 a.m. Monday, then carried out antique silverware, two televisions and a microwave oven.

The total value of the loss has not yet been determined.

Carter Trying To Stop Drive To Cut Taxes

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Carter is trying his best to take the steam out of a drive by Democratic congressmen for an election year tax cut spurred by Ronald Reagan.

Carter was to have breakfast with Democratic congressional leaders and ask them to "cool it" in their efforts for a quick tax relief bill.

The president returned from his trip to Europe last week to find the tax issue had gotten out of control with Senate Democrats trying to regain the initiative by setting a Sept. 3 deadline for a bill.

The Democrats began their move without informing the White House after Reagan proposed a $22 billion tax cut and Republican senators attempted to attach it as a rider to other legislation.

Press secretary Jody Powell accused the investigation of suspicious characters.

He said he has gone to the FBI and described his involvement and said he cannot understand why investigators could not have identified him or cleared him quickly.

He also says he expects he ultimately will be named in a criminal indictment.

"I don't think there is any possibility in the world that they will let anyone off the hook — especially a Republican," Kelly said.

"I think the conduct of the Department of Justice in this whole thing is suspect," Kelly said. "If I cut and run, the system collapses. I have to hang in there and I expect the people to do the same."

"It has placed a political burden on me and my constituents," Kelly told the Times. "This puts the burden on the people. They will have to make the decision."

"I hope this will all develop in time so the voters will know when they vote," he said. "Otherwise I'll have to depend on the reputation for integrity that I've had all my life."

JOHNSON said Monday the basis of the state's case against the third-grade teacher is that she used "excessive force" when she paddled 6-year-old Wayne Foley on May 15. There is no set definition of when force becomes "excessive," he said, explaining that decision is made by the jury hearing a case.

Caskey was charged with the crime, for which she could be sentenced to up to a year in jail if convicted, based on an investigation and report to the state attorney's office by Sanford police.

Her attorneys entered a plea of not guilty shortly after she received the summons informing her the charge had been filed.

The paddling incident was reported to police the night it happened, said Sanford Sgt. W.R. Bernokey. Following the report, the child was taken to Seminole Memorial Hospital, where large bruises on his buttocks were photographed by Seminole Medical Examiner G.V. Garay.

Johnson said he has not been told when the motion to dismiss the charge will be heard. Trial on the case is scheduled for sometime in July, before County Judge Harold Johnson.

BURGLARY IN ALTAMONTE SPRINGS — A 5-year-old neighbor of an Altamonte Springs man has provided deputies with a description of the person who robbed the child's home.

Deputies say the youth watched as a man forced open the window of Robert C. Casco's home, 1217 Olana Road, at 9 a.m. Monday, then carried out antique silverware, two televisions and a microwave oven.

The total value of the loss has not yet been determined.

Action Reports

★ Fires
★ Courts
★ Police Beat

JOHNSON said Monday the basis of the state's case against the third-grade teacher is that she used "excessive force" when she paddled 6-year-old Wayne Foley on May 15. There is no set definition of when force becomes "excessive," he said, explaining that decision is made by the jury hearing a case.

Caskey was charged with the crime, for which she could be sentenced to up to a year in jail if convicted, based on an investigation and report to the state attorney's office by Sanford police.

Her attorneys entered a plea of not guilty shortly after she received the summons informing her the charge had been filed.

The paddling incident was reported to police the night it happened, said Sanford Sgt. W.R. Bernokey. Following the report, the child was taken to Seminole Memorial Hospital, where large bruises on his buttocks were photographed by Seminole Medical Examiner G.V. Garay.

Johnson said he has not been told when the motion to dismiss the charge will be heard. Trial on the case is scheduled for sometime in July, before County Judge Harold Johnson.

BURGLARY IN ALTAMONTE SPRINGS — A 5-year-old neighbor of an Altamonte Springs man has provided deputies with a description of the person who robbed the child's home.

Deputies say the youth watched as a man forced open the window of Robert C. Casco's home, 1217 Olana Road, at 9 a.m. Monday, then carried out antique silverware, two televisions and a microwave oven.

The total value of the loss has not yet been determined.

AREA DEATHS

ROBERT E. SHEPARD, 54, of 29 Gate House Circle, Sanford, died early today at Orlando Regional Medical Center. Born in Hemlock, N.Y., he lived in Sanford since 1961, moving here from Hemlock. He was a member of the Lake Mary Presbyterian Church and was a long distance truck driver.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Helene Shepard, Sanford; daughter, Mrs. Sandra Brown, Kingston, Tenn.; two brothers, Gordon and Edward Shepard, both of Hemlock; and four grandchildren.

Grainkov Funeral Home, Sanford, is in charge of arrangements.

burden on me and my constituents," Kelly told the Times. "This puts the burden on the people. They will have to make the decision."

"I hope this will all develop in time so the voters will know when they vote," he said. "Otherwise I'll have to depend on the reputation for integrity that I've had all my life."

JOHNSON said Monday the basis of the state's case against the third-grade teacher is that she used "excessive force" when she paddled 6-year-old Wayne Foley on May 15. There is no set definition of when force becomes "excessive," he said, explaining that decision is made by the jury hearing a case.

Caskey was charged with the crime, for which she could be sentenced to up to a year in jail if convicted, based on an investigation and report to the state attorney's office by Sanford police.

Her attorneys entered a plea of not guilty shortly after she received the summons informing her the charge had been filed.

The paddling incident was reported to police the night it happened, said Sanford Sgt. W.R. Bernokey. Following the report, the child was taken to Seminole Memorial Hospital, where large bruises on his buttocks were photographed by Seminole Medical Examiner G.V. Garay.

Johnson said he has not been told when the motion to dismiss the charge will be heard. Trial on the case is scheduled for sometime in July, before County Judge Harold Johnson.

BURGLARY IN ALTAMONTE SPRINGS — A 5-year-old neighbor of an Altamonte Springs man has provided deputies with a description of the person who robbed the child's home.

Deputies say the youth watched as a man forced open the window of Robert C. Casco's home, 1217 Olana Road, at 9 a.m. Monday, then carried out antique silverware, two televisions and a microwave oven.

The total value of the loss has not yet been determined.

ENTERTAINING CHARACTERS

Ronald McDonald, Captain Crook and the Professor were among the five McDonald Land characters to put on a show for 350 excited children at McDonald's in Sanford Saturday. This was their first visit to Sanford.

NATION

IN BRIEF

Detroit, New York Workers Edge Closer To Strikes

By United Press International
Contracts for 23,000 Detroit municipal employees expired early today and pickets went within minutes, although no strike was formally announced.

Negotiators worked feverishly to avert a total work stoppage that could disrupt this month's Republican National Convention.

In New York, where the Democrats meet in August, city workers postponed a threatened walkout until Thursday in deference to firefighters, who were to bury two of their colleagues today.

Shortly after the midnight deadline passed in Detroit, several wastewater treatment plant workers set up pickets even though no walkout was formally announced.

Gold, Employee Missing

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Up to $1 million in South African Kruggerand gold coins missing from the "gold room" of a bank headquarters may have been taken by an employee missing for more than a week, authorities say.

Ed Lenehan, vice president for Bank of America, disclosed Monday between $1 million and $2 million worth of the coins was discovered missing during an audit last Thursday.

The armored car company said 2,250 of the valuable gold coins, which weigh one ounce each, are now selling on the open market for approximately $600 each.

Wallace Tests Analyzed

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI) — Doctors are evaluating the results of tests given to Oregon's Governor George Wallace to determine whether the controversial drug DMSO will be used to control a severe pain in his side.

"Every organ system is being evaluated," Charles Williams of the University of Oregon Health Sciences Center Hospital said Monday, after Wallace completed two days of testing.

Colonel Rests In Hospital

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI) — Col. Harold Sanders of Kentucky Fried Chicken fame was reported "resting and doing fine" but in serious condition today at a Louisville hospital where he is being treated for pneumonia of the left lung.

A hospital spokesman said the pneumonia might be related to his acute leukemia, which was discovered early last month.

The condition of the 89-year-old founder of the chicken chain was described as serious.

FLORIDA

IN BRIEF

State Republican Party May Face Difficult Task

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI) — Florida Republican Party officials say it would be physically impossible for them to pick new delegates for the national convention in Detroit, only two weeks away.

But U.S. District Judge William Stafford may order them to do so.

2 Refugee Boats Arrive

KEY WEST, Fla. (UPI) — Two more Cuban refugee boats arrived in Key West Monday as legislators in Tallahassee urged Congress to speed the national relocation of the Cuban and Haitian refugees who have streamed into Florida.

The 42-foot pleasure craft Dovie III docked in Key West about 4:30 p.m. with 69 refugees aboard. About 1 1/2 hours later, the 25-foot Pegasee arrived with 33 Cuban refugees aboard, bringing to 113,380 the number of arrivals since the boatlift began April 21.

Legislators claimed Monday that the state will go broke if it must pick up the tab for the massive influx of refugees.

Trucking Law Begins Today

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI) — Starting today, Florida truckers are free to haul what they want, where they want, for the rates they want.

State officials polled by UPI believe de-regulation of the industry will cause rates to drop slightly, and will leave small communities temporarily without the trucking services to which they've been accustomed.

No one expects wholesale disruption, although most of the officials conceded it's hard to predict what will happen because no other state has gone as far as Florida in lifting trucking regulations.

Power Company Taxes Cut

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI) — The big power companies have gotten a $1 billion a year tax cut from the Public Service Commission.

Tallahassee Encore

Legislature Passes Amendments, Banking Bill

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI) — The Legislature almost gooped up the homestead exemption constitutional amendment it was called back in special session Monday to fix because of a foulup during its regular session.

It eventually corrected the goof and also completed action on a new banking code and sent it to Gov. Bob Graham in time to keep regulations on state-chartered banks from expiring at midnight Monday.

The goof happened during action to send a batch of constitutional amendments for low interest home loans and property tax breaks to the voters in October rather than November.

The major amendment raises the homeowners exemption from city and county property taxes from $5,000 to $25,000 over the next three years. Unless approved by the voters Oct. 9, the extra exemption would come too late to apply to this year's tax rolls.

House Republicans used their strength to prevent the required three-fourths or 90 votes to put all but the homestead exemption amendment on the October ballot.

At least, that is what they thought they had done. It turned out the House — due to a mixup in bill numbers — actually had approved the early vote for an amendment providing tax breaks to new and expanded businesses. Four other amendments, including the homeowners tax exemption, had failed to get enough votes for the October primary, holding them until November.

House leaders insisted when reporters first called the mistake to their attention, that it was the Senate that had goofed and passed the wrong bill. But after a quick recess and a check, the red-faced House had to do a turn-about, reconsider and re-pass the homestead special election bill.

The amended car company said 2,250 of the valuable gold coins, which weigh one ounce each, are now selling on the open market for approximately $600 each.

Wallace Tests Analyzed

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI) — Doctors are evaluating the results of tests given to Oregon's Governor George Wallace to determine whether the controversial drug DMSO will be used to control a severe pain in his side.

"Every organ system is being evaluated," Charles Williams of the University of Oregon Health Sciences Center Hospital said Monday, after Wallace completed two days of testing.

Colonel Rests In Hospital

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI) — Col. Harold Sanders of Kentucky Fried Chicken fame was reported "resting and doing fine" but in serious condition today at a Louisville hospital where he is being treated for pneumonia of the left lung.

A hospital spokesman said the pneumonia might be related to his acute leukemia, which was discovered early last month.

The condition of the 89-year-old founder of the chicken chain was described as serious.

FLORIDA

IN BRIEF

State Republican Party May Face Difficult Task

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI) — Florida Republican Party officials say it would be physically impossible for them to pick new delegates for the national convention in Detroit, only two weeks away.

But U.S. District Judge William Stafford may order them to do so.

2 Refugee Boats Arrive

KEY WEST, Fla. (UPI) — Two more Cuban refugee boats arrived in Key West Monday as legislators in Tallahassee urged Congress to speed the national relocation of the Cuban and Haitian refugees who have streamed into Florida.

The 42-foot pleasure craft Dovie III docked in Key West about 4:30 p.m. with 69 refugees aboard. About 1 1/2 hours later, the 25-foot Pegasee arrived with 33 Cuban refugees aboard, bringing to 113,380 the number of arrivals since the boatlift began April 21.

Legislators claimed Monday that the state will go broke if it must pick up the tab for the massive influx of refugees.

Trucking Law Begins Today

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI) — Starting today, Florida truckers are free to haul what they want, where they want, for the rates they want.

State officials polled by UPI believe de-regulation of the industry will cause rates to drop slightly, and will leave small communities temporarily without the trucking services to which they've been accustomed.

No one expects wholesale disruption, although most of the officials conceded it's hard to predict what will happen because no other state has gone as far as Florida in lifting trucking regulations.

Power Company Taxes Cut

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI) — The big power companies have gotten a $1 billion a year tax cut from the Public Service Commission.

The Banking Bill Vote

House

Table with 2 columns: Name and Vote (Yes/No). Lists names like Flynn, Pataki, etc.

Senate

Table with 2 columns: Name and Vote (Yes/No). Lists names like Frank, Scott, etc.

Chlorine Relaxation Bill Moves To Graham

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI) — Senate Rules Chairman Dempsey Barron has made a bill relaxing chlorination requirements on small restaurants safe from a veto by Gov. Bob Graham by breaking it somewhat.

The Legislature Monday passed a bill letting the Department of Environmental Regulation consider small restaurants from chlorine requirements, but not making it do so.

Graham threatened to veto a proposal requiring the exemption if he believed the water to be pure.

No senators objected to the proposal that ended two-and-a-half weeks ago.

Graham will accept the revised bill, Ocala, Fla. HHS Chairman Dick Batchelor, J-Orlando, Department of Health and

Reapportionment Signature Drive In Peril

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI) — Gov. Bob Graham says there is no chance of getting a single-member district legislative reapportionment amendment on the 1980 ballot.

"Our efforts now will focus on a long-range agenda," Graham said Monday.

He did not indicate whether he will focus his efforts on trying to persuade the Legislature to pass the amendment which goes through one house this year or on a petition drive to bypass the Legislature and put it on the ballot by citizen petition.

The next reapportionment of House and Senate seats is in 1982 and there are no elections in 1981 unless the Legislature calls one and there takes an extraordinary vote as well as a lot of expense.

It's Oil Which Makes Difference

President Carter should not be surprised that our European allies are reluctant to take a hard line in imposing sanctions against Iran.

It takes more than that to convince Europeans that they should get tough with a foreign government.

Lots more. Consider what they are tolerating from Col. Moammar Khadafi, the wild-eyed ruler of Libya.

Khadafi has turned his embassies in other countries into havens for assassination squads which so far have accounted for 11 murders in London, Bonn, Rome, Athens and Beirut.

The European governments have arrested some suspects in the murders and have expelled a few of Khadafi's more bloodthirsty "diplomats."

The United States sent four Libyans packing from Washington before they had a chance to do violence to anyone on Khadafi's hit list.

But otherwise it is business as usual with Libya. The business of course is oil. Europe depends heavily on tankers full of Libyan crude crossing the Mediterranean, and Khadafi is someone to be treated with kid gloves.

A Libyan colonel getting away with murder in Europe and an ayatollah playing political games with American hostages in Iran are birds of a feather. Governments dedicated to upholding international law should not be doing business with either one. The reason they are is that the birds are nesting on reservoirs of oil.

Cheer For America

The summit meeting at Venice produced very little in the way of significant announcements, although President Carter could take encouragement from a reaffirmation from the half-dozen U. S. allies of continued support.

The most positive note of cheer, however, came from the other side of the world: Elections in Japan had returned to leadership the Liberal Democratic Party, whose name belies its conservative philosophy.

The party of former prime ministers Takeo Fukuda, Takeo Miki and Masayoshi Ohira, who died earlier this month during the election campaign, has been friendly to the United States for more than a quarter-century.

Kahuei Tanaka, also a former prime minister now on trial on charges of taking bribes from Lockheed Aircraft Corp., was elected to a parliamentary post along with Fukuda and Miki, although he ran as an independent.

The party has been pro-American and pro-business since its founding in 1955, although the description might be considered a contradiction among automakers. Aggressive marketing in the United States of Japanese cars has brought protests from domestic manufacturers and has contributed to the American deficits in balance of payments figures.

Japan was also represented in Venice, joining Britain, Canada, Italy, France and West Germany in condemning the Soviet Union's invasion of Afghanistan, Iran's continued holding of American hostages and the conditions in Haiti and Cuba spurring the flight of thousands of refugees.

The president's private talks with France's President Valery Giscard d'Estaing may not have gone so well.

The talks at Venice may do little more than provide the setting for a display of solidarity.

The vote in Japan is a concrete demonstration of continued goodwill between America and its valued friend in the far Pacific.

For whom would YOU vote?

Around

While vacationing a week ago I had a pair of long opportunities to observe one of the nation's most interesting off-beat sports, challenging the 55 mph speed limit.

Despite the lack of big auto racing names like Richard Petty and A.J. Foyt, the craft drivers on 95 North used every trick in the book to push their traveling schedules ahead of estimated time of arrival.

These weren't the spruced up Formula cars or the revved up late models mind you. Instead, the field included Rabbits, Toyota's station wagons and an occasional jeep or motorcycle.

The most noticeable speed-cheating gimmick user remains the trucks.

To any veteran of motor vacations, the nation's truckers provide the perfect opportunity to pick up a few minutes here or there and save a little gas by lagging along behind, similar to "drafting" on the big trucks.

One ingenious speed cheater cleverly

disguised his dash board-mounted Fuzz Buster as a box of tissue.

Although police stakeouts were few and far between, the cops in Georgia, the Carolinas and Virginia used the same game plan. They all hid within five miles of each state line, usually behind some large trees in the median or just over the hill behind highway support beams.

One can't blame the state troopers for sticking close to the state lines. After all it gets hot on the highways and those guys need a chance to slip away from the field every now and then for a cool one.

Truck stops provided and interesting slice of Americana.

John Travolta's Urban Cowboy craze is certainly sweeping the country.

Not too long ago the secret to successful gastronomic travel was eating where the truckers eat. Indeed, the food is palatable, but puts a wrinkle in the old estimated time of arrival.

Managued to get in, chow down and fill up in half-an-hour at one stop in South Carolina. Too bad I took the waitress almost as long to add up the check. I guess scrambled eggs, ham and coffee can be a little confusing at times.

Without a doubt the biggest surprise on the highways was once again seeing fellow drivers use their turn indicators. Makes things nice and a little safer to know where everyone is heading.

From the highways to the fairways... one of the main items on the vacation agenda is at least one daily round of golf, and sometimes two. Blessed with less torrid heat and humidity, putting greens in Virginia and are much smoother and predictable. But alas, after some 14 rounds of golf in eight days, the old swing isn't much better. That's why it feels good to be back at the typewriter, surrounded by the cliché-clack of the wire machines, ringing telephones, and daily deadlines.

WIMBLEDON, England (UPI) — History will have to wait another day for Bjorn Borg, victim of the rain which washed out the second half of Monday's program in the waterlogged Wimbledon Tennis Championships.

The 24-year-old Swede, champion for the last four years, was needed to beat Hungarian Balazs Taroczy to set an all-time Wimbledon record of 32 straight victories. But the rains fell before the world's No. 1 player could make his center court date with destiny. The match was rescheduled for today.

Before the rain came, a breezy 15-year-old pigtailed American, Andrea Jaeger, carved her own niche in the Wimbledon record books by ousting the No. 7 seed, 1977 champion Virginia Wade, for a place in the women's quarter-finals.

Jaeger, 5-foot-2 1/2 and 100 pounds of determination, appeared on the receiving end of another of Wade's traditional escape acts when she dropped her serve to trail, 3-4, in the second set.

But the American from Lincolnshire, Ill., fought back to take the next three games and, after failing to serve out for victory, managed to outlast Wade, 7-4, in the tie-breaking 13th game.

"It's not all the time you can beat Virginia Wade on center court at Wimbledon," Jaeger said. "For me it's my best win at a big tournament like this."

Jaeger next faces three seeded Chris Evert Lloyd, last year's losing finalist and titleholder in 1974 and 1976, who beat fellow-American Joanne Russell, 6-3, 6-2.

In another experience with youth encounter, Billie Jean King, 36, who won the first of her record 21 Wimbledon titles before

Report From The Committee

The cases come every day. Most get better but too many die. For those who get well, there is great joy all around, playing and joking with happy scenes of departure when they leave. You hope it will be those that will stay in your memory, but it is the ones that break your heart that stay most vivid.

Like the grandfather who buried all but one of his children and grandchildren in Cambodia, and brought in his last sick grandson. A day later, the little child just faded away. Then, a teenage girl carried little brother stricken with meningitis. As we tried to save him through the night, she stood close by, touching him, spouting him off and weeping. When he died, she quietly left, leaving her brother on the floor wrapped in an old blanket.

That passage is excerpted from the letter of a volunteer worker at a facility in Thailand of the International Rescue Committee. It is included in the IRC's latest annual report, a document that makes both distressing and encouraging reading.

The latter because of the evidence it provides of the efforts of compassionate humans to do something about a human problem.

"Take Indochina to start — and that, unfortunately, is exactly what it is, only the start. The refugee crisis there has been years in the building and IRC has been involved throughout. From facilities in Thailand, it is providing medical and food assistance to hundreds of thousands of Vietnamese, Cambodians and Laotians who have fled the oppression and continuing disorder of their homelands.

Recommendations of its Citizens Commission on Indochinese Refugees have been adopted as government policy and, through committee offices in U.S. cities, it has processed a large portion of the 260,000 refugees resettled in the United States during 1979.

Although they dominate the headlines and news columns, the Indochinese are, however, only a part of the refugee problem — and effort. Worldwide, the IRC reports, it has been a bumper year with greater effort expended during 1979 and the early months of 1980 than in any comparable period since the founding of the organization in 1933 in response to the refugee flood unleashed by the rise of the Nazis.

The IRC has responded, through facilities in Florida and Central America, to the needs of Cubans. It has aided Haitians, Chileans, Argentines and other Latins who have fled their homelands for diverse reasons.

For those who do make it, the International Rescue Committee is there to help. IRC is only one of many volunteer agencies active in its chosen field. Name the Red Cross and Oxfam, among its more notable associates, and you have only begun the roster.

But considering the continuing magnitude of the problem, the field of refugee assistance is, scarcely overcrowded. That is the distressing aspect of the encouraging effort.

ROBERT WALTERS

Synfuel: Is It Bad Investment?

WASHINGTON—When President Carter signed into law the Energy Security Act of 1980, the federal government irrevocably embraced a new technology that poses a potentially grave threat to the health of thousands of workers.

The bill signing ceremony was heavily promoted and highly publicized because it marks the nation's official commitment to the development and production of synthetic fuels as a major new source of energy.

The legislation, authorizing the expenditure of $20 billion in loans, guarantees and price supports during the next five years, establishes a synthetic production target of 500,000 barrels per day by 1987, the equivalent of 4 percent of domestic oil consumption.

The extraordinary financial cost is not the only price the country will pay for gambling on an unproven technology to reduce dependence on imported oil rather than investing in a broad portfolio of renewable and alternative energy sources.

Many of those dangers already have been widely publicized. The Rockies and Northern Plains could be transformed into the United States version of Germany's heavily industrialized Ruhr Valley. Synthetic production is likely to disfigure the region's land, drain its scarce water supply and place an intolerable strain on its limited social services.

But too little attention has been focused on the dangers of adverse health effects likely to be faced by the uncounted thousands of men and women expected to be employed in coal gasification or liquefaction and refining oil shale.

When Congress was considering the legislation late last year, Ruch C. Clusen, the Energy Department's assistant secretary for environmental matters, offered typically open-minded reassurances that a) there were no serious problems and b) they would soon be resolved.

While admitting that we have identified carcinogenic (cancer-causing) substances in the products and the waste of all the synthetic fuels we have studied," Mr. Clusen said "government and industry are cooperating in the effort to define and ameliorate the risks associated with chronic exposure to the carcinogenic materials prior to commercialization."

But a confidential memo sent to Labor Secretary Ray Marshall only one month earlier was far more specific — and ominous — in warning about the "important health and environmental problems that may be anticipated" in synthetic production.

Written by Bob Bingham, the head of the Occupational Safety and Health Administration, the unpublished memo cited "specific information available which links oil shale processing with cancer, particularly cutaneous carcinoma" or skin cancer. Extraordinarily high levels have been documented among both Scottish and Estonian workers, Mr. Bingham warned.

But a confidential memo sent to Labor Secretary Ray Marshall only one month earlier was far more specific — and ominous — in warning about the "important health and environmental problems that may be anticipated" in synthetic production.

Written by Bob Bingham, the head of the Occupational Safety and Health Administration, the unpublished memo cited "specific information available which links oil shale processing with cancer, particularly cutaneous carcinoma" or skin cancer. Extraordinarily high levels have been documented among both Scottish and Estonian workers, Mr. Bingham warned.

JACK ANDERSON

Security Agencies' Foul-Ups Viewed

WASHINGTON — Intelligence officials are growing the halls of Congress trying to convince the lawmakers that the laws governing intelligence activities should be tightened. Congressional access to this information, the spokes argue, must be strictly limited.

But the pathetic truth is that it's not loopy members of Congress who are the worst violators of security. It's the intelligence agencies themselves. I've documented this in the past; now I have two examples that would be funny if they didn't involve serious security foul-ups.

The first case concerns the super-secret National Security Agency at Fort Meade, Md. Of all the nation's intelligence agencies, this is — or should be — the most sensitive, especially in satellite spying and intercepting coded foreign communications.

To protect its secrets, the NSA had Marine guards posted throughout its headquarters building to keep everyone from going into areas they don't have clearance for. Then, in October 1979, the NSA was ordered to study a new system. It replaced the Marine with

DON GRAFF

Report From The Committee

The cases come every day. Most get better but too many die. For those who get well, there is great joy all around, playing and joking with happy scenes of departure when they leave. You hope it will be those that will stay in your memory, but it is the ones that break your heart that stay most vivid.

Like the grandfather who buried all but one of his children and grandchildren in Cambodia, and brought in his last sick grandson. A day later, the little child just faded away. Then, a teenage girl carried little brother stricken with meningitis. As we tried to save him through the night, she stood close by, touching him, spouting him off and weeping. When he died, she quietly left, leaving her brother on the floor wrapped in an old blanket.

That passage is excerpted from the letter of a volunteer worker at a facility in Thailand of the International Rescue Committee. It is included in the IRC's latest annual report, a document that makes both distressing and encouraging reading.

The latter because of the evidence it provides of the efforts of compassionate humans to do something about a human problem.

"Take Indochina to start — and that, unfortunately, is exactly what it is, only the start. The refugee crisis there has been years in the building and IRC has been involved throughout. From facilities in Thailand, it is providing medical and food assistance to hundreds of thousands of Vietnamese, Cambodians and Laotians who have fled the oppression and continuing disorder of their homelands.

Recommendations of its Citizens Commission on Indochinese Refugees have been adopted as government policy and, through committee offices in U.S. cities, it has processed a large portion of the 260,000 refugees resettled in the United States during 1979.

Although they dominate the headlines and news columns, the Indochinese are, however, only a part of the refugee problem — and effort. Worldwide, the IRC reports, it has been a bumper year with greater effort expended during 1979 and the early months of 1980 than in any comparable period since the founding of the organization in 1933 in response to the refugee flood unleashed by the rise of the Nazis.

The IRC has responded, through facilities in Florida and Central America, to the needs of Cubans. It has aided Haitians, Chileans, Argentines and other Latins who have fled their homelands for diverse reasons.

For those who do make it, the International Rescue Committee is there to help. IRC is only one of many volunteer agencies active in its chosen field. Name the Red Cross and Oxfam, among its more notable associates, and you have only begun the roster.

But considering the continuing magnitude of the problem, the field of refugee assistance is, scarcely overcrowded. That is the distressing aspect of the encouraging effort.

THE CLOCK

By JOE DE SANTIS

While vacationing a week ago I had a pair of long opportunities to observe one of the nation's most interesting off-beat sports, challenging the 55 mph speed limit.

Despite the lack of big auto racing names like Richard Petty and A.J. Foyt, the craft drivers on 95 North used every trick in the book to push their traveling schedules ahead of estimated time of arrival.

These weren't the spruced up Formula cars or the revved up late models mind you. Instead, the field included Rabbits, Toyota's station wagons and an occasional jeep or motorcycle.

The most noticeable speed-cheating gimmick user remains the trucks.

To any veteran of motor vacations, the nation's truckers provide the perfect opportunity to pick up a few minutes here or there and save a little gas by lagging along behind, similar to "drafting" on the big trucks.

One ingenious speed cheater cleverly

disguised his dash board-mounted Fuzz Buster as a box of tissue.

Although police stakeouts were few and far between, the cops in Georgia, the Carolinas and Virginia used the same game plan. They all hid within five miles of each state line, usually behind some large trees in the median or just over the hill behind highway support beams.

One can't blame the state troopers for sticking close to the state lines. After all it gets hot on the highways and those guys need a chance to slip away from the field every now and then for a cool one.

Truck stops provided and interesting slice of Americana.

John Travolta's Urban Cowboy craze is certainly sweeping the country.

Not too long ago the secret to successful gastronomic travel was eating where the truckers eat. Indeed, the food is palatable, but puts a wrinkle in the old estimated time of arrival.

BUSINESS WORLD

Old Tires' Energy Source

NEW YORK (UPI) — A new supplier of power may be found in a pile of old tires. A company has developed a process for converting old tires into a fuel source that can be used to generate electricity.

The process, developed by a team of scientists at the University of California, San Diego, involves breaking down the carbon-based molecules in old tires into a gas that can be burned in a power plant.

The gas, which is called "tire-derived gas," is a clean-burning fuel that can be used to generate electricity in a power plant. The process is expected to be commercialized within the next few years.

The process, developed by a team of scientists at the University of California, San Diego, involves breaking down the carbon-based molecules in old tires into a gas that can be burned in a power plant.

The gas, which is called "tire-derived gas," is a clean-burning fuel that can be used to generate electricity in a power plant. The process is expected to be commercialized within the next few years.

The process, developed by a team of scientists at the University of California, San Diego, involves breaking down the carbon-based molecules in old tires into a gas that can be burned in a power plant.

The gas, which is called "tire-derived gas," is a clean-burning fuel that can be used to generate electricity in a power plant. The process is expected to be commercialized within the next few years.

The process, developed by a team of scientists at the University of California, San Diego, involves breaking down the carbon-based molecules in old tires into a gas that can be burned in a power plant.

The gas, which is called "tire-derived gas," is a clean-burning fuel that can be used to generate electricity in a power plant. The process is expected to be commercialized within the next few years.

The process, developed by a team of scientists at the University of California, San Diego, involves breaking down the carbon-based molecules in old tires into a gas that can be burned in a power plant.

The gas, which is called "tire-derived gas," is a clean-burning fuel that can be used to generate electricity in a power plant. The process is expected to be commercialized within the next few years.

The process, developed by a team of scientists at the University of California, San Diego, involves breaking down the carbon-based molecules in old tires into a gas that can be burned in a power plant.

The gas, which is called "tire-derived gas," is a clean-burning fuel that can be used to generate electricity in a power plant. The process is expected to be commercialized within the next few years.

The process, developed by a team of scientists at the University of California, San Diego, involves breaking down the carbon-based molecules in old tires into a gas that can be burned in a power plant.

The gas, which is called "tire-derived gas," is a clean-burning fuel that can be used to generate electricity in a power plant. The process is expected to be commercialized within the next few years.

The process, developed by a team of scientists at the University of California, San Diego, involves breaking down the carbon-based molecules in old tires into a gas that can be burned in a power plant.

The gas, which is called "tire-derived gas," is a clean-burning fuel that can be used to generate electricity in a power plant. The process is expected to be commercialized within the next few years.

The process, developed by a team of scientists at the University of California, San Diego, involves breaking down the carbon-based molecules in old tires into a gas that can be burned in a power plant.

From The Sidelines

By JOE DE SANTIS

While vacationing a week ago I had a pair of long opportunities to observe one of the nation's most interesting off-beat sports, challenging the 55 mph speed limit.

Despite the lack of big auto racing names like Richard Petty and A.J. Foyt, the craft drivers on 95 North used every trick in the book to push their traveling schedules ahead of estimated time of arrival.

These weren't the spruced up Formula cars or the revved up late models mind you. Instead, the field included Rabbits, Toyota's station wagons and an occasional jeep or motorcycle.

The most noticeable speed-cheating gimmick user remains the trucks.

To any veteran of motor vacations, the nation's truckers provide the perfect opportunity to pick up a few minutes here or there and save a little gas by lagging along behind, similar to "drafting" on the big trucks.

One ingenious speed cheater cleverly

disguised his dash board-mounted Fuzz Buster as a box of tissue.

Although police stakeouts were few and far between, the cops in Georgia, the Carolinas and Virginia used the same game plan. They all hid within five miles of each state line, usually behind some large trees in the median or just over the hill behind highway support beams.

One can't blame the state troopers for sticking close to the state lines. After all it gets hot on the highways and those guys need a chance to slip away from the field every now and then for a cool one.

Truck stops provided and interesting slice of Americana.

John Travolta's Urban Cowboy craze is certainly sweeping the country.

Not too long ago the secret to successful gastronomic travel was eating where the truckers eat. Indeed, the food is palatable, but puts a wrinkle in the old estimated time of arrival.

Managued to get in, chow down and fill up in half-an-hour at one stop in South Carolina. Too bad I took the waitress almost as long to add up the check. I guess scrambled eggs, ham and coffee can be a little confusing at times.

Without a doubt the biggest surprise on the highways was once again seeing fellow drivers use their turn indicators. Makes things nice and a little safer to know where everyone is heading.

From the highways to the fairways... one of the main items on the vacation agenda is at least one daily round of golf, and sometimes two. Blessed with less torrid heat and humidity, putting greens in Virginia and are much smoother and predictable. But alas, after some 14 rounds of golf in eight days, the old swing isn't much better. That's why it feels good to be back at the typewriter, surrounded by the cliché-clack of the wire machines, ringing telephones, and daily deadlines.

WIMBLEDON, England (UPI) — History will have to wait another day for Bjorn Borg, victim of the rain which washed out the second half of Monday's program in the waterlogged Wimbledon Tennis Championships.

The 24-year-old Swede, champion for the last four years, was needed to beat Hungarian Balazs Taroczy to set an all-time Wimbledon record of 32 straight victories. But the rains fell before the world's No. 1 player could make his center court date with destiny. The match was rescheduled for today.

Before the rain came, a breezy 15-year-old pigtailed American, Andrea Jaeger, carved her own niche in the Wimbledon record books by ousting the No. 7 seed, 1977 champion Virginia Wade, for a place in the women's quarter-finals.

Legion Moundmen Marvelous

T'aint no secret that good pitching will do wonders for your win-loss column. And Bob McCallough's Post 53 American Legion moundmen have been doing it out in repetitive style over the last week, limiting opposing batters to a mere four hits in three games to boost the Seminole County squad to 6-4 of the season.

One of McCallough's regular season standouts, Valencir bound Jeff Kerr fashioned his second no-hitter, the first coming during regular season Five Star Conference play, against the Boone-Orlando Legionnaires Saturday.

In going the distance Kerr fanned five while issuing four walks. The Lyman hurler aided his own cause by balling out a pair of fans by enticing the opposition into ground balls with men on base.

Another Seminole County standout, Rick Marcello, set the stage for Kerr just three days earlier by curving a two-hit shutout against Apple in a 6-0 win that lifted the local squads record to an even 4-4 on the season after a sluggish start.

If Marcello and Kerr's performances weren't enough to bring a smile to McCallough's Irish eyes, a pair of Bobby Landquist proteges, Mike Link and George Forsg, came right back to the mound this past Sunday to team up for the second two-hitter in a week as Seminole again blanked Apple's Legionnaires.

The Seminole County crew hopes to keep the ball rolling Wednesday night when they take part in the Firecracker Invitational at Deland.

Post 53 is scheduled for an 8 p.m. outing against Jacksonville 223 at Deland's Spec Martin complex, an outing that skipper McCallough is definitely looking forward to in view of his recent pitching efforts.

"They've been coming around a lot better lately," complimented McCallough. The key has been that our pitchers are getting the ball down in the strike zone a lot more often."

McCallough will send his hottest mound ace out for duty against Jacksonville Wednesday night when Jeff Kerr gets the starting call.

Paola Survives Sub-District Loser's Bracket

The Sanford American League all-stars moved into the driver's seat in the sub-district tournament Monday night with a 1-0 win over the Sanford National League all-stars.

In a high-scoring loser's bracket contest, Paola topped Tavares 10-13.

The Sanford Nationals will play Paola at 7:30 p.m. Monday night at Fort Mellon Park.

The winner of tonight's game will play the Sanford Americans at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday.

Scott Carter and Horace Knight were the stars of the game for the Sanford Americans. Carter drove in two runs in the second and third innings, including a seventh inning blast after the Sanford Nationals rallied to send the game into extra innings.

Knight was the winning pitcher, fanning nine and allowing just five hits in the route job.

Carter's first home run came in the top of the third, and at the time put the Sanford Americans in front 5-1. But the Nationals chipped away with single tallies in the third and fourth frames and then knocked the score with two runs in the bottom of the sixth.

The sixth inning rally for the Nationals started with two outs when pitcher-hitter Terrance Carr was safe on an infield error. Carr scored on a single by Hall, who advanced to third on errors. Hall was removed for pinch-runner Bryan Debose, who scored the tying run on a wild pitch.

Hall had pitched the first six innings for the Nationals. Because he was removed from the game for a pinch-runner, Craig Dixon was brought in to pitch the final inning.

Edgie Korgan was safe on an error to open the top of the seventh and Mike Edwards drove a one-out walk. Korgan was forced at third when Reginald Hayes hit into a fielder's choice: RBI singles by Brian Sheffield and Brian Ashcraft set the stage for Carter's second three-run homer of the game.

Tavares came out of the dugout and drove a double and increased the margin by

It's All-Star Time

Carew Tops American Voting

NEW YORK (UPI) — The decade may have changed but 11-time All-Star Rod Carew remains a fixture on the American League team.

Carew, who currently is battling for an eighth All-Star batting title, led the 1980 All-Star team announced Monday by Commissioner Bowie Kuhn.

The 34-year-old batting wizard, who is the all-time vote getter with 38,270, will start for the 11th straight time at first base when the All-Stars meet the National League All-Stars in Los Angeles July 8.

Carew, batting .346 to lead the league, pulled in 3,674,247 votes to outdistance Milwaukee's Cecil Cooper by almost 2 million.

"It still means very much to me to be chosen, especially by the fans," Carew said before the start of the Monday's game against California. "And, it certainly means a lot when you get the most votes, and I think this is the fourth time it's been that way for me."

Joining Carew, who started from 1970-1973 at second base before being converted to first, are

National League Roundup

Hubbard's Heroics Hoist Braves 5-4

Glenn Hubbard doesn't hit many home runs, but he connected for a dramatic one Monday night. The 5-foot-9 second baseman unloaded off Joe Sambito, the ace reliever of the Houston Astros, for a two-run homer with one out in the 11th inning to give the Atlanta Braves a 5-4 victory over the Houston Astros.

Hubbard, who hit three homers last year and has three this year, made every forget about the heroics of Jose Cruz, who hit a homer in the ninth to tie the game and homered in the 11th to put Houston ahead, 4-3. "I was looking up the middle and he put the slider I think a little in," said Hubbard, who added he wasn't trying for a home run.

Bob Warner and Terry Pugh each pitched his seventh home run for the Braves and Astros, respectively, earlier in the game, and Cruz said the reason for all the long balls was Atlanta-Palton County Stadium.

"In this ball park," Cruz said, "a little mistake you make, it's over."

In other games, Pittsburgh edged St. Louis, 5-4. Philadelphia topped Montreal, 7-5. San Francisco downed Cincinnati, 8-4, and Los Angeles defeated San Diego, 4-3. In the American League, it was Baltimore 9, Toronto 7; Detroit 5, Cleveland 4; New York Yankees 6, Boston 3; Milwaukee 5, Oakland 2; California 10, the Chicago White Sox 6; Minnesota 12, Kansas City 3; and Texas 11, Seattle 5. Pirates 4, Cardinals 4.

Tim Lincecum pitched a single to center field with two out in the bottom of the ninth inning to give Matt Alexander from third and give Pittsburgh the victory.

Keith Moreland hit the first grand slam of his career and Pete Rose belted a two-run homer as Philadelphia struck for all seven runs in the fourth inning.

Giants 4, Reds 4. Milt May cracked a three-run homer and Jack Clark added a two-run shot to help give rookie Bill Bordley, making his first major-league appearance, a victory.

Padres 4, Dodgers 3. Aurelio Rodriguez, inserted in the lineup for defensive purposes, singled home Dave Winfield with the tie-breaking run in the seventh inning.

Philadelphia 6, Houston 3. Norman (7), Sosa (9) and Carver (10) were the winning pitchers for the Phillies and Astros, respectively. Houston's Steve Carlton (10) was the losing pitcher.

Atlanta 7, Cincinnati 4. Rose (10) was the winning pitcher for the Braves. Cincinnati's Steve Carlton (10) was the losing pitcher.

San Diego 4, Los Angeles 3. Rose (10) was the winning pitcher for the Padres. Los Angeles' Steve Carlton (10) was the losing pitcher.

San Francisco 8, Cincinnati 4. Rose (10) was the winning pitcher for the Giants. Cincinnati's Steve Carlton (10) was the losing pitcher.

St. Louis 5, Pittsburgh 4. Rose (10) was the winning pitcher for the Cardinals. Pittsburgh's Steve Carlton (10) was the losing pitcher.

Los Angeles 4, San Diego 3. Rose (10) was the winning pitcher for the Angels. San Diego's Steve Carlton (10) was the losing pitcher.

San Francisco 7, Philadelphia 5. Rose (10) was the winning pitcher for the Giants. Philadelphia's Steve Carlton (10) was the losing pitcher.

Atlanta 7, Cincinnati 4. Rose (10) was the winning pitcher for the Braves. Cincinnati's Steve Carlton (10) was the losing pitcher.

San Diego 4, Los Angeles 3. Rose (10) was the winning pitcher for the Padres. Los Angeles' Steve Carlton (10) was the losing pitcher.

San Francisco 8, Cincinnati 4. Rose (10) was the winning pitcher for the Giants. Cincinnati's Steve Carlton (10) was the losing pitcher.

St. Louis 5, Pittsburgh 4. Rose (10) was the winning pitcher for the Cardinals. Pittsburgh's Steve Carlton (10) was the losing pitcher.

Los Angeles 4, San Diego 3. Rose (10) was the winning pitcher for the Angels. San Diego's Steve Carlton (10) was the losing pitcher.

San Francisco 7, Philadelphia 5. Rose (10) was the winning pitcher for the Giants. Philadelphia's Steve Carlton (10) was the losing pitcher.

Atlanta 7, Cincinnati 4. Rose (10) was the winning pitcher for the Braves. Cincinnati's Steve Carlton (10) was the losing pitcher.

San Diego 4, Los Angeles 3. Rose (10) was the winning pitcher for the Padres. Los Angeles' Steve Carlton (10) was the losing pitcher.

San Francisco 8, Cincinnati 4. Rose (10) was the winning pitcher for the Giants. Cincinnati's Steve Carlton (10) was the losing pitcher.

St. Louis 5, Pittsburgh 4. Rose (10) was the winning pitcher for the Cardinals. Pittsburgh's Steve Carlton (10) was the losing pitcher.

Los Angeles 4, San Diego 3. Rose (10) was the winning pitcher for the Angels. San Diego's Steve Carlton (10) was the losing pitcher.

San Francisco 7, Philadelphia 5. Rose (10) was the winning pitcher for the Giants. Philadelphia's Steve Carlton (10) was the losing pitcher.

Atlanta 7, Cincinnati 4. Rose (10) was the winning pitcher for the Braves. Cincinnati's Steve Carlton (10) was the losing pitcher.

San Diego 4, Los Angeles 3. Rose (10) was the winning pitcher for the Padres. Los Angeles' Steve Carlton (10) was the losing pitcher.

Montreal The Way

By Alan Moyer

DICK WILLIAMS HAS RAISED MONTREAL EACH YEAR HE'S BEEN THERE, AND THE EXPOS WILL BE ALL COST GUARANTEES IF THEY KEEP IT UP HERE BECAUSE THEY'VE BEEN SO GOOD ONLY 53 HITS SINCE 1970, AND HE COULD REACH THIS MANAGERIAL MILESTONE IN JULY, ATTAINED BY ONLY TWO CURRENT MANAGERS.

Montreal manager Dick Williams has raised the Expos' batting average each year he's been there, and the Expos will be all cost guaranteed if they keep it up here because they've been so good only 53 hits since 1970, and he could reach this managerial milestone in July, attained by only two current managers.

Williams has raised the Expos' batting average each year he's been there, and the Expos will be all cost guaranteed if they keep it up here because they've been so good only 53 hits since 1970, and he could reach this managerial milestone in July, attained by only two current managers.

Williams has raised the Expos' batting average each year he's been there, and the Expos will be all cost guaranteed if they keep it up here because they've been so good only 53 hits since 1970, and he could reach this managerial milestone in July, attained by only two current managers.

Williams has raised the Expos' batting average each year he's been there, and the Expos will be all cost guaranteed if they keep it up here because they've been so good only 53 hits since 1970, and he could reach this managerial milestone in July, attained by only two current managers.

Williams has raised the Expos' batting average each year he's been there, and the Expos will be all cost guaranteed if they keep it up here because they've been so good only 53 hits since 1970, and he could reach this managerial milestone in July, attained by only two current managers.

Williams has raised the Expos' batting average each year he's been there, and the Expos will be all cost guaranteed if they keep it up here because they've been so good only 53 hits since 1970, and he could reach this managerial milestone in July, attained by only two current managers.

Williams has raised the Expos' batting average each year he's been there, and the Expos will be all cost guaranteed if they keep it up here because they've been so good only 53 hits since 1970, and he could reach this managerial milestone in July, attained by only two current managers.

Williams has raised the Expos' batting average each year he's been there, and the Expos will be all cost guaranteed if they keep it up here because they've been so good only 53 hits since 1970, and he could reach this managerial milestone in July, attained by only two current managers.

Williams has raised the Expos' batting average each year he's been there, and the Expos will be all cost guaranteed if they keep it up here because they've been so good only 53 hits since 1970, and he could reach this managerial milestone in July, attained by only two current managers.

Williams has raised the Expos' batting average each year he's been there, and the Expos will be all cost guaranteed if they keep it up here because they've been so good only 53 hits since 1970, and he could reach this managerial milestone in July, attained by only two current managers.

Williams has raised the Expos' batting average each year he's been there, and the Expos will be all cost guaranteed if they keep it up here because they've been so good only 53 hits since 1970, and he could reach this managerial milestone in July, attained by only two current managers.

Williams has raised the Expos' batting average each year he's been there, and the Expos will be all cost guaranteed if they keep it up here because they've been so good only 53 hits since 1970, and he could reach this managerial milestone in July, attained by only two current managers.

Williams has raised the Expos' batting average each year he's been there, and the Expos will be all cost guaranteed if they keep it up here because they've been so good only 53 hits since 1970, and he could reach this managerial milestone in July, attained by only two current managers.

Williams has raised the Expos' batting average each year he's been there, and the Expos will be all cost guaranteed if they keep it up here because they've been so good only 53 hits since 1970, and he could reach this managerial milestone in July, attained by only two current managers.

Williams has raised the Expos' batting average each year he's been there, and the Expos will be all cost guaranteed if they keep it up here because they've been so good only 53 hits since 1970, and he could reach this managerial milestone in July, attained by only two current managers.

Williams has raised the Expos' batting average each year he's been there, and the Expos will be all cost guaranteed if they keep it up here because they've been so good only 53 hits since 1970, and he could reach this managerial milestone in July, attained by only two current managers.

Williams has raised the Expos' batting average each year he's been there, and the Expos will be all cost guaranteed if they keep it up here because they've been so good only 53 hits since 1970, and he could reach this managerial milestone in July, attained by only two current managers.

Williams has raised the Expos' batting average each year he's been there, and the Expos will be all cost guaranteed if they keep it up here because they've been so good only 53 hits since 1970, and he could reach this managerial milestone in July, attained by only two current managers.

Williams has raised the Expos' batting average each year he's been there, and the Expos will be all cost guaranteed if they keep it up here because they've been so good only 53 hits since 1970, and he could reach this managerial milestone in July, attained by only two current managers.

Williams has raised the Expos' batting average each year he's been there, and the Expos will be all cost guaranteed if they keep it up here because they've been so good only 53 hits since 1970, and he could reach this managerial milestone in July, attained by only two current managers.

Williams has raised the Expos' batting average each year he's been there, and the Expos will be all cost guaranteed if they keep it up here because they've been so good only 53 hits since 1970, and he could reach this managerial milestone in July, attained by only two current managers.

Williams has raised the Expos' batting average each year he's been there, and the Expos will be all cost guaranteed if they keep it up here because they've been so good only 53 hits since 1970, and he could reach this managerial milestone in July, attained by only two current managers.

Williams has raised the Expos' batting average each year he's been there, and the Expos will be all cost guaranteed if they keep it up here because they've been so good only 53 hits since 1970, and he could reach this managerial milestone in July, attained by only two current managers.

Williams has raised the Expos' batting average each year he's been there, and the Expos will be all cost guaranteed if they keep it up here because they've been so good only 53 hits since 1970, and he could reach this managerial milestone in July, attained by only two current managers.

Williams has raised the Expos' batting average each year he's been there, and the Expos will be all cost guaranteed if they keep it up here because they've been so good only 53 hits since 1970, and he could reach this managerial milestone in July, attained by only two current managers.

Williams has raised the Expos' batting average each year he's been there, and the Expos will be all cost guaranteed if they keep it up here because they've been so good only 53 hits since 1970, and he could reach this managerial milestone in July, attained by only two current managers.

Williams has raised the Expos' batting average each year he's been there, and the Expos will be all cost guaranteed if they keep it up here because they've been so good only 53 hits since 1970, and he could reach this managerial milestone in July, attained by only two current managers.

Williams has raised the Expos' batting average each year he's been there, and the Expos will be all cost guaranteed if they keep it up here because they've been so good only 53 hits since 1970, and he could reach this managerial milestone in July, attained by only two current managers.

Williams has raised the Expos' batting average each year he's been there, and the Expos will be all cost guaranteed if they keep it up here because they've been so good only 53 hits since 1970, and he could reach this managerial milestone in July, attained by only two current managers.

Williams has raised the Expos' batting average each year he's been there, and the Expos will be all cost guaranteed if they keep it up here because they've been so good only 53 hits since 1970, and he could reach this managerial milestone in July, attained by only two current managers.

American League Roundup

Stone Claims 11th Mound Victory

By United Press International

Baltimore Manager Earl Weaver is thankful for small favors—temporarily. At this point last season, the Orioles had 53 victories and were on their way to making a comeback of the American League East. But they faltered early this year and are just now attempting to move out of the lower echelon in the division and challenge for a second straight AL pennant.

"I don't worry that much about comparisons to last year," Weaver said Monday night after the Orioles hung on for a 9-7 decision over the Toronto Blue Jays. "The object is to win tomorrow night and not to worry about where we were last year."

Helped by the strong pitching of Steve Stone—who won his ninth straight game and joined New York's Tommy John as the AL's first 11-game winner—the Orioles moved into fourth place and remained eight games behind the first-place Yankees.

Stone's teammates gave him ample support at the plate, banging out 14 hits with Rich Dauer leading the charge with three hits, two RBI and three runs scored.

In other games, Milwaukee defeated Oakland, 5-2. New York beat Boston, 7-3. Detroit blanked Cleveland, 5-0. California ripped Kansas City, 12-3, and Texas walloped Seattle, 11-5.

In the National League it was: Pittsburgh 5, St. Louis 4; Atlanta 5, Montreal 4, in 11 innings; Philadelphia 7, Montreal 5; San Diego 4, Los Angeles 3; and San Francisco 8, Cincinnati 4.

Brewers 4, A's 2. Ben Ogilvie knocked in two runs with his league-leading 21st homer and a single to support the four-hit pitching of Bill Travers, for Milwaukee's eighth victory in the last 10 games.

Yankees 6, Red Sox 3. Consecutive RBI singles by Graig Nettles, Reggie Jackson and Bob Watson highlighted a four-run third inning to carry New York and help Tommy John join Stone as the only 11-game winners in the AL.

John Castino drove in five runs with a homer and two singles and Mike Cabbage and Dave Edwards added homers to power Minnesota.

Angels 10, White Sox 6. Pinch hitter Joe Rudi's two-run bloop single with one out in the ninth inning keyed a four-run rally that gave California just its sixth victory in 27 games in June.

Rangers 11, Mariners 5. Rusty Staub smacked a bases-loaded triple in a six-run third inning and Buddy Bell added his fourth homer in the last three games to pace Texas.

Mariners 5, Yankees 4. D.Jackson, Basich (8) and Oakland Henderson (3), Milwaukee (5), Eastwick (7) and Porter (7) were the winning pitchers for the Mariners and Yankees, respectively.

San Francisco 8, Cincinnati 4. Rose (10) was the winning pitcher for the Giants. Cincinnati's Steve Carlton (10) was the losing pitcher.

St. Louis 5, Pittsburgh 4. Rose (10) was the winning pitcher for the Cardinals. Pittsburgh's Steve Carlton (10) was the losing pitcher.

Los Angeles 4, San Diego 3. Rose (10) was the winning pitcher for the Angels. San Diego's Steve Carlton (10) was the losing pitcher.

San Francisco 7, Philadelphia 5. Rose (10) was the winning pitcher for the Giants. Philadelphia's Steve Carlton (10) was the losing pitcher.

Atlanta 7, Cincinnati 4. Rose (10) was the winning pitcher for the Braves. Cincinnati's Steve Carlton (10) was the losing pitcher.

San Diego 4, Los Angeles 3. Rose (10) was the winning pitcher for the Padres. Los Angeles' Steve Carlton (10) was the losing pitcher.

San Francisco 8, Cincinnati 4. Rose (10) was the winning pitcher for the Giants. Cincinnati's Steve Carlton (10) was the losing pitcher.

Vernon Fedderson (left) incoming president of the Rotary Club of Lake Mary accepts gavel from Paul Porter, outgoing president, at installation ceremony Friday night at the Mayfair Country Club by John Mercer (center). Other officers include Everett Mitchell, vice president; Bruce Berger, secretary; Gordon Pearce, treasurer and Douglas McBrayer, sergeant-at-arms.

Local Students Receive Degrees

Graduates from this area, who were among the 1,400 students receiving degrees at Emory University's 141st commencement June 9 in Atlanta were John P. Darby Jr. and Martha Hardwick, both of Sanford.

Darby, son of Dr. and Mrs. J.P. Darby, E. 24th St., received his Doctor of Dental Surgery degree.

Miss Hardwick, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Charles Hardwick, Crystal View South, received her Bachelor of Arts and Master of Arts degrees. She is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, Omicron Delta Kappa, Alpha Psi Omega, Alpha Epsilon Upsilon, Sigma Tau Delta, and is a National Merit Scholar. She was on the Dean's List, and was active in Emory Theatre, Student Government University Center Board and the newspaper staff.

Advertisement for Melodee Skating Rink. Special Session July 4th, 8 pm 'til 1 am. Your skates $2.00, our skates $2.50. No Maline July 5th. Sat. July 5, 1 P.M. 'til 4 P.M. - 7:30 P.M. 'til 11 P.M. 2700 W. 25th St. (SR 44-A) Sanford.

Advertisement for Famous Recipe's Chicken Day. Wednesday is Chicken Day. Famous Recipe's. 3 pieces honey-dipped fried chicken, mashed potatoes and gravy, cole slaw and 2 hot buttered toast. $1.79. Good All Day Wednesday.

Advertisement for Highway Automotive, Inc. Auto Wash & Wax $19.95. Includes all interior and exterior, bumpers, white walls, windows, wheel covers. 323-3550. Reasonable prices on engine cleaning and painting. 2613 Orlando Dr. - Sanford (17-92)

Advertisement for Famous Recipe's. Free Hors d'Oeuvres in Lounge 4 P.M. til 7 P.M. Featuring The Best Happy Hour Hors d'Oeuvres in Town. Holiday Inn. Sanford. Lake Monroe.

OURSELVES

Evening Herald, Sanford, FL Tuesday, July 1, 1980-1B

Funeral Film Footage

DEAR ABBY: We recently had a tragic automobile accident in our town in which a high school girl was killed instantly. Three friends in the same car were seriously injured. One died this morning.

A week ago, when the funeral of this girl who was instantly killed took place, I took it upon myself to take movies of the funeral. It was my intent to write to the girl's parents (I do not know them) and offer them the film footage as a gesture of interest in their loss so that those of their family who were unable to attend could review the happenings that took place at the funeral. Also, in later years the parents might appreciate having the movies as a remembrance.

Do you think my offer of this film would be regarded as a token of condolence?

DEAR ABBY: I have worked for a store for five years and I like my job. There is another lady who has worked there about the same length of time, and we have become pretty good friends. Yesterday I saw her slip a $15 item into her pocket. She doesn't know I saw her do this. I am very troubled and don't know what to do.

Should I talk to her about it? Should I tell the boss? What would you do?

DEAR ABBY: I would tell the woman that I saw her pocket the item, return it to her, and encourage her to either return it to the store or pay for it. If she has not already paid for it, that is, DEAR ABBY: Has anyone ever written to you in defense of mothers of young children? A bride complaining that a baby's crying "ruined" her wedding. I agree, the mother should have taken the baby out, but at 4 months old, some babies cannot be left with anyone else. My breast-fed son nursed every other hour, and he would have driven a sitter crazy. He's 2 now, and I refuse to leave him unless the place (and person) is familiar to him.

Anyhow, I'm tired of childless people telling me how to raise my child. They're entitled to a child-free life if they so choose, but if that means I can't attend their weddings, etc., they'll have to accept my regrets. (One friend said, "Oh, can't you leave him for a few hours with my Aunt Agnes?" whom I had never met.)

DEAR ABBY: I would tell the woman that I saw her pocket the item, return it to her, and encourage her to either return it to the store or pay for it. If she has not already paid for it, that is, DEAR ABBY: Has anyone ever written to you in defense of mothers of young children? A bride complaining that a baby's crying "ruined" her wedding. I agree, the mother should have taken the baby out, but at 4 months old, some babies cannot be left with anyone else. My breast-fed son nursed every other hour, and he would have driven a sitter crazy. He's 2 now, and I refuse to leave him unless the place (and person) is familiar to him.

Anyhow, I'm tired of childless people telling me how to raise my child. They're entitled to a child-free life if they so choose, but if that means I can't attend their weddings, etc., they'll have to accept my regrets. (One friend said, "Oh, can't you leave him for a few hours with my Aunt Agnes?" whom I had never met.)

DEAR ABBY: I would tell the woman that I saw her pocket the item, return it to her, and encourage her to either return it to the store or pay for it. If she has not already paid for it, that is, DEAR ABBY: Has anyone ever written to you in defense of mothers of young children? A bride complaining that a baby's crying "ruined" her wedding. I agree, the mother should have taken the baby out, but at 4 months old, some babies cannot be left with anyone else. My breast-fed son nursed every other hour, and he would have driven a sitter crazy. He's 2 now, and I refuse to leave him unless the place (and person) is familiar to him.

Anyhow, I'm tired of childless people telling me how to raise my child. They're entitled to a child-free life if they so choose, but if that means I can't attend their weddings, etc., they'll have to accept my regrets. (One friend said, "Oh, can't you leave him for a few hours with my Aunt Agnes?" whom I had never met.)

DEAR ABBY: I would tell the woman that I saw her pocket the item, return it to her, and encourage her to either return it to the store or pay for it. If she has not already paid for it, that is, DEAR ABBY: Has anyone ever written to you in defense of mothers of young children? A bride complaining that a baby's crying "ruined" her

SCOREBOARD

Scoreboard table listing baseball games, scores, and pitchers for various teams including Chicago, St. Louis, Philadelphia, and others.

Advertisement for Shoe Sale. Semi-Annual Sale Starts Promptly at 8:00 A.M. Wednesday July 2nd. This is Your Opportunity to Buy Name Brand Shoes At A Fraction Of Their Original Cost!

Advertisement for Knight's Shoe Store. Men's Shoes, Children's Shoes, Women's Shoes, Dress & Casual Shoes, Men's Boots, Special! Table of Men's Dress & Casual Shoes, Ladies' Handbags. Many Shoes Are On Racks For Convenient And Fast Selection!

Advertisement for Knight's Shoe Store. 208 E. First St. Downtown Sanford. 322-0204. Famous Recipe's Fried Chicken. "It's Honey Dipped!"

Advertisement for Wednesday Barbecue Special. All you can eat. $4.50. Includes Barbecue Chicken, Barbecued Ribs, Potato Salad, Zesty Cole Slaw, Baked Beans & Ranch Dressing.

Advertisement for Arthur Treacher's Seafood. Money Saving Coupons. Two Fish Sandwiches for $1.49. Soup & Fish Sandwich for $1.49.

Advertisement for Arthur Treacher's Seafood. Money Saving Coupons. Two Fish Sandwiches for $1.49. Soup & Fish Sandwich for $1.49.

BLONDIE

48—Evening Herald, Sanford, FL Tuesday, July 1, 1980 by Chic Young

DASHWOOD I NEVER SEE YOUR FACE AT BREAKFAST ANYMORE!
YOU'RE RIGHT, HONEY—IT'S RUDE OF ME TO BUY MY NOSE IN THE PAPER LIKE THAT

BEEBLE BAILEY

by Mori Walker

WANT TO SEE PICTURES OF MY SPRING VACATION, SIR?
BEFORE I LOOK, WHERE DID YOU SWIMMING?
SKIING
SKIING PICTURES MY HEART CAN TAKE

THE BORN LOSER

by Art Sanson

I HAVEN'T SEEN YOU SINCE MY KIDS WENT AWAY TO COLLEGE.
HEY, THAT'S GREAT! WHICH ONE?
WILLIAM AND MARY.
NO, I MEAN, WHICH COLLEGE ARE THEY IN?

ARCHIE

by Bob Montana

REALLY, DADDY, YOU SHOULDN'T SMOKE? IT'S NOT GOOD FOR YOU!
NONSENSE, VERONICA! I FEEL FINE!
I HEARD OF A MAN WHO SMOKE LIKE A CHIMNEY ALL HIS LIFE AND HE LIVED TO BE 85?
THERE YOU SEE?
AND HE HAD A TWIN BROTHER WHO NEVER SMOKE!
HE LIVED TO BE 105?

EK & MEEK

by Howie Schneider

BOY, I'M REALLY BEGINNING TO WORRY ABOUT THE FUTURE NOW.
REALLY? HOW COME?
THEY JUST RECALLED ABOUT 3 MILLION FORNIE COOKIES

PRISCILLA'S POP

by Ed Sullivan

WELCOME, LADIES AND GENTLEMEN, TO THE NATIONAL SOCIALSLEEPING CHAMPIONSHIPS.
TODAY WE'LL BE WATCHING DEFENDING CHAMPION WALDO NUTCHFIELD WHOSE BRILLIANT DISREGARD-FOR YARD WORK, PAINTING, AND FIX-UP CHORES, HAS MADE HIM AN ALL-TIME FAVORITE WITH NAPPERS EVERYWHERE.NOBODY EVER TELLS YOU ABOUT THINGS LIKE THAT BEFORE YOU'RE MARRIED?

BUGS BUNNY

by Stoffel & Heimahl

HA, DOC, TORO!
BONG
THAT RABBIT IS THE TRICKIEST MATADOR IN ALL MEXICO!

FRANK AND ERNEST

by Bob Thaves

PERSONNEL
WE'VE GOT HYPOCHONDRIACS, DOPE FRENDS, COMPULSIVE GAMBLERS, AND SOCIAL DEVIATES—AND NOT ONE SINGLE WORKAHOLIC!

TUMBLEWEEDS

by T. K. Ryan

WHY THE FRANTIC SWEEPING AND CLEANING, LOTSA LUCK?
HE'S EXPECTING A VERY IMPORTANT GUEST.

ACROSS

42 Catholic cleric's cap
44 By birth
48 Rose firing type
49 Government agent (comp.)
51 Smooth
53 Star (pref.)
55 Bravado
58 Away from
59 Inland route
60 Margarine
55 Destroy (sl.)
61 Doctrine
14 Part of a yard
17 Hawaiian
18 Instruments
62 Cut off (sl.)
19 Select
20 Best
22 Power (abbr.)
24 Be snuffed
25 Give in to 28 Religious
30 poem
33 Joyce
34 Exhaust
35 Southern general
37 Galic
38 At a distance
39 Cans
40 Biological classification
41 Malow
41 New
42 Greatly
47 Opera by
26 Help in solving a mystery
27 Biblical
28 Dull
29 Army acronym
30 Disembarked
31 Fasting period
32 Similar in kind
33 Angers
38 On the bony
39 River in England
43 Cause
45 Five languages
47 Opera by Verdi
48 Whistle
49 Song
50 Christmas
52 Work
53 Stratagem
54 Director
55 Premier
57 Sawtooth

DOWN

12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 25 26 27 28 29 30 31 32 33 34 35 36 37 38 39 40 41 42 43 44 45 46 47 48 49 50 51 52 53 54 55 56 57 58 59 60 61 62

HOROSCOPE

By BERNICE BEDE OSOL

For Wednesday, July 2, 1980

YOUR BIRTHDAY
July 2, 1980
Take advantage of all opportunities this coming year to add to your storehouse of knowledge. Areas in which you can increase your expertise will later reflect on your earning capabilities.

CANCER (June 21-July 23)
— Avoid making snap decisions. Your initial assumptions may be erroneous. After taking a hard second look you'll see things for what they really are. Find out more of what lies ahead for you in the year following your birthday by sending for your copy of Astro-Graph. Mail $1 for each to Astro-Graph, N.Y. 10018. Be sure to specify birth date.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)
— This is one of those days you may be more capable of managing things for others than for yourself. Make your services available to those who love you.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)
— In partnership situations today, your associate's judgment could be keener than yours. Let him or her call the shots if you're in doubt.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23)
— This should eventually turn out to be a very rewarding day, even though you're likely to be a slow starter. Don't drag your feet too long.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22)
— Select companions today who set good examples of inspire your imagination. Try to avoid types who are non-thinkers and who rarely have fresh ideas.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19)
— If you're pursuing something major today, first establish in your mind its exact worth to you and the maximum amount you're prepared to pay. Don't exceed your top line.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20)
— An opinionated associate may try to force views on you today where your self-interests are concerned. Head your own counsel. You know what's best.

ARIES (March 21-April 19)
— View intentions being made today, but you may try to help others in areas where they'd rather you wouldn't but in. Hold your good deeds in abeyance.

TAURUS (April 20-May 10)
— Enjoy yourself today and partake of all good things, but be careful not to overindulge. Tomorrow you might be sorry.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20)
— Early in the day you could overlook opportunity, but your awareness gets keener as the clock ticks on. Profitable gains are likely.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By Oswald Jacoby and Alvin Steingart

NORTH 1-10
♠ A 5
♥ K J 10 9 8
♦ A J 10 9 8
♣ A 10 9 8

EAST K 4
Q 10 9 8 7
A 10 9 8
Q 10 9 8 7

WEST Q 10 9 8
K 4
A 10 9 8
Q 10 9 8

SOUTH ♠ A 10 9 8
♥ K 4
♦ A 10 9 8
♣ A 10 9 8

Vulnerable North-South Dealer: North

West North East South
Pass 10 Pass 10
Pass 9 Pass Pass

Opening lead: ♠ A

South dealt a good hand with nice trumps, but part of his strength was in clubs and with the actual lie of the East-West cards any lead by a club would have cost South's eyes.

However, West did lead his ace of clubs and South was in business.

There are many hands South could have for this auction where stalling would have no play.

The opening lead was ruffed in dummy. Declarer then cashed the king and queen of hearts and discarded the 4-1 trump break. One line of play available was to draw the remaining trumps cash the king of clubs and take a diamond finesse. If it won and the suit divided 3-2, he would win all 13 tricks. On the diagrammed hand however, he would go down four tricks.

South devised a much better line of play. At trick four he led a low diamond from dummy, conceding the trick to the defense. No all declarer needed was the 3-2 division in diamonds that the other line of play required. However, declarer had eliminated the necessity for a diamond finesse and had doubled his chance of making the slam.

The cost of remodeling, new construction at existing schools and construction of five new elementary is estimated at $28 million.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By Oswald Jacoby and Alvin Steingart

NORTH 1-10
♠ A 5
♥ K J 10 9 8
♦ A J 10 9 8
♣ A 10 9 8

EAST K 4
Q 10 9 8 7
A 10 9 8
Q 10 9 8 7

WEST Q 10 9 8
K 4
A 10 9 8
Q 10 9 8

SOUTH ♠ A 10 9 8
♥ K 4
♦ A 10 9 8
♣ A 10 9 8

Vulnerable North-South Dealer: North

West North East South
Pass 10 Pass 10
Pass 9 Pass Pass

Opening lead: ♠ A

South dealt a good hand with nice trumps, but part of his strength was in clubs and with the actual lie of the East-West cards any lead by a club would have cost South's eyes.

However, West did lead his ace of clubs and South was in business.

There are many hands South could have for this auction where stalling would have no play.

The opening lead was ruffed in dummy. Declarer then cashed the king and queen of hearts and discarded the 4-1 trump break. One line of play available was to draw the remaining trumps cash the king of clubs and take a diamond finesse. If it won and the suit divided 3-2, he would win all 13 tricks. On the diagrammed hand however, he would go down four tricks.

South devised a much better line of play. At trick four he led a low diamond from dummy, conceding the trick to the defense. No all declarer needed was the 3-2 division in diamonds that the other line of play required. However, declarer had eliminated the necessity for a diamond finesse and had doubled his chance of making the slam.

The cost of remodeling, new construction at existing schools and construction of five new elementary is estimated at $28 million.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By Oswald Jacoby and Alvin Steingart

NORTH 1-10
♠ A 5
♥ K J 10 9 8
♦ A J 10 9 8
♣ A 10 9 8

EAST K 4
Q 10 9 8 7
A 10 9 8
Q 10 9 8 7

WEST Q 10 9 8
K 4
A 10 9 8
Q 10 9 8

SOUTH ♠ A 10 9 8
♥ K 4
♦ A 10 9 8
♣ A 10 9 8

Vulnerable North-South Dealer: North

West North East South
Pass 10 Pass 10
Pass 9 Pass Pass

Opening lead: ♠ A

South dealt a good hand with nice trumps, but part of his strength was in clubs and with the actual lie of the East-West cards any lead by a club would have cost South's eyes.

However, West did lead his ace of clubs and South was in business.

There are many hands South could have for this auction where stalling would have no play.

The opening lead was ruffed in dummy. Declarer then cashed the king and queen of hearts and discarded the 4-1 trump break. One line of play available was to draw the remaining trumps cash the king of clubs and take a diamond finesse. If it won and the suit divided 3-2, he would win all 13 tricks. On the diagrammed hand however, he would go down four tricks.

South devised a much better line of play. At trick four he led a low diamond from dummy, conceding the trick to the defense. No all declarer needed was the 3-2 division in diamonds that the other line of play required. However, declarer had eliminated the necessity for a diamond finesse and had doubled his chance of making the slam.

The cost of remodeling, new construction at existing schools and construction of five new elementary is estimated at $28 million.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By Oswald Jacoby and Alvin Steingart

NORTH 1-10
♠ A 5
♥ K J 10 9 8
♦ A J 10 9 8
♣ A 10 9 8

EAST K 4
Q 10 9 8 7
A 10 9 8
Q 10 9 8 7

WEST Q 10 9 8
K 4
A 10 9 8
Q 10 9 8

SOUTH ♠ A 10 9 8
♥ K 4
♦ A 10 9 8
♣ A 10 9 8

Vulnerable North-South Dealer: North

West North East South
Pass 10 Pass 10
Pass 9 Pass Pass

Opening lead: ♠ A

South dealt a good hand with nice trumps, but part of his strength was in clubs and with the actual lie of the East-West cards any lead by a club would have cost South's eyes.

However, West did lead his ace of clubs and South was in business.

There are many hands South could have for this auction where stalling would have no play.

The opening lead was ruffed in dummy. Declarer then cashed the king and queen of hearts and discarded the 4-1 trump break. One line of play available was to draw the remaining trumps cash the king of clubs and take a diamond finesse. If it won and the suit divided 3-2, he would win all 13 tricks. On the diagrammed hand however, he would go down four tricks.

South devised a much better line of play. At trick four he led a low diamond from dummy, conceding the trick to the defense. No all declarer needed was the 3-2 division in diamonds that the other line of play required. However, declarer had eliminated the necessity for a diamond finesse and had doubled his chance of making the slam.

The cost of remodeling, new construction at existing schools and construction of five new elementary is estimated at $28 million.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By Oswald Jacoby and Alvin Steingart

NORTH 1-10
♠ A 5
♥ K J 10 9 8
♦ A J 10 9 8
♣ A 10 9 8

EAST K 4
Q 10 9 8 7
A 10 9 8
Q 10 9 8 7

WEST Q 10 9 8
K 4
A 10 9 8
Q 10 9 8

SOUTH ♠ A 10 9 8
♥ K 4
♦ A 10 9 8
♣ A 10 9 8

Vulnerable North-South Dealer: North

West North East South
Pass 10 Pass 10
Pass 9 Pass Pass

Opening lead: ♠ A

South dealt a good hand with nice trumps, but part of his strength was in clubs and with the actual lie of the East-West cards any lead by a club would have cost South's eyes.

However, West did lead his ace of clubs and South was in business.

There are many hands South could have for this auction where stalling would have no play.

The opening lead was ruffed in dummy. Declarer then cashed the king and queen of hearts and discarded the 4-1 trump break. One line of play available was to draw the remaining trumps cash the king of clubs and take a diamond finesse. If it won and the suit divided 3-2, he would win all 13 tricks. On the diagrammed hand however, he would go down four tricks.

South devised a much better line of play. At trick four he led a low diamond from dummy, conceding the trick to the defense. No all declarer needed was the 3-2 division in diamonds that the other line of play required. However, declarer had eliminated the necessity for a diamond finesse and had doubled his chance of making the slam.

The cost of remodeling, new construction at existing schools and construction of five new elementary is estimated at $28 million.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By Oswald Jacoby and Alvin Steingart

NORTH 1-10
♠ A 5
♥ K J 10 9 8
♦ A J 10 9 8
♣ A 10 9 8

EAST K 4
Q 10 9 8 7
A 10 9 8
Q 10 9 8 7

WEST Q 10 9 8
K 4
A 10 9 8
Q 10 9 8

SOUTH ♠ A 10 9 8
♥ K 4
♦ A 10 9 8
♣ A 10 9 8

Vulnerable North-South Dealer: North

West North East South
Pass 10 Pass 10
Pass 9 Pass Pass

Opening lead: ♠ A

South dealt a good hand with nice trumps, but part of his strength was in clubs and with the actual lie of the East-West cards any lead by a club would have cost South's eyes.

However, West did lead his ace of clubs and South was in business.

There are many hands South could have for this auction where stalling would have no play.

The opening lead was ruffed in dummy. Declarer then cashed the king and queen of hearts and discarded the 4-1 trump break. One line of play available was to draw the remaining trumps cash the king of clubs and take a diamond finesse. If it won and the suit divided 3-2, he would win all 13 tricks. On the diagrammed hand however, he would go down four tricks.

South devised a much better line of play. At trick four he led a low diamond from dummy, conceding the trick to the defense. No all declarer needed was the 3-2 division in diamonds that the other line of play required. However, declarer had eliminated the necessity for a diamond finesse and had doubled his chance of making the slam.

The cost of remodeling, new construction at existing schools and construction of five new elementary is estimated at $28 million.

She Should Stop 8-Cup-A-Day Habit

DEAR DR. LAMB—About 4 years ago my gynecologist discovered a lump in my breast and sent me to a surgeon. It was benign and subsequently I've been told I have fibrocystic disease. Since then I've noticed a great many lumps and I've been told that that's characteristic of the disease. Lately I've heard a lot about coffee, colas and chocolate increasing these cysts. My doctor said the condition was related to hormones. But I do drink eight cups of coffee a day and I'm 32 years old and have been a heavy coffee drinker for 14 years. What do you think?

Dr. Lamb

In the rest of your letter you mentioned a sensitive spot. Any woman who has a soreness of the skin or any other disorder of her breast that she doesn't understand should seek medical attention at once.

DEAR READER—There are many causes for lumps in the breast. There have been some encouraging reports recently that complete elimination of caffeine as found in coffee, tea, colas and chocolate results in a marked reduction of the lumps and in some instances total disappearance.

Since you drink eight cups of coffee a day I certainly think it's worth a trial. Remember, you have to eliminate all of these items to eliminate all caffeine that you might be consuming. That includes chocolate in candy and baked items. Stick with it for six months to a year and see what happens. It certainly beats going in periodically to have the suspicious lump removed to find out that it was a cyst.

Women who have lumpy breasts from fibrocystic disease should have more frequent examinations. Why? Because it's more difficult to detect when a new lump develops and whether it might represent breast cancer or not.

Breast cancer is still the leading cause of cancer deaths in women. During 1979, more than 28,000 women in the United States died of breast cancer, and more than 100,000 women were diagnosed with the disease.

Although opinions differ if you have breast disease, mammography is often a big help to the physician in finding any new suspicious spots or lumps. When the procedure is used carefully in selected cases, particularly in women more likely to develop breast cancer, it can improve a woman's outlook.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By Oswald Jacoby and Alvin Steingart

NORTH 1-10
♠ A 5
♥ K J 10 9 8
♦ A J 10 9 8
♣ A 10 9 8

EAST K 4
Q 10 9 8 7
A 10 9 8
Q 10 9 8 7

WEST Q 10 9 8
K 4
A 10 9 8
Q 10 9 8

SOUTH ♠ A 10 9 8
♥ K 4
♦ A 10 9 8
♣ A 10 9 8

Vulnerable North-South Dealer: North

West North East South
Pass 10 Pass 10
Pass 9 Pass Pass

Opening lead: ♠ A

South dealt a good hand with nice trumps, but part of his strength was in clubs and with the actual lie of the East-West cards any lead by a club would have cost South's eyes.

However, West did lead his ace of clubs and South was in business.

There are many hands South could have for this auction where stalling would have no play.

The opening lead was ruffed in dummy. Declarer then cashed the king and queen of hearts and discarded the 4-1 trump break. One line of play available was to draw the remaining trumps cash the king of clubs and take a diamond finesse. If it won and the suit divided 3-2, he would win all 13 tricks. On the diagrammed hand however, he would go down four tricks.

South devised a much better line of play. At trick four he led a low diamond from dummy, conceding the trick to the defense. No all declarer needed was the 3-2 division in diamonds that the other line of play required. However, declarer had eliminated the necessity for a diamond finesse and had doubled his chance of making the slam.

The cost of remodeling, new construction at existing schools and construction of five new elementary is estimated at $28 million.

Towns Set Super 4th

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

'Thousands of Seminole County residents will celebrate the anniversary of the nation's independence Friday by participating in special events scheduled in Sanford, Oviedo, Altamonte Springs and Maitland.

In the county seat, the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce has planned a "fun fair" to be held on the lakefront beginning at 11 a.m. Various booths and activities will be sponsored by civic organizations and the day's events will be concluded with a fireworks display.

In Oviedo, Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 10139 will serve a barbecue dinner from 4 p.m. to 6 p.m. at the Mead View parking lot and from 8 p.m. until midnight music will be provided for listening and dancing.

The Altamonte-South Seminole Jaycees will have an "old-fashioned 4th of July" at the Altamonte Mall beginning at noon. A fireworks display will conclude the day's entertainment.

In neighboring Maitland, the Maitland-South Seminole Chamber of Commerce will begin the day at 8 a.m. with a parade "from Lake Sybella School. Various activities, booths and displays will be held at the civic center there from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. Hot air balloon rides, a moon walk, ferris wheel, airplanes and a merry-go-round will be located on the Southeast Bank property on U.S. 17-82.

Good food, games and contests will highlight the day's activities at the Sanford lakefront.

Sponsors, booths and activities include: —Jaycees-Jayceettes: soft drinks, sandwiches, popcorn, T-shirts, rope ladder, watermelons, jump jumping contest, dunking tank, sub-sandwiches, pool gun game, dart loss, treasure chest, prizes, balloons and a hot tamer.

—Over 50 Club will serve cake, coffee and iced tea.

—Beta Sigma Phi will serve hot dogs, and drinks and operate a craft shop-country store.

—Sanford Youth Baseball will sell cookies, hot dogs, candy and cones and have a dart board. At the ball field it will serve cold drinks, hot dogs, corn on the cob and popcorn.

—Donut man will serve donuts.

—Order of the Feather will have a sack race, three-legged race, water balloon toss, rolling pin and fish pond and serve cold drinks, sandwiches and chips. It will also sell along the street.

—Good Samaritan will serve hot dogs and dressing, ribs dinner, collard

Sanford Super

—Disabled American Veterans will have games Club, Holiday Inn, Order of the Feather, Pilot Club.

—Also, Lions Club, Golden Age Olympics, Over 20 Club, Jaycees-Jayceettes, Chamber of Commerce, Italian American Club, Christmas Parade Committee, Circle K, American Red Cross, Edith & Jack Harrison Shoemaker Construction Co., Bobby Bramley—State Representative and SISTER.

The General Sanford Memorial Library will be open during the day for public tours.

The Altamonte-South Seminole Jaycees event at the Altamonte Mall, adjacent to the theatres, will include a barbecued chicken dinner and other refreshments. Fireworks are being donated by the Altamonte Mall.

A dunking booth will benefit Muscular Dystrophy and a car wash will be held to benefit Easter Seals. Other civic organizations participating in the event are the Kiwanis Club, Rotary and the Altamonte-Casselberry Chamber of Commerce.

—Plots Club will have a country store.

—Lions Club will have cotton candy.

—Kiwanis Club will provide blood pressure readings.

—American Red Cross will have a first aid station.

—John G. Maloney and Mrs. Vida Kastner will have a professional dog show.

—Christmas Parade committee will have a nickel pitch.

—Moose Lodge will have macramé hanging baskets and statues.

—Circle K will have beer mugs and a moonwalk.

—Pilot Club will have a country store.

—Lions Club will have cotton candy.

—Kiwanis Club will provide blood pressure readings.

—American Red Cross will have a first aid station.

—John G. Maloney and Mrs. Vida Kastner will have a professional dog show.

—Disabled American Veterans will have games Club, Holiday Inn, Order of the Feather, Pilot Club.

—Also, Lions Club, Golden Age Olympics, Over 20 Club, Jaycees-Jayceettes, Chamber of Commerce, Italian American Club, Christmas Parade Committee, Circle K, American Red Cross, Edith & Jack Harrison Shoemaker Construction Co., Bobby Bramley—State Representative and SISTER.

The General Sanford Memorial Library will be open during the day for public tours.

The Altamonte-South Seminole Jaycees event at the Altamonte Mall, adjacent to the theatres, will include a barbecued chicken dinner and other refreshments. Fireworks are being donated by the Altamonte Mall.

A dunking booth will benefit Muscular Dystrophy and a car wash will be held to benefit Easter Seals. Other civic organizations participating in the event are the Kiwanis Club, Rotary and the Altamonte-Casselberry Chamber of Commerce.

—Supermarkets in the Publix chain will also be closed. The Food Barn in Sanford will be open during its regular hours of 8:30 a.m. to 9 p.m. and Mr. G's will be open from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Pantry Pride will be open from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. while Win-Dixie will be open during its regular hours of 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.

Green corn bread, lemonade, pies and cakes. It will also sponsor a pony ride.

—Golden Age Olympics will have a baseball throw, ring toss, crochets and wind chimes.

—Chamber of Commerce will sell Sanford Now and Then books, "Sanford is Super" T-shirts and have grassed pigs and grassed polo.

—Italian American Club will serve sausage and peppers subs.

—Christmas Parade committee will have a nickel pitch.

—Moose Lodge will have macramé hanging baskets and statues.

—Circle K will have beer mugs and a moonwalk.

—Pilot Club will have a country store.

—Lions Club will have cotton candy.

—Kiwanis Club will provide blood pressure readings.

—American Red Cross will have a first aid station.

—John G. Maloney and Mrs. Vida Kastner will have a professional dog show.

—Disabled American Veterans will have games Club, Holiday Inn, Order of the Feather, Pilot Club.

—Also, Lions Club, Golden Age Olympics, Over 20 Club, Jaycees-Jayceettes, Chamber of Commerce, Italian American Club, Christmas Parade Committee, Circle K, American Red Cross, Edith & Jack Harrison Shoemaker Construction Co., Bobby Bramley—State Representative and SISTER.

The General Sanford Memorial Library will be open during the day for public tours.

The Altamonte-South Seminole Jaycees event at the Altamonte Mall, adjacent to the theatres, will include a barbecued chicken dinner and other refreshments. Fireworks are being donated by the Altamonte Mall.

A dunking booth will benefit Muscular Dystrophy and a car wash will be held to benefit Easter Seals. Other civic organizations participating in the event are the Kiwanis Club, Rotary and the Altamonte-Casselberry Chamber of Commerce.

Sun Belt Gasping

United Press International

Almost 90 deaths have been linked to the persistent intense heat in the sun-baked Sun Belt. Rising crime, fears about water shortages, more exploding highways and a near certain increase in poultry and livestock prices are adding to the misery.

Authorities in Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Kansas and Missouri reported 43 deaths directly attributable to the intense heat by early today and 44 that would be heat related.

Records set for the ninth straight day Tuesday in the Dallas-Fort Worth area with a high of 109 degrees. Wichita Falls, Texas, had 113 degrees at midday. Wichita, Kan., recorded a high of 109 on its eighth straight day over 100 and it was 109 in Columbia, Mo.

A spokesman for the Dallas Police Department said crime had risen markedly because of the heat.

On June 25 and 26 of 1979, when temperatures were considerably cooler, 866 crimes were reported to Dallas police. On the same dates this year, with temperatures rising as high as 113 degrees, more than 1,000 crimes were reported. "I think the jump is startling," reported police spokesman Bob Shaw. "I think it's the heat that makes people's tempers shorter."

Sgt. John Adamczyk of the Crimes Against Persons Unit said most crimes were up significantly — except robberies, which decreased by 37 percent. "I tell you this, though, when it's too hot for hijacking — boy, it's hot," he said.

In Kansas, the extended hot spell is causing some concrete highways to buckle under the strain.

"After about 3 p.m. we start getting 'blowouts,'" said Claude Brummett of the Department of Transportation in Hutchinson.

Preventive temperatures often surpass 150 degrees, at which point the roadway's joints literally burst at the seams, Brummett said.

5-Man Race? Feather Seeks Commission Seat

It looks like a five-man contest for the District 3 seat on the Seminole Board of County Commissioners in the Sept. 9 primary elections.

Robert G. "Bud" Feather, 34, eighth-year veteran of the non-partisan Seminole County School Board and three times its chairman, announced today his candidacy for the Republican nomination for the office.

Currently holding the seat is Dick Williams, completing his second four-year term. Williams, a Republican, has said he will seek re-election.

Expected to be Feather's opposition in the GOP primary is Tom Kanelis, past president of the Seminole County League of Civic Associations. Kanelis, a retired Army colonel, resides in the Longwood area. Kanelis has told a number of friends he will be seeking the office if Williams does not run.

Altamonte Springs Mayor Norman Floyd announced last week that he will be seeking the Democratic nomination for Williams' seat. He resigned from the mayor's office in November. Floyd read his letter of resignation into the record at a city commission meeting Tuesday night.

Tom Pratt, a Longwood businessman active in the local Democratic Party for many years, told friends several months ago that he will be seeking the Democratic nomination for the office. He has not, as yet, formally announced.

A fifth prospective candidate is Gerald Korman, a Longwood attorney who has been seeking support from Seminole Democrats for a possible candidacy for the Williams seat.

The winners of the two contests — the candidate who gains 50 percent plus one vote in the primary — will compete in the Nov. 4 general election.

Qualifying period for candidates opens at noon Tuesday and will close at noon July 22.

Feather said he has chosen not to run for a third term on the school board because he has accomplished what he set out to do eight years ago in that office.

"I've chosen to run for the county commission because I want to continue to serve Seminole County citizens by protecting their hard-earned tax dollars and by continuing to represent them in their demands for a higher quality of life for themselves and their families," Feather said. — DONNA ESTES

Shabby Schools, Overcrowding Led To Suggestions

By DIANE PETERIK
Herald Staff Writer

Un satisfactory classrooms, buildings in disrepair, some hazardous facilities and overcrowding at Seminole County elementary schools prompted the state Department of Education (DOE) to recommend the county abandon two elementary schools, part portions of three others and build five new ones.

In its regular five-year survey of school plants, the DOE also recommended remodeling and/or new construction at the 21 other elementary schools.

The cost of remodeling, new construction at existing schools and construction of five new elementary is estimated at $28 million.

School officials are in the process of preparing a priority list for such construction and repairs. Part of the work will be provided by the state.

The DOE recommended Sanford Grammar School and South Side Elementary be converted to other county use and students moved to other schools.

The DOE cited as unsatisfactory Sanford Grammar School's classrooms, exceptional education room, multipurpose rooms, media suite, administrative suite, teacher's lounge, toilet, cafeteria-kitchen, furnace room and custodial storage. The school is 77 years old.

The DOE cited unsatisfactory classrooms, cafeteria, individual lab, small group instruction area and inadequate parking at South Side Elementary. It also pointed out that a storage building on the school site is flammable.

At Geneva Elementary School, the state determined that the school requires replacement due to unsatisfactory classrooms, principal's office, library, specific learning disabilities classroom, and toilet. The DOE also stated that a portable facility has broken floor tiles and an unvented gas space heater.

At Lawton Elementary School and unsatisfactory library, intermediate classrooms, speech-hearing classroom, administrative suite, gymnasium and shower rooms prompted the DOE to recommend three of the school buildings be razed.

The DOE added that a basin in the girl's shower area is flammable.

At Geneva Elementary School, the state determined that the school requires replacement due to unsatisfactory classrooms, principal's office, library, specific learning disabilities classroom, and toilet. The DOE also stated that a portable facility has broken floor tiles and an unvented gas space heater.

At Lawton Elementary School and unsatisfactory library, intermediate classrooms, speech-hearing classroom, administrative suite, gymnasium and shower rooms prompted the DOE to recommend three of the school buildings be razed.

The DOE added that a basin in the girl's shower area is flammable.

Winter Springs City Manager Says Tax Hike Likely In New Budget

By DAVID M. RAZLER
Herald Staff Writer

Salary increases and manpower needs in Winter Springs have outpaced the expected growth of tax revenue by about $160,000, City Manager Richard Rozansky said Tuesday in releasing his proposed budget for fiscal 1981.

But Rozansky said his figures are conservative, and if there are no changes in state laws governing tax assessment Winter Springs residents may continue paying $2.06 per $1,000 of assessed property value another year.

Rozansky estimates raising the city at its present level, with the addition of two police officers, one firefighter, a new pumper for the fire department, plus contracted salary increases for city employees, will cost $1,611,200 for fiscal 1981.

But based on an arbitrary figure of $100 million total assessed value and expected revenue from federal programs and other non-property based taxes, the budget shows a deficit of $168,000.

Anticipated revenues total $1,487,614 from all sources.

None of the figures are firm yet, because the real value of taxable property has yet to be determined. This year, Winter Springs had about $7 million worth of taxable property.

Rozansky said he guessed the new tax rolls will come in at $180 million, based on previous years' experience.

More than $350,000 of the city's revenue is expected to be paid by utilities and utility customers through franchise fees and a 4 percent tax on power, water, sewer, telephone and cable television sale.

About $205,000 is expected from property taxes and $70,000 from the federal revenue sharing program.

Additional income, fees and taxes on items ranging from utility pole fees to cigarette taxes plus $220,000 in state revenue sharing make up the city's expected income for 1981.

Close to half the city's budget, $734,864, See WINTER, Page 2A

Today

Action Reports	2A
Around The Clock	4A
Comics	2B
Deaths	4B
Editorial	4A
Florida	5A
Hospital	4A
Nation	2A
Ourselves	3B
Sports	10-12A
Television	6B
Weather	2A
World	2A

Court Backs

Open Trials

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court ruled 7-1 today that criminal trials must be open to the press and public unless there is an "overriding interest" in closing them.

SEMINOLE COUNTY CORRECTIONAL FACILITY

COUNTY OPENS JAIL

Seminole County Jail Administrator Steven Saunders stands by with a pair of scissors as Sheriff John Folk announces the formal opening of the new Seminole County Correctional Facility at Five Points off U.S. Highway 17-92, before a ribbon cutting ceremony this morning. County Commissioner Bob Sturm (right) was also present at the ceremony. Inmates will be transferred to the new jail later this month, Saunders said.