PETITION DENIED IN RECEIVERSHIP OF CORAL GABLES

JACKSONVILLE, July 11. (INS)—Coral Gables, at Miami, Florida's most ambitious real estate development, will continue under its present management and will not be subjected to bankruptcy proceedings as sought in a petition filed in federal court here yesterday. Judge Lohr Jones, hearing the petition brought by several creditors of the Coral Gables Corporation, ruled it is not apparent that unsecured creditors would benefit through a receivership, and that the funds of the concern are not being dissipated as alleged. A receivership would only mean an added burden upon the creditors, Judge Jones said, in the way of attorney's fees, receiver's fees and other heavy expenses. He expressed the belief that the present directors of the project are efficient and capable of administering the affairs of the corporation. Coral Gables has a population of 10,000 people and liabilities estimated at $2,000,000. More than $100,000,000 has been spent in its development and improvement, according to estimates presented yesterday.

Elks Consider Plan To Establish Huge Fund For Charities

MIAMI, Fla., July 11. (INS)—The sixty-fourth annual convention of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks today took up consideration of a report recommending the establishment of a $2,000,000 fund to be used for charitable educational and benevolent purposes. This was authorized at last year's convention in Cincinnati. Under the report, seven members of the grand lodge would act as trustees of the foundation to collect and disburse the funds as they lay fit. The grand lodge would contribute the first $100,000 to the foundation fund, the report recommended.

Prohibition Party Balks At Coalition

CHICAGO, July 11. (INS)—"No coalition with the farmer-labor party on candidates." This was the general attitude of leaders of the prohibition party convention as it went into its second day at the LaSalle Hotel today. There were three plans before the convention, each with approximately the same amount of support from the less than 200 delegates present. They are: 1—make no nominations for president and vice president; 2—endorse Hoover and Curtis and a prohibition platform; 3—split a southern Democrat to head the ticket.

188 Bandits Give Up In Nicaraguan Area

WASHINGTON, July 11. (INS)—Near Admiral David F. Sellers, in charge of the special force operating in Nicaraguan waters, advised the Navy Department today of the surrender of 188 bandits at Ostetal. On July 7, a contingent of 120 "well-armed bandits" entered the town unopposed and asked for amnesty. Two days later another group of 66 followed. The bandits were in letters and had been on short rations for weeks. Similar steps to compel all Democratic candidates for office to support the national ticket has been taken in Arkansas, where J. B. Utley, chairman of the state Democratic committee, ruled that unless the candidates support the Democratic nominee, they cannot have their names placed on the Democratic primary ticket.

Tammany Golf Club, of New Orleans, the contract of carrying the mails by air from New Orleans via Houston and San Antonio to Brownsville, Texas, at 10¢ per pound. RUSSIAN FLYER LOCATES 3 OF MISSING CREW

Report From Ice-Breaker Reveals That Aviator Sights Part Of Arctic Explorers Wandering Upon Ice Floes
MOSCOW, July 11. (INS)—Three members of the crew of the wrecked dirigible Italia, missing since they set out alone on foot to seek land, have been located by a Russian aviator, according to a radio message today from the Russian ice-breaker Krasin. Aviator Gurchanovsky, who hopped off near the Krasin in a seaplane reported that the three were floating helplessly on an ice floe in 80.45 latitude and 23.45 west longitude. The floe was surrounded by masses of crushed ice. Gurchanovsky cited over the party five times making observations. Two members of the party waved flags, but the third was lying down upon the ice motionless and apparently dead. Heavy mists developed and compelled the aviator to land upon northeast land. The commander of the Krasin reported that he is attempting to rescue the group, but that the passage to the floe is blocked by huge icebergs. The Krasin has been operating among the ice floes in the vicinity of north east land in an effort to rescue the group of survivors headed by Vigliani. The group now reported located is understood to be composed of Dr. Finn Magren, Capt. Alberto Mariani and Capt. Filippo. For the past two weeks they have been given up for lost. The Magren party was floating on the ice when Gurchanovsky was expected here that an effort would be made by commander of the Krasin to approach the place where the three men were found, and to take them aboard the Krasin. HOOPER ALSO TO MAKE DRIVE FOR TO RECOGNITION OF CHINA BY U. S.

WASHINGTON, July 11. (INS)—Herbert Hoover's campaign for the presidency will include a specially organized and naturally conducted drive to capture the votes of the 10,000,000 American women eligible for suffrage in November, it was learned here today at Republican headquarters. Efforts to swing the feminist vote into the Republican party will include use of state Republican organizations, special women's clubs and independent societies. Hoover himself has approved the preliminary plan for creating special campaign clubs among women interested in public affairs. The first move to corral the women vote, it was announced, will be a conference of Republican national committee women from the northeastern states. Mrs. Alvin T. Hart, of Kentucky, vice-chairman of the Republican national committee, will call the conference and Hoover himself will be the president. Her purpose will be to discuss the drive for feminist votes in the next Atlantic regional states where many Hoover backers believe the campaign will be decided. Similar conferences of women committee women will be called later in other sections of the country, until the women of every region are thoroughly organized. Special efforts will be made in each section to get the independent and unknown voters of women to the polls next November and to (Continued on page six.)

American Anti-War Pact Okeyed Today By France With Some Reservations

PARIS, July 11. (INS)—France, divided today upon acceptance of the proposed American anti-war treaty on condition it does not infringe on any of the Republic's existing commitments under the League of Nations covenant or the Locarno pact. A council of ministers approved Foreign Minister Briand's reply to the latest treaty note from Secretary of State Kellogg. It was understood that the note would be sent to Washington this afternoon and that it will signify Foreign Minister Briand's willingness to sign the treaty with reservations. For several weeks the amended draft of the proposed pact has been under scrutiny by the international law experts of the foreign office. In the meantime France has conducted private diplomatic conversations with Great Britain upon the subject. It is reported that the United States has agreed that such nation, that accepts and signs the pact may attach a reserving communication giving its own interpretation of the treaty and an opinion of the obligations it entails. England is expected to follow France in accepting the treaty conditionally.

William D. Upshaw Disqualified To Run In Georgia Primary

ATLANTA, Ga., July 11. (INS)—William D. Upshaw, the day, has disqualified himself as a candidate against Congressman Leslie J. Steele in the September primary here, because of his support of a vigorous campaign against Governor Al Smith, the Democratic presidential nominee. Under the rules of the state committee, no person can make a race as a Democrat unless he agrees to support the entire state and national Democratic ticket. Former Congressman Upshaw, who is chairman of the Democratic committee here, announced that steps would be taken to bar Upshaw's name from the ballot. Howard said Upshaw has lived here only a few days since he was defeated by Steele for congress two years ago, and that he makes his home in Asheville, N. C.

The majority opinion was written by Chief Justice W. P. Battle. The dissenting opinion was written by Justice W. H. Rouse. The court ruled that Manly's conviction and sentence were valid and that he must serve his term in the state penitentiary.

Jersey To Go G. O. P. Declares Bacharach

WASHINGTON, July 11. (INS)—"Plenty of work at grand wages" is the presidential campaign theme in New Jersey, Republican Bacharach declared today in a public statement predicting a Hoover-Curtis majority of at least 400,000 in his state in November. "Based upon the vote cast for the Republican presidential candidates in the past, the vote this year should assure to the Hoover and Curtis ticket a plurality of not less than 400,000, resulting in a clean sweep for all of the republican candidates on the state ticket," said Bacharach.

SOLONS STAGE FINAL HEARING ON PATRONAGE

Funds Collected By Georgia Republicans For Sale Of Public Jobs Were Used To Pay General Office Costs
Many Witnesses Are Examined By Group
Senator Brookhart Denies That Committee Will Ask Removal Of Postmasters
ATLANTA, July 11. (INS)—Funds collected by the republican state committee have been used "almost exclusively for salaries and office expenses," it was charged before the Senate Patrons Committee today by Senator Walter F. George, investigator of the investigation of party activities in the South. Senator George introduced bank books which proved, he said, that the republican committee had been receiving regular contributions, which it had not expended for any political organization or campaign or any candidate. This evidence was placed before the committee in conjunction with an accumulation of testimony relating to the alleged sale of post office jobs and the maintenance of officeholders through an organized system of party tributes. The final day of the local hearings brought a large number of witnesses. Senator Smith W. Brookhart, of Iowa chairman of the committee, said, "The impression has gone out that the investigation will cause the removal of postmasters who have contributed money to secure their appointments or reappointments. The committee wants it distinctly understood that such is not its purpose, he said and the committee will continue to do all in its power to protect those who tell the truth. T. J. Davis, of Birmingham, Ga., testified that he was an applicant for postmaster of that town in 1927 and stood at the head of the civil service eligibility list. He testified that he was contacted by the county chairman, collected $50, and that it was customary to send in a donation with an application. Later, he added, he (Continued on page six.)

Hoover Easy Man To Beat, Asserts Reed In New York

NEW YORK, July 11. (INS)—Declaring that Herbert Hoover is the easiest man the Republicans could have selected for the Democratic ticket, Senator "Jim" Reed of Missouri delivered himself of a tirade against the U. S. office in an interview with newspaper men this afternoon. Reed was in New York attending the meeting of chiefs of the Democratic party. Speaking of the Democratic conference today, Reed said: "We're off to a good start. There isn't any reason why we shouldn't win in November." Reed was obviously in a happy frame of mind following his conference with Governor Al Smith, the Democratic nominee. He was caustic, however, in his references to Hoover, saying: "Hoover is the easiest man for us to beat. He's not an American—he's an Englishman. If we want to elect an Englishman president of the United States why not get the Prince of Wales and not someone who was sent to this country during the war?"

Jax Pays Its City Attorney Less Than DeCottes Receives

Survey Reveals Fees Are Out Of Proportion In Comparison With Other Cities
$6,000 Salary Is Offered By Miami
That the City of Sanford, in proportion to its size, is paying a great deal more for the services of its City Attorney than most Florida cities are paying their legal advisers, was revealed today in telegrams received in response to an inquiry sent out by The Herald to the heads of ten Florida municipalities selected at random. While Sanford has paid up to preparing to pay its City Attorney the sum of $14,000 for services extending over a period of slightly more than eight months, Jacksonville, a city having 10 times the population of the City Substantial, is giving its legal help an annual salary of $6,500, with no commissions nor extra fees attached. Miami, with a population of 131,000 (thirteen times larger than Sanford, and having a bonded indebtedness of approximately $18,000,000) is employing a city attorney at an annual salary of $6,000 plus $100 for individual expenses. No extra fees are allowed according to a message received from the city manager. A flat retainer's fee of $5,000, which covers salary for all litigation and bond work, is the annual salary given the attorney for Coral Gables, a city slightly larger than Sanford. Miami Beach, a sister city of Coral Gables and having a population of 10,000 or about the same size as Sanford, pays its attorney $10,000 a year for his time and permits no other fees or retainers. A message from Mayor D. H. McKay discloses that Tampa, with a population more than 12 times that of Sanford, has fixed by ordinance the salary of its attorney at $10,000 a year. A 10 per cent commission, amounting to approximately as much as the salary, is also allowed on the collection of delinquent taxes. With Tampa's attorney receiving approximately $20,000 a year, the sum of $14,000 claimed by the local attorney for eight months' work, was pointed out as being somewhat out of proportion in comparison to the size of the two cities. Included in an item of $12,000 in retainer's bond, $400 Monday by the City Commission, was an item of $5,270.50 for City Attorney George A. DeCottes. This is only part of the claim of Mr. DeCottes for services rendered since last November. The total is more than $10,000 listed under the following items: Expenses in special $150,000 paving bonds (not sold) 600 One per cent less $2,000 discount on $510,000 refunding bonds 2,100 Hilton refunding bond in the refunding issue of $425,000 4,300 Total $10,500 No bills have been submitted by the City Attorney for the last two items but the amount of the claim was estimated by City Clerk P. S. Lamson, who had his computations on an unperfected of the total (Continued on page six.)

Hoyt Explains He Jumped From Ship To Prove Sea Held No Terror For Him

WASHINGTON, July 11. (INS)—Morton Hoyt's sensational leap from the deck of the Hochstetler into the city waters of Grand Bank last Friday night was merely to demonstrate that the ocean holds no terrors for a good swimmer. This was Hoyt's personal explanation of the incident today, following his return to his home here. Looking over the water for his four days in the ship's hospital, the wealthy young clubman visited the offices of the Washington Herald in person to place himself on record. His friendship with Miss Klara Klenzner, 17-year-old daughter of a former Swedish minister to the United States, had nothing to do with his adventure, he said. "I'm Hoyt!" his conversation began as he strode into the newspaper office. "I wish most emphatically to deny that Miss Klenzner was in any way responsible for this rather unfortunate occurrence." He was talking a group of men on the deck that there was no danger for a good swimmer in the weather. Hoyt, who had been in the water because he was nervous for the moment, said that it was little good to talk of such things with qualifications and reservations. "Someone else said it was always fair weather when good fellows were together." "It's clear enough," Hoyt explained. He experienced no difficulty, he said, but remained in the ship's hospital merely to rest. He was picked up about half a mile from the ship, floundering in his ability as a swimmer, said the Al.

MERCHANTS ARE TO HOLD SECOND DOLLAR DAY SALE

Next Wednesday Designated For Special Bargain Day; Extensive Publicity Campaign Has Been Planned
A score of merchants today were pushing plans for Sanford's second great community Dollar Day to be staged Wednesday, July 19, one week from today. With the tremendous success of the last Dollar Day sponsored by The Herald in mind, merchants this time are making even more extensive preparations for the coming event. As in the last Dollar Day, every type and class of merchandise will be represented among the bargain offerings. Shoes and shirts, hardware and hosiery, cookies and confections will be among the special dollar offerings for the big event. An extensive campaign of publicity to cover the territory within a radius of 25 miles of Sanford is now being planned and will be started within a few days. Among the towns whose citizens will be invited to visit Sanford on the big day are DeLand, Mount Dora, Eustis, Orange City, Winter Park, Longwood, Apoka, Altamonte Springs, Maitland, Oviedo, Geneva, Chuluota, Osteen, Lake Mary, Forest City and Fern Park. Practically the same array of merchants who participated in the last Dollar Day with perhaps half-a-dozen additions will have a part in the coming trade event. Newspaper advertising in many surrounding towns together with big circulars will be used to tell Sanford's trade territory about the great bargain day. Hundreds of out-of-town shoppers who visited Sanford in the June event are expected to return to take advantage of this new opportunity to save on all kinds of merchandise. Bigger crowds than before are predicted by many of the merchants, who are making even more extensive preparations than they did for the other day.

Charlie Paddock Cleared Of Professionalism Count And Put On Olympic Team

NEW YORK, July 10.—(INS)—When the American Olympic team sails down the bay on the President Roosevelt tomorrow, Charlie Paddock "the world's fastest human," will be aboard and eagerly looking forward to victory at Amsterdam.

"I'll do my best to win for America," the famous sprinter declared following his exoneration of charges of professionalism by the Amateur Athletic Union last evening.

The A. A. U. Menus finally were convinced that Paddock's amateur status was unassailable as a result of his activities in wearing pictures on his personal appearance on the stage with his picture. Paddock attended the hearing, and signed an affidavit that he was not paid for his film work.

The clearing of Paddock came after a lengthy deliberation in the office of the A. A. U., which Dan Ferris, chairman of the national registration committee, and Bob Weaver, president of the southern Pacific association and vice-president of the American Olympic committee, took the leading parts.

After Weaver had doubtfully defended Paddock throughout the meeting, it was announced that nothing could be found against the Californian and that he was eligible to represent this country. The exoneration cost Roland Locke a chance to run in the big meet, for Locke had been named an alternate in case Paddock had been found guilty of the charges.

There still remains to be settled the case of Ross Nicholas, Stanford hurdler, who fell in the final hurdles when one of the obstacles was out of place and higher than regulation. Coach Dick Templeton of Stanford will take up the case with the final court of appeals General Douglas. Mr. Arthur, president of the Olympic committee today.

PROMISE HOOVER MADE TO MOTHER IS NEVER BROKEN

College Chum Relates Tale Of Pledge Which Republican Nominee Made At Ten; Other Virtues Are Lauded

BLUFFTON, Ind.—July 5.—(INS)—"I promised my mother just before she died, when I was ten years old, that I would never look upon any girl as my wife," Herbert Hoover, Republican nominee for president, told some of the members of the Hoover family at a reception one night when most of the students became more or less intoxicated, with the exception of Hoover.

"But, how does it happen you never look upon any girl as your wife?" I asked him.

"Well, Frank, I'll tell you why," he answered.

"My mother died when I was ten years old, and the day before she died she called me to her and said she wanted me to promise her one thing. I told her I would promise her anything she asked. The request that my mother made was that I never look upon any girl as my wife," Hoover related.

The last time Hoover talked to Hoover, was when the latter accompanied a Mr. Branner, then state geologist for the state of Arkansas, on a research trip.

Asked why he did not write Hoover a letter recalling the acquaintance, Hoover replied:

"Oh, no, he is too big a man now. I am just a little fellow, but he would remember me all right. We had many serious talks and were very friendly."

TRIM WASH FROCKS

Summer attire is so light in color that it must be made of washable fabrics, and fashioned on simple lines so that it is easy to wash. The woman who does her own housework will find the frock at the left comfortable during the summer months. It may be made with long sleeves for street wear, but for the house, the short-sleeved and the open neck are attractive and practical. Printed gingham, linen, and rayon voile are suitable fabrics.

For young girls the long-waisted model to the right is chic with the smart flare of its short skirt. It is an ideal play frock when made of shirtings and ornamented by a ribbon belt. Linen, rayon or pongee may be chosen for warm weather wear.

Newspapers Offer Varied Comment On Al Smith's Views On Dry Measure

Editorial comment on Governor Alfred E. Smith's message to the democratic national convention, in which he reaffirmed his intention of working for a change in the prohibition laws, follows:

THE NEW YORK SUN—Mr. Smith's utterance is not only honest but good politics. It saves him from any suspicion that he was willing to accept the platform without supplementary explanation of his own convictions and intentions.

THE NEW YORK EVENING WORLD—It is the immense good fortune of the democratic party to have a candidate better fitted than any other man in the country to clarify that issue (prohibition) without infaming it, to explain it in a way that will win fanatics and dissipate prejudice.

PHILADELPHIA INQUIRER—A proud day for Tammany Hill. Foyad, hailed, despised and denounced at national conventions; this organization has at last succeeded in bringing the democratic party to its knees in submission. Al Smith, the product and pet of Tammany, is assuming to take possession of the White House. And the democratic convention has swallowed the dose.

not from principle, but from expediency. Smith, it was informed, is a vote-getter, and as a vote-getter, the candidate is accepting PHILADELPHIA EVENING BULLETIN—Governor Smith's emphatic reiteration to the very convention that nominated him of his stand for a fundamental modification of the present national prohibition system kills at the start of the campaign the effort to smother the issue by the dry plans in the platform and the dry running mate for the presidential nominee. His stand for the application of self-government and states' rights in the issue is not right in the theory of national prohibition and the spirit as well as the letter of the 18th amendment to say nothing of the Volstead act.

WASHINGTON STAR (R)—Governor Smith did not urge that the democratic platform be changed. He merely gave his interpretation of it. To Governor Smith there is nothing in the platform which would in any event stand against modification of the prohibition laws or the repeal of the Eighteenth amendment. It was a frank and honest statement. The platform sidesteps the prohibition issue on its merits and merely declares for the enforcement laws as long as they are in effect. WASHINGTON POST (R) Hoover's statement that prohibition should be dealt with constructively and Governor Smith's changes do not necessarily mean that either of them would be called upon to enforce the law as Governor Smith with his directness has made clear in regard to prohibition.

Now that Hall has joined McLaughlin in the Hlgira from First Street to Park Avenue, we feel reasonably safe in remarking that business in Sanford seems to be seeking lower rents.

In Follette's issued a statement in which he condemns the Kansas City platform. If the Democrats have their leaders, it appears that the Republicans are having somewhat the same trouble.

Al Smith was lynched in effigy Saturday by Birmingham klansmen. We inclined to think that such conduct is considerably more of a reflection on the opposition to Al Smith than on Democratic nominees himself.

The Tallahassee Democrat is authority for the statement that Herin officials are conducting an investigation in the interest of curbing promiscuous horsing around. It has been our experience that the fellow who drives with his hand on the button, doesn't have much time to devote to the wheel.

Joe Farman says he is having some experience with sugar diabetes and complaining about diet. We have the utmost sympathy for Mr. Farman but hope he is getting some satisfaction out of having diabetes instead of high blood pressure, for instance. He can drink coffee at least.

Manatee county, according to the Bradenton Herald, shipped during the season just closed 5,722 cars of vegetables, including 2,122 cabbages, 1,100 melons, 1,000 tomatoes, 1,000 cucumbers, cauliflower, watermelon, peppers, cabbage, celery, beans, and okra.

After twenty years as a country newspaper editor, W. O. Sanders of Elizabeth City, N. C., prints this bit of wisdom: "I have learned that the American people have a lively passion for the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth, about everything and every body—except themselves and their family connections."

A lady dropped into an emporium to buy a birthday present for her husband. She had not the faintest idea what she should buy. Appealingly she asked the salesman what he could suggest. "He doesn't smoke, nor drink nor play cards," she told him. "Well," asked the salesman, after a long deep thought, "I've found it. Buy some fancy work"—St. Augustine Record. Might try patching.

It will be recalled that the City Attorney, who publicly made the statement that the Editor of The Herald is leaving town "permanently", is the same George DeCottes who declared before the local post of the American Legion on the afternoon of August 4 that The Herald was responsible for the failure of the bank, and we might add that one statement is perfectly consistent with the other and perfectly consistent with similar statements emanating from the same source.

Costly Advice

It was last October, shortly after the failure of the Seminole County Bank, that The Herald first editorially suggested to the City Commission that it remove as its City Attorney Mr. George A. DeCottes, who for years had been confidential or legal adviser to Forrest Lake, both in the affairs of the City and the bank, and had been intimately associated with him financially in the corporation of L.—K.—D., Inc.

We hold no ill feeling for the Commissioners that they failed to heed our advice, for it is certainly within their province to employ whom they choose, but we feel that their action in this matter was far more misguided than commendable and that in this one instance alone the City has been the loser by many thousands of dollars. We have gathered from the City records that Mr. DeCottes has received from one source or another, or is about to receive from the refunding bonds just sold, some $10,560 which represents his fees on bonds sold by the City since the failure of the bank only.

We do not question the legal capacity of Mr. DeCottes, whom Mr. Lake was accustomed to refer to so frequently as "the best bond attorney in the state of Florida," but we do seriously doubt if his business acumen makes him worth to the City of Sanford more than the combined city attorneys of Miami and Coral Gables are worth to those municipalities. The City of Coral Gables, a community approximately the size of Sanford, pays its city attorney three thousand dollars a year, and that figure includes everything, retainer fee, bond issues, and rackets. The City of Miami, thirteen times as large as Sanford, and with a bonded indebtedness of eighteen millions, pays its attorney six thousand dollars annually, plus seven hundred and fifty dollars for expenses.

If Mr. DeCottes' advice were always sound, and looking to a final solution of Sanford's financial difficulties, it might be worth while to pay him the exorbitant fee which he receives, between one-half and one per cent on all bond issues, in addition to his retainer. But it was on his advice that the Hutton claim, listed as "doubtful" by that impartial financial expert Gaylord Cummin, was paid. It has been on his advice that the bonded debt of the City of Sanford has been increased, in less than a year and without any authority whatsoever from the people and without any authority whatsoever from one million dollars, who have to pay the bill, practically one million dollars. It was on his written advice, it will be recalled, that the Chase National Bank accepted City of Sanford bonds as security for a loan to the Seminole County Bank, advice which has since placed the City Attorney in the embarrassing position of having to change sides.

In view of such advice we can only repeat our previous assertion that the best interests of Sanford, in our opinion, will never be served so long as George DeCottes remains at the head of the City government, and we again respectfully submit to the City Commission that for the sake of the people of Sanford and for the sake of their own good names, George DeCottes should be removed.

Independent Journalism

In a recent issue of Time there appeared an article dealing with the reaction of leading newspaper publishers to that portion of Andre Siegfried's book, America Comes of Age, in which the French sociologist has this to say about American journalism: "The great newspapers, an every one knows, live entirely by their advertising. Logically, therefore, they are bound to fall sooner or later under the influence of high finance and big business which pays for publicity. The national interests thus possess an effective means of moulding the public to their ends by withholding what they think it should not know and presenting each subject from the desired angle."

That this broad indictment of the press of today should evoke denunciations and challenges from prominent publicists is not unexpected. Adolph Oelchs, publisher of the New York Times, a newspaper which can point with pride to one of its former owners who refused $5,000,000, offered if he would cease his attacks upon the crooked machinations of boss Tweed, defied the eminent writer to produce a single example of a "great newspaper" which is subservient to advertisers. Ralph Pulitzer, publisher of the New York World, countered with these words: "The World has deliberately thrown away... will continue to throw away... millions of dollars of advertising by attacking for the public good various interests." Col. Franklin Knox, general manager of Hearst newspapers, had this to say: "All this is merely a reiteration of an oft repeated slander in which ill-informed people frequently indulge."

Thus we find those high in the printing game coming to the defense of a profession whose very foundation is built upon independence and a subordination of economic exigencies to the public welfare. It is true that some newspapers have forgotten the duty they owe to their readers and have allowed their columns to be influenced by the fear of outside pressure. However, publications of this ilk are easily spotted and soon become generally known as spineless and as tools of those who would promote their selfish aims at the expense of public enlightenment. But to say that the leading journals of the country are shaken by the power of money is untrue and is unjust to a calling which ceases to be entitled to the right of its appellation when it prostitutes its pages for pecuniary gain.

When you try your best to be fair in a story covering some local controversy, and you make both sides sore, you can rest assured that you have achieved your purpose.

FLORIDA'S VARIED WILD LIFE

Florida teems with wild life, if one may judge from the report of game killed during the last hunting season in this state, and the surprising thing is that there are still to be found in this state bears, panthers and minks as well as foxes and the smaller furbearers which are common to most states. The number of birds of various kinds killed by hunters was very large. However, the most interesting thing about the report of the game commission was the statement regarding trappers. A total of 2,567 trappers reported their activities for the year and the raccoon, opossum, and skunk proved to be primarily the objects of their search, as 82,321 of the former were trapped, 33,136 opossums and 19,802 skunks. Other animals trapped were red foxes, 51; minks, 787; bears, 12; muskrats, 152; gray foxes, 1,771; civets, 1,601; panthers, 10 and weasels, 28. More than fifty thousand sportsmen went out to search for and kill the wild life of Florida during the just hunting season. The state department of game and freshwater fish has just announced statistics for the season which include the number of licenses sold, those reporting game killed in accordance with the law, the revenue derived from the license sale, the game killed, examples of game and animals trapped. During the season just closed 1,211 deer found their way into the hunting-panes of venison lovers. This total was arrived at from the reports of holders of special deer licenses. A separate report for the hunting of deer was observed. On the basis of the one-fifth of reports received nearly three hundred thousand quail were killed during the season. Ducks were next in the esteem of the hunters, as 176,165 were killed, but cat-squirrels ran them a close race with 128,616. Other game killed included 40,611 turkeys, 618; ducks, 47,200; geese, 270; snipe, 32,000; marsh-hens, 8,328; and 2,923 of miscellaneous varieties.

WE ANNOUNCE AN ORGANIZATION

The Tribune announces, with pleasure, that it herewith opens the charter membership list for a new organization, to be known as the Florida Democratic Alibi Association. The slogan of the organization will be "NOT ALI, BUT ALIBI." Eligible to membership are all Floridians, male or female, classified as Democrats, who have participated in the Democratic party campaigns, voted in its primaries, held office under its name and by its support, and who now decline or refuse to actively or passively support the national ticket of the party, recently named at Houston by an overwhelming vote of the party convention. Distinguished or preferred memberships will be allowed to those who not only refuse to support and vote for the Democratic national ticket but who intend to vote the Republican national ticket. The Tribune will carefully keep the record of members, as they qualify and join the organization, and will advise the public, from time to time, of their identity, residence, previous political record and the particular alibi that each pleads as a reason for departing from the faith of the fathers and the principles of the party and thus becoming eligible for joining this remarkable movement. Individuals may become members and, by provision of the charter and by-laws, newspapers may join as newspapers, without regard to the personnel of ownership or staff. Special memberships will be allotted to the following: Incumbents of state and county offices. Former state and county office-holders. Nominees of the recent Democratic primary for state and county offices. State and county Democratic committeemen. Members of the Florida delegation at the Houston convention. By reason of the favors they have received or are receiving at the hands of the Democrats of Florida and their positions as official leaders or representatives of the party in the state, it is deemed no more than fair that any persons coming under these classifications, who now desert the party and become active or passive aids to placing Florida in the Republican column, should have some particular recognition or honor in the association. Thrilling Action Is Seen In Film With Meighan As Its Star

The barking of machine guns; the intermittent reports of automatics; the excited howls of a mob gone wild, are some of the thrilling highlights of Thomas Meighan's latest starring picture entitled, "The Racket," a story of a feud between a police captain and the leader of a gang of bare runners, the attraction today at the Milane theatre.

As Captain McQuig, Thomas Meighan gives an excellent characterization in "The Racket," a melodrama, the underworld, adapted from the stage play by Bartlett Cormack, a newspaperman, hard-boiled and fearless of all elements, Meighan fights the gang leader, Nick Searsi, which part is portrayed by Louis Wolheim.

Marie Prevost as Helen, the night club entertainer, who is the principal figure of a romance with John Darrow, a reporter, also gives an outstanding performance.

"The Racket" is a colorful melodrama. Its author, a newspaperman, has written a vital drama of metropolitan gang life, taken from his observations and experiences. The story was first presented in play form in New York, where it ran for several months and which was followed by a successful road engagement. Mr. Meighan personally selected the story as being ideally suited to his ability.

Among others who contribute to the success of the performance are: Lee Moran, Sylvia Galacher, Lucian Prival, Tony Marco and G. Pat Collins, who also appeared in the stage presentation. The picture was directed by Lewis Mileston, who directed Meighan in "The New Klondike" one of the star's most successful pictures.

Miss Lillian Thornely, Miss Rebecca Clark, Miss Annie Mitchell left Monday for West Palm Beach where they will attend the Florida Epworth League Assembly for the next ten days.

WILSON CLOUTS 2 MORE HOMERS IN FRIDAY'S GAMES

Chicago Slugger Is Nearest Rival Of Babe Ruth Are On Hitting Sprin in Game With The Brooklyn Dodgers

NEW YORK, July 9. (INS)—Hack Wilson, home run merchant of the Chicago Cubs, is setting a merry pace for rival sluggers in the National League and may even pass Babe Ruth. Hack has slugged seven four-baggers in his last six games. He is only behind the great Ruth and three ahead of Jim Bottomley, his nearest rival in his own circuit.

Wilson hit his 20th and 21st homers yesterday while the Cubs were completing the first half of their schedule. At that rate he will compile a total of 42 for the season.

Collecting other hits besides Wilson's two homers and two singles, the Cubs whopped Brooklyn yesterday by a 14 to 8 score, every Chicago player got at least one hit. The Bruins tied the Reds for third place.

Scoring seven runs in the first inning, the Giants captured a wild 11 to 7 slugfest from the Pirates. The New Yorkers are only two games behind St. Louis and John McGraw is all set for a hot race during the invasion of the west.

He released "Hick" Falis, promising outfielder from Mason, N. T., on option so that he could sign Garland "Kewpie" Buckeye, 235 pound southpaw pitcher who has been accounting for a large part of the Cleveland team's board bill.

In the only other game played yesterday, the weak-hitting Chicago White Sox battered three Washington pitchers and staggered home to a 9 to 8 win. A four run rally by Nats in the ninth just failed to nip the Sox.

Chief interest in American League doings centers today in New York, where the St. Louis Browns and the Yankees are scheduled to play double headers today, tomorrow and Monday.

OAKLAND, Cal., July 9. (INS)
Girl colleges of today are no longer humerics, sending out the sweets, unsophisticated graduates unprepared to battle the stern realities of a remorseless world.

"On the contrary," says Dr. Ethel Sablin-Smith, chairman of psychology department of Mills College, "problems of living are attacked with almost freedom and frankness by the students themselves, with the full cooperation of the faculty."

In Mills classes in social psychology, every problem of the relation of the sexes is frankly discussed and the students in symposiums bring up questions which would have amazed an earlier generation, she explains.

"The college today is not organized on the theory of celibacy for the women students, even if the intention is to be a professional woman. Nor are they any longer pinhead send out graduates without the necessary equipment to fight the stern realities of life."

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Holly and Miss Mildred Holly left in their car Tuesday morning for St. Petersburg where they will spend a few days visiting Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Holly.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Meriwether and small daughter, Ellen, have returned from Lynchburg, Va., where Mrs. Meriwether and Ellen spent the last six weeks visiting Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Meriwether.

JOHN J. RASKOB NEW CHAIRMAN OF DEMOCRATS have nothing to fear from a change of administration and to destroy the effects of such statements as Secretary of the treasury Mellon made a few days ago that "business will again support the Republican ticket."

The selection of Raskob was entirely a personal one with Governor Smith. Raskob is known to but few members of the national committee and is wholly unknown to the rank and file generally. Governor Smith and his chairman, however, have been warm personal friends for years.

Raskob, an alert, rather stocky man of middle age, came to the meeting shortly before official announcement was made that he had been selected. He graciously posed for photographs but declined to make any statement at this time.

The career of the new Democratic national chairman reads like a romance. Years ago Raskob went to work as a clerk in Lockport, N. Y., at a salary of $30 a month. Later he became secretary to the Duponts, powder manufacturers of Wilmington, Del., at $1000 a year. He has advanced rapidly and became one of their most valuable employees. The time came when he became interested in the future of the General Motors Corporation and they became wealthy as the stock of that corporation rose during the recent advance in Wall Street stocks.

A year ago Raskob was talked of as a partner for J. P. Morgan. He had so many and varied interests, however, he could afford to turn that job down, even though it is said to be worth a million dollars a year. Raskob has a heavy interest in a number of corporations.
