Anti-Division Meeting

A call has been issued for the members of the anti-county division committees of all the precincts to assemble here Saturday afternoon to discuss the various aspects of the issue. It is expected the meeting will be a full one, as already a number of responses have come to Chairman Bradshaw of the local committee.

Canal Was a Lemon

It appears evident that the state of Florida was handed a lemon in the matter of the construction of the canal from Jacksonville to Miami. This waterway way was begun some twenty years ago, the state contracting with the Florida East Coast Canal and Transportation Company to dig the ditch for a consideration of 800,000 acres of land.

President Wilson was urged by Representative Underwood to postpone the date of the extra session of congress at least one week. As a result of Mr. Underwood's suggestion recently the president had fixed upon April 1.

Division and Deep Water.

The two great subjects before the people of this section are so great, also, that they are almost inseparable, and the most ordinary people are deeply interested.

There are riches yet untold awaiting the success of these two projects, all along the line from Sanford to the proposed deep water.

In the upper farming countries the farmer who is owner of low lands—although subject to overflow every three to five years—is considered very fortunate by his neighbor on the high land.

I remember a farmer with a small tract of low land who could furnish many of his neighbors on the high lands in corn, oats, etc., almost any year, and he was supposed to grow only what his farm consumed.

Another who said he hadn't room on the ground on which he grew corn to stack it after it was gathered. In this, the new county, there are thousands of acres of land that overflow once only in about five years.

You may ask, what has Deep Water subject to do with County Division?

I say much indeed, with the deep water or a canal to the deep water the locks can be used to control the high waters in this section to such an extent the finest and most fertile low lands beginning at Sanford, from two to five miles wide all through Beck Hammock, Cameron City, around the lake to Oviedo, through Black Hammock away down into the peninsula of Geneva, back through the vast waste acres of Lake Harney, and so on.

We can do it without even trying.

Corn, oats and hay could be shipped through this canal to the deep water, thence to the world. Should you drop a pumpkin or watermelon seed in these low lands after they are thoroughly prepared, you'd better run for your life or the vines may entangle your feet and your escape be very difficult.

preciate the bountiful gifts nature has bestowed upon us. We are without the shadow of a doubt, one of the most fortunate people on the globe and with so little effort on our part we can make our country the richest of the earth.

And new comers find with us, "Life in Sanford, Harney County, is worth living."

Fancy Work Circle

Mrs. D. A. Caldwell was the charming hostess of the Fancy Work Circle yesterday afternoon. While the busy fingers were engaged with pretty fancy work pleasant conversation was enjoyed by the members of the circle and friends present.

Spoke on Child Labor

At the Congregational church last Sunday, during both morning and evening hours, Rev. Harry P. Vaughn of New York city, a member of the National Child Labor committee, addressed appreciative audiences. In the morning he spoke of the challenge of the child and his right to protection.

The condition of Henry M. Flagler, who injured his hip in a fall at his home in Palm Beach over two weeks ago, remains unchanged except that he shows weariness from the confinement to his bed.

"Sense of Humor"

St. Louis Times:—"A Vice President with a sense of humor should prove far more valuable than one with any sort of equipment. Indeed, it is just possible that Vice President Marshall may succeed in demonstrating that a secondary partner in the work of running the Government is worth while."

"First Guard of Honor"

Denver Times:—"Thomas R. Marshall is the first Vice President in the history of the country to have a special guard of honor."

"Mere Spectator"

Spokane Chronicle:—"He is a mere spectator except in the case of a tie vote on an important question in the Senate. In the councils of the administrative end of the government he has no place unless unofficially and by courtesy of the President."

"No Peanuts"

Savannah News:—"Vice President Marshall seems to have found the 'open door' policy not exactly to his liking. He compared himself to a monkey in a cage, with the difference that nobody offered the Vice President peanuts."

"Senate Duties"

Tacoma News:—"The inaugural address of Vice President Marshall, with fitting discrimination, is devoted to the Senate and its duties, and after frankly telling the Senators that their actions have not always met approval sets up a standard of national honor that the Senate would do well to follow."

LOOK OUT FOR THE CAR!

DO YOU know of anyone who is old enough to read, who has not seen that sign at a railroad crossing?

If everyone has seen it at some time or other, then why doesn't the railroad let the sign rot away? Why does the railroad company continue to keep those signs at every crossing?

Maybe you think, Mr. Merchant, "Most everybody knows my store, I don't have to advertise."

Your store and your goods need more advertising than the railroads need to warn people to "Look Out for the Cars."

Nothing is ever completed in the advertising world.

The Department Stores are a very good example—they are continually advertising—and they are continually doing a good business.

SUGAR MILL FOR FLORIDA

Cane Will Soon be Biggest Crop in the State

MILL LOCATED IN SANFORD

Other State News Called From State Press by Expert Use of the Scissors

A complete working sugar mill in the state of Florida, by the beginning of this year's cane grinding operations, is promised, from all reports, following the tests and examinations made by large interested parties, of the cane sections of the central coast. For several years the state has been under the watchful eye of men who have tested out its possibilities as a cane growing state for commercial use. Chemical analyses of the juice of this mid-state grown cane has brought to light the fact that it is much higher in percentage of saccharine matter than that grown in southern Florida. This is said to be on account of the heavy clay sub soil underlying this mid-state section. The yield per acre is enormous, as shown by actual experiments, and it has been fully demonstrated that this cane will ripen in abundant time to avoid any possible frost that might strike this section in an extraordinary year. Then, too, the opening of the Panama Canal is bound to change the routings of freighters to a large extent, say those interested, and the fact that sugar cane can be raised and manufactured in the state at a point close to a harbor port to the canal, creates an opportunity that will not be overlooked by the manufacturer in the near future.

Jacksonville Metropolis. Sanford is the location for the sugar mill and capitalists have already purchased land here for the mill site.

Florida postmasters, who have been in session at Eustis for a few days, have concluded their deliberations and adjourned to meet next year in St. Augustine.

There is a petition in circulation in Tampa asking for the retention of F. O. Locke for clerk of the federal district court.

A decided effort is being made in Ft. Myers to establish an association that will have for its purpose the uplifting and betterment of the social as well as the industrial conditions of the Seminole Indian.

The members of the National Hardware Dealers' Association who have been in annual convention in Jacksonville are now visiting the southern part of the state. The delegates and their wives and friends make a delightful party of visitors and will no doubt carry to their northern, western and eastern homes pleasant recollections of many Florida cities.

Even after leaving the Governor's chair Albert W. Gilchrist is unable to escape the stage directors who make specialities of giving amateur performances. He was called to Fernandina where he was the leading man in a local talent production entitled "The Revelries of a Bachelor."

The matter of state legislation for the sake of aiding in the construction of ample highways in the counties of Florida, just how such laws must be, and what it will mean to the development of the whole commonwealth, are some of the things the Florida State Good Roads Association has before it at present. The legislative committee of the association will meet in Tallahassee

April 10 for the purpose of working for the passage of good roads legislation.

The management of the Detroit Hotel at St. Petersburg, has accepted a set of plans for a six story room addition to its already large building which will cost about $60,000. The addition will be built as a separate building. The structural work will be of brick throughout in an effort to make it absolutely fire-proof.

STORM PLAYS HAVOC

Wind Causes Damage and Loss of Life

A terrific wind storm causing widespread damage and loss of life and which wrecked the telegraph and telephone service raged over the central west and middle states on Sunday. Reports from Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma and Indiana report a heavy damage but on account of the wrecking of the telegraph lines the reports are fragmentary and lacking in detail. Omaha, and several smaller towns, immediately surrounding it, Marshalltown, and several others in Iowa, and Terre Haute, Ind., are places from which messages come bringing news of great destruction. The death list at Yucatan, Neb., was placed at fifteen and the injured at fifty. For more than four hours no word was heard from the stricken city of Omaha. Late bulletins report that half the city was swept by a tornado. All wires were down and Berlin, a neighboring town was said to be in flames. The message was received over a single long distance telephone wire which worked at intervals.

Terre Haute, Ind., suffered severely. Scores of persons were injured, an unknown number were overwhelmed in the ruins of houses blown down by the wind and many fires were started in different parts of the city. First reports from Nebraska were that the towns visited by the storm were wiped out and trainloads of physicians, nurses and those wishing to help went crowding along the way without running orders on account of the paralysis of the telegraphic system. Life loss in Iowa was less severe according to messages, but rain and hail and tremendous electrical disturbances prevailed as well as in Kansas for nearly all day. Railway service was next to impossible and motor cars were placed in service and physicians and supplies were rushed to the towns destroyed with as much haste as possible under the washed out conditions of the roads.

Sock Social

A delightful event in church circles last week was the "sock social" at the home of Dr. and Mrs. C. E. Walker, under the auspices of the Ladies' Union of the Congregational church. The ladies were very much gratified with their success socially and financially and cordially thank their friends for the generous way in which they responded by returning the little socks well filled. The lower rooms, hall and stairway were beautifully decorated with flowers, ferns and vines, the color scheme in yellow and green being carried out by a profusion of nasturtiums bunched on the mantels and potted in their green foliage. Dr. and Mrs. Walker, assisted by Miss Walker and Mrs. G. B. Waldron received in the hall and directed the attention of the guests to a large yellow stocking table which were dropped the smaller socks containing contributions. The large gathering of all ages enjoyed guessing games and telegrams until the commencement of the program.

The program committee, consisting of Mrs. Secord and Mrs. Charlotte Smith deserve much credit for the splendid program provided. Mrs. Wm. Lee Harvey opened the program with a fine piano selection and was followed by the little Misses Irma and Charlotte Smith in a vocal duet, "Good Morning, Merry Sunshine." The little ladies gracefully responded to an encore with "Over the River." Miss Agnes Henfroe was heard with much pleasure in a vocal solo. Vera Terheun gave a clever recitation, "The Voyage of Arabella." A charming selection was that of Mrs. Brady and Mrs. Wilhelm on the violins, accompanied by Miss Irene Brady at the piano, and they were compelled to respond to an encore. Mrs. W. G. Bennett of Boston, Mass., gave a splendid number on the cornet that was greatly enjoyed. Mr. Wm. Lee Harvey rendered in his usual happy manner three selections that elicited much applause and the program concluded with "Rock a Bye Baby" beautifully rendered by Mr. Woodruff, and not until he responded with "Ida," a

At the close of the program delightful refreshments were served. Miss Claire Walker and Miss Katherine Waldron served punch.

Building and Loan Association Making Great Record

FIFTEEN THOUSAND THIS MONTH

Loans That Mean More Building for Sanford and More Work and Money

The Sanford Building & Loan Association has the reputation of not only being the strongest institution of the kind in the south but the most active. During the past week the Association has closed contracts for the loaning of over $15,000 on property and has more to follow. For many months after the association was formed the secretary was unable to supply sufficient money for the many people who wanted to build homes and all over the city new homes were being built as fast as the money was available. Lately outside capital has been coming into the coffers of the association, as the preferred stock that guarantees 7 per cent to the investors looks mighty good to the northern people who could not get better than 4 per cent, and now Secretary Connolly has a smile that won't come off for his preferred stock is getting results and he has the money coming and this means that houses and more houses will be erected this summer.

The Sanford Association has gained such a reputation that many other Florida cities are modeling their building associations after our plan and other cities are finding out the many benefits of a good, substantial building association.

Our Building Association has accomplished greater results in building up Sanford than any other source and every Sanford citizen is proud of the association and takes a pride in its work.

Jacksonville is now entertaining the first flotilla of submarines of the United States navy in all her history. The present fleet of these small but powerful destroyers being accompanied by the single turret monitor Tonopah and the gunboat Castine as tenders. Lieut. Nimitz in command. The gray hulled monitor and gunboat give to the peaceful harbor at Jacksonville, with its coastwise schooners, steamships and foreign tramps, and other types of the most elegant marine on every side, an unusually picturesque and warlike appearance that is significant as to the future possibilities of this port.

DEATH OF J. A. SILVER

Popular Coast Line Flagman, Killed at Palatka Last Saturday

J. A. Silver or Jake as he was familiarly called by his many friends was killed at Palatka last Saturday morning. He was flagging on a freight train and while standing at the station talking to an associate the train started and had gained a good speed by the time the caboose had reached him. He was an expert trainman and being familiar with the art of catching a swiftly moving train without stopping to think of the speed of the train he swung at the front end of the caboose. In some way he was unable to get a grip on the rail and the momentum of the train swung him with such a sharp jolt that he lost his hold and falling struck the rails of the track and broke his neck and also received a wound in the head. The train was immediately stopped and friends who had witnessed the accident from the station rushed to him, but he was dead when they reached the body.

The remains were brought to Sanford and prepared for burial, the funeral occurring last Sunday at the Baptist church, Rev. Wildman officiating. The church was filled by the many people who had known and loved the young man. His fellow trainmen were present in numbers to pay the respect to the memory of the one who in life had been a friend to every one and was especially beloved by his co-workers of the railway line.

An especially sad feature of the early demise of this young man was the fact of his approaching marriage that was to have taken place next Sabbath morning and the bride to be and the young man's mother made a most pathetic figure at the funeral services and the heartfelt sympathy of every one goes out to them in their hour of affliction.

Jake Silver had been a resident of Sanford since early childhood and by his whole soiled genial spirit and friendly manner had endeared himself to every one in the city and among his many friends in the service of the road.

He was the only son of his mother, Mrs. Osteen, and was her joy and pride, being a perfect specimen of young manhood, clean in his manners and habits and most devoted to his mother, and her last picture of her boy was on the morning of the accident, as he swung from the passing train to bid her a loving good by.

The sympathy of the community is extended to the heartbroken mother and the sweetheart that was soon to become the bride, and in their hour of grief they should be consoled that the loved one has not gone from them forever but only awaits them on the shores of a brighter land.

BIG BLAZE LAST NIGHT

Barn and Outbuildings on the Pace Farm Totally Destroyed

Yesterday evening about 6 o'clock the stern westerly at the water works plant sounding the fire alarm brought every one to the streets and looking west volumes of black smoke were seen and it seemed as though the celery delta was on fire. Investigation showed that the immense barns and outbuildings on the Pace place east of the city had caught fire in some manner and were blazing when the department was summoned. As the farm is beyond the fire plug limit no water could be obtained and precautions were taken to keep the flames from the residence. The live stock had been rescued, but all the hay and grain and farming implements were destroyed and the loss will be a large one with small insurance.

"Garden of Flowers"

The annual concert of the Sanford Music Club will be given Tuesday evening at the Imperial Theatre at 8 o'clock.

"The Garden of Flowers" and several other musical attractions will be given. The club will be assisted in their concert by the best musical talent in Sanford.

Palm Beach county has just held a fair at Delray and from all accounts it must have been very successful and of great value to the county and section. Splendid exhibits were made and the attendance was larger than ever before. An exhibit that created most favorable comment was of three hogs that showed an aggregate weight of one ton.

OUR BUILDING RECORD

Seven New Houses For Past Twenty Days

SANFORD FOR GOOD RESIDENCES

Building Operations That Will Total Over $20,000 for the Past Month.

If there is any doubt about Sanford's healthy growth a glance over the list of new homes for this month will dispell the illusion.

Sanford is so solid that the city does not depend upon the stranger to build beautiful homes, but the residents of Sanford do most of the building and so strong is the faith of the home people in the future of this city that the total of this month's new buildings contracted for will be seven. Not seven cottages, but seven fine homes being built for the owners to reside in and seven nice homes that will total over $20,000 in the approximate cost over and above the cost of the lots and city lots in Sanford are bringing some prices these days.

H. R. Stevens has already commenced the foundation for his home on the corner of Park avenue and Seventh.

B. F. Whitner will build a fine home on the corner of Oak and Seventh.

G. F. Smith has made so much money in celery this season that he will celebrate by building a fine residence on the corner of Ninth street and Magnolia.

And not to be outdone in this locality A. D. Zachary will adorn the other corner of Magnolia and Ninth street with a fine home.

W. C. DeCoursey will erect a nice residence on the corner of Eleventh street and Palmetto.

A. K. Powers has only been here a few months, but has become so imbued with the possibilities of Sanford and the Heights in particular that he will start a fine residence on the Heights at once.

W. W. Abernathy has owned several fine houses in the city, but will build a fine home for himself on the corner of Magnolia avenue and Seventh street.

This record is only for the month of March up to today and there are several other homes in contemplation, the deals waiting on the desks for the lots. It is estimated that in Sanford this summer, aside from the building of a tourist hotel that there will be about fifty new houses erected, some for rental purposes and many of them for private homes of Sanford citizens.

Easter Egg Hunt

In charge of several ladies of the church the Sunday school children of the Church of the Holy Cross enjoyed their annual Easter egg hunt in the grounds surrounding the rectory Monday afternoon. The larger boys of the Sunday school had the eggs and the little folks had a merry hunt and the fun of finding them. After all the eggs were found they were placed in a large nest until the children enjoyed the punch and cake, which the ladies served them after they had been seated on the ground. The pretty eggs in the nest were then divided among the children and the pleasant frolic was over.

Pleasant Social

The exceedingly inclement weather last Friday evening prevented a large number from attending the social that was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Stewart, by the Ladies Aid Society and the Helping Hand Society of the Baptist church. A goodly number braved the elements and had a royal good time, in the enjoyment of music, recitations and parlor games, and also punch, cake and candy.

Budget of Opinion "Just Between You and Me"

EVEN THE GATE POST NOT IN IT

A Chief is Among Ye Taking Notes and Faith, He'll Prent 'Em— So Says Sannter.

Give Us Men God, give us men! A time like this demands strong minds, great hearts, true faith and ready hands; Men whom the lust of office does not kill; Men whom the spoils of office cannot buy; Men who possess opinions and a will; Men who have honor, men who will not lie; Men who can stand before a demagogue; And damn his treacherous flatteries without winking; Tall men, sun-crowned, who live above the fog in public duty and in private thinking; For while the rabble, with their thumb worn crooks, Their large pretensions and their little deeds, Mingle in selfish strife, let Freedom wage, Wrong rules the land, and waiting Justice sleep!

We need them every hour and they were never needed in Sanford more than now. Men who will fight battles. Men who will stand for the right and let their own chances for profit go glimmering as they put their shoulders to the wheel in the stand for a bigger and better city. Men who will forget their petty spites and stop the childish quarrels long enough to join the big majority that is always working unselfishly for Sanford. Men who do things not thinking of gain and self and official honors. Men who really go into a fight because it is right and fight it out to the end for the same principles. Men who think only of Sanford's future and bury their personal desires beneath the smiling exterior that honest hearts give to honest faces.

I see by the paper that Wesley Fry will have charge of the public utilities of Sanford under the new regime of the new company that recently purchased all of them. This is a well deserved promotion for a young man who has struggled from the lower rungs of the ladder and strictly by his own efforts placed himself at the position of superintendent of the water works, electric light and gas and ice plants. He will make good because making good has been his business from the time he struck Sanford as a youngster down to the present time. He started in here as a plumbers' assistant and also worked in a tin shop. This was his vocation in the day time but at night Wesley was studying books and learning all about the many things outside of his daily vocation. He then took a position with the gas company and learned that thoroughly and when electricity was discovered in Sanford by some fellow who accidentally took a trip to New York Wesley became interested and was anxious to see just where the juice came from, and why the current did not come from a growing "plant" and he went back to the books again, and when Sanford finally became satisfied that electricity was not dangerous for street lighting and the city council granted a company the right to make electric lights at a small minimum of $2.50, Wesley Fry was right on the job and knew as much as any of the experts who came down to teach the crackers how to electrocute themselves without paying (pain). If Wesley knows but little about ice and water I will warrant he finds out about the system in a few weeks, for he has learned the secret of applying himself and spending idle hours is not in his category. I always like to see the home boys making good and making good at home is rather more difficult than making good in a foreign country, as the prophet is always without honor in his own country except in this case and therefore Wesley Fry deserves more credit than the average young man.

Hai hai hai! Business of baldheaded men chuckling. Have you noticed how happy the unshaven members are these days? They simply can't stop laughing. Every time you meet one of them his face is far enough ajar to look at his interior decorations. Its the first time most of them have even smiled since the last trace of vegetation vanished from their upper decks.

As you are probably aware, there is only one thing that can squeeze a good healthy laugh out of a man whose hair has deserted him. That is the promise of something that will recede his hair from its barren condition. That is just what the doctor...

A European physician has brought joy to the hairless with the announcement that frequent applications of music will convert their heads into luxuriant hair gardens. His announcement carries with it the assurance that if they take up the tortures of the piano, fiddle, harp and certain other instruments they will soon be in a position to lend hair to the Sutherland sisters.

In support of his discovery the doctor offers the names of Paderewski, De Pachmann, Ysaye and other noted physicians who are as famous for their hair-raising achievements as for their musical ability. It is intimated that famous musicians have been aware of the beneficial effects of music upon the hair. Some of them have jealously withheld the secret from secret from the general public for fear of impairing their trade mark. Some go so far as to accuse the original old music masters of taking up their musical vocations for the sole purpose of keeping out of the hard boiled egg class.

Funny no one figured music as first aid to flowing locks before. With so much evidence on all sides of the connection between hair and harmony it is remarkable that the coincidence should have been overlooked. Most of us will resent the author's discovering what is so apparent now and what should have been apparent ages ago. That's always the way—some one else thinks of it first.

In crediting the various instruments for the part they have played in accelerating human hair the piano wins first place without a struggle. That champion piano players have more hair than they can manage will be conceded without further argument. It is impossible to mention any of the famous ivory ticklers without conjuring up pictures of hanging gardens, hay mows and the like.

But the piano's claim to distinction as a hair restorer does not rest entirely on the heads of the more famous artists. The most obscure piano thumpers are invariably well supplied with hair. On second thought, I cannot recall ever having seen a bald piano player, or a piano tuner or even a piano mover. There may be such, but their rightly barnished bellies have never thrown a ray of light across my path. The most careful mental search fails to recall any one connected with the piano industry who did not require a hair cut.

In his announcement as to the instruments that produce the best results in the hair growing line the author eliminates the pianola. He is undoubtedly aware of the fact that that instrument has been an important factor in creating baldness, many persons plucking their foliage out in wads when the neighbors insist in beating on their pianolas. The man who tackles the pianola with a view to raising hair stands a good chance of not living to see his crop.

While it is certain that nine out of ten bald headed persons will start taking piano lessons, the discoverer of the secret says that splendid results will be obtained by constant practice on the cello, harp, banjo and accordion. For the sake of humanity it is hoped that few of the afflicted ones will resort to the latter instrument.

The fact that the accordion is supposed to produce curly hair will undoubtedly cause hundreds of bald headed actors to squeeze these athletic instruments but a collection of curls cannot be acquired by this method without an alarming increase in insanity. It is doubtful if any one wants to pay such an awful price for ringlets.

The flute, clarinet and harmonica are recommended to those who are desirous of acquiring an ordinary crop of hair, the flute being credited with producing flows of the silkiest kind. Instruments that require a great deal of lung power, cor cornets, trombones and tubas are to be avoided if the owner of a bald head wishes to retain the few remaining wisps of evidence that his face once stopped at the hatband. Wind instruments are fatal to hair, according to the doctor. He points out that the average brass band cannot muster enough hair to stuff a pin-cushion. He says that every time a cornetist blows a note he blows out a hair, a fact which explains why so many leading brass blowers have such extremely long faces.

The author is conducting experiments with the bass drum to ascertain whether it will be of any use in his hair raising campaign. Experiments conducted thus far convince me that the best that can be expected from close application to the bass drum is a crop of bristles. Not as welcome as hair, perhaps, but preferable to complete baldness any day. It is likely that men who can afford the expense will practice on all the instruments in order that no guilty hair may escape.

It would take a whole season of grand opera to grow hair on some of our most important heads, and the owners of some of these craniums will undoubtedly abandon the collection of other things while they endeavor to complete their collection of hair. Men who have everything but hair will now treat themselves to piano and organ recitals, paying artists fabulous prices to raise hair for them.

Do not be surprised if you see men of uncertain age dashing through the streets with music rolls tucked under their arms. Don't laugh if you meet a man with one foot in the grave and both hands choking a concertina. He should be encouraged in his determination to delay his departure from here until his head is fit for publication. The whole world is in an epidemic of music and you might as well prepare for the worst. You are prepared already if you live in an apartment house.

Barbers are jubilant over the doctor's announcement. They are behaving like human beings for the first time since the safety razor made its appearance. More hair means more work for them. In order to force the demand for their services many barbers are installing orchestras and graphophones in their shops. Some barbers have announced their intention of giving away harmonicas with every haircut.

THE SANFORD HERALD

Published Every Tuesday and Friday Morning By THE HERALD PRINTING COMPANY R. J. HOLLY, Editor

Postmaster Haskins does not believe in rotation in office and is heartily in favor of all postmasters serving out their full time.

Orlando Sentinel states that if Sanford charters a special train for Tallahassee the train will have to be paid for in advance.

The Herald has received several inquiries about stock from men who some time ago wished to invest.

CROWDED OUT OF BARTOW Bartow has so many winter visitors that they have no place to put them.

"Popular Visitor Leaves Bartow" (Crowded Out Last Week)

SANFORD HAS THE GOODS

Sanford people want the legislature to divide Orange county in such a way as to make Sanford the logical seat of the new county.

BUILDING A CITY

Confidence in your home town means more to your town than all the bombastic advertising that can be done.

dwelling that total over $20,000 and these houses are not for rental purposes but for the residences of the owners.

There are more to follow and this season will be one of the busiest in the history of Sanford in the building line.

Florida should investigate the claims of Sanford, the city where home people place their own money in fine homes.

HOW SHOCKING

Isn't it shocking? President Wilson has appointed John Skelton Williams assistant secretary of the treasury.

ON THE FEE QUESTION

Among the important questions looked for consideration by the next legislature is the compensation received by the county officers.

ABOUT OUR POSTOFFICE

The term of Postmaster Haskins holds over for some three years, and if the President and Postmaster General carry out their policy of retaining the second class postmasters for some time there is not much hope for a new postmaster for several years.

for the position. He has done nothing yet in getting up a petition or hobnobbing with the powers that be for the position.

A STATEMENT FROM THE GOVERNOR

published in a recent issue of the Herald asserts that "the ideal system of banking will guarantee the absolute return of every dollar deposited, and this will insure the greatest possible volume of loanable funds for the needs of business."

THIS COINCIDES PERFECTLY with the statement we have been making for the past seven years in Sanford. The plan we operate under is conceded to be the best that has ever been developed, being nearer to the Payne-Muldrich idea than any of the others.

DEPOSIT INSURANCE is much like other insurance except that under our system the Trustees of our Guarantee Fund do not take it for granted that we are running our bank in the proper manner.

WE BELIEVE WE HAVE AN IDEAL SYSTEM and to prove the confidence the community asserts in our financial stability, we have but to call attention to our statements published during last week in the Herald.

Cleaning-up Day just one week off. There should be the town knocker, referendum and recall of the town knocker. Don't do things on too small a scale. An umbrella is a shelter for one and a shower bath for two.

Don't get chummy over our town. Most letters are found on tombstones. Florida will be the sugar state of the nation. We are now working along these lines syrup-tidiously.

You never know how many tired fellows there are in our town until you ask them to work on a committee.

Just when you think you are getting the hang of it, they are men of might. If you are not, they are men of might. If you are not, they are men of might. If you are not, they are men of might.

This town has many records broken this year. It wouldn't hurt to break a few more—especially the record for the trade on the hit and miss plan. Like a stopped clock—correct once in twelve times.

Lots of men in our town will take a fifteen cent cigar when treated and smoke a pipe on themselves.

Engineer Atkins and wife have taken housekeeping rooms at the Fairview.

Mrs. M. A. Mott is in Atlanta this week where she was called by the serious illness of her mother.

J. C. Calhoun is very ill at the home of his daughter, Mrs. John Parker, and on account of his advanced age grave fears are entertained for his recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Harris are house-keeping at the Fairview. Mr. Harris has twenty-five men getting out wood and ships it by the car load.

Prepared for the program has been prepared for the program for this evening at the Imperial Theatre.

Seth Wenden of Ocala returned to the man of the Orange County Executive Committee last Saturday and is receiving the congratulations of friends.

Mrs. H. B. Connolly returned last Saturday evening from a delightful trip where she spent the past two weeks.

Miss Florence Moore spent the week end with her sister, Mrs. Maxton Hopwood, returning to Oakland Saturday evening.

The Episcopal ladies will have an apron and cap sale, and will also serve cake and sherbet Saturday afternoon and evening, March 29th, at the store formerly occupied by W. L. Morgan's hardware store. Everybody cordially invited. 12-27p

Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Becker and family left yesterday for their home in Redville, Indiana. Becker purchased the Station place, Myrtle avenue and will return in the fall to make Sanford his home.

West Siders, attention! Cleaning-up Day one week off and the whole town has its eyes upon this section. We mean business.

Cleaning-up Day is epidemic all over the L. S., just as far as we can reach. Sanford is the first Florida town to get into line. This is a distinction. Sharpen up your toes and lawn mowers for April 2nd. Everybody busy is the slogan.

Mrs. Ida S. Parramore and daughter, Miss Annie of Jacksonville arrived in the city last week, and are guests of Mrs. Parramore's mother, Mrs. A. A. Strine.

Miss Eugenia Mauldin of Washington is spending the Easter holidays with her father, Mrs. A. P. Connolly and Mrs. H. B. Connolly.

Mr. Connolly, who has charmed so many with his artistic and delightful performance in his violin will assist the Master Club in their concert this evening at the Imperial Theatre at 8 o'clock.

The Senior Ewerth League of the Methodist church held their regular meeting in the church Sunday evening at 8:30.

Come to the Imperial Theatre Tuesday evening, March 26th and enjoy a fine musical program to be given by the Sanford Musical Club. Tickets are being sold at the Imperial Theatre.

Patrolmen have never more receiving better views and other produce have been received and other produce have turned out satisfactorily. The town of Sanford is decidedly improved. The county is going to be divided. The town of Sanford is going to be divided. The town of Sanford is going to be divided.

News and Views From the Nations Capital

APPROPRIATIONS FOR HARBORS

New Administration Will be Economical But Will Spend Money For Improvements

Washington, D. C., March 24 (Special)—Fifty millions a year for waterways, the slogan of the National Rivers and Harbors Congress will be realized for this year at least. Besides congressional appropriations of $5,785,800 the River and Harbor bill of 1935 made cash appropriations amounting to $41,074,094; the Sundry Civil bill for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1934, which failed of passage during the closing hours of the early Congress, but which will be passed early in the extra session of the 74th Congress, will carry $10,000,000 making upwards of fifty-two millions of dollars available for rivers and harbors—a sum to be expended in the interests of commerce.

In a general review of the River and Harbor bill, the National Rivers and Harbors Congress says:

"This is the time, not for the re-orientation, but for the re-orientation of effort. Much has to be accomplished, but much remains to be done. The waterways cause has enemies as well as friends and very successions are being made. The Congress of the United States is responsive to public opinion, and the work of the National Rivers and Harbors Congress, which is that of creating an intelligent and forceful public opinion regarding the benefits of improved waterways, must be continued until a great national system of improved waterways has become an accomplished fact."

While the new Democratic administration proposes to be economical, it is not understood that economy is not to be practiced at the expense of great public interests. The Panama Canal is to be properly garnished with troops, river and harbor works are to continue under the present advantageous program, an additional $100,000,000 will be provided and efforts will be made to build a military port at San Francisco, and a military port at Oahu, Hawaii and the Canal Zone. There is a demand for an increase of that arm of the National defense.

The present day fashion in fiscal administration for men is reflected in the Cabinet of President Wilson in a most impressive manner. All are smooth shaven with the exception of Attorney General McReynolds and Secretary of Commerce Redfield. The former has a perfectly black moustache, while Mr. Redfield displays a hirsute adornment not unlike the youth of Pilecidia sported in the days of William Makepeace Thackeray. When the members group themselves about the cabinet table the Secretary of Commerce leans up, to use a jaded figure, like Mrs. at Perchbon. Thirty-two states have ratified the amendment to the Constitution, on four more states being needed to make it a part of the historic document. Supporters of the amendment are hopeful that it will be amended this spring. In fruitless balloting now going on for the Senators in Illinois, should his ratification come early, the people of Illinois would be called upon immediately to express their choice as to the polls in order that the state may have its proper representation in the upper branch of the national legislature.

JUDGES ANNOUNCE THE WINNERS IN THE PIANO CONTEST; THE VICTORIOUS ONES.

Miss Maude Cameron Wins the Grand Prize.

Committee of Judges Composed of Messrs. Forest Lake and H. E. Tolar, Make Official Announcement of the Result, after Carefully Checking up the Votes won by Each Contestant.

The task of tabulating and counting the votes in The Herald's contest has been finished and the following is a list of the prize winners:

First Prize, The Piano Player was won by Miss Maude Cameron.

Second Prize, $25.00 Brass Bed, Mrs. R. A. Newman.

Third Prize, A Gold Watch, Miss Ruth McDaniel.

Fourth Prize, A Gold Locket was won by Mrs. R. L. Griffin.

The winner of the first prize had 1,638,009 votes.

The committee of judges, consisting of Messrs. Forrest Lake and H. E. Tolar had a large amount of work to perform in connection with the contest and they did it in a splendid manner. The Herald appreciates very much the assistance of these capable and efficient gentlemen in the capacity of judges.

In checking over and adding the certificates that represented the votes, the greatest care was used. The certificates were first assorted by names of contestants, and then each contestants votes were totalled on adding machines, afterward being carefully verified.

When summing up the amount of work done during the eleven weeks of the contest it was tremendous. The most striking feature is the very large number of new subscriptions added to the list, and the new territory entered, which has not heretofore been covered by The Herald.

Two Winter Resorts

The two resorts are no great distance apart as the crow flies. One of them consists mainly of a vast hotel. Its golf scores and dinner parties are carefully telegraphed to the metropolis press. Winter before last a western lady made elaborate preparations for a social campaign there; and on the third day she wrote home despairingly: "I have to eat luncheon and dinner in my room because my very best dresses are the kind the women wear here to breakfast." What it costs to stay at this resort is mentioned among common folks with half incredulous awe.

The dungs at the second resort are never chronicled abroad except in personal letters to the Lone Elm Vineyarder and the Peach Hollow Weekly Gazette. Its hotels make no pretensions to style anywhere except in their names. There are not even golf links. Elderly resorters pitch quoits and play croquet in their alaridreves, others go fishing and bathing. The average expenditure for a fortnight about averages the equal for a day at the first resort.

The smart resort would pronounce the other one quite impossible; but in ten years the smart resort has changed scarcely at all. Each January a crowd of affluent persons flock there. An army of servants is mobilized there from afar to wait upon them. Much food and drink, to suit their exacting tastes, is imported. In March they go away, and from April to the holidays the resort is mainly given over to some caretakers and speculative buzzards.

Meanwhile the second resort has grown from a struggling village in the sand to a very brisk little city, with some twenty miles of well paved streets, deep harbor improvements, three good public school buildings and other evidences of healthy prosperity. The undistinguished, middling sort who went there are the sort that built this ~~city~~ is in their nature to strike a root into the soil. "Pretty good place," eh, Tom? I believe it's got a future. Let's buy that five acres and put up some cottages." It's true everywhere; for a solid growth, get the undistinguished, middling crowd. Saturday Evening Post.

Cooperation means everybody clean up—April 2nd.

A pertinent suggestion. Be sure to cut the grass on the edges of your sidewalks. High grass growing on the sidewalks ruins dainty gowns.

Cleaning up day in the West Side April 2nd.

Went up in the Aeroplane

Ralph Wight spent last Sunday at Daytona Beach, and being invited to take a flight in the aeroplane that is making daily flights over there accepted the invitation. The pilot of the aeroplane is a most charming lady, which accounts for the avidity with which the Sanford boy accepted the invitation to go up aloft. Ralph states that the flight was a most delightful sensation but the sharp sea air brought the tears to his eyes, although the thoughts of home and mother may have had something to do with the lachrymos part of the flight.

Orlando Will Bond

The City Council at its meeting last night passed a resolution instructing the city attorney to draft a bill to present to the Legislature meeting in Tallahassee next month, asking it to grant to Orlando the privilege to bond for one hundred thousand dollars to be used in paving streets. With this amount it is estimated that Orlando will be given about eleven miles more of paved streets, covering practically the principal streets of the city with vitrified brick paving. Under the present ordinances the abutting property owners are required to pay for half the paving, so with the $100,000 bond issue there would be $200,000 available for paving purposes. When this project is carried out Orlando will have more paved streets for its size than any city in the south, and perhaps in the United States.—Reporter-Star.

BURYING THE VICTIMS

Funerals In Omaha All Day Long Since Storm

FIFTY TWO FUNERALS ONE DAY

Happenings From The World at Large by Wire and by Wireless Grapevine

Fifty-two funerals silently wending their way to cemeteries brought home with greater force to the people of Omaha today the full realization of the extent of Sunday's tornado. All day long as fast as hearses could deposit the bodies at graves, a continual death procession was kept up. There was little ceremony. As quickly as one funeral was over another began. Undertakers cooperated in arranging burials. In several instances where entire families were killed or where more than one member of the family awaited burial a single funeral service was held. Many cases of destitution were reported. The rescue work was slow. It took much time to prepare card index of sufferers' wants and to make requisitions on the central relief station at the auditorium for supplies. While these formalities were being carried through want stalked through disconsolate homes from end to end. Forty-five more persons applied for aid than any other day. There remained, however, many reasons which prevented sufferers from applying for assistance.

The fortress of Adrianople was taken by storm by the Bulgarians this morning, after fighting the most terrible character since Mousley. Flames are devastating the city. At an early hour this morning fires were raging in various sections of the beleaguered city. The maddened population, whose nerves had been shattered by the almost incessant bombardment for a period of over five months, was fleeing about the streets from one point to another, not knowing where to find shelter.

Senator Nathan P. Bryan has taken up the Florida delayed mail situation in earnest. The records in the case are en route to Postmaster General Burleson, and says that if necessary he will make an immediate trip to Washington, and take the matter up personally with the Postmaster General. The Senator said that he appreciated the calling of his attention of this condition, and will exert his ever effort for immediate relief.

Will Open Dancing School

Arrangements are being made to open a dancing school to be conducted by Mrs. E. Glasgow Mehrtens of Jacksonville. The hall above the city council chambers will be used and the best music obtainable will be engaged.

The class will meet on the second and fourth Monday nights and the following Wednesday nights and every Friday night at 7:30 to 8:30. Dancing will then continue until 12:00 o'clock.

A children's class will be held every Friday afternoon for the benefit of the little folks.

It is expected that considerable interest will be taken in this class as Mrs. Mehrtens is highly recommended as a dancing teacher and good music will be furnished at all times. Mrs. Mehrtens may be seen at Mrs. Overman's Millinery Parlors.

Basket Ball

The Sanford High School five will meet the crack Daytona five on the home court next Friday, April 4.

The Daytona five are in fine shape and are sure of the game, but the captain of the S. H. S. team is sure to get his team into shape to win.

The game will be called at 3 o'clock.

has been considerably thinned out during the past twelve months, owing to the stringent city ordinance and the activity of Dog Catcher Schlemann. The city's records show that during the twelve month period Schlemann has executed 2,184 dogs and 686 cats.—Tampa Notes in Times-Union.

Flames and Floods Destroy Thousands of People in Indiana and Ohio

Unprecedented Rush of Waters Flood the Fertile Valley of the Prosperous Middle States

Three thousand may have perished in the deluge which swept the northern half of the Ohio River Valley Tuesday and Wednesday. Probably a half million people were made homeless by the flood in Indiana and Ohio, and the property damage in both states will be at least $100,000,000.

These facts were compiled late today from reports received here from various points in the stricken district. Further reports may increase the number of the dead and it is unlikely that a decrease in property loss will be reported.

An additional horror was reported yesterday from Dayton. Fire there seemed uncontrollable in view of the paralysis of the water plant. This probably brought a horrible death to many who sought to escape drowning by climbing to upper floors of buildings.

Flames that destroyed buildings in Dayton's submerged business section tonight cast a red, weird glow over the flood stricken city that added to the fear of thousands of refugees and marooned persons, and led to apprehension that there may have been many of the water's prisoners in the burned buildings.

Soon after notice was posted in headquarters of the emergency committee, announcing that the city was under martial law, several companies of soldiers arrived from neighboring cities to patrol the edges of the submerged district and prevent further looting of homes freed from the flood's grasp. Up to a late hour tonight there had been no material disorder.

At 1:15 o'clock this morning State Guardsmen shot and killed a man attempting to loot the homes of flood victims in Fifth street.

That a fierce fire which appeared to be sweeping through the half submerged business district late tonight had destroyed the Breckel house, where were supposed to be more than two thousand flood refugees, was the consensus of opinion of scores of watchers on top of the National Cash Register building, nearly two miles from the scenes of the flames.

At midnight residents of Dayton watching the course of the flames from across the wide stretch of flood waters believed the fire got its new start this afternoon in the store of the Patterson Tool & Supply Company, on Third street, just east of Jefferson. Thence it ate its way west, apparently aided by escaping gas and exploding chemicals in a wholesale drug establishment.

Jerome Palmer, an old resident and business man of Orlando, is missing and circumstances all point to the theory that he has taken his own life. He has been suffering from severe nervous trouble for several months and has been an inmate of Dr. McEwen's sanitarium. He has been somewhat better and has been allowed to go out riding and yesterday morning he went for a horseback ride on his own favorite saddle horse. Not returning in a reasonable time, three of his friends, A. G. Brenham, Clark Robertson and Charles Lartigue, started out to find him. They finally located his horse grazing on the shores of Lake Holden, just southwest of the city limits. A thorough search of the lake shores and all the region about the lake has failed to find any of his belongings and the theory is that he has taken his own life, either by drowning or shooting himself, as it is known that he has made several attempts to borrow a revolver within the past few days. He was unmarried and has been a successful business man and the only possible theory is that he took his own life while out of his mind. A thorough search will be continued in the morning to ascertain where he is, if alive, and locate the body, if the suicide theory is true.

Later, the body was found in Lake Milton last night.

Jacksonville will send a delegation to the biennial convention of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen which is to take place in San Francisco, May 19-24. The delegates will ask that Jacksonville be allowed to try at entertaining the big biennial convention of 1916.

Florida was never represented in the United States Senate by an able or more popular man than Senator Duncan U. Fletcher, and Floridians have just cause to be proud of the manner in which he has been recognized in the organization of the Senate committee, through which nearly all legislation is shaped in that body. He is chairman of the committee on printing, which carries with it the chairmanship of the joint committee on printing, and is also a member of the commerce, judiciary and military affairs committees, all of them the most important committees of the senate.

Entailing a loss of thousands of dollars to the truckers of the lower end of the county, the heavy rain of Monday and Tuesday has proved to be the most disastrous event of the season in the trucking business in this vicinity. The rainfall south of the city was unprecedented for this season of the year, and coming just at the height of the tomato harvest has caught the farmers at the worst possible time. The loss is variously estimated at from ten to fifty per cent, with a complete loss in some districts.—Miami Herald.

During the week ending March 15, there were 7,030,000 cigars shipped out of Tampa. Most of the factories are going at full blast and The Times says if the present trade keeps up this will be a record breaking year.

The Gainesville Board of Public Works has awarded contracts pertaining to the construction of an electric light and waterworks system combined, the cost not to exceed $97,173. The municipality already owns the waterworks system, but it is not large enough to supply the demands and furnish the fire protection that is desired, with the result that a fund of $40,000 was raised through a special bond issue to enlarge or extend the system. At an election held about seven years ago, $50,000 in bonds was voted for the purpose of erecting a light plant, but for various reasons no definite move was made towards consummating the project until about a year ago. The privately owned lighting plant is now too small to meet the demands made upon it.

Apply to Associated Charities

Sanford was worked very systematically on Thursday by a woman carrying a small child, and soliciting money with which to buy a ticket to South Carolina, where she claimed she had relatives. She presented a petition that was endorsed by a friend. In several instances she was told that she was violating a city ordinance in begging from house to house, and directed to the secretary of the Associated Charities, who would have carefully looked into her needs and done the soliciting in her behalf if it had been necessary.

She did not apply to the Charity office but continued begging and at last accounts had collected about enough to buy her ticket.

The citizens of Sanford are making a great mistake to indiscriminately hand out funds to strangers without any investigation.

The Associated Charities office has been established and is being maintained for the purpose of handling such cases and they should be immediately turned over to them. The average citizen has not the time nor the inclination to bother to look into the affairs of these applicants sufficiently to find out if it is money for a ticket that he really needs or something he wants.

The Associated Charities would advise the people of Sanford not to buy any more tickets to South Carolina or elsewhere until it is proven beyond a doubt that it is best for all concerned.

Mrs. J. C. McDaniel, Secretary

Bridge Club

Mrs. E. L. Woodruff entertained the Bridge Club Thursday afternoon. Three tables of bridge were played, one of which was a guest table.

The club prize, a deck of cards was won by Miss Annie Hawkins, who made the highest score. At the guest table, the prize also a deck of cards was won by Mrs. J. L. Hurt. When the games of cards were concluded a delicious fruit salad, sandwiches, coffee, with a and tea were served.

Mrs. Woodruff's guests were Mrs. M. Synon, Mrs. B. A. Howard, Mrs. Kent Rossetter, Mrs. C. C. Howard, Mrs. R. J. Holly, Mrs. Deane Turner, Miss Annie Hawkins, Mrs. J. C. Bennett, Mrs. A. Fitta, Mrs. E. B. Brown, Mrs. J. L. Hurt.

To Protect The Birds.

Miss Catherine H. Stuart of Virginia, is in the city today and will lecture at the public schools on the question of preserving our birds. Miss Stuart is National Field Agent of the Audubon Society and of the Florida Society and is doing a great work in preserving the birds that are being ruthlessly slaughtered. Her work in Florida is chiefly in behalf of Robin Redbreast, the little fellow whose fate is hanging in the balance in Florida at present and many bird lovers and chiefly the Audubon Society are interesting themselves to save this fine bird for future generations.

Sanford in the Movies.

Sanford celery fields were shown in the movie in Jacksonville this week but Sanford was not given any place in the picture and there were no labels on the views. The pictures were made some time since at the farm of A. Durner and everyone supposed that at least the name of Sanford would appear on the movie.

nothing in the picture to show that fields, although any one seeing the picture would know that at no other place in the United States could such a large amount of celery be grown nor could such quality be demonstrated. The movies show the celery from the seed beds to the markets and is a fine exposition of the celery business.

Has Fine Potatoes.

L. J. Hancock brought some Irish potatoes to Sanford yesterday that were excellent specimens. They were large and smooth and hearty looking and Mr. Hancock ought to realize a good price for them.
