Navy Did Not Get Japanese Code Signal

Capt. McCollum Says Superiors Refused To Send Warning To Fleet Commanders

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—(AP)—The Congressional Pearl Harbor investigators heard today that the Navy never received a prewar Japanese message telling of a break with the United States. The testimony came from Navy Capt. A.H. McCollum, head of the far eastern section of the office of Naval Intelligence in 1941. McCollum said that if any message of the sort had been picked up, it would have come to him.

The questions of the Congressional investigators were in connection with a Japanese code system set up in Nov., 1941. That code provided for the insertion of certain phrases in weather forecasts in the event of a decision to break with the United States, Russia or Great Britain.

McCollum said that about the middle of the week of Dec. 1 to the 7, 1941, he heard that a message had come in that meant "trouble with Russia." However, upon analysis, experts concluded that the message was just an ordinary weather broadcast. He said that there were no so-called "code words" referring to the United States or Britain.

Mrs. C. Casper's Condition Termed As Satisfactory

Condition of Mrs. Charles Casper, 314 Chapman Avenue, who yesterday morning was struck in the neck by a stray bullet from a .22 caliber rifle which penetrated the window of her bedroom as she was reading the right side of the front page of the paper, was today pronounced satisfactory by her attending physician, Dr. C. L. Park.

Yesterday at 1:30 o'clock, Dr. Park, at Fernald-Laughton Memorial hospital, extracted the bullet which had penetrated the right side of the front of the neck and was lodged under and just to the left of the wind pipe, but did not penetrate any vital area.

Police are seeking the whereabouts or identity of the person who fired the shot which came from a southeasterly direction over a field to the south of the house.

C.P. Collins, 84, Died In Virginia

C.P. Collins, 84, father of Mrs. C.A. Jones of Sanford and Dr. C.C. Collins of DeLand, died on Monday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. J.H. Lewis at Cripple Creek, Va., after a lingering illness.

Mr. Collins resided in West Virginia and came to Florida in 1925 with his daughter Mrs. A. Jones. He was an active member of the Methodist Church at Hunterville, West Virginia until his retirement. He was born in Hootersman, W. Va., Sept. 31, 1861. Mrs. Collins, the former Belle Orson Burghy of Richmond, Va., died in 1918.

In addition to his daughter in Sanford and son in DeLand, Mr. Collins is survived by five other sons, Dr. C.B. Collins, Dr. W. W. Collins and O.B. Collins, all of West Virginia, E.E. Collins of Greenville, Md. and D.B. Collins of Madison, W. Va. and two daughters, Mrs. O.H. Bennett of Fairmont, W. Va. and Mrs. J.E. Lewis of Cripple Creek, Va. Funeral services were held at the Hunterville Methodist Church and cremation was in the family cemetery.

Rev. Branscombe Front Wall Of Oak Ave. Brick Building Falls

Is Main Speaker At Kiwanis Meet Have Good Sense Of Humor Is Advice Of Orlando Pastor

"Have a good sense of humor, and laugh at yourself and the world; Don't live in a little rut but expand your area of awareness to include your whole state, nation and the world, and live for others."

That was the advice that the Rev. John Branscombe, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Orlando, gave to Kiwanians yesterday at their meeting at the Hotel Mayfair.

By way of illustrating humor he told the story of a Methodist pastor who had been called to the sick bed of a member of the Baptist Church.

"Why did your mother, a Baptist, call me, a Methodist preacher?" he asked the small son of the house as they walked up the steps.

"Well to tell the truth, Maw has a terribly contagious disease," replied the lad, "and we didn't want to expose our preacher to it!"

Rev. Branscombe spoke of the stomic bomb as bringing about the realization that this is one world, and what happens in China or Japan affects conditions everywhere else.

"There is great danger that we will forget our lesson; that we don't just live in Sanford or Orlando, we live in the world," he said and quoted names of far away places such as the Solomons, Tunisia, Alexandria and others of which people prior to the war had been only vaguely aware.

He paid tribute to the late W. R. O'Neal of Orlando, and told of the beautiful floral tribute at his recent funeral, and said that for 51 years, Mr. O'Neal had devoted himself to the interests of Central Florida.

To Frank Lamson, Kiwanis song leader, Ed Lane presented a large ribbon depicting an old grey mule, a small rabbit and Mr. Lamson leading Kiwanians in their favorite song, "The Old Grey Mule." Said Mr. Lane, "It is a pleasure to present to you this picture of you and your buddy. Please hang this in your office to remind you of that song you have sung so much."

Mr. Lane declared later that the rabbit represented a well known Kiwanian of small stature.

Early To Bed Out Of Question For Ladies Of White House Tonight

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—(AP)—Early to bed is out of the question for the ladies of the White House these days. Mrs. Harry Truman and daughter Mary Margaret have less than eight parties on their schedule for tonight. They are eight of the Roosevelt birthday balls put on in the nation's capital to raise funds to fight infantile paralysis.

The first lady and her daughter will leave the White House promptly at 9:45 o'clock tonight for their round of parties. At the last stop, Mrs. Truman will cut a cake commemorating the 12th anniversary of the celebration.

The evening schedule is only one part of Mrs. Truman's calendar today. She will have 75 guests to lunch at the White House. The list includes many visiting motion picture stars: Van Johnson, Alexis Smith, Margaret O'Brien, Paul Henreid, Diana Lynn, Eddie Bracken, Orson Wells, Charles Coburn, Constance Moore, and Gene Kelly, among them.

Last night the ladies of the White House were up late, today they went out at midnight to say hello to crowds at special benefit shows in three Washington theaters. Dressed in a black crepe evening dress, Mary Margaret told in un-rehearsed words that she was glad to have a job in the infantile paralysis campaign at large until this epidemic is cleared up, for it will probably become necessary for the Police Department to take such action as destroying or impounding all stray dogs in order to keep this disease from spreading.

Mosher Calls For National Labor Policy

NAM Head Says Plan Only Assurance New Strikes Will Not Follow Settlements

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—(AP)—Board chairman Leo Mosher of the National Association of Manufacturers has today called for "an over-all national policy which can serve as a foundation for industrial peace." In a statement prepared for the Senate Labor Committee, Mosher says that such a policy is the only assurance that new strikes won't pop up soon after existing disputes are settled.

The Senate Labor Committee currently is considering President Truman's proposal for a finding in major labor disputes. In this connection, the NAM spokesman says he is personally in favor of fact-finding, but he has added that this is only a small part of the entire labor-management picture. Fact-finding says Mosher should be used only to "clarify and state the true attitude of the parties." He does not feel that fact-finding should be used for passing judgment on making recommendations to settle disputes.

Mosher has suggested that the program adopted by a busy industry delegates to President Truman's labor-management conference last November might form the framework for an effective national policy. It is the NAM executive's belief that collective bargaining will promote industrial peace only under certain conditions. He says that both labor and management must stand equal under the law, and both must assume full responsibility for their acts.

In Detroit the government's newest effort to settle the General Motors strike is scheduled for an early start. The president of GM—C. E. Wilson—is slated to go into conference tomorrow with CIO auto workers chief, R. J. Thomas and the new federal mediator, James Dewey.

In New York, the United States Steel Corporation has agreed to pay more than $1 a ton would be needed to meet President Truman's recommendation that workers be given a raise of 1 1/2 cents an hour.

In addition to 43,000 steel because of the lack of steel, an additional 3,000 are expected to be laid off tomorrow at the Ford Motor Company. Another 10,000 face idleness on Friday.

Governor Caldwell To Be Present At Vet Homecoming

George Touhy, general chairman of the Veterans Homecoming celebration scheduled for Apr. 3, has announced that Governor Millard Caldwell has accepted an invitation to be present and deliver the principal address during the festivities.

Mr. Touhy also announced that A.C. Stine, president of the Merchants Association, has been appointed chairman of the float and decoration committee.

Mrs. E. J. Routh, president of the Ladies Auxiliaries of the American Legion has announced that the organization will participate by assisting in the various departments of the homecoming activities.

Warning Against Rabies Epidemic Sounded By City

A warning against the possibility of a rabies epidemic was sounded today by City officials when City Manager Sayer stated there may be a very serious epidemic of rabies among dogs and other pets unless everyone cooperates with the health officers by keeping their dogs tied or penned up for at least 30 days and has them vaccinated if they have not already been vaccinated within the past year.

Mr. Sayer said that the City Health Officers had handled five cases during the month of January, shipping all five dogs' heads to the Board of Health, as a result of several persons having been bitten by these dogs. The report showed that all five dogs had rabies, and these persons bitten are now being treated. Several other cases have been reported and there are several dogs now under observation.

Truman Asks Congress To Okey Loan To Britain

Papers Disclose Roosevelt Aware Of Bombing Plot Jap States 70,000 Americans Surrendered On Bataan

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 30.—(AP)—The international war crimes tribunal in Nuremberg has rejected the application of Rudolf Hess for permission to conduct his defense. The court ruled that such action would not be in his interest.

Dr. Otto Stohmer, who is counsel for Hermann Goering, was appointed to act for Hess as well.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 30.—(AP)—During today's session of the international war crimes trial, French prosecutor Charles DuBois introduced a German High Command order instructing commanders of war prisoner camps to ignore the Geneva Convention calling for humane treatment of the war prisoners not to keep them waiting three months for their exchange.

NUERNBERG, Jan. 30.—(AP)—German documents not previously published disclose that the late President Roosevelt, former British Prime Minister Churchill and High Vatican officials knew in advance of the bomb plot against Adolf Hitler, carried out July 20, 1944.

The advance information is said to have been furnished by an anti-Nazi member of the German Diplomatic Corps who used Swiss channels to get his information out of Germany. Roosevelt is said to have received regular reports on the progress of the plot. The late Chief Executive received his information from operatives of the Office of Strategic Services who contacted the anti-Nazi source in Switzerland.

Similar methods were used to inform other European figures of the plot against Hitler.

MANILA, Jan. 30.—(AP)—A member of General Homan's war-time staff has testified that far more Filipino and American troops surrendered in 1942 than there were Japs. Col. Yoshio Nakajima asserted that this made proper care of prisoners impossible.

Composition Of China's Assembly Still In Deadlock

HUNGKING, Jan. 30.—(AP)—A deadlock over composition of the Chinese National Assembly is continuing between government and Nationalist members of a subcommittee dealing with this question at China's unity conference.

A subcommittee meeting—held at the conference itself—was within a few hours of adjournment—has resulted in both sides refusing to budge from their demands.

At the same time, rumors have started the rounds in Chungking that Chinese Communists now have decided not to ratify some of the agreements reached by other subcommittees at the conference. These rumors say Communist headquarters in Yenan have given the leader of the Communist delegation, General Chou En-Lai, a number of new demands to present. There is no indication of their nature.

Meanwhile, Chinese Information Minister, K.C. Wu has declared that "generally speaking, hostilities have ceased in North China. Truce teams, including American and Chinese Government and Communist representatives, have been flown into all areas to see that the truce terms are being observed by both sides.

The shaggy haired President of the United Mine Workers brought his 600,000 miners back to the AFL Friday.

He says that "obviously the re-affiliation of the mine workers makes the AFL the most representative and dominant organization of labor in America."

'Government Must Rule Atom'

WARNING that control of atomic energy must be kept within the government, Secretary of the Interior Harold Ickes, today urged Congress to pass legislation to prevent the export of atomic energy to the United Kingdom.

These considerations, Mr. Truman said, are the short-term ones. What is important to America from the long range point of view, he declared, is that the loan will enable Britain to remove her emergency controls over foreign exchange and imports. This would provide for a return to peacetime practices designed to promote the recovery of world trade.

Commission Discusses Operation Of Future Carnivals In Sanford

Coast Guard Auxiliary Granted Permission To Use Central Location For Mobile Rescue Equipment And Supplies

The Sanford City Commission at its meeting Monday evening, discussed the advisability of not allowing further operation in Sanford of the type of carnival that recently operated on Mellonville Avenue.

The discussion followed the reading of a letter from the Sanford Woman's Club protesting the annual carnival of this type. A number of other protests against the carnival, including a petition signed by the State's representative, Assistant State Attorney George A. DeWitt.

The change requested from the Commission was to allow the use of an auto load of mobile equipment at Alamo Springs, leaving one of the occupants who later reported.

Mixon was fined $150 by Judge M.B. Smith, who issued an order directing the much needed equipment against providing a mobile equipment and sections at night of carnival.

Churchill's Daughter To Join Group; Lewis Sets Up Signs For AFL Future

There will be an addition to the Winston Churchill vacation group at Miami Beach.

She is Mrs. Sarah Oliver Winston Churchill's daughter, who is leaving England today by plane.

Mrs. Oliver is expected at Miami Beach on Thursday night. British Prime Minister and Mrs. Churchill to Havana, Cuba, on Friday.

When they get to Havana—the Churchills and their party will be guests of the Cuban Government. They will stay at the presidential palace.

At Miami Beach today—the Churchill went to a luncheon at British war leader and Mrs. The Surf Club. They plan to go to Hialeah Park this afternoon.

John L. Lewis has set up some direction signs for labor's future.

The shaggy haired President of the United Mine Workers brought his 600,000 miners back to the AFL Friday.

Says Agreement Will Enable Nations To Reach Common Goal Of Expanded Trade

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—(AP)—President Truman has asked Congress to take favorable action on the proposed $3,750,000,000 loan to Britain. Urging speedy approval of the loan, Mr. Truman said in a message to the legislators today that Britain needs the credit and she needs it now. The financial agreement, he went on, will enable the United Kingdom to move side by side with the United States toward the common goal of expanded world trade. Which will mean expanded production, consumption and employment and a rising standard of living everywhere.

The loan agreement that is up for Congressional approval includes an additional credit of $650,000,000 to settle loan-lease obligations.

This loan, said the President, will enable Britain to buy the supplies, raw materials and food which are essential to the life and work of the British people. At the same time, he continued, it will keep open a market for those supplies from the United States, which customarily are exported to the United Kingdom.

These considerations, Mr. Truman said, are the short-term ones. What is important to America from the long range point of view, he declared, is that the loan will enable Britain to remove her emergency controls over foreign exchange and imports. This would provide for a return to peacetime practices designed to promote the recovery of world trade.

Rev. Brooks Says March Of Dimes To Last Until Feb. 15

The March of Dimes campaign for infantile paralysis relief will continue until Feb. 15, the Rev. W. P. Brooks, Jr., announced today.

Rev. Brooks expressed thanks to high school girls who, under direction of Principal Herman E. Morris, received donations on First Street last Saturday.

He also expressed thanks to the Methodist Church troop of boy scouts who are maintaining collection boxes in the Sanford Atlantic National Bank, Florida State Bank, Eddie's Restaurant, the Valdes Hotel, Ritz Theater lobby and other locations in the city.

Clare Luce Will Not Run For Re-Election

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—(AP)—Republican Congresswoman Clare Boothe Luce has announced that she will not be a candidate for re-election next fall. In a brief announcement of her decision, Mrs. Luce said that her reasons would become clear in time. She did not amplify her remarks.

She made no comment on speculation that she might become a candidate for the Senate. This talk arose after the announcement by GOP Senator Thomas Hart of Connecticut that he will not be a candidate for the seat to which he was appointed by Governor Raymond Baldwin.

Paying farmers not to raise

The Supreme Court—you know, the one President Roosevelt packed with so-called "liberals"—asked Boris Duke some $14,000,000 in taxes the other day which a little township in New Jersey was trying to collect.
Without going into the merits or demerits of the Supreme Court's decision, which undoubtedly was well supported by law, imagine what the New Dealers would have said about the Nine Old Men if this decision had been rendered before the court was packed!

Senator Tydings of Maryland would have President Truman call a world disarmament conference. "In this state of a world armed to the teeth," he said,
"we cannot further rely upon the United Nations Organization for our own protection." We distinctly recall that one of President Harding's first acts after becoming president in 1921 was to call a disarmament conference, whereupon the United States took many of its warships out into the broad Atlantic and sank them, as an example to other nations, and reduced its standing Army to a corporal's guard.

We cannot rely upon the United Nations Organization any more than the League of Nations, we had better let someone else set the example in disarmament this time.

We are not so sure that all this talk about the invention of the atomic bomb providing the answer for the continued peace of the world is such a good thing.
If people become convinced that there is no danger of ever having another world war, because there would be so horrible that no one would dare to go to war, then they can be just as silly and full of conceit as they want to be. And in that event there will be another war no matter how horrible. The only solution for world peace is to find improvement in human relations, in personal characteristics, less prejudice and more tolerance, less selfishness and more generosity, less hatred and more kindness. And besides, we can only remember when it was said just as convincingly that there would never be another world war because of the improvements made in the peace process first made in the first world war. The invention of the atomic bomb, however, has done nothing to improve the English creek how a thousand years ago.

Your Carrier Boy

"I have been led to believe," says a letter to the Forum, "that the mission of a newspaper is to furnish the public with the latest news, which includes publishing and delivering with the least practicable delay. Perhaps I am wrong."

"Returning from work at 8 P.M. 'to and behold' there is the morning paper, but no evening paper. Occasionally the evening paper does not arrive until I have eaten, dressed and gone out for the evening. Now, I ask you, is that delivery with the least practicable delay?"

That sounds almost as if it might have been written about The Sanford Herald, but it wasn't. It appeared in the Forum of another Florida newspaper. Unfortunately, in this day and time all newspapers are suffering more or less from the same problems of getting the paper delivered early and regularly.

Chief among those who have been adversely affected by the war have been the children of America. The absence of many fathers in the armed services has often tended to relax discipline in the home. In other families unusually long hours for the father and frequently outside work for the mother have weakened parental guidance. Overcrowded conditions at home in overcrowded communities have sometimes driven children into the streets.

There are of course many reasons for the increasing lack of responsibility so often found these days among our young people, not the least of which is the "easy money" which too often finds its way into the pockets of children who do not have to work for it. But the fact remains that the end of the war finds us with the highest rate of juvenile delinquency in the history of the country.

Under such conditions it is not surprising that carrier boys are not quite as good as they used to be. They are a far cry from being juvenile delinquents, to be sure. In fact, boys who are willing to work for their living, to report promptly every afternoon for their papers, to deliver them to their customers every afternoon rain or shine in spite of baseball games and then to collect for them on Saturdays when other boys are going fishing, deserve the highest praise, it seems to us, even though at times they do forget or carelessly throw the paper into the yard.

They are laying the foundation for solid business careers. They are "little merchants" who buy their papers from us and sell them to the public at a substantial profit to themselves. They are learning how to deal with the public in an honest businesslike way and they are beginning to understand that service brings a just reward.

These are lessons which are hard to teach when so many grown people seem to have forgotten them, but the newspapers all over the country are doing their best to keep alive in the younger generation this spirit which made America and many of its famous men like Andrew Carnegie; great. We appreciate the help which many of our subscribers are giving to this same end.

Turks Try Tennis

Turkey has sent a challenge for the Davis tennis cup, the matches for which take place the coming summer. This tends to refute the old notion that the Turks are the laziest people on earth, spending all their time in coffee houses and leaving the work to their wives.

Soldiers from other countries who have fought them know that the Turk can be energetic enough when he wants to be. Since Mustafa Kemal reformed the nation after World War I, Turkey has been virtually made over. Women have been freed, the grip of the Mohammedan priesthood has been broken, new industries have been established, and Turks wear hats instead of fezzes.

Now it seems that they have taken up tennis. If they do as well in this as in their other new activities, their opponents had better look out.

Court's First Cases

Cases are already going to the new World Court. In one of them Great Britain has offered to submit for decision its dispute with Guatemala, nearly a century old, over the ownership of Belize or British Honduras.

The argument goes back to 1859 when a boundary agreement between the two countries was negotiated but never carried out in full. The Guatemalans have long maintained a claim for all of British Honduras, or at least its southern part. If they should win, Great Britain would lose a territory as large as Wales.

Who said that the great powers would never submit any of their claims to the new United Nations Organization? Evidently they were wrong.

What Gourment Wanted Was Only Beautiful 'Sole'

BALTIMORE—Arthur H. Deute is back in his well-ordered kitchen—and the diet department at Mary hospital is back to normal.

Shortages of meat, fats and sugar have given the hospital dietitian many a headache. But nothing like Deute, who is Baltimore's No. 1 gourmet.

Miss Mary Reinhart, the hospital's dietitian, said the usual way of handling patients with fancy food ideas was a complete failure with Deute. The usual method, she explained, was to say:

"O. K. Can you tell me how to cook this dish you're talking about?"

The answer was usually a shrug. "No," but Deute would give the complete recipe right down to the last pinch of salt, the last degree of oven temperature.

The kitchen bowed in defeat and produced, soupless, eggs with white wine sauce, tongue and horseradish sauce, broiled salmon with intrinsic parishes, dry red wine for the meals and a proper glass to drink it from.

Deute thinks his ideas brought necessary improvements in the hospital diet.

Robert LaFollette Expected Truman Committee Blast

By JACK STINNETT
WASHINGTON—Sen. Robert M. LaFollette, Jr., chairman of the Joint Committee on reorganization of Congress, anticipated President Truman's blast at the Congressional committees when nearly two years ago he said:

"The fixing of primary legislative responsibility for each of the broad phases of governmental policy and the definite assignment of such responsibility to a given committee would provide more clearly defined channels of contact and cooperation between the legislative and executive branches of the federal government."

"Standing committees of Congress should be so organized that each will have a definite sphere of government policy for which it must assume continuing responsibility. If that could be accomplished Congress will have gone a long way in reasserting its policy-making function under the constitution."

Sen. LaFollette and Rep. A. S. "Mike" McNamery have introduced bills which would cut the 81 committees of Congress down to 24—13 in each chamber. On each side of the bill, there would be agriculture; appropriations; rules; finance and monetary affairs; labor and public welfare; claims; interior, natural resources and public work; District of Columbia; executive department; penitentiaries; armed forces; foreign relations; interstate commerce and judiciary.

There is one reason these measures are going to get a same committee run around that President Truman complained about. If the legislation should be passed, 45 committee chairmen and all the committee members who have seniority will be kicked downstairs immediately.

Since every member of the House and Senate is entitled to serve on at least one committee and 86 members (including the special committees) are chair-

RURAL COMMON SENSE

By Spuds Johnson
The American farmer is becoming one of the most high users of power in the world, and is increasing his sources of power faster and faster. Increasing use of machinery has brought vastly higher farm production with less labor and seems destined to go much further in the same direction. When the United States was first settled 10 out of 20 people were needed on the land to raise enough to supply their own needs, plus a little extra to trade the twentieth for manufactured goods. But the industry revolution also started a mechanical revolution on the land. The farmer has been riding a definite upward curve of mechanical power for more than a century.

Before World War I farming had progressed so far in technology and mechanization that one-third of the population could do all the farming necessary for the other two-thirds, and do it better. By 1929 one-fourth of the population could handle the farming. During the last few years the country has just come through a period of its greatest farm output of all time, with less than one-fifth of the people on the land.

Secretary of Agriculture Anderson said recently it isn't too much to expect that before many years one man will be able to produce all the food and other farm products needed for 40 in the cities. Machinery manufacturers have designed mechanical implements especially for the small farmer, where before practically the only ones available have been of such size that they could be used economically only on large farms.

Expected Truman Committee Blast

men, there is very little likelihood that they will vote themselves out of these important committee jobs—actual or potential.

An example of how committee members and chairmen feel about legislation which might take them out of circulation is the present conflict over unified national defense. The House and Senate Naval Affairs Committees are definitely opposed to it, mostly, some critics have said, because they fear they no longer will have their committee jobs or seniority.

President Truman's contention that "a handful of men" can block legislation is nothing new. Gen. George Washington had his troubles with Congress. So did Lincoln, Wilson and F.D.R. But few Chief Executives had a better opportunity to lose the hall to the voters than that of Harry Truman.

Seabreeze Cagers Trample On Celery Feds With 42-23 Victory

Marking 'Em Up

Coach Al McBride's Seabreeze High School cagers, who were powerfully coached by Dayton's Herb Henson, last night trampled the Celery Feds in a 42-23 victory at the final whistle with a 41 to 23 triumph under their belts.

Coach McBride's boys opened scoring hostilities immediately after the opening of play when Dreyer went in to sink a field goal, but before the Feds could hit the scoreboard again, the Sand Crabs had tossed five field goals into the stands. Henderson came through with a pair, Noel sank two and Zeigler accounted for one goal for the Feds, but Henderson retained with another shot from the floor and Noel sank a free shot, flooring the Celery. Gameplay of the Feds dropped in a free shot.

The Feds throught their defenseless in the second stanza and limited the Haystacks to two field goals and a pair of free shots. Whiddon and Henderson accounted for the field goals while Zeigler and Triggler sank the free shots. Seabreeze failed to hit a single basket during the second quarter in the full court department, but two baskets were recorded on free shots by Triggler and Clark.

Henson opened the third period with a field goal and later came back with two more while Killpatrick also accounted for one. Killpatrick recorded two points on a foul, however, continued their scoring pace as Noel and Henderson accounted for a pair of field goals and two free throws through while Graves netted one basket from the floor and a free shot.

Henson and Killpatrick each sank field goals in the final period and Henderson and Kestner each accounted for a free throw. Henderson sank another pair of field goals in the last stanza while Zeigler, Gans and Triggler each netted a field goal each.

Seabreeze led the third period, was forced to leave the tilt during the final period after the personal fouls had been called against him.

LONGWOOD, Jan. 29. (Special) Karen Kay, putting in a one-one record and Hooky in the third hole as if they might form a daily double combination at the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club tonight, Karen Kay ran an exceptionally good race Friday night when she led the field in the first appointed racing secretary for the Southern Maryland Agricultural Association meeting at House, Md. Plans are underway to revive the annual tournament for the women's state golf championship. The Florida Women's State Golf Association has revealed that the 17th tournament will be played on April 15-16 at the Hollywood Country Club. Mrs. Charles Blasing of Coral Gables is the present champion.

Familiar Sights in Florida!

FLORIDA has plenty of spots you'll enjoy visiting and seeing natural beauty, places made famous by history and romance, and man made wonders combine to form the lure of sub-tropical Florida.

AND HERE, TOO, IS A FAMILIAR SIGHT IN TOO MANY FLORIDA HOMES TODAY!

It's the one likely well-planned with multiple outlets and extension cords until it seems that every electric wire in the house leads from this one spot. That situation causes short circuits, inconvenience, needless operation of appliances and accidents. The cure is so simple: have large enough wire in your home with plenty of outlets and switches so you can enjoy all the benefits of modern leisure "all electric" living to their fullest.

Paris Police Keep Watchful Eye On Ladies Of Evening

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
 AP Newsfeature
 PARIS—It's more than 50,000
 amateur ladies of the evening, not the legendary Mademoiselle from Armentieres, who have Army authorities in Paris keeping a sharp eye on the broad boulevards and tiny side streets.

HEADACHE

Capades restores a specially selected ingredients that work together to give quick relief from headache and neuritis.
 Follow directions on label.

666 Cold Preparations

CARDUI

Cardui, many women say, has brought relief from the cramp-like pains and nervous strain of functional periodic distress. Taken 15 to 30 minutes, it should eliminate symptoms.
 The directions on the box hold the secret for the "time" to come. Start 1 day before "your time." It should help relieve pain due to purely functional periodic distress. Try it!

Paris Police Keep Watchful Eye On Ladies Of Evening

French police records show that the city had between 1,200 and 1,600 prostitutes living in registered houses, before these registered houses of prostitution were outlawed. All military personnel, including those who were ordered closed with the regulations enforced "most strictly by the maîtres themselves who knew they would be penalized if they permitted American soldiers to enter their places."

Weekly examinations of registered prostitutes helped control disease, but it is, he said, practically impossible to control the situation involving casual prostitution in hotels and rooming houses. MP's and French police make raids frequently on suspected premises, and between 150 and 200 girls are picked up weekly.

Fitch and Loucheux picked up in such raids were given preventive disease treatment and interviewed to obtain possible sources of disease. The women are taken to hospitals, examined and then, if found free of disease and inscribed as prostitutes, are released. Unregistered girls who are not diseased are turned loose with a warning and a strong suggestion they register as prosti-tutes. If they are picked up three times they are forced to register.
 Diseased women are held for treatment.

Although the VD rate for American soldiers in Paris is "slightly lower" than the rate, for instance, of soldiers in Germany, a great many of the cases don't show up until the men who were in Paris on leave get back to their units and Paris is believed to be the greatest single source of VD infection on the continent,

 Fitch says.

Full Story of Nazi Massacre Told At Trial

German Soldier Reveals How Nazis Fired On Unarmed, Surrendered Yanks

NUERNBERG, Jan. 31.—(AP)—The full story of the brutal massacre of 129 unarmed American soldiers during the battle of the Bulge last winter, today came from the lips of a German soldier. The French prosecutors at the Nuernberg war crimes trial have introduced the statement in evidence.

The German soldier's statement says he witnessed the murder of the unarmed Americans at a crossroads near St. Vith on Dec. 12, 1944.

The Americans were defending the crossroads against a Nazi offensive. They took to the ditches as German tanks approached. The tanks fired into the ditches until the Americans threw down their guns and raised their arms in surrender.

The Germans led the Yanks to a field a short distance away and then proceeded to rob them of all personal effects. The German soldier's statement said that an armory vehicle then was rolled up.

A German officer mounted on the vehicle drew his pistol, aimed at the group and fired. One of the American prisoners fell. The German officer aimed and fired again and a second American fell. As the second Yank dropped, the machine guns on the armored vehicle opened up and sprayed bullets for two or three minutes. Three other vehicles then rolled up and continued machine gunning the Americans. Most of whom already were dead. Later, German soldiers walked along among the bodies finishing off the dead.

Murray Talks With Vinson On Tax Laws

Meatworkers Declare U.S. Assumed Obligation To Assure Fair Wage Scale

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—(AP)—President Philip Murray of the striking CIO steelworkers conferred with Treasury Secretary Vinson today on present tax laws as they apply to the steel industry. Murray said afterward that they discussed his contention that provisions for rebates from excess profit taxes give the Corporations an advantage in situations like the steel industry. However, Murray would disclose no details of the conference, and Vinson declined comment.

An official of the United States Steel Corporation last week said that Murray insisted on facts.

Early this week, Vinson declined to say whether he had talked with President Benjamin Fairless of U.S. Steel, who was in Washington.

Meanwhile, 40 representatives have signed a recall-robot letter urging General Motors to agree to accept the economic plan of a fact-finding board in the CIO auto workers' strike. They also said that the steel industry's representatives, the unions assert that the refusal of the corporation is part of a concerted plan to destroy labor unions.

Blades, Knight And Windler Are Main Speakers At Jaycee Meeting

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—(AP)—Council for the CIO Packing-house Workers began oral arguments today before the presidential fact-finding board in the steel industry. The union counsel, Ralph Helstein, argued that in seizing the strike-broken packing plants, the government assumed a moral obligation to assure a fair wage scale for the workers.

Gen. Parran Proposes New Health Program

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—(AP)—The head of the nation's health service warned Congress today that an aggressive effort must be made to improve the people's health centers. Likewise he advised that although the nation's health did not lose ground during the war, neither did we make any progress. Parran, making his annual report, said that such passive maintenance of present health standards is not enough.
