ST. AUGUSTINE, Aug. 31.—The Gainesville G-Men trailed 12 hits here yesterday to enter drive over the winning run and gave Don McShane and his gang a 3 to 2 win over the St. Augustine Saints in the Florida State League playoff. As the series now stands, the Saints have won two games and the G-Men, who topped the top standings for the season, have scored one win.

The teams met at Gainesville today at 4 o'clock. If the G-Men again triumph and even the first game they will shift to St. Augustine on Tuesday. The other hand a St. Augustine victory today would wind things up.

Yesterday's affair was the most thrilling playoff contest on foot with Edgett going in for the distance for the G-Men and setting the St. Augustine crew down with nine hits. Bill Hultander worked the first eight innings for the Saints, giving up seven hits and two runs in nine innings. The G-Men, however, were led by Edgett, who pitched a masterpiece in the ninth and tenth innings. Edgett's first pitch was a fast ball, which Hultander could not handle. The G-Men scored in the ninth and tenth innings. Edgett's first pitch was a fast ball, which Hultander could not handle. The G-Men scored in the ninth and tenth innings.

LIFE-GIVING WORDS: It is life.—John 6:63.

A POSTCARD FROM THE VOLCANO

Children picking up our bones Will never know that these were As quick as fozes on the hill;

And that in autumn, when the grapes Made sharp air sharper by their smell,
 There had a being, breathing frost;

And least will guess that with our bones
 We left much more, left what still is The look of things, left what we felt

As that we saw. The spring clouds Above the shuttered mansion-house,
 Beyond our gate and the windy sky

Cries out a litte despair.
 We knew for long the mansion's look
 And what we said of it became

A part of what it is . . . Children, Still weaving budding aureoles, Will speak our speech and never know.

Will say of the mansion that it seems As if he that lived there left behind
 A spirit storming in blank walls.

A dirty house in a gutted world, A bitter of shadows peaked to white, Smothered with the gold of the op-ulent sun.

Wallace Stevens.

They tell us that over at the beach the young lady who looks at her wardrobe and then turns ruefully to her mother and says, "I haven't a thing to wear," is quite in style.

If the people believe everything the Democrats say about the Republicans, this country is, and has been, for the past 70 years, in the hands of the most diabolical band of pirates that ever scuttled a ship.

Mussolini claims he has eight million men ready for war, and we wonder if this figure doesn't include all the little boys ranging from seven to fourteen years of age, who, in 11 Duce's perspectus of things, probably would make up as good cannon fodder as mature soldiers.

According to Harry Hopkins, ruffin in the drought area are valued at a nickel a drop. It is not unnatural for the WPA administrators to measure rains in terms of coin. The federal treasury has been raining billions of dollars on him ever since he has been in office.

An unidentified airplane dropped six bombs aimed at a U.
 S. destroyer without scoring a hit. The destroyer returned the courtesy with nine blasts from the anti-aircraft gun with equal effect. What we would like to know is whether both parties were just kidding or whether marksmanship has sunk to a new low?

Another "unloaded" gun tragedy was enacted Sunday when a Montevideo youth, playing cowboys and Indians with some of his companions, was fatally wounded by the blast of a 12-gauge shotgun. All the precepts of mankind and all the parental warnings through the ages cannot seem to curb juvenile enthusiasm and make shotguns safe in the hands of a minor.

Deaths From Heat

The significance of this summer's heat waves as regards the health of the nation is shockingly revealed in statistics released by one life insurance company which show that during the month of July the mortality was as marked that the death rate for the company's 17,000,000 industrial policy holders reached the highest figure of any July in five years—8.3 per 1,000—representing a rise of 5.2 percent over the mortality rate of July, 1935.

The number of deaths attributed directly to the heat was not so alarming, for only 251 out of 12,255 deaths of the company's policy holders, were allocated to heat as the primary and determining cause of death. It was as a contributory factor that the heat wave of early July pushed the mortality rate to such a high level.

As an instance of this, the heart disease rate jumped up 13.5 percent in excess of the same period last year, and the rate for cerebral hemorrhage was 8.3 percent higher.
 There were many more deaths from diarrheal diseases and deaths from accidents and automobile accidents showed, by their increased rate, that the hot weather affected the human body that it became less efficient thereby making people more susceptible to sickness.

The report made no division of sections or states but it is reasonable to assume that the northern states were those which showed the alarming increase in mortalities.
 The South in general enjoys more even temperatures during the summer and the extreme of weather do not get in their evil work below the Mason-Dixon line as they do elsewhere.

As for Florida, probably no other state has a more equable climate and we hazard the guess that no other state had as few deaths recorded against it because of hot weather. More and more people are returning from the North telling about the suffocating atmosphere and promising by all that's holy that they will not go away again to seek cool weather.

Improved Service

Time was not so long ago that both passenger and freight trains in America moved along at comparative snail pace, their owners and operators apparently content to take the "kicks" of their customers rather than improve the service. Today conditions have changed.
 The railroad lines realize that in order to compete with other means of transportation they must give better service and this they have done as shown in an editorial in the Palm Beach Post which states that the United States has a greater number of trains with scheduled runs of 60 miles an hour or more than any other country in the world.

"Without parallel," relates the Post, "is the increase in this country over the past five years in the speed of trains operating on fast schedule. More than 400 trains, covering 19,000 miles at the beginning of this year, operated on scheduled runs timed at 60 miles an hour or more, compared with 30 regular runs operating a total distance of 1,110 miles in 1930.

"The fact that many of these trains operate daily over long distances and with a few failures to maintain their schedules, constitutes for the railroads of the United States one of the greatest achievements in recent years. To operate at an average of 60 miles an hour, it is necessary for trains to run at considerably higher speeds owing to stops that must be made at intermediate points.

"By the increase in the speed of various trains operating between Chicago and the Pacific Coast, those runs today are made in approximately 21 hours under the time required in 1930. In that time, the running time between Chicago and St. Paul has been cut almost four hours, and two hours have been clipped from the St. Louis-New York run.

"Remarkable reductions also have been made in the running time of freight trains, some operating today on virtually passenger schedules. Overnight deliveries from points as far away as 400 to 500 miles is common in many localities. Some operate from one terminal to the other at an average speed of 43 miles an hour.

"With their faster schedules for passenger trains, and reduced fares as compelled by the Interstate Commerce Commission, practically all railroads have found more profit in their passenger departments than they have for a long time."

ATLANTA, Texas, Sept. 1.—

 Arkansas convicts as they emerged from the First National Bank

Nation's Sick Bill Reaches 10 Billions

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—(AP)— With the estimation of the nation's annual bill for sickness and accidents placed at $10,000,000,000, the Public Health Service figured today it would be cut by as much as $2,000,000,000.

The service included in its estimate "hidden" or indirect costs of sickness and accidents such as loss of time from work.
 The report said industry might see 12 to 13 percent of its losses by reducing the number of accidents.

COMING BACK TO HAUNT HIM

MAN ABOUT MANHATTAN
 By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—Gallabouts who recall the twisting, deceptive streets of Paris, Shanghai and Cincinnati sigh with relief when they return to Manhattan. Of all major cities, this is the least confusing to get around.
 The avenues are numbered and run up and down. The streets are, however, a few exceptions, and it is here that your find many amusing paradoxes.

Park Avenue is supposed to be the most polite and genteel street in New York, and the Bowery the roughest and toughest. Yet the Bowery and Park Avenue are the same street. As it climbs uptown, the Bowery becomes Fourth Avenue, and then just before it reaches Grand Central it becomes Park Avenue.

The most erratic street of all changes its name at least a dozen times before it winds its way through the island. This is Greenwich Street, where Bruno Richard Hauptmann was taken when he was first apprehended. Later it becomes Ninth Avenue, then Columbus Avenue then Morningside Avenue, than St. Nicholas Avenue, the Jume! Place, where the old Jumel mansion still stands, and finally Laurel Hill Terrace. Later it knifes across High Bridge Park, spans the Harlem River, becomes Ninth Avenue again, and then merges into Broadway, which runs all the way to Albany.

Many streets change face as they glide uptown. For instance, Twelfth Avenue becomes Riverside Drive at 72nd Street.
 Eleventh Avenue decides to call itself West End Avenue after it reaches 60th Street. And at 59 Street, where Gertrude Ederle used to live, Tenth Avenue becomes Amsterdam. The metamorphosis continues Central Park

West at 50th, and Sixth Avenue becoming Lenox Avenue when it reaches Harlem.

The island of Manhattan is really 353 blocks long, yet the last numbered street uptown is 220th Street. The very first street geographically, is Prince Street, although there are others named below it such as Avenue A, Avenue B and First Street.

Still another amusing fact is that West Street parallels North River while South Street skirts East River. Rose Street, one of the very oldest, is a gnarled, crooked little passageway that disappears under the second arch of the Brooklyn bridge. A sensational murder took place just where the arch stands today, but this was nearly 100 years ago.
 It seems a Pietro somebody had a girl, and she fell in love with a rival. So he eliminated said cavalier with a butcher knife. Yes, they hanged him.

There is one private thoroughfare in New York, an alley that connects 44th Street with 45th.
 Here is the heart of the theatrical sector, and the alley supplies a short cut to a dozen nearby theaters. The man who really controls this narrow artery is Lee Schubert, the producer. His limousine is the only car permitted to park there.

Finally, the avenues here are supposed to run parallel to each other, but Twelfth Avenue runs north and south while Thirteenth Avenue is northwest by southeast.

"Now that I've got the half finish building the castle," he said. "I'll take 100 men 30 months to finish it."

Humor And Mystery Feature Ritz Film

Laughter freezes on your lips as mystery mingles with romance and comedy Monday with suspense in "Half Angel," the Darryl F. Zanuck Twentieth Century production now at the Ritz Theater with Frances Dee, Brian Donlevy and Charles Butterworth in the featured roles.

"Half Angel" is a combination of mystery, romance and suspense, intermingled with gay humor, hilarious comedy situations, and surprising developments.

The film is an indictment of the tim of circumstances who is caught in a sinister web of synthetic clues that twice point to her as a poison murderer. Brian Donlevy, an irrepressible reporter, falls in love with her at first sight and refuses to believe the manufactured evidence.

When the jury returns an unexpected verdict of acquittal while she is on trial for the first murder, Donlevy follows Miss Dee, hoping to hear first-hand her life-story. The newly-freed girl departs at once with Helen Westley, a philanthropic woman whose hobby is aiding those in trouble.

Miss Dee goes to Miss Westley's home, a strange household peopled by a weird assortment of ex-criminals, and Donlevy follows.

The reporter climbs a trellis and enters Miss Dee's room through a window. The terrified girl promises to meet him at the front gate and relate her story to him.

Returning to the house, Miss Dee is horrified to find Miss Westley dead and her husband, Henry Stephenson, apparently dying—both of poison.

The police immediately arrest the girl again and it appears that she will certainly be convicted. Donlevy, however, never loses faith in her innocence and in a series of exciting episodes the daring news-hawk uncovers the real murderer.

State GOP Campaign Head Sees Landon, Knox Doing Well

(By The Associated Press)
J. Leonard Replogle of Palm Beach, in charge of the Republican campaign in five South Atlantic states, said yesterday he believed there is an "excellent chance" Florida will give its electoral votes in November to the Landon-Knox ticket.

"I believe the possibilities for the ticket in South Virginia and North Carolina," Replogle added.

Replogle and Wilson Williams of Atlanta, an aide, opened campaign offices in Jacksonville.

He said the Republican of Florida had a "fighting chance" of electing a governor and congressmen from the First, Fourth and Fifth Districts.

"We should carry Florida and other Southern states with the help of disaffected Democrats," Replogle said.

"I believe the dissatisfaction of Florida vegetable and citrus growers caused by the disastrous effects of the Cuban reciprocal trade treaty reducing the tariff 50 percent on winter vegetables and fruits will be a big factor in this state. People also are tired of the general destructive policies of the Roosevelt Administration."

Replogle and Williams left last night for Richmond, Va., and said they would visit North Carolina and other states.

The Florida Republican organization, he said, has not definitely determined its attitude toward entering the race for the United States seats left vacant by the deaths of Duncan U. Fletcher and Park Trammell.

Replogle said he would not accept nomination for the Senate because of poor health and because his campaign duties would prevent.

He added Republican prospects in Florida looked better now than they did at a corresponding period in 1928 when the state cast its electoral vote for Herbert Hoover, the then Republican presidential candidate.

Daladier Announces Plan To Increase Number In Forces

PARIS, Sept. 1.—(AP)—French defense Minister Edouard Daladier yesterday showed Poland's "strong man" what France's army would do if the country were attacked via the German frontier.

Daladier took his guest, Inspector General Jozef Pilsudski, out for a first hand view of secret French military possibilities for the ticket in South Virginia and North Carolina.

Demonstrating how much power France could lose against an invasion along that sector, Daladier and French generals staged military moves for the benefit of the Pole and his entourage.

Whether Rydz-Smigly had been favorably impressed by yesterday's sights was not disclosed but it was said he would continue studying French military secrets until Thursday when he will turn diplomat and talk with Premier Leon Blum and other officials of the French government.

Hearing that Premier Mussolini of Italy had asserted his country's potential fighting strength was already 500,000 men, Daladier assured the Polish visitor France was going ahead building up her own army.

"By the methodical growth which we will not cease to pursue," he said, "the army will remain the solid backbone of the Fatherland."

Following an official luncheon the two military leaders commenced a series of conferences believed to center around the binding of the two countries in a common military pact.

Germany which geographically lies between the two countries, has already announced an increase of her fighting men to 1,000,000 men by Oct. 1.

Rydz-Smigly is the successor of Marshal Josef Pilsudski as Polish "Strong Man."

Mattha Raye, comedienne, won a cup for horse-back jumping while playing in vaudeville in Toronto, Canada. She entered the contest "between shows."
