MRS. COLLINGS CANT IDENTIFY TWO RITCHIES

Suspects Being Held At Daytona Beach Are Released After Identification Fails

DAYTONA BEACH, Oct. 3.—(A.P.)—Dr. Leslie Ritchie and son, William, were released early today after Mrs. Benjamin Collings failed to identify them as the "pirates" who recently boarded the Collings yacht on Long Island Sound, killed her husband, and abducted her.

With her attorney, William Kelly and Assistant District Attorney Fred Hunter, of Suffolk county, Mrs. Collings arrived at Daytona Beach yesterday. She said she recognized them from previous photographs but that they were not the slayers. The Ritchies were released and Mrs. Collings and party returned to New York.

Shortly after leaving New York, Mrs. Collings sent a telegram to Charles Lake, police chief here requesting an interview with the Ritchies immediately after the party's arrival.

Together with Mrs. Collings, the attorneys came to question the Ritchies as to whether or not they could advance any clue as to the identity of the two men who boarded Collings' yacht Penguin on September 9, beat him on the head and tossed his burned body into Long Island Sound. They also sought to question the Ritchies concerning the abduction of Mrs. Collings after the slaying.

Before leaving New York, Mrs. Collings stated photographs of the Ritchies and said she could not be sure, but that she doubted if they were the men who committed the slaying.

Previous to the arrival of the New York party, Dr. Ritchie, who took up operation of a woodyard here after retiring from the vet-

People Are Urged To Attend Church By Mayor Of City

Never in the history of the world has there been a greater need for Divine guidance and a reaffirmation of man's faith in God, in the opinion of Mayor T. L. Dunham, who this morning lauded the work of local Protestant laymen in their efforts to bring about greater attendance at church services particularly tomorrow, designated as Home-coming day.

With special sermons and musical programs scheduled to be held in all churches tomorrow, Mayor Dunham's observations are being as having a special significance.

"There has probably never been a time in the history of the world, certainly not in the history of our own country, when the necessity for Divine guidance was as great as it is today," began Mayor Dunham.

"During the World War, the flames of our manhood was taught to kill, tear down and destroy; today we are diligently searching for a means of escape from reaping the harvest to be sown."

"Our jails are crowded to suffocation, the guns of gangsters are shaking death in the streets of our cities, the orderly exchange of commodities between consuming nations is at a standstill, business within our own borders is paralyzed, the number of unemployed is constantly increasing, and sickness, poverty, suffering and hunger is a lead of plenty appears inevitable," he said.

Mayor Dunham concluded by saying that he is devoutly hoping that the present of the laymen of Sanford and elsewhere in the church of this country tomorrow, to honor Divine guidance.

Ringling Art Museum In Sarasota Dedicated With Impressive Rites Friday

HOOVER IS AT HUB IN RELIEF MOVES OF GOVERNMENT

Study Is Continued Of Large Range Of Remedial Proposals

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—(A.P.)—The efforts of public and private agencies to bring better times again commanded major attention yesterday in Washington.

President Hoover at the hub of the clustering activities of a relief-federal government, continued his studies of a range of proposals for governmental action.

A committee of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States after long deliberation, put before the country an inclusive plan for unofficial direction of production and employment through a national planning board.

The president's unemployment relief organization, headed by Walter S. Gifford, contributed a suggestion for community management of the problem of the workless.

One of Hoover's callers was Senator Borah of Idaho. Newly returned from the silver country in the west, the senator urged his host, at luncheon to call an international conference for consideration of bi-metalism.

In one form or another, every department of the government has been set a task in the president's efforts to do whatever is found helpful for economic relief. The regular cabinet meeting was described as a general discussion, covering a wide miscellany, and the members hurried away afterward with the air of officials with much awaiting them at their desks.

Secretary Doak of the labor department said he had so many things to do that he might have to cancel plans to attend the convention of Labor, meeting next week in Vancouver, Canada.

None of the plans under consideration for economic relief has reached a stage of development where the White House feels an announcement can be made. It was said yesterday that no one definite project for raising the situation had been drawn up, although the president was continuing his investigations hopefully.

Hoover has been much interested in the chamber of commerce project for a planning board, which would advise industry in a manner designed both to equalize production over periods of recession and to give greater assurance of continuing employment. This plan as drawn in committee still awaits approval of the chamber's board of directors.

Scouts Participate In Religious Activities

Boy Scouts of Troop No. 5, under the leadership of Scoutmaster Andrew Hill are devoting two days of this week to the development of their religious life. Last Sunday they attended the First Baptist Church in a body, while tomorrow they expect to be present at the First Methodist Church as their part in Home Coming day exercises.

At the regular meeting last night John Brown passed the Jefferson letter under the supervision of Senior Patrol Leader Gilmer Steele. Honor scout for the night was James McDaniel. First aid and drill work occupied the major portion of the evening, according to Edwin Roake, assistant scribe.

MORRILL SUCCEEDS EDDY

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—(A.P.)—Charles Morrill, secretary and general counsel of the Federal Reserve Board, has been appointed secretary of the Federal Reserve Board, succeeding Walter E. Eddy, who was compelled to resign on account of his health last year.

SARASOTA, Oct. 3.—John Ringling, business man and artist, stood on a loggia of the John and Mable Ringling art museum yesterday, and dedicated it to the artists and craftsmen of Florida and the nation.

Speaking from the loggia over the institution, with its 100 original masterpieces and numerous other art masterpieces, the school of fine and applied art of the John and Mable Ringling art museum. The school was founded by Mr. Ringling last spring and was opened yesterday in connection with the Southern college.

Dr. Ludi M. Starks, president of Southern college, presided at the opening, and with the assistance of his faculty, promised to make of it a nucleus about which will be built one of the great educational centers of the nation.

Bishop John M. Moore of Dallas, Tex., spoke in behalf of the Methodist Episcopal church South and of his pleasure in working with Mr. Ringling in an ambitious undertaking.

Senator Fletcher and Congressman Drane thanked Mr. Ringling for Florida, praised his beneficence, and told how the museum would become a national shrine of art lovers.

The school's opening exercises were held in the courtyard of the museum, beautiful in their setting of an Italian garden with its tree-lined walk, bright flowers and tinkling fountain. The audience of 2000 persons sat in the ornate loggia surrounding the courtyard and looked out upon the beautiful scenery in the garden.

Business houses in Sarasota were closed for the exercises and art lovers came from many parts of the county. The evening the museum galleries of the museum, and viewed the most comprehensive art collection in America.

Mr. Ringling has been collecting the treasures for 30 years. He has gathered together a vast showing of original Rubens, Gainsborough, Rembrandt, Van Dyck, and works from numerous other masters in various schools.

Eastern Railroads Offer New Plan To I. C. C. For Mergers

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—(A.P.)—Principal eastern railroads today asked the Interstate Commerce Commission to permit them to consolidate into four systems. The plan was presented by the Pennsylvania, Baltimore and Ohio, New York Central, and Chesapeake and Ohio, the Norfolk and Western, and the Norfolk and Eastern.

It materially alters the consolidation plan proposed by the Interstate Commerce Commission in December, 1929. The commission plan was drawn after lengthy hearing, it provided for five systems in the East.

The four-system plan dismembers the northern end of the Washington and Seaboard system, suggested by the commission and extends the Pennsylvania Railroad east or south as Washington, Durham, and Ekland, North Carolina, and Bristol, Tennessee-Virginia.

Aide from dismemberment of the fifth, the eastern system plan raises the problem for railroad financiers and the commission as to what is to become of the Seaboard Airline Railway. The Seaboard, a vital line in the commission plan has been in receivership since last December. Today's petition would authorize the roads.

RODMAN LEHMAN TELLS OF AIMS AND IDEALS OF PROTESTANT MOVEMENT

The aims and ideals of the Protestant Laymen's Movement, recently inaugurated here, are clearly set forth in an interview with Rodman J. Lehman, youthful chairman of the board, who expressed the thanks of his group to The Herald for the interest and space devoted to the program they have outlined during the past few weeks.

Mr. Lehman, who has recently returned from San Francisco where he was Florida's delegate to the Golden Jubilee Convention of the International Christian Endeavor, declared himself as having been granted a most soul-filling privilege in being present at the convention. "The plea for sane living was sounded as the keynote of the convention," Mr. Lehman said, "with more than 10,000 delegates hearing appeals that a return to God, forgetting not all his benefits, be made."

According to Mr. Lehman, the aim of the movement locally is not to remain in the Kelly Day program of the church, schools and Home Coming programs in church and society. Rather, he said, every effort will be put forth to encourage such persons whose name appears on a church roll to return regularly to the public worship of his own church. "And then, with the combined effort and prayer on the part of many, we will go forward to strengthen the spiritual life of the community, by encouraging the establishment of the family altar in the homes."

"Thus," he said, "it is our further purpose to help those men and women, boys and girls who have been drawn away, for one reason or another, to return unto God and enjoy His benefits and the benefits of His church."

Mr. Lehman asserted that because the eyes of the world are looking to us for leadership, America must go. "Every individual is the smallest community has a responsibility in helping America go forward," he said, "and that is not only to strengthen his faith in God but to regain his faith in his fellow man. Then, and only then, will America or any other nation return to its normal state."

OH YEAH?

By PETER SCHAAL

That yesterday's game between the Cards and the Athletics was a worthy demonstration of big league ball as it must be played to draw crowds, is indicated on all sides in comments by the sports writers and members of the two teams, not to mention Babe Ruth. It was a scintillating game, full of tenaciousness, mostly because fans saw that the great left could be pounded, and after that first inning attack, they kept looking for more Card hits and runs that they didn't come over, the runs I mean, is a bright feather in the cap of the Mack leaders, particularly young Dub Wilkams, playing spectacular ball as shortstop. Williams was able to handle seven chances with out trouble, and threw in a fast double play that took the starch right out of the Cards.

Thanks to Ted Husing, of the Columbia Broadcasting system, Sanford fans got a splendid picture of the opening game. Husing to a crisp, breezy style which has a green effect, particularly in arousing enthusiasm in his hearers. With no official world's game on downtown streets, it has been the case since the game by most of Sanford's fans had to get their news from radios scattered about town in stores, offices and homes. The Smokehouse and Lancy's Drug Store on First Street had a standing room only sign out before the game began, indicating that someone around here thinks about baseball.

With the Macks in possession of the first game, and probably the second as you read this, betting odds naturally all favor the Macks to win in a hurry. The series need to go longer than five games, it seems to me.

Joiner held the Islanders arm length yesterday, to shut them out 7 to 0 in the best game played so far in the title series for the championship of central Florida. Coona made but seven hits in Lefty Lane's agonized five. In made them come. Joiner's double paved the way for victory in the fifth, with Holtton's single and the trick. The series is now tied and two in favor of the Indians with Sunday's game at Daytona being plenty important for if the Indians win, the series is over. Hutto will no doubt face Muldoon, and it ought to be won by ground piles to see.

Last week Coach Leonard McLucas declared that he had only one hope as far as his football team was concerned this year, and that is victory over Ocala next Friday. He said that the Ocala team was the best the local outfit will face this year, and that if he got his team without a loss, he would fear no other foe. That he is still worrying over those opponents is indicated by the fact that he spent today at Ocala, scouting that eleven in its game with Jasper, always a tough foe.

Coach McLucas, with all his material, still res uneasily. Inexperienced players are his chief concern, with most of them finding it difficult to learn their exact duties. Tonight the eleven meets one of its most dangerous enemies, the DeLand outfit under the wise coaching of Dick Beck. It will be most of the boys' first experience under an lights, and if they come through with a victory, as I think they will, the season will have a rosy ring right away. Beck has spent plenty with not much power. Sanford's heavy line ought to sweep the Beck forward wall off its feet. We look for Kanner, Riser, Branan, Hyatt, and Sharon to open holes at will tonight, with Will Preston and John Stanley snagging passes galore. Sanford 18, DeLand 6, that's my pick.

After years and years, it appears that Sanford is about to become a widely publicized spot as being the home of champion football players. Today not less than six football players developed on high school teams here are gaining much comment as developing members of various college teams throughout the South. At our own University of Florida, three former Sanford football players are getting lots of fine publicity as prospective first stringers, George Moxe, Speed Lindsey, and Roy Frank Symes have each been named as good as they've had up these years. They may be seen in action tomorrow against the Florida Military Academy team

CARDS' MANAGER LOCAL DIAMOND TELLS WHY TEAM BALL TEAM SINKS LOST FIRST GAME DELAND OUTFIT

Declares "We Lost Because We Couldn't Get That Third Hit" Sanford Boys Win Lopsided Contest By 22 To Eleven Score

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 2.—(A.P.)—We lost because we couldn't get that third hit.

That was Manager Grady's explanation for the defeat of the Cardinals yesterday in the first game of the world series. St. Louis, usually genial and affable, was gruff as he pointed out the clubhouse with its crowded benches, following him in a huddle. They scolded him because he was so stern and disappointed. We had that game in an old age street, today, and I don't know how many times I've seen that third hit, but even St. Louis' own men would have been enough to beat me, he said.

While the Cardinals' line-up was being handed out, he pointed out the third base game of last year, and he said he expected to see the world's champion today. Manager Grady's face was as hard as the ground he walked on. The Cardinals' pitcher, a fat ball and a good one, was a real find. "Very nice," he said. "I've seen a lot of it. He was in the game yesterday. I probably will have him back a team. We can't get him yet. The series has been started. Tomorrow's pitcher is Dick and Bill Hallahan will be in the line-up. If he is right, he can't be wrong."

Earl Feringer, the 25-year-old pitcher, was playing his first game in the major leagues, and when his shoulders were charged the ball of the Athletics were back to him.

"Why," he said, "I can't see how I can't throw a ball. I had been huddled almost all afternoon. You can't tell me that a guy who looks like me can't throw a ball. I've thrown balls of the same size and weight as the same size and weight of ball into the stadium. That's the way it was all afternoon."

"I'm not afraid of them. I'm glad to start my game. I'll be in there."

Praise for the defeated Cardinals was a real prize for his own players was given by Manager Grady Mack. He declared, however, he had nothing to say concerning his pitching selection for today. It was generally accepted he would start George Earnshaw, holding Rube Walberg in reserve.

"It is a great thing to win the first game," Mack said. "It gives my club a real edge, but we are in for a tough series, judging from the opposition the Cardinals gave us today. I am making no prediction as to the outcome, although I am hopeful we will be fortunate enough to win. We must face tomorrow's game just as if today's game had not been won."

Mack said Derringer impressed him as having the ability to become one of the great pitchers of all time. He said the younger had the Athletics for the run for two innings, and that if he had retained control he might have maintained his advantage to the finish.

"But he tried to do it all by himself," Mack added. "He really tried too hard in those first two innings. He forgot there were eight other Cardinals on the field. Now that he has learned he must not try to strike out every batter, I believe he will give us far more trouble before the series is over."

Mack said Grove was not the coached by Red Bothea. Don Jackson, outstanding among the Seminole High backfield players of all time, is going well as a member of the University of North Carolina freshman outfit, according to press notices. It is a pity that his talents are being expended so far away from his friends, all of whom were anxious to see him go to Florida. He would have made another Crabtree without a bit of trouble. Jim Stoinoff and Dick Maxwell are both sure of seeing much play as members of the University of Georgia eleven this year. Stoinoff is now laid up with an injured leg, but Dick was seen in action all last week as right end on the second team, indicating that he might get the call to start the first game against the weak V. P. I. team tomorrow. At Presbyterian College, Lenon Edenfield, crack right end here some years ago, is sure of another good year. He played jam-up ball as a freshman up there last year, and he is sure to continue this season. At Florida Military Academy, George Stoinoff will yet be heard from as an outstanding backfield player.

A former Sanford boy, Angus Fordham, is captain and center of the Clemson eleven playing his last year too, and being touted as an all-southern center. There are others, as keep your eyes on Sanford as a football player producing center. Leave it to Coach McLucas to turn out players for Florida, for instance.

real Grove until the third inning, but from there on he was a masterful pitcher.

"For two innings his control was such that he seemed unable to do anything but put the ball right through the heart of the plate. After the second inning, however, his control came to him and he used his head. You know, Grove is a much smarter pitcher than he was two years ago."

General Meeting Of Garden Clubs Held

With a large number of enthusiastic members in attendance, the general meeting of all circles of the Garden Club of Sanford was held on Friday morning at the Woman's Club with Mrs. Endor Curlett presiding. At this time reports were heard from the various circle chairmen, standing committee chairmen and special committee chairmen.

The various circle chairmen gave their reports in the following order: Mrs. H. W. Rucker, Azalea Circle; Mrs. K. S. Dutton, Central Circle; Mrs. Hugh Wheeler, Dirt Gardeners Circle; Mrs. R. R. Deas, Mayfair Circle; and Mrs. J. H. Colclough, Rose Circle. Each reported that she had year books ready for distribution to members, with the program for the year outlined in each book.

When standing committee chairmen were asked for reports, the following replied and in addition to the short reports gave plans for future work: Mrs. E. N. Scott, beautification; Mrs. J. C. Bills, conservation; Mrs. E. B. Stowe, courtesy; Mrs. E. L. Hoy, Junior Garden Club; Mrs. W. E. Watson, plant material; Mrs. R. B. Moore, photographs and slides; Mrs. E. M. Galloway, program; and Mrs. Fred R. Wilson, publicity.

During the meeting Mrs. Walter L. Cooper read a paper on the gardens and flowers in Europe. Mrs. J. C. hills urged each member to plant a tree in commemoration of the George Washington Bicentennial. As chairmen of the special committees the following members gave short outlines of work for the coming year: Mrs. J. G. Shannon, annual luncheon; Mrs. A. W. Epps, Christmas tree; Mrs. E. H. Lane, flower market; and Mrs. Herbert Russell, flower show.

It was announced that the annual flower market will be held on Nov. 7, probably in the First National Bank Building. Mrs. Curlett then brought up the matter of choosing a flower for the Garden Club, asking that each circle vote on a flower at the next meeting, and stating that the decision will be made at the annual meeting in February. She also announced that the state federation wished designs for seals, showing the orange blossom, submitted by club members. A prize of $10.00 has been offered for the best seal.

Mrs. Curlett announced that Mrs. E. M. Galloway will conduct a class for members desiring to become accredited flower show judges.

The business meeting then adjourned and an interesting paper on European flowers and gardens was read by Mrs. Walter L. Cooper, who had the pleasure of visiting these gardens last summer.

Mrs. Henry Wight, who, with Mr. Wight, has just returned from an extended trip through the West, gave a short talk.

The attention of the club members was called to the garden of Mrs. S. O. Chase, which is unusually beautiful now with quantities of cultivated goldenrod.

Excerpts from Mrs. Cooper's talk are as follows: "After a peaceful voyage of seven days on the open sea we came in sight of the English coast. About noon that gray morning exclaimed, 'Look! green grass and flowers growing, looks like a' (Continued on Page Five)

Ladies—the LUCKY tab is—your finger nail protection.

Made of the finest tobaccos—The Cream of many Crops—LUCKY STRIKE alone offers the throat protection of the exclusive "TOASTING" Process which includes the use of modern UltraViolet Rays—the process that expels certain biting, harsh irritants naturally present in every tobacco leaf. These expelled irritants are not present in your LUCKY STRIKE! They're out—so they can't be in! No wonder LUCKIES are always kind to your throat.
