New Significance Is Attached To Lincoln's Words

"United we stand, divided we fall" was a prophecy set forth by President Abraham Lincoln during a perilous period in the history of our nation. Again, however, we should read over the statement and consider it carefully. It now has new value, new significance, new importance due to the campaigns of the alleged communists in our country who are eagerly waiting for union and dissension throughout the country. But let us feel them united we stand."

Unity is being shown throughout our nation in all respects except one—strikes. These, of course, are granted through civil liberties and are a part of our constitution. This broken link in the unity of the United States is being shown through strikes. These, of course, are granted through civil liberties and are a part of our constitution. This broken link in the unity of the United States is being shown through strikes.

Participation Is Motive Power Of F.F.A. Chapters

Are you interested in automobiles? Here is a car that is creating a sensation in every part of the country! It is the new model F. F. A. Call at your local high school for a demonstration!

It is one of the few educational models that has the beauty of doing blended in harmonious pattern with learning. The new streamlined body cuts the resistance of ignorance and waste. Springs of activity and cushion of co-operation smooth out the rough spots encountered along the highway of service. Upholstery of courtesy and luxurious patterns of recreation decorate the interior. The heater of achievement will melt the ice of indolence and thaw the snow of isolation.

Southern College President Speaks At Seminole High

Dr. Ladd M. Spivey, president of Southern College, spoke at a special assembly held at Seminole High School last Monday.

Dr. Spivey was introduced by G. E. McKay following the devotion and the flag salute which was led by Erma Douney.

Dr. Spivey began by telling of Frank Lloyd Wright of Wisconsin who planned to be an architect. After he had graduated from college, Mr. Wright could not find any recognition in the United States. When the Japanese government wanted to build a hotel in Tokyo, they sent a representative to Mr. Wright to engage him for drawing the plans. When an earthquake destroyed Tokyo the hotel alone remained unharmed. Since this time Mr. Wright has gained a great reputation in the United States as an architect.

Information Cards Filled By Students

This past week, the Student Council has given information cards to each student for him to fill out. When filled out, the card will contain the student's name, address, parents' name, their occupation, telephone number, and other information. Also it will be a record of their years in high school—schedule, extracurricular activities, and honors.

These cards will be used by a record for the student council alone, but for the use of the entire school. The council believes that this is a truly a worth-while project.

Col. Lindbergh Resigns From Reserve Corps

Flier Declares President Roosevelt Impelled He Is Not Useful As Officer

Lindy Objects To Doubt Of Loyalty

Chief Executive Had Compared Colonel With Appeasers

NEW YORK, Apr. 28.—(AP)—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, "greatly disturbed" at the implications which he said President Roosevelt had made "concerning my loyalty to my country," made public today a letter to the President resigning his commission in the U. S. Army Air Corps Reserve.

The letter referred to remarks made by the President at a press conference Friday in which the chief executive classed Lindbergh with the appeasers who urged peace during the Revolutionary and Civil wars on the grounds that those conflicts could not be won.

In a speech here Wednesday the flier asserted the "United States cannot win this war for England, regardless of how much assistance we extend."

Lindbergh's letter said the President has "clearly implied that I am no longer of use in this country as a reserve officer."

50 Legionnaires Return From Key West Convention

More Time Spent In Company Of Children Is Suggested

There's plenty of foundation for the exaggerated statement that the Legionnaires returned yesterday from the Key West convention in Florida, where George Weinstein, relinquished his post as district commander to John J. Schick of Melbourne, and J. J. Rocco was installed as member of the executive committee.

Headed by Joel S. Field as commander, the group included the Legionnaires, the Sons of the Legion, the Auxiliary and the Junior Auxiliary.

The Drum and Bugle Corps and the Majorettes took part in the parade Friday afternoon, but because they did not have a full representation did not enter the competition. From the comments of bystanders, however, Majorettes would have placed first and the Drum and Bugle Corps second if they had entered, Mr. Weinstein said.

Union Activity Held No Reason For Firing Man

Supreme Court Says Company Must Hire Those Denied Work Because Of Union Membership Or Activities

WASHINGTON, Apr. 28.—(AP)—The Supreme Court held today in a far-reaching decision that the Wagner Labor Act requires a company to hire and give back pay to a person found by the Labor Board to have been denied work because of union membership or activities.

The decision also held:

1. The Labor Board has the power to order the reinstatement of striking workers who had obtained regular and substantially equivalent employment elsewhere.
2. In making a back-pay award, the Board need not require deduction of amounts which the recipient could have earned but did not.

Initial funds for expansion of the nation's airplane production capacity from the present goal of 50,000 planes a year to an ultimate goal of 80,000 were said by informed persons Sunday to be part of a $5,744,000 Army supply bill scheduled for consideration by a congressional committee today.

It was reported that the measures carrying funds to finance the growing land forces for the year starting July 1 would include money for the purchase of a substantial number of additional airplanes for the Army. A major portion of them are expected to be heavy, long-range bombers — the "backbone" of aerial striking power. At present, the Army is working toward a goal of 21,000 planes.

A House appropriations subcommittee called War Department witnesses to begin testimony behind closed doors Monday.

Col. Leonard P. Ayers, the Army's chief statistician, was the first to testify before the committee an overall picture of the defense program. Members said he would be followed by Gen. George C. Marshall, chief of staff.

The Army has entered into a $24,000,000 contract with the Glenn L. Martin Company of Baltimore for construction of one new heavy bomber plant and expansion of its existing units. Well-tooled sources said that President Roosevelt had earmarked $1,500,000,000 of the $2,000,000,000 lend-lease fund for this purpose.

These were said to include two bomber plants, five airplane engine plants, and about 30 additional ordnance plants of various types, including those for the manufacture of tanks, guns and ammunition.

Higgins Greatly Encouraged In Chamber Drive

Campaign Will Get Underway Wednesday Morning

Edward Higgins, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, declared today he was receiving "enthusiastic" encouragement in the annual drive for members which will begin Wednesday, and that he is expecting a large attendance at a pre-meeting on Tuesday night.

Six speakers will be presented on the program at the meeting Tuesday, at which last month's plans for the membership drive will be made. The drive itself will get under way with a breakfast at the Valley Hotel Wednesday morning at 8:00 o'clock.

Announcement that he expects to conclude the drive in two days, Mr. Higgins said those who are interested in canvassing to contact him at the Chamber of Commerce see him at the meeting Tuesday night but that he can assign prospect cards to them.

Among those expected to speak at the meeting Tuesday night are W. D. LeVelle, a member of the State Road Department, branch office at Deland, J. W. Lewis of the livestock department at Deland, and Senator Ernest F. Hollander, U. S. House of Representatives, who is expected to attend the meeting, Mr. Higgins said.

U. S. Troops Sail For Newfoundland

NEW YORK, Apr. 28.—(AP)—The U. S. Army transport Leonard Wood sailed at noon Sunday for Newfoundland.

A statement released by the War Department after the vessel left the Army's Brooklyn base said:

"The transport carried equipment and elements of the 62nd Coast Artillery from stations at Fort Hancock, N. J., elements of the general headquarters air force, military police unit and miscellaneous service detachments."

Legislature To Be Asked To Alter Law Applying To County Hospital

Two important changes in the 1937 Florida law under which the proposed Seminole County hospital would be built are sought in a notice of intention to apply for local legislation filed today by Senator Ernest F. Hollander in Tallahassee.

The first amendment provides that the interest and principal on the hospital bonds must be paid out of the money collected from the two mill tax levied authorized in the 1937 law before the operating expenses of the hospital, thus ensuring the safety of the bonds and increasing their marketability.

The law providing for the issuance of $700,000 worth of hospital bonds permits a two mill levy to pay for the bonds and the cost of operating the hospital. However, no provision was made as to which should be paid first.

The change in the law would specify that the debt service must be taken care of before any of the same collected could be used for operating expenses.

Another change sought authorizes the Board of County Commissioners to build the hospital and to make the aid of any government agency. Under the present law, the county is authorized to issue the $700,000 bonds only to pay for the sponsor's share of a hospital project to which the federal government makes a substantial contribution. Under the proposed amendment the County could use the $700,000 and build the hospital itself without the aid of the government.

The third change in the hospital law applies to advertisements for bids when the construction of the hospital has been started. This amendment provides that only such advertisements of bids as are required by the federal government shall be necessary. This would place the bid advertising under the requirements of the federal government alone, rather than under State laws.

Notice was also filed today that the Legislature will be asked to pass a special law authorizing the Board of County Commissioners to transfer and deposit to the road and bridge fund of the county the sum of $21,232.50, now being held by Seminole County in a fund created and designated as a premium account.

A BRITISH PORT, Apr. 28.—(AP)—Thousands of Canadian fighting men and the largest force of Canadian-trained imperial troops yet to reach the United Kingdom have arrived from Canada today, their posts in the war against Germany.

The clearing soldiers said the crossing was "quiet and dull" with not one United or hostile aircraft being sighted during the entire voyage.

The British said this marked another successful convoy job by the navy without the loss of a single life due to enemy action.

BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY

THE SAINTS' ASSURANCE:
 O fear the Lord, ye his saints; for there is no want to them that fear him. The young lions do lack, and suffer hunger; but they that seek the Lord shall not want any good thing.—Psalm 34:9, 10.

SKY OVER TAOS

(From Volées)
INVOCATION
 Rise as the bright pillared clouds of morning,
 Be as the speaking thunder,
 Fall into the heart as the straight rain.
 Here all things say yes. In the enormous silence it is words alone that do not speak.
 The desert plain says yes in high blue-peaked mountains, the earth says yes in the gorge-cut canyons,
 The secret river laughs yes in the broad green valleys, the wind whispering in the cotton-wood groves,
 The great horned owl hoots yes, the night hawk swoops yes, the mountain quail whistles into a nighty echoing chorus,
 The eagle soars yes, the falcon swoops yes, the raven caws yes, the crow caws yes, the crow caws yes.
DUST
 A spirit is walking across the sky,
 I cannot see him,
 but I can watch his high clear column of dust
 moving between the sky and the earth.
 Now he is dancing in a little circling dance,
 I cannot hear his drumbeats,
 but I can see his yellow swirl of dust dancing across the valley.

WEEKLY NEWS COLUMN

By JOE HENDRICKS

By JOE HENDRICKS
MARION COUNTY—Outside of the State of Florida there are very few people who know that a new industry is growing up in our State, the tung oil industry. Marion County in north central Florida, and the adjoining region it is predicted, will become the tung oil center of the United States, for already the most important plantings are in this region, thousands of acres having proved successful for the past seven or eight years, the new acreage being planted almost daily. There is one up-to-date extraction plant constructed, not in Marion County, but close by at Brooksville, Fla. It may be well for Marion and Marion County to look towards securing an extraction plant for this section, since they are the center of the industry.

LAKE'S OLD TREES—There is something grand about an old tree, whether it be cypress, oak, orange or whatnot. The Christian Science Monitor carried an item about old orange trees in Lake County, which was very interesting. The Monitor in a special bulletin said: "In a recent search for the oldest citrus trees in Central Florida, some orange trees were reported, which were planted in the late sixties. These trees were killed by the big freeze of 1895, but came up again from the roots and are still bearing fine crops at the R. E. Burge grove at Emerald (the Emerald) near Leesburg. Grapefruit trees planted in 1879 were also reported at South Clermont by Mr. Joe Lee. These trees also grew up from the roots and the present growth is large and beautiful. Wild orange trees planted by the Indians about 1800 are still in bloom, and many may be hundreds of years old, claims Mr. Burge, who has been growing in Lake County since 1880. The Florida research was conducted by the Florida Research

Aphid Control

Inasmuch as this seems to be one of those years when aphids, those pesky little insects which prey upon rose bushes, flowers and even citrus trees, are particularly abundant, a recent release from the Agriculture Extension Service of the University of Florida may come as timely information for many of our readers.
 According to Dr. A. N. Tissot, entomologist at the State Experiment Station, who says he has had many requests from flower gardeners this Spring on how to control these little insects which suck the sap out of the leaves and cause them to wilt and become permanently dwarfed, a combination of nicotine sulphate, soap and water will play havoc with aphids.
 "Mix an ounce of soap or soap chips in a gallon of water and add two teaspoonfuls of Black Leaf 40 or other nicotine sulphate to this mixture, stir well, and then spray it on the affected plants, taking particular care to cover all leaves and other parts of the plant with it," Dr. Tissot explained. This spray will get the aphids and will not injure tender vegetation or discolor it.
 Playing a strong, steady stream of water on very sturdy plants is also recommended by the Experiment Station entomologist to control aphids. If this is done, the water should be directed on the plants until the aphids are washed off and then it should be played on the ground to beat the insects into the soil.
 Aphids develop and reproduce very rapidly, Dr. Tissot points out. They reproduce asexually and give birth to living young which begin at once to feed and grow. In a few days aphids reach maturity and begin bearing young. Each aphid may produce 100 or more young and as there may be several generations in a few weeks, large colonies can quickly develop from a few individuals.
 Dr. Tissot also suggests a method for the control of sooty mold on gardenias or cape jasmine. This material on the upper side of the leaves is a fungus that grows in sweetish liquid given off by whiteflies and scale insects. Thus, to control the mold, it is necessary to control the insects. Spraying the plant with oil emulsion, being sure to cover upper and lower sides of leaves, will get the whiteflies and, a short time later, the mold. Spraying with a mixture of two ounces of ordinary laundry soap and one gallon of water is also effective for this purpose.

Guns or Liquor?

Suddenly discovering that the American people are spending nine million dollars a day, including Sunday, for beer, wine and whiskey, Mrs. Ida B. Wise Smith says the United States could just about pay for the cost of the war if the $3,285,000,000 spent annually for alcoholic drinks were devoted instead to guns, planes and tanks.
 "Let's see what the nation could do with that money if it were applied to refugee relief or to paying now—instantly in the future—for defense," says Mrs. Smith. "EACH DAY'S drink bill would do one of the following: "Feed one million Chinese refugee children for nine months; or feed 600,000 English children for six months. "Feed most of Europe's famine-threatened people. "Pay for 180 bombers at $50,000 each. "Almost pay for a destroyer. "Pay for one or more submarines. "Build one-third of a new encampment equal to Camp Blanding, Florida. "Modernize 1126 of our 75-MM guns at $8,000 each. "Completely train some 600 military pilots at $15,000 each. "Manufacture 180,000 Garand rifles at $50 each. "Almost pay for 11,781 half-ton military trucks. "Pigging it another way, Mrs. Smith found that the people of the nation spend as much for liquor each nine-day period as it would cost to build a battleship like the newly-commissioned North Carolina.
 "If the United States gave up its liquor habit, the nation could build 40 similar battleships each year without the expenditure of an extra dime," she insists. "A month on the wagon would pay for enough destroyers to replace those traded to England for naval bases."

German Forces Capture Athens; Pursue British

 troops had gone, after a valiant rear-guard battle against overpowering odds, and the people had been told to meet the Nazi conquerors "as a people before whose eyes the invaders pass and fade away."
 "Athens will meet the Nazi army with a stoic smile upon their lips, knowing that everything passes away," newspapers told them.
 Hitler's conquest of Athens, knocking Greece out of the war on the European continent after a valiant six-months struggle that began last Oct. 28 when the armies of Italy attempted to invade the nation, was carried out methodically beneath a brilliant Sunday sun without a show of resistance in the city itself.
 (The foregoing was filed from Athens at 10:20 o'clock, after the arrival of the German troops and the following portion of the dispatch was sent from Athens in the early-morning hours of Sunday before the German advance forces appeared.)
 The people, who had bade farewell to the departing British with shouts of "We'll see you again soon," waited silently behind locked doors and shuttered windows during the night, knowing that the next few hours would bring the sounds of German troops.
 Until the last a valiant rear-guard force of British imperial troops—Englishmen, Australians and New Zealanders—had stood, a mere handful of defenders against the German tide some miles north of the city, covering an orderly evacuation.
 The streets, where Socrates once preached and Demosthenes exalted freedom and the soul of man, were deserted during the night under a strictly-enforced curfew.
 For 48 hours there had been no word of encouragement from the officials remaining in Athens until the last moment before joining King George II and his government on the island of Crete to the south.
 The last radio proclamation to the people Saturday night had told them that "the struggle is of limited duration" although it broke abruptly of the British imperialists on a 4027-foot Mount Kithira, 25 miles northwest of Athens, where they obstinately battled the German attempts to sweep down along a side road leading to the capital from Thebes.

Railroads Spend $24,000,000 In Florida In Year

WASHINGTON, Apr. 23 (Special)—Railroads in 1940 spent in Florida a total of $24,000,000 for materials and supplies of all kinds and for wages of railroad employes, the Association of American Railroads announced today.
 This total does not include taxes paid by the railroads in Florida, for which 1940 figures are not yet available. In the year 1939, however, such taxes totaled $2,071,714.
 The stimulating effect of these expenditures is felt throughout the state because of the wide distribution of railroad wage payments, and the fact that materials were purchased in approximately 323 localities in Florida, it was said.
 Railway purchases in Florida in 1940 of fuel, materials and supplies totaled $2,570,150. In addition, the railroad paid $21,066,825 in 1940 in wages to employees located in that state, the total number of such employes in July, 1940, having been 12,801. The number of employees represents the total number receiving pay in July, some of whom, however, only worked a part of the month. Average wages, therefore, cannot be calculated from these figures.

Tallahassee Travel Agent Will Join Britain's Royal Air Force

TALLAHASSEE, April 23 (Special)—To give up comfort and security in defense of your own country is to be expected. But to leave all this, family and friends, to go voluntarily 3,000 miles away to fight a war which is regarded as "not yet our own" is quite another matter.
 This is exactly what Harry H. Hay, Tallahassee travel agent and husband of Dr. Marion Hay of the Florida State College faculty, is preparing to do.
 Hay, who is a former Associated Press writer, will leave Saturday for Los Angeles to take an eight-week "pre-flight" course in the air corps. Once he passes this he will go next to Canada; and from there sail or fly to Britain for services in the Royal Air Force. He years to get in combat flying but will have to start first in ferrying planes from one hiding place to another in Britain. Hay is believed to be the first person in this vicinity to have volunteered his services for another country.
 The Tallahassee, who has traveled the length and breadth of England where he has many friends in civilian as well as army life, and who has visited virtually every war center in more peaceful times when he conducted tour parties, believes Britain's fight is our fight.
 He believes if Britain goes—the last threshold of democracy, which is America—will be imperilled more than the average person conceives. Hay also thinks he has no right to sit back and expect the other fellow to do something about checking Nazism unless he is willing to do something himself.
 These feelings are shared keenly by Mrs. Hay, who for months has devoted countless hours to a "bundles for Britain" drive on the campus teaching scores of college girls how to knit, and embroider the aid of faculty members and others. She has received the commendation of Senator Claude Pepper for her work in this undertaking as well as the endorsement of Mrs. Spenning Holland, wife of Florida's Governor. A visitor to those same war areas where she also has conducted tour parties in the summer, Mrs. Hay's chief regret is that she cannot do something more active to help.
 Both Mr. and Mrs. Hay have had a close brush with war from personal experience. Mrs. Hay was in Spain studying at the University of Madrid when the Spanish civil war broke out and she had to leave with other Americans on a United States cruiser. Mr. Hay had just gotten back to Canada from making a party on a round-the-world trip when he learned the Albatross was sunk. He had been forced to change ships since his ship had been captured and landed his party in Canada, rather than the United States. Mrs. Hay was in France at the time and volunteered her services as an ambulance driver. She passed the examination but withdrew her application, hoping to return later if needed.
 The Hay's interest in the war is evidenced by the fact that they conducted a tour of the war zone in Europe last year and saw the

'Dixie' Jones Is One Of Alachua's Ranking Farmers

GAINESVILLE, Apr. 23 (Special)—Alachua county rates J. A. (Dixie) Jones as one of its best and most progressive farmers and citizens.
 And here are its reasons for placing him in this front rank position:
 Years ago, he started from "scratch" and by hard work, good management, and diversified crops, he now has a fine 320-acre, an attractive rural home, and he has acquired a bit of city real estate as an additional investment.
 Diversification for a long time has paid him well. He produces bright leaf tobacco, corn, peanuts, potatoes, and other general crops, he has a big year-round vegetable garden and fruit and ocean trees for the home food supply, and his family has plenty of milk from several Jersey cows. In recent years he has become interested in beef cattle, and now he has a herd of 50 good Hereford grades. He also raises hogs, keeping 14 brood sows and selling about 100 hogs every year, and he has 50 or more goats which also bring in a tidy little sum annually. A good farm flock provides his family with plenty of eggs and poultry meat.
 While most of his pasture is native, he is gradually improving it and is looking forward to the time when it will be of maximum value to him in feeding his cattle.
 Folks who have inspected prize-winning Alachua county exhibits at the State Fair have seen much of the produce from Mr. Jones' farm, as he provides potatoes, corn, and hogs for these nearly every year. Usually his produce are of high ribbon quality.
 The Jones home is an attractive two-story house surrounded by shrubs and flowers and equipped with modern conveniences. Mrs. Jones runs a goodly supply of vegetables from the garden for the family table.
 Mr. and Mrs. Jones are great believers in the live-at-home program of the State Agricultural Extension Service, as practicing it has resulted in their success.
 In addition to building up a fine farm, Mr. and Mrs. Jones have sent their children—three girls and one boy—through college, the girls attending Florida State College for Women and the boy attending the University of Florida. All are now married.
 State College alumni who have been "for the duration" while her faithful husband does his bit in the British Battalion of the Royal Air Force. The Alachua is Anna Helen Robertson, whose husband and she will remain in England until their honeymoon is over.
 "It is a shame, certainly, that we are not able to do more for our country," Mrs. Jones said, "but we will do what we can."

Nazi Doom Sealed By Aid From U. S., Churchill Declares

LONDON, Apr. 23 (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill, announcing evacuation of Greece by the British army, last night told Hitler and his "malignant Hun" that Germany's doom is sealed now that the United States is prepared to put vast shipments of weapons "within reach" of Britain.
 In a scarcely-veiled prediction of U. S. convoys, the prime minister asserted in a world-circling radio broadcast that he is confident that the American people will not be "frustrated and allow the materials they manufactured to be sent to the bottom of the sea."
 Churchill predicted "fierce and widespread" war in the Mediterranean now that Greece had fallen and warned that the conflict "might spread like a sweeping conflagration" in Spain, Morocco, Turkey and Russia.
 He said that the American anti-air fleet and flying boats have been ordered to "strafe the wide waters of the western hemisphere and warn peaceful shipping of all nations outside the compass of the province of lurking U-boats or raiding cruisers."
 This American naval and air action, he said, will enable Britain

Miss Echols' Bridal Party Is Entertained

Following the rehearsal of the wedding of their daughter, Miss Evelyn Echols, whose marriage was solemnized yesterday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Echols entertained the members of the bridal party and other close friends of the couple at their home on West First Street Saturday evening.

The rooms of the Echols home were opened en suite, transforming it into a veritable flower garden with quantities of Spring flowers. The mantel in the living room was banked with a solid mass of calla lilies, baby breath and fern with lighted white tapers in silver candlesticks placed on each side. Flower baskets of pink gladioli, and smaller baskets and bowls of roses, lily breath and fern were placed about the room. Fern was entwined from the front of the living room to the landing. Wall decorations, Queen Anne's lace and fern completed the floral decorations.

The bride's room was decorated entirely in white, with carnations, gladioli, snapdragons and Queen Anne's lace. The gifts were displayed upon a white covered table and the bride's book was presided over by Miss Elizabeth Whigham.

The dining table was overlaid with a point de Venise cloth and centered with the traditional tiered wedding cake which held the wedding symbols and was topped with a miniature bride and groom. The cake was encircled by baby breath and fern and balanced on either side by double crystal candelabra holding lighted white tapers, which furnished the only illumination. The bride and bridegroom cut the cake together. The punch bowl which was placed at one end of the table was presided over by Mrs. Claude Echols of Daytona Beach and Mrs. E. R. Hansen of Dania. Assisting in serving were Miss Betty Sue Hatcher, Miss Elizabeth Hatcher, Miss Elizabeth Whigham, Miss Jean Whigham, Miss Kathryn King of Montgomery, Ala.

Evelyn Echols And Harry Hansen Wed

In a wedding characterized by beauty and dignity, Miss Evelyn Echols, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Echols, became the bride of Harry Hansen, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Hansen of Dania yesterday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock in the First Baptist Church. The Rev. W. P. Brooks, Jr., pastor, performed the impressive double ring ceremony in the presence of scores of friends and relatives.

The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion. Lighted white cathedral candles in branched candelabra and white pedestal baskets filled with calla lilies and Queen Anne's lace, set amid an embankment of palms and fern formed in a formal setting the background decoration for the rostrum on which the nuptial vows were exchanged. Lighted white cathedral tapers in seven branched candelabra which were placed on each side of the rostrum cast a soft glow over the impressive scene.

The brides used by the wedding party were marked by strings of white gladioli tied with white tulle. Places for the guests were marked by smaller sprays of white gladioli. The windows held arrangements of white stock and fern.

A program of nuptial music was rendered by Mrs. Evans McCoy, organist, including "Violence Caprice" by Kreisler, "The Wild Rose," by McDowell and "All The Things You Are" by Kern-Hammerstein. Vocal selections, "Ave Maria" by Schubert and "Because" by Padermole were rendered by Fred Miller.
