

Settlement Made In Damage Suit Against Rollins

ORLANDO (AP)—A $500,000 damage suit filed by former Rollins College President Paul Wagner against college trustees was dismissed today.

The petition for dismissal was signed by Dr. Wagner and Paul Reed and Chester Hedell, his attorneys. The dismissal was signed by Chief of Circuit Court Arthur Newell.

A $100,000 libel suit against the college was settled for $50,000 by Wagner.

It was indicated that no additional cash money would be paid beyond the $50,000 agreed on Monday. The half million dollar damage action against the 11 trustees was the upshot of a controversy at the school last year.

The future arose after Dr. Wagner forecast declining school revenues and said 23 of 74 professors must be dropped. He said the trustees agreed, then later charged he misrepresented facts and figures.

In his suit, Dr. Wagner said the trustees' action made it impossible for him ever again to be considered for a college presidency. When he became head of the small Central Florida school at 32, he was the youngest college head in the country.

The suit dismissed apparently terminated Dr. Wagner's bitter battle with Rollins.

The suit was dismissed "with prejudice" against Wagner which prevents further litigation in the matter.

College authorities said they had no comment.

FOOTBALL FAN
BRADENTON (AP)—Manatee High School here added $2,200 in its football receipts today because a fan's conscience got the better of him after two years.

Principal Paul Davis received a check for $2 from a man now living in New York who explained he climbed the fence to see two high school games here in 1949. The general admission charge was $1 a game.

"I am now living a Christian life and I want to do what is right," the man wrote. Davis did not disclose his name.

The principal said this is the first time in his experience that any of the many fence jumpers paid up voluntarily.

BURNED TO DEATH
MOONACIE, N. J. (AP)—A 14-year-old boy raced back into his flaming home to get his shoes Monday and was burned to death.

His 74-year-old grandmother, Mrs. Sarah Chesed, had led the boy, Thomas Chesed, and his three stepbrothers out of the burning building.

But then, remembering his shoes

Dick Geiger Runs For Constable In Fourth District

Ralph H. "Dick" Geiger, 31-year-old Army veteran, officially announced his candidacy for the post of constable of the Fourth District today.

Mr. Geiger has had over three years experience in the law enforcement field with city, county and state. He was born in Okemuchie and moved here when he was two-years-old.

The native Sanfordite attended local schools and served five years in the United States Army. He married Julia Milligan of Sanford. They have no children.

Mr. Geiger is the assistant manager of Geig's Travel Service and lives at 2637 Willow Avenue. The Fourth District constable's job covers the area of Lake Monroe, Paola, Loch Arbor, Lake Mary, Bray Lake and Sanford.

"I promise the voters of the Fourth District to uphold the duties of the constable and provide them the efficient honest service required of a public official," he said after announcing his candidacy.

Mr. Geiger the third candidate for the Fourth District Constable's post. Currently the position is vacant. Herman Brumley was the constable in the district, but he resigned to accept a teaching job.

Thomas said he was going back to recover them. Mrs. Chesed later told police.

Back in the house, the boy was trapped by flames, eyewitnesses said. He ran to the second floor, stood at a window and screamed "I'm burning, I'm burning."

Bystanders told him to jump, but he remained at the window until he was enveloped by flames.

An overturned coal stove apparently roused the blaze, fire officials said.

Minnesota Vote

PARIS (AP)—Paul G. Hoffman said today in effect that he has told Gen. Eisenhower he ought to make plans to give up his command and go home to help campaign for the Republican presidential nomination.

From now on Eisenhower's political life is going to interfere with his command of BIAFP, Hoffman said, explaining:

"He is going to be subjected to political pressures that must not be in a position to meet his operational responsibilities in SHAPE."

Hoffman, former Marshall Plan chief and one of the general's chief backers for the presidency, repeated to reporters the views he had presented to Eisenhower in conferences that began at dinner Saturday night and went into long hours on Monday.

"The general, as usual, looked pleasant but made no comment," Hoffman added.

There was no indication Hoffman had asked Eisenhower to leave his European command at once. It developed from other quarters that he had told the general that a better time would be after most of the primaries were finished. Then, if the voters went for him as they did in New Hampshire, he would have the "clearcut call" he agreed to head Jan. 7.

Korean War
A 4-mile sector northwest of Korangpo failed to dent the Allied line. The area was the scene of bitter fighting last December and January.

Allied warplanes prowled North Korean skies but heavy clouds sheltered many Communist ground targets. Fighter bombers blasted 27 new holes in the wobbly Red rail system before noon. Other attacks were mounted against the Communist front lines.

A flock of giant snow geese set off air raid sirens in Seoul early Tuesday morning.

At 2:30 a.m. radar observers reported "unidentified targets" sweeping in from the sea off Inchon at about 85 miles an hour. Interceptor pilots saw nothing, but radar plotted the flight directly overhead. As the "targets" swept back toward Inchon, anti-aircraft guns prepared to open fire.

Then huge searchlights outlined the geese and the "raid" was over.

F-80 Shooting Star jets hit Red front-line troops and artillery positions for the fourth straight day. Pilots reported they killed 15 Communist soldiers and destroyed eight field pieces, an anti-aircraft gun and 18 troop bunkers.

Other F-80s flattened warehouses and set off explosions at Anak and Changyon near the west coast of North Korea.

Fishing Interests Study Seizures By Mexican Gunboats

TAMPA (AP)—Fishing interests here are awaiting return of shrimp boats from Mexican waters to get a clear picture of what happened to several craft seized by Mexican gunboats Sunday.

None of them was expected to arrive here before Wednesday night.

The United States embassy at Mexico City said Monday four shrimp boats were captured on charges of fishing in Mexican waters.

U. S. Consul General William Allaire reported that government tug boats held the ships in port after the charges were dropped. The port captain at Campeche, Yucatan, refused to let them go until he received orders from the Navy Ministry in Mexico City.

United States consular officials are going to Campeche today to make sure the boats are turned loose promptly.

Henry C. Singleton, Tampa, who operates large shrimping fleet, said he was informed by the Gibbs Corp. of Jacksonville that all craft seized had been released. This information had been passed down from the State Department in Washington, Singleton said.

The Mexican Navy said these four boats were seized: Miss Suzanne and Fair Ivy, both of Jacksonville; Miss Campeche of Tampa; and Surprise of Key West. The vessels were reported to have been within three to six miles of the Mexican coast.

The U. S. State Department had reported at least a dozen shrimp boats were seized and others were ordered to a Mexican port but escaped. Singleton said some of those which fled were expected here today.

There was conjecture the incident might revive the long standing difference between the United States and Mexico over the limit of territorial waters. Mexico claims nine miles while the United States recognizes only three miles.

FINN EPIDEMIC
WEST PALM BEACH (AP)—State Conservation Agent J. W. Uptegrove reported a mysterious infection is killing thousands of bread, jacks and snook in Lake Worth.

Uptegrove said the infection first appeared a month ago and seems to be spreading. Out of two tubs of sand bread caught near the Palm Beach Spillway, nine out of 10 fish were infected, he reported Monday.

Uptegrove said the infection first appears as a black spot on the side and eats completely through the body. The State Game and Fresh Water Fish Department has been notified and an investigation is expected, he added.

Southwest Is Hit By Worst Dust Storm In Years

ALBUQUERQUE (AP)—The storm that deluged California last week shrieked across the high plains of Eastern New Mexico and West Texas as Monday night in the worst dust storm in years.

Winds up to 110 miles an hour churned the dust to sullen clouds 15,000 to 20,000 feet high.

A small tornado ripped into Wichita Falls, Tex., with some property damage, snatching dust-laden auto travel near Hobbs, Southern New Mexico oil center. Eight persons were hospitalized there after highway smashups.

Across the northern edge of the cold front, Oklahoma City, Ardmore, Okla., and Wichita Falls received heavy showers. The storm brought rain today to Kansas City and Wichita, Kan.

Hobbs apparently bore the brunt of the New Mexico dust. Gusts ranged up to 75 miles an hour. Streets were covered with sand as the wind let up at 4:30 a. m. Police issued warnings against picking up the rain and snow which had blown down.

The Wichita Falls tornado damaged roofs, uprooted trees and disrupted electrical power. The Weather Bureau warned that other tornadoes might develop as the storm passed today over Texas and Oklahoma.

The storm is expected to strike the Chicago area tonight. The Weather Bureau said the amount of rain and snow would increase if it moved east.

In the West Texas-New Mexico area, the wind whipped around a mixture of rain, snow, hail and sand—paralyzing drivers.

Previous top soil, dried to dust by what has been called one of the worst droughts in the South-west since the 13th Century, whirled high into the air. The wind reached a top velocity of 110 miles an hour at Wink, Tex., near the New Mexico line.

The mixture was described as "pink hail" at Sanford, Tex., and "a shower of mud" at Portales, N. M.

Snow blocked three New Mexico highways early today. At the peak of the storm, two other highways in the state were closed for several hours because of blowing dust, one after an accident that sent eight people to the hospital.

Aside from Wichita Falls, the only damage reported was a few signs blown down. But the clouds of dust, towering from 15,000 to 20,000 feet high, remained over the area today to get in people's hair and eyes and generally make housewives unhappy.

A large area of precipitation extended from the Northern Plains and the Western Great Lakes' region southward to Eastern Texas and the Middle Mississippi Valley. It was rain in most areas, with light snow in Northern Minnesota and North Dakota. Wet snow, with

2 Camellia Bushes Planted in Lake Mary

A planting ceremony in connection with State Beautification Week was staged at the entrance yesterday to Crystal Lake Beach, Lake Mary, by the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce Beautification Committee of which Edmond Lowe is chairman in cooperation with members of the Lake Mary Chamber of Commerce.

Camellia plants donated by Fred Mahan of Monticello, were planted before a large gathering which included many school children.

The beautification program was described by Forrest Breckenridge, manager of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce. Frank Evans appeared as chairman of the Lake Mary Chamber of Commerce Beautification Committee.

County Clerk O. P. Herndon told of the interest of the County Commission in the program, and Supl. T. W. Lewis reported the fine work being done for the improvement of Crystal Lake Beach.

More plantings are due to take place in Oviedo and Longwood, said Mr. Breckenridge.

Gravedigger Held In Connection With Robber's Slaying

NEW YORK (AP)—An elderly gravedigger was held today as the anonymous writer of a threatening letter to slay Arnold Schuster, whose tip led police to Bank Robber Willie Sutton.

Sutton went on trial today for a 1950 holdup. A heavy police guard stuck close to the alleged $3.5 million prison breaker, and detectives screened spectators.

The gravedigger's arraignment on federal charges was delayed after Brooklyn District Attorney Miles F. McDonald reported to the Federal Courtroom to question him.

McDonald indicated he was miffed the FBI asserted he had not notified him of the arrest.

Schuster, 34-year-old Brooklyn clothing salesman, was killed near his home March 8. Just a month ago, on Feb. 18, Schuster had spotted the nation's top bank robber and prison escape artist on a subway train.

The FBI arrested the gravedigger, William "Brimstone" Brown, 61, New York, Wednesday night and said he admitted writing Schuster on Feb. 22 that "your days are numbered for being a squealer on Willie Sutton."

Schuster received about a dozen threats before he was shot.

Later today, Edward Scheidt, head of the New York FBI office, said "there is no avoidance implicating" Brown "with the shooting of the young salesman."

The threatening letter, allegedly written by Brown, read:

"This is to let you know that your days are numbered for hearing a squealer on Billy Sutton."

The note, scrawled on plain-lined paper, bore no signature, but there was a crudely drawn face at the bottom of the page. "Beating" apparently meant "being."

He declined to reveal how the note was traced to Brown.

Brown was charged with violating the federal extortion statute and held for arraignment in Brooklyn.

In the neighboring Borough of Queens, Sutton and two of his alleged accomplices were due to enter a heavily guarded courtroom for their trial on charges of holding up a branch of the Manhattan Trust Co. for $40,000.

Tractor Overtakes Causing Small Fire

A City tractor pulling a water tank overturned in a ditch at the corner of Mulberry Avenue and Twelfth Street causing the tractor to burst into flames at 11:16 a. m. this morning, Fire Chief M. J. Cleveland reported today.

Cassia Vernon, the driver was not injured in the spill. Firemen raced to the scene and extinguished the blaze before much damage was done to the tractor. The accident occurred while workmen were paving the road.

At 7:20 a. m. this morning, firemen were called out to put out a cook stove fire in the home of Elizabeth Calhoun, Tenth Street and Pease Avenue. The flames quickly damaged the wall. Chief Cleveland stated.

Yesterday firemen subdued a small grass fire in the Woodmont subdivision at 10:40 a. m. and at 5:22 p. m. the booster truck was sent out to wash off gasoline on the pavement of First in front of Treu's shoe store. The gas was spilled from a leaking truck.

Nervy Pilot

The left engine burned itself out of the plane and smashed into a field about two miles from the crash.

Capt. R. C. Wesley, Pensacola, Fla. pilot, parachuted to safety from about 300 feet while the plane was in a screaming dive.

"I stayed with the plane because I wanted to make sure I missed those houses," Wesley said. "I hope that falling engine didn't hurt anyone."

Mrs. S. Sikorsky, who lives about one mile from the crash scene, said, "That pilot was wonderful. The plane might have killed a lot of people if it had struck the houses."

Mrs. Sikorsky said she was in the house when it suddenly started shaking. "I looked out the window," she said, "and there was just one big ball of fire with someone coming down in a parachute. It must have been the pilot."

The body of Lt. Comdr. Garfield was found near the wreckage. He apparently was dragged to death by strong surface winds that reached 25 miles an hour in gusts.

Cpl. Ductor's body was found in an open field with his parachute open.

Bound from El Toro, Calif., to Cherry Point, N. C., on a regular transport trip, the plane had landed at the base of the 1st Marine Division.

old Sutton are Thomas King, 45, and John DeVenuta, 37. Their arrests followed Sutton's by a few days.

Sutton, known as "The Actor" because of the disguises he used in a number of spectacular holdups, already faces life imprisonment for four felony convictions. He never finished two of his prison terms, escaping from Sing Sing, N. Y., and later from Holmesburg, Pa., prisons.

Foreign Aid

ity, now awaiting ratification, goes into effect.

As for the bill before the senators, Acheson said he feels that needed items were cut "to the limit of safety" when the $7,800,000 measure was framed.

Acheson said, too, that economic aid figures, in particular, be provided to other free nations or else "you are not going to get what you are seeking here—that is, a Western European defense force strong enough to resist any Soviet aggression."

There have been demands by various senators that the economic aid figures, in particular, be slashed considerably.

Across the Capitol, meantime, the House Foreign Affairs Committee questioned W. Averell Harriman, Mutual Security director, about the big bill.

Rep. Fulton (R., Pa.) complained that great Britain was proceeding with a costly atomic bomb development program, "which nobody knew anything about" while seeking U. S. dollar aid.

Harriman said he knew about British atomic plans.

Tech. Sgt. Harold Cook, Kingman, Kan., the crew chief, said that left engine started popping right after we left the airport. I flipped the CO-2 (fire extinguisher) switch to put out the fire. But instead the flames spread to the wing."

Wesley said he turned back to the field when the engine caught fire. "I ordered the men to bail out when I saw I couldn't make it," he said.

 as throughout the country in helping to restore children to normal

Sanford should make itself a part of the Municipal Concert Series. Musical entertainment is as much a part of tourist recreation
 as anything else that we can provide. Other towns are doing it, towns like Leesburg and Melbourne, to say nothing of Orlando which provides all sorts of cultural recreation. If we do not do our part in making this fine type of pleasure available for our tourists, we will lose them to towns which do.

We are in receipt of a very nice letter from the commandant
 of the Sixth Naval District, Rear Adm. G. B. Davis who says, "It was a pleasure to see and read a copy of the Sanford Herald of 25 February. It is a most impressive tribute to the Naval Auxiliary Air Station. I appreciate the whole-hearted welcome which you and the City of Sanford have given the Navy."

Brailey Odham drew a large and enthusiastic crowd Monday night despite the chill winds that penetrated pretty close to the bones of some of us. He is an effective speaker and would make a favorable impression on anyone whose mind was not already mad
 up because of the lack of handling of political affairs. In leveling his barrage in many different directions at once, he may be scattering his fire too much to bring up sufficient supports, but no one can deny he is waging a whole of a fight.

We do not propose to tell people how to vote in the coming primary, but neither do we feel constrained to refrain from fair and legitimate comment which may be of general public interest.
 Perhaps the most interesting context now getting under way is the five-cornered affair among the candidates for sheriff. The entrance of Police Chief Roy Williams into this race has cast an entirely new light on the outcome. Another race that may prove interesting to watch is that between O. P. Herndon and Bill Stemper.

People who objected to the size of their income tax on Mar. 15
 should resolve to do something about it, come next November. It does no good to beef about taxes
 and then vote for the same people who laid these taxes on you. And even those who are on the lowest rung of the economic ladder would do well to realize that every dollar paid out in taxes is just one dollar less which might otherwise go toward a wage increase. Only those who do not work at all, and who live off of government handouts, should be interested in perpetuating the present party in Washington.

The president of Tide magazine calls upon American business to maintain a 330 billion dollar economy, which is about what it is now. That should not be too difficult to do, providing we do not get mixed up in another world war or some other worldwide catastrophe occurs, but it does not necessarily follow that the 330 billion dollar economy we have is the same measure of enjoyment. It is not so important how many people will be employed on the open market, as it is how many are employed at all. If our present policy of restriction on immigration continues, as we have done since the war, we will be unable to employ the 330 billion dollar economy we have.

A Tax win in New Jersey on top of similar victories in Wisconsin and Illinois, would be calculated to put Eisenhower somewhat
 out of the running when the

Order Of Merit

What national honor do we award a great public benefactor such as an eminent scientist or a pioneer in medicine?
 The answer is, none, except public esteem. In Great Britain they do things differently. Sir Charles Sherrington, who has just died at 94, was a neuro-physiologist whose researches are thought by experts to have furnished most of our knowledge of the physiology of the nervous system. These achievements won him a Nobel prize for medicine in 1932.

The government did not think this a sufficient recognition of his abilities. He received a knighthood in 1922, and 10 years later was awarded the greatest honor that can befall an Englishman, the Order of Merit, given to only 24 persons and never for political services. There is no salary; it is pure honor. While Winston Churchill has the Order, no one would question his right to it, but for Churchill there would be no Great Britain today.

It is less clear why Clement Attlee, the recent Labor party premier, obtained the honor following his defeat.
 Churchill may have wished to show magnanimity to a defeated rival; he may also have felt it well that labor as a class should be included in this select society.

The late Thomas Hardy, the novelist, best known for his "Tess of the D'Urbervilles," Augustus John, the painter; John Masefield, novelist and poet laureate; Lord Halifax, former ambassador to the United States, and the philosopher, Bertrand Russell, all were or are members. In 1945 the award was given to General Eisenhower.

Would there be any objection to establishing a like framework here for the recognition of surpassing merit?

Blow To Patronage

Patronage in the Internal Revenue Department ended with the passage of the bill placing its employees under civil service. The move was initiated by President Truman under heavy criticism because of tax scandals in his administration. The new law calls for an almost complete reorganization of the tax department but taxes will be no lighter nor will they be any more pleasant to pay.

Nor will taking the Internal Revenue Bureau out of politics be a guarantee that there will be no further corruption. Wherever men are allowed to handle money that does not belong to them there will be a temptation to be dishonest. Regulations must be set up and strictly enforced which make cheating unprofitable and as nearly impossible as it can be made. Every effort must be made to discover the character as well as the efficiency of employees.

While civil service is not a panacea for all problems of hiring good public servants it is preferable to political patronage. Civil servants are aware that there are no powerful political figures ready or anxious to whitewash their misdeeds. Cutting down the number of political plums help to reduce the number of votes an unscrupulous politician can maneuver.

Congress has backed the President's attempt at a reorganization. It is now up to him to see that the reorganization is an improvement.

Cobb And The Past

In a current issue of Life magazine, Ty Cobb, one of the greatest ballplayers of all time, bemoans the current crop of players. Cobb believes that the game was faster in his day, the players more rugged and devoted to the sport. Today, he maintains, high salaries and off-season activities keep athletes from giving their best. He refers to Ted Williams and Joe DiMaggio as two examples of present day stars who might not have been regarded so highly when he was at his peak.

Cobb's lament is the familiar one of many old-timers who look back with nostalgia at the days of their youth.
 Cobb knew baseball as few men ever have. He set records which still stand. But it is difficult to understand how he can make the comments he did about Williams and DiMaggio, two players who would have been likely to shine at any period in the game's history. He may have some basis for contending that the game was more rugged in his day but in many ways today's game is faster and calls for a higher degree of skill.

There is a story of a man who constantly told companions how much worse winter storms were in the days when he was young. One of them finally wearied and remarked that the snows may actually have been no deeper but that his legs as a boy were shorter. Cobb can be forgiven for his affection for baseball's past. Especially since he played such an important part in it.

Eisenhower

tanous upsurge for Eisenhower in Minnesota, on top of his solid defeat of Taft in last week's New Hampshire primary, indicated the 6-star general threatens to overtake Taft unless there is an early reversal in trend.

If continued, this trend is bound to have a strong psychological effect on many Republican leaders who have been sitting on the fence waiting to see which way the lightning is going to strike.

Surveys have indicated that, despite rival claims, the balance of over-holding delegates to be chosen before the July convention probably will be uncommitted in what now looks like a 2-man race between Eisenhower and Taft.

Taft's manager have said they regard the April 1 vote in Wisconsin as the key test in their campaign. They have hoped to top the field there by as much as 10 per cent, that the 50 per cent of the total vote that Eisenhower got in New Hampshire.

If an Eisenhower write-in campaign should develop in Wisconsin and follow the course of the hastily arranged drive in Minnesota, it could threaten that prospect.

If Taft clears the Wisconsin hurdle successfully he will bump into Eisenhower in the April 15 New Jersey primary. There Eisenhower not only will have his name on the ballot, but he will be backed by the force of the state Republican organization headed by Gov.
 Alfred E. Driscoll, who has announced his support of the general.

The fact that Taft probably will have won most of Illinois' 60 GOP convention delegates in a contest with Stassen in that state's April 3 primary is likely to be lost sight of unless he can defeat Eisenhower in the New Jersey test.

A New Jersey defeat might leave Taft in the position of having more delegates officially pledged to him, but facing an uphill battle against Eisenhower's then demonstrated popularity with the voters.

In a close race, Driscoll's May 14
 primary might become a decisive factor in the nomination fight, as it was in 1948 when Gov. Thomas
 E. Dewey of New York defeated
 Eisenhower here.

A Taft win in New Jersey on
 top of similar victories in Wisconsin and Illinois, would be calculated to put Eisenhower somewhat
 out of the running when the

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—Outnumbered
 American Sabre pilots damaged
 two Red MIG 15s today in a jet battle fought above the clouds of Northwest Korea.

Eighteen Sabres fought in a 15-minute afternoon battle that ranged from seven to 2 1/2 miles above the ground. The hits were credited to Maj. Zane S.
 Amell, East Lansing, Mich., and Capt. Charles E. McDonald, Shreveport, La.

Shooting Star jet pilots reported they started landslides when they 1,000 pound bombs, burying large sections of Red railway tracks under tons of dirt.

Rain storms grounded the planes
 during the morning and soaked the quiet battle front.

But it was a bright day for
 Gen. James A. Van Fleet, U. S.
 Eighth Army commander. He celebrated his 60th birthday with his son, an Air Force lieutenant he had not seen for 15 months.

James Jr., arrived in Korea Friday. He flew to Eighth Army headquarters at Seoul in one of the 30 all-weather planes to take the air this morning. He begins flying combat missions as pilot of a B-26
 bomber next week.

Gen. Van Fleet told visiting newsmen that Red infantrymen could break through the United Nations lines if they waited to pay the price in casualties—but the Allies would pinch off any such thrust. Then, he said, the Allies would follow up with a counteroffensive of their own.

The battling Wisconsin and two American destroyers stood off the eastern end of the 153-mile battle line Tuesday and hammered Red troops around the clock. The Navy reported the Wisconsin's 16
 inch guns destroyed Red bunkers, ripped trenches, blasted artillery
 batteries and wrecked a boat yard.
 The destroyers Duncan and Higbee
 also scored with direct hits.

The Communists increased their own artillery and mortar fire
 shooting more than 2,000 rounds

HEN TO RESCUE

WASHINGTON (AP)—The hen is coming to the rescue of the family with the pinched budget. The Agriculture Department said today
 the hen is laying enough eggs now
 to provide two large ones daily for each person—at a cost from eight to 10 cents for the individual meal.

As a substitute for higher-priced
 meats, eggs provide proteins essential to good diets.

GIs Rush To Marry Japanese Women Before Deadline

By STAN CARTER

TOKYO (AP)—Hundreds of American servicemen married Japanese girls today—just in time to beat the deadline for taking their petite brides home to the United States.

James B. Plicher, U. S. consul general, estimated the last-day
 rush of civil ceremonies at six consular offices increased the number of servicemen legally married to Japanese to about 8,000.

Some of the brides were not available for days.

Servicemen had to be married
 by 2 p. m. today (midnight Tuesday EST) to benefit from a law which enables them to take their Oriental brides to the U. S.

A law didn't make it possible for a newly crossed plain-looking woman, waited at the front door of the Tokyo consulate until 2:15 p. m. for her sweetheart to arrive from Korea. He never got there.

Ninety-five soldiers, sailors and Marines were married today at the Tokyo consulate. Similar numbers stood beside their fiancées
 at consular offices in Yokohama, Nagoya, Kobe, Fukuoka and Sapporo and said, "I do" to this question:

"Do you solemnly swear that according to the laws of your state
 you are of legal marriageable age and there is no hindrance, legal or otherwise, to your uniting in marriage with this girl?"
 That's all there was.

Some of the couples planned religious ceremonies later, but most did not.

Truman's Plans

This determination could not have been lessened any by the spectacular showing made in last week's New Hampshire primary by Tennessee's Sen. Estes Kefauver, who grabbed all of the late convention delegates away from the President.
One thing appears certain in the minds of the men near Mr. Truman—he is ready to make some dramatic moves in the months before the Democratic National Convention to regain pre-eminence lost by his New Hampshire defeat.
Mr. Truman didn't want his name left on the ballot in New Hampshire. He didn't want to make a campaign and he had decided definitely whether to seek re-election. He is believed bitterly disappointed that his own judgment was swayed by New Hampshire Democratic leaders who persuaded him, with McKinney's help, to change his mind.

2 Women Killed

The fuselage, broken and twisted in the middle, came to rest right side up and burst into flames as the pilot walked away.
Commander P. J. Thomas, operations officer at NAS, said the plane was piloted by Ensign L. Greenwood and was on a routine training flight. He said the pilot was attempting an emergency landing after the plane caught fire in the air.
Theodore Rutledge, Jr., 19, Negro cadet, was about 70 feet from Mrs. Johnston and Mrs. Dempsey when the plane came down.
"They had made their second shots and were waiting along just outside the middle of the runway," he said. "I heard something pop. I looked around and saw the plane coming in low behind me. I hurried and told them to look out and then I looked and saw I saw smoke coming out of the engine of the plane."
Navy hospital officials said the pilot apparently "suffered only minor injuries."

It Makes Your Dollars Feel Important too

The Buick pictured here can match price tags with a lot of cars smaller in size and horsepower and win.

But that only gives you a hint as to what a whale of a buy it is.

Like costlier Buicks, it has the wide-open view of a one-piece windshield.

Like costlier Buicks, it has the gleaming distinction of sweeppear styling.

Like costlier Buicks, it has smart new fabrics and door trim.

Like all other Buicks, it has the extra safety of new, long-lasting Wide-Band brakes.

Like all other Buicks, it has the sure-footed, road-hugging, oven-keeled steadiness of the Million Dollar Ride—a combination of 15 engineering features including a husky X-braced frame, end-way and side-roll stabilizers, Hi-Point engine mounting, Firm-Firm steering and coil springs for every wheel.

And like all other Buicks, it has a power-packed Five-Cylinder engine—a high-compression valve-in-head gets extra wallop, extra mileage from every gallon of gasoline.

Blues In The News

By BOB ANTHONY

The NAAS Skeet Team earned themselves a victory of which they can really be proud. Last weekend they travelled up to Jacksonville where they competed in a skeet shoot consisting of the NAS Jacksonville team, the Cecil Field team and FABRON 821's team.

After shooting 50 rounds, Jacksonville, Cecil and our Station team were all tied for first place with an additional 25 rounds were fired. When the smoke cleared away the score read Sanford 247; Jacksonville 246; and Cecil Field 245.

Top man for our Station Skeet Team was the usual "sharpshooter" Chief E. A. Voss, who managed to smash 74 of the 75 clay targets at which he shot.

Congratulations men! By topping NAS Jacksonville's team, you have shown that the Sanford squad rates among the better skeet teams on the entire east coast.

John Wheeler left the station Monday morning on leave to his home in Orlando. John and his wife expect to spend this time entertaining John's parents who have arrived in Florida from their home in Buffalo, New York.

Three other NAAS men going on leave recently were Chief Lewis Nader, Donald Wickline and Oscar New.

Chief Nader will be spending some time in Avon Park, Florida with his mother and father before reporting to sea duty while Oscar is on his way to his hometown of Bamberg, South Carolina to spend about six days with his family and friends.

Donald is taking 12 days to be at his home in Beverly, W. Va. Donald's brother has just returned home after a tour of duty overseas and Don is taking this opportunity to be at home with him.

Two newcomers to NAAS are Raymond Robinson and Paul Marchan. Ray reported aboard from the Navy's aviation electrician's school at the Naval Air Technical Training Center in Jacksonville. Paul is an old timer in this man's Navy and has reported here after completion of a tour of duty spent at the U. S. Naval Station in Argentina, Newfoundland. Paul has brought his wife and family with him and the Marchans are residing near the Orlando highway just outside the Sanford city limits.

He is survived by the widow, three daughters, Mrs. Maxwell C. Hendry, Hawaii, Miss Edith and Catherine Lloyd, of Sanford, two grandchildren, Shirley Ann and Shirley Mae (widow of Carl Hill), two sisters, Mrs. Host Hall, Fellsmere, Fla., and Mrs. Alpha Scrows, also of Fellsmere.

here will surely hate to see him leave. The Bureau's gain is NAAS's loss and here's wishing you the best of luck on your tour of duty in Washington Mr. Nicholson.

A day late, but still filled with the spirit of St. Patrick's Day, The Navy Center was the scene of a gala dance in the good Santa honor. Mrs. Ed Lane, chairman, with the cooperation of the Sanford Garden Club, sponsored the dance, and it turned out to be one of the best.

The room was brightly decorated with green palm leaves, and green and white Crepe paper. The table from which green punch and green cake were served was also covered with green and white.

Those enjoying the evening were Polly and "Footsie" Lawrence, Kathryn Cullum, Richard Hobson, Jack Perry, Richard Karnes, Bobby Morton, Betty Doris Williams, Jerry Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. W. Arceaus, Betty Michaels, Dorothy Tesio, Wally Lawrence, Alfred Cummings, Jerry Cherout, Lyle Burnham, Janette Ratliff, Mary Ann Buker, Peggy Best Mildred Awalt, Louis Prestenberg, Margaret Von Herbold, Mrs. W. A. Cagle and many others that due to the condition of hand writing, this columnist was unable to read.

You have seen the name of Chief Howard Haynes referred to in this column as "Pappy" on a number of occasions. Today he had an extra-special smile on his face and he was beaming as much as if he had just been given that nickname. It didn't take long to find the reason. "Pappy's" son became the father of a bouncing 8 pound 4 ounce baby boy. How does it feel to be a grandpappy, "Pappy"???

to this late date if he plans to run," he said.

In connection with the Florida primary, where he has three separate slates of delegates pledged to him, Russell said he hopes to iron out the situation very shortly. He said the number of delegates which could split his strength presents a "very grave problem."

He added that he welcomed the support of former U. S. Sen. Claude Pepper of Florida. He said he understood that Pepper had been instrumental in getting some "outstanding" Floridians to support him as delegates.
