

Cdr. D. E. Webster Commands VAH-13

Cdr. Dean E. Webster, executive officer, has succeeded Cdr. C. V. Nolta Jr., killed in an aircraft accident Dec. 23 in DeBary, as commanding officer of Reconnaissance Attack Squadron 13 at Sanford Naval Air Station.

Commander Webster, 38, a native of Bedford, Ohio, has been flying since 1944. He received his Navy wings and commission in 1958.

A Tulane University graduate, he has varied experience in Naval aviation including service in both fighter and heavy attack aircraft.

One of the highlights of his career was when he served on the headquarters staff of the commander of the Pacific Missile Range in 1958-59.

He reported to Reconnaissance Attack Squadron Three last July for RA-6C Vigilante aircraft training following tour at Naval Station, Whidbey Island, Wash., with Heavy Attack Squadron Two and the fleet air staff.

Commander Webster, his wife, the former Miss Mary Lois Allnoch, of Corpus Christi, Tex., resides with their five children, Jeffrey, 8; Joel, 6; David, 4; Scott, 2; and Susan, 1, at 2352 Derbyshire Road, Maitland.

Post Appoints Chairmen For Boys State

By Donna Esteg.
Linton Cox and Frank Steudle were reappointed chairman and co-chairman, respectively, of the Boys State Committee by Commander Jack Beauchamp at the regular meeting of American Legion Old Glory Post 183 of Altamonte Springs held Monday evening at the Post Home on Prairie Lake.

Beauchamp also named Tom Logran as chairman of the ways and means committee to be assisted by Steudle, Bill Burkhardt and Ralph Drebbin. In other business, plans were made to promote more social activity for the welfare of the post and it was announced that notices of meetings will no longer be sent to the members.

The men were urged to note on their calendars the regular meeting dates, third Monday of each month, and to plan to attend the post meetings to help "Carry on the Legion's work for God and Country." Next meeting will be Feb. 15, 8 p.m., at the Post Home. A combined social with members of the Auxiliary Unit will be held following the meeting.

Silhouette Artist Shows At Mall

Winter Park Mall Merchants Association has engaged the services of LeMac, a world famous silhouette artist who has appeared in every state in the Union and many foreign countries numbering many great and near-great in his list of subjects.

Perhaps the most famous is that of Sir Winston Churchill who posed for LeMac while he was at the University of Missouri where he gave his now famous Iron Curtain Speech.

LeMac's collection of life-size portraits silhouettes of the Washington to L. B. Johnson has been acclaimed as an outstanding historical exhibition. The collection has been created over the years by LeMac, some having posed for him, some during personal appearance while others, of necessity, were done following research of photos and paintings.

The collection will be on view at all hours while the Mall is open and is free to the public.

LeMac, himself, will be in the Mall daily and will cut and give away free a limited number of silhouettes of children at each appearance Thursday, Friday and Saturday at 1 P.M., 3 P.M., 5 P.M., 6:30 P.M. and 8 p.m.

Children must be over four years old and accompanied by an adult. One to a family.

New Satellite Quadruples Weather Watch

Orbits Earth In 2 Hours

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI) — The United States today rocketed a glittering new Tiros weather satellite high over south Florida and Cuba into a polar orbit that will give its rolling eyes full view of earth's clouds.

It was the first time a north-south orbit was reached from the East Coast. Missions shunned such shots in the past because of the slight chance that rocket failure could drop debris or populated areas.

Although today's launch was marred by the "too hot" performance of the rocket's second stage that shoved the payload into an egg-shaped rather than circular orbit, scientists said Tiros' mission would be met. It was whirling around earth every 118 minutes on a path that ranged from 500 to 1,812 miles high.

With the polar orbit and a unique cartwheel arrangement for its two television cameras, Tiros 9 will be able to keep a weather watch over the entire world—four times the coverage of each of its predecessors.

The shot, thought yet for the reliable Delta rocket, required precision maneuvering to take the booster around most of Florida's southern border but still keep it on its difficult course.

Ninety seconds after its 2:53 a.m. EST blastoff, the sleek three-stage rocket began a gentle turn that carried it back toward Florida's famed Gold Coast. It streaked over Palm Beach and flew more than 60 miles above Miami Beach 190 seconds after launch.

The rocket, still gathering speed, then sped more than 100 miles above Cuba and headed southwestward over the Caribbean and Panama.

Five minutes after launch, a space agency spokesman said all but noise were out of danger. He reported later that the rocket's speed had increased into the Caribbean north of Panama as planned.

After hearing objections to possible noise from the tracks from a resident, Benjamin Newman, Richard Joyce explained that the area would be enclosed with a solid steel construction fence and that it would operate eight months of the year with rates one night a week from 8 until 10:30 and practice sessions once a week from 8 until 9 p.m. The Joyce brothers were invited to go over regulations with council.

Building Inspector William Lake recommended that council amend the zoning ordinance to permit construction of out buildings closer than 25 feet from lot lines. After discussion it was agreed that the city attorney be instructed to write amendments to the zoning ordinance changing the requirement from 25 feet to 10 feet.

It was voted that the paving on Seminole and Land Avenues, which has been inspected, be accepted by the city for maintenance and that the paving of Reider Avenue from Oak Street west be included in an early paving program.

It was decided to give the fire department permission to hold its annual fried chicken dinner March 13 at the city park.

Meeting was adjourned subject to call and it is expected that another session will take place before the regular February session.

MIAMI (UPI) — State troopers are accustomed to seeing an occasional stray horse or cow on nearby Palmetto Expressway—but not camels.

"You may not believe this, but I've got a real camel wandering around up here on the expressway," trooper D. W. Phillips radioed to his headquarters.

The "ship of the desert" no doubt frightened by several speeding cars which almost crashed into him, gave the officer a bite on the hand for good measure as he was being led away.

Police said the beast had escaped from a pasture nearby.

Sir Winston Continues To Amaze World

LONDON (UPI) — Everybody agreed today that Sir Winston Churchill was in his last illness, but the question on all lips was how had he managed to survive so long.

A week ago today he suffered a massive stroke. For a 90-year-old man that usually is fatal, and fairly quickly.

But the bulletin issued Thursday night by Churchill's physician, Lord Moran, reported: "Sir Winston's condition is unchanged."

Churchill still is the No. 1 topic of conversation in London, and physicians are being constantly interviewed by persons who are not ill.

The public is trying to understand how and why their hero is able to survive.

Resisting Death
One doctor, a specialist in ailments of the aged, put it this way: "Sir Winston is not so much fighting for life as he is resisting death. He would not have lived this long if his body gave up easily."

All physicians agree that the clue to Churchill's stout fight is his amazing medical history. He has survived things that would have killed a normal man twice over.

He had double pneumonia at the age of seven. In 1893 he fell out of a tree and was unconscious for three days.

In his early years he suffered from tonsillitis, skin infection and eye trouble. He fell off a camel at age 47 and off a polo pony at 48.

He had attacks of gastroenteritis and paratyphoid. He was operated on for appendicitis at 18 and for hernia at 22.

He was in a plane crash in Paris in 1919 and was knocked down and badly battered by a taxi cab in New York in 1931.

He suffered a serious attack of pneumonia in North Africa during World War II.

He smashed his hand in an elevator in 1938 and broke a bone in his back in a fall at his home in 1960.

Most of his life he drank considerable brandy, smoked strong cigars and stayed up until 3 a.m.

This is the inevitable answer of doctors is that a body that has been repairing itself so frequently over the years keeps on automatically trying to do it, even though Churchill is sleeping or in a coma most of the time.

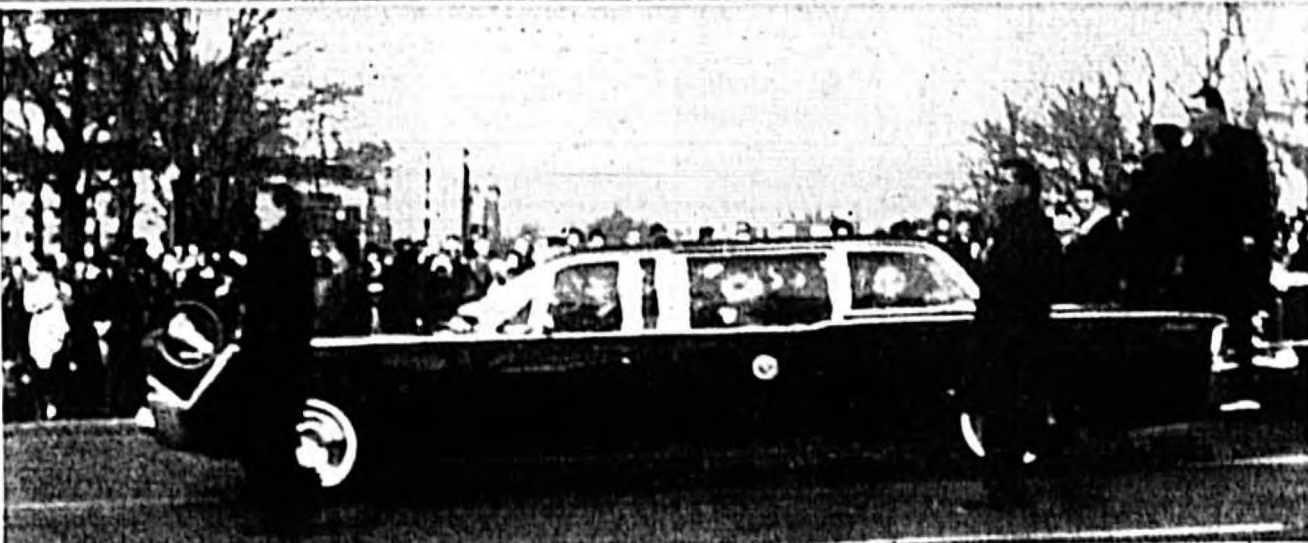

The announcement that the doors would finally close for the last time came today from Mrs. Tammar Braden, assistant administrator of the home who has led the long struggle for more than three years.

"Because of the continuing and increased demands of facilities related to the care of the aged, we are unable to continue in our present facility. We, therefore, have not and do not intend to apply for relicensing," Mrs. Braden told The Herald today.

The temporary license granted the home last May following pleas from the county commission and local citizens to the State Board of Health expired last Dec. 31. An earlier directive ordered the home closed on Dec. 31, 1963.

"It is hoped that with the full co-operation of the State and County Welfare agencies, nine of our residents will be moved on or about Feb. 1. Announcements of further moves and future plans will be made at a later date," Mrs. Braden added.

Civic organizations, private citizens and Navy personnel all joined together to help the home with money, labor and service to keep the home open.

Awards Banquet Of Jaycees Set Saturday Eve

Sanford Jaycees will hold their annual awards banquet Saturday at 7:30 p.m. at the Paces Hotel, 1000 building on Seminole Boulevard.

The annual event is the occasion of the presentation of five public awards to outstanding citizens of the county. Top award is the Distinguished Service award to the most outstanding young man in the community, who has been 18 to 25 years of age.

He must be between 21 and 35 years of age and he need not be a member of the Jaycees. He is chosen by public nomination," said Jaycee President Clyde Long.

Some public officials will win the annual Good Government award, which is given for the person who has contributed the most to public service in the past year.

Other awards are those presented to the Outstanding Young Teacher, Outstanding Young Sailor and Outstanding Young Farmer. Jaycee Wendell Springfield is chairman of the awards committee. The teacher and the sailor are chosen by their fellow workers and the farmer by public nomination.

Featured speaker at the banquet will be Jim Jewell, managing editor of the Ft. Lauderdale News, who will describe the economic advantages that have accrued to his city because of the marina and boating industry there. Jewell is a Jaycee.

Change Asked In Longwood City Charter

By Donna Estes
Longwood City Council Thursday night voted to instruct the city attorney to draw a resolution requesting that the Legislature be petitioned to amend the city charter to make the combined office of city clerk and tax assessor an appointive position rather than an elected one.

Councilman Carl Lommer, who proposed the resolution, stated that he "wanted to assure future councils of having a qualified clerk and good housekeeping systems."

He pointed out that with the office remaining an elected one a person may be elected on the basis of popularity rather than ability.

In answer to a protest from the audience, Lommer said that there is "no question of Mrs. Anne R. Shomate's ability as present clerk and tax assessor and that the proposed change in the charter is not a personal attack on her."

In other business, Council Chairman R. C. Carlson announced that the legal description had been verified on the Hammes property on Sandal Springs Drive in the western part of the city where the Joyce Brothers propose to build a $100,000 stock car speedway. He further stated that the property is located completely within the city limits and is properly zoned for the venture.

After hearing objections to possible noise from the tracks from a resident, Benjamin Newman, Richard Joyce explained that the area would be enclosed with a solid steel construction fence and that it would operate eight months of the year with rates one night a week from 8 until 10:30 and practice sessions once a week from 8 until 9 p.m. The Joyce brothers were invited to go over regulations with council.

SRD Aids Area Move

A spot check survey of Seminole County was made this morning by landscape experts of the State Road Department after they had conferred with the Seminole Chamber of Commerce's beautification committee.

The men, L. K. Thompson, coordinator of state beautification projects, and Paul Pappas, assistant engineer in maintenance, made the tour with Committee Chairman John Alexander and his group.

Earlier, the two had pledged complete co-operation within the limits of SRD regulations for the county project.

Thompson said he will be available on short notice to confer with the group again and offered to lay out sketches of what the committee desires. He then will study the requests, modify, approve or disapprove the local beautification, subject to SRD policies.

He told the group, meeting in the Chamber's conference room, that the SRD is now considering a new policy for beautification and this will serve as guidelines for any future project.

The policy will vary in some areas but will put stress on safety of the driving public, he said. In some areas, trees will be allowed while in other sections they will be limited.

The SRD officials agreed with the committee that planning and maintenance of the plantings should be considered together. As John Kridler, Chamber executive manager, put it, "The beautification is only as good as its maintenance."

KEY TO THE GOOD LIFE... Dr. John S. Bonnell was the pastor of Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church of New York City for many years. Dr. Bonnell managed to do many things well and live under the great pressure of a nationally known church. He was one of America's most outstanding clergymen, an author, and fine speaker, yet he apparently knew how to live with a minimum of tension.

An illustration of the way he controlled his life (rather than have it control him) was shown by a taxi ride. He told of riding up Fifth Avenue during a rush hour. The traffic jam was so severe that for as long as fifteen minutes the taxi was at a complete standstill. Finally the line of cars began to move only to have another cab pull in front of them. Dr. Bonnell did not quote the adjectives used by his driver but he said that they were impressive, indeed.

As their progress continued very slowly the cab driver became more and more agitated and jittery. He muttered to himself and cursed the driver who had pulled in front of him. Dr. Bonnell had kept quiet until the time he felt that perhaps he should try to help so he said, "Driver, I have an important appointment right now... and I wanted especially to be there right on the dot, and I'm already twenty minutes late."

The driver broke in, "I am sorry, mister, but I can't help it. I am going just as fast as I can."

Dr. Bonnell replied, "I know that, you don't understand me. I mentioned this fact only to remind you that I am the one who ought to be doing all the worrying in this taxi. You are the one who is making money now. Sometime ago I saw that I was going to be late, and that there wasn't a thing I could do about it. I just relaxed and left the outcome in the hands of God. Why don't you try that some time?"

The driver made no reply then but as Dr. Bonnell was leaving the taxi he said, "I am sorry, mister, that I got so excited out there on the avenue. I have learned something today that I am not going to forget."

Dr. Bonnell did not invent his philosophy of life. He was a student of the Bible and he found the key to his good life there. The attitude in the taxi cab appears to have been derived, at least partially, from Philippians 4:11 where it is written, "I have learned, in whatsoever state I am, therewith to be content." This does not mean that Paul, the author, was a stoic, but that when he had obeyed God to the best of his ability and trusted Him implicitly that he knew the state he then found himself in was right and good. Paul knew that his state of well-being came from the love, wisdom, and power of God in Christ.

This attitude is the key to the good life today as well as anytime in the past or the future.

All Saints Episcopal Church Has Annual Parish Meeting

By Mrs. Ritchie Harris Election of three vestrymen and reports from church officers highlighted the annual Episcopal Church, Enterprise, parish meeting of All Saints held with the vicar, Rev. Michael J. Klippenbrock, presiding. Elected to the vestry for three years were Robert I. Elmers and Charles Meeking of Delmar and D. J. Parker, Enterprise, who will serve with those previously elected. Mitchell Leonard, John B. Smiley, Harry M. Johnston, Robert Cox and Harry Hulce.

Report for the year of the Episcopal Churchwomen was given by Mrs. Carl Hartman and the treasurer's report by Mrs. William V. Potter. Altar Guild reports were presented by Mrs. Thomas Hudgett and Mrs. Michael McDermott.

Vestry report and review of the year was given by Leonard, senior warden and Whitten Miller gave the treasurer's report. Reports from the buildings and grounds committee and the memorial committee were given by John B. Smiley, junior warden. Rev. Klippenbrock presented an overall review of the year's statistics and accomplishments.

Following the meeting, refreshments were served in Litch House with Mrs. Harriet Condit as hostess.

Church Board Meets To Plan Building Site The Board of Stewards of First Southern Methodist Church, Sanford, met recently with Chairman John Sauls presiding to discuss possible building sites under consideration. Further meetings are to be held and plans will be announced upon completion.

The church presently is meeting each Sunday evening at the Sanford Woman's Club on Oak Avenue.

Last week, the parable, "The Pearl of Great Price," from the 13th Chapter of St. Matthew, was basis of the sermon given by Rev. Durward H. Knight. Jim Talmadge sang a solo accompanied by Mrs. Escar Neider.

Leading the young people at their 6 p.m. session was Miss Elizabeth Priest.

Brotherhood Has Meeting Ten members attended the regular meeting of the Men's Brotherhood of the First Baptist Church of Sanlando Springs held Sunday morning at the church.

Following the meeting, breakfast prepared by Alvin Cooper and Pete Hamby was served and a program of fellowship and discussion was enjoyed.

Ranger Is Guest Of Episcopal Kindergarten

By Donna Estes All Harris of the Florida Forestry Service and head ranger at the Longwood Fire Tower talked on fire prevention to students of the kindergarten class of Christ Episcopal Church, Longwood, Thursday morning.

Harris warned the children of dangers in playing with matches and urged them to remind their parents that cigarettes should be extinguished in car ashtrays and not thrown out the windows.

He also instructed the class on the proper methods of putting out campfires. Pamphlets to be colored were distributed and a forestry calendar was presented to be placed in the classroom.

The youngsters especially enjoyed meeting and shaking hands with the guest of honor, "Smoky, the Bear." Other guests included Mrs. Harold Freeman and son, Brad.

Bishop Roy Day Leads Revival Guest evangelist for evening revival services this week at the Church of God of Prophecy is Bishop Roy Day of Michigan who will give his concluding service this Sunday evening.

Rev. Day, who has been in the ministry for 21 years, graduated from Bible training school in Cleveland, Tenn. He served as representative for the church news magazine for two years and presently is serving as State Overseer of Michigan.

While here he and his wife, Edna, are guests of Rev. and Mrs. Bobby Welch of the local church.

REV. HUGH KEANE, pastor of the Church of the Nativity (center front), was host to a recent meeting of the Mardi Gras committee. Others present to plan the Feb. 27 event were Mrs. Jennie Fox (left front) and Mrs. Gene Shannon, (right). In back, from left, are Mrs. Terry Hurst, Bill Rogers and Lenox Fay.

Nativity Church Mardi Gras Set For Feb. 27

By Donna Estes The Mardi Gras Committee of the Church of Nativity met at the home of Rev. Hugh Keane, pastor, to discuss plans for the ball scheduled for Feb. 27 at the American Legion Home on Highway 17-92 near Sanford.

Providing music for the costume ball to begin at 8:30 will be Sonny Block and his "Elephants." The four-piece combo is well known in Central Florida having played at many local affairs.

A door prize and prizes for the best costumes will be awarded as well as to winners of two dance contests. A buffet consisting of baked beans, potato salad and ham and turkey sandwiches will be served with coffee.

Serving on the ball committee are Mrs. Gene Shannon, general chairman; Mrs. Roland Fox, tickets; Bill Rogers, program, electrical work and master of ceremonies; Mrs. Terry Hurst, decorations; Mrs. George Sommer, food; Lenox Fay, refreshments and Mrs. Tracy Estes, public relations.

Tickets may be obtained by contacting Mrs. Shannon of Sunland Estates or Mrs. Fox of Longwood.

Cochran; Assistant Circle Leader, Mrs. Robert Rugenstein, Secretary, Mrs. Evelyn Rice; Treasurer, Mrs. Lucille Mero; Fellowship, Mrs. Mabel Brown; Program, Mrs. Ted Brooklyn; World Service, Mrs. Harvey Pugh; Local Church, Mrs. F. E. Donaldson; and Joan Project, Mrs. Ed Zimmerman. The new study book for the year will be, "Live As Free Men." The first chapter study is to be presented next month. The February meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Rugenstein. The Association meeting will be held on Jan. 28 in the Educational Building of the church. The goal is to make this an "Every Member Present At All Meetings Year."

Catholic Women Make Plans For Rummage Sale

By Donna Estes Plans were made at the regular meeting of the Church of Nativity Catholic Women's Club for a rummage sale to be held Jan. 28-30 on the grounds of Super Valu Market on SR 436.

Mrs. Orland Fox, ways and means chairman, reminded the women that good used clothing, household items and white elephants will be available at his sale.

In other business, Mrs. Anton Krecke reported on the meeting to plan a Seminole Chapter of United Cerebral Palsy of Central Florida held last week and urged the women to offer their assistance with the telethon scheduled Feb. 6-7.

Mrs. John Stankiewicz announced that the Catholic Youth Club sponsored by St. Richard Council 5357, Knights of Columbus, would be having their monthly dance, Feb. 12, in the church social hall.

Mrs. George Sommer was instructed to purchase a first aid kit to be placed in the social hall.

The membership prize for the meeting conducted by Mrs. Gene Shannon, president, was awarded to Mrs. Dorothy Edwards.

Following the business meeting, Rev. Hugh V. Keane, pastor, conducted a study of the first and second chapter of the Gospel of St. Matthew and concluded with a question and answer period.

Sheriff Speaks To Bear Lake Men's Club

By Maryann Miles Program speaker for Monday evening's meeting of the Bear Lake Methodist Men's Club at the Church Cottage was Seminole County Sheriff J. Luther Hobby who addressed the group following a box chicken supper.

Introduced by program chairman Johnny Morgan, Hobby spoke of various duties of his office and problems encountered. He reported to the men that 95 per cent of these problems are due to drinking and that 95 per cent of divorce cases also result from excessive use of alcohol. Speaking briefly on juvenile delinquents, he said that much of the blame in these cases falls to the parents. He concluded his talk by leading a question and answer period.

Next meeting of the club was scheduled for Feb. 15.

Enterprise Churchwomen Hold Meeting

By Mrs. Ritchie Harris Mrs. R. D. Phillips of Melbourne, current director of the Daytona Beach Deaconry of Episcopal Churchwomen and newly elected secretary for the Women of the Diocese of South Florida, was guest speaker at the January meeting of Episcopal Churchwomen of All Saints Church, Enterprise.

Mrs. Phillips spoke on the Triennial Meeting of the Episcopal Church held in St. Louis in October.

Following the meeting, tea was served in Litch House. Visitors from other area groups included Mrs. Nielsen and Mrs. Marta from St. Barnabas Church, DeLand and Mrs. Foddy of Holy Trinity Church, Melbourne.

Class To Meet

The Christian Homemakers Sunday School Class of the Casselberry Community Methodist Church will meet Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Donald Montgomery on Lakeview Drive, Fern Park.

Rev. Leonard Jones Accepts Call From Lockhart Baptist

By Jane Casselberry Rev. Leonard Jones, pastor of the Prairie Lake Baptist Church, has accepted a call to serve as minister of the Lockhart Baptist Church and will conduct his last service as pastor here on Sunday, Feb. 7.

The youthful minister came to Prairie Lake 10 years ago to organize the mission that grew into the present church with a membership of 575 and owns property valued at $167,500. The first meeting held at the Ballard Home in Maitland was attended by three women and during the past decade he has received into membership 643 persons, 350 of them by baptism. Under his leadership the Prairie Lake Church has sponsored two mission churches, Forest City Baptist and Lake Howell Baptist.

Since organizing the church here he has married and he and his wife, Jean, are parents of two little girls, Teresa, 5, and Tanya, 3.

Rev. Robert Murphy, pastor of the Lockhart church for the past 15 years is moving to Main Street Baptist Church in Leesburg. The 80 year old Lockhart church has had a progressive building program to keep up with rapid growth of the area with construction including a new sanctuary and a $75,000 two story educational building.

Holy Cross Episcopal Church To Install New Vestrymen

Installation of new vestrymen at Holy Cross Episcopal Church, Sanford, will take place this Sunday at the 9:30 a.m. service.

Elected at the annual parish meeting, those serving will be George Dangleman, Sal Manfre, Henry Tamm and Capt. Chandler Swanson, three years; and Dr. Kenneth Wing and Peter Bukur, one year, to fill unexpired terms.

New senior warden, appointed by the rector, Rev. LeRoy D. Soper, will be John Horner and Dangleman, elected by the vestry at the organization meeting, will be new junior warden.

Remaining in the offices of clerk of the vestry and treasurer will be Cdr. Leigh Ebbert and Gordon Bradley, respectively.

Delegates to the Annual Diocesan Convention elected this year by the congregation will be M. V. Parry, Frank Mebane and Guy Allen with Harry Cochrane, Philip Simpson and Wally Phillips as delegates.

Holy Cross also will observe Migrant Labor Sunday this week when special offerings will be received to aid off-shore labor in Florida.

Other activities scheduled will include the observation of the Feast of the Conversion of St. Paul with the celebration of Holy Communion at 10 a.m. Monday in the chapel and a meeting of the board of the Episcopal Churchwomen in the choir room at 9:30 a.m. Monday. Mrs. Harry Cochrane, president, has requested that all continuing members and all new members be present.

Baptist Church To Observe Men's Day

By Donna Estes Baptist Men's Day at the First Baptist Church of Longwood will be observed during the morning service this Sunday.

A fellowship breakfast will be served at 7:30 a.m. and all men of the church will participate in conducting the entire morning worship service in which special hymns will be sung by an all-male choir.

In connection with the Forward Program of the church, the men will give testimony and messages on various phases of stewardship including stewardship of tithing, by Tom Howard; stewardship of time, by Dr. Daniel Vines; and stewardship of talents by Al Morris.

Christ Church Boys To Attend Annual Festival

By Donna Estes The Acolytes of Christ Episcopal Church of Longwood, accompanied by the vicar, Rev. Charles W. Stewart Jr., will represent the church at the Annual Acolyte Festival of the Orlando Deaconry to be held this Sunday, beginning at 5 p.m. at the Cathedral Church of St. Luke in Orlando.

The festival is conducted annually on the Sunday nearest the Feast of St. Vincent, patron of acolytes.

The boys will be vested and will march in procession with other acolytes of the deaconry at the Service of Solemn Evensong at the Cathedral.

Other events scheduled at Christ Church this week include the installation of Herman Schimming as lay reader at the 9:30 a.m. service Sunday. Schimming will speak at the service and the new Credence Table will be dedicated to the memory of Thomas William Blanton Jr.

A Holy Communion service will be held at 9:30 a.m. Monday to observe the Feast of the Conversion of St. Paul. Monday also will mark the eighth anniversary of Fr. Stewart's ordination.

Grace Methodist Commission Has Planning Meet

The Commission on Membership and Evangelism of Grace Methodist Church met Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Markos, El Capitan Avenue, to formulate plans for a revival scheduled Feb. 28-March 4.

The meeting opened with prayer for guidance by Rev. John Hires and devotion was led by the host. Rev. Hires showed the film, "Membership and Evangelism."

Further planning for the revival will take place at future meetings of the commission to be held on the second Tuesday of each month at 7:30 p.m.

Longwood Choir To Take Part In Music Festival

By Donna Estes The Adult Choir of the First Baptist Church of Longwood will participate with other choirs of the Seminole Baptist Association in the Music Festival at Stetson Baptist Church of DeLand this evening.

The choir, led by Nelson Stone, with Mrs. L. C. Walker as organist, will present selections of "Praise to the Lord, the Almighty" and "Were You There?" Both arrangements are by Walter Ehret.

On Saturday morning the Primary Choir of the Longwood Church, led by Mrs. H. R. Gray, will participate in the same festival. All choirs taking part will be graded according to performance.

Ascension Youth Elects Officers

By Jane Casselberry The Youth Group of Ascension Lutheran Church of Casselberry elected the following officers Sunday evening: Steve Huber, president; David Oliver, vice president; Paula Wagner, secretary; Barbara Vorpage, treasurer and Carol Nelson, Christian Growth Chairman.

Counselors for the group are David Vorpage and Bill Klafahn. Pastor C. R. Zehnder led the group in hymn singing and prayer after which they played games and had a short business meeting. Refreshments were served by the counselors. The next meeting will be held at the church on Sunday, Feb. 7.

Florida Whips Miami 86-69

GAINESVILLE (UPI)—Beating Miami mounts in large part to holding down Rick Barry, the national basketball scoring leader.

The Florida Gators held Barry for three-quarters of the game Thursday night and won 86-69, but lost five men on fouls as the pace of their aggressive game. It was the only game involving an SEC team.

Barry wound up with 26 points, high man for the evening, but his average going into the game was better than 36 points. Most of his scoring

Biddy Play-off Slated Tonight

Sanford Recreation Department's Biddy Basketball League will reach a high pitch tonight at the Seminole High gym when First Federal meets Sanford Electric in the play-off game to determine the C. H. Bell championship. Both teams recorded equal records for the first half with six wins and one loss.

Sanford Electric defeated First Federal 11-10 in the first meeting during the regulation season with only two seconds left on the clock.

All fans are invited to come out and see real basketball in action Friday night 7:30 p.m. at the Seminole High gym.

TUMBLING from 100 feet in the air, Jerry Imber, of Winter Haven, was unhurt while practicing for the first annual Southern Human Kite Flying championships to be held at 1 p.m. Sunday at Cypress Gardens.

Oviedo Cagers Tackle Lyman And Eau Gallie

By Marshall Lingo Herald Sports Writer

Oviedo High cagers stay home this weekend to take on two strong teams on the Lion's home court.

Tonight the Lions will play host to the Lyman Greyhounds and tomorrow night the Lions take on Eau Gallie. In the first meeting of Oviedo and Lyman, Oviedo came out on top but the Greyhounds are by no means shorthanded and the Lions will have to play their best ball game to take a second victory from Lyman.

On the other hand, Eau Gallie and Oviedo will be competing for the first time. Eau Gallie is another "big" school and the Lions will "have their hands full," to say the least.

Any way you look at it the Lions are up against some tough opposition this weekend.

Wildcats Host Tribe Tonight

By David Higginbotham Herald Sports Writer

Seminole High cagers go to Winter Park tonight to play a Metro Conference basketball game against the Wildcats.

Jayvee Coach Ralph Stump's five will go against the Baby Wildcats at 6:30. Starters will be Wayne Burnstead, Frank Whigham, Mark Raborn, Wally Jarnigan and Paul LeRoy.

Chief Coach Mack Blythe says, "Winter Park has the best ball club they have had and comes close to being our size as any team we'll play this season. I expect a much better season the second half than we had the first."

"We're not discouraged at all, in fact our spirit is picking up. We realize it's going to be a long, hard season but things are going to start falling our way, so we expect to win two ball games this week."

Blythe has picked a winning combination to start to night's game including Ron Hinson, Buddy Stump, Steve Groover, Gary Loyd and Franks Murray.

The Seminoles will host the New Smyrna Beach Baracudas in the local gym Saturday starting at 8 p.m.

Rehire Lipon

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI)—The Portland Heavers of the Pacific Coast League, a farm club of the Cleveland Indians, have rehired Johnny Lipon to manage the club for the 1965 season. Lipon led the Beavers to a second place finish last season, a game behind front-running San Diego.

NO PLACE LIKE HOME—Mr. Pak, one of the more promising 3-year-olds in Florida, likes to take a nap after morning workouts at Hialeah and he has a liking for soft pillows.

Horse Sense

HIALEAH (NEA)—Mr. Pak, wintering in Florida, is accustomed to life's better things.

A 3-year-old by Needles out of Pardala, Mr. Pak is one of the more promising stakes horses owned by Mrs. Mary Keim.

The only hitch may be Mr. Pak's attitude. He likes to sleep—and on a pillow no less.

"We started the pillow bit as a gag," said J. L. Miller, Mr. Pak's assistant trainer. "He liked it. Now every morning between 9 and 10 we put the pad from a chair into the stall and he lies down with his head on the soft surface."

Last year, Mr. Pak started three times, finishing second twice. He carried 119 pounds in each of the six-furlong events.

5—Never Too Old

By Joe Norris Written for NEA

Nothing irritated Ebbber Easter more than to hear someone say, "I'm too old to bowl. Except maybe being called Ebbber rather than 'Sarge' his nickname.

You see, "Sarge" was a 30-year veteran of army service whose memory was enshrined in bowling's Hall of Fame in 1963, two years after his death. And what a career to remember.

He started bowling in the 1890s but didn't enter major tournament competition until 50 years later. He shared American Bowling Congress team and national doubles titles in 1950, at the age of 68. He achieved one 300 game when he was 71 years old.

"Sarge" was the kind of a man who, without ever winning a championship, would have boasted bowling for people of all ages just because he enjoyed it so much. If he were with us today, "Sarge" would take pleasure in watching sen-

SS Hurricanes Host Mt. Dora Bible School

By Jim Bacchus Herald Sports Writer

The undefeated South Seminole Hurricanes will return to action this afternoon in Longwood, where they will play host to Mount Dora Bible School in a return match for the two basketball teams. The Hurricanes swapped Mount Dora in the first engagement, 70-41.

Coach Dave Miller's "Killers" from Casselberry are unbeaten in their first seven games, and they hope to maintain their spotless record. Miller will undoubtedly start the same "first five" which has brought success to the Southwind throughout the course of the current season.

Bruce "Big Red" Stuart, 63, will anchor the quintet from his vital center position beneath the bucket; Grant Rose and Mike Hargis will man the forward posts, and playmakers Jim Lucas and Matt Hickok will play the guards. Stuart is leading the club with 115 points in seven contests, an average of 16.4 points per game.

The game between the two teams is scheduled to get underway at 4 p.m. in the Lyman High School gymnasium.

'Hounds Want Sweet Revenge

By Jim Bacchus Herald Sports Writer

Coach Dick Copeland's Greyhounds from Lyman High School certainly are an unusual and unpredictable team. This is easily seen by a survey of their cage record thus far this season.

The season began as expected for the comparatively small and comparatively inexperienced Hounds, with the Longwood boys tasting defeat at the hands of Bishop Moore, Oviedo, and the Seminoles of Sanford.

No one was surprised, actually, when Lyman upset a mediocre Lakeview squad. But, when Copeland's charges erupted for a stunning double-overtime victory over the mighty Apopka Blue Darters, the local fans began to take notice of the strange occurrences down Longwood way.

With the event of another triumph, this time over Willwood, the Lyman quintet was hailed as a possible "dark-horse candidate" for Orange Belt Conference honors. A last second loss to the powerful Ocoee Cardinals failed to dim the hopes of Greyhound fans and the boys responded with a one-point comeback win against Leesburg.

The stage now set for the big contest against the champs from DeLand, jubilant Lyman voters waited to see what their "cinderella team" would do against the Bulldogs. Unfortunately, the DeLand team proved to be too much for Lyman and, despite a desperate, last-minute effort, the Greyhounds went down to defeat.

Now rated as underdogs to their next opponent, the Kissimmee Kowboys, only OHC victors over DeLand, the Hounds once again surprised fans away win, 56-40.

Guild To Have Program On First Aid

By Donna Estes
Menard Norton of the American Red Cross will present a program on instant first aid at the regular meeting of the St. Mary - Magdalen Woman's Guild to be held at 8 p.m. Monday at the parish school. The program will include explanation of first aid methods to be used for choking, shock, bleeding and burns. Mrs. John Barhydt will conduct the regular business meeting following the program.

Presbyterian College Notes AAC Honor

The Association of American Colleges, made up of accredited universities and colleges of the United States, has elected Florida Presbyterian College of St. Petersburg to associate membership. The associate membership, designed for unaccredited colleges of the highest academic standing, is the first issued in the history of the Association.

In order to be eligible for accreditation, institutions of higher learning must first graduate three classes and, until that time, the AAC traditionally has honored such colleges from membership. Florida Presbyterian graduated its first class last June.

James Dunn, 66, Expires Today

James L. Dunn, 66, retired parks superintendent for the City of Sanford, died early today at Seminole Memorial Hospital. Dunn was born Sept. 15, 1898 in Cochran, Ga. He had worked with the city for 18 years until his retirement Oct. 1, 1964. He made his home at Lake Monroe.

He is survived by his wife, Nancy; two daughters, Mrs. John Rumbrey and Mrs. Roger Garner, several grandchildren.

Jaycees Honor Thirteen Past Presidents

Thirteen past presidents of the Sanford-Seminole Jaycees were honored at luncheon Thursday at the Civic Center by members of the local organization.

Introduced by Program Chairman Wayne Albert each past president spoke briefly on the major civic projects or activities accomplished during their tenure of office.

Pointing out that one of the prime objectives of the Junior Chamber of Commerce is the training and development of leadership qualities, Albert noted that several of the former Jaycee presidents have gone on to assume community, county or state leadership as commissioners, mayors, school board chairman and state senator.

Some of the accomplishments pointed to by the past presidents included the following:

- Jim Smith, 1963: "Our polio inoculation program gave protection to 19,000 people, and we had 63 Jaycees working on the project."
- Glenn McCall, 1962: "The eight weeks we spent working on the sports car races brought us all closer together and fostered fine fellowship."
- Garnett White, 1961: "We won four straight Man-Mills awards that year in state and district meetings."
- John Alexander, 1960: "We won first place in the national Internal Affairs department. We also developed the Lake Mary recreation area."
- Mason Wharton, 1959: "We began the polio inoculation series by shots and also set attendance records at state and district meetings."
- Tom McDonald, 1958: "Our leadership training classes were most important and you can see they have paid off."
- M. L. Raborn Jr., 1957: "The Voice of Democracy contests were held and we started the Jaycee Information Building, which was carried over several years."
- G. Andrew Speer, 1956: "We held the first Navy Appreciation Day and raised over $900 to help keep the Navy in Sanford."
- A. B. Peterson Jr., 1955: "We established good contacts with the national organization that year."
- Douglas Stenstrom, 1952: "We sparked the citizen-groups that got a new hospital for Seminole County, worked day and night to pass the bond issue and got out an 80 per cent vote."
- Hill Stemper, 1950: "We raised the membership from 22 to 280 and worked hard on the get out the vote project."
- Gordon Bradley, 1948: "We encouraged attendance at state meetings."
- Julian Stanstrom, 1945: "We reorganized the Jaycees after they had folded up during the war."

Past presidents were presented with the scrapbooks filled during their office. Past leaders who were not able to be present Thursday include Clifford Alder, Herb Roller, John Kader, John Senkark, John Rattigan, Bradley Odham, E. B. Kirchhoff and Floyd Palmer.

Westminster Names Elders

By Jane Casselberry
The Annual Congregational Meeting of the Westminster Presbyterian Church, located on Lake Howell Road, Casselberry, was held recently in conjunction with a fellowship dinner.

Elected to the high post of Elders in the church were Herb Pitman, Alta Monte Springs, James Lucas, Howell Park, Casselberry; Carl Sankers, Lol Hay Manor, Altamonte Springs; and Mrs. Claude Jean, North Orlando.

Financial, activity and progress reports were given and the budget for the 1965 year presented and accepted as the main items of business for the evening.

Retired Resident Succumbs Friday

Charles L. Reese, 64, died at 6:20 a. m. today at his home, 203 Grapeville Avenue. Born April 21, 1900, in York County, N. C., he had lived here for the past 12 years. He was a retired carpenter. Survivors are his wife, Mrs. Estelle Reese; two children, Mrs. Freida R. Cannon, of Casselberry and Charles Ray Reese, of Sanford; three brothers, William of Elkin, N. C., Joe, of Booneville, N. C., and Clint Reese, of Kernersville, N. C.; three sisters, Mrs. Lotie Parker and Mrs. Hattie Snyder, both of Winston-Salem, N. C. and Mrs. Lucy Wilhelm of Booneville.

Funeral Notice

Funeral services for Charles L. Reese, 64, who died today, will be held at 3 p.m. Monday at Mission Funeral Home with Rev. Jack Lindsay of the L. B. Wood Baptist Church officiating. Burial will be in Oaklawn Memorial Park Mission Funeral Home in Orange.

Tourist Club Names Officers

By Donna Estes
New officers were elected recently at a meeting of the Longwood Tourist Club held in City Park.

Named are David G. Williams, president; Eldon Heath, vice president and Mrs. Leota Putman, secretary-treasurer.

A covered dish luncheon was served and enjoyed by the members at the Civic League Building on Church Street presiding the meeting and shuffleboard was played following the meeting.

The next meeting is scheduled for Thursday at 1:30 p.m. at which time the president will announce names of two trustees, refreshment and entertainment committees and shuffleboard chairmen.

A shuffleboard tournament will follow the brief business session and refreshments will be served.

Sanlando Church Wins Banners

By Donna Estes
The First Baptist Church of Sanlando Springs was awarded both the banners for efficiency and attendance at the Sunday School Association Meeting of the Seminole Baptist Association held Tuesday evening in Lake Mary.

Othel Sullivan, Sunday School superintendent, explained the efficiency banner was awarded for the best percentage of attendance in enrollment and that the attendance banner was received for having the most members attending the meeting.

Club To Have Card Party

The Woman's Club of Casselberry will sponsor a card party and luncheon Tuesday starting at 11 a.m. at the clubhouse on Overbrook Drive.

All women of the community are invited to make up a table and come to the event. There will be a small donation for the luncheon and table prizes will be given.

Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Elwood Heist or Mrs. Kenneth Green.

Auxiliary Unit To Give Flag To School

The Ladies Auxiliary to South Seminole VFW Post 2207 voted at the regular meeting last week to present an outdoor flag to the new St. Mary - Magdalen Catholic School in Altamonte Springs on Feb. 12.

Since their beginning five years ago, members of the unit have presented flags to the Longwood Civic League, Lyman High School, the Brownie Scouts of Casselberry Community Methodist Church, and the English Estates School.

In other business, the written resignation of Mrs. Ruth Hopkins as secretary was accepted and Mrs. Irene March was appointed to fill the office.

It was reported that men of the post recently completed re-roofing the kitchen and had installed facilities for one seat room.

Mrs. Virginia McManus, president, who conducted the meeting, announced that the post will sponsor a chicken barbecue Feb. 14. Complete plans for this event will be announced.

NEW YORK (UPI) — When a piece of steel is "worked" as when it is processed into a small or giant spring, it develops stresses.

Like soreness in human muscles, these stresses can be relieved and eliminated by the proper application of heat—at sometimes extreme temperatures, up to 2,600 degrees Fahrenheit.

"And no two sets of furnaces may be alike," said Robert T. Seaberg, president of Flint and Dreffeln Engineering Company, Chicago, specialist in heat-treating furnaces and the largest of its kind in the world. There are barely a half-dozen major firms participating in this field.

Osteen Group To See Plans For Building

By Mrs. Clarence Snyder
An important meeting of the Osteen-Civic Association will be held Monday at 8 p.m. in the County Barn Building at which time plans will be presented for the group's proposed building to be located on the lot donated by Mrs. Rose Doyle.

A representative of the contracting firm will be present to answer questions concerning construction.

All members are urged to be present in order to vote on this vital matter. It is expected, also, that further plans will be discussed on organization of a volunteer fire department for the area.

Association officers will be available to accept new members and issue cards beginning at 7:30 p.m.

A competent baby sitter will be provided, free of charge, and those with small children are requested to take them to the educational building of the Osteen Baptist Church where the nursery will be in operation.

Notes Dividend

A quarterly dividend of 20 cents per share on the common stock of the Winter Park Telephone Company, payable March 1, to holders of record of Feb. 15, was voted by the board of directors.

War Story Hit At Ritz

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's new production of "The Americanization of Emily" opens the week's movie menu Sunday at the Ritz Theatre and runs through Wednesday.

The film is based on William Bradford Huie's widely-read novel and stars James Garner, Julie Andrews and Melvyn Douglas. It is packed with entertainment from its opening to final fadeout.

In no-holds-barred terms, it punctures mock heroics and preconceived notions as to what makes a cowboy or produces a hero in wartime and it tells its story with laughter playing almost as much a part as its explosive impact. It might be described as a savage comedy about the lunacy of war. It is also the story of a reluctant hero and a girl who falls for heroes — reluctantly.

In Navy parlance, a "dog robber" is the guy who gets the best of everything for the top brass, from tempting steaks to tempting redheads. That's the role played by James Garner, as hard-balled, aggressive and cynical American Lt. Commander Charlie Madison, stationed in London prior to the Normandy invasion.

Charlie, early disillusioned with wartime propaganda and inter-service rivalry and dedicated to the type of combat duty that involves no shooting, is doing all right catering to the needs of Admiral William Jessup (Melvyn Douglas) until two things happen: He falls in love with Emily Barham (Julie Andrews), an English motor pool driver who has lost husband, father and brother in the war and has nothing but contempt for Charlie's job and philosophy. And his easy life of plenty of luxuries and lovely ladies appears jeopardized when Admiral Jessup is convinced that the Navy is being over-shadowed by the Army in publicity agent preparations underway for D-Day.

The Admiral orders Charlie and his fellow lieutenant "Bus" Cummings (James O'Brien) to make a special film of the landing in Normandy, in which they will head a group of photographers who will be right on the heels of the Navy demolition units "Bus," who is of the stuff that war heroes are made of, is thrilled with the dangerous assignment. Not so Charlie, who immediately maneuvers an "out."

JAMES GARNER JULIE ANDREWS MELVYN DOUGLAS
"THE AMERICANIZATION OF EMILY"

The Sanford Herald Fri. Jan. 22, '65—Page 5

JAMES GARNER and Julie Andrews, portraying a U. S. Navy commander and a British volunteer driver in World War II, find themselves head-over-heels in love in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "The Americanization of Emily."

LONDON MEDICAL STUDENT Philip Carey (Clarence Harvey) works up nerve enough to ask classroom waitress Mildred Rogers (Kim Novak) to go to the theatre with him in this scene from "Of Human Bondage."

Kim Is Waitress

A grippingly dramatic and contrasting story of a girl and a man who play out a life and a love with a man's life and a woman's life in a rooming house. The week's program at the Movieland Theatre Sunday night.

"Candid Chatter"

By Doris Williams
Society Editor

VALENTINES DAY will be a bit premature this year for Frank Bowden Jr. when his "Queen of Hearts" MISS BARBARA BRADLEY will be given to him by her father, GORDON BRADLEY at the altar of Holy Cross Episcopal Church tomorrow night.

The lovely bride-elect was born in Philadelphia and moved to Sanford when she was six months old. She was graduated from Seminole High School with the class of 1961 and was actively engaged in school activities. She later attended Florida Southern College at Lakeland and is presently employed as a secretary in Industrial Relations for Trans World Airlines at Cape Kennedy.

Frank, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Leeper of Osteen, was born in Jacksonville and completed his high school education there, later attending the University of Florida.

"How did you and Frank meet, Barbara?"

"The glares actually spelled, 'None of your business,'" but Barbara revealed they met at a barbecue at the Cape, where Frank is an equipment specialist with NASA.

Barbara is an avid reading enthusiast and confided she is willing to "road test" the culinary route. She prefers colonial architecture with early American furnishings and considers four children an ideal family.

Thus after the "exchange of hearts" tomorrow night, Barbara and Frank will make their new home in Cape Canaveral.

LIBBY (Mrs. H. E.) LONG, faithful typewriter operator of the Herald has returned to her home following surgery for the second time in the past few months. Hurry up and get well, Lib, we miss you!

Libby has a knack for "reading between the lines" and coming up with exactly what this department means all the time.

TIS INDEED A RARE CASE to see a Doctor doing a little personal shopping. Bumped into Dr. Kenneth Wing recently downtown and was amazed that a surgeon ever got out of his green "monkey suit." Naturally the conversation was centered around his lovely, Annette.

THE JAVELINE WIVES are busy with plans and gala decorations to add the "featuring touch" to the annual DSA banquet honoraria night at the Police Remount Association Building. A beautiful buffet dinner is scheduled. This event is of special interest to civic-minded Sanfordites and reservations are still being accepted by calling 322-5400. There will also be dancing after dinner.

RECENTLY ATTENDED a bridal shower in the midst of a pouring rain. PEGGY FOX was a guest and graciously loaned me her umbrella to assist in the swim to my auto. Returned it on a Saturday morning and her husband, BYRON, called from upstairs, "Don't leave until I change clothes. I want my picture made!"

So I waited with many more events to cover before midnight. Eventually Byron, who shows no visible signs of malnutrition, came downstairs in the most comfortable old beat up shorts imaginable.

It was at this point that I became downright envious of Suburbia and the casual approach as I huddled over the door in the slim high heels which would be killing me for another 14 hours.

FRED VAN PELT should be ashamed of himself for lying to a sweet innocent girl named Mary and telling her she was prettier than her mother. Furthermore, MR. VAN PELT, I did not "klu klu klu" because CHIEF considered coppers cute capers capricious! "Columist chicken."

CHIEF OF POLICE ROY WILLIAMS laughingly approved my suggestion using "coppers cut capers" in headline for recent Policeman's Ball as wife RUBY, and MAYOR and MRS. JAMES CHAPPS jovially agreed at the ball.

But blonde's boss been battling balls, beat, bashed. Columnist cautiously considers connotation concerning "caning," captioned — "BOO-BOOING BLONDE BOOTED — BLUNDER'S BEHIND BOSSES BACK." Consequently candid columnist chickies.

SPEAKING OF BOSSES, Herald boss man and lady and Dr. and Mrs. W. Vincent Roberts have returned from the Nation's capital bubbling over with news regarding the historical site, BILL GIELOW has promised faithfully to give me the details on all the ladies activities after she takes "sick leave" to recuperate. Every minute was filled with plash parties and receptions.

BARBARA BRADLEY

so will fill in, with personal data when I can corner Bill.

WE SHOWED OUR FAUX PAS around Christmas time regarding a water cooler being presented to Sarepta Rest Home. The NAS WIVES graciously presented the cooler to the Good Samaritan Home which is putting it to use daily so we goofed — and we apologize to all parties concerned.

ALICE WRIGHT was most complimentary in a recent chat regarding the Herald's coverage of the Governor's inaugural festivities. She promised to keep us informed of all social events in Tallahassee involving single county. Thanks Alice.

Osteen Club Installs Officers For New Year

By Mrs. Clarence Snyder
The Osteen Extension Home makers Club met Tuesday with Mrs. Hazel Gilhuly and Mrs. Eva Williams, co-hostesses.

Officers for the coming year were installed by Mrs. Harold Eby, county agent. Installed were Mrs. Mary Barnhart, president; Mrs. Joe Master's, vice president; Mrs. Lillian Boyer, secretary and treasurer; and Mrs. James Wallin, county delegate.

The program was on "Citizenship" and was presented by Mrs. Eby and Mrs. Joe Master's.

Plans were made to attend the county meeting and banquet in Deland January 22. Attending were, Mrs. Eby, Mrs. Master's, Mrs. Barnhart, Mrs. Boyer, Mrs. Wallin, Mrs. Frank George, Mrs. John Melrose, Mrs. Norman Miller, Mrs. Kitty Dumble, Mrs. Karl Ruescher, Mrs. Guy Beall, Mrs. Laura Hall, Miss Alice Dayton, Mrs. William Wankosky, Mrs. Ross Burdett and the hostesses.

ONE OF UNCLE'S LOYAL CARRIERS must really get his kicks when he delivers the mail to a gal in Sanford. She has received all sorts of gems, but the latest was addressed to MRS. BLANK BLANK BLANK (his name), ELECT.

DIAMONDS WILL DAZZLE and fashions will flare this Saturday at the Capri when all five chapters of Beta Sigma Phi will combine for their annual luncheon. All members plan to attend this "sparkling spectacle."

MIMI GREENE recently came up with an answer to a question which was astounding at the moment. "What's new, Mim?" "Oh, nothing much, but I AM going to New York for the day before too long" — just as casually as if she were going across town.

Forgot for a moment about daughter Carol and the flight privileges.

A WELL-MARRIED "young middle-aged" Herald employee started out the door and BILL VINCENT interrupted with, "Where you headed?" She: "Thought I'd go see a lawyer about a divorce so I can marry you."

Another employee: "Oh no, I already have my bid in as soon as Barbara divorces him."

Bill: "My gosh, what's happenin' to me? Even my ole' cowa been lickin' me lately."

BONNIE COX EDWARDS, oral hygienist and a newly wed, has been giving a local gal the works recently. Memo to patients — Need not fear — Bonnie is now rid of 'all her resentments and animosity for years to come. (Kidding aside, this gal is terrific.)

Patient: "Bonnie, have you ever cleaned your husband's teeth?"

Bonnie: "Yes, not too long ago."

Patient: "Before or after your marriage?"

Bonnie: "After. Why?"

Patient: "Good — if you had roughed him up before, he would never have married you."

At about this time Bonnie's boss makes his entrance, gets out the chisel, fish hooks and sand paper, and digs in.

Patient (when allowed to spit): "Bonnie and I were doing just fine, you partly poop."

Patient (later): Now look, I've already invested two or three dollars here and I don't want to spend ten or three more to have these choppers restored and then at the end of a year or two you tell me I've gotta spend two or three more dollars to have them all sanded out and drilled."

Doctor: "Well, it's this way, I'll shoot it to you straight. I promise you I will save you fifty cents so you can buy some stuff to dip you type at night in your pad, see you."

Patient (leaving): Thank you both. You are a gracious host and hostess. Do you treat all your guests in this manner?"

SMH Auxiliary Installs Officers At Annual Luncheon

The Seminole Memorial Hospital recently honored the "Pink Ladies," indispensable annual luncheon at the Mayfair Inn in the "Hall of Mirrors." Approximately 150 volunteer women attended the elaborate luncheon, all lovely in the latest fashions and crowning chapeaux.

MRS. THOMAS LARGEN, center, chairman of the SMH Candy Strippers, chats with Mary Abney, left, who has over 1,000 volunteer hours to her credit and Debbie Kirkley, right, who has accumulated over 400 hours in six months. The Candy Strippers were all guests at annual hospital luncheon at the Mayfair.

MRS. CARL SCHILKE, left, relinquishes gavel as president of the Seminole Memorial Hospital Woman's Auxiliary to Mrs. C. E. Butler, who was installed with slate of officers at an annual Mayfair luncheon.

Robert Besserer, hospital administrator and John Schward, board trustee praised the auxiliary and Candy Strippers for the monumental services they have expended with this voluntary program.

The auxiliary presented the hospital with a check for $1500, profit from their fund-raising benefits.

The Candy Strippers, with Mrs. Thomas Largen as chairman, have done a stupendous job in assisting the auxiliary. Dottie Jardine has worked 1047 volunteer hours since the origin in 1962. This year a charm token memento was presented to each Candy Stripper with 300 volunteer hours. Mrs. Carl Schilke turned the president's gavel over to Mrs. C. E. Butler as officers for the coming year were installed.

Serving with Mrs. Butler will be Mrs. Alice Feistel, first vice president; Mrs. Al Hunt, second vice president; Mrs. Theodore Broome, recording secretary; Mrs. R. Wilkins, corresponding secretary; Mrs. R. C. Rearick, treasurer and Mrs. C. Cole, parliamentarian.

Miss Bradley Honored At Luncheon

The Gold Room of the Mayfair Inn was the setting recently for an elaborate luncheon honoring Miss Barbara Bradley, bride-elect of Frank Bowden Jr.

Mrs. Alfred Stanley and Mrs. Gordon Stanley were hostesses for the luncheon and presented the honoree with a camellia corsage and an appropriate hostess gift.

The guests enjoyed a most attractive fruit salad luncheon course featuring a whole pineapple halved and stuffed with assorted fruits and cheese.

Attending with the hostesses and honoree were Mrs. Gordon Bradley, mother of the bride, Mrs. L. E. Leeper, mother of the future groom;

MRS. GORDON STANLEY, standing left, and Mrs. Alfred Stanley were recent co-hostesses to an elaborate luncheon in the Gold Room of the Mayfair for Miss Barbara Bradley, bride-elect of Frank Bowden Jr. Seated next to the honoree is her mother, Mrs. Gordon Bradley, and her fiance's mother, Mrs. L. E. Leeper.

Casselberry Club Re-Schedules Arts And Crafts Show

By Jane Casselberry

The date for the Arts, Crafts and Hobby Show to be sponsored by the Woman's Club of Casselberry has been changed from March 14 to Saturday, March 23, at the club house on Overbrook Drive, in order not to conflict with the Sidewalk Art Festival in Winter Park.

The exhibit will be open from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. to the public and there will be no admission charge.

According to Mrs. Carl Jack, chairman of the event, the club hopes to make the show an annual event to offer the public an opportunity to discover the hidden talent in the area. Both men and women are invited to exhibit their work and there will be no exhibitor's fee. For further information they may contact Mrs. Carl Jack, 838-3008 or Mrs. Edward Pender, 838-3740.

'Herbs In The Home' Topic Of Oviedo Garden Clubbers

By Evelyn Lundy

The Oviedo Garden Club met Tuesday afternoon at the lovely home of Mrs. G. S. Moon with Mrs. Thomas Moon as co-hostess.

A striking arrangement of pure white Cattleya orchids in a white vase was one of many lovely arrangements with others of camellias and azaleas.

Miss Myrtle Wilson of the County Home Demonstration Department was the guest speaker of the day. She spoke on herbs and their uses in the home. She told members that anyone can grow herbs if they have even a tiny plot of ground or some may be grown in small pots in the house. They require no fertilizer and much sun.

Leaves of most herbs should be picked just as the plant comes into flower, the leaves should be dried in the hot sun and stored in air-tight jars. Miss Wilson said that a good rule of thumb when using herbs is to have the taste and odor

"delectable and not detectable." She discussed many different kind of herbs and their uses in various foods; she also brought many spices with her to demonstrate their various packaging and told how to store them.

Winners of the Christmas lighting contest were announced as follows: Door, Mr. and Mrs. John Courier; Yard, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Jones; Window, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Olliff; Over All, Mr. and Mrs. George Means. The down-town award went to the City Hall. Large plants were given as prizes.

Plans of the February meeting were discussed. The program will be flower arranging and each member chose a different one such as kitchen bathroom, piano, coffee table, nursery etc. Members are to make their arrangements and have them at the home of Mrs. John Bordenour by 12:30 at the next regular meeting.

Plans were also discussed concerning the field trip to Busch gardens in Tampa. This will be for the April meeting. Each member may invite a guest out-aside the garden club if she wishes.

After the business meeting delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Here's a news flash to interrupt the programs coming in so loud and clear on the transistor radios so many addicts insist on having with them at all times:

In Philadelphia a college professor took a busy transistor radio away from a lady sitting beside him on a bus and, she says, bopped her on the head with it.

In Bogota, Colombia, three persons carrying turned-on radios were shot in one evening. Police are looking for a noise-hater who finally flipped and went berserk.

Apparently, unsolicited and compulsory music, and channel chatter hath power to arouse the savage beast.

Not Good Business

It is ironic that free enterprise—trademark of the American way of life—is being increasingly shunned by young America as a way of making a living.

Colleges across the country report that more and more graduates are shying away from corporate careers to enter such fields as law, medicine, teaching, scientific research and public service, including the Peace Corps.

Why? Here are some of the reasons given by the young reluctant:
 "Too much high pressure."
 "Too much conformity."
 "Too much planned obsolescence."
 "... a man in a gray flannel suit with a Martini and an ulcer."
 "The design of your tie makes too much difference."

 "A sales job? Who wants to spend his life in a grubby hotel room?"

This is not the image that American business wants or deserves. But it is the image that apparently is getting through to enough young potential business leaders to leave corporate hiring quotas going unfilled.

Somewhere along the line something has gone haywire—either in business itself or in colleges, where the students are forming their ideas.

Whatever the cause, every effort should be made to remedy it quickly.

To remain strong and healthy, good old American business needs good young American blood.

Dick West's

The Lighter Side.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sexy movies are all the rage nowadays. I don't think I've seen a motion picture in the past year that I didn't spend half the time blushing. During some scenes, even my eyelids turned crimson.

Nevertheless, I was a bit surprised to find this sort of thing going on at the Smithsonian Institution.

Like most museums, the Smithsonian as a rule is inclined to be somewhat on the stuffy side.

Anyway, on Wednesday evening of this week the Smithsonian opened its own film theater and began presenting a weekly series of movies that will continue into the spring.

Secretary S. Dillon Ripley described the project as "an educational series designed to increase the public's knowledge and appreciation of various dimensions of the humanities and science."

But for openers, the Smithsonian chose a real zinger. It was an 11-minute color film entitled "How Pine Trees Reproduce."

I dropped by to see the film, not as a thrill-seeker but because I happened to be interested in this subject.

A few weeks ago, I was instrumental in bringing to light some of the true facts regarding the sex life of pine trees, which had been the object of some rather slanderous rumors.

It was being whispered about that pine trees occasionally change from male to female, and vice versa. This, no doubt, was what gave rise to the expression "whispering pines."

But my investigation disclosed that such a thing is mathematically impossible, because a pine tree is actually both male and female at the same time.

Despite its spicy title, the Smithsonian film, which won an award at the recent Venice Film Festival, serves a worth while purpose by bringing out details in this regard.

For one thing, it revealed that the lower part of a pine tree is male, whereas the upper part is female. Which was certainly news to me. And which is certainly a cozy arrangement.

The difference is found in the types of cones, some being masculine and some feminine. I could elaborate on this, but I don't want to give away the plot of the picture.

As I watched "How Pine Trees Reproduce," it occurred to me that some enterprising Hollywood producer could take the film and expand it into a full length musical.

Perhaps he could get Liz Taylor to play the top of a pine tree. At the moment, I don't have anyone in mind for the other part.

STUART (UPI) — Lyle C. Wilson, United Press International columnist and former Washington manager, was discharged from Martin Memorial Hospital where he was taken after he suffered a heart attack Dec. 30.

He will continue the convalescence at his home here for several weeks before resuming his FPI column "national window" in The Sanford Herald.

PROSPECTING

Bruce Biosat -- Ray Cromley

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON (NEA) — In the bloody battles at Binh Gia, the Viet Cong were out to break the back of the new U.S.-South Viet Nam pacification program centered on the Greater Saigon area.

If the theories that Red Ho Chi Minh's top General Giap has been advocating are carried through, Binh Gia will be only one of a series of sharp punches in the next few months.

The U.S.-South Viet Nam program gambles that a strong local militia can be trained in each area to defeat small Viet Cong units and hold off large Red attacks until government regulars arrive.

Theoretically, the regulars are to get there quickly enough with sufficient men and weapons to knock out any number of Red troops.

This program (according to U.S. plans) is to be perfected in the greater Saigon area, then be spread through South Viet Nam.

If the Viet Cong follow Giap's theories, then they must prove this U.S. plan unworkable before it really gets going so that we'll abandon it and try another plan. Then when we're started on the next plan, they'll try to get us to abandon that new plan before it gets operating.

The Giap aim is to get us to try and then abandon one strategy after another, never giving one a chance to succeed before we drop it and jump to something else.

So far Giap's plan has succeeded, we've already started and abandoned several major strategic programs in infancy.

At Binh Gia, the Reds won several victories. The local militia did not hold. The communists won with the shopworn tactics they have used for 20 years, the same they used against the French.

They captured Binh Gia, set up an ambulance and washed government troops fell into the ambushes and Americans were killed. The Viet Cong used the American helicopter dead as bait for further ambushes.

Government troops fell into these ambushes, too.

The Reds held Binh Gia just long enough to be able to kill off some of the democratic anti-communist leadership of the community, set up and trip ambushes, inflict heavy casualties on government troops and capture sizable numbers of U.S. made weapons.

But the Red Viet Cong didn't win all the victories. The South Viet Nam government troops showed high bravery under sustained fire. They kept moving in regardless of casualties. That should erase American concern that the Vietnamese aren't willing to die for what they believe when properly trained and led.

This was all the more impressive since the government troops in this battle were obviously up against highly able Red soldiers, not ragged guerrillas. The Viet Cong were well-led, well-trained and well-armed. They had clearly mapped their strategy thoroughly and practiced their Binh Gia tactics for weeks. They obviously had a hefty case of professionalism.

If your answer a child's sex queries in the same simple manner in which the child asks them, the child pays no more attention than to any other scientific puzzle.

Oddly enough, however, the normal child stops with that first query if you answer it correctly.

For it requires several more years of mental growth for a child to generate the next question in the sequence, which is this:
 "Mother, how did I get out?"
 This may come without warning, as the younger may happen to see a pregnant neighbor woman walking down the street.

"How did you get out of where?" Milly's mother would probably reply.
 "Why, out of your tummy," Milly would answer, "Remember? You told me I came out of your tummy."
 Whereupon, her mother should answer her at once without any blushing or other evidence that she is embarrassed.

"There are several ways by which babies get out," she can begin.
 "Don't you remember the story about the Little Red Hen, which was captured by the fox?"
 "While the fox was asleep the Little Red Hen cut a doorway in the big sack in which she was a prisoner and slipped out."

"Well, sometimes the doctor takes the mother into the hospital and gives her medicine to put her to sleep."
 "Then, while she is still asleep, he cuts a little doorway in mother's tummy and lifts the baby out. Afterwards, he sews up the mother, just as the Little Red Hen sewed up the hole in the sack while the fox was sleeping."

Incidentally, you young wives better familiarize yourselves with this classic about the Little Red Hen, for it is very helpful in explaining the Caesarian method of childbirth.

Again, it requires several more years of mental growth for the child to ask:

"How did I get into your tummy, Mother?"

So send for my booklet "Sex problems from 2 to 20 Years," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20c.

Dr. Crane's

Worry Clinic

Milly's situation should alert every young married couple. For you need to memorize the exact answers to such crucial questions long before they arise. You dare not depend on spur of the moment inspiration. So send for the booklet below and keep it on hand!

George W. Crane, Ph. D., M.D. CASE U-489; Martha D., aged 58, is the grandmother of 3-year-old Milly who suddenly asked her mother:

"Mommie, where did I come from?"
 Milly's mother evaded the issue for she didn't know what to say.
 "You came out of Mother's tummy," is the simplest way to solve this problem.

"But, Dr. Crane," Martha protested, "suppose Milly were then to ask how she got out of her mother's tummy?"
 "And what if she also inquired how she got into her mother's tummy?"
 "Wouldn't that be very embarrassing, especially if guests were present?"

Well, who would be embarrassed in such a situation?
 Would it be Milly? Or her mother? Or her grandmother?
 Milly would not feel embarrassed, for her casual childish query is motivated solely by scientific curiosity.

How do you suppose adult prudishness and blushes ever got tangled up with such sex queries?
 Because of a false social sexual code!

College graduates have even concocted strange falsehoods (as about the stork) to delude children and thus generate an abnormal consciousness in them.

If your answer a child's sex queries in the same simple manner in which the child asks them, the child pays no more attention than to any other scientific puzzle.

 Instant bone, vacuum-packed in bottles, is now available to repair human bodies. If boneheads weren't so dumb they'd appreciate this.

Couple of people were recently injured in an auto crash. The car had seat belts, too. The victims were sitting on them.

Fashion forecasts say that this spring, skirt hemlines will be even farther above the knees. Now we know what "high style" means.

Horoscope Forecast

BATHTUB, JANUARY 22, 1968
GENERAL TENDENCIES: One of those wonderful days when you can express your own talents in far greater harmonious accord with others than you have been able to do for a considerable period of time past, and make a point to get in touch with your fellow companions and join in the most interesting conditions that are about you. Neat touch, fine finish, art, music, color or beauty can all be included in your surroundings by the applications you place upon them today.

able to accomplish almost anything you set your mind to. Get out socially and talk over aims with friends. Be sure to choose right ones.

SAGITTARIUS (November 23 to December 21)—Quietly settling back and settling things work out for themselves gives you a chance to forget what's ailing you. Get ahead more comfortable, alas.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19)—Don't hesitate to accept favors from friends who are truly interested in you. Social gatherings can bring forth many fine ideas. Be charming and like that ship off the shoulder.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18)—You can make this a banner day if you get into the civic affairs that increase prestige as well as a boon to humanity.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20)—Instead of looking into new interests today, set up a better system for present relations and all goes well. Be alert. New contacts, however, can help you.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY, he or she will be one of those persons who wavers from deep personal aims at the moment to serving others the next, as it behoves you early to lead to the more aware of time and set aside certain hours for service to humanity and being very practical in the real. Knowing how and when to use the talents is the big secret here. Clara

A Boy's Best Friend

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Gary stood at the window this morning waving and hugging the little plush dog I brought him home from my trip. How easy it is to make a small boy happy. I love to bring him things and take him places and watch the wonder and delight glow on his face, sparkle in his big blue eyes. Right now his Dad is his best friend and hero.

It won't be this easy always. I know that as Gary grows so will his desires and the scope of his delights. I won't be able to supply his every wish or stand between him and the disappointments that come to every boy. But as friend and father I do hope to share with him the principles that have sustained me in discouragement, augmented my joy. These truths I learned from God and my Church and I know of no better way to insure for my son a life of peace and fulfillment than to encourage his religious development.

Go to your church and take your child with you.

President Requests Record $99.7 Billion Budget

Foundation Of 'Society'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson today sent Congress a record $99.7 billion budget heavily emphasizing welfare programs essential to his "Great Society" and providing for small new military spending cutbacks.

Although Johnson barely managed to stay under the $100 billion mark, his requests for burgeoning domestic programs in the fields of health, education and housing indicated that fiscal 1966 will be the last year federal spending can be held under that level.

In fact, by another method of calculating, the federal government will pay out a whopping $127.4 billion during the 12 months starting July 1. In either case it was the biggest budget in history—war or peace—and called for more red-ink spending.

Johnson called it neither extravagant nor miserly. He said it was the foundation for a "Great Society" which must be "bold . . . compassionate . . . efficient."

"It is aimed," he said, "at improving the quality of our way of life. And it is aimed at insuring that all Americans share in this way of life."

Topping Johnson's proposals was a $1.7 billion slash in excise taxes to help guard against any drastic slowdown in the four-year-old economic upturn. He said this—coupled with the second installment of last year's big income tax cut—would point the nation toward further new highs in employment, income and profits.

Johnson envisioned a 36,000-man cut in present military strength plus reductions in blider bomber and air defense forces. But he said this country now has "commanding superiority" over an enemy and "our powerful modern forces will be adequate to their tasks for years to come."

Although the budget was in the red, the President said the prospective deficit was $1 billion below this year and was a step toward a balanced budget if the economy can be made to continue growing.

Johnson called for an increase of $3.6 billion—nearly 50 per cent—in spending for health, manpower, education, housing, welfare and the war on poverty. Schools alone would get $2.7 billion compared with $1.5 billion this year and less than $250 million a decade ago.

Johnson said that under this approach "for the first time since 1950 payments in 1966 for national defense, international and space objectives will account for less than half the total."

He earmarked $52.5 billion for defense and related activities—down $300 million. Included was $49 billion for actual military operations and procurement, $1 billion in military aid to other nations and $2.5 billion for atomic programs.

World Honors Sir Winston

LONDON (UPI) — The nation Sir Winston Churchill saved in its most desperate hour began trying to pay back its debt to him today.

The protocol and precedents of centuries are being swept aside to make sure that Britain pays its last full measure of devotion to the 90-year-old man who died Sunday.

"He will be buried like a king," the British Broadcasting Corporation (BBC) phrased it — the first commoner in all English history to be accorded that honor.

Queen Elizabeth commanded a state funeral and Parliament ratified her decree this afternoon.

And then, in an unprecedented move, it was announced the queen and members of the royal family would attend the funeral in St. Paul's Cathedral on Saturday.

Royalty rarely attends funerals except those of other royalty.

And Churchill, despite the fact that he was a knight of the realm, was a commoner.

Doubtless he could have had any degree in the British peerage he desired, but accepted the knighthood because that enabled him to remain in the House of Commons. The queen's presence will be an honor that not even was accorded to the Duke of Wellington, conqueror of Napoleon. Queen Victoria ordered a state funeral but did not attend it.

Gave a man stood in the rain making rapid motions with his hands to a solemn group around him. He was telling the deaf people Churchill was dead.

Starting Wednesday the body will lie in state for three days in Westminster Hall (not to be confused with Westminster Abbey) at the Parliament building.

Churchill drew up his own funeral plans and they will be followed as explicitly as possible. He wanted to be taken on a gun carriage to St. Paul's Cathedral and it will be done on Saturday. He wanted to be taken across the Thames on a barge after the funeral and that will be done.

The body will then be placed aboard a train to be carried to the little town of Bladon near Blenheim Palace where Churchill was born.

A burial ceremony, attended only by members of the family, will last about 10 minutes. His grave will be beside that of his father and his American-born mother, Jennie.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — American flags across the world will fly at half-staff this week in an unprecedented salute to an honorary U. S. citizen, Sir Winston Churchill.

President Johnson issued a special executive order to that effect from his hospital bed Sunday. He said it was "a symbol of respect for the memory of Churchill, whom he regarded as 'history's child.'"

DISTINGUISHED SERVICE to the community by Kenneth W. Ken McIntosh, George Touhy Win Honors

By Dottie Austin

Kenneth W. McIntosh, 33, Seminole County prosecuting attorney and former Sanford municipal judge, was named the Outstanding Young Man of the Year and presented the Distinguished Service Award at the Jaycees annual awards banquet Saturday at the Police Benevolent Building.

Winner of the Good Government award was George Touhy, executive vice president of First Federal Savings and Loan Association.

Both McIntosh and Touhy were cited for their outstanding contributions to the community in the fields of better government, community service and civic improvement.

"Sanford has been good to me and I will continue to try to repay in some small way the kindnesses extended to my family and me since we came here," said McIntosh as he accepted the award from Wendell Springfield, DSA chairman.

"We all have a distinct responsibility to try to make our community a better place in which to live. The Jaycees have done much in this line, too," said Touhy. Paul Lewis, chairman of the Good Government Award made that presentation.

Billy Drennan, a bagboy at Food Fair supermarket, was honored by the Jaycees for his "unselfish act of heroism" in risking his own life to snatch two small children from a blazing auto in the store's parking lot a few months ago. He was presented with a framed letter of commendation and a $25 savings bond. (A similar award recently was given Drennan by Food Fair Company.)

Named Young Teacher of the Year was Donald Farreras, vocational - agriculture instructor at Sanford Junior High School. He was cited for his precise and example in inspiring his students to use their abilities to the fullest.

Gerald Behrens of Lake Monroe, was named Young Farmer of the Year. The local vegetable grower was cited for development of labor-saving devices and record yields of crops through the use of modern methods. County Commissioner Ed Yarbrough, a former winner of the Young Farmer Award, made the presentation.

The Outstanding Young Sailor was Drannon Vines, AMH-1/c of RVAH-13, who lives in North Orlando. Vines was voted the winner by other Navy men because of his active civic, church and community life in Longwood as well as his outstanding Naval career record.

Jaycee President Clyde Long presided at the Awards Banquet along with Awards Chairman Charles Fox.

Here's one we hope as many Clock Watchers as possible will pay close attention to and give some help. The appeal comes from Maryland by way of Georgia Hall, secretary of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce.

Georgia says the letter received at the Chamber the other day "is quivery and apparently from an aged person or one who is ill or both. So whatever your policy is . . . would be nice if it could help out." The letter reads:

"Gentlemen I am writing asking you a favor. I am a winter shut-in and have a very small income so I collect buttons for a hobby so if you would be kind enough to mention my letter in your local newspaper or radio I sure would be grateful maybe someone who would see it who has buttons lying around would be glad to send them to me."

The letter is signed William H. Kooz, 613 Charles Street, Frederick, Md.

The Longwood Area Chamber of Commerce will present Thursday for the first time this year. President William Baumholder, meanwhile, has received a plaque commending the group for its promotion of Florida from 1961 to 1964. It's signed by former Gov. Farris Bryant and Wendell Jarrard and carries the governor's seal.

pected death of State Treasurer and Insurance Commissioner J. Edwin Larson.

The 64-year-old silver-haired dean of the state Cabinet, a veteran of 24 years as treasurer, collapsed while making a speech here Sunday and was pronounced dead less than a half-hour later.

Death was attributed to a cerebral hemorrhage.

Funeral services for Larson, one of the most powerful political figures in Florida and known to veteran observers as "a Democrat of Democrats," were set for 10:30 a. m. Wednesday here.

The body will lie in state in the rotunda of the Capitol, just around the corner from Larson's offices in the north wing, from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. Tuesday.

Somber satin bows were placed on the doors of Larson's office with a notation they were closed out of respect to "Mr. Ed."

"Florida has lost one of its most outstanding citizens," said Gov. Haydon Burns.

Burns immediately called off the regular Tuesday cabinet meeting and said that all state offices in the Capitol would be closed Wednesday.

State treasury branch of offices around Florida were ordered closed Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Larson had only served 18 days of a new two-year term at his death. It is up to Governor Burns to appoint a successor who will serve out the term and run as an incumbent in 1966.

But the Governor said he would not discuss the matter until after the funeral in deference to Larson's family.

Larson's wife of 37 years, Clara, was at her husband's side when he collapsed during a speech to about 100 persons at the dedication of an Easter Seal rehabilitation clinic.

He had just started his address when he caught his breath suddenly and began to stagger to the ground.

Desegregation Starts Tuesday In City-Schools

When the second semester begins Tuesday for Seminole County students, initial desegregation of county schools will also begin, the Seminole County School Board has announced.

The board last week approved two of three applications for Negro students to attend schools nearer their home.

Applications approved were those of Ingrid Burton, 14-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. U. S. Burton, of 900 Locust Avenue and Jocelyn Harold, seven-year-old daughter of Mrs. Juanita G. Harold, 1114 Pine Avenue.

The request of Charlotte Ringling, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Ringling, 318 Locust Avenue, was denied.

All of the requests were submitted during the first semester for action effective beginning the second semester.

Ingrid Burton, a straight A student at Crooms High School will transfer to ninth grade classes at Sanford Junior High School Tuesday morning.

Jocelyn Harold, also an above average student, whose mother is a school teacher, will transfer to the second grade at Southside School.

The Ringling application for transfer to Southside School was denied on the grounds that the child's home is nearer Hopper Elementary School than Southside, Stewart Gatchel, school personnel director, said.

three daughters in addition to his wife. They are Mrs. Lillian J. Clowers, of Tallahassee, Mrs. Louis Fischer, of Miami, and Mrs. Dana Johnson, whose husband is in the Air Force.

The 16th treasurer of the state, Larson served in the 1929 and 1931 state House of Representatives and represented Clay and Baker counties in the 1933 Senate.

He served six years as collector of internal revenue for Florida after being appointed to the post in 1933 by President Franklin Roosevelt.

Larson ran for office of treasurer in 1939 upon the retirement of W. V. Knott—who is now 101 years old and still living in Tallahassee.

He requested major budget increases for education, health, housing, aid to the needy and the war on poverty. He also renewed his plea for hospital care for the elderly now sure to pass Congress in some form—and proposed a seven per cent hike in Social Security benefits.

Offsetting this, Johnson proposed a "careful pruning" of outlays for defense, veterans and farmers. The rate of increase in spending for space exploration also would be slowed down for the first time since 1950 although Johnson set reaching the moon this decade as a national goal.

The Chief Executive approached the budget in two ways—the familiar administrative budget under which spending would be $99.7 billion and the "cash budget" first emphasized by John F. Kennedy which includes such outlays as Society Security

LBJ's Condition Is 'Quite Good'; In Good Spirits

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson spent a "very satisfactory" night and his condition was "quite good," the White House said today.

Press Secretary George E. Reedy reported that Johnson's temperature was below 100 but above normal all night. He said however, that Johnson rested comfortably throughout the night.

Later a White House spokesman said the President's temperature had returned to normal range.

The President was admitted to Bethesda Naval Medical Center early Saturday with a painful cough and sore throat.

The harsh wracking cough is gone now.

Johnson, himself, was described as being cheerful and in good spirits.

Asked whether Johnson had made a decision on whether to attend the state funeral of Sir Winston Churchill, Reedy said there is "no change—the situation is the same as it was last night."

Johnson said Sunday that he wanted very much to go but "it all depends on how I feel."

Hospital Wing Rites Slated

Ground will be broken Tuesday at 9:30 a. m. for a new $1 million wing at Seminole Memorial Hospital.

A host of city and county officials is expected to be on hand for the ceremony.

Last month the board of trustees got a $770,000 bid from the Development Corporation of America. Previously, the County Commission allocated a third of the cost of the addition, to be paid in equal annual installments over a three-year period.

The federal government, under the Hill-Burton Act, approved a grant of the other two-thirds of the cost.

The difference between the million dollar estimate and the actual construction bid will be used for hospital furnishings, according to Robert Bessner, hospital administrator.

Storm Sweeps New England

United Press International

A massive ice storm swept into New England today on the heels of heavy snow. Thick ice covered wide areas of the Great Lakes states and a new storm rolled down from the Rockies with more snow.

Freezing rain and sleet moved into southern New England on top of more than a foot of snow.

Lakefront Plan To Be Discussed

A discussion of financing programs for the lakefront development project will highlight the meeting of the Sanford City Commission at 8 p. m. in City Hall tonight.

The city's fiscal agent, Loomis Leacy, will present his findings on the financial situation. Members of groups who have expressed backing of the marina plan and the general public are urged to attend, City Manager W. E. Knowles said today.

In other business on the agenda the commissioners will consider the presentation of a plan by the Sanford Chamber of Commerce for a botanical-zoological area on the lakefront with re-location and expansion of the city zoo.
