Florida Senators Backing School Prayer Amendment

By Jane Casselberry
Herald Staff Writer

Florida's senators are backing a controversial constitutional amendment to allow public school prayer now being debated in the Senate. Senator Lawton Chiles (D-Lakeland) is a co-sponsor of a resolution calling for voluntary prayer in schools and will be voting for the amendment, his press secretary Jack Pridden said today. Senator Paula Hawkins (R-Winter Park) is in favor of the amendment and will be voting for it, according to Mary Kenney of her Washington press office.

Senate Republican leader Howard Baker said Monday it appears backers of the school prayer amendment are "very close" to having the votes needed to send the measure to the House.

Acknowledging President Reagan's proposal to permit voluntary, vocal prayer in schools is an "emotional issue," Baker said the Senate's consideration may last several weeks, even if foes do not launch a filibuster to delay action.

Lake Mary High School Principal Don Reynolds said he doesn't think it would "hurt anything." He said "We need to think a little more about spiritual values in schools. They are not being taught at home. We don't need denominational prayer, but a moment of silence would be super."

Seminole High School Principal Wayne Epps said he does not have strong feelings one way or another. "I'm not necessarily opposed to it. I can see both sides of the argument."

"We are absolutely opposed to it," Jim Mullins of the American Civil Liberties Union said. "We feel prayer is an individual voluntary thing, we have no objection to voluntary prayer and would defend anyone impeded from prayer at anytime or place. But organized prayer by a school board or school district that is forced on children will be either a prayer with no meaning that will not offend any religious or atheist group or will trivialize prayer as it has done with the pledge of allegiance."

"The ACLU feels religion plays an important part in society and should not be trivialized in this way. Historically, Protestant prayer was used and was offensive to others. It is now an innocuous thing. From a pragmatic standpoint, it will trivialize prayer and have no meaning. Prayer belongs in the home, church and a person's private conscience," Mullins added.

House debates through night, page 2A

The controversy has smoldered for more than 20 years, since a pair of Supreme Court rulings in the early 1960s stopped state-sponsored prayers and Bible readings in public classrooms.

Underlying the debate are elemental philosophical questions about the Founding Fathers' intent in erecting a legal barrier between government and religion, and the nature and presence of God.

Baker, R-Tenn., said on NBC's "Today," that he favors the Reagan plan, which says the form school prayer takes cannot be dictated by state or local authorities or teachers.

Asked if there are enough votes to derail a filibuster, Baker said, "The count I have now indicates we probably can get cloture (to limit debate)."

The GOP leader also said, "We're very close to the two-thirds the Constitution requires for an amendment (to pass the Senate.) Not sure, not certain by any means, but I hope so."

Once it passes the Senate, the prayer measure faces an uncertain fate in the House, and then would have to be approved by 38 states to join the Bill of Rights and other amendments as parts of the Constitution.

Sen. Lowell Weicker, R-Conn., who is leading the fight in the Senate against the amendment, argued Sunday that church-state separation was established to prevent religious tyranny.

"It is because we're religious, we say we will not repeat history. We will not have an Inquisition. We will not have English Protestants murdering Irish and

Alcoholism Group Still Wants Site In Geneva

A proposal to build an alcoholic's rehabilitation center in Geneva, a plan which sparked a heated, emotional debate three months ago at a Seminole County Board of Adjustment meeting, is coming up again. This time, the county commission must deal with it.

The Metropolitan Alcoholism Council of Central Florida (MACO) is on Tuesday's commission agenda to appeal a Nov. 22 ruling by the board of adjustment denying the council's request for a zoning exception that would have permitted establishment of the center.

The meeting is set for 7 p.m. in room 200 at the county courthouse.

The Orlando-based MACO is requesting that an 8½-acre tract zoned agricultural at the northwest corner of Lake Harney and Lake Harney Heights roads be granted a zoning exception to permit the center.

Bill Coleman, a member of the council's board of directors, said the council wants to purchase the property, which includes a six-bedroom home, for $213,000 and convert the home into a rehabilitation center for 15-20 males who are recovering from alcoholism.

"These people have been dried out," Coleman said. "They have already received counseling and would get more at the center."

"These are not falling down drunks. They need a little more time to pull themselves together. We are trying to make useful citizens out of these people," he said.

While sympathetic to MACO's goals, many Geneva area residents don't want an alcoholic rehabilitation facility in their neighborhood.

They jammed into the Nov. 22 hearing, many pointing out that there is a school bus stop near the entrance to the property and they feared children waiting for the bus might come into contact with center residents.

Harold Burkett, 52, who lives on Lake Harney Road, said he is in favor of helping alcoholics, but Geneva was not the proper location for the center.

"Please don't make it next door to me," he pleaded.

Residents' complaints apparently were enough to sway board of adjustment members. MACO's request was denied 4-1.

Also at Tuesday's meeting, commissioners are scheduled to consider a request from representatives of Olin American Homes to rezone 80 acres at the intersection of Dike and Dodd roads, north of Bear Gully Lake, from agricultural to Planned Unit Development to permit construction of 320 housing units.

Missile Test Begins Over Canada; Judge Rejects Protestors' Plea

COLD LAKE, Alberta (UPI) — The first test of U.S. cruise missiles in Canadian air space began today after a Federal Court judge rejected an 11th-hour attempt by anti-nuclear demonstrators to block the test.

A U.S. Air Force B-52 bomber, with two unarmed cruise missiles attached to its wings, was already circling the high Arctic at 9:45 a.m. when Justice Francis Muldoon handed down his decision in Ottawa.

The anti-nuclear group Operation Dismantle applied Monday for the injunction, arguing the test should not proceed before the Supreme Court of Canada ruled on whether the federal cabinet had a constitutional right to allow the tests.

In his 13-page decision, Muldoon said there was no evidence the test violated any constitutional guarantees of life, liberty and security of person.

The B-52 bomber took off from a North Dakota airbase at 3 a.m. enroute to its Arctic starting point.

On the ground, anti-nuclear demonstrators including those from the Vancouver-based Greenpeace Foundation, prepared to form a human barricade at the Canadian air force base at Cold Lake, near Edmonton, where the test was to end after a run through northern British Columbia and Alberta.

About 100 protesters from northern Alberta and Saskatchewan prepared to march on the base, waving Canadian flags behind a hearse carrying a mock cruise missile.

The Canadian Forces Base at Cold Lake sounded an "increased alert" late Monday as anti-nuclear protesters converged on the area.

Nativity High Court Ruling Lauded, Lambasted

By Donna Estes
Herald Staff Writer

"Hallelujah," said the Rev. E. Ruth Grant of Longwood Tuesday upon hearing of the U.S. Supreme Court ruling permitting the display of Nativity scenes on publicly owned property at Christmastime.

But Jim Mullins of the American Civil Liberties Union in Miami said the high court decision in a case involving the city of Pawtucket, R.I. is "just another example of the erosion of the separation of church and state doctrine in the United States, for which we will all pay dearly."

In Sanford, meanwhile, where a nativity scene has been displayed on the city hall lawn for 35 years, Mayor Lee P. Moore said he was glad to see the decision and Assistant City Manager Steve Harriett said city officials "never considered not putting one up."

In Lake Mary, where the city commission denied city employees' request last Christmas to build a creche on their own time if it could be displayed at city hall, Mayor Walter Sorenson said with the legal objections gone, he "wouldn't be surprised if there is a manger scene in the city for Christmas, 1984."

Lake Mary City Attorney Robert Petree said his advice to the commission against the scene last year was predicated on the state of the law at that time. "But federal constitutional law is precisely what the Supreme Court says it is," he said.

The 5-4 ruling by the Supreme Court declared that the Constitution does not "require complete separation of church and state" but calls for "accommodation, not merely tolerance, of all religions and forbids hostility toward any."

Writing for the majority, Chief Justice Warren Burger said the court declined to take a "rigid, absolutist" approach to the separation between church and state.

He agreed with the federal government and Pawtucket city fathers that Christmas is a "secular folk festival" and that the creche was merely a holiday symbol.

The four dissenters, led by Justice William Brennan, said the court's ruling was confined to the "particular holiday context in which the city of Pawtucket's nativity scene appeared."

"Nothing in the history of such practices or the setting in which the city's creche is presented obscures or diminishes the plain fact that Pawtucket's action amounts to an impermissible governmental endorsement of a particular faith," Brennan wrote.

The effect on "minority religious groups, as well as on those who may reject all religion," he said, "is to convey the message that their views are not similarly worthy of public recognition nor entitled to public support."

Writing separately, Justice Harry Blackmun, said, "The creche has been relegated to the role of a neutral harbinger of the holiday season, useful for commercial purposes, but devoid of any inherent meaning and incapable of enhancing the religious tenor of a display of which it is an integral part. The city has its victory — but it is a Pyrrhic one indeed."

The ruling did not affect Pawtucket's nativity display. A local citizens' group bought the figures from the city several years ago and has been displaying it at Christmastime. The city had been displaying a creche scene, along with other Christmas decorations, for 40 years before it was challenged by a group of taxpayers and the American Civil Liberties Union eight days before Christmas 1980. The group argued that the Christmas nativity scene violates the First Amendment's ban on "establishment of religion."

The Rev. Dean Kelley of the National Council of Churches said, the court "has regressed from important principles of religious liberty: First, that the government should not sponsor or appear to sponsor the religious symbols of one particular faith — or even several faiths — to the derogation of other faiths. ... Two, that the most sacred symbols of any faith should not be appropriated by the civil communities and secularized into being merely the emblems of a 'secular folk festival' on the same level as Santa Claus and Rudolph the Red-nosed Reindeer."

The ACLU's Mullins said the decision's implications go beyond the display of a Christian symbol on public property.

"The reason we have freedom of religion to such an extent here, the freest of any other country, is because we also have no governmental involvement in religion," Mullins said. "When the people's tax money is taken to erect a Christian symbol this has nothing but a divisive effect on all other peoples of other religions or in fact of no religion."

"I am very disheartened. We will keep fighting," Atheist leader Madalyn Murray O'Hair said. "We are simply appalled by the decision," she said. "We feel that what it is a reflection of the fear generated in the country by right-wing fundamentalists who are intruding into the political system right now."

Henry Siegman, executive director of the American Jewish Congress, called the decision "troubling for religious minorities," and said it "appears to significantly alter the role of government vis-a-vis religion."

Mrs. Grant, pastor emerita of the First Pentecostal Church of Longwood, said, "Even for those who do not worship Jesus as the messiah, the nativity scene has historical value and should be preserved. For those who do believe Jesus is the manifestation in the flesh, it has not only historical but highly religious significance. I am very pleased the Supreme Court would recognize this."

Hart Favored In 2 States

Vermont Votes; Campaigners Go South

By Arnold Sawisak
UPI Senior Editor

The presidential primary voting today was in Vermont, but the political players went south to work on some of the richest prizes of the short season to date — the three Super Tuesday states of Georgia, Alabama and Florida.

Former Vice President Walter Mondale's schedule today had him in Jacksonville, Orlando and Tampa.

Because the Vermont primary is a "beauty contest" that awards no delegates, it often gets short shrift from campaigners, especially with primaries and caucuses coming up in nine states March 13.

But Sen. Gary Hart did do some work in Vermont and as a result was favored to win the test. Also favored in the Wyoming caucuses Saturday, the Colorado Democrat has an opportunity to build on the momentum provided by consecutive victories in New Hampshire and Maine.

Happy but shivering without an overcoat in 28-degree weather, Hart worked across Massachusetts Monday, greeting shipyard workers at dawn, shaking hands at a shipyard, walking through Quincy Market in Boston and visiting a senior citizen meeting in Springfield. The state also selects delegates in a primary March 13.

Then he flew to Atlanta for speeches and rallies in Georgia and airport rallies in Florida today.

Mondale also was in Boston, reeling from the Hart onslaught, but appearing to be buoyed by a packed noontime Boston rally where he was repeatedly interrupted by cheers and screams.

"To hell with New Hampshire," one man shouted.

Mondale predicted his fortunes would turn when Hart's record on nuclear arms, energy taxes and other issues are fully discussed.

John Glenn, staking his faltering effort on the Southern primaries, has been in the region since the weekend, stopping Monday in Birmingham, Ala., to make a batch of new television commercials.

Jesse Jackson campaigned in Arkansas and Kentucky, which have March 17 caucuses.

In Boston, George McGovern urged Massachusetts voters to "stand with me in 1984" as they did in his unsuccessful 1972.

10 Die In Plane Crashes Across Country

By United Press International

Planes trying to fly through thick fog crashed in Alabama and Pennsylvania, killing nine people, and a plane loaded with marijuana smashed into a car trying to direct a landing in Georgia, killing one man, authorities say.

The plane in Alabama, a twin-engine Cessna 420, was en route from South Carolina Monday when fog forced the pilot to divert from his original destination of Hartselle.

The plane was directed to Polson Airport in Vinemont, in northern Alabama, but crashed about a mile short of the runway. All six people aboard were killed.

Recovery teams had difficulty removing the bodies from the scene because of rain, fog and light snow. The identities of the victims were being withheld pending notification of next of kin.

Band Convicted Of Rape

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (UPI) — Three members of a rock band, convicted of raping a 19-year-old woman soldier aboard their touring bus and then leaving her in a field "like a discarded piece of trash," could be sentenced to life in prison.

After three days of deliberations, a jury of nine men and three women Monday found all but one of four members of the Grand Slam band guilty of aggravated rape and indecent assault and battery in the April 23, 1983, attack.

Middlesex Superior Court Judge Robert Barton set sentencing for March 19 for bass guitarist Corey W. Pirrotta, 25; sound man John Fournier, 26, both of Newburyport, Mass., and lighting technician Thomas J. Crowe, 24, of Salem, N.H. Glenn C. Little, 26, of Newburyport, bus driver and stage manager for the group, was found innocent of all charges.

Baby Fed Formula Dies

BOSTON (UPI) — Hospital officials suspect foul play in the death of an 11-month-old boy whose formula was contaminated with three tablespoons of salt, but the district attorney said it was too soon to tell whether the death was an accident or homicide.

Officials at Children's Hospital today continued their investigation into the death of Damon Robinson of Springfield, Mass., who, according to a preliminary autopsy, died from salt toxicity after being fed a bottle of contaminated formula. One Boston child care specialist described three tablespoons of salt fed to a baby as a massive amount. Excess salt causes fluids to build up throughout the body, including the brain, which can be particularly serious for infants and children because of their small size, he said.

Rain Dampens Mardi Gras

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — Heavy thundershowers washed the streets of New Orleans clean for the final 24 hours of revelry and parades as a million-strong Mardi Gras crowd rocked the Crescent City.

The rains gave way in time for Monday night's Krewe of Proteus procession of 20 floats and masked riders that trailed through Uptown into the downtown area where thousands of parade goers had flocked Sunday for the Krewe of Bacchus. Skies were expected to brighten this morning for the biggest parade of the Fat Tuesday gala — when Rex, King of Carnival, reigns.

Derailment Hurts Several

HENDERSON, N.C. (UPI) — Amtrak's Silver Star, a New York-to-Florida passenger train carrying 249 people, derailed on a slight curve while "clipping along" at almost 80 mph in a downpour. At least 52 people were injured.

"The lights went out and it was just a roar like a tornado," said David Murwski, a passenger from Michigan. "Everything went forward — luggage, chairs, everything."

Eighteen cars and one of the three engines jumped the tracks Monday night but all landed upright except the baggage car.

Azalea Sale Continues

The sale of small and large azaleas, roses, and varieties of holly, sponsored by the Beautification and Civic Improvement Committee of the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce, will continue at the Sanford Civic Center patio until 6 p.m. today and from 9 a.m. until 6 p.m., Wednesday, said Bill Gielow, chairman.

After Wednesday the plants will be available at the chamber office on First Street at Sanford Avenue.

Funds raised from the sale are to be used to remodel the rest rooms at the chamber office to provide for the physically handicapped, to build an entrance ramp to the building for the handicapped and to remodel the kitchen at the facility.

Congressmen Speak On Prayers In School

By Paula Schwed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Conservative congressmen, still talking at daybreak today, kept the House in session throughout the night to rally support for a constitutional amendment that would let children pray aloud in public schools.

The Senate was to resume debate on school prayer this afternoon.

A cold drizzle fell on Capitol Hill as the last of about 50 House members — mainly Republicans — finished up their talk marathon that began at 1:20 p.m. Monday and was to run until 9 a.m. today.

"Those who oppose a constitutional amendment believe the First Amendment was created to build a wall of separation between church and state," Rep. Robert Walker, R-Pa., said. "That is not what the First Amendment is. Prayer in the public schools is part of the free exercise of religion."

At 7 a.m. there were six people in the House gallery watching the debate and seven House members on the floor. Rep. Barney Frank, D-Mass., was in the chair, reading a newspaper.

On the floor, Walker spoke out against the "liberal media" for their coverage of fundamentalist religious causes.

"The Washington Post and other liberal media in this country have been very dishonest in reporting about what is acceptable in state practice and what is not," Walker said.

As the talkfest stretched into the early hours today, a handful of sleepy congressmen took turns at the podium to chastise opponents of the measure for keeping schoolchildren from praying.

"If we follow the advice of the civil libertarians ... and remove God from our public lives, we will continue to see the deterioration of our society," said Rep. James Hansen, R-Utah.

Rep. Dan Burton, R-Ind., commenting he wished the debate "were at a little more reasonable hour," said prayer in the schools would "insure some of society's problems."

"Drug use and immorality will drop dramatically because as children are allowed to pray in school, they will learn, they will see, that these things are wrong and will avoid them."

The amendment remains bottled up in committee in the House. The Senate began debate Monday with a plea from GOP leader Howard Baker that colleagues avoid the "emotionalism that circles about this issue."

He says backers are "very close to having the two-thirds vote necessary for passage. The Senate leader promised plenty of time for debate, estimating it would take two weeks. Leading opponent Sen. Lowell Weicker, R-Conn., told Baker it would take until June 1 to air the issue fully. A date for a final vote has not been set.

The amendment Reagan proposed says that the form school prayer takes cannot be dictated by state or local authorities or teachers.

New Right supporters of school prayer want teachers to be permitted to lead the prayers, rather than having individual students recite whatever they want. An aide to the Republican leadership said it may be necessary to permit teacher-led prayer to muster enough votes for passage.

The controversy over school prayer has smoldered for more than 20 years, since a pair of Supreme Court rulings in the early 1960s stopped state-sponsored prayers and Bible readings in public classrooms.

Lawmen File Several Charges Against Sanford Man

Sanford police and Seminole County sheriff's deputies filed several unrelated theft and forgery charges against a Sanford man who was shot Friday by a deputy who was serving the suspect with a warrant.

Mekeal David Ashley, 32, was jailed shortly after he was treated for a leg wound he received when Seminole deputy John Butler shot the fleeing suspect who had allegedly tried to take the lawman's gun at about 5:33 p.m. Friday on Airport Boulevard, Sanford.

At the time of his initial arrest, when Ashley was charged with battery to an officer, Butler had fraud and theft warrants on Ashley from Seminole Flagler and Lake counties. He has been held without bond since Friday.

Monday, county lawmen charged Ashley with two counts of grand theft and petty theft for being the perpetrator in several scams where he allegedly contracted to pave driveways and parking lots in Seminole County and took money for the jobs, but never did the work.

Sanford police charged Ashley in a similar scam and also for forgery, alleging that he stole and cashed a $357.20 check.

Other charges are pending against Ashley and bond for his most recent charges totals $15,000.

ARIZONA ARREST

A Maitland man caught driving a car he allegedly stole in Seminole County and filled with $140,000 in jewelry taken in a Winter Park break-in was arrested in Arizona Tuesday near the Grand Canyon.

The 1982, $12,000 BMW that Joseph R. Tulley, 23, was driving had a flat tire and when the Arizona lawman who stopped to assist him ran a routine check on the car he discovered it had been stolen from Orlando Auto Emporium, 1650 N. U.S. Highway 17-92, near Fern Park, on Jan. 23.

The officer reported seeing marijuana on the front seat of the car and when he searched the vehicle he reported finding more pot and the jewelry taken from the home of a Winter Park couple who are representatives for a jewelry manufacturer. The jewelry was stolen on Feb. 21.

James Tulley who was with his brother at the time of his arrest was not charged.

COUNTERFEIT CHECK

A Fern Park business reported a man bought a video camera and recorder with a counterfeit check.

According to Richard Peters, 43, of 2628 Leanne Court, Winter Park, a clerk at Bellows T.V., state Road 436, a man bought the camera and recorder Friday afternoon at 2:30. Peters said he checked the man's identification, accepted the check, then helped to load the equipment into the man's silver Lincoln Continental.

Later, the deputy reported, the bank holding the account the check was drawn on called and said the check was counterfeit.

SEAMAN STILL IN JAIL

A U.S. Navy seaman charged with possession of a stolen car remains in the Seminole County jail today in lieu of $5,000 bond.

The sailor who is reported to be absent without leave from the USS Edward Mc Donnell, Mayport, was arrested by a Seminole County sheriff's deputy at 2:43

BURGLARY ARREST

An Altamonte Springs man caught inside the Altamonte Furniture Warehouse, 489 W. state Road 436, Altamonte Springs, is being held in lieu of $5,000 bond on several burglary-related charges.

Two Altamonte Springs officers arrived at the company at about 9 p.m. Saturday and discovered that the main glass door to the building had been broken. A third officer arrived with a dog which found the suspect inside the building, a police report said.

The officers reported finding about $110 worth of items the suspect had apparently set aside in the building. They also discovered that the door to Bill Watson Hardware next door had also been tampered with and a car behind the building had been broken into.

Thomas Paul Gallagher, 628 East Wood Court, Altamonte Springs, was arrested at 9:51 p.m. Saturday and was charged with two counts of burglary to a structure, attempted burglary, burglary to an auto, attempted grand theft and possession of burglary tools.

RESTAURANT THEFT

An Oviedo man turned who turned himself in to Oviedo police to face a theft grand theft charge is being held in lieu of $5,000 bond.

Louie Chester Williams, 27, of P.O. Box 1254, Oviedo, was charged at 10 a.m. Sunday in the Feb. 27 theft of $1,634.81 from the Townhouse Restaurant, Oviedo, after he was interviewed at the Oviedo police station, a police report said.

POT BUSTS

A Sanford man who allegedly sold $5 worth of marijuana to an undercover drug agent is being held in the Seminole County jail in lieu of $5,000 bond.

The suspect was arrested in the area of Joe's Pool Hall, 13th Street, Sanford, by a Sanford policeman who was following up on the alleged transaction between the suspect and the undercover officer. When the suspect was charged with possession, sale and delivery of a controlled substance, he allegedly had in his possession the marked $5 bill that the undercover agent gave him for the pot.

Willie George Church, 23, of 47 Castle Brewer Court, Sanford, was jailed at 5:30 p.m. Friday.

A Winter Springs man who was found passed out behind the wheel of his car, which was parked on Eugenia Court at Parker Court in southeast Seminole County, was charged with possession of less than 20 grams of marijuana.

House Deal For Meese Appears Bad?

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Businessman Thomas Barrack Jr. says there was nothing wrong in a special arrangement made to sell White House aide Edwin Meese's California home, but Sen. Howard Metzenbaum, D-Ohio, insists it still looks bad.

"There isn't much doubt in my mind that Mr. Meese has been the beneficiary of special arrangements" that raise doubts whether he has "the integrity to be attorney general," Metzenbaum said Monday after calling Barrack to testify in a third day of hearings on Meese's nomination.

"We never expected to find a smoking gun" proving improprieties, Metzenbaum said. "It's just a rather warm instrument."

Barrack was appointed to a job in the Interior Department after he rescued Meese from financial problems by finding a buyer for his La

Mesa, Calif., home. But he testified there was no connection between the home sale and the job.

The Senate Judiciary Committee also has called accountant John McKean to answer questions about financial help he gave Meese and his subsequent appointment to a $10,000-a-year post on the U.S. Postal Service board of governors.

"I have nothing to hide," said McKean, who arranged a $60,000 loan for Meese in 1981 and 1982 when the White House counselor was having severe financial problems while paying mortgages on homes in La Mesa, Calif., and McLean, Va.

Metzenbaum has taken the lead in questioning whether Meese received special help in the sale of his home, receipt of loans and an Army promotion that could keep him from acting independently if confirmed as attorney general.

Meese, who testified for two days last week, denied any wrongdoing on his part.

Barrack, a real estate developer, was named a deputy undersecretary of the Interior and later was offered a higher post in the Commerce Department but withdrew his name and returned to California.

"Did Mr. Meese ever talk to me about a job? Absolutely not," Barrack said.

"Would I ever impose upon his stature as a person and discuss it with him? Absolutely not," he said. "That's the honest truth."

Barrack said former White House aide Pendleton James, who had tried for years to recruit him to an administration job, asked him to find a buyer for Meese's home, and there was no connection between the sale in August 1982 and his Jan. 5, 1983, appointment to the Interior Department.

Two Sentenced In Federal Court

A former Lake Helen marshal and a Longwood man have been sentenced in separate cases in federal court.

James Perry Davis, 28, of DeLeon Springs and a former marshal of Lake Helen, was sentenced Monday by District Judge G. Kendall Sharp to five years for selling 2 1/2 ounces of cocaine to a federal drug agent in September. Davis also received a special three-year parole to be completed after his five-year sentence, according to federal court records.

Though one trial is over, Davis still faces charges in Volusia County of trying to hire someone to commit first degree murder.

According to court records, Davis faces additional charges in Volusia County of trafficking in cocaine and possession of a firearm during the commission of a felony.

Davis is being held in the Seminole County jail without bail.

In a separate case, a Longwood computer systems analyst, convicted in federal court in Orlando Feb. 3 for evading taxes, has been sentenced to 60 days in jail and must pay a $2,000 fine.

Angelo Michael Leva, 37, of 404 Woodview Drive, was found guilty of tax evasion in 1978 and 1979 by a 12-member jury after two hours of deliberation.

Leva was sentenced Monday by District Judge G. Kendall Sharp.

Leva, who was also placed on four years probation, could have received up to 10 years and $20,000 in fines.

Similar charges against Leva's wife, Jean, 36, who also signed the income tax forms, were dropped.

The Internal Revenue Service alleged that Leva reported income for the two years of $50,000, but failed to report $42,000 in other income.

English Catholics," Weicker said on CBS's "Face the Nation."

Backers of the amendment are waging an intense campaign, accompanied by cries of foul play from some congressional staff members who have been warned their bosses will "burn in hell" if they resist the measure.

Robert Reilly of the White House public liaison office, was less certain. "It's going to be an uphill fight. ... It will be very close in the Senate," he said. "If it passes the Senate, there may be some momentum in the House to get it on the floor."

Police Say Suicide Result Of Movie

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (UPI) — A teenager who shot himself to death in a game of Russian roulette was fascinated by films of macabre violence such as "The Deer Hunter" and even adopted the mannerisms of some of the movies' characters, police say.

Fairport police Chief Joseph Picciotti said the shooting of Christopher Mahan, 17, during a beer bash at Mahan's home was ruled accidental.

He said Mahan, who died Sunday, had talked about the Russian roulette game played in the movie "The Deer Hunter" for weeks.

"He seemed to be caught up in it," Picciotti said. "He had a high sensitivity to that type of highly suggestive stuff."

Five friends, ranging in age from 14 to 17, gathered at Mahan's home Friday night to drink beer and watch videotapes of the movies "Mad Max" and "The Road Warrior," Picciotti said.

"It's more than just violent — it's the most macabre thing I've ever seen. It was almost at a ritualistic, feverish pitch," said Picciotti, who said he watched a portion of the films to learn if they influenced Mahan's behavior.

Picciotti said Mahan drank between four and seven beers in less than two hours, then took an unloaded shotgun from a gun cabinet in his house, put the barrel in his mouth and pulled the trigger. He also aimed the gun at his friends, who told him to stop, Picciotti said.

Mahan then found his father's .38-caliber revolver, and began to play Russian roulette. He shot himself in the right side of the head.

After the shooting, Mahan's friends panicked and fled the house, leaving him lying on the floor, Picciotti said. They hid their beer bottles in bushes nearby, and called police about 20 minutes later.

Officials at McQuaid High School said assistant principal Joseph Marchese met with Mahan and his parents a few weeks ago to discuss the youth's obsession.

WORLD IN BRIEF

Government Troops Clash With Guerrillas

SAN SALVADOR, El Salvador (UPI) — Government troops killed 50 leftist guerrillas and destroyed two rebel camps in clashes east of the capital, the Defense Ministry said.

The ministry said in a communique Monday that nearly 45 guerrillas, five of them women, died in a weekend battle with the army at the village of El Reten, 62 miles northeast of San Salvador.

Three guerrillas died when troops captured and destroyed two rebel camps in the same region, the army said, while two more guerrillas were killed in an ambush in eastern San Vicente province, east of San Salvador.

The communique also said that three soldiers died and two were wounded in the clashes.

Heavy Death Tolls

United Press International

At least 13 Nicaraguan troops were killed in air, sea and ground attacks by rebels based in Honduras in a series of raids that one official called the worst crisis in months between Honduras and Nicaragua.

The Salvadoran army said Monday it inflicted heavy casualties on rebels, reporting 45 guerrillas died in one battle and another five perished in smaller skirmishes.

In Costa Rica, a coalition of rebels fighting Nicaragua's leftist Sandinista government joined forces with the 2,000-member army of the Democratic Revolutionary Alliance, headed by former Sandinista member Eden Pastora.

Nicaraguan government sources said that 10 members of an army reserve battalion died in mortar attacks by U.S.-funded rebels on the villages of Waspam, Leymus and Bilwaskarma, located in Zelaya province, about 240 miles northeast of Managua.

Chemical Weapons Used?

LONDON (UPI) — Iran charged more than 1,000 of its soldiers were suffering from exposure to an Iraqi chemical weapon that Swedish doctors identified as mustard gas.

In Washington, a State Department spokesman said Monday U.S. intelligence indicated that Iraq has used "lethal chemical weapons" in fighting near the southern key oil port of Basra. Iraq was criticized by the U.S. which said "there can be no justification for using them." Iraq denied it was using chemical weapons in the 42-month Gulf War, saying it used only "conventional weapons."

FLORIDA IN BRIEF

Orlando Ready For International Air Service

ORLANDO (UPI) — City officials say the first regularly scheduled direct international airline service into Orlando International Airport is another step in the right direction for the city.

Icelandair revealed plans Monday to become the first airline to offer the international service into the airport starting in September when it begins flights to Europe.

Orlando Mayor Bill Frederick called the new service "another step in putting Orlando on the world map."

The airport received international status in 1976, but its international flights up to now have been charters.

'Living Will' Bill OK'd

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Terminally ill people who are near death should have a legal right to reject extraordinary medical treatment if that is all that is keeping them alive, according to a bill approved by a House committee.

The bill (CS-HB 127) was approved on an 11-4 vote Monday by the House health and rehabilitative services committee. It authorizes "living wills," in which a person can spell out his wishes for future medical treatment.

The document would take effect after the person's doctor and another physician agree that a disease or injury is terminal and that death is not far off.

In a separate action, the committee approved another bill (CS-HB 29) that would ban the sale of body organs or embryos in order to make a large profit. Sponsors said the measure would curb a growing black market in human parts.

Chemical Castration Bill

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Florida judges could give some rapists a choice between chemical castration or no-parole prison sentences, under a newly introduced House bill.

"The sentencing guidelines we have now are a joke," said Rep. J. Keith Arnold, D-Fort Myers, who introduced the bill Monday. "It's sad when, in our society, a person can commit sexual battery and go to prison for only one or two years." Although possible prison sentences are as high as 25 years to life, Supreme Court sentencing guidelines recommend 3.5 to 4.5 years for first-offense sexual battery. Lesser sentences are imposed for attempts at the crime.

Syrian Troops On Alert; Cease-Fire Holds

By Paula Butturini

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — Syrian troops were reported on alert today following Lebanon's abrogation of the May 17 peace accord with Israel and Libyan leader Moammar Khadafy offered President Amin Gemayel the command of Libyan troops stationed in the Bekaa Valley.

An undeclared cease-fire was holding after overnight sporadic clashes along the Green Line that divides Christian east Beirut and the Moslem western half of the capital, police reported. Fighting in the mountains also had subsided.

Monte Carlo radio, monitored in Beirut, quoted its correspondent in Damascus as saying Syrian troops occupying Lebanon's eastern Bekaa Valley were placed on red alert "as a precautionary measure."

Describing Gemayel as a "brave" man, Khadafy said in statements published by the leftist As Saafir newspaper, "we stand today and declare to the world that the Libyan people will offer the Lebanese people everything it needs to pursue the struggle against Israel."

Khadafy offered to place about 450 Libyan troops stationed in the Bekaa Valley at Gemayel's disposal.

The Libyan troops entered Lebanon without the government's approval shortly after the Israeli invasion in 1982. Gemayel had repeatedly asked for the withdrawal. About 40,000 Syrian troops occupy northern Lebanon and the Bekaa.

His U.S. support eroded, Gemayel buckled under Syrian pressure and canceled the May 17, 1983, troop accord that U.S.

Secretary of State George Shultz had hoped would lead to the withdrawal of Israeli and Syrian forces from Lebanon.

Gemayel also agreed to reconvene national reconciliation talks in Switzerland and to form a new government to replace the Cabinet that resigned Feb. 5. Prime Minister Chefik Wazzan agreed to Gemayel's request to "suspend" the caretaker Cabinet's resignation pending formation of a new government, Beirut Radio said.

The timing of the second round of reconciliation talks was not officially announced, but tourist authorities in Switzerland said they had been asked to book hotel space in Lausanne for Friday through Monday.

Some of Lebanon's factions were doubtful about what the talks would accomplish.

"It seems ridiculous the idea that we can solve Lebanon's problems in two days," said Christian leader Dany Chamoun, son of former President Camille Chamoun. "Is it a magic wand (Syrian President) Hafez Assad will wave?"

Israel Pledges Unilateral Action

JERUSALEM, Israel (UPI) — Israeli leaders rejected Lebanese calls for new talks with Beirut, charging Syrian pressure has imposed "a death sentence for Lebanese independence and sovereignty."

Lebanese President Amin Gemayel officially canceled the U.S.-mediated Israeli troop withdrawal accord Monday. Israel immediately responded by announcing it would impose its own security arrangements in south Lebanon, without regard to the interests or wishes of Beirut.

Under terms of last May's accord, Israel was to withdraw from Lebanese territory and the Lebanese government was to have sent troops to the border to protect northern Israel from Palestinian guerrilla attack.

"This cancellation came as a result of the violent and brutal pressure from the Syrians," said Prime Minister Yitzhak Shamir's spokesman, Avi Pazner. "Syria forced the Lebanese government to surrender to its dictates which means a death sentence for Lebanese independence and sovereignty."

Amendment 1 Case Heard

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Amendment 1, which would clamp a sharp lid on government spending, should be removed from the general election ballot in November, former Chief Justice Arthur England told the Florida Supreme Court Thursday.

England said the revenue-limiting proposal violated the state Constitution's prohibition against citizens' initiative ballot proposals covering more than one subject.

He said Amendment 1 would affect virtually every function of government and at least two forms of revenue — taxes and user fees. Co-counsel Stuart Simon said it addressed four — property taxes, excise and sales taxes, corporate taxes and proprietary and user fees.

"The person who writes this, be he an anarchist or the highest government official, can only write one subject ... If this petition gets on the ballot, then there is no one-subject limit in the Constitution," England said.

Pro-amendment attorneys Dennis O'Connor and Robert Gibson disputed England's contention, saying the proposal affected only revenue and that previous court cases allowed for such a broad interpretation of the issue.

The oral arguments kicked off the second round for civic activist Martin Fine's efforts to get Amendment 1 off the ballot. It was certified for the ballot last spring after a lengthy signature-gathering effort.

Fine lost the first round when the 1st District Court of Appeal ruled in December that the case involved substantial finding of fact and needed to be heard first in a circuit court.

If Amendment 1 remains on the ballot and is approved by a majority of Florida's voters, it would require state and local governments to roll back their revenues in 1985 to 1980-81 levels, plus a partial adjustment for inflation and property taxes on new construction.

The court gave no indication when it would issue a ruling.

Man Held On Gun Charge

A Sanford man out on bond while awaiting trial on a second degree murder charge has been arrested for violating probation on an aggravated assault conviction.

Freddie Lee Conquest, 25, of 107 McKay Blvd., tentatively scheduled to be tried March 12, along with Carl F. Presley, 22, of 1114 E. 11th St., Sanford, on a charge of second degree murder in connection with the Jan. 10 shooting death of Michael McCloud, 22, of 29 William Clark Court, Sanford, was arrested Friday by a sheriff's deputy for violating probation by possession of a firearm in the commission of a felony, stemming from the Jan. 10 shooting.

McCloud was shot to death while he and two men and a juvenile argued during an alleged drug deal. Charges have been dropped against the juvenile.

In addition to the murder charge Conquest is charged with carrying a concealed weapon.

He was being held in the Seminole County jail without bond.

William Powell Dead At 91

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (UPI) — A memorial service will be held Saturday for actor William Powell, the breezy sophisticated best known for his portrayal of detective Nick Charles in the "Thin Man" film series.

Powell, who appeared in more than 100 movies and epitomized the suave, cosmopolitan leading man of the 1930s and 1940s, died Monday at Desert Hospital, a day after he entered the facility with pneumonia. He was 91.

"He passed away of natural causes about 5:45 this morning," Powell's wife of 44 years, Diana, said in a telephone interview from their Palm Springs home.

"He was in no pain. I was with him all night long and at his side when he died."

Powell will be cremated and his ashes will be scattered at Welwood-Murray Cemetery in Palm Springs.

Powell attributed his sophisticated style to his training on the stage, where he began his career before moving to Hollywood in 1921 to make a silent version of "Sherlock Holmes" with John Barrymore.

His last movie was "Mr. Roberts" with Henry Fonda, Jack Lemmon and James Cagney in 1954. Powell played the role of Doc.

Losing El Salvador

Secretary of State George Shultz ruffled feathers on Capitol Hill recently by announcing that the Reagan administration was seriously considering sending emergency military aid to El Salvador without waiting for congressional approval. Tip O'Neill and the boys will resent that as an intrusion on congressional prerogatives, but they have brought it on themselves.

A year ago, President Reagan asked Congress for $86.3 million in military aid to El Salvador for fiscal 1984. Later, he proposed a supplementary appropriation of an additional $179 million. Congress cut that first modest request of $86.3 million to an even more modest $64.8 million. Then Congress decreed that no more than $45 million could actually be released to the Salvadorans until there was a trial in the case of the Salvadoran national guardsmen charged with killing four American churchwomen in 1980. And, meanwhile, Congress sat on the $179 million supplemental request.

The trial is expected sometime this spring, but the $45 million is running out now. So, although Congress may be too busy to notice, America's Salvadoran allies are in danger of running out of ammunition just as the guerrillas begin their anticipated offensive designed to disrupt El Salvador's presidential election on March 25.

Existing law gives the Reagan administration the authority to provide some aid on an emergency basis without prior approval from Congress. Current plans reportedly call for the Pentagon to transfer about $80 million worth of weapons, ammunition and military equipment to the Salvadoran armed forces.

With luck, this aid could arrive in time to defeat the communist offensive that will surely come if the guerrillas think they have a chance to seriously disrupt El Salvador's long-awaited presidential election. Conversely, the emergency aid may be too late to prevent a major defeat for El Salvador's duly elected government and a disheartening setback for democracy.

In any case, the crisis in Salvador is typical of what can be expected so long as Congress provides less than the minimum necessary aid and insists on spooning out even that in dribs and drabs. Many in Congress presume they are promoting human rights or a negotiated end to El Salvador's civil strife by shortchanging America's allies. But in fact, they are only helping to prolong the war and to demoralize an already battered ally.

Let us not mince words. Congress, however unwittingly, is pursuing a strategy of defeat in El Salvador. By appropriating what amounts to, in the circumstances, only trivial sums of aid, Congress is effectively denying El Salvador any chance of defeating the guerrillas. And stalemate in counter-insurgency warfare, as any student of 20th century history must know, only favors the guerrillas. This is especially so when, as is the case in El Salvador, they are led by committed Marxist-Leninists and aided by outside forces (i.e., Cuba and Nicaragua).

The Reagan administration should not waste a single day in getting additional aid to El Salvador. That may stave off the impending political and military crisis there if the guerrillas go all out to wreck the March 25 elections. But sooner rather than later, the administration must confront Congress with the predictable consequences of the current levels of assistance.

Our guess is that Congress does not want the responsibility for a communist El Salvador. So, let the Reagan administration put the aid issue as bluntly as the facts deserve, and then push for a policy of peace in El Salvador via victory over the totalitarian left.

"Gosh, I wish I could communicate our Lebanon policy as neat as you do."

By Jane Casselberry

Would you like to have a rewarding experience? More lifeguards, "huggers" and others are needed for the Seminole County Special Olympics to be held Saturday, March 10, at Lyman High School. Volunteers should be there around 8 a.m. for instructions, according to Kit Carson. For more information on helping call him at 323-1792.

The opening ceremonies will begin at 9 a.m. followed by competition in swimming and track and field events which will last until about noon.

The emphasis at this athletic event is on participation. True medals are given to the top finishers, but every one of these athletes is a "winner" for just being there. They won't be shattering any world records, but they will be pushing their bodies to the limit of their ability and their spirits will be soaring with pride and accomplishment.

The public is welcome to come out and help cheer them on.

The bowling and basketball events were held in November. A total of 140 participants were registered in all of the events, according to Shirley Allen, Seminole School District Consulting Coordinator for the Mentally Handicapped and county coordinator for the Special Olympics.

Participants range from 8 years up. Age or mental ability was no handicap for Minnie Allen. The blue ribbon winner in run and dribble in the county basketball competition in November, the 75-year-old went on to win first in the district games as well. She is a resident of the Fern Park Developmental Center.

Blue ribbon winners in Saturday's events will compete on April 7 at the district games at University of Central Florida. The state games will be held in Tampa in May.

Competing athletes, who are often physically as well as mentally handicapped, come from Rosenwald School, Lake Mary High School, Sterling Park Elementary School, Idyllwild Elementary School, Sanford Middle School, Altamonte Elementary School, Seminole Work Opportunity Program, Intensive Care Facilities for the Mentally Retarded, Life Concept and the Fern Park Developmental Center.

South Seminole Optimists will be helping put on the Special Olympics Saturday, according to Ms. Allen.

Entries are now being accepted for the third annual Calendar Art Contest sponsored by Empire of America and the Gainesville Department of Cultural Affairs. The competition is open to area high school students and entry forms can be obtained from the local Big E office or from Pam Fey at the regional office in Gainesville.

Twelve winners will be selected and their work will appear in Big E's 1985 calendar illustrating the month's of the year. A cash award of $200 will be presented to the first place winner and the other 11 will receive $100 each. Deadline for entries will be April 16.

Those Amazing Ancients

CARNAC, France — The extraordinary prehistoric relics to be found in this small summer resort, five hours from Paris by high speed train, provide a fascinating perspective on contemporary France — indeed on the modern world.

The Carnac region is the site of the most unusual collection of prehistoric standing stones in Europe. Four thousand years ago, these menhirs, a word which means long stones, were erected in three great avenues or alignments outside this coastal village — three thousand of them arranged in three great avenues or alignments over a distance of about three miles. These giant stones, many of them standing 10 feet out of the ground, were placed here among the pines and maritime cypresses before the Egyptians built the pyramids. While stone circles abound in Europe and the British Isles, Carnac is the only site where they were placed in alignments consisting of 10 parallel lines of stones.

On a quiet winter day, without a tourist in sight, the alignments are an awesome sight. They are a reminder that men and women of forty centuries past possessed extraordinary abilities and had grand designs in their minds.

No one knows for sure that was the purpose of the planners of the Carnac alignments, but there very clearly was a grand purpose. Incredible labor went into the development of the avenues of stones. There may have been an astronomical purpose to the three alignments — something to do with plotting the movement of heavenly bodies. The alignments may have been a ritual gathering place for the people who erected the stones. Unquestionably, in the dim reaches of antiquity, the leaders of the human community here arrived at a numerical conception full of meaning. It is a meaning that is now lost to us. We can only speculate. We can be sure, however, that execution of the conception involved a colossal communal effort. The people who erected the giant stones lacked the tools on which modern man depends.

If Carnac does nothing else, it creates respect for our very ancient ancestors in Europe. They may have been unable to write down their thoughts, but their thinking processes were formidable. The boldness of their vision was tremendous. Their ability to cooperate and work together also should inspire us.

Contemporary men and women are arrogant. They think they know it all because they possess machines, including the new computing machines. They have much to assist them. Nevertheless, much of modern life consists of trivialities and an emphasis on superficial comfort and security. The builders of the alignments at Carnac had nothing but their hands and the rudest of tools made of sticks and stones, but they created a monument that has endured for four thousand years and that may endure when the 20th century cities of the world are dust.

Checking Juvenile Crime 'Tendencies'

WASHINGTON — Despite official denials, it seems clear that pseudo-scientific theories of crime prevention have found a home in the Justice Department. Money has been funneled to various "ologists" who think they can spot future delinquents on the strength of biological profiles.

In other words, the federal law enforcement agency is not just throwing out the Common Law assumption of innocence until guilt is proven — but is actually conspiring to subject large numbers of young Americans to surveillance. This goes beyond Alice in Wonderland; verdict first, no trial, not even a crime.

When I first broke the story of one weird proposal — to spot future criminals by testing young boys for left-handedness, sweaty palms, oddly shaped ears, long third toes and similar danger signals — several members of Congress reacted with outrage. The project was quickly junked.

Deputy Assistant Attorney General Richard B. Abell complained that my

FARMING WORLD

Fed Farm Programs Hurt

By Sonja Hillgren
UPI Farm Editor

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A draft report prepared for the National Agricultural Forum says federal farm programs of the past few years have contributed to a loss of export market share that has hurt U.S. farm income.

The draft, presented recently at a national conference in Washington, says policymakers might consider adding more price flexibility to commodity programs so that farm prices can fall when the value of the dollar rises.

The draft suggests that lower price supports, although probably providing higher income for the agricultural sector over the longer run, would be resisted by many farmers who would equate lower prices with lower income.

But farmers facing financial difficulty could be assisted with targeted financial aid rather than with higher prices, the draft says.

The concept of reducing commodity prices when the dollar is strong is one of many options contained in the draft report.

The National Agriculture forum will present alternatives to the administration and members of Congress without advocating any of them.

Backed by the Agriculture Council of America, the forum was created in July to help develop sound public policy by bringing together growers who can define alternative approaches to national agricultural issues.

The first draft report deals with policy options for improving U.S. agriculture's trade performance, which has declined over the last few years. Agricultural exports this fiscal year are expected to be valued at $4.3 billion less than a record $43.8 billion sold in 1981.

After this draft is reviewed by state forums, a task force of agricultural experts from agribusiness, government and farm groups will refine the data before a final report is issued in June.

A consultant to the task force is G. Edward Schuh, head of the agricultural economics department at the University of Minnesota and a former Agriculture Department official in the Carter administration. A second task force has begun to look at policy alternatives for domestic agricultural policy.

The export draft says foreign sales, a large share of demand for total American agricultural products, are so responsive to price that a 1 percent decline in price within a short period will increase sales by more than 1 percent.

"Hence, the decline in price will increase total farm income from the export commodities, not reduce it as it would have a decade ago," the draft said.

"This is one of the most important implications of the change in the economics of agriculture over the last 10 to 15 years."

The report said that the 1980 embargo of grain to the Soviet Union and the increase in value of the dollar caused farm programs designed for stabilization to be used as price supports.

The embargo also led to increases in price supports to compensate producers for its negative consequences.

The result, the draft says, is to many commodity programs priced U.S. commodities out of international markets and provided strong incentives for producers in other countries to increase production.

As the price support loan level, when adjusted for inflation, remained constant, the value of the dollar rose by 25 percent. That meant that prices of U.S. commodities were 25 percent higher, the United States lost foreign sales and surplus grain went into the farmer-owned reserves.

Stocks in the reserves became so large that the Reagan administration implemented the payment-in-kind program to reduce stock levels.

"We would be hard-pressed to design a better program to lose market share," the draft says.

If supports were indexed so that they would fall when the dollar is strong and rise when the dollar is weak, exports would be more stable, stocks would not fluctuate so widely and stock buildups that pull down prices would be avoided.

WILLIAM RUSHER

Grabbing Political Straws

NEW YORK (NEA) — While Walter Mondale's grip on the Democratic presidential nomination was being loosened somewhat by Gary Hart last week and this, conservatives were closing ranks behind President Reagan in a development that may actually prove more significant in the long run.

Mondale is probably still unbeatable for the Democratic nomination. Hart's victory in the New Hampshire primary and Maine caucuses seems to have been attributable, as NBC's interviewers reported, more to voter distaste for Mondale's closeness to Big Labor and his strategy of trying to build a national majority out of a clutch of pushy minorities, than to any real enthusiasm for George McGovern's 1972 campaign manager. But money and muscle will make themselves felt in the long run, and Mondale has both.

In addition, New Hampshire voters enjoy having the nation's first primary, and love to demonstrate the clout it supposedly gives them by surprising the pollsters. They are far from infallible, however. In 1964, when Barry Goldwater and Nelson Rockefeller were locked in mortal combat for the GOP nomination, New Hampshire's Republican voters astounded the nation by tossing the in the handkerchief to Henry Cabot Lodge. He was never heard of again.

Ronald Reagan, who scored a 99 percent sweep in the virtually uncontested Republican primary this year, must have gotten a king-sized chuckle when he came in sixth in the Democratic contest as well — coming within a hairbreadth of beating McGovern and Jesse Jackson, and actually outscoring Ernest Hollings, Alan Cranston and Reubin Askew. When one remembers that every vote cast in the Democratic primary for Reagan had to be entered in, Dan Rafter's bitter, "So what?" almost answers itself.

Meanwhile, there has been a development over on the Republican side of the fence that hasn't attracted the notice it deserves. I urge my readers — a discerning bunch who enjoy being ahead of the headlines — to note and remember what follows.

Our liberal media, ever alert to balance their reportage, have been happy, during the past couple of years, to vary the tedious diet of liberal denunciations of Ronald Reagan with an occasional conservative denunciation of him. These have obligingly been supplied by a small but vocal group of New Right activists, of whom the most cooperative has been Richard Viguerie.

Viguerie, an old friend of mine who doesn't think Mr. Reagan has tried nearly hard enough to cut expenditures, reduce taxes, defy Russia, or push the social-conservative agenda, has been thrashing around in the bullpen for many months, looking for a way to get into the game. For a time last year it seemed possible that he would, like the mad monk from Siberia in the limerick, "burst out of his cell with a hell of a yell," and back a full-fledged independent conservative challenge.

Of then-Sen. Sam Ervin, D-N.C., who called it "an extraordinary challenge to human freedom and dignity."

A few months later, the glare of publicity also ended a proposed grant to Richard Nixon's personal physician, Dr. Arnold M. Hutschnecker, who wanted to screen 8-year-olds for "delinquent tendencies," treat some of them, and put the "hard core" in special detention camps.

Footnote: Rep. Ike Andrews, D-N.C., is scheduled to begin hearings tomorrow on a bill that would prohibit experimentation on children.

POLITICAL POTPOURRI: The Reagan-Bush re-election campaign organization is loaded with cash, and apparently intends to stay that way. Traveling employees are limited to $100 a day expenses, and treasurer Angela Buchanan Jackson has also laid down the law on entertainment: Staffers are not to pick up the tab for contributors or field personnel.

Rams Bang Out 14 Hits, Clobber Seminole, 10-3

By Chris Fister
Herald Sports Writer

After scoring two runs in the first three innings, Lake Mary's Rams scored twice in the fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh and rode the strong right arm of Mike Schmit to a 10-3 victory over Sanford's Fighting Seminoles in Five Star Conference baseball action Monday night at Sanford Memorial Stadium.

The Rams, 6-3 overall and 1-0 in the conference, banged out 14 hits on the night led by Ryan Lisle and Scott Underwood who had three hits apiece while Shane Letterio, Kevin Hill and Rod Metz collected two hits each. James Hersey had two hits to lead Seminole.

Schmit scattered four hits in going the distance for the pitching victory. He struck out eight and walked four. Chad Braden, the first of three pitchers for the Tribe, took the loss. The Tribe fell to 4-4 overall and 0-1 in the conference.

"We're starting to come around," Lake Mary coach Alan Tuttle said after the Rams' third straight victory. "We ran the bases well tonight (Monday) and kept the pressure on. It's a good win to start out the conference with."

Seminole jumped out to a 1-0 lead in the bottom of the first as Steve Dennis led off by drawing a walk and stole second, his 15th steal of the year. Kevin Smith followed with a single up the middle and Underwood's throw from center sailed over the catcher's (Metz) head allowing Dennis to trot home.

Lake Mary responded with two runs in the top of the second. Hill drew a walk off Braden, and then stole second. Barry Hysell followed with a single to right to put runners on the corners with no outs. Ron Natherson then stepped up and delivered a RBI single to right and Hysell scored when Donald Grayson hit into a force play.

Lake Mary loaded the bases on consecutive singles by Lisle and Letterio but couldn't get another run home as Braden struck out Underwood to end the inning.

After a scoreless third frame, the Rams tacked on two more runs in the fourth to take a 4-1 lead. Metz stroked a single to right to lead off and stole second. One out later, Lisle ripped a single up the middle to put runners on the corners. Lisle then stole second and both Metz and Lisle scored on a bloop single off the bat of Underwood.

Seminole had a chance to get back a few runs in the bottom of the fourth as it had runners on second and third with no outs. Schmit then struck out Larry Thomas and Hersey and got Tony Cox to ground out to short to end the inning.

Lake Mary made it 6-1 with two more runs in the fifth. Hill reached on an error to lead off, went to second and third via errors and scored on a wild pitch. Hysell, who reached on a fielder's choice, scored the second run of the inning on a sacrifice fly off the bat of Metz.

The Rams added two more runs in the sixth on RBI singles by Letterio and Hill and two more in the seventh, one on a balk by Seminole pitcher William Wynn and the other on a RBI single by Underwood.

Lake Mary is back in action Wednesday at 4 p.m. against Spruce Creek at Devonshire Park while the Seminoles travel to DeLand Thursday for a 7:30 p.m. game at Conrad Park.

With one Blue Darter down, Lake Howell catcher Bill Lang looks for more action in Monday's Five Star Conference game. Apopka's Mike Hinde stole second and went to third on an over-throw but when he tried to score, above, Lang nailed him at the plate. Apopka eventually won, 17-4, to remain unbeaten in 10 games.

Apopka Rips Silver Hawks

Apopka's Rodney Brewer socked a two-run homer in the first inning and combined with Keith Ussrey to scatter eight hits as the Blue Darters walloped Lake Howell, 17-4, in Five Star Conference baseball at Lake Howell High Monday.

The victory runs Apopka's unbeaten string to 10 games, with the lone blemish a tie with Spruce Creek to give Apopka a 1-0-1 conference mark. Lake Howell, which travels to Seabreeze Wednesday, fell to 6-5 and 0-1 in the Five Star.

Brewer's first-inning belt came off starter and loser Van Golmont (1-2). The Silver Hawks, nevertheless, erased the deficit in the bottom of the second with a three-run explosion.

Hot-hitting Scott Munson singled and senior Jim Royal poked a blast over the left-field fence for a two-run homer to tie the score. Sophomore David Marlette then followed up with a liner over the fence for a 3-2 lead.

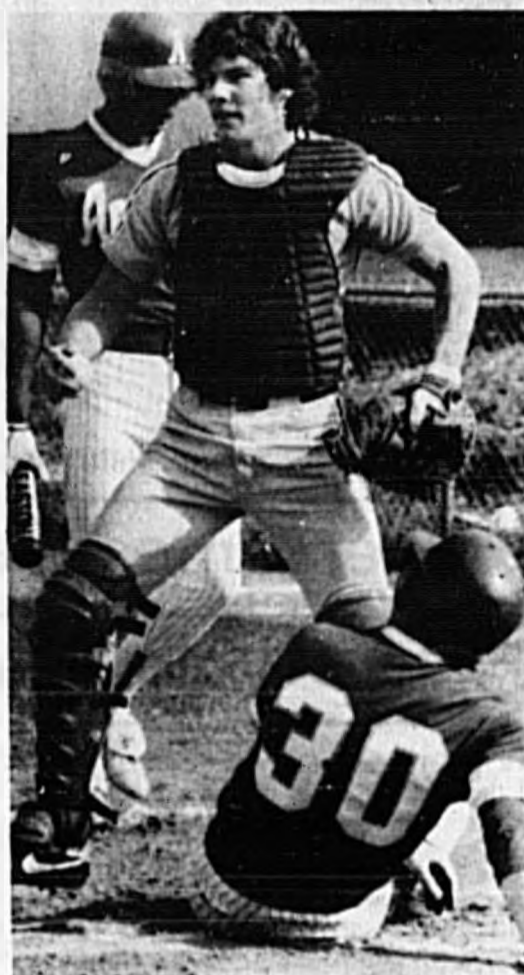

"Those back-to-back home runs were thoroughly embarrassing," said Brewer, who is going to Florida on a football scholarship but is not counting out pro baseball "if the money is right."

Golmont ran into more trouble in the third. Trey Brasseur singled and shortstop Billy Johnson jacked a two-run homer for a 4-3 lead. Brewer drew a walk and Mike Hinde reached on an error. Sidney Lowman followed with a single to center and when the ball got past the center fielder, both runs scored for a 7-3 lead.

Lake Howell came back with one in the fourth on a walk to Royal, a single by Marlette and an RBI fielder's choice by Jeff Poindexter, but the Blue Darters exploded for four in the fifth and six more in the sixth to tie the game. It was called after six innings due to the slaughter rule.

Brewer drove in three runs while Johnson, Brasseur and Lowman had two RBI apiece. Poindexter had a double for the losers.

DeLand, Valencia: No Practice Makes Perfect

Although it wasn't a Seminole County team that won it, DeLand's Lady Bulldogs' state championship is a big step toward extended state prominence for Five Star Conference basketball.

DeLand seemed destined to win the state title, especially after unbeaten Jacksonville Rialto was upset by Tampa Hillsborough in the semifinals.

DeLand's state title is a big step for Five Star girls basketball, but it also must have been pretty sickening for a couple Seminole County coaches. Especially for Seminole coach Ron Merthle whose team dominated the Lady Bulldogs twice during the regular season. Lake Howell split with DeLand in the regular season and then lost to it in the district tourney after holding a 16-point lead early. Lake Howell coach Dennis Codrey would have loved a trip to Winter Park last weekend.

DeLand may not have been the most talented team in the state, in fact Seminole, Lake Howell, Lake Mary and Lyman all had more talent than DeLand, but the Lady Bulldogs did have the one most talented player in the state, 6-0 junior Bridgette Gordon.

A little known fact, which was related by another coach at DeLand High, is that the Lady Bulldogs didn't practice at all during the two weeks prior to the state tournament. DeLand coach Clifford Cox reportedly was disgusted with the team's attitudes and didn't want to be in the same gym with the girls, said the source.

Guess that shoots the old theory about practice makes perfect.

Speaking of state tournaments, Seminole Community College is probably sick after getting eliminated from a state tourney berth by Valencia, which got hammered in the first round of the tourney.

SCC beat Valencia twice during the regular season, but Valencia, led by the high-scoring duo of Tony Fluker and Cleve Williams, beat Lake City in the first round of the Mid-Florida Conference Tournament and then edged SCC in the final. Williams, a 6-3 guard, who said he will attend Western Kentucky next year, led the nation in scoring with 32 points per game.

It was also pretty odd that Valencia, like DeLand, made the state tourney when it didn't even practice for the last few weeks of the season.

While all the local tournaments are over, the big one coming up is the NCAA tournament, probably the most exciting spectacle in sports. North Carolina State will have a hard enough time getting into the tournament let alone winning it for the second straight year.

North Carolina is the favorite to win it all and the top ranked team in the nation. That means the Tarheels will probably get upset somewhere along the line. My best bets to make the final four include Houston (which has made it the last two years), DePaul (the Blue Demons want to do it for retiring Ray Meyer), North Carolina (because of Michael Jordan) and the upset team of the tournament Texas-El Paso.

Other teams to watch for upsets include, Oklahoma, Nevada-Las Vegas, Tulsa and Temple and, in wishful thinking on my part, Alabama (if they get lucky and make it).

Young: 40 Reasons For Security — Kelly Lifts Gamblers

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (UPI) — All-America quarterback Steve Young may have as many as 40 million reasons to feel he is financially secure for life. Those reasons translate directly into dollars.

The Los Angeles Express of the U.S. Football League went to market Monday and paid what team owner Bill Oldenburg termed the "market price" for Young, signing the blue-chip quarterback to a 4-year contract considered the richest pact in the history of professional sports.

Financial terms were not disclosed at a news conference, but reports have indicated the Brigham Young University quarterback's pact is worth up to $40 million, including deferred payments and charitable donations.

Young, who set more than a dozen NCAA records at BYU and was runnerup in the Heisman Trophy balloting behind Nebraska's Mike Rozier, signed with the

Pro Football

USFL after rejecting an offer by the NFL's Cincinnati Bengals.

"You have to pay market value," Express owner Bill Oldenburg said. "He had a choice in America and he exercised that choice. It is a market price, not overpaying."

The contract reportedly pays Young about $2 million for each of the next four years. It also includes money for a 20-year scholarship fund at BYU and for Mormon missionary work. Young is a great-great-grandson of Brigham Young, the Mormon church patriarch.

"It was a tough decision, but I followed my heart," Young said. "I'm excited about this day. I'm looking forward to it (the challenge) like nothing else in my life. This is not a lifetime decision. It's tough to have foresight at 22."

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (UPI) — The U.S. Football League in general and the San Antonio Gunslingers in particular suffered a nasty dent in their image Monday night.

But on a cold, windy and occasionally dark evening, Jim Kelly's image as a professional quarterback was dramatically enhanced.

Kelly, the former University of Miami star who was making his second pro start with the USFL's Houston Gamblers, produced 315 passing yards, threw one touchdown pass, scrambled for critical first downs and scored twice himself on short runs.

All of that led the Gamblers to a 35-7 romp over the Gunslingers.

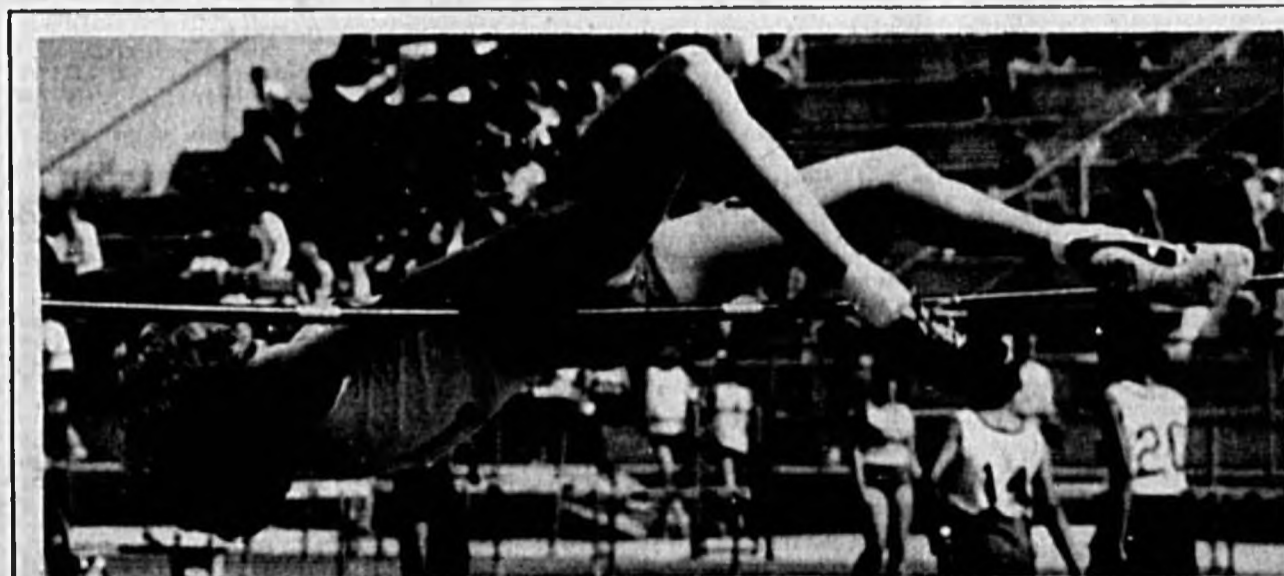

But Kelly and his teammates were running up points, all of those associated with the Gunslingers simply were hoping the night would end as soon as possible.

This was to be a showcase for the expansion San Antonio franchise. New lighting had been installed at Alamo Stadium so the game could be played at night and thus be beamed nationwide on cable television.

But Monday dawned cold and got colder. Only 10,023 people showed up.

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (UPI) — Maryland officials are searching frantically for some way to match an Indianapolis offer to Baltimore Colts' owner Robert Irsay that would keep the NFL franchise in Baltimore.

Gov. Harry Hughes, Baltimore Mayor William Donald Schaefer, state Economic and Community Development Secretary Frank DeFrancis and one or more unidentified private investors met privately Monday to discuss what, if anything, they can do to keep the Colts from moving.

Durham Makes More Contact With Lenses

By United Press International

Contact lenses are giving Leon Durham more contact. Durham, held to only a .258 average last season because of injuries, homered in the first Chicago Cubs intrasquad game of spring training Monday at Mesa, Ariz.

Durham's team, coached by Johnny Oates, defeated coach Ruben Amaro's team 11-5 as Durham added two singles. He thinks part of the credit goes to contact lenses, which have replaced the glasses he always wore before.

"I got them in November and the first time I wore them I had a bad experience," he said. "The doctor gave me hard lenses and I had problems for five weeks. So I went to another doctor and he gave me soft ones."

"They (the lenses) make you concentrate. And I can see everything now, even peripherally."

Reggie Jackson pulled his right hamstring and Rod Carew strained a calf muscle Monday, knocking both California Angels veterans out of Wednesday's Cactus League opener against the Cleveland Indians.

Both are expected to miss drills for two or three days.

At Bradenton, talk centered on the autobiography of retired Pirate slugger Willie Stargell. In Pittsburgh, Stargell introduced his autobiography, which portrayed another former Pirate star, Dave Parker, as a "chronic complainer" who played baseball "out of hate and revenge."

Parker, who signed with the Cincinnati Reds after playing out his option with the Pirates last season, could not be reached for comment at the Reds' training camp in Tampa.

In exhibition games, Montreal edged the New York Yankees 3-2, Philadelphia routed Toronto 12-0, the Chicago White Sox nipped Kansas City 3-2 and Houston beat Atlanta 5-2.

At West Palm Beach, Jim Wohlford walked with the bases loaded in the bottom of the ninth to lift the Expos. At Dunedin, Joe Cipolloni slugged a three-run homer and Ozkie Virgil clubbed a two-run shot to lead the Phillies.

At Sarasota, Floyd Bannister pitched three near-perfect innings for the White Sox.

Alegre's Injury Dampens Lyman Win Over Patriots

Lyman's John Drinkwater gets ready to hit home plate while teammate Mike Henley searches for the ball.

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor

Lake Brantley's Bobby Garrison broke up Lyman's no-hitter with a clean single to center in the sixth inning Monday, but the break that may be more damaging to the Greyhounds came two innings earlier.

Paul Alegre, one of Greyhounds most valuable performers, was sailing along with a perfect game until he walked Scott Salmon to open the fourth. As Alegre delivered an offering to Brennan Asplen, he felt a pop in his right elbow. Asplen bunted the ball and Alegre threw him out, but then the husky junior painfully clutched his elbow.

"It was a change-up," said Alegre. "I don't know what happened. My elbow just popped."

That would be the last pitch he would throw Monday and even though the Greyhounds escaped with a 6-5 victory over the rallying Patriots — Alegre's injury put a damper on Lyman's five Star Conference victory at Lake Brantley High.

"It doesn't look good," said Lyman skipper Bob McCullough. "I think it's the ulnar nerve. That's what popped. We're going to have Dr. (Michael) Fulton in DeLand. He handles a lot of 'baseball arms.'"

Before his injury, Alegre was almost untouchable. He retired the first nine hitters in succession, not allowing a ball to be hit out of the infield and striking out three.

After Asplen's bunt sent Salmon to second, McCullough summoned Byron Overstreet to take over for Alegre. The sophomore righthander slammed the door by getting Jimmy Robbins to look a called third strike and whiffing dangerous Mike Beams to get out unscathed.

An inning earlier, Lyman had built a 2-0 edge when shortstop Greg Lorenz doubled of starter and loser Kevin Gross. John Drinkwater moved him to third with a deep fly to center and catcher Mike Henley chased him home with a Texas-League single to right field. Henley's blooper chased Gross, who also was suffering from a sore arm in favor of lefty Brad Dunn.

Alegre, also an excellent hitter, greeted Dunn with a double to right center to score Henley for a 2-0 lead.

Lyman appeared to put the game on ice in the fifth. Lorenz singled to right when Allen Perkins lost his fly ball in the sun. Drinkwater bunted but Dunn made a nice play to force Lorenz at second. Henley followed with another hit and Overstreet drilled a base hit in the hole to load the bases.

Derek Livernols then followed with a wind-blown drive to left center which went for a double to clear the bases for a 5-0 lead.

An inning later, Lyman added what proved to be the winning run. Tim Voit singled but was picked off on the first pitch. He reached second, though, when Alan Wing's throw was wide. Brantley then put on a pickoff play, but catcher Kevin Bass tossed the ball into center field. Beams, the center fielder, then came up throwing and rifled the ball into the stands allowing Voit to score.

Brantley finally snapped its lethargy in the sixth. Garrison singled up the middle to break up the no-hitter and Salmon followed with a two-bagger to left center to score Garrison. Asplen then reached on an error and Robbins singled to left for the second run.

Beams atoned for his error with a smash to right center which went for a double to drive in Asplen. McCullough then pulled Overstreet in favor of ace Livernols.

"Overstreet did a good job," said McCullough. "He just got a little tentative out there. He was afraid to throw hard. But that's a sign of youth."

Mike "Pooch Bear" Pinckes then hit a ground ball to shortstop and when Lorenz threw the ball over first, both runs scored to trim Lyman's lead to 6-4. A wild pitch by Livernols chased home Beams to pull the Patriots within one run.

Livernols, though, struck out Bass on a sweeping curveball and when Lorenz made a great stop behind second base and threw out Dunn, the Greyhounds got out of the jam.

"The kid (Lorenz) threw it away and then came back and made a great play," said McCullough about his shortstop. "You can't ask for anymore than that."

Except, maybe, a favorable doctor's report on Alegre.

Upshaw, Utah Overcomes Pesky Hawaii, 69-65

By United Press International
Playing Hawaii is never a paradise for Utah — and it wasn't Monday night, either. But the result was different.

Kelvin Upshaw scored 23 points and Chris Winans added 20, helping Utah battle back to beat Hawaii 69-65 in the first round of the Western Athletic Conference post-season tournament.

Hawaii finished seventh in the conference and ended the year with a 12-16 record, including two regular-season wins over the Utes.

"They give us more problems than any other team in the league, and that includes

College Basketball

(Texas-) El Paso." said Utah coach Lynn Archibald. "This is a great win. It sounded like 18,000 fans were here."

Actually, the crowd numbered 3,140. "They were just great today," said Archibald. "Our players felt it. It helped us play intense defense. The players responded to the crowd. It was amazing how loud a few individuals can get."

The Utes, behind 21-8 midway through the first half, roared back to trail by 36-32 at halftime on a 24-foot basket by Upshaw at the buzzer. Utah tied the score four times in the second half before going ahead for good on Angelo Robinson's basket with 2:47 left.

Utah advances to the second round of the WAC's first-ever post-season playoffs, at New Mexico on Wednesday night. Utah, the eighth-place team in the WAC's regular-season standings, is 11-18 heading for Albuquerque.

"New Mexico will always give anybody trouble," said Archibald. "They have the best team chemistry in our league. They really use their talent to the best of their ability."

College Basketball

NEW SMYRNA BEACH — The Wayne Densch Budweiser machine of David Rogers is still the fastest thing on four wheels at New Smyrna Speedway, but newcomer Mike McCrory is getting much closer.

So on Saturday night, Rogers took his second late model feature win in a row, with LeRoy Porter barely holding McCrory off for second. Fourth and fifth were Joe Middleton and Greg Froemming.

Season long point chase leader Mike Goldberg drove the Med-Equip camaro to victory in the thunder car finale. World Series feature winner Dick Proulx was second, followed by Barry Layne, Buddy Teed and Ron Garra.

The 15-lap street stock feature went to Casey Hawthorne of Sanford. It was the fifth victory of the season for the popular young Ford Mustang pilot. Finishing second, while putting on a strong showing in a new ride was Ric Lokey. Third to fifth were Pat Weave, Sanford's Joey Wurmack and Jim Passino.

Rogers Is Still The Fastest, But McCrory Is Moving Up

Nineteen cars took the green for the four cylinder finale, and a three-car wide, fender-rubbing battle heated up behind high point man Bill Martin who led till half-way.

With Stan Eads and W.G. Watts crowding his rear view mirror, new leader Glenn Palmer was hanging on when Watts made his move with two laps to go. The pair made contact and had to restart last. Eads then pulled up for the lead and the win, besting the "Pinto Bean Special" of Bill Rouse, Eddie Tovot, Watts and Richard Newton.

SPORTS IN BRIEF

Brubaker Throws Blanks As Altamonte Indians Roll

Kent Brubaker hurled three scoreless innings and drove in three runs as the Indians ripped the Red Sox, 13-2, in the opening night of games at the Eastmonte Complex of the Altamonte Little League.

Brubaker, a 12-year-old righthander, breezed through his three-inning stint and punched out two singles and a double to account for his three ribbles. Kevin Waincott chipped in a single and a double for two RBI.

Robert Ensen had two singles for the Red Sox. Altamonte has games every night and Saturday for its seven divisions.

Chavis, Eby Lead Amoco

The Seminole Softball Club opened its season at Five Points with a pair of lopsided victories in Eagle Division action.

Semoran 1 Burger King clobbered Longwood 1 H.D. Realty, 10-3, as Kris Korzon and Wendt Ward each slugged three hits and Sybella Blakey added a triple. Susan Hayden scored two runs while Denise Canfield and Cindy Scalise each added one single.

Agie Huff had two hits for H.D. and Amy Adams singled and scored twice.

In the second game, Winter Springs 1 Lake Howell Amoco blasted Forest City 1, 13-1, as Caroline Chavis smacked two singles and a double good for three runs batted in.

Lomicia Whitaker and Mikki Eby each singled and tripled with Eby driving in three runs. Kathy Mike had a single and a double for two RBI while Daria Hall singled twice and drove in a run.

Jessica Bradley went the distance to pick up the win.

NCAA Summons Miller

CORVALLIS, Ore. (UPI) — Oregon State University basketball coach Ralph Miller and three assistants have been asked to appear before the NCAA's Committee on Infractions in its investigation of 54 alleged rule violations by the school's basketball and football programs.

The allegations, made public Monday, deal primarily with possible violations of the extra benefits rule. The NCAA charged that some student athletes sold complimentary tickets and that several athletes may have received gifts, entertainment, travel or similar benefits prohibited by NCAA rules.

Some athletes also used their athletic skill for pay, the NCAA charged.

Three OSU basketball players — A.C. Green, Darryl Flowers and Tyrone Miller — were suspended for the first six games of this season for violating NCAA rules by selling complimentary game tickets.

Lions And Lionesses Plan Event For Accident Victim

The Longwood/Lake Mary Lions and Lioness Club will hold a gala benefit dinner-dance on March 10, at Slovak Gardens, Howell Branch Road.

According to Lioness regional director Lois Workman, a corned beef and cabbage dinner buffet will be served from 5:30 to 8:00 p.m. A live band will be on hand to play for dancing from 9:00 p.m. until 1:00 a.m., all for a $5.00 donation taken at the door.

A cash bar will be available. The public is invited.

Funds raised from the dinner-dance will be used to purchase a wheelchair for a co-Lioness who has recently been partially paralyzed in an automobile accident.

For more information contact Lois at 699-4373 after 3:00 p.m. or Mr. Workman at the Quality Inn, 862-4000, extension 302.

Mrs. Maria Gerrity, an eighth grade math teacher at Rock Lake Middle School, has been voted the Seminole County Teacher of the Year for Mathematics. Maria ranked fifth in the state which enables her to travel to Washington D.C., meet the President, and receive the distinguished President's Award. Currently serving for the second year in a row as president for the Seminole County Council Teachers of Mathematics, she has been selected to serve on the Board of Directors for the Florida Council of Teachers of Mathematics. Congratulations Maria.

Longwood Elementary School recently held its first Science Fair, with many wonderful science projects being turned in for viewing and judging. Although all the projects were superb, following is a list of the winners:

First grade — Adam Casteris, first; Mathew Guppy, second; Samantha Sadowski, third.

Karen Warner

Second grade — Lori Ann LaBrusciano, first; Jenny Sandlin, second; Amanda Cutter, third.

Third grade — Kelly Jonda, first; Ray Gullet, second; Tim Wynn, third.

Fourth grade — Deena Whittle, first; Ian Klair, second; Dennis Wilkerson, third; Frank Sutura, fourth.

Fifth grade — Jeremy Leslie, first; Chris Lee, second; Julie Maine, third; Toby Cutter, fourth.

Other ribbons awarded were for the Plant Experiment by the Language II class, first place; and second place to Mrs. Adams' fifth grade class for Magnetic Field Mapping.

Winners in the Kindergarten Science Olympics were Jamie Hobbs for super bubbles, Lauree Keola for egg-dropping, Sarah Doyle for clay boats, Donnell Lingard for paper airplanes, T.J. Jarosik and Kevin St. Louis for bridges, and Jennifer Stanford and Shawn Williamson for building towers. Congratulations to them all.

Woodlands Elementary School is holding a Super Carnival on March 10 and all area residents are invited. According to Claudia Bert, carnival chairman, the carnival will start at 10:00 a.m., and be open until 4:00 p.m. An old-fashioned auction will be held at 1:00 p.m. Tom Sackett of Longwood will be auctioneer.

The day's activities will include a cake walk and a bake sale of brownies, cookies and fudge. Game booths will be set up for the children to enjoy with a special Tot Area for children first grade and under to play games. Hot dogs, popcorn and soft drinks will be part of the good foods available for the carnival.

Funds raised will be used by the PTA to purchase science kits and computer software. Any business wishing to help with donations of $20 will have their company's name posted at a booth. For more information contact the school at 830-9911.

The Episcopal Church of the Resurrection will sponsor a tree and plant sale on March 10, from 9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. at Sabal Point Elementary School.

According to Donna Hallows, chairman of the sale, a wide variety of shrubs, hanging plants, flowering bushes, and indoor/outdoor landscaping plants will be available at affordable prices.

Funds raised from the sale will be put to use in the church's current building program. At the present, the congregation is holding services at the school. A church building will be erected on property they own at Sweetwater Academy later this year.

The city of Longwood recently selected Sergeant Mark Smock of the Longwood Police Department as Police Officer of the Year. Sgt. Smock is head of the neighborhood Watch Program, and Public Relations for the police department. A beautiful plaque was presented to Sgt. Smock by city administrator/chamber of commerce president David Chacey.

The Longwood/Winter Springs Chamber of Commerce awarded Mike Norman of Oviedo High School, and Kim Gall of Lyman High School the Business Student of the Month award.

'Godspell' Set At SHS

Steve Grey as Jesus, left, and Andy Ellmore as John the Baptist/Judas head up the cast of "Godspell" which will be presented by the Seminole High School Thespians on March 14, 15 and 16, at 7:30 p.m., in the school auditorium. Tickets are $3 each at the door. Director is Jane Epps. Musical directors are Layrel Ellmore and Bob McGuire.

Frantic Grandparents Search For A Hold On Child's Future

DEAR ABBY: Our 17-year-old son and his 16-year-old girlfriend have gotten themselves in trouble. The baby is due next month, and we are frantic! They have decided not to get married and are putting the baby up for adoption instead. The girl's parents wholeheartedly support this decision, and to our sorrow, so does our son.

Dear Abby

We, as the child's grandparents, are opposed to this adoption idea. Because our son is a minor, he needs our signature on the adoption papers along with his own. The girl's parents must also sign the adoption papers, and, of course, they will.

Our son, who will be 18 in November, says if we refuse to sign, the baby will go from the hospital to a foster home and stay there until our son turns 18 and can sign without us.

Do we have any rights in this matter? Hurry, please. Time is running out.

CARING PARENTS

DEAR PARENTS: The laws relating to adoption and minors differ drastically from state to state, so it's not possible to tell you what your rights are, if indeed you have any concerning the future of your soon-to-be-born grandchild.

The physically ill lose no time in consulting physicians whom they gladly pay for their services. Why, then, do so many people who need legal services hesitate to consult a lawyer? Please see one. Time is indeed running out.

DEAR ABBY: I had plans to get married in June and I need your advice. My future husband is now unemployed, but I have a job. I told him that we could manage on what I make, but he wants to call off the wedding. He says he doesn't want a woman supporting him.

I tried to tell him that a lot of women are working because their husbands are unemployed, but he doesn't believe me.

Please help me change his mind, Abby. I love him and I know we could make it on my job if we are careful.

B. IN KENTUCKY

DEAR B.: It's true. In some families the wife is the only one bringing in a paycheck, and it works out fine. But if a man (or woman) does not want to get married — regardless of the reason — I would not try to change his (or her) mind.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I travel a lot by automobile, and we listen to the radio for company and weather reports. It is really frustrating when the radio announcer says, "This is Station XYZ and we have tornado warnings out for Windsor County," with no mention that the station is in River City, Okla.! The tornado could be right next to us, or 300 miles away because radio stations have such a long range now.

The FCC should require that stations give their city and state with the station's call letters.

We live in Vermont and used, to hear Bob Steel in Hartford, Conn., and Mr. Steel is the only announcer we have ever heard give the city and state with the call letters.

Thank you, Bob Steel.

TICKED-OFF TRAVELERS

DEAR TICKED: Thanks for a sensible suggestion. Are you listening, FCC?

Consultant Harry Powers shows hearing aids at Orange Hearing Aid Center.

Free Hearing Tests Offered At Orange Hearing Aid Center

Meet Harry Powers, one of the hearing aid consultants at Orange Hearing Aid Centers. For the convenience of those in the Sanford area with hearing problems, Harry administers electronic hearing tests free of charge each Monday from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. in the testing facilities at Medco Discount Drugs, 2701-D South Orlando Drive, Sanford.

Orange Hearing Aid Centers have a full line of hearing aids, including the Presidential Hearing Aid, which is the custom made canal type aid worn by President Ronald Reagan. The tiny, inconspicuous aid comes in several sizes and is also available in 14k gold plating.

The Casselberry center is open Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. or call anytime for an appointment for a free test at 834-8776 or in the Sanford area, 323-5702. The specialists there in custom-made hearing aids will be glad to help you.

Irving Pensack, president of Orange Hearing Aid Centers, has a master's degree in audiology. In addition to Powers, other licensed hearing consultants on the staff include Frank Whitten, Bill Christenson, and Mrs. Dale Abramson. The have many years of combined experience in successful fittings.

Orange Hearing Aid Centers offer a special 30-day trial period, satisfaction guaranteed, with every hearing aid that is obtained from their offices. Everything they sell comes with an unconditional one-year guarantee.

Their well-qualified specialists repair and service their hearing aids as well as test adjust them on the premises.

Driftwood Village of Lake Mary has country charm. Driftwood Village Completes Fourth Phase Of Construction

Driftwood Village, at 549 W. Lake Mary Boulevard, Lake Mary, has added a fourth phase. The only shopping center in the Lake Mary city limits, Driftwood Village has a country character that sets it apart from the many plastic look-alike shopping centers.

But don't let the friendly, relaxed rustic atmosphere fool you! The styles and services you find in the shops and businesses there are just as sophisticated as you will find anywhere.

Some of the businesses located there include The Permanent Solution, Rocking Chair Needlecrafts, Christo's Restaurant, The Village Shop, Petsos Lake Mary Travel Agency and The General Store.

Anyone interested in joining the many businesses and professional offices already located at this prestigious address may contact the Harkins Corp. at 323-9310 for information about retail and office space available.

The Permanent Solution, a full service hair care center owned by Diane Burton, has moved from its former location in Driftwood Village into its new salon in the fourth phase. It also features manicures, pedicures, sculptured nails, waxing, and a colorist to coordinate your make-up and clothes. Coming soon—facials and massages.

Come and see the new items in stock at Rocking Chair Needlecrafts, which the owners and operators Barbara E. Bartelt and her daughter, Barbara I. Bartelt picked up at the recent trade show in Atlanta. The exciting new merchandise has arrived which includes cross-stitch, needlepoint and many other needle art selections.

Christo's Family Restaurant, owned by Chris Cranias, with three generations of food service experience, specializes in Greek-American Cuisine. It serves breakfast, lunch and dinner. Hours are 6 a.m. to 10 p.m., Monday through Friday; 7 a.m. to 10 p.m., Saturday; and 8 a.m. to 3 p.m., Sunday.

Check with Adelaide Moses at The Village Shop for beautiful Spring and Summer fashions for women. In the retail clothing business in the Sanford area since 1965, she carries a line of better dresses, sportswear and accessories.

Before planning your next vacation or business trip check with Anne Petsos at Petsos Lake Mary Travel Agency. They specialize in handling travel arrangements for business accounts and will give you air line tickets at airport prices. The agency is open 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Buzz Petsos is the owner of The General Store, a handy place that will save you a trip downtown. They carry gifts for all occasions, greeting cards, gift wrap, milk, bread, cold drinks, tobacco products, hardware, and film to name a few of the many items in stock.

Geneva, Margie, and Paulee display some of crafts at A & G

Selection Even Bigger At A & G Craft Supply

Geneva Spaulding, owner, of A & G Craft Supply, 1016 S. French Ave., Sanford, and her sister, Margie Jernigan, manager, have just returned from Anaheim, Calif., where they attended the Hobby and Craft convention.

Both attended seminars sponsored by the different manufactures. They enjoyed seeing the different types of crafts, but find Sanford's traffic a welcome relief from the California freeway traffic jams.

"We would like to express to our customers our thanks for their patience while we were away looking for many of the items they have requested," Geneva said. "We will continue to do our best for our customers."

"We are enlarging our space and will carry a line of miniatures. We have recently added 100 colors of needlepoint and crewl yarn. We are expanding our stock of beads," Geneva said. "We have been told many times that we have the best selection of instruction books and we have some new books with crafts for vacation Bible schools."

"We encourage our customers to start now making their Christmas gifts and beat the rush of the season. Plan now and you can enjoy the holidays," she said. They also have Easter theme items to make or buy.

"We would like to thank all the school children who have purchased materials here that they needed for the science fair projects in the various schools. We appreciate their shopping with us," Geneva said.

If there is a craft you would like to learn, just let them know and they will do their best to get an instructor and schedule classes in addition to the many now being offered.

Paulee Stevens is teaching classes in Cabbage Patch dolls, decorative painting, country art, and tole painting.

Yvonne Alday teaches needlepoint and candlewicking; Marjorie Jernigan, crochet; Geneva Spaulding, metal punch; Geneva Marlow, Bunka embroidery, counted cross-stitch, and decoupage art.

Drop by or call 323-4569 to register or inquire about classes.

A & G Craft Supply has supplies for crafts of all kinds such as yarn, ribbon, DMC thread, beads, assorted kits, oil paints, and silk flowers.

HEARING TESTS SET FOR SANFORD/CASSELBERRY AREA

Electronic hearing tests will be given free at the Orange Hearing Aid Ctrs. 2701 S. Orlando Dr., Sanford (Monday only) and 120 S. Hwy. 17-92 Casselberry Monday-Friday this week. H. Powers and B. Fisher, certified by the National Hearing Aid Society will be at these offices to perform the tests.

Anyone who has trouble hearing or understanding is welcome to have a test using the latest electronic equipment to determine his or her particular loss.

Everyone should have a hearing test at least once a year if there is any trouble at all hearing clearly. Even people now wearing a hearing aid or those who have been told nothing could be done for them can find out about the latest methods of hearing corrections.

The free hearing test will be given Monday thru Friday - this week at the Casselberry office and Monday at the Sanford location. Call the number below and arrange for an appointment, or drop in at your convenience.

2 Get Jail Terms For DUI

Two people have been sentenced to 10 days in the county jail for DUI convictions, had their driver license suspended for five years, and ordered to pay $500 fines each.

David C. Hunt, 33, of Ft. Christmas, arrested Oct. 29 by Oviedo police was sentenced by County Judge Harold F. Johnson to 10 days on weekends in the county jail for his second conviction of having an unlawful blood alcohol level. He also received a $500 fine and a five-year suspension of his driver license. A charge of DUI was not prosecuted and a charge of failure to maintain a single lane dismissed.

Mary William Blair, 36, of 2012 Holly Ave., Sanford, arrested Nov. 27, 1982, by a sheriff's deputy, pleaded no contest to a charge of driving under the influence. Johnson accepted the plea, adjudged the defendant guilty, suspended her driver license for five years and ordered her to pay a fine of $500. The court also ordered Blair to serve 10 days in the Seminole County jail to be served on weekends starting March 2 and consecutive weekends thereafter. The defendant may be placed on the Alternative Work Release Program. Payment of the fine was delayed for 30 days.

The following people have either been found guilty or pleaded guilty to driving under the influence or having an unlawful blood alcohol level. As first time offenders, they have had their driver license suspended for six months, ordered to pay a $250 fine and complete 50 hours of community service. In cases where the sentence is different the actual sentence is included:

—Gary E. Campbell, 31, of 2740 Azalea Drive, Longwood, arrested Dec. 28 by a sheriff's deputy. A DUI charge was not prosecuted and a charge of failure to maintain a single lane dismissed.

—Robert T. Clay, 22, of 920 Carrigan Ave., Winter Park, arrested Oct. 21 by Casselberry police. Three charges against Clay were not prosecuted — unlawful blood alcohol level, willful and wanton reckless driving and leaving the scene of an accident with property damage.

—Michael Terry Clifton, 26, of 310 Beverly Court, Sanford, arrested after Sanford police saw his car sliding sideways on the road. Charges of having an unlawful blood alcohol level and driving with a suspended or revoked driver license were not prosecuted.

—Albert Charles Dickerson, 25, of 656 Lake Villa Drive, Altamonte Springs, arrested Nov. 1 by a sheriff's deputy. A charge of driving under the influence was not prosecuted and a charge of careless driving dismissed.

—Barry L. Lafure, 19, of Ladson, S.C., arrested Nov. 19 by Altamonte Springs police. A charge of having an unlawful blood alcohol level was not prosecuted. Charges of careless driving and having no license plate dismissed.

—Michael T. McLoon, 19, of 318 Majorie Blvd., Longwood, arrested Dec.

31 by a sheriff's deputy. A charge of driving under the influence was not prosecuted. Charges of failure to maintain a single lane and unlawful speed were dismissed.

—Susan C. Morrell, 41, of 177 Strawberry Fields Place, Winter Park, arrested Aug. 28 by Casselberry police. A charge of willful and wanton reckless driving was not prosecuted as was a charge of unlawful blood alcohol level.

—James M. Parent, 35, of 150 Wax Myrtle Wood Court, Deltona, arrested Nov. 21 by the Florida Highway Patrol. A charge of having an unlawful blood alcohol level was not prosecuted and a charge of unlawful speed dismissed.

—Leslie R. Simpkins, 21, of 2201 E. 1st St., Chuluota, arrested Dec. 31 by Oviedo police. A charge of possession of less than 20 grams of marijuana and driving with a suspended or revoked license not prosecuted. A charge of failure to maintain a single lane was dismissed.

—Charles W. Moreland, 25, of 3040 Aloma Ave., Winter Park, arrested Nov. 20 by Casselberry police. A charge of having an unlawful blood alcohol level was not prosecuted. Charges of failure to maintain a single lane and having an expired driver license were dismissed.

—John G. Flores, 25, of 512 Foothill Way, Casselberry, arrested June 7 by Altamonte Springs police, had a charge of DUI amended to willful and wanton reckless driving. For that charge he was fined $150. Flores was also found guilty of his second DUI, received a $500 fine and a six-month loss of his driver license. A charge of having an unlawful blood alcohol level was not prosecuted and charges of driving too fast for conditions and driving with a suspended or revoked driver license dismissed.

The following people have had their DUI or unlawful blood alcohol charge amended to a lesser charge:

—Jeffrey S. Burkard, 23, of 169 Duncan Trail, Longwood, arrested Dec. 31 by the Altamonte Springs police. A charge of DUI was amended to willful and wanton reckless driving. He received a $250 fine and must attend an alcohol abuse program. A charge of unlawful blood alcohol level was not prosecuted and a charge of careless driving dismissed.

—Kenneth E. Barry, 27, of Kissimmee, arrested Sept. 12 by the Florida Highway Patrol. A DUI charge was amended to careless driving and $150 fine levied. For refusing to take a sobriety test his driver license was suspended for six months. A charge of having an unlawful blood alcohol level was not prosecuted.

—Edward F. Casey, 44, of Orlando, arrested Dec. 29 by a sheriff's deputy. A DUI charge was amended to willful and wanton reckless driving and $125 fine levied. A charge of driving with a suspended or revoked driver license was not prosecuted and a charge of failure to maintain a single lane dismissed.

Dramamine Not Only Motion Sickness Drug

DEAR DR. LAMB — I hope you can help. My daughter in her 20s always gets carsick and airplane-sick. She has missed going on many trips because of this.

The last trip was frightening. She had taken a Dramamine before the trip, but for two hours she kept vomiting and couldn't keep her second Dramamine down.

I was terrified watching her. I put ice on her face and neck, but this didn't help. She was pale and exhausted, and for days her stomach, chest and throat hurt.

She has been to two doctors. All they recommended was to take two Dramamines instead of one, every three hours instead of four. Please give us your opinion.

DEAR READER — Antihistamines such as Dramamine work well for most mild cases of motion sickness. But for more severe cases, there are other medications.

Many physicians now think scopolamine is the best drug for motion sickness. It has the disadvantage of causing drowsiness, dryness of the mouth and sometimes blurred vision — but that's a lot better than your daughter's experience.

It can be taken orally or by injection for short durations. For longer requirements an adhesive unit that contains scopolamine, called Transderm-Scop, can be placed behind the ear. It will deliver a fairly constant amount of the medicine.

I think you should ask her doctor to give it a try. Of the antihistamines, promethazine (Phenergan) is probably the most effective in preventing motion sickness, including vomiting.

You'll want to understand the balance system and how it relates to motion sickness, which I've discussed in the Health Letter 9-10. Dizziness and Vertigo. I'm sending it to you.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I'm confused. Many labels contain the words "cholesterol free," yet the ingredients listed include palm oil or coconut oil. I don't understand this false advertising.

DEAR READER — Cholesterol is found only in animal products. Palm and coconut oil don't contain cholesterol; neither does the oil from other vegetable sources. But this doesn't necessarily mean they're good for your health.

Both coconut and palm oil are very high in saturated fat. Saturated fat is not cholesterol, but many authorities believe that saturated fat stimulates your body to produce cholesterol and fatty-cholesterol particles of the size that tend to lodge in arteries, causing heart attacks and strokes.

Most authorities who hold that point of view prefer that the products people use don't include any appreciable amounts of palm oil or coconut oil, but rather vegetable oils made with soybean, corn or safflower.

Don't be misled by the "no cholesterol" label. It's technically correct, but it doesn't mean the oil is good for your arteries, your heart or your brain. It's sort of like many news stories — you have to read beyond the headlines. Read the rest of these ingredients before you make your choice.

HOROSCOPE

What The Day Will Bring...

YOUR BIRTHDAY MARCH 7, 1984

Knowledge you have gained through personal experience will be put to productive uses this coming year. This will put you steps ahead of competitors because you won't repeat their mistakes.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) What you envision you are capable of bringing into being today. Be certain to forecast the outcome of events in a positive fashion. The areas in which you'll be the luckiest are revealed in your Astro-Graph year-ahead predictions for Pisces. To get yours, mail $1 and your zodiac sign to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019. To find out to which signs you are best suited romantically, send an additional $2 for your Astro-Graph Matchmaker wheel and booklet.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Financial conditions look hopeful today pertaining to situations you personally control. This may not be true in matters directed by others.

Taurus (April 20-May 20) Just as there are two sides to every point, there are also two sides to every issue. Strive to be understanding of the other guy's point of view.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Personal ambitions can be advanced today, provided you don't put yourself in competitive situations where the odds are stacked against you.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) A close friend may be a trifle temperamental and difficult to get along with today. Don't allow his or her attitude to spoil your fun.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) You and those with whom you're involved could benefit from a shared commercial venture today, but only if each contributes equally and has common goals.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) You might say something innocently today which another finds offensive. It can be readily smoothed over if you take the time to explain what you mean.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Don't be hesitant to stand up for your rights today if you think you're being treated unfairly. Inequities can be corrected once they're pointed out.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Relationships with older associates could be a bit testy today. However, if you use your smarts you can easily correct whatever transpires.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Arrange your agenda today so as to get your most difficult tasks out of the way early. Once they are behind you, it will brighten your outlook.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Don't prejudice social situations negatively today, even those with persons you dislike. You'll be in for a pleasant surprise if you are tolerant.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Much can be accomplished today but, unfortunately, you may get off to a slow start. Try to be the early bird who gets the first worm.

At table one, South received a club lead and had little trouble collecting 10 tricks. At the other table, West, having decided that East had to hold spades, opened the 10 of that suit. Declarer played low from dummy and East signaled strength with the nine.

This gave South a clear picture of the spade situation. West had clearly opened a doubleton 10, and East held six of that suit. South reasoned further that East held nothing else or he would have overcalled with one spade, had he held either the diamond king or the club ace.

Therefore South ducked the first spade, won the second (he had to) and led a diamond to pick up West's singleton king. He cashed the queen of diamonds to see if West held K-x instead of a singleton king. He took his three high hearts, went back to dummy with the diamond jack, threw West in with a heart, and eventually scored two club tricks to make his contract.

The maxim of today's Kelsey hand is a simple one. It is: "Don't signal when you can only help declarer."

The game was a team-of-four event. Both declarers reached three no-trump on identical bi-
