Wall Street Odds Favor Yanks To Duplicate Their Last Year's Performance

By Davis J. Walsh

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—According to Wall Street odds, established in the great emergency today because the season will open in at least two and a half months, the world's champion New York Yankees ought to finish no better than first in the 1928 American League pennant race. The Yanks are held at odds as short as a breathless punt. Or maybe a pair of them, by W. Lam Darnell and Company, betting commissioners in the so-called street. One dollar, in fact, can get you as many as two provided the Yanks don't win.

The Pittsburgh Pirates, 1927 National League Champions, likewise are esteemed over their field but not prohibitively so. The Pirates are 2 to 1 shot, alike in Wall Street and in the winter books of the Middle West, with the St. Louis Cardinals and the Chicago Cubs a half-price back at odds of 2 to 1-2 to 1.

Meantime, our Mr. McGraw will be getting along nicely without the 125 runs that Rogers Hornsby drove in last year that the Giants are regarded as the best bet. The Street and the odds alike rate the Cincinnati Reds at 4 to 1 in the West. Another reaction to the Hornsby matter is the fact that the Boston Braves, hitherto worth all of twenty cents on the dollar, have been elevated to the status of a near-contender at 12 to 1.

However, there are no 1 to 2 chances in the National League, distinction having been reserved for the American League club that won the pennant in a race full of games in 1927 and suffered nothing, or possibly less, by the off season trades of its immediate rivals.

The Yanks are 7 to 10, a more intelligent price, in the West but neither there nor in Wall Street is there a great rush enough to "buy" any price whatsoever against their finishing second or third.

By contrast, the National League looks the part of a very last finisher to the gambler. In fact, only two entries, the Brooklyn Dodgers and the Phillies, are not priced at least a white man's chance to get up with the pace. The Dodgers are

Gene Tunney Faces Challenges From Would-Be Champs

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—(INS)—Gene Tunney will be confronted with challenges by Jack Sharkey and Jack Delaney in Mar. when the six months allowed the champion to defend his title expires. Following the example of Sharkey in lodging a défi with the New York Boxing Commission, Delaney has filed a challenge against Tunney with the National Boxing Association. The association has jurisdiction over twenty-six states.

Delaney's move is intended to eliminate Sharkey's ambitions for a titular match. The Bridgeport sharpshooter's challenge, however, was made with the condition that he knocks out Tom Tunney in their bout here on Mrs. J. Delaney contends that if he stays Tunney, who holds Sharkey to a draw, he should not be compelled to meet Sharkey before talking on Tunney.

Stribling Knocks Out Burke In First Round

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 21.—(INS)—Young Stribling of Macon slashed his way to a swift knockout here last night over Martin Burke of New Orleans before a crowd of 1,500. Stribling, who held Sharkey to a draw, and promoter Tex Rickard, it lasted 30 seconds.

Stirling shot a short right hook to the jaw that sent Burke to the canvas at the opening gong. Burke arose, but two short right hooks again flattened him and a moment later he went sprawling to the ropes for the count. Stribling was untouched. The clash witnessed the starting employment of the Georgian from the usual scheduled boxer by the boxing, beginning of a new chapter.

PLAYERS SIGNED

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—(INS)—With all the news of jobbing out for a higher salary last night by the summer trade of Rogers Hornsby to Boston, a number of the New York Giants have signed contracts for 1928. The latest to come into the fold are pitcher Larry Weaver and catcher Jack Campbell.

GEORGIA WINS

RALEIGH, N. C., Jan. 24.—(INS)—The Georgia Bulldogs defeated the University of North Carolina in a football game here today. The game was a close one, but Georgia won by a score of 14 to 10.

STUDENT'S PERDUE

CHICAGO, Jan. 21.—(INS)—James J. Laska University student was fined $100 for a traffic violation. The fine was the highest ever levied on a student at the university.

AMERICAN LOANS TO CAUSE SOVIET INDUSTRIAL ERA

Placing Of Forty Million Dollar Loan In United States Is Regarded As Most Important Credit Move Of Russia

CHARKOV, Ukraine, Jan. 24.—Placing the $40,000,000 iron industry loan in the United States is regarded in manufacturing circles here as the most important foreign credit operation of the Soviet government of the year. It will bolster up the weakest link in the whole industrial chain which the Soviets are feverishly attempting to forge.

The production of pig iron is way below pre-war level. Steel mills, developed with the aid of American engineers, are not working to capacity because of the shortage of iron. The Makeyevsk foundry in the Don Basin, for which the credit is intended, is the largest of its kind in the Soviet Union though it produces only 200,000 tons of pig iron a year.

Rebuilt, enlarged and equipped with modern German and American machinery, as is the intention, the smelter will turn out nearly a million tons of iron.

The Makeyevsk foundry is situated near the Krivoy-rog (crooked horn) quartzite deposits which have an iron content of from 30 to 35 per cent and are easily mined. The field has been estimated to contain 100 million tons of iron ore. There is no danger of a raw material shortage in such close proximity to the smelter that the ore can be moved by bucket chains.

The Soviet government agreed to invest $25,000,000 in the foundry as against $40,000,000 of foreign capital. The financing is one of the most involved in the history of Soviet concessions.

Aided by Germans, it is understood that American banks refused to accept only after security for the credits, provided by the New York promoter who negotiated the deal.

SWIMMER FAILS

TANGIER, Jan. 24.—(INS)—Some doubt as to the reasons which forced Miss Mercedes Gleitze to abandon her attempt to swim the Straits of Gibraltar after five hours was expressed by several experts here today. The report that Miss Gleitze had been caught in a whirlpool was looked upon as slightly exaggerated. Several persons declared the swimmer merely bucked a strong tide eddy against which she was unable to make any headway and became exhausted.

PELTZER TO RUN

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—(INS)—If the permit to Dr. Otto Peltzer to compete in the United States is granted by the Foreign Relations Committee of the Amateur Athletic Union, his first race in America will be run in Madison Square Garden on Feb. 2, it was announced today by officials of the Millrose Games provided the A. A. U. committee granted this permit. Dr. Peltzer's opponents have not yet been named.

DEFENDS TITLE

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., Jan. 24.—(INS)—Frank Taborski of Schenectady will defend his title as pocket billiards champion tonight in a match with Arthur Woods, Pawtucket, R. I., the match to be played in three blocks of 150 points each.

FIRPO GAINS WEIGHT

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—(INS)—Promoter Humbert Fugazy, who dispatched an emissary to South America to induce Luis Firpo to return to the ring, reports that the "Wild Bull" is through at weights 200 pounds of money and a lightest eater in according to Firpo.

"I couldn't keep house without a telephone"

"For a time we tried to get along without a telephone. Henry thought we could save a much. . . but never again.

"It was the most ghastly feeling—to be absolutely cut off from everybody—not to hear the voice of one's friends except the few times I could get away from the house. And those times were to town—to do my shopping. . . Oh, now then I'd use the neighbor's telephone, but always annoyed them, and embarrassed me.

"After two harrowing weeks, Henry decided the few cents a day we saved were not worth the worry of knowing baby and I were here without a telephone. And now that we have one, I'm more convinced than ever that I couldn't keep house without it."

Campbell, Gallant British Driver, to Race Last, by Courtesy American Opponents, in Forthcoming Florida Speed Trials

ORMOND-DAYTONA BEACH, Fla.—has built in Philadelphia, the most powerful automobile in the world. It is equipped with three re-arranged piston engines rated at five hundred horse power each when below 1500 revolutions per minute. But these have been "waxed up" so that they have done over three thousand revolutions per minute without load. The engine of Capt. Campbell's car is a secret, and is under government supervision but the authorities have granted permission to enter the race. Owing to the fact that Campbell is defending the title now held by Great Britain, the Daytona Beach Chamber of Commerce Racing Association, in charge of the meet, and Capt. Campbell's American opponents have agreed that he shall race last. This will give him an opportunity to learn how fast the race will be held in a beautiful broad expanse of very fine white sand, 500 feet wide at low tide, and extending from Columbus Inlet to beyond the Ormond Beach Golf Links a distance of 26 miles. The speed contests will be held on a nine mile staked course, south of the Daytona Beach pier. This will give the cars four miles to attain maximum speed, one third for electric timing of height of speed, and four miles to slow down.

Besides the big international speed trials there will be many other events, among them the stock car races in which cars regularly priced at one thousand dollars and under, and from one thousand to two thousand dollars, as well as above two thousand dollars will compete. Many entrants of popular priced cars have been made. The races celebrating the 25th anniversary of automobile racing in America provide the most thrilling exhibition on the fastest straightaway course in the country. The climate of the beautiful city of Daytona Beach is unsurpassed, and thousands will journey there to witness the contests which are expected to have important results in determining the best design and type of engine for automobiles.

For Better Marketing

In an interview published recently in The Herald, Frank Forster, president of the First National Bank, made a suggestion which we think should leave a deep impression in the minds of the farmers of Seminole County. While deploring the present hit-or-miss system of marketing, he expressed it as his opinion that "finer results could be obtained if the farmers would get together and form co-operative marketing associations such as they have in California."

We are not familiar with the intricate inner workings of these California marketing associations, but we understand that, among other things, California farmers have been able to get lower freight rates on the long haul from the Pacific to the centers of population on the Atlantic seaboard than Sanford has for the shorter distance to these same places. This, of course, has nothing to do with marketing, but it shows what can be done through co-operation.

Co-operation might well be called "team-work" for want of a better synonym. In football, for instance, team-work is absolutely essential to the success of the team. The forwards must open holes in the line before the backs can go through, and the backs must take advantage of the holes opened by the forwards if ground is to be gained. And similarly, the ends must take out the interference if the backs are to get the man with the ball.

Complete co-ordination of the team as a whole is required. Each man does his own little job for the sake of the entire machine. Individual glory must be sacrificed for the honor of the whole team. It profits little, when a half-back makes a startling play and gets a big hand, if the team loses the game. Neither would a tackle be inclined to allow an unusually rough opponent to get through so that, instead of himself, a back carrying the ball might be brused.

So it is, we understand, with celery growers. It may apparently profit a certain man to ship his celery green, or a little spongy, but it does not serve the reputation, or prosperity of the entire county. It may seem to benefit one farmer to cut early and sell at a low price when he anticipates a decline, but such action on his part certainly does not tend to stabilize the market.

Only through such team-work as a football team employs can the best results from farming be obtained. A greater spirit of "one for all and all for one" must prevail if Sanford is to maintain its recognized ascendancy as an agricultural community. We are not tactician enough to suggest details for such a co-operative scheme, but we can readily see its need.

Making Rapid Strides

Progress of the South in the matter of education is forcibly demonstrated by figures recently made public by the Manufacturers Record, an ardent champion of Dixie in every phase of its development. The number of public school pupils has increased to such an extent as to give us pardonable pride in our native section, which heretofore has been the target for all kinds of criticism levelled by northern educators who pronounced our backwardness as astounding and constituting one of the grave problems confronting the nation. Saves the record in a recent issue:

"In the decade ending in 1924 the number of public school pupils in the South increased from 7,649,000 to 9,414,000, or 23 per cent, while during this period public-school expenditures in that section increased nearly 250 per cent. In 1924 the South had about one-third of the country's population, yet it had 39 per cent of the aggregate number of pupils in all the public elementary and secondary schools of the country."

"Not only does the South show to better advantage in public school enrollment than the country as a whole, but a larger percentage of its school children are to be found in its secondary schools than in the country as a whole, and what is more striking is the fact that about one-half of the South's high school graduates enter college. Public normal school enrollment in the South made an even better showing, with an enrollment gain since 1911 of 44 per cent, compared with 31.5 per cent for the United States."

"In 1924 the South had over 16 per cent of the country's primary and secondary school enrollment, more than 27 per cent of the country's private school and academy students and more than 43 per cent of the country's private normal school attendance. It had nearly 27 per cent of all the university, college and professional school students in the United States."

The statistics which the Manufacturers Record has been able to gather are essentially significant, and cause the Baltimore publication to declare that it is hard to understand the basis for some criticisms when we learn that nearly half of the high school graduates in the South are entering college, that more illiteracy exists in New York City than in the mountain regions of Dixie and that public education below the Mason and Dixon line is growing more rapidly than in the country as a whole.

Educational growth in the Southland is keeping pace with progress in other fields of endeavor. Manufacturing and industries are on the increase and as a natural consequence the wealth of the section is mounting rapidly. Not only that but the South's development of its natural resources is greater in proportion to any other section, and in every way we are making great strides. It is no small wonder then that educational possibilities should become so well organized.

MICHAEL J. Hinch, 18 years old, was killed by a car carrying 5000 volts and according to doctors, was "dead for half an hour." Quick action by firemen brought the boy back to life.

At first his mind wandered. Then he recognized friends; knew his own name, who he was and what he had been doing in the previous 18 years.

The question arises, does the same thing happen to all of us after we have been dead a long time, perhaps, as one earnest billion-year suggests, as long as a trillion years, waiting for the world to end and Gabriel to summon us?

YOUNG gentlemen of Yale vote overwhelmingly for Secretary Hoover for president in 1928. The young men reflect, without knowing it, opinions of their fathers and other older men.

AMONG Democrats, Governor Smith of New York is the favorite, by a big majority.

Friends of Secretary Hoover should not start their race too early. Many a man has won three-quarters of a race with ease, but not the last quarter.

PITTSBURGH judge decides that Pittsburgh's symphony society may give concerts on Sunday, although the Allegheny County Sabbath association calls the concerts wicked.

What about the birds that sing on Sunday, and could not sing if the Lord did not approve? Are they wicked?

BANKING gentlemen tell the little man not to invest in stocks or even bonds, but put his money in savings banks.

That reminds you of the little boy who didn't want his sister to kill the big blue bottlefly. He wanted to kill it.

If bonds and stocks, industrial and others, could not give the little man a chance?

HOW MANY millions have Frederick H. Eckert, of the Metropolitan Life Company, President Mitchell, of the National City Bank, President Giamini, of the Bank of Italy and the Benedictine Corporation, and dozens of others made for their stockholders by wise and shrewd investments?

Mr. Eckert made millions for his bank buying government bonds before war when little people were undreading them.

Why not a committee of honest financiers to tell the little people what to buy, and why?

THE Emperor of Japan sets an example in economy, carries a $5 watch, cultivates his own rice field. That would surprise his great-grandfather. That Mikado, by lifting a finger could chop off anybody's head, and he did.

JAPANESE discover that western methods bring in western agriculture. Politics in Japan is divided into eight parties now, including four labor parties. That calls for thought.

If we haven't even one labor party and worry about bolshevism!

GREAT Britain is "watching the United States carefully, suspecting an American challenge for world supremacy."

This country doesn't particularly want any world supremacy. Plenty of room, plenty to do on these two American continents. But if anybody must have world supremacy, why not the United States? This is a real empire and will last.

BUSINESS men take one look at the stock market page, see that stocks closed strong on Saturday, opened stronger yesterday, with call money, used for speculation, lending at 3-1/2 per cent. That's all they want to know. Poor bears.

VICIOUS ABUSE NEVER hurts, when it is false. George Washington, a vicious abuser, abused a succession of presidents, but he never hurt his reputation. It is what you do, and what your intentions are that counts, not what others say about you. Let La Follette talk and abuse and let us do our best to build up this North and South American continent, especially our part of it. And let us keep ready, always, in case words should change to action. If we are ready, they will not change to action.

A CITY JUDGED BY ITS NEWSPAPERS
 SARASOTA TIMES

We heard a visitor remark the other day that there does not seem to be anything wrong with Sarasota. (A statement he made after being here two weeks and looking around) but I do find that there is too much talk and not enough action. Among the business men, especially the merchants who seem to think there is no silver lining to the dark cloud that is hanging not only over Sarasota but over the entire nation, insofar as business is concerned.

This visitor mentioned that in his home city the merchants have been as hard hit as in Sarasota, if not harder, but they are holding on with grim determination and facing the depression with a smile, realizing that there will be a better day and when the deficits of the present will be more obliterated by the greater business that is in the offing.

The city's "guest" had particular emphasis upon the value of advertising in the afternoon paper, for he stated a visitor from his or her impression of a city by its newspapers, let a person reach a city and glance over the city's newspapers, particularly the afternoon paper and find the representative merchants without advertising therein, and immediately he further declared, they form the opinion that the city is without progressive merchants, those who believe that advertising is a stimulant of business and who realize that when business is slack then it is necessary to plug away more consistently with advertising in order to attract the trade.

This man is a prominent merchant in his home city. AND HE MADE THE STATEMENT THAT HIS CITY WAS DOING MORE FOR ADVERTISING WITH THE AFTERNOON NEWSPAPER NOW

"Electricity the Barometer of Business" says St. Louis Globe-Democrat

"Electricity is of almost universal use. It enters to some extent into all industries, and to a very great extent in many of them. It is the source of power for all facilities of communication except the mail; and nearly all the transportation utilities except the railroads, while its use in railroad transportation is increasing. It enters into the majority of homes. There are said to be more than 65,000 different uses of electricity. A force so general and so pervasive surely indicates by the measure of its consumption the condition and trend of business."

But just as for the worker, high earning capacity and advanced standards of living depend on individual freedom, so for the power industry freedom of individual initiative and an abundant flow of capital are necessary to meet public demand.

With earnings limited by public regulation to a minimum fair return, it is essential for the protection of the consumer's right to an adequate supply of electricity at fair prices that the principle of individual initiative, the wellspring of American prosperity, be maintained.

Making up a shopping list

The hall needs a new rug. More towels are needed for the bathroom, and the kitchen floor could certainly stand a coat of paint. The children need shoes. The car will soon need tires. Well, we buy a hundred new things every year.

Scattered throughout the United States are manufacturers who make the very things we need. Their products are on sale in certain stores within easy reach. Certain of these products, and certain of these stores are especially fitted to take care of our special need. But which products and which Stores? Which can we afford, and which do we think is best? We must look to advertising for advice.

Advertising is the straight line between supply and demand. It saves time spent in haphazard shopping. It leads you directly to your goal. By reading the advertisements, we can determine in advance where the best values are to be found.

Watch Made Into Clock By Local Man

The above photograph shows a Swiss watch which has been converted into a clock by the skilled hands of O. S. Vaughn of the Sanford Optical Company, 305 east Sixth Street. The unique invention is on display at the Odissee cafe and has attracted considerable attention of passersby.

The invention consists of a watch mounted on a frame and having a pendulum of about an inch and half long. The balance wheel was removed, and a verge arbor inserted in its place, swinging from the verge, which operates back and forth on the verge arbor, is the pendulum. The work, which simple in its conception, required considerable time in making the changes, and the intricate parts were placed only after painstaking care had been used.

Mr. Vaughn has worked at odd times on the invention for the past several months. The watch has in its jewels, several of which had to be placed in it to insure perfect working of the mechanism.

Mr. Vaughn is a graduate of the Virginia Polytechnic Institute of Roanoke, Ill., and also of the College of Optithalmology at Chicago. Making unique devices such as this watch with a pendulum is a hobby of the watchmaker.

Racing And Wagering Has Been Abandoned In Miami After Short-lived Meets

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 25.—(INS)—The long drawn-out controversy over racing and wagering in Miami has subsided, at last, as the racing ghost was finally laid to rest recently.

The last link in the days of "wild plugging" in Miami vanished here when the operators of the greyhound racing tracks closed down their plant and announced that racing was "definitely off." The real reason was that patrons were not interested in the running dogs but in the pari-mutuel betting system which was in vogue last year and which the state ruled illegal.

The closing of the dog track was said to be a victory for what the sporting element terms "ruling minority," which battled tooth and nail the plans of racemen to operate in Miami this winter.

The track opened two weeks ago and its first night drew a crowd of more than 8,000 spectators. The races were run off in the usual manner, but the thrill was lacking. Betting was "out."

Crowds decreased daily until on the ninth night a mere handful of spectators watched the greyhounds sprint madly after the mechanical rabbits. The stands were virtually empty and gate receipts, after counting the passages, could be reckoned in two figures. The club closed down the following day.

A previous attempt to operate greyhound tracks was made this season by a group of promoters who had arrived here a month ago to stage the highly touted "middle western coursing races." Two dogs were used in each race and live Jack rabbits raced to death.

Races the first day brought an enormous crowd—together with a storm of protest when the dogs slaughtered nearly a dozen rabbits. Humane societies howled, stormed, and fumed.

The plan called for the "training" of rabbits as well as dogs to "familiarize them with the avenue of escape." There were two of these, covered over with burlap of which only the rabbits were supposed to know. But the rabbits, in the majority of cases, were more bewildered than the dogs and the confusion brought death.

Spectators saw the parallel of bull fighting and the coursing races quietly closed one day when humane officers took official action.

General opinion of civic leaders of Miami is that the elimination of racing as a winter attraction is the "best thing that could have happened to Miami." They said:

THREE-HOUR DAY FOR BEGGARS

Because of the great number of beggars in Ansonia Park near Tokyo, Japan, they have drawn up an agreement specifying the number of hours they may "plink" each day. No beggar may ply his "trade" more than three hours in 24. The agreement has greatly lessened the confusion caused by the "beggars' army" who, for $35 a month, which are considered high wages in Japan, are usually as the "beggars' army" under the floors of the temple.

ACHED ALL OVER

Was Suffering Dreadfully, Just "Wasting Away," Took Cardui, and Says It Helped Her.

Arlington, Texas.—A resident of this town for many years, Mrs. J. H. Jackson, says:

"I had suffered dreadfully with aching all over my body. At times my head would give me so much trouble I could hardly stand it. I had been in bed for weeks and it looked like I was just wasting away. I took 9 bottles of Cardui and my strength began to slowly return."

"Since that time I have used this medicine a good many times and it has always helped me."

"At one time I took Cardui for several months regularly. I would be afflicted with sudden spells of dizziness when I could not stand on my feet. Everything would turn black before my eyes and I would feel as if I were going to faint. At times I would be quite nervous. I turned at once to Cardui and took 10 1/2 bottles and was safely through."

Cardui is a mild, medicinal tonic, made from purely vegetable ingredients. It has been in use for over 50 years, and in that time thousands of women have written that Cardui helped them back to good health.
