Dearborn To Resume Production

Part Of Old, And New Plant To Be Used

By Julian Stenstrom

Operations in the winding department of Dearborn Electronic Laboratories, Inc., will be resumed within a few days, according to an announcement today by Ben S. Navan, chairman of the board.

Full production of film dielectric capacitors will begin in about a week and resumption of oil filled capacitors a week later, Navan said.

This is possible, Navan explained, because this part of the burned out plant located on Hwy. 17-92, including the machines, is still intact. It is a new addition, completed less than a year ago. The company also has acquired use of another plant in the area.

The Dearborn plant was destroyed by fire about 10 days ago and until Navan's announcement there had been considerable speculation as to whether the firm would resume operations in this area due to the specific type of building and equipment required.

"We are happy to announce," Navan said, "that the winding machines, themselves, are intact and that we will be able to resume full production of film dielectric capacitors in about one week and oil filled capacitors about one week later."

The office at the firm's burned-out plant is usable with some alterations. The air conditioning and humidity control in the area of the office and the winding department was handled by separate equipment which was not damaged," Navan said. He added, "Absolute air filtration will be used in the winding area. This, he went on to say, "can quickly and easily be installed and is considered even more effective than the electronic air filtration used in the old plant."

Navan said that impregnating operations also will continue at the present location. "This, of course," he continued, "requires no special environmental conditions."

Assembly operations and the engineering laboratory work will be carried on in a plant just completed at 1041 Seminola Boulevard in Casselberry. The building was constructed for Fab-Tool, Inc., Denver, Colo. "This company," said Navan, "has generously made this building available to Dearborn and will proceed immediately with the construction of a duplicate facility for its own use."

Navan pointed out that the building meets all requirements and specifications for defense and space work. "The lighting, power supply, power outlets and air conditioning in the new building," he said, "are so adaptable that we will be able to do, other than install the absolute air filtration, is to move in work tables, benches, shelving and test equipment."

It was reported the company has been loaned more test equipment than it really needs. "But to get operations under way," Navan said, "we must get the equipment calibrated and start producing."

As soon as production has been resumed, architects and engineers will begin drafting plans and specifications for a new building adjoining the winding department at the firm's old plant.

"The proposed new structure," said Navan, "will give Dearborn an even better facility than the one recently destroyed, and our old building was considered one of the best in the entire industry. Details will be announced when final plans have been completed."

NEW OFFICERS of the Sanford Corps advisory board, Salvation Army, were installed at a dinner-meeting Tuesday evening at First Presbyterian Church. Installation was conducted by Maj. Rodolph Lanier, Jacksonville, divisional secretary. From the left: Ed Kirchhoff, vice chairman; Major Lanier; Ralph Smith, chairman, and State Rep. S. J. Davis Jr., treasurer.

Killer Suspect Hunted In Brutal Beating

An all-points bulletin was issued today by the State of Tennessee for the arrest of Fred W. Burdette, 37, already charged under grand jury indictment with second degree murder in Semholie County.

Sheriff J. L. Hobby said Burdette's department of Semholie County, at Gallatin, Tenn., informed The Sanford Herald at noon today that it has issued the all-points bulletin for Burdette's arrest after he allegedly beat his father, Fred Burdette Sr., at Hendersonville, Tenn., Tuesday.

The Sheriff's office said that Burdette Senior is confined to Mid-State Baptist Hospital, Nashville, and is expected to survive.

Sheriff J. L. Hobby said he had been requested to take Burdette Junior into custody should he return to Semholie County.

The Sheriff's office also reported that Burdette was arrested there six months ago on a charge of assault with intent to murder after he beat his father with a stove poker. No disposition was ever made of that case. The Herald was informed.

Burdette was arrested here last September and charged with first degree murder in the shooting of his uncle, Charles R. Strickland, 35, at Burdette's home on Little Lake Howell in the Oviedo area.

He later was indicted for second degree murder and released under $10,000 bond by order of Circuit Judge V. L. Williams. County Judge Vernon Mize concurred in Burdette's release after a psychiatric examination.

And speaking of the tax assessor's office, Mrs. Walker says she'll be announcing her candidacy for re-election in the near future. She said she's been too busy to get around to making her formal announcement. But she made it plain that there's no doubt but that she will run for the office she now holds.

The walls of the first buildings being constructed at the new Sanford Shopping Center on South US 17-92 are going up and foundation forms are being poured for others.

The C.T.P. at South Seminole Elementary has purchased a host of new plants for a beautification program at the school the organization is now undertaking. The school, a most attractive layout, needs this beautification program.

And speaking of schools, pressure lines for the sewerage system at the new English Estates school have been completed and gravity lines are being installed this week. When this is completed the lines will be connected to the Northeast Sewer Company lines and tested. If tests are successful it shouldn't be too long before the new plant will be ready for occupancy.

Spillane Gets His Own Case
SARASOTA (UPI)—Author Mickey Spillane may be able to put some of the skills of his story book hero Mike Hammer to use here today.

The famous detective story writer is missing his 1963 station wagon and his wife of four months is missing her engagement ring and wedding band.

Spillane told police he and his wife visited friends on Siesta Key Tuesday and his wife put her rings in the station wagon glove compartment, while they shopped oysters. When they returned to the motel, she left the rings in the glove compartment.

Later, Spillane found the vehicle had been stolen from the motel parking lot.

The Spillanes are here on a delayed honeymoon from their South Carolina home at Myrtle Inlet. Their honeymoon was delayed while he completed a new novel and a movie.

The stolen station wagon has 1964 South Carolina license plates, DL-4488.

OAS Considers Special Panel On Panama

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The council of the Organization of American States (OAS) takes up a Mexican proposal today for creation of a special committee to investigate the smoldering canal dispute between the United States and Panama. The council meets at 4 p.m. EST.

The council voted Tuesday, over Chile's objections, to invoke the provisions of the Rio de Janeiro Treaty of 1947 to take the first step toward investigating Panama's "aggression" charges against the United States in connection with the bloody rioting of Jan. 9-10.

The Mexican resolution urges both countries not to take any step that would endanger peace and provides that the fact-finding committee also help both nations to find a peaceful solution to their dispute.

Previous OAS mediation efforts, notably those of the five-nation Inter-American Peace Commission, have failed to get both sides to start negotiations over Canal Zone differences.

One ray of hope came in a statement Tuesday by Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., who said that informed U. S. officials told him an agreement would soon be reached with Panama to permit negotiations.

The Communist left six dead and government losses included 20 wounded. Military sources said there was evidence the Viet Cong toll was higher. At one point, the defenders of the headquarters, in the village of Hau My, fired point-blank at the guerrillas with a 105 mm howitzer but were not able to stop their attack.

W. E. KNOWLES (right) is congratulated by Mayor A. L. Wilson on his 10th anniversary as city manager of Sanford. (Herald Photo)

Knowles With City 10 Years

City of Sanford's growth and progress during the last 10 years is actually a report of the tenure of office of its city manager, W. E. (Pete) Knowles. It's impressive.

Knowles joined the city staff as city engineer on April 23, 1953, and the next Feb. 1 was named city manager.

Knowles' accomplishments as city manager were recognized by the Junior Chamber of Commerce in 1957 when he was presented with that group's Distinguished Service Award and again in 1962 when he was presented with its Good Government Award. Following is a partial list of programs and projects undertaken by the City during Knowles' tenure, although he says "this has been done by the City Commission and the city's governmental organization as a co-operative effort by all and not by a single individual."

Administrative - Reorganization of public works department and recreation and parks department, 1953; Florida Power and Light franchise negotiations, 1956; Sanford Gas Company franchise negotiations; position classification plan and job description; classified salary schedule under the merit system; employee group insurance plans, 1953-54; employee retirement system 1961; annexation programs, 1959-61; subdivision ordinance development providing for cost of utilities; comprehensive city plan by George Simons; off-street parking ordinance, 1955; lowering of fire insurance classification, 1958; radio systems installed in the public works and utilities departments; acquisition of the old post-office building for a public library.

Public works - Start of sanitary landfill, 1953; street resurfacing, 1955 to date; street lighting, 1955, $40,319; street name sign program, 1957 to date; street construction and construction of off-street parking lots.

Further developments include a full-time recreation program and director, the boat basin, Goldsboro recreation area and swimming pool, the Civic Center, filtering system at the Fort Mellon swimming pool, remodeling of the zoo and improvements, construction of Fire Station No. 2, new fire fighting equipment, and remodeling of the police station and court room.

Knowles, who was honored by City Hall employees at a dinner at the Capri Saturday night, when he was presented with a "L'I General" doll cracking a whip, is a native of Gloucester, Mass., is married and has a daughter, Tracy-Lee.

He is a graduate of the University of Maine, with a BS degree in public administration and civil engineering. He also did graduate work for a master's degree at Maine. He is a World War II veteran.

200 Physicians To Meet Here For Lectures
Some 200 Central Florida physicians will convene at Sanford's Civic Center Friday night to hear lectures by three outstanding Southern physicians who will appear under the auspices of the Seminole County Medical Society.

Dr. Bruce Logue, professor of medicine at Atlanta's Emory University, Dr. Peter C. Gazes, professor of medicine at Charleston's Medical College of South Carolina, and Dr. R. Waldo Moore, a cardiologist at Emory University, will arrive in Sanford today.

At Saturday night's meeting, Dr. Logue will discuss "Clinical Spectrum of Pericarditis." Dr. Gazes will talk on "Recent Advances in Coronary Diseases," and Dr. Waldo will speak on "Management of Myocardial Infarction."

Witness Tells Of 'Hoffa Offer'
CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (UPI)—A Teamsters official testified today that James R. Hoffa offered to pay $15,000 to $20,000 to "get to the jury" in his 1962 conspiracy case.

The testimony by Edward Partin, officer of a Baton Rouge, La., Teamster local, was the first to directly link the Teamsters president to charges of attempting to bribe and influence jurors.

Partin said the offer was made in a Nashville hotel room in the fall of 1962 while Hoffa was on trial on charges of sharing an illegal $1 million kickback.

Partin, testifying calmly with his hands folded in his lap, said Hoffa told him "he would pay $15,000 to $20,000 to get to the jury."

Judge Frank Wilson earlier overruled defense objections to Partin's testimony. The defense charged he had served as a spy for the government.

Mathews Warns On Gambling
MIAMI (UPI)—Governatorial candidate John Mathews warned Tuesday an extension of legalized gambling in Florida would ruin efforts to bring in new industry.

Mathews said surveys have shown that industries want to settle in areas where there are no "readily available" betting distractions to tempt salaried employees.

"Jal alai and the tracks are different," he said, "but if a working man can plunk down money anywhere for a lottery ticket, he won't have money for the family—and industries don't want that."

2 Seized Cubans Given Asylum

KEY WEST (UPI)—Two of the 38 Cuban fishermen captured in U. S. water Sunday have asked for and received political asylum, immigration officials announced today.

The other 36 were still being held, although there was growing speculation that federal officials wanted to free them.

The State of Florida, however, has said it would prosecute the poachers under a 1963 law prohibiting Communist foreigners from fishing in territorial waters.

Immigration officials would not identify the two defectors. They said only that "two of the 38 Cuban crewmen" have been granted asylum. Proceedings of the two began today.

Federal officials apparently felt it would be in the best interests of the United States to release the poachers, who were caught near Dry Tortugas Sunday and brought here aboard their four boats.

They apparently felt if the Cubans were released, the Fidel Castro regime may do the same if American fishermen or boats stray into Cuban waters at some future date.

The federal government apparently has no law prohibiting the Cubans' action, but the State of Florida has. It was passed by the last Legislature.

Last A3B Pilots Are Graduated

Heavy Attack Squadron 3 officially has graduated the last class of A3B replacement pilots and bombardier-navigators. This brought to a close a phase of the squadron's operation dating back to June 1956 when the unit was commissioned as the training squadron of Heavy Attack Wing 1.

The end of A3B training in VAH-3 is the end of an era which has been marked by the training and graduation of 323 pilots, 379 bombardiers, and 304 third crewman for the Heavy Attack Wing 1. Three's motto "Professionalism is Our Business" has been the trademark of these outstanding professional aviators who have been trained to carry out the Navy's only All-Weather Attack program.

Capt. James Mayo, commander, Heavy Attack Wing 1, officiated at the graduation ceremony and presented each graduate with a diploma. Captain Mayo made appropriate remarks about the completion of A3 training and congratulated the graduates on their outstanding performance during the training period.

Phasing out the A3 training mission of VAH-3 coincides with expanded AS Vigilante training and the addition of many new and complex requirements in support of the B4C reconnaissance system.

This is indeed the end of one era, but it is the beginning of a new and more challenging one for Sanford's Heavy Attack Squadron 3. The squadron trains all pilots, bombardier-navigators and maintenance personnel for the Sanford Fleet units and is commanded by Cdr. George W. Kimmons, a long time veteran of heavy attack aviation.

Lester B. Pearson, Canadian prime minister, once served as ambassador to the United States.

Castro Boasts He Has Beaten U. S. Economic Blockade

HAVANA (UPI) — Premier Fidel Castro, whose assassination was rumored last week, appeared in public for the first time in nine days Sunday to inaugurate the national amateur baseball championships.

Befitting his position, Castro chose to be the lead-off batter. With the count three strikes and one ball, he connected with a short fly ball which fell safely for a Texas leaguer—with suspected help from the center fielder who let the ball drop in front of him.

The assassination rumor, which pops up periodically, was believed traceable to Cuban exiles in Miami. It circulated around the world, although no concrete evidence was discernible in the state-controlled Cuban press and radio broadcasts.

In Sunday's ceremonies, Castro was presented the ball with which Cuba made the final put-out to defeat a United States team in the 1963 Pan American games in Sao Paulo, Brazil.

"I predicted two years ago that we would beat the United States in amateur baseball, and we did," Castro, a former Havana University relief pitcher, said.

"Now I say we have beaten them in the economic blockade," he added. He was referring to the economic and trade boycott which the U.S. government has tried to impose against Cuba.

State Warns On Danger Of Rabies

JACKSONVILLE (UPI) — The State Board of Health today urged Floridians to take immediate steps to protect domestic animals from rabies.

Dr. James B. Nichols, director of the division of veterinary public health, said rabies is common among Florida wildlife—especially raccoon—and could easily spread to domestic animals.

He said pets that live near wooded areas are in particular danger of contracting the disease because they frequently fight with wild animals that are infected.

Miami Boy With Transplant Dies

MIAMI (UPI) — Uly Doe, a 14-year-old Miami boy whose kidneys were replaced with those of a baboon in a life-and-death operation last Sunday, died of a heart arrest Tuesday at Children's Variety Hospital.

Doctors would not comment on the cause of the heart failure, but said the six-hour kidney transplant had been considered tentatively successful.

"However, the eventual outcome of the transplantation could not have been determined for several weeks or longer if the child had lived," a hospital spokesman said.

If You Are 65 It May Pay You To Read This

The District Manager of the Orlando Social Security Office, Col. Byron R. Patton, advised today that he has special word for those persons who are age 65 or older and haven't yet applied for social security benefits.

Col. Patton stated that the word, of course, is "money" and that is what those persons 65 or older may be losing each month they delay in applying for benefits. What many persons are thinking right now is, "But I'm still working. You can't get social security benefits while you're still working, can you?"

Col. Patton's answer is, "Well, maybe you can." As most persons already know that if they earn $1200 or less in a year they can still receive their social security benefits. Also, most persons know that after they are 72 years old, they may receive benefits regardless of their earnings; but how about those persons who are earning over $1200 a year and are not yet 72 years old?

How are their benefits affected? Col. Patton explained that if you earn between $1,200 and $1,700, social security will withhold one dollar of your benefits or your family's benefits for every two dollars you earn over $1700. This means that a person earning $2000 a year would receive all but $500 of his benefits.

With today's higher benefits, it is possible for a person to work and earn between two and three thousand dollars each year and still receive some benefits, Colonel Patton stated.

Also, he stated that a married man with minor children can earn over four thousand dollars a year and still receive some benefits. There's another important point which you should remember. Regardless of your total yearly earnings, you can still receive benefits for any month in which you do not earn over $100 as an employee. Also, you may get benefits for any month that you do not render substantial services in your business if you are self-employed.

Col. Patton illustrated with the following example: Paul Jackson owns and runs a grocery store. He usually clears over $7000 a year. Every winter when it starts getting cold, Paul turns the store over to his son and comes to Florida for a few months. Since he is not rendering substantial services in his business for these months, Paul receives social security checks until he takes over the store again.

Now, how about those persons who are employees and work for wages? Col. Patton gave the following example: Dave Richards earned over $5000 in wages last year as a mechanic. Dave fell and broke his leg last summer, and was out of work just about two months. Since he did not earn over $100 during either of these months, he received two social security checks.

Col. Patton stated that both Dave and Paul had done one simple but very important thing in order to get their benefits. They had talked to their social security representative and filed an application when they turned 65 years old. Therefore, if you are 65 and haven't already filed an application, you too, should talk to your social security representative.

As Col. Patton stated, it does not cost a thing to check on your eligibility to social security benefits. You can write or visit your social security office at 2520 North Orange, Orlando, or call 425-2581.

Remember, what you don't know about social security can hurt you.

Col. Patton stated that both

American Families Are Leaving Cyprus

NICOSIA, Cyprus (UPI) — The United States began removing American women and children from Cyprus today because of civil strife and growing anti-American feeling that brought bomb attacks on the U. S. Embassy.

A chartered airplane left Nicosia for Beirut, Lebanon, this morning with 35 Americans, including 10 children, aboard.

At least five more chartered planes stood by to carry others of the 800 American dependents off the embattled Mediterranean island.

The airlift was authorized Tuesday night by U. S. Ambassador Fraser Wilkins after two bombings at the U. S. Embassy here capped more than a month of inter-communal conflict and mounting anti-American feeling.

Two private cars owned by Americans were set on fire Tuesday night in different parts of the capital. The incidents apparently were in protest against an Anglo-American proposal to station a NATO peace force in Cyprus.

Diplomats in London began negotiations on the Cyprus government's demand that any NATO force sent to Cyprus be under the authority of the United Nations. The force would keep peace between the warring Greek Cypriot and Turkish Cypriot communities pending political accord.

TOKYO (UPI) — Red China's vice premier, Li Hsien-nien, said today America plans to conduct 7th Fleet maneuvers in the Indian Ocean "pose a new threat to the peace and security of the world."

He said the ship movements would constitute "armed threats and war provocation," and Communist China opposes them. His remarks at a Ceylonese Embassy reception in Peking were broadcast by the New China News Agency.

Sinclairs Gain In Standings

The Kondracki and Cline's Sinclair team stole the spotlight last week in the Businessmen's League at Jet Lanes. They took three points from Faron Builders and moved a notch higher up to third place in the league. They also had the high game and series camp in the personage of Dick Morrison who churned a fine 215/549 set. He was ably backed up by Curtis Abney who contributed 188/529 to the cause. Mike Accardi kept the Faron Builders close with a nice 197/545.

Team No. 3 managed to stay in front of the other teams in the league by winning three points from Cavanaugh Tire Service. Ray Robinson and Dick Zuckerman chimed in with identical 191 scores to pace Team No. 3 while George Mason was the high bowler for Cavanaugh with 204/528.

Smith's Anoco Service kept up their winning ways by taking the measure from Team No. 4 in a three and one decision. Marshall Wiltshire showed the way for Smith's with 183/504 and Wes Henley was top man for Team No. 4 with 183/493.

In the final match of the night a two and two verdict was reached between Dick's Appliances and Team No. 5. It was Dick Schaffer taking the bows for the Appliancesmen via a 200/527. Jimmy Viles burnt them in for Team No. 5 finishing up with a good 200/533 to round out the night's rolling.

GOP Senators Push For Tax Cut Increase

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Republican forces in the Senate rallied today in an attempt to increase the $11.6 billion tax cut bill through reduction of a host of federal excise taxes.

The battle over the excise taxes on products ranging from women's handbags to men's after-shave lotion developed as the Senate continued its drive to complete work some time this week on the top priority tax measure.

With many of the toughest issues already disposed of in the first two days of voting, there were predictions that Senate approval of the biggest tax cut in the nation's history might come Thursday.

Sen. Thurston B. Morton, R-Ky., announced he would offer an amendment on behalf of Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, Ill., who is hospitalized, to repeal 10 per cent federal excise taxes on luggage, furs, jewelry and cosmetics.

The amendment, bitterly opposed by the administration, would knock out more than $450 million in revenues which President Johnson is counting on to help balance his "economy" budget for the next fiscal year.

Location Sought For College

JACKSONVILLE — The Education Commission of the Florida Baptist Convention has announced that it is ready to receive offers of sites for a Baptist junior college to be located in the state, in accordance with action of the convention during November, 1963, regarding the establishment of such an institution.

The commission stated that offers should include an adequate campus site of no less than 100 acres, have a clear title and be an outright gift. The site must be accessible to the population of the general area and in a suitable environment, have adequate utilities and drainage, and the topography must lend itself to campus development.

Communities which are interested have been asked to submit offers no later than Apr. 1, to commission chairman, Charles H. Walker.

'Bluejacket Of Month' Named

Presentation of an award as "Bluejacket of the Month" for December was made to Patrick J. Murphy, aviation machinist's mate (jet), second class, in recent personnel inspection ceremonies at Sanford Naval Air Station.

The award includes an engraved cigarette square on lighter, a 72-hour liberty, a letter of commendation and his name engraved on a permanent squadron plaque.

Murphy is assigned to Heavy Attack Squadron 7, stationed at SNAS when not deployed with the Atlantic Fleet.

The sailor is married to the former Deanne Farina, of Longwood, where they now reside. He is a qualified plane captain on the A-5A "Vigilante," the Navy's long-range, supersonic attack aircraft.

AN 87-YEAR-OLD woman, Mrs. Emma B. Erickson, came out of this wreck unhurt, but her daughter suffered face cuts. The car, driven by Mrs. Alice Erickson Yates of 2412 Oak Ave., Sanford, was hit from the rear, according to constable Bob Carroll, by a car driven by Willis Frank Jordan, 27, of Apopka. The Yates car skidded into a deep culvert and was partly telescoped. Jordan suffered face cuts. (Herald Photo)

Florida: Say It With Music In Your Voice And Rejoice

By Henry McEmore
Many strange things flow across my desk, so I was only reasonably surprised by a letter from a woman in Tampa asking my immediate and wholehearted support of a campaign to which she apparently has pledged her life, liberty and pursuit of happiness.

Here's her letter in condensed form:

"My very dear sir: Fla. for Florida must be wiped out. It is a disgrace for anyone to use that ridiculous abbreviation for the magnificent Sunshine State. Say Florida to yourself, and then say Fla. One is a lovely word, with a ripple like that of a mockingbird's trill. The other is hideous, not only in sound but appearance as well.

"I beg of you never to use Fla. for Florida again, and to use your influence to help put an end to it. Incidentally, if I lived in Connecticut or Washington or Alabama or Illinois, I would feel the same way about Conn., Wash., Ala., and Ill. Do not fail me! I am counting on you!"

Well, Mrs. Fellpopper (for that is the lady's name), you may count on me. Your hopes are not misplaced. That influence of mine of which you wrote will be directed toward the speedy elimination of Fla. from the face of the earth.

But for a different reason than yours. Fla. does not offend either my ears or my eyes as it does yours. On the contrary, Fla. falls lightly on my ears, sounding for all the world like a gentle gale clearing its silky throat. Yet I would like to get rid of Fla., and all other abbreviations, and here's the reason why:

There are days in the life of every columnist—and they come all too often—when words are hard to come by, and the blank sheet of paper

Frank French To Be Honored At Mansion House Reception

By Mrs. Adam Muller
 A reception will be held Sunday from 2:30 until 5:30 p.m. at the DeBary Mansion House in honor of Frank French of Winter Park who will exhibit a collection of his father's paintings at the Mansion during the month of February under auspices of the Orlando Art Association.

MIDSHIPMAN Bobby Elton Bennett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elton Bennett, of Casselberry, will be graduated in June from the U. S. Naval Academy in Annapolis. He visited his parents during Christmas vacation.

Mr. French is well known in Central Florida as an artist and engraver. He is celebrating his 88th birthday today. The public is invited to meet Mr. French and to view the paintings of his father whose art career of 65 years ended in 1933 at the age of 83 in his native state of New Hampshire. The unique exhibit includes examples of all periods in wood engraving, of his painting and illustrating careers and his first drawing and woodblock.

Several original engraved blocks and tools are shown and one will have full opportunity to enjoy beauty in oils, portrait and landscape work, water colors and nature drawings along with many of the artist's proofs and reproductions from his original paintings and calendar subjects. During his long career, he spent four winters in Florida. He exhibited at the World's Fair in Buffalo, St. Louis, Chicago, Paris, Vienna and Berlin, winning medals for excellence at each. He was appointed by the U. S. Government as a member of the Jury for American Art Abroad.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Lenna W. Couch; four daughters, Mrs. Lois Scott, Clewiston; Mrs. W. R. Funderberg, Tiffin, Ohio; Mrs. Dorothy Cooldge, Grand Rapids, Mich.; and Mrs. Geraldine Hodges, Orlando; nine grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Sarnoff To Be Rollins Speaker

WINTER PARK—Brig. Gen. David Sarnoff, chairman of the board of Radio Corporation of America and director of the National Broadcasting Company, will be a leading contributor to the 87th annual Rollins College Animated Magazine Feb. 24, Rollins President Hugh F. McKean announced today.

The Animated Magazine, so-called because the "authors" read or present their "articles" in person, will climax the 1964 Rollins Founders Week, scheduled Feb. 17-24. Theme of this year's edition, to be "published" in Knowles Memorial Chapel at 2:30 p. m., will be The System of Free Enterprise and the American Tradition.

Sarnoff was asked to speak because he represents one of the leading voices in behalf of American free competition. "Socialism is sloggish on," McKean declared, "in education as in other areas of living. It is particularly appropriate, therefore, that private educational institutions lead the way in re-focusing emphasis on our democratic freedoms of thought and personal action."

Garden Gate

Now is the time to make plans for and take some action toward producing a lovely garden. In preparing your seed boxes, use 1/2 sifted loam, 1/4 sharp sand and 1/4 peat, mix and water well, then plant the seed, not too deeply. Perforated tins set on gravel in another container are ideal for seed planting, and this method will aid in moisture control. When planting Gerber seed, let the fuzzy top stick up out of the soil. Gerbers bloom all year, are cold resistant, and like lots of water and fertilizer. Do try some of the new seeds as well as the old favorites.

If your lawn is in need of repair, dig up brown patches, add top soil, peat and fertilizer, water well and then sprig or sod. Fertilize camellias and azaleas and all other shrubs, trees and palms. Fertilize your rye grass and mow frequently so that it will carry well into late spring. Prune all broad-leaved evergreen shrubs for size and shape. Spray every third day for control of azalea petal-blight. Spray camellias for spider-mites, and syringe other shrubs occasionally to discourage mites and thrips.

When poinsettias have shed their bracts, cut the stems back to 12-inch stubs and utilize the canes for hardwood cuttings. This is a good time to take cuttings of all but the most tender garden shrubs if bottom heat can be provided on cold nights or the cutting box moved indoors.

Camellias can be moved now through the first of March. Azaleas can be moved at any time whether blooming or not. Root pruning is always recommended before moving large field grown shrubs. Vigorous succulent growths on azaleas should be pinched to encourage good branching.

While many are inclined to overwater, few use too much fertilizer over the period of a year; so if the soil is light and sandy, be sure to apply sufficient fertilizer for the needs of your plants. Remember that frequent small applications are always preferred to infrequent ones.

Let's all have a lovely, colorful garden this year.

Consumers Shift Use Of Dairy Products

Counting those calories? Try skim milk says Myrtle Wilson, Home Demonstration Agent. Skim milk has the food value of whole milk except in butterfat, the vitamin A carried in the fat, and the fat's food energy or calories. These values are lower in skim milk.

However, much fluid skim milk sold today has vitamin A added, thus returning the vitamin A removed with the fat. Skim milk is interchangeable with whole milk in beverages, cooking and baking. It is especially suited to persons on low calorie diets.

The USDA Economic Research Service has found that the use of dairy products has changed since 1947-49. Dairy products which have decreased in use include evaporated milk, butter, cream and fluid whole milk. Nonfat dry milk and cottage cheese have increased almost 100 per cent during this time. Other products which have shown increases include American cheese, other types of cheese, condensed milk, and frozen deserts.

Nonfat dry milk solids have the same nutritive value as skim milk except for a partial loss of thiamine and ascorbic acid. These milk solids keep well, are convenient in cooking and can be added to other foods to increase their protein content. Research is continuing on the development of an equally stable dried whole milk product.

NEEDLE WORK

Make a purse-size clothes-brush out of nylon net. Take six layers of net about 4 inches square, fold in half again until it measures 2 inches wide and 1 inch long. Stitch one end using a satin stitch. Cut the bottom part so that all layers have raw edges. This little brush picks up all lint from suits and sweaters.

Library Program Helpful To You And Your Child

UPI Education Specialist
The library is one of the most important facilities in the school building. It is a valuable aid to all areas of the educational program.

The school librarian is as important as the library itself. Her close cooperation with the classroom teacher is often a key to solving many learning problems. Reading, research, and study methods are closely related to library skills. These are essential to success in school.

Parents can be particularly helpful by encouraging library usage. Visit the local public library. Help the child become familiar with the layout. Show him where he can find books related to his needs and particular interests. There may be a fiction section suited to his age. The librarian will be glad to assist.

Try to make arrangements so that your child can get to the library regularly. Give him every opportunity to use it in connection with his homework. Your attitude is very important. Don't attempt to pressure the child into using the library. Show interest in his work. Suggest how he can obtain more and better information. His success will do the rest.

A library program is profitable to all students from the brightest to the slowest. It is the most valuable supplementary service in the school.

Lions Pile Up 96 Points To Montverde's 73

Those high scoring Oviedo Lions did it again Tuesday night. They piled up 96 points at Montverde to clip the wings of the Eagles who themselves came up with 73 points. And when a club can muster 73 points and still lose they know they were up against a point-making machine.

Oviedo, paced by Jim Courter's 22 points, wasted no time in letting Montverde fans know the "high scoring" tag pinned on the Lions was not just double talk. The Lions poured 29 points through the net while the Eagles got 15. Oviedo didn't let up at all and dumped in 28 more in the second period while the Eagles fought right back and posted 20 themselves.

Going into the third period leading 57 to 35, Coach Paul Miller's reserves went into action and they grabbed 22 points in the frame while Montverde picked up 18 more. The Eagles pumped in 20 more in the final quarter but Oviedo grabbed 17 to maintain their lead.

The Lions sank almost half of their shots and did a pretty good job controlling the backboards. Nevertheless, the Eagles' Bill Glarich was high point man for the night with 27 points. Danny Thompson, also of the Eagles, had 22 for the evening. Rex Brooks with 18, Ted Bellhorn with 17, Dick Stewart and Skip Rook with 11 and Tim Colbert with 10 boosted the Lion's scoring.

The Baby Lions won the preliminary event of the Little Eagles in a junior varsity contest.

Jets Lanes Take 3 From Elk Gas

With the help of Paul Sloposky and Rich Murphy, the Jet Lanes team took three points from Michael's Elk Gas to remain in second place just four games out of first. Sloposky rolled games of 193, 238 and 186 for a 610 series while teammate Murphy had games of 193, 182 and 233 for a 610 total. By the way, since Paul Sloposky started bowling with Jet Lanes he has not rolled under a 300 series and is averaging a cool 204.

The Lake Monroe team held onto the top spot in the City League last Wednesday with a clean four point sweep over the Knights of Columbus. (Big) John Uhr was high for Monroe with a 214/550 series. In other league matches the Pryor's State Farm Insurance team salvaged three points from the Wisdom Sod Service men. Bob May was high for Pryor's with a 210/547. Sanford Manufacturing Co. whipped the American Legion Post 53 team three points also with John Bridges leading the Manufacturing team with a 204/537. Harold Herbst had a 216/535 for Legionnaires.

Sweeney's Bar and Grill salvaged three points from Harry's Bar and Package also with just one pin being the difference in the second game. Sweeney's had only 14 pins for the total over Harry's to get the point for total pins. Eddie Monroe was high for Sweeney's with a 213/529, while Harold (Doc) Ring was high for Harry's with a 558 series.

Bowes Hits 36 For Seminoles

Although Mike Bowes, Seminole High's scoring ace, dumped in 36 points Tuesday night, the Tribe still lost a Metro Conference contest to the Colonial High Grenadiers.

Turkey Trotter Team In Lead

The Turkey Trotters are ahead in the Pinecrest Inn League with 55 wins and 21 losses. Second are the Hot Plates with 52 wins and 24 losses while the Platters and the Meatballs are tied for third with 41 wins and 35 losses.

Dot Johnson had the high series for the day with 493 and Beverly Adams had second with a 475. Gladys Edwards had the high game of 189 and Mary Faust had the second with 182.

Other high games rolled were 177 by Beverly Adams, and Elaine Kostival, 176 by Kitty Furdy, 174 by Dot Johnson, 171 by Barbara Rohrer and Dot Kirkly and a 170 by Mary Holly.

The 5-6-10 split fell for Elaine Miller, the 2-7 for Gladys Edwards, Cyd Bass and June Gasman, the 5-7 for Betty Hendry and the 8-10 for Jo Brown and Nancy Conway.

of Orlando by a 67 to 56 score. Bowes' 36 points was only one-point less than the scoring record of 37 established last season by Mike Woodruff. The only problem the Seminoles ran into was the fact that another one of the Metro's top shooting artists, Kenny Hill, paced the Grenadiers with 25 points and with the help of 15 points by Gill and 10 by Holzknecht the Grenadiers were able to post the win.

Mike McClary came up with 10 markers to aid the Tribe's cause but none of the other Seminoles could muster more than three points.

Seminole led the Grenadiers 14 to 11 at the first quarter post but Colonial in the second period opened up its attack and dumped in 22 points while Seminole rallied for 13 and the Orlando five led 33 to 27 at halftime. Colonial pumped in 13 more in the third stanza while Seminole polled an even dozen. In the final frame Seminole picked up 17 points but the Grenadiers sank 21 to walk off the victors.

In overall play the Seminoles are now four and 12 for the season, in the Metro they are three and seven. Seminole took the preliminary jayvee affair, 54 to 51.

Thinking Out Loud

BY JULIAN STENSTROM

Dupree and Shannon Near Record GAINESVILLE — Final 1963 football statistics reveal that outstanding junior years on the part of Larry Dupree and Tom Shannon put both well within range of University of Florida career records.

Both boys, of course, had 10 games of a senior season remaining.

Dupree, who led all Gator rushers for the second straight season with 745 yards gained on 159 carries, has run for a total of 1349 yards in two seasons, this on 302 carries.

University of Florida career rushing record is 2017 yards, set during a four-year period by Charlie Hunniger (1946-47-48-49).

This leaves Dupree only 669 yards short of the new record. He has averaged 675 yards per year over the past two seasons, and Gator coaches believe he will improve on his rushing mark next fall.

Shannon, Gator quarterback from Miami, is in position to break several records.

He has completed 140 of 258 passes attempted, for 1507 yards. School records in these categories, now held by Haywood Sullivan, are 163 completions, 324 attempts and total passing yardage of 1908.

Shannon will hold all Gator career passing records by running up 402 yards gained, 67 attempts and 24 completions in 1964, all figures far under what he has accomplished during his first two years.

Even more within Shannon's range is the school career total offense record, now held by Hunniger with 2017 yards. Shannon's total offense stands at 1551 yards, leaving him only 467 yards shy of the new mark.

What's New In Fishing Tackle? Amid the ballyhoo that accompanies the introduction of most "new" fishing lures and equipment, we sometimes tend to overlook the fact that almost everything new on the market has a direct descendant many years—even centuries—old.

Modern tackle is far removed from that of the horse-and-buggy days, observes Mercury fishing authorities, but there's scarcely an item around that couldn't be obtained by Grandpa during his barefoot schoolboy days. It may not have been as attractive or as operative, but its results were fairly good.

Even our fur-robed ancestors of prehistoric times devised tackle that would do the job. Small round stones, pointed on both ends with a line tied in the middle were effective in putting fish on the table more than 7,000 years ago.

The Egyptians of about 2,000 B.C. developed a proficiency with a reed rod and length of line very much like our familiar cane poles. In the 1400's walking sticks that were actually nine-foot telescoping fishing rods were common.

Even spinning rods, which Americans consider "new," had their origins as far back as the 17th Century in Europe.

The Romans came up with the first artificial fly, called the Red Hackle, and they also used clam shells as lures. Everything from stone and bone to steel has been fashioned into hooks.

Though the resemblance may be faint, conclude the Mercury folks, it's a rare piece of tackle that doesn't have a fascinating history.

So the next time you walk into a sporting goods store, don't ask what's new, ask what's different.

Mrs. Jimmie Livingston filling the President's chair in the absence of President Kathryn Park (Living it up on a Caribbean Cruise) gave the members a preview of what to expect when she takes over the duties of president for the 1964-65 season. Jimmie was poised and efficient in her role.

Almost a full roster of the Sanford Women's Golf Association witnessed the presentation of trophies by the amiable and civic minded Mr. John Kader on Wednesday at the luncheon of the Golf Association.

Miss Ellen Betts, who had deserted the links for approximately a year, was presented a lovely silver reverie bowl as winner of the Kader Tournament and Mrs. Vivian Pierce was presented a similar replica as runner-up. Ellen, since her return to the "fold" has made almost a clean sweep of weekly tournaments, as well as, adding the Kader Tournament to her collection.

Which just goes to prove that some have it and some don't—Ellen does!

For those golfers who are interested in participating in the Florida State Tournament to be held in Port St. Lucie, it was announced the S. W. G. A. is a member in good standing—meaning our dues are paid.

So, the only other requirements are a handicap of twenty or less and a healthy head of "lettuce" (the folding kind) and away you go!

It seems that the "out of bounds" dilemma is not to be resolved—so the U. S. G. A. has more or less said—you figure it out. It has been left to the discretion of the individual club whether to adopt the penalty of stroke and distance or two strokes from the point of out of bounds. The S. W. G. A. board-of-directors voted to adopt the stroke and distance penalty.

Once again we remind members that for the month of February weekly play will be held on Tuesdays, tee off time 12:00 noon.

Top 16 Females Run Tonight At SOKC

The top 16 female runners at the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club make up the field for tonight's dual feature — the semi-finals for the racing queen stake which will be run Saturday night.

The top four finishers in tonight's ninth and 10th races will go to the post in the racing queen stake Saturday. The top four finishers in that race will go against the track's top four male runners in the king and queen championship Feb. 22nd.

C. H. Scott's Bella Adams will be the odds-on favorite to win the ninth. The 33-pound Miss Adams has taken three or four SOKC races and has left little doubt that she is one of the fastest sprinters at the track.

Apopka Darts Past Hounds 58 To 28

Some nights this season the Lyman High Greyhounds were unable to get their offensive machine in gear and some nights they've been unable to defend their opponents. But Tuesday night the 'Hounds could do neither and the Apopka Blue Darters fired a 58 to 28 win over the Longwood quintet.

Apopka, picking up its 15th win of the season and its sixth in Orange Belt Conference competition, were paced by Bill Sheppard and Dick Goding who picked up 37 points between them. Meanwhile, Lyman's usual shooting stars couldn't cope with the Darter defense. Bill Tolson came up with only five points, Charlie Asher had eight—to lead the 'Hounds—and Jim Shuster mustered only four.

Lyman, a club that at one time had a four and one record in OBC play—trailing the Darters 12 to 9 at the end of the initial period. In the second quarter, however, Lyman could get only three points while Apopka pulled up with 18 points to lead 30 to 12 at the half. The Blue Darters got another 18 points in the third stanza while the 'Hounds posted only nine. Going into the final frame trailing 48 to 21, Lyman picked up only seven points against the tight Darter defense while Apopka posted 10.

The story can be told by the fact that Lyman posted only five field goals in the initial half against the Darters' man-to-man defense.

Lyman's record in OBC play is now four and four and third place in the loop's standings will be the best it can do.

FSU Spring Practice Set TALLAHASSEE — Coach Bill Peterson has announced Feb. 24, as the opening day of spring football drills at Florida State University.

The Seminoles will work four days a week for five weeks. Workouts are scheduled on Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays.

The annual Garet and Gold Game will be held Mar. 21, in conjunction with Spring Alumni Weekend at Florida State. The final week of spring practice will be held after the game.

An all out search for running backs will be held this spring Peterson says. The Seminoles lost nine lettermen from last year's squad, including the team's top three ball carriers.

Out For Season YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (UPI) — Ron Allen, Youngstown University's leading rebounder, will be lost to the team for the remainder of the season.

Podres Signs With Dodgers

By United Press International Johnny Podres has signed with the Los Angeles Dodgers and the way Walter Alton has it figured that's the equivalent of a $300,000 life insurance policy.

Although Podres may be the "other" lefthanded starter in the Dodgers' pitching rotation he's a mighty important fellow — especially when the pressure assignments are due.

The 23-year-old Maloney had a 23-7 record last year and led the Cincinnati pitching staff with six shutouts in 33 starts. He established a team strikeout record with 255 and tied another by fanning 16 Milwaukee Braves—including eight in a row—May 21. His earned run average was 2.77.

Charley Neal was the other member of the Redlegs to sign. The veteran infielder came to the Reds in a trade with the New York Mets and was used mostly as a defensive replacement.

Outfielder — first baseman Lee Thomas signed with the Los Angeles Angels. Pitchers Grover Powell and Steve Dillon signed with the New York Mets along with catcher Lloyd Flodin and outfielder-infielder Dick Smith.

The New York Yankees signed three pitchers obtained in last December's draft—Gil Downs, Jimmy Marjuzo and Richard Marcy. Jose Tartabull and Nelson Mathews, the top candidates for the Kansas City center-field job, also signed.

The Cleveland Indians signed southpaw Jack Kralick who was 133 for the Tribe following his trade from the Minnesota Twins. The Pittsburgh Pirates signed Willie Stargell and Bob Burda, who both play the outfield and first base.

New Line Coach COLLEGE PARK, Md. (UPI) — Hal Hunter has replaced Al Battersfield as football line coach at the University of Maryland.

LBJ Pledges Better Value For Dollar

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson today pledged his administration to protect consumers and give the American housewife the best value for "her hard earned dollar."

In a special message to Congress Johnson recommended a 10-point program of legislation and federal action aimed at safeguarding consumers in their spending for products and services.

Among them were recommendations for enactment of bills to insure truth-in-packaging, truth-in-lending, and truth in the sale of over-the-counter securities.

Most of the bills Johnson endorsed were recommended by the late President John F. Kennedy. One new Johnson proposal was a request for legislation that all meat and poultry sold in the United States—in interstate as well as interstate — be inspected for safety and wholesomeness, either by the Agriculture Department or in cooperation with state authorities.

White House officials emphasized the importance of Johnson's proposals to inform and educate more families, particularly in the low-income bracket, "to help them get the most for their money."

The President said he had directed his committee on consumer interests to hold a series of regional consumer conferences and report to him.

Assistant Labor Secretary Esther Peterson, White House consumer adviser, said she planned to invite regional meetings a "handful" of the consumers who had been writing complaints to her. Representatives of manufacturers, retailers, advertising agencies, government agencies, and consumer groups also will attend the conferences.

Johnson said he also was asking federal agencies to explore the possibility of adapting the Rural Extension Service concept to an urban setting. He asked the agencies to examine programs for consumer education in schools and to develop means of keeping the public informed of developments in the consumer field.

The President also stressed the need for looking into the costs of services such as repair and labor charges.

"Our record of over-all price stability in recent years has been excellent," he said. "But the trend of consumer spending for services has been constantly rising; and the safeguarding of the consumers' interest in the area of services is comparatively weak."

Johnson noted that services could not be treated in the same way as food and drugs, but are "equally subject to the abuses of poor quality, high prices and exaggerated claims."

He said he was asking his consumer group to make recommendations for improvement of protection in the service area and interested industries would be called upon for advice.

Penicost Rolls Big 258 Game

Last week in the Jet Lanes All Star League Harry Penicost found the lanes to his liking as he rolled a big 258 game to come up with another nice 614 series. Even with Harry's good rolling, his team, the Inland Materials, was able to take only one win as Bob's Restaurant led by Pete Petersen with a 554 and his teammate John Wright with 564 took two games. Bob's Restaurant picked up a game in the league as they are now only one game behind first place Inland Materials.

In other league matches, the Betty Anne's trio took two wins from the Meador's Marine team. John Bridges was big gun for Betty Anne's with a 213/568. Garry Fox led Larry's Mart to a two win and one loss decision over Allied Van Lines team by rolling a 551 series. This enabled Larry's to take over third place and dumped Allied into fourth place.

There is quite a battle going on for the first place trophy to be given to the highest average bowler in this league. John Wright and Garry Fox are really after one another. Last week they were both tied with a 188 average. This week Garry just barely dropped to a 187 while John was able to hang on to his 188. With 16 weeks remaining on the schedule anything can happen because the first 10 men in the league are 180 or over in their average.

Bandleader Held In Attempt To Kill Woman

MIAMI BEACH (UPI) — Bandleader Leo Elgart has been charged with assault and battery and assault with intent to kill a 21-year-old woman in his hotel room here, it was learned today.

Elgart, 46, denied the charges. He was released from the Dade County Jail Monday under $7,500 bond. The musician, here for an appearance at a country club, said he found the woman, identified as Sally Day, unconscious in his room Friday. He said he slapped her to "bring her around."

The woman was taken to a hospital. Doctors said she suffered facial bruises, a possible skull fracture and might have taken sleeping pills. Her condition was critical over the weekend but she was improving today. She was registered at the hospital as Sally Elgart.

Pinson Honored
CINCINNATI (UPI) — Vada Pinson, Cincinnati's speedy centerfielder, has been selected by the ballplayers of yesterday as the outstanding member of the 1963 Cincinnati Reds.

Pinson led the Redlegs in hitting last year with .318 and led the league in total hits with 204.

The Way It Should Be

Probably no civic organization in Seminole County carries on a more varied program than does the Sanford - Seminole Junior Chamber of Commerce.

This organization, which came into being quite a few years prior to World War II and was reorganized following the conflict in 1946, had made an indelible mark upon this area with its constant program of projects in which it accomplishes much for the community while it trains its young members in preparation for the day when they will have the responsibility of even greater projects.

During the year recently ended, the JayCeers — as they are commonly known throughout the nation — climaxed another banner year with their annual awards banquet. They presented the good government award to Gen. J. C. Hutchison, the outstanding teacher award to Miss Marlene Sherrod, the outstanding young farmer award to Billy S. Pilon, the outstanding young sailor award to James L. Duhon, and the distinguished service award to John R. Alexander.

But this is merely one of the many major projects promoted each year by the JayCeers. For example, the organization sponsored a teenage driving rodeo, held a program to orient new members as to the purpose of the Junior Chamber on the local and national levels, sponsored a door-to-door fertilizer sale to raise funds for various other projects, participated in the statewide merit scholarship contest, treated the county's children to an Easter egg hunt and participated in the sports car racing program by accepting the responsibility of preparing the track.

Probably no organization in Seminole now has had as much experience in organizing and presenting a parade than has the Junior Chamber of Commerce. So it was only natural that this group of energetic young men be called upon to participate in the semi-centennial parade. They won honor and admiration from other JayCeers by hosting the members of the Fourth JayCee District for the annual area caucus.

The organization sponsored a county lad attending Boys State, sponsored a junior golf tournament, added improvements to the Wayside Park and the JayCee Information Building, sponsored the annual fishing rodeo, observed fire prevention week, sponsored the annual Christmas lighting contest and presented the annual Christmas Parade.

Actually, space doesn't permit listing all of the activities of this group or a detailed report of their major activities. But we would mention the annual Christmas shopping tour for the youngsters of the Lutheran Children's Home at Slavia.

The Herald possesses no authority to confer an award upon the Sanford - Seminole Junior Chamber of Commerce. But it does single out the JayCeers at this time and commends them for their interest and participation in so many worthy projects and fields of endeavor.

The Herald knows that these young men — and in many instances their wives, too — expend considerable time and effort in creating promoting and carrying out to successful conclusions these many and varied activities.

Although they work long and hard toward making these projects successful, and while Sanford and Seminole County would certainly miss many of these events if they were not undertaken by the junior chamber, no one seems to get more out of them than the JayCeers themselves. That's the way it should be.

Thought For Today

And he said, take now thy son, thine only son Isaac, who thou lovest, and get thee into the land of Moriah; and offer him there for a burnt offering upon one of the mountains which I will tell thee of. — Gen. 22:2.

Abraham was asked to give up the very best that he had to God. Anytime that we are willing to give the very best we have in most any walk of life we find that we will get out of life just what we put into it. — Rev. Hubert M. Wilder, Pastor, Pinecrest Assembly of God, Sanford.

Never mind what the calendar says; this is monsoon season in Washington, when congressmen, reporters and the public are deluged with a rain of figures from the executive branch of the government.

Not surprisingly, these figures prove that Americans have never had it so good and will have it even better—if they know which side their ballots are buttered on.

One of the most frequently cited figures is the GNP—Gross National Product—which is supposedly the total worth of everything in the country; salaries, goods, machines, services, land, buildings, etc.

According to President Johnson, the GNP will reach $623 billion in 1964. This would be an increase of nearly $280 billion since 1954.

There is a flaw in the figure, unfortunately, as columnist David Lawrence was quick to point out, because about 40 per cent of the increase reflects higher prices.

In terms of the buying power of 1954 dollars, 1964 GNP would be $517.4 billion, not $623 billion.

This is still an increase of $154.3 billion over the 1954 GNP, or more than $15 billion a year. That would seem to be a pretty healthy growth rate. It's even higher than the annual deficit. Why inflate it?

The incumbents should know better than to try to geld the economic life. Their opponents do not lack for paint remover.

Once again American farmers have grown more than ever on less land than ever.

Early estimates on the 1963 wheat crop show it to be 2 per cent greater than 1962, which was a record year, and 10 per cent above the 1957-59 average.

It was attained on the second smallest acreage ever recorded.

Despite the headaches it will give the Agriculture Department and the money this excess wheat will cost the taxpayers, it does the country proud. It is a great achievement, made possible through the joining of the skills and efforts of countless researchers in chemistry and biology with the world-famous know-how of the American farmer.

At Big Tree Park one will see the largest and oldest known cypress trees, estimated to be over 3,500 years old.

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The flurry of Negro demonstrations outside restaurants in Atlanta affects the outlook of the contending forces now lining up for the climactic House floor fight on the Kennedy-Johnson civil rights proposals.

Many opponents and some supporters of these measures express vigorous dislike for legislating "under the gun" of recent or current demonstrations.

The Atlanta eruptions can, in fact, puzzle even the most ardent backers of the pending civil rights package.

Until they began in heavy earnest a short time ago, Atlanta was held up as a model of what responsible white and Negro leadership could achieve in a nonviolent, demonstration-free atmosphere.

Suddenly this widely advertised image has developed gaping cracks. The question is why.

The predominant answer, from some of the key Atlantaers involved, is pretty astonishing.

If they can be believed, it is a story of white and Negro leaders arrayed together against a small, militant band of Negroes sparked by the so-called Student Non-Violent Co-ordinating Committee.

James Forman, executive secretary of this Atlanta-based group, says the demonstration drive reflects two things:

Impatience with the foot-dragging of Atlanta restaurant owners who have failed to desegregate their establishments.

Annoyance at the alleged disparity between Atlanta's bright image and the continuing evidence of discrimination in schools, jobs, housing, public accommodations.

A top white civic figure, long identified with Atlanta's efforts at racial harmony, says flatly that SNCC, commonly called "Snick," "listens to nobody and represents nobody."

He describes the present campaign as a calculated attempt by a hard core of 200 to 300 Negroes — including some "professional demonstrators" from other cities — to "dust up the town."

This week's top level meeting involving Mayor Ivan Allen, white business leaders and the long-established Negro leadership apparently aims at isolating and ultimately "containing" the militant "Snick" forces.

There has been no negotiation between the demonstrators and either city officials or the wider white power structure. SNCC is still part of the Negroes' "summit group," set up last fall to frame urgent requests for new breakthroughs. But virtually all the many participating Negro organizations oppose the militants' course.

The joint white-Negro leadership plea to the "impatient ones" is:

"Why wreck the town that has been for you?"

Mayor Allen and other white leaders insist Atlanta is still moving down the path of racial progress. They are pressing hard against the "segregationist holdouts" among restaurant owners.

Newly every government, business and civic agency has outspokenly urged either voluntary desegregation of public accommodations or a city ordinance to that end.

Thus far, the demonstrating "Snick" cadre is unyielding. Leaders talk of a possible one-day school boycott in mid-February.

The interest for the nation is whether lawmakers here take the demonstrators as the "new face" of Atlanta, or accept the older, shiner image of a city where moderation on United Press International Sen. Abraham Ribicoff has given a Bronx cheer for America's new breed of "rough riders" — those golfers who tour the links in electric carts.

Speaking at a golf awards dinner in New York, the Connecticut Democrat described the carts as the worst thing that has happened to golf since the invention of the sand trap.

They cause the players to miss much needed exercise while at the same time depriving caddies of jobs, Ribicoff noted.

Now I may be the first person ever to call Ribicoff a reactionary, but I submit that on this point the senator is trying to let the air out of the wheels of progress.

Golf carts represent a vital step in mankind's march toward a completely electrified society. Ribicoff can no more stamp out golf carts than he can stamp out electric stamp machines.

Leading as he does the spartan life of a U. S. senator, Ribicoff perhaps does not realize the extent to which we, the people, depend on labor-saving devices like golf carts.

In me, for instance, you see a rugged, self-made man, but I doubt I could exist for more than 24 hours without the help of Reddy Kilowatt.

Dr. Crane's

Worry Clinic

CASE R-478: Ted G., aged 45, is a prominent business executive.

"Dr. Crane," he began, "I have a serious problem.

"My wife is running around with other men!

"Oh, I haven't yet caught her in the act, but I have hired a private detective to trail her whenever she leaves our home in the suburbs.

"We have been happily married for 25 years and have two lovely girls in college.

"So how could a woman be so callous?"

On the surface, you tend to feel very sympathetic for Ted, don't you?

But his facts are entirely false!

His wife doesn't even dream of being unfaithful. Her trips away from the house are solely for church and civic club work.

The detectives have reassured Ted that his wife NEVER sees another man.

So why is Ted so determined to find her guilty of unfaithfulness?

This is simply the reverse of the cases about Nancy and Clara which I have already described this week.

It is Ted who feels guilty!

For Ted is a platonic mate. In such cases, many husbands resort to the following devious mental tricks:

(1) The immediately ascribe undue sexual passion to their mate.

Although their wife has been relatively frigid in erotic matters throughout their 25 years of previous marriage, such a man suddenly thinks his wife has a tremendous erotic hunger as soon as he himself grows impotent.

(2) Men are notorious as back-passers. Instead of admitting that he is deficient, Ted thus tries to divert attention by accusing his wife of sexual affairs.

This technique diverts attention from his own inadequacy.

That's why it is a standard device of platonic men, especially after the age of 40 to 50.

Ted accuses his wife as a "red herring" strategy to keep attention off himself.

"I am deficient," is the secret reasoning of such a person, "so I will simply accuse my wife and thus put her on the defensive.

"Besides, if I charge her with outside affairs, that will explain why I show no more physical ardor in her direction.

"For when a man is hostile to his wife, she naturally would not expect him to be ardent."

Readers, PLEASE scrapbook these classical cases from the field of modern psychiatry!

For you yourselves must do your own curing!

It will avoid a lot of unhappiness in your home and also save the taxpayers millions of dollars each year, if you can keep out of mental institutions.

Sex is the main reason why people go to mental institutions!

Not only do most divorces start in the bedroom, but most cases of insanity begin there, too!

So send for the booklet "Sex Differences Between Men and Women," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents. Vaccinate against insanity!

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

At last we can look forward to something going down some snow days—kids wanting.

In a home that uses gas or electricity for heat a husband still can be raked over the coals.

Kids find out that an unripe apple a day doesn't keep the doctor away.

Tall corn comes from Iowa in the summer and from Washington all year around.

We like the youngsters who are really smart instead of just acting that way.

It took two dentists to handle a ten-year-old boy when a tooth was filled. A drill team.

It's easy for a husband to have the last word if it's, "Okay, here's the money."

The Lighter Side

When I wake up in the morning, I turn off my electric alarm clock and crawl out from under my electric blanket. Then I go into the kitchen and turn on the electric coffee maker.

Next I put a piece of bread into the electric toaster and squeeze an orange with an electric juicer. I cut the orange with an electric knife, for which I traded in my electric knife sharpener.

If I am out of oranges I upon a can of juice with an electric can opener. Then all I have to do is fry an egg in the electric skillet and breakfast is ready.

After that, I brush my teeth with an electric toothbrush, following which I shave with an electric razor. Before leaving for work, I shine my shoes with an electric polisher and remove the lint from my coat with an electric brush.

When I return in the evening, I mix a cocktail, using either my electric blender or my electric ice crusher. After dinner, I like to get a little exercise, so I turn on my electric vibrator.
