Kepone Found in Fish Many Miles From Plant

WASHINGTON (AP) - Traces of the roach poison Kepone, the cause of liver and brain damage in Virginia chemical workers, have turned up in nonhazardous levels in fish caught hundreds of miles from the plant where it was made, a federal agency says. The pesticide residue was found in migratory fish caught by commercial fishermen in Chesapeake Bay and the Atlantic Ocean off the coasts of Delaware, New Jersey and New York. The Food and Drug Administration said that all of its first samples of fish taken showed traces of Kepone, but not at levels considered hazardous

Detroit Calls Crackdown

DETROIT (AP) - Detroit is rehiring 450 laid-off policemen two weeks early and imposing a curfew on persons under 18 to prevent recurrence of what the police chief called a "smallscale riot" on the downtown streets after a rock co...ert. "We're going w take the city back — beginning tonight," Deputy Mayor William Beckham Jr. declared Monday in announcing the measures. He and Police Chief Philip Tannian said police simply lacked the resources to cope with the disturbance, which started when several hundred youths attacked a crowd Sunday night at the city's Cobo Hall. It ended in widespread robberies and assaults, including one rape, on the downtown streets. Forty-seven persons were arrested.

Strikes Imperil U.S. Economy

Like Noah and his family aboard the ark Americans have ridden out a long storm of recession and inflation. The upbeat economic statistics for the first half of 1976 were as welcome a sign as Noah's dove.

Provided the dove doesn't get shot down. -A good harvest of fruits and vegetables went to market in California only to have a Teamsters strike close the canneries waiting to receive it. The loss to growers from spoilage is reckoned in the tens of millions of dollars, not to mention the lost wages of 30,000 cannery workers, and the eventual impact on the consumer — higher grocery prices. - The auto industry reported second quarter sales that are the best sign yet that this cornerstone of the U.S. economy is over the hump of recession. But the new contract demands of the United Auto Workers union are so far from what the companies are proposing that there is now much less optimism that a crippling strike can be avoided this fall.

- A strike by rubber workers against the four major tiremakers passed its 100th day, deflating the recovery in that industry. As inventories of new tires are sold down, the possibility arises that the auto industry will face another headache — not enough new tires to keep its assembly lines

- The Bicentennial has been good for the travel industry, but all airline traffic was threatened by a slowdown of air controllers at the high-point of the vacation season.

- Everyone close to the energy problem agrees that the way to beat the effects of high oil and gas prices is to produce and use more coal. But wildcat strikes idled 65,000 coal miners, and more han two million tons of production was lost.

These brushfires are erupting on the economic frequently seem more interested in prosecuting andscape during a political debate on how far the cases and building up a record of convictions at overnment can go in trying to stimulate emcourt than in securing safer consumer products. syment without risking new inflation. The truth is On the one hand, the courts have thrown out at people who gather around collective numerous cases when it became clear that the ning tables can do more than any politicians manufacturers concerned had promptly to assure that Americans have a better chance to corrected the problems complained of once they find permanent, productive work. earned what the regulations were and what Trends toward the healthy economic growth hat sustains employment and creates new jobs are evident enough. But they are threatened by work ppages that interrupt production and create ortages of goods. They are threatened by labor ettlements which raise the cost of keeping people on a payroll and discourage new hiring. They are hreatened by resulting higher prices which npen demand for goods and services.

Labor peace is always bought with sacrifice and compromise. The willingness to achieve it is a factor in economic recovery that lies outside the itical arena. But achieving it now is one way to head off the dangerous notion that the only road to "full employment" lies in putting people on the public payroll.

Presidential Debate

The two presidential candidates of the major parties should debate on national television this year, as John Kennedy and Richard Nixon did in 1960.

That year it took an act of Congress to suspend Section 315 of the Federal Communications Act (the equal time requirement) to make it possible for the networks to invite the and or party andidates and not grant equal time to all the minor candidates.

This year it is not necessary to suspend Section 315. The the equal time rule live coverage of debates not produced by the proadcast station. The decision has been upheld in an appellate

The state of the s

Haynes' Hunches By JIM HAYNES

Quick now, fill in the blank: Quarterbacking is ----

The definition with the greatest amount of insight probably comes from a quarterback. "Fun," says Bob Burkhart, who calls signals for the Lyman High School team. Almost as an afterthought, he was quick to add "plus a lot of hard work.

Lyman Coach Dick Copeland asserted The Greyhound mentor pointed out that if the quarterback makes a mistake, he has 10 people on

"Uh huh," disagreed Burkhart. "You have 11. The coach is the first.' The true definition of a quarterback depends or Bob Burkhart the quarterback insists he isn't a "natural." It took a lot of hard work, he says, and that work goes on daily as he and teammates work toward a Sept. 10 opener against tough Orlando Oak Ridge.

As a matter of fact, Burhart wanted to be a receiver. Coaches had to talk him into playing quarterback. After three freshman games, varsity quarterback Bob Constantine was injured and Burkhart was called up to the varsity, completely ypassing the jayvee.

He played in several games that season, took over the first-string job halfway through his sophomore season and has been a fixture since. Burkhart is regarded as the top quarterback in running ability, but able to scramble. In terms of goals, Burkhart has his sights set on a winning season for the team and 1,000 yards passing for himself. "Again, that takes some hard work, help from my receivers and even some luck," he added. Burkhart talks low-key. He hesitates to speculate on how the team will do, but is certain it will be in the "good" range.

Teammates elected Burkhart a captain, which even the modest senior had to admit pleased him. The honor is something of a calling-card which he figures gives him the right to go to a team member and express his feelings on a particular matter. As quiet as he is, without being captain, he might not have said anything of such a situation.

Burkhart was so quiet last year a couple players kidded him that he should hold up signs in the huddle instead of giving verbal instructions. A middle distance runner in track, Burkhart also plays basketball. "But that's just for fun . . . to keep in shape," he says.

And, according to the Burkhart philosophy, that's what quarterbacking and basketball have in

Baby 1st, Bride 2nd -- It Seems To Work For Many WASHINGTON (AP) - Couples who conceive a child

before they wed do not have a significantly higher breakup rate than those who wait until after the marriage ceremony to start a family, a government report shows. The report said that $1.6 per cent of women in the last half of the 1960s who married after becoming pregnant still were with their husbands at the time of the 1970 census, compared to 85.5 per cent of women who were not pregnant when they wed.

"When I was growing up, girls were urged to keep their bodies pure and those who represented themselves as the moral arbitors of society enforced this feeling," said Henry Smith of the Census Bureau. "Here the statistics seem to suggest that a girl who be-

The figures were contained in the Census Bureau's first report on premarital childbirth.

The report shows also that 52.6 per cent of first children born to black mothers in 1969 were illegitimate, compared to 10.1 per cent of first babies born to white mothers. The survey also shows that illegitimate first babies increased in recent years among blacks but remained nearly stable among whites. About 18 per cent of black women between the ages of 45 to 50 reported having their first child out of wedlock. Of black women 25 to 30 years old, 38.2 per cent reported illegitimate first births.

Among white women in the 45 to 50 age group, 5.7 per cent reported having their first child while single. The figure was 6.4 per cent for white women of the younger 25to-30-year-old generation.

Mrs. Joy Dryfoos of a Planned Parenthood's research group, the Alan Guttmacher Institute in New York, said that illegitimacy rates will drop as birth control becomes more widespread. "The conventional wisdom is that the black culture is more accepting of illegitimacy than the white culture," she said. "I would also suggest that the differences are related to the availability of birth control, abortion and sex education. I would expect a decline in black illegitimacy in the next report because our studies show that blacks are using abortion services more than we

Florida's venereal disease rate, one of the highest in the nation in 1975, dropped sharply during the first half of 1976, state health officials reported today. The drop in the venereal disease rate was greater than that in any other state and was the sharpest since the decline following WW II, of-
