Analysis of Water From Well Shows It To Be Fine Quality

In an interview with City Manager W. B. Williams, Monday, he stated that the test well the city had drilled at the golf links, one and one-half miles south of Lake Ada, on French Avenue, is a complete success and that it will supply a very satisfactory and desirable water for drinking purposes.

At a special meeting of the City Commission held this morning at 11:30 o'clock called for the purpose of considering further negotiations for the waterworks plant and system now owned and operated by the Southern Utilities Company, that body accepted the report and recommendation of the special waterworks committee of the Chamber of Commerce which in substance was to make an offer of $71,000 for the present plant "as is."

REPORTS SHOW RISING TIDE IN BEHALF M'ADOO

"DeSoto, Okechobee and Glades counties, of course, are progressive and therefore for McAdoo. In Duval county it appears to be a question of how large the majority will be.

"Unless all signs fall Mr. McAdoo should capture Florida's primary vote by a comfortable margin. It would not surprise me if the state goes two to one for this great outstanding American."

"A wire from Leesburg Saturday morning contained the following message: 'Monster mass meeting held at Tavares, the county seat of Lake Friday night. It was county-wide in nature and went unanimously and enthusiastically for McAdoo. Dr. Hannum, Attorney Hunter, Circuit Court Clerk Smythe and Prof. Carpenter, of Montverde School were in charge. Dr. McKenzie, state chairman, also was a speaker. The court house was crowded and the meeting resembled an old-fashioned revival. Every precinct was represented and McAdoo clubs were formed for each. Not one Underwood supporter was in evidence. Lake county will go three or four to one for McAdoo. The county is thoroughly organized.'"

Oregon For McAdoo. PORTLAND, May 17.—Confidence apparently is endorsed for the Republican nomination of president. McAdoo was unopposed for the state's preferential choice for Democratic nomination.

OLD POLITICAL BUGABOOS WILL BE BURIED SOON

"Tammany Hall" and "Wall St." to Be Buried in Madison Square Garden; Were for Years Dominant Factions.

NEW YORK, May 17.—When the National Democratic Convention shall have named its presidential ticket in Madison Square Garden and adjourned, observers predict it also will have buried two political bugaboos that have kept national political conventions from New York for 56 years.

They are "Tammany Hall" and "Wall Street." "What!" ran the old fears, "hold a national convention where our delegates would be exposed to the sinister wiles of Tammany? Invite them to enter the sphere of the influence of Wall Street? Never; any place but New York."

Those who went from this city to Washington to bid for the convention this year met and, to all surprise, overcame those objections. Now Tammany and Wall Street feel it their duty to demonstrate to expected visitors that they never were as bad as they were painted.

Tammany points to her picturesque and patriotic origin, admits she sowed a few wild oats in the "Boss Tweed" days of the last century, and claims she now has become a sedate and law-abiding political and welfare organization.

The name, "Tammany" (the affable), and the ritual were taken from the Delaware Indians by a group of Whigs who, in 1789, organized for social and charitable work, to fight for state rights as opposed to federalism, and to counteract the revolutionary war officers' order of the "Society of the Cincinnati," which was headed by George Washington. Though they sometimes were called "Sons of St. Tammany" or "The Columbian Order," they always designated their headquarters as wigwams and their members as grand sachems, sagamores, wiskinkies and as braves.

Gradually the organization attained political power. Then, in 1842, began the series of gang demonstrations which, culminating in 1870 in exposure of the huge graft ring of the Grand Sachem, William Marcy Tweed, welded to Tammany the stigma, "corrupt."

Two generations have entered the game of politics since then. Tammany claims to have kept pace with the purification process of the game has undergone. She still has her thousands of members, her 13 tepees and her big wigwam on Fourteenth Street, the one dedicated during the last national party convention here in 1868. She still helps the destitute, and plays politics.

Wall Street holds that she, too, has been maligned by tradition. She will show them first of all that "Wall Street" as generally applied is a misnomer; that the street actually is just a short, crooked lane flanked by ordinary business structures, a lane with the East River at one end and historic Trinity Church at the other, where the peddlers of American commerce hung out their shingles, and where their sons carry on.

She will demonstrate to the visitors that big finance isn't centered in Wall Street, that all lower Manhattan, all New York, in fact, is the home of big finance. And she will seek to show that this city is merely the reservoir for the mighty streams of American capital, rather than a well set to catch and hold the dollars of the nation.

Managers of the convention, as well as local financiers, intend to let each delegate see for himself that he may return to his native land and lay low the "Wicked Wall Street" fantasy.

The New York Stock Exchange, the Consolidated, and the New York Curb Market, the nation's three greatest security markets, will join the 12 biggest commodity trading organizations, 100 of the country's biggest banks, and most of the noted brokerage houses, in throwing open their doors to convention visitors.

BECOMES BUSINESS MANAGER. FORT MYERS, May 17.—Walter O. Sheppard, a stockholder and director of the Fort Myers Press, will become business manager of that paper upon the retirement of Morton M. Milford, who will take up his duties as editor-in-chief of the Miami Daily News-Metropolis within the next few days. George E. Hosmer will continue as general manager of The Press, it is announced.

Mr. Milford plans to return to Fort Myers for a few days on business late this month and probably will remain here to cast his ballot in the primary June 3.

LOT GIVEN TO LEGION. GAINESVILLE, May 17.—City council, by unanimous vote, has decided to deed to the local post of the American Legion, the property where the old tabernacle that was burned Saturday night stood. L. C. Lynch, appearing before council for the legion, told that body that if the property were turned over to the world war veterans they would begin plans immediately for the erection of a building to cost approximately $7,000.

PROPERTY SELLS FOR $180,000. JACKSONVILLE, May 17.—The old homestead site of the Rivns family, located at the corner of Adams and Hogan streets, purchased sixty years ago for $400 has been sold for $180,000. The lot is 105 feet deep on the Hogan street side and 87 feet wide on Adams street. The property is all in the heart of the retail business district, and has been for a long time one of the city's landmarks.

COMMISSION IS URGED TO BUY PLANT $71,000.00

city's acquisition of the gas and electric light plants the necessary steps be taken to prevent delay in acquiring them.

Mr. DeCotes stated at this point that the city has nothing to fear in this connection as it has a legal right to operate its own plant which will in no way disturb the rights of the Southern Utilities Company.

Objection to connecting any portion of the old system with the new one was voiced by City Engineer, Fred T. Williams. His objection was that the soft water which would be used by the city, when run through the sulphur corroded pipes would prove anything but satisfactory.

Mayor Lake also expressed an objection to further negotiations with the Southern Utilities Company believing that the one offer made and declined was sufficient. He stated further that the actions of the officials of the Company had been contemptuous throughout, and that at no time had they submitted a counter proposition. He was further opposed to paying the Utilities Company for something of doubtful value.

President Higgins of the Chamber of Commerce recommended against further overtures being made by the Commissioners in the premises, stating that concerted effort at an opportune time has been heretofore made to acquire the waterworks plant of the Southern Utilities Company at a fair valuation and that the Southern Utilities Company had refused to seriously consider any of the several propositions submitted to them by the City Commissioners.

The purchase of the present plant, it was brought out at the meeting, would necessitate the revision of Mr. Craig's original plans. Doubt was expressed by some as to whether the amount authorized in the bond issue for waterworks would be sufficient to complete the system in its entirety, although it was stated that Mr. Craig had advised that it could be done.

The discussion closed with a motion made by Mr. Higgins that the committee recommend to the City Commissioners that they proceed at once with the construction of the new waterworks plant and if before the construction proceeded too far, the Commissioners receive an acceptance from the Southern Utilities Company of a new proposition submitted covering a fair "going value" of the plant within the figures recommended by the Engineer, that same be considered. The following amendment to the motion was made by George W. Knight and accepted, that this committee recommend the City Commissioners make an offer of $71,000 to the Southern Utilities Company for the waterworks plant "As is," payable in cash, the city retaining the right to purchase the plant if the Southern Utilities Company agrees to furnish power for the plant for four cents per KW hour until the city's power house is in operation. This offer to be accepted by the Southern Utilities Company within 15 days and the committee further recommends that if the Southern Utilities Company fails to accept the offer of the City Commissioners within this time limit made by the City Commissioners, all further negotiations in regard to the waterworks will be discontinued.

Before the meeting adjourned, Mayor Lake urged that full publicity be given this action, and also the special meeting of the Commissioners which will be held next Monday at 11 A. M. when all citizens are invited to be present and express their opinion before it is brought to the final vote of that body.

Those on the Committee present at last night's meeting were H. R. Stevens, chairman, S. O. Shiholter, George W. Knight, Fred T. Williams, A. P. Connelly, W. B. Williams, Edward Higgins, ex officio.

SUB-COMMITTEES WILL ENTERTAIN GOTHAM VISITORS

Fifty-Four Committees Will Show Delegates to National Democratic Convention What New York Is Like

NEW YORK, May 19.—The citizens non-partisan committee, which has shouldered the responsibility for entertaining delegates and visitors to the Democratic National Convention, has decided to experiment with the theory that a stranger likes to "learn the ropes" from one of his own kind.

Stanley J. Quinn, directing vice-chairman of the committee, has taken charge of the experiment, and has named 54 sub-committees to help him put it to the test.

"We are not going to attempt much mass entertainment," said Mr. Quinn. "We believe smaller parties, whether gotten up for sight-seeing, theatricals, banquets or just plain conviviality are much more enjoyed by the visitor and far less fatiguing."

"Furthermore, the average visitor to New York doesn't see the most interesting things. He wears himself out looking for the night life, or does a lot of misguided sight-seeing. He doesn't learn a thing about the most interesting phase of New York life, that is, how the New Yorker lives, works and amuses himself."

Thus the 54 sub-committees. Each one is made up of natives of a state or territory who have come to New York and made good. And each will work with the various state societies of "native sons" and the regional clubs, such as the "Rocky Mountain Club."

Each sub-committee or group will be host to delegates, alternates and accredited visitors from its state or section. It will provide automobile transportation, see that the strangers get at least one home-cooked meal a day, make certain they are properly housed; act as their theatre guides; direct them to the best of the night life and dine clubs on Broadway; take them on suburban and seaside trips; act as their mentors in visits to the art centers, in fact, as Mr. Quinn said, "make it easy to do the things all visitors would like to do."

"For there's no use in bringing 200,000 people to New York unless we make them glad they came," Mr. Quinn explained. "That was the idea back of our invitation to the Democratic party to hold its convention here; to demonstrate that New York was not so big as to be blasé, uninteresting or altogether sufficient unto itself; that it really is a metropolis of home folks."

There will be, of course, a few mass entertainments. Mayor Hylan and his convention committee will be hosts to all the 2,000 delegates and alternates; at a banquet given before the convention formally opens, the Merchants' Association has arranged for an all-day jubilee at the Waldorf-Astoria when the big business of the convention is finished.

The New York Newspaper Club has plans for a midnight festival at Coney Island at which its 1,000 members will become acquainted with the expected thousand or more visiting journalists.

There will be at least one formal state or group banquet staged by the 54 sub-committees for each of the delegations.

Home Missionary Board Does Good Work Last Year

ATLANTA, Ga., May 19.—While the presence of a heavy debt has made necessary the curtailment of certain phases of home mission activities during the past year, the Home Mission Board of Southern Baptist Convention has experienced some advances during the year that are encouraging, according to the report presented by Dr. B. D. Gray, corresponding secretary.

In no previous year of the board's existence has there been such an advance in the direction of self-support on the part of both mission fields and churches, Dr. Gray reported. This tendency, he said, is relieving the board to go into new fields that are urgently needed. The tendency to self-support is particularly marked in Cuba and among the Spanish churches in Florida, the report shows.

Another encouraging phase of the year's work is the increased number of volunteers for Christian service and their better equipment, Dr. Gray stated. Many scores of the most capable young men and women of the South are applying for work in the home mission field, he pointed out, and only lack of adequate financial resources has prohibited expansion in a very marked degree.

Indicating the growth in home mission achievements during the past year, over what they were for the year of 1919 when the convention met last in Atlanta, Dr. Gray pointed out that in 1919 there were 166 baptisms in Cuba while this year the number was 223, an increase of 100 percent.

In 1919 the Cuban churches contributed $7,000, while this year they gave $11,900 an increase of more than 60 percent. In 1919 the two leading mission schools in Cuba one at Havana and the other at Santa Clara, had 100 pupils while today they have 400. Cuba is calling for a half-dozen new workers and as many modest chapels, Dr. Gray said.

American Farmer Will Save $360,000,000 Yearly By Deepening St. Lawrence for Ocean-Going Ships; Commission under Hoover Named to Study Project

Map Showing Saving in Mileage by Adoption of St. Lawrence Route to Liverpool. Freight rate saving will be immeasurably greater because transshipments by rail with costly reloading as shown above will be eliminated. Ocean draft ships will have free passage through the Great Lakes to the Atlantic. Inset is Herbert Hoover, chairman of the new commission.

President Coolidge has named the St. Lawrence Commission of the United States to study, under the chairmanship of Herbert Hoover, Secretary of Commerce, a project which, according to its proponents, will benefit the American farmer to the score of approximately $360,000,000 a year. The ambitious goal is a deepening of the St. Lawrence river, with elimination of 40 locks and improvement of the remaining 13, making possible easy passage from the Great Lakes to the Atlantic for ships with 24 foot draft.

Further, it is possible for the Argentine farmer to ship 8,000 bushels by water to New York at a cheaper total cost than the combined rail and water rate from the Great Lakes territory to the same American port. Five cents a bushel saved on wheat shipments to New England, New York and Europe; cheap shipment of phosphates to the midwestern farmer, and a general pull together commercially of the Great Lakes territory and the Atlantic seaboard are expected from the proposed improvement.

The project of opening the Great Lakes to ocean going ships, and development of the great power resources of the St. Lawrence river, on behalf of both the Canadian and American people, has been a hope long treasured by many millions of our people and it is in the hands of this commission to express an opinion as to whether or not the project should be undertaken at the present time. If this judgment should be in the affirmative, then I wish the Commission to consider the formulation of such projects as might be submitted for international agreement on construction, finance and administration—all of which of course must be of a preliminary nature as a basis for formal negotiations with the Canadian Government, and obviously subject to the views of Congress.

In The Circuit Court of Seminole County, Florida, in Chancery, vs. W. A. Boynton, Complainant, vs. Cornelia F. Bruce, Et. Al. ORDER FOR PUBLICATION. It is my desire that the Commission should thoroughly consider the whole project in its economic and national aspects, should solicit the views of the various sections of the community, should be able to express an opinion as to whether or not the project should be undertaken at the present time. If this judgment should be in the affirmative, then I wish the Commission to consider the formulation of such projects as might be submitted for international agreement on construction, finance and administration—all of which of course must be of a preliminary nature as a basis for formal negotiations with the Canadian Government, and obviously subject to the views of Congress.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY. JOY FOR WEeping.—His anger endureth but a moment: in his favour of life: weeping may endure for a night, but joy cometh in the morning. Psalm 30: 5.

ON THE LIFE OF MAN. Like to the falling of a star, Or as the flight of eagles are, Or like the fresh spring's gaudy hue, Or silver drops of morning dew, Or like a wind that chafes the food, Or bubbles which on water stand; Even such is man, whose borrowed light Is straight called in and paid to night. The wind blows out, the bubble dies, The spring entombed in autumn lies; The dew dries up, the star is shot, The flight is past—and man forgot.—Henry King.

Another Riddle About To Be Solved.

In the next few weeks the planet Mars is scheduled to come within thirty-five million miles of the earth. This is closer than it has been for more than seventeen years. Its average distance from the earth is over one hundred million miles. Its nearness to us will make it an object of study by many students of the stars and planets.

Perhaps astronomers will be able to make some new and important discoveries regarding Mars. Perhaps radio experts will be able to get in communication with the Martians, if there are any. Developments along this line will be awaited with much interest by millions of people here on the earth. The next few weeks may tell us definitely whether or not there really are inhabitants on Mars and if there are, something about them and the conditions there.

It was in 1877 that the Italian astronomer Schiaparelli discovered what is believed to be canals on Mars. These canals are believed to have been constructed by the Martians for the purpose of irrigating their lands with water from the melted snow and ice from the poles. Other astronomers say that what is thought to be canals are the strips of vegetation on the sides of the canals and point out that it would be hardly possible for narrow strips of water to be visible at this distance.

There are those who say that Mars is an older planet than the earth and is peopled with a more intellectual type than is the planet on which we are living. Being a much smaller world than the earth it is said to have aged more rapidly and possibly presents at this time the stage to which the earth will come in ages yet far off. If it is an older planet and if it is inhabited, which many doubt, its people ought to be far ahead of us in knowledge. But everything is uncertain and is guesswork. We actually don't know much about Mars.

Many are waiting expectantly for further light on the subject and in all probability press dispatches will soon be telling of the observations by the earth's great astronomers and of the tests made by radio experts to get in touch with Mars' inhabitants.

The riddle of Mars may be about to be solved and we may soon know a lot more about our neighbor.

Try Walking For A Change

How many business men in Sanford walk to their offices in the morning? How many find it necessary to dash down to work in their cars?

The average American doesn't walk enough to keep in good physical condition. The lack of exercise has had much to do with the physical condition of the business men of today. The invention of the automobile has made walking almost an unknown science. Today the business man jumps in his car to go just a few blocks. A walk of a mile or two would almost kill the average office worker. We don't walk enough for our own good.

The twentieth century business man as a rule has a habit of spending the early morning hours in bed, arising at the latest moment and then jumping up with a rush, scrambling hurriedly into his clothes, grabbing a hasty breakfast and then dashing madly in his car to the store or office to start the day's work.

The best part of the day is missed by the man who sleeps late. He doesn't stop to think about the joys he is missing while enjoying the comfort of his bed. He, who stays in bed until the sun has been up several hours, fails to get all he should out of life. He sleeps away the finest time of the day. The early morning, fresh and invigorating should inspire one to greater efforts and achievements.

Walking to work would bring with it the benefits of the early morning hours. The business man who gets out of bed a little earlier and then dresses slowly, enjoys his breakfast because he doesn't have to rush, and then walks briskly to the day's work arrives at his office with greater energy and a clearer brain and the day's tasks seem easier.

Lock your car in the garage for a day and try the walking stunt. It might prove worth-while to you.

THE APEX OF RENTS

TAMPA TIMES

Rents for houses and apartments have stabilized—stopped rising—in three-fourths of the principal American cities. This is the belief of the national association of real estate boards, after a check-up, it accordingly notifies its members.

In 16 out of every 100 cities, the check-up showed rents are dropping. They're rising in only 10 out of every 100 cities. This, however, may be only a temporary situation, not permanent. Queer things may happen in prices before long, rents included.

In May, 1920, after a long period of inflation, prices crashed and brought hard times. Or hard times came and made prices drop. Whichever you prefer. It's like the historic debate as to which came first, egg or chicken.

Then property slowly returned and prices started rising. Economists announced that a "secondary period of inflation" had started, running true to historical precedent. When this secondary price inflation runs its course, prices will sag again—if history repeats.

The tendency of prices, through the centuries, is to travel in cycles of about 50 years apiece. Prices rise for roughly 20 years. They fall for 30 years. They don't fall steadily. Instead, they zig-zag up and down—much like the teeth of a saw placed at an inclined angle.

Up and down, up and down—gradually sinking to normal. That's what happened after the Napoleonic and American Civil wars. Changed conditions may (or may not) prevent a return to normal. For instance, our country's tremendous gold holdings, Gold tends to keep prices up. No one knows the future. One guess is as good as another.

The real estate association reports that in cities of 25,000 to 100,000 population, rents now average $15 a room for a month in the best structures in the most desirable locations. Half-way grade of accommodations averages $10 a room. The bottom-average rents for $4 a room.

In cities of 250,000 population and over, monthly rent ranges from $25 a room down to $5, with $10 a room for second-grade housing. There's not much for rent between the $25 and $10 grades. The real estate association says this is because anyone who can afford more than $10 a room is satisfied only with the very best.

Apparently the only thing that can drive rents down is building as many homes as are needed. The housing shortage sits in with us, though vanishing steadily.

stopped on a stroll to watch a job of street repaving. A housekeeper placed large platter of corned beef and cabbage—a combination affectionately known in New York as "Red Mike"—on a front window ledge of her tenement. The ledge had a slant to it. The latter slid off and descending, had struck the Irishman bystander squarely on the head, bruising his scalp and covering him with the contents of the heavy dish.

He gave a loud cry of pain and astonishment and sank to the sidewalk. He was not badly hurt but he had suffered a severe shock. As sympathetic onlookers lifted him to a sitting posture the Scotch patrolman raised up alongside and took the light.

"Well," he said, "I wanted the all Irishman were fond of corned beef and cabbage, but I never saw the first one I ever seen accept our own identity."

Bonus Vetoed, Odds Drop. William Sunday Will Get Well. Col. Hayward or Dr. Butler. Rat Bites a Baby. Copyright, 1924

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE has vetoed the soldiers' bonus bill. Wall Street believed that President Coolidge would veto it and is glad it is vetoed, for Wall Street doesn't like the idea of more taxes. Wall Street also has common sense and knows that the veto will cost the president hundreds of thousands of votes. That's why Wall Street is betting on Coolidge less enthusiastically than a week ago. The odds have dropped to 5 to 3.

SICK OR WELL, Billy Sunday works in his own way, even quotes the Bible his own way. On his way to the Mayo Brothers' Hospital he tells reporters "The Lord is my Shepherd—I should worry."

The last three words may shock the orthodox but Billy Sunday has a spirit that will get him out of the hospital and back into the fighting ring.

DR. BUTLER, president of Columbia University, may be a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor of New York. He will undoubtedly have to compete with Col. Hayward, with his splendid war record and his effective work as federal district attorney in New York. If these two men fight for the nomination it will be interesting, since Dr. Butler is absolutely wet and Col. Hayward absolutely dry.

A LITTLE NORTH of the White House, where foreign ambassadors dwell, the Church of Jesus, Church of Latter Day Saints, generally known as the Mormon Church, will build a church. This republic knows little about the Mormon Church, that its great courage and energy conquered the desert, the unknown west and its early hardships. The church has abandoned polygamy, which its early fathers thought necessary—perhaps because of the necessity of quickly increasing population.

IT HAS GIVEN UP polygamy. The Mormon Church has not changed more than some other churches of modern times. Many have given up belief in the devil, once considered a necessary stimulant. Others have given up belief in miracles, and others still, calling themselves Christians, have given up the idea that the founder of Christianity was anything more than a mere man like themselves. Religion sometimes reminds you of the shell of a seven-year locust, which looks very much like a locust although the locust isn't in it any more.

THE CRAZY QUILT

SAME OLD LODGE

MIAMI DAILY NEWS

The proposal of Senator Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts to tear up the existing International Court of Justice and create a new judicial body at The Hague, does not deserve to be taken seriously. There is a text to be found in the conduct of a mischievous, malignant old man, soured by a variety of unfortunate human frailties that have prevented a scholar from being of any worth-while service to his country.

Lodge is not playing a new role. He is simply following the course which he adopted years ago. In a sense, his present behavior is the worst in his career, because he is now dealing with a question which concerns not alone the people of this country, but of all the world. In this respect, he is simply outdoing himself. He has tormented the secretaries of state for a generation. Even so quiet and peaceful a person as John Hay was irritated by Lodge, during Mr. Hay's incumbency in the state department that he threatened to resign. The patient McKinley was irritated beyond words. Grover Cleveland and his premier, the distinguished Richard Olney, were irritated with the intolerant and always obstructive behavior of Lodge. Roosevelt, who was as close a friend to the Bay State autocrat as anyone else, if it can be said he has a friend, has left in his papers his recorded impatience with the man who always insisted upon having his own way, regardless of the sentiment, either of the country or of the senate.

Lodge's chief trouble consists of his being an intellectual snob. Someone a long while ago dealt with a family trait when he said that the Calhouns and the Lodges seemed to believe that the only confidence which the Almighty maintained with anyone living on this earth, was with them.

DISHONEST CONTAINERS

PALATKA NEWS

Nearing its close the strawberry season is seeing some very unfair methods used in the packing of the small boxes that are being offered for sale at all markets and groceries. The top of each box is made extremely attractive by the splendid layers, placed with extreme excess, with each berry of a goodly size, and the second layer, while not as good as the first, is not half bad. Beneath those there is a massed-up assortment of fruit, some nearly ripe and some decidedly green, of all sizes down to as small as the kernel of a peanut. It is a case of deception upon the part of the packer, and it is seldom that there is an order for a second box.

It is not that the berries are not worth the money for which they sell. When the work of culture and care and picking and boxing and crating are all taken into consideration none will say the berries are not worth the price paid. That is not the point at issue. If there should be made two grades of the boxes, one of the large size and in other of the mixed assortment, with two prices, the buyer would feel assured of what he was getting; as it is now, buying, possibly, for some special guests and understanding that the box will run true to form, there is a certain disgust upon emptying the container to note that three-fourths of the berries are not fit for the purpose for which they were secured. It would be better if the berries should be packed with the tiny ones upon the upper layer.

Deception never pays for any extensive period. It is too late in the season to make a cry against the present practice which occurs at the season and but there should be a determination upon the part of the grower and shipper to avoid such work another year. The buyer of a box of strawberries should find that the berries are as good as the ones which were secured at a very price.

Woodrow Wilson was not diplomatic with Lodge. The plain truth is that Wilson felt and revealed an absolute contempt for the man. The interests of humanity might have been conserved if Mr. Wilson had practiced some diplomacy with Lodge, but this does not detract from the fact that Lodge believed that he is always right, and that everyone else who differs from him is wrong. In other words, in his concept of things he is the repository of the American nucleus of both patriotism and intelligence. It matters not to Lodge that so distinguished a jurist as Elihu Root created that part of the International Court's scheme to which Lodge objects; namely, the method of electing its judges. It is of no importance to Lodge that the mode of election has been the one thing which has prevented the creation of such a court for over a hundred years. It is of no moment to Lodge that upon this vexed question of procedure the nations of the earth finally agreed after Mr. Root had pointed the way to a single solution of what had been a trying problem. Of course Lodge could easily see how the international statement could all be wrong, and he alone right. One sometimes wonders whether Lodge is utterly without the power of introspection. Certainly he never sees himself as others do.

Partisan Republicans no longer attempt to defend him, and no administration in the future will embark upon the hazardous enterprise of following his devious courses. If it is in the eternal scheme of things that evil temptation is introduced as a useful element to advance public growth by resistance, then it can be easily seen that Henry Cabot Lodge is the present representative on this mundane sphere of the devil himself.

Liberty Bell Now On Wheels For Safety

PHILADELPHIA, May 19.—The Liberty Bell, emblem of American independence, has been effectually safeguarded by being mounted on wheels for quick removal from Independence Hall in case of fire.

The bell, according to the regulations worked out by the fire department in the building to be removed if fire breaks out. The guards have been trained by repeated drills in the rapid moving of the chime.

In order to make doubly certain that no fire can break out in the building, a fixed rule prohibits placing of any rubbish in the basement. The heating plant has been removed to a specially built cellar apart from the hall. Installation of an automatic sprinkling system is under way.

Philippine Labor May Become Great Menace Says Mission Official

HONOLULU, May 19.—Unless means are devised to instruct Filipinos, a large number of whom have been brought to Hawaii by the sugar planters' associations, in American standards and customs, the territory will face a menace such as no other community has encountered, H. W. Metcalf superintendent of the Filipino center of the Hawaiian Board of Missions, has told the Chamber of Commerce.

Failure to take action previously along these lines is the direct cause of the present strike of some Filipino plantation laborers, Mr. Metcalf said. The only way to control the large Filipino population would be largely through Filipino leadership, and Filipinos should be trained for this purpose, he continued.

"In this way it would be possible to produce Filipino leaders who would understand the customs, ideals and practices of the country in which they live. When it is considered that the life of Filipinos in their homeland is entirely different in every respect from their existence here, it is a marvel to me these men have adapted themselves to local conditions as well as they have."

Mr. Metcalf said that the Filipinos now compose the second largest racial group in the territory, being led only by the Japanese.

New Kingdom Is Soon To Crown Its Rulers

BELGRADE, May 19.—Elaborate preparations are being made both here and at Zagreb, the Croatian capital, for the anointing and crowning of King Alexander and Queen Marie as king and queen of the Kingdom of the Serbs, Croats and Slovenes, which will take place this summer.

The monastery of Gitcha is being restored for the purpose. The ceremony will follow the Serbian precedents, but several features will be adopted from the ancient coronation of the Croatian kings, before Croatia became an appanage of the house of Hapsburg.

The foreign guests at the coronation will be a sharp reminder of the changes in the royal families that have occurred as a result of the world war. But the house of Hohenzollern will be represented by the Serbian prince, which is reigning in Rumania, Queen Marie of Serbia is a daughter of Queen Marie of Rumania.

One of the deposed kings who will attend the ceremony, on the ground of relationship to Queen Marie of Serbia, is ex-King George of Greece, who is married to Queen Marie's sister, ex-Queen Elizabeth. Thus the family of Marie of Rumania, called the "Mother-in-Law" of the Balkans, will be represented at the ceremony by two reigning and one deposed king.

A Balkan sovereign who will not take part in the festivities will be Boris, king of the Bulgarians. It is extremely unlikely that Boris, reigning over a defeated people, will be asked to mingle with the conquerors, each of whom now holds territory that belonged to Bulgaria before the war.

The event will be made all the more notable because it will mark the thousandth anniversary of the first kingdom of Croatia. The week end guest of Frederick Bell is Frank Fitzgerald of Daytona Beach.

Flier's Air Progress Is Watched by Mother

STOCKHOLM, May 19.—Sweden's greatest booster for the success of the American round the world flight is a little white-haired old lady in Stockholm, who may be seen any day sitting in an avalanche of newspapers, with a pair of scissors in her hands, and a map of the projected route on the table. Late editions of the dailies come to her home as soon as they are off the press, and she scans the cable columns for every scrap of news of the airman and the progress of her undertaking.

At times her eyes grow big with apprehension, but more often they sparkle with vivid satisfaction. It is because the high adventure is hers, too. She is the mother of Lieut. Erik Nelson, the engineer officer of the American round-the-world flight.

"We expected Erik to become a sea captain," says the white-haired lady, "but we never dreamed that he would take to the air." Then she tells how Erik in his teens went to sea for a number of years in Swedish and British ships, and how once in a storm off Cape Horn he dived overboard to rescue the mate who had been swept into the sea.

"If he comes back next Christmas," said Mrs. Nelson, with the light of mother love in her eyes, "he will see that I had my eye on him all the time he was flying around the world."

Lieut. Nelson went to the United States 15 years ago.

FORT PIERCE, May 19.—Ten carloads of tomatoes are being shipped from this (St. Lucie) county daily, with the season in full swing. It is estimated that upwards of 150 carloads have been shipped to date since the season opened. Hundreds of pickers and packers are busy engaged daily in the industry. Prices thus far have ranged from $5 to $8 a crate.

Growth of State's Schools Is Noted In Recent Reports
Central Florida Council Stands at Head of Region With Increase of 128% Since January 1.
Amory Blinn.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., May 19.—Steady and consistent growth in Florida's schools is shown by statistical tables compiled by the state superintendent of public instruction for the next biennial report. The figures, which have just been completed and are now being put in shape for the next report, show marked progress during the year ending June 30, 1923.

The enrollment for the month ending on that date was 251,078, which represents an increase over the enrollment of the preceding year of 13,310. The average attendance was 188,998, an increase of 8,341. The number of teachers employed was 7,756, an increase over the preceding year of 658.

The number of pupils enrolled in the high school grades was 29,308, an increase of nearly 3,000. (The total enrollment in high school grades five years ago was only 5,614.)

Local Ball Team Will Practice Regularly

If there are baseball players in Sanford who have not tried out for the local team, Manager Whilden of the Celery Reds asks that they come out and see what they can do. He stated this morning that recruits are needed badly so that the weak places in the team may be strengthened.

The team practices every afternoon between 6 and 7 o'clock at the Ninth Street Park. The team needs new material and the manager has expressed hope that a large number of new candidates will be out from now on. He says to come out and make your home team a winning team.

On a business trip to Sanford on Friday was George H. Muffat, Jr., of Orlando.

What Coral Gables Means to You

CORAL GABLES represents today the foremost successful attempt to create a distinctive residential property on one masterly, unified plan. Not a colony or community—more than a suburb—a city in reality, conceived and accomplished along lines skillfully related to site, design and climate—with all of the charm and beauty of setting possible only in tropical Florida.

Notable architectural features make Coral Gables distinctive. Three magnificent entrances are completed and two more to be built; seven plazas with stately arches, pergolas and cloistered walls bowered in bougainvillias, venusta and thunbergia, are already built and a dozen more will be erected; hundreds of charming homes surrounded by palms, pines and fruit groves; and a business section with twenty-five commercial homes as distinctive as its residential section.

One golf course and clubhouse have been in use for more than a year; and another and larger course and clubhouse are now under construction; tennis courts, baseball and playgrounds, bridle paths, open air bathing and other wholesome recreations to pile high the joy of living.

In less than three years Coral Gables has matured in beauty and finished development into the proud position of the most beautiful of southern residential suburbs. The scope and beauty of its improvements have attracted country-wide attention. It flashes brilliantly upon the jaded eyes of all-year-round living in Florida.

One of the greatest features of the development at Coral Gables has been the building of high-grade homes. It boasts of over five hundred of these distinctive residences, all of them of native stone or stucco; each designed by leading Miami architects in Spanish, Moorish or closely allied designs.

Coral Gables also offers by reason of its extraordinary growth and development rich opportunities for investment. Land values here have increased from 200 to 400 percent within the last three years. A buyer of today has every assurance of even a greater increase within the next year or two.
