and a breeze kept the frost from forming. He advised more tender tropical plants should be protected again tonight by bringing them inside or covering them up. He suggested that the sheet covering them go all the way to the ground to hold in the heat. Sanford Port Authority reported a low temperature of only 31 degrees last night, but the thermometer on the Atlantic Bank building in downtown Sanford made it 29. A "good looking" barometer reading of 30.24 and steady at 8 a.m. prompted a forecast from the Port weather bureau of possibly 10 degrees higher tonight with a warming trend Wednesday.

There was one reservation: a north wind "blowing right down our teeth at 12 mph." A low of 23 was reported in Pensacola and Crestview just before dawn, and the mercury dropped to 24 in Valparaiso and Milton.

In South Florida, Miami's temperature dropped to 46 degrees, Fort Lauderdale reported 44 and Fort Myers had a 40-degree reading.

Weathermen said cold weather could be expected again tonight and Wednesday morning with a chance of frost in north and central zones.

Leffler Raps County -- 'No Court Space'

In his letter, Leffler agreed that "part of the problem this week rests with inability of the judiciary to evenly schedule trials throughout the year." But Leffler said the "real problem" is that of inadequate facilities. At least one other courtroom is needed immediately, the judge said.

Kimbrough explained that he is meeting with an intermediary for the judiciary in an effort to solve the space problems. Early today, Kimbrough met with Sanford attorney Mack Cleveland, who is acting as an arbitrator for the Seminole County Bar Association on behalf of the

Jail Permit Flap: County Options

Interim County Attorney Gary Siegel today gave county commissioners three options on the matter of a construction permit for the 55-unit addition at the county jail in Sanford. Siegel said commissioners could: - BYPASS the county ordinance and issue the construction review the matter. The issue centers on jurisdiction. Sanford City Manager W.E. Knowles said the city would not issue the permit because city officials fear such action might involve them in future lawsuits that evolve from jail facilities.

- SEEK an opinion from Florida Atty. General Robert Shevin. - GET a court order and force city of Sanford officials to .

Under county ordinance, the commission is required to seek permission from the city before construction gets under way. On Monday, commission Chairman Dick Williams said he would recommend the county bypass the ordinance and issue the per-

Knowles agreed that was the best procedure for the county to follow. However, after hearing Siegel's recommendation this morning, the commission decided to seek an opinion from lawyers who are representing the county in litigation involving $7 million worth of lawsuits that resulted from last year's jail fire.

After officials have checked with the attorney for the county's insurance firm, Appalachian Insurance Company, Kwiatkowski said, the board will consider one of the three options presented by Siegel today.

Arab Terrorist Freed

After Protest To France

PARIS (AP) - A French court today freed Abu Daoud, the Palestinian leader who allegedly commanded the terrorist attack on the Israeli team at the 1972 Olympic Games in Munich. He had been detained in Paris Friday night

The court declared that West German and Israeli requests to keep him in jail pending possible extradition proceedings were unacceptable.

Abu Daoud had been driven under heavy guard from a Paris prison to the central courts for the hearing.

Lawyers for the French government argued that Abu Daoud's identity had not been clearly established. Daoud's lawyers contended he should be freed on grounds that he was on an official Palestinian mission in Paris when

Springs Votes Pct. Cut In Utility Taxes

By WILLIAM LEE HIDDEN Herald Correspondent

A one per cent tax cut from six per cent to five, was voted tentatively by the Winter Springs City Council in a public hearing Monday night. City council felt that recent utility rate increases have put a heavy burden on citizens to continue paying both their bills plus a six per cent tax levied against the total bill. The utility tax is placed not only on gas and electric, but water and sewage plus telephone bills for local calls.

Deputy Mayor John Daniels pointed out that an outdated clause in the final draft should be removed. The clause stated that the utility tax was not to exceed 35-100 of a dollar on each utility bill. Daniels said that this was done when the tax rate was at 10 per cent, but eliminated when the rate was lowered.

Daniels told council that the one per cent cut will mean approximately $13,800 less revenue for the city for 1977, but he added that known funds for this year will cover this reduction. Two residents expressed their concern over the far reaching effects of the decrease. They asked council that if revenue levels could not be met in the future, would it mean an increase in property tax to compensate.

While council could not make any promises, Mayor Troy Piland said that expected rate increases should compensate for the reduction. "With future increases in rates these funds will be returned to the city in subsequent years, and may actually bring the city more than a $13,000 return," according to Piland. Although the council passed the new ordinance, they must approve it again in a general council session before it will go into Mayor Piland reminded council that next Monday will be a workshop session to study a citywide garbage refuse plan. Piland said that they have a model ordinance from Dade City and also a letter from Delray Beach detailing its franchise plan. Piland said that all three Winter Springs' utility companies are willing to bill customers for refuse rates through their offices, should the city ic Advisers. adopt its final ordinance.

HUD $135,000 Pending For Sanford Program

By MARK WEINBERG Herald Staff Writer

Sanford developer William Austin, president of Austin Development Corp., has received preliminary agreement from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) to participate in a partially subsidized rent program. The HUD area office in Jacksonville has informed Austin that it would reserve $135,000 to assist low and lower-income tenants in paying rent for a 50-apartment development to be built on Celery Avenue. Within 30 days Austin will submit final plans to HUD. He hopes to begin construction within 90 days of HUD approval of the final plans, Austin said. The reservation was granted under the Housing Assistance Payments program of the 1974 Housing and Community Development Act, said Thomas Wilson III. executive director of the Sanford Housing

Under the program prospective tenants for the development, which will be called Sanford Villas, must be certified by the Sanford Housing Authority, Wilson said.

The federal money will make up the difference between the fair market rent of a given apartment and the rent charged to a low or lower-income tenant, based on that tenant's income and family size. This figure, Wilson said, is based on a federally determined formula.

The federal reservation of $135,000 will subsidize rents for one year, said Wilson, who added, "We have a severe housing crisis. Our waiting list for public housing is 3,000 families."

Sanford OKs Plan On Double Taxes

By MARK WEINBERG Herald Staff Writer

Sanford City Commission Monday night unanimously approved a three-part package to be proposed to the Seminole legislative delegation in February, which will request that cities and county government be required to discuss the issue of double taxation of city residents.

The approval came at a regular meeting of the City Commission. The commissioners also approved purchase of a mini-park and a sanitary landfill site on the city's western edge. A committee appointed by the legislative delegation recently found that taxes are levied on city dwellers for services denied by the county or given by the city of a large degree-double taxation - exists in 10 separate areas.

Casselberry Votes To Annex Deer Run The Casselberry City Council Monday night passed on first reading an ordinance annexing the 800-plus acres of Deer Run, as petitioned by Sterling Park Limited, despite questions of whether the annexation is tied to the purchase by the city of Eagle Utilities.

Although he voted for the ordinance on its first reading (before becoming effective a public hearing and a second reading must be held), Councilman Donald Willson asked if the annexation is contingent on the purchase by the city of Eagle Utilities.

The company has placed a $156,000 price tag on the utility which currently serves 192 customers. Council Chairman Nathan Van Meter said while the annexation is not contingent on the city purchase of the utility, the two matters are tied together.

Willson has indicated that it would be air, in his opinion, for the firm to give the utility to the city rather than requiring a purchase. Councilman Frank Schutte, while voting

John Sanders, representing the Sterling Park Homeowners Association said the organization has a deed to part of the land proposed in the annexation and that the annexation of the homeowners' land would create an enclave in the area in violation of state law.

City Attorney Kenneth McIntosh said the legal description of the property in the annexation ordinance had been certified as being owned wholly by Sterling Park Limited, but that it will be checked further. A public hearing on the annexation is scheduled for Monday night.

Van Meter said the hearing may be continued until the council has an opportunity to meet in workshop with the eer Run owners

Carter Faces Pension Dilemma

If President Ford submits a defense budget already trimmed from earlier projections, President-elect Carter will find it hard to follow through on his campaign pledge to find $5 billion to $7 billion in cuts. If ominous intelligence reports continue to pile up about the extent and significance of the Soviet military build-up, holding back defense spending will become even harder.

This could find the new President looking for soft spots in the 55 per cent of the military budget now going to personnel costs. Particularly, it could add steam to Rep. Les Aspin's drive to reform a military retirement system he regards as too generous.

Mr. Aspin tends toward over-kill in his attacks on defense costs, but his call for reform of the military pension structure cannot be dismissed out of hand. The system needs to be reexamined in the light of the upgrading of military salaries which has taken place with the advent of the all-volunteer armed services.

The problem is finding the right yardstick to judge what is fair and adequate in military pensions. Serving in the armed forces is unlike any other kind of employment, public or private.

Even in peacetime the military life can be one of frequent personal danger, long family separations, subservience to an aggravating but necessary "system," and a rootlessness that frustrates provisions for retirement. In emergencies and wartime, the serviceman is the civilian American's proxy in the face of an enemy and must obey orders that could cost him his life.

All of this needs to be considered when military nsions and other personnel benefits are compared with those of civilian employment. Nonetheless, Mr. Aspin and the House Armed Services Committee are addressing some legitimate questions.

The policy of not requiring military personnel to contribute toward their own retirement funds must be examined in the light of pay scales that are now closer to those in the civilian world. A tight defense budget also raises the question of whether military commissaries provide a benefit to service families that justifies their cost.

One principle should guide any exercise in military pension reform. The government should not go back on promises made to men and women now in the armed services - contracts stated or implied at the time of their enlistment. A deal is a deal, and reforms which would diminish retirement benefits or change the basic rules should apply only to military careers that begin in the future.

This means any savings that might result from the current review of personnel policies would be slow to have a major impact on defense budgets. If these benefits are part of the "waste" which Mr. Carter and incoming Defense Secretary Harold Brown hope to find in the budget, they should not set their hopes too high.

From the standpoint of what our service personnel deserve, and in terms of a timely effect on spending requirements, pensions and personnel benefits are among the less promising targets for savings in the immediate future.

Sparrow for more than two decades. But serious conflict-of-interest questions have been raised by a $82 million production contract awarded to Raytheon in November by the Navy on the strength of "impartial" tests conducted by the manufacturing company itself. Raytheon stands to win $700 million in business eventually from production of the new model of the Sparrow. The Sparrow incident is the sort of Pentagon bumbling that makes the nation's defense budget vulnerable to critics of the military. At a time when it is generally acknowledged that the Soviet Union is pulling away in military superiority, Pentagon planners should avoid the "shortcuts" that cloud the real lefense issue.

Kissinger Focused On Big Picture Even his harshest critics must agree that Henry Kissinger's place among this country's outstanding secretaries of state is assured. But even his staunchest admirers must concede that much of Kissinger's reputation rests less on actual accomplishment than on the appearance of it, or perhaps more accurately, the promise of it.

Henry Kissinger was no mere tinker or patcher in the field of international relations. He was a master builder, with an eye on the longrange future. Only history can judge his success in fashioning an enduring structure of world peace, balanced between the world's two giants, the United States and the Soviet Union. Perhaps we are too close to it to see it in its true perspective, but much of that structure, if not already crumbling, appears to be more facade than substance. What progress has been made in the Strategie

The Middle East, where Kissinger's skill as a JOHN CUNNIFF negotiator and go-between shone best, was probably the scene of his greatest triumph. Yet the realistic Israelis are not beating their breasts in contemplation of his imminent retirement.

At the beginning of each year, prognosticators and astrologers flood the media with their predictions about what lies in store for the weary world between now and December While not taking anything away from the star-gazers, it should be mentioned that forecasting upcoming events is not too difficult for anyone who has kept his EAr to the ground during the previous year. (Perhaps it is the hallucinations brought on by staying in that awkward position that compels one to take up forecasting in the first place.) All the fledgling prognosticator needs are a sheaf of newspaper clippings covering the past 12 months, a talent for extrapolating, and a standing reservation on an airliner to Seattle - in case anyone bothers to look back at his predictions and compare them with what really happened. JOHN D. LOFTON, JR. Eulogy Lets Killer Mao Off 'Free' WASHINGTON - Last year, when the head of Mainland China's Communist Party shuffled off this mortal coil to take his place in that Great Cave of Yenan in the Sky, I found a couple of the tributes to Chairman Mao exceptionally interesting, not so much because of what was mentioned but rather because of what was not mentioned.

At the risk of being accused of picking nits, the omission I found particularly fascinating was any reference to the chairman's chief claim to fame: that is, his being the all-time mass murderer.

(Indeed, in this category of endeavor, Chairman Mao fhands head and shoulders above the nearest competition, Adolph Hitler and Joseph Stalin. He is literally a world record holder. On page 397 of the "1976 Edition of the Guiness Book of World Records," under the heading "Greatest Mass Killings," we are told: "The greatest massacre in human history ever attributed to any nation is that of 26,300,000 Chinese during the regime of Mao Tse-tung between 1949 and May 1965." The GBWR cites further estimates of the number slaughtered. during Chairman Mao's reign, as ranging up to⁸ as high as almost 62 million.) But, when Sens. Hubert Humphrey, D.-Minn.,

Prosecutors said they hoped to close their case against the ex-showgirl and former wife of singer Andy Williams with a handful of witnesses today after calling 11 persons to the stand Monday.

Balky Sheriff Gets Jail

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Sheriff Richard Hongisto says he will appeal a five-day jail sentence for contempt of court, but adds that it is "a small price to pay" for his failure to evict tenants of a low-rent hotel. Superior Court Judge John Benson on Monday sentenced Hongisto and Undersheriff James Denman to five days in jail and $500 fines and ordered them to report to nearby San Mateo County Jail on Jan. 21. Hongisto said he hoped that by then the city would complete arrangements to buy the 137-year-old International Hotel, thus relieving him of the necessity of "going against my conscience" by evicting 60 to 80 aging Filipino and Chinese tenants from their $50-a-month rooms.

Carter, Advisors Confer

PLAINS, Ga. (AP) - President-elect Carter is scheduled to meet with his top-level foreign policy and defense advisers in his last pre-inaugural visit to Washington. Carter, who in recent days has been working on his inaugural address, is traveling to Washington today. He also has scheduled a series of telephone calls to foreign leaders to prepare the way for the visit of Vice President-elect Walter F. Mondale to Europe and Japan in the first week of the Carter administration.

Auto Loan Kickbacks Bared

WASHINGTON (AP) - If you bought a ca from a dealer who arranged the financing, you may have spent several hundred dollars more. in finance charges than you had to. The extra money went as a payment from the lending institution to the dealer in return for steering the business its way. Chairman Frank Annunzio, D-Ill., of the House consumer affairs subcommittee, said Monday in an interview that such payments "were under-the-table kickbacks" that "have cost consumers millions in the past few years.'

Labor Charges Carter Renig

WASHINGTON (AP) - Leaders of the AFL-CIO, who supported President-elect Carter's election bid, charge he has retreated from his campaign promises to reduce unemployment. They said Monday his two-year plan for a $23 billion to $30 billion economic program of economic stimulus "is too small, takes too long and is too ill-advised to give the economy the stimulus it needs." The labor federation. in a statement Monday, said it would push instead for a plan emphasizing direct job creation rather than tax cuts.

Death Prefered To 'No Legs'

NEW YORK (AP) — A 58-year-old derelict from Alabama who has said he'd rather "die with my legs on" than have them amputated to stop gangrene, has been told by a judge that he needn't have the operation. "I feel fine about it," a Roosevelt Hospital spokesman quoted Otis Simmons as saying when he heard of the ruling Monday by Manhattan Supreme Court Justice Hilda Schwartz.

Askew Busy In New York

NEW YORK (AP) - Gov. Reubin Askew, proclaiming Florida the "new land of economic opportunity," had a second round of meetings in New York today to try to woo Yankee business to the Sunshine State. Askew and a group of the state's leading businessmen planned calls on New York area firms which have indicated an interest in moving to Florida. Also on tap was a dinner at the Plaza Hotel where representatives from 69 foreign countries were invited to hear Askew extol the virtues of foreign expansion in Florida.

Clutching a ongratulatory card from President Ford on her 100th birthday, Mrs. Wilhelma Theresa Schaefer was the center of attraction at a birthday celebration Sunday at Sanford's Holiday Inn.

Born Jan. 9, 1887 in Franklinville, Md., Mrs. Schaefer is the sole survivor of 13 children. Shortly after she was orphaned at age 13, Minnie-T. (as she is affectionally known), went to work in a sewing factory in Baltimore, Md., where she was married and lived for about 80 years. She was vidowed in 1948.

Mrs. Schefer's life has been devoted mainly to the church. She taught the primary Sunday School class at Asquith Presbyterian Church (Baltimore) for 50 years and sang in the church choir for 45 years.

A Sanford family friend, Mrs. Ray Van Landingham, coordinated the celebration. Sharing the birthday fete with the honoree were friends and relatives from out of town, including 20 guests from Baltimore who spent the weekend in Sanford.

The honor guest's son said his mother had led an active life and was blessed with good health. He further confirmed that she was not keen on desserts. Laughing, Schaefer said "Mother has always preferred bread and butter to cake."

The consensus: No sports event creates sparks to match those that occur moments before two outstanding heavyweights enter the ring for a title fight. At the same time, it was agreed, there is no general sports spectacle that can bring lumps into the throats of strong men like the opening and closing pageantry of an Olympic Games.

Q. In reference to Ken Stabler, how can a quarterback with 26 touchdowns and a 65 per cent completion average and a team record of 13 and 1 end up being on the second team all-conference behind Bert Jones? - Britt Binns, Alamo, Calif.

In truth, a logical question. Actually, Stabler threw for 26 scores during the regular season and had a 66.7 completion average. But Jones of the Colts was also a most impressive, dynamic per-SEC rival Mississippi. former this past season who meant every bit as much to his team and had comparable statistics. I really can't quibble with choosing Bert on the basis of the regular season. Of course, since Ken has taken the Raiders a couple of steps further, to the Super Bowl, he merits special recognition. So does Fran Tarkenton.

Q. At Yankee Stadium in 1976, the top price for a baseball ticket and 9-2 overall. was $5.50. I had that price ticket and ended up sitting all the way down the left field line in the second deck. The question is, what percentage of the seats at Yankee Stadium went for the $5.50 price? — S.W., Reidsville, N.C. Of the 54,000 seats in refurbished Yankee Stadium, which no

Q. I agree with George Atkinson and Jack Tatum for not paying their fines because football is a rough sport. What do you think? M.R., Anaheim, Calif. That football is a rough sport - I agree. The Atkinson-Tatum cases are in the courts now. My personal opinion is that extra fines levied by the NFL were unwarranted. Officials on the scene right there should have taken steps to curb their hostile exuberance, if there was any, by throwing them out of the game. I don't believe in post-judgment by film.

The '84 Games won't be bid on until '78, but you can put it down as a likely bet that the site will be Tehran, Iran. Of course, the 1988 locale hasn't been decided either, but the general feeling seems to be that Nairobi, the capital of Kenya, will host those Games. Meanwhile, from Moscow, there remains the muddle over TV rights. The Russkis are asking for $50 million up front to buy sophisticated equipment, and anywhere from $100 million down for the TV rights. The three U.S. networks aren't buying - not when ABC got the Montreal TV rights for $25,000,000.

Q. What has been the biggest crowd at the Super Bowl until now? What will this year's crowd be like? - R.G., Oil City, Pa. Largest attendance to date was for Super Bowl VII at the Los Angeles Coliseum (Miami 14, Washington 7), where the throng numbered 90,182. - and is already sold out at $20 a head. Q. Has any major college or university ever finished as national champs in basketball and football in the same year? - Steve Estrada, Brea, Calif.

No. Of course, football doesn't have an official collegiate champ. But no school that topped the wire service polls has won the NCAA basketball crown in the same year. Ohio State, the cage champ in 1960, was 7-2 on the gridiron that year. Rutgers does claim a special feat for '76 - 11-0 in football and 26-0 during the regular season in basketball (though it lost two games in the NCAA cage playoffs).

Q. How many major league baseball clubs are going to increase ticket prices for next season? Do any claim that the high priced salaries are the cause? - R.R. Reidsville, N.C.

At the lastest count, 14 of the 26 major league teams have raised ticket prices for next season. They don't specifically attribute the raise to high salaries but bury it under the euphemism of "increased operating ocsts." Q. We know that Tony Dorsett led the nation in rushing for the eight of hearts and let it ride after East played low. Now he tried to get back to his hand with a diamond, but East ruffed for the third defensive trick. South still had to lose a club and his contract. Do you see where South made his blunder?

It was at trick two. He led the six of hearts from dummy. If he had led the eight when it came time to play that third trump from dummy he would have been leading the six. Then he could overtake with his seven, pluck East's last trump and chalk up the game.

Ask the lacoby A Mississippi reader asks what happens when the first defender fails to follow to the suit led by declarer, but discovers the error after dummy and the other defender have followed to the trick.

The answer is that the

Ranch Has No Right 'To Use 'Sky King' Name, Company Says

By MARYLIN TIPTON Herald Writer

Does Kirby Grant have the right to use the name 'Sky King" - for himself or for Sky King Youth Ranches of America Inc.? Grant says yes. A company which claims to own the name says no. In a statement dated October 4, 1976, signed by Grant and titled "Statement Regarding Use of Sky

King Name," Grant said: "August-1974. . . went before the board of Flying Crown Enterprises to ask for the use of the name SKY KING for the non-profit corporation. It was approved by the board. . . for some reason no record of this shows in the minutes, but a member of the board, Mr. Bill LaBree, was there and has agreed to testify that such permission was asked and gran-

"We kept first refusal rights on a new series," explained Boberg, "and if we wanted to name a cookie after Sky King we probably could. We protect everything." Boberg agreed with Flying Crown that Grant had released any rights he might ever have held to the name Sky King.

Speaking on behalf of Flying Crown, a board member added: "Flying Crown has never given approval to Sky King Youth Ranches of America , to use the name Sky King.

"One letter of intent was issued by Flying Crown, he continued, "for the Seminole All Youth Shelter. I was, you might say, an agreement to agree. But," he repeated, "Flying Crown has never agreed to allow the use of the name Sky King for the Sky King Youth The Florida Department of Social and Economic

Williams, Polk Off To D.C. County Battles For Jail $$

By ED PRICKETT Herald Staff Writer

protest today to President Ford and Secretary of Commerce Federal Economic Development Administration (FEDA) and earmarked for construction of a jail in Seminole County be restored. As Kelly's protest was being hand-carried to the President and Richardson, County Commission Chairman Dick Williams and Sheriff John Polk were scheduled to leave for Washington today to personally protest Tuesday's announcement by the federal government that a computer mixup has eliminated the funds earmarked for Seminole.

"Kelly is now attempting to reach the President, or someone at the White House to get the grant reinstated. The project for Seminole is justified on all accounts," said Kelly press aide Bill Purvis. Kelly, a Republican from Pasco County, is one of Seminole's representatives in the U.S. Congress.

At first federal officials said a computer mixup sent the grant to Pasco County, but Purvis said today Pasco is not scheduled to receive any $4-million-dollar grants to build a new jail. Instead, Purvis said officials now believe the funds earmarked ditional $2-billion to public works construction. "Hopefully, we for Seminole have been reallocated for the city of Miami, an area can get the grant back," Polk said. Purvis said has received more than its share of the federal public works construction money. Calling the misallocation an "unbelievable foulup," Purvis said projects.

the Federal Register last Dec. 23 listed Seminole as the grant recipient. Then on Dec. 29, Purvis said Kelly's office was notified that a computer printout had the $4.6-million slated for San Congressman Richard Kelly forwarded a "strongly worded" Antonio, a city in Pasco County. Kelly staffers checked with the Clliot Richardson asking that the $4.69 million federal grant received assurances that the error had been corrected and the money was indeed on its way to Seminole.

Then about 1 p.m. Tuesday, the sky fell on Seminole officials when Charles Oxley, FEDA administrator, called and informed county officials that Seminole won't get the grant.

"The Federal Register came out right," Purvis said. "Now, they're changing signals. We want to get it restored to what was nitially listed in the Federal Register." Williams said this morning he and the sheriff are scheduled to meet with members of the Florida delegation in Washington. "We're zooming right on out," the chairman declared. Meanwhile, Polk, who has the most to lose, said Rep. Bill Chappell, D-Ocala, will meet him and Williams at the airport in Washington

The sheriff also raised another new hope. He said President-elect Jimmy Carter has pledged an ad-
