TRANSPORTATION FAILED TURCK FARMERS LOSE CONDITIONS CHANGED

Tampa Times Correspondent Gives Story

BY WILL P. KENNEDY Washington Representative of The Tampa Times

Washington, D. C., March 28.—Encouragement to the truck farmers of the famous Manatee section of Florida, which moves more than 6,000 carloads of truck each season is given by C. C. Hutches of Bradenton, Fla., who is on his way home after having been at work over two weeks in New York and Washington in the interests of the vegetable growers of his state.

Mr. Hutches is satisfied that his trip has accomplished much of value to the growers, that it has prevented transportation congestion from getting worse, and that he has interested officials to such an extent that improvements in marked conditions is assured.

While he was in New York the running time on vegetable cars from Florida was notably shortened, as previous to that time few cars had reached the New York market in less than six days. While in Washington, Mr. Hutches was in conference with Sen. Park Trammell and Reps. Drane and Sears, in cooperation with whom he visited officials in the food administration and the department of agriculture.

Congestion at New York at pier No. 29 on the North River, which is the outlet for all extremely perishable food products is blamed by Mr. Hutches for the general delay delivery which has resulted in the loss of hundreds of carloads for more than two weeks endeavoring to have the situation at pier 29 relieved so as to facilitate the marketing of Florida truck and fruits, hundreds of carloads of which are now coming into the market.

It has been in New York as representative of the Manatee county vegetable growers who, he says, are threatened with bankruptcy as a result of inability this season to get record crops unloaded in the New York market before they have decayed in transit or while waiting at the terminal.

Mr. Hutches says that from Manatee county more than 6,000 carloads of truck goes into the market each season, and that its products generally command the best results and best prices in the market. The growers take pride in the fact that they have a reputation second to none east of the Mississippi for sending their product into the markets in fine condition and desire to maintain this reputation.

The Florida growers, besides losing thousands of dollars this season are so discouraged, Mr. Hutches said, that unless conditions are improved there is a serious probability that they will not plant as heavily next year when their food products will be needed more than ever.

The object of Mr. Hutches' trip to New York was to find why so many cars of produce reaching the market were reported decayed, with heavy losses to the shippers. He found that delays in transit had caused the garden stuff to become ruined or partly ruined between landing stations. Scarcity of labor caused many of these cars to remain loaded several days beyond the time when they should have been unloaded. He found that as many as a hundred cars at a time had thus been "carried over" one or two days. These cars all contained perishables which deteriorated every hour they remained unloaded. He found out also that the railroads were paying much lower wages than the laborers could get in any of the steamboat lines. This brought a lower grade of labor and the result was that service was inefficient and crates and boxes of vegetables were given rough handling. The breakage on packages was tremendous.

He found that the entire system of handling stuff at the pier which has been employed in former years had been knocked to pieces, so that even even after the vegetables had been unloaded the receivers were unable to find their stuff, as it was scattered here and there all over the pier.

Conditions at pier 29 have been so bad as to cause general congestion all along the line down into the growing section of Florida. Mr. Hutches said the truck farmers in his county have had plenty of cars, but that congestion at the delivery pier delayed carloads in transit. These delays on the road have caused heavy losses.

Mr. Hutches carried his complaint in Washington to the office of Director General of Railroads McAdoo, the food administration and the United States Bureau of Markets. In New York he made protests to Cyrus C. Miller, director of the bureau of transportation and distribution; Travis H. Whitney, public service commissioner, and James S. Harlan, of the Interstate Commerce Commission, who is a deputy to Mr. Whitney. All of these officials have promised to do their utmost to establish a better system of receiving at pier 29 so as to improve conditions generally between the growing section and the consuming market.

Changes look good for strenuous efforts to bring about an encouraging improvement, Mr. Hutches feels. He is confident all of these officials are doing their level best to make the service better. He predicts that important changes will be felt at the docks within a few days.

That 90 per cent of the cars that have gone loaded to New York with perishables have been a total or partial loss is the estimate made by Mr. Hutches. This loss has been due to delays which prevented proper icing. The icing stations are at four points, capable of providing for a four-day running schedule from Florida points to New York. The stations in Florida are at Bradenton and Palmetto. The running period this season has been anywhere from 6 to 14 days, and sometimes more than 20 days for loaded cars in transit. Under these circumstances a four-day icing schedule has been entirely inadequate. Practically all the cars which have reached New York on six-day time have showed fairly good condition, while those longer on the road were in bad shape.

Easter at Congregational Church "Realizing the Resurrection" will be the morning theme. Evening, "The Story of Easter" Mrs. Takach will sing in the morning accompanied by violin and French horn and the choir will provide the Easter anthem. Mrs. Geo. Hoy will sing in the evening. The morning services will be held at the usual hours according to the new time. Christian Endeavor will begin at 6:30 and evening service at 7:30.

"The Crucifixion"

The notable oratorio by Sir John Stainer was presented at the Congregational church last night by the Ladies' Chorus of the Woman's Club before a large and deeply appreciative audience. Under the direction of Mrs. Julius Takach the work had been under way for many weeks, and the fine rendition of the beautiful and impressive music is worthy of highest mention. The ladies were assisted by Messrs. Polk and Stok.

The presentation was a marked event of Holy Week, most creditable to Sanford, and it is indeed to be hoped that more such standard, high class productions will be given.

Death of Mrs. Banks

Mrs. J. L. Banks of Mellonville avenue passed away last night. She has been a sufferer for many years. The body was taken to Maitland for interment.

CATTLEMEN INTERESTED IN FLORIDA

See Great Future In This State For Cattle

Dr. W. F. Blackman of Lake Monroe, president of the Florida State Live Stock Association arrived here Tuesday night on his return from attending the Forty-second Annual Convention of the Cattle Raisers Association of Texas, in Dallas, March 19-21.

He went on invitation from that association to deliver an address, his subject being: "Cattle Raising in Florida, Conditions and Prospects." Accompanying Dr. Blackman on the trip were the following members of the Florida State Live Stock Association: Vice President Pat Johnston, Kissimmee; C. A. Carson, Jr., Kissimmee; E. L. Leslie, Kissimmee; U. A. Lightsey, Bartow; W. F. Ward, Riverside; C. L. Gaines and F. P. McConnell of Jacksonville.

Commenting upon the trip and meeting Dr. Blackman said: "We found a lot of Texas cattlemen who wanted to know about cattle raising conditions in this state. We had four nice rooms at the Southland Hotel and they let us put up an immense banner in the hotel lobby announcing that the Florida delegation were in rooms 200 to 224, which impressed upon the occupants of all these rooms except the ones we occupied that nearly every cattle owner in Texas wanted to find out about Florida.

"We gladly told them what we have here, although Texas has been drouth stricken for so long that many of them did not accept all we said as truth, for they do not believe there is any place in the world where stock get all the water they want.

"There was one session devoted to a meeting of cattlemen who want to push tick eradication work. Some of them are agitating a state-wide law. I made a few remarks at that meeting, telling them that Florida did not get started after the ticks until long after Texas and other states had begun, but that I was willing to challenge Texas to a race with Florida for the finish line and believed Florida would win by a wide margin of time.

"I am glad to know that Lake county has gotten their systematic tick eradication campaign started, and reports indicate Orange county will soon be added to the list of those doing the work. As I remarked at the recent meeting of the Sanford Board of Trade it looks like the cattle pound is going to be embraced in a very large area and some of my friends who have cattle on the range in Seminole county are going to have a lot of expense keeping their stock from straying across the boundary line.

"It will not surprise me to see a lot of the open range in Florida leased and fenced in the near future by some of the Texas cattle men, as some of them have visited this state and others will be here within a week or two. The Texas men have learned that open range is not the best method of handling cattle and they will fence up whatever land they lease in the state. Texas looks burned out and I cannot understand how cattle survive on the brown vegetation that is left."

Help the Orphans

We have received a letter from Mr. Marcus Fagg of Jacksonville, asking our aid for the orphans in the Children's Home.

The good people of Sanford last year at this time by their generous contributions enabled the children of the Grammar School to send the amount of seventy-three (73) dollars. We hope when they bring you their cards you will give them a dime with a smile, which will double the value of the coin, and help support a charity which deserves our help.

Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Schwartz left yesterday for Hendersonville, N. C., where they will remain some time before returning to their home in Chicago. The poor condition of the health of Mrs. Schwartz is responsible for their leaving earlier than usual.

ALL CLOCKS SET AHEAD ONE HOUR

Sunday Morning Designated By Government

Next Sunday morning the clocks will be set ahead one hour all over the United States in order that there be no mistake about it the act of congress is given below:

An act to save daylight and to provide standard time for the United States.

Be it enacted by the senate and Be it enacted by the senate and house of representatives of the United States of America in congress assembled, That, for the purpose of establishing the standard time of the United States, the territory of continental United States shall be divided into five zones in the manner hereinafter provided. The standard time of the first zone shall be based on the mean astronomical time of the 75th degree of longitude west from Greenwich; that of the second zone on the 90th degree; that of the third zone on the 105th degree; that of the fourth zone on the 120th degree; and that of the fifth zone, which shall include only Alaska, on the 150th degree. That the limits of each zone shall be defined by an order of the Interstate Commerce Commission, having regard for the convenience of commerce and the existing junction points of common carriers engaged in commerce between the several states and with foreign nations, and such order may be modified from time to time.

Sec. 2. That within the respective zones created under the authority hereof the standard time of the zone shall govern the movement of all common carriers engaged in commerce between the several states or between a state and any of the Territories of the United States, or between a state or the Territory of Alaska and any of the insular possessions of the United States or any foreign country. In all statutes, orders, rules and regulations relating to the time of performance of any act by any officer or department of the United States, whether in the legislative, executive, or judicial branches of the government, or relating to the time within which any rights shall accrue or determine, or within which any act shall or shall not be performed by any person subject to the jurisdiction of the United States standard time of the zone within which the act is to be performed.

That at two o'clock antemeridian of the last Sunday in March of each year the standard time of each zone shall be advanced one hour, and at two o'clock antemeridian of the last Sunday in October in each year the standard time of each zone shall be retarded one hour, to be returned to the mean astronomical time of the degree of longitude governing said zone, so that between the last Sunday in March at two o'clock antemeridian and the last Sunday in October at two o'clock antemeridian in each year the standard time in each zone shall be one hour in advance of the mean astronomical time of the degree of longitude governing each zone, respectively.

Sec. 4. That the standard time of the first zone shall be known and designated as United States Standard Eastern Time; that of the second zone shall be known and designated as United States Standard Central Time; that of the third shall be known and designated as United States Mountain Time; that of the fourth zone shall be known and designated as United States Standard Pacific Time; and that of the fifth shall be known and designated as United States Standard Alaska Time.

Sec. 5. That all acts and parts of acts in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

Approved March 19, 1918.

They Will Not Be Taken Now for the Army

The following communication is important: Gainesville, Fla., Mar. 21, 1918 To County Agents:

GERMANY CHANGES HER PLAN OF OPERATION AND TURNS TO THE CHANNEL

Huns Are Being Held And Situation Better

At the request of Dr. Bradford Knapp, I wish to call your attention to the statement from Provost Marshal General Crowder on page 2 of the Official Bulletin of Tuesday, March 12, 1918, with regard to men in Class 1 engaged in Agriculture, especially to the following paragraph:

"There are difficulties confronting the nation in the supply of labor appurtenant to Agriculture. Class 1, from which new levies are to be withdrawn will contain many more men than are at present required for the army. It would be a most unscientific and fatuous step if the men in Class 1 were called indiscriminately without regard to the labor situation in agriculture. Therefore, the local boards will be directed to fill their quotas in the order of liability of men in Class 1 as determined by the national drawing, except that where it is shown that a registrant is completely and assiduously engaged in the planting, cultivating or reaping of a crop, his call to the colors shall be deferred to the foot of the quota of his board as long as he continues to be so engaged. Whenever any registrant, whose call to the colors has been deferred by reason of his engagement in agriculture is shown to have been idle on the farm on which he is engaged or to have trifled with the deferment that has been accorded him, the boards will forthwith induct him into military service if his order number has been reached in the meantime. The effect of this expedient is to grant furloughs from service prior to actual call to the colors to the men so greatly needed in the production of this year's crop.

This is not, however, the only expedient that is to be adopted to supply of labor appurtenant to agriculture and to mobilize all means for increasing the harvest for the agricultural season of 1918. There is now pending before congress a bill authorizing the Secretary of War to grant furloughs, with or without pay to men in the army to enable them to engage in industrial and agricultural pursuits. The purpose of this bill is to relieve serious situations in particular in which men who are the main stay of farms that have been induced into the service either through voluntary enlistment or selection and whose services during the present emergency in agriculture are needed. These will be granted after consideration of the circumstances of the individual case, in which they arise and when the military situation is such that they can be granted without too great disruption and disorganization of the army or of any particular organization of the army."

The Furlough Law referred to above has been signed by the President.

This information ought to be published in every country newspaper and men in Class 1 who are engaged in agriculture ought to be advised to continue in productive agriculture as indicated.

Yours very truly, P. H. Rolfs, Director.

Easter Music at the Temple

Rev. M. H. Massey of the First Baptist church and Choir Leader Miss Davis have arranged a splendid musical program for Easter Sunday at the Temple. This program will be rendered by the Temple choir. Mr. Massey has prepared two good sermons for both the morning and evening hours. Services will begin at 11 o'clock a. m. and 7:30 p. m., according to UNITED STATES time.

A bulletin entitled "Beautifying the Home Grounds" tells how to plan lawns, walks, drives, and how to select trees, shrubs and vines. Another bulletin entitled "The Use of Paint on the Farm" tells what judicious use of paint will do to save property and add to the beauty of home surroundings. Send to the Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., or to your congressman for copies.

Striking with almost unexampled fury against the allied front near where the French and British lines connect, the Germans yesterday and last night drove in a deep wedge to the west and forced the French out of Mont Didler. This town which lies 19 miles east of Amiens, one of the German objectives is 10 miles west of Roye, which the Germans took Tuesday.

The threat against Amiens in the north seems to be well held by the British on the front north of the Somme where they have maintained their line firmly at all points and even as indicated by today's official statement, have advanced it in places.

In the Noyon and Lassigny regions and along the Oise to the east the French are likewise preventing the Germans from getting an opening. The force of their drive was thus diverted to the west of the Roye region and the forward push there developed probably the fiercest fighting in the present battle. Paris says the fighting was of unheard of ferocity. The French, however fought bravely and made the Germans pay dearly for every bit of ground taken in their desperate push for an outlet, the French finally retiring in good order to the heights to the west of Mont Didler.

News dispatches from the front this morning reported the line in this section to be holding well.

While this effort to drive in between the French and British armies was being carried out in the south the Germans, apparently worried by the silent they were creating and wishing to perfect their right wing from a flanking attack have developed a threat on the extreme north of the present front in the region east of Arras. London reports the beginning this morning of a heavy bombardment on the British line in this sector followed by the development of an attack.

The possibility is not lost sight of that this attack so far north may herald the extension of the fighting front all along the lines to the north in the development of a German push for channel ports. Seemingly however, the enemy has all he can take care of in the way of opposition in the present field of the offensive and the probability points to the Arras threat proving a protective rather than a new offensive measure.

Meanwhile the German line is being extended to an apparently dangerous extent on the southern front, where a flanking operation has been pointed to as most likely to prove effective.

Checked all along the front of 50 miles except at two points the German drive is fast slowing up. The beginning of the second week of the great battle was opened with probably the most colossal attack in history and continues with the most intense fighting, finds the British and French holding tenaciously to the western edge of the old Somme battlefield, while inflicting further losses upon the enemy.

British counter attacks have begun in the region of Albert which the Germans hold, but from which they have been unable to advance because of the resistance of the British who doggedly repulsed enemy attacks all day Wednesday. South of Albert Field Marshal Haig has carried out several counter attacks and has advanced his line east between the Somme and Ancre about one mile. South of the Somme the British have gained Proyart and have repulsed strong attacks at Roisieres.

CREWS CRAZED BY SUFFERING

U-Boat Victims Lick Boats for Moisture and Seek Death in Sea.

TELL TALES OF PLUCKY DEEDS

Heroic Acts of Officers and Men Belonging to All Branches of Sea Services, Naval and Mercantile.

London.—Much has been written about the hardships endured by the crews of vessels sunk by German submarines. Here are some particulars dealing with the plucky deeds performed by officers and men belonging to all branches of the sea services, naval and mercantile.

The first case is that of a passenger steamer which had been torpedoed on a Monday, without warning, as usual, in the Atlantic, 320 miles from land. The chief officer took charge of No. 2 lifeboat, which had on board 31 persons, including two women and a baby four months old.

Bad weather prevailed all that day and throughout the night, increasing the plight of the miserable people. Provisions, too, were scarce, but what existed was taken charge of by the chief officer, who doled out half a dipper (half-pint) of water to each person eight and morning.

They had been barely twenty-four hours in the boat when the horrors of the situation were added to by madness. On the Tuesday the cook lost his reason, and on the Wednesday he died. That night witnessed the insanity of the storekeeper, who had to be lashed down. On Thursday he too died. On Friday an A. B. expired.

Water Begins to Get Low.
The water was now beginning to give out and the boat's company suffered from intense thirst. A fireman was found dead in the bottom of the boat on Saturday morning, and the third-class pantry boy died during the day.

On Sunday the cattleman tried to jump overboard three times, and succeeded at the fourth attempt. The survivors were in too feeble a state to save him, although they turned the boat round and searched for him. The water gave out on Sunday.

There were occasional showers of rain, but everything was saturated with salt, and the little water they got was undrinkable. They licked the woodwork, hoping to gather up the raindrops.

Then they broke up the water keg, and licked the inside, which they found saturated with moisture, and delicious. At 8 p. m. on Monday land was sighted, but it was a long way off, and by the time they drew near darkness and a heavy northerly swell made a landing impossible. They lay to, and during a squall their mast carried away at the heel, but that did not matter much, for it acted as a sea anchor.

At daylight on Tuesday they were sighted by a couple of fishing boats, which towed them into port. The baby lived for some time after being landed. The linen keeper died as he was being lifted from the boat. Two of the crew refused to leave the boat, having gone mad. A trimmer died from gangrene two weeks later.

The chief officer remarked: "I would like to testify to the excellent behavior of the boat's crew throughout our period of eight days' hardship and exposure."

The second case deals with a British oil whip which had been torpedoed without warning. The torpedo struck it between the two forward tanks, and it was burning furiously. Its engines were still running, because it had been impossible to reach the engine room after the explosion on account of the heat. Visible for miles through the darkness, it looked like some fiery pennant flung across the face of the night. All the holds had caught and a continuous stream of oil kept feeding the fire.

Crouched up in the peak, which was the only part not yet alight, were about thirty Chinese, all who remained of the crew. Death by fire or by water was only a matter of time; that seemed to be a certainty.

Sighted by Patrol Boat.
The lieutenant in command of a patrol vessel saw a ragged sheet of flame and altered course forthwith. To extinguish the flames was impossible, and the rescue of the survivors in the oiler's peak, but there was no more life.

He ran his vessel close past the oiler's stem and as she passed rafts lifeboats and lifebuoys were pitched overboard by the crew of the patrol ship. The Chinese were told to jump overboard. This was repeated three times. By that time all boats had been lowered to pick up the men in the water.

There now remained nine men in the oiler's peak, but there was no more life-saving apparatus on board the patrol vessel. The lieutenant decided it was necessary to place himself alongside the ship and take off the remainder of the crew. A speed of eight knots being maintained, this was done. They remained alongside, lashed to the steamer's windward bow, for a period sufficient for all nine men to lower themselves on board this ship, which sustained slight superficial damage to guard rails and upper-deck fittings. Ten minutes after clearing the steamer she was burned to the water line.

THE SACRIFICE

By Harold Crawford Stearns of The Vigilantes.
If you should hear earth moan, and fall to heed;
If you should turn your back on writhing pain;
If you should close your eyes when nations bleed,
You would be one with Cain.
Although you give your riches to the state,
Although you yield your body, clean and whole,
You shall receive a dim reward from fate—
You must present your soul!

MAN POWER OF HUNS

Germany's Full Strength Is Now 5,500,000 Men.

3,130,000 Are on Various Fronts, the Remainder Are Guarding Neutral Frontiers.

Paris.—The Echo de Paris, referring to the distribution of enemy forces on the different fronts, says:

"On the Franco-British front there have been for several months past 152 German divisions, of which 54 were opposed by the British and the remainder by the French. Following the recent British offensive at Cambrai, this proportion was modified. There are now exactly 154 divisions on the Franco-British front, each comprising about 5,850 bayonets, and including artillery, engineers, etc., or about 12,000 men in all, thus giving about 2,000,000 German combatants on the Franco-British front.

"In view of the uncertainty of what Russian anarchy has in store for them, the Germans have left about a million men on the Russo-Romanian front. As a matter of fact, the movements effected have resulted not in a diminution of the number of fighting units on this front, but in their quality.

"On the Italian front Germany has sent to the assistance of the 45 Austrian divisions only seven divisions, or about 100,000 men.

"On the Balkan front she has sent only 30,000 combatants to reinforce the Turks and Bulgarians. In Asia Germany has restricted her help to furnishing general staffs.

"Consequently Germany, whose total strength is 5,500,000 men, has on the various fronts 3,130,000 men, the remainder being required for guarding the Swiss and Dutch frontiers and for the occupation of the invaded territories."

HIRSUTE CONSERVATION LATEST WAR MEASURE

Los Angeles, Cal.—Conservation of whiskers is the latest war-time measure advocated here. If every man and youth would refrain from getting a haircut and shave for a month, mathematicians figure something like $5,000,000 would be saved in labor, time, rent, electricity and gas.

This, however, admittedly would be hard on the barber and the opposition of the ladies to a month's growth of picturesque hirsute adornments on head and husband is insurmountable.

AUNT ELMIE

By MILDRED WHITE.

(Copyright, 1918, Western Newspaper Union.)

Mrs. Pascal T. Perkins sat looking from the telephone in her hand to the two waiting faces of her daughters.

"What is it, mother?" Gwendoline inquired; this hesitation upon her parent's part bored her.

"If you have anything of importance to tell us, mother," the second daughter suggested, "why not do so?"

Thus encouraged, Mrs. Perkins let forth her grievance. "Anything to tell you?" she burst out, "I should think I have. And there is no way to forestall the embarrassment of the situation. Your Aunt Elma—Elmie, they used to pronounce it in the country—wires that she is coming to visit us and will be here on the evening train, so she is on her way now, and no preventing message could reach her. Coming, too, just at the time when we are desirous of making a favorable impression upon Reid Whitehall. I am sure his attentions to you have been pronounced of late, Gwendoline, and he is so particular concerning family lineage. What will his elegant sister think of our backwoods relation? For your father's people never could be kept in the background as I have heard, and this girl—"

"Just what do you know about her mother," Gwendoline interrupted.

"Well, very little. There was trouble between your father and me concerning his sister at the start. You know, Katharine, what a stubborn man your father is. He has never allowed me to mention her name since, observing a grim silence when I seek information. Of course I did make fun of the country girl when I first married. We went to the little old backwoods house soon after, and all one seemed to hear was, 'Elmie Perkins folks,' meaning your father and me, 'Elmie' was an entirely new species to a Chicago society girl, and her pink carnation and ruddy cheeks, amused me immensely. Your father left home early in life for the city, so his rusticity had worn off in success, but now—well, to draw the natural conclusion, Aunt Elmie Perkins will be a decidedly country product of the narrow-minded old maid."

Gwendoline frowned in annoyance while Katharine rose to her feet. "Perhaps," she said, "we might arrange the rear bedroom as a sort of comfortable sitting room, and persuade our intrusive aunt to remain there. At least, that's the only solution I can think of and I will attend to it now."

Slowly Gwendoline followed her more practical sister. "It really is unfortunate," she said; she laughed shortly. "Mother has had such a desperate time catering to Reid Whitehall's artistic nature, I suppose the discovery of common clay among my antecedents, would give the fastidious one a jolt."

Katharine turned and stared at her sister. "You can joke that way about the man you love?" she murmured. Gwendoline smiled back from the doorway. "The proper man, whom I am trying to train myself to love," she corrected.

"What shall I do about meeting her?" Mrs. Perkins complained. "Your father will be out of town over night, and I'm sure I shall not go out. We could send the auto, but to have her arriving with her strange boxes when Mr. Whitehall is here—"

Mr. Whitehall himself coming in, interrupted the problem. He was a distinguished-looking man, of perhaps middle age, and the success of his unusual paintings was making him a society favorite.

Closely following the artist's welcome came the telephone's call. "It's Aunt Elma," the mother whispered, "she is coming up directly. She rang off before I could direct her to a direct car."

"I will meet her in the hall," Katharine said, and disappeared, closing the portieres after her. Moving to the piano, Gwendoline played softly, while the handsome face of the man bent above her.

In the shadows the gratified mother watched, and smiled. Then at sound of an entrance and low-voiced conversation her smile vanished. Katharine was clicking back the portieres and leading into the room their uninvited guest. With a sort of breathless triumph she turned to them all.

"My aunt, Miss Perkins," she announced. For a moment the visitor waited in gracious silence. From the dark violet of her modish costume her face shone young with its fresh color. "I am so glad to see you all," she said, and her voice drew them with its sweet quality. But it was Reid Whitehall who advanced to claim her hand, then still holding the hand, looked toward the others.

"Elma may not forgive me," he said, "for so soon making confession. But—I have been silent long enough. Your sister is my promised wife, Mrs. Perkins, and she comes here tonight so that the marriage ceremony may be performed tomorrow at my sister's. This is the ending of a romance which began long years ago, when I, an art student, sought summer board at her home. Since then, this willful woman has been making a career for herself, studying abroad and coming back to paint pictures rivaling my own. At last the career is surrendered. It was at Elma's suggestion that I presumed to make myself acquainted with you all. Will you not wish us happiness?"

Then with a smile Gwendoline led the way. "Welcome both to our family," she said.

BETTER CLOTHES FOR TOMMY Britain's Discharged Soldiers to Get "Regular" Outfit Hereafter.

London.—A long-standing grievance of Tommy Atkins is to be remedied. On discharge he was served out with a suit of shoddy, described in the trade as "reach me downs," a cheap tweed cap and a muffer, the value being fixed at $4.20.

A newspaper man who witnessed the discharge of the men who fought at Mons described the returning heroes as looking like charity pensioners.

The press dealt with the complaint and the war office amended the scheme by substituting for the muffer a collar and a tie and suggesting greater care in the fitting of individual suits. Henceforth these men are to be released for civilian life wearing suits of decent quality and cut, representing $10, wholesale value.

POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENTS

For Member Legislature.
To the Democratic Voters of Seminole Co.: I hereby announce my candidacy for representative in the next Florida legislature from Seminole county. Having served one term primary to be held June 4th of this year, and invite your consideration of my qualifications.

Respectfully,
J. J. DICKINSON.

Frank L. Woodruff Announces for Legislature.
To the Voters of Seminole Co.: I beg to announce that I am a candidate for reelection in the house of representatives from Seminole county. Having served you in that capacity in the session of 1917 and 1918, I do not know of any reason why you should not give me a second term, which has always been accorded all representatives in the past. I fully appreciate the high honor paid me by electing me in 1916 and I have endeavored at all times to look after the interests of the people of Seminole county and the state of Florida. I hope I have not failed to fulfill your expectations and I trust you will see your way clear to give me a second term. Again thanking you for the many favors bestowed on me in the past, I promise that I will be faithful to the trust imposed in me.

Yours very truly,
FRANK L. WOODRUFF.

PUBLICITY PULLS PROGRESS

PRODUCING NOT PROMOTING BOARD OF TRADE RESULTS

(BY THE SECRETARY)

The Board of Trade is proud of the fact that in over two years of its existence it has not failed to accomplish any of its undertakings. We can't achieve in everything, but the membership is just simply large enough to "do the ground and tackle" for they hit the ground and tackle the thing again. The cause of this success is merely the determined effort of some two hundred members to do what ought to be done for Semhol county. It means they are co-operating one hundred per cent.

New War Flour Hauling

Retail grocers of Florida should understand that the new war flour is not to be sold without substitutes.

War flour, as it is termed is only a higher percentage of milled wheat.

It all comes other garter flour and a little saving of wheat and animal fats and sugar at each of these meals means a real contribution to our allies and our own boys.

Wheat flour is a much less per- buy a small cord wood saw mill and turn out enough fuel to supply the needs of a neighboring town.

Some time as you pass by, take a peep at Kears Taylor's brand of pro- gressiveness hung on the walls of the Peoples Bank. It's a poem en- titled, "I'll Let Your Town, It's Yours" - and that's a fact.

One of the largest, broadest and most effective chambers of com- merce in Florida is that of Jackson- ville. Their vision and aid goes be- yond: yes far beyond their city limits. Even beyond the confines of Duval county you find their marks of assistance. The Jacksonville Chamber of Commerce is for Florida daily. Not alone morally do they act, but financially and their doors are always open to anything that means more for Florida. Their treat- ment and only recently when this organization needed help in their shipping dilemma such men as Pres- ident Groover of the Chamber of Commerce, President John Hall of the Traffic Bureau left their desks to come and confer, and in confer- ing, aid, their aid meant much - it meant success. This spirit is growing in Jacksonville and with such men as these and others like them bearing the name of W. H. R.

The secretary told Assistant Re- gional Director Capps, in Atlanta Thursday, the 24th, that he was there representing Seminole county farmers through "their Board of Trade." Mr. Capps remarked, "they are the people I like and they are the ones we are going to help - they are playing fair - it simply asks into your kitchen to see if you are playing fair - it simply asks you to Every member of the board of county commissioners is a member of the Sanford Board of Trade. Why? Because the Board of Trade stands for Seminole county. That is the reason why Oviedo and Geneva have live, active auxili- ary branches.

Within the past thirty days the following new members appear on the records of the Board of Trade: D. L. Thrasher, C. B. Miller, C. E. Ward, C. M. Stowe, G. C. Spurr, E. L. Brown, Rex Packard, T. F. Adams, C. L. Byrd, J. D. Hood, C. M. Herry, Louis Kinard, W. W. Drennon, H. H. Murphree, Joe Cam- eron, Carl Carlson, Julius Tashch, Samuel Phillips. Eighteen in thirty days shows progress and for the thir- days preceding this, thirty-seven came in and all were from Oviedo membership would be a surprise to many and these men are members because of their progressive spirit and the realization of the many ben- efits derived.

Patriotic Shortening

THE U. S. FAIRBANK COMPANY
"It is your patriotic duty to save fat (animal fat) by substi- tuting."
Here is the fact to remem- ber when you buy - when you cook - and we quote it from the United States Food Adminis- tration:
"It is your patriotic duty to save fat (animal fat) by substi- tuting."
In recommending vegetable fats the Government does not specify any particular product. Cottolene, however, is well known as a pure and wholesome vegetable shortening. Incident- ally, it gives delicious cooking results.

THE United States Food Ad- ministration does not step into your kitchen to see if you are playing fair - it simply asks you to "SAVE ANIMAL FATS"
- and puts you on your honor. Now the Government isn't asking you to deny yourself good eating, but merely to cook in a slightly different way. In a word, to stop short in the use of lard and butter in your cooking and use vegetable fats instead.
In the production of the needed vegetable fats the country is well equipped. Already mil- lions of pounds of pure, whole- some and nourishing vegetable

"Save both butter and lard - and use Vegetable Oils and Vegetable Com- pounds . . . they are equally good."

COUNTY HAPPENINGS

A BUNCH OF INTERESTING ITEMS FROM CORRESPONDENTS—EVENTS OF SEMINOLE COUNTY—EFFICIENT REPORTERS FOR THE HERALD

EAST SANFORD

Mrs. I. D. Hart will be hostess Thursday evening at a farewell party given for Graham Hunsford Saturday.

H. D. Durant made a pleasure and business trip to Pierson last of the week.

Stetson Sunday after a few days' absence.

Crops of all kinds are looking splendid in our vicinity. There has been a good deal of cotton planted here in the last two weeks.

at the home of Mrs. Martha Cust on Celery avenue. Mrs. Berry presided with her usual interesting manner with a large party of ladies present.

J. D. Evans is working in the freight office in Sanford this week.

Mrs. G. C. Chamberlain entertained as all day guests last Thursday, Mrs. Watson and her guests.

Rev. G. V. Albertson was a mid-week visitor here from Deland.

Mrs. Keeler and Mrs. Hadley and Mrs. Moulton was also a guest.

Duncan Mitchell writes from Camp Wheeler that his regiment has been on fourteen days' rifle range and his company, Co. C, won first honors as marksmen. He also writes they expect very shortly to leave for France.

Ed. J. Cameron is expected home from Key West on a furlough in a few days.

T. O. Turner took a trip to Win-demore and return with a friend on his motorcycle Sunday.

Aron Lundquist came home on a visit from Jacksonville last Saturday.

His mother, Mrs. J. E. Lundquist, has been sick with a gripe. All of the family here, Edwin, Minnie, Elmer and Mrs. W. Smith.

Miss Thelma Dewitt of Orlando, who has been the guest of the Lundquist and wife and babies were called there.

Two more welcome additions to our Sunday school last Sunday were Mrs. Elberta Thompson and Miss Lily Eizer whose half sister, Miss Olga Berlin joined us last week.

Rev. Brower of Sanford came out on his wheel and gave us an excellent Palm Sunday sermon on Jesus the King of Truth.

Rev. Erikson was absent from the home of the Hallinger. He reports his wife's condition as satisfactory. They removed her home from the hospital this past week, as she was failing. He is also saddened by hearing no word from his son, Lewis, for seven weeks, who is a volunteer in the army as well as his older brother.

Mr. West Geneva Avenue, Mr. Will Robinson lost his fine pot dog last Thursday evening, but the dog was coming out of his field to the house when the dog came in contact with the snake and before he could get out of his way he bit the dog three times over and under the eye and in the breast. He did not have five minutes. The snake was killed and had eleven rattles and a button.

We are having some good old summer days now and the gardeners are looking fine. From the way vegetables are growing we don't think there is any danger of the people starving in Florida. We are all right. We wish our boys over on the other side could get some of the good fresh vegetables we have here. They would enjoy them.

In the World today the Kaiser says he will soon gain victory. He will soon win the world but our boys will soon win the world. They are there to win, or die.

Mr. Jesse Thompson and Miss Gladys Robinson were culprits even-ingly. Mrs. J. E. Vaughn Wednesday evening.

The Irish potato crops are looking fine. They will soon be plentiful and it will soon be time to plant sweet potatoes. Then we will be all right for a good living at home and give the wheat to our boys. May God bless and help them in all their undertakings.

Entered Apprentice Degree at Sanford Lodge No. 62 F. & A. M., which will be held on Tuesday evening, April 2nd, at 7:30 (daylight saving time) the Entered Apprentice Degree will be conferred. Sanford Lodge is doing splendid work and every Mason is cordially invited to attend. We want the brethren who have not had the opportunity to be present to come and admire our beautiful service flag. The several stars denote the number of our brave boys who have gone to the battle front to make the world safer for all of us.

"We are living, we are dwelling, in a grand and awful time; In an age-on ages telling; To be living is sublime; Hardly the waking up of nations; Gog and Magog to the fray; Hark! what sounder! Is creation Grooming for his latter day?"

Royal Neighbors Social. The "Royal Neighbors of America" will give a social with program to be held in the Modern Woodman Hall at Sanford, First street, Friday evening, March 29th, 1918, at 8 o'clock p. m. All Modern Woodman, Royal Neighbors and friends are invited. Refreshments will be served.

Noley Burglars. Wife (8 a. m.)—John, wake up! I hear burglars sawing a panel from the front door. That's funny—now that you've stopped smoking I don't hear them!

There are many other interesting and instructive facts and figures in the Year Book.

Average price paid for live cattle per steer	$84.45
Average price received for meat	68.97
Average price received for by-products	24.09
Total received	93.06
This leaves for expenses and profit	8.61
Of which the profit per steer was	1.29

Proceeds from the sale of the hide, fat, and other by-products covered all expense of dressing, refrigeration, freight, selling expense and the profit of $1.29 per steer as shown by Swift & Company's 1917 figures as follows:

Shows that Swift & Company sells the meat from a steer for less money than the live steer cost!

Ten thousand aeroplanes and one hundred thousand airmen to operate them could win the war tomorrow.

The Cocoa Tribune is just one year old. Mrs. Holderman, who controls the destinies of the Tribune is to be congratulated upon her good work on the paper and while her age is not given we opine that she is just around sixteen, yet.

This is the time to keep cool, avoid spreading rumors see that no Germans are allowed to open their heads against the United States and keep a stiff upper lip.

The Lakeland Advertiser turned the paper over to the ladies of the Lakeland Red Cross last week and they brought out a fine 16 page edition that netted them a neat sum.

There is no better time than the present for all good men to join the Sanford Board of Trade. We need co-operation and amalgamation and organization now as never before.

Next week the Florida Press Association will meet at the cities of DeLand, Daytona and New Smyrna and this meeting promises to be one of the best in the history of the association.

WATCH YOUR STEP
Every man with an ambition to succeed and with a desire to be identified in the public eye among others noted for their work and deeds, often asks himself: What are the requirements? Too often, if the answer be self answered, mercenary gain wedges itself into his nicked brain and following this will-o-the-wisp, he goes only so far as a public big hearted citizen before falling before the onslaught of those who always criticize.

be a successful man. The current idea of bigness is money, but the true meaning is morality. Graveyards are all but filled with the has-beens of ulterior motive—deceiving for awhile they were finally detected. Some, of course, had accumulated much money. Many, through the channel of fame were all but grasping the ever phantom dollar and still others; keener perhaps than the rest, were taking out the discovered defective block and with their platforms and principles were shoving into place another pillar of colored glass, when swooped upon by that half of the people that cannot be fooled.

FRANK HUFFAKER GOES TO WAR
The Times today contributed another enlisted man for service, "over there," Frank L. Huffaker, editor, enlisting in the field artillery division of the regular army.

Because his eyesight is somewhat defective, it was suggested that Mr. Huffaker enter the quartermaster or some other department other than the line service, but he refused, saying he wanted real service.

"To France I owe every good trait I possess," said Mr. Huffaker, "and I can't pay the debt I owe her by shooting from the editorial trenches alone."

COMPULSORY EDUCATION
The state of Florida needs compulsory education. While it is now a local option law it would probably have more weight if it was a state law fostered by the entire state machinery.

Judge William C. Guthrie of the juvenile court is of the opinion that a compulsory education law is one of the needs of Florida. Records of the juvenile court, according to the judge show that the great majority of delinquent children coming before the court are those who have been allowed to roam the streets and have not attended school.

It is said that a movement will soon be started by juvenile welfare workers in the interest of the passage of a compulsory education bill by the next legislature.

THAT BAD BOY
There is an institution in Marianna known as the Industrial School for Boys, which is the reform school of the state of Florida. When one visits that institution it is apparent in many cases that the parents of the children were the ones who needed the reforming. Knowing the families from which some of the boys come it seems that they must have been sent to get them out of the way.

Words composed by three pupils of the Seventh Grade, Gladys Wilson, Margaret Gallagher and Elizabeth Haupt and sung in the auditorium of the Grammar School by all the pupils to the tune of "Tramp, tramp, tramp, the boys are marching."

We think the public would be interested in the news item that the children of the Grammar School are boy's mother appeared against him in court. The boy was, we believe, sent to a reform school. What a foolish mother was this! That boy, in so far as in him lay, was obeying a perfectly natural instinct. He was going through a racial period of his life that requires the most delicate treatment and not the brutal machinery of justice.

MADE IN GERMANY WAR
If Germany had waged its war without barbarism; if every soldier in its armies had been a decent man; if there had been no outraging, no murder, no destruction of homes or of churches and cathedrals, Germany would still deserve the utmost punishment that could be inflicted by civilization upon any country because of this unholy war for its own material advancement.

Killed His Wife
The wife of Willie Curry, the negro who ran amuck the other day died from the effects of the wounds inflicted on her by the crazy negro. After committing the deed the negro ran from Marshal Tillis with a bullet in his leg and tried to cut his own throat, making an ugly wound. He will have to answer to the charge of murder.

The neglect of machinery on the farms—the loss from needless exposure and lack of care has always been criminal. The farmers of America have spent millions of dollars for machinery to take the place of machinery they have needlessly destroyed or let the elements destroy. They are just that much poorer because of this needless expenditure.

Hymn No. 168, I know that my Redeemer lives
Sermon, subject, Eternal life through the Living Christ.
Hymn No. 180, All hail the power of Jesus' name
Benediction.
The church will be appropriately decorated for the occasion and it is hoped that the members of the church will make a special effort to be present. Visitors and strangers are most cordially invited. Autos will be provided to convey to and from the church any who, on account of distance or feebleness, might otherwise be unable to attend. Let those who know of such persons phone Mr. Ed. Putnam or Mr. H. H. Peabody.

Miscellaneous Shower
The home of Mrs. F. L. Woodruff never looked more lovely than it did when she entertained with a miscellaneous shower for Miss Nellie Elder.

The house was decorated in a most original fashion in elder blossom, which stimulated the bride's name and everywhere over the windows and doorways was the orange blossom jasmine.

Mrs. Scoggin and Miss Annie Hawkins assisted Mrs. Woodruff in receiving her guests. Each guest registered in the bride's book.

The basket ball girls strummed on Eukeleles and sang Hawaiian songs during the afternoon.

Punch was served in the library by Miss Martha Fox and Miss Natalie Moffett.

Little Camilla Puleston and Alice Elder presented the bride with a wonderful Easter hat-box filled with beautiful gifts.

Much fun was enjoyed on opening the gifts, after which the guests were invited into the dining room for refreshment.

Announcement
Mrs. Fannie V. Lee announces the marriage of her daughter, Mary Laura to Corporal George Washington Huff, at the First Methodist church Thursday, March 28th, at 8:30 p. m.

Miscellaneous Shower.
The Daughters of Wesley, Sunday school class of Mrs. J. D. Roberts of which Miss Elder is a member entertained with a miscellaneous shower Tuesday, March 26th, at the home of Mrs. Claude Herndon on Magnolia avenue.

Never has this attractive home looked more beautiful than when soft shaded lights and numerous candles shone upon the elaborate decorations of red and white.

The reception hall, music room and dining room were decorated with a profusion of glowing amaryllis entwined in the stairs, banked on mantels and in huge bouquets of them everywhere.

Receiving were Mrs. Claude Herndon, Mrs. P. M. Elder, Mrs. J. D. Roberts, Mrs. Dwight Babbitt and Mrs. Grover Speering. Upon the arrival of the bride-elect the stirring strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March rang out and Mrs. Babbitt escorted Miss Elder to a large chair in the living room. This room was all in white—Easter lilies, roses and ferns.

4 p. m.—School Carol Service
7:30—Choral Vespers.

People will kindly regard the order of the government that clocks are to be advanced one hour on Saturday night. The hours for service will remain unchanged at Holy Cross in perfect loyalty to the government, but will be according to the changed time.

Easter Day is the great day of obligation for all the faithful and as is noted, communions are at 6 and at 8 a. m., to leave the 11 a. m. service for worship.

Huff—Lee Wedding

A wedding that will come as a complete surprise to their many friends is that of Corporal George Washington Huff and Miss Mary Laura Lee, which took place at the First Methodist church Thursday, March 28th, at 8:30 p. m.

Only the immediate family and a few very intimate friends were present to witness the ceremony.

Never has the winsome bride looked more charming than in her bridal gown of white embroidered crepe de chine. She wore a white picture hat and accessories to match.

The groom was a manly figure in his khaki soldier suit.

Dr. Hilburn performed the impressive ring ceremony of the Methodist church which made these twain one.

Mrs. Huff is the eldest daughter of Mrs. Fannie V. Lee and is loved and admired by her many friends for her sunny disposition and sweet winning ways.

Corporal Huff is well known in the city, having been associated for many years with the firm of T. J. Miller & Son. When the "call to colors" came he was among the first to answer and enlisted in Co. C, in which he is now Corporal.

Corporal Huff leaves Sunday to resume his duties at Camp Wheeler, while Mrs. Huff will remain for the present in the city.

The best wishes of a host of friends follow these young people on their journey through life.

Larkspurs being used in quantities, while from the chandelier hung a white wedding bell.

Mrs. W. P. Carter gave the bride-to-be some advice about being well informed on matrimony and admonished her to peruse "A Line on Matrimony." This line began in the very center of a large spider web, on one side of the room, and wound in and out under furniture and chairs, behind pictures and bric a brac over the entire lower part of the house. There were many tangles to unsnarl and at intervals on this line were fastened small articles carrying advice, the finding and reading of which caused much merriment. The first was a small shoe, "For Good Luck Only." Kid curlers were labeled "Look out for kids." A very much worn sock bore the inscription, "Darh the sock tbing." There were pins with "Safety First" written upon them, a grater for "Raw nerves," a spoon for the "Mushy," Hoytz Perfume "To keep sweet all the time," A bottle of glue "To stick to her job." A rolling pin "to straighten out the kinks," scissors for "crosses," a broom promised always "to befriend by using in sunshine the brushy part, in storm the other end." Then came a Ford auto, belonging to the Wilson Construction Co. and is "To test the roads that Hubby builds." A wee cap "caps the climax." The immortal band of gold, symbol of "love and bondage," a slipper shows how to "Slip one over." Over in a corner a doll house complete was "Home, Sweet Home" and there the line led to a Sanford pennant begging "Nell" to come back home soon to the Daughters of Wesley and Sanford.

After the "Line of Matrimony" was perused to its tangled end and much merriment the bride required the chair.

Then entered Dan Cupid, Master Claude Herndon, with his white bow and red tipped darts seeking his next victim, drawing a snowy white flower bedecked chariot. He was guided by white satin reins of love in the hands of the Goddess of Love, little Alice Elder. These small messengers of love, bare limbed with white winged garments looked indeed as if they were from the heart of Fairyland.

Just inside the bride's bower Dan Cupid stopped, arrested by the first sweet notes of "Because" sung by Mrs. J. K. Mettinger in her clear sympathetic voice.

At the conclusion of the song Dan Cupid moved his equipage to the chair of the bride, where after presenting her with an Easter lily the small goddess showered her with package after package from the chariot.

Upon being opened these were found to contain everything that heart could wish for in linens, silver, lingerie, silk hose, etc.

While these gifts were being admired the refreshment course was served and consisted of slices of red, and white ice cream and heart shaped cakes. A lovely change from the brilliant red of the decorations were the wonderful pink roses given as favors.

Miss Elder wore a costume of white satin and embroidered georgette crepe.

The Daughters of Wesley entertained at the home of Mrs. Claude Herndon for Miss Nellie Elder, a bride-to-be, on Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Herndon's home was artistically decorated with roses and ferns.

Most unique was the chariot which contained the gifts for the bride-elect. This was drawn by Master Claude Herndon and seated in the chariot to dispense the gifts was Alice Elder. The bride was the recipient of many lovely gifts on this occasion.

Dainty refreshments were served. The guests included the Daughters of Wesley and a few other friends.

The farmers of America must plant and harvest as they have never done before. Theirs is the part to fill with food the eager hands that are being stretched across the sea. The duty of feeding war-wrecked and famished Europe must fall largely upon American farms. It is a duty at once humanitarian and patriotic.
