Nazi Capture Rostov-on-Don Reds' Oil City

Victory Is Claimed By British In Big Massed Tank Fight In Northern Africa

German Advance On Moscow Costly

Soviets Report That Foe Wants Moscow Despite Any Cost

The long-suffering British garrison at Tobruk has broken out around the port and German and Italian armored forces split and partly cut off in eastern Libya are being ground between British tank columns, the Eighth Army headquarters declared today.

ANKARA, Nov. 22.—(AP)—The opening of a British offensive in North Africa, with American equipment playing an important part, has pulled neutral Turkey nearer to the British-Russian alliance, diplomats here believe.

Moscow is a prominent Turkish general, back from an inspection of the German-Russian battlefield, was reported to have described Nazi losses as "enormous" and the general situation of the German war machine not so good as it is represented to be.

The Germans announced today the capture of Rostov-on-Don, the "pivot" to Russian oil barrels, in bitter fighting while on the North African front the British claim a victory in the first collision of the massed tank forces.

London says a terrific "night" has knocked out half of the German tanks and surrounded 700 more near Tobruk. The Soviets report that the Germans apparently are under orders to take Moscow at all costs, but the advance is slow and costly.

Qualifications Of Bird House Entries Stated

School children ten years of age or more may enter the annual bird house building contest which is sponsored each year by the Sanford Garden Club, Mrs. J. D. Woodruff, chairman of the club's committee.

Mrs. Woodruff, in naming the regulations for houses used by various bird families said that the "Martin" houses must contain 12 or more compartments each furnished with doors measuring two inches in diameter and one inch above the floor, also sufficient drainage. Since this family lives in colonies and a great many birds live in the same house, these separate compartments or rooms are necessary.

When houses have only one stipulation. They must have doors set back one inch in diameter measuring from 4 to 8 inches above the floor, while the "feeding stations" for birds must have good drainage. These two types may be of original design, as long as they meet with these qualifications.

Entries in the contest for the cash prizes will be presented on the last Saturday in January at a location which is to be announced later.

Chamber Lists Accommodations For Tourists

Persons With Rooms Not Listed Asked To Notify Agency

The Chamber of Commerce today listed all hotels, apartment houses, and rooms in private homes available for tourists.

"In order to carry out our plan for accommodations for winter visitors, the Chamber of Commerce has compiled as accurately as possible a list of hotels, apartment houses, apartments in private homes, garage apartments, tourist homes and houses available in Sanford and Seminole County," a statement issued by the Chamber of Commerce today stated.

"We are requesting The Sanford Herald to publish this list so that those that have accommodations for winter visitors and whose names do not appear on this list may notify the Chamber of Commerce immediately, and we will be glad to add the names to the list."

"We are also particularly anxious to have listings of accommodations anywhere in Seminole County, such as Oviedo, Lake Mary, Altamonte, Longwood, Fern Park, etc. If these people will forward us the specifications of accommodations and prices, we will be glad to include them in our list."

"We are getting a good many inquiries for accommodations that are developing from our advertising program, and this program is just getting underway. The number of applicants will increase very materially. It is the intention of the Chamber of Commerce to re-publish this list as soon as it is complete and mail it to the people making inquiry so that they can handle it either direct with the owner or with the Chamber of Commerce. In this way the prospective visitor will have an opportunity to make a reservation."

There are 6,258 persons from Seminole County, 6,152 of them in Sanford, who registered for civilian defense work, according to figures compiled and announced by Nathan G. Garner, supervising clerk of the Seminole County Defense Council.

Of the 6,152 registered from Sanford, there are 3,232 white people, 1,419 women and 1,999 men. One 1941 census made a total of 6,152.

A store was broken into, a car was stolen and articles were taken from two parked cars yesterday, police stated today.

Manuel Jacobson, owner of a clothing store on Sanford Avenue, announced a tentative loss of about $150 when robbers removed about 14 suits from his establishment some time Thursday night. Three of the suits were discovered in an alley behind the store.

Mr. Holtzlaw, owner of a 1937 Plymouth four door black sedan, reported the disappearance of the car last night from where it had been parked in front of his house at 908 Myrtle Avenue. Instruments were stolen from the car of Dr. Heifer and clothes were taken from a truck at the state market.

President Approves Defense Highway Bill

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—(AP)—A defense highway bill, authorizing appropriations of $250,000,000, received President Roosevelt's reluctant approval yesterday.

The President signed the measure, he said, because it authorized $150,000,000 for access roads to military and naval reservations and defense industry sites and $100,000,000 for airplane landing strips.

He objected to inclusion of $50,000,000 in authorizations for a "so-called strategic network" of highways and bridges $10,000,000 for "surveys and plans" on grounds that were not essential to defense.

Christmas Seals Will Be Sent To City Residents

Annual Tuberculosis Drive Will Begin On November 24

This year, as in previous years, Christmas seals will be mailed to persons living in Sanford and if the receiver wishes to keep any number of seals mailed to him, he in turn sends the money to the Seminole County Tuberculosis Association, otherwise, he is requested to return the seals, Mrs. J. L. Ingley, Christmas seal chairman of the organization, stated today.

According to the chairman, Mrs. J. H. Van Hoy was the first person in the County to purchase seals. Any citizen who does not receive seals, the first of the week and desires to purchase them is asked to telephone 176 and place his name on the mailing list.

Official endorsement of the 1941 Christmas Seal Sale was issued today by Mayor W. C. Hill in a statement given out at his office in City Hall. The campaign gets under way here Monday, to extend through Christmas.

The Mayor's statement said: "Purchase of Christmas Seals by the citizens of Seminole County to aid in the nationwide fight against tuberculosis has the unqualified endorsement of myself not only as your Mayor, but as a private citizen.

"To protect homes—all our homes—from the ravages caused by the ravages of tuberculosis is the commendable objective of the annual Christmas Seal Campaign. The simple, direct appeal of that campaign comes to us with the approach of each holiday season. I trust that we should be quick in responding, not only to a civic duty, but to a nationwide appeal.

Germany Asks Big Price For French Peace

Settlement Depends Upon Capitulation Of North African Colonies To Nazis

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—(AP)—Germany is prepared to transform her armistice with France into a formal peace settlement in return for sweeping concessions in North Africa, reliable quarters in Europe informed the Associated Press today.

These quarters said Germany's desire for air bases, routes for the transport of men and supplies to help withstand the British offensive in Africa lay behind the vigorously pursued negotiations of the past ten days.

One European political observer said it was apparent the Nazis attached more importance to winning France in Africa than to having Italy in the fold. High French and German leaders will meet soon, possibly to discuss upon some new form of collaboration or even out-and-out French capitulation and full membership in the Axis, reliable sources reaching the Associated Press from Europe said Friday night.

The informants said that Marshal Pétain and Adolf Hitler themselves might sit down together at the conference table, when and where the meeting might be held was cloaked in strict secrecy.

The Vichy censorship permitted only this comment to be transmitted: "Official circles know nothing about it."

President's Proposal Is Accepted By Mine Workers' Committee

Lake Shore Beautification Project Outlined By Jaycees

The general plan to be followed in landscaping the area around the bridge on Lake Shore Boulevard a short distance from the French Avenue intersection and covering approximately 150 feet on each side of the bridge, was outlined this morning by Ned Smith, chairman of the Jaycee projects committee.

Native plants will be used in creating a "traveler's rest" and the entire scheme will be rustic, with casual lounging furniture and tables where tourists may stop and rest to enjoy their lunch. The landscaping on the stream will be planted first, and later the cypress swamp on the west side will be planted in such a manner that it may be compared to the Cypress Gardens on a small scale, the chairman said.

At the meeting when the Jaycees adopted this project a number of members pointed out that the park may be gradually expanded year-by-year and since Mayor W. C. Hill has promised "full cooperation" from the city, there is said to be a possibility of extensive work in this area.

In connection with the various beautification projects which the Sanford Garden Club has undertaken for the coming year, the Garden Center sponsored a sale of plants and shrubs at the Garden Center today. The sale was held from 10:00 A. M. to 5:00 P. M. today. Mrs. S. C. Dickerson, chairman, announced.

Beautification projects include planting and landscaping of the grounds surrounding elementary schools, Forewell-Laurelton Memorial Hospital, the County Court House Park. In addition to these plants, shrubs and trees, the Junior Chamber of Commerce in beautifying the Lake Shore Boulevard.

Jap Negotiations Are At Standstill

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—(AP)—Japanese-American negotiations were at a standstill Friday night. Tokyo's special emissary, Saburo, Kurosu, and Ambassador Nomura were not among callers at the state department during the day, nor was any appointment made for a resumption of the conversations Saturday.

At his noon press conference, Secretary Hull reiterated that the conversations of the past four days had been purely exploratory, without reaching the stage of establishing a basis for negotiations.

Legion Begins Membership Drive To Place Florida Among "Upper Ten"

Florida Legionnaires are stampering in eleventh place. Joel Field, local commander, announced yesterday a visit here by the State Commander of the Legion, Rupert Caviness, who is making the rounds of all posts in the state in regard to the membership drive.

The Sanford post is 41 members short of last year's mark. Many of these men have moved out of town, and while new ones are coming in, all of them do not register.

Twenty new members were added recently and application blanks can be obtained from Mr. Smith at the Sanford Furniture Company for any World War veteran who are not members and are interested in joining.

A special meeting will be called by the local commander to vote in new members by the end of next week. The closing date on the present drive is Nov. 30. Mr. Smith also urged members who have not paid their dues to do so before Nov. 30.

Immediate Return To Work By Strikers Is Recommended By Mine Policy Group

3 Men Named On Arbitration Board

John Steelman, John Lewis And Benjamin Fairless Selected

DETROIT, Nov. 22.—(AP)—The C. I. O. called upon "all employers to accept the principle of the union shop" for the promotion of industrial harmony.

The annual convention approved a resolution which stated that the principle of a union shop was the "practical means of contributing to harmonious relationships between employers and employees."

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—(AP)—The United Mine Workers' Policy Committee today accepted President Roosevelt's proposal to refer the captive mine controversy to a board of arbitration and recommended the immediate return to work of all strikers in both captive and non-captive mines.

The board was immediately named by the President to consist of John R. Steelman, head of the Labor Department's Conciliation Service as the public representative, Benjamin Fairless, president of U. S. Steel, representing the steel industry and John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, representing labor. Lewis informed the President in a three paragraph letter of the Policy Committee's action. It was in reply to the letter sent him today by the latter Executive announcing the creation of the three man board and saying the board would begin work immediately and stay in session continuously until their work is completed.

Blazing guns killed 10 pickets yesterday in a battle between mine strikers and pickets in the Pottsville coal fields, turbulent scenes at the (today) old United Mine Workers strike against the steel company-owned captive mines.

An eleven pack was slightly wounded by gunfire as it drove past the Republic Corporation's Clatskanie mines near Fredonia.

Patrolman Sheriff Brock, who has expressed fear the situation was "going to get worse," appealed to Governor James for assistance of state police. James earlier had told the police to interfere in the strike disorders only when highways were blocked, unless a written request for aid was made by peace officers in a particular community.

THE SABBATH EARLY

(From The Washington Post)
It was the Sabbath early
And Jesus walked through the
corn.
The morn like a bud lay folded,
The blackbird slept on the thorn,
Night still dampened the stubble,
A wraith moon hung in the sky,
But the wind first sensed a presence,
And whispered the stalks, "He is nigh."
The bird shot up from her nest,
The sun burst forth full born,
The earth sang under His footsteps,
And Jesus walked through the
corn.

Are We Saps?

Another good reason for building a new hospital in Seminole County is that hospitals are coming more and more into popular use as the average sick person realizes how much better his chances for recovery are if he goes to one of them immediately when he gets sick and as the task of paying hospital bills is made lighter.
Our present 23-bed hospital has by no means proved adequate even during the past ten or twenty years when many persons still clung to the ancient prejudice against hospitals and feared that if they ever entered one they would never come out alive. How much less adequate it would have been if all our people knew as most of them know today to what extent good hospitals are in reality life savers.

Another very potent reason operating in the past against going to hospitals, except in cases of dire emergency, has been the cost of the experience. In cases of child birth, for instance, many women would prefer to take a chance and have their children at home because it costs more to go to a hospital, even if safer, and there are so many other expenses which have to be met at that time.

This matter of cost has been taken care of to a large extent in most communities for a large segment of our population by the charity wards in our big hospitals.
In the cities people who cannot afford to go to a hospital can go anyway and their bills are paid by other more well-to-do patients, by charity organizations or by the government. Today it is the middle class which is hit the hardest by hospital bills.

Dr. Gilbert Osincup of Orlando, president-elect of the Florida Medical Association, says that medical care has not been equitably distributed in the United States since 1929 and that persons of moderate income often hesitate to call a doctor at the beginning of a disease because of the high cost involved. As a consequence Selective Service has shown as many defective men today as in 1918 despite the advance in medicine.

To overcome this rather distressing situation, Dr. Osincup predicts that "the government will soon institute hospital insurance for all those subject to the Social Security Act," some 60,000,000 persons. The average cost to the individual would amount to only about one-half cent per day and when he gets sick or injured, the government would foot the bills both for doctors and hospitals.

Now the taxes to support this plan—this one-half cent per day per person—would be levied and collected from the people of Seminole County, the same as from the people of every other county in the United States. But if Seminole County has no hospital, or one not sufficiently large to accommodate all Seminole County patients, why naturally they will go to some other county when they get sick. And the money raised in Seminole County would be spent elsewhere.

In the years to come the people will want hospital treatment for their ailments, and if they can't get it here they will go where they can get it. And they are going to have the money to pay for it, too, for the federal government is going to provide it for them.

Seven Principles

While the government is trying to solve the problem of strikes in defense industries, it might be well to work out a new set of labor relation principles which would at least serve as a guide for a permanent solution for the labor problem. There would be little advantage, it seems to us, in legislating against strikes in defense industries now and leaving the country to be swamped by them after the war is over.

In this connection the National Association of Manufacturers has recently released a set of seven principles on which to solve permanently the labor crisis and not merely to postpone it. There are no others no doubt just as good, but these are as follows:

1.—There must be no government compromise with a challenge by a private agency to the sovereignty of government.

2.—The right to strike, like other rights, properly is subject to reasonable regulation in the public interest.
Without such regulation, the right to strike will destroy the equally valid right to work.

3.—A sound national labor policy will require unions to acquire and retain members on the basis of their service to such members, and not through the blackmailing of either management or government into forcing a closed shop upon employees who do not wish to join.

4.—A sound national labor policy will require unions to settle their jurisdictional agreements without halting production.

5.—The seizure of private property by government is an unsound means of controlling unions which strike against the public interest.

6.—Civil law, and not martial law, should be the normal weapon of enforcement of safeguards against coercion.

7.—A sound national labor policy, resulting from the present crisis, should be a permanent one and should not be limited in duration to the present emergency.

"In the maintenance of evolving labor policy," Walter D. Fuller, president of the Association, said in asking the N. A. M. members to uphold the points he had set forth, "I believe that the above principles will provide all of us with a reliable frame of reference against which executive action or a legislative program can be judged."

Obviously, such principles in themselves do not form a complete program of action. There are many appropriate remedies for the abuse of union power which deserve support; the requirement that all strikes must be authorized by government-supervised secret ballot; the requirement that all official sources of conciliation and mediation must be exhausted before a strike is permitted; a reasonable provision for the public accounting of union funds—all these are details which may well find their place in a final national labor program.

Retail Advertising
Makes Big Increase

JACKSONVILLE, Nov. 22.— (Special)—Retail advertising in the three largest Florida cities, Jacksonville, Miami and Tampa, increased 23 per cent more over the year ended in 1940 than they did in 1939, during the first 25
weeks of those years, and 41 per cent more this year than last, according to a Florida State Chamber of Commerce survey.

These figures, declared Harold C. Smith, executive vice president of the Florida State Chamber of Commerce, are the result of a survey of 100 leading retail stores in the three cities.

Smith said that the survey revealed that the total amount of retail advertising in the three cities during the first 25 weeks of 1941 was $1,000,000, compared with $666,666 in 1940 and $700,000 in 1939.

Smith said that the survey
also revealed that the total amount of retail advertising in the three

Air Corps Chief
Will Leave Soon
For Middle East

LONDON, Nov. 22.—(AP)—
Maj. Gen. George H. Brett, chief of the United States Army Air Corps, is preparing to leave immediately for the Middle East to spearhead delivery of United States warplanes which he said must bear the brunt of fighting in any prolonged Libyan campaign.

Winding up nearly six weeks
of inspections and conferences with the R. A. F. General Brett said that large-scale Middle East air warfare would be a probing ground for American-built craft against the German air-force.

Brett added: "The time of the stratosphere fighters and bombers is at hand and both London and the United States must aim at producing planes for higher altitudes."

He said he was hurrying to Cairo to meet the American Air Corps mission en route from the United States and he will return to Washington before Dec. 15.

Public Warned Of Schemers' "Rackets"

OCALA, Nov. 22.—(Special)— Warning was issued here today by Horace L. Smith to proprietors of all types of business to be on their guard against "the schemers' rackets." Smith is chairman of the honorable committee of the Florida State Chamber of Commerce, and secretary of the Marion County Chamber of Commerce. He declared that schemers, in the context of publicity and advertising fields, are at work throughout the state and that their propensities should be generally recognized before interest is made.

Smith said that at the Panama City membership meeting of the State Chamber on Dec. 1 and 2, his committee would endeavor to lighten the burden of the schemers' rackets by means of a campaign of public education.

Smith said that he believed that the schemers' rackets were one of the most serious threats to the business of Florida. He declared that the schemers'
propensities should be generally recognized before interest is made.

Prof. Arthur J. Graham (Special) — Up to the end of June 1941, the Reconstruction Finance Corporation authorized loans and investments totaling $1 billion dollars, not including those for relief and other governmental agencies, according to Charles H. Henderson, (above) Chairman of the board of directors of the R. F. C. who will be a featured speaker at the Silver Anniversary Membership Meeting of the Florida State Chamber of Commerce at Panama City, Dec. 1 and 2. Of this amount approximately eight and three-fourths billion dollars have been disbursed and approximately six and one-half billion, nearly 75 percent, have been repaid. Henderson said following President Roosevelt's declaration of a limited emergency in the Fall of 1939 Congress in September 1940 liberalized the law governing acts of the R. F. C. in order to speed up national defense activity, making it one of the most powerful and important agencies in the world.

1941 LOOKS AT 1916

THINGS have changed a lot in 25 years — yet there is much that is the same.

In 1916 it was Preparedness; in 1941, National Defense. But now the scale is bigger, the pace is faster. There was pressure on the telephone business then. The pressure is infinitely greater now. New training camps; new aviation fields; new munition plants; new shipyards and many other defense industries — all need telephones. Everyone is moving faster. . . and when a nation hurries, it does so by telephone. Southern Bell spent about $4,600,000 on new construction in 1916. It is spending over $51,000,000 in 1941.

The entire Southern Bell organization serving nine Southern states, is giving "first call" to Defense. We believe you would want it that way.

 Every week has its main event and this week's was HOME COMING. The sponsors were simply radiant, the game was fine and everything went off smoothly—no speaking of something not so smooth, was the definite parting of VALARIE WELLS and GEORGE SPEER. Neither is suffering, as VALARIE is contented with HUGH WHEELER and GEORGE with HELEN STAFFORD.

Olin D. King, American history teacher at Seminole High School, and a member of the advisory committee of social sciences attended the Sixth Annual Meeting of the Florida Academy of Sciences, which took place at Southern College, Lakeland, on Nov. 20, 21, and 22. ### Seminole High School Key Club Members Hold Many High Honors

In 1939 the Key Club of Seminole High School was organized by the Sanford Kiwanis Club to promote better citizenship and sportsmanship throughout the school. To carry out this motive, it has been necessary for the members of the club to play a leading part in school activity—both curricula and extra-curricula.

Noted U. S. Political Families

In the United States, there have been certain families that have played an important political part in our nation for the last two generations. Some are more noted than others, but all have a distinctive record. Worth-noting is that some of these families have used the same policy for years upon years.

The Bankheads of Alabama represent one of the great political families that ever existed in this country. While no startling feats might be reported of this family as a whole, recognition is well deserved when a statement is made concerning the accomplishments of the Bankheads. The late John Hollis Bankhead I, was a noted senator from Alabama, and his son, John II, carried on family tradition when he assumed the seat in 1931 his father had held. Senator Bankhead is still serving in the Senate, and although he has not made an outstanding record, he has been termed an efficient senator. His brother, the late William Brockman Bankhead, served in the United States House of Representatives from the 65 Congress to the 77. Rep. Bankhead was speaker of the House when he died in 1940. His record will stand out for generations to come as a feat in governmental functioning.

One of the less highlighted clans have been the Ammons of Colorado. The present generation of this political family, led by ex-Governor Teller Ammons, has been overshadowed by past groups of the family who have shown many more state developments. The Ammons ruled in different positions, off and on for 30 years in Colorado. Ex-Governor Ammons, a Democrat, was defeated in 1938 when he sought re-election, by Ralph L. Carr a Republican.

The most publicized family of politics in the last ten years has been the Longs of Louisiana. Huey Pierce Long, who established a "machine" that dominated Louisiana politics for more than ten years, was Democrat governor and senator from the "Pelican" state. He was assassinated in August, 1935. His brother, Earl Kemp Long, became governor in 1939, when a Long protégé, Richard W. Leche, resigned his position. Governor Long, seeking a full four-year term, was defeated in 1940 by Sam H. Jones. This defeat marked the end of the Long rule in Louisiana. Exposed graft and corruption practiced during the Long era had effect upon the voters of Louisiana who decided to do away with the Longites.

Massachusetts' Lodges are another in this classified group of American families. The late Henry Cabot Lodge, Sr. was a Republican senator from Massachusetts who had the distinction of having been minority leader as well as majority leader of the Senate. He was chairman of the all-important Foreign Relations Committee in 1910 and was violently opposed to the proposal that we enter the League of Nations. Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., his son, was elected senator in 1936 to replace Marcus A. Coolidge. As most one-term senators, Senator Lodge has yet to make a noteworthy record.

The Tafts of Ohio are a nationally-known family. The late William Howard Taft was the only man ever to have been both president of the United States and chief justice of the Supreme Court. He also was secretary of war under Theodore Roosevelt as well as the first United States governor of the Philippines. His son, Robert Alphonse Taft, was chosen senator in 1938 by the Ohioans over Robert J. Bulkley, Roosevelt-endorsed Democrat. Senator Taft made an unsuccessful attempt in 1940 to secure the Republican nomination for president. During his short tenure of office, he has made a surprisingly good record and has come to be known as one of the best men in the Senate.

The late Rep. Bennett Champ Clark, Sr., and Senator Bennett Champ Clark, Jr., of Missouri represent another family of note in United States politics. The late Rep. Clark was one of the most outstanding speakers of the House, that this nation has ever had. Like the late Rep. Bankhead, Clark will leave, in his record, an epoch in American history. Bennett Champ Clark, Jr., son of the speaker, was appointed senator in 1933 to fill out the unexpired term of Harry B. Hawes. He was elected to a full short term in 1934, and re-elected in 1938. Senator Clark is an established orator. With many speeches he has, as a leading isolationist, violently criticized the foreign policy of the President. He has not, however, touched the standing his father had obtained in the Jay.

The LaFollettes of Wisconsin—the late Robert, Sr., Robert, Jr., and Philip—have all had isolationist views. The late Robert Marion LaFollette Sr. was very active in the Senate in 1917 when he attempted to keep this country from going to war. Along with five other senators, LaFollette made a valiant try in attempting to keep the United States neutral. His son, Robert LaFollette, Jr., is a member of the Senate and is carrying the views of his famous father into the Senate debate even now. The third LaFollette, Philip, was governor of Wisconsin for two terms, but he was defeated in 1935 by Julius P. Hall. The three LaFollette have been leaders in a "third party," the Progressive, and Robert, Sr. was the Progressive candidate for president in 1924.

Surprising is that such families could have been so active in our political arena. In years to come, it will be interesting to follow the activities of these clans.

While attending the academy, Mr. King took a leading part in the discussion on two occasions, at the luncheon for the social sciences section on Friday, and at a Saturday morning meeting of this group. Mr. King discussed with the group the Florida Scholastic in the Art and Science of Free Government. They were and will prove themselves deserving, may expect their scholarship to be extended through four years of college.

S.H.S. SASSIETY

Posty Midge
 This week sassyety went to church to hear the Cassinelli. The girls all white dresses harmonizing with the boys' dark suits. In looking around the congregation we see BETTY WILKINSON wearing a white tassel suit in the school colors, orange and black. The money was raised by presenting four one-act plays and getting ads from the merchants of Orlando. The balance is to be paid by the School Board.

SOUTH SIDE NEWS

On Friday, Nov. 14, we had a splendid talk by Rev. Martin Bram, pastor of the Episcopal Church. He told us an interesting story of how a little boy learned to live by the golden rule. He taught us to put on "to do others," as "I would that they do unto me."

Mr. King added that the Florida scholarships will be awarded by the following institutions of higher learning in this state: University of Miami; (approximately one-half the cost of one year's attendance.) Rollins College; One scholarship of $500—(slightly under one-half the cost of one year's attendance.) Southern College; One scholarship of $270 and one of $135—(these amount to one-half and one-fourth the cost of one year's attendance.) Stetson University; One scholarship of $250 (approximately one-half the cost of one year's attendance.) Tampa University; Two scholarships—both consist of full tuition and fees for one year's attendance.)

Mr. King continued by relating that students who live up to the promise that they showed at the close of their high school days and will prove themselves deserving, may expect their scholarship to be extended through four years of college. The Seminole high teacher told the group in Lakeland that Ralph Matousek, a student at Stetson University and one of the winners of last year's scholarships, has made an outstanding record according to a letter received by Mr. King from Dr. W. S. Allen, president of Stetson. Dr. Allen states, "Ralph was near the top of the first quartile in both the English placement tests and the psychological tests at the opening of school. During the first six weeks, he made the grade of A in all subjects. There are very few students who can make such a record at Stetson during the first six weeks period. He had two courses in history, Economic History of Europe and History of Medieval Europe."

Mr. King concluded by stating that the other students in Florida colleges who are benefiting from the scholarships are Donald Kuhl, at University of Miami, Gertrude Long, at Southern College, and Marvin Hardin, at Tampa University.

By Earle Kipp
 For several years, the faculty of the Grammar School has studied and searched for some method of teaching thrift to our boys and girls. We all realized the need of such teaching but National practice and economy seemed to be pointed in another direction.

Now the National Defense Stamp plan has presented us a golden opportunity to teach thrift and still do something about National Defense. Mrs. I. Frazier is responsible for this new plan.

By Sophie Mae Wright
 In chapel Wednesday morning we sang The Star Spangled Banner and gave the Flag salute. Mr. Kipp gave a Bible scripture and we repeated the Lord's Prayer. Mrs. McKinnon gave a nice speech on good sportsmanship, which I think will help the boys and girls of Grammar School. Elizabeth Ryan and Eudaly Melch of the fifth grade sang a song for the school. Miss Whiddon played for them.

Our Garden Club met Tuesday. We prepared a garden in the back yard of our school. In it we will plant Nasturtiums. We thank the Seminole Feed Company and the Wilson Towner Fertilizer Company for giving us a hundred pounds of fertilizer.

The two girls who are helping in the Garden Club are Dorothy Fortain and Anna Corley.

Bill Kirtley and Pete Mero, former students of Seminole High School, were visiting with friends at the school on Thursday.
