

THE LEGISLATURE WILL MEET IN SPECIAL SESSION CALLED BY GOVERNOR S. J. CATTS

PROHIBITION, REFORM SCHOOL AND OTHER MEASURES

Tallahassee, Fla., Nov. 18.—The governor has issued a proclamation convening the legislature in an extraordinary session Nov. 25th, the session to cover the period of twenty days.

In his proclamation the governor cites the necessity of the following legislation, giving this as his reason for calling the legislature into session.

Passage of an act to prohibit the sale of alcoholic beverages after January 1, 1919, on which date the constitutional amendment for statewide prohibition becomes effective.

An act to stabilize labor conditions and to provide labor to carry on productive work.

An act for resolution for cooperation with the federal government in getting returned soldiers on farms in this state.

An act for the reorganization of the state, especially the Industrial Commission, in particular.

An act to amend the provisions of the proposed federal constitutional amendment for national prohibition, although it is a question whether the 19th amendment will pass upon the proposed amendment which is now before the several states for ratification.

The question arises whether the state constitution that federal amendments are passed upon only by a legislative body subsequent to the passage by congress of the enabling resolution, is the half of the senate that that prompt and effective cooperation of the state in providing encouraging regulations to induce soldiers returning from the war and others to become permanent residents of this state for their welfare and for the development of the vast resources of the state.

Refers to "Reform" School "And whereas, moderate appropriations are at present essential to provide the unfortunate wards of the state, now in the several public institutions of the state, with suitable subsistence for their health and comfort,

"And whereas, the unprecedented conditions which necessitate immediate legislative action upon these matters also make it my duty to exercise in the executive authority vested only in the governor to call the legislature of the state in extraordinary session.

"Now, therefore, I, Sidney J. Catts, governor of the state of Florida, by virtue of the power and authority vested in me by the constitution, hereby convene the legislature of the state of Florida in extraordinary session at the capital in Tallahassee, on November 25th, 1918, for the purpose of considering the aforesaid laws on the above subject and the welfare of the state may require, and the constitution of the state may require.

"In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and the seal of the state at Tallahassee, Florida, this 18th day of November, A. D. 1918, and of the independence of the United States the one hundred and ninety-third year.

Sidney J. Catts, Governor. H. Clay Crawford, Secretary of State.

A. M. C. A. Workers are Needed "Instructions to the Executive Committee from A. W. Francis, state secretary, A. M. C. A. workers announce that men from 32 to 37 years of age who have been placed in deferred classification may now be recruited.

"However, it is necessary for them to secure a permit from their local board to leave America. If neither it will not be necessary for men who were 17 years of age or over in civilian life to secure a permit to leave the country.

This information will be good news for a number of men of Seminole county who were, under the former regulations unable to go to France because of the draft restrictions. A number of well qualified men are wanted from Seminole county for this wonderful work.

For further information and instruction regarding the work address Local Recruiting Committee, Box 330, Sanford, Fla., or the State Secretary at Jacksonville.

Funeral of Mrs. Lilja "The funeral services of Mrs. Hilda Lilja occurred at the Holy Cross church Saturday afternoon, Rev. Peek officiating and the interment was made in Lakeview cemetery.

The pall bearers were H. R. Stevens, J. M. Wallace, D. L. Thrasher, A. P. Connelly, C. E. Henry and Sam Porter.

Mrs. Lilja was born in Sweden and spent her younger days in that country, coming to America after the death of her husband and settling in New York state. She resided in Boston and New York for several years and came to Florida for her health about thirteen years ago, where her only son, Alfred Lilja, was employed at the A. C. L. Ry. as engineer. Mrs. Lilja's health began failing about two years ago and she never fully recovered, her death being due to a paralytic stroke superinduced by old age.

During her residence in Sanford she made many friends and the floral offerings attested to the friendship and esteem in which she was held in the community.

Prof. B. F. Ezell, principal of the DeLand High School was in the city Friday, coming over to attend the funeral of Joe Laing.

WAR SAVINGS STAMPS WILL COME NEXT ON THE PROGRAM

"A nation wide tribute of thanks giving to General Jno. J. Pershing and his boys will be paid during the week of November 25-28 by a special offering in the way of purchase of War Savings Stamps, as an evidence of the appreciation of the American people of the splendid achievement of the American forces.

The Secretary of the Treasury has called on Americans to complete the War Savings campaign by subscribing to the full quotas allotted to each county, as there is not a county in Florida which has subscribed its full quota of War Savings Stamps.

The campaign for this end during Thanksgiving week. The name of every person who purchases stamps during this week will be entered in a book and sent to General Pershing. This will come to the attention of the War Savings Bureau and will furnish a record which in years to come will prove of great interest to the nation.

In the county, sundry contractors will mail on every individual who has subscribed to the full quota of stamps, a certificate of appreciation, which will be valued to other people for the time of being substituted or to provide for his or her before Thanksgiving Day, as it may not be convenient for some to buy at the time they are so busy. It is hoped that all will subscribe to the full quota of stamps.

It is pointed out by state Director Briggs that there is a tendency of the people now to relax their efforts to complete the job which was undertaken at a year ago. He calls attention to the effect of this relaxation on the program.

TRIBUTE TO AVIATORS WERE HERE ON FRIDAY

WERE HERE ON FRIDAY

The first aviators to test the new aviation landing field in this city were here last Friday. There were two lieutenants and one sergeant, having two machines.

Mayor Davison had received a wire from Carlstrom Field at Arcadia stating that they would be here at two o'clock and by that time the roadway and part of the field was filled with people who wanted to see the planes make a landing.

About three o'clock the planes were seen coming in from the west instead of the south where everybody was watching, and after circling over the city they alighted gracefully on the landing field and stopped. They were supplied with gasoline and made the announcement that they would stay in Sanford all night.

The aviators had the field all night and they had broken through the ground and made a hole in the ground.

SEMINOLE COUNTY OVER IN WAR FUND DRIVE COMMITTEES ARE STILL BUSY PICKING UP MONEY

Although the campaign for the War Work was supposed to close Saturday night the headquarters thought it advisable to keep up the good work until Wednesday of this week in order to allow those districts who had not made up their quota to get busy and get the money. The southeast will have its quota all right, in fact has the stipulated sum allotted to it now but the three days will give them time to get up the hose ends and make out their reports and get everything in shape for the close of the campaign.

Seminole county had its quota, that is the first sum stipulated Saturday night but since President Wilson has called for more money since the war started it was thought advisable for every district to get at least 25 per cent more and Seminole will do this today.

The following telegram was received by Chairman Stevens regarding the extension of the time:

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 16, 1918. H. R. Stevens, Sanford, Fla. Your state leaders will advise you that our campaign extended by another week Wednesday night instead of Monday night. This necessary because peace celebration throughout country monopolized most two days campaign. Critical need immediate positive action. Please notify all leaders and workers in your territory of change and secure unanimous pledge to continue campaign progressively through Wednesday night, reporting by wire daily as heretofore to your state office. Balance of country will certainly subscribe original quota and more per cent extra to assist by President Wilson. National and district committees look with confidence to you to secure fullest possible results working to last minute to show our love and appreciation for the boys over there.

Last night there were two rallies among the colored people, one at Cannon City and one at the Methodist church. The meetings were very successful and a great many contributions were made at each church.

Tonight there will be a meeting at Monroe where several local speakers will address the people and this will probably end the speaking tours.

And don't forget that if you have not already signed up for the money that you intend to give that it is not too late and you can go to the headquarters today or tomorrow and give something.

The names of those that have given to this great cause and the amount given will be published in Friday's issue if possible.

Funeral of Joe Laing "The funeral of Joe Laing occurred from the residence on Oak avenue Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock being attended by a large concourse of friends; the floral offerings attesting to the love and esteem in which this young man was held. The pall bearers were his fraternity brothers of Florida University and Stetson University who came over to render the last sad rites for their departed friend. Rev. Massey of the Baptist church, the pastor of the deceased officiated, assisted by Dr. Blocker of Stetson University and former pastor of the Baptist church here and lifelong friend of the Laing family.

The Welfare Department of the Woman's Club will have its regular meeting Wednesday, Nov. 20th, at 2:30. Important things to stress at meeting. Please attend. Everyone cordially invited.

PRESIDENTS THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION

Washington, Nov. 17.—President Wilson in a proclamation today designated Thursday, Nov. 28th, as Thanksgiving day and said this year the American people have special and moving cause to be grateful and rejoice. Complete victory, he said, has brought not only peace, but the confident promise of a new day as well, in which justice shall replace force and jealous intrigue among the nations.

The proclamation follows: "It has long been our custom to turn in the autumn of the year in praise and thanksgiving to Almighty God for His many blessings and mercies to us as a nation. This year we have special and moving cause to be grateful and to rejoice. God has in His good pleasure given us peace. It has not come as a mere cessation of arms, a mere relief from the strain and tragedy of war. It has come as a great triumph of right. Complete victory has brought us not peace alone, but the confident promise of a new day as well, in which justice shall replace force and jealous intrigue among the nations. Our gallant armies have participated in a triumph which is not marred or stained by any purpose of selfish aggression. In a righteous cause they have won immortal glory and have nobly served their nation in serving mankind. God has indeed been gracious. We have cause for such rejoicing as revives and strengthens in us all the best traditions of our national history. A new day shines about us in which our hearts take new courage and look forward with new hope to new and greater duties.

"While we render thanks for these things, let us not forget to seek the divine guidance in the performance of those duties, and divine mercy and forgiveness for all errors of act or purpose, and pray that in all that we do we shall strengthen the ties of friendship and mutual respect upon which we must assist to build the new structure of peace and good will among the nations.

"Therefore, I, Woodrow Wilson, President of the United States of America, do hereby designate Thursday, the Twenty-eighth day of November next, as a day of thanksgiving and prayer, and invites the people throughout the land to cease upon that day from their ordinary occupations and in their several homes and places of worship to render thanks to God, the ruler of nations.

"In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

"Done in the District of Columbia this sixteenth day of November in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and eighteen, and of the independence of the United States of America the one hundred and forty-third.

"WOODROW WILSON. "By the President: "Robert Lansing, "Secretary of State."

SHOULD NOT CASH STAMPS

To Do So Would Be Taking Support From Soldiers "A letter from the War Savings Stamp Clearing office for the state announces that a great number of requests for privilege of cashing in War Savings Stamps are coming from Seminole county, that the requests are increasing since the signing of the armistice.

While the government has granted the privilege of cashing in the stamps at any time after 10 days' notice has been given by the holders of the stamps it nevertheless does not advocate the cashing in of the stamps before maturity date. The government is in the stamps selling business and it can sell the stamps that ought to be sold by anyone. When a person buys a stamp he should prepare to keep such stamp until it matures. To cash in stamps now will have the effect of taking support from our soldiers and fighters who have so wonderfully given to America and to American people everything that has been asked for in this great war. The government advises and appeals to the people to hold their stamps.

Miss Mollie Abernathy spent yesterday with her sister, Mrs. Zeb Ratliff and visited her many girl friends here, returning to her home in Daytona today.

Miami Wants None of Them

They are on their way to Miami. This time we are talking about the "con" artists who make a rendezvous in Miami every winter for the purpose of relieving a certain kind of tourist of his cash. Already the police in Jacksonville have arrested a "broker from Boston," a man described as a man of about fifty, weighing about one hundred and forty pounds, neatly and quietly dressed. The technical charge of "suspicion" was placed against him at the Jacksonville police station, and a bond of $100 was accepted for his appearance in court the next morning. He didn't appear, and is said to have left Jacksonville for the southern part of the state.

If he comes to Miami will be able to get away with the same old game that has baffled the police and the sheriff's office ever since Miami has been big enough to offer bait for confidence men. Is Miami to have a series of the disgraceful swindle and hold robberies that were perpetuated here last winter and the winter before and the winter before that?

The Metropolis confesses that it has never had any sympathy for the crook who gets his money taken away from him on a single art performance. You see, surely, that you can't be a crook and a citizen at the same time. I have told you all I can of my trip. Write as often as you can. There is no restriction on letters. I will be glad to receive them. The fellow that gets the most mail over here is the most excited man in the world.

not accept a settlement for their get-away. Neither confidence men or burglars should have easy pickings in Miami this winter, and it is time right now to make things ready for their reception. Miami Metropolis.

Letter From Private Earl L. Burdick
Winchester, England, Oct. 27, '18

We left Camp Mills on Oct. 27 and arrived in Quebec, Canada, Oct. 28. It was a cold day and was snowing and sleeting something awful. We went into a warehouse expecting to go on the boat immediately; only to find it had not come in. Well, we spent two days and nights in that awful building and it was just like being in an ice box. It either rained or snowed for two days. We were then transported to the S. and there we stayed for six days tied up to the dock. We spent an awful time these days and the grub was just fierce. We were taken off one day and hiked around Quebec. It is an old town built on a high hill, overlooking the St. Lawrence river. Some pretty scenery but an awful country to live in. After six days we were transferred to the S. and sailed on Sunday, Oct. 31 and arrived in Gravesend, Landing, England, Saturday, Oct. 31.

We had a fine trip coming over and a terrible one of any kind. We had a few days of rough weather and there was an awful bunch of boys home sick. I did not even feel it all and had a fine time. We were quartered down in the hold and slept in hammocks. Oh but it was crowded. I never knew so many men could get in such a small place. We did not have any meat but mutton and we could not go it. I lived on jam and bread and tea and stuff which I bought from the canteen. Believe me, it was a joyful sight when we sighted land. We docked at seven last night and took a train for this camp. We reached the station at twelve o'clock and then hiked it out to camp. We finally got there and it was four this morning before I got to bed. Slept on three boards and a sack of straw and got but a light sleep.

We are in an American Y. M. C. A. and it is packed to the doors. There is a regular playing of "Blues" on the piano and some of the boys are singing. You see, surely, that you can't be a crook and a citizen at the same time.

I have told you all I can of my trip. Write as often as you can. There is no restriction on letters. I will be glad to receive them. The fellow that gets the most mail over here is the most excited man in the world.

More About Amas Parcels

In order to insure the receipt of a Christmas parcel by every single man in the American Expeditionary Forces, the War Department has extended the time for mailing for overseas packages until Nov. 30th, and has authorized the American Red Cross to have printed sufficient duplicate labels to cover exactly the number of parcels to be mailed to those families who have distributed to the men abroad. In many cases these labels have been lost in transit and the new ruling provides that the nearest relative of each man in the A. E. F. may obtain from the Red Cross Chapter a duplicate label, provided the original has not arrived by Nov. 21st.

Applicants for these duplicate labels should make a written statement to the effect that he or she is the nearest living relative in the United States of the man to whom the package is to be sent, that he or she has not received a label from abroad, that should such a label be received it should not be used and that to the best of his or her knowledge and belief only one package will be sent to the proposed recipient.

This extension of the time limit and the issuing of duplicate labels absolutely insures a Christmas package to every man in the service in Europe. The Southern Division is now having these labels printed and they will be distributed to the Chapters with full instructions by Nov. 21st. The inspection day will be announced in next issue of Herald.

CURBSTONE GLEANINGS

BUDGET OF OPINION "JUST BETWEEN YOU AND ME" EVEN THE GATE POST NOT IN IT

A Chief Is Among Ye Taking Notes and Faith, "He'll Print 'em"--- So Says Saunterer.

Be a Hooster

If you want to live in the kind of a town,

Like the kind of a town you like, You needn't slip your clothes in a grip.

And start out on a long, long hike, You'll only find what you left behind.

For there's nothing that's really new;

It's a knock at yourself when you knock your town;

IT ISN'T YOUR TOWN, IT'S YOU.

Real towns are not made by men afraid

Lest somebody else gets ahead; When everyone works and nobody shirks

You can raise a town from the dead,

And if while you make a personal stake,

Your neighbor can make one, too, Your town will be what you want to see

IT ISN'T YOUR TOWN, IT'S YOU.

Ain't that the truth, Ninety-nine times out of a hundred the faults we find with the town we live in exists because the faultfinder has not put forth his or her efforts to correct the fault he or she finds.

A town is always what the people who live in it make it, and it is as much time spent correcting the evil that exists as is spent in complaining of their existence the town would be vastly more beautiful and habitable.

We often hear people speak of our town as being an unclean one. Only this week a gentleman from a New York town remarked that Sanford was the neatest and best kept town that he had seen in a long time.

Now, perhaps that dirt and filth you notice so much as of a local nature, perhaps it is right around in the neighborhood where you live and ought to be dealt with in a sanitary and healthful way.

Get your neighbors and all the town to clean up and you will enjoy a sense of well-being and a little to make the town more attractive for others as well as yourself.

It never does any good to complain and kick and fuss. A man may sit on a grassy box and talk about the fellow who threw that ball of paper in the street and say, "I wish that fellow would stop a town and clean up his box."

Do you see, you ought enough for you to pick the paper up and put it in a barrel and the performance would add considerably to the looks of things. We ought people who will work to keep the town clean. Of course we cannot get to everything in a day, but we can lead up to the ideal and work up to it gradually, and in the process of doing so we will have something worth having.

The town we live in is what we make it. The town does not make the people. The people make the town. The trouble is if any trouble there is, it is not with the town, it's you. The general appearance of a town is a reflection of what the people are who live in it.

If things are wrong, correct them. Don't quarrel about them. Don't talk of the shortcomings. Boost the town and do your part, and all things else best for us to have will come in due season.

Thanks Mr. Roosevelt
Sanford, Nov. 18, 1918.

Mr. Bob Holly:

At the hour of 11, on the 11th day of the 11th month of A. D. 1918, the late kaiser dissolved partnership with God, and the Armistice was signed.

In my humble opinion the 11th day of November should be proclaimed and adopted a national holiday by every nation on this earth.

Wouldn't it be wonderful and inspiring should practically every man and woman in all the world, where civilization's flag floats concentrate their minds and hearts on that one self same day and unite their prayers and render thanks to God for His goodness and loving kindness?

Think of it! On November 11th every steam whistle, every child's whistle and tin horn, every church bell, every cow bell in these United States pealed forth and proclaimed the glad tidings of great joy, "THE ARMISTICE IS SIGNED." Everybody made noise and all the noise possible with shoutings and tears of joy.

The only thing that didn't make a noise was Col. Roosevelt. He was as noiseless as the oysters in Oyster Bay.

It was the gladdest day this world ever saw since God said, "Let there be light."

It was the grandest day and the proudest day and the happiest day America ever saw.

Now that the shouting is over suppose we pause and reflect just a moment:

"God moves in a mysterious way His wonders to perform"

And let us bear in mind the evident truth that God in His wisdom used the inordinate ambition and the monumental egoism of Col. Roosevelt to crush President Taft and to wreck and split the Republican party (unpardonable, sin that the Republicans can never forget or forgive and thereby caused the nomination and election of Woodrow Wilson.)

So it was, so it is written. And now in this glad hour while on benighted knees we raise our eyes heavenward and thank God for Woodrow Wilson and for his achievements, we should not fail to thank the good Lord for Roosevelt.

But for Roosevelt Mr. Wilson might not have been elected. It is rather strange that Woodrow Wilson has not done one thing that Roosevelt approved, admired or applauded, although the plaudits of the nation on the earth rang out over the seas, and the hills and mountains, the valleys and the plains, and they are echoed back from the blue and bending dome of heaven.

School Contest

Only seven schools in the state of Florida have so far entered the contest for the $250 in War Savings Stamps offered by Hon. J. W. Archibald of Jacksonville, as prizes to the school which buys the most War Savings Stamps per capita, and the school which sells the most War Savings Stamps per capita.

The entrance for the contest closes on December 1, and all schools in the state are urged to enter it, as they will be given credit for the work they have already done during the year that is past.

Conditions can be had of the local War Savings Chairman, or by addressing State Director, War Savings, Jacksonville, Florida.

So it was, so it is written. And now in this glad hour while on benighted knees we raise our eyes heavenward and thank God for Woodrow Wilson and for his achievements, we should not fail to thank the good Lord for Roosevelt.

But for Roosevelt Mr. Wilson might not have been elected. It is rather strange that Woodrow Wilson has not done one thing that Roosevelt approved, admired or applauded, although the plaudits of the nation on the earth rang out over the seas, and the hills and

Wasn't Talking About His Wife

A Melbourne man was speaking to a friend of his troubles in general, when he sighed and said: "Yes, the only girl I really cared for I couldn't have." "What?" exclaimed the friend. "That doesn't sound very complimentary to your wife." "Oh, the other lass," he explained, "my wife felt as badly about it as I did. You see, the girl wanted two pounds a week and we couldn't afford to pay more than thirty shillings."

Accurately fitted lenses are a boon to imperfect eyes—but mark the word "accurately". If the examination is not methodical, if it is not scientific, if it is not exhaustive, there can be no accuracy in the prescription, and the chances are that a seeming benefit may result in a permanent INJURY. Grow Forage Crops and Feed Livestock

Forage crops fed to livestock and returned to the soil in the form of manure build it up rapidly. Cattle and hogs not only bring high prices, but the fertility added to your soil as manure insures bigger yields of vegetables, fruits and staple crops.

Use E. Frank Coe's High Grade Fertilizers

Because they are rich in available crop-producing plant foods. Use them, rotate your crops, and raise livestock; and you will not only have bigger and better crops and larger profits, but you will also enhance the value of your land.

Always Be Sure of the Number

We urge our subscribers to consult the Telephone Directory whenever a call is to be made. When you trust to your memory, you are apt to transpose the figures in a telephone number; when you trust to an old card or letterhead, you are apt to call a number that has been changed.

And when you do call a "wrong number," you cause inconvenience and delay for yourself and for the party whom you call in error. Make it a practice to consult the Directory first.

HUNTING SEASON OPENS

Tomorrow the Bridle is Off and the Hunters Will Turn Loose

Hunting season, one of the most joyous of the season in Florida opens tomorrow and already many parties have gone to the woods in order to be on the grounds when the day dawns. It is said that much game abounds this year and that turkey, quail, deer, squirrel and all kinds of ducks and feathered water fowl are there if you want to go and get them.

Our efficient game warden has been doing all in his power to keep the hunters out of the woods and it is believed that very little game has been killed out of season, thus reserving it for the law abiding hunters who will now get a chance to have some sport.

Seminole counties and adjoining counties differ much in the way of good shooting and the hunters will be coming back in a few days with plenty of game. Tame turkeys are too high this year for the average pocketbook and those who are lucky enough to get a wild turkey will be fortunate indeed and will be the envy of all their neighbors.

Judge Housholder states that few have purchased a hunting license this season which does not mean that people will hunt without a license but that many of our boys who went hunting last year are now in the armies and will not be here to hunt. Only about 150 were issued up to noon yesterday but there will probably be a rush on the office today and tomorrow.

Get your license before you go hunting and save much trouble and expense.

Walter Wickham Died at Sea

F. W. Wickham of Eustis was in the city today and stated that he had just received a postal card announcing the death of his son, Walter Wickham who died at sea on the way to France on October 8th. Walter was in the 327 Battalion Tank Corps and had trained at Gettysburg and Tollyhanna and had doubtless contracted the influenza or pneumonia before sailing. Walter Wickham was well known here where he attended the Sanford High School, and was a member of the football team for two seasons. The sympathy of his many friends is extended to his parents.

Workers Needed at Red Cross. There is an urgent need for workers in hospital, garments and surgical dressings at Red Cross headquarters and a special plea is made to the women of Sanford to respond. In addition to the unfinished allotment on hand, an allotment of 350 suits of pajamas have been received and two cases of surgical dressings have been allotted this Chapter. Seminole County Chapter has fulfilled every allotment to date and we feel sure that the workers will rally to this urgent call. The fact that the Armistice has been signed does not imply that all work is an end.

LAKE MONROE

The good people of Lake Monroe turned out en masse to celebrate the tidings of peace last Monday in a manner befitting the occasion.

Mr. Bartow Mann, saying that he felt inspired to make an effort in gathering the people together took the place of herald and made a house to house canvass in order to call the people in for a season of praise and prayer and thanksgiving to the Great All-Father for His divine guidance in leading our nation as well as others to terms of peace, while our teachers, Prof. and Mrs. J. Tilden Jacobs hastily prepared a program suitable to all.

At eleven o'clock this being the hour appointed, the people began to throng the church, the school was dismissed and all present engaged in singing America for the opening of the services.

Prayer was offered by Mr. Johnson. The Scriptural readings were from Psalms and were voluntary in which quite a number took part.

Voluntary speaking followed, in which many appropriate and touching thoughts were expressed. This was followed by a season of silent prayer and a chain of spoken prayers. The program was interspersed with the singing of hymns and national songs. All joined in repeating the Lord's Prayer for dismissal.

On leaving the church the school formed into a parade led by two little boys in the first grade, Fred Bell and Hubert Johnson proudly carrying flags almost as large as themselves. The people fell in line behind the school and all marched to the postoffice and back to the church and school grounds where the school children executed a very pretty flag drill. This ended by all drawing up around the school flag and singing the "Red, White and Blue" and finishing with a flag salute and three husky cheers for Old Glory.

Euclidian Class Meeting. This class will meet at the Baptist church Friday afternoon at three o'clock. A full attendance of the members and friends is earnestly delectation of officers and attend to other matters of importance. Do not forget the place and hour of meeting.

FLU WORSE THAN WAR

Caused More Deaths than Actual Battle

Washington, Nov. 17.—The recent epidemic of influenza in the United States caused more deaths than occurred among the American expeditionary forces from all causes from the time the first unit landed in France until hostilities ceased.

This announcement today by the census bureau was based on unofficial estimates of the total casualties among the overseas forces and reports from forty-six cities having a combined population of 23,000,000, which showed 82,306 deaths from influenza and pneumonia from Sept. 9 to Nov. 9.

Normally these cities would have had four thousand deaths from these causes during this period, it was said, leaving approximately 78,000 as the number properly chargeable to the epidemic.

"The total casualties in the American expeditionary forces," said the announcement, "have recently been unofficially estimated at 100,000. On the basis of the number thus far reported, it may be assumed that the deaths from all causes, including disease and accidents are probably less than 45 per cent and may not be more than 40 per cent of the total casualties. On this assumption the loss of life in the American expeditionary forces to date are about 40,000 or 45,000."

The total of deaths due to the influenza epidemic in this country is not known, the announcement said, as only the forty-six cities for which figures were given report vital statistics to the census bureau. The greatest mortality due to the epidemic in proportion to population was 7.4 per thousand in Philadelphia and the next greatest 6.7 per thousand was reported from Baltimore.

Workers Needed at Red Cross

There is an urgent need for workers in hospital, garments and surgical dressings at Red Cross headquarters and a special plea is made to the women of Sanford to respond. In addition to the unfinished allotment on hand, an allotment of 350 suits of pajamas have been received and two cases of surgical dressings have been allotted this Chapter. Seminole County Chapter has fulfilled every allotment to date and we feel sure that the workers will rally to this urgent call. The fact that the Armistice has been signed does not imply that all work is an end.

The need is just as great for many of our boys lie wounded and sick in France and it will be many months before they will all be brought home. Are we going to desert them in their dire necessity? Red Cross work goes on when every other organization will be relieved of the privilege, for even in times of peace the Red Cross responds to the call of every disaster with its systematic help and relief.

Because YOUR BOY may soon come home are you going to be a quitter when SOME OTHER MOTHER'S BOY is still there and maybe wounded? Show the kind of patriotism that you have by coming forward to help the boys NOW.

A sick farm is one that produces crops far below the average of the community. It is sick because the fertility is not maintained. It is a matter of poor management.

Such a Glad Month

All at once November seems Gladdest month of all our dreams. Mother with her smile so rare Thinks of sunny over there, Where the roar of cannon's stilled, And the heart of her is thrilled Just to think that he has won And the long, long battle's done, In the glad November time Life has turned to racy rhyme, And the turkey'll taste so good An' we'll pile on lots of wood While the ruddy log fire glows At the evening's peaceful close November always will be best Of all months 'twill be most blest. Each Thanksgiving day will be One to think of victory. —P. H. R., in Jacksonville Times Union.

This is the season when every body should start work on a new and better city. Get ready for a big winter season both in trade and visitors. We should get both and will get them if there was more push and energy here.

The Orlando Board of Trade recognizes the need for activity now that the war is over and have secured a home of their own and a new secretary and will go right after the business of attracting new people to that thriving city. And the only way to attract new people is by the Board of Trade route.

Clean Up Week is a good thing for any city. While some of the people clean up every week there are others who each year need to be prodded some to get them busy on the yards and make them clean up. But nevertheless Clean Up Week goes farther and brings us to the fact that winter is coming and winter means more business and more life.

It is a cinch that if the merchants of any town stop advertising that the business of that particular place will gradually die out. Some stores can do a little business but the bulk of the business will gradually go to other cities that are progressive enough to have live stores and live advertisers. No business in the world and no city in the world can keep going without a line of advertising and no city will remain a city long without a newspaper filled with advertising. You can see it for yourself.

NOW FOR SANFORD

After passing through some very strenuous months and playing our part as true Americans, meeting every requirement of the government and getting none of the war profits we have at last come to the end of the war and it behooves all of us to sit up and take notice of the fact that Sanford needs an awakening to our own needs. We need more pep, more ginger, more get up and go ahead spirit or we shall perish. There is a number of ideas that we can advance and a number that we can carry out by beginning right now. There is only one vehicle to boost your city and that is the Board of Trade. The board has been dormant during the war work to the exclusion of everything else but now that the war is over we should all get together in a big meeting and start something for Sanford.

HOW THE MONEY WAS SPENT

Boys in France Have What They Need
New York, Nov. 18.—How the National War Work Council of the Y. M. C. A. handled $54,354.34 during the period from the beginning of the war until July 31st last is set forth in an audited financial statement made public by George W. Perkins, chairman of the finance committee.

July 31st is the last date for which the figures could be made available from the Paris headquarters, and the operations on this side are given as of that date for the sake of uniformity. On that date the Y. M. C. A. had on hand a balance of more than $17,000,000, which has been entirely spent and succeeded by a deficit, in view of the heavy expense entailed by the vastly accelerated troop movements in recent months.

"In this intervening period," says a summary of the statement as issued by Mr. Perkins, "Y. M. C. A. men and women workers have been sent abroad at the rate of very nearly 1,000 a month and the number of buildings, restaurants, hotels, huts and tents operated for the A. E. F. in France increased from 895 to 1,500. The association is now one of the largest operators of hotels and restaurants in the world; it is the largest single exhibitor of motion pictures; it had the services of approximately 100 actresses and actors in huts in France, and has sent abroad the largest consignment of athletic goods ever placed in the history of organized sport. "One single order was placed recently for more than a half million dollars' worth. The preparation for educational work in the period of demobilization, an order has been placed for more than $2,000,000 worth of text books for use in France."

NOT A "REFORM" SCHOOL

The recent investigation into conditions at the school at Marianna has created quite a stir all over the state. There is no doubt but what conditions there have been exaggerated on account of the influenza that had laid the entire working force low at the time that Dr. Kloek was there. But conditions at the school have never been what they should be and Governor Catts and his cabinet are responsible for these conditions. Not only Governor Catts but his predecessors for at no time in the history of Florida have these boys had a square deal. There should be no "reform school" in Florida. We should have an industrial school where the delinquents could learn a trade of some kind and make the school self supporting while they are learning this trade. They should be kept at their trade during working hours and study at night and they should have good clean and comfortable quarters being under a discipline on the order of military discipline and a distinctive military or semi-military uniform would make them feel better and give them the proper spirit while they are at school. They should never be treated as criminals and should never feel that they are criminals or paupers. In other states the industrial schools have turned out some of the big men of this country and the fact that they became big men and useful men is due to the proper care and attention and training they received while at the industrial school. In other words the industrial school should be only a few degrees removed from a college and the boy who is sent to the right kind of an industrial school should come back after reaching manhood's estate with a college education. It can be done in Florida as well as in other states and if the governor and his cabinet are ignorant of the manner in which the school at Marianna should be conducted, let them go to other states where the boys are wards of the state and not criminals and let them get some knowledge of the industrial school idea. At the present time no boy will be sent to Marianna unless he is absolutely hopeless. As the probation officer of this county working without pay for the benefit of the boys the editor of the Herald kept the boys here and looked after them and made them into better boys rather than let them go to a school with the reputation of Marianna and it is a blot on the fair name of the state that such a school—a "reform school" in truth should exist in this state. If the governor and his cabinet cannot get results at the school at Marianna they should get off the job and let other people take the responsibility for there are other people who can and will take it and place the school on the high plane where it belongs. The whole truth of the matter is that the men of Florida are not taking the interest in the boys of the state that they should take and this holds good for our town as well as others, although the Juvenile Protective Association here has worked wonders since it organized—wonders that the average person has never recognized and never will because the average person is not interested in the welfare of the young boys. The young boys are the future citizens of America and should be looked after and watched over and yet it is left to a few earnest, Christian gentlemen to do all the work.

Since the world is being made over now it would be a good time to begin taking some notice of our boys here and elsewhere and doing some thing more for them than we have done in the past.

SPECIAL SESSION

Now that the war is almost over Governor Catts bobs up again and calls for a special session of the legislature. He quotes several reasons for the special session all of which could wait until the regular session in April. He does not say one word about the reapportionment of the state, the most important measure that could be brought before a regular or a special session. He does state that the State Reform School will be taken up but he and his cabinet officers could have taken up this matter long ago and acted upon the authority given them.

The special session will cost the state $50,000 according to some of the papers that have figured it up and nothing gained by the calling of the legislature together.

All of which makes us opine that the state has had enough of Mr. Catts and the entire feline tribe. Good night!

Optimistic Thought.

Reverence is ennobling and felt to be degrading only by the vulgar mind.

Pity the Sorrows of the Poor!

It is reported that $3,000,000 worth of jewelry was stolen in New York last year. Horrible! Now we shall have to spend a lot of time worrying over the sorrows of the poor people from whom it was stolen.—Dayton News.

Save Charred Documents.

Documents that have been charred by fire are rendered readable if collodion is poured over the charred paper. In a few minutes this dries, and a tough, transparent coating is produced through which the printing can be seen. Bank notes and other papers thus charred have been treated in this way with success.

Character Revealed by Laugh.

The leopard cannot change his spots, nor the laugher his laugh. A laugh is said to be characteristic of a person as his nose or the color of his eyes. No polish of educational veneer can alter the laugh much in quality and tone, although it may soften it. Yet, even then, in an unguarded moment the old laugh rings or cackles, or explodes, and the laugher is given away.

"Peterloo Massacre."

The Peterloo massacre is the name given to the dispersal of a meeting of Lancashire cotton operatives in St. Peter's field, Manchester, England, July 16, 1819, called to discuss parliamentary reform. Eleven were killed and more than 500 hurt by the constabulary. Hence the name Peterloo was made from the name of the field in fancied resemblance to that of Waterloo.

Make Beautiful Lives.

What beautiful books our lives would be if it had the binding—as, for instance—conversation, expressions, tones of voice and motives, were genuine, and what beautiful and helpful lesser editions we could turn out in the way of children from such homes. It may be well in this era of unrest, doubt and change to remember that the estimate people place upon our characters today and tomorrow is the last great binding of the volume we will hand down to posterity.—Exchange.

STEADIER HOG MARKETS PLANNED

Hog Producers and Packers Confer With Representatives of the Food Administration and Agricultural Department and Adopt New Plan of Regulation.

In accordance with the policy of the Food Administration since its foundation to consult representative men in the agricultural industry on occasions of importance to special branches of the industry, on October 24 there was convened in Washington a meeting of the Live Stock Subcommittee of the Agricultural Advisory Board and the special members representing the swine industry to consider the situation in the hog market.

The conference lasted for three days, and during this time met with the executive committee of the fifty packing firms participating in foreign orders for pork products and with the members of the Food Administration directing foreign pork purchases.

The conclusions of the conference were as follows:

The entire marketing situation has so changed since the September Joint conference as to necessitate an entire alteration in the plans of price stabilization.

The current price talk has alarmed the holders of corn, and there has been a price decline of from 25 cents to 40 cents per bushel. The fact that the accumulations of low priced corn in the Argentine and South Africa would, upon the advent of peace and liberated shipping, become available to the European market has created a great deal of apprehension on the part of corn holders.

This decline has spread fear among swine growers that a similar reduction in the prices of hogs would naturally follow. Moreover, the lower range of corn prices would, if incorporated in a 13-to-1 ratio, obviously result in a continuously falling price for live hogs. In view of these changed conditions many swine producers anticipated lower prices and as a result rushed their hogs to market in large numbers, and this overshipment has added to and aggravated the decline.

The information of the Department of Agriculture indicates that the supply of hogs has increased about 8 per cent, while the highest unofficial estimate does not exceed 15 per cent. Increased production over last year. On the other hand, the arrival of hogs during the last three weeks in the seven great markets has been 27 per cent more than last year, during the corresponding period, demonstrating the unusually heavy marketing of the available supply.

In the face of the excessive receipts some packers have refused to accept the price agreed last year. On the other hand, many of the packers have paid over the price offered to them in an endeavor to maintain the agreed price. The result in any event has been a failure to maintain the October price basis determined upon at the September conference and undertaken by the packers. Another factor contributing to the decline in prices during the month of October is the influenza epidemic, which has sharply curtailed consumption of pork products and temporarily decreased the labor staff of the packers about 25 per cent.

The exports of 130,000,000 pounds of pork products for October compared with about 52,000,000 pounds in October a year ago, and the export orders placed by the Food Administration for November, amount to 100,000,000 pounds as contrasted with the lesser exports of 40,000,000 for November, 1917. The increased demands of the allies are continuing, and are in themselves a necessity for the large production for which the Food Administration asked. The increase in export demands appears to be amply sufficient to take up the increase in production, but unfavorable market conditions existing in October added to the fair index of the aggregate supply and demand.

It is to be evident that the enormous shortage in fats in the Central European and neutral countries would result in a demand for pork products which, on top of the heavy shipments to the Allies, would tend materially to increase the American exports, inasmuch as no considerable reservoir of supplies exists outside of the United States. It seems probable that the present prospective supplies would be inadequate to meet this world demand with the return to peace. So far as it is possible to interpret this fact, it appears that there should be even a stronger demand for pork products after the war, and therefore any attempt of hog producers as to the effect of peace is unwarranted by the outlook.

In the light of these circumstances it is the conclusion of the conference that attempts to hold the price of hogs to the price of corn may work out to the disadvantage of pork producers. It is the conclusion that any interpretation of the formula should be a long period. It is the opinion of the conference that in substitution of the previous plans of stabilization the Live Stock Subcommittee of the Agricultural Advisory Board, together with the specially invited swine representatives, should accept the invitation of the Food Administration to join with the Administration and the packers in determining the prices at which controlled export orders are to be placed. This will be regularly done. The influence of the common objective—the maintenance of the common objective—namely, the stabilization of the price of live hogs so as to secure as far as possible fair returns to the

HOW GOVERNMENT CONTROL AFFECTS OUR DEVELOPMENT

Southern Land Congress Plans For Centralized Control—President Warfield Points Out Danger in Present Tendencies

Savannah, Ga.—In the Southern Land Congress just held here, with fourteen Southern states represented, it was clearly demonstrated that the great land associations which are seeking Southern development, and, now, a plan to locate many of the returning American soldiers, must have adequate support, if they are to continue their important constructive work.

The congress, which was held under the auspices of four of the largest land associations in the South, all of which were established by the Southern Settlement and Development Organization, represented a membership of more than 2,000, including leading farmers in every Southern state, and over 25,000,000 acres of land.

Formerly, this organization, of which S. Davies Warfield of Baltimore, Md., is president, and which has done much toward Southern agricultural development, was supported largely by railroads operating in the South.

Declined to Help. Since government control of the railroads—these contributions have been withheld, and, in a striking statement to the land congress, President Warfield said that notwithstanding the appeal made in a petition by 27 Southern senators from 15 states, that the national railroad administration continue these contributions to the organization, the director general declined on the ground that contributions should not be made to a "private organization not under government control."

This position was taken, notwithstanding that Maryland had granted a charter, and given it $30,000 from the state treasury thus attesting its public character.

"It is indeed unfortunate," Mr. Warfield said, "when an agency like this, organized not for gain but for the general good, and which is admitted by the administration to be a highly meritorious one, must be discontinued on a more pretense in order that it might be able to continue its only enterprise."

If these organizations are to accomplish their constructive aims in the development of the South and its millions of acres of productive land, the restoration of some-what private management of the railroads is essential.

Mr. Warfield said support had thus been withdrawn by the railroad administration from an agency which had organized for the benefit of the South in assisting in providing these very products needed for the winning of the war.

Shall Autocracy Continue? "It may be natural," he said, "that those in power should wish to perpetuate their own power, but for the rights granted to them, or as many of them as they can hold. But such an autocracy as congress was compelled, under conditions of war, to temporarily set up, it may be safely assumed, was intended for the purpose of winning the war only. And we must take care, lest we now create in this country the very conditions which the life's blood of millions of men has been shed to destroy in other continents."

Asserting that for this very reason, questions arising from the two schools of thought—private or government ownership of utilities—will likely be made political issues, and very soon occupy the attention of the two great political parties, Mr. Warfield declared that the people of the country must decide upon one of two courses: First, government ownership, under which the railroads will seek to get all they can for their holdings, and without regard to whether such ownership is to the advantage of the people; and, second, restored and properly regulated private management at which will assure to them better service and the benefits of individual initiative.

"My own judgment is," Mr. Warfield said, "that only through comprehensive plans of control and regulation under private management and initiative, can the best results be obtained from any of the great industries of the country."

Shippers and Land Owners. Concerning the vital interests of the shippers and the land owners, in these problems, Mr. Warfield said: "The shippers and land owners of the country are as much concerned in the questions at issue—whether the railroads are owned and operated by the government or under private ownership and operation—as any interest involved. The securities of their own companies, if they are corporations, are affected; and if they are not corporations, their business is affected by the sympathetic effect of any action that adversely affects the billions of railroad securities outstanding. Moreover, the success of the shipper and land owner is directly dependent upon adequate and proper railroad development and service.

"If there is a people to whom the very idea of such a system of paternalism—government ownership and all that it involves—must be repugnant, it is those of us who live in the South."

It was determined by the Congress that the four land associations shall take over the Southern Settlement and Development Organization; continuing its work under the suggestions of the officers of that organization, as a clearing house and medium through which to give collective expression to the desires of the land owners of the South, to the end that all sections of the Southern country may be benefited by the plans of the Secretary of the Interior, in providing for returning American soldiers and sailors.

The securities of their own companies, if they are corporations, are affected; and if they are not corporations, their business is affected by the sympathetic effect of any action that adversely affects the billions of railroad securities outstanding. Moreover, the success of the shipper and land owner is directly dependent upon adequate and proper railroad development and service.

CAPT. F. M. GUARDABASSI

The Italian government has awarded to Capt. Francesco Mario Guardabassi its silver medal, which is virtually the highest award of military recognition that can come to an Italian soldier.

The medal was awarded to him when he gave admirable proof of his bravery in checking a sudden and threatened panic aroused among the troops at Tagliamento on October 26, 1917. Captain Guardabassi, owing to his knowledge of America and Americans, was sent to the United States on a special mission from the Italian government.
