Kilbee said he had accumulated ance of his life, 'but if we have taxes on the land we graze them on, we are out of business. We can't do it'."

Another Relief Bill

In a recent issue of the New Smyrna Daily News there appeared an editorial expressing a thought which must at various times have occurred to all of us who live in heavily over-bonded cities. The News quotes from a winter visitor who suggests that the State of Florida, now debt free, assume all the bond obligations of its smaller subdivisions and provide, through the institution of sales taxes and gasoline taxes, for their payment.

From the point of view of a city like Sanford, there is certainly much to be said in favor of such a plan. High taxes and the constant threat of higher taxes have been among the main causes of our particular little "depression."
If we could get rid of a debt which is now about six times as much as can ever be paid, we feel sure that new construction would be undertaken in this city which would soon pull us out of the doldrums.

The same situation confronts many another Florida city and political subdivision. A good many of them are heavily overbonded as the result of boomtime expenditures which went a long way toward the development of the State. Because of these debts their taxes are abnormally high, and because of high taxation and the apparent impossibility of effecting any reasonable settlement of their obligations further progress and development are blocked.

It can be said in favor of the State assuming these obligations that Florida is no better than its cities and counties. It can not have prosperity which is not shared by its smaller units. If it is true that the expenditure of vast sums of money borrowed by cities and counties in 1925 helped to build up the State of Florida, it is equally true that at least a share of the responsibility for re-paying the bonds should fall upon the State in 1935. If it is true that the debts of Florida cities and counties are hindering their recovery, it is equally true that these debts are hindering the recovery of the State.

However, the solution of the problem is not as easy as it sounds. There are many cities and counties in Florida which did not get caught in borrowing epidemic of the boom. These communities are not bothered with bond problems today and are not interested in assuming, either directly, or indirectly through their taxes to the State, part of the boomtime obligations of other cities and counties.
It is rather difficult to imagine, for instance, that a citizen of Marianna, would favor a state-wide sales tax for the purpose of retiring the bonds issued during the boom by some other community, say, Sanford.

Furthermore, when it comes to the assumption by the State of the indebtedness of certain cities and counties, there is that little matter of a constitutional provision prohibiting the State of Florida from going into debt for any reason whatsoever. The State would have to issue bonds to borrow the money with which to pay up the bonds of the cities and counties, and the State could not legally do this, even if it would.

It seems fairly obvious that the cities and counties cannot expect much help from the State in connection with their bond problems. However, there is a bill in Congress providing for a broadening of the power of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation enabling that organization to lend money to distressed localities for the purpose of refunding their financial obligations. This is something which cities like Sanford may reasonably expect some relief from and which they ought to find their strength in obtaining its passage.

Pennsylvania Tried It

While some of our politicians are making strenuous efforts to get their hands in what promises to be a very profitable business—profitable from the standpoint of the politicians, there is a steadily rising tide of protest against the State of Florida going into the liquor business under the guise of State Liquor Dispensaries. When this system may work well enough in certain foreign countries, it does not seem to be well adapted to our American personality for graft and corruption in public office.

After fourteen months of trial, the people of Pennsylvania now view the State liquor dispensary system as a total and disastrous failure. The Tampa Times declares:
"Already steps are being taken by the State Legislature to repeal the act through a Statewide referendum. The electors and it is predicted that it will pass by a tremendously overwhelming majority because of the general popular disgust with the plan."

"Political favoritism and worse, the looting off of inferior goods at high prices on the public, merchandising inefficiency and business incompetence, all the evils which have been predicted would come to Florida if the Legislature at its coming session were foolish enough to yield to the pressure, have been dragged out into the light of day at the current legislative investigation into the Liquor Control Board at the Pennsylvania capital.

"In setting forth these facts, the special dispatches from Philadelphia published in the Times yesterday and the day before have been timely and appropriate as warnings for the people of Florida to read and heed. Passed under the 'reformer,' Gifford Pinchot, as the cure-all for unemployment relief, the plan, instead of raising millions in profits for this purpose, merely resulted in a new stimulation of bootlegging and heavy deficits for the State.

"In the face of such damning evidence, it may be that the job-seekers and patronage hunters foregathering at Tallahassee next month will still persist in trying to put over this thoroughly unsound scheme. But if they do, it will be clear that they are hoping only to serve selfish ends and not the public interest.

"There is only one proper course for the members of the Legislature under the circumstances and that is to kill this pet measure of the 'inner ring' and adopt laws regulating the taxing, distribution and sale of liquor in private hands in a way that will elicit sales and return a real revenue to the State and its subdivisions.

Letter Written Half
Century Ago Shows
Attitude Of People

WINTER PARK, Mar. 25.—
That the plans to establish Rollins College when first announced received "instant and unanimous approval of the best public sentiment of the state" was revealed in a letter written exactly fifty years ago today.

It was made public by J. C.
Chase, pioneer Floridian, former trustee of Rollins and kinsman of L. A. Chase, founder of Winter Park, in an announcement of the third program in the observance of the Rollins semi-centennial, of which program he is chairman.

This program will be held on Apr. 17 and will commemorate the fiftieth anniversary of the decision of the General Congregational Association of Florida to establish a college in Winter Park.

"The need of such an institution was felt to be imperative," reads the letter which was written at the Bible House, Astor Place, New York, Mar. 22, 1885
and signed by Dr. Joseph H. Clark, secretary of the American Home Missionary Society. The public school system of the state was in adequate condition, the historic document says.

"The commercial development of Florida, the building of new railroads and the consequent migration of families from the North and West constituted the demand for improved means of education and made the brethren of our churches, a unit in their purpose to provide them. . . . The American Home Missionary Society welcomes it most heartily believing that in Florida as everywhere else, true religion and pure morality must advance hand in hand with a high and sound education."

Mr. Chase announced that the ceremony on Apr. 17 will take the form of rededicating Winter Park's support of Rollins College and will consist of a convocation in Knowles Memorial Chapel, an academic procession to the Congregational Church to acknowledge the Pilgrim heritage of the College and the unveiling of a bronze tablet on the site where fifty years ago Winter Park celebrated the establishment of Rollins in Winter Park.

The exercises will be conducted at the President's home, where a painting of L. A. Chase, founder of Winter Park, will be presented and where an exhibit of historical material, relating to the event will be arranged by Mrs. Grace Phillips Johnson.

Citrus Inspection
To End On Apr. 1

WINTER HAVEN, Mar. 25.— (AP)—Through the Citrus Inspection Bureau here, Commissioner of Agriculture Nathan Mayo Friday announced the end of State inspection and certification of frozen fruit, effective Apr. 1.

However, Mayo said, federal food and drug administration inspectors will remain in the field and warned shippers to exercise
the same care in separating fruit showing excessive dryness as they have under state inspection.

Shipments showing excessive dryness, will be reported by the inspectors for check-up at destinations, he said.

Hauptmann Defense
Witness Indicted

FLEMINGTON, N. J., Mar. 25.—
A defense witness in the Hauptmann case was indicted on a charge of perjury Friday by the Hunterdon county grand jury,
it was revealed by Prosecutor Hauck.

The name of the person indicted was not disclosed and will not be until an arrest is made.

The revelation followed a conference held at Trenton yesterday by defense counsel and prosecutors regarding a date for hearing the appeal of Bruno Haupt-mann's death sentence for the murder of the Lindbergh baby.

Belgium To Remain
On Gold Standard

LONDON, Mar. 25.—(AP)—The Exchange Telegraph agency was informed by the National Bank of Belgium in a telephone conversation Friday that a report from the city of London that Belgium would either go off the gold standard or devaluate the franc was false.

"The report is untrue," the bank was quoted as saying. "It promises to the gold standard and remains on the gold standard."

Compulsory Marriage Plan Attacked By Rupert Hughes

Divorce Should Be Made Easier And Quieter, Says Novelist Who Decries Usual Publicity

In this article, second in a daily series of four, Rupert Hughes presents his views on divorce.

Associated Press Staff Writer) By SIGRID ARNE

Divorce should be made easier and quieter, says Rupert Hughes, novelist.

"There is no more reason for the publicity and scandal attendant on divorce than there would be for performing a surgical operation in a courtroom," he says. "Divorce is the only cure for some evils, and it should be made as easy and quiet as possible.

"Abolition of divorce would be a backward step in civilization. My reason for advocating easy divorce is that compulsory wedlock is not only horribly contrary to all principles of freedom, but establishes a tacit consent to all forms of immorality, cruelty, and hypocrisy.

"Look at the communities where divorce is impossible. They don't shine under the searchlight of investigation.

"Many sets are absolutely opposed to dissolution of marriage with the privilege of remarriage. But in such groups thousands of married couples live apart in fact, and among them grows up a tradition of the right to keep a mistress or a lover. This can be called divorce of a sort, or polygamy.

"Divorce becomes necessary for many reasons. People who are delightful companions in betrothal relation, may turn appallingly uncomradely under the same roof. People develop differently. Sometimes the coming of children brings out inhuman traits in parents. It seems to be simply in famous to allow no escape in such situations.

"Divorce and remarriage is as likely to bring happiness as the correction of any other human error inevitably ruins life. I fail to accept as successful those marriages whose highest aim is ox-like patience.

"The most that can be said for countless unbroken marriages is that the unhappy partners bear their burden with bravery. To many that is sufficient. They look toward heaven when there are no marriages. But I believe in finding happiness on earth. I do not believe that human laws should be based on post mortem promises.

"Property rights often create tangles when couples seek divorce. But there should be no more confusion in property settlements because of divorce than there is in the dissolution of any other partnership.

"The wife should not be discriminated against with the husband's assets which makes her a wife under divorcees' systems. Everything that is sold against divorce has been sold against public schools, roads, bridges, fire, police, medicine, even war taxes.

"It is a remarkable thing the absence of the word 'divorce' in government laws, such as that of one man's property and divorce laws. Why?

"As soon as a man becomes a politician, he neglects his wife and children. If a divorce is not allowed, he is forced to stay with them.

"I believe that the divorce law should be made easier and quieter.

Hoover Speech Seen As Bid For Presidency

"Mr. Hoover's letter would do me like a bid for the presidential laurel." Senator L. J. Dickinson, Republican, Iowa:

"I do not view the speech as a bid for presidential nomination. Mr. Hoover's statement is sound." Senate Democratic Leader Joseph T. Robinson:

"So far as I can interpret his message it is filled with general and mysterious statements that must be disappointing to those who wish to follow his leadership."

Of the New Deal, Mr. Hoover wrote that it jeopardized American principles with un-American government.

This debate relates to methods and Mr. Hoover has stated the issue upon which he expects the 1936 campaign to turn:

"The theories of this Administration do not work. They are no longer a propagandized millennium; they are self-exposed."

On the basis of a resumed gold standard, Mr. Hoover then offered to his disorganized party concrete suggestions for:

Re-employment.
Revival of capital goods industries.
Control of living costs.
Protection of invested funds of retired institutions.
Assurance of inflation.

As a trial leader of the Republican party, Mr. Hoover now has followed that positive prescription with a demonstration of New Deal policies particularly NRA, the Agricultural Adjustment Administration and participation of government in business a notable example being the Tennessee Valley Authority, electrical power development.

Political observers judge Mr. Hoover's attack to have been well timed. The New Deal is in trouble because in a twelve week period it has passed a number of bills and more of Mr. Hoover's 1935 record is being applied to the New Deal program than in any year.

Jack Lamb, of Fort Worth, Texas, recognized as "the world's champion black bass fisherman," gave an exhibition of casting on the lawn of the City Hall this afternoon before an audience which included practically every fishing enthusiast in this section.

Mr. Lamb now is on a tour of Florida, and Sanford is one of 12 cities which he visited.

Once again Harry M. Papworth has been recognized by Governor Shultz of Florida. The latest recognition is Mr. Papworth's appointment to represent Florida at the 20th annual Convention of the National Rivers and Harbors Congress at the Mayflower Hotel in Washington on May 2 and May 3. Mr. Papworth accepted the appointment today and announced that he will attend the convention.

State's Attorney L. F. Boyle left this afternoon for Titusville where for the next three weeks he expects to be engaged in handling the state's prosecution of cases brought before Circuit Court Judge Milward E. Smith during its spring term opening tomorrow morning. Mr. Boyle expects to commute between Sanford and Titusville during the court term.

Judge G. A. Carden, D. Frank Carden and Bernard Heffernan, Washington men who operated the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club's track at Longwood for a brief period last week, left here Saturday afternoon for the capital after having completed all arrangements for a racing season here next year. It was reliably reported that the group held all outstanding accounts in closed this year, and that arrangements are being made to handle all other legitimate claims so that opening day next season will find details of this type out of the way.

Out-Of-Turn Bid Is Given Much Stiffer Penalty

call is made the partner must pass during the balance of the auction.

If South is the dealer and West passes out of turn provision (a) applies. If South is the dealer and West passes and now North should pass before West has made any call, provision (a) would still apply. If, however, a player should make any bid or double out of turn, or a pass after a bid has been made, clause (b) applies.

This law takes the place of old law No. 29, which distinguished between an out-of-turn call made by a left hand opponent (L. H. O.) and one made by a right hand opponent. It will also be remembered that the penalty for the out of turn call frequently prescribed the right to call for a new deal in most cases this penalty was inappropriate and often resulted in punishing the non-offending side.

The law was most unpopular and all contract players will be pleased to learn of its repeal.

If during the Auction Period a card is exposed (this includes an opening lead before auction is completed), the card must be placed face up on the table during the auction and

(a) If the owner becomes a defender the dealer may either play the opening lead from being made in the suit of the exposed card, or else treat the card as a Penalty Card (a Penalty Card is defined under the Play Period).

(b) If the exposed card is of honor rank or if more than one card has been exposed, the owner's partner must pass during the rest of the auction.

This law takes the place of old law No. 29, which distinguished between a card dropped on the table and one exposed with intent to lead. Several optional penalties were prescribed in each case. The former law was quite complicated and required several decisions in order to clarify its meaning. The present version is a vast improvement.

Several years ago Sam Bellamy wrote a popular story entitled "Eight Clubs." It dealt with the hero of the story, an Eight Club as a sacrifice but after his opponents had had Seven Spades. He was doubted and the contract was defeated by one trick but his hero holding nullified the undertrick penalty under the 1932 code.

The code of eight was definitely barred by the reading of law 22, Section 8 of the new laws under the heading "Infringement of proper laws" indicates that a bid of eight is now recognized. However, as an opponent of the offender may choose the best of eight if he desires. The same section also provides that a player may be forced to bid eight. Thus if a player makes an insufficient seven bid he may be forced to make his bid sufficient to bid eight. If he is thereby forced to bid eight, he is thereby forced to bid eight. If he is thereby forced to bid eight, he is thereby forced to bid eight.

When doubling or redoubling, names an increasing number of tricks or a wrong suit is deemed to have doubled or redoubled the bid as made and his partner must pass the next time it is his turn to call.

The new law providing for the out of turn call will be explained in the next issue of the "Auctioneer."

authorities of all the world to speak for peace among mankind. The warning of impending war will be in plain terms, asserting there are too many indications pointing to an armed struggle far more disastrous than the World War for the church to remain silent, and that a new war would mean the return of humanity, to the days of the barbarians.

Relief Bill Leads For Vote In The House

Debate Are To Choose Between Outright Acceptance Or Further Discussion

WASHINGTON, Mar. 26. (A.P.)—The $4,880,000,000 relief bill President Roosevelt left with Congressional leaders when he traveled south for a fishing trip, headed today toward a vote in a heavily Democratic House.

Representatives were to vote between sending the bill to conference with the Senate, and outright acceptance of the Senate's 81 amendments.

The Administration wanted the bill to go to conference where amendments which were deemed "unworkable" could be deleted.

Those were believed to include Thomas' silver inflation amendment.

The House silverites desired approval of the Thomas proposal, but sought a means to enforce acceptance.

The Senate was engaged with the calendar, including the expiration bills and the repeal of the "pink slip" income tax public law.

An advisory council to aid in selling the $4,880,000,000 work of funds was held in authority quarters yesterday to be under serious consideration by President Roosevelt.

Negroes, White Jailed For Stealing Cabbage

Four negro men and a young white resident of Washington, arrested by sheriff's deputies, last night for their part in stealing 100 pounds of cabbage from the farm and Co. farm near Wagon. It was announced today by Deputy O. E. Estridge.

John Williams, a local negro, identified as the leader of the gang which not only sold the 100 pounds of cabbage at the Farmers' Wholesale Market Monday night, but planned to up to at least 750 pounds, more sale Tuesday night.

Williams, however, was arrested Tuesday afternoon on a charge of shooting firearms on a public way. He was jailed, and the report of theft of cabbage Tuesday night was thereby delayed to the meantime. Deputies Exton and Jack-Hickson, tipped that Williams was the "brains" of the party, including the 100 lbs. negro arrested last night, Frank Thomas, the Bookmore, and Leonard, 16-year-old white boy, arrested Thursday night.

Arrested before Judge James Johnson, Williams, Thomas, and the 16-year-old boy. They were held heavily. All now are on the city road gang.

Williams is in the County Jail being held from relatives. The Bookmore is out on bond for appearance in the next term of city court.

Preacher And Wife Held In Slaying

Accused in the slaying of Adolbert Ewing, 51, because of his alleged attentions to her 15-year-old daughter, Mrs. Vivian Lucie Payne and her husband, Rev. J. J. Payne, ex-evangelist of North Fairfield Ohio, were placed under $1,000 bonds at Pascagoula, Miss. Officers quoted Mrs. Payne as saying she shot Ewing when she found him in an automobile with Gladys Mae Kelly, his daughter by a former marriage. Jobless Tampans Protest Against FERA Meat Supply

TAMPA, Mar. 26.—Several hundred men and women who were lined up at Eighth Avenue and Sixteenth Street to receive free meat from the FERA put on a demonstration yesterday afternoon in protest against the quality of the meat distributed.

A few hurried packages of meat at the men who were hauling it in trucks, others trampled it under foot until about 100 pounds or 300 pounds of kidneys, boiling meat and ground meat were kicked about in the dirt.

For several minutes there was a shouting match between the demonstrators and the police. (Continued On Page Three)

Negro Cafe Owner Fined $100 For Selling Liquor

Mike Sheffield, negro cafe operator, is the first local person to feel the effect of a new drive under way in this city to "clean up" all places whose owners are known to be selling liquor without having purchased a license.

Arrested in Police Court, before Judge A. H. Wilkinson yesterday, Sheffield was fined $100. Half of the fine was suspended on promise that he give up the sale of liquor until he purchases a license.

Arrested in Police Court, before Judge A. H. Wilkinson yesterday, Sheffield was fined $100. Half of the fine was suspended on promise that he give up the sale of liquor until he purchases a license.

Chief of Police Roy G. Williams indicated that he will continue the drive and that all persons now selling liquor can expect a visit without further warning.

J. E. Davis, white, was fined $5 for being drunk and disorderly. Helen Narvel and Mrs. W. N. Sims, white women, will be tried Monday on charges of being disorderly.

Marko Galbreath, white, Mary Jenkins, M. E. Murray, Shadrick Brown and Carrie Green all were fined $1 for violating a city sanitary ordinance.

E. E. Allen, white, was given a 60-day suspended sentence for disorderly conduct.

William Ingram was fined $50 for 60 days.

Julian Baker fined $25 for being drunk and disorderly, with Charles Alexander fined $10 for the same reason.

Fined for disorderly conduct were Robert Williams, John White and C. W. Williams, $5 each; Bertha Williams, $10; Ida Wells, $5.

Dismissed of disorderly conduct were John Kelly, white, 20; and Work was resumed of a traffic violation charge, and Foster Turner was dismissed of petit larceny. George Nichols, was fined $10 for reckless driving. Henry Brown is to be tried Monday for reckless driving and being disorderly, while W. E. Eckhardt, white, also is to be tried Monday for being disorderly.

Japan Steps From League On Morrow

With Manchukuo, Her Lone Ally, She Will Stand As Self-Chosen Peace Defender

TOKIO, Mar. 26.—Japan's membership in the League of Nations ends officially tomorrow. Flanked by her single avowed ally, Manchukuo, she faces the world as the self-chosen procurer of peace in the orient.

Final termination of her membership in the League completed a long process which started Feb. 24, 1933, when Emperor Hirohito issued a decree withdrawing Japan from the League assembly.

Mar. 27 of that year Japan formally gave notice of her withdrawal from the League setting forth as a reason the assembly's censure of Japanese aggression in Manchuria during 1931 and 1932.

Japan has advised other powers in blunt terms that she will stand as guardian of the peace of the East, with outside assistance little desired and not invited.

She has embarked on an ambitious policy marked by denunciation of the Washington naval treaty, demands for naval parity with Great Britain and the United States, and armed forces "sufficient to defend, but inadequate to attack."

Japan completed arrangements for the purchase of Russia's half interest in the Chinese Eastern railway by Manchukuo. She has brought charges of closing the "open door" in east Asia by establishing stringent regulations governing foreign investments in Japan, and Manchukuo has announced a withdrawal of all foreign boundaries.

The diet has approved Japan's withdrawal from the League (Continued On Page Six)

Tornado Damages Carolina Towns

CONCORD, N. C., Mar. 26.—(A.P.)—A tornado hit several communities near here yesterday afternoon, destroying houses, demolishing smaller buildings, and disrupting communication.

The damage was estimated at $200,000. Will Hill, Roberts farmer, suffered a fractured shoulder when the chimney of his house crashed through the roof and Mrs. Hill Kennedy was cut about the face when her home collapsed. Five other persons in the Kennedy home escaped injury.

It occurs to me that what the party needs more than anything else is a breaking away from those ancient moorings which have brought it to its present state.

Each individual who undertakes to provide the prescription affords a different medicine. If the elephant were to follow these all, certain death might really be the result.

It occurs to me that what the party needs more than anything else is a breaking away from those ancient moorings which have brought it to its present state.

Americans are sick and tired of a party that will not yield readily to changing conditions. A party that while its eyes at the consequences of continued concentration of wealth and opportunity can have no place in our American life. Nor is there much hope for a party that ties itself up to the big banking interests and sells itself to them without reserve.

If the Republican party is to succeed it needs to be re-born. It needs progressive leadership and a program inviting confidence that here is a party fully representative of the people.

Daytona Seeks To Oust Its Mayor, City Commissioner

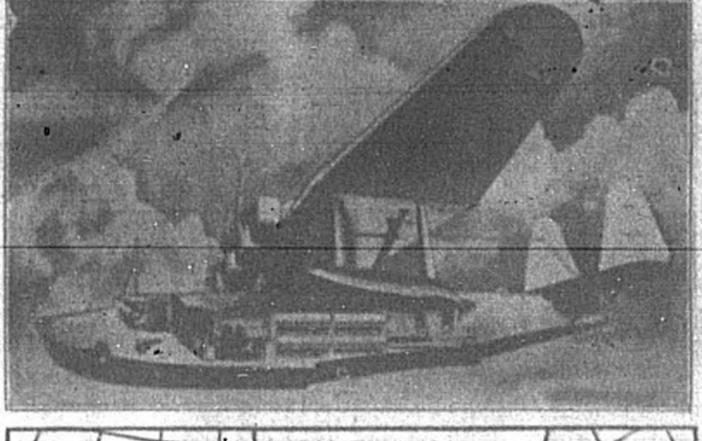

TALLAHASSEE, Mar. 26.—(A.P.)—The City of Daytona Beach has brought two separate proceedings in the supreme court seeking to have removed from office its mayor or E. H. Armstrong, and a city commissioner, Ralph W. Richards.

Both Mayor Armstrong and Richards, the city claimed, had forfeited their rights to hold office because it said they had profited from purchases of the City of Daytona Beach bonds from companies in which the two city officers or their relatives were stockholders and officers of the Richards Discounting and Awaiting Company.

Applications for the most orders were filed by W. W. Judge of Daytona Beach, as counsel for the city. Judge claimed Mayor Armstrong, George Courtney, and that Richards was a stockholder and officer of the Richards Discounting and Awaiting Company.

During 1934, Judge claimed, the City of Daytona Beach purchased from the Richards company securities such as flags and banners, amounting to a total of $24,000. In that same year, he said in his application, the city bought supplies from the Armstrong company amounting to a total of $23,277.

CLIPPER PLANE READY FOR PACIFIC SERVICE

A 2,504-mile test flight from Miami, Fla., to the Virgin Islands and return demonstrated the technical readiness of this gigantic 12-ton Pan-American clipper ship for trans-Pacific air service. Papworth Wants Baseball Fans To Attend Meeting Proposed organization of the Sanford Baseball Club with Harry M. Papworth as president and members of the board of directors is scheduled to take place at the City Hall at 8:30 o'clock Wednesday night.

The meeting is open to the public and the importance is stressed by Mr. Papworth's statement, approved by a group of at least a dozen other men, that "if Sanford really wants baseball this summer, its true fan" will attend the meeting. If it doesn't want baseball, he'll drop the matter entirely tomorrow night.

Joining Mr. Papworth in an appeal for the attendance of all baseball lovers are thoroughly capable men: W. H. Pope, Arthur Brown, W. C. Hill, Earl Vane and R. A. Newman. The group met with Mr. Papworth yesterday afternoon to discuss without definite steps having been taken toward organization other than a letter from each that he would attend the meeting.

One hundred and two men who are believed to represent the leading baseball fans have been invited to the meeting by telephone and postcard from Mr. Papworth's office. Every fan in the city is expected to attend, Mr. Papworth said. He will act as temporary chairman of the meeting.

Roosevelt Has Eye On Big Game Fish As He Nears State

ENRIQUE TO FLORIDA, Mar. 26.—(A.P.)—Victims of boats with big game fish rose in President Roosevelt's mind today as he sped southward for a vacation off the Florida coast.

Leaving behind in the capital a tentative seven-point legislative program, Harry Hopkins called on Roosevelt to discuss details of the government's huge work relief program.

Before he left Washington late last night, the President received assurance of a remarkable improvement in the condition of Louis H. Howe, his secretary, who has been critically ill at the White House.

From Washington leaders, the Chief Executive had announced that they would try to get his program through Congress though many battles appear in the offing. The program was drawn up in a conference between the President and Secretary of the Interior, Harold Ickes.

Though it was emphasized that the calendar was not "hard and fast" and was to be flexible enough to permit the inclusion of other bills the President's program was listed as among those to be considered with a view to final action.

Representatives of the two parties with their assistants, talked throughout the morning at the White House, lunching together at the British embassy, then touring through cheering throngs, which lined the streets in Hitler's office for the afternoon conversations.

Anglo-German Conversations Come To End

Hitler Said Not To Have Given Size Of Military Force He Would Organize

BERLIN, Mar. 26.—(A.P.)—The Anglo-German conversations ended late today and it was officially stated that Reichsfuehrer Hitler had not given definite indications of how large a military force he intends to build.

Hitler, German officials said, pursued the question of 200,000 British foreign volunteers, and turned back the whole Anglo-German conversation.

"We will wait," German spokesmen said, "until we have more definite news from the British side." Hitler was said to have told Mr. Jones.

Regarding the German of Hitler, it was said that the British representative reported the British Government's position: that there was no intention of a 200,000 British force before the war would be over.

Just before the conversations came to a close, a British and German spokesman disclosed that the German leader had indicated that Germany's rearmament is an unshakable fact from which he cannot waver, and that it is up to other nations to say what they are willing to do toward bringing about disarmament.
