TIME LIMIT IN CRUISER BILL IS UNDER FIRE

Enactment Nears Despite Attacks Upon One Of Its Most Important Provisions
Borah Is Leading Fight On Clause

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—(INS)—The administration's new cruiser bill was on its way today to enactment by the Senate but with one of its most important provisions—the time limitation under fire from both Republican and Democratic sides.

Senator Borah (R) of Idaho, who directed the administration's fight for ratification of the Kellogg-Briand peace treaty, led an assault on the time clause, although expressing a belief that the bill should be enacted. Under the time clause, the bill would authorize that work shall start on five new cruisers during 1929, on five more during 1930 and a third five during 1931.

Borah urged the removal of all time limits, in order to give the United States something to trade at the next world disarmament conference. He proposed however that a world conference be called at once to establish the rights of neutrals at sea during future wars and he suggested that such a conference be held before another disarmament parity is staged. The time clause has warm advocates. The American Legion and other soldier and sailor organizations look upon it as the heart of the bill. They believe cruisers will be built only if Congress sets definite dates for the beginning of construction. They won a victory in the House, which included the time limits in the bill.

In urging a conference to "protect the rights of neutrals on the sea," Borah declared it was aimed at curbing the present policy of Great Britain. He asserted that Great Britain in time of war, disregarded the maritime rights of neutral powers. He declared it would be necessary to have the British nation and all other pledge the inviolability of neutral rights on the sea.

Riot Guns Used To Overcome Suspect

CHICAGO, Jan. 23.—(INS)—A policeman was shot and probably fatally wounded and a suspect sought by police, barricaded in an apartment, was perhaps mortally wounded here today in a terrific pitched battle in which four squads of detectives employed tear gas, machine guns, revolvers and riot guns. Policeman Walter Skolay was shot in the abdomen. John Scerba, suspect, was shot five times. Patrolman Skolay and his partner, Sgt. James Kilgore, went to the Scerba residence to arrest the man. When they knocked upon the door they were met with a volley of shots. Skolay fell. Kilgore summoned riot squads who were greeted by volleys from the barricaded hamlet. Five detectives surrounded the building and hurled tear gas bombs into the houses. They rushed the door, smashing it down and found Scerba on the floor unconscious from bullet wounds.

SIX ACQUITTED IN SUNDAY PICTURE SHOW CASE HERE

Instructed Verdict Is Given After State Fails To Prove Case

J. L. Maronette, manager of the Milane Theatre, and five of his employees, all charged with operating a moving picture show on Sunday in violation of state laws, were acquitted this morning in County Court in a trial that turned out to be a farce. The defendants were dismissed on a directed verdict by Judge James G. DeLoach. Those put on trial besides Maronette were: Mr. and Mrs. Otto Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Cox and Arthur Franklin.

In instructing the jury to render a verdict in favor of the theater manager and his assistants, Judge DeLoach said he was convinced "that the state had failed to prove its case," thus making it impossible to render the case against the jury for final disposition. George A. DeLoach of the firm of DeLoach and Spencer, representing the defendants, declared in answer to Judge DeLoach's remarks that high courts of the land were practically unanimous in their ruling that the enforcement of the "prohibitional laws of 1853 cannot be justified on the ground of religious principle."

RAGING FATHER ENACTS AWFUL SCENE IN HOME

Jealous And Frenzied Spouse Gouges Out Eyes Of Wife Before Slaying Child, Self Shoots Another Baby With Pistol

AKRON, Ohio, Jan. 23.—(INS)—A jealous husband who gouged out the eyes of his beautiful young wife, killed his four-year-old son and wounded his two-year-old daughter, died by his own hand early today as the climax of the most frightful domestic tragedy in the city's history.

Driven to a maniacal frenzy by jealousy, the husband, George Thomas, 30, a rubber worker, carried out his threat to claw out the eyes of his wife and to kill himself and his children, Thomas, and his son, Robert, aged 4, is expected to die from two bullet wounds in her breast. Mrs. Helen S. Thomas, 24, is expected to remain blind the rest of her life.

Maddened by the knowledge that his wife had been down town seeking witnesses for a divorce, Thomas, after a violent quarrel, threw her on the floor of their living room, savagely clawed at her eyes, scooped in her eyes with his fingers, and gouged with his thumb.

MARKET HAS RIOT OF SPECULATION AS STOCKS JUMP

Industrial Favorites Race Up Two To Ten Points In Big Buying

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—(INS)—Speculative enthusiasm in the stock market ran riot today as prices of many of the industrial favorites raced up 2 to 10 points on a wave of aggressive buying which swept everything before it. Released from the nervous pressure over the money market situation which has been holding things in check in the last two or three days, the market gave its "fast steppers" another whirl into high price territory.

The return of Bethlehem Steel stocks was effected and with a whoop and roar, traders rushed into the market at the opening. The first block of U. S. Steel Common changed hands at 180, after which the stock jumped to a record high price of 192 3/4; up 9 points from Thursday's close. Bethlehem advanced to 95, up 2 1/4, but forecasts of the dividend were so accurate that most of the investment buying of this stock had been completed.

Nash Motors burned the top for the motor stocks, with a new 9 point jump to 118 1/2 and a heavy turnover. General Motors, Studebaker and other members of the group sold up 1 to 3 points. Johns-Manville, Union Carbide, Cals Register, Radio, and the rest of the bunch of specialties which have been carrying forward in high-banded fashion since the turn of the year, were as light as a feather and sailed upward 10 to 15 points on top of previous moves of 40 to 75 points. A new 5-point jump in Consolidated Gas of New York, the big chief of the utility list, brought that stock up to a new high of 115 1/2.

DETROIT, Jan. 23.—(INS)—Olga A. Wood and Cecil T. Holt, one of the principal figures in the alleged kidnaping and murder conspiracy plot case, in which Wood's wife, Grace M. Wood, was claimed to have been involved, were arrested here early today in connection with the $75,000 robbery of the Sturgis National Bank at Sturgis, Mich., on Dec. 17, 1927.

Wood was identified as one of the five hands who held up the Sturgis Bank in a daring $75,000 robbery and $50,000 in negotiable securities, police said. Both men were arrested by deputy sheriffs and state troopers operating under orders of the prosecutor's office of St. Joseph County.

Wood was taken into custody at his fashionable suburban home of Wyandotte by state troopers J. M. Sheridan and Fred Lally. Holt was arrested in the county jail here where he had sought refuge after an alleged attempt on his life last Tuesday. Hunt, Alvin Gilbert, and detective Harold W. WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—(INS)—Oscar W. Underwood, former United States Senator and candidate for Democratic presidential nomination in 1924, died at his Woodlawn estate in Virginia near here today.

Death came to the veteran Democratic leader as a result of a complication of diseases which sent him to his bed shortly before Christmas. He had been under constant care of physicians at Woodlawn, near Acosta, Va., ever since.

He was leader of his party on the floor of the Senate during the trying days of the World War and was through the bitter fight on the League of Nations. His name is attached to many outstanding pieces of legislation.

ATLANTIC GALES SWEEP SOUTH IN SHIPPING LANES

Two Ships Are In Distress With Crews Of 60 In Jeopardy

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—(INS)—Seemingly discontent with the havoc wrought in the North Atlantic during the past few days, gales swept into the South Atlantic today and two steamers and their crews of nearly 60 men were in jeopardy in southern waters as they were speeding to their fresh southern ports.

The Dicson, an American sugar transport, plying between New Orleans and Cuba was held fast on a reef off the Cuban coast when a Norwegian vessel believed to be the Fern Lane, was reported wrecked, helplessly southeast of Bermuda with her rudder and stern frame broken. The vessels, both of about 4,000 tons, were reported in no immediate danger.

The salvage steamer, Warbler, the same which assisted in the rescue of passengers from the grounded President Garfield, was enroute to the Dicson. The sailing tug Norfolk put out to aid the Norwegian ship which runs between Cuba and New York.

Another near disaster in the North Atlantic was averted when the steamer City of Lowell went to the aid of the Connecticut coast liner off the Connecticut coast and towed her into port at New Haven, Conn., after transferring passengers.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Jan. 23.—(INS)—A store or more passengers from the sound liner Georgia, helpless with a broken propeller and the Connecticut coast were transferred safely and without mishap to the steamship City of Lowell of the Providence Line, according to officials of the Bay State Line, owners of the Georgia today.

The Georgia lost her propeller, according to officials of the Bay State Line. Captain Harry E. Lindon signalled for assistance. The City of Lowell which was in Long Island Sound in the vicinity of the disabled Georgia immediately went to the assistance of the helpless craft.

BABE RUTHSEEKS TO AVOID CURIOUS GAZE OF CROWDS

Bambino Is Troubled By Reporters Seeking News About Him

By Davis J. Walsh International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—Notoriously ceased to exact a tariff for revenue only and went straight Republican today when it was discovered that Babe Ruth literally has been a prisoner in his own home since he returned to New York six days ago. He has been hiding out from newspapermen who wish to ask him questions he doesn't wish to answer and, in the process, Ruth has dared to venture outdoors only five times in the last six days—three because he moved his residence for purposes of strategy and twice for road work at seven o'clock in the morning. Mr. Ruth is nobody's man.

If you meet one newspaperman out of a given hundred at that absurd hour, he may be presumed to be on his way home and, therefore, harmless. This presumption is based on two established facts: first, that he wouldn't know Ruth if he saw him; second, that he wouldn't see Ruth if he knew him. In any case, the matter serves to give one a rough idea of the lengths to which the young man has been driven by this persistent interest in his movements. He ordinarily is the kind of a guy who wouldn't get up at seven in the morning to see Santa Claus get shaved.

However, a man can't spend the rest of his life peeping out from behind the blinds and so Ruth has been "bootlegging" an hour in the open air at a time when he is sure that his privacy will remain, in some degree, private. For at the moment at least, the hare is well ahead of the hounds.

The respite came only after two or three days of intensive shadowing by the artful gentlemen of the press, the result being that Ruth was forced to move from one place to another and finally to a private apartment on the West Side. Before he sought this hide out, he would look out of his hotel window almost an hour of the 24 and see the curb lined with avid sleuths. The result has been that Ruth has found it expedient to give up the McGovern's gymnasium the very wide run around. In fact, he has done almost nothing very industriously for the last two weeks, barring the couple of four mile breathers mentioned.

Like a fugitive in the night, he probably will make a break for the railroad station some time within the next few days and go to some southern resort where a man may walk out into the light of day without being heckled and badgered at every manly stride. Yes, it must be great to be one of those big men doing a big job in a big way.

Dempsey Is Peeved Because Stribling Took Airplane Ride

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Jan. 24.—(INS)—Jack Dempsey was peeved today. A newspaper story saying that Young Stribling had taken another airplane flight was the reason.

"Fighters that are on my card have got to stay on the ground as long as they can," said Dempsey, the promoter. His recent order to Stribling that the flying was off was the fight with Jack Sharkey late Feb. 27 was repeated in a sharp telegram to the Georgian. Stribling was told, furthermore, that his last ring appearance before the Sharkey fight would be against Jack Smith in New Orleans tomorrow night. Sharkey was due to return after his clash with K. O. Christian in Madison Square Garden.

Both fighters will report here immediately after these bouts. Dempsey himself arranged quarters for Sharkey at the new Flamingo. Such was Dempsey's home two seasons ago and Stribling at the Walden Park. Both are but a hop, skip and jump from the Miami Beach Kennel Club, where the fighters will train, and Flamingo Park, the new site of the track.

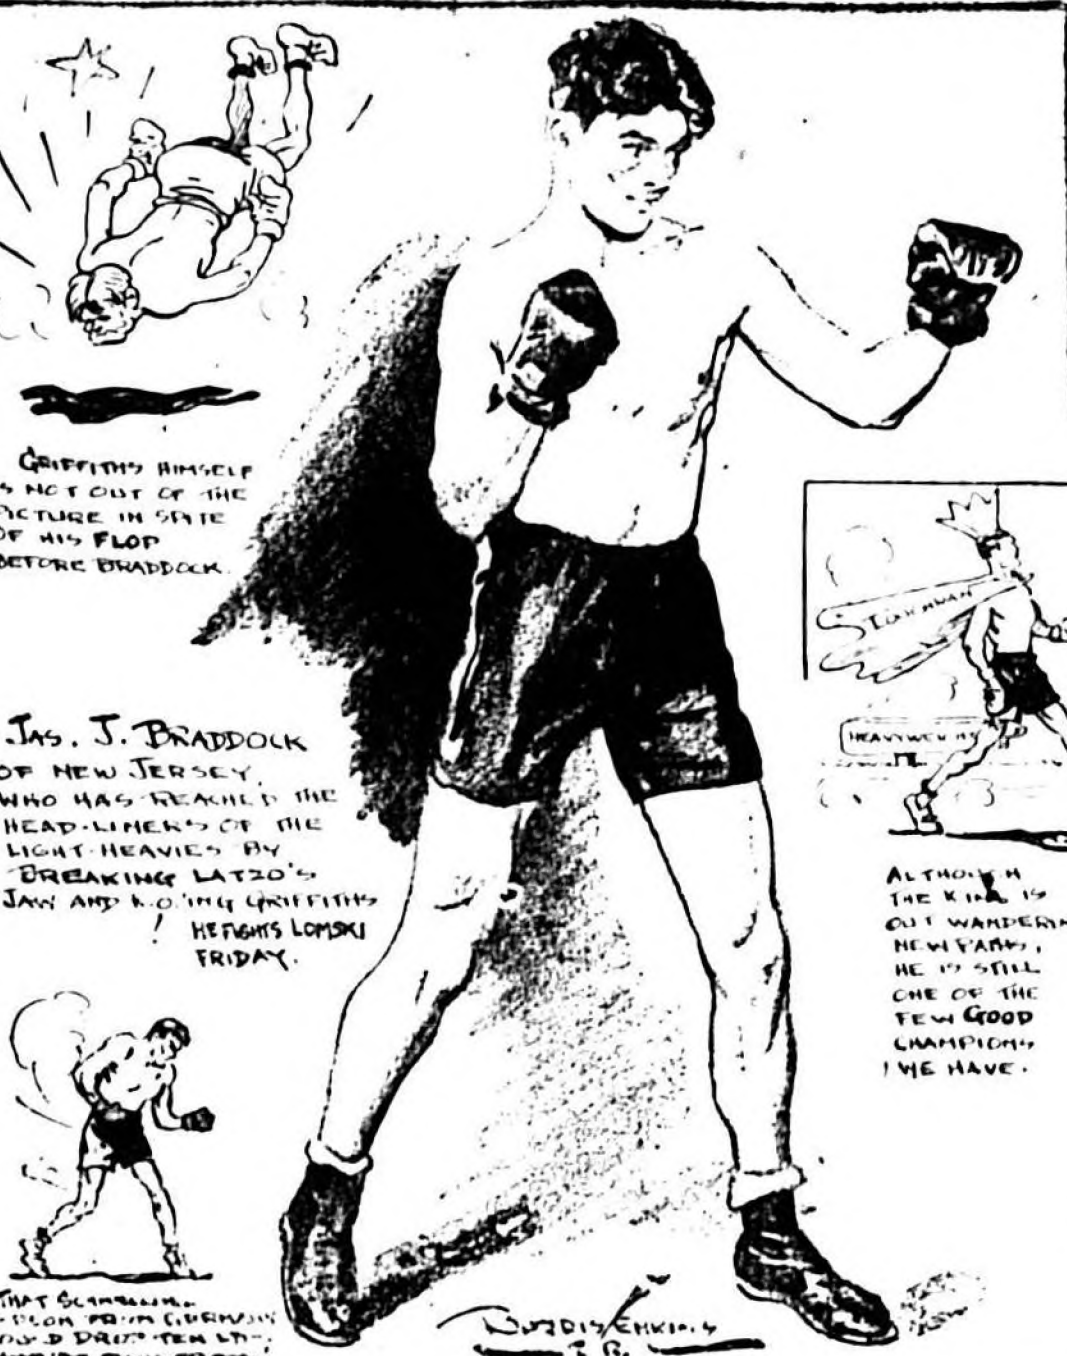

Dempsey and William F. Carey, president of the Madison Square Garden Corporation, have moved to their new headquarters in the Madison Ocean Drive, home recently occupied by Carl G. Fisher. It will be the first headquarters from two with the next.

Young Wife Kills Her Husband Then Self

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 21 (INS)—After quarrelling and separating five times during the turbulent 10 months of their married life, Mrs. Elizabeth Eick, 17, was shot today, and her husband, Ernest Eick, 19, was believed to be dying at a local hospital. Eick, in a statement at the hospital to police, said the girl shot him three times through the abdomen, and herself through the heart. Two other bullets went wild. The shooting took place at the home of the boy-husband's parents. A note found by police in the room evidenced the fact that the girl was planning a permanent separation from her husband, a newspaper circulation clerk. The girl, in the note, accused Eick of "drinking, gambling and going out nights."

SHARKEY SAYS SHE WILL QUIT RING IF HE LOSES BATTLE

But Intends To Stick Around If The Fates Declare Him Victor

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—(INS)—Jack Dempsey retired in 1927. Gene Tunney in 1928, and Jack Sharkey says he will follow them this year unless fate decrees that he is to win the title. If that event Sharkey will feel it incumbent on him to stick around until a better man dethrones him. But if he can take on one more profitable engagement after the Stribling fight—with Dempsey preferably—and the title still eludes him, he is willing to call it a finished career and retire on a comfortable income. Sharkey isn't ambitious to become a millionaire if he has to sacrifice his physical and mental resources in ring combat. His earnings have made him independent and he has lost the zest for fighting and admits it. By the end of this year he hopes to be worth approximately $500,000, and that will satisfy him.

Next to Dempsey, the former tar has taken more money out of the Madison Square Garden Corporation coffers than any other one fighter. In his fights for Tex Rickard he figured in "gates" totaling close to $2,000,000.

Not long before his "passing," Rickard estimated that Dempsey had drawn from $2,000,000 to 10,000,000 in his big fights. The gate receipts in which Sharkey participated fighting at the garden or the Yankee Stadium amount to $1,790,000 in round figures, and he will add $100,000 to his bank roll for the Stribling engagement. In the shows promoted by Rickard he drew $1,300,000 with Dempsey, $161,000 with Tom Healey, $200,000 with Jimmy Maloney, $140,000 with Johnny Eiko, $110,000 with Mike McTigue, and $90,000 with Jack Deaney.

She was released on $1,000 bond. No date was set for the trial. Miss Culbertson was arrested after a policeman had chased her car for six blocks as it zigzagged along Pennsylvania Avenue.

Woman Club Fight Ends As President Is Finally Chosen

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 24.—(INS)—The long-drawn-out fight over the presidency of the Atlanta woman's club was settled today with Mrs. John R. Hornady, president of Atlanta club woman and wife of a former commissioner of Birmingham, Ala., named president of the organization.

Mrs. Hornady defeated her opponent, Mrs. Charles Goodman, in a court-supervised election at the club yesterday. The vote was 22 to 192. At a double election last May, both Mrs. Hornady and Mrs. Goodman were elected as executive of the club, with Mrs. Goodman retaining temporary control of the organization. The Goodman faction, after an injunction with the superior court, and succeeded in ousting Mrs. Hornady. The Hornady faction immediately carried the fight to the supreme court and recently that court ordered another election to decide the rightful claimant. It was held yesterday with court representatives supervising the conduct.

BOULDER DAM IS CAUSE FOR BOOM IN LITTLE TOWN

Las Vegas Nevada Is In Center Of Large Industrial Project

BY JAMES ADAM
International News Service
Special Correspondent
LAS VEGAS, Nevada, Jan. 25.—Boulder Dam spells the magic word of development and prosperity for the little city of Las Vegas, an oasis in the heart of the Nevada sage brush.

It opens the way to a new realm of the desert which promises to transform a railroad town of 100 inhabitants into a great industrial metropolis of the southwest where less than a quarter of a century ago lay forbidding, death-dealing, trackless wastelands.

The splendor of the Boulder Dam, Mill by President Coolidge was the magic signal for the opening of the long awaited boom and the cause of general rejoicing.

Great Water Source
Twenty miles southeast of the city, on the north side by automobile, is Boulder Canyon. Here is where the turbulent waters of the mighty Colorado river will be impounded in the world's highest dam and hastened to the end that great water source of the west, the Colorado river, California, Nevada, Arizona, Wyoming, Utah, New Mexico and Colorado.

With the construction of the dam, the old days of gold and days of gold are being substituted by a modern way.

The city of two gun men are waiting for the advance of civilization, but the prospector and miner are here and the old time river is here. For Las Vegas, 250 miles from Las Angeles, is generally conceded to be the best place in many places to build a dam, especially over the Boulder Canyon. The dam will be completed in 1936. PARISIAN WOMAN ESCORTED HOME BY GANG MEMBER

Ruffians Become Gallant Upon Learning Identity Of Victim

PARIS, Jan. 22.—(INS)—To be held up by three bandits and finally escorted home by one of them is the unique experience of Mme. Duchoiselle.

Mme. Duchoiselle is an active and enthusiastic person who lives in Montmartre and who spends her time administering food and care to the Poor Old People of that quarter. Not long ago she was returning by one of the narrow, dark streets common to Montmartre, from caring for some sick people, she was attacked by three ruffians upon explaining that she was Mme. Duchoiselle, Mother of the Old Folks of Montmartre, the ruffians released her and one of them escorted her to her home.

Every morning Mme. Duchoiselle may be seen with her basket on her arm collecting bread from the bakers for her unfortunate children.

In the afternoon she hastens to all sorts of social gatherings where she solicits members for her charitable work. The membership cost about twenty cents which pays for two of the many bowls of soup that she distributes.

Besides providing food, Mme. Duchoiselle often contrives to satisfy the more eccentric craving of some of her flock. Among her pet projects is the chauffeur who drives the first automobile of the month, that the power contracts will be signed within a short time; that the railroad to haul men and supplies from Las Vegas to the dam site will be under way before spring, and that work in constructing a concrete and Boulder Canyon will be

American Cities To Set New Record In Air Activity In 1929

CHICAGO, Jan. 25.—(INS)—American cities will set a new record in 1929 in airport development, according to a survey made by Harold Cray of the American Air Transport association.

There are at present 352 municipal airports in the United States with a total of 190 additional now under construction or proposed. At the election November 6, 1928, various cities voted a total of $8,500,000 for airports.

Detroit Leads

Chief among airport activities reported to Cray is that of development in Detroit, where a $5,000,000 bond issue for a municipal field has been voted. The new Detroit field will be three and one-half miles from the city's center and is closed to the center of population than Berlin's worldlamed Tempelhof, which is regarded as one of the finest ports in the world.

The longest runway on the new Detroit field will be 7400 feet and the shortest about 410 feet. The area of the field is 417 acres.

Indianapolis, Cray reports, will erect an airport of a 100-acre tract seven miles west of the city.

690-Acre Airports

St. Louis has started improvement of its 600-acre airport. The city has voted $2,000,000 in improvement bonds for the work. An immense hangar is to be constructed by private interests in Cleveland.

Designs for the new ship fields and buildings include many improvements, Cray said. Administration buildings, air weather observatories and bureaus, fire-proof hangars and paved runways are a few of these new features which will be seen in the 1929 ports.

Stewart Discloses Where Oil Company Made Its Earnings

CHICAGO, Jan. 25.—(INS)—Standard Oil Company of Indiana made "several millions" out of its transactions with the Continental Trading Company and the Grad Oil Purchasing Company, both of which figured in the Teapot Dome investigation, Col. Robert W. Stewart, chairman of the Indiana company admitted in a statement here today.

"I never personally made a deal out of the transaction, but the Standard Oil Company of Indiana made several millions," he stated. "These millions were partly source from which the steady stream of cash dividends has been paid to stockholders of the Indiana corporation."

"I never had any connection with the Continental Trading Company. I was never a stockholder, officer or director of it and never heard of its existence until I received a

Russian Art Resists Efforts Of Soviets

PARIS, Jan. 25.—(INS)—Russian music has withstood the revolution of Sovietism, according to Alexander Glasounoff, famous composer, who is visiting Paris for the first time since 1889.

"The level of art has not been lowered despite events in my country," said Dr. Glasounoff. "Naturally the situation in Russia is painful, but it is comforting to see that the arts of art has lifted the people above the fatigue of political and economic life."

"The conservatory at Leningrad has an eighty piece orchestra of students that is one of the most remarkable organizations in the world."

"Nothing To Excess"

The cigarette, sometime pernicious weed, evil magnet of young boys, stunter of growth and target for the vituperation of reform societies, has at last arisen from the ranks of vice and has taken its place along side of listerine, "life savers" and yeast cakes as a benefactor of mankind.

The claims of the tobacco companies are very alluring. They say that cigarettes make girls thin and men fat, that they coat one's lungs thereby protecting them from the attacks of germs.

But on the other hand there are some who look upon cigarettes as still the same "coffin tacks" they were wont to be known as a few years ago.

After all is it not this uncertainty about the benefits or the harm of smoking that really is responsible for its popularity? For surely if cigarettes were as salubrious as painted by tobacco companies they would be universally discarded overnight.

Don't Be Buncoed

With tourists flocking to Florida in unprecedented numbers, the state must give consideration to the arrival of another class of visitors who are wholly undesirable. Crooks of every description are following the crowds as is their custom and their presence constitutes the same menace that has confronted the state in past years when the tourist season was in full blast.

The DeLand Sun says the Pinkerton National Detective Agency, being apprised of the forthcoming migration of crooks to Florida, sent its operatives to this state early in December. A wire-tapping gang was arrested and its paraphernalia was confiscated within three days after the detectives arrived in one city.

It is well that some organized effort is being made to track the criminals before they are permitted to follow their unlawful trade. Only the strictest vigilance on the part of the authorities will serve to curb their activities and prevent them from reaping the rich harvest that has been theirs in past years.

GOOD YEAR FOR FARM POULTRY

There are good times ahead in 1929 for farmers who make poultry raising a serious part of their year's work according to U. S. Government reports and opinions of poultry experts throughout the country.

JOHN TEMPLE GRAVES II

"Competition is the life of trade." The difference between Herbert Hoover and Alfred E. Smith, said Walter Lippman during the campaign, "is that Mr. Smith's principal interest is in the business of government while Mr. Hoover's is in the government of business."

American business today is passing through another area of enormous consolidations similar in many respects to that of twenty years ago when Theodore Roosevelt wielded the "big stick" as a "trust buster."

Contrary to the general opinion that big business will be in the saddle and ride mankind under Herbert Hoover," says Mr. Beer, "the country is likely soon to see the criminal statutes against monopoly and unfair trade brought down from the shelves and dusted off and made to work again by the new president."

Just why Mr. Beer thinks Herbert Hoover will be a "trust buster" is not stated. Certainly he was not one while he was secretary of commerce. There his principal efforts were given to the organization and furtherance of trade associations, the elimination of excessive varieties styles and measurements, the facilitating of large-scale operation, while these activities involved no direct encouragement of trust law violations.

It may be, however, that Mr. Beer is right. There was one time certainly when Mr. Hoover's economic philosophy was very sympathetic with government's attempt of economic principles against monopoly and in favor of competition. That was in 1918 when he was an official of the Wilson administration.

Whether Mr. Hoover has changed his mind since he wrote this we do not know. His subsequent actions do not necessarily contradict what he wrote President Wilson, even though they may indicate a waning interest in the crusade for which he spoke.

More bigness "in business" is neither illegal nor uneconomic. It makes possible an efficiency, a service and an economy which are of vast public benefit if properly preserved in the public interest.

Dear Mr. Dean: I have been getting interested in barley malt. First thing you know they're "chasing the hunters out of the woods." Cincinnati Equiner.

AT LEAST A BLACK EYE

BLIND SPOTS IN THE HIGHWAY

A motorist has been inquiring of the departments in Washington as to why the route marks which indicate the various highways in cities are either non-existent or difficult to find. Perhaps the reason is owing to selfishness on the part of the local authorities, who meant what they said when they placed the "Welcome to Our City" signs on their boundaries.

STRICTLY ACCORDING TO LAW

The Tallahassee State News apparently is grooming itself for the role of the first, if not the only anti-Carlton newspaper—would spokesman of those who would criticize and oppose the new state administration. We wish this impression from recent editorials in the State News, tending to put difficulties in the way of the Governor.

Function of Religion

If properly considered, Religion is an aid in one's life. It is designed to help one to attain life. If it fails in this, it fails completely. Jesus said of himself, "I am come that ye might have life and have it more and more abundantly." By many, religion is looked upon as a restraining influence. They regard religion as something designed to deprive them of the enjoyment of life.

A new package . . . that is as fresh and attractive as Snowdrift itself

You will recognize the new blue and white can on your grocer's shelf as Snowdrift, even before you read the label.

The design is so clean and inviting and fresh—so simple and modern. For all the world like Snowdrift itself!

You'll be pleased when you learn of the convenience of the large can—the new three and six pound size. Just about as wide as they get and as easy to speak from as from your own talking level. These new sizes add to the convenience of Snowdrift itself.

And convenience, you know, is just another word for Snowdrift's cleanliness. A creamy texture to smooth and so agreeable that you never have to work it into sugar or flour. Just put these together and mix with a few drops of water.

That's why Snowdrift makes and markets and why you find it so successful in so many homes.

HAIRDRESSER OF PARIS SUED FOR RUINING TRESSES

Madame Dupont Wished To Have Hair Dyed But Lost It Instead

PARIS, Jan. 22.—(INS)—That gentlemen prefer blondes may have been the reason why a certain lady is now suing a hairdresser for the loss of her locks, which were not golden.

Most women have within the last few years parted with their fair or raven tresses, as the case may be, with a sigh of relief, but such is not the case of the lady from Aurillac. This lady, Madame Dupont, who was blessed with raven hair, had always dreamed of becoming a blond but the raven locks were already sprinkled with silver before she gathered enough courage to come to Paris to have them changed to the much-coveted hue of a wheat field waving in the summer sun.

However, the lady's hope soon fell with her hair. No sooner had the transformation taken place and the would-be fair lady returned to her own fire-side than she discovered upon removing her hat that she had almost removed her hair. Madame Dupont claims she has been obliged to wear a hat ever since in order to keep her hair on and avoid the suspicious glances of her neighbors.

Now hats are expensive and undoubtedly uncomfortable to sleep in so her lady from Aurillac is seeking damages for her lost locks. The hairdresser asserts that all this is his fault and that the falling hair must have been the result of some untrustworthy chemical used by Madame Dupont before she presented herself to him to be made the object of gentlemen's preference. He that as it may—let would-be blonds take warning.

Jackie Coogan returned here from London with a disassembled "lummy" and announced he would always vote for French cooking.

"In England a veal cutlet is a veal cutlet and nothing more," said Jackie. "In France it is something new and mysterious. I fear that the rich dishes in Paris are not good for my complexion but I sure enjoy them for a change. Maybe English and American cooking is better for your health."

"I am going to Berlin soon and maybe to Scandinavia after that. Gee, I taste a lot of different cooking, won't I?"

Andre de Fouquieres acknowledged authority on drawing room elegance and masculine fashions. He declares that French men and British men raise their hips flasks—all three to the health of America they please, except "the toast of the town."

Not that this would be "inappropriate" is simply impossible. There is no "toast of the town," he says, in Paris, New York or London.

"Best of the town" he meant of course, a Elyse, Bernhardt, Lily Langtry, a Lillian Russell, a madame, a lot of other eyes, a woman whose beauty, grace and wit were beyond imagination. Some of the most beautiful women in the world and the trophy of the nation. He said:

"When the war came she ceased to shine. Beauty couldn't live in a world where they had to be victorious in one woman the only consolation of a woman's life was the throne of universal popularity. Physical levelness is dead."

EUROPE TO SEND FAIREST GIRL TO BEAUTY CONTEST

Nations Unite To Get Best Representative Possible To Obtain

PARIS, Jan. 22.—(INS)—The "most beautiful woman in Europe" will go to the United States for the next Galveston contest with twenty nations cheering her on to victory. "United we stand. Divided we fall" is the slogan of the European Beauty Bloc. Stirred to common action by the failure of a dozen pretty girls of as many nationalities to wrest the international prize from an American for several years Europe is pinning her hope on a single person.

The candidate may be Teuton, Latin, Slav, Scandinavian or Anglo-Saxon, but it is promised that she can bring the title of the most beautiful girl in the world across the Atlantic her nationality will be forgotten.

The eliminations will be held in Paris in February with twenty nations competing. Each of the same nations will contribute a member of the jury to select Miss Europe.

Maurice de Waleffe, a leader in the beauty offensive against the United States, said: "The candidate for Europe will have the right to demand a strictly bipartisan jury presided over by a neutral arbiter, possibly a Japanese artist."

Women make excellent bridge players and they are also good bridge builders, according to the woman chief of the Institut Electromecanique, local temple of engineering for women only.

"Women make wonderful engineers, just as fine as the men," asserts Mademoiselle Paris, head of the Institut.

"Women have gone into the sciences to stay there. The girls graduated from this school have made good with their employers. Women engineers are even superior to the men. Why? Because they have patience to work out difficult problems, they are careful and tenacious, and where women workers are involved, they are more understanding."

What peace advocates may call the greatest flag of all was torn into twelve pieces which are now treasured by their possessors.

This was the white flag of the Americans which flew from one of the five German automobiles carrying negotiators to La Capelle.

An anonymous doctor, then a quartermaster sergeant, afraid he and his platoon were pushed close to the be-flagged automobile by the excited crowd. They ripped off the white cloth and later divided it into almost equal pieces.

One of the German plenipotentiaries wrote on the doctor's rag: "La Capelle, November 11, 1918."

There is one bar in Paris where Americans are not allowed—and that bar is losing money. It is the one installed in the Palais Bourbon for the benefit of the thirty deputies since even lawmakers need refreshments occasionally.

The legislators have not patronized the bar as frequently as hoped for by the proprietors, causing the latter to plunge heavily into red ink. He therefore considers himself entitled to a subsidy, just the same as his fellow keeper of the Senate bar already enjoys.

Whether the request will be granted is a matter of speculation. But, if worse comes to worst, the Nation will have to look for a barkeep that knows how to make both ends meet.

NEW RECORDS TO BE SOUGHT UPON DAYTONA BEACH

Segrave And DePalma Are Determined To Surpass All Marks

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., Jan. 22.—(INS)—From bicycles to four miles a minute! Such is the pace that Daytona Beach has seen in 27 years.

In 1902, when Senator W. J. Morgan conceived the idea of holding a bicycle race on the Daytona Beach sands as a holiday stunt, he never knew how far down the corridor of time it would echo.

Nor did the few who gathered that day to watch the jerseyed cyclists pedal down the sands foresee the day that thousands would line the dunes to watch huge monsters of steel hurtle through space at speeds of more than 200 miles an hour.

And now even higher speed marks will be attempted on the beach. Major H. O. D. Segrave, the London racer is determined to clock off 240 miles an hour in the trials to be held here in March and Ralph DePalma is equally determined to try again with the "Triplex" in place of Ray Keech.

In an attempt to set a new speed record.

The Lockheed-Keech-Campbell speed triumph in 1923 brought out the need of streamlining against wind resistance, and J. M. White, builder of the "Triplex" which now holds the speed record, constructed his iron horse with the idea that power and power alone could overcome the wind.

The Golden Arrow

He used three 500-horse-power motors to prove his theory, but both Lockheed and Captain Campbell agreed his method with much less power and streamlining. Captain Campbell's time was 240.95 miles an hour; Lockheed's best was 240.

Major Segrave, who made 227.75 miles an hour here in 1927 with his "Shannon," is carrying on the streamlining in his new will bring here next March.

Church and that at that time he had told some of the churchmen that he attended the performance. He quoted L. A. Brumley as saying, "We may see you as a witness." Mr. Meredith said the picture was a "good one" and in reply to a question put by Mr. DeCottis said it did not "offend his senses." He testified the picture was about a "Jewish rabbi singing in the synagogue. He admitted "fishing, swimming and drinking cocktails on Sunday" and said he enjoyed them all.

Mr. DeCottis objected to a question put by Mr. Leonard to Mr. Jones asking the latter if he thought Sunday movies were a necessity. Judge Sharon overruled the objection and Mr. Jones said "if people want to go to the show I think it is a necessity." The witness said he played golf on Sunday. Mr. Anderson couldn't remember having seen any of the defendants about the show on the Sunday he attended. In reply to a question put by Mr. DeCottis, he said his store sold cigars, and soft drinks on Sunday.

Only a few people were in the courtroom to hear the case. Securing a jury to try the case occupied less time than had been anticipated. Only six persons were excused. Those who were sworn in were J. B. Cogburn, Guy M. Stafford, J. C. Carter, D. E. Mathers, E. J. Hickson and R. C. Maxwell.
