Utility Company Seeks Rate Compromise Would Dictate the New Electric Light Rates to the City Commission

REBEL CLOSURE VESSEL FIRST IN CABINET MEET

Under Matter of Tampico Blockade of First Importance Though Not Expecting Trouble

(By The Associated Press)
AUSTIN, Texas, Jan. 19.—
Governor Davidson Saturday afternoon in the request of the president of Mexico for permission to transport troops to Texas, returning the request of Secretary of State Hughes. In a telegram to Washington the acting governor said 2,000 Mexican federal troops would be permitted to enter Texas at El Paso provided the American government assumed all responsibility for any damages resulting.

FIGHTS IN HOUSE FOR AMENDMENT RULE NOW OVER

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—The rebel problem, particularly with reference to the attempted rebel blockade of Tampico, occupied attention Friday almost to the exclusion of other matters.

For a time it appeared that some steps to insure the freedom of American commerce with the port of Tampico, but developments of an undisclosed character later prompted an authorized statement from the White House that the president was not expecting any difficulty on account of the Tampico blockade.

Before the White House statement was issued the state department announced that on arrival of the Richmond at Vera Cruz tomorrow, he would take board the 288 members of the crew of the wrecked Tacoma, who were ashore in the rebel-controlled port under protection of American naval forces.

As to sending warships
to Tampico, the state department was preparing to issue a statement with relation to the Tampico blockade led to the impression that sending of warships to Tampico under the protection of American commerce and other interests was under consideration. Cabinet officials did not deny that the question
had been discussed during the day, but the nature of the state department's announcement, containing it did nothing that has been said to the public through navy department spokesmen ever since the Tacoma went aground, was the only word obtainable in official quarters with regard to the situation on the Mexican gulf coast.

It has been emphasized in connection with the warning from the state department to Adolfo de la Huerta, revolutionary leader, interference with American shipping, and out of Tampico,
at the Washington government did not make no threats. In view of the evident desire in Washington to avoid, if possible, any clash with a rebel faction, it is conceivable that the state department reiterated in an official way the purpose of the Richmond's visit to Vera Cruz is that there might be no understanding of her mission.
Secretary Hughes was in conference during the day with representatives of American oil interests in the Tampico region and other fields at no word of what occurred was obtainable. It was evident that Mr.
Hughes had indicated his desire that there should be no public discussion of the conference.

Embassies Delicacy
The visit of the oil men, however, served to emphasize the delicacy of the present situation in Mexico. American holdings there represent very great investments,
and there are many Americans

With Tack in Lung Is Rushed for Operation

(By The Associated Press)
PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 19.—
A 10-year-old boy, who was rushed to this city from St. Louis for operation to remove a tack from his lung arrived early Saturday. Baby placed in a crib at the University Hospital where Dr. Chevallier Jackson made preparations to operate later in the day. The infant was watched with greatest care on the trip east by Dr. A. Parrish, assistant superintendent of nurses at the City Hospital, St. Louis.

Trammell Tries to Cut Freight Rates

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—
Senator Park Trammell of Florida, Wednesday introduced in the Senate the following resolution:
"Be it resolved by the United States Senate:
"That the Committee on Interstate Commerce be, and is herewith directed to investigate the present freight and express rates being charged for the transportation of citrus fruits, other fruits, vegetables and other perishable farm products, with a view to bringing about early action that will result in a substantial reduction in the existing freight and express rates which now represent an increase of approximately 80 per cent over pre-war rates on such perishable products, and are so excessive as to greatly hamper the fruit and vegetable growers."

REDUCTION OF TAXES CAUSES RIOT IN HOUSE

Coolidge Will Accept No Compromise in Main Principles of Mellon Plan

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—
Secretary Mellon was challenged Saturday by Senator Coolidge, Republican of Michigan, to inform the country
how much he would benefit personally from reduction of income surtaxes which he has proposed in his tax revision plan. "So long as you have entered into the record of your securities," the senator wrote,
"Will you tell us what your securities are, how much you own of each and how much you will benefit by reduction of surtaxes as proposed by you?"

LEE'S STATUE IS UNVEILED TODAY STONE MOUNTAIN

Many Gather at Stone Mountain to Witness Historical Event

(By The Associated Press)
STONE MOUNTAIN, Ga., Jan.
19.—The sculptured head of Lee, his kindly features glistening in the granite side of Stone Mountain was unveiled Saturday the 117th anniversary of the chieftain's birth.

Standing at the foot of the mon-tain amid hundreds of worshippers
at the unveiling of a shrine, Mrs. Helen Platts of Atlanta an age-bruaken figure of the Old South, pressed with fingers attempting to send an electric signal to men on a scaffold 200 feet up the side of the mountain steep. Then rugged hands that had toiled for weeks in the carving, drew aside two confederate flags and revealed the portrait of Lee. There could be seen around it, the outline of the panorama that in years to come will portray Jackson and Davis and the men who followed them. To come later, too, are the full figure of Lee and his loyal charger, the chieftain in the saddle looking out over the infant state of Georgia that is the vista from this point.

But today's ceremony carried the full solemnity and brought quick pulse beats to those who participated and looked on, for it was the first definite attainment for the sponsors of the shrine. There were present the governors from six Southern states, come here for the occasion, and countless numbers of Daughters of the Confederacy, whose heritage is to keep alive the reverence for the man who fell in 61 and 65. Scattered among them and in contrast that now gripped the emotions and again brought to the forefront the hundreds of age-burdened veterans, and little girls just starting out in life. These little tots were the Children of the Confederacy who had left their frollic at home for the day and come to pay homage with their elders. They are the Daughters of the Confederacy of tomorrow and already are being told the story that they must pass on down.

The exercises began at 2:30 after a steady pilgrimage of hundreds of people that began well before noon, as the asphalt road that winds a pleasant automobile course into Atlanta from a point a few hundred yards from the mountain bore a heavy traffic. The visiting governors gathered in Atlanta and came out in cars furnished by their hosts. There was

LEE'S BIRTHDAY OBSERVED HERE

In celebration of the birthday of the great Confederate Soldier, Robert E. Lee, the banks of Sanford closed their doors Saturday. Although none of the stores closed for the day several had decorations of flags in their windows in observance of the day.
Many attended the opening of the new municipal library which was held this afternoon. Fitting for the occasion were the United States and Confederate flags which were hung on the walls of the library.
A "Robert E. Lee" program was given by the Sanford High School
Friday. Members of the N. de V.
Howard chapter of U. D. C. presented the high school at the conclusion of the program with a handsome picture of Robert E. Lee.

LOCAL LIBRARY FORMALLY OPENS THIS AFTERNOON

Handsome $20,000 City Library
Opened to Public With Reception to Visitors From 3 to 6 O'clock.

Sanford's handsome new $20-000 municipally owned library
at Fifth Street and Oak Avenue, was formally opened Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock.
A reception from 3 to 6 o'clock
featured by speeches by Mayor Forrest Lake, Rev. Arthur S. Peck, and Mrs. A. M. DeForest, was held and was attended by scores of people, who came to admire what is said to be one of the finest and best equipped libraries to be found in a city of this size anywhere in this state if not in the entire south.

Another Military Company Mustered Into Service Here

Headquarters Company of the First Battalion of the Florida National Guard, was mustered into service Friday night when Major J. C. Spangler of St. Augustine was present and inspected the unit and formerly received the company and presented the officers
with their commissions.
The new headquarters company together with Company D and the medical attachment, gives Sanford three military units and according to Major George W. Knight, makes this city one of the strongest military posts in this state.
Personnel of the officers of the three organizations are: Maj.
Knight, who is ranking officer and as such, is head of the local military post, LeRoy P. Chittendon, first lieutenant and commanding officer of the new company and Percy A. Mero, second lieutenant of the new company; Capt. J. C.
Hutchinson, First Lieut. Frank
Lanning and Second Lieut. Stewart Dutton officers of Company D and the machine gun unit; Maj. R. E.
Stevens, commanding officer of the tion. Every grower in this county is urged to be present, said Mr.

Smith, whether he was present at the first meeting or not. Many matters of vital importance will be taken up among them being the fixing of the price of celery for the coming week, it said.

Rose Urges Early Return Income Tax

(By The Associated Press)
ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 19.—J. E.
Rose, collector of internal revenue for Georgia, is undertaking to impress upon citizens the expediency and approximate necessity of an early filing of their income tax returns.
The forms have been greatly simplified this year, which means that the taxpayer need take only a few moments—in the average—to make out the same properly; but in relieving the taxpayer of much of the complexity of his return, a heavier burden than ever has been put upon the local office by way of analyzing and checking up the same. Every return filed promptly, therefore, lessens the burden of inconvenience—both upon taxpayer and collector—as the period for closing returns draws near.
Mr. Rose is making every effort to expedite the business of his department, with an eye to the comfort of the taxpayer.

Commissioners Reach An Agreement With Company After Assurances Are Given That Small Consumer Would Get Reduction of 20 Per Cent.

Following a stormy session Friday afternoon, the City Commission, meeting with representatives of the Southern Utilities Company and members of the Sanford Chamber of Commerce, tentatively agreed upon a new schedule of electric light rates providing for a reduction ranging from 13 to 4 per cent lower than the present rates, and made no changes in existing rates for electric power, water and gas.

NO CHANGE CONTEMPLATED IN RATES ON ELECTRIC POWER, GAS AND WATER

Although wide claims were made by Colonel Houston, representing the Southern Utilities Company that "You are asking for a 21 per cent reduction and we are giving you a 20 per cent reduction" figures compiled by The Herald and verified by Joseph E. Craig of Jacksonville, consulting engineer for the City of Sanford, show that under the agreement the small user of electric current will not save one penny in money but will get about 1 1/2 kilowatts more of current, should he care to use it, and the general reduction instead of being from 20 per cent down is in reality from 18 per cent down.

"Can't Bluff Us" Utilities Representation Tells Commission—Says That Company Cares Little for Any Ordinance Which Might Be Passed—Meeting to Be Held Jan. 23 to Pass Ordinance Adjusting Rates on Elec- tric Lights

When told by Mayor Lake that the city expected to go ahead and pass an ordinance incorporating the rates as suggested by the Chamber of Commerce committee, Mr. Houston grew angry and characterized any engineer who would make such a report (meaning Mr. Craig) as a "dirty fakir and not worthy of the confidence and support of business men." Mr. Houston also declared "You are asking too damn much. I don't care about any of your ordinances, you can't bluff us."

Called Consulting Engineer "Dirty Fakir"

Present at the meeting besides the three commissioners were City Attorney George A. DeCotes, City Engineer Fred T. Williams, representing the city, Colonel Houston and Henry Rosebro, representing the Southern Utilities Company and the special committee of the Chamber of Commerce appointed to make a report regarding the rate reduction, composed of W. P. Carter, chairman; Fred R. Wilson, R. C. Bower and Edward Higgins.

After Further Consultation With Mr. Rosebro, Mr. Houston Stated That His Company Was Willing to Split the Difference Between the Rates Recommended and the Existing Rates Which Was to the Effect That the Scale Would Be from 13 1/2 Cents Down. He Accompanied This Statement With Reasons Stating That the Company Was at Too Great an Expense in Operating in Sanford and That Conditions Were Different Here. When Reminded That Palatka Has Just Won a 10-Cent Rate, He Stated That the Cost of Production of Electricity There Was Less Than Here.

After further consultation with Mr. Rosebro, Mr. Houston stated that his company was willing to split the difference between the rates recommended and the existing rates which was to the effect that the scale would be from 13 1/2 cents down. He accompanied this statement with reasons stating that the company was at too great an expense in operating in Sanford and that conditions were different here. When reminded that Palatka has just won a 10-cent rate, he stated that the cost of production of electricity there was less than here.

DeCotes Opposes Litigation

The commissioners at this point asked that Mr. Rosebro and Mr. Houston retire from the room so that the matter could be considered. During the session City Attorney George A. DeCotes declared that it would involve much litigation should the city turn the offer down and pass an ordinance incorporating the rates recommended. He stated that the cost would be around $2,500 and that it would surely be taken to the Supreme Court by the company. He stated that the recent ruling by the courts in regard to the rates at Palatka would have no effect on this case and that it would be a long drawn out legal fight and recommended that, in as much as the city would own its own plant within 18 months, the offer be accepted.

Mr. Houston and Mr. Rosebro were then called back in the room and Mayor Lake stated that the commissioners felt like the rate was not small enough yet and that unless he (Mr. Houston) could offer a better rate at present or before the next meeting, that the Commission would pass an ordinance incorporating the rates proposed.

sessing bona fide European clined he wanted noblemen for hosts and dancing instructors. Of the urday in order to take another afternoon and evening cruise down

More than a dozen guests were expected to accompany the president Mrs. Coolidge.

DeCotes Opposes Litigation

The commissioners at this point asked that Mr. Rosebro and Mr. Houston retire from the room so that the matter could be considered. During the session City Attorney George A. DeCotes declared that it would involve much litigation should the city turn the offer down and pass an ordinance incorporating the rates recommended. He stated that the cost would be around $2,500 and that it would surely be taken to the Supreme Court by the company. ### Mr. Houston and Mr. Rosebro Were Then Called Back in the Room and Mayor Lake Stated That the Commissioners Felt Like the Rate Was Not Small Enough Yet and That Unless He (Mr. Houston) Could Offer a Better Rate at Present or Before the Next Meeting, That the Commission Would Pass an Ordinance Incorporating the Rates Proposed.

"I don't give a damn, pass the ordinance, but we'll be there to the end," Mr. Houston replied quickly. "We split the difference with you and that is as much as we can do."
Mr. Higgins said that he believed the rates were yet too high and recommended that they not be accepted. He declared that the rates had been prepared after a lengthy survey by Mr. Craig and that he had perfect confidence in Mr. Craig's judgment and that he was not willing to let the rate offered by Mr. Houston be accepted.
"I don't know who your engineer is or care who is, but whatever he may be, he is a dirty fakir and my opinion is not worthy of consideration," Mr. Houston replied to Mr. Higgins. "No man," he de-

AT THE MILANE

To John Andrews, successful business man of 40, spring meant romance, youth, beauty and adventure. Likewise to his daughter, Ruth. But to his wife, Mary, it meant mothballs, sulphur and molasses—and housecleaning. At the breakfast table he had to take a teaspoon of the vile concoction, amid a disordered household. Sulphur and molasses—when his thoughts were on budding trees, mating birds, shady fishing pools—the whole glorious outdoors. Rebellion against this state of affairs prompted John to seek romance in other fields, with results that nearly disrupted his home. What happened after he met the other girl is recounted in "The Dangerous Age," a fascinating photoplay produced by John M. Stahl and now appearing as a First National attraction at the Milane.

AT THE MILANE

In the pictureization of Emerson Hough's story, "The Covered Wagon" which appears at the Milane Theatre on Monday and Tuesday of next week, an interesting point is brought forward regarding the organization and government of the wagon trains in the pioneer days. Mr. Wingate is the captain of the train concerned in "The Covered Wagon," and in many episodes in the course of the pictured narrative the fact is clearly revealed that he is in supreme demand and that his word is law. To many persons, who have thought of the great migration to the west as simply a mad, unorganized rush of settlers and gold-seekers, this apparent despotism of Captain Wingate may not be understandable. Yet in this, as in all details of his story, Mr. Hough was true to historical fact.

The great wagon trains that made the journey from the Missouri River to the Coast in the 40's and 50's were always under the command of an elected captain, and to him was given as complete authority as the authority exercised by the captain of a ship on the high seas. This was absolutely necessary because of the perils of the enterprise, which could be met and overcome only by concerted effort. Each wagon train was, for the time consumed in making the journey, usually about six months—a little world entirely cut off from established law, and it was therefore necessary that each train should have a government and a ruler of its own. The Mormon pilgrimage, in 1846, was successful because of its organization and the leadership of Brigham Young, who had the advantage of possessing spiritual as well as temporal authority.

Many Good Roads Built In The South

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 13.—Eight southern states—Alabama, Georgia, Florida, Mississippi, Louisiana, Tennessee, South Carolina and North Carolina—surfaced 6,615 miles of permanent roads in 1922, or more than 18 per cent of the nation's total, according to figures received by the Georgia Highway Department.

Throughout the whole country, the figures show, 35,300 miles of roadway was surfaced in 1922 and that this record will be equalled if not surpassed when the figures are all in for last year. The 1924 program, not only in Georgia, but throughout the South, calls for extensive permanent improvements.

Will Consider Sale of Big Tract of Land Near Miami Feb. 12

TALLAHASSEE, Jan. 13.—Trustees of the Internal Improvement Fund will hold a meeting at the state capitol at 11 o'clock on Tuesday, Feb. 12, for the purpose of considering the sale of a tract of approximately 1,200 acres of submerged land in Biscayne Bay, Dade county.

The parcel involved lies on the northwest side of Virginia Key in Sections 8, 9, 16 and 20 of Township 54 South, Range 42 East.

The trustees will give any person or persons who may object to the sale an opportunity to present their objections.

J. L. Billingsley of Miami, appeared before the trustees several days ago and made them an offer of $50,000 for the land. They decided, however, to make an investigation of the property to determine its value, as nearly as possible. For that purpose, the attorney to the board, accompanied by an engineer, will visit Miami between now and the date set for the sale, and investigate the land and its surroundings.

Haitian Athletes to Compete at Olympiad

(By The Associated Press) PORT-AU-PRINCE, Haiti, Jan. 13.—For the first time in her history Haiti will be represented in the Olympic games. A rifle team of five principles and two alternates, selected from the best shots of the native gendarmerie, will compete in the 400, 600 and 800 meter rifle match, the sum of $10,000 to finance the trip having been raised by private subscription. In addition subscriptions for the same amount are being raised to send two fencers and a small squad of track and field athletes to the Paris games.

This decision on the part of Haiti is the logical outcome of the remarkable growth among the Haitians this year in soccer, tennis, rifle shooting and bicycling. Haitians of the aristocracy as well as the peasants have had their banner year in athletics. Soccer has ousted cockfighting as the favorite pastime. Tennis is a close second to soccer, with tennis courts being laid out in all parts of the island.

House Committee Swamped by Tax Reduction Pleas

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—Requests for tax reductions again flooded the house ways and means committee Thursday, although determined opposition to revision of some of the excise and special rates was voiced.

Additional pleas for repeal of the tax on motor vehicles and accessories were countered by a suggestion of Representative Hapdon, Democrat, Arizona, that the levy be maintained to provide funds for completing the government's program of aiding states in construction of roadways under terms of the highway act.

John Quinn, speaking for the art dealers and art associations of New York, asked that the tax be removed from artists' products, but suggested the tax on jewelry be doubled, and that on automobiles maintained. Previous demands for repeal of both the latter taxes have been made before the committee.

Determination of a program for consideration of the rates sections of the new bill, which will be taken up next week, has been delayed by Chairman Green, pending completion of the hearings and settlement of rules. In the house, which has occupied the attention of leaders and held up also plans for the floor fight on the tax measure.

Fights Auto Tax. Roy F. Britton, of the American Automobile Association, renewed the fight today against the automobile tax, arguing that it was discriminatory. George C. Donahue, of the Empire State Automobile Dealers' Association, and Carey B. Quinn, of the Automobile Body Builders' Association, presented similar arguments.

Repeal of the beverages, taxes, particularly those on flavoring extracts, carbonic acid gas and cereals used in making bottled or fountain drinks was asked. Eugene Brokmeyer of the National Association of Retail Druggists declared the tax is an administrative as well as an economic burden on drug store dealers operating soda fountains.

Junior Owens appearing for the American Bottlers of Carbonated Beverages, said the cost of collecting the tax in connection with bottled goods made it almost non-productive to the government and constituted a serious nuisance to 12,000 bottling concerns. Levi Cooke, representing near-by manufacturers, declared the tax of two cents a gallon on that beverage was a drain on the reserves and surplus funds of these manufacturers, as their industry was not on a paying basis.

Enormous Amounts of German Marks Sold to Americans

(By The Associated Press) LEIPZIG, Jan. 13.—Money collectors in Germany, like the stamp full this year. New notes, regular and otherwise, have poured in on them from all sides. Thousands of issues of German marks which became worthless as currency within a few weeks of their appearance, have been accumulated by the money collectors whose only rivals in this respect were the scabrous men or the factories who sought the worthless marks merely for the paper.

Collectors' agents in Leipzig, Berlin and other German cities have done a land-office business all summer and fall among their foreign clients, some of whom ordered marks by the pound. The United States, it is estimated, has taken tons of the paper notes to be sold in the streets by peddlers, or given away as premiums with a tent order. In addition to the regulation

WHO WOULD HAVE BELIEVED!

Who'd have thought back in 1776 that some day a radio microphone would have been set up under the Liberty Bell in Philadelphia? Well, it's happened. This striking contrast between the old and new shows Chief Harry T. Baxter, Philadelphia official, broadcasting the history of the Liberty Bell.

notes, frank issues of marks came from everywhere some of them especially designed to give the collectors a thrill. These notes were good only in the districts issued. Thousands of them never reached the public at all because they passed directly into the hands of the collectors.

On top of all the money being turned out by the government as fast as hundreds of presses could trialists, such as Krupp, Stinnes and many others, issued marks with which to pay off their workmen. These notes, also gobbled up by the collectors, were acceptable as currency only in the immediate districts where the respective plants were situated.

But collectors were not the only ones interested. Many municipalities, headed by ingenious individuals, reaped a harvest and are planning further moves in what the village masters, for their own amusement, prefer to call "high finance." By striking a bargain with collectors the municipalities, and some of the other issuing bodies, made a clear gain of substantial amounts by the sale of an entire issue and the local famine of currency was relieved to that extent. Many of these deals were open and above board, and the town or village benefited. It was, in substance, a lucrative form of indirect taxation, with the collectors being the chief taxpayers.

Thousands of the notes were artistically designed for the sole purpose of catching the eye of the collector or the man on the street in the United States, South America, China or Honolulu. Some of the series were produced only to be cancelled automatically after a time limit, thus avoiding any chances that the collectors might "come back" at the village masters and demand redemption in years to come when the town itself might be on its feet again, and not thinking of wasting time with turning out home made money.

being held in readiness to attack the rebel ships if they attempt to return. WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—The situation in Mexico, complicated recently by the declaration of the revolutionists blockade at Tampico, was considered by President Coolidge and his advisors today one of the longest cabinet sessions in recent months. There were indications that more active steps to protect American interests in blockade port were considered at meeting but cabinet members said afterward that an announcement must come from the president. White House officials were silent.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—The state department announced late Thursday that the government of President Obregon in Mexico had requested permission for a detachment of the Mexican army to pass from Naco, Ariz., to some point in Texas where they will re-enter Mexican territory for service against the revolutionists. Although final decision has not been made it was said the Washington government looked favorably upon the request.

The American government has made request for passage of troops of the governors of Arizona, New Mexico and Texas and has received favorable replies from the first two but as yet no reply from the governor of Texas. In case a favorable reply is received from the latter, it was added, the request of the Mexican government would be granted.

In a statement the state department said: "The Mexican government through its embassy here, has requested permission of this government for the passage of a detachment of the Mexican army together with animals and other material which usually accompanies such a command from Naco, Arizona, to some point in Texas, where they will re-enter Mexican territory for service in regions in Mexico where American lives and interests are being threatened with grave danger by the forces in revolt against the Mexican government. These troops will not be armed but their arms and ammunition will accompany them as baggage. "This government has transmitted this request to the governors of Arizona, New Mexico and Texas and has received favorable replies from the first two but as yet no reply from the governor of Texas. In case a favorable reply is received from the latter, it was added, the request of the Mexican government would be granted.

Agriculture Agent
and Civic Bodies
and Farmers Homes

SANFORD, GA., Jan. 15.—The commission recently made by agricultural agents of the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic railroad and the civic clubs of Southern Georgia generally can do a fine work in taking up the problem of finding Southern rural homes for the farmer and western farmers, who are eager to locate where the climate is more genial has been secured here and in other cities with great interest, and reports received here today show that plans will soon be taken in that direction.

There are many thousands of acres of fine farming lands in the South capable of the highest degree of cultivation now lying idle, according to figures obtained by the officials of the A. B. and A. S. system.

It is just such land as the Northern farmer would wish," said A. D. Daniel, general passenger agent of the A. B. and A. S. system, who has been making a close study of the situation. "With their energy and farming knowledge, they soon could make it fruitful with all kinds of crops adapted to the South."

There is room in the South for many good farmers from other parts of the country, as officials of the Georgia Department of Agriculture pointed out today. Southern agriculture, as the officials assert, just now is in its highest state of prosperous activity.

"Southern provinces are in world demand," said J. Brown, commissioner of agriculture. "Cotton is literally booming, at prices that mean many millions of added dollars for cotton growers, but cotton is no longer the sole dependence of the South. Diversified agriculture is being developed in the South as never before, and the Northern and Western farmer, already well acquainted with the benefits to be derived from diversification, would be able to prosper greatly under Southern climatic conditions and with the rich soil awaiting only their energetic cultivation."

Civic clubs of the South, as farm development agents and railroad officials state, might indeed do a good work by bringing the idle Southern farm lands and opportunities to the attention of farmers in other parts of the country, who already, it is stated, are favorably impressed with the South, and will need little urging to take up life under sunny Southern skies.

The board, "could recommend a rate like the one proposed without knowing conditions."

Mr. Lake speaking to Mr. Houston, told him to sit down and calm himself and that there was no necessity for getting heated at this time.

Mr. Houston then said, "What is it you want, that will bring a reduction and make the rate a sliding rate from 13 cents down? If it is, then I'll grant it to you."

Higgins Opposes Hasty Action
Mr. Higgins said that he was in favor of still submitting the plan to Mr. Craig before deciding definitely. Then Mayor Lake asked Mr. Houston and Mr. Rosebro to retire again.

During this executive session, the matter was discussed privately and the three commissioners with City Attorney DeCottes stated that they believed that it would be well to accept the proposition. The members of the committee expressed themselves the same way, except Mr. Higgins. He stated that in as much as those present were not well enough posted, that he still recommended that the proposition be submitted to Mr. Craig before telling Mr. Houston that they would accept it.

The gentlemen were called in again. Mayor Lake stated that the commissioners believed that the rate was fair but that Mr. Higgins believed that the matter should be submitted to the consulting engineer before accepting. Mr. Houston grabbed his hat and started for the door, saying as he went, "I didn't come up here to barter this proposition across the table. You have my proposition and it is final. It is not accepted now it is withdrawn." It was noticeable however that as Mr. Houston started on a rush for the door, he quickly paused before reaching it and was called back to the table.

Mr. Lake asked Mr. Houston then to re-state his offer and the latter said: "I was asked to come up here with an open mind and consider this matter in such a manner, but if you don't care to decide now for final, then our proposition is withdrawn forever." He stated that the last rate offered was a sliding rate as follows: 13 cents

PICTURESQUE EAST SIDE
and the BOWERY of NEW YORK
LIVE AGAIN on the SCREEN

By JOHN E. EDWARDS
NEW YORK'S old-time-Bowery and its famous Lower East Side long have been memorialized in story and in song. Those two musical relics of an earlier day, "The Sidewalks of New York" and "The Bowery," are still sung with gusto in certain channels as typical of the halcyon days when New York lived "south of Fourteenth street" and when gangster and down-and-out rubbed elbows in a sort of freedom not known to present-day observers. Those were the days of the "Ten-Cent Flop," or lodging house, when panhandling and out-and-out begging were as common as the gang brawls, knife and gun play, and when policemen walked in pairs on the nightly patrol.

In the decade that has elapsed since the red palm days of the Lower East Side many changes have come to pass. Today the Bowery bears little resemblance to what it was 20 years ago. The old-time saloon and notorious dance hall have disappeared; there are still lodging houses of the cheaper sort, but the typical "bum" is now more or less of a rarity. True, from time to time one encounters a down-and-out, and, paunching it still a popular profession when it can be gotten away with, but the ever-alert police are not long in "spotting" this type of character, and quickly put an end to their activities, at least a temporary one.

On the other hand, during the last couple of years, the gangsters who have long infested the network and labyrinth of the Lower

East Side of the world's greatest city have, apparently, become more active, and at least more bold. Crime is ever rampant in that thickly populated district, where practically every nationality known to mankind is represented, where illiteracy and poverty run hand in hand, where living conditions are about as deplorable as can be imagined, and where the young are reared in an environment hardly conducive to the best standards of morality and living.

It was with a view to depicting the outside world, and for future generations, the conditions that have made the New York East Side a by-word throughout the land, that F. Scott Fitzgerald, noted novelist, wrote an original story, called "Grit," which has just been produced for the silver screen by the Film Guild, and which is being distributed through the W. W. Hodkinson Corporation. It is a story typical of New York gang-land, its peoples, customs and traditions, vividly portraying the innermost secrets of these lawless individuals who are constantly preying on society, wreaking vengeance for real or fancied wrongs, bold, fearless and defiant. In it the author has created a character, a youth, who comes into the "world with a heritage of fear, a handicap which an oily gang leader utilizes to advantage. It is not until the boy, through his love for a girl, also of the underworld, and his love for all that is good and beautiful, that he becomes possessed of the grit necessary for him to take a determined stand in his own behalf, and through means of which he is enabled to finally shake off the shackles that bind him to gangland and its life of crime.

Through the medium of the motion picture camera, the Film Guild has revived those hectic days of the underworld. The pathos of life under the shadow of the slanted, or in the dingy tenement, the code of the gangsters which spells death for betrayal, the innermost secrets of these defiant of law and order, are picturesquely and most entertainingly told. The spectator is taken back 20 years ago and longer, and under the spell of the silver sheet is brought face to face with life as it actually existed in those trying days, when it took real grit to fight the battles of existence, and when the lack of grit was a handicap which one could hardly hope to cope with.

In the screen version of "Grit," the spectator is given an inside view of how gangland lives, how its plans are laid and carried out, and how it revenges itself for any violation or infraction of its drastic code. Also, one may get an idea of the lighter side of Lower East Side life. Its typical restaurants, its pushcart peddlers, its peoples of every tongue and creed are picturesquely shown. There are intimate glimpses of Chinese opium dens and gangland resorts, which have been faithfully reproduced as they existed a decade ago, and the auditor is treated to a series of thrilling incidents and an accurate portrayal of life as it actually was in those early days of the world's metropolis.

And through it all, the author has woven his compelling story of the "grit" that goes to make up the dominant characteristic of the gangster and law-abiding citizen. It is a story typical of New York's palmiest days and one that no doubt will strike a responsive chord because of its very realism and authenticity.

BARON'S DAUGHTER RUNS BIG LONDON GARAGE AND "CLEANS UP" BY USING AMERICAN METHODS

BY MILTON BRONNER
NEA Service Staff Correspondent.
LONDON, Jan. 15.—If you happen to be in London and want to sell your car, find a garage or get lodgings for your chauffeur or yourself, or eat a meal, the Honorable Gabrielle Borthwick, daughter of the 10th Baron Borthwick, will attend to all these wants.

Miss Borthwick belongs to one of the oldest and most historic noble families of Scotland. But there is no snobbery or swank about her. She hasn't time to moon about family trees. She's too busy and too engrossed in her job.

"It was up to me to make some money for myself, so I set about doing it," she said. "I started in a small way in 1913. With my slender capital I opened a garage down in Hertfordshire because I had always fooled about with cars and knew a great deal about them. I lived over the garage and was often called out at all hours of the night to do auto hire jobs."

"Then I came to London and not only started a garage in the swell Mayfair section of town, but also went into the business of buying and selling cars and making repairs."

"We developed the garage business until we flow room for about 100 cars. Here also we have a show room for the sale of cars. In another part of town I have a big repair shop, over the garage are rooms for chauffeurs."

"And I have recently opened a big restaurant where lunches, teas and dinners are served. We are appealing to a large clientele because we serve table d'hote lunches for 45 cents and dinners for 75 cents."

"I have found that I don't get business because I am the daughter of a baron. To use an Americanism, any woman in business has to deliver the goods."

1. That the United States shall immediately enter the Permanent Court of International Justice, under the conditions stated by Secretary Hughes and President Harding in February, 1923.
  2. That without becoming a member of the League of Nations as at present constituted, the United States shall offer to extend its present co-operation with the League and participate in the work of the League as a body of mutual counsel under conditions which:
    1. Substitute moral force and public opinion for the military and economic force originally implied in Articles X and XVI.
    2. Safeguard the Monroe Doctrine.
  3. Accept the fact that the United States will assume no obligations under the Treaty of Versailles except by Act of Congress.
  4. Propose that membership in the League should be opened to all nations.
  5. Propose that the League should be developed in the interest of the development of international law.

A DUTCH COLONIAL HOUSE THAT IS HOMELIKE

A certain homelike quality is found in a well-designed Dutch Colonial house that appeals to most people. This type of house is quiet and dignified. It allows the owner to give his individual taste full sway in furnishing and decorating.

The plan arrangement is compact and economical, yet it is most complete and gives livable, attractive interiors.

A central stairway serves all rooms in the most economical manner.

The service arrangement of the first floor is very good. Here the architects have worked out a scheme that will delight the housewife. At one side of the kitchen is the entry with refrigerator lead from the entry, but with its front in the kitchen, to save steps. On the opposite side of the kitchen is arranged the pantry and the breakfast alcove. Steps to and from the dining room have been reduced to a minimum.

A built-in ironing board is provided in the kitchen.

Plenty of cupboard space is provided in both the kitchen and pantry.

A toilet room connects with the rear entry, so it is accessible from the service portion and from the living room.

Four bedrooms, two baths and very generous closets are well laid out on the second floor. The baths are together and are over the first floor toilet room, giving economical plumbing.

A servants' room and bath, and generous storage space are provided on the third floor.

Cost about $12,600.

...and it is this ground that will Saturday feel the trespass of the hundreds come in their everlasting reverence.

In addition to the veterans of the divisions of Atlanta there are expected to be scores from the south at large. General W. B. Haldeman, commander-in-chief of the United Confederate Veterans, made known some time ago that his health would not permit of his leaving his Florida home, but in military orders he urged the survivors in all the southern states to come and take part in the ceremony. General Julian H. Thomas will represent the commander-in-chief.

For Mrs. Plane, now bent under 95 years, whose husband fell in the battle under Lee, the unveiling will be the realization of her dream. A charter member of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, she conceived years ago the carving of Lee's head in the mountain-side. In 1915 she, with other members of the U. D. C. summoned Gutzon Borglum to Atlanta, and made their plan known to him. It was suggested that the memorial be enlarged to embrace a panorama of Confederate figures. But, for Mrs. Plane, who does not expect to see the finished picture in its entirety, the portrait of Lee will suffice.

FIGHT IN HOUSE

hope to get a special rate to protect the tax bill against amendments when it is brought to the floor and admitted it was open to attack in all its major rate provisions. He expressed doubt, however, that amendments proposing an excess profits tax or a bonus would be considered germane under provisions of a rule still in effect.

Representative Garner of Texas, author of the Democrats' substitute tax proposal, has declared that if he is not successful in the committee in obtaining normal income tax rates of two and four per cent in place of the three and six per cent rates suggested by Secretary Mellon and higher sur-tax rates than those suggested by the treasury secretary, he would seek to amend the bill to this effect on the floor.

Bankers Endorse.

The income tax rates of the Mellon plan today received endorsement before the ways and means committee from the American Bankers League and the American Mining Congress, while they were criticized by the American Farm Bureau Federation and the National Grange, the latter proposing higher surtax rates. The surtax rates of the Mellon program at the same time were vigorously defended by Garrard Winston, under-secretary of the treasury, in answering questions of committee members as to the probable effect of the plan on future revenue.

Representatives of the league later visited Secretary Mellon and offered to enter a contract to "finance productive industry" if congress adopted the secretary's tax reduction scheme.

Charles De B. Claiborne, president of the league, told the house committee that although business might be considered in a generally sound condition it was not "what it should be," as a result of lack of credit.

"Should Reduce Surtaxes."

Presenting the endorsement of the American Mining Congress of the Mellon plan, McK. W. Krieger declared a reduction in taxes particularly surtaxes, should be made without delay, "in the interest of the industries of the country."

A. M. Loomis, representing the National Grange, urged the prohibition of tax exempt securities and the repeal of the tax on telephone messages.

R. C. Fullbright, of Houston, Texas, and Charles L. Dunbar of New Orleans, who said they spoke of new taxpayers of their communities, opposed the recommendation of Secretary Mellon to tax the person in control of community property as a substitute for the present ent provision permitting the husband and wife to file joint returns on their incomes.

The proposed amendment to the revenue laws, they said, was not only inequitable and unjust, but unconstitutional. It would "nullify," they declared, the laws of Texas, Louisiana and half a dozen other states.

C. F. Vancleave of the Rubber Association of America, urged repeal of the 5 per cent tax on automobiles, tubes and parts, which he said was discriminatory.

Robert E. Lee

Today the South honors the memory of Robert E. Lee. Throughout all Dixie men, women and children are paying homage to the South's great soldier, statesman and citizen.

Time was when other sections did not recognize the greatness of Lee. Just before his one hundredth birthday there was a lot of adverse criticism in northern papers about Virginia demanding that Lee's statue with his grey uniform be placed in Statuary Hall at the National Capital.

In answering this criticism, John Temple Graves, one of the most gifted writers of Dixie paid a tribute to Lee which will not be forgotten. The Herald reproduces Mr. Graves' editorial because it expresses a real tribute to the South's chieftain.

This is the day of memory and of Lee. It was left to the South to produce the first American, and it is the glory of the South that out of its pulse and sentiment, out of its grace and loyalty, out of its creeds and chivalry, there blossomed in its darkest hour of defeat the foremost figure of the century, the ideal character life of the republic's life.

No former foe man fails to concede this judgment now. Soldier and civilian, in martial memory or in civic standard, they all pay tribute to that incomparable blend of character, courage and capacity which has lifted the illustrious mortal to that lustrous immortality in which fame preserves its chosen for the contemplation of all time.

It is not so much that Fred Grant, speaking in Collier's of his great father's view of Lee, should voice the estimate which every Northern soldier of '65, and every Northern editor of today gives place in columned comment upon this historic anniversary.

There is no monument in Washington to the greatest soldier and the loftiest citizen of our country. There is no portrait of the Great Captain on the walls of that stately capitol where hang the painted memories of lesser men.

Lee is the South's best riches in that his life is golden in example to her growing sons. Happy that people who can lead their youth to this high image—all their own—on which character is moulded and all high purpose is inspired.

Out of the thousand pictures of him which come to us from the chronicle of the Civil War, not one is more appealing and inspiring than the last martial incident which stamped him as greatest in defeat.

Oh, youth of Dixie, you who strive for material possession and whose standards are set too often upon the garish splendor of success, look you upon Lee at Appomattox and remember that it is not always upon the victor that posterity turns her gaze, but sometimes to the noble vanquished, and that her admiration at the dignity of the conquered.

There are men who saw the great defeated Captain when he came forth from the chamber where he had signed with Grant the articles of Capitulation. This was the soldier's sad Gethsemane, and only great souls can measure the pathos with which Lee's eyes rested now upon the Virginia hills in whose defending he had sheathed forever his brave and stainless sword.

And under this last expression of his people, "with that grand gray head uncovered," Robert Lee simply smote his hands together as though in some excess of inward agony, mounted his gray horse "Traveler," and rode calmly down—to History.

As Brisbane Sees It

300,000 a Minute—Slow. Mr. Mellon's Punch. Strangely, We Die. Fourth Dry Anniversary. Copyright, 1923

A MACHINE perfected in England takes 300,000 pictures in a minute. The camera, weighing two tons, is used to measure the power of shells hitting armor plate, speed of bullets, etc.

WE HAVEN'T begun to use the resources of nature. As Nicola Tesla said to this writer thirty years ago, and as students now know, there is, bound up in the force that holds molecules, atoms and electrons together, enough power in an ordinary glass of water to run the machinery of the United States for a year.

MR. MELLON, mild in speech, appears, as modern slang has it, "to pack a punch." Senator Cousins, who got thirty odd millions in one lump from Henry Ford for his stock in the Ford Company, tells Mr. Mellon that he is all wrong about taxes and high surtaxes don't make any difference.

STRANGELY WE live, even more strangely we die. Carlyle Harris said, standing beside the electric chair, and making a little bow, "I would like to say a few words; I suppose I may be permitted."

HE THEN denied that he had committed the crime for which they killed him. His denial was false.

YESTERDAY, FRANK SAGE was electrocuted in New Jersey for killing a policeman. He asked one favor, "to be allowed to show nerve and walk to the electric chair without guards." He walked to the chair unguarded and sat in it praying for forgiveness.

IN FRANCE one murdered, marching to the guillotine, holding a heavy metal cross in his hands, suddenly turned, and with the cross brained the priest that walked beside him, although his hands were tied together.

THE FOURTH anniversary of the eighteenth amendment was celebrated in Washington yesterday. How do you think prohibition has worked thus far?

IT IS for you to choose. Meanwhile be sure of this: Nobody will know anything about prohibition for at least sixty years.

Worry DESTROYS the mind. Seventy years ago Ireland's population was 6,552,385. The number of insane then numbered 9,980. Today with a population of only 4,300,000 the lunatics number 28,437.

ALLOW FOR failure to keep accurate statistics seventy years ago, and the figures are still appalling.

THE HOUSE bill to prevent Orientals from taking up permanent residence in the United States ought to go through. A suggested exception in favor of Buddhist priests is reasonable.

FRANCE, FOLLOWING Mussolini's example, cuts down salaries and chews off unnecessary limbs from the national pay roll. He expects to save six hundred million francs in this way.

FOREIGN AND HOME MISSIONARY WORK

Home Owning vs. Renting

The Architects' Small House Bureau of the United States lays down a convincing argument for home owning. He who has been hesitating and debating the matter while issuing rent check each month should be able to come to a conclusion hastily after having studied this analysis:

Table comparing costs of home ownership vs. renting. Home ownership costs $5,000.00 less cash payment, while renting costs $4,500.00 interest over 18 years.

On the other hand, suppose you have $1,000 to pay down on a home, the balance in monthly payments. As soon as you have completed payment on your home, if you will continue to have $5 per month less the expense on the home, such as taxes, water, upkeep and insurance, you will have $10 per month to save at compound interest, at 6 per cent for 23 years.

THE WORLD'S FINEST EXAMPLE

It is the civilian population of former enemies who continue to spit fire at each other longest after hostilities have ceased. Every war has proved it, but none better than our own Civil War.

As they used to say out West, the Left Wing of Price's army settled in Nevada after the Civil War. This was another way of stating that a considerable number of ex-Confederates, mainly from Missouri and Arkansas, moved to those parts in the latter sixties and early seventies.

Editor Sparkman of the Daytona Journal does not mind words when expressing himself with reference to the Nickels case. Here's his last comment: "About time some of our weak-minded friends began agitation to save Charles Brown from electrocution. For $20 he murdered in cold blood a defenseless young man. The crime of Aubrey Lee Nickels was, if anything the viler of the two and his worthless life has been saved through the efforts of 'weak-minded readers.'"

LIVING WATERS.
There are some hearts like wells, green moorland and deep as ever summer saw; cool that water is—yea, cool and sweet; but you must come to draw they hoard not, yet they rest in calm content, and not unthought will give; can be quiet with their wealth unspent, so self-contained they live.

There are some like oceans, deep and wide, wherein all waters fall; that girdles the broad earth, and draws the tide, feeding and bearing all; that broods the mist, that sends the clouds abroad.

What is their key?—tragic;—asked, their lives to other life they grant, so self-bestowed they live.

"Button, Button"

The fashionable tunic blouses are growing longer and longer. Very new models show just a few inches of undergarment below the tunic's hem. True, a good bit of the under-dress may be seen from the sides in those models that have open seams, but that is just a better opportunity to contrast harmoniously colored materials.

SUBSCRIPTION BRIDGE

The lovely home of Mrs. F. E. Roumillat, on Palmetto Avenue, was the scene of a very pretty party Friday afternoon, when Mrs. Roumillat and Mrs. Charles Britt gave a benefit bridge party, the proceeds to be added to the K. of C. Hall fund. There were sixteen tables of players.

Baskets of fragrant red roses were used in decorating the various rooms. The card tables were placed. Potted palms were also used to advantage.

Scores were kept on hand-painted tallies and when scores were counted after a number of spirited games of bridge, the prize for high score, a basket of red roses, was awarded Mrs. M. S. Wiggins. Second prize, a trump indicator, was won by Mrs. Percy Mero. High cut prize, an aluminum dish, went to Mrs. G. D. Hurt. Mrs. James Bidge won the low cut prize, a work basket. The consolation prize, a box of stationery, was presented Mrs. John Smith.

Refreshments consisting of several kinds of sandwiches and coffee were served at the conclusion of the card game. The hostesses were assisted in serving by Mrs. A. B. Wallace, Mrs. Andrew Mahoney, and Mrs. Alice Peters.

The affair was a decided success both from a financial and social standpoint and a net sum was realized.

ENTERTAINS AT TEA

Mrs. A. H. Moses entertained most delightfully Thursday afternoon at tea at her home on Magnolia Avenue, honoring Mrs. Hoffman of North Carolina, and Mrs. Lywell of New York.

The large living and dining rooms were ablaze with quantities of pink roses and sweet peas. The elegantly appointed tea table was laid with a handsome Madeira cloth and centered with a silver basket filled with radiance roses and sweet peas. At intervals were silver caskets holding salted nuts and mints, and at either side were silver candlesticks, with pink unshaded tapers. Favors of dainty boxes of bon bons tied with wide satin ribbon and topped with rosebuds were given each guest.

Mrs. Moses' guests were, Mrs. Hoffman and Mrs. Lywell, honorees, Mrs. F. P. Dutton, Mrs. Sam Yountz, Mrs. Harry B. Lewis, Mrs. C. E. Henry, and Mrs. Fred Walsma.

LUNCHEON HONORING MRS. KELLY

Mrs. D. A. Kelly, who leaves soon for California, where she will make her future home, was the charming honoree Thursday, when Mrs. Tom Williams entertained at luncheon at her home on Oak Avenue. Covers were laid for nine.

Pink and white sweet peas and roses, combined with greenery were used in decorating the various rooms.

The luncheon table was laid with a lovely lace cloth, the center being a crystal bowl of pink sweet peas. Marking the places were dainty cards fastened to napkins of sweet peas. At 1 o'clock a six course luncheon was served.

After luncheon the guests spent the afternoon sewing on bits of fancy work.

Mrs. Kelly was presented with a large bouquet of pink roses. Mrs. Williams' guests were Mrs. D. A. Kelly, honoree, Mrs. J. D. Barber, Mrs. W. I. Fields, Mrs. G. W. Snicker, Mrs. P. M. Elder, Mrs. W. S. Thornton, and Mrs. C. P. Herndon.

Mr. S. A. Irwin of the Sanford Dry Goods Co., left Saturday for New York to buy spring goods. While there Mr. Irwin will visit his brother.

ENTERTAINS AT LUNCHEON

Mrs. W. M. Scott was hostess Saturday, when she entertained at luncheon at her home on Oak Avenue.

Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Scott, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Hazeltine of Los Angeles, Cal., and W. H. Baggs of Pittsburgh, Pa.

SOCIAL DEPARTMENT BRIDGE PARTY

A lecture on "Rose Culture" featured a meeting of the club Tuesday.

A Real F. F. V. In The Ziegfeld Follies

Brooke Johns

"TAKE THOSE LIPS AWAY"
Take, oh take those lips away, a-way; lips that never mean a word they say.

Southern Aristocrat Shatters Family Traditions by Taking to Stage

New York City.—An F. F. V.—and he never even told his true agent about it!

That's why Broadway simply can't understand Brooke Johns, graduate of Georgetown University and soloist in the Ziegfeld Follies this year. It came out by accident the other day that the good-looking, modest young fellow, who in a sort of matinee idol around town, comes of the bluest Virginia blood and numbers government senators, archbishops and all sorts of aristocrats among his ancestors.

The idea who adopt Mr. Ziegfeld's production have always made a point of their family connections, real or fancied, so they can't imagine why Mr. Johns keeps his noble secret dark.

"It's because your family doesn't count after you get out rustling for yourself," the singer protested, really "embarrassed." "My job is so fascinating that it gives me no time to think about things like ancestors that are all in the past."

"Look at my hit song, 'Take Those Lips Away.' I've been looking for several years for a song idea like that. A sort of superlative degree of all the sentimental synecopation of the past. It is by my friends, Joe McCarthy and Harry Tierney, and I'm having the time of my life putting it over."

"It's what you really see that counts in this kind of an activity. My ancestors can't help, no why bother to lug them out before the public?"

WIVES! HERE'S WOMAN PSYCHOLOGY OF MAKING A HOTEL HOMELIKE

New YORK, Jan. 18.—They're trying out a little psychology on the tired traveling man. It seems that burning holes in hotel carpets with cigaret ashes, and putting his shoes in the bed, and knocking over bottles of lavender toilet water and things, has put almost a greater burden on hotel managers than hotel managers could bear.

As usual a woman has a solution. She's Mrs. Evelyn Barber, a widow and pretty, who has the job of doing the interior decorating for the 20 big hotels of the United Hotels Company.

"Make hotels homelike," she says "and men will behave in them just as they do at home with grandma and all the other women folks watching."

Mrs. Barber was going about the country lecturing to women on how to keep husbands happy and comfortable at home when she suddenly discovered that there was a far greater need for keeping husbands comfortable and happy when they were away from home.

So Mrs. Barber is tearing out the red velvet carpets with the large rose pattern, and the plush-covered ottomans with the carved gilt legs. No glaring lights for her, no steel engravings of Queen Victoria's Jubilee or Psyche at the Bath.

In their stead she's putting in neutral walls and carpets and curtains. Every room is to have at least one easy chair and a reading nook where a person can flop down in a snuggled lamp and find an ash tray at his elbow.

Only there are lamps in her scheme, says Mrs. Barber, for here is what colors can do to the traveling man:

"Red irritates him. Doctors have demonstrated that a man will go mad if he is surrounded by red carpets, red walls and red hangings all the time.

"Blue has to be toned down 'grayed,' as it's called, else it's depressing. Consider 'blue' Monday, the blues," blue with cold, etc.

"Yellow is cheerful and has even been known to inspire a salesman.

ALL SOULS CHURCH.

Tomorrow, the second Sunday after Epiphany, services will be as follows:

Sunday School, as usual, at 9 a. m. sharp.

Low Mass at 10:30 a. m. Sermon: "The Marriage Feast at Cana."

Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament after Mass.

Low Mass all week at 8 a. m. The public is invited to all church services.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

Church services for Sunday, Jan. 20th, 1924:

Subject: "Life."

Church service, 11 a. m. Sunday School, 10 a. m. Woman's Club building, Oak Avenue.

All are welcome.

Taylor Commandery, Knights Templar and the Sanford Chapter, Order of DeMolay will attend the services at the First Baptist Church tomorrow morning in a body. All members of these two organizations are urgently requested by their leaders to be at the Masonic Temple not later than 10:30 tomorrow morning.

TRACK COACHES PLAN DIVISION OF JURISDICTION

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—The Association of College Track Coaches of America will be divided into three sections, one for the east, one for the middle west and one for the Pacific coast, it plans now being considered a proposal, according to Harry L. Hillman, of Dartmouth, secretary of the association.

The association, organized five years ago for the purpose of improving general athletic conditions and making suggestions to the several intercollegiate athletic bodies, now has 45 active members and one honorary member, William "Tooch" Donovan, former Harvard track coach who now confines his duties to training the Harvard football and baseball teams.

Each section of the country is represented in its membership and the proposed division of the organization is suggested as a means of dealing with questions affecting particular areas. The parent body would continue to be the national organization.

The present officers are: President, Thomas F. Keane, Syracuse; Secretary and Treasurer, Harry L. Hillman, Dartmouth; Board of Governors, John F. Mackley, Cornell; Walter Christie, California; Keene Fitzpatrick, Princeton; Lawson Robertson, Pennsylvania; John Macpherson, Bowdoin, and John Ryder, Boston College.

The association lost one of its charter members in the death of Jobnis Mack, the late Yale coach.

ROLLINS VOTES AGAINST GAME OF BASKETBALL

WINTER PARK, Jan. 19.—In keeping with the Council rulings on athletic standards which were adopted Jan. 10, the faculty council voted to discontinue basketball for the season of 1923-4. This action was taken primarily because of the low scholastic ratings which many of the players were found to have.

Insistence upon passing a prescribed number of class hours work will be the primary consideration in determining the eligibility of any participant in athletics.

For the present season, this action will naturally cause some embarrassment in that the College will not be able to contend with some of their worthy rivals. But it is believed that it is far better to sustain this temporary situation and to develop a sound basis for future athletic standards rather than to sacrifice the true spirit of collegiate athletics for the mere temporary enjoyment of competing in contests.

Furthermore, it appears to be more consistent to carry on one or two major sports, and to do this in the best manner, rather than to sacrifice the well-being and academic standing of a small group of men upon whom the burden of carrying on several seasons of major sports ultimately falls in the smaller colleges. This situation only tends to bring on complicated and often serious situations in order that a good showing may be had and it is believed that it is far better to do one thing well, and to carry on but one or two intercollegiate activities which are in the real access of the smaller colleges rather than to attempt to emulate the larger institutions and in so doing create a condition which is bound to ultimately destroy the true "college spirit" in athletic relationships.

McQUILLAN CHANGES.

DELAND, Jan. 19.—H. R. McQuillan, coach of the Lakeland high school athletic teams for the last two years, has accepted terms to become director of athletics at Stetson University, according to an official statement here. He will resign his position at Lakeland at the end of the June term of school if it is understood.

"The Czech language has been established as the state language of Czechoslovakia, and as such must be taught in all secondary schools and all training colleges for teachers throughout the Republic," says Emanuel V. Lippert in the December number of School Life, published by the United States Bureau of Education. Languages of the minority peoples in the country may be taught either as required or as elective subjects.

French Committee Revises Schedule At Olympic Games

By The Associated Press
PARIS, Jan. 19.—Competitions in the Eighth Olympic Games in Paris this year will occupy the greater part of May, June and July, according to the revised schedule just published by the French Olympic committee.

Beginning in May with the Rugby and Association football trials, the culminating point of the Olympics will come with the great athletic week, July 5 to 13.

After the conclusion of the winter sports at Chamani, Feb. 6, the next Olympic competition will come with Rugby football, from May 3 to May 19 and with soccer football from May 15 to June 9. These matches will take place in the new Colombes Stadium for the semi-finals and finals, the elimination trials having been held at Pershing Stadium, the Velodrome Parc des Princes, the Buffalo and Bergerre Stadiums.

Then will come the ceremonial opening of the games, which will be preceded by a festival commemorating the 50th anniversary of the resumption of the Olympics. The festival will be celebrated June 23. Two ceremonies, one in the Notre Dame Cathedral in the morning and the other in the evening at the Sorbonne, will be the main features of the day. The following day a gala performance will be given at the Opera.

The delegates from the Federation of Sports and Athletics represented at the games, after having been officially received by President Millerand at the Elysées on July 3, will be the guests of the French Olympic committee at a banquet.

Finally, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon of July 5, the solemn ceremony of the official opening of the games will take place at the Colombes Stadium.

Young Stribling to Meet Buck on Feb. 1

MIAMI, Jan. 19.—Young Stribling has matched against Soldier Buck for his initial appearance in a Jacksonville ring on Feb. 1. Stribling has visited this city many times and has put on several exhibition bouts here, but the Feb. 1 contest will be his first fight here.

This will be the first fight here since Jan. 3, the promoters having agreed to suspend their activities during the revival meeting being held here by Gypsy Smith, the evangelist.

WORSE THAN PAIN

Louisiana Lady Says She Has "Never Found Anything Better Than Cardui for a Run-Down Condition"

Morgan City, La.—"It would be hard for me to tell how much benefit I have derived from the use of Cardui," said Mrs. L. G. Bowman, of 1319 Front Street, this city.

"I was so run-down in health I could hardly go. I was thin. I had no appetite. Could not rest or sleep well. I was so weak, and so very nervous, I was no pleasure to myself.

"I suffered some pain, but the worst of my trouble was from being so weak and easy to get tired and out of heart.

"This nervous condition was worse than pain.

"Some one told me of Cardui, and I decided to use it.

"After using a few bottles, I regained my strength. I wasn't so nervous, and began to eat and sleep, and grew stronger and was soon well.

"I have never found anything better for a run-down condition."

If you suffer as this Louisiana lady did, you, too, should get Cardui helpful for your troubles. Get a bottle of Cardui, today. NC-144.

SANFORD SEXTET IS DEFEATED BY THE EUSTIS TEAM

(By "Scotch" McCalley.)

The Sanford High School girls' basketball team played the Eustis girls' team on the High School court in Eustis last night and were barely defeated by a 15 to 13 score. The game was a fast one, despite the fact that the court was wet and this of course made accurate playing impossible for either team. The local girls' team was also weak on the forward positions. There was a large crowd to witness the game and a good sized cheering squad from the Celery City was present. The Eustis student body was also there with the goods when it came to making noise.

On the Eustis team the outstanding star was right forward Ashmore, who made all of their 15 points and who played championship basketball. The guards Macklin and Hawkins were not far behind and their running center McDowell was a fast player.

Miss Spencer of the local team was the outstanding star of the game and although she played the game with a sprained wrist, she fought gamely and to her largely due the fine score the locals made.

The Misses Martin and Kanner at jumping and running centers respectively played a stellar game and Misses Caraway and Symes at guards showed a fine.

Miss Kenlaw who started the game at left forward with a badly injured knee, was forced to leave the game at the end of the first quarter. Miss Symes injured her ankle in a fall and was substituted by Miss Zachary about the middle of the third quarter. Miss Zachary filled her place well. Miss Echols who substituted Miss Kenlaw showed up real well and taken as a whole the girls played a fine game against overwhelming odds.

Their coach, Miss Mahoney, is well pleased with their performance and says that she is perfectly satisfied with the outcome of the game. The girls have been handicapped in their practices during the past week by the condition of the clay court due to the rainy weather and it is predicted that as soon as everything gets back to normal the girls will defeat anything in this district.

The line up is as follows:
Spencer R. F. Ashmore
Kenlaw I. F. Holder
Martin J. C. Ayres
Kanner R. C. McDowell
Caraway L. G. Macklin
Symes R. G. Hawkins

Substitutions: Echols for Kenlaw; Zachary for Symes.
Officials: Byrnes, Gady, Umpire.

EVENT TRUE—By GONDO

Many secondary schools are expanding upward to include one or two years of what is called college work, says L. E. Blauch in the December number of School Life. Frequently this is done under the direct encouragement and advice of the State university, and some States have enacted legislation definitely to encourage and support such advanced secondary work.

A Cow can give milk to her fullest capacity only when fed the right proportion or balance of milk-making materials. Milk is made up of Protein Carbohydrates, Fat, Minerals and Water, in proportions that, practically speaking, can't be varied. Instead of making imperfect milk, a poorly fed cow gives less milk.

Feed Purina Cow Chow

and your cows will get all the Protein and Calcium needed to balance your Carbohydrate roughness.

All we ask is that you give Purina Cow Chow a trial and let your milk scales show you why you should keep on feeding it.
