Welcome Home Astronauts!!

By STAFFORD DERBY
Welcome home Neil, Buzz and Mike!
Your epic moon-trip has stamped the three of you as figures of historical importance!
Our nation owes you a deep debt of gratitude. And not only you but the thousands of dedicated, skillful, expert and persevering earthlings who dreamed the project, put it on paper, fabricated the mysterious mechanism and shepherded Columbia and Eagle on this never-to-be-forgotten space-trip.
Just one word of caution!
Take time in unpacking your luggage! For the true meaning of the American flag on the moon will not be found easily.
Columbus did make his equally epochal voyage on the oceans in 1492. But it was literally a century before man found a way to test its meaning through colonization.
No such time-lapse will take place now. That we can bank on. The gratitude of the nation and mankind for those "footprints on the moon" will continue.
But how great the contribution of Apollo 11 to the future of mankind and the earth on which he lives will not rest with you.
This is in the hands of all men of all nations and is the challenge which splashes down with you!

President Greet Moon Conquerors

Space Heroes Splashdown Safely

By RALPH DIGHTON
Associated Press Writer
ABOARD USS HORNET (AP) — The Apollo 11 spaceship, carrying the first men to walk the surface of the moon, splashed down today into the Pacific Ocean where their President awaited them.
Neil A. Armstrong, Edwin E. Aldrin Jr. and Michael Collins hit the water after a blazing re-entry. During the re-entry, which started with the ship going 24,600 miles an hour, the temperature of the heat shield of the capsule reached 5,000 degrees Fahrenheit.
They were to be taken from the capsule by helicopter and brought to an air-tight silver trailer on board the aircraft carrier Hornet.
The landing target was shifted from the original touchdown point. The new target, for which the astronauts had to shift slightly the angle of their ship on re-entry into earth's atmosphere, was 950 miles southwest of Hawaii.
The landing was to be the triumphant end to a momentous eight-day mission in which man reached out and touched the moon.

Mission Boosted Spirits

Climax To Magnificent Odyssey

Boundless Space Frontier Opened

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Writer
ABOARD USS ARLINGTON (AP) — President Nixon, convinced the Apollo 11 moon mission boosted spirits all over the world, was en route today to a ringside seat for the return to earth of the trail-blazing astronauts.
Before leaving San Francisco Wednesday afternoon, Nixon told a street crowd of several thousand that the moon landing of Neil A. Armstrong and Edwin E. Aldrin Jr. generated a burst of good will around the globe.
The chief executive hopes to capitalize on that good will as he visits five South Asian nations, Communist Romania and Britain during the next 11 days.
Nixon flew Wednesday from San Francisco to Johnston Island, an American atoll 1,200 miles from Honolulu which he last visited 25 years ago while on route home from wartime Navy service in the South Pacific.
From the atoll, a Marine helicopter took the President to the Apollo recovery fleet maneuvering in mid-Pacific some 1,000 miles southwest of Hawaii. He spent the night aboard the Arlington, a 19,600-ton communications ship.
Nixon was to be called before dawn for a 15-minute helicopter flight to the aircraft carrier Hornet. There, after breakfast with the captain, he will watch the splashdown from the flag bridge.
Nixon expressed confidence the moon mission would have a happy ending, with Armstrong, Aldrin and command module pilot Michael Collins snugly settled inside a sealed chamber aboard the Hornet.
Today, heading for a fiery dash through the atmosphere and the strongest welcome any nation ever has accorded returning heroes.
Neil A. Armstrong, Edwin E. Aldrin Jr. and Michael Collins were on a perfect course that would slam them into the atmosphere high above the Pacific Ocean at 24,700 miles an hour. Splashdown was set for 12:49 p.m. EDT, about 950 miles southwest of Hawaii.
The landing spot was shifted 250 miles to the east Wednesday night when weathermen forecast thunderstorms for the original touchdown point. The astronauts will steer to the new site by changing the angle of the spaceship as they dip into the atmosphere.
The landing in warm Polynesian waters will climax a magnificent odyssey in which two Americans walked on the moon and opened the boundless frontier of space.
But on their return, they'll be treated more like lepers than conquerors of the moon.
President Nixon will be on the recovery ship, the aircraft carrier Hornet. But he won't shake their hands. A strangely garbed frogman will greet them, not with a cheery "well done," but with a set of three biological suits and a can of disinfectant, with which he'll spray them.
On the carrier they'll be slugged into an air-tight trailer which will be their home for a 2 1/2 day sea-air trip to Honolulu, Tex., where they'll be isolated another 16 days.
These precautions are insurance against the remote chance that the astronauts or the moon rocks they brought back harbor lunar bacteria that might harm life on earth.
President Nixon will observe the recovery operation from the bridge of the Hornet. Once the astronauts are in the trailer, he'll view them through a window and speak with them over a plugged-in telephone.
As their eight-day journey of discovery neared an end, Armstrong, Aldrin and Collins beamed a final television show to earth Wednesday night. In a moving 12 minutes, they thanked God and all the people on earth who made their trip possible.
Commander Armstrong, the first man to step on the moon, said: "The responsibility for this flight lies first with history and with the giants of science who preceded this effort."
"Next, to the American people who have through their will indicated their desire. Next, the four administrations and their congresses, for implementing that will."
"And then to the agency and the industry team that built our spacecraft—the Saturn, the Columbia, the Eagle and the EMU."
—These precautions are insurance against the remote chance that the astronauts or the moon rocks they brought back harbor lunar bacteria that might harm life on earth.

Looking At Sports

With Gary Taylor

Major League Baseball refers to 1960 as its 100th anniversary year, or at least they think it is. But it seems that back in 1889, baseball also celebrated the centennial milestone. That same year, the National Baseball Museum and Hall of Fame opened its doors in Cooperstown. They said that in 1859, Abner Doubleday laid out a diamond-shaped field and named the new sport baseball.

So why are we calling this the 100th anniversary of baseball? Because it is just that. One hundred years ago, the first all-professional team was formed, and professional baseball has been with us since. It was in 1890 that the Cincinnati Red Stockings formed their team. According to World Book Encyclopedia, the members of the first professional team earned between $600 and $1400 per season.

This the 100th anniversary of baseball brought about some much needed changes. Spectator interest in baseball had dropped considerably. Mound height and the strike zone size were changed to bring back the offensive game.

Slightly over mid-way through the season we have several .300 and above hitters. Rod Carew of the Twins leads the American League with his .364 average while Reggie Smith of the Red Sox is second along with another Twin, Tony Oliva, at .339.

The National League has Matty Alou in the top spot at .334. Alou, a Pirate slugger is trailed by a team-mate, Willie Stargell at .347.

Everyone's eyes are on the long-ball hitters now, as we have a real battle going on in the American League. Reggie Jackson is currently leading the league with 37 home runs, but big Frank Howard isn't far behind with his 34. Both players are ahead of Ruth's pace for 60 home runs, but if you remember, Ruth put on the drive in September to give him 60 circuit clouts.

Willie McCovey is still pounding away for San Francisco. McCovey has 26 home runs and is leading the league. Speaking of the Giants, keep your eyes on Bobby Bonds, who looks like the super-star of the future.

Things are really tight in the National League. The NL West has proved to be the best race all year long as no team has ruled the race, and five teams have a possibility of finishing in first place.

As we go into the All-Star break, Atlanta leads the league only one game ahead of Los Angeles and San Francisco, who are tied for second place. Cincinnati is in fourth place only six games back and Houston is still in the running 7 games back. San Diego, the expansion team, is bringing up the rear, 23 games behind the pace-setting Braves.

I look for San Francisco to come on strong and go neck and neck with the Braves. Los Angeles should fall behind shortly, as the Dodgers are carrying the hopes of a pennant on the shoulders of several youngsters and the heat of the pennant race could make them wilt. Cincinnati has a lot of potential, and could find themselves battling for first place in the near future.

The NL East is not as close, but the front-running Cubs have got their heads well worrying about the second place Mets and the third place Cardinals.

The red-hot Mets are only 4½ games behind the league-leading Cubs. In two recent meetings of the Cubs and the Mets, New York took two out of three games at New York's Shea Stadium and then went to Chicago and took two more in a three game series. St. Louis is 11 games off the pace, but they have begun to move and the front-runners had better watch out.

The American League does not have the pennant race the NL has. Baltimore has all but run away with it in the AL East, while Detroit and Boston are battling it out for second place. The Red Sox are 11 games off the pace with Detroit but on their heels in the pennant race. Surprisingly enough, Washington is in fourth place, 14½ games back. Cleveland, a pre-season choice to be in the heat of the pennant race is bringing up the rear, 27½ games back.

Minnesota is currently leading the AL West but Oakland is only four games back and with the power of Reggie Jackson, who leads the league with 37 home runs, they could surge in front. The odd thing about the AL West race is that the two expansion teams, Seattle and Kansas City are battling it out for third place while Chicago and California trail behind.

The Atlanta Braves will hold their annual old-timers game Saturday night at 7 p.m. Braves vice President Paul Richards will manage the Atlanta Crackers and former California Angels vice president and general manager Fred Haney will manage the 1957 Braves Saturday night in the Old-Timers Game at Atlanta Stadium.

Richards' team of ex-Crackers will include Montas, Brown, Low Carpenter, Frank DiPrima, Billy Goodman, Robert "Poochie" Harshfield, Buck Ralston, Cecil Travis and Corky Valentino.

Haney, who piloted the Braves before moving to the front office at California, will have on his team Saturday night most of the stars who won the world's championship in 1957. The Old-Timers Game will precede a Braves-Montreal Expos game at the stadium. Here is the schedule of events:

The 1957 Braves players who will be present Saturday night include Joe Adcock, Bill Bruton, Bob Buhl, Lou Burdette, Del Crandall, Bob Hazle, Johnny Logan, Mankew, Andy Pate, Warren Spahn, Frank Torre, and three Atlanta residents with the present club — outfielder Hank Aaron, announcer Ernie Johnson and batting practice pitcher Taylor Phillips.

Richards' team of ex-Crackers will include Montas, Brown, Low Carpenter, Frank DiPrima, Billy Goodman, Robert "Poochie" Harshfield, Buck Ralston, Cecil Travis and Corky Valentino.

Former Crackers owner Earl Mann will also be introduced at the game.

Lake Appling, an ex-Cracker who is already committed to another appearance on that date, and ex-Brave Red Schoendienst, who cannot leave his managing duties with the St. Louis Cardinals, were the only Old-Timers declining invitations to the game.

Season Tickets Go On Sale

Season tickets for Seminole High football games and All-sports season tickets went on sale by the Boosters Club yesterday. This year, the west side of the stadium will be the home side, and 300 seats will be reserved for season ticket holders. Gordon Meyer, Bill MacLaughlin, Gordon Sweeney, Dr. Brooke Smith and John Weaver are selling the tickets. There are two types of tickets available. In addition to football season tickets, All-sports season tickets are available. Admission will be charged at swim meets and basketball games. An All-sports ticket would admit the holder to any sport including football, basketball, swimming and baseball.

Seabreeze, Tampa Jesuit and Lyman on their home field while they travel to Cocoa Beach, Kissimmee, Leesburg and Deland. They will open the season with a four-team jamboree to be held in Winter Garden. The jamboree will feature Sanford, Winter Garden, Bishop Moore and Ocoee. Football practices will probably begin about Aug. 18, but equipment will be issued and physical given one week earlier.

Sanford Junior All-Stars Try For State Berth Tonight

The Sanford Junior League All-stars will meet the Melbourne All-stars at 8 p.m. tonight at Pinehurst Field in Sanford. A win for Sanford would send them to the State championships, and a loss would send the tournament into another game.

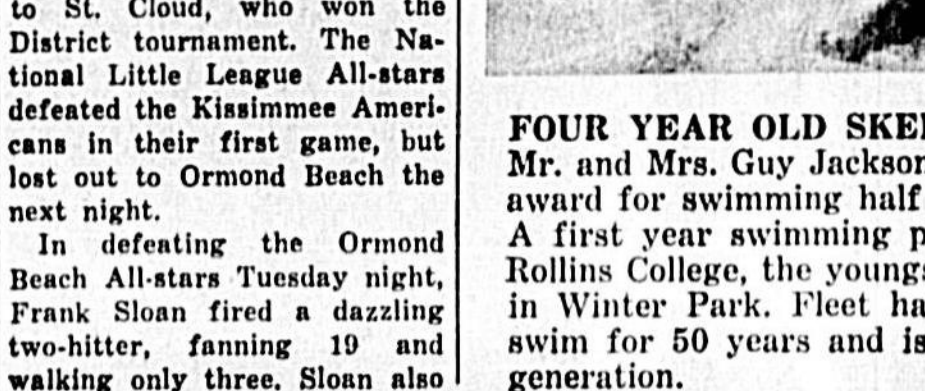

This is a double-elimination tournament featuring Sanford, Melbourne and Ormond Beach. Ormond Beach defeated Melbourne in Monday's opening game. Ormond Beach traveled to Sanford Tuesday and lost to Sanford 5-1. This game saw Frank Sloan fan 19 batters for the Sanford squad.

Melbourne and Ormond Beach clashed again last night, and Melbourne came out on top, 5-0. Ormond Beach was knocked out of the tournament. Melbourne with one loss, will travel to Sanford to meet the Sanford All-stars who have no losses.

The Junior League All-stars are Sanford's only hope for a State Championship in baseball this season. The Senior League All-stars lost two straight to Melbourne. The American Little League All-stars lost their opening game to St. Cloud, who won the District tournament. The National Little League All-stars defeated the Kissimmee Americans in their first game, but lost out to Ormond Beach the next night.

In defeating the Ormond Beach All-stars Tuesday night, Frank Sloan fired a dazzling two-hitter, fanning 19 and walking only three. Sloan also headed his team at the bat by picking up the only extra-base hit of the game. Sanford will be looking for a revenge tonight as they were defeated in two straight games by the Melbourne team last year.

The job is up for 'grabs' to anyone who qualifies. The top three candidates are Jimmy Jackson, a 6-2 senior from Jacksonville, James Peterson, a Daytona Beach native who played linebacker last season, and Charles Barnes, a sophomore from Fort Lauderdale. McClinton said "they worked hard during spring practice. Barnes throws quick and hard—I think he has promise; Peterson handles the roll out patterns with confidence; and Jackson, the most experienced of the three, handles the team plays with authority." He played in the shadows of former "slinger" Clewis Wright who graduated.

JACK MCCLINTON

McClinton acquired two more coaches increasing the staff to five. Bud Asher, a long time grid leader in the Daytona area will be a backfield coach and Jack's former teammate Harold Lucas will handle the kicking-punting chores. Asher formerly coached at Father Lopez High and Daytona Beach Thunderbirds of the Old Southern Professional League. Lucas coached the Campbell High High School team and St. Augustine's Murray High School. Lloyd Johnson remains in charge of defense and Wesley Moore is the offensive line coach.

Couch McClinton will greet 25 veterans and 80 rookies when practice begins September 1. The Wildcats coming game should be impressive, the entire backfield is made up of two and three year vets.

VICKI McLEAY was chosen the Queen of the Deltona Babe Ruth team during the final game of their season.

Rest Is The Most Important Essential

MONTREAL (NEA) — Sleep, that sweet peace, that ferryboat into wondrous new worlds of the mind and galvanizer of work-weariness.

Sleep, which has engendered the wonderment and concern of King from Shakespeare ("We are such stuff as dreams are made on... and our little life is rounded with a sleep") to Andy Warhol (who made an eight-hour film of a man sleeping for eight hours) to Roberto Clemente.

Clemente, Pittsburgh's star right fielder, slumped and slumbers on the wheel of the batting cage in Jarry Park here. A hat was held between his legs. The evening was humid and the sun-dashed rays, purring strokes of orange on the clouds. Before the game, Clemente would hit some batting practice, sit, play some cards, sit. That was all.

"I stay in bed all day before a night game, sleeping and resting," said Clemente. "I am a very light sleeper. Anything wakes me up, footsteps in the hall, a car horn down below, a faucet drip. So I sleep and wake, sleep and wake all night."

"But staying in bed is nothing new for me. I've done it all my life. When I was a young boy in Carolina, Puerto Rico, we would go out to play like the other kids. If all our money was done around the house, my mother would tell us to go to bed."

Back To The Drawing Board

Nationals Upstage American Nine

By MIKE RATHEP
Associated Press Sports Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American League went back to the drawing board today in search of another plan to win the All-Star Game with its two biggest stars disagreeing over the reason why the National League has now extended its superiority through seven years.

"They got more stars over there," said Reggie Jackson of the Oakland Athletics after Wednesday's 9-3 loss to the National League.

"I must rest, a lot these days," he said. I thought of nothing except rest. I do not go over my problems because they will not rest peacefully. When I have to get up for a day game, I am usually tired and doubleheaders, they kill me."

"These things seem to run in cycles. Our league will be back."

Jackson, at 23 representing the AL's younger generation, and Howard, at 23 representing the AL's older generation, were the key players in the American League's search for ending NL superiority this time around.

That plan called for leading the team with the league's top home run hitters, Jackson, with 27, and Howard, with 24, were the leading elements in a starting unit that statistically had the edge on the National League starters—178 homers to 165.

But 2 hours and 36 minutes later when the scoreboard showed the 8-3 final score, the National League had hit more homers than the American, 3-2, and had out-hit them, 11-6.

Howard and Bill Freehan of Detroit collected home runs for the Americans, while Jackson failed to get the ball out of the infield in two official trips to the plate. But Willie McCovey of San Francisco hit two for the Nationals and Johnny Bench of Cincinnati one.

If having lost the home run battle, the Americans decide now that pitching might help to be the answer—then it probably will help next year if Detroit's Denny McLain doesn't have a McLain's appointment.

MORE THAN A DREAM

This youngster dreams a boy's dream of adventure to far away places, to outer space. Yet even as he gazes past the toy rocket, man's greatest adventure has unfolded—the landing of the first human being on the moon.

To chronicle this most fantastic, first-time event in all history, The Associated Press has produced for readers of this newspaper "Footprints On The Moon." It is the complete story of how man forged the tools to free himself from the bonds that held him to his native planet, and of the moon landing itself.

"Footprints On The Moon," written by AP space specialist John Barkout, chronicles the saga of America's space race—and how it was won—in 70,000 words and more than 100 of the most exciting color photographs ever taken.

"Footprints On The Moon" provides a master countdown on the final day, hour and second of the final shot—and the first moon landing.

This is a book that belongs in everyone's home, for parents and their children.

It can be yours at a special price of only $5 through this newspaper.

Ernie Ladd Quits... Stram Preps Chiefs

By TE DMEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Ernie Ladd, one of the most feared linebacks in pro football, will play this season.

Back Dick Bass, in contrast, is ready for a strong comeback after being hampered much of the 1968 season by injury.

Stram, coach of the Chiefs, said Wednesday that the Chiefs and Ladd had agreed it would be best for all concerned for Ladd to sit out this season and concentrate on getting into shape for the 1970 campaign.

"We don't want to see Ernie get hurt," Ladd said. "I'm not sure I can take the strain on my left knee last January."

But he still wasn't ready when the start of the season opened and all he could do was watch while he warmed up in the bullpen as the National League exploded for five runs on five hits off John "Blue Moon" Odom, including McCovey's first homer.

"The Americans got one back in their half on Freehan's hum-

'Old' Golf Pros Try Comeback

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Golf Writer

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Three touring veterans troubled in recent years but on the rebound in the last week, hope to keep their comebacks in gear today when they set out in the first round of the $125,000 American Golf Classic.

Gay Brewer, R. H. Sikes and Tommy Jacobs all have suffered professionally, mentally and financially in the last two or three years.

But all three found the key last week in the Philadelphia Golf Classic. None have scored regular tour victories in the last two years—Jacobs almost left the tour—but all three tied with Dave Hill for the 72-hole lead at the Philadelphia.

Hill, a controversial figure but the hottest man on the tour, won it on the first extra hole. But it was a signal accomplishment for the other three.

"Last week I finally got it all put together," the pug-nosed Texan said. "Now I've just got to try to keep it."

Cassius May Go To Jail But With Lighter Term??

By R. F. KELLAM
HOUSTON (AP) — A federal judge today said that Cassius Clay today and there was some speculation the former heavyweight boxing champion might draw a lighter sentence this time.

Clay was assessed the maximum sentence of five years in prison and a $10,000 fine in June, 1967 after his conviction on a charge of refusing to be inducted into the armed services.

However, U.S. District Judge Joe Ingraham has indicated the sentence might later be reduced.

Clay had sought exemption from the draft as a Black Muslim minister and as a conscientious objector.

The former prizefighter's plea that his conviction be set aside was rejected July 14 by Ingraham, who ordered him to appear for resentencing.

The court holds that the law are so patently innocuous they could not have had any bearing on the defendant's conviction under any circumstances," Ingraham ruled July 14.

Cocoa Eggs Continue

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Zeros are becoming way of life for the Cocoa Astros.

The Florida State League team hasn't scored a run in 29 innings. Latest culprit was St. Petersburg's Steve Evans. The Cardinal hurler blanked Cocoa on six hits Wednesday night in a 5-0 cakewalk.

Joe Pryor, a rookie end with the Houston Oilers, also apparently decided to call it quits. He left the team Wednesday.

Rain hampered the workout of the world champion New York Jets, preparing for the College All-Star game in Chicago next week, and quarterback Joe Namath took advantage of the shortened day to attend a literary press conference to promote his forthcoming autobiography, "I Can't Wait Until Tomorrow."

Lacrosse will become a varsity sport at Michigan State in 1970.

Rival Teacher Groups Will Be Merging Shortly

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP) — The rival National Education Association and American Federation of Teachers will merge in the near future, a former AFT presidential candidate predicted Wednesday.

"The question is not whether there will be a merger of the NEA and the AFT," Dr. Myron Lieberman said in a lecture at the University of Florida. "The question is what the conditions will be."

The NEA, a professional association, and the AFT, a labor union affiliated with the AFL-CIO, have fought bitter battles for many years over what the union calls "education reform."

"The rivalry is very expensive," Lieberman said. "It's not an ideological battle anymore, but a battle over who gets which jobs."

The man who once ran to head the AFT called for that organization to rid itself of its union affiliation. He said the unionists hurt the AFT in the south.

"Although I think this affiliation is meaningless, I believe the AFT could organize more teachers in Florida if it weren't affiliated with labor," Lieberman said.

In another talk, Dr. Dwight Allen, dean of the University of Massachusetts College of Education, ridiculed the rival and teacher assignment practices of most public school systems in another aspect.

"We close our eyes and deal out kids Russian roulette style and it's nonsense," Allen said. "We pretend that the only important thing is the size of the class."

He said school systems should recognize the importance of individual differences in teachers.

"Right now our poor elementary teacher has to be a specialist in 14 curriculum areas," Allen said.

Children should be taught by staffs of teachers and aides, each with his or her own special area of competence, he said.

"I would like to see part time people to come in and teach on the more specialized units when the teacher has had no experience on that particular subject," Allen said.

25 Answers To The Returner's Riddle

By JOYCE LAIN

"For women who have been out of the business world for many years and wish to return, could you suggest opportunities that do not require a full-scale on-the-job training or a year or two of training? No housekeeping or waitress job please — we do enough of that at home!"

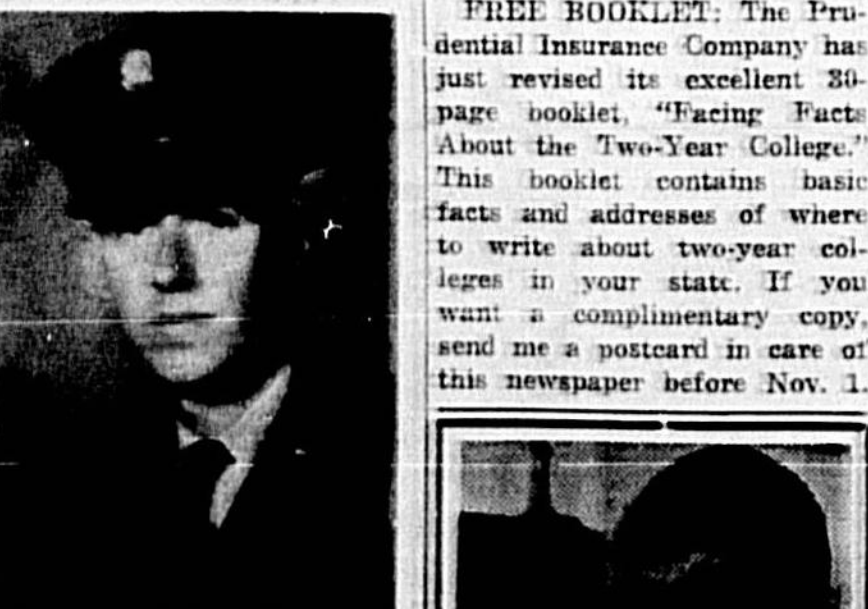

4 — Returners are women who now want a job after staying home for a period of time. Most are plagued by the Returner's Riddle — the what and how of moving into a second career. The answers could fill a book and I suggest you read both were published last year: "So You Want to Go Back to Work?" by N. Scofield and J. Harman, Random House; and "Women: Business Needs a You!" a paperback by Sabatino A. Russo, Jr., Popular Library.

FOR OPENERS: Here are 25 practical job ideas for the returner. All require less than four years of college; some require no college. In many cases, training is available at a two-year college — a good place to start your training search.

25 JOBS: (1) dental lab technician; (2) medical lab assistant; (3) electronic computer personnel; (4) bookkeeper; (5) office machine operator; (6) secretary or stenographer; (7) bank clerk or teller; (8) dispensing optician; (9) receptionist; (10) teacher's aide; (11) library clerk; (12) investigator in welfare department; (13) practical nurse; (14) retail sales clerk; (15) assistant in special events promotion; (16) communications; (17) various jobs in local government; (18) police department dispatcher; (19) insurance underwriter; (20) insurance saleswoman; (21) apartment rental agent; (22) stockbroker — probably starting as a secretary, clerk or junior analyst, handling routine customer questions such as current prices of stocks; (23) travel agent — also starting on clerical level, particularly if you lack travel know-how and contacts; (24) shorthand reporter; (25) restaurant hostess; (26) hotel switchboard operator; (27) physical therapy assistants.

FREE BROCHURE: The Prudential Insurance Company has just revised its excellent 20-page booklet, "Facing Facts About the Two-Year College." This booklet contains basic facts and addresses of where to write about two-year colleges in your state. If you want a complimentary copy, send me a postcard in care of this newspaper before Nov. 1.

Pat Nixon Has Original Flare, Style All Her Own

By HELEN HENNESSY
NEA Women's Editor
NEW YORK (NEA)—Washington's No. 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue became the glamor capital of the world when Jacqueline Kennedy moved in. The comfortable, motherly image of the First Lady typified by Bees Truman and Mamie Eisenhower was forgotten. In its place elegance became synonymous with the President's wife.

From Jackie's Small leopard coat to her name—designer gowns, her wardrobe was talked about and envied. And Lady Bird Johnson seemed a pale replacement when she moved into the house that Jacqueline had made a stage setting for her own beauty.

"Lady Bird's clothes were stylishly home-grown. This year another woman stepped into the national spotlight. What is Pat Nixon's fashion image?"

She's not a jetsetter and doesn't walk in the aura of glamor that surrounded Mrs. Kennedy. The folksy Texas warmth of Mrs. Johnson would suit her cool, blond beauty. But the new First Lady is chic and although in her 30s, has the figure and carriage of a young girl.

When the slogan "only your hairdresser knows" became a catch phrase, we forgot that your dress designer knows, too—knows your preferences in style and color, your life habits and your attitude toward clothes.

"You have no idea how many women want to look like her," said Harvey Berin. He and Karen Stark, his designer, have made several of Mrs. Nixon's costumes—including the inaugural ball gown. Many of his other clients express a wish to copy the Pat Nixon look. "Some can't quite make it," he said. "They haven't got ex-

Miss Maureen Ryan Bride Of David F. Williams

By MARYANN MILES
Miss Maureen Jean Ryan, and David F. Williams were united in Holy Matrimony, Friday, July 18, 1969 at 7:00 p. m. at the Forest City Baptist Church, Forest City.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Ryan of Bear Lake, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Williams of Sanford. Rev. Glenn Lawhon was the officiating clergyman at the candlelight, double ring ceremony before the altar arranged with two floor baskets of glads and mums, all in white and lavender. The background was accented with two seven-branched candelabra. The family pews were identified with white satin ribbons.

Given in marriage by her father, the radiant bride chose for her vows a formal A-line gown, of dotted swiss featuring puffed sleeves with a white satin ribbon underlining the empire waist. The skirt was accented with white daisies centered with lavender.

Her three-tiered bouffant silk illusion veil was held by a crown of Chantilly lace with small daisies cascading on her forehead. Her bridal bouquet was of daisies with lavender streamers. In her bridal bouquet she carried a silver lucky horseshoe sent to her from her grandmother, Mrs. Amy Thompson in England.

Her groom wore a white tuxedo with a white criss-cross trim. Preceding the installation of officers, a delightful buffet luncheon was served from a beautifully appointed table overlaid with an exquisite Italian cut cloth, complemented with matching napkins.

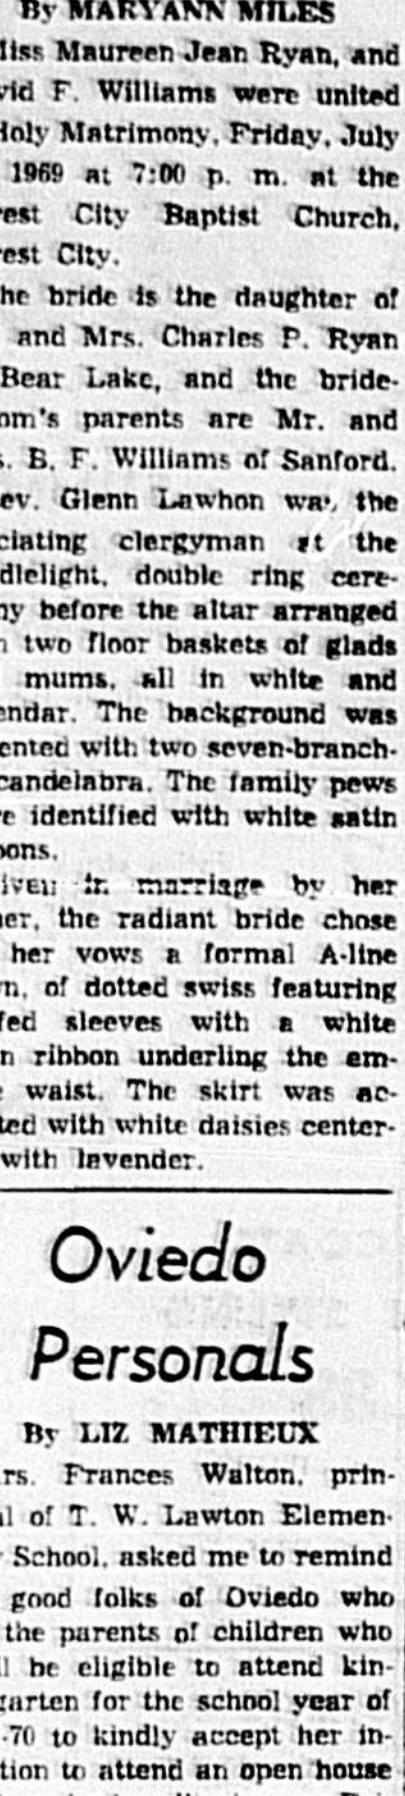

Assisting at the reception were Mrs. James Myers and Mrs. Donna Swirgner. Miss Linda Hickok was in charge of the bride's book. Pouring the punch were Miss Barbara Weiner, Mrs. Edward Hughes and Miss Celia Myers.

For her going-away outfit, the bride wore a lavender dotted swiss street length dress. A-line black and white criss-cross trim. Preceding the installation of officers, a delightful buffet luncheon was served from a beautifully appointed table overlaid with an exquisite Italian cut cloth, complemented with matching napkins.

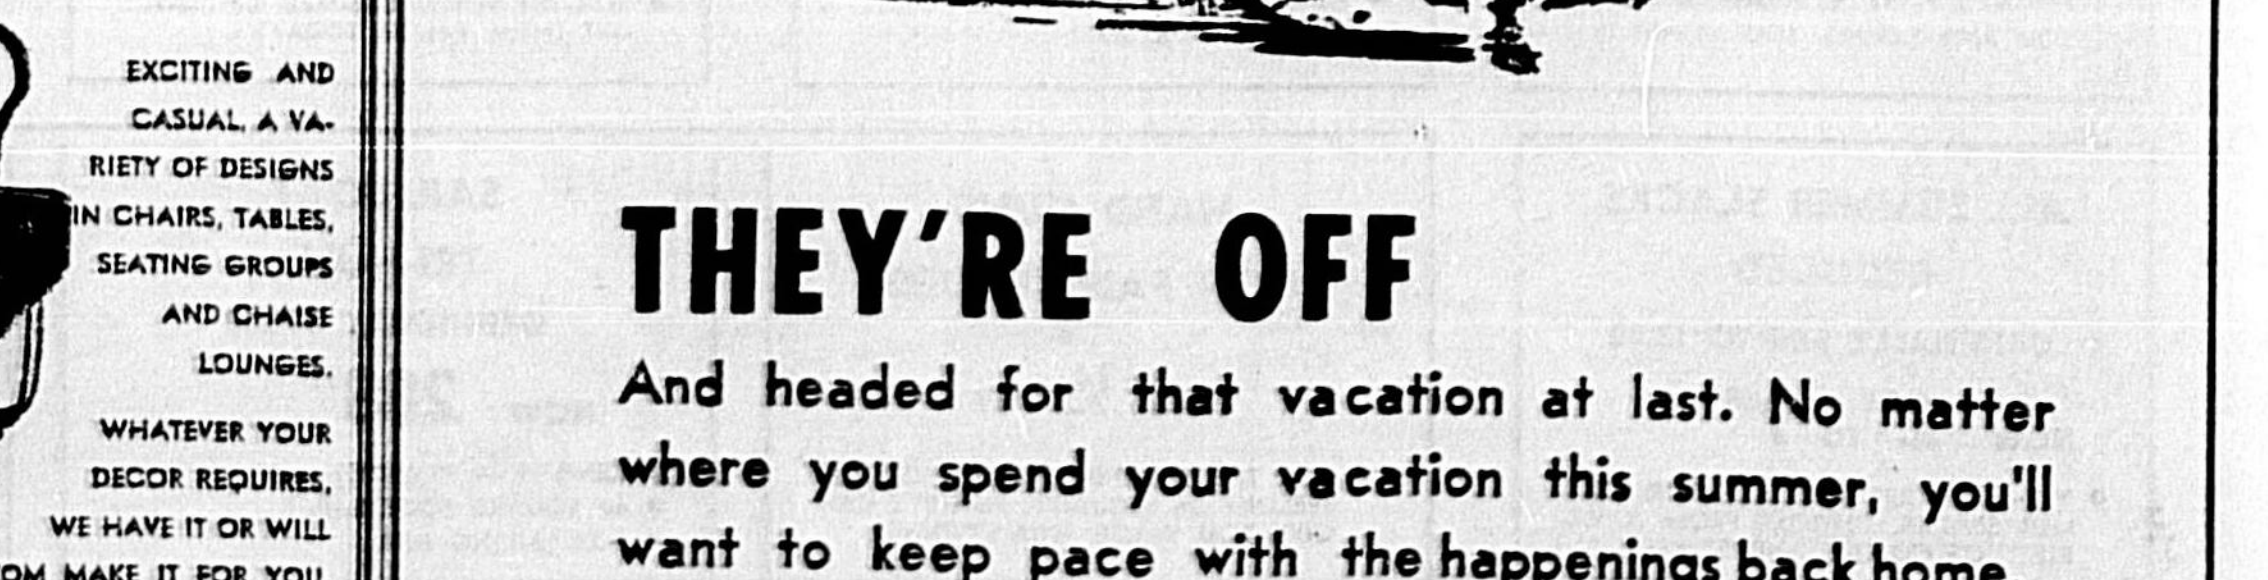

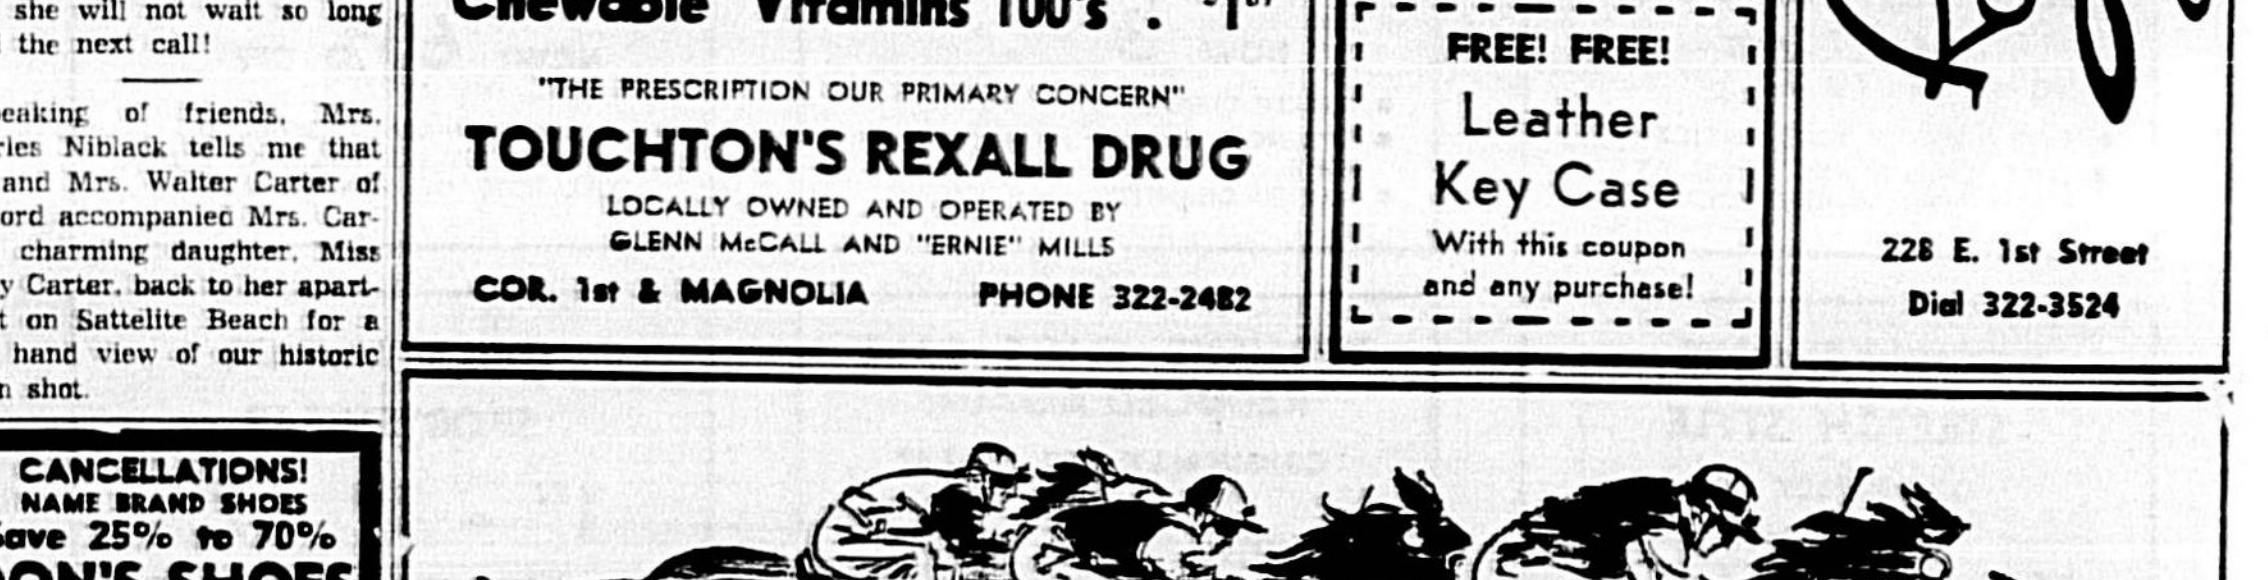

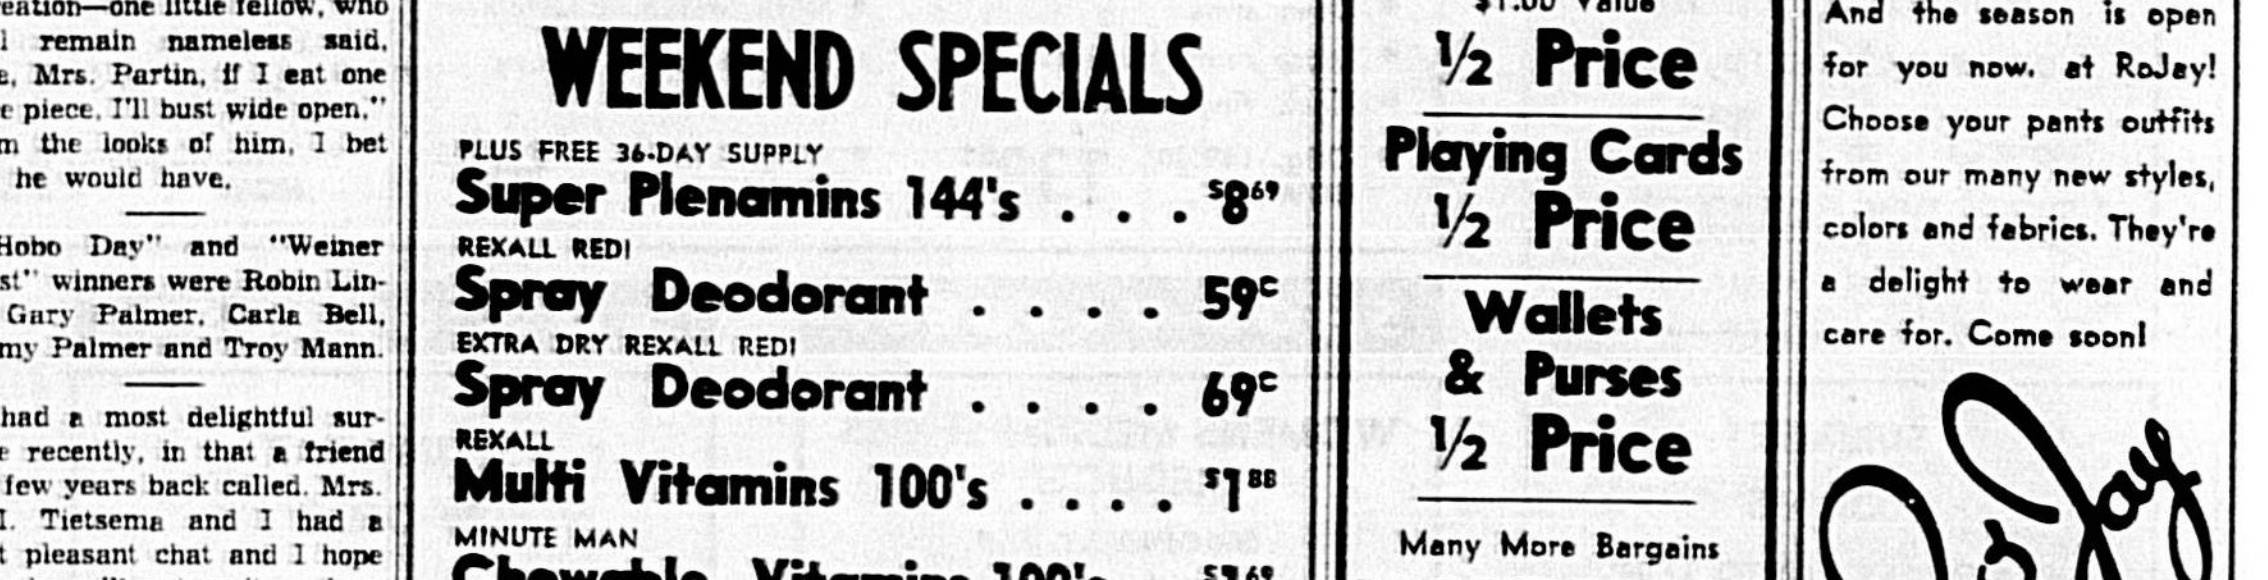

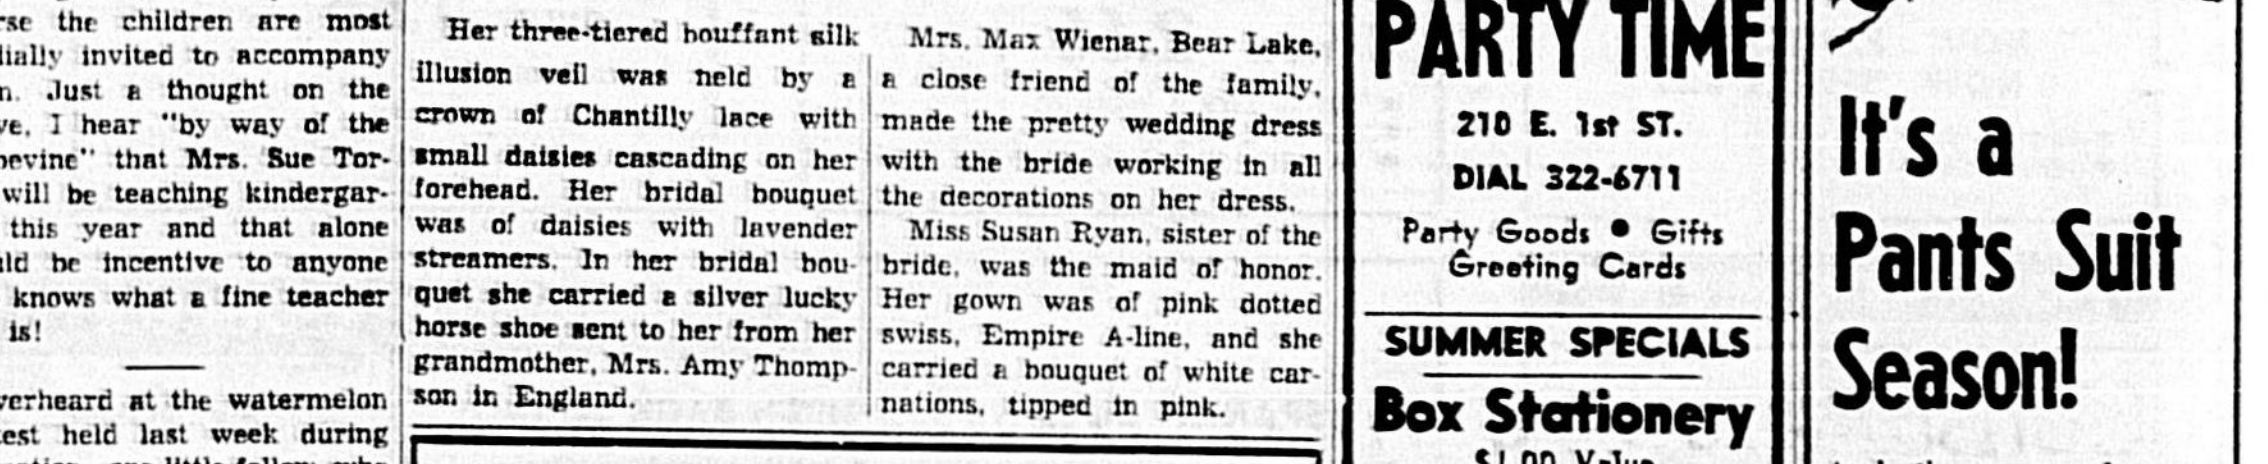

Beginning in September, Sky Anchors Toastmistress Club will begin a night group for the benefit of career girls and other interested women who cannot attend the morning meetings. For further information regarding the new group, contact Shirley Huaman.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My problem is my mother. She is very fat and I am ashamed of her. She's a good mother, but she weighs more than 200 pounds, and eats everything she wants and plenty of it. I don't see how my daddy can stand her. I don't think he could get his arms around her.

I don't like for my friends to meet her, and I don't want to go out and be seen with her.

What chance do I have to get a boyfriend when she sees HER? I know a girl is supposed to love her mother, but how can I when I don't even respect her?

I have a picture of her before she got fat and she was beautiful. She is only 30. (Sign me)

ASHAMED: Every fat woman is "ashamed" of herself. You are being strictly so-tyrannical. I will print your letter in hopes that your mother sees it, takes the hint, goes to her doctor for a check-up and a diet, latches on to "Topo" or "Weight Watchers" and comes back "beautiful" once again. Meanwhile, little girl, even though your mother's appearance may not make you "proud," there are other qualities of equal or greater importance. And troubled by weight, she needs your love now more than when she was slim and "beautiful."

Horoscope Forecast

FRIDAY, JULY 25, 1969

GENERAL TENDENCIES: The daytime is good for action. Tackle the job at hand, and let others know how they can help you get ahead as quickly as you wish. Contact those at a distance, or get in touch with those who have information you need that is different.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19): You know exactly what you want to do over the weekend, so make your arrangements now. Act quickly to get things in perfect order. Do things with utmost care and avoid strangers who could do you harm.

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20): Clear the slate of bills. Take on other responsibilities that are imminent or long overdue. Get as many business matters handled nicely as you possibly can. Evening should be devoted to mate. Avoid shop talk.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21): Talking over with associates who your future plans are and getting their reactions, ideas is fine now. A new meeting of minds can be reached. Romance should be the only thing on the agenda for the evening.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21): Work up an enthusiasm for the tasks ahead of you and you can get them done in a hurry. Talking treatments to improve your health is important. Why not add more color to that good apparel?

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 23): Planning your activities for the weekend during spare time makes everything go that much smoother. Listen to what romantic ally has to suggest. Ideas given you can be very helpful.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): Anything you want to do to improve situations at home is fine, but avoid arguments in the afternoon. Use creative methods if you want to add to present security. Forget going off on some tangent.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): Get daily routines handled wisely instead of doing so much daydreaming, wasting of time. That you find you are the wherewithal to take a trip later on. Perseverance wins out.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 21): Keep focused on finances at this time and you can increase your present income, abundance, property. Do not make any foolish mistakes just so that you do not consult an expert. Be wise.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): You have some personal friend you can enjoy very much today, so contact this person early, and you can become a mutual admiration society of two. This leads to meeting worthwhile acquaintances, also.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Try to help one who is having a rough time in a direct way instead of angling. So much listen to advice of experts and get your affairs in order. Be more active, aware of yourself.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 18): Your day is to be programmatic that you finally truly enjoy. Signs and can have a wonderful time with great, good friends. Exchange ideas that are worthwhile. Show that you are a true leader.

PISCES (Feb. 19 to Mar. 20): Good day to do something of a civic and public nature that is of value, can help you to improve your image. Be sure to contact a bigwig who can help you to make progress. Be your own smart self.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY: he, or she, will be one of those self-sufficient young people, aware of what is happening around him, not through mere curiosity but because of sincere desire to learn and help. Be sure to answer all questions your progeny puts to you, since this is a fine way for him to learn early. Cultivate a trust, spiritual training is very important in this chart. Teach some foreign languages. An ideal chart here for an author, the artist or the attorney, the writer male or female. The "star" impel, they do not "compete." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Forecast for your sign for August is now ready. For your copy send your birthdate and $1.00 to Gerald R. Richter Forecast, The Sanford Herald, Box 629, Hollywood, Calif. 90028.

The old silver dollars were nine-tenths silver and one-tenth copper. The new silver dollars will consist of a copper-nickel sandwich.

Jacoby On Bridge

Jacoby and Son

Today's hand is also taken from Frank Perkins' 1967 book called "Vital Tricks."

The hand is a very simple problem in play. South has to make nine tricks in the trump. He wins the first trick with his king of diamonds and analyzes the lead as fourth best from ace-jack. He counts seven quick winners; two hearts, one diamond and four clubs. He also counts four quick losers, three diamonds, one heart and one club. He needs to find two more winners without having to concede one more loser. He could get the two winners in hearts but would have to give up a heart trick to develop them. He can't afford to do that, so he abandons that line of play. He can also develop two extra winners in spades without giving his opponents the extra trick. All he has to do is find the queen of spades in the West hand.

Therefore he leads his jack of spades at trick two. If West covers, South's worries are over. If West ducks, South lets the jack ride and finesse against the queen again after the defense has taken their tricks.

Since this hand is taken from a book on play, there is no discussion of the bidding by Frank Perkins but we must state that it was both entering and successful and somehow or other we feel that any pair that bid and made three no-trump would score a top in any duplicate game.

Polly's Pointers

By Polly Cramer

DEAR POLLY: I carry my lunch to the office in a brown paper bag. I like my sandwiches cut in two and they often fall apart. When a sardine sandwich resulted in an oily, smelly bag, that was the last straw. My wife cuts the sandwich on a small paper plate and wraps the whole thing in waxed paper. This stands a lot more punishment and it does not come apart. Sandwiches wrapped in waxed paper are POLLY'S HOME MAKING POINTERS. If you carry in your coat pocket. If this wins a Polly Dollar, please send it to my editor who is the shy to write.—FRID

Polly's Problem: DEAR POLLY—I want to put several scatter rugs on top of my new carpet but my neighbors' rugs could wear holes in the carpet. Is this true?

DEAR MRS. F. S.: If the dent in your shade is deep and the paper has cracked you may be left with a mark but at least removing the indentation should help. It looks—POLLY.

You will receive a dollar if Polly uses your favorite home-making idea. Polly's Problem or solution to a problem. Write Polly in care of this newspaper. Know how makes the job easy. There are dozens of clever time savers in Polly's new book. To get it, send name, address with zip code and 75 cents (in coin) to POLLY'S HOME MAKING POINTERS, P.O. Box 4058, Chicago, Ill. 60606.

Students Must File

Students attending college under the GI Bill this summer are reminded that they must return their Certification of Attendance card to the Veterans Administration during the last full month of every enrollment period, including the summer session.

Failure to do so will cause payment to stop since VA computers are programmed to prepare checks only after Attendance cards are received. The VA also urges any student who did not return his Certification of Attendance card at the end of the spring semester to do so as soon as possible to insure renewed VA payments this summer or when he goes back to school in September.

While veterans attending college under the GI Bill must return their Certification of Attendance cards during the last full month of every enrollment period, veterans attending school below the college level must return their Attendance cards every month.

Veterans who have questions about their status or who intend to enroll for the first time this fall are urged to contact their nearest Veterans Administration office.

TV Has Many Highlights: Some To Remember

By JERRY DUCK
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The great potential for space was ably demonstrated by Apollo 11—and so was the great potential for global understanding.

For one shining moment as Neil A. Armstrong and Edwin "Buzz" Aldrin walked the lunar surface, the world was bound together, as President Nixon claimed.

The television commentator mentioned only in passing that the greatest audience ever to witness a historic event saw the moonwalk.

It was easy to take television's role for granted amid the drama. You build a camera, load it aboard, and it works. Television is so much a part of our common experience: We watch it, we are enthralled by it, so often we are disappointed by it. Those ghostly images from another planet made it all worthwhile.

When world leaders get around to discussing ways the space program can promote peace and tranquility, perhaps some thought can be given to using the communications satellite network. What a potential it has for global understanding.

Maybe some way can be found to get Russia and Red China to participate in the only major nations which did not carry live television of the moon walk. The Soviet Union showed taped sequences of the lunar walk Monday.

Meanwhile, the networks end their marathon coverage of the lunar phases of the Apollo mission and prepared for live coverage of the splashdown in the Pacific Thursday.

The lift-off from the moon and the rendezvous Monday afternoon went smoothly and there was little for television to do other than present the facts and demonstrate it as best they could with models and animation.

After Sunday night's thrilling pictures it apparently was anticlimactic to many people and audiences were down considerably.

There were many highlights of the long coverage, but here are a few things we will remember.

Walter Cronkite rubbing his hands in great relief and exclaiming, "Wow, at the safe landing of the Eagle on the Sea of Tranquility."

Julius Bergman's informed comments on every step of the critical operation.

David Brinkley's way of wrapping profound meanings out of the most simple words. After all the scientific explanation of Eagle's lift-off from the moon he commented, "They're up and they're out."

Harry Reasoner's way of putting things in perspective when we are most in danger of taking them too seriously. In an essay, he said disenchanted with the moon had already set in and observed that as a symbol it had inspired a "line of good songs and bad poetry."

A live color transmission from the returning Apollo was scheduled for 7:02-7:11 p.m. EDT Wednesday.

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—City vice detectives and federal agents broke up their first stall in ten years Tuesday after finding all the needed equipment and 50 gallons of peach mash in a rear washroom of a furniture store.

Police said they found a still, coils and a 20-gallon copper kettle in George's Used Furniture Shop. They said the equipment was being used to make peach brandy, sold at $20 a gallon.

The proprietor, George Hogan, 48, was booked on a charge of violating the state alcoholic beverage control law.

The 50 gallons of mash was flushed down a sewer, police said.

Oh Well... You Lose 1 And Then You Gain One

ROME (AP) — One member of the Greek royal family has in effect lost a throne, but his sister is in line to get another one. When the Spanish head of state, Generalissimo Francisco Franco, named Prince Juan Carlos as his successor, the Greek king and heir to the throne, Constantine II, was named as the successor to the throne of Greece. Constantine, 25, has lived in Rome since his unsuccessful attempt to overthrow the military dictatorship of Greece in December 1967.

Nixon: Wealthy Must Pay Taxes Regardless

By EDMOND LEBRETON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — House tax reformers have fashioned a provision that would make it impossible for wealthy individuals to avoid income taxes entirely by through tax-free investments or special loss and deduction allowances. Under the proposal tentatively adopted by the House Ways and Means Committee, everyone would pay taxes on at least half his income. The Treasury, by rough estimates, would pick up a minimum $200 million a year in additional taxes. The provision is based on a proposal the Nixon administration called "limit on tax preferences," but it goes farther. President Nixon proposed tax limits on income tax preferences, but it goes farther. President Nixon proposed tax limits on income tax preferences, but it goes farther. ## Seminole Countian First To Apollo 11

By TOM ALEXANDER
A young Seminole County man joined in history yesterday as he became the first earthman to make actual physical contact with the Apollo 11 capsule and its three heroic crewmen after they splashed down in the tropical Pacific, 950 miles west of Hawaii. Mitchell L. Bucklew, 25, the son of Mrs. Frances Bucklew of Lake Mary was the first Navy SEAL (frogman) in the water and the first to reach the bobbing capsule that brought back the only two men ever to set foot on the moon's crust. Bucklew was stationed in Vietnam for two years and was put into special training two months ago in preparation to assist in recovering the Apollo capsule and its history making crew after its 725,000-mile voyage. Before going into this recovery training, Bucklew received the coveted Bronze Medal for his actions in Vietnam. He is presently stationed near San Diego, California according to his mother. Mrs. Bucklew told The Herald that "she was thrilled and proud of her son's action in helping recover the space ship and its crew."

'Well And Working' Angel: Show Up Or Leave

By BILL SCOTT
Reacting to an ultimatum from Supt. John Angel, the Seminole County maintenance workers are reported to be "well and working" today according to a statement from a department spokesman. A woman employee, the office of Richard Zartman, maintenance supervisor, reported all workers were on the job today after a threatened strike of three employees failed to materialize. A department employee had informed The Sanford Herald earlier in the week that workers were discontent over the $1.46 hourly wage and would "get sick" unless the school board at Thursday's meeting granted a 20 or 30 cents hourly pay increase for the 20 or 30 workers in the department. School Board yesterday did not approve the raise, but did approve the requested resignation of John Dover, grounds superintendent with the maintenance department. Dover, earlier in the week, had written a letter to The Sanford Herald informing of the "Don't make waves" instructions he had received whenever he tried to correct any of the injustices that he claimed existed in the department. (See Complete Letter on Page 1B) Dover said, "In me, an injustice is being committed both to the maintenance personnel and to myself. They serve because of the low $1.46 hourly salary paid."

School Budget Is $20,354,000

The Seminole County Board of Education yesterday approved for forwarding to the State Education Department a 1969-70 school budget calling for expenditures of $20,354,000, but withholding designation of $21,843 of the amount to be acted on individually. In approving the budget, the school board levied maximum 12.97 mills for tax purposes. This included: ten mills for regular operations; 40 mill for Seminoles Junior College, and 2.57 mills for bonded indebtedness. The board declined to go along with a recommendation from John Angel, superintendent, who offered a priority list for $21,843 of the budgeted amount. The board decided to pass on the priorities as they occur rather than give the superintendent a wholesale approval. After some discussion, the board approved an Angel report for evidence during an investigation led to his being charged in a child's death, did much of their work in vain. Circuit Judge Claude R. Edwards said Thursday their search warrant was restrictive, and ruled out scissors, razor blades and other articles found in the house. Only a knife was allowed as admissible evidence. Wright is charged with the sex slaying of Camella Jo Hand, 8, of Ocoee. The trial is scheduled to open Sept. 8 at Fort Myers after a shift from Orlando because of heavy publicity on the case here. Our "spies" attending a conference in Ft. Lauderdale reported that Gov. Kirk, in the process of using the scissors while ribbon cutting said, "I'll give it a Republican cut... if the next event..." He doesn't make any secret, either, that he already has his eye on the "Veep" seat for the '76 elections. (I suppose we could say... that's the spirit, Gov...)

Worked In Vain

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — Law officers who combed the home of Kenneth Ray Wright for evidence during an investigation led to his being charged in a child's death, did much of their work in vain. Circuit Judge Claude R. Edwards said Thursday their search warrant was restrictive, and ruled out scissors, razor blades and other articles found in the house. Only a knife was allowed as admissible evidence. Wright is charged with the sex slaying of Camella Jo Hand, 8, of Ocoee. The trial is scheduled to open Sept. 8 at Fort Myers after a shift from Orlando because of heavy publicity on the case here. The board approved all Angel recommendations for dealing with the situations involving low wages, but offered no increased salaries, except to those that are under federal minimum wage laws. Architect Eoghan Kelley presented schematic drawings for the first phase of permanent Lydlwilde Elementary school facilities, and these were approved by the board after a one-hour and 15-minute explanation. Low milk bid was awarded to Mendonk Dairy at $0.99 per half pint.

County Commission May 'Live' With Failures

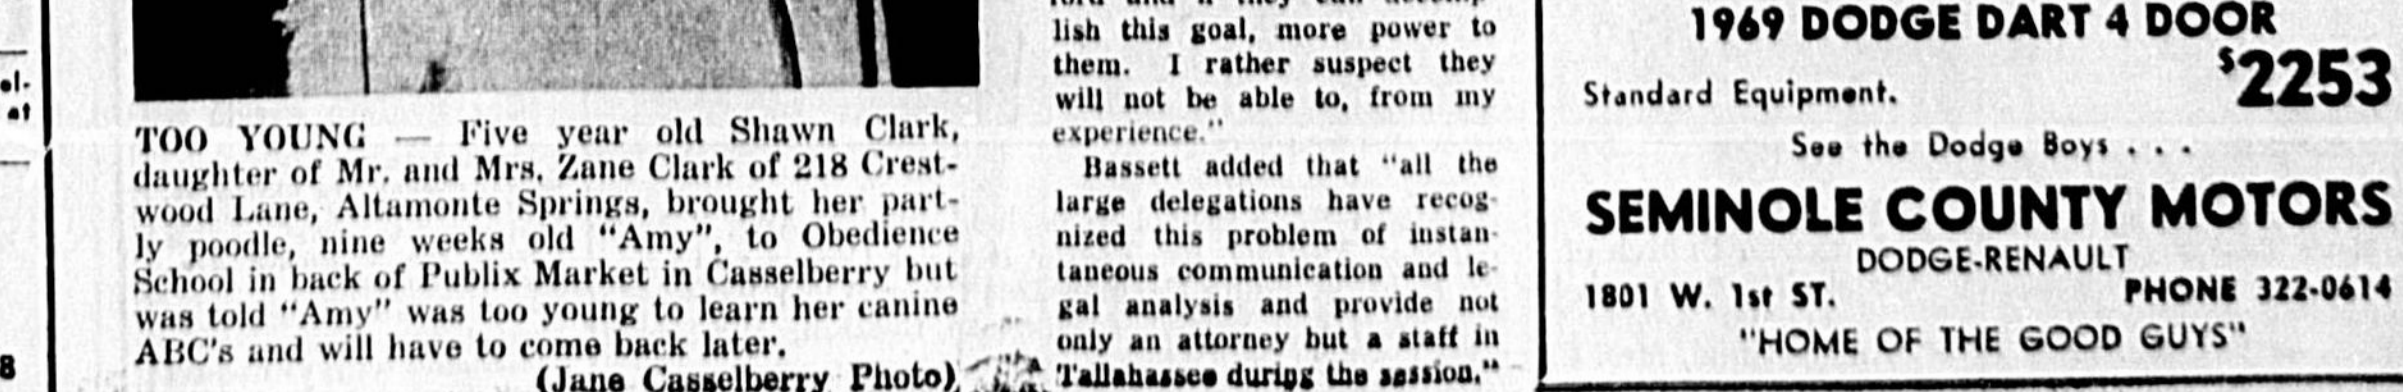

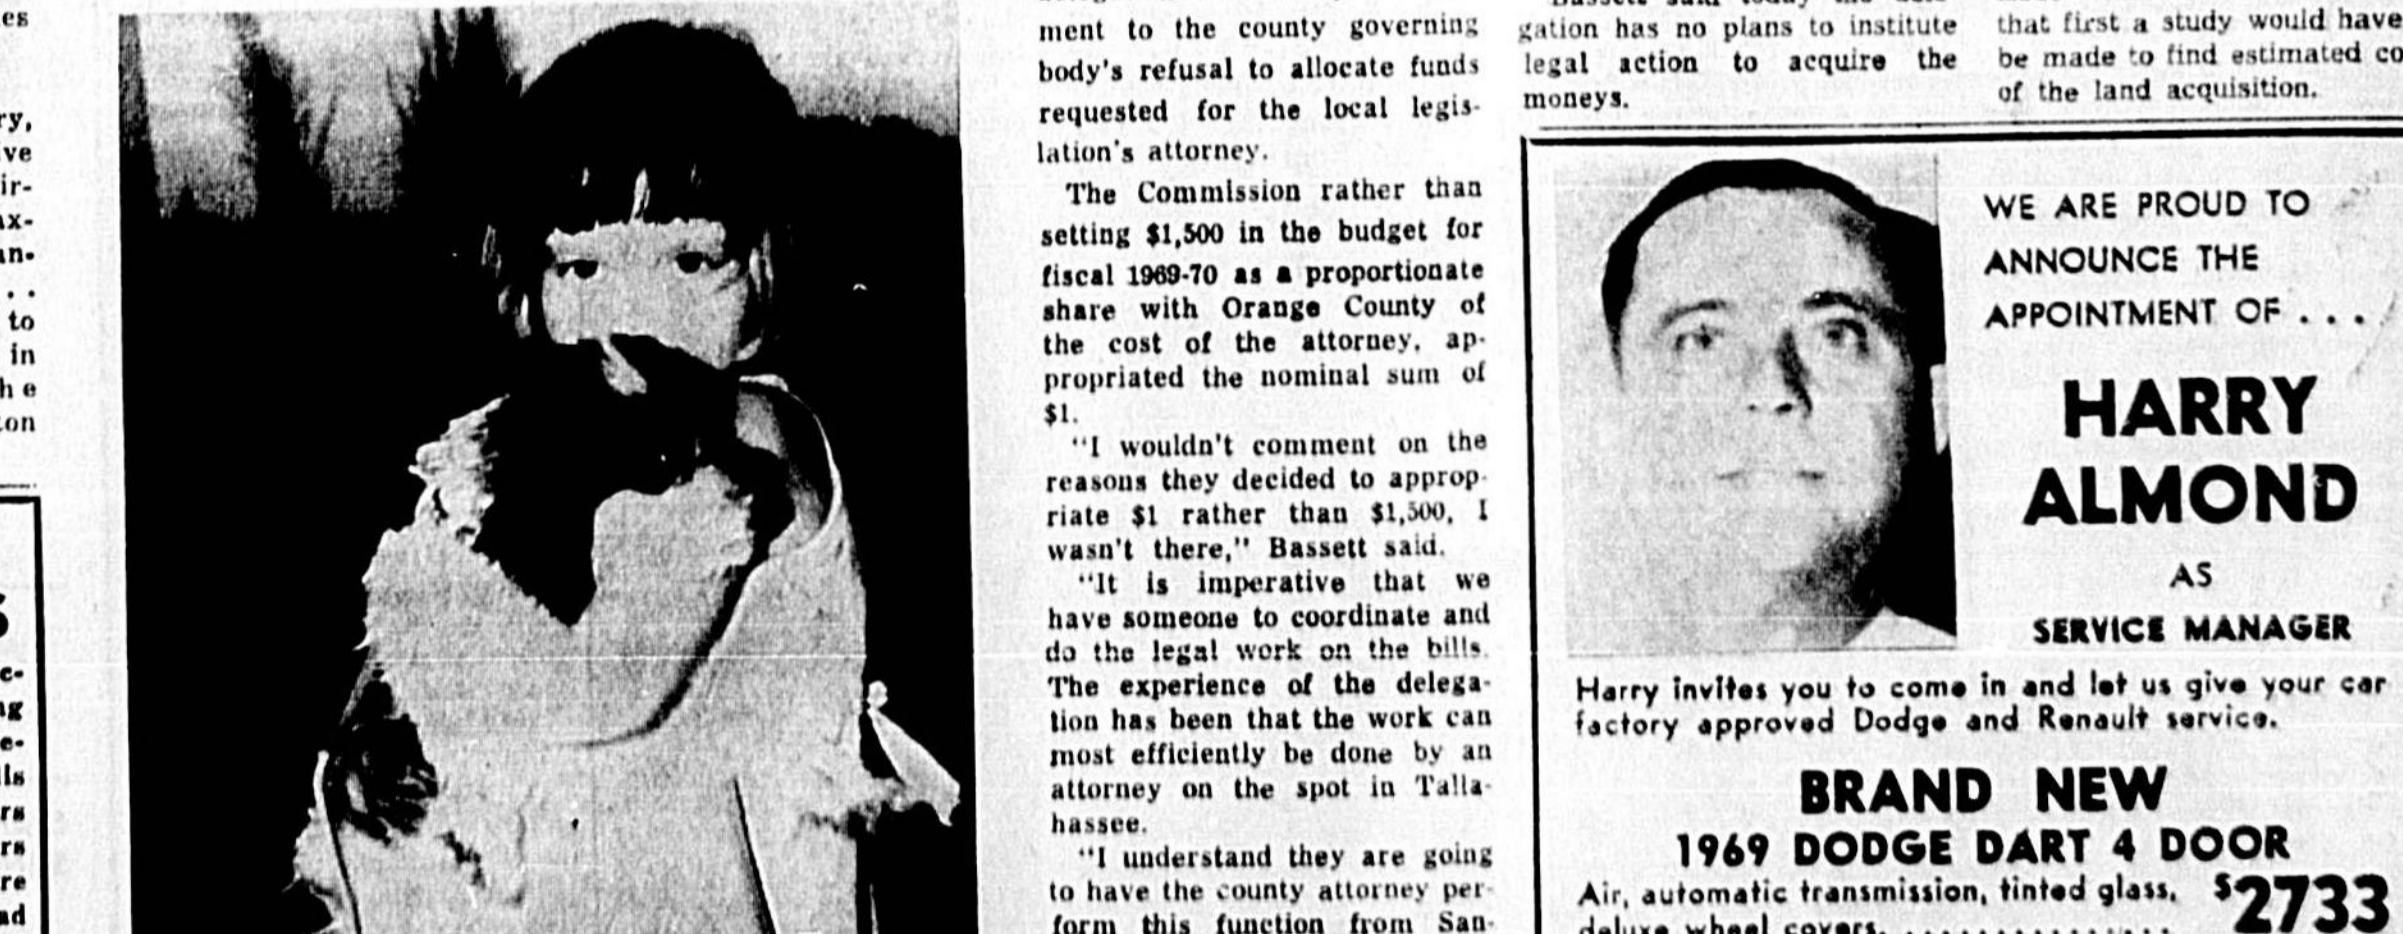

By DONNA ESTES
Central Florida sportsman S. B. (Jim) Crowe today looked to have the long-range planning assistance at the county's plan to commit $1 million for recreational areas make a study to determine best sites for future development as parks and costs of acquiring the land. "Two months after the committee was organized four-to-five years ago," Crowe, a long-standing member of the committee declared, "we gave our recommendations for lands to be acquired for parks to the County Commission. Among these areas recommended were Big Tree Park, an area by the Wekiva, Mullet Lake area, Lake Harney area and a site in the southeast part of the county. "After the Board of County Commissioners were approached with the idea to add one-half million on taxes for acquiring the lands and in effect they gave us the horse laugh. They said that was more millage than was being levied for county roads." Board of County Commissioners decided this week to ask for the study by the planning committee after Commissioner Robert Parker, member of the East Central Florida Regional Planning Council with support from Harlan Hanson, director of the tri-county planning council, had urged action be taken to acquire lands for parks. It was first suggested that park acquisition be included in a proposed bond issue to be placed before the people in a referendum. Other items considered for conclusion in the bond issue were a South Seminole courthouse annex, juvenile detention center, new agricultural building and facilities for detention of mental incompetents. The Commission was told first by Commissioner Chairman John Alexander and later by County Attorney Harold Johnson that under the law the parks matter could not be placed in a bond issue with the other items and that a first study would have to be made to find estimated costs of the land acquisition.
