

GARDENFESTIVAL IN TAMPA PROVES PLEASANT EVENT

Artistic Arrangement Of Flowers Offers Charming Displays

TAMPA, Fla., Dec. 12.—The Garden Club festival held here was an occasion of delight from its colorful opening to the last fragrant hour.

The score or more of units vied with one another in artistic arrangement of rare and exquisite flowers, graceful plants, exotics of great diversity, and the handsome palm of a thousand varieties until the great coliseum building on Davis Island, overlooking the blue waters of the bay, appeared to thronging visitors to be an enchanting series of fairy gardens.

The local florists also joined in the beautiful flower pageant, and there were artistic displays found in this portion of the exhibit. One in especial which drew admiring crowds was that featuring Italian crocuses holding rare blossoming plants, with a floral centerpiece of magnificent chrysanthemums leading through all the tones of yellow to dark maroon.

At the business meeting following the annual festival the reports from different circles told a story of the financial success of the event. The gratification of the garden clubs in the financial returns is especially keen at this time because the substantial sum of money realized enables them to continue with their diversified beautification work in parkways, on boulevards, or in out-of-the-way corners, and to give work to many hitherto unemployed men.

The 25 acres are counting on keeping from 150 to 200 men at work now for some time. For instance, the Beaumont circle has put on a force of 10 men to save the beautiful coral palms on El Prado boulevard. The force will be some weeks at this task. In many instances similar jobs are being done by other clubs.

A note from the festival was a proposal for an orchid garden. It was said that these wonderful plants could be grown here in an open-air garden developed along the line of a subtropical forest and make the city a mecca for lovers of fine plants. Many rare and curious kinds could be grown in this climate. The gardeners expressed enthusiasm over the project and discussed the prospect of employing an expert to initiate the undertaking.

Several of the circles here are planning to use most of their funds this year in tree-planting, especially on school grounds, to mark most impressively the Washington bicentennial. In practically all of these plantings, as in the general beautification work, it is planned to use the labor of jobless men.

The newly elected officers will be sworn in January 1 for a two-year term.

Lake Worth's Tax Collections Jump

LAKE WORTH, Fla., Dec. 12.—Total tax collections in Lake Worth for November amounted to $22,905.18, an increase of $200 over collections for November, 1930, although current tax collections for November were approximately $350 under the November, 1930, collections, K. C. Ewing, city clerk said yesterday. Current tax collections during November totalled $19,218.85. A low bond market of 22 cents has encouraged property owners to buy the bonds for payment of delinquent taxes and the activity in this form of back-tax payment will swell the current tax collection total, since payment of back taxes with bonds must be accompanied by cash for current taxes.

LAW RESTRICTING FIREARMS AIMED AT LAWLESSNESS

Senator To Introduce Bill Drawn For District Of Columbia

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—Legal experts of the National Rifle association have drafted a uniform firearms bill for the District of Columbia, which will be used as a model for similar drives in various states. The bill is to be introduced in the Senate by Senator Arthur Capper (R) of Kansas, chairman of the Senate district committee.

It is directed chiefly at unlicensed possession of pistols, and to limiting the machine gun activities of city gangsters.

No person ever convicted of a crime of violence will be allowed to possess or have under his control a pistol. Those persons desiring to obtain a license for the possession of a pistol would be required to wait at least 48 hours before obtaining a license. All dealers in firearms would be licensed.

The proposed law defines a pistol as a firearm with a barrel less than 12 inches in length, while machine guns are classed as firearms which shoot automatically, and any firearm which shoots more than 12 shots semi-automatically without reloading.

Violation of the law would be punishable by a fine of not more than $1,000 or imprisonment of not more than one year. Anyone committing a crime while armed would receive an additional sentence of three to five years additional, for the first offense, and from five to ten years for the second offense. A third offense would require an additional 10 to 15 years and a fourth, 15 to 30 years. These additional penalties all are mandatory.

Individuals will be prohibited from possessing machine guns, this class of firearms being limited to the police, military authorities, and for guarding the mails, express, money and securities.

Brig. Gen. M. A. Rackford, vice president of the National Rifle association, has obtained the endorsement of Brig. Gen. Feham D. Glassford, Washington's new superintendent of police, and of Maj. Gen. Herbert B. Crosby, district commissioner of police, in the association's war upon the prolific and unlicensed use and ownership of dangerous firearms.

HAVANA EMIGRE IS SCORNFUL OF CORDIALITY TALK

Head Of Revolutionary Junta Visiting Friends At Miami

MIAMI, Dec. 12.—Dr. Domingo Mendez Capote, head of the Cuban revolutionary junta in New York, derided what he termed the "cordiality conferences" now being held in Cuba between representatives of the Machado administration and leaders of the August revolution.

Dr. Mendez Capote, vice president of the Cuban republic from 1902 to 1906, is in Miami to visit and confer with other advocates of the Cuban revolution.

Prefacing a statement by the assertion that the revolutionary junta in New York is vested with powers from all Cuban factions opposing the Machado government, Dr. Mendez Capote said:

"The cordiality conferences now being held in Havana are most amusing, considering that the opposition has not constituted any authorized delegation thereto. Many outstanding leaders of the opposition are in prison or in the United States and none of the attendants to the so-called cordiality talks represent anyone but themselves."

The junta leader went on to declare that the Cuban people are determined to reach an understanding as to their government, but said, "there is no possible understanding with Machado."

He charged President Machado with insincerity in his expressed willingness to confer with revolutionary leaders.

It reminds me of the procedure followed by the old Spanish regime, which led to its undoing and final debacle," he continued. "They would deal with the autonomists and other go-betweens, but not with the revolution itself, without which there was no possible understanding."

"Cordiality, peace and order in Cuba can only be attained through the cessation of the present military dictatorship and the restoration of public liberties in their entirety. Such a result is only possible without Machado's power and our efforts will continue unflinchingly until such a finality is reached."

Dr. Mendez Capote said he intends to remain in the United States during the regime of President Machado.

"It certainly would not be safe for me to return to Cuba now," he stated. "If I did, I should shortly be a companion with former President Menocal, General Mendica and other revolutionary exponents now in jail."

Prohibition Agents Give Hoover Pledge

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—(A.P.)—President Hoover has a new pledge of co-operation from the prohibition forces delivered by Arthur J. Barton, president of the National Conference of Organizations supporting the Eighteenth Amendment.

It was Barton, who, with Bishop James Cannon, Jr., organized the famous Asheville convention in the 1926 campaign to secure Hoover votes in the normally Democratic South.

Barton said he had told Mr. Hoover that in his position as head of the 33 prohibition organizations co-operating through the national conference he brought the statement of backing for the administration's stand.

Public Apathy, Cowardice, And Avarice Called Evils In New York Administration

NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—Declaring that apathy of the average citizen, avarice of those who offer bribes and cowardice of those who submit to holdups and political racketeering had undermined the integrity of New York City's government, Dr. William Jay Schieffelin, chairman of the Committee of One Thousand, outlined before the Lions' Club here, recently, a program for reform that would set up a business administration under a city manager.

Disclosures during the six months the Hofstadter Joint Legislative Committee has been studying the city's administration already were ample, he said, "to justify the organization of a city-wide move as in 1894 was the Committee of Seventy swept Greater Tammany out of power."

"A business administration," Mr. Schieffelin continued, "conducted by a city manager of the first rank would not only give better service, but would materially reduce the cost of government. The platform should follow the wise example set in Cincinnati, repudiating patronage and saying to officeholders who do their work, whose positions are essential and who will refrain from political activity that they shall be retained, and that all vacancies shall be filled for merit entirely regardless of politics.

"Business-like methods are more necessary in a huge corporation than in a small one, and while the plans that have succeeded in Cincinnati may have to be applied in a multiple fashion to the various boroughs, they can surely be adapted to redeem Greater New York."

Having his reform outline on the results of a study of the present local form of government by the Committee of One Thousand, Mr. Schieffelin advocated that the police department be taken out of politics and placed under a commissioner appointed for a long term and removable only on charges, and that the five county governments in New York City, which the city pays for but does not control, be abolished or complicated the machinery of government and suffering from the abuses which come from lack of

GOVERNMENT IS SUED BY INDIANS FOR $1,693,600.00

Amount Is Claimed To Be Value Of Lands Taken From Them

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—The government has been sued in the court of claims by the Winnebago Indians for $1,693,600 alleged to be the value of land and property taken from them 68 years ago.

The Indians, through their attorney, C. L. Ralph H. Case, claim 111,000 acres of such farm land near Blue Earth, in Central South Dakota. Although they owned this land under their treaty of 1855, the government has never paid them, they assert.

Behind the city recitals of facts set out in their petition for redress lies one of the most poignant dramas of the settlement of the West. In 1852, the Sioux Indians threw the entire Northwest into an uproar. Their massacre of several hundred whites at New Ulm

Georgia Forest Fire Loss Is Big Figure

ATLANTA, Ga., Dec. 12.—Georgia's forest fire loss in 61 South Georgia counties, with a forest area of 12,132,960 acres, was 302,924 acres or 2 1/2 per cent of the entire timbered area of the counties. These official figures were made public yesterday by B. M. Lufburrow, state forester, following a survey of the burned territory by members of his staff of district foresters and is the first definite announcement of the actual loss. The survey covers the territory in the forest fire area during the months of October and November when the state became generally alarmed over the blazes in its southernmost timber lands. The foresters personally visited the area and made their reports from first hand information which was consolidated in the forester's office at the state capital here.

BANK EMPLOYEE ARRESTED

GREEN COVE SPRINGS—J. T. Rivers, Jr., took over management of Texas Filling Station.

HOTEL MEN ARE OPTIMISTIC OVER TOURIST SEASON

Travel Southward Is Expected To Equal Or Pass Last Year

ST. PETERSBURG, Dec. 12.—Regular winter visitors from all parts of the North and Middle-West are returning to Florida this year, in equal, if not greater numbers than last year but the number of transients has fallen off to a considerable extent thus far in the season, according to information received from various sources at the opening session of the regional conference of the State Hotel Men's association held recently at the Huntington Hotel.

Visitors at the meetings included hotel men and women, representatives from various transportation companies and other business institutions connected with the hotel industry, the majority of cities of the West coast and Central Florida being represented.

The meeting was opened by J. N. Brown, of the Swanee Hotel, president of the St. Petersburg association, who introduced Jack Hennessee, proprietor of the Vir-

ALL-DIXIE PREP TEAMS WILL BE REVEALED SOON

All-Southern Advisory Body To Disclose Selections Sunday

By JOHN "RIP" DAVIS. LAKE CITY, Dec. 12.—Four high school football players will receive recognition on the twelfth annual All-Southern day when the official team is announced on Sunday by the Florida Times-Union in co-operation with 11 other representative newspapers in as many Southern states.

The Florida board was forced to go to the "line" to find those worthy of All-Southern honors, for no member states, Backfield material this year is scarcer than ever before. It is probably best, the Florida board argues, that the line is coming home in favor of those called upon to find the best players for the many mythical teams selected.

Ashland, Ky., undefeated in four straight years and a co-tiltsholder of a fifth and sixth state championship, receives three selections on the All-Southern this year. Earl Raby, sports editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal, and for 10 years a member of the board, writes as follows: "Kentucky is unusually strong in high school football, but we recognize in Ashland, that no other school could hope to equal the thunder of those three we have mentioned as Kentucky's best bats."

Board members in Tennessee, though at loggerheads in Knoxville and Nashville over the relative merits of their stars, both received a selection after two other neutral spots were asked to settle the question. Nashville was awarded one position and Montgomery Bell the other.

Probably two of the most outstanding football players in Alabama, according to the number of votes forwarded to the board, hail from Dothan and Montgomery while Birmingham is said to possess an end of unusual ability. The Dothan boy was a unanimous selection from all sections of the state.

In Florida, like in all the other southern states, the smaller schools continue to beg the "line" light although Florida is the last of all states to make a thorough investigation of the material among the smaller schools.

Throughout the South, such little schools as Madison, Ga., Gaffney, S. C., Tuscaloosa, Ala., Corbin, Ky., Tyler, Texas and the two Florida small schools to be recognized on Sunday, go to prove the efficiency of the system of scouts and sports writers working as members of the All-Southern board.

The Florida board does not recognize players in the so-called prep or military schools. The reason for this is that the board is composed only of players from schools affiliated with the Florida High School Athletic Association. Under a ruling in the F. H. S. A. A., no player can appear in athletic who is over the age of 21 or has played more years of high school football.

More Men Will Be Put To Work Upon Cross State Canal

ST. PETERSBURG, Dec. 12.—250 men will be at work dredging the new cross-state canal from Florida East Coast at Stuart, Fla., across Lake Okechobee when the Caloosahatchee provisions are being made to increase this working force by the federal government to complete the project through to completion within two years. It has been stated by F. E. Damarest, chairman of the chamber of commerce and waterways committee upon receipt of a letter from Ronald Hargrave, secretary of the Ft. Myers chamber of commerce.

The message to Damarest, Hargrave stated that four feet of water will soon be available from the Gulf Coast to the Gulf. He said the United States bridge commission has completed work on preliminary drawings, while other drawings are being worked on the locks in Lake Okechobee.

BOSTON BRAVES SELL RICHBOURG TO CHICAGO CUBS

Outfielder Was One-time Captain Of University Of Florida

BOSTON, Mass., Dec. 12.—(A.P.)—The Boston Braves yesterday announced the sale of Lance Richbourg, outfielder, to the Chicago Cubs. The terms were not announced but it was indicated it was the first move in a deal where a Chicago player would come to Boston.

Richbourg, who is from Crestview, Fla., was the oldest player in point of service on the Braves' roster. He came to Boston from the Milwaukee club of the American association in the fall of 1926. He participated in 97 games during the past season and batted for an average of .287.

Richbourg, former baseball captain and coach at the University of Florida, moves to his fifth Big League club when he joins the Cubs next spring. He stepped off the Gator team in 1919 to the New York Giants as an infielder, and was optioned to Grand Rapids in the Central League. He batted for a .415 clip and the next season found him with Dallas in the Texas League.

In 1921, the Giants traded Richbourg long with King and Rapp to the Phillies for Stengel and Rawlings. He played but 10 games with the Phillies, hitting only .200. He was optioned to Charleston in the South Atlantic League in 1922 and released outright to Nashville in the Southern Association in 1923.

Richbourg went on a batting spree in the Southern, smacking the ball for a .378 percentage, and was sold to the Washington Senators. He joined the Senators late in 1923, but sustained a broken leg, an injury which eventually caused him to be shipped back to the minors. Washington traded him in 15 games the following spring, then traded him to Milwaukee in the American association for Wild Matthews.

It took Richbourg three years to find his stride with Milwaukee, but he turned up in 1926 with a batting average of .346 and 48 home runs, and was sold to the Boston Braves for players and cash. He batted .309 for Boston in 1927, .337 in 1928, .306 in 1929, .304 in 1930. Richbourg is 32 years of age, and boasts a lifetime big league batting average of .314.

Indian Woman Has Success With Plan To Aid Her People

NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—A dark-eyed, gentle-mannered young woman, with all of the poise and dignity of the finest American Indian traditions, through the force of her constructive suggestions completely carried with her the final session of the first annual convention of the New York Section of the Camp Directors Association at the Barbizon-Plaza Hotel here Saturday.

Her plan of sending Indian boys and girls to act as counselors in summer camps was hailed by Mr. Wallace Green Arnold, president of the New York section, as one of the most helpful efforts to bring about a better understanding of the Indian and at the same time preserve the best of his traditions that has ever been attempted in America.

The Indian woman who is organizing the counselor plan is known simply as Atala. She prefers that to the title of "Miss" or "Princess," to either of which she is entitled, not to be used. A member of the Chickasaw tribe, born and raised in the old Indian Territory, Oklahoma, she became professor of English and philology at Bacon College, Muskogee, Okla.

In width with a minimum depth of four feet will cost $2,000,000 and to provide employment for considerable, large working forces.

"We will actually have a depth of six feet across the state," said Hargrave in his communication.

SANFORD HERALD SWAMPS BRYAN'S AT DIAMOND BALL

Beats Sporting Goods Outfit By Lopsided Score Of Nine To Two

By K. H. CULLUM. The Sanford Herald Boys diamond ball team clearly demonstrated its superiority on the field last night when it defeated Bryan's Sporting Goods Store 9 to 2, outclassing and outplaying its opponents at every stage of the game.

Raymond Shaw pitched for the winners, and despite his wildness, walking no less than six, and being in hot water in every inning, held his opponents to four hits, good for only two runs. Bryan's put over its first run in the third inning. In this inning R. Johnson and Nagel got free passes to first in succession; Eubanks and Hayes popped out. J. Phillips singled, scoring R. Johnson; Tillis walked again filling the bases, but Carroll struck out to end the inning. Again in the fifth inning, after two were out, Shaw walked Hayes, J. Phillips and Tillis in succession, and again it was up to Carroll to prove the hero of the game, but the best he could do was to lift a weak fly to the pitcher. The Bryan's Sporting Goods Store team put over its second and last run in the sixth on a single, a double and a sacrifice. Routh, getting two out of three times up a single and a double.

Nagel hurled the first five innings for Bryan's. The Herald boys started their run getting from the very start. Kelly, first up, hit the second pitched ball for a home run; Stamper safe on an error; Herndon safe on an error; Voss struck out; result three runs. The paper boys added one more in the third and three in the fifth. Eubanks took up the hurling duties in the sixth, and limited the Herald boys to two runs for the remainder of the game.

Huge Press Begins Turning As Key Far Away Is Pressed

TORONTO, Dec. 12.—The pressure of a hand in Toronto sufficient to depress a telegraph key for 30 seconds set in motion a 750-ton printing press in Winnipeg 1400 miles away. The press commenced printing at the rate of 42,000 40-page newspapers an hour and then reached a maximum of 100,000 copies. Maj. John W. Sifton pressed the telegraph key here and within a short time copies of the Manitoba Free Press were on sale on the streets of Winnipeg. The press is the first of its kind to be put in operation in Canada and only the third ever to be manufactured.

Over the long distance telephone system of the Canadian Pacific Telegraphs, Major Sifton conquered distance to start the $300,000 press from his library of his residence in Toronto. Through a special hook-up the Canadian Pacific Telegraphs transmission system had been connected directly to the control board of the new press unit.

House Is Lectured On Manners, Drinking

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—(A.P.)—A brand new member lectured the House yesterday on manners and drinking. He was Martin L. Sweeney, a Democrat and former municipal judge of Cleveland. He said on his first day in the House he tried to listen to debate on revision of the rules.

"I found a lot of chaos," he said. "I heard Congressmen discussing the Japanese war, some of them talking about the Presidential campaign, and two dry Congressmen, who vote dry consistently, were discussing the bad quality of Washington liquor. 'I will not tell you their names. I am not Smedley Butler. 'My observation also is that the women of this body behave like perfect gentlemen while some of the men behave like a lot of old women.'"

Sweeney, an anti-prohibitionist, expressed surprise that President Hoover did not mention prohibition in his message.

Huge Press Begins Turning As Key Far Away Is Pressed

TORONTO, Dec. 12.—The pressure of a hand in Toronto sufficient to depress a telegraph key for 30 seconds set in motion a 750-ton printing press in Winnipeg 1400 miles away. The press commenced printing at the rate of 42,000 40-page newspapers an hour and then reached a maximum of 100,000 copies. Maj. John W. Sifton pressed the telegraph key here and within a short time copies of the Manitoba Free Press were on sale on the streets of Winnipeg. The press is the first of its kind to be put in operation in Canada and only the third ever to be manufactured.

Over the long distance telephone system of the Canadian Pacific Telegraphs, Major Sifton conquered distance to start the $300,000 press from his library of his residence in Toronto. Through a special hook-up the Canadian Pacific Telegraphs transmission system had been connected directly to the control board of the new press unit.

House Is Lectured On Manners, Drinking

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—(A.P.)—A brand new member lectured the House yesterday on manners and drinking. He was Martin L. Sweeney, a Democrat and former municipal judge of Cleveland. He said on his first day in the House he tried to listen to debate on revision of the rules.

"I found a lot of chaos," he said. "I heard Congressmen discussing the Japanese war, some of them talking about the Presidential campaign, and two dry Congressmen, who vote dry consistently, were discussing the bad quality of Washington liquor. 'I will not tell you their names. I am not Smedley Butler. 'My observation also is that the women of this body behave like perfect gentlemen while some of the men behave like a lot of old women.'"

Sweeney, an anti-prohibitionist, expressed surprise that President Hoover did not mention prohibition in his message.

Apathy, Cowardice, Avarice Are Seen As Menace To City

He voiced the belief that there might still be time between now and 1933 to take steps toward having a smaller aldermanic board elected by proportional representation, as in Cincinnati, where the party form of government has been done away with.

In the judiciary, Mr. Schieffel in urged that the names of candidates for higher courts should be filed officially with the secretary of state at least three months before nominations are made to give time for an independent movement if the candidates were unworthy, a similar procedure to be applied to the appointment of police magistrates.

The first requirement of good government, he declared, was the setting up of a prevailing public opinion against any favoritism or profiting by corruption of officials, and he urged in this connection, "that citizens should try to give their pupils the spirit of the young Athenians who took an oath to uphold the honor of their city."

Facts brought out by the city inquiry had had sufficient effect on the public conscience, Dr. Schieffel continued, to make the independent voters turn from Tammany and all its works, and he was confident that there were "honest decent people in Tammany and in the Republican party" who could elect a truly non-partisan city government in a three-cornered

Hotel Men Are Optimistic Over Tourist Season

(Continued from Page Nine) girls' inn, Winter Park, president of the state association. The invocation was offered by Father O'Riordan of St. Mary's church and a short greeting was offered by Paul Conant in behalf of the Tourist Relations bureau of the city.

The welcome address was by Capt. George M. Lynch, superintendent of Pinellas county schools, who declared that the inns and taverns of the old days had been largely responsible for progress along social, political and civic lines in this and other countries of well known influence in being felt today in many sections of the country, he said, and asserted that nowhere are the hotel men doing as much as in Florida.

Influence of hotel and Florida advertising was discussed informally during the morning and a formal address on the subject was made by Tom Griffith, of the Lesan-Florida Advertising agency. The consensus of opinion among the association members was that more, instead of less advertising should be used this year to bring business up to par.

Reports from several of the railroad and steamship line representatives present were that while business is slightly below that of former years, that this will increase materially as weather grows worse in the north. The number of tourists expected for the first of the year is after to be greater than the last two years but the length of visits promises to be shorter.

Government Is Sued By Indians For $1,693,000.00

(Continued from Page Nine) Mingo had caused all the settlers to turn against them, and to demand the removal of all Indians from the newly settled lands.

So insistent became the demand that Congress in February, 1853, authorized President Polk to remove, among other things, the Winochege and to refer to them "a tribe of unproven lands beyond the limits of our empire."

The Winochege did not take part in the Civil War. Instead, they sided with the whites against the negroes. They were a powerful and energetic tribe, cultivating their small farms and living in unity with their neighbors, and among the white man's clothes and habits.

They were unopposed and survived when, in May, 1863, military forces were sent to remove them from their land. They were then sent to a reservation in Mississippi, where they died of disease and starvation.
