NATION IN BRIEF

GOP Leader Scott Escapes Probe Of Donations Link

WASHINGTON (AP) - Senate Minority Leader Hugh Scott says he found it "most gratifying" that the Senate Ethics Committee dropped its inquiry into his link with alleged illegal Gulf Oil Corp. contributions.

Thus, barring any new developments, it appears unlikely that the full details of Scott's involvement in the Gulf money controversy will ever be made public.

The 76-year-old Pennsylvanian, who decided not to seek re-election this year after 16 years in the House and 17 more in the Senate, said Thursday that the ethics panel had conducted a "thorough and objective" review of the matter.

Atlantic States Get Rain

By the Associated Press A steady rain fell overnight across the Atlantic coast states between the mountains and the ocean. A flash flood watch was in effect this morning for the Catskill mountains of New York.

Showers and thundershowers reached from the lower Great Lakes and middle Ohio valley to cover most of New York, southern New England and northern Virginia. Scattered showers and thundershowers ranged across portions of the central and southern plains and extreme southern Florida.

Extortion Sentence Due

ATLANTA (AP) - William A.H. Williams was to be sentenced today for the second time on his conviction of extortion in the 1974 abduction of former Atlanta Constitution editor Reg Murphy.

Williams, 36, was found guilty Aug. 25 in Key West of extorting $700,000 from the Cox Enterprises Inc., which owns The Constitution, following Murphy's abduction in February 1974.

Truck Collides With Train

JULIETTE, Ga. (AP) - A 29-year-old Ocala, man was in critical condition today after his tractor-trailer collided with a Southern Railway freight train near this central Georgia town, authorities said. At least 27 freight cars derailed Thursday but only truck driver Thomas Gillium was inured, officials said.

County Commissioner Sid Vihlen Jr., said oday he will make a formal motion next fuesday to create an in-house legal department in Seminole County.

Vihlen said he will ask for a motion to instruct Exec. Asst. Roger Neiswender to begin a "phaseout program" by Oct. 1, "or as soon as possible thereafter" which includes terminating the services of County Atty. Tom Freeman and labor attorneys Alley Alley &

Last Tuesday, commissioners discussed hiring an in-house legal staff but stopped hort of the necessary vote which would egally create the new department.

ommission Chairman Mike Hattaway said afficial action will come "as soon as one of the board members makes the necessary

"I imagine it (official action) will come on uesday." the chairman said. Hattaway stressed, however, he wasn't certain a formal motion would be made. "I'll make a motion Tuesday to begin setting up the details," Vihlen said. He said he will ask the Office of Management Analysis and Evaluation (OMAE) to work with Neiswender and Freeman to accomplish an orderly, well-planned phaseout.

Commissioner Harry Kwiatkowski, at a special press conference Monday, announced his support for an in-house legal staff Kwiatkowski proposed $140,000 as the amount needed to hire two attorneys and a secretarial

Then at Tuesday's county commission meeting Kwiatkowski offered his plan for the commission's perusal. Commissioners agreed in concept with what Vihlen termed "The Kwiatkowski Plan," but no formal action was taken. A majority vote is needed before the switch becomes a reality.

The issue centers on some $206,000 in legal feet paid Freeman and the $90-an-hour labor attorneys last year. Republican commissioners Dick Williams and John Kimrough asked for a legal staff last year, but the three Democrats on the board backed Freeman, also a Democrat, and the matter was dropped.

Tax Bill Awaiting Ford's Signature

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Ford is stretches of the tax fields, this bill is considered expected to sign the tax bill that continues some by veteran congressional tax experts to be the existing income tax cuts and makes major revisions in the nation's tax laws.

Congress approved the bill Thursday Multibillion-dollar general income tax cuts enacted last year to fight the recession would be continued through 1977, worth $180 to a typical family of four making $15,000 a year. Across-theboard business income tax cuts also would be extended

Some wealthier persons would find a mixture of tax increases and decreases, including hikes of $1 billion a year under the so-called minimum tax on the rich, for example, but cuts of roughly that amount through a sweeping overhaul of gift and estate taxes.

For the first time, many housewives could qualify for tax-deferred pension plans. And a average taxpayer in a very meaningful way." family's tax bills would be cut by as much as $800 Ullman said, such as condensing tax tables for a year for parents who must hire a babysitter so the basic tax form 1040. they can hold their jobs. A simpler, more generous tax-cutting credit would go to the elderly. Investors would discover their tax shelters are disappearing. In all, during the five-year federal budget period beginning next month, tax cut extensions or individuals and businesses will cost the Freasury a total of $54.6 billion, another $4.2 billion will be lost through estate and gift tax changes, while other tax revisions are gaining $9.9 billion for the government. By making so many changes across such wide itemize on their tax returns.

most sweeping revision in roughly two decades. Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, DMass., and others Congress were looking forward to more tax changes next year.

"It is a step forward, but only a small one," Kennedy said. "There is plenty left for the next Congress and (Democratic presidential nominee) Jimmy Carter to do on tax reform, and hope that we shall be starting on the task as early as possible next year." Rep. Al Uliman, D-Ore., chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, suggested more is possible in simplifying the tax law. "It is my hope that we can move in a quantum leap toward simplification in the next Congress. But this bill does simplify the tax returns for the Uliman said, such as condensing tax tables for Uliman also pointed to changes involving the standard deductions. Millions of persons "who now go through the tortuous process" of dealing with their deductions, Ullman said, would be put "into the standard deduction category where hey will get a better tax break - so this is major plification here."

The bill would make permanent the present temporary boosts in minimum and maximum standard deductions, used by whose who do not

Duval Schools Dispute

Due Back In Court Today

JACKSONVILLE (AP) - A dispute over a contract for Jacksonville's nearly 6,000 teachers - already marked by arrests and a shooting into a school official's home - boiled back into court today.

Circuit Judge John McNatt called negotiators for the school board and Duval Teachers United to another hearing to talk over unsettled issues, chiefly wages and grievance procedures.

The board has already adopted a contract recommended by Supertendent Herb Sang but rejected by the union. The board refused to accept compromises recommended by a special master apppointed by the Public Employes Relations Commission.

Sugar Industry In Trouble

CLEWISTON (AP) - Sugar prices have dropped from an all-time high of $5 for a five-pound bag in 1974 to less than $1 in some areas, and Florida's sugar cane industry is in trouble

"When the price falls to that level, you can expect a lot of belt-tightening," said Nelson Fairbanks Jr., vice president and general manager of the Florida Sugar Cane League.

The sharp drop in the cost of sugar is being partially blamed on the high 1974 prices which brought an increase in the amount of acreage devoted to sugar production both here and abroad.

Carter Asked To Back Canal JACKSONVILLE (AP) - As the Corp of Army Engineers prepared to open a series of public hearings tonight on the Cross-Florida Barge Canal, supporters sought to influence Democratic president nominee Jimmy Carter.

Financier Edward Ball said Thursday that he wrote Carter urging him to support the Jacksonville-to-Yankeetown waterway halted in 1971 when onethird complete and now facing a final decision whether to revive it, junk it or put it in mothballs as is.

Bees May Be Confiscated

WEST PALM BEACH (AP) - "Yankee" honey bees, trucked to Florida for wintertime frolicking and pollinating, could find themselves put on a prison farm of sorts if their owners aren't careful.

Palm Beach County has hired a beekeeper and set aside 101/2 acres to store hives illegally placed on county property by owners who bring their hives to South Florida to keep them from hibernating and going out of honey production in the winter.

President Luis Echeverria Alvarez of Mexico startled his own countrymen as well as bankers and economists everywhere when he dramatically devalued the peso, but the real question is why did he wait as long as he did to do what he knew had to be done?

The Echeverria shock is the kind of bold action that usually marks a new program of an incoming president. Echeverria is in the twilight of his presidency. And what he set in motion by the devaluation will likely last long into the term of his SUCCESSORS

It is difficult to be precise about what devaluation of the peso will do because there are many variables and historical parallels which are not always a guide.

Indeed, as recently as last April Portillo and Mexico's Finance Secretary Mario Ramon Beteta were saying that the peso should not be floated in relation to other currencies or devalued.

The dangers of devaluation include an increase in Mexico's foreign debt, which some consider already is in the low end of the danger zone because it represents about a quarter of the country's foreign earnings.

Ordinarily devaluation also would curb imports and improve Mexico's income. Some experts warn, however, that Mexico cannot significantly limit imports because most of them are things that she needs to develop her industries, such as oil drilling rigs and machine tools.

Finally, some of the doubters are looking at Echeverria's promise to increase the pay of the military and retired citizens to make up for the cheaper peso. When he does, there will be pressure from the private sector to index all wages. would work against the benfits of devaluation.

We believe these to be fairly low risks compared to the benefits that are possible if Echeverria's in Washington remains a thing of a remote plan works. There is no reason why Mexican goods future. will not be cheaper in other countries, which should start farms and production lines humming. Not all of the drop in tourism has been the aftermath of a boycott. Many tourists had been priced out of Mexico's resorts. They should be returning if the dollar will buy much more.

Confidence of the U.S. financiers gives Echeverria a big boost. His first step is behind him. The long journey for Mexico begins.

Let me explain it this way

WASHINGTON - Contrary to the best image government, Rep. Robert L.F. Sikes will be oming back to Congress next year. The Florida Democrat won his party's primary last week and as usual will have no Republican opposition in the general election. Unless his constituents get religion, and boycott the November polls animously, the aging warlord is guaranteed his 19th legislative term.

Hence justice loses again. Wrong triumphs. Democracy weakens. It is not just that Robert Sikes deserves reelection less than anyone in Washington, it is also the manner in which his victory will come. He is one of the few ongressmen ever to be reprimanded by his peers for official irregularities, he is widely uspected of having regularly used his office for personal gain, yet there is no one in his district willing to challenge him on the November ballot.

He is not of course, the only federal lawmaker thout opposition this fall. By latest count there are 25 Democrats (including one senator) and six Republicans who have no general election opponents. Add to this the 150 or more legislators or both parties who have only tok and the nation is faced with the sad fact that about 40 per cent of November's contests are JOHN CUNNIFF merely formal exercises. > RAY CROMLEY National Primary Needed

WASHINGTON - (NEA) - Having once had a hand in the process by which delegates are chosen for a national party convention from one state, and having followed the results through to the nomination, I am personally convinced there is a better way to select presidential candidates. I am now sold on a binding national primary for each party with a runoff of the top vote getters should no candidate draw more than 40 per cent of the total party vote nationwide. There would be no party crossovers allowed. And each voter would cast his ballot directly for the man of his choice. That is, there would be no delegates. The winner in a state would not get all hat state's votes; rather each vote cast would be # counted individually in the national total.

Some argue this system would work to the disadvantage of unknown. Maybe so. But I submit that for the office of President of the United States it is essential that a man have sufficient experience and background to make him a known quantity before he campaigns for party nomination.

becomes "known" and acceptable if he shows up well through an all-out effort in two or three early primary states. Through those early wins he has a hefty boost toward the nomination in a sort of bandwagon effect. This nomination through momentum seems an extremely poor manner in which to select candidates for the

> This publicity is desirable not only on the off chance that one of these men and women might some day run for the presidency. More importantly, this coverage is needed because the successes and failures in one state have important lessons for the citizens of other states. We recognize the importance of distant countries in our coverage of foreign news. We too often forget the even greater importance of local experiments in neighboring state capitals. Likewise, throughout this nation there are sizable numbers of men and women, other than governors and members of Congress, doing remarkable administrative jobs in education, science, industry and agriculture.

There is no reason, except custom, why a president of the United States must come from the Congress or have been governor of a state, though one would think from our recent history that it was a rule engraved in stone. If one considers the administrative responsibilities, difficult decisions and personnel problems faced by the presidents of our great aniversities, the executive chiefs of our major companies, and by the heads of our leading scientific organizations, it is clear that numbers of these men have developed the expertise and udgment required for the White House.

WORLD IN BRIEF

Vietnam May Qualify For Indirect U.S. Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) - Communist Vietnam may soon qualify for indirect financial aid from the United States and other developed nations by joining the International Monetary Fund and the World Bank.

Hanoi already has won membership in the IMF over U.S. opposition, and U.S. officials said Thrusday they probably will be unable to keep the Veitnamese out of the World Bank, which takes up the issue next week. As a member of the two institutions, Vietnam likely will become eligible for assistance from several international aid programs to which the United States contributes heavily. The amount of such assistance is unknown, but it clearly could be many millions of dollars.

Kissinger Flies To Pretoria

LUSAKA, Zambia (AP) - Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger, on a diplomatic shuttle for racial peace in southern Africa, met with black Rhodesian leader Joshua Nkomo today before flying on to Pretoria for talks with South African Prime Minister John Vorster.

The substance of the talks between the U.S. secretary and the head of the Rhodesian wing of the militant African National Council was not immediately known. But it may have been the beginning of a Kissinger mediation between the black nationalists and the white supremacist government of Rhodesia. There was a possibility that Kissinger would meet with Rhodesian Prime Minister Ian Smith in South Africa this weekend.

Police Maintain Vigil

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) -Police here and in Cape Town kept a tense vigil over black and mixed-race townships today, watching for new flare-ups of violence in conjunction with the two-day visit of Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger. A Johannesburg department store was firebombed and antigovernment dissidents rioted in townships around Cape Town and elsewhere in this racially divided nation Thursday.

The looting and arson in Cape Town was aggravated by a massive power failure that plunged much of the Cape peninsula into darkness.

Del. Water Fauntroy, D-D.C., confirmed that Lane and Mann were the source of the "new" information, and a member of the Black Congressional Caucus who declined to be identified acknowledged that this same information was instrumental in persuading the House leadership to back the resolution creating a new committee to investigate King's death and that of President John F. Kennedy.

The House is scheduled ake up the resolution today and upporters claim they have enough votes for passage. Rep. Thomas N. Downing, Da., was quoted Wednesday as saying that it was a push by Black Caucus members b cause of "new information" they say they have received which persuaded the powerful Rules Committee to clear the resolution for floor action.

Although this information has been in the public domain since 1968, it appeared that at least some of it had never been investigated by the FBI.

uidance in your life?

Answer: I believe the primary way God guides us is through His Word contained in the Bible. And that is how He guided my wife last spring. God laid on my heart an amount He wanted me to give toward our new medical achool. When I told her how much d pledged for us, she gasped and said, "Oral, we don't have that kind of money! How in the world can we fulfull a pledge like that?" Then it came to me about the book she was writing. So I said, "Why don't you give the proceeds from your new book, "His Darling Wife, Evelyn?" But - I'll let her tell you the story in her own words.

EVELYN: "I think mean when I say I've always wanted to have my own money so I much to give and where to give. I've never worked outside our home and so I had never been able to do this. And she said she was often left But I was expecting to receive a cash advance from the publisher Ellen agreed. "I love to give, and I had looked forward to writing my own checks to the School of Medicine. That's why I felt so disappointed when Oral suggested I sign over all the proceeds from the sale of my book. I wanted God to tell me what to do - not Oral Roberts. So I prayed about it for a week, but I didn't get an answer'

"I thought, this is just Oral's idea. I don't want Oral to tell me what to do with my money. I want the Lord to tell me." "Before I began reading my Bible one night, I said, 'Lord, onight please show me in your Word what You want me to do about this. Then I will gladly do it!'

"Now it just happened that I had been reading II Corinthian in the Amplified Bible. And that night the bookmarker was at the ninth chapter. Every word in that chapter was from God to me. It said something like, 'Now about this gift you've been thinking about giving. I know I don't have to mention it to you because know what's in your heart. But, just to remind you, I have sent my servant to you.'

I thought, 'Lord, are you telling me that Oral is your servant in this matter? That you sent him to remind me of what I'm supposed to do?'

"And then I knew the Lord was saying, 'Yes, Evelyn Roberts, I have sent my servant Oral to tell you what I want you to do. Now you can make arrangements in advance so that your gift may be ready' (II Corinthians 9:5). "Suddenly I felt so glad and happy. I said, 'Lord, I give you this whole book. I'm going to sign over all the proceeds and royalties from the book to the medical school." "And that's exactly what I've done. I thank the Lord for His guidance and for the joy in my heart. When you do what God tells you to do, you feel a joyous kind of excitement. I know my

MR. AND MRS. RALPH FISHER Ralph Fisher: Fired, Facing A Hazy Future

By DONNA ESTES Herald Staff Writer

The relationship that existed between the City of Longwood and its long-time employe, Ralph Fisher, was severed this week. The governing body fired Fisher. The motion terminating his services after 11 years, first as city superintendent and more recently for the past two to three years as a public works director, was carefully phrased to kill any possibility the man might have had of collecting unemployment compensation. Two weeks prior to his termination, Fisher was suspended pending an investigation into alleged thievery in the water department involving hundreds of pounds of brass and copper cannibalized from discarded water meters. Councilmen hit at the loose operation of the public works department in firing Fisher from the $11,500 position. City Council Chairman J.R. Grant is acting as public works director while the search is on for a new one. Mayor James R. Lormann has said that someone outside the department will be hired to fill the position.

But, in the meantime Ruth and Ralph Fisher don't quite know just what they are going to do. Financially, things aren't so good, they said. Fisher, at 60, had hoped to work until retirement at 62 when he would have drawn social security. The careful wording of the motion firing him cut off the possibility of unemployment compensation. He said he has been told that the city has not participated in the state retirement program long enough for him to qualify for a pension from that

Fisher also has not been told by the city fathers whether he will be given the three-week vacation pay he is entitled to for 1976. Mrs. Fisher has a lung condition that requires hospitalization several times a year but they gave up their private hospitalization insurance when the city began its program for employes. Mrs. Fisher's medication for her illness totals $60 monthly. Now they have no hospitalization insurance.

And, "Who is going to hire a 60-year-old man, especially after all the scandal here in Longwood?" Fisher asked. "During all those years we never left town for more than a few days at a time. Ralph thought he might be needed and his first responsibility was here," Mrs. Fisher said.

Grant, meanwhile, is working under the handicap of the city's having no map - nothing on paper - showing the exact location of water lines and fittings in much of the city system. In addition, few other than Fisher know the intricacies of the operation of the water department itself.

Only last week during a storm, a circuit breaker was kicked of in the nighttime hours connecting the gasoline pumps at the city garage with power, making it nearly impossible for police cars to gas up for patrol duty until the source of the problem was discovered.

An 18-page deposition was given to State Attorney Abbott Herring's office Aug. 31 by Fisher. According to the deposition, Fisher appeared voluntarily, accompanied by his attorney, Roger

In the deposition, Assistant State Atty. William Staley advised Fisher that "this office does not intend to use any information that you may give us with regard to this Longwood Municipal investigation against you for the purpose of bringing any criminal charges against you. . . You are in effect getting immunity from any prosecution from any criminal offense that you may have committed in connection with your association with the City of Longwood."

At the end of the two-hour interrogation, Fisher said, according to the record, "Please believe me, that I did not contact my attorney today to try to get out of anything. . . I am 60 years old, I have never been in trouble in my life, I don't know anything about legalities."

Chief Investigator Jack Fulenwider responded that it was Fisher's constitutional right to have an attorney. "Even as knowledgable as I am in certain matters like this, I would not let myself become involved in situations like this without the advice of an attorney. That's what attorneys are for and you have a legal and constitutional right to an attorney and even if you can't afford one, we could get one appointed for you." Fisher then agreed he would have no objection to the transcript of the interview being turned over to the city council. During the lengthy examination, Fisher said his inventory ontrol over replaced water meters was apparently "not tight enough" and that he had found a minimum of 120 water meters and their brass housings missing. Fisher said he had kept a tight control on new meters going out for replacement, but not a record of old ones. He said the old meters were stored in a shed by the water department.

councilman in charge of the water department, he had stored brass cannibalized in the department in a box or barrel for sale. The proceeds had been used to buy "something under the supervision of the chairman of the water department, buy something for the City of Longwood that we needed on the water department." He denied that he had ever sold anything belonging to the city to convert the money to his own use. Fisher said when he discovered large numbers of water meters missing that he called several junk yards asking if they had bought water meters from any city employe. "However, I found now that the water meters were dismantled and sold as brass. . . (not) as water meters, but as junk," he said.

Fisher also said that a drum had been cut and converted into a barbecue pit for a councilman partly on city time and with "a Dr. Lamb piece of pipe or two" belonging to the city several years ago. "A courcilman is no different than any other taxpayer," Fulenwider told Fisher.

Fulenwider also questioned Fisher in detail about water valve wrenches that had been made and sold. Fisher said the wrenches were made partly for sale to a private contractor, using materials furnished by the contractor. But the city's power and the labor of a city employe on city time was also used

Fisher said, "Sometime before this happened, the men (in the water department) had no ice water, no drinking water and, when I built the city police station, I asked council for a cooler for the men over at the shop because everytime I turned around it looked like one of them was standing there with a can wanting to know where he could get some ice. "I paid some of it out of my own pocket, they bought part of it, later on I did bill the city, I had them to bill the city for that, so I put a water cooler in the budget for the second year, it was turned down

"They said we will buy an ice machine, I believe it was looked nto and the cheapest one they could find was $700. Well that cured that, so I came in one day and I had two or three jobs going and I was trying to get moving on out, and there stands a man with a water cooler can in his hand, wanting ice.

"I went to Orlando, I bought it with my own money, a water cooler, I brought it back and the city helped to install it. . . I had paid $205, I agreed to make that many wrenches, $200 worth, no more. I made the 20 wrenches, we argued on the price and finally he (the contractor) said he would furnish the pipe and give me $9 a piece, which I agreed to. . . We made 20 and we made the alance of his material into wrenches that he never came back and picked up. They (the wrenches) went to the fire department and the water department. .

Fisher said he talked the matter over with the councilman in charge of the water department at that time and he "thought it was a very good idea." "I went ahead, I made the wrenches and I gave the city credit for the whole $200 for the $180. . . reimbursed me for the $200 that I had paid for the water cooler," Fisher said. Fisher also said that over the years he found it easier at times to purchase small items for his department from his own pocket and even used his personal tools in the department, when needed. Many of these tools and other personal property remain at the city garage. Fisher has not attempted to claim them and no one has tried to return them, according to Mrs. Fisher.

"We were told by the city attorney to stay off city property, Mrs. Fisher said. In answer to another question from Fulenwider, Fisher said he had noticed copper wire missing from the city and city tools as well over a period of time. "Four years ago when this thing got started, I went to council and asked them for funds to build a building on the back of our shop to contain our tools and equipment and stock of small items. "I didn't get anything. A year or so later - the time may be off as I don't have any dates on it - well, anyhow, I told two or possibly three of the council that we were being stolen blind. Two months ago approximately, it may have been a little longer, I went to the Chief (of police), I believe I talked to Sgt. Taylor and the Chief and told him about this and I had reported it," Fisher

Fulenwider asked Fisher if he had done anything himself to put in an inventory control of water meters or copper. Fisher said, "Not, as well as I should," explaining he tried to get help, to get a secretary to take over the office to keep the records on the "works, the whole mess from the top to the bottom

SMH Surgeons Panel Clears Doctor Wing

Herald Staff Writer

panel of surgeons minole Memorial Hospital (SMH) has ruled that Sanford doctor Kenneth Wing acted out f medical necessity when he nserted feeding tubes into the stomachs of 20 elderly patients to increase their protein intake, hospital's chief surgeon says.

And Dr. Charles Harmon added following the review board's decision that he uestioned the reliability of a state report which charged that Wing performed the gastrostomies only after Medicaid regulations were hanged to increase payments patients undergoing the procedures.

"Virtually all members of the surgery department were present" at the review board ssion last Tuesday, Harmon said. "We reviewed the charts of all patients who'd had eding gastrostomies done at SMH) between July 1975 and

Piland Attacks PSC

Winter Springs Mayor Troy Piland has sent a telegram to the Florida Public Service Commission charging the commissioners with "representing the utilities companies first and the citizens second.

Piland was angered by a newspaper report that the PSC staff had recommended a rate increase for North Orlando Water and Sewer Corp., equal to or higher than the utility company's request

The city has fought the rate increase since it was requested in January, saying utility rates are the city's responsibility - not the PSC's.

In his telegram, Piland cited the economic effect the more than 100 per cent increase would have on the 1,100 customers of the firm in the city.

"We feel as expressed at the public hearing that the North Orlando Water and Sewer Corp. is entitled to a fair rate of increase," Piland said, "but feel that it was an error in their judgment not to ask for the increase for 11 years. We as citizens should not be burdened with such a large increase at one time."
