Chemical Laxatives Not Good For You

Dr. Lamb

DEAR DR. LAMB—My mother reads your columns so maybe you can explain to her exactly what she is doing to herself. She takes a "woman's" laxative constantly throughout the day, drinking about eight to 10 tablets at 11:00. She buys two boxes every week. Each box contains 50 tablets. I know she takes them all in a week and sometimes buys more. Now she probably can't have a bowel movement without the laxative because she's been doing this for quite some time. Also she does not digest certain foods and her bowel movements are not solid.

DEAR READER—For the most part I don't think laxatives is a very good idea. That statement applies particularly to the chemical laxatives that stimulate the colon to contract. I'm certain that must be the kind of laxative that your mother is taking.

Now, the bulk laxatives have no chemical stimulating effects and serve only to increase the bulk in the colon. These are all right but you can get the same effect by using a good diet that includes plenty of cereal fiber as in bran and other sources of bulk such as fresh fruits and vegetables.

When you constantly "chew the bowel" with chemical laxatives, you keep it prematurely emptied and cause it to become irritable, which leads to colon spasms and pain. This is one way that spastic colon is caused.

Once a person has become hooked on the laxative habit, it's difficult to get him off. I frequently medical supervision is necessary. I am sending you the Health Letter number 12-8, Laxatives, enemas and Suppositories to give you general information.

WIN AT BRIDGE

Seminole County's financial situation is "tight" and it will be tighter in 1981, said Assistant County Administrator Jeff Eitcheber, but so far this year expenditures and revenues remain on target.

Eitcheber said that the county's budget for 1981 was designed with that in mind. "Normal, if not a little better than normal. Nothing has caused our budgeted expenditures to change," he said.

Expected revenues, he said, are approximately 70 percent collected.

"This is a little behind where we normally are at this time," he said, "but with interest rates high, taxes are slower coming in."

Eitcheber explained that banks are probably keeping the tax funds in escrow longer to take advantage of higher interest rates. They can make more money that way than by taking advantage of early payment discounts, he said.

"But the money will come in," he said.

Sanford Prepares To Slash 1980-81 Budget

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

There will be no fat in the city of Sanford's 1980-81 budget.

City Manager Warren Knowles was instructed by city commissioners Monday night to prepare a "priority list" of programs to be slashed if President Carter does the expected and cuts or eliminates federal revenue sharing funds to cities.

Knowles was told by Mayor Lee P. Moore, Commissioner John Morris added, "Proceed with bare bones without federal revenue sharing."

Knowles told commissioners he anticipates the president, in his economic steps to combat inflation, will reduce, eliminate or phase out federal revenue sharing, slated to bring $33,223 into Sanford's coffers in the current budget year.

He noted that to replace that money the city would have to increase property taxes by $2.20 per $1,000 assessed valuation. But, he said, Gov. Bob Graham's tax reform program would ressurect legislation, in effect last year, to limit government unit's powers to increase property taxes to five percent without a referendum.

The possibility exists, Knowles said, that the governor's proposal would permit city commissions to approve higher increases if supported by a vote of four of five commission members.

In addition, Knowles said, the budget for the fiscal year beginning Oct. 1, which he will begin preparing within the next 60 days, must take into account a 15-18 percent inflation growth, salary deficiencies shown in a study of city employees and the federal wage guideline limits of 9.5 percent.

Seeking guidance from the commission on the budget preparation, Knowles asked if the commission is thinking of reductions, changes or elimination of more non-essential city services and functions.

Elections for the mayor's office and two city commissioners seats are scheduled in December. The consensus of all five commissioners was for Knowles to prepare a list of priorities in descending order with non-essential items to be listed first. The governor's proposal for the Sanitar would where he should look for non-essentials.

Moore said that in the most efficiently operated business and governmental unit, non-essentials do not matter how austere their budgets are.

In other business, the commission authorized Moore to sign a request to the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development seeking a $125,000 federal grant for the Sanitar and a $100,000 grant for the Sanitar and a $100,000 grant for the Sanitar.

Graham Supports Increase In Gasoline Tax

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI)—Gov. Bob Graham said today he supports President Carter's proposal to fight inflation by raising the gas tax and balancing the federal budget, even though it will cost Florida more than $1.7 billion a year.

It will fall less heavily on Florida, he said, than the previous method of fighting inflation by raising interest rates which hits especially hard at growth states like Florida and states with a large population of senior citizens living on fixed incomes.

Graham said it will be the end of the month before Carter's full recommendations to slice $13 billion off federal spending are known.

It is going to mean, he said, another revision in his budget recommendations almost on the eve of convening the Legislature April 8.

Obstacles Await Developer Who Proposes Raceway

By DONNA ESTES

If a harness raceway is to be built in Lake Mary, a lot of stumbling blocks will have to be cleared away first.

Mark Robinson of Longwood, a spokesman for a group of 30 investors in a proposed $7.5 million harness track to be built in the Lake Emma Road area of Lake Mary, said today Seminole County voters will have to approve in an election the establishment of a fourth pari-mutuel wagering facility in the county.

Dr. he said, he will have to get a legislator to introduce a special law waiving the referendum requirement.

He pointed to State Rep. Bobby Brantley, R-Longwood, as his choice to introduce the legislation waiving the election requirement. Robinson said Brantley has proven to be a "good legislator and a supporter of horse racing interests."

"I'm not in favor of expanding pari-mutuels in the county without a vote of the people," Brantley responded today. "I do think harness racing can make money, but I would prefer a referendum to see if the people want to expand pari-mutuels. I would not introduce legislation to waive the referendum," he said.

State Rep. Robert Hattaway, D-Altamonte Springs, meanwhile, said Robinson has talked to him about plans for a harness track in Lake Mary. Hattaway added, however, that the past four or five owners of the Seminole Harness Track in Casselberry have lost money on harness racing, the owners prior to the new group, said they lost $2.5 million in two years. Hattaway said he added Robinson where he was going to raise $7.5 million. "I asked him where the dollars were coming from. After that meeting he was supposed to get back with me, but he hasn't," Hattaway said.

Robinson said he has contacted the county commission, seeking costs of the referendum. County Administrator Roger Neisewander said Robinson called the county office asking for the information and was asked to follow up with the telephone call with a letter.

While the county is waiting for the letter, Neisewander said County Attorney Nikki Clayton is looking into the process of placing the question on the ballot and what the county's responsibility is.

"There is no question whether we can raise the money," Robinson said. He said not only harness racing but also quarter horse racing would be held. While Robinson said he is spokesman for about 30 persons who are forming the group for the harness track, he would name only one of those investors. He said Frank Sobotta Jr., a land clearing contractor and owner of Mid-State Development Co. is one of those in the group.

Robinson said he has not contacted the city of Lake Mary about the plans for the facility because it would be premature to do so. "We would be asking for a change in zoning or a special exception, but we must have a master plan for the facilities first. When we have all that together we can make an approach to Lake Mary. If Lake Mary will not go along with it we will choose another location," he said.

He listed the priorities that must be accomplished by the investors, noting the master plan is first, adding he hopes this is accomplished in time to make application for a harness racing facility permit between June 1 and July 1.

Robinson said the harness track, if all goes according to schedule, could be in operation by the end of 1981 for winter training.

Hattaway, who is introducing legislation to permit the conversion of Seminole Harness Raceway to a greyhound racing facility, said the legislation will permit either dog racing or horse racing at the Casselberry track.

"They will be able to race horses or dogs and both types of racing can be held at the same track," Hattaway said.

Hattaway said he is preparing a bill to add a five cents-to-10 cents admission fee to all pari-mutuel establishments around the state with the resulting revenue to go to the cities of the state. He said it would be difficult to get the legislation approved. He said he is seeking support from the larger delegations including Hillsborough, Duval, Duval and Broward.

"Even if we pick up support from those delegations, it will be rough and tough getting it through," he said.

The Casselberry City Council Monday night tabled indefinitely a request from the owners of the Seminole Harness Raceway to support the conversion legislation. At the same time the council instructed City Attorney Kenneth McIntosh to write to the owners of the raceway, seeking a commitment in writing from them to pay costs of a traffic signal installation at Seminole Boulevard and Winter Park Drive.

The owners have said they will pay for the signal, the costs of special police officers on racing days, costs of additional firefighters and for improving the water system to the track. The council asked that the commitments be placed in writing before it supports the conversion.

Prime Rate Now At 19%

NEW YORK (UPI)—Chase Manhattan Bank pushed its prime lending rate by three-quarters of a point to a new record of 19 percent today in a move it said was in line with Washington's efforts to restrain credit and bank lending.

The increase by the nation's third largest bank confirmed many analysts' predictions that short-term interest rates will jump as a result of the credit-tightening contained in President Carter's latest anti-inflation package.

The prime applies directly to business loans but each increase makes credit scarcer for all borrowers, even those willing to pay the historically high interest rates.

Chase said that even at 19 percent, the new prime rate was not as high as it should be to cover the bank's cost of funds. At the same time, Chase said, it has established a separate prime rate of 18 1/2 percent was a quarter point below the 18 1/2 percent adopted by the bulk of the banking industry Friday.

Local Case To Go Before High Court

By DAVID M. HAZLER

The U.S. Supreme Court has agreed to hear a case brought by an Altamonte Springs attorney, which could cost the Seminole Circuit Court clerk's office $93,000 in attorney's fees, and cut down on money earned by court clerk's offices throughout the state.

In its full session, the court will hear an appeal of a case brought by Harvey Alper, president of the Seminole County Bar Association, on behalf of creditors of Webb's Fabulous Drugs, a chain of stores which went bankrupt in 1978.

Alper was appointed by the Seminole Circuit Court to track down more than 200 creditors who were owed money by Webb's, and were to be paid with $2 million, the amount Eckerd Drugs of College Park Inc. paid to buy the remains of the company.

The $2 million was placed in escrow with the clerk's office for a year, generating $93,000 in interest, money which, under Florida law is turned over to that office.

But Alper believes the law is unconstitutional, and the clerk's office is only entitled to the costs of doing the bookkeeping while the money is in its care.

In 1971, Circuit Judge Kenneth Leffer found the state law unconstitutional and ordered the $93,000 in interest turned over to Alper for distribution to the creditors.

But the state Supreme Court reversed Leffer's decision a year later.

Last December, Alper planned his final appeal, getting his complaint before the country's highest court just before deadline. At the time he said he was only one in a 25 chance of having his case selected by the court for review.

But Monday, the court agreed it was a matter to still decide.

Circuit Court Clerk Arthur Beckwith said the $93,000 generated in one year by one block of funds held in escrow was an unusual occurrence. The case was the most money ever generated in his many years as clerk, he said.

Most of the time, escrow funds created by court order are small, short-term accounts, generating very little interest, he said.

The Supreme Court has not yet set a date for hearing oral arguments on the case.

U.S. Agrees To Sell China Military Cargo Aircraft

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The United States has agreed, for the first time, to sell the Peoples Republic of China military cargo aircraft, a decision that will end the two countries' long-standing dispute over the sale of military aircraft.

The $2 million was placed in escrow with the clerk's office for a year, generating $93,000 in interest, money which, under Florida law is turned over to that office.

But Alper believes the law is unconstitutional, and the clerk's office is only entitled to the costs of doing the bookkeeping while the money is in its care.

In 1971, Circuit Judge Kenneth Leffer found the state law unconstitutional and ordered the $93,000 in interest turned over to Alper for distribution to the creditors.

But the state Supreme Court reversed Leffer's decision a year later.

Last December, Alper planned his final appeal, getting his complaint before the country's highest court just before deadline. At the time he said he was only one in a 25 chance of having his case selected by the court for review.

But Monday, the court agreed it was a matter to still decide.

Circuit Court Clerk Arthur Beckwith said the $93,000 generated in one year by one block of funds held in escrow was an unusual occurrence. The case was the most money ever generated in his many years as clerk, he said.

Most of the time, escrow funds created by court order are small, short-term accounts, generating very little interest, he said.

The Supreme Court has not yet set a date for hearing oral arguments on the case.

Castro Admits Problems In Speech To Assembly

MIAMI (UPI) — Cuba is "falling in a sea of difficulties" 21 years after its revolution, President Fidel Castro said in a "heretofore secret" speech he made last December, the Miami Herald reports in today's edition.

In the major speech—the Cuban equivalent of a U.S. president's State of the Union Address—Castro told the National People's Government Assembly that Cuba suffers from "symptoms of corruption" and a falling economy.

"Some have said we are experiencing difficulties," Castro said. "This gives the impression that we are crossing a current, a river. It would be better to say that we are sailing, in a sea of difficulties. We have been in this sea for some time and will continue in this sea... The shore is far away..."

LONDON (UPI) — A blaze early Tuesday engulfed a guest house for homeless women run by followers of Nobel Prize-Winner Mother Teresa, killing 11 women, police said.

At least one of the 11 victims plunged to her death trying to escape flames at the La Rochelle guest house in northern London, police said.

Authorities feared two of the dead were nuns. The home was run by nuns said to be followers of Mother Teresa of Calcutta, the "saint of the gutters," who won the Nobel Peace Prize last year for her work in India.

Initial reports were sketchy, but there were reports that up to 20 people were injured.

MUNICH, West Germany (UPI) — Two officers of Germany's most prestigious military school have gone on trial, charged with falling to protect a nazi officer, Nazi-like party in which two cadres celebrated a colleague's engagement with cries of "Sieg Heil" and a symbolic burning of Jews.

Pedestrian Killed By Hit-And-Run Driver

A Clinton, Mass. pedestrian was killed in a hit-and-run accident on Bear Lake Road, just inside the Seminole County line, Monday night, highway patrolmen said.

Alexander Henry Fort of 41 Taylor St., Oviedo, was jailed Saturday night on charges of aggravated assault and use of a firearm while committing a felony, by deputies who gave the following account of the incident:

Fort's wife, Annie, who had left him a week earlier, was at the Goldenrod home of Gloria Graham, with William Robinson, 44, of Oviedo, when Fort burst into the home armed with a shotgun and shotgun.

Fort fired a pistol shot into the ceiling, while Graham and her two children ran from the home. Fort then ordered Robinson to lie on the floor.

Action on a request to change the zoning on some property on State Road 434 and Pine Street in Longwood was tabled one week by the Longwood City Commission Monday night when it appeared the zoning would result in a stalemate.

City Police Clarify Fundraising

Paid solicitors from the Orange County Police Benevolent Association (PBA) are not being too benevolent towards Sanford police, local officers say.

The PBA fundraisers not to say the money will go to anyone in Seminole, he added. A spokesman for the Orange County PBA would say only his organization is raising money through phone sales of tickets under the registered name of "Central Florida Policemen's Benevolent Association."

A Harvest Of Neglect

The poverty of European support for Mr. Carter's policies in the Persian Gulf demonstrates the difficulty he faces in containing Soviet expansion after three years of neglect.

France has openly snubbed him and Chancellor Helmut Schmidt made it clear during his visit to Washington that West Germany will provide little more than ringing statements of support.

This does not foreshadow a lessening of Germany's dedication to the containment of Russian expansionism in Europe and the maintenance of a balanced military deterrence in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

But in the recent South Carolina Republican presidential primary, Atwater delivered a resounding victory for his candidate while Thurmond's candidate was defeated.

This attitude, which, like that of France, seems woefully shortsighted from this side of the Atlantic, is based upon West Germany's growing dependence upon trade with the East.

These considerations aside, Schmidt is willing to be a good ally where it will not compromise the German Ostpolitik.

Germany's strong compulsion to trim policy to fit the political and economic considerations is understandable, although flawed by tunnel vision which sees the Russian menace in only one direction.

Schmidt's recent visit should leave in Washington a bleaker perception of the present limits to European support.

BERRY'S WORLD

WASHINGTON — The uproar over the Soviet "combat brigades" in Cuba last fall has been supplanted in the headlines by Iran and Afghanistan, but the sharp-eyed Cuban analyst brought a dramatic rewording of previous in the U.S. intelligence community.

Around The Clock

The organization committee for the state basketball tournament at Lakeland deserves both a compliment and a little scolding.

Under the guise of a charity fund raising event, prep roundball fans will be treated to a long anticipated match-up between Seminole County's best and the best from the Metro.

It's either Larry Bird or Lew Alcindor (Kareem Abdul-Jabbar) or Dr. J. (Julius Erving) for the MVP Award, Loughery said after Bird scored 29 points to carry the Celtics to a 117-92 rout of the Nets.

When the coaches selected the team only one real center was picked, Herb Harris of Mainland. The Five Star team is loaded with outstanding guards, including Seminole High's Glenn Stambaugh and Doug Dersheimer of Lake Brantley.

Back in 1969, former British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan observed that "winds of change" were sweeping Africa, establishing himself not only as a phrase-maker but a prophet.

South Africa, for all its intransigence to outside pressures for change in its apartheid ways, has not been blind to these developments.

But however well fortified the Bogota freeloader might have been, incidents of this sort simply cannot be condoned.

Freeloaders, fortunately, are a hard lot. Betty probably has gone into the diplomatic arena at a diplomatic reception in Bogota last month as an innocent freeloader.

Personal Touch Is Failing

LEXINGTON, S.C. (NEA)— Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., is a living legend here, undefeated in every statewide election he has entered for more than three decades.

The 77-year-old Thurmond is one of the South's most powerful politicians in the South. He was governor of South Carolina before he entered the Senate.

But in the recent South Carolina Republican presidential primary, Atwater delivered a resounding victory for his candidate while Thurmond's candidate was defeated.

A graduate student in political science at the University of South Carolina, Atwater was statewide campaign coordinator for Ronald W. Reagan, who won the primary with 55 percent of all votes cast.

That wind has now swept to the borders of South Africa, the sole remaining political sovereignty in Africa and the world where a white minority governs an overwhelmingly nonwhite population.

WASHINGTON (UPI)— One of the hostages seized at a diplomatic reception in Bogota last month was an innocent freeloader.

Under the circumstances, meaningful change is likely to be a long time yet in the coming. Even so, awareness that things are not as they were and that they inevitably are going to be even less so is penetrating ever the hard heart of Afrikaners.

It's Minnesota and Virginia For NIT

NEW YORK (UPI)— Freshman center Brewer, an obscure 7-foot-2 reserve who averaged only 15 minutes per game in the regular season, scored a game-high 24 points Monday night to lead Minnesota to a 65-63 victory over Big Ten rival Illinois and a berth in Wednesday night's National Invitation Tournament final.

But in the championship game, Brewer will be forced to do something he hasn't done all season — look up to his opponent.

Officials Lee Jones and Dick Bovezza hit Lucas with two technicals within eight seconds in the second quarter, leading to his ejection and upsetting the easily upsettable Loughery, who also drew a technical.

Marcello Tosses Hounds Past Buccaneers 6-1

By BENTON WOOD
Herald Sports Writer
Lyman Pitcher Rick Marcello hurled his Greyhounds to an impressive 6-1 Five Star Conference baseball victory over Daytona Beach Mainland Monday afternoon.

Mainland tallied its lone run in the first inning, taking advantage of a pair of singles and a sacrifice fly to jump out ahead 1-0.

That first inning run given up by Marcello was the first earned run the right-hander has allowed in his last 21 innings on the mound.

Lyman chalked up four unearned runs in the fifth inning to pace Lyman's winning margin.

Senior Bob Pletcher and junior Mike Andriano each collected a pair of hits for the Greyhounds as they helped damp Mainland to 2-6 on the year.

The voting mirrored college basketball's love affair with one of its most respected and affectionately regarded coaches.

Growing Up Led To Their Breaking Up
 DEAR ABBY: I'm desperate and need a quick answer. I was very much in love with a man about a year ago. We had a fight and broke up because we both had a lot of growing up to do. About two weeks ago I ran into him, and the minute we saw each other we both knew we were still very much in love. We had a long talk, and he told me that he still loves me, but he has a problem. While we were split, he started seeing another girl, and now she's pregnant! Abby, I feel very sorry for this other girl, but I'm still in love with this guy. I know he still loves me, and I don't want to give him up. I honestly feel that if he marries the girl he got pregnant, it wouldn't solve anything, and the marriage wouldn't last. Yet it seems the only decent thing to do. My question: What should I do, if anything? The other girl doesn't even know I exist. NO NAME, PLEASE
 DEAR NO: You shouldn't do anything. Even though you still love him, stick to a hands-off policy until he is free of all obligations. It may be a long time. Or forever. Decent people accept the consequences of their own actions. Problems? You'll feel better if you get them off your chest. For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 6700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90068. Please enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Well, three rounds of clubs forced declarer to ruff the dummy with the spade six. South's only problem was to guess the trump jack.

South led a heart to his ace of trumps and played a spade to the king, which lost to East's ace. East returned a diamond, which was won in dummy. Declarer led the spade nine and passed it when East followed small. West showed out.

South knew where the trump jack was but had no way of finessing for it as dummy no longer had any trumps. Declarer was no amateur. In an instant he found the winning line of play.

He led the king of hearts from the dummy and ruffed it small when East followed. Declarer was now down to put the same trump length as East — two trumps each.

South led a small diamond to dummy and when East followed small, South continued with a trump. South's high diamond and declarer's high diamonds on them until East ruffed.

South would then overruff and draw the last trump. East conceded and South had his game.

School Board To Consider Athletic Probe, Rezoning

The possibility of an investigation into alleged athletic recruitment at area high schools will be first on the agenda at tonight's Seminole County School Board meeting. The board will also take up its third and most controversial elementary school rezoning project.

The meeting is scheduled to begin at 7:30 in the school board chambers of the school office building at 1211 Mellonville, Sanford.

Floyd Lay, executive secretary of the Florida State School Athletic Activities Association (FSSAA), is expected to respond to the board's request that he investigate possible recruitment in the cases of three students who transferred schools. Transfers are allowed only for academic reasons.

To avoid athletic recruitment, the FSSAA rules deny athletic eligibility for one year to transfer students unless a waiver is signed by the two principals involved, the superintendent of schools or the school board chairman. The FSSAA is the governing body of high school athletics in the state.

In three Seminole County high school transfer cases this school year, students who transferred requested waivers be signed to allow them to participate in sports.

Two of the students requested the waivers to allow them to play basketball at Lake Howell High School. They transferred from Seminole High School. The other student is requesting a waiver to play baseball at Lyman High School.

He transferred from Lake Howell. The principals involved, the superintendent and the school board chairman refused to sign waivers for the students.

Superintendent William P. Lauer said the students were informed when they transferred in August that they would not be eligible to participate in sports. He also said he would not sign a waiver for the boys because the school board went against its own policy in allowing the transfers after the July deadline.

But at the March 5 school board meeting, board member Robert G. Feather acknowledged that there is a student now participating in sports at Lyman High School who also transferred after the deadline. A waiver was signed for that student.

Feather also said he did not favor withholding the right of the Green youth to play baseball because he felt there was no recruitment in his case. Green had not played baseball at his former school, although he played baseball outside of school. Daniels and Wynn had played basketball at their former school.

In the elementary school rezoning issue, the school board is expected to approve a plan for moving about 200 pupils out of overcrowded Woodlands Elementary School in Longwood. Parents of Woodlands pupils, however, have indicated they do not want their children moved.

On March 12 the board postponed the rezoning after board member William Kroll said the parents evidently misunderstood the board's request when they presented only one possible plan to handle the overcrowding — a plan that did not involve any transfers.

Lauer pointed out that in his opinion there was no alternative to some rezoning.

Feather told the parents the school board had gone out of its way to allow parental input into its rezoning plans this year and was disappointed the Woodlands parents did not cooperate.

The parents said they did not want their children transferred now only to be moved again when new elementary schools are built.

Lauer said those new schools are too far off. The board directed the parents to come back with another plan, which is expected to be presented tonight.

U.S. Charges Gun Aimed At Hostage

The United States charged today that a Muslim interrogator pointed a revolver at an American woman hostage in Tehran, told her one chamber was loaded then pulled the trigger repeatedly.

U.S. State Department legal advisor Robert B. Owen made the charge before the International Court of Justice in The Hague, Netherlands, as part of the U.S. application for an order to release the 50 American captives.

Owen said hostages were often threatened at gunpoint, tied to upright chairs for up to 18 hours, made to sleep on bare concrete floors and kept blindfolded as punishment in the first weeks of the crisis, now in its 17th day.

"Over and above the other severe aspects of their confinement," Owen said, "it is apparent that some or all of these individuals have been subjected to grueling interrogation under conditions which by definition constitute coercion."

He explained that much of this knowledge was based on the reports of hostages released after the first two weeks of the siege.

"Several hostages were repeatedly threatened with guns and other weapons," Owen said. "On one occasion a student who was interrogating a woman hostage showed her his revolver to let her know that one of his several chambers was loaded, and then proceeded to intimidate her by pointing the gun at her and repeatedly pulling the trigger."

"Happily, he stopped in time, but the experience must have been terrifying," Owen said.

In Tehran, the Interior Ministry ruled that the first round of voting in Iran's parliamentary elections was fair, bolstering chances of an election victory by the hard-line Muslim party that opposes any compromise on freeing the American hostages until the ousted Shah is returned to power.

The ruling Tuesday night, stating that the balloting for the 278-member Majlis, or parliament, was conducted in "a satisfactory manner," was a setback for Iranian President Abolhasan Bani-Sadr who said that there were irregularities in the voting.

Bani-Sadr also favors a quick end to the hostage crisis, which Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini says the parliament will decide when it convenes in May after a second round of voting — a run-off election for candidates who did not receive a majority.

But the return so far from the balloting last Friday gave the hard-line Islamic Republican Party, which opposes any deal until Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi is returned to Iran.

Iran's ambassador to Kuwait, Ali Shams Ardakani, said today, "There will be no solution to the hostage question before May 15."

2nd Camp David Summit On Tap?

TEL AVIV, Israel (UPI) — The leaders of Egypt, Israel and the United States will hold a summit meeting at Camp David, Md., in mid-April in an effort to break the deadlock in the Palestinian autonomy talks, the Israeli army radio said today.

The radio said President Carter sounded out Prime Minister Menachem Begin and Egyptian President Anwar Sadat in telephone calls Tuesday on the idea of a summit meeting. The report said both agreed.

The radio said the official announcement of the Camp David summit and its timing could come later today.

Sadat, Carter and Begin met for 13 days at Camp David in September 1978 to produce the framework for the Egyptian-Israeli peace treaty and the current Palestinian autonomy talks.

Although Hospital Corporation of America (HCA) officials have called the new facility Central Florida Regional Hospital, Texas explained that name was given by the corporation because a name was necessary to obtain a Florida charter. Another name could be picked later.

"We may have a contest or something," he said, "to determine a name for the new hospital."

Hospital Public Relations Director Kay Bartholomew said Texas feels there should be community participation in the naming of the hospital.

She said Texas today again emphasized that quality care is HCA's top priority.

She said Texas was asked when HCA was going to take over the hospital and he replied that they already have.

"They wanted a very smooth transition," she said. It was so smooth, she said, that some didn't even notice.

In talking with the department heads, she said Texas revealed that the secret of HCA's success is decentralization.

Dialysis Clinic May Open In June

The kidney dialysis clinic planned in the former Southern Bell Telephone Building on Commercial Street in downtown Sanford, may be opening for patient treatment by mid-June, said Dorsey Greene, administrator of the Artificial Kidney Center in Orlando today.

The partnership of doctors acquiring the building, owned by William L. Kirk Sr., has tentatively scheduled closing on the property for later this week. Sale price of the building and property at 206 Commercial Avenue is $140,000, according to Buddy Duncan of Duncan Realty, Altamonte Springs.

Greene said costs of renovating and equipping the facility are estimated at $240,000. He said today it is hoped a contract will be let by the end of the week with a local contractor for the renovations.

The three doctors acquiring the property are Dr. David S. Finn, medical director of the kidney dialysis center, Dr. Joseph Warren and Dr. Robert Metzger, all nephrology specialists — have formed a partnership for the acquisition known as the 206 Commercial Street Partnership. The partnership in turn will be leasing the facility to Bio-Medical Applications Sanford, Inc., which will operate the kidney dialysis center.

Greene said today while engineers and architects have designed plans for renovations of the full span building, contracts for the work have not as yet been let. But, he added, all necessary federal and state government approvals for the center's operation have been received.

It is expected that 21 patients from the Sanford-Lake Mary-Deltona area, who now must travel to Orlando three times weekly for kidney dialysis, will transfer to the more conveniently located Sanford center shortly after the opening.

Greene said area patients are anxious for plans for the Sanford center to be completed and the center to go into operation. "We hope to be open within three months, but that is optimistic," Greene said, adding he doesn't want to give a firm date until he is sure it will be absolutely correct on so patients will not be disappointed.

Greene said the Sanford center will have a staff of 10 and will be open for treatment on two shifts daily six days per week. The average patient, he said, must have kidney dialysis three times weekly.

He added local patients are anxious for the new center because the center in Orlando is overcrowded and currently operating around the clock. The same group operates kidney dialysis centers throughout Florida and across the United States. In the Central Florida area it has centers in Gainesville, Tampa, St. Petersburg, and Sarasota, in addition to Orlando.

The Sanford center will be sufficient in size to treat 32 patients during two shifts.

TRACTOR ACCIDENT KILLS GENEVA MAN

Seminole County rescue workers struggle in vain to revive Robert Smith, 18, of Geneva, who was killed Tuesday evening when a tractor flipped over, crushing him. Smith was driving the tractor, helping James and John Pressley pull logs from the Pressley's lane off of State Road 46, just east of the St. Johns River when his foot slipped off the clutch, deputies say. "The chain pulled tight and the tractor turned over," said a witness, saying people on the scene could not free Smith until rescue workers arrived to help them. County and Herndon rescue workers continued trying to revive Smith until they arrived at Seminole Memorial Hospital, where he was pronounced dead on arrival at 5:23 p.m.
