Delta purchases Comair Holdings

By Bill Kerns

Deal won't affect Aviation Academy in Sanford

SANFORD — Programs in the Comair Aviation Academy at Sanford's airport will not be affected by a pending purchase of Comair by Delta Air Lines, according to officials with both companies.

Comair operates the main branch of its aviation academy and a maintenance facility at the Orlando Sanford Airport. There are 600 students at the aviation academy's four branches statewide, including 400 students at the Sanford campus.

Delta Air Lines announced plans this week to buy Comair Holdings, Inc. The $1.8 billion purchase of Comair is expected to be finalized by the end of the year, subject to an anti-trust review.

"It will be business as usual at the Comair Aviation Academy," said Megan Glenn, spokesperson for Comair Airlines. "It will remain a subsidiary of Comair, and there will be no changes in the program."

In addition to the Sanford campus, the Comair Aviation Academy also has branches in Jacksonville, Ft. Lauderdale and Miami.

"These branches are all connected with local colleges or universities, offering two-year or four-year degrees," said Susan Burrell, vice president of Comair Aviation Academy.

Students at the aviation academy's Sanford campus engage in a one-year program to attain their flight ratings, then become instructors at Comair for another year before interviewing with

Sims asks U.S. Supreme Court to intervene

'Basically, he's visited last house on the block'

SANFORD — Attorneys for convicted cop-killer Terry Melvin Sims lost a bid Wednesday before the Florida Supreme Court to have Sims' Oct. 26 execution delayed.

The justices declined to return to an issue regarding the constitutionality of Florida's electric chair, an issue the court upheld a month ago.

Sims, 57, convicted of first degree murder in the 1977 shooting death of Seminole County reserve deputy George Pfiel, is scheduled for execution at 7 a.m. Tuesday morning at the Florida State Prison in Raiford. Wednesday's refusal by the justices to revisit the issue of whether the electric chair constitutes cruel and unusual punishment also means a request for a stay for Anthony Bryan, scheduled to be put to death Wednesday, is denied.

Following Wednesday's ruling by the Florida Supreme Court, attorneys for Sims immediately requested the U.S. Supreme Court review the elec-

Florida's highest court last month voted 4-3 that death in the electric chair was not cruel and unusual punishment. That ruling stemmed from an appeal involving an Orange County case. Lawyers for convicted murderer Thomas Provenzano lost that appeal but did get a temporary stay of execution based on a claim of insanity. Provenzano was convicted in 1984 of the murder of an Orange County bailiff during a court house shoot-out. Two other bailiffs were wounded during the incident, leaving both paralyzed.

Sims' case, now in the hands of the U.S. Supreme Court, has a long appellate history. Since his original conviction in 1979, the

Bumper-to-bumper

Traffic began backing up on Interstate 4 in the early afternoon Wednesday. In this case, a semi-truck jostled in the east-bound lane delaying motorists headed to Volusia County. Transportation officials hope widening I-4 and the bridge over the St. Johns River will help alleviate some of the congestion.

State plans major road projects

By Bill Kerns
Staff Writer

SANFORD — In Sanford and cities throughout Seminole County, motorists can expect to encounter road construction on all of the county's major highways.

Speaking at the Sanford/Seminole County Chamber of Commerce on Monday, Robert Cortelyou, director of production for the Florida Department of Transportation, said widening Interstate 4 and the bridge over the St. Johns River, as well as completing the missing link of the GreeneWay will be major tasks facing his department.

He said the Interstate 4 Bridge at the St. Johns River will increase from four lanes to six lanes, in a project costing an estimated $130 million. The project will provide six lanes for I-4 from Saxon Boulevard in Deltona to US Highway 17-92 in Sanford.

Construction is currently scheduled to begin in 2004, although state officials are hoping to receive federally backed bonds that would allow construction to begin in 2001.

Construction is expected to take three years. Since 1993, traffic on the I-4 bridge has increased more than 30 percent, from 65,000 trips per day to 90,000 trips per day. Cortelyou said the six-laning of the bridge will allow for 90,000 cars.

"The project has evolved over the last three to four years," Cortelyou said during a break-

How a family is rallying for Grandpa

By Russ White
Staff Writer

SANFORD — Glenn Scott of Sanford has just about all a man could live for: A loving wife of 47 years, four children, 10 grandchildren and six great-grandchildren. And recently, 50 people attended a family reunion.

As grand as the reunion was, however, Glenn Scott's family is troubled about Grandpa's failing health. He has cirrhosis of the liver and needs a transplant at Jackson Memorial Hospital in Miami.

A retired painter and contractor who worked for himself, the 65-year-old Scott needs financial help to get his liver transplant. The National Foundation for Transplants, a non-profit organization based in Memphis, work-

Brian Rabal, a patient advocate for NFI, is coming to Seminole County next week to help launch a fund-raising campaign for Glenn Scott. Rabal will speak on Saturday, Oct. 30, at the Seminole County

It's time to quit knocking on Wood

There are those who want to take Judge Leonard Wood's robe and gavel and cast him from the bench.

Wood has been charged — not convicted — of domestic battery. His wife, Julie, says he hit her with a folded newspaper, grabbed her jaw and squeezed her face. We don't know if the judge did these things. Let's hope he didn't.

Surely, Judge Wood is entitled to a presumption of innocence. Less hysterical and more compassionate people might give this man proper respect for the service he has rendered in the 18th Judicial Circuit.

A number of county residents have called to express their admiration of Judge Wood. Many say they are grateful for his work as a child advocate and distinguished work as a juvenile court judge. "Judge Wood always ruled in the interests of children," Nancy Armstrong said Wednesday. "He's well respected by children's advocate volunteers."

Leonard Wood has had an interesting and fulfilling life. He has a son works for the Casselberry Police Department. Another son who is an attorney.

"There are so many positives about this man," Maitland attorney Gerald Rutberg said. "I've met few men who have as strong a sense of what's right or wrong in any setting."

Wood, Rutberg said, has been misjudged before. Some of this occurred because of the judge's intelligence and dry sense of humor. A quip, however sarcastic, is "viciously abusive" only to those who are afraid to be fully human.

Leonard Wood, for all his recent woes, is fully human. He spent a number of years supporting youth sports programs. He also raised greyhounds. One of his racers was a dog named "RunAroundSue."

Stories are the RunAroundSue would break last but wind up winning almost every race. Wood was proud of RunAroundSue, All-American dog.

Today, Wood's the one in the chase, the one in the RunAround. He's in the September - perhaps October - of his years. He's been reprimanded by a judicial discipline committee, which suggested a stress-management program.

At 64, perhaps Leonard Wood is ready to retire. Consider, however, that it was Leonard Wood who ruled favorably (and has not been overruled) in helping Seminole County adopt and enforce strict rules that have regulated the adult entertainment industry. Wood was good, say his supporters.

How much kinder an ending to the saga of Leonard Wood — and for this community — if he is found innocent of the domestic battery charges. If found guilty, the judge will have sullied his good name and hurt the community he once served with honor.

Let's get all the facts, however, before making judgment.

Let's get all the facts, however, before making judgment.

Williams gets life
SANFORD - Jason Williams, a star defensive back on the Winter Springs High School football at the start of the 1998 season, has been sentenced to life in prison.

Williams, 18, was convicted on Wednesday of first-degree murder in the death of 23-year-old Paul Kafka of Sanford on Sept. 12, 1998. Williams was also convicted of attempted robbery with a firearm.

In a taped confession, played for jurors, Williams said the shooting was an accident. Assistant State Attorney Stewart Stone said it didn't matter if the shooting was intentional or accidental. Kafka was killed during an attempted robbery.

Prosecutors did not seek the death penalty.

Sealing and expunging criminal records

Part I of 2

People sometimes are falsely accused of committing crimes and erroneously arrested. Sometimes people are illegally arrested.

Other times people make mistakes and own up to them. Regardless of which situation may apply, the existence of a criminal history record can have lasting repercussions. For that reason, Florida law provides for the sealing and for the expunging of criminal history records under certain circumstances. Following is an explanation of the difference between sealing and expunging records and their effect.

When a criminal history record of a minor or an adult is ordered sealed, the record becomes confidential and exempt from the public record provisions of the Florida Statutes and the Constitution of Florida. The record ceases to be public information and may no longer be released when a public records request is made.

When a record is sealed the record becomes available only to the person who is the subject of the record, to the subject's attorney, to criminal justice agencies for their respective criminal justice purposes, and to a few specific entities for their respective licensing and employment purposes as discussed below.

Even better than the sealing of a record, however, is an expungement. When any criminal history record of a minor or an adult is ordered expunged by a court, the record must be physically destroyed or obliterated by any criminal justice agency having custody of such record. However, even if ordered expunged, any criminal history record in the custody of the Florida Department of Law Enforcement must be retained in all cases. Nevertheless, the record retained becomes confidential and is exempt from the provisions of the Florida Statutes and the Constitution of Florida. Furthermore, it is not available to any person or entity, even a criminal justice agency unlike in the case of a sealing, except upon order of a court of competent jurisdiction.

Whether a record is sealed or expunged, the effect of said sealing or expungement can be very beneficial to the subject of the record because, subject to the exceptions that will be discussed next week, a person whose record has been sealed or expunged may not be held under any provision of law of the State of Florida to commit perjury or to be otherwise unable to give evidence in a civil action by reason of the defendant's failure to testify. In other words, the sealing or expunging of a criminal history record may, in some circumstances, instead of failing to acknowledge the crime covered by the sealed or expunged records.

Clearly there are benefits to having a criminal history record sealed or expunged. However, as noted above, sealing or expunging records is the consequence of the decision by the court whether to do so. Next week we will discuss the circumstances under which a person may not have a sealed or

Mom dances away fear of ex-husband

DEAR ABBY: The letter from "Shaking in Harrisburg, Pa." hit close to home. She said her son was being married in a few weeks, and was insisting that she dance with her abusive former husband at the wedding.

My daughter married a year ago, and she was kind enough to realize that asking me to dance with my ex at her wedding was like asking me to dance with the devil himself. She told me she would never put me through it, knowing how hard the divorce was on me.

Abby, I too, am engaged to a wonderful man now. I never thought life could be so beautiful. At the wedding reception, I stood looking at the man who had hurt me so deeply and just a real hard look at him. I thought, "I can't do this." I told my son-in-law that I couldn't do that moment that I really wouldn't completely put my life back together unless I faced my fear of him.

My children were stunned when I walked over and asked him to dance. I held my head up and looked him straight in the face. He couldn't even look me in the eye. It wasn't long before I realized the man was nothing more than a "wound," and I actually began to smile. By the time the dance was over, I realized I could put the past behind me. All my fears were gone.

When later, my daughter asked me why I had danced with her father when she knew it was the last thing on earth I wanted to do, I told her the truth — that I hadn't done it for her. I did it for me. She knew the past is finally behind me, and she is proud of me.

Please tell "Shaking" that she needs to face her past fears to really get on with her life and be happy. IN CONTROL AT LAST IN MINNESOTA

DEAR IN CONTROL: I applaud you for conquering your fears and going on with your life. However, unless someone is ready to do that, I would never push her. You are not the only woman who identified with "Shaking in Harrisburg" and wanted to offer encouragement. Read on.

DEAR ABBY: I danced with my ex-husband at my son's wedding this summer. I can understand why "Shaking" is unhappy, but she might want to give this some consideration:

I view my ex as an emotionally handicapped person and more like a nonfavorite cousin. Because we have children, I feel we will always be "related." I no longer focus on the difficulty of our divorce eight years ago. If her ex still has her shaking, then she's letting him live rent-free in her head. Surely he's not worth it. She should focus on him instead as the man she loved when her son was conceived and born (if that was the case) and how wonderful it was that they produced something so good.

Our 16-year-old daughter was surprised we danced so well together. I reminded her that there were many things we did well together, which is why we married in the first place — even if it didn't last.

DEAR WISE NOW: I congratulate you for your tact and for handling the situation with grace as well as grace. There has to be a point that a man stops shaking.

DEAR ABBY: I am engaged to the woman I love. She is a wonderful woman. She is a former divorcee. I have a cousin in the State, D.D., who owns a general store and restaurant.

When I remarked about the large size of the parking area, he replied that it had to accommodate the number of recreational vehicles during hunting season. I said that I had no desire to own one, and he said that anyone who is thinking about purchasing that kind of vehicle should take the following test:

"Take your wife, children, the dog and cat into your largest bathroom, along with some snacks and beverages. Turn on the shower and stay for two days, and if you enjoy your vacation, buy an RV!"

I took his advice to heart. I now travel in my sedan and stay in hotels. ROBERT O. JOHNS, RENO, NEV.

DEAR ROBERT: Your cousin is a wild in defense of RVs, there are millions of satisfied customers on the roads who can't say enough good things about that mode of travel.

DEAR ABBY: I just hung up after calling our former son-in-law to wish him happiness and good luck on his wedding day tomorrow. Oh, how it hurts! We love him, and have loved him, since he came into our family almost 30 years ago. Our daughter has never wanted us to hate him. She doesn't. They had a friendly divorce (sometimes the kindest kind to understand), so we were not betraying her by calling him.

Abby, I just wanted to write to you to get in a good word for loving in-law. I know that children are the victims of divorce, and that they must learn to accept the decisions of their parents. But on the other hand, we, as parents, must accept the decisions of our children, and silently mourn the loss of someone we love and years of family memories. We, too, are victims. Thank you for listening. HEALING TOO SLOWLY IN ILL.

DEAR HEALING: You seem to be a caring and sensitive woman. Perhaps it will help you to realize that your daughter nor your son-in-law seems to regret the decision to go their separate ways. I am reminded of the famous line from Reinhold Niebuhr's "The Serenity Prayer." God, give us grace to accept with serenity the things that cannot be changed, and the wisdom to distinguish the one from the other."

Justice Department investigates need for oversight in Seminole School officials hope DOJ visit will help remove 1970 court order

By Bill Kerns
Staff Writer

SANFORD — Seminole County school district officials are hoping to convince U.S. Department of Justice inspectors that court oversight in areas such as student attendance zones is no longer necessary.

The Justice Department is inspecting Seminole County and other school districts this week, to determine whether equitable racial and ethnic conditions exist.

Since 1970, the United States District Court has had supervisory jurisdiction over the Seminole County School Board in matters such as school site purchases, school construction, and student attendance zones. Seminole County and other Florida school districts were sued in 1970 by the Justice Department for operating a "dual system" which separated schools for black and non-black students.

"In 1970, we were ordered to dismantle the dual system, and merge black and non-black students into a unitary system," said Seminole County School Board Attorney Ned Julian. The key factors to be inspected by the Justice Department include equitable conditions in faculty and staff assignments, resource allocation, facilities, transportation, student assignment, and extracurricular activities.

"It seems interesting that the auxiliary spaces, exceptional education classes, and all of that will be inspected," said Seminole County School Board member Jeanne Morris. "Apparently, it will be a very detailed inspection."

If the district is found in compliance and granted unitary status, meaning that a dual system of education for blacks and non-blacks no longer exists, it would be released from the supervisory authority of the District Court.

"I don't think we've operated a dual system for a long time," said School Board Chairman Larry Furlong.

The U.S. District Court can find the district in compliance with desegregation requirements, granting "unitary status," on each key factor separately, or the court may grant complete unitary status.

"Hopefully, we'll do well in the inspection," Morris said. "If we're not found to be a unitary system, then we will learn what last few things we need to improve, and that's equally important."

The Justice Department's visit is a "critical step" in seeking relief from court oversight, said Anna Marie Coty, unitary projects coordinator for the school district.

If unitary status cannot be negotiated, the School Board would seek a resolution of the issue in court.

"I hope we don't have to go to court," Morris said.

On Dec. 10, the School Board is scheduled to respond to the Justice Department's report concerning the inspection.

A community meeting to discuss unitary status and the desegregation of schools in Seminole County will be held Nov. 9, 7 p.m. in the Goldsboro Elementary School Media Center in Sanford.

From 1996 to 1998, the School Board negotiated four consent decrees with the Department of Justice that are designed to move the school district toward relief from court oversight. Other consent decrees have also been negotiated since 1970.

The consent decrees allowed the district to open three new elementary schools and create new elementary school attendance zones. The district also agreed to establish magnet or enrichment programs at Goldsboro, Midway, and Hamilton elementary schools.

The district agreed to open Winter Springs High School at the beginning of the 1997-98 school year, modify high school attendance zones, and add a second magnet program at Seminole High School.

In addition, the district agreed to permit students the option of transfers. Students were given the option of transferring to the school of their choice if certain conditions were met. The district also agreed to create magnet programs at Lakeview and Sanford middle schools.

Library in Oviedo. Elizabeth Ferdinandsen, a Lake Howell High School graduate has volunteered to be the Campaign Chair for her grandfather.

"We've had a couple of garage and crafts sales for my grandfather," Ferdinandsen said Wednesday. "We had a bake sale today. We hope to raise at least $10,000, but we know we may need much more. The transplant foundation will help us. A family member chairs the drive, and I got the job. Grandpa's worth it. He's a really good guy. And we've got a great family who just can't let him down."

Although Mr. Scott's transplant costs will be covered by Medicare, he needs extra funding to help pay for uncovered portions of transplant-related expenses. These include expensive medications that he will take the rest of his life to keep his body from rejecting the new organ.

"We'll have to rent a place in the Miami area for me to stay the first two months after surgery," Scott said Wednesday. "I'll need to have checkups two or three times a week for two months. The best rate we've found about to rent is $1,300 a month."

Until his health deteriorated less than a year ago, Scott was an avid fisherman and loved to tinker with antique cars. He enjoyed working on a 1949 Ford pickup a year ago but was barely able to finish the work.

"I love old cars," Scott said. "Bought my first car for $5. It was a 1933 Plymouth. I drove the dickens out of that Plymouth and sold it for $10."

Some in Scott's family theorize his liver problems are a result of the old paints he used during his working days.

"I don't think we know the answer," Mr. Scott said. "I wasn't a drinker. I know that's what some people think when they hear about someone who has liver problems. That isn't the case here."

The Scotts live in a 40-year-old cement-block house at 3851 S. Seaside Ave. They're going to have a garage built this weekend. There may not be any 1933 Plymouths for sale, but the family hopes to attract a few folks who will help fund Grandpa's transplant costs.

Anyone wishing to help Glenn Scott can contact his granddaughter Elizabeth at (407) 322-6336 or Glenn Scott of the National Foundation for Transplants at 1-800-488-3863.

Cross Country roundup

Special to the Herald

LAKE MARY - Following are the F.A.C.A. (Florida Athletic Coaches Association) Class 4A State Polls for this past week, the honor roll for the Lake Mary boys' team as well as information on the Seminole Athletic Conference Meet and Seminole County Middle School Cross Country Championships.

1999 F.A.C.A. CLASS 4A BOYS STATE RANKINGS TEAM

1. Niceville: I guess Coach Burch and the boys did show everyone how they were doing this weekend. Another team with a legitimate shot at winning it all.

2. Lyman: Average racing during the middle stretch of the season shows this odds-on favorite isn't perfect. Still probably the most talented team.

3. Delray Beach-Atlantic: I know what everyone has been saying, but when you only score three runners, you're going to be hard to beat!

4. Winter Park: Another solid week with the fastest No. 6 and No. 7 runners in a huge field last weekend. But no one wins it with #6 and #7 though.

5. Miami-Columbus: Rough outing at University of Florida does not shake my faith in Columbus.

6. Barbara Goleman: Not running at Florida keeps the Gators here at #6. These guys could still surprise.

7. Vero Beach: Missing three kids for UF did not help, but Vero has the talent to do well.

8. Sarasota-Riverview: Moves up a little this week with victory over Nease.

9. St. Augustine-Nease: Tommy Browne is for real, but the rest of the scoring five have work to do for Coach Lyons.

10. Boca Raton-Spanish River: The Sharks may have something to prove against all the talent in Northern South Florida.

Seminole hammers Hawks

Volleyball girls slam the lid shut on Spruce Creek

By Dean Smith
SPORTS EDITOR

SANFORD - With the district tournament only a week away, the Seminole High School girls volleyball team may be starting to gel.

Wednesday night at Bill Fleming Memorial Gymnasium, the Fighting Seminoles played one of their best matches of the season, handling a good Spruce Creek squad in three games, 15-12, 8-15 and 15-5.

"Our attack was on and 80-percent of our coverage found the floor," said Seminole head coach Beth Corso. "Our team tonight showed mental toughness and aggressive play."

Seminole, which improved to 6-11 overall, dominated as a team, slamming down 28 kills on offense and coming up with 41 digs and six blocks on defense. The Hawks fell to 17-9.

"I was very happy with the way we controlled the momentum tonight and our serve receive was great!" said Corso. "Our one drawback was we had eight missed serves. I also want our coverage a little tighter."

"But the girls responded well to what I asked of them tonight and all eight girls played as a team."

Please see Seminoles, Page 2B

Juniors Kim Corso (No. 12, left) and Michelle Cardel (No. 24, right) both had big statistical games as they helped the Seminole girls volleyball team shut down a good Spruce Creek squad, 15-12, 8-15 and 15-5, at Bill Fleming Memorial Gymnasium Wednesday evening. Corso, a setter/hitter, had 12 assists and seven kills, while Cardel, an outside hitter, had 11 digs and nine kills, against the Hawks.

Lyman leads off football schedule

By Dean Smith
SPORTS EDITOR

SANFORD - Lyman and Pine Ridge will get a jump on everyone else tonight when they open the week's prep football schedule with a Class 5A-District 4 contest at Pine Ridge High School in Deltona at 7:30 p.m.

Both teams are coming off straight losses against the district's two powers, the Greyhounds falling 28-0 to Spruce Creek and the Panthers dropping a 23-0 decision to Seminole, so both will be looking to rebound with a win.

The game is very important to Lyman (2-3 overall, 2-2 in 5A-4) as a victory would keep alive the Greyhounds hopes of getting into the playoffs or, at worst, finishing third in the district race.

Seminole and Spruce Creek, who play Friday night, are both undefeated in district, but the Hawks, in addition to the Seminole game, also still must play a very good Mainland squad.

If the Greyhounds win tonight and against Winter Springs later, and Spruce Creek loses both of its games, there would be a three-team tie-breaker to determine who would be the district runner-up and the second representative in the playoffs.

Pine Ridge could also use a victory as it is 1-6 overall and 0-3 in the district.

The aforementioned Seminole-Lake Howell contest is one of the two big ones on Friday night involving Seminole Athletic Conference schools.

The other is a Class 6A-District 2 encounter between Lake Mary and Apopka.

The Fighting Seminoles (6-1 overall, 4-0 in 5A-4 and ranked No. 9 in the Class 5A State Poll) would clinch a spot in the playoffs.

Senior linebackers Mike Bradley (No. 48, left) and Johnnie McKinnon (No. 88, right) will be counted on heavily to slow down Spruce Creek star running back Jermaine Green when Seminoles takes on the Hawks in a huge Class 5A-District 4 game at Daytona Beach Municipal Stadium Friday.

Wednesday softball all tied at top

By Dean Smith
SPORTS EDITOR

SANFORD - It took an upset and a forfeit, but the City of Sanford Recreation and Parks Department Men's Wednesday Night Fall Slow Pitch Softball League is all tied up this morning.

Jamie Pitzer's two-run double was the big blow in a seven-run second inning as Beer :30 knocked off previously undefeated Vivona's, 10-8, at Pinehurst Park.

That game capped a night of interesting action as what was expected to be a great battle between once-beatens Wilson-Eichelberger Funeral Home and Wells Contracting never came off as Wells Contracting could not field a team, and Brian's Lawn Maintenance finally got its first win of the season, but had to go eight innings to do it, edging J.F.I., 6-4.

Vivona's and Wilson-Eichelberger Funeral Home are both 4-1, while Beer :30 and Wells Contracting are both 3-2.

UCF soccer women to host Mercer

Special to the Herald

ORLANDO - The University of Central Florida women's soccer team (8-8-1) will play host to Trans America Athletic Conference member Mercer University (5-10-1), Thursday, Oct. 21, at 4 p.m. on the UCF Astor Field.

It will be the Golden Knights' first home game after a two week, five-game road trip that resulted in a 2-3-1 record.

The UCF women have their first game since they lost to TAAAC opponent they had played this season. The Golden Knights are also undefeated at home.

UCF

A win will improve the women's chances of solidifying a number one seed into the TAAC Tournament, to be held November 4-6 in Orlando.

Mercer, currently ninth in the TAAC, boasts the conference's leading scorer and point winner, Mirela Ninic. The Bears are looking for their first win against a conference opponent to secure a spot in the tournament, which features the TAAC's top six teams.

Last week UCF rolled over Sanford, 2-0, and preseason favorite Jacksonville University, 4-0, and they tied Jacksonville State 0-0 as goalkeeper Maria Banula recorded her third shut-out of the week and sixth of the season.

Mercer struggled, suffering defeats to Auburn, 5-0, and conference opponents Campbell, 2-1, and Georgia State, 3-1.

Three former Seminole Athletic Conference stars have all contributed to the Golden Knights this season.

Senior Cally Howell (Lake

Howell High School) has started 13 games and has three goals and six assists for 12 points and also has a game-winning goal.

Freshman C.C. Guillan (Seminole High School) has played in 13 games, starting one, and has scored three goals for 12 points and has a game-winning goal.

Freshman Brooke Asby (Oviedo High School) has played in all 15 games, starting 14, scoring one goal and adding three assists for a total of five points and she too has a game-winning goal.

Contributing to the Tribe's attack were junior outside hitter Michelle Cardel (11 digs, nine kills), junior setter/hitter Kim Corso (12 assists, seven digs), senior outside hitter Courtney Newman (11 digs, three kills), sophomore middle hitter/outside hitter Tara Wiggins (eight kills, seven digs), senior setter Kim Neleon (11 assists, two kills), sophomore middle hitter Jessica Chick (five kills, four solo blocks) and sophomore outside hitter Jessica Hermans (two digs).

"We can still play better," Corso said. "But we will take this impressive win tonight and try to build on it."

The Fighting Seminoles will close out the regular season at Bill Fleming Memorial Gymnasium tonight against Lake Brantley, which will also be Senior Night. The match will be a tripleheader beginning with the freshmen at 5 p.m., the junior varsity at 6 p.m. and the varsity at 7 p.m.

The Tribe will also host the district tournament next Thursday (Oct. 28th) at Bill Fleming Memorial Gymnasium. At 6 p.m., Lake Howell and Lyman will square off, with the winner of that match staying around to play the undefeated Fighting Seminoles (13-0) for the championship at 7 p.m.

Brian's Lawn Maintenance is 1-4 and I.F.I. is 0-5.

Next Wednesday night at Pinehurst Park, Vivona's plays Brian's Lawn Maintenance at 6:30 p.m.; Wilson-Eichelberger Funeral Home battles Beer :30 at 7:30 p.m.; and I.F.I. challenges Wells Contracting at 8:30 p.m.

Brian's Lawn Maintenance scored single runs in each of the first three innings to build a 3-0 lead before I.F.I. tied the game with three runs in the bottom of the third inning.

I.F.I. then took a 4-3 lead in the bottom of the fourth inning when Ray Bacak singled with one out and scored one back-to-back two out singles by David Rivera and Robert LaFountain.

Brian's Lawn Maintenance (which won the Spring League Championship under sponsorship by Public Junction) needed a two-out, no run out play in the top of the sixth inning to have extra innings.

Back-to-back walks to Vic DiBartolo and David Bennett set the stage for a game-tying RBI single by Rodney Curry.

In the top of the eighth inning, DiBartolo led off with a walk and advanced to second on a throwing error on a grounder off the bat of Bennett. DiBartolo got over to third as Curry forced Bennett at second and one out later, Oil Scott singled in DiBartolo with the go-ahead run.

Kyle Brubaker followed with a single to load the bases and Mike Miller drew a walk to plate Curry with an insurance run.

Vivona's took a 1-0 lead in the top of the first inning on an RBI single by Craig Split, but Beer :30 immediately took control as Mark Clatterback and Dean Farmer drove in runs in the bottom of the first inning.

Beer :30 then took the comfortable lead as six of the first seven batters in the second inning had hits and Vivona's would get no closer than 9-7 the remainder of the game.

Leading Brian's Lawn Maintenance to victory were Kyle Brubaker (three singles, run), Rodney Curry (single, run, RBI), Jerry Camm (single, run), Mike Miller, Dave Coss and Oil Scott (one single and one RBI each), David Bennett and Brian Von Herbulis (one single each), Vic DiBartolo (two runs, RBI) and Kent Brubaker (run).

Providing the offense for I.F.I. were Ray Bacak (three singles, run), Javier Camacho (double, single), David Rivera (two singles, run), Terry Atkinson and Bobby Brown (one double and one RBI each) and Chip Smith and Robert LaFountain (one single, one run scored and one RBI each).

Powering Beer :30 were Jamie Pitzer (double, single, two runs, two RBI), Jeremy Chunst (double, single, two runs, RBI), Jason Flanigan (double, single, RBI), Dean Farmer (two singles, run, RBI) and Ray Hartfield (two singles, run, RBI).

Also contributing were Mickey Cogburn (double, run), Tony Taylor (single, run, RBI), Mike McLohan and Ken Perkins (one single and one run scored each) and Mark Clatterback (RBI).

Doing the damage for Vivona's were Jimmy Kenny (double, two singles, run, RBI), Craig Split (three singles, two runs, RBI), Jay Otero (same run, single, run, two RBI) and Shannon Split and Manny Silvia (two singles and one RBI each).

Other contributors were Bobby Shaw (two singles, run), Brian Jones (two singles), Kevin Julian (double, run, RBI), Brian Cronin (single, run) and Andy Logan (run, RBI).

Brian's Lawn Maintenance	111 001 00 - 6 10
I.F.I.	000 100 00 - 4 11
Vivona's	100 010 1 - 6 15
Beer :30	070 010 2 - 10 14

off with a victory over the Hawks (6-0 overall, 3-0 in district and ranked No. 7 in the State Poll), but even a loss would not doom the Tribe as both Lyman and Maitland have two losses and both have lost to the Fighting Seminoles.

If Seminole is to win, they must stop Spruce Creek's star running back Jermaine Green (252 yards, 18 touchdowns) and find a way to dent a Hawks defense that has only allowed 48 points in six games.

The game, which will be shown live on Sunshine Network, also carries a revenge factor as Spruce Creek shutout the Tribe 14-0 last year.

Game time is set for 7:30 p.m. on Richard Kelly Field at Daytona Beach Municipal Stadium.

Meanwhile, at Don T. Reynolds Stadium, the Rams (5-1 overall, 4-0 in 6A-2) will be looking to stretch their winning streak to six games and also clinch a spot in the playoffs.

Lake Mary tuned up with a 32-6 victory at Colonial last Friday, while the Blue Darters suffered their first loss of the season by the same score to Lake Brantley (whom the Rams play next week).

A win by Lake Mary would eliminate Apopka from the district race and leave the title hunt in the hands of the Rams, Patriots and DeLand, which has only one district loss to Lake Mary but still has games with Apopka and Lake Brantley (which is idle this week).

In other games involving SAC schools on Friday, Oviedo (5-3 overall, 0-3 in 6A-2) returns from the bye week to host University (4-3 overall, 1-3 in district) at John Courier Field; and Winter Springs (2-4 overall, 1-2 in 5A-4) looks for its third straight win when the Bears host Lake Howell (0-6 overall, 0-3 in 5A-4), which is desperately in need of a win.

The Winter Springs-Lake Howell matchup is actually a big game as a win by the Bears would move them into a tie for third place in the district race with games left with Seminole and Lyman.

All of the games are set for 7:30 p.m. starts.

WIN AT BRIDGE

Instructive fictional characters

By Phillip Alder

One of the first bridge writers to use fictional characters was Hubert Phillips. This deal, from his "Brush Up Your Bridge" (David McKay Company, 1959), caught my eye. What do you think of the bidding? How would four spades by North fare? How should the play proceed in three no-trump?

I agree with South's pass over one heart, since I dislike 4-3-3-3 distribution and being opposite a passed partner. Facing a five-card major, West would normally raise to two hearts, but in England, where four-card majors rule, one no-trump is acceptable. South's jump to three no-trump was wild. Her partner had passed twice, so he was bidding all of her points. She should have passed. East's double was justified only by the result.

Here, four spades bids after a club lead; also declarer sets up South's heart king for a club discard.

West led the heart two; eight, ace, four. East came the heart 10; jack, queen, club two. West cleared the hearts. Then, when East was trick four with the spade ace, she cashed three heart tricks for two down, plus bid.

North, Mr. Playbook, pointed out that West did well not to lead the heart queen. Top of partner's suit was inexplicably de rigueur many years ago. However, West's heart-two lead and East's heart-10 return strongly suggested that West held the heart queen. And if so, the declarer, Lady Teary Tearful, could have made the contract by winning trick two, which would have blocked the suit. She drove out the spade ace and cruises home. So maybe three no-trump wasn't such a bad bid after all!

ASK DR. GOTT

Could symptoms indicate tapeworm?

DEAR DR. GOTT: Is it possible to get worms from pets? My cat had a tapeworm and was given medicine to get rid of it. Ever since, however, my abdomen has been distended. I have no energy, my blood pressure has been low, I'm losing weight, and I feel a writhing sensation inside. I'm not pregnant. If that's what you're thinking, what should I do?

DEAR READER: Get a stool analysis for worms. Cat tapeworm can be spread to humans by finger-to-mouth contact when the parasite's eggs are excreted, and up on sheets or in soil, and are inadvertently ingested.

That said, I doubt that your symptoms are due to a tapeworm. We are not usually aware of tapeworm infestation until anemia develops or we pass the parasites in the stool. You probably have to look elsewhere for other causes of your distention, low energy and writhing sensations. Nonetheless, a stool analysis is definitely in order.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I know that obesity, rapid weight loss and frequent changes in weight can increase the risk of gallstones. Is there anything I can do to prevent stone formation?

DEAR READER: Exercise. As surprising as this sounds, recreational physical activity may not only reduce the incidence of gallbladder surgery, but may also — in some unknown manner — prevent the formation of gallstones. These were the conclusions of a large study recently reported in the New England Journal of Medicine (September 9, 1999). Apparently, the level of beneficial exercise can be quite moderate: A daily 30 to 60 minute walk, for instance. Of course, regular physical activity provides other health benefits as well, such as better circulation, loosening of depression and improved cardiovascular conditioning. So, if you are prone to gallstones, start an exercise program.

To give you related information, I am sending you a copy of my new and completely updated Health Report "Diverticular Disease." Other readers who would like a copy should send $8 plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to P.O. Box 2817, Murray Hill Station, New York, NY 10188. Be sure to mention the title.

DEAR DR. GOTT: Why are some people especially prone to sleep breaks every hour? Does having a

DR. GOTT

PETER GOTT, M.D.

Intellectually help the situation?

DEAR READER: For unknown reasons, some people are more susceptible than others to unexplained frequent awakenings. Sleep specialists are agreed from one person to another; hence, awakenings are more common in close social situations, such as at meals and offices. Certain healthy individuals appear to carry sleep genes and not know it; therefore, they may feel well but are laboring with the problem. Finally, chronic awakenings may occur when the brain's arousal system is removing the blocks that prevent repeated awakenings.
