NEW SYSTEM OF WAGES TO FACE SOVIETS

Salaries To Be Based On Capitalistic Ideas Of Rewarding Individual Skill, Efforts

TALLAHASSEE, Apr. 18.—It is reported around the Capital this morning that the much talked of Intangible Tax will bob up next week. There will no doubt be quite a fight on it.

Introduced a bill today, to relieve the minor children of any deceased disabled World War Veterans from large tax liability in the event the estate is left to Government Compensation.

An act is being prepared which will give some teeth to the law compelling those who work in Florida but have legal residence in other states, to procure Florida license plates for their automobiles. This in as it should be, it was to us.

We expect a fight on the floor of the House Monday or Tuesday regarding the Congressional Districts bill. Many seem to be railing to our ears, and we certainly need them. The bill we hope to meet in House Bill No. 1.

The University of Florida Baseball team is playing at Tallahassee today, but, believe it or not, have not had an opportunity to get out to any of the games, much to my sorrow.

Several members have asked to be excused next week, in order that they may attend Grand Lodge meetings of the Free and Accepted Masons of Florida in Jacksonville. Masonic Lodge No. 10, at Jacksonville, Fla., is the first to be chartered in the State, and last year the 100th anniversary of the formation of the Grand Lodge in Florida, the Grand Lodge met here in capital.

Representative L. F. Hagan and Senator J. J. Parrish are at home on the week-end. Mr. Hagan on account of the illness of Mrs. Hagan, and Senator Parrish to attend a some important matters in connection with his large citrus interests.

The Governor's reception was very colorful last night, although many legislators were away at their homes over the week-end. The Governor's mansion is a beautiful residence, and Mrs. Cortez adds a great deal to it by her grace and charm of manner.

Seven-year-old Boy Kills His Brother With Shotgun Load

WRIGHTSVILLE, Ga., Apr. 20.—(AP)—Seven-year-old Fred Wilcher killed his brother, Ernest, 13, in Johnson county Saturday with a shotgun charge intended for a 16-year-old playmate, officers reported yesterday.

A coroner's jury returned a verdict late Saturday night that "Ernest Wilcher came to his death from gunshot wounds at the hands of his brother, Fred."

The three had been playing in a quarrel between Fred Wilcher and James G. Hilly, and the latter had fired the fatal shot. The parents of the Wilcher boys were away from home when the three assembled at a neighbor's house.

Sheriff Rowland said he believed James G. Hilly had fired the fatal shot. "I'll not say when you see my friend, the sheriff, said, reached home ahead of the boys, and the shot was fired, and the boys were killed."

LABOR ALLIANCE SEEKS TO CHANGE PROHIBITION LAW

Planning Campaign To Get Return Of Sanitary And Temperance

WASHINGTON, Apr. 20.—(AP)—Organized labor yesterday announced plans for initiating a nation-wide campaign for "a return of temperance and sanity" through modification of the Volstead act. Announcement was made by labor's national committee for modification, set up by the American Federation of Labor, that a meeting would be held in Philadelphia, Apr. 27 and 28, by approximately 200 elected delegates from all parts of the country.

Matthew Wall, president of the committee and a vice president of the American Federation of Labor, said "a network of local organizations into every community will be formed" immediately after the conference.

Meantime, the Methodist Episcopal board of temperance has set again at the Quebec liquor control system. An article in its weekly clip-sheet said the board had reached the "concluding" conclusion that apart from its consumption of beer, Quebec has, through its liquor commission sales, increased its consumption of

Three Youths Are Injured In Head-On Smash Yesterday

A white youth, Milton Moots, Colby Avenue, was in the Fernald-Laughton Memorial Hospital this morning suffering cuts and bruises which he received in a head-on automobile collision last night in which Henry Clelland and Maynard Leonard, white youths, were also injured. The latter had their wounds dressed at the hospital and were allowed to proceed to their homes.

The accident took place at about 2:00 o'clock last night near the home of Dr. S. Puleston, Rose Court. A Ford roadster, driven by Henry Clelland, with Milton Moots as a passenger, was being driven north on Sanford Avenue. Maynard Leonard, driving a Ford coupe, was going south on the same street. According to Clelland, Leonard suddenly started across the street in front of his car, as if to turn into the Puleston driveway. Unable to swerve his car in time to avoid a collision, Clelland said he and Leonard hit head-on. Moore was cut about the head by flying glass, and received chest injuries. Leonard also was cut and bruised when he was jammed against the steering wheel of the car. The cars did not turn over.

Passing motorists rushed the trio to the hospital where it was found that Moore's injuries were the most serious. Clelland and Leonard had their wounds dressed, and departed for their homes.

A wrecker from Reel and Ront carried the automobiles to a garage where damages to the extent of $100 in each case were estimated. Officer Ge. J. Gray investigated the case.

Masonic Degree Will Be Conferred Here

At the next regular communication of Sanford Lodge No. 22, F. and A. M., which will be held at the Masonic Temple tomorrow night, the Master Mason's degree will be conferred.

James G. Huff, worshipful master, stated that the lodge will be opened promptly at 7:30 o'clock, and preparations have been made to make this meeting one of the best held so far this year. All members of Sanford Lodge are expected to be present, and a special invitation is given to Master Masons. Refreshments will be served at the conclusion of the work.

Statute Says Nude Bathing Is Okey At Night In California

SANTA BARBARA, Calif., Apr. 20.—(AP)—It is lawful to take a dip in the Pacific ocean from Santa Barbara's broad sands, sunbathing, providing the plunge is taken between the hours 8 P. M. and 6 A. M.

Chief of Police Sloan yesterday said a 50-year-old ordinance permitted it.

But, the chief added, he planned to go before city council and demand a revision of the ordinance of 1881. He said sentiment about the town was pretty thoroughly crystallized behind him.

The ancient ordinance was called to Chief Sloan's attention by persons whose identity he did not reveal. The chief said reports had been current some time that bathing minus bathing suits had been flitting about the sands late at night or in the grey of dawn. Each time such a report was received a squad car dashed out but arrived too late to capture the next-innate swimmers.

It was after a report had been received that young women were playing in the water at night without any bathing suits that the ordinance was called Chief Sloan's attention. The squad car nearly arrived on time on that occasion.

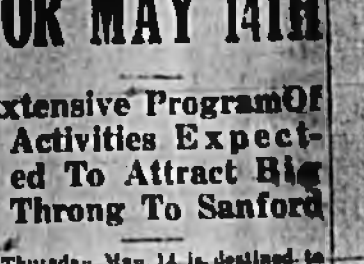

The next morning the dog-eared ordinance reading "it shall be unlawful for any person or persons to bathe on a public beach without first properly attiring himself or herself, in such a manner that none shall be embarrassed, except that it shall be lawful between the hours of 8 P. M. and 6 A. M., to bathe in the nude," was placed on Chief Sloan's desk.

Legislators Return After Week-End Rest

TALLAHASSEE, Apr. 20.—(AP)—Florida legislators returned to their desks this afternoon for continued consideration of plans to alter the state's financial and tax systems after a week-end recess. A heavy volume of new bills is scheduled to be filled in both houses.

Handling other pieces of legislation in addition to four investigating committees charged in state various extra legislative duties are standing committees called to report on many of more than 400 bills already introduced.

Parrish which answers as did the telegram from Representative Geo. W. The telegram in answer to one of inquiry by Mr. Papworth, reads as follows: "Supplied to learn some people think we are tampering with routing State Road No. 41 different than the old bill. This road will remain with routing it has always had. The bill introduced only reveals the matter of building a bridge so that the state can get in the bridge."

CRUISERS HEAD FOR HONDURAS AS PROTECTION

Precautionary Measures Taken As Result Of Revolution On Northern Coast

WASHINGTON, Apr. 20.—(AP)—American officials today pushed forward precautionary measures for the protection of their citizens from the backwash of revolution along Honduras' northern coast. Although official reports failed to show any American thus far has been injured, nevertheless the cruiser Memphis rode at anchor off La Ceiba, largest seaport of the troubled area, while the cruisers Trenton and Marblehead were speeding from Cuba to other Honduran coast towns.

Minister Lay at Tegucigalpa telegraphed the state department that no revolutionary force had come nearer than 30 miles to the principal seaport and predicted the rising soon would end. The rebel forces, he said, appeared to be composed of unemployed communists and riff-raff and criminals of Northern Honduras, and acting apparently in support of the presidential aspirations of General Ferrera.

April Shows Signs Of Downward Turn From March Spurt

NEW YORK, Apr. 20.—(AP)—Although business conditions during March showed signs of improvement, the National Industrial Conference board reported yesterday, the first half of April brought signs of downward tendencies.

While gains in some industries "were greater than is seasonally expected, there is as yet little reason to believe that a continuation of the upturn from the present depressed level is assured," the board stated.

Wholesale prices were reported to have maintained the level attained in February but fell off slightly during the first half of this month.

A gain of 25 percent over February's automobile passenger car and truck production was noted, one percent less than the normal seasonal upturn. A larger upturn was reported in building and engineering contracts with an increase over February of 67 percent against a normal upturn of 45 percent.

Steel ingot production also topped the normal during the month with a gain of 10 percent. Normal is five. Bituminous coal and newspaper production also passed normal.

Consumption of electric power in March approximated February's level while a two percent decline is usual between the two months. Department store and mail order sales increased over the last month, but were below the normal. The board reported that employment in manufacturing industries gained one percent over February and total payroll increased by .7 percent.

"It is with great pleasure that I proceed with the second inauguration of the Vatican radio station, the first being an inauguration of faith while the second is an inauguration of science," the pope said. "Of both faith and science the only star is God. Therefore the Vatican council has been able to proclaim that there is no contradiction between faith and science."

OH YEAH!

By PETER SCHAAL

Well, the schedule makers and the Jupiler Pluvius fixed things up the big leagues yesterday so that only two teams were able to finish out their differences. While the American league clubs were having a day of rest, the Cubs and Cardinals-Reds were supposed to have finished their season before visiting new fields today. The Cards were rained out, but put that down in the book as the first postponed game of the season.

Old Rajah Hornaby, the team manager of the Cubs, was the big gun in their win over the Pirates by a 5 to 4 score. He home run with Cayles and English on the base, did the trick in the seventh inning. The Pirates started off with a bang, hitting five home runs. Char Wood was going like a house on fire, holding the Cubs to two runs in the sixth through, the Cubs had nicked Wood for two runs and four of their nine hits. When those Chicago boys hit two men out in the seventh, Manager Em decided that Young should need a bath, so Bodnar came into the fray. Hornaby re-arranged Bodnar's mind about those two men on the sack by knocking the second ball pitcher out of the lot, serving both of them. Bodnar held the Cubs to two singles after that.

The Pirates didn't let five runs against the one they had atop them though, for they rallied in the eighth and put over two runs for 11 hits. Guy Bush was nicked at the end of the eighth, and when another scoring spree seemed like the Pirates put two men on the base with two singles. The ninth was replaced by Sweetland, that old timer pitched to but two men, the first flying out to the infield, and the second getting to first on a walk. That man on first was the winning run, if every-thing went smoothly, so Sweetland was replaced by Bob Smith, who set the Cubs down in order, aided by some fine fielding. The Cubs therefore won the series, three games to one, Hornaby winning two of the games by his home runs.

Today the American league clubs will finish their first series as will the Braves-Robins and Giants-Phillies. The Cards start a series with the Cubs in Chicago, and the Pirates go to Cincinnati for a few games.

"MUTINY ROCKS BASEBALL." Under that headline in a leading sporting journal comes the startling news that a mutiny and plenty of it probably along the baseball front. Hornaby is said to be in touch with other members of the Cubs, particularly Hack Wilson, the home run king. The club itself is supposed to be the author of the statement that he and Hack have had words, and that he has even gone so far as to tell Hack how to bat and field. Dassy Vance, the strike-breaker specialist is supposed to have told someone that the Reds are going to be sorry that they didn't pay him the $25,000 he asked, when the season ends. He signed for $23,000. He is quoted as saying that the $2,000 difference may stand between the Robins and the pennant.

Over in St. Louis the mutiny is hard at it, according to the story. The Browns, all of them, are said to be displaying indifference to the face of Manager Bill Miller, who, it is claimed, said that there wasn't a player on the team who had the ability to be a regular. The World's Champion Cardinals are even up in arms, and already Dixie Dean has had two fights with Manager Gabby Street. The players seem to be re-arranging the Hafez affair, and the fact that Donahill and five more were said to be trading material.

Whether the stories are true or not, it seems to me that it's time to get the truth out of the clubhouse and see if they can see that that supposed mutiny is a bluff. Just as the face of the mutiny, you'll think that there are some of the best players in the game. The American league would be sorry to lose them.

whether it's a publicity stunt whether the paper which published it needed some startling news for its readers, or whether it's the actual low-down on baseball's biggest battle-ground. Why did I bring it up for gosh sake! Let me get out from under by saying, well, true or false, what difference does it make? The pen-ultimate rates ought to be tighter when some of the leading clubs fight among themselves. That's what baseball needs, tighter rates which are figured in by more than two clubs.

Just when we were getting ready to tell you that a Moses had been found to lead some of the baseball players and fans in this town out of the wilds of a sports-barren summer here, we read that Crescent City, has decided to replace Sanford in the six-club league which was formally organized last Monday night at Daytona. That will be the circuit composed of Cocoa, Winter Park, DeLand, Daytona, Crescent City, and St. Augustine.

However, Sid Rive and Emil Ammon, the veteran ball players who decided that they would handle the club here this year, have also decided that they would go to Daytona Monday night to attend a scheduled meeting, and try to enter the league somehow. It seems to me that the wise thing to do would be to drop St. Augustine from the list and take on Sanford because the chances are that it may be too costly for a semi-pro club to have to take such a long jump week after week. Winter Park and Cocoa would have to travel over 100 miles to play a game, for instance. I think Sid and Emil are going to try to argue their way into the league on that argument.

In the meantime, Sid and Emil landed an appeal for ball-players who are interested. All they can offer is part of a uniform, and a ride to out-of-town games. The salary will be small, maybe not more than $5 a week, but naturally it depends upon the way the club plays. The way times are now, that $5, which will at least buy beans, should not be overlooked. Games will be played on Thursdays and Sundays.

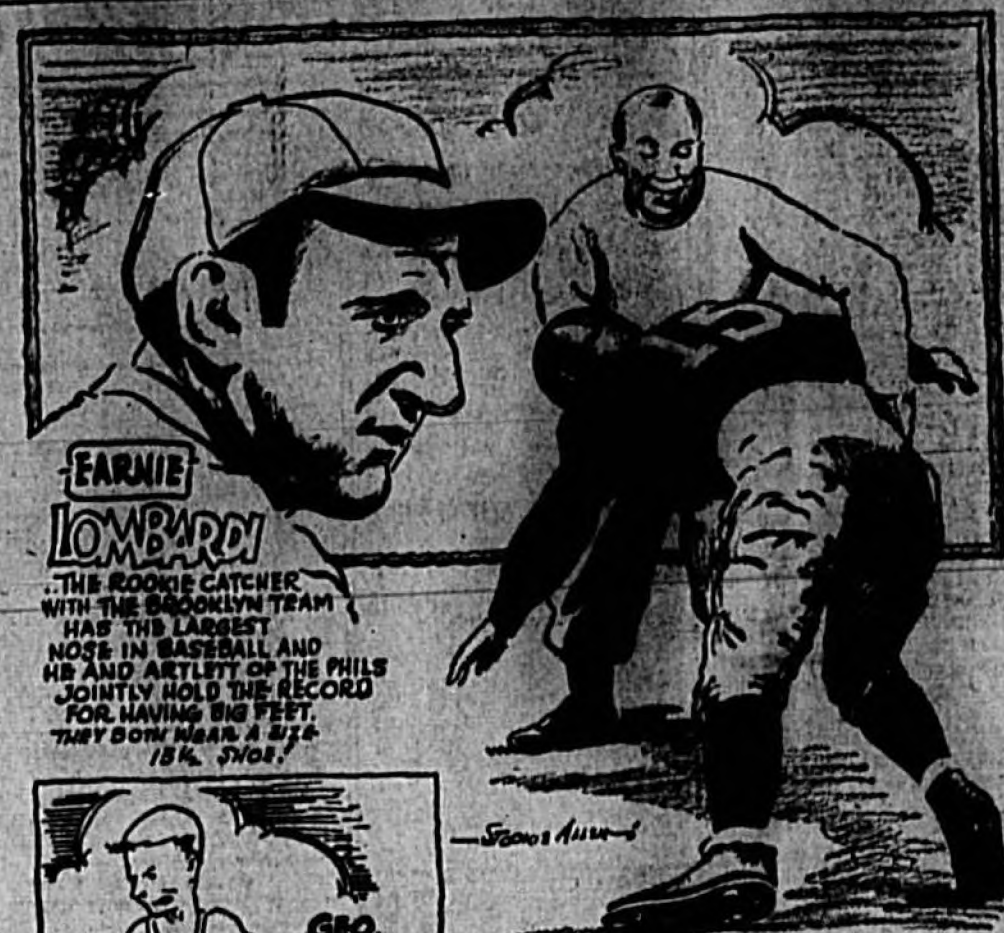

If there are any old timers here who would like to get back in the game, any college men or ex-college men who had even mediocre success, or any sandlotiers who want to break in, get in touch with Sid, Emil, or the writer at once. Dig up that old glove and take the oldest boy out in the back yard for a few minutes of limbering up that old arm. Cut down on Camels a few days. Players who have already agreed to work out are Bert Chapman, the former Red Sox catcher; Floyd Palmer, Cal Dennis, Mutt Moyer, John Weaver, Emmett McCall, Sid Rive, Emil Ammon, Roy Harrison, Leonard McLucas, Phillip Miller, Joe Masters, and others. Each of those players has been doing all he can to further sports in Sanford, and they deserve their lots of credit. However, there surely must be several newcomers in Sanford who have come in ball sometime, and would like to get in this semi-pro league. Let's hear from you right away, for the league is set to open Sunday, Apr. 24, and we only have a week in which to practice.

Coach Leonard McLucas' track team, entered in the 17th annual Florida high school meet, found the going rather rough in the preliminary events of the meet which were run off yesterday, and placed but three men in the finals which were run off today. John Stanley placed in two events, the 120-yard high hurdles and the 220-yard low hurdles, and George Moyer placed in one event, third in the fourth heat of the 100-yard dash. Lindsey was third in the third heat of the 400-yard dash. No records fell, and the meet was said to be somewhat slow and uninteresting. Miami placed 19 men in final competition today, leading all other teams by a wide margin. Tip Parlin of Oviedo placed in the 100 yard dash by winning the fourth heat in 10.6 seconds.

The Robins lost an exhibition game to Hartford, 6 to 4 yesterday; the Giants won from Camden, 4 to 1; Richmond whips the Athletics, 5 to 4, and the Yanks beat the Army at West Point 14 to 1. Second teams played in most cases.

I forgot to tell you yesterday that Jimmy Fox is out of the game for a few days with a series of strained leg ligaments; that Staffy McCross, the top first baseman who spends his winters in Sanford is with the Winston-Salem team this year; that young Henry Johnson of the Yankees struck out 11 of the Red Sox last Wednesday, a feat which is rarely done; and that a second team that is

GAR WOOD PLANS NOT TO REST TILL HE BEATS RECORD
Is Planning To Smash Kaye Don's Recent Mark To Smithers

MIAMI BEACH, Apr. 18—(AP)—Gar Wood said here Friday he would not rest until the world's speedboat record of 103.49 miles an hour established by Kaye Don of England "is smashed to smithers."

Wood said he was not discouraged because he was unsuccessful in his attempts Friday to break Don's record and that he would re-attack the bottom of his Miss America IX and do considerable mechanical work on the two 12-cylinder engines. He asserted he would be ready to renew his assault on the present world's mark within two weeks.

The Detroit sportsman's best two-way average Friday was made on the fourth and fifth of his nine runs, when he was timed at 102.800 and 103.940 miles an hour respectively over the measured mile course. His average for the two runs was 103.069 miles an hour, which he said exceeded by .811 miles an hour the former American record of 102.256 he set here in the same boat March 20.

Two other runs were slightly faster than the fourth but they could not be used in computing a two-way average because they were not completed within a 30-minute period required in claiming a record.

Wood said he may go to New York on business within the next few days but that if he did he would return in time for further record trials within two weeks.

"I will not rest until the Englishman's record, if it is a record is smashed to smithers," he said. "And I'll not be satisfied with bettering his time by a fraction of a mile an hour. The Miss America IX, when we finish making a few contemplated adjustments, will step along at about 105 miles an hour, I believe."

RING PROMOTERS SEEK TO OBTAIN CARNERA RIGHTS

Jimmy Johnston Appears To Be In Line For Promotion Job

By EDWARD J. NEIL
NEW YORK, Apr. 18—(AP)—The business of gaining control of Primo Carnera, now that the man mountain has been turned back into circulation by the New York state athletic commission, progressed rapidly Friday in the direction of Jimmy Johnston.

The dapper little Englishman, who has stepped out of the fight managers' ranks to harass Madison Square Garden with the most serious promotional opposition since the feud of Humbert Fugazy and the late Tex Richard, buzzed briskly about the fight marks clenching his hold on the vast Venetian Madison Square Garden has Carnera like to a contract to meet the winner of the July 3 heavyweight title match between Max Baer and Young Stribling in Cleveland, but Jimmy has assured the Italian fighter that he will reveal at the proper time legal loopholes in the document so wide that even a Carnera can squeeze through.

Johnston's plans have reached the point where he intends to bring Jack Sharkey to New York in financial difficulty. He goes to Brook's home to get the details. Brook tells him that the trouble can be straightened, and that the most important thing is to keep the news quiet and thus avert a panic. Baneroff at first consents but then observing that Brook's luggage is packed as if for a trip, he guesses wrongly that Brook is leaving town to escape responsibility for the bank trouble.

Returning to his office he sends reporters and photographers to remain near Brook's mansion for news, and pictures of the banker's flight.

When the scribbles return they have surprising photos of Brook and Kay embracing in one of the rooms of Brook's home. Baneroff is staggered by this display of faithfulness on the part of his wife, but he looks at it in the light of a big news scoop and orders the story published on the front page with all the pictures. Then he dictates another story telling of the shooting of Brook by himself—and sets out to commit the deed.

Bancroft and Clive Brook Are In Film At Milane Tonight

"If it's news, print it!—that's the code of George Bancroft, managing editor of a sensational 'Scandal Sheet,' appearing at the Milane Theater today. Gilbert Emery, publisher and owner of the paper, often protests about this theory, but Bancroft tells him—"I either print 'em or I quit," and since this news printing campaign is building up circulation for the sheet, and making this newspaper a powerful factor in the community, Emery has to give in to him.

Clive Brook, the city's leading banker, is in love with Bancroft's wife, Kay Francis. Although Bancroft is very kind to her, Kay feels his newspaper work so much that she begins to lose her affection for him and listens to the temptations of Brook. When the latter proposes that she run away with him to Europe, Kay promises that she will come to his home to give him the answer at 5:00 o'clock on the following day. Brook has reason to believe she will say yes.

On the morning of the next day Bancroft learns that Brook's bank

Vulture Flies Into Plane's Propeller Causing Accident

BOMBAY, India, Apr. 18. (AP)—A vulture which flew into the propeller was indirectly the cause of the serious injury four persons, including Prince George Bibeaco of Rumania, when plane made a forced landing in Bengal yesterday.

The prince, who is president of the International Aeronautical federation, was flying with two Rumanian pilots and an English mechanic from La Bourget, France, to Indo-China in a three-engine 16-passenger transport plane in the interests of international aviation.

Landing at the Banrull air-drome yesterday morning, the prince reported that a vulture flew into one of the propellers. It was not thought that any serious damage had been done.

Brook tells him that the trouble can be straightened, and that the most important thing is to keep the news quiet and thus avert a panic. Baneroff at first consents but then observing that Brook's luggage is packed as if for a trip, he guesses wrongly that Brook is leaving town to escape responsibility for the bank trouble.

Returning to his office he sends reporters and photographers to remain near Brook's mansion for news, and pictures of the banker's flight.

When the scribbles return they have surprising photos of Brook and Kay embracing in one of the rooms of Brook's home. Baneroff is staggered by this display of faithfulness on the part of his wife, but he looks at it in the light of a big news scoop and orders the story published on the front page with all the pictures. Then he dictates another story telling of the shooting of Brook by himself—and sets out to commit the deed.

Clive Brook, the city's leading banker, is in love with Bancroft's wife, Kay Francis. Although Bancroft is very kind to her, Kay feels his newspaper work so much that she begins to lose her affection for him and listens to the temptations of Brook. When the latter proposes that she run away with him to Europe, Kay promises that she will come to his home to give him the answer at 5:00 o'clock on the following day. Brook has reason to believe she will say yes.

Authorities Ask Abdicated King To Leave For His Own Safety

PARIS, Apr. 20.—(AP)—Desiring to avoid possible complications, French police are understood to have invited the Duke of Orleans, formerly Alfonso XIII of Spain, to retire with his suite from Paris if he intends to remain in France.

It was pointed out that France cannot prevent Alfonso from crossing the frontier and attacking the royal visitor. It is stated that the cabinet discussed the problem of the abdicated king's safety yesterday night and a police official later visited the Duke of Mirandol, Alfonso's chamberlain.

The former monarch was unofficially reported to be planning to seek refuge at a Fontainebleau hotel. The police's attitude is that he could be better protected against a possible attack in some smaller locality.

Alfonso's visit to a Fontainebleau chateau Saturday was understood to have been a bid for his inspection of the hotel d'Angletiers there which is one of the most expensive of French provincial hotels.

Left newspapers are siding on France's warm welcome of the king as a ground for criticizing the government. They say that while it was all right to give him a royal reception, it must be remembered that Alfonso is not a "staunch supporter of liberty." They cite political executions in Spain.

General Weygand, commander-in-chief of the French army, yesterday paid respects to Alfonso by signing his register at the hotel.

MADRID, Apr. 20.—(AP)—After a tempestuous week which saw the ancient Spanish monarchy swept aside and a republic established, the new government yesterday took inventory of its accomplishments during its brief existence and counted 11 nations which have given it recognition.

The country was reported peaceful today, in contrast with the excitement of last Sunday's epochal elections. All universities will be reopened today after having been closed for some time because of disturbances among the students who favored establishment of the republic.

The countries which have recognized the new republic, according to the announcement here, are France, Mexico, Portugal, Uruguay, Cuba, Chile, Argentina, Greece, Turkey, Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia. The provisional government expressed satisfaction at this favorable reception of its regime and feels confident that the United States and other powers will soon take similar action.

Italy and the Vatican have only delayed recognition, but Provisional President Nicolo Alcala Zamora has made it clear that he desires no friction with the Catholic Church and will try to give the Vatican no reason for withholding recognition. Many republicans, however, are insisting upon separation of the church and the state. This will be decided at the forthcoming republican assembly after general elections are held.

High churchmen are known to be disturbed over the establishment of the republic. The government continues to indicate its attitude will be liberty and freedom for all religions.

Spanish women have decided to demand equal rights under the new republican regime. The new assembly will decide the question.

She was about 5 feet 6 inches tall, weighed 120 pounds.

Clothing found nearby was of good material. There was a fur trimmed coat, a light dress, a smock such as worn by clerks, and two lingeries.

An army blanket and a package containing a brassiere and a pair of hose were found in a gully a short distance from the body. The brassiere and hose had been purchased Saturday from a store in San Diego.

San Antonio was reported to be searching for the girl had been seen.

Miss Mary Ann said the last time she saw the girl's neck was on the night of the 13th. She said she saw the girl with her arms raised in the air.

Two flight attendants were also seen at the scene. They said they saw the girl's body hanging from the tree.

LIGHT FROCKS WITH DARK COATS

The beige and gray tweed ensembles is typical of styles chosen by smart women in New York because of its interesting draped collar line which is one of the outstanding details in coat fashions. This cape-like scarf is hand-cut with beige fox and lies on the shoulder. The sleeves, widening at the wrist, are untrimmed. The turban is of the same fabric.

The light dress under the dark coat is another striking style widely sponsored. In this instance a white crepe dress is worn under a black wool crepe coat. White lining gloves, a white patent leather bag, and a white band on the black rough straw hat are details.

Plaids and checks, while not numerous, were among the smartest types. The one illustrated joins a blue, red and white plaid in skirt and scarf with a jacket of blue wool crepe. The turban is blue felt with plaid piping down the center. Shoes and bag are navy blue kid.

Honduran government and revolutionary forces at Progresso in dispatches received last night by the Standard Fruit and Steamship company, which has extensive holdings in the area.

No information had been received of the outcome of the battle but both revolutionists and the government were reported hurriedly recruiting their forces.

American women and children were being sent from the interior and concentrated at La Ceiba and Trujillo. Three naval cruisers and steamships were en route to the ports to take off refugees if necessary.

The revolutions started Saturday night with a small detachment and were reported gaining recruits along the way from native laborers and farmers armed with rifles, pistols, machetes and other weapons.

Authorities were reported to regard the revolution as seriously as that of 1924.

The report said the revolution was led by Gen. Gregorio Ferrera, the flashing Indian chieftain who revolted in 1924, was defeated and retired to his farm. He was described as the strongest military figure in the country.

The aim of the revolutionists was said to be the capture of the four largest ports of the country, La Ceiba, Tela, Trujillo, and Portico.

A detachment of 500 revolutionists in command of Gen. Lopez Gullterres was reported at Progresso and marching on Tela and headed for Trujillo. Gullterres was described as another experienced revolutionary who participated in the 1924 uprising.

Gen. Ferrera was reported to have announced that his followers would not disturb foreigners or foreign property and that he had a friendly attitude toward America. So far no reports have been received of injury to foreigners or damage to foreign property.

Ferrera's families with Honduras and if the revolutionists were successful in capturing the northern coast, they would have virtual possession of the country, as they would control the financial centers, customs and the principal port of entry. They would be in a strategic position, they said, to march on Tegucigalpa, the capital. They also would control access to all railroads.

President Milla Meléndez was reported to be marshaling his troops and to have sent out detachments to Tegucigalpa. The government's armed forces were estimated at 1,000 but were reported to be demoralized by lack of funds.

From Tegucigalpa, however, several reports of Honduras were reported to indicate that the revolutionists were making progress.

A number of Sanford merchants, who were the special guests of the trade body, were present, including George Weinstein, president of the Independent Merchants Association. Mr. Weinstein thanked the Sanford Chamber of Commerce for the valuable support which it has extended to the Merchants Association during the past year, and pledged the co-operation of the nearly 90 members of the association which he represents.

Members present heard Mr. Fawcett read communications from Representative Geo. W. McRory and the Florida Railroad Commission regarding state road number 44 and the closing of the depot at Geneva, respectively. Upon motion of E. W. Bender, secretary of the trade body, the group went on record as endorsing the candidacy of J. S. Crutcher, of Fittsburgh, as a member of the United States Chamber of Commerce governing body. The motion was made following a request by Linton E. Allen, president of the Sanford-Atlantic National Bank.

Mr. Bender also offered a motion that the trade body endorse the proposed legislation sponsored by the Isaac Walton League of Florida, called to the attention of the group by W. E. Walthall of the local branch of the league. It concerned the shipment of black bass out of the state, as well as between various sections in Florida.

Alex R. Johnson, vocational director of Seminole High School spoke briefly on the proposed county-wide celebration to be known as the first annual Farmers Day, which would be staged in Sanford, May 14. He asked the support of the trade body, which was answered when President Papworth appointed Sam E. Highlyman as chairman of the committee composed of himself, J. L. Marantette, and R. W. Pearson, to attend any meetings of the Farmers Club and ascertain the part the organization could play in the success of the day's events. He also appointed the chairman of the various town members of the Board of Governors to look after the welfare of the idea in each of the localities they live in.

Short talks were heard from the following county representatives: Ben F. Hitts, Altamonte Springs, C. H. Ellis, Lake Mary, and B. T. Tiller, Paola, while the following men introduced themselves to the gathering: C. F. Bales, Lake Monroe, M. C. Ameringer, Lake Monroe, J. E. Fox, Paola, J. A. Logan, and H. B. Levy, Geneva. The Sanford speakers included Mayor T. L. Duran, Judge James G. Sharpe, Prof. T. W. Lawton and Al White.

While these statements were being issued in Washington, Prohibition Director Woodcock was en route to Denver for an inspection of conditions in eight of the northwestern states and Hawaii.

A hint that he would like to return from his post, seen in a statement immediately before his departure that an appointment to a federal judgeship would be "welcome," had no further developments today.

The announcement from the labor committee of its plan of campaign for a return of beer and wine said it intended to "use all honorable means" to secure this end.

"Ranking officers of most of the national and international unions will attend the conference," the statement said. "The gathering will be in fact a national labor convention. It will be thoroughly representative and it will carry back into every state and into almost every community a unified program and a plan of action that will be vigorous and continuous."

Among the speakers will be Mrs. Charles L. Sabn, president of the women's organization for national prohibition reform and Senator Wagner of New York.
