Amnesty Granted To Anti-Soviet Russians
Rostov, Russia, Feb. 2.—Premier Rykoff announced Monday that the government had decided to extend amnesty to all those who, during the civil war were identified with the anti-soviet armies of Denikin and Wrangel or who were connected with the anti-revolutionary movement. It is said to be the most sweeping concession to the Russian people since beginning of the revolution.

BLIZZARD DELAYS SERUM SHIPMENT TO NOME, ALASKA

Communication Line sDown Makes It Impossible To Ascertain Whereabouts Of Dog Team With Anti-Toxin
NOME, Feb. 2.—A blizzard is raging along the Bering Sea Coast with the temperature hovering around 10 below zero and a wind blowing with great force. Communication lines are down with no means of ascertaining the whereabouts of the dog team with anti-toxin serum. Time of its arrival here has been rendered uncertain.

Relay Teams Placed
Robert Summers, superintendent of the Alaska road commission, issued orders for stringing out a number of teams to rush the serum on the last leg of 650 mile journey from Nenana on the Alaskan railroad when the last bit of six year old supply of serum was used. On account of the small supply of anti-toxin due to arrive Monday the city health board issued an appeal Sunday night for Roy S. Darling, former navy flier, not to abandon plans to fly to Nome from Nenana with 1,100,000 units of anti-toxin shipped from Seattle Saturday.

Committee Considers Farm Proposals
WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—The House Agriculture Committee, called to order brief hearings, took up the task today of shaping recommendations of the President's Agricultural Commission into the legislative program that they might have best chance of enactment in the crowded final month of the session. Leaders generally, however, are doubtful if any substantial part of it will be put through before adjournment.

NOMINATION OF STONE OKEYED BY COMMITTEE

Senator Walsh and Others Against Stone's Action In Prosecuting Wheeler, Not to Oppose The Selection

Walsh And Borah To Present Wheeler Case
Stone's Position In The Wheeler Prosecution Was Made Clear In The Past Week

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—For the second time, the senate judiciary committee Monday ordered favorable report on the nomination of Attorney General Stone to be supreme court justice.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—A second favorite report, the nomination of Attorney General Stone to be a justice of the supreme court is forecast by a majority of the members of the senate judiciary committee when the nomination is reconsidered Monday.

Senator Walsh (D.) Montana, and other senators who are opposed to the action of the department of justice in presenting a conspiracy charge against Senator Wheeler (D.) Montana, and other persons of that state to a district court grand jury instead of to a grand jury in their own state, have stated they will interpose no further objection to the confirmation of Mr. Stone.

To Discuss Case
These senators expect to discuss the new Wheeler case in the senate, but say this will have no bearing on the question of the nomination. Senator Walsh, who is counsel for Senator Wheeler, plans to make his position clear in an address Monday, and Senator Borah (R.) Idaho, intends to speak on the question at some later time.

Both senators will argue that by bringing in the District of Columbia an action that should be in the home state of the men under investigation is violative of a fundamental principle of law. They contend that once the principle of such federal government action is established an increasing number of cases will be brought out in the courts here, thus working a hardship on defendants by compelling them to travel hundreds of thousands of miles to make their defense.

Position Made Clear.
Attorney General Stone made his position clear to senators in the committee last week. He agrees that there is a fundamental principle of law that a man should be tried in the vicinage of his place where a crime has been committed and contends that in the present instance if there has been any crime many of the overt acts were committed in the District of Columbia.

Under present plans the government will begin this week the presentation of evidence to the grand jury. There are numerous persons under investigation and Mr. Stone has stated that approximately seventy witnesses will go before the jury. These are exclusive of witnesses for Senator Wheeler who have been summoned.

As described by the attorney general, this inquiry is into an alleged conspiracy to defraud the government out of valuable oil and mineral lands in Montana. Besides the Montana men, one or more government officials is under investigation.

Wilson And Housholder Announce Partnership In Local Law Practice
Partnership between Ernest F. Housholder who retired from the post of county judge a short time ago, and Fred R. Wilson, well known Sanford attorney was announced Monday morning. The new firm, which is to be known as Wilson and Housholder, will have offices in the First National Bank building.

Judge Housholder when he stepped from the county court bench to take the post of prosecuting attorney, terminated an eight year period on the bench. He accepted the office in January, 1917, relinquishing about Feb. 1.

Mr. Wilson has been engaged in the practice of law in Sanford since Sept. 1, 1922. In addition to attending to his law duties he has found time to work as chairman of the legislative committee of the Sanford Chamber of Commerce and to hold the directing post of the Seminole County Welfare Board.

SHOALS LEASING GOLF CLUB TAKES IS DENOUNCED BY FARMER COUNCIL TUESDAY EVENING

Charge That Underwood Bill Would Give Away Last of National Resources Made by U. S. Managing Director.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—Supporters of the Underwood bill for the leasing of Muscle Shoals were criticized in a statement issued Sunday night by Benjamin C. Marsh, managing director of the farmers' national council.

Asserting that the measure was being put through "to prevent a public super-power system and to give away the last natural resource left to the American people," the statement added:

"It has been a bi-partisan despoiling of this and future generations from Alabama, and Hoopa, working through by law, with the public utility magnate of Illinois, Senator McKinley, who was rewarded by being put on the conference call to concoct the final legislative Muscle Shoals mess which congress must swallow or disgorge. Pat Harrison, who knighted the Republican Teapot Domes scandal at the Democratic convention, promoted the rape of Muscle Shoals, hand in glove with Senator Snoot of Utah, high priest of protection."

Modification Draft Starts
Muscle Shoals conferees plan to settle down tomorrow to the task of actually drafting modifications to the Underwood leasing bill.

The conferees thus far have been devoted to a general discussion of the bill and the whole Muscle Shoals question. Believing now that they virtually have reached an understanding on the principal issue, conferees expect to begin the preparation of their report today.

Their main attention has been devoted to the fertilizer provisions of the bill and the present plan is to rewrite the whole section.

Among other plans to come before the club is the appointment of a committee to conduct a campaign for new members. The special affairs committee will enter into preparations for a dance to be held at the country club on Valentine's Day.

To Raise Fertilizer Profits
The conferees also are understood to have agreed to raise the price of fertilizer from 10 cents per bushel to 15 cents per bushel. Other changes now are being considered a free hand in drafting a measure that would give the presiding conference.

Conferees expect to complete their report this week and have it referred to the senate and house for final action. House and senate managers plan to call it up at the respective bodies for votes as early as opportunity permits.

PEACE REIGNS WHILE THOROUGH INVESTIGATION IS BEING HELD IN HERRIN'S LATEST TRAGEDY

BUILDING RECORD DURING JANUARY SHOWS BIG GAIN

Construction Figures Show Last Month Eclipsed January, 1924, by 86.1 Per Cent; Many Homes Going Up

Building permits for the last month eclipsed January building records for the past three years with large gains, according to figures made public by City Clerk, L. R. Phillips, Monday morning. Construction figures for last month were announced at $75,275 or a gain of 84.6 per cent over January last year when permits totaled $40,777.

Last month eclipsed the January 1923 record by $40,815 or a gain of 104 per cent. It also eclipsed January, 1922 by $51,810 or 384.7 per cent. January 1924 had a gain over January 1923 of $12,317 or 43.2 per cent while January 1923 had a gain over the corresponding month of 1922, of $11,995, or 111 per cent.

A table of January records for four years is as follows:

Year	Total	Gain
1922	$24,465	$14,005
1923	38,490	40,777
1924	40,777	12,317
1925	75,275	34,498

In breaking past January building records for the past years, last month saw work started on a large number of new homes, which, is pointed out, as an indication of the steady growth of this city and of the increased interest in the "own your own home" movement.

Among the new homes started during the month were the following: Dr. R. E. Stevens, L. S. Brockway, A. W. Smith, J. D. Chittenden, R. W. Deane, I. D. Martin, R. G. Davey, Roby Laing, Mrs. E. N. Scott, P. A. Mero and R. H. Waltham, F. J. Coolidge and sons out a permit for $3,300 for the erection of a warehouse on French Avenue.

Permits issued during the month were to the following: Meich Realty Company $15,500; C. D. Tew $500; Hill & Newman $200; W. O. Gunn $50; J. J. Cates $500; R. E. Stevens $5,800; C. E. Hamrick $150; L. S. Brockway $4,500; J. J. Cates $500; W. V. Wheeler $150; A. W. Smith $7,200; T. J. Miller $1,000; J. D. Chittenden $1,700; Dr. Scarsmont $135; I. H. Bryant $150; I. D. Martin $2,200; R. W. Deane $3,000; J. A. Grunberg $25; Essie Martin $375; A. G. Davey $4,000; S. P. Baker $400; Roy Schmit $200; S. O. Hall $1,200; D. Long $450; John Rumbley $1,600; E. A. Douglas $2,000; George Huff $900; City of Sanford $1,200; P. A. Mero $5,700; R. H. Waltham $2,700; F. J. Coolidge and sons $8,500; Joe Suggs $800.

A. C. L. Train Hits Open Switch Sunday
Train 82, of the Atlantic Coast line, struck an open switch near the Sanford station early Sunday morning, causing slight damages to two locomotives, according to a report given out by T. L. Dunsmuir, superintendent of the Sanford division. No one was injured in the collision, it was announced.

An investigation to determine why the switch was left open and to fix responsibility is now under way, according to the superintendent. The pilot of the engine drawing the train and that of another in the siding were torn off, which, according to the report, is all of the damage done.

Policeman Exonerated Of Murder Charge On Grounds of Discharging His Duty

Martial Law Is Sought By Sheriff

Another Policeman Is Wounded In Sunday Shooting In Hotel

HERRIN, Feb. 2.—With a meeting of the grand jury under way today at Marion, Ill., it is probable a more thorough investigation will be made into the slaying of a stranger in the Lyman Hotel dining room here Sunday by Policeman Rufus Whitson, who was exonerated on the grounds that he discharged his duty as an officer. The man, while in a rough and tumble fight, with policeman Jim Stephens was shot by Whitson. The latest affray came while Sheriff George Galligan was seeking martial law in Herrin. Quiet prevailed Monday.

Gave Two Names
The man slain had given his name as Joseph Phillips and also as Johnson, and once said that he came from Springfield, Ill. He was accompanied by two unidentified men when he was slain, who escaped. Phillips wore a cap that belonged to Sheriff Galligan, of Williamson county, and it was said he had called on the latter several times lately.

Sheriff Galligan, who had gone to the capital to confer with General Black about the need of troops here, said Phillips had called frequently but did not divulge any particular business.

Troops Requested
The shooting came on the heels of the slaying of S. Glenn Young and Deputy Sheriff Ora Thomas, who shot each other to death in the lobby of the Harpootel a few days ago. As soon as their funeral had been held a coroner's jury had returned a verdict that they killed each other. Sheriff Galligan requested troops be returned to Herrin to prevent a serious outbreak.

This request was under consideration when Phillips appeared in Herrin Saturday night with two companions and began a search for Glenn Fowler, a close friend of Young's. Phillips had made his presence known Saturday night by trying to induce the numerous newspaper reporters here to help him find Ross Lisensby, a policeman, avowing that Lisensby had been slain by Klansmen. He said Lisensby, who figured in the Young shooting, had taken refuge in the Herrin jail Saturday when trouble had broken out between the Herrin chief of police and Klansmen.

Appealed for Aid
Phillips charged that Lisensby had been taken from the jail and killed. The reporters refused to join in the search, as they said they were convinced that Phillips and his companions had been drinking. Phillips then went to the hotel lobby and telephoned to Glenn Fowler to come to the hotel and be arrested. He told Fowler that he was an officer named Johnson and had brought a warrant from Springfield for his arrest. Fowler refused to go and hung up the receiver.

One of Phillips' companions had disappeared, but the other aided him in forcing the night clerk behind the cigar counter. The couple then entered the dining room and ordered food, displaying revolvers to enforce the demand.

This attracted the attention of Policeman Stephens and he entered the lobby. He wrench the pistol from Phillips' companion and started for the kitchen when he was told that another man was terrorizing the hotel help there.

Wounds Policeman
At that moment Phillips entered the lobby and ordered Stephens to throw up his hands. Almost instantly he fired at him, the bullet hitting the policeman in the shoulder. Stephens grappled with Phillips, who fired several more shots, none of which took effect. Most of the bullets hit the floor. The hotel employees and the reporters fled.

Whitson, attracted by the show, slipped around to the back door and shot Phillips through the heart before he could close on Stephens again. Phillips still was alive when doctors arrived, but soon expired. His companion in the hotel and one who had been outside escaped.

Hope to Rescue Man From Kentucky Cave
CAVE CITY, Ky., Feb. 2.—Hope came today of rescuing Floyd Collins, 35, pinned by a huge boulder in a crevice of a sand cave 310 feet from its entrance, since Friday morning. A squad of men bringing a portable drill left Louisville early today. Rescuers hoped to cut away enough stone to release the victim. Collins had gone into the cave Friday to explore when the boulder fell.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY.

WHERE IS YOUR TREASURE?—Where your treasure is, there will your heart be also. Matthew 6: 21.

IT CANNOT BE

It cannot be—no, no, it cannot be.

That this is all there is for you and me—

That life is but a bubble on the wave,

That sinks to nothingness within the grave.

If this be true, ye skeptics, tell me why

Our thoughts forever soar toward the sky,

Or leap like angels from the lonely heart,

Or bring back terrors now that make us start.

The rainbow and the cloud in beauty form

Across the sky amid the dying storm;

Then fade from sight and leave us here to say—

Why does such beauty ever pass away?

Or tell me why the stars that deck the night

Are placed so far above all human sight,

And thus forever mock us as they shine,

And point us to a power that is Divine.

Or tell us why forms of beauty fade,

Why homes are crushed and in the churchyard laid;

Then by a thousand streams is borne our grief,

Like Alps' torrents, ere we find relief?

No! No! It cannot be that we must die,

And in the dust for aye forgotten lie!

No! No! There is a realm, a deathless clime,

Where loved ones meet beyond the flight of time.

Here life is but a span, so brief the day,

But this— it is the light of endless day!

There stars, like islands, slumbering in the sea,

Shall stand before us through Eternity.

President Coolidge advises the Princeton boys to wear suspenders to keep their trousers up. Then if they should knock them into their heels they might be able to walk without stepping on their trousers.

The Sanford Herald rises right up in protest to ask what has become of the old-fashioned girl who used to look up blissfully with soulful eyes and chant, "You are so big and strong and wonderful!" To which the Daytona News short-lyer comes back with: "A call might also be put in for the girl who read three weeks behind a locked door."

And while these two editors are wrestling with these problems we might put in our own and ask what has become of the old-timey trusting lassie who when you called around to see her on Sunday afternoons was perfectly willing to take a walk with you and had forty fits of delight if you blew her to a strawberry ice cream lady.—Times-Union.

Vassar students have devised a breakfast menu which would enable a man to climb fifty-one floors were his office in the top floor of the Woolworth Building. All he would have to do would be to eat five pounds of porterhouse steak, eighteen sweet potatoes with thirty-six butter balls, seventy-two slices of bacon, one dozen eggs on toast, twenty dishes of oatmeal with plenty of sugar and five quarts of heavy cream. Fifty pancakes with two butter balls on each, and five quarts of maple syrup. With a few additional odds and ends the Vassar girls contend that a man would thus be supplied with sufficient calories to make the grade.

Picture Show And Ice Cream, Piffle!

As if it were remarkably unusual, as no doubt it is, the Dearborn Independent gives prominence to an item saying that "Mrs. Johanna Smith, a citizen of Johannesburg, South Africa, who is 88 years old, has never seen a motion picture show, used a telephone, ridden in an automobile, nor eaten ice cream."

Not knowing Mrs. Johanna Smith, The Herald is not in position to say what the lack of those experiences has done to that lady's mentality, but this paper can see how it is still possible for her to be quite up with the times regardless. In fact we know people who use telephones right along, attend picture shows as a regular pastime, and eat ice cream by the quart, who might as well be in Johannesburg or on the top of Popocatepetl so far as any relationship with their fellowmen is affected.

Feeding on the same mental food year in and year out, doing the same routine tasks, speaking almost the same words, there are people who go on and on to the end of their days in their own little rut, contributing nothing to the world and deriving precious little for themselves outside of food and drink and a place to sleep.

If Johanna Smith has kept in touch with progress, has welcomed new ideas and tried to get the viewpoint of the many generations she has seen come and go; if she has watched real life instead of the pictured drama, if she has ridden on the wings of her own imagination instead of in the totem of a motor car, if she has eaten the fruit of varied experiences—sometimes more delectable than "ice cream" itself—it matters not at all how apparently behind the times the record of her days seem to make her.

The Herald believes that eighty-eight years of life might be equivalent to a thousand, measured by the used hours. The Herald also believes from the same reasoning that there have been lives of only five years duration that have gotten more and given more of real living than can be credited to lives as long as Mrs. Smith's.

The people in their little ruts, the people who repeat day after day their monotonous plan of life—picture shows and motor cars and ice cream mean nothing "different" to them. They know nothing "different" and never will.

The Affinity of Like For Like

Whatever draws you to it, that is a proof of what you are. The attraction of like for like is one of nature's oldest laws. It is a mysterious law, this attraction of like for like; but nevertheless it is one that is true the world over. Musicians seek the company of musicians, artists seek the company of other artists, the different religious sects and the different races cling together.

Whatever your position in life, you are drawn by those of a similar position. You like in others what is in yourself. You like to associate with people that crave the same things you crave and think the same way that you think. Some of your associates have apparently no effect upon you. Others are repulsive and you would have as little to do with them as possible. While you feel yourself drawn toward others with a strong affection.

Those whom you like best are like a mirror in which you see yourself reflected. And you will also find that those whom you genuinely like, in turn like you—while those you dislike usually have a feeling of animosity toward you.

Whether you are the sort of a person that delights in bull-fights and prize-fights and enjoy torture to others, or the kind of a person that is nauseated by these things, determine whether you have brutish instincts or are of a sympathetic nature. Whatever in the world is like you will draw you toward it, and whatever is unlike you will repel you—unless perhaps you are overly curious. Then, until your curiosity is satisfied you will hanker after many things that will interest you no longer, once you find their real worth.

A TYPE OF MIND seems to believe that because all the earth is known and the country settled, therefore no further pioneering remains to be done. Thus far the pioneers have been working on the outside of things; nowadays the new direction of pioneering is toward the inside of things. We know the planet pretty well; we are now exploring the atom. We know vegetation pretty well; we are now pioneering into the new and wonderful land of vitamins. Medicine has explored disease to a large extent; it is now pioneering into the greater mystery of health. We are only in the far-off dim beginning of knowledge. Discoveries are yet to be made, greater than those of Columbus—but in another region. The youth of today live in a more thrilling period than those of the merchant adventurers or the early frontiersmen.—Dearborn Independent.

Good Health and Mental Altitude

MIAMI TRIBUNE

The Scriptures, as found in the Gospels, place primal stress upon the kingdom that is within a man, his inner temper and disposition as indicative of the character and tendency of his life.

The Gospel goes down below the body to the healing of the mind, to the renewing of the spirit as being the fundamental process. The condition of mind and the presence of belief were the constant objects of Jesus' first solicitude. We find him turning away from certain sections, not being able to do many mighty works there, "because of their unbelief." He looked with keen gaze into the very heart of those who sought His healing powers, invariably saying "Believest thou that I can do this?" "All things are possible to him that believeth," as though far below the bodily incompetency was the necessity for the sake of cure, of the right mental attitude.

Get a right mind, a harmonious outlook upon life in general and especially toward God, get right thoughts within your own heart, where the real Kingdom of Heaven starts, and the outer bodily healing will follow. This seems to be the drift of Jesus' wonderful cures.

A skillful physician says that in a large percentage of cases it is with the mind rather than with the body he has to deal, and that very frequently the bodily weakness can be traced to wrong currents of thought or to the perversion of the uses of the members of the body by reason of perverted and morbid ideas. As Macbeth has said, "Canst thou not minister to a mind diseased, Pluck from the memory a rooted sorrow, Raze out the written troubles of the brain, And with some sweet oblivious antidote Cleanse the stuffed bosom of that perilous stuff?"

Which weighs upon the heart? Certain religious sects teach that if one can get a right mental attitude toward God and the world of spirit, he will end the material handicaps and evils non-existent. The soul will win by freezing itself from bodily make-believe, by getting a new vantage point, by becoming a denizen of a new thought-world.

Whatever our views may be regarding the science of this great principle of the power of mental and spiritual forces over the body, it is fairly well agreed that good health waits upon pure thoughts, the settled determination to disregard as far as possible ideas of sickness, weakness, and failure and to think health, strength, and success.

The harboring of a grudge, for example, may mean physical breakdown. It poisons the blood; it warps the mind; it narrows the sympathies; it injures the power of concentration; it stops us; it wastes our bodily tissue, and it takes time. Gladstone said, "I haven't time to hate anybody." The Scriptural pages are full of the great injunction to love rather than to hate.

Anger and temper are also mental states directly inimical to health. Across the Chapel of Baylor University was the motto placed by former President Burleson: "Young gentlemen, have a resolute life purpose. Don't get mad, and don't get scared!"

While living in Cairo, some Americans had an Armenian servant whose temper was uncontrollable. She flew into a rage over the merest trifle, frequently entering into physical combat with the Arab market men who brought the provisions to the house. After one of these fits of temper she turned a peculiar shade of yellow which continued for several days, and often her temper made her so ill that she was obliged to go to bed. Her mental disorder had poisoned her entire physical nature.

Plain, Tactful English
China, Russia, Japan
Three Ominous Words.
They Mean Danger.
BY ARTHUR BRISBANE
(Copyright 1924)

"THE USE of plain English is an art, and such plain English is visible from the window of this express train, as it rushes through Clinton, a thriving South Carolina settlement. A big sign beside the highway reads: 'Loafers, scallwags and bums don't like Clinton.' 'The heart knoweth his own bitterness.'"

The scallwag recognizes himself and passes on rapidly. In this warm-hearted South they let you know just how they feel. Their hospitality is overwhelming, and so is the other thing.

OUR provincial statesmen, shuddering at the words "Communism" and "Bolshevism," will have no relations with the Russian government.

Washington says to Russia, "You must not presume to govern your country in your own way. We shall have nothing to do with you as long as you insist that the common man is more important than the dollar he earns. And, anyhow, we won't have anything to do with you until you pay your late Czar's debts to our bankers."

OTHER countries are less particular. Italy, France, England say: "We don't like Russia's Government, but we want Russian business." And they make commercial treaties with Russia.

MOST interesting of all to this country are treaties with Russia recently made by China and Japan.

Even our kind of statesmen ought to see a meaning and a danger in an alliance that includes Japan, Russia and China. Russia alone occupies one-sixth of the globe's surface. China has at least five hundred million inhabitants. They can fight and are not afraid to die. You can teach them to run a flying machine and drop bombs.

Japan is the equal of any nation on earth in manufacturing ingenuity, in fighting and in many other ways.

JAPAN hates the United States because we refuse to let Japan regulate our immigration laws. Russia hates the United States on general principles, foolishly, because of her communistic doctrines that won't last, but with some just cause, in view of the fact that we insist on telling her what kind of government she must have and seek to boycott her.

WHAT do the statesmen in Washington think would happen if China, Japan and Russia should form a little combination to teach the United States a lesson?

As to the ultimate result there isn't any doubt, but unfortunately as to the first and immediate result there isn't any doubt either. Those first results would be very painful.

THIS country is as thoroughly disarmed as Germany at this moment. Men marching up and down with guns don't count in war any more. Battleships and silly coast defense guns mean nothing.

If Asia and Russia ever come our way, they will come through the air. And this country, according to the testimony of our own officers hasn't got, all told, more than 20 fighting flying machines ready for action.

Only the other day Russia bought 100 of them from one of the best European makers, Fokker. Japan is turning out 500 fighting airplanes every month, twenty-five times as many as we have all together. She has big freight ships and battleships on which to send her fighting airships within striking distance of our coast. If they could fly here in sixty hours.

MR. C. H. K. CURTIS, remarks, with editorial solemnity, that Russia, Japan and China, united by treaties, "might put out of kilter the balance set up by the Washington treaty."

Mr. Curtis means that a union of Russia, China and Japan might upset the results of that silly Washington conference in which the United States agreed with England, France and Japan to keep things balanced in the Pacific ocean.

BUT THE possibility of upsetting the very shaky Pacific balance isn't the important thing.

The serious possibility becomes clear when you contemplate the pleasant time that the Japanese might have if they came here through the air leading a thousand Russian, Chinese and Japanese flying ships, to see what they could do to a few dozens of American cities.

OUR NATION says to Japan, "You must keep your people out of here," and to Russia, "We despise you and your government, and assume the right to tell you what government you shall have." A nation talking in such fashion should be able to make good its words.

A NATION that distates to other nations ought not to sit, as this nation does, like a fat grocer, swollen with his own profits, sunning himself in his doorway, with no weapon for defense, at the mercy of the first international gunman that may come along.

FLYING MACHINES, all steel, strong enough to resist any wind, and with engines ten times as strong as the strongest wind, will make air travel long before the end of this century, much safer than traveling on railroads has ever been.

MORNING, NOON AND NIGHT

HERRIOT'S SPEECH

LOUISVILLE COURIER-JOURNAL

Premier Herriot in his latest utterance regarding the French debt suddenly takes on the aspects of the ultra-Nationalists. Though speaking of France's obligations to England and the United States, the address is chiefly on the subject of security, and for this fear complex he blames England and the United States for failure to ratify the treaty guaranteeing France against invasion. This fear, he intimates, is one of the reasons his country is unable to meet its obligations. He believes the chief guarantee to France's safety is remaining on the Rhine and in the Ruhr.

The attitude of the French Premier has been foreseen in Germany for some time. On the occasion of the announcement that England would stay at Cologne, one of the provincial newspapers carried a cartoon under the caption, "Herriot and His Reflection," showing the French Premier looking into a mirror, the face in the glass being that of Poincare. Had Poincare made the much-heralded speech in the Chamber of Deputies on Wednesday it would have been little different from what it was. It indicates that the terms of the London Agreement concerning evacuation of the Ruhr may not be fully carried out.

What the French Premier said about debts amounted to little. He merely reiterated previous statements that France would not repudiate, but that it must be given easy terms. Harping on the old string of security, he brings up a problem that threatens the Dawes plan. He is crying "wolf" for a purpose. He is assuming the Poincare tactics to put the onus on the debtor nations.

Already there are fears concerning the future of the Dawes plan. Allied and German experts see a lack of development in Germany's foreign trade. The impetus given by the London Conference started industry. Confidence was restored, but a lull in exports has suddenly developed to offset the trade balance. If this confidence is to be destroyed the receivership, which in reality is the machinery of the economic scheme, will operate under adverse conditions and default is liable.

Herriot's speech served a double purpose. It is to the galleries at home and, antagonistic to the Dawes plan it is a kind of threat abroad.

NATIONAL LOOP OWNERS TO GIVE BIRTHDAY DINNER

Fiftieth Anniversary of National Loop to Be Celebrated With Affair in New York To Precede Business Meet

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—Club owners of the National League, baseball's oldest circuit, will go back to the cradle of their organization Monday to celebrate the start of the fifth year of their fiftyth anniversary.

They will meet in the ancient parlors of the old Broadway Central hotel, where on Feb. 2, 1874, the National League was born with representatives of clubs in Boston, Brooklyn, Philadelphia, Hartford, Chicago, Cincinnati, Louisville and St. Louis.

The celebration will culminate in an elaborate affair in New York on the semi-centennial date of the league's existence will occur.

Minutes of the first meeting of the old National League, shed an interesting light on the aims of the league.

Minutes of that day. Two of the objects of the league, as it was formed a half century ago, were to establish and regulate the baseball championship of the United States and a provision that "no club shall be admitted from any city whose population is less than 75,000, except by unanimous vote of the league."

Gowdy Holds Brilliant Records On Diamond And On French Battle Fields

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—Hank Gowdy, veteran backstop of the New York Giants, who played largely in the 1924 season, was named as one of the most dramatic careers of any diamond hero.

During the 1914 playing campaign Gowdy had 243 for the Braves, yet he came up in the world's series against the Philadelphia Athletics, Gowdy gained more attention through his war record. He came back last season to help the Giants win their fourth straight pennant and give the Washington Senators a desperate world's series battle.

Gowdy was the major league player to join the colors when the United States declared war on Germany. He enlisted as a buck private but rose to the rank of sergeant, served with distinction and had the honor of having the government name one of its largest athletic fields "Gowdy Field."

Gowdy hit for an average of .325 during his nine years at Boston. Gowdy hit for a grand average of .260. He came back to the Giants again in 1923 and in his first year in metropolitan harness Gowdy hit for an average of .325.

Gowdy stepped on his mark in a crisis of the seventh game of the 1924 world's series, which he dreamed of the world's series hero and the fascinating applause of the crowd.

His first organized baseball arrangement was with the Lancaster team of the Ohio State League in 1908. Then he shipped to the Southwest and played for the St. Louis Browns.

He received his first big break when he was called to the major leagues by the Boston Braves.

Showing Of Paavo Nurmi In Boston Is Disappointment To Fans There

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—Boston night in a 3,000 metre race at the Wilco A. C. contests in Brooklyn, Eddie Kirby of Cornell, first of the Americans to finish in the 3,000 metre event at the Olympics, will be another starter, his first indoor appearance of the season.

Verne Booth, former Hopkins star and William Cox, Mercerburg academy coach, also are entered.

Nurmi faces two encounters before the Wilco games—The Western Union meet in Madison Square Garden Tuesday night and the Newark A. C. races the following evening. Neither event is expected to furnish a real test and his heart is set upon running two miles in nine minutes or better in the 3,000 which would eliminate another of Ray's records and almost take the Chicagoan out of the race.

Lito Frierio of Italy, champion walker of the Olympics who has been defeated twice by Willie Platts, the American athlete, will have opportunity to redeem himself in all three meets in New York and vicinity this week.

The postponed annual meeting of the Stockholders of the Sanford Building & Loan Association will be held at the office of the Association, 108 Magnolia Avenue, Sanford, Florida, at eight P. M. January 17, 1925, for the purpose of electing the Board of Directors and to transact such other business as may be brought before the meeting.

BETTER MARKS DEMANDED OF FRAT MEMBERS

Fraternity Average At Minnesota Is Below Average for Graduation, Dean Says... MINNEAPOLIS, Feb. 2.—Aroused by the report of the dean of student affairs disclosing scholastic averages among the fraternities for the 1923-24 school year to be below the minimum requirement for graduation, President Louis D. Coffman of the University of Minnesota has taken steps to raise the classroom standards of the Greek letter organizations, threatening disciplinary action unless improvement is shown. A set of new regulations for all fraternities and sororities, issued by the president, specified that any chapter not maintaining an average of "C" or better "shall be placed on probation by the university for the year following."

Total Abstinence Is Made Objective Of W.C.T.U. Campaign

CHICAGO, Feb. 2.—Total abstinence, law observance and pledge signing are features of the Youth's Year program of the National W. C. T. U. Four young women have started on a speaking tour of the country which will cover 42 states in the first six months. They will devote their efforts to the enlistment of young men and women in total abstinence work. A goal of 1,000,000 children signers is the figure set. Education in social morality on the basis of the single standard of morals; education in loyal citizenship, including the enlistment of first voters and foreign born citizens; creation of a sound public sentiment for world peace, and border conferences as an aid to stamp out rum running from Canada and Mexico are other features of the program.

EDUCATORS SAY AID CHILDREN'S LOVE OF DRAMA

University Extension Is Offering School Means in Form of a Series of Short Plays... GAINESVILLE, Fla., Feb. 2.—"Prominent educators throughout the country are coming more and more to recognize the importance of not only preserving but developing the dramatic instinct which is the birthright of every child," explains the Extension Division of the University of Florida in offering a new service to assist schools and communities in dramatic work. The service consists of lending plays for examination. A person or group of persons wishing to present a play has a list of more than two hundred offered by the division from which to select. After the selection has been made, the samples are returned, ordering direct from the publisher. A similar service dealing with recitations is being offered by the division. In this case the recitations are for actual use. They are in typewritten form and copies may be made from them. The division makes no charge for either of these services except for postage. Report cards telling the use made of material are sent with the material asking that they be filled out and returned, explaining what use is made of it. The long list of titles contains plays for children for adults, one-act plays and plays for special occasions, such as Christmas, Commencement, Patriotic Days, etc., pageants, masks, tableaux and drills are also supplied.

Woman Prosecutor Is Given Credit As Court Sets Rum Conviction Mark

PEORIA, Ill., Feb. 2.—"Gertie" is Mrs. Gertrude B. Warner, assistant U. S. attorney of the Central Illinois District, who has just rounded out the successful prosecution of 122 bootleggers during the present term of federal court here. The total of $46,904 in fines and 103 jail and prison terms meted out is believed a national record for one term of court. Mrs. Warner won 11 straight trials convicting 19 defendants, the count of commendation from all parts of the state. She is believed to have the best record in bootleg cases of any woman prosecutor in the country. In her work she has been called upon to prosecute many women. Opposing lawyers have commented in open court on her record and Peorians have learned that there is no more "stalling around" in prohibition cases. "I told my chief when he sent me here that I would clean up the docket or resign," she has commented on her record.

For Us to Give You the Electric Service you Should Have We Will Have to Enforce the Following

Commencing this month, the instructions of our Company will be strictly adhered to, which are "THE MONEY OR THE METER" after fifteenth of the subsequent month. This is not a new ruling, but the strict enforcement of an old one. If you suddenly find yourself in the dark, DO NOT BLAME US. If you are one of our many faithful customers, who conscientiously pay their bill on time, each and every month, this warning is not for you. $1.50 service charge for re-connecting meters will be made.

If you have not received your Electric Bill promptly after the 1st of the month, call at the office, 218 East First Street, or telephone 27. For the convenience of Water and Gas Patrons, the city has its office with the Southern Utilities Company, and water and gas bills, which are due the same time (from the 1st to the 10th) may be paid on one trip to the office.
