Judge Sirica Sentences Mitchell, Haldeman, Ehrlichman

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three men closest to Richard M. Nixon when he was president were sentenced today to serve at least 2 1/2 years in prison for covering up the Watergate scandal. U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica pronounced the sentences of 2 1/2 to 8 years on John N. Mitchell, H. R. Haldeman and John D. Ehrlichman, ignoring a plea by Ehrlichman's lawyer that he be allowed to work with New Mexico Indians instead of going to prison.

Countywide Boycott Will Begin On Monday

By ED PRICKETT Herald Staff Writer. A countywide black boycott of Seminole County schools will begin Monday, a spokesman for the black community confirmed today. James Gadsdon told The Herald blacks will boycott all schools in Seminole for three days to let the school board know they are "untied" in their opposition to the board's decision to phase out Rosenwald Elementary School. Gadsdon said the final decision was reached at a meeting last night. He said he expects about 70 percent of Seminole's blacks to join in on the protest boycott.

Study Projects Sanford's Growth To 50,000

By MICKEY LOCHRIDGE Herald Staff Writer. The Sanford Planning and Zoning Commission (P&Z) last night got its first look at the city's comprehensive planning and extensive 15-year project development plan for the city. The study was compiled by City Planner David Farr using input, provided by the heads of the city's various departments. The study, which is projected to the year 1990 and a city population of more than 50,000, will be reviewed by the P&Z board in a special meeting on March 13.

Smoldering Fire Burns Two Days

Seminole County Road Department Chief J. C. Lavender said today that county crews hope to complete the covering of thousands of smoldering tires at the county's SanLando dump today. Several acres of the tires and debris at the former landfill, adjacent to refuse transfer and motor vehicle inspection stations on north St. near I-4 and SR-44, burned Wednesday and Thursday after being ignited by a spreading brush fire.

Governors Offer United Stand On Energy Issue

WASHINGTON (AP)—The grass roots impact of the nation's energy problem has been illustrated graphically by a rare united stand by the nation's governors. A resolution adopted by only one dissenting vote at the closing session of the National Governors Conference winter meeting Thursday puts the governors on record as favoring organized, massive conservation as the best short-range approach to the energy shortage. Although this does not directly oppose President Ford's approach of raising the price of petroleum products with a tariff hike, the resolution makes it clear that such steps should be secondary.

Ford Profits Decline

DETROIT (AP)—Ford Motor Co. has reported profits of $381 million for last year despite a major slump in fourth quarter sales. The profits represented a 60 per cent drop from the firm's record $607 million in 1972. Ford showed a $45 million before-tax loss in the last quarter on sales of $2.2 billion. But because of an involved annual tax formula, the after-tax quarterly earnings were $22 million, compared to $27 million quarterly earnings for fourth quarter sales of $2.5 billion. "Net income in the fourth quarter of 1974 principally resulted from a reduction in the provision for income taxes for the full year because of the sharp decline in earnings," according to a statement released by Henry Ford II, chairman of the board, and Lee A. Iacocca, president.

Thirty County Jobs Set To Open April 1

By BILL BELLVILLE Herald Staff Writer

Additional emergency Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA) monies for Title I jobs are expected to open up almost 30 more positions under the state's Manpower Act, according to CETA Director Lois Martin. Ms. Martin, who met with state Manpower officials yesterday, said the county will soon receive approximately $65,000 for "public service employment" projects to begin April 1. The only drawback, she said, is that the projects will run for just three months — until June 30. Some of the projects to be set up include Division of Youth Services programs, cleanup crews for county right-of-ways (formerly dubbed Litter Luggers), Employment service, and Division of Family services programs. The Title I funds require more restrictive screening of prospective employees according to Ms. Martin. In addition, there is less chance of having the Title I special employees placed elsewhere at the end of their three-month tenure, than there is with other CETA employees recently hired on annual contracts. Presently, 15 individuals have been placed under CETA.

Title II monies received last summer. Although the contract for these jobs expires June 30, 1975, Ms. Martin said application for continued funds will be resubmitted, and receipt of additional monies is anticipated. Title II covers "training and development" types of jobs, she said. The more recently awarded Title VI CETA money provides for 33 positions that will run to Jan. 31, 1976. Because of the complexity in the hiring process, six positions still remained officially unfilled under Title VI. Positions still open include a county Deputy Civil Defense Director, a county Safety Officer, a houseparent for the county Mental Health Center, a secretary for the City of Casselberry, a clerk-typist for Sanford, and a school bus mechanic for the School Board. Individuals interested in the positions must be filtered through the lengthy application process that has placed jobs under CETA employees, according to Ms. Martin. First, they must apply for the jobs to the state employment office. If eligible, they will be sent to the county Personnel office in the courthouse to fill out a CETA application.

Personnel officials will determine if they are eligible for the positions under CETA requirements. If eligible, they will be sent to the individual entity that has the particular opening. That entity will then send the prospective employee through its own application and screening process. If successful along each step, the applicant will eventually be placed in his temporary CETA job. Despite the temporary nature of the Title II and VI CETA jobs, Ms. Martin said the county has "hundreds of applicants."

Persons eligible for all CETA employment must be: A county resident. Unemployed 90 days or more, or "underemployed" with a gross family income under Office of Economic Opportunity Poverty limits. First consideration is given to special Vietnam vets, followed by those who have exhausted all unemployment compensation benefits, and those who are not even eligible for benefits. Of the priority considerations, Ms. Martin said that the "special vets are just not coming out for the jobs."

Burglary Suspects Freed

By BOB LLOYD Herald Staff Writer

Two of four men accused by sheriff's detectives of being part of a three-county burglary ring have been freed here by circuit court actions. Roy Edward Sweat, 27, P.O. Box 152, Longwood, and Robert Lee Boothe, 39, 216 S. Central Ave., Orlando, had been charged with buying, receiving and concealing stolen property.

Assistant State Atty. Claude Van Hook dropped the charges against Sweat in mid-trial this week after a 17-year-old juvenile, already convicted in juvenile court in connection with the ring, failed to incriminate Sweat in testimony before Circuit Court Judge Clarence T. Johnson Jr.

The court ruled that two other witnesses, Sheriff's Sgt. William Hogan and Sgt. Oscar Redetz, couldn't testify in the trial because State Atty. Abbott Herring's office failed to furnish their number of domestic wiretaps, break-ins and surveillance operations he has previously acknowledged.

When the arrests were made deputies said more than $5,000 worth of stolen guns and other items were recovered. One suspect arrested in the probe, Lawrence Grant Shaver, 30, of 441 Trailer Court, Orlando, pleaded guilty this week in circuit court to possession of burglary tools and was ordered held in county jail pending a pre-sentence investigation. Another suspect, Albert Charles Richardson, 51, P.O. Box 515, Longwood, was charged with buying, receiving and concealing stolen property and is scheduled for trial here the week of March 3.

Lake Mary Hires New City Attorney

By GLORIA DROGOSZ Herald Correspondent

LAKE MARY — City council last night named a new attorney and also made two new residents very happy people. Gary Massey, 28, an Altamonte Springs attorney, was named to replace the Law Offices of Thomas Freeman as city attorney. And Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hunt, who moved here in March of last year, finally won their request to be allowed to enclose a screened porch attached to their mobile home on Floyd Avenue.

Outgoing City Attorney Ned Woolfolk initially said it was not legal to make requests for improvements on a trailer that is in non-conforming use. The Hunts said they did not know of the city's restrictions when they bought the lot with the mobile home already situated on it.

Flagship Observes 'Opening'

By JANE CASSELLBERRY Herald Staff Writer

The Flagship U.S. Bank of Seminole will launch a weeklong 10th anniversary celebration and official grand opening tomorrow with a ribbon cutting at 10 a.m. State Rep. Bob Hattaway, Sanford Mayor Lee P. Moore and other local officials have been invited to participate in the opening ceremony. The Lake Brantley High School Patriot Band will play for the occasion and the color guard will be from the U.S. Naval Academy in Annapolis, Md.

An open house for the authentic Colonial design facilities will be held from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. with free plants and recipe boxes for the ladies, magic slates and balloons for the children and refreshments for all.

Hattaway Proposes Changes

By DONNA ESTES Herald Staff Writer

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS — Legislation to ease unemployment compensation problems being suffered by the county's governmental units and to require that five of the 13 circuit judges serving the 18th Judicial Circuit that comprises Seminole and Brevard Counties reside locally is being prepared by State Rep. Robert Hattaway.

The legislator is expected to submit drafts of both bills to "colleagues on the Seminole County Legislative Delegation at a hearing scheduled for March 5 at Casselberry City Hall.

Currently state law requires that two — Dominick Sall and Volie Williams Jr. — of the 13 reside in Seminole County. Other judges in the circuit on a rotation basis are at the Sanford courthouse daily and a lot of travel expense is being eaten up by these Brevard County members of the judiciary driving to Sanford, said Gleny Davis, Hattaway's legislative aide.

In addition, Ms. Davis noted that a Brevard County legislator is preparing a bill for "admission" during the April session of the Legislature saying that a 14th judge, if one is named for the circuit, should reside in Seminole County.

Hattaway's legislation concerning the unemployment compensation problem would give governmental units an option in the method of participating in the program.

Ms. Davis said rather than being required to reimburse to the state employment service the sums paid to former employees, the governmental units would have the option of paying, in the form of an insurance, one per cent of its payroll into the state trust fund.

She said the legislation would clear up other inequalities between governmental units and private enterprises by disallowing benefits to those persons who have quit their job or been fired for cause.

Hattaway, after meetings with officials of the various governmental units, noted that the state agency is reportedly not giving the opportunity of pre-determination interviews on claims until after benefits are already being paid and the governmental units are required to reimburse the sums.

money which they will receive will be receipts for silver dollars, 300 of which will be given away during the day. Those visiting the bank throughout the week will have the opportunity to sign up for the Grandfather clock, which will be awarded Friday night to the one that guesses nearest the number of bricks used in the building. Different free gifts will be given away each day. On Monday souvenir gifts will include flag pins, replicas of historical documents and balloons; on Tuesday, Liberty Bell banks and marigold seeds; Wednesday, Colonial keys; and Friday old money and balloons. The anniversary celebration will culminate next Friday with the cutting of a giant birthday cake. The bank, which opened Feb. 27, 1965 in the original building at Sanford Plaza, was known as United State Bank of Seminole until August, when it became Flagship U.S. Bank. Bank president John Mercer has been executive officer of the bank since it opened. Wayne Albert is executive vice president.

The bank moved across Highway 17-92 to its new facilities on Oct. 26, 1974. The new building, complete with landscaping and furnishings, cost approximately $900,000, Mercer said. The architect was Michaels-Stiggins Inc. of Orlando, who specializes in Colonial design. The Early American motif is carried out in the interior decor and the color scheme is in red, white and blue. Grooms spent his teaching career in Nashville, Tenn., where he taught junior high for nine years and high school for more than a year. In 1972-73 Grooms was the first fulltime president of the Metropolitan Nashville Education Association, which claims a membership of more than 4,000. He has a bachelor's degree and a master's degree. Much of his time will be spent working on the negotiations committee and he hopes to accomplish teachers' goals in "public relations, political activity and general services to members of the organization." The school board has hired its own negotiator, Harry L. Felley, at a yearly salary of $17,940, to represent the school system's position. The school board also has recognized SEA as sole bargaining agent for the county's 1,333 teachers, librarians and counselors.

Boycott Slated Monday

And it was in response to Stenstrom's reading of the law which places responsibility on parents to have their children in school that blacks voiced their readiness to go to jail rather than give up Rosenwald.

Stenstrom said the burden now falls on Laver to enforce the state's school attendance laws. Violation of the law carries a penalty of 60 days in jail and/or a $500 fine, according to Stenstrom.

But Laver remained adamant that the decision to convert Rosenwald is the best decision for education in Seminole County, and the blacks stood fast in their belief that to give up Rosenwald would deprive the community of part of its cultural heritage.

"One thing I want to know, why does our school have to be tampered with?" Mrs. Lera Hillman asked. "It's not fair for the people of the white community to tell our children where to go."

Mrs. Hillman, who lives two doors from the school, said Laver knew the black children wouldn't be bused to the new Lake Orienta Elementary School — even before the school board made its decision. Laver denied it.

She also said Rosenwald is in "much better shape" than the 16-year-old facility at Casselberry. Though Rosenwald came into existence as a school 43 years ago, the existing facilities were constructed within the past 15 years, she said.

Sanford Police Chief Ben Butler said lawmen in the county will be on standby Monday. Butler said no incidents are expected, but he said his department and the sheriff's office are monitoring the situation.

City Eyes Insurance

By DONNA ESTES Herald Staff Writer

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS — Mayor Norman Floyd opened a workshop with 12 insurance company representatives at city hall this morning, announcing he would not permit "any cat or dog fights."

He indicated a conference held earlier this week with the representatives of bidders on life, accident and medical insurance for the city's 150 employees had been a disaster.

The city commission began the tedious process of examining in detail complex bids with the various agents supplying additional information as requested.

A representative of Coastal Plant Life Insurance, noting he was a member of the city's insurance committee, disagreed with the method of handling the bidding.

He said, "The use of us on the committee wished to exclude committee members from bidding." He added that the recommendation had not been accepted and the specifications used for the bidding process were considerably different from ones recommended by the insurance committee.

"The way the specifications are drawn, it is like Chinese checkers. This has been poorly handled," the Coastal representative said.

Mayor Floyd, defending his actions, said that the city's first consideration was getting the most insurance for its employees for the least money.

A representative of The Traveler's Insurance Co., that currently holds the contract for the city employees' insurance noted the specifications were being concerning maternity benefits. Floyd explained, "We did not include maternity benefits because if someone makes a mistake he has nine months to correct it."

The Traveler's representative warned city commissioners that the specifications do not take into account rapidly rising and inflationary medical costs. He said the city may find itself in an insurance hole at the end of the year.

A decision on the insurance is expected at Tuesday's 6:30 p.m. council meeting.

Federal Agencies Need Reforms

When the first U.S. regulatory commission — the Interstate Commerce Commission — was established in 1887 to regulate railroads, Congress was optimistic about its value to the growing nation. It believed that an independent regulatory agency would provide an important transportation industry with continuity, expert advice, impartiality and isolation from political whirlwinds.

Today, nearly a century later, it does not take an expert to realize that the ICC has failed to achieve its goal. Dr. Paul McCracken, former chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisors, says that federal regulation has produced "sick and arthritic" industries, and that ICC in particular is guilty of "social irresponsibility of cosmic proportions." He is not overstating the case.

The National Council on Productivity estimates, as one example, that ICC regulations which force trucks to return home empty cost consumers $250 million a year. Eliminating the regulation also could save a quarter of a billion gallons of truck fuel. Because of ICC regulations, citizens also pay $400 million in excessive railway freight rates, according to the President's Council of Economic Advisors.

ICC is not by any means the only culprit. For example, partly because of Civil Aeronautics Board regulations U.S. airline fares across the North Atlantic are three times those offered by a British airway. A buyer of a 1975 automobile pays $500 extra because of federal pollution regulations of dubious usefulness. Government requirements for pollution controls in industry cost American consumers the staggering sum of $10.4 billion last year, and not all of the controls are necessary. Moreover, the Bureau of Domestic Commerce says that unnecessary National Labor Relations Board regulations that lead to featherbedding cost Americans up to $3 billion extra in construction costs, $1.2 billion in railway shipping costs, $400 million in the supermarket and more than $275 million in truck shipping costs.

Even these mammoth sums are insignificant to the economic damage that federal regulations do by interfering with the free competitive American market place by interfering with the laws of supply and demand.

President Ford has asked Congress for the authority to establish a commission to study the Consumer Products Safety Commission, the ICC, the CAB, the Federal Trade Commission, Federal Power Commission, Civil Aeronautics Board and the Federal Maritime Commission — federal regulatory agencies that may be doing more harm than good as they age.

The study, if followed by dynamic action, could very well be one of the most important tools that the nation has in its fight against inflation and the energy problem.

Ultimate Optimism

A Michigan Democrat, concerned for the auto-oriented economy of his state, wants his House colleagues to act quickly on energy and economic legislation.

Rep. Donald W. Riegle Jr. says he will call for a seven-day congressional week to stimulate a "sense of urgency in the Congress" in the economic emergency.

We can sympathize with Riegle's frustrations, but we're afraid he's aiming too high.

In the waning days of the 93rd Congress there was an abortive effort to adopt measures to discourage members of the "Tuesday-Thursday Club," an unusable designation for the stable group of lawmakers which stretches the weekend from Friday to Monday to keep district fences mended.

Rather than shooting for a seven-day week, Riegle should lower his sights. The American people would be cheered if he could persuade their representatives to put in a five-day week. Or even a four-day week.

BERRY'S WORLD

WASHINGTON — Maurice "Mike" Gravel, the darkly handsome, modestly dressed senator from Alaska, has been living beyond his means.

He wound up his re-election campaign last November $65,000 to $75,000 in the hole. He also completed a $200,000 "dream house" last year at Tanilnuk on the Potomac in the fashionable Maryland countryside. And in 1972, he acquired a $45,000 condominium back home in Anchorage, Alaska.

So his bright, young executive assistant, Jerry Udell, has launched what he described to the senator as a "get-you-personally-out-of-debt program."

To dispose first of the campaign debt, Udell suggested in a confidential memo that they "go back to the companies now that the campaign is over or disclosure will be somewhat abated and to groups who really let us down but might appreciate one more chance."

Apparently, the Gravel camp felt a senator who had fought so hard for the Alaskan oil pipeline deserved a more substantial expression of gratitude from the oil barons.

"Leon will come up with his $30,000," suggested Udell, "we could be in real good shape real quick." The mysterious "Leon" who has established, is none other than Leon Hess, the big boss of Hess Oil. He dutifully passed the hat among his friends and collected the $30,000 he

"Just what the devil do you mean, 'This country is as sound as a dollar!'"

Around The Clock

Makes you stop and wonder... There was a recent dispatch in our news columns wherein a request was made to have a change in the present zoning for a particular piece of land because the developer was going to put in some "low cost" housing.

There have been a number of surveys conducted on the lack of housing available for lower income families. So, this particular request (at least on the surface) was received by myself with a certain amount of appreciation.

However, what caught me was what that particular developer considered "low cost".... His representative was talking in terms of $33,000 to $37,000! I can't believe that I've been that far out of touch regarding escalating prices of labor and material to be unaware that $33,000 is a low cost home?

If that rate continues then the year-ago prediction by the well-known developer Levitt (who built an entire city in New Jersey and called it Levittown) carries the conviction of his statement that "the day will come when the average American won't be able to buy and own his home."

What we evidently need in this country is an entirely new method of constructing houses, and probably a change in living habits to something like modular living. (Here again there have been a number of area developers who apparently are more than just a few "ears ahead of their time.")

It doesn't have a thing to do with any of the other items you might find in today's Clock Column, but the question did strike me... what ever happened to all of the streakers?

And how about all those who commented "My what's your younger generation coming to?" We're about due for another bad to make the scene....

Thought for today: A wise man makes his own decisions, an ignorant man follows the public opinion — Chinese proverb.

Remember the old vaudeville joke "Didja ever meet my circus working cousin who caught cannon balls? They call him armless Joe. Har-dee-har-har!"

Well, how about those snake charmers? You know — the ones who seemed to mesmerize the swirling rattles by hypnotism, or whatever. Not always, friends. No, not all the time.

Over in Mombasa, Kenya, snake charmer Martin Kombe's magic failed him when one of his poisonous "friends" decided he wasn't going to sway and instead, bit ole Martin... right while he was putting on a show for the public, too. Oh, the embarrassment of it all.

Kombe was 34. He'll never hear his friends sing Happy Birthday to him for his 35th, unfortunately. He died from the bite.

Don Oakley Much Ado About Car Park Lot

Effective next June 30, the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) proposes putting certain parking lot management regulations into effect in some 18 metropolitan areas — from Alaska to California to Texas to New York — where automobile pollution exceeds national air quality standards.

All new parking facilities larger than 250 spaces (10 for Fairbanks and 500 for Houston) will be subject to preconstruction review.

The regulations are an instructive example of the bureaucratic mind at work.

The EPA's proposed parking management application form consists of three parts. Part I, general information, requires a description of the parking facility (lot or garage), the number of square feet, number of parking spaces and the construction schedule.

Part II requires the applicant to demonstrate that operation of the proposed parking facility will result in a net increase in "VMT" — vehicle miles traveled. The applicant may analyze VMT using his own method or the EPA's.

If he uses his own method, he must provide EPA officials with a "quantitative analysis, demonstrating conclusively that operation of the facility under worst case conditions will not result in an increase in vehicle miles traveled."

The applicant must submit to EPA documentation of data sources and assumptions.

Under the EPA method, the applicant must describe the type of user activity (residential, customer-client, permanent-intermittent use, employ, independent-multi use) and user mode (travel, automobile parking, automobile passenger, transit rider, bicyclist and walker) in terms of the number of persons, daily trips per person and peak hour trips per person.

The applicant must also describe any existing or proposed transit routes which will serve the proposed facility, identify other parking facilities in the area which are likely to be used by persons in the area and give the estimated trip lengths and the number of daily trips per person and those other facilities.

Part III deals with carbon monoxide air quality standards compliance. Again, the applicant may use his own method for analyzing carbon monoxide or the EPA's method. It will be chosen to use his own method, he must submit to EPA records and results of his analysis, including documentation of data, sources, assumptions and calculations.

If he uses the EPA's method, the applicant must submit (1) a regional map identifying the principal roads, highways and interchanges that will be used by motor vehicles moving to and from the proposed parking facility, and (2) a site plan which indicates the location of associated parking areas, points of motor vehicle ingress and egress to and from the site and its associated buildings and the location and height of buildings on the site.

Frankfurt as one of the most vulnerable in the world to terrorist attack.

German aviation authorities were indignant. "In matters of safety," roared Frankfurt airport's Manfred Schoelch, "we can withstand any comparison."

But the crack West German Bundesluftwaffe, exempt from its criminal duties to the FBI, died in its own country.

In a secret report, slipped to Rep. John Murphy, D-N.Y., the BKA has now confirmed that our report was accurate.

"Five weak spots (exist) at the Rhein-Main Airport though which unauthorized persons — even in company strength — could reach the aircraft departure area easily and undetected," the German investigators discovered.

The BKA suspected "it would be sufficient to paint a bus yellow and provide it with the Luftwaffe company sign and all the gates would open automatically." To prove the theory, the BKA "tried this trick successfully with a painted bus."

In addition, the BKA found that "identity card verification happens only seldom," at Frankfurt.

FLORIDA IN BRIEF

'Super' Environmental Agency Faces First Hurdle

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — A plan by legislative leaders to consolidate Florida's environmental agencies into one super-agency faces its first legislative hurdle today.

The Senate Governmental Operations Committee was scheduled to begin a day-long hearing on the merger proposal by Senate President Dempsey Barron, D-Panama City, and House Speaker Donald Tucker, D-Tallahassee.

Barron has said the consolidation is needed to speed processing of applications for dredge-and-fill projects, some of which have taken as much as two years to process in the past.

Senate leaders are expecting quick approval of the measure. The Senate Natural Resources Committee is scheduled to take it up next Wednesday.

The Barron-Tucker plan would merge the Department of Pollution Control and the Internal Improvement Trust Fund into the Department of Natural Resources.

The DNR is under the Cabinet's control with Harmon Shields as head.

Prison Plan On Nose

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Florida is building plans fast enough to keep up with the increasing number of inmates, says an official of the Corrections Division.

Jim Vickers, deputy director for division business affairs, told the Senate Governmental Operations Committee on Thursday that existing facilities and those planned to be opened over the next two to three years will accommodate 12,726 prisoners.

But he said the prison population, which increased by 181 last week, now stands at 12,590.

"Even if the legislature appropriates funds this year, we are looking at three or four years for construction and we would still have a serious problem," Vickers said.

Sen. Henry Saylor, R-S. Petersburg, said most of the problem was a result of the division's failure to give priority to finding sites for new prisons.

"That's the problem with using people not trained in real estate or public relations for site-selection," Vickers said.

Doctors' Bid Rejected

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Doctors will have to do better in policing their profession before they can expect the state to help them ease the consequences of higher fees for malpractice insurance, a state Senate leader warns.

Jack Gordon, D-Miami Beach and chairman of the Senate Health and Rehabilitation Services Committee, said Thursday there were several steps physicians could take to bolster public confidence in their work and perhaps lower medical malpractice insurance rates.

The firm that insures most of Florida's doctors has said it plans to raise its rates for such insurance by 200 per cent this year.

The company says it's being forced to the move by rising damage awards in lawsuits against physicians and hospitals.

Unemployment Highest In State History

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Unemployment in Florida hit 8.3 per cent last month, the highest ever recorded by the state, says John Wesley White, director of the Employment Security Division.

He reported Thursday that 49,300 people lost their jobs in January, half again as many as the 26,400 recorded in December of last year.

That brought the number unemployed in the state to 281,200 for January, White said.

Last month, when December's unemployment rate was reported at 8.3 per cent, White said that that was the highest figure ever recorded in 25 years of state employment statistics.

The state did not keep such records during the depression but it is unlikely that unemployment in Florida was higher then.

White pointed out that the state unemployment rate includes jobless workers from the Sunshine State who come to work. Those workers draw unemployment benefits from their home states, White said.

He said that the construction industry continued a bad slump that began last summer, with employment dropping by 13,100 from December to January and by 56,800 from January 1974, White said.

Proposed State Bill To Save $36 Million

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — A Senate committee has approved a proposed bill that a sponsor says will save the state at least $36 million in building costs by allowing contractors to pay lower wages.

The Senate Governmental Operations Committee approved 63 Thursday a bill that would repeal the law requiring contractors on government projects to pay prevailing wages for the area as determined by Commerce Department surveys.

Sen. Richard Deeb, R-S. Petersburg and a contractor, said workers are available for wages that are 40 per cent lower than the prevailing wage, which he said are generally based on union wages.

"Contractors with open shops could bid on these projects based on the real and true prevailing wage if the law were repealed, Deeb said.

Sen. Henry Saylor, R-S. Petersburg and co-sponsor of the bill with Deeb, came up with the estimate of $36 million in savings.

He said that represents 40 per cent of the $288 million of construction. He also disapproved the contention that prevailing wages are generally union wages.

"The law puts contractors in a bind because they pay $5 an hour on one job, then when they go to a government job they have to pay $7 and when the job is over they have disgruntled workers because the exemption and the start of the recession."

John Magruder, director of the Florida School Boards Association, said school building cost had dropped sharply since the exemption and the start of the recession.

Deeb pointed out that road construction has always been exempt from the state law and that school construction was exempted by a 1974 bill.

Sen. Magruder said that school building cost had dropped sharply since the exemption and the start of the recession.

Gurney's Trial To Begin Monday

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — A federal judge says the bribery-conspiracy trial of former Sen. Edward Gurney will start Monday as planned but with only five of the original seven defendants, including Gurney.

Orlando citrus grower Earl M. "Duke" Crittenden was granted a severance from the trial Thursday in a move approved by federal prosecutors.

It was disclosed in open court Thursday that attorneys for at least one of the defendants have been engaged in plea-bargaining attempts. The defendant was not identified.

All seven defendants are charged with conspiracy to create a $23,000 slush fund by secretly collecting donations from builders seeking Gurney's influence in government-sponsored housing projects and mortgage refinancing.

Gurney is also accused of accepting a bribe and of perjuring himself.

Crittenden, a former Gurney campaign chairman and one-time Florida Republican chairman, is the second defendant to be granted a severance.

The other was George Anderson, another former Florida GOP treasurer and Gurney's 1968 campaign treasurer. He was granted a separate trial last month in return for a promise to testify for the prosecution.

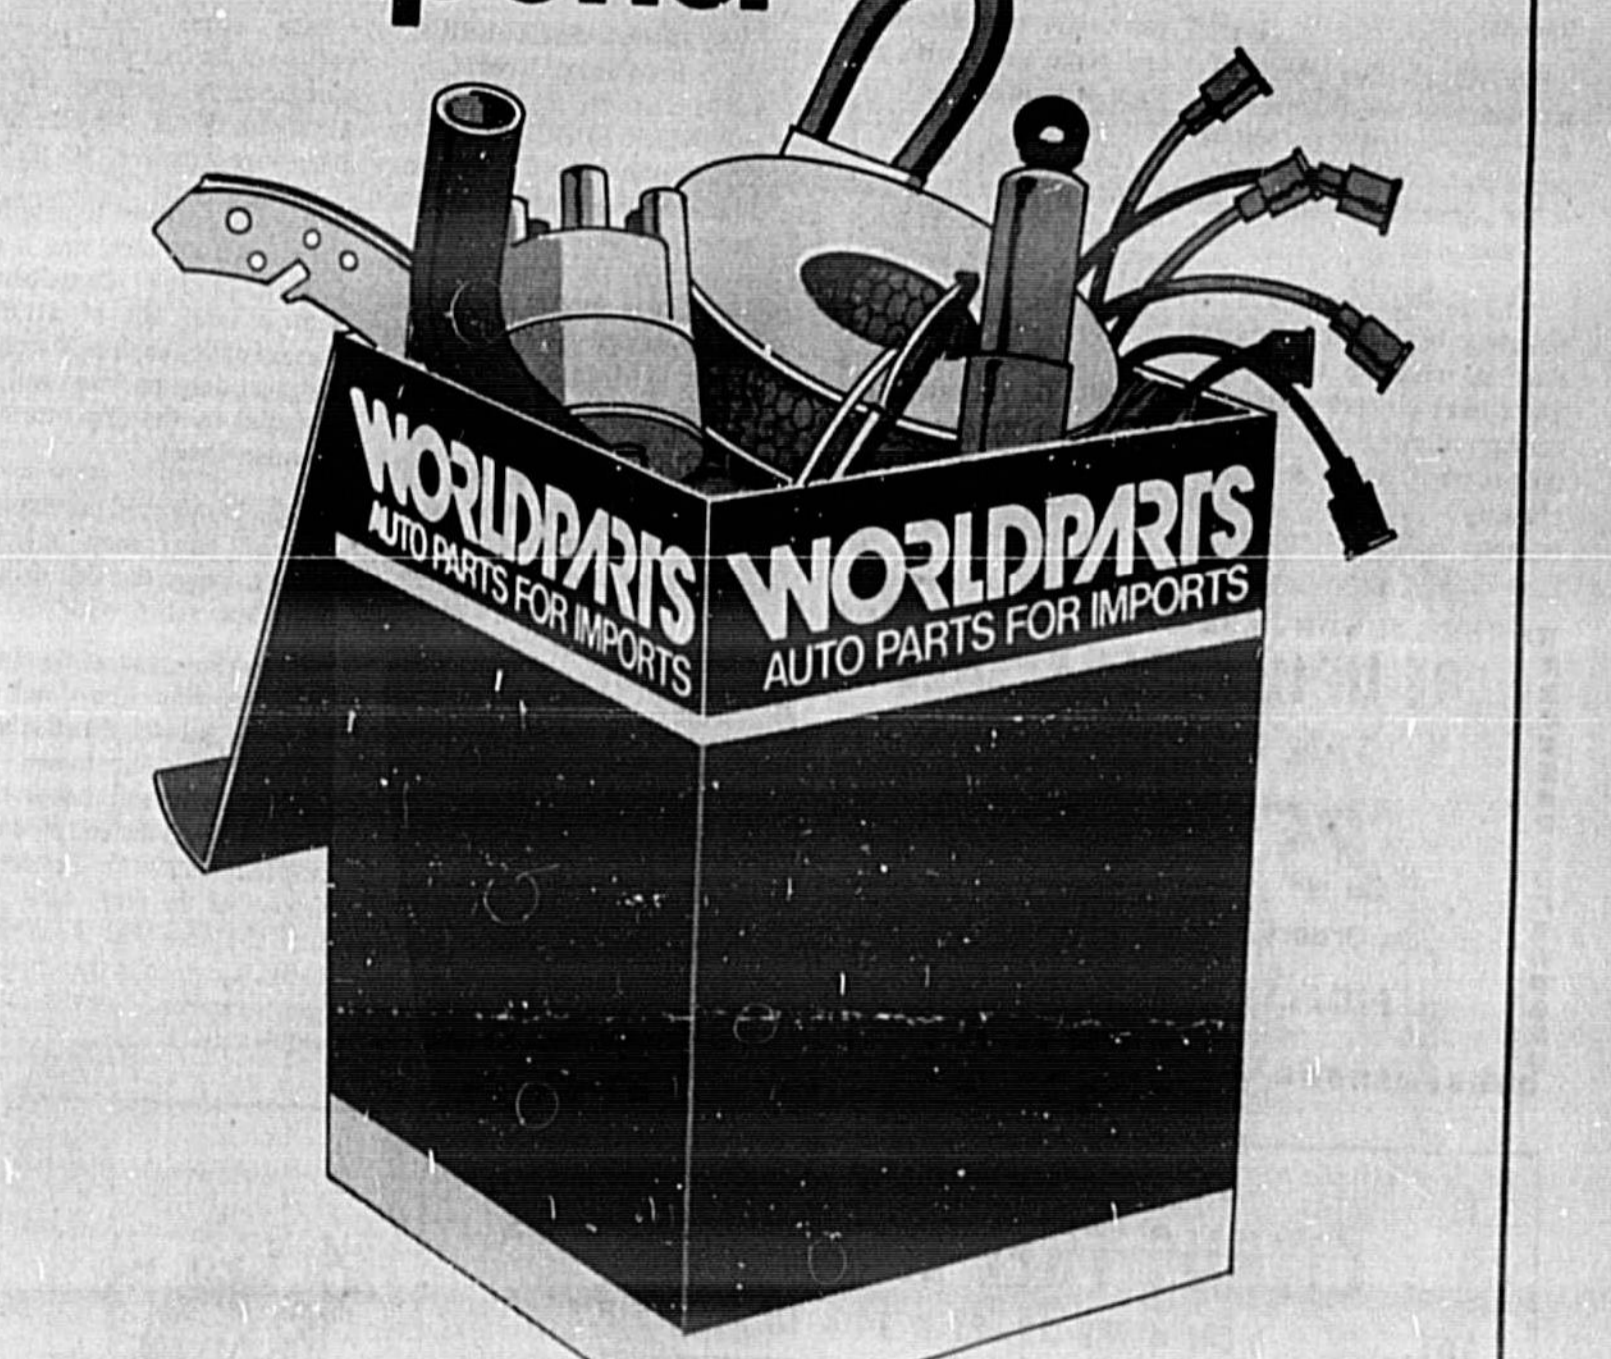

Scheduled to stand trial with Gurney are Joseph Bastien, former head of Gurney's field office in Winter Park; K. Wayne Swiger, suspended head of the Tampa office of the Federal Housing Administration; Ralph M. Kozak, former Jacksonville FHA official; and James E. Groom, former Gurney administrative aide.

The trial date and Crittenden's severance were announced after a 90-minute disclosure hearing which followed disclosure in court of the plea-bargaining attempt.

Crittenden acknowledged that a document detailing a plea-bargaining arrangement for a defendant had been received as a court exhibit. But he refused to identify the defendant and said he would consider plea proposals only after the trial starts.

"There will be no plea considered today," he said.

U.N. To Ask Turkish Troop Withdrawal

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Many diplomats predict that the United Nations Security Council will end its new Cyprus debate with a resolution renewing its call for the early withdrawal of the Turkish occupation army and its support for the independence and territorial integrity of the island republic.

The diplomats conceded, however, that the Turks hold most of the cards necessary to make the proclamation of a separate Turkish Cypriot state in northern Cyprus stick. They pointed out that the new state in the northern 40 per cent of Cyprus is protected by the military superiority of the 40,000-man Turkish occupation army.

American Aid Declines

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP) — Irish Foreign Minister Garret Fitzgerald says contributions by Irish-Americans to the Irish Republican Army have dropped since his warnings that every dollar contributed for relief in Northern Ireland was helping to kill or maim Irishmen.

Fitzgerald, who sounded his warning in two visits to the United States in the past year, said there is a growing awareness among Irish-Americans that their dollars are being used not only to relieve distress among emigrants in Northern Ireland, but also to arm the IRA guerrillas battling the British army and the Protestant majority in Ulster.

He told The Associated Press in an exclusive interview: "Over the past 12 months or so contributions have been less. The IRA's funds for the purchase of arms and explosives are less than they were. But, of course, the funds that come for that purpose are not disclosed."

Americans Urge Ethiopia Airlift

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (AP) — About 50 Americans still in northern Ethiopia believe their lives will be in danger from the Eritrean guerrillas if Washington fills the Ethiopian request for a big ammunition airlift.

The U.S. State Department confirmed this week that a request is being studied from Ethiopia's ruling junta for more than $20 million worth of ammunition for the junta's war against the Arab-financed Eritrean Liberation Front.

Both American diplomats and civilians say they should be evacuated from Eritrea if the ammunition is sent. That would mean closing the U. S. Consulate in Asmara, the besieged provincial capital, and the Kagnew military communications station just outside the city.

Jaycees Schedule Management Event

The South Seminole Jaycees will be offering a series of management seminars to all interested parties. The sessions are open to the public and will be free of charge. The seminars will be conducted by Jack Classe, a noted author, lecturer and management consultant.

He went on to add, "This series of seminars by Jack Classe is the first of such community projects. Any person, housewife or executive, can relate to these programs and come away with new insight or motivation."

The seminars will be held one night a week, starting Tuesday, Feb. 25, and on each successive Tuesday. The site is the Altamonte Springs Civic Center and the time is 8 p.m.

Will the South Seminole Jaycees open their membership to women? Alpert would not comment, except to say that it was becoming a pertinent issue.

Ray Alpert, club president, was quick to add that women were most welcome. In fact, he hoped that a substantial portion of the participants would be of the fairer sex.

"The Jaycees gained a bit of notoriety by refusing to open their membership to women. The Supreme Court upheld the ruling allowing the closed membership, and it served to classify the Jaycee organization as one comprised

PRESIDENT GERALD FORD Hoping For Veto Blocking

Labor Issues Bleak Economic Forecast

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — In painting its blackest economic picture yet, the AFL-CIO says only "massive emergency measures" can prevent a depression and restore public confidence in the government.

The worst downward spiral since the 1930s is now feeding on itself, AFL-CIO leaders said in a lengthy statement citing an "alarming drop" in industrial production and reductions in business investment.

The labor federation said this resulted from a massive drop in purchasing power which brought consumer sales down so far that it would require an increase of nearly $60 billion in the annual rate of after-tax personal income just to get back to the pre-recession level.

The AFL-CIO called the Federal Reserve's slight reduction in the discount rate and the administration's agreement to re-

Ford Banking On Switch Of Senators

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House is banking on a switch by a small group of senators to sustain President Ford's promised veto of legislation suspending higher oil tariffs.

Ford has until midnight on March 4 to act on the bill, which reached the White House at mid-afternoon Thursday following Senate approval by a 66-28 vote.

The Senate margin was more than the two-thirds required to override the expected veto, with 94 senators voting. Attention is focused on the Senate override vote because the 200-114 margin of approval in the House indicates much stronger sentiment in favor of overriding the bill, which would suspend the administration's tariff program for 90 days.

Over the last several weeks some of the 10 Senate Republicans who voted for the delay would switch their votes on the override because of their wish to avoid clashing directly with Ford.

White House Press Secretary Ron Nessen sought to spike reports of compromise between the heavily Democratic Congress and the administration on the energy program.

"There can be no compromise on goals" of Ford's program, Nessen said. The Ford program's goal is to cut reliance on foreign oil by reducing domestic energy consumption through higher prices. Nessen repeated that Ford is willing to examine an alternative energy program when one is presented.

Meanwhile, some liberal House Democrats turned to the Democratic caucus in an attempt to force the House to consider ending the controversial oil depletion allowance. The caucus of all 289 House Democrats will meet next Tuesday to consider a request that they require the House Rules Committee to permit a floor vote on a proposal to end the allowance.

Opponents of the allowance sought unsuccessfully earlier this week to back such a repealer on to the Democratic-sponsored, $1.28-billion tax cut bill which reaches the floor next week.

The House Ways and Means Chairman Al Ullman, D-Ore., is asking his colleagues to defer consideration of the oil depletion allowance until the panel begins hearings March 3 on energy taxes.

The Ways and Means Committee voted Thursday to open the hearings to live radio and television coverage, though there was no immediate indication that any network was interested in providing gavel-to-gavel coverage.

In another development, the House Banking Committee asked to water down two proposals that would ration credit and compel the Federal Reserve Board to take steps to lower interest rates.

Banking Chairman Henry S. Reuss, D-Wis., suffered a defeat when the panel voted 30 to 19 against a bill to require the Federal Reserve to lower interest rates.

Intelstat Failure Leaves Space Officials 'Puzzled'

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Space agency officials say they don't know why an Atlas Centaur rocket trying to take an Intelstat IV satellite into space headed for the Indian Ocean area because this satellite was intended as a spare.

"It is easy to be disappointed," he said. "But there are risks in this business and the failures are no different than we planned. We have planned for one failure out of four launches. It does not represent a disaster."

There are also three satellites over the Atlantic Ocean and two over the Pacific Ocean.

Space agency officials said they don't know why an Atlas Centaur rocket trying to take an Intelstat IV satellite into space headed for the Indian Ocean area because this satellite was intended as a spare.

They said the failure occurred shortly after the engines cut off in the first stage of the rocket and that the rocket and its 13,100-pound Intelstat IV were destroyed as a safety measure.

The Intelstat IV was to have been positioned over the Indian Ocean to join six identical satellites in what is billed as the largest global-communications network ever established.

The satellites are owned by the International Telecommunications Satellite Organization, composed of 86 countries, and are managed by

Welfare Cut $97.2 Million

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Ford administration has cut family welfare grants to the states by $97.2 million for the first quarter of this year in a continuing campaign against ineligible and overpaid recipients, it was learned today.

Another massive reduction totaling millions of dollars is due in April, the Department of Health, Education and Welfare said. The latest cuts come on top of the $61.7 million withheld during the last half of 1972.

The cutsbacks mean that states must either weed out more ineligible and overpaid recipients or dig into their state treasuries to pay welfare checks through March 31.

The nationwide figures from HEW's Social and Rehabilitation Service are contained in "working papers" which have not been released to the states. Each state has been told how much it is losing during the first three months of this year but that information has not been made public by state welfare departments in many cases.

HEW said the amounts of the reductions are based on states' estimates of how much they could save by correcting errors in the huge Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC) program and additional penalties levied by Washington for failing to meet federal goals.

New York was the big loser in the allocations for the first quarter. It was hit with what HEW called "improvements and adjustments" totaling $27 million. Other big reductions were $10.7 million in Illinois, $9.5 million in Ohio, $7.2 million in California and $5 million in Pennsylvania.

All states incurred cuts in funds to help pay AFDC recipients for the first quarter except Nevada, Montana and South Carolina. HEW said the latter two states are being reviewed.

HEW did not provide a breakdown on how much of the $97.2 million reduction was voluntarily shouldered by the states and how much was in the form of federal penalties. Of the $61.7 million withheld last year, only $14.2 million represented estimates by the states of how much they could save.

The steps proposed by the AFL-CIO included a massive public services jobs program, subsidies for home construction, measures to require lowering of interest rates and long-range tax reform to increase revenues by $20 to $30 billion.

Men's Club, said he thought it was a good idea with not much chance of succeeding.

"The public reaction to the idea will be negative," he said. "And I must add that it's a damned shame."

Nixon owns two of the less than a dozen homes on the island's Bay Lane and frequently visited them while President.

Rebozo and industrialist Robert A. Lehmann, another close friend of the former President, also own homes on the lane.

"You have to remember that this is a plot of history which is unique in South Florida," Leatherwood said in explaining the formation of the association. "Speaking strictly from an historical sense, I think we should move to preserve that dignity now that we have the opportunity."

Seven Cardinal Virtues: Justice Is The Bridge

By DAVID POLING The Herald Services The ancient Hebrew Psalmist gives us some clues to the many dimensions of justice when he wrote: "Give the king thy justice, O God, and thy righteousness to the royal son!"

Justice is the beginning of the full life. It is the signal for the coming of Christ, first through the powerful social preaching of John the Baptist. Then, the appearance of Jesus who said, "The poor have the good news preached to them..."

Justice is a bridge between church and state, the sanctuary and the court. It holds an inherent awareness of moral consequence, for it is a reflection of the axiom that all true religion begins in mystery and ends in politics.

Lyman Stuns Seminole

By TOM KEYSER Herald Sports Editor

DeLand—Victories have not come often this season to Lyman High School's basketball team.

Lyman managed to win only two regular season games and lose 22. But Thursday night, victory shook hands with Lyman when the Greyhounds more than ever were seeking a friendly greeting.

Lyman dumped Seminole 51-47 Thursday in the opening round of the District V, 4A Tournament at Stetson University.

The winners of tonight's games will vie for the district crown Saturday at 8:30 p.m. after a junior varsity contest between Gainesville and DeLand at 7 p.m.

"The thing that makes me the most happy," Lyman Coach Rick Steinko said, "is that the kids are happy. It's late in the year, I know, and we've only won three games, but this one was for the kids."

"I mean, doggone, they've taken a lot of abuse. And they've gotten their butts beat. But now it's paying off for them and there is not a group anywhere that deserves it more than they."

Patriots Win Shocker

By CHUCK McCLUNG Herald Correspondent

FOREST CITY—Upset! What else can be said of Lake Brantley High School's 66-64 come-from-behind victory over New Smyrna Beach Thursday night in quarter-final action of the District VIII, 3A Tournament?

A 31-point fourth quarter by Coach Chris Butterworth's Brantley bunch enabled the Pats to advance to tonight's semifinals.

Brantley faces Apopka, pre-tournament favorites, tonight at 7 p.m.

In the second game of Thursday's opening round, Leesburg took a spectacular victory from Hernando, 58-48.

Leesburg faces Oviedo tonight at 8:30. Tonight's winners meet in the finals Saturday at 8 p.m.

"We had balance... that's the big thing. We had balance," Butterworth said of his Patriots 24-of-36 ratio from the field and 15 per cent claim of the rebounds.

"We kept our cool and played them close and pulled it out at the end," he said. "We were down by nine, but we came back by keeping our fire. Our kids did a real good job."

"As many turnovers and missed free throws as we had, we shouldn't have won," Butterworth said.

Turnovers hurt the Pats all night. They fumbled 28 times. The Patriots mishaps cost them a nine-point lead in the third, as the 'Cudas took control of the game that had been docketed in the first half.

The score was 28-28 after the initial half, but the 'Cudas cashed in on Patriot turnovers for an eight-point advantage, 43-35, after the third eight minutes.

New Smyrna jumped to an early 6-0 lead before Butterworth called time out to let the Patriot quieten their Lake Brantley cut the margin to two, 6-4, less than a minute later.

But the 'Cudas began to roll as their advantage increased to 10-4, before the quarter ended 16-11.

But one wound was inflicted to Smyrna when its 6-4 pivotman, Jerry Mathis was charged with his third personal foul in the last minute of the quarter.

Seminole Coach Joe Mills refused to comment after the game.

Trailing 27-22 with 5:30 remaining in the third quarter, Lyman proceeded to outscore Seminole 22-4 in the next 10 minutes.

Rick Shuett tossed in an inside field goal with 5:10 to play in the third period and Bernard Wright's three-point play caught Seminole at 27-47 one minute later.

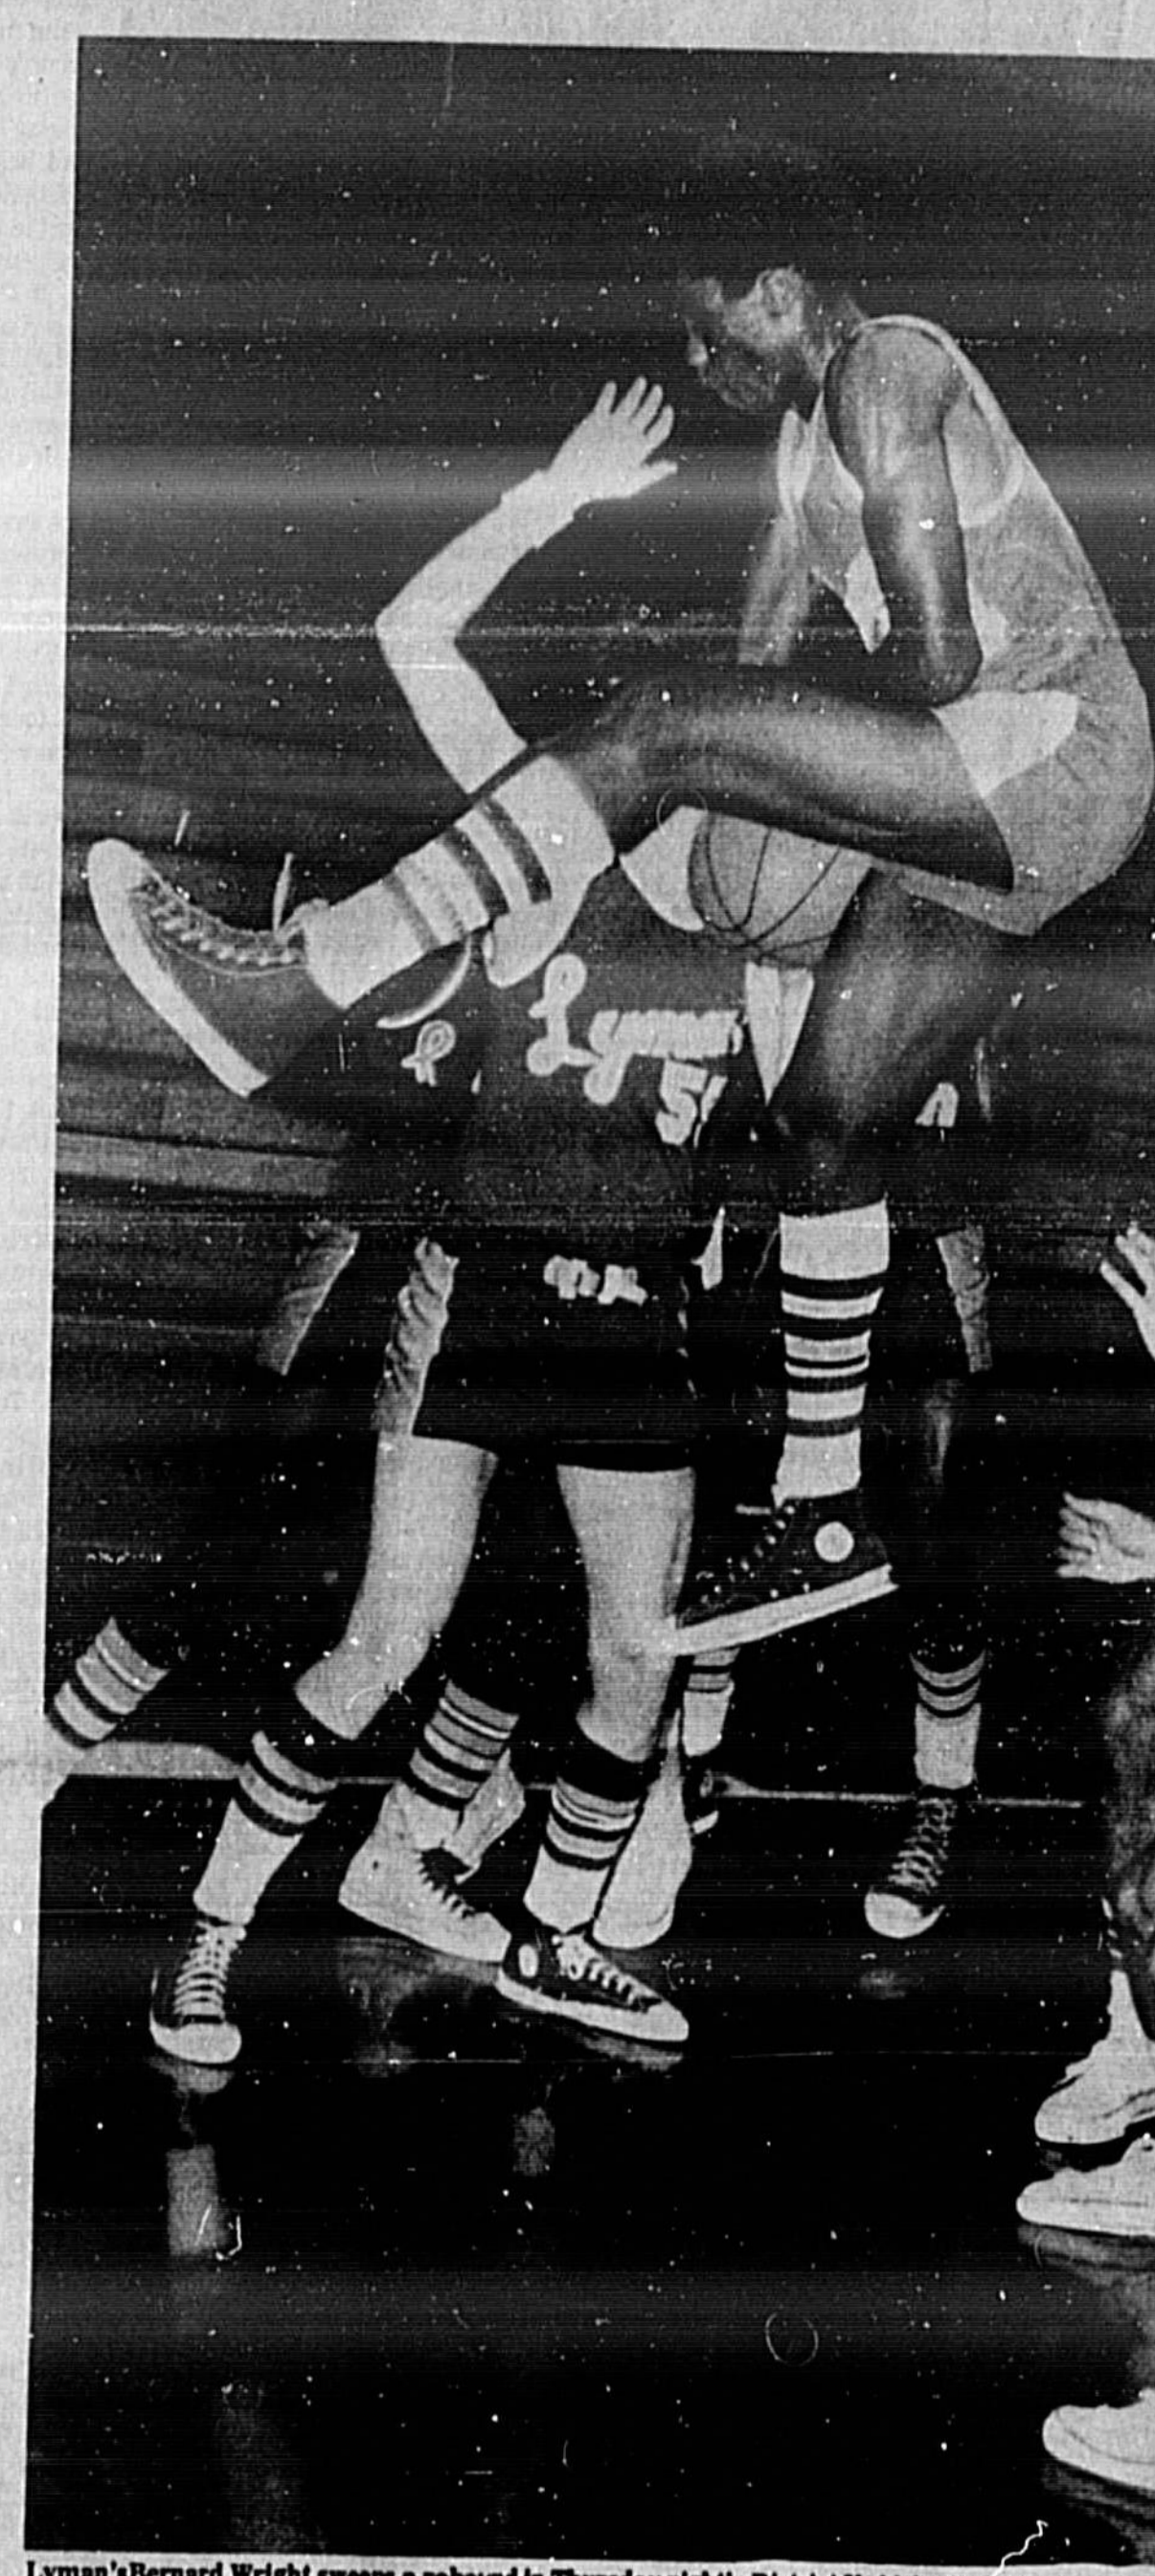

Lyman's Wright moved inside for two points with seven seconds left in the quarter to give Lyman a 32-29 third period advantage.

The Greyhounds outscored Seminole 10-2 in the first half of the final quarter to pad its lead to 44-31 before Seminole mounted a late attack.

Seminole's Fred Washington hit inside and Pringle bucketed two free throws to cut Lyman's lead to 44-45. Washington and Randy Brown of Seminole traded field goals with Lyman's Clyde Hudson before Brown swished a 20-footer to clip Lyman's lead to 48-41 with two minutes left in the game.

After Wright claimed a free throw with 1:48 to play, two, Brown snagged a sluggish Lyman pass and raced the length of the court for two points and finally, with 20 seconds to play, Tom Hollingsworth of Seminole sank an off-balance 20-footer to cut Lyman's lead to 48-47.

Burns Claims Bloody Win

By LEE GEIGER Herald Correspondent

ORLANDO—One of the biggest boxing upsets in the state of Florida was pulled off Thursday night at the Orlando Sports Stadium by Ernie Burns when the Miami middleweight stopped Lou Viscusi's Glenn Morgan in the sixth round.

Morgan entered the ring with a mark of 13-0. All his wins came via the KO route. But Burns was able to come out on top because of a badly lacerated left eye of the favored Minnesota fighter.

Before the torrid battle, Joe Brady, Viscusi's right-hand man, said, "The kid (Morgan) has a fine future except for that baby skin of his."

The words were prophetic as Burns absorbed a beating from Morgan but busted him up in return.

In the first round, the tempo was set. Burns had Morgan bleeding from the nose as he struck sharp jabs into the face of the goateed batter, but on several occasions he almost went down from savage Morgan head shots.

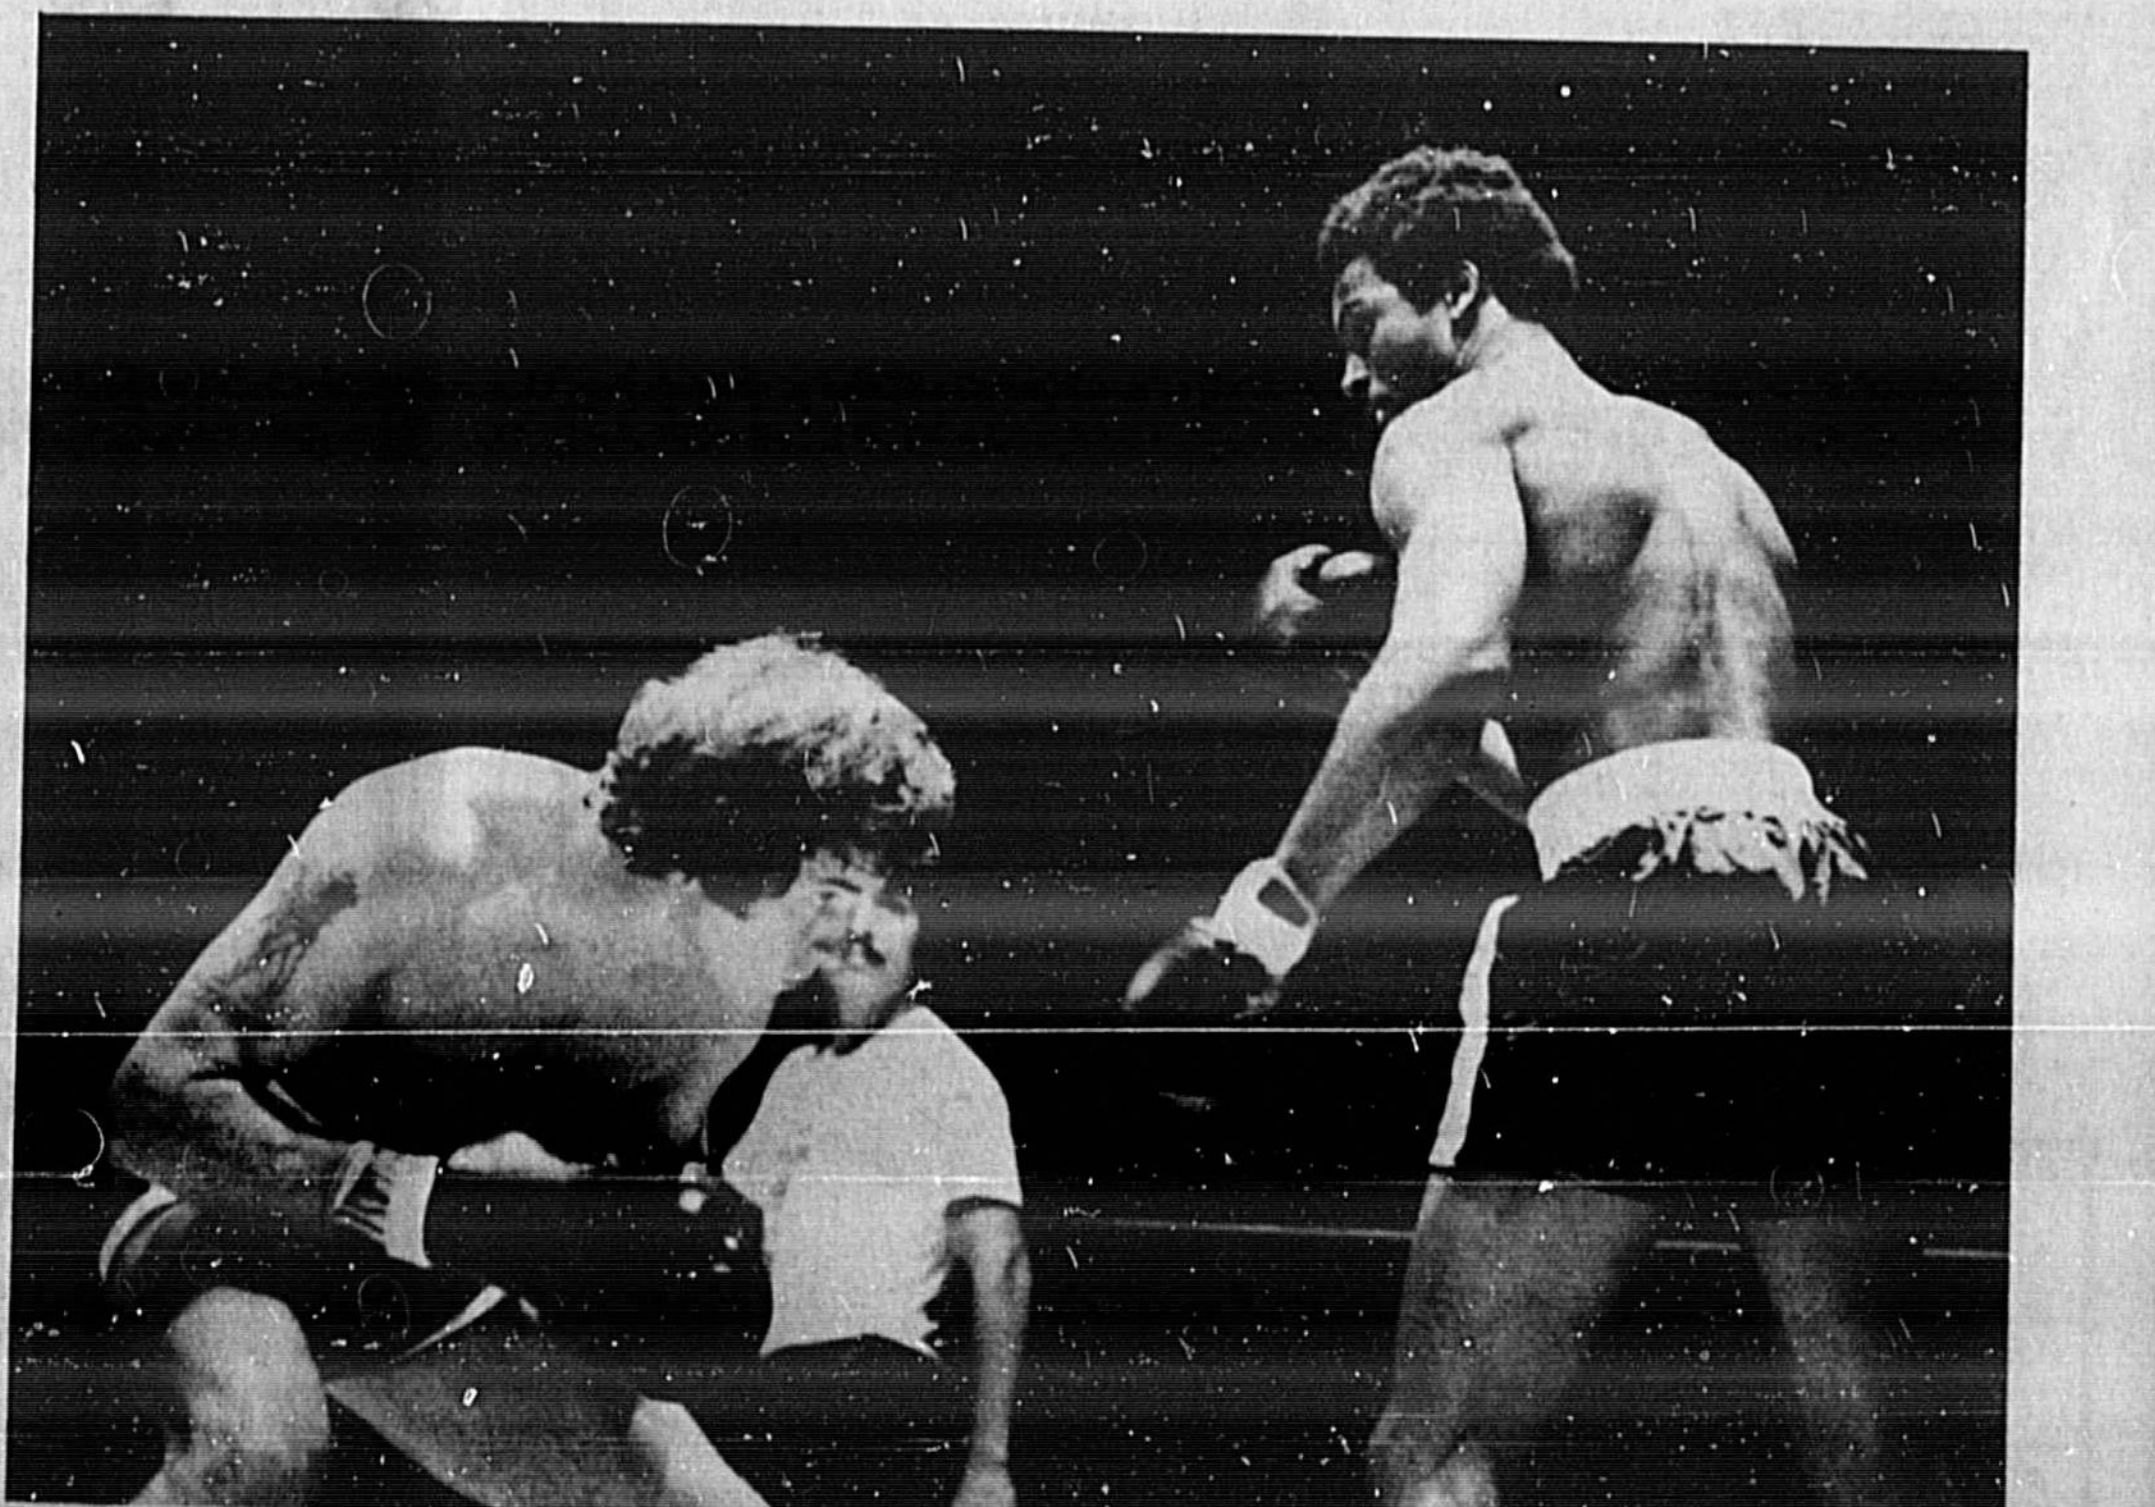

In the second Morgan teed off on every occasion as he rocked Burns repeatedly. But by the end of the stanza, it was Morgan who returned to his corner with blood pouring down his face from a cut over his left eye.

Morgan went out to finish Burns in the third. He tore into him in desperation and dropped him for an eight count midway in the round.

In the fourth and fifth, Morgan was the aggressor, smashing away with both hands while Burns tried to control punch and work on the damaged eye.

When the bell sounded for the sixth, it was the farthest Morgan had gone and he looked slow coming out of his corner. Burns began to take the offensive as he scored with straight right-hand shots that caused Morgan's eye to rupture more.

HOROSCOPE

By BERNICE BEDE OSOL

ARIES (March 21-April 19) An outside influence has shaken things up domestically. It will have some effect today, but its power is diminishing.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Your going to run into someone whose opinion is contrary to yours but equally strong. Handle this person tactfully.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Don't be bashful about seeking an adjustment for something that seems overpriced. Grind out a better deal.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) You and your mate will not see eye-to-eye on the way to handle things. Each must yield a bit if peace is to be maintained.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) You'll be inconvenienced because of another's problems. You will put yourself out because this individual has done the same for you.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) There's an unresolved issue with an old friend. It has been smoldering too long. It could be patched up now, if you try.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Begin yourself to see things through to completion today. Bring some fortunate circumstances you'll both share.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Someone will anger you today. You'll be tempted to give him a piece of your mind. Your better judgment will prevail. You won't.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Someone in your family is spending too much money. Better revise the budget. Be sure all stick to it faithfully.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) The actions of your mate or partner will bug you — mostly because you don't appreciate his point of view. Once you do, harmony returns.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) The work load you have to contend with today will be very trying. Keep your mind on the rewards. It won't seem so heavy.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) A friend you seldom seem at ease with will cross your path. This time, her presence will prove enjoyable.

YOUR BIRTHDAY

County 'Mutual Aid' Fire Plan Hits Sanford Stumbling Block

By MICKEY LOCHRIDGE
Herald Staff Writer

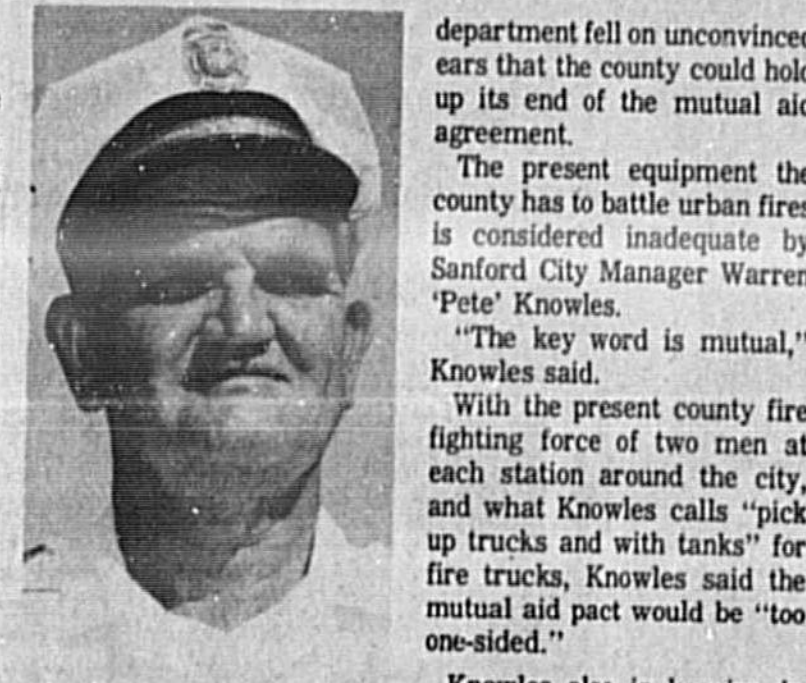

The five-month old Seminole County Fire Department, responsible for fire protection in the unincorporated areas of the county, is suffering from growing pains.

Besides the expected problems from organizing several volunteer fire-fighting units under the county roof, Seminole County Fire Department is running into deadends from Seminole municipalities with the proposal to establish mutual aid agreements.

Following the department's beginning in October 1974, each county municipality was contacted with the idea to establish a mutual aid pact whereby the county and cities would assist one another on emergencies.

Of the municipalities contacted only Altamonte Springs and Lake County have replied to the mutual aid proposal.

Altamonte Springs is interested, Sanford is not. Groundwork for a pilot program is being laid between the county and Altamonte Springs for a mutual aid pact.

If the test program is successful, County Fire Administrator Gary Kaiser hopes other Seminole municipalities will follow Altamonte Springs' lead and join the county with mutual aid.

But, Kaiser's request for mutual aid with Sanford's fire department fell on unconvincing ears that the county could hold up its end of the mutual aid agreement.

The present equipment the county has to battle urban fires is considered inadequate by Sanford City Manager Warren "Pete" Knowles.

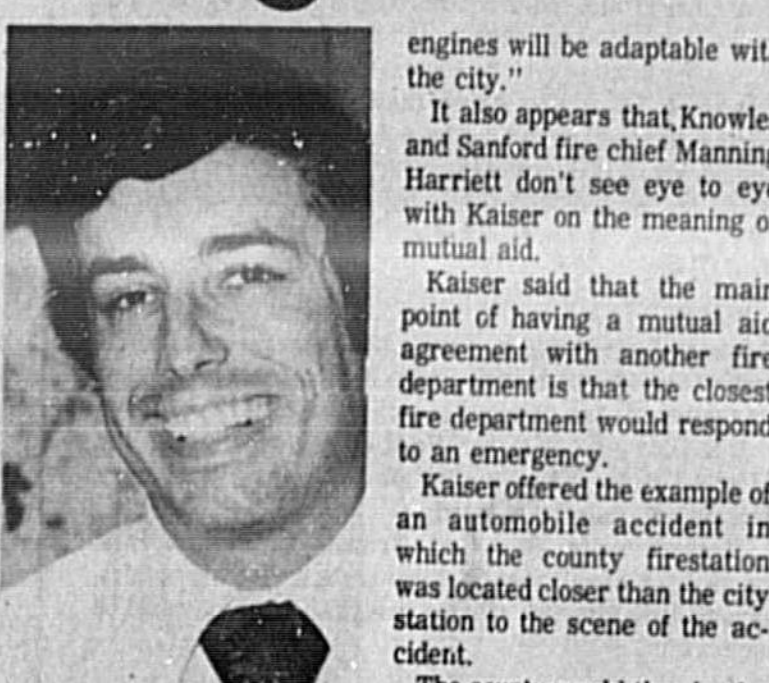

"The key word is mutual," Knowles said.

With the present county fire fighting force of two men at each station around the city, and what Knowles calls "pick up trucks and tanks" for fire trucks, Knowles said the mutual aid pact would be "too one-sided."

Knowles also is keeping in mind the fact that if the City of Sanford went into an agreement with the county, fire insurance to the city taxpayers would probably increase.

But Kaiser is aware of his undermanned fire stations and is pushing for more money from the County Commission to increase his personnel and upgrade the county's fire-fighting equipment.

Presently, the county is

insuring bids for four new fire engines, which also is a point on which Knowles and Kaiser differ.

Knowles said the new fire trucks would not be compatible with the city's existing fire equipment.

But, "this is incorrect," Kaiser says. "The specifications of the new

Gulf Schedules Oil Exploration In Seminole County

By BILL BELLEVILLE
Herald Staff Writer

A company under contract to Gulf Oil will soon begin preliminary oil exploration attempts in Seminole County if County Commissioners give their official approval on Tuesday.

Commissioners last week indicated that they would allow Geophysical Survey Inc., a subsidiary of Texas Instruments Inc., to begin sound applications along the shoulders of county roads once a contract for the activity is completed.

John Culey of Geophysical told the Board last week that his firm would pay the county $100 for every mile of county road when they used for exploration.

Culey indicated that their search would probably last "about sixty days," and use about 20 to 30 miles of county roads.

The exploration firm has already received permission from the state to operate along state roads rights-of-ways in Seminole, Lake, Orange, and Volusia counties and is presently completing exploration work in Lake.

The patent oil research method, called Vibroseis, works on the concept of bouncing vibrations off various levels of the earth's crust, and recording the vibrations on special tape in a sound truck. The tape is then sent to a Houston, Texas laboratory for interpretation of the seismic vibrations.

According to County Engineer Bill Bush, who inspected the firm's operation in Lake County, the process does not involve any drilling or blasting.

Transponders - foot-long receiving spikes connected by telephone wire - are placed in the ground along the shoulder of the road for a stretch of about four miles. A receiving truck with taping facilities is situated in the middle of the stretch. Then, four huge "vibrator trucks" move single file along the wired section, stopping about every 20 feet to thrust a four foot square steel stamp into the ground. The stamp is then vibrated for 20 seconds and the receiving truck picks up the vibrations bouncing back from various levels of the earth's crust. By identifying the type of geological structure beneath the earth, scientists can then determine the probability of locating oil in that sector.

In addition to projecting oil probabilities, other rock structures can also be identified, including coal deposits.

Although the vibrations from the trucks are described by Bush as "light, gentle" ones, the noise from the "vibrator engines may be disturbing to some residents."

"I warned the commissioners that they can expect to receive complaints about the trucks," Bush said. Since the process is a slow one, it could take up to a half hour to pass a particular point, he explained.

In addition to working state and county roads, the firm is making plans to contract for use of private property in order to properly cover the entire county.

Bush said he "doubts seriously if the vibrations would cause a shikhole" in weak limestone formations, but admits that "some emotional people will probably think so."

Bush said that the firm has no reason to believe that oil exists in Central Florida, but are attempting exploration here as part of a county-wide search by Gulf for new deposits of black oil.

Following expected Board approval of the contract on Tuesday, and preliminary surveying of areas to be "sounded out," operations could begin immediately, Bush said.

No word has yet been received on interpretation of tapes from Lake County attempts.

18 Pounds Of 'Weed' Discovered By Police

By GLENN McCASLAND
Herald Staff Writer

CASSELLBERRY - A 30-year-old man was facing a variety of charges today after police discovered "between 15 to 18 pounds" of marijuana in a suitcase during an investigation into the injury of a Casselberry patrolman yesterday.

George Allen Thompson, 30, an address given, was arrested on charges of driving while intoxicated, operating a vehicle with an expired Tennessee driver's license and disorderly intoxication after Patrolman Richard Faulkner was knocked to the ground by an automobile at the ABC Lounge parking lot on State Route 436 and U.S. 17-92.

Sgt. R. C. Adams said during the investigation of Faulkner's injury, a suitcase, which had been brought to Casselberry police headquarters from the accident scene, was opened and the marijuana discovered.

Thompson was arrested at 2:03 a.m. by Faulkner and Patrolman Jim Thompson after a stalled taxicab in which Thompson was riding jumped forward, hitting Faulkner, Adams said.

Detectives said the marijuana was valued at "about $3,500 on the street" and called the discovery one of the largest in recent months in Seminole County.

Adams said Faulkner and Thompson were checking a report of a suspicious person at the lounge parking lot when the officers noticed a taxicab with the hood raised in the lot.

Checking the cab, the officers found its driver attempting to start the car and assisted him with Faulkner holding a flashlight at the front of the vehicle.

A man, later identified as Thompson, was in the cab at the time and offered to assist the cab driver in starting the car, but the offer was declined, Adams said.

Faulkner asked the man to step out of the cab, which he did, but just as the cab motor started, the man got into the driver's seat and put the vehicle into gear, causing it to jump forward, striking Faulkner, Adams reported.

Faulkner dove over the hood of the police cruiser parked nearby to avoid being trapped between the two cars, but the parking brake of the cab kept the taxi from striking the car.

Faulkner suffered a slight injury to the forehead and bruises to the right knee, Sgt. Adams said. The officer was checked and released at Florida North.

Adams said at the time of the incident, a brown leather suitcase was in the back seat with the man, who asked officers to allow him to retain the suitcase while at the Casselberry city jail.

Officers placed the suitcase in the trunk of the police cruiser and transported Thompson to jail for booking, Adams said.

After Thompson was booked on the traffic charges, Faulkner and Thompson took the suitcase from the cruiser to inventory its contents and discovered the marijuana.

Shaw Charges Dropped

By ED PRICKETT
Herald Staff Writer

State Atty. Abbott Herring's office has dropped felony burglary and grand larceny charges against the eighth suspect in a Sanford police burglary ring.

Assistant State Atty. Bill Heffernan said the charges against auxiliary policeman Robert A. Shaw, 29, of 2409 S. Decoties Ave., Sanford, were dropped because sworn testimony by other persons involved vindicated Shaw.

He had been charged in connection with a Dec. 30 break-in in which tools were taken from Lakeview Junior High School.

Seven other suspects arrested, including four police patrolmen, a city building inspector, a auxiliary policeman and a New Jersey electrician have pleaded guilty to offenses in the burglaries.

The seven face possible maximum sentences ranging from a year in county jail to 15 years in state prison. They remain free on recognizance pending pre-sentence investigations ordered by Circuit Court Judge Clarence T. Johnson last week.

The day the police officers pleaded guilty Heffernan told Judge Johnson that sworn statements given by the suspended officers "make it obvious that the state has no breaking and entering or grand larceny case against Shaw."

"The defendants said Shaw just happened to be there. He didn't participate," Heffernan said.

Boycott Could Prove Costly

By ED PRICKETT
Herald Staff Writer

The Seminole County school system could lose about $600 per student for every pupil who boycotts classes at Rosenwald Elementary next week, according to a school spokesman.

Administrative Assistant Ralph Ray said the "potential" for the state to penalize Seminole is there. But, he said, School Supt. Bud Leyer had told him the state would probably make allowances due to circumstances.

"I feel sure, under the circumstances, the state would make some allowances; I'm sure the state would not penalize us," Ray said.

The reason for the potential loss is the state's "FTE Week," or the week the state makes its audit to determine how much funding will be granted next year.

A spokesman confirmed next week is audit week, and that the actual head count runs from Feb. 14-28. To get funding next year from the state, a student must be enrolled in the school and have attended classes on at least one of the audit days.

At Rosenwald, the boycott got underway on Feb. 10.

If a student is out during the entire period, the state can chop approximately $600 per student, depending on the grade the student attends. At Rosenwald, it would be slightly more than $600 because it is an elementary school, Ray said.

A school principal said one day is all it takes for a student to attend. "But if he's not there at all, we lose money from him," the principal said.

The countywide boycott of all schools, which is scheduled to begin Monday, shouldn't affect the funding because it is scheduled to last only three days. Thus, each student should be in classes a minimum of one day during the audit period, which is all that is specified in the funding requirements.

Blacks have called for the solidarity of purpose among blacks in the community. Concerning the Rosenwald boycott, black spokesmen have set no time for its ending.

Instead, James Gadsden, a community leader, says it's "unfortunate" when Rosenwald marchers will put their children back into school. About 211 blacks attend Rosenwald.

FLEEING JUVENILE ORDERED JAILED

Five bailiffs and sheriff's deputies apprehended a fleeing 17-year-old juvenile Friday afternoon after a chase through the courthouse and city streets to Magnolia Avenue and Third Street (above). Officials said the youth fled upon learning Circuit Court Judge David U. Strawn was ordering him held in the Sanford Juvenile Detention Center. Following the youth's capture Sheriff's Sgt. Tony Calante (right) escorted the handcuffed youth back to court where Strawn ordered him held in county jail. (Herald Photos by Bill Vincent)
