WASHINGTON (UPI)—This is the week when it is our pleasure to play host to the annual convention of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

I use the pronoun "our" in its collective, or city-wide, sense although I am obliged to add that the pleasure is not always unanimous.

It is not secret that the DAR ladies have a way of getting on the nerves of some of our government officials. Former President Truman, you'll recall, was one of those who was not exactly enchanted by the ladies and I do believe this feeling was reciprocated.

Back in those days, before the White House was renovated, it was found that the upstairs floor of the executive mansion was weak, particularly in the vicinity of the President's bathroom.

Truman used to entertain the idea that the floor might collapse one evening while a DAR reception was going on downstairs. He further envisioned that he would be in the bathtub when it plummeted into their midst.

To this day, I can conjure up a sharp mental picture of the undraped Chief Executive crashing-landing among the DAR ladies. Somehow I don't think they would have been surprised.

"Harry's at it again," they probably would have said, and then gone right on serving tea.

Liston Favored In Bout Tonight

HOUSTON, Tex. (UPI)—Sonny Liston remained a solid 3-1 favorite to make Texan Roy Harris his 22nd straight victim in tonight's "heavyweight elimination" bout here.

The bomb-throwing Liston was expected to weigh in at noon at about 212 pounds, while Harris was expected to tip the scales at an even 200.

Liston said he expects to knock out Harris, despite the fact that the Cuban-Shoot, Tex., school teacher has lost only one bout in 21 fights, that being a 12-round TKO at the hands of then-champion Floyd Patterson. Liston has won 28 of 29 fights, and has scored 19 knockouts as compared to Harris' eight.

4 Shows Booked Here Next Fall

The Sanford-DeBary Entertainment Association has booked four shows for its season to start next fall.

The National Opera Company will perform opera in English in November. Monologist Cornelia Stahler will put several one-woman skits in the December show.

"The Caledonians," a troop of 19 Scottish highland lads and lassies will sing and dance at the Civic Center Jan. 5, and Metropolitan Opera star Rise Stevens will hit the high notes here Feb. 20.

The performances will all be at the Civic Center. Tickets will be on sale starting the first part of September.

The Liberty Bell was cracked while tolling for the funeral of Chief Justice John Marshall in 1835.

Candidates Divided On Fund Use, Vote System

Thirteen candidates for County Commission posts were sharply divided on appropriating tax money to the Chamber of Commerce and Jaycees and electing commissioners on a countywide basis at a question and answer meeting sponsored by the County Farm Bureau Monday night. Six favored giving money to the chamber, four were against it and three gave qualified answers. The most emphatic "no" came from newly appointed District 2 Commissioner J. Van Hoy, who said that the chamber should be self-sustaining and should get its aid from voluntary contributions. District 1 commission candidate Donald Bales offered a qualified yes if the money is used for publicity. His opponents, J. C. Hutchinson and T. V. Brown, said they favored appropriations to the Chamber in bringing new industry here. District 3 commission candidate Ed Zimmerman said he was against appropriating funds and said it is "illegal," while one of his opponents, A. R. Lormann would favor it if the commission had the proper control on where the money was going. James Avery and Otis Fouracre, also in the District 3 race, agreed on the necessity of financial aid to the chamber in an effort to bring industry into the county. District 5 candidates Homer Little and John Fitzpatrick favored such support, and George Bell, also in the District 5 race, said he was against it. Ted Williams, seeking the District 2 post said he was against it while J. C. Cordell said aiding the chamber was important to the county. When asked whether they favored electing commissioners by districts, Bales, Brown, Little, Lormann, Avery, Cordell, Williams, Fouracre and Fitzpatrick favored election on a countywide basis while Hutchinson, Zimmerman, Van Hoy and Bell favored commission elections by districts. The majority of the candidates did not favor a countywide drainage program paid for by county taxes and agreed that the best way to solve drainage problems was setting up special districts in areas where needed. Most of the candidates also agreed that a pay-as-you-go basis was good for the county except in emergencies and on needed capital improvements. None of the candidates was in favor of a new courthouse and Little emphasized that the commission never discussed any plans for a new courthouse. The only commissioner not present at the meeting was District 3 Commissioner Lawrence Swobford who was ill. Farm Bureau members also heard Larry Johnson speak in behalf of Doyle Conner, running for agriculture commissioner and Curtis Barnes, Mayor of Rockledge, who spoke on behalf of Bernard Parrish for Senator for the 37th district.

Mobs Force Rhee Offer To Quit

SEOUL (UPI) — One of history's greatest unarmed revolutions today swept President Syngman Rhee close to an end of his 12-year-old iron rule over South Korea. His resignation appeared imminent.

Hundreds of thousands of South Koreans, frustrated by years of steam roller tactics by Rhee's Liberal Party, rose up against the combined might of the ROK army and Rhee's police forces and won a conditional offer from Rhee to step down "if the people desire it."

The demonstrators demanded his immediate resignation. Police opened up with rifles and machineguns but the demonstrators swelled until perhaps half a million were on the march throughout Korea. At least 150 persons died and more than 1,000 were injured in the seven days of sporadic uprising but the demonstrations only grew in volume.

British Woman Walker Passes Men Competitors

WENDOVER, Utah (UPI)—The Utah Highway patrol reported this morning that Dr. Barbara Moore, the spunky British vegetarian, has passed her two countrymen in their cross-country hike.

The woman left the border town of Wendover at 8 a. m. She trailed the men by six miles before retiring shortly before midnight.

"I'll teach these sergeants a lesson," she vowed. The sergeants, Mervyn Evans and Patrick Moloney, professing no interest in the cross-country race, spent the night in their trailer at the western edge of the salt flats.

All three are trying to break the transcontinental walking record of 70 days, 10 hours and 10 minutes set in 1928. Dr. Moore left San Francisco one day behind the men.

Reds Blocking Disarmament Plan

GENEVA (UPI)—The United States said Monday there was little chance of disarmament so long as the Soviet bloc seeks "to preserve the advantage of being able to strike secretly."

Chief U. S. Delegate Fredrick M. Eaton said the Soviet Union is so obsessed with secrecy that "even the telephone books have been jealously guarded."

Payola Investigators Refuse Disc Jockey Request

WASHINGTON (UPI)—House investigators today begin their long-awaited public inquiry into charges that TV disc jockey Dick Clark is seriously involved in payola.

The payola investigating subcommittee, however, rejected the teenage idol's request to take the stand immediately "to tell his story and set it over with." Clark will be questioned later in the week.

The subcommittee called as the first witness at the public hearings Leonard P. Goldenson, president of American Broadcasting-Paramount Theaters Inc., parent company of the American Broadcasting Network on which Clark's two TV shows appear.

Polaris Moving Rapidly Toward Readiness Goal

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI)—Milestones are becoming a dime a dozen in the Navy's fastmoving Polaris missile program.

The stubby, 25-foot-tall rocket Monday night soared over the Atlantic on its first flight of more than 1,000 nautical miles. Indications were the shot was a success.

It marked a major step forward in the "big push" to get the Polaris, which will be launched from submerged submarines, combat-ready by the end of this year.

In recent days, the Polaris also had scored milestones in the first submerged launchings and in the breaking in of a new all-inertial, unjammable guidance system. However, the missile fired Monday night was steered by a simple auto-pilot.

The important factor was the range—nearly double the distance the solid-fuel missile was flying only last October.

The increase in range came after successful Polaris launchings from both above and beneath the seas in tests off the East and West coasts. These were efforts to prove out segments of the highly complex system.

This summer, the missile will be taken aboard a nuclear submarine, the USS George Washington, for surface and submerged "live" firings in the Atlantic.

Bennett said Clark signed an affidavit for ABC showing he once owned all or part of 11 record and music publishing firms. He said Clark also acknowledged in the affidavit that he played on his programs songs in which he had a financial interest and that he accepted valuable gifts from a record maker.

Other congressional news: President Eisenhower was likely to discuss at his regular Tuesday meeting with GOP congressional leaders two tax proposals that would offset each other's effect on the Treasury. One is a House-passed bill to give a tax break to employed persons saving for retirement. It would cost the government $350 million annually. The other proposal would bring $250 million a year into the Treasury by requiring corporations to withhold incomes taxes on dividends.

Rep. John B. Bennett (R-Mich.), a subcommittee member, charged six weeks ago that Clark was "obviously quite seriously involved in payola" and demanded a thorough investigation. Payola is a slang word for bribery.

Lundy, Faulk Engagement Announced

BY MARIAN R. JONES
Mr. and Mrs. John Emiel Lundy, Oviedo, are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Ann Elizabeth, to Leonard Leon Faulk Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Leon Faulk Sr., also of Oviedo.
The marriage will take place May 13, at the First Methodist Church in Oviedo. A reception will follow the services in Fellowship Hall to which all friends of the couple are invited as well as to the marriage ceremony.

Miss Lundy is a graduate of the Oviedo High School. During her school career she was editor of the school annual, secretary of the senior class, a member of the "O" Club and Glee Club and was one of the five speakers on graduation night. Speakers were chosen from five with the top grades in the class. She was also a member of the basketball team.

Although Miss Lundy did not come to Oviedo until 1956, from Norfolk, Va., she was no stranger here for her paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Slavik, and many other relatives are residents of Oviedo. She is also the granddaughter of Mrs. J. G. Cheek, of Orlando.
The groom-elect is formerly of Fitzgerald, Ga. and a graduate of Orlando Junior College, Orlando, and is affiliated with Lambda Chi Alpha Social Fraternity.
Miss Lundy received a scholarship to the college of her choice on scholastic ability but chose a business career. She has been affiliated with the Southern Bell Telephone Telegraph Company, Orlando, since graduation.

Class Teacher Sponsors Supper For Young People

The young people's group and the young married couples of the First Baptist church of Lake Mary joined together for a get acquainted supper and social evening last week at the church from 7 to 10 p. m.

The supper was given by Willard Boman, teacher of the young people's Sunday school class, and his wife. Mrs. Boman prepared the food and served the meal buffet style. Ladies helping her were, Mrs. Helen Ferguson helped decorate, Mrs. Evelyn Varn made the tea, Mrs. J. A. Frost, Mrs. Ray Rose, and Mrs. Marguerite Townsend baked pies.

A nursery was provided for the babies during the entire evening by Mrs. J. P. Beal, Mrs. Louis Horine, Linda Beal and Melba Powell.

Those who attended were, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Lusk, Mr. and Mrs. Les Chaver, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Owens, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Tepley, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Boman, Mrs. Jack Ridley, Mrs. Marie Adams, Mrs. Cynthia Ryan, Erma Jean Ubank, Cecil Landress, and Corky McMenamin.

Feed Bag Fashions To Be Modeled At Club Dress Review

High-style, low-cost fashions made from feed bag and flour sack fabrics will be featured in an unusual dress revue sponsored by the Home Demonstration Council at 401 E. 25th street, April 29 at 7:30 p. m.

The collection of all-occasion wear is provided by the National Cotton Council of Memphis, Tenn., to demonstrate the practicality of cotton packaging as a source of home sewing material. The fashions include playclothes, children's wear, street apparel and party frocks. All garments are made from 1960 McCall's patterns.

Plans for the style revue were announced by Miss Myrtle Wilson, home demonstration agent. The fashions will be modeled by home demonstrators and 4-H club members. Mrs. Anton Kreeck will serve as commentator.

Homemakers interested in taking advantage of the budget-saving values of bag sewing are urged by the cotton council to check with local feed stores, groceries and other retailers for products packed in cotton containers.

Approximately one hundred million dress print bags, in size from ten to two hundred pounds, are available annually to purchasers of staple commodities, according to the cotton council. Cottons used for packaging are attractive, durable and suitable as sewing fabrics for home and family.

WORRY CLINIC by Dr. G. W. Crane

Jason's question brings out a novel plan by which all clubs can benefit. Many members of various organizations complain that they don't get a chance to develop some public speaking ability. So adopt the suggestions below to your men's luncheon club, as well as to Women's Clubs and church groups.

CLUB: James J. aged 29, is a livestock member of Kiviana. "Dr. Crane," he began as we closed together, "have you any suggestions we might adopt to improve our Kiviana luncheon?"

"We have a dandy group of 75 men, representing a wide variety of businesses and professions. And we try to have a short, snappy speech to serve as the main part of our program. But what else can we do?"

The various men's service clubs do a fine job of promoting friendship and helping local moral and youth projects.

In fact, they should be regarded as interdenominational men's "home missionary" societies.

For they often send underprivileged youngsters to summer camps and furnish the finest crutches, wheel chairs and other aids to such students.

But when I was in Oregon some years ago, I attended an Advertising Club luncheon that I have never forgotten.

Young men, before my main speech, were given a chance to deliver a two-minute talk apiece. Each man was to select some other member of the club and then give a two-minute talk about him, describing his business and family background, as well as other relevant points.

Thus, in less than five minutes, two members of the club got a chance to make short snappy speeches, leading two other members of the club.

And in order to make these speeches had to get better acquainted with the men whom they were praising, so they had previously visited them at their stores or offices.

In recent years, Toastmasters Clubs have mushroomed all over America, partly because men crave a chance to get a little practical experience in public speaking.

If you members of Rotary, Lions, Kiwanis, Exchanges, Optimists and Christian groups would add the innovation I have just described, you would thus help meet this widespread wish for practical speech experience.

Besides, it promotes better friendships all around and avoids the necessity of a man's having to "pry a guest" himself.

In some men's service clubs, every time a member so much as mentions the name of his company, he gets fined 10 cents or 25 cents, and if he says anything that is deemed a bit of self-advertising, he also is fined a similar amount.

But it is part of the purpose of all such clubs to see that ALL their members get well acquainted, and that their business or profession likewise gets a diplomatic "plug."

So I am convinced it would add to the morale and help maintain a better morale in all such clubs if five minutes were devoted to having two members laud two other members in the manner just outlined.

The same plan could likewise be adopted by Women's Clubs and the Young People's societies of churches.

That is especially true of large city churches where newcomers feel shy, yet wish they could become included in the friendly circle of the older members in quick order.

So delegate two members each week to call upon the other two members to derive the factual data out of which to make these two-minute speeches. It helps everybody.

Send for my booklet, "How To Make Interesting Speeches," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 25c (non-profit).

Polaris Europe Bound In 1963

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Defense officials have predicted that large numbers of long-range Polaris missiles would be deployed in Europe in 1963, which has been described as the critical year of the missile era.

The officials said mobility to be given the Polaris, by putting the missiles on trucks, railroad cars or barges, would remove many European objections that balked previous programs to deploy the 1,500-mile Thor and Jupiter missiles abroad.

President Eisenhower and French President Charles DeGaulle are expected to discuss the land-based missile program during DeGaulle's official visit to Washington.

Decisions about approving the American plan could be taken at a meeting of the NATO foreign ministers in Istanbul May 3-4.

Defense Secretary Thomas E. Gates Jr. told a news conference Thursday that deployment of the Polaris could begin in Europe before 1963 if NATO leaders acted promptly in approving a proposal made by the United States in Paris last month.

One of the principal European objections to the Thor and Jupiter missiles, both liquid-fueled, was that they would be located at fixed bases, which would make nearby population centers subject to attack as military objectives.

The solid-fueled Polaris, much smaller and requiring comparatively little servicing, can be placed far from population centers.

In addition, the Polaris' mobility would prevent the Russians from training their attack missiles on any particular locations.

Nature is the most thrifty thing in the world; she never wastes anything; she undergoes change, but there's no annihilation—the essence remains. —T. Binney

-OR, FOR POLITICAL BOSS SYNGMAN RHEE?

ASSIGNMENT WASHINGTON by Ed Koterba

WASHINGTON—Once a week when my trousers go to the pressers, the dresser gets piled high with stored bits of note paper, match covers bearing coded messages, and the margins of newspapers upon which are scrawled mysterious hieroglyphics.

These are unprinted gems, unborn columns which often don't see the light of day. Here, for instance, is this week's collection . . .

Water Experiment To Be Conducted At New Facility

ST. PETERSBURG (UPI)—An experimental facility to make fresh water out of salt water will be built here at a cost of $300,000.

The U. S. Interior Department told Congressmen William C. Cramer Thursday that the plant, capable of converting 35,000 gallons daily, will be built by the Blue Knob research group of Pittsburgh, with the cooperation of the department and the Florida Power Corp.

The site is on Old Tampa Bay just south of Gandy Bridge. It will be the forerunner of a demonstration plant to be located somewhere on the East Coast. The demonstration plant, the last of five to be selected by the Interior Department, will use one of three experimental freezing processes, including one which will be tried here.

Republicans Face Trouble In North Dakota Election

By LYLE C. WILSON
 WASHINGTON (UPI)—Something is about to give in North Dakota and what gives could be the tie that binds the Republican Party to Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson.

The occasion will be an election on June 25 to fill the U. S. Senate seat vacated by the death of Sen. William Langer. Langer was a Republican, although a political maverick with a non-partisan background.

North Dakota is a Republican state. North Dakota also is a farm state. The June 25 election will clearly indicate what the Republicans can expect from farm states in November's presidential and congressional elections. It already is known that the Republicans can expect trouble. The North Dakota election will be a measure of how much.

The issue in North Dakota is not nuclear fall-out, inflation or what happens in Berlin. The issue is the price of agricultural products. These same farm products also are the basic issue in all the other farm states. Gov. John E. Davis, a young and attractive Republican, opposes Rep. Quentin Burdick, a young and attractive Democrat, for the senatorial nomination.

If Burdick ticks Davis, the practical politicians in the Republican Party will hold Benson responsible. He paralyzes the farm issue in all of the farm states. Pressures to oust Benson have been building up for years, beginning in the spring of the first Eisenhower year.

The word from the White House has been that anyone daring to propose to President Eisenhower that Benson be fired probably would be heaved out of the office door, perhaps by the President. If the Republicans lose this special senatorial election the President may have to do some heaving.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon is looking about for a farm plank to become a part of the 1960 presidential platform. To accomplish its purpose, this plank would need to be wholly unrelated to Benson.

This move by Nixon to disassociate himself from the secretary of agriculture probably explains why the vice president is reluctant to campaign in North Dakota for the GOP senatorial candidate. The election comes shortly before

Quotable Quotes

By United Press International
 SAN QUENTIN, Calif.—Caryl Chessman, discussing life on death row:
 "Everyday realities are not real for you any more. You know that the spring air is not for you. You hear announcements of next week's radio programs and you say, 'Sorry, I won't be here.'"

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y.—Former President Truman, describing the possibility of a change in Soviet diplomatic policy as only a hope:
 "I have never met Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev, and I don't know what he stands for. I did come in contact with the late Josef V. Stalin, and I know what he stood for: He didn't keep agreements."

NEW YORK — Police Commissioner Stephen P. Kennedy, urging new patrolmen and detectives to turn in any other police they catch taking bribes:
 "You can't work alongside the fellow who takes. It's your duty to lock these crooks — and here I mean policemen — lock them up."

HOLLYWOOD — Linda Christian, discussing the diaries she is referring back to in writing her autobiography:
 "My diaries are all written in different languages, depending on the country I was in when I wrote them. When I was in South America and Spain I wrote in Spanish. In France I wrote in French. For the long time I lived in Hollywood, I wrote in English."

Greyhounds Trip Lakeland

By JERRY COVINGTON

Righthander Bob Golick went all the way Monday night as the Sanford Greyhounds registered a 4-2 victory over the Lakeland Indians here in Memorial Stadium before a small crowd.

It was the Greyhounds third win in four days and their record now stands at 4-3 for the season.

Golick was tremendous on the mound as he registered his second win against no defeats. He pitched shutout ball for eight innings allowing only three Lakeland batters to reach first base until the final inning when he was touched for three consecutive base hits and two runs. He issued but one base on balls and was very seldom behind on a batter. He struck out four batters. The hard throwing righthander also came through in the fifth inning with a sharp single to center pushing across center fielder Sisk with the only run in the inning.

Although the Greyhound hits were all singles they came when the ducks were on. In the third inning when Sanford scored their first two runs Mike Maloney led off with a walk. Third baseman Bill Dukes, who is one of the finest hitters around the loop thus far, singled, moving Maloney to third. Big right fielder Billy Hinojosa then sent a deep fly to center scoring Maloney. Week's Slate

The Sanford Greyhounds travel to Lakeland tonight for a baseball tussle with the Indians and Wednesday night they travel to Daytona for the first meeting with the Islanders.

They return here Thursday against the Islanders with the game getting underway at 7:45.

Then the action swings to Orlando Friday night where they will get their first look at the red hot Dodgers. The big game this week will be here Saturday night when the locals square off with manager Brandy Davis' Dodgers for the first time in the local park this season.

Manager Robbe Robertson has called upon big righthander Joe Patricio to go against the Indians in Lakeland tonight. He lost his only start of the season last week and his record now stands at 0-1.

NCAA Meeting In Closed Session; May Crackdown On Rule Violations

ATLANTA (UPI)—The NCAA council today may announce disciplinary action against one or more schools for rule violations.

The powerful 18-member council, which has authority to take punitive action against members for violations of NCAA regulations, meets again with infractions committee chairman George H. Young, dean of the University of Wisconsin Law School.

Young was closeted with the council Monday afternoon but apparently did not complete his report on the school, or schools, which his committee has found guilty of illegal recruiting or other violations of NCAA regulations.

Walter Byers, NCAA executive secretary, declined to comment on what was discussed at that meeting nor would he reveal which, if any, schools may be in line for penalties, however, he did say that Young is expected to complete his presentation today and there may be a report on council action.

The council is holding its annual three-day meeting here. Byers said most of Monday's agenda was devoted to strictly routine matters.

There was one cheerful note in regard to infractions. The council reported that a one-year probation had ended for Gustavus Adolphus College of St. Peter, Minn., which had been cited for playing in an unauthorized post-season football bowl in 1957.

First Boat Club Cruise A Success

Sixty persons and 18 boats participated in the Sanford Boat and Ski Club cruise Sunday to Silver Glen Springs.

The local club was joined by the DeLand Boat Club on the cruise.

After swimming and picnicking they were entertained by Gieger, the chimpanzee shown on Dave Garroway's morning show, and a guided hike to the exciting Sand Bolls.

Everyone came home in good humor, even though incidents happened, such as a broken steering cable, motor trouble, and bent propellers.

The next scheduled cruise will be May 8 to the Mt. Dora Chain of Lakes.

The Sanford Boat and Ski Club offers excitement to those seeking pleasure on the waterways of Seminole County and surrounding areas. It is paradoxically a family affair and a fun center for the younger set.

Each month the club has one moonlight cruise that begins in the afternoon. Members assemble, cruise together to the destination, then enjoys a barbecue, hamburger grilling, or picnic lunch. Then the members sing, dance and cruise back by moonlight.

Palmer Pacing Money Winners

DUNEDIN, Fla. (UPI)—Arnold Palmer is all by himself as the leading PGA money-winner but there's quite a battle for second place between Dow Finsterwald and Ken Venturi.

Finsterwald vaulted over Venturi and into second place on the PGA money-winning list today by winning the New Orleans golf tournament along with the $3,500 prize that went with it.

The victory increased Finsterwald's total to $25,300 for the first four months of the 1960 season. Venturi was in third place with $23,200.

Palmer, the 1960 Masters champion from Ligonier, Pa., did not compete in the New Orleans Open but he's still far out in front

Pietrosante Signs

DETROIT (UPI)—Nick Pietrosante, former Notre Dame fullback who starred last season in the National Football League as a rookie with the Detroit Lions, has signed for the 1960 season. He gained 447 yards on 76 rushes in 1959.

Seiden Signs

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Detroit Pistons, hoping to strengthen their backcourt ranks, have signed Al Seiden, former St. John's University star, to a 1960-61 contract.

5 Cage 'Greats' Join Hall Of Fame

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (UPI)—Ten persons, five of them one-time All-Americans, were named today to the basketball Hall of Fame. The elections increased membership to 27.

Heading the list of players named to the hall which will have an official home at Springfield College by December, 1961, was Easy (Ed) MacAuley, recently named general manager of the St. Louis Hawks of the National Basketball Association after a career of standout play with St. Louis University, the Boston Celtics and the Hawks.

Frank W. Keane, who as coach of Rhode Island State originated the "go-go fast break" game of basketball, topped a list of three coaches elected. Keane retired in 1948 with a 28-year coaching record of 401 wins and 124 losses.

Other coaches named included the late Prof. Ernest A. Blood whose Passaic, N. J. High School "wonder team" won 150 straight games from 1920 to 1925, and the late Ward L. (Piggy) Lambert, 29-year Purdue coach whose teams won 371 and lost 132 and won or shared 11 Big Ten cage titles.

Other players named were Victor Hanson who led Syracuse University to a 48-7 three-year record ending in 1927; Branch McCracken, three-year Indiana scoring leader who has since hung up a 283-123 Hoosier coaching record.

RECAPITULATING TITLES THAT HAVE BEEN OUT ON "LAW" HAS BEEN ONE OF RAY'S SPECIALITIES—BUT COULD BE HE'S THINKING IF HE DOESN'T MAKE IT THIS TIME IT'S A BE THE END OF HIS FISTIC TRAIL.

'Willies' Provide 1-2 Punch As Giants Roll Over Cards, 9-8

There'll be a lot of bad jokes this year about the Giants giving everybody the "willies" so let's just say simply that Mays and McCovey are providing the old 1-2 punch again.

The two Willies teamed up on numerous occasions to win ball games for the Giants last year and they pulled the same trick Monday night to boost San Francisco into a first-place tie with Pittsburgh in the National League race.

Mays and McCovey came through with the key blows in a five-run eighth inning rally that brought the Giants a 9-8 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals, who had won four straight previously. It looked like the Cards were going to make it five in a row when they went into the eighth with a 7-4 lead. Don Blasingame singled home the first run of the inning and Mays' single with two on tied the score. McCovey, who drove in four runs in all, then blasted a two-run homer off loser Bob Dilliba, the third of five St. Louis pitchers.

McCovey's fourth homer of the season made the score 9-7 and as things turned out the Giants needed the insurance run when Carl Sawatski socked a homer for the Cards in the bottom of the inning.

There were three previous homers for St. Louis by Ken Boyer, who hit his sixth, Stan Musial and Daryl Spencer, while Jim Davenport connected for the Giants. Southpaw Johnny Antonelli picked up the victory in relief. It was the only game played in the National League.

Only two games were played in the American League with the Kansas City Athletics defeating the Chicago White Sox, 6-1, and the Baltimore Orioles nipping the Washington Senators, 3-2.

The Athletics registered their victory over Herb Score, who didn't make much of a debut in a White Sox uniform.

Traded by the Indians for Barry Laine last week, Score was hammered out of the box in the fourth inning after he had given up seven hits, five walks and six runs, including a homer by Hank Bauer. Knuckleballer Bud Daley, meanwhile, held the White Sox to three hits and retired the last 14 batters he faced to gain his first victory.

First baseman Jim Gentile's three-run homer off Russ Kemmerer in the first inning stood up all the way in the Orioles' win over the Senators.

Browns Acquire Baker From 'Skins'

CLEVELAND (UPI)—An era in professional football will end next fall when Paul Brown sends Sam Baker into a game to try a field goal for the Cleveland Browns.

That move will mark the beginning of the end for Lou Groza, most famous field goal kicker in football history. Groza has been kicking field goals and extra points for the Browns since they were organized in 1946.

Brown obtained Baker, one of the National Football League's outstanding punters, place-kickers and humorists, from the Washington Redskins Monday in return for two linemen. The Redskins received Francis O'Brien, former Michigan state star, was Cleveland's No. 3 choice in 1959.

'Air Force Orders First Manned Space Ship

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Air Force today ordered the Boeing Airplane Co. to go ahead with design of a space ship.

The space ship will be called Dyna Soar and will be a winged glider boosted into orbit by a Titan intercontinental ballistic missile.

The Seattle, Wash., firm was named contractor for the manned space project last Nov. 9.

In their first manned tests, such craft will be boosted from Cape Canaveral and fly at sub-orbital speeds of about 15,000 miles an hour. Later, the Air Force said, they will be boosted into orbit, circling the globe at 18,000 miles an hour.

The space ship is viewed as a future space weapon of the Strategic Air Command.

Under today's decision, the Air Force released $29,700,000 for "design and ground testing necessary to build a boat-glide aerospace test vehicle."

An additional $58 million for the program is included in the Air Force's new budget now before Congress.

Sen. Warren Magnuson and Sen. Henry M. Jackson, Washington state Democrats, have said the program envisions expenditure of $480 million by June 30, 1963.

The Dyna Soar program is a sharp contrast with the Mercury program of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

In Project Mercury, a man will be boosted into space by an Atlas missile but will ride in a wingless capsule or satellite. The Dyna Soar glider more resembles an aircraft and will provide its pilot with means of control on his re-entry into the atmosphere. It is designed to enable him to make a conventional landing.

The Mercury pilot will return to earth with his capsule dangling on a parachute.

Under the program announced today, it was learned that Boeing will build 11 of the space gliders—three for ground test, four for unmanned flight and four for piloted flight. A sub-orbital flight might take place by September 1964.

Rhee Resigns As President Of South Korea

SEOUL, Korea (UPI) — President Syngman Rhee resigned today in near disgrace and turned over the leadership of South Korea to Foreign Minister Huh Chung, a scrupulously honest friend he once fired for criticizing graft in the government.

Jugh, 64, promised new elections within three months, appealed to President Eisenhower not to cancel his scheduled visit to South Korea, promised a real constitutional government and his caretaker days are over and called for closer ties with Washington.

Eisenhower said in Washington that he intends to make the visit on schedule.

Huh also said martial law would remain in effect until he had caused Rhee's hated police, who shot and killed more than 150 demonstrators in the past week, were "powerless now" to maintain order. Most of them fled their posts.

The National Assembly meets Thursday to consider Rhee's resignation and it appeared the end of the political trail for Korea's 83-year-old "George Washington" would be an ignominious one. Not a member of the South Korean independence and a record of 12 years of autocratic rule over the nation which finally became free in 1948.

Rhee, now in solitude in the presidential mansion and ready to move back into a private house, leaves a 65-year fight for Korean independence and a record of 12 years of autocratic rule over the nation which finally became free in 1948.

Since Vice President John M. Chang, a member of the Democratic Party, resigned his job last Saturday, constitutionally a presidential vacancy falls to the foreign minister.

Huh called a news conference shortly after Rhee announced his resignation. He promptly was asked who now ruled the country and whether it might be the martial law commander.

"Under the constitution of this country, the senior member of the cabinet acts as president," Huh said. He had a financial minister as foreign minister.

Rhee, plagued by six weeks of violent protest to alleged fraud in last month's presidential election, sent a terse message to the National Assembly saying he was bowing to its demand that he resign. He said he would retire to private life.

Growth Threatens City Water Supply

Sanford's growth threatens to outstrip its present water supply, City Manager W. E. Knowles reported to the City Commission Monday night.

In a written report, Knowles showed that the 819 new subdivision homes going up here will raise the demand for city water to 2,711,236 gallons on a peak day.

Sanford's six usable wells have a 2,501,000 gallon per day peak output. The pump machinery can deliver 2,378,000 of these gallons to the water plant each day. A standby well can deliver about four million gallons per day but this is high in chlorides and should be used only in emergencies.

Sanford now consumes 2,350,000 gallons on a peak day. Knowles pointed out that a projection of Sanford's population made in March 1958 showed the city with 18,385 people in 1960 and 34,100 in 1968. The one year's growth since March 1958 has shown that projection to be underestimated by 3.4 percent. A tripled population would mean tripled water services for Sanford.

"With the additional growth . . . the demand will outstrip both the allowable delivery and the well field supply. This must be anticipated within a three year period," the city manager reported.

Knowles suggested water rationing, lowering water pressure, increasing the size of the booster pump to get more water from the wells daily, or addition of new wells as temporary ways of solving the shortage threat.

As permanent ways to get more water for the city he suggested developing the well field property on the old Lake Mary Road, building a secondary water plant at the new well field site and treating the water at the point of supply, or planning to get additional water supply sites further south and also to the west. Knowles reported that "any project could require from one to two years before an additional water supply would be available for use."

The commission postponed discussion of the problem since the city manager was not present to explain his report.

A Lake Mary resident today offered a $50 reward for any information leading to the arrest of vandals who cut and destroyed his store tarpaulin Tuesday.

Frank Evans said that he purchased the tarpaulin last week at a cost of $32 and put it up Tuesday.

Sometime over the night someone or a group of vandals apparently cut the tarpaulin into shreds.

"It's worth $50 to me to find out who did this," Evans said.

$32 Million Boost Asked For State Flood Projects

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Florida's senators asked Tuesday for a $32 million boost in funds authorized for the Central and South Florida flood control project.

Sen. Spearhead Holland and George Smathers asked the Senate Public Works Committee to include a $32 million authorization in the 1960 Rivers and Harbors Bill.

The House has passed an authorization bill which includes $4 million for the project. Smathers and Holland said there was "real danger" that appropriations for the next two years would use this up.

Besides the projects included in the House bill, the senators asked the committee to approve other projects.

These include construction work on Palm Beach Harbor, in the Neusecumah Slough, and at Little Pass Inlet; deepening of the St. Marks River Channel; a curving of the East Bay Channel; and a transfer of funds from the Florida land reclamation program to the construction of a canal to the east coast authority.

Dearborn To Move Offices To Seminole County Location

Dearborn Electronics will move its main headquarters from Chicago to Seminole County within the next two weeks, Joseph Jambalvo, plant manager said today.

As other signs of the county's business growth, work on a new shopping center at SR 436 and Hwy. 17-92 will start soon and additions at Harcar Aluminum will begin Thursday.

Jambalvo reported that Dearborn, located on a four acre tract on Hwy. 17-92 south of Sanford, will expand its facilities within the next few weeks and that a new building will be erected near the present building in the "near future."

Jambalvo said that present plans call for adding 5,000 feet to the present Dearborn building.

He explained that key personnel from the Chicago office will visit the local plant sometime next week to discuss final plans for the expansion program.

"Key personnel in Chicago will relocate here and the main operations of Dearborn will be here from now on," Jambalvo said.

He said the firm, which makes electronic assemblers, expects to increase its staff from 100 to 150 as soon as addition plans are completed.

The plant manager emphasized that all engineers and production men will be hired from this area.

The plant expects to boost its half a million dollar payroll to $1 million with the switch, Jambalvo added.

It was disclosed today also that Publix Supermarket Inc. has purchased a 30-acre tract at SR 436 and Hwy. 17-92 from Frank Russell.

The 30-acre tract has already been zoned commercial. Zoning Director Robert Brown said today, adding that Publix can start building whenever it is ready.

Harcar Aluminum will add 7,300 feet to its present building located three miles south of Sanford on Hwy. 17-92.

Co-owner Carl Schilke said that 30 additional persons will be hired as soon as the addition work is completed.

Work is expected to start Thursday morning on clearing property for the addition. The firm makes aluminum windows and other products.

Ike Opposes Insurance Tax Financing

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower today expressed strong opposition to financing any form of medical insurance through more social security taxes.

The chief executive said the White House was having some difficulty combining dozens of health insurance plans into one workable unit which his administration would submit to Congress.

Pending a decision, however, he said he was utterly opposed to any form of compulsory insurance and this applied equally to financing any insurance plan by connecting it with payments by individuals or employers to the old age survivors program of the federal government.

Other news conference highlights:

The upheaval in Korea has not changed his plans to visit Seoul on June 22. He said it was not correct to charge the United States with interference in the internal affairs of Korea, but he had sent word to former President Syngman Rhee that he thought the conduct of recent elections might lead to trouble.

Eisenhower has no intention of reappointing William R. Connole to the Federal Power Commission because, as he put it, he thought he could get a better man. He did not elaborate.

He quoted the Constitution and the Bill of Rights to demonstrate his belief that religion has no part in politics.

He foresaw little or no prospect of getting major agreement on Berlin and Germany from the forthcoming summit conference. But he expressed hope that the May 16 meeting in Paris would lead to a lessening of tensions among nations.

He did not regard recent statements by Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev as constituting an ultimatum or threat concerning Berlin.

If he came to the conclusion that Khrushchev was attempting to issue an ultimatum, Eisenhower said it was a secret that he would not attend a meeting or negotiate under such circumstances.

He said his announcement Tuesday that Vice President Richard M. Nixon might have to replace him in the latter stages of a summit meeting was largely a warning that he could not participate in such a meeting indefinitely.

This was the president's first news conference since March 30, and 212 reporters gathered to question him.

Eisenhower has under preparation a special message to Congress urging prompt action on some of his legislative recommendations and urging caution in approving some Democratic spending bills.

Hailstone Storm Rips Texas Town

By United Press International

Hailstones bigger than baseballs rained down on Texas and three inches of snow fell on Michigan Tuesday night.

Damage was estimated at more than three million dollars from a hailstorm at San Angelo, Tex.

One of the big hailstones hit a cat on the head and killed it, and two persons caught outside in the storm suffered severe scalp lacerations.

Hundreds of car and house windows were shattered. Several gas stations reported that quart oil cans left outside were twisted out of shape by the hailstones. Neon signs were a total loss.

In the upper peninsula of Michigan, three inches of snow blocked nine major highways during the night. The area already was besieged by late spring floods.

More than 100 homes in the western part of upper Michigan were surrounded by water and marooned families were provided food and medical supplies by boat.

Reward Offered On Vandalism

A Lake Mary resident today offered a $50 reward for any information leading to the arrest of vandals who cut and destroyed his store tarpaulin Tuesday.

Frank Evans said that he purchased the tarpaulin last week at a cost of $32 and put it up Tuesday.

Sometime over the night someone or a group of vandals apparently cut the tarpaulin into shreds.

"It's worth $50 to me to find out who did this," Evans said.
