

Cub's Ranks Not Yet Affected By Armed Force Needs

By DAVE HUFF
AP Features
 CHICAGO, Jan. 27.—The Cubs, thank you, are sitting pat, their ranks not visibly riddled, so far, by needs of the armed forces. The men lost happened to be those for whom reliable replacements appear available.

The Chicago National league entry doesn't appear to be any stronger than the outfit which finished sixth last fall, but many of the higher-ranking clubs have lost key men and the Cubs may profit thereby in the long run.

Manager Jimmy Wilson is hopeful of having a potentially good outfield with Bill Nicholson, Lou Novitoff, Charley Gilbert, Don Dillensandro and peanuts Lowmyer back, plus Phil Cramer, who hit .300 for Los Angeles in 1942, in the center garden and infield.

Moreover, the Cubs acquired Ival Goodman from Cincinnati and have brought in Mizzell Pitcher, Seymour Block, a promising youngster, and Bob Sturgeon. But reliable Stanley Hack, Cavarretta, Jimmy Fox, Russell and Lenny Merullo are in the Cub inner defense plans and Ed Stanky and Heins Becker, Milwaukeeans, who were one-two in the American association batting parade last year, are joining the club.

Becker, 26, is a family man and Stanky, 25, failed to pass a physical examination for the armed forces. Ed Waitkus, 25, who hit .346 for Los Angeles in 1942, is coming to camp, too.

And Clyde McCullough and Chico Hernandez, the No. 1 and 2 catchers of last year, are due back although Bob Scheffing and Marvin Feldman have joined the

Shuffleboard Game Gains Support In Sportmen's Clubs

LAKELAND, Jan. 27. (Special)—Shuffleboard, an adaptation of the old English game of shufflepenny, is played by 500,000 people in the United States annually and promises to become one of the country's leading sports from a standpoint of number participating.

Pres. P. V. Gahan of the National Shuffleboard Assn. said yesterday.

It has grown to such proportion since it was introduced in this country a few years ago that it already outranks horseshoes, lawn bowling and croquet in the number of participants, he said.

Shufflepenny, forerunner of shuffleboard, was evolved from the practice of pitching pennies to a line, Gahan explained. In shufflepenny, iron weights or discs were slid along a court, the one stopping closest to a line being the winner.

Then came shuffleboard, which was played for years on ship decks before becoming a land-lubber game. It came ashore first at a small Daytona Beach hotel during the Florida boom, a number of guests making out a court on sidewalk playing with improvised cues and discs, Gahan said.

The spread to other cities was slow until a State association was formed in 1928, after which the game grew rapidly. It became a favorite of tourists, who took the game home with them and started it in the North.

Gahan estimates that 100,000 people play shuffleboard in Florida alone in normal times.

A national association was organized in 1931 and it and State associations, standardized rules and equipment as well as the scoring diagram at each end of the courts. Gahan said there were State associations in Michigan, Colorado and Florida and one was being organized in California. The game also is popular in parts of Canada.

Yankees Sell Gomez To Boston Braves

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—Vernon (Lefty) Gomez, spitout king of the younger days, finished a 12-year tenure with the only major club of which he ever was a member when the New York Yankees sold him to the Boston Braves yesterday.

The purchase price for the 32-year-old left hander was not announced but it was believed to be in the neighborhood of the wolverine price of $7,500—considerably below his 1942 salary, which was estimated at $12,000. Since the baseball season closed last Fall, Gomez has been employed in a defense plant at Lynn, Mass., where he started at $40 a week.

After winning 15 and losing five in 1941, with Johnny Murphy finishing many of his games, the veteran southpaw found rough going last season. He won six and lost four but was knocked out of the box in 11 of 13 starting engagements.

Navy. The pitching staff has been hit hardest with Vern Olsen, Russell Meers, Johnny Schmitz and Emil Kuh in the service.

Such veterans as Bill Lee, Clarence Jensen, Jake Moody, Tot Prassnell and Lon Warneke can be counted on, plus these remaining younger men: El Bithorn, Paul Erickson, Les Fleming and Eddie Haney. Dick Barrett, 34-year-old veteran of the minors, is coming in from Seattle where he won 27 games last year.

On The Spot By DILLON GRAHAM AP Features Sports Editor

New York, Jan. 27. — This war is going to add a few more years to the playing careers of some of baseball's major league old-timers. The caliber of play will decrease just enough to meet their own decreasing ability.

And that means old John Cooney, the spright veteran, will be around with the Braves for several more seasons. Ted Lyons, the White Sox chunker, was purchased by the Braves from the regular last year but the 42-year-old pitcher is now in the marines and the most ancient title goes to Cooney.

Cooney will be 42 in March, and he has been in the National League since 1921, except for a five year stretch in the American association in the early 1930's. Brooklyn figured the old boy still had some life in him and brought him back, and in 1938 he went to Boston. He was good enough two years ago to author the second highest batting average in the league, only Pete Reiser of the Dodgers compiling a better average.

Johnny was a pitcher until he had 13 chips of bone removed from his elbow and since then he has been a slychaser. He has been in baseball 22 years and he attributes his long career to good, clean living. He doesn't smoke or drink and he conserves his legs.

"I give out when I have to pitch," he says. "I take it on the easy side."

The Waners, Paul and Lloyd, at 40 and 37, are other veterans who might be on the way out except for the unusual wartime conditions. Other old-timers include Dick Bartell, Dolph Camilli, Roger Cramer, Bill Deakey, Rick Ferrell, Jimmy Foy, Ival Goodman, Rollie Hemery, Billy Herman, Bob Johnson, Bill Jurge, Joe Kuhel, Gus Mancuso, Johnny Allen, Walter Book, Tommy Bridges, Paul Derringer, Curt Davis, Carl Hubbell, Thornton Lee, John Niggeling, Bill Lee, Vance Page, and Jim Turner.

Correspondent Killed En Route To Africa

CABABLANCA, French Morocco, Jan. 24. — (Delayed)—An En route to cover the biggest Canadian Broadcasting Corporation was killed by anti-aircraft fire over Spanish Morocco when the plane in which he was riding with other correspondents became lost in bad weather.

Baudry's plane encountered bad weather and flew over a city in Spanish Morocco.

Swiss Red Cross Finds Little Serbs Hard To Handle

LUGANO, Switzerland, Jan. 27. "No. We won't stop fighting. We are guerrillas."

This is the answer given to their Swiss nurses by the Serb children—400 of whom are now vacationing for three months under the auspices of the Swiss Red Cross at various homes in the Tessin.

Unlike other children now being brought into Switzerland by the "Secours Suisse aux Enfants Victimes de la Guerre," the Serb children, because of difficulties of the language, have not been placed in private homes. This probably is just as well. For no children have proved as irrefragable as the little Serbs. But the Swiss know how to get around them. And eventually peace descends.

Although it is customary to think of the Red Cross as wholly responsible for helping to ease the suffering of Europe, often smaller organizations start the work.

You are these "Pent'ade Ouvreire Suisse," which grew out of a spontaneous action, undertaken for the children of Swiss workers during the 1929-32 depression years.

The huge four-engine American bombers flew 300 miles over the North Sea in daylight and United States Air Force commander said, and although observation of results was difficult the harbor was believed to have been badly smashed.

Only three bombers were lost, one Fortress and two Liberators. Joining in the widespread night assault, Allied fighter planes also carried out sweeps over France.

The Danish capital of Copenhagen was pounded for the first time by Britain's fastest bombers, the Mosquitoes, which attacked shipping and diesel engine works in another blow at Germany's U-boat campaign.

Copenhagen is one of the biggest U-boat production centers in satellite countries. The Mosquitoes completed their round-trip of 1,000 miles with the loss of only one plane indicating that they are as well as the Fortresses and Liberators, took Axis defenses by surprise.

Ironically the American bombers alighted on their return flight what looked like a large part of the German fleet—about 25 warships including a 10-inch battleship and heavy cruiser—but their bombs were empty.

At least two enemy fighter planes were shot down during the operations, a preliminary count showed. The attack at Wilhelmshaven, one of several targets attacked in North Germany, was believed to have been concentrated on U-boat yards and installations in extension of the B. A. F.'s campaign against the submarine menace featured by Tuesday night's heavy raid on the French coastal base of Lorient.

Gas Charge Accounts To End Feb. 1

T Ration Stickers And Government Courtesy Cards Will Be Honored

Credit sales of petroleum products at service stations must cease on Feb. 1, except to holders of ration stickers, and to governmental agencies, Petroleum Administrator Harold L. Ickes has ruled.

Courtesy cards held by the following governmental agencies may be honored by filling station operators according to the ruling: Federal Government (Army, Navy, Coast Guard, etc.), State services, such as Highway Patrol, Everglades Fire Control, Florida Forest and Park Service, County school boards and services, and city services.

The new directive applies only to retail sales, and does not in any way affect wholesale (tank wagon) credit, it is stated. As defined by the War Petroleum Administrator, the amendment states that "commencing Feb. 1, 1943, no person shall, directly or indirectly, grant or accept credit in connection with the sale of any petroleum product by or through any retail outlet."

Nothing in this statement shall be deemed, however, to apply to sale of any petroleum product to the United States, any state, territory of the United States, or any political subdivision thereof, or the District of Columbia for its exclusive use. Nor does the ruling apply to use for commercially used motor boats, or for use in motor vehicles displaying "T" ration stickers.

"Nothing in the foregoing shall be deemed to prohibit the use of coupons or script books when sold for cash. No person engaged in the marketing of any petroleum product shall make annual or bi-monthly advances of money, credit or merchandise to any person operating a retail outlet for the purpose of enabling or influencing such person to extend credit in the sale of any petroleum product, by or through such retail outlet."

The War Department has made provision for aid paid spotters who man the various posts in the county to obtain sufficient gasoline. Roy Holler, district aircraft warning service director, stated this morning to replenish the gasoline used to go to and from their homes and their observation posts subsequent to Jan. 1, 1943, provided no supplemental ration has been provided for this observation post duty. You will be advised within the next few days from official Navy or Marine Corps sources.

The feminine Marines will have no official abbreviated name such as the WAVES, WAVYs, and SPARS of the Navy, Army and Coast Guard. Their full title will be United States Marine Corps Women's Army Service.

New Drastic Curtailments And Restrictions Placed On Mail

Imported Laborers Are All Working In Celery Fields

Mississippi negro workers brought home recently by the War Relocation Authority to relieve a shortage of labor harvesting celery are now practically all at work County Agency, K. Dawson, stated this morning.

These restrictions were placed on mail by the United States War Department since heavy imports are made in areas under military jurisdiction, and because of limited facilities, and because of the volume of mail dispatched overseas must be kept to a minimum.

No packages will be accepted unless they contain articles specifically requested in writing by the person with an A. P. I. over-seas address and the articles in request of the addressee must be approved by his commanding officer.

The included address of the person to whom the articles are to be sent must be printed on the package and the relation of friend made in the letter to insure that the articles are sent to the correct address. It has been reported by the War Relocation Authority that mail will continue to be transmitted and individual parcels of newspapers or magazines will be accepted for transport.

Edible Meats Will Be Rationed By April 1

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28. (AP)—All edible meats will be rationed when meat rationing begins, probably about April 1, Office of Price Administration officials said Thursday.

Under voluntary rationing, which has been in effect for several months, consumers have not been asked to limit their consumption of edible meats, which include liver, kidney, heart, tongue, and sweetbread. It was made clear today, however, that these would be included under the rationing program.

Berlin, Vichy Reports Imply Possibility Of Fresh Attacks On Tunisian Front

A dramatic Allied offensive in North Africa, precluding the actual invasion of Europe, was sharply foreshadowed today with the disclosure that top military leaders of the United States and Great Britain have held a secret 48-hour war council at Lieut. Gen. Dwight Eisenhower's headquarters.

At the same time a Berlin broadcast announced a major offensive in Tunisia, and a Vichy broadcast announced the coming of a new offensive in Tunisia, which had opened the attack.

A report suggested the Americans are attempting to drive a wedge between the converging German and Italian forces in Tunisia, and to drive them back to the sea.

The British eighth army continued its drive toward Tunis and captured were reported in contact with the enemy 41 miles west of Tripoli.

The announcement that General Patton and his Gaudin have decided to continue a "diplomatic offensive" and will hold further negotiations together with the British, is a political move, it is believed, to favor the British position in North Africa.

When a small force of Axis troops came down and found a landing of explosive materials for physiological tests, three were used in a field exercise, discussing the political development, but there were no serious matters left by the newspapers.

Keeping Up Your Resistance

According to Dr. Leona Baumgartner, director of the Bureau of Child Hygiene of the New York City Department of Health, respiratory diseases, such as colds, flu, grippe and so forth, are responsible for more lost working days than any other kind of illness. And though it is practically impossible to prevent colds, it is possible to avoid a lot of the trouble and lost time which ordinarily are associated with them.

Dr. Baumgartner says that the "cold virus" is really active for only the first 24 to 48 hours of the disease and that the thing that hangs on frequently for a long time afterward, the cough, the "sinus drip", or the pneumonia, can be avoided if a few simple precautions are taken such as the following:

- 1. Keep well nourished, conscientiously eating those foods essential to health;
2. Keep well rested (which means sleep, as well as recreation that is actually recreation—a recharging of batteries rather than burning them out);
3. Keep up exercise but don't overdo it.
4. Make sure their bodies have no hidden or neglected defects as, for example, old infected tonsils that may cause a "run down" condition or act as a source of infection when the cold strikes;
5. Know enough to be sensible when a cold first comes. The first day or two of a cold is the best time to stay home. Care taken at the beginning may avoid prolonged illness later when the cold has progressed in seriousness. Rest in bed and plenty of fluids are sound, safe treatment. Fluids may be any liquid the patient likes, from gingerale on. And food should be what the patient wishes. Cathartics should be taken only as needed, not indiscriminately;
6. And above all, learn to stay away from other colds and be patriotic enough to keep your own cold from your neighbor. For colds are spread from person to person in the first few hours of the illness. Today, both patriotism and good sense should be reason enough not to spread colds thoughtlessly;
7. Avoid the over-exposure which helps bring on the common cold;
8. Call the doctor if fever and illness continue in spite of sensible care.

A French King?

If a house is suddenly vacated but is still attractive, new tenants are apt to apply. This is particularly true if the applicants are former residents who regret their departure and are eager to get back.

This is the situation of France, following the downfall, in 1940, of the Third Republic. The Vichy regime of Petain and Laval is obviously temporary. It will not survive after the war, and may not last that long. A new government will have to be formed, and there are already candidates for the positions. Chief among them is Henri de Bourbon-Orleans, Count of Paris, the heir of the house of Bourbon, whose kings governed France for centuries.

A few years ago there would have been not only one claimant for the throne of France, if that country were going to return to the rule of sovereigns, but three. The last Bourbon, King Charles X, was dethroned in 1830, and succeeded by his cousin Louis Philippe of the house of Orleans. For some time there were claimants to the throne from both the Bourbon and the Orleans houses, until a few years ago the death of the last male Bourbon left the present heir of the Orleans family the sole contender. The Bourbons are all gone.

It is unlikely that the French will wish to go back and not forward for their new government.

Girl Sport Editors

There is really not much chance for the youthful male nowadays anywhere outside of the army or the defense plant. Arkansas and Pittsburg Universities are finding this out. Their student publications have had to turn the sacred sport columns over to girls, no boys being available.

Ordinarily the girls wouldn't mind it. What they object to now is having their mail addressed "Mr." Thus the new sporting editor of the Pitt paper is much annoyed because people write to her as "Mr. Elaine Kahn." It troubles her correspondents less, apparently, that a boy should be named "Elaine" than that a sport column should be run by a girl.

But correspondents will have to get used to it. The girls, at least in colleges and schools, follow sports almost as closely as the boys. They have got into the work now, and nothing is likely to stop them.

Current Comment

The unpopularity of crumpled paper is a thing that has been noted by many people. It is a thing that has been noted by many people.

Skilled Tradesmen Still Needed In U. S. Navy Seabees

JACKSONVILLE, Jan. 23. (Special)—Skilled tradesmen are still needed in the Navy and those between the ages of 18-30 may enlist under one of the two plans now open. It was announced here today by Lieut. Comdr. F. J. Needham, Jr., officer-in-charge of Navy recruiting.

Those between the ages of 18-30, the officer said, may enlist through the selective service system provided they are non-essential workers in non-essential industries, while those between 38-50 may enlist as formerly.

Over 30 different trade classifications are represented in the ships sunk or damaged.

At the opening of the war the unemployment in the United States numbered between two and three thousand. The gas has had its withering effect on many, many, many, the last one, on "pioneer" riding.

In January the 1,500 or more members of Miami's Harvey Milk Post of the American Legion, were notified they had to be ready to go to the front in Italy.

WASHINGTON DAYBOOK

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23. (W. W.)—Not many weeks ago, this column suggested that wartime government agencies use the Census Bureau in assembling statistical information on which to base the big decisions that affect our daily lives.

It would be presumptuous to say that that has anything to do with the O. P. A. decision to place its nation-wide sampling of food consumption, prices, short-ages, etc., in the lap of the Census Bureau. It is, however, so far as I know, the first time that any war agency has called on the Census for anything more than the now stale facts and figures that grew out of the 1940 enumeration.

The Census Bureau is one of the most efficient agencies of our government. Once every ten years, it counts a lot more than noses. It's a statistical data it gathers in the springboard for much of our governmental, cultural, medical, legislative and business activities in this country.

What most people don't know is that when all decennial nose-counts and "tabulations" have gone home, Census maintains a staff of statistical wizards that can tell you from day to day almost exactly where the center of population is, what the birth rate is doing, what happened to last year's spinach crop, what state probably will have the most illiterates in 1959, and what became of the Jews.

On a few weeks notice, Census undoubtedly could start turning the wheels of machinery that would give a truer sampling of our nation's woes and wants than all the polls put together—simply because Census has been sampling scientifically for years.

That's why it's good news to this correspondent that OPA has called upon them to produce the "War-time Food Diary." Census is going into 59 counties in 48 states, selecting 3,000 "representative families" and asking the "lady of the house" to keep a day-to-day record of food purchases, consumption, prices, etc.

The reports will be made frequently and will provide OPA with almost a daily picture of what is going on in the kitchens and dining-rooms of American homes. Coupled with reports from producers, wholesalers and retailers, it should leave OPA no net in fortifying regional or national shortages, surpluses, price changes, or diet deficiencies.

Whether these ailments can be corrected will depend on a number of things, over many of which OPA will have no direct control (transportation, crop failures, abnormal demands from the military forces, etc.) but being able to spot the symptoms quickly in 3,000 representative homes should go a long way toward providing immediate cures.

I'll place my bet now that the "War-time Food Diary" will be one of OPA's most effective weapons in getting the job done in the war months ahead.

Booth Tarkington Reveals Secrets About His Fiction

By JOHN SELBY
Associated Press Arts Editor

INDIANAPOLIS—Fifty books, hundreds of short stories, a little verse and a score of plays stand between today's Booth Tarkington and the baby born 73 years ago in Indianapolis. But Tarkington, almost unique among famous literary men, still lives in the town of his birth. And always has.

"Painters seem to be able to live in New York," he says, "but I don't think it did many writers much good to emigrate there. The painters seem to get out of town quite a lot."

Tarkington lives in the town of his birth, all right, but not in the same kind of house. Now you reach him by a long, long taxi ride on Meridian street.

The taxi goes straight north until you see an Indiana "English" house on your left.

You ring, and a maid answers. You enter a dim little room, lighted only by the lamp that illuminates a tapestry on the wall. A good tapestry. You cross a great hall, baronial in the usual way, and blink again. You see a very long double drawing room on two levels. You are surrounded by old masters. All about, profusely, are objects d'art—only not the kind the gift shoppe sells.

Your fingers itch, and it is well the owner shows up when he does.

He grins at you. You grin back. You sit down, one on either side of the bright fire in the big carved fireplace. Because the house is so un-Pennrodlike, you think of Pennrod.

"Distilled Pennrod," says Tarkington, "Pennrod was no one boy. I distilled a lot of nephews and neighbor boys to produce him. I had a few casualties, too."

"I got 'the little gentleman' by asking one of the nephews what they called a boy down street. He wrinkled his nose and said that delightful phrase."

"I slipped there and then, like that name 'Georgie Bassett.' I got 'the Georgie' way off some where and I didn't realize until after publication that I'd picked Bassett up right across the street. There weren't any repercussions, though, because I hid out."

Critics Ranked by Age
There have been repercussions, however. "Seventeen" produced many "Youngsters under seven- teen loved it, and people older thought it was amusing. I was ostracized by the seventeen-year-olds, however."

"And one of my nephews came home from Princeton just as a story of mine called, 'I think, 'Mary Smith' appeared. I knew he'd read it, and finally asked him why he hadn't mentioned it to me."

"'Sir,' he said, drawing himself up pretty straight, 'I consider that story an insult to every college sophomore in America.'"

"He was a sophomore at the time, of course."

Coffee arrives, and it is a sign of honor. It is coffee, not the kind the Tarkingtons usually have, which is mixed with something that looks like moss. Or perhaps it wasn't an honor. "Persons by," intones Tarkington, "I think the moss improves it."

Sticks By Indianapolis
Tarkington has stuck by Indianapolis; he also has stuck by the war. He sees the world and the war clearly and shrewdly.

He thinks Washington should cut us down on gas to the limit, on two levels. He says, "But he does not like for the neighbors to be made into spies to see what you do with your supply."

He also dislikes Washington's talk of helping the common man for a rather curious reason. "I dislike being talked down to," he says. "Aren't we all common men? Even Washington peo-

Unrationed Meats Offer Fine Food Value And Flavor

By MRS. ALEXANDER GEORGE AP Food Editor

Some of our very best meats from the standpoint of food value and flavor are on the unrationed list. Another advantage of certain unrationed meats is their comparative cheapness.

Liver, of course, has a three-star rating as a blood-building food. Call's liver, as you know, has been in the high price class for some time, but the thriffler beef, pork and lamb livers, are just as nourishing.

Taking little preparation time are CREOLE LIVER CAKES. Mix together a pound of ground liver (kind depends upon your selection and pocketbook), 3 tablespoons each chopped celery, onion and parsley, 1/2 cup crumbs (dried bread or cracker), 1 egg, beaten, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper and 2 tablespoons cream. Shape into cakes about 1/2 inch thick. Sprinkle with flour and brown on both sides in 1 1/2 tablespoons fat, heated in frying pan. Add 1/2 cup condensed tomato soup and 1-3 cup water. Cover and simmer 10 minutes for veal liver and 15 for any other kind.

KIDNEY RAGOUT is a company dish. Scald, skin and soak 3 lamb kidneys for half an hour in 3 cups cold water and 1 teaspoon salt. Cut in inch pieces and sprinkle with 3 tablespoons lemon juice. Brown in 3 tablespoons fat, melted in frying pan. Stir in 2 tablespoons flour and cook slowly until well browned. Add 1 cup boiling water with a bouillon cube dissolved in it, 1/4 teaspoon salt and 1-8 teaspoon paprika. Simmer 5 minutes. Serve over hot boiled rice. Garnish with parsley.

I was able to buy half a pound of CHICKEN LIVERS yesterday and fashioned a grand dish with some fresh mushrooms. It made a hit with the family and I am trying it on company soon. Wash the livers in cold water and dry. Sprinkle with 1 tablespoon flour, 1/4 teaspoon salt and 1-8 teaspoon pepper. Brown in 4 tablespoons fat (I used bacon) heated in frying pan. Add 1 cup scraped cubed mushrooms, 1/2 cup diced celery and 2 tablespoons each chopped green peppers (or sliced) and onions and parsley. Cover and simmer 5 minutes. Add 3 cups chicken stock (I saved some from a stewer for this dish). Cook slowly 10 minutes and then add 2 cups cooked noodles, this makes a perfect meal when accompanied by a tossed green salad, hard rolls and baked apples and cream.

STUFFED CALF'S HEART is filled with needed vitamins. Wash and clean heart, trim arteries from the heart, the butcher may do this for you. Stuff with your best savory filling and tie the heart together or peg with skewers. Sprinkle with flour and quickly brown on all sides in a small amount of fat heated in frying pan. Transfer heart to casserole and add 1 cup water, 1/2 cup chopped onions to the frying pan. Boil a minute and then pour over the heart. Sprinkle with 1-teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon each pepper and poultry seasoning. Cover and bake for 2 hours moderately slow, even heat, 325 degrees F. Uncover and bake 10 minutes. Remove heart to serving platter and thicken the dripping by adding 2 tablespoons butter mixed with 8 tablespoons flour. Pour over the heart. Let over heat can be chopped and made into cakes or meat loaf mixture or combined with vegetable and sauce for scalloping.

Since OYSTERS are unrationed and in their prime, try this quick way of preparing them: Spread 1 pint small oysters in shallow, buttered baking dish, sprinkle with 4 tablespoons melted butter blended with 2 tablespoons each salt, onion, celery and horseradish. Add 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon paprika and 1/4 teaspoon lemon juice. Broil 10 minutes or until well browned. Serve with scalloped cabbage, fruit salad, hot biscuits and a fresh fruit dessert.

All the shelling War Stamp album is a war necessity. "Buy War Stamps" is the Treasury's plea to fill up that album and get a War Bond.

The least you can do to help win the war is to fill up the War Stamp album this month and get a War Bond.

HOLLYWOOD

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 22.—Miss Ann Harding, who to these eyes is the truly beautiful woman of the movies, is enjoying a well-earned rest from the slings and arrows of outrageous and pitiless scenario-writers.

Miss Harding is not suffering nobly, bearing her woes in silence, nor giving her all with her chin held high. She is not protecting the weak, taking the rap for another's sin, nor paving the piper proudly for her own.

She is merely being her natural, gracious self, with no burden on her frail, feminine shoulders other than the smart suits, gowns and furs which would have been worn by the wife of the former U. S. ambassador to Russia—Mrs. Joseph E. Davies.

This stroke of fortune is due, of course, to the fact that for the first time Miss Harding is playing a real-life, living character, one who is a frequent visitor on the set where her husband's book, "Mission to Moscow," is being filmed. Scenarioists who tested the depths of the Harding capacity for nobility and suffering in her earlier films like "Hollywood," "Devotion" and "East Lynne" must have to the life in dealing with realities.

And so Miss Ann Harding gets her holiday from woe. Miss Harding, with her classic profile and ash-blond hair is making no attempt to look like Mrs. Davies, who is beautiful also, than Walter Huston is making it look like the former ambassador.

"I think there's been a mistake in casting," she says. "I think Mr. and Mrs. Davies should be playing themselves—they're both charming. But I'm playing the role as Mrs. Davies described it: an ambassador's wife in a background figure. She is pleasant and agreeable, a good hostess and a pleasant guest. I say 'How do you do?' a great many times—I'm trying to use different inflections on it." She laughs. "I'm afraid it's a bit part, really. Mr. Huston and I go through the story, observing a lot of fine acting by other people, but we ourselves don't have much to do."

Miss Harding, in her good spirits, is living close to Hollywood again. For the duration, at least, she has given up the idyllic ranching life she and her husband, Werner Janssen, the symphony conductor and composer, used to enjoy.

It's a short, 'est la guerre tale: "It was beautiful down there at Fall Brook on our 80 acres," she says, "and we were growing things and loving it. But suddenly Camp Pendleton was right beside us. We could not get in to our road for the logs, and bugs and birds and building noises aren't exactly bird songs. The man of our couple got a job at camp for several times what we could pay, and then gasoline rationing ended our necessary commuting. The couple is living on the place for us and we've bought a house in Beverly Hills."

If all this means more Harding pictures, I say it's to the good.

These is one of the delicious healthful foods which is not yet being rationed. Serve cheese dishes frequently. When preparing cheese dishes, be sure to use your porcelain enameled utensils because they heat evenly. When cheese is cooked too quickly, it tends to become stringy.

During wartime, when kitchen utensils are scarce, it's important to recognize quality utensils. Good porcelain enameled ware is characterized by well-rounded heads, easy-to-grip handles, wide bottoms, and close fitting covers.

Bitter War Looms In Congress Over Trade Agreements

By HERMAN ALLEN
 WASHINGTON, Jan. 28. (AP)—One of the bitterest fights coming up in the new Congress is sure to be over the proposal to renew the reciprocal trade pact the United States has signed with 26 nations.

The authority, first granted in 1934, and renewed in 1937 and 1940, now must be granted again for another three years if Secretary of State Hull is to continue planning the world-wide commercial web which he began in the hope that it would keep the world at peace.

As a building block in history, the pact fits into the traditional Democratic party principle of low tariffs. The party in the past drew its greatest membership from the agricultural South. The South shipped its cotton, principally, to England. There it was made into cloth, some of which came back to this country. England sent many other varieties of manufactured goods here. The South, which bought these goods, naturally didn't want them to be subjected to a tariff which would raise the price in the store.

The industrial North, in the main, was represented by the Republican party. The North, which also manufactured cotton goods, wanted a tariff on British cotton goods so that it could compete more favorably. It wanted a tariff on all manufactured imports, in fact.

In 1934, as is well known—and right up to this term of Congress—there weren't very many Republicans on Capitol Hill. So Secretary Hull's proposals found a ready welcome. At present the pact covers some 60 percent of America's normal foreign trade.

Here's how reciprocal trade agreements are set up:

U. S. representatives approach those of the other country and tell them, in effect, "Look, we'll reduce a few tariffs or throw them out entirely, and you reduce a few. That way, our people can get your goods cheaper and yours can get our goods cheaper."

So they wade through heaps of import and export figures and come out with a list of tariff cuts in the case of the treaties with Canada and the United Kingdom there were hundreds of individual items.

Then and this is a most important part of the bill, the U. S. representatives insist on this provision that both countries share the privilege of the reduced tariffs with any other country not discriminating commercially against them. This is called the "most favored nation" policy. Before the war, Germany was the only country with which the U. S. refused to sign a reciprocal agreement. The Nazis insisted on "bilateral" agreements under which commerce between the two countries would balance. This was their famous barter system, under which Czechoslovakia got aspirin tablets in return for machine guns.

Opposition to the pact since 1934 has not stuck, particularly to party lines, but rather has reflected sectional and industrial interests. Dairy farmers, for instance, have assailed the Canadian agreement because it permits Canadian dairy products to enter the country at lower tariffs. Western copper miners have written their Congressmen denouncing the agreement with Chile, a big copper producer. Manganese producers tagged the Brazilian agreement "a $2,500,000 gift to the steel industry."

To all critics Secretary Hull's steadfast reply has been that cut-throat commercial competition leads to economic feuds, eventually to war.

LONGWOOD By MRS. J. H. MENICK

A very successful Carnival was put on by the Lyman Junior Class at the Longwood Hotel Friday night to raise funds for the Senior banquet. Twenty-five dollars in war stamps were sold and $32.00 were cleared for the fund. There were many attractions including bingo games, fish pond, and refreshments. There was a grand march and dancing. Members of the class had charge of arrangements assisted by members of the local P. T. A.

An interesting meeting of the Christ Church Auxiliary was held at the home of Mrs. George Bridge on Thursday when many aid for good works were arranged and reports of similar deeds were given. At the close of the session refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Present were Mrs. Emma Abbott Lyman, Miss Mary Knowlton, Miss Mary Robertson, Mrs. Alice Wadsworth, Miss Douglas Boswick, Mrs. Emma Buchanan, Mrs. Charles Nikola, Mrs. Charles Walker, Mrs. Frances Bennett, Mrs. J. H. Menick and a guest from Buffalo, N. Y.

The Red Cross Sewing unit met at the library all day Thursday. Ensign Naburn Milwee and Mrs. Milwee have returned from Boston and left for his next station in Gulfport, Miss. They were guests of Mrs. Hallie La Vigne over the week-end.

Mrs. Fernie Starr and baby Stanley have returned from the land and she has again taken up her position as teacher of Home Demonstration at Lyman School. F. M. Metzke, secretary of the Kennel Club, with his family has gone to spend a few weeks in Tampa.

The Pinocchio Club met with Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Harris on Saturday night for the weekly games. The Home Demonstration Club will meet on the evening of Feb. 4 at the library, preceded by a County Council meeting. Mrs. Wikson will give another lesson on nutrition.

Stax Is Hard Hit In Raid By U.S. Air Force

Gen. Giraud Conveys Little Prospect Of One United French Nation At Present

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29. (AP)—In two furious days of fighting in the Solomon Islands, the Navy reported today, American forces damaged two Japanese cargo ships, two destroyers and a tanker, destroyed ten enemy planes and killed 26 Japanese troops in operations which resulted in the capture of an enemy command post on Guadalcanal.

(By Associated Press) Stax, a vital Axis supply port in Tunisia, was officially declared to have been hard hit by the 12th U. S. Air Force's greatest raid of the war while Britain's artillerymen duelled with Marshal Rommel's rear guard in the Zuzara area, 35 miles east of the Tunisian frontier.

The Axis betrayed the flimsy by radio suggestions that the British first army had started a big move in the Tunisia theater. These followed unconfirmed reports that American ground forces had launched a great offensive.

But Allied headquarters reported no change in the ground situation, where earlier Rommel's escape corridor was reported impaled by an American thrust only 33 miles from the Gulf of Col. Gen. Jürgen Von Arnim.

General Henri Giraud told a press conference there were no prospects of a single united French movement at present and the only agreement between himself and General Charles de Gaulle would be one of liaison on military, economic and financial matters.

The American thrust, which slipped at the end of the line of the coast between the troops in a position to sever the connection between Rommel to the south and the Axis forces of Col. Gen. Jürgen Von Arnim around Tunis and Bizerte to the north.

The radio broadcast said the enemy troops retreated to the north and a number of them were captured.

Maknassy was the scene of an American raid early this week when the Americans answered a German dare to "come out and fight" and captured 80 prisoners. At Maknassy the Americans were separated by only about 200 miles from the British in Tripoli.

The Ankara radio said, meanwhile, that the Axis was evacuating the port of Zuzara, 70 miles west of Tripoli.

Finland, Tired Of War, Is Considering Peace

STOCKHOLM, Jan. 29. —Finland, exhausted from two wars only 18 months apart, is carefully sounding out the possibilities of a protective pact with Sweden, pending that minor re-orientation of her policy would almost certainly involve German economic and military reprisals, diplomatic quarters reported last night.

Finnish newspapers were reported strongly urging Sweden to discuss what steps the adjoining Scandinavian state is willing or able to give.

Compulsory Labor Is Decreed In Germany

LONDON, Jan. 29. (AP)—A drastic new German law instituting compulsory labor service for all German men from 16 to 65 and all women from 17 to 44 was announced by the German radio yesterday with stress upon that the compulsory labor will be applied to all.

The announcement was made after days of non-renewal propaganda involving German economic and military reprisals, diplomatic quarters reported last night.

Submarine Wolfpack Operates In Atlantic

WASH. Jan. 29. (AP)—A wolf pack of German submarines was reported to have sunk a British merchant ship in the Atlantic today, according to a report from the British navy.

Bramley Suggests Knotching Mann's Suspenders On Question Of Seining, Letting Chips Fall Where They Will

Surprising that the "suspenders" be applied by Representative L. B. Mann to the question of seining in the St. Johns River today, today voiced his opposition to the proposed in an open letter to The Herald.

"I would suggest," Mr. Bramley writes, "that Mr. Mann buy himself one pair of real suspenders and wear them for the next month while on the street, and let everyone interested in this matter register with him. Let him cut a small notch in each suspender for each vote for or against this subject and the one that breaks first for him, to give the side full support in this matter."

Mr. Bramley's comments in full on this subject are as follows:

"In response to Mr. L. B. Mann's desire for public opinion upon the reopening of the St. Johns River to seining, I have noticed one open reply in your paper to seining but to date have failed to see one against opening. I do not earnestly believe that this is the majority opinion upon this subject, and thereby wish to have one open opinion against the opening of seining in the St. Johns River.

"This matter has been up very many times and has finally been settled to the best advantage, and the will of the people, but now it has popped up again for the opening of seining. Again the same old story that the fish needing to be pulled out from the good fish Mother Nature has been very good along this line and I believe does not need the help of the seines to help her. If the beds and spawning grounds are left undisturbed by these seines we will continue to have good fishing.

"However I would agree to opening the seining if I believed that the following were absolutely necessary:

"1. — That we absolutely need the food from such seining to feed the poor.

"2. — That we absolutely need the food from such seining to feed the poor.

Blanding To Be Induction Center For All Services

44 Out Of Every 54 Will Go To Army; Only Ten To Others

CAMP BLANDING, Jan. 29. —Effective Feb. 1, an armed services induction center will be established here for the distribution of all Florida draftees into the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Coast Guard, Maj. Joseph I. Laird, commanding officer of the center, announced yesterday.

Under the new plan, Major Laird continued, all men drafted will be distributed on a percentage basis. Of every 54 men accepted in February he said, 44 will be assigned to the Army for every 10 to the Navy, Marine Corps or Coast Guard.

Of the 10 for the maritime services, two will go to the Marines. The Coast Guard quota has not yet been set.

The 44-10 proportion will be observed among white only, the officer continued. The proportion among the negroes will be about 10 to 1, he added.

Men will be classified by a board of non-commissioned officers representing the Army, Navy and Marine Corps. Inductees will be permanently assigned by a commissioned officer of the Army and Navy.

Consideration possible will be given inductees expressed preference, it was asserted.

Army selections will be inducted on the Marine will be sent to Jacksonville for transfer to naval training stations, while those chosen for the Navy will be sent to State Marine headquarters at Orlando for further transfer.

In charge of the Navy program is Capt. J. J. Johnson, Jr., of Jacksonville, while Maj. A. F. Robbins or Orlando directs the Marine recruiting program.

Both will maintain their present headquarters in their respective cities.

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, The demand for manpower in War Industries in Florida, and the nation has not been adequately met and will increase to the extent that six million additional workers will be needed this year throughout the country, and

WHEREAS, Training facilities are available in fifteen strategically located centers in Florida, with a capacity of 5,000 in training at each period, which facilities are not being utilized to the full, although instruction, supported by federal appropriation, is available without tuition, and

WHEREAS, Victory depends upon maximum use of all facilities, and manpower;

NOW THEREFORE, I, SPESARD L. HOLLAND, by virtue of the authority vested in me as Governor of the State of Florida, proclaim that from February 1, 1943, through the end of the war, the following shall be the policy of the State of Florida in the utilization of its training opportunities offered in order that we may maintain the flow of war materials from the Arsenal of Democracy.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and the Great Seal of the State of Florida at Tallahassee, the Capital, on the 18th day of January, A. D. 1943.

Inspection Held Of Defense Force By Colonel Vestil

Company C Will Have Practice With Guns At Lakefront Range

An inspection of Company C of the Florida Defense Force was conducted last evening at the Army by Col. E. D. Vestil, State Inspector. The drill was well attended by members of the Company. It was reported by Hyrd J. Gospe, supply sergeant, for which Capt. Galloway and his staff were congratulated by Col. Vestil.

The Company was also praised by Col. Vestil for precision and excellence in drill, as well as the fine condition of their equipment.

The drill practice was conducted by Army veteran Marine sergeants from the Sanford Naval Air Station. Sgt. Fred Tanner and Sgt. B. Jackson.

"These men are certainly helping our unit in the manner of arms, close order drill and other formations," said Sgt. Gospe, "and each member feels grateful to them for giving up their spare time while off duty to help us in this way."

"We have been supplied with a good quota of ammunition for actual practice with both machine guns and shot guns," added Sgt. Gospe, "and hope every member can attend the practice Sunday afternoon at the Bemoline Club Range on the Lake front, east of the Hotel Mayfair. The practice will last from 2:00 until 6:00 o'clock."

There are several vacancies for recruits, good reliable men between the ages of 18 and 30," he stated, "who can spare several hours a week for drills and exercises."

Public Is Invited To Visit Training School

An invitation to the public and civic organizations to visit the Seminole County School for War Production Workers, the main plant of which is at Birch Street and French Avenue, was today extended to the public by Alex R. Johnson, school director. The radio school is at the Army.

The period of Feb. 1 through Feb. 7, having been designated by Governor Holland as "War Production Training Week," is especially designed that individuals, civic organizations visit the training school, and see the various groups at work at welding, woodworking, etc." Mr. Johnson stated.

Britain Made Impregnable By Lend Lease

Stettinius Asks For Continuance Of Aid Program At Least Until July, 1944

WASHINGTON, — American lend-lease aid has made the British Isles "an impregnable base for offensive operations," Administrator Edward Stettinius told the House Foreign Affairs Committee today.

He asked the continuance of lend-lease aid until July 1944. The passage of legislation to extend the act appeared certain, but there were demands for a detailed accounting of how the program is being carried out.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29. (AP)—The loss of tax revenue to states and cities through federal acquisition of large areas of land for military purposes is creating an acute situation, Chairman Paterson (D Fla.) of the House Public Lands Committee declared today.

The statement came as the committee prepares to consider a bill requiring the federal payment of taxes on such property. Undersecretary of War Patterson is already on record as opposed to such action on the grounds that payment of such taxes would add to the cost of war and would create an administrative problem.

Confronted by widespread public insistence on a more "painless" method of collecting war-time income taxes, Congress has formally set out to devise a pay-as-you-go system.

The House Ways and Means Committee called public hearings to begin next Tuesday on current collection plans, separating this subject from general tax matters.

Meanwhile, forces were marshaling for and against the plan offered by Beardsley Ruml, chairman of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York. He suggested that all 1943 tax payments be advanced and that this year's payments be applied to this year's taxes.

There are no doubt that the Treasury Department would oppose the omission of all 1943 income taxes, but legislators felt it might be willing to ease the year's obligations by the normal tax brackets, probably the normal 4 percent tax and the normal 13 percent tax.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29. (AP)—A bill to subject labor unions to the 1934 Federal stock racketeering law was reported to the House yesterday by the Judiciary Committee.

Its sponsors privately described it as a "trial balloon" in test the sentiment of Congress on legislation. One proponent, who could not be quoted by name, predicted that if it passed, it will be followed by other bills requiring unions to file annual financial statements and to conduct strike votes by secret ballot of the entire membership.

In identical racketeering bill was approved by the Judicial Committee last year, but was sidetracked by the rules committee. It would outlaw legitimate activities.

The 1934 act, aimed at gangsters and underworld racketeers, makes robbery or extortion in interstate commerce a Federal offense but specifically exempts legitimate labor disputes from its coverage. This exemption was held by the Supreme Court to favor the case of union truck drivers in New York City who allegedly halted trucks entering the city from out of the State and by intimidation compelled the truckers to hire a New York union driver to pay via the Representative Hobbs (D Ala.) sponsor of the measure reported today denied that it was aimed at organized labor.

Major Dighton Is Sent To Northwest

Samuel R. Dighton, former Central Florida attorney, now a major in the United States Army, is stationed "somewhere in the Far Northwest," W. M. Scott of the American Fruit Growers, revealed today following receipt of a letter from Major Dighton.

Giving his present address as "Northwest Division, Engineers, A. P. O. 722, c/o Postmaster, Seattle, Wash.," Major Dighton wrote, "I am very much pleased with my assignment and duties which are very interesting indeed."

Major Dighton also said that the men are well protected from the cold with hooded parkas and fur boots and are comparatively comfortable though they look like Eskimos.

Care is given throughout the world to these men and they are in good luck. The mail is good and the food is excellent.

More Active Role In War Foreseen After Conference

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29. (AP)—President Roosevelt's surprise conference with President Vargas may herald a more active role on the battlefronts of both land and air for Brazil, it was believed here.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Jan. 29. (AP)—The need to become an active participant in the war, capitalizing to a large extent on a variety of views tonight with tourists, sailors and night hawkers.

There are no more tourists, but if some of the war travelers could drop off for a day, they'd be plenty surprised.

Businessmen are fast going to the city's hospitals, away from the city's sidewalks, whittled away while the sailors and the night hawkers are not at all pleased.

Look what has happened in the last month.

Castro has moved their clubbing hour from 1:00 A. M. up to 2:00 A. M., which is quite a hardship on the playboys and girls of which Rio always has a goodly number.

This was by order of the city government, which also instituted a ten centros (10 cents) additional charge previously unheard of, and set a minimum limit on roulette play at five dollars.

The idea of this was to separate a lot of the snobs from their daily dreams of fortune, which led them to dip into savings of the best funds and finally end in jail or suicide.

The Russians, striking into the middle of the German front between Moscow and Rostov reported today they had broken the Nazi defense in depth 50 to 60 miles, killed 12 and a half miles, killed 6,000 troops, captured 16,000 and advanced within 75 miles of the key base of Kursk.

This thrust represented an advance of 45 miles from Voronezh, the Moscow front had suffered heavy losses but suffered greater casualties since the Russian offensive began than Napoleon's army. Prisoners and booty were taken at Kursk. The only west of Voronezh along the railway to Rostov, the north-south line between the Moscow Rostov and the Moscow Kharkov roads, the great railway and the main highway is 22 miles south of Voronezh. The capture of which was announced a day earlier. Whether Golikov's troops pulled up the railroad or struck along the Voronezh line to the east was not specified.
