Minority business meeting set

SANFORD — The Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce newly formed Minority Business Council will hold a breakfast meeting tomorrow morning. Andrea Noriega, coordinator of minority and small business development for NationsBank will be the guest speaker.

The discussion is planned to deal with ways to determine and expand the potential of minority business in Sanford and north Seminole County, through a series of seminars, work sessions and Chamber projects.

The meeting, including a free breakfast, will be held at the Chamber meeting room, 400 E. First Street in Sanford, beginning at 8 a.m.

Members of the Minority Business Council, Chamber of Commerce, and interested persons are invited to attend.

For information or reservations, phone 322-2212.

Astronauts fix furnace

SPACE CENTER, Houston — Columbia's astronauts woke up to a celebrity greeting this morning from June Lockhart, star of TV's "Island in Space," and fixed a metal-melting furnace during their fifth day in orbit.

The crew awakened to the song "The World Is Waiting for the Sunrise," which NASA said was written by Gene Lockhart.

"His daughter, June — who needs no introduction, I'm sure — is in the (Mission Control) viewing room this morning and sends her best wishes," Mission Control said.

"Well, great. Thanks a lot. We'll have to see if we can learn that song," shuttle commander James Wetherbee replied.

After the wake-up serenade, crew members Steven MacLean and Charles Lacy Veach today swapped a cooling duct from the shuttle's airlock for a furnace fan that broke two days ago. Columbia's air systems then were used to cool the outside of the furnace.

Winning ticket sold in Orlando

TALLAHASSEE — A single ticket, sold last week in Orlando, had all six numbers drawn in the latest Florida Lotto game and gives whoever owns it sole claim to an estimated $5 million jackpot, Lottery officials said Sunday.

The numbers drawn late Saturday were 24-27-30-42-45-48.

Besides the grand prize, which will be paid in 20 annual installments, the numbers produced these winners:

• 141 tickets with five of the six numbers, worth $5,587.50 each.

• $9,464 with four of the six, worth $121.50 each.

• 182,597 three-of-six winners, worth $6 each.

This week's jackpot is also estimated at $5 million. The estimate is based on projected sales, expected long-term interest rates, funds from any rollovers and a 20-year payout to a single winner.

Voter allegiance shifts

By J. MARK BARFIELD
Herald Staff Writer

SANFORD — The number of independent voters in Seminole County increased dramatically between Aug. 3 and Oct. 5 — and apparently many were formerly Democrats and Republicans.

Mike Saporito, chairman of the county's GOP party, said the shift suggests support for independent presidential candidate H. Ross Perot.

"It looks like the Perot vote attracted an equal number of Republicans and Democrats," said Saporito.

But county Democratic Party leader Bill Gilmartin was unconcerned about a shift, however slight.

"I don't think it will have much of an impact," said Gilmartin. "If anything, it will help Bill Clinton. People are just tired of George Bush."

Between the close of books for the primaries and the close of the registration for the Nov. 3 general election, 17,315 residents registered to vote. The overall increase was from 122,136 to 139,451, a 14 percent increase.

The last-minute registration rush far surpassed the approximately 11,000 who registered between the 1988 primaries and general election, said elections supervisor Sandra Goard.

"It was tremendous; mindboggling," Goard said.

Of the 139,451 registered to vote next month, 8,640 registered Republican; 5,915 registered as Democrat and 2,529 registered "No Party." The no party affiliation includes independents, those who have no declared party affiliation or those who declare a host of other parties, such as "Nudist."

County growth issue in commission race

By J. MARK BARFIELD
Herald Staff Writer

SANFORD — Pat Warren said her record of the past four years as Seminole County commissioner should be her endorsement for a second four-year term.

Republican nominee Warren, 59, is challenged by Ray Bertrand, 34, a Sanford Democrat. Although Bertrand does not currently live in the southeast Seminole County District 1 represented by Warren, he said he plans to move if elected. County commissioners are elected by voters throughout the county.

Prior to her election to office in 1988, Warren served for about one year as aide to former District 1 commissioner Barbara Christensen, who made an unsuccessful bid against Ray Valdes for tax collector that year. Warren had previously served as commission office manager.

Controversial school property is back on Sanford's agenda tonight

By NICK PFEIFER
Herald Staff Writer

SANFORD — Reasoning of approximately 10 acres of land, owned by the Seminole County School Board, is back on the Sanford City Commission agenda tonight. The property is between 15th and 18th Streets, across French Ave. from Sanford Middle School.

Several months ago, Rick Hardwick, of Clearwater, requested a rezoning of the property for commercial use. Subject to the approval, Hardwick had entered into a contract to purchase the property from the School Board. He had announced his intention of building a strip mall on the property, just west of a residential area.

The rezoning request however, has been postponed during a number of commission meetings.

Two weeks ago, during a commission workshop meeting, the city began discussions of possibly purchasing the property from the school board, and buying out Hardwick's offer. City Manager Bill Simmons had reported that the asking price of the land is $980,000. If purchased by the city, there would also be an additional amount to be paid to Hardwick to compensate for his work toward the rezoning move.

The original rezoning request was presented to the Planning and Zoning Commission on Aug. 6. P&Z ended up denying the request based on the proposed use's "incompatibility with existing zoning and the city's policy to protect neighborhoods and to prevent incompatible uses."

P&Z voted 4 to 1 for the denial. The measure then went to the city commission for See Property, Page 2A

Home sales up locally

By GEORGE DUNCAN

Although sales of previously owned homes fell 0.9 percent in September to the lowest level since January, according to figures released by a real estate trade group today, sales rose in Seminole County.

It was the second straight decline nationally, with the regional trend mixed. Sales rose in the Northeast and South, while dropping in the Midwest and West.

In Seminole and Orange Counties, sales rose 2.5 from over last year. A spokesman for the Orlando-area Board of Realtors said 786 existing

Merchants worried about confusion over boulevard

By NICK PFEIFER
Herald Staff Writer

LAKE MARY — Resumption of the widening of Lake Mary Boulevard remains stalled as the county tries to sort out its differences with the bonding company it says must make the next move.

Seminole County Manager Ron Rabun said this morning. "We are still pressing the bonding company to get the transition of the contract finalized, but they don't seem to be concerned with the urgency of the project like we are."

A group of Lake Mary business leaders pushing for a resumption of the road widening will meet again tomorrow morning to discuss the confusion over how the contract bidding process is progressing.

Rabun said the contract agreement with the county is still with Mahoney Construction. "The See Road, Page 5A

Sign contest

City to consider winning welcome sign entry tonight

By BOB PETERSON
Herald Staff Writer

SANFORD — The Sanford City Commission will again consider entries in a welcoming sign contest tonight. The signs are to be placed at entrances to the city.

The selection is to be discussed during the workshop meeting of the Sanford City Commission at 5 p.m. this afternoon.

The City launched a contest several weeks ago, asking persons to design a sign. A $100 savings bond is to be awarded to the designer of the sign selected as the winner.

The signs would be erected at both the north and south city limits on Highway 17-92, and east and west limits on S.R. 46.

A total of nine designs were submitted for consideration. Four of them were from the same person, all of whom have remained anonymous until a winner is selected.

The selection was scheduled for the workshop meeting of the Sanford City Commission on Oct. 12, but the commissioners decided to seek input from the Scenic Improvement Board first.

The SIB met on Oct. 20, and selected three choices, but with suggested changes in each.

The first preference selected was identified as Entry #1. The attractive sign included the words "Welcome to Sanford," and "Historic Waterfront Gateway."

Between the two phrases, the designer had included a picture of the Rivership Grand Romance sailing along the shore.

The SIB has recommended that the inset of the boat be changed to a street scene that may be more recognized as part of the city. It suggested as an example, the Magnolia Mall with the historical clock.

The SIB's second choice, Entry #2, had a picture of both the clock and the riverboat, but the SIB determined that there were "too many information boards" on the design, and recommended only one, with the placement of a planter at the bottom of the sign.

The third choice selected by the SIB, Entry #3, was a sign that said, "Welcome to Sanford, Florida, since 1870, the Friendly City." The suggested change was to eliminate the Friendly City reference, and put in its place a message board for information. Again a planter was suggested at the bottom.

The SIB has also recommended that materials used for the signs be durable for future maintenance. It also suggested that if landscaping is to be included, the usage of water may deteriorate the sign rapidly throughout a year's time.

The City Commission is to consider the sign contest entries again, with the possibility of selecting a winner, during tonight's workshop meeting, scheduled for 5 p.m., in the City Manager's meeting room.

The regular City Commission meeting will begin at 7 p.m., in the commission chambers of City Hall, 300 N. Park Avenue.

UF seeking to restrict scholarships

GAINESVILLE — The University of Florida is seeking to remove restrictions from at least two scholarship funds earmarked years ago for male or white male students.

The accounts are among 30 scholarship and endowment funds valued at more than $1.3 million that university administrators want to transfer from the school itself to its fund-raising arm, the University of Florida Foundation, which manages $140 million in assets.

The state Board of Regents gave the university permission Friday to file suit asking an Alachua Circuit Judge to remove the restrictions and transfer the funds to the foundation.

The university's draft court petition noted the school is prohibited from discriminating on grounds of race, sex or age under the federal Civil Rights Act of 1964.

One male-only fund generated $2,000 in scholarship money last year, but a university official said it was not discriminatory because overall, the school gave an equal number of scholarships to men and women.

Robert Landgren, vice president for development and alumni affairs, said the university wants the restrictions removed so it can spend the scholarship money more freely in the future.

Chaplain sentenced for plotting escape

FORT LAUDERDALE — A prison chaplain who had a jail house romance with a convicted murderer has been locked up for plotting to help her escape.

Circuit Judge John Frusciano sentenced Gilbert Hades to the Broward County Jail until the day before Thanksgiving. The judge also gave him four years of probation and ordered him to perform 300 hours of community service.

"You were placed in a position of trust," Frusciano told Hades as the man's family looked on during the Friday sentencing. An escape, the judge said, "could have involved bloodshed, had it come to fruition."

Hades faced up to 20 years in prison for smuggling hatchet blades and a pair of heavy-duty wire cutters into the Broward Correctional Institution for Carla Ann Caffier.

She is serving a life sentence for first-degree murder, having been convicted of persuading her former lover to kill her husband.

Another Miami hurricane is possible

MIAMI — Nobody likes to think about it, but eventually it probably will happen; another hurricane could threaten to pound people still gun-shy from being blasted by Hurricane Andrew on Aug. 24.

Residents of South Florida will never feel the same about an approaching storm, and this has disaster planners worried.

Loana Jones, 75, rode Andrew out in her Goshua home. She shook her head at the memory as a worker patched her roof.

Another 143 people registered as primarily as Libertarians or six other smaller parties including the Socialist Workers, which attracted eight people.

Republicans increased from 66,539 in the primaries to 75,379 for the general election, a 13 percent increase. Democrats increased from 48,188 to 52,503, an 11 percent increase. Independents and "No Party" registration increased from 8,834 to 11,569, a 29 percent increase. The other seven small parties increased from a combined 121 to 143, a 22 percent increase.

In August, 54.5 percent of the voters registered as Republicans, 38.1 percent registered as Democrats and 7.3 percent were registered as No Party.

By the close of the polls in October, Republicans decreased to 54 percent and Democrats to 37.7 percent. But the No Party listing increased to 8 percent. The affiliation in the other seven parties remained constant at one-tenth of one percent.

a rezoning, but it was tabled at the Aug. 24 meeting, and tabled again at the Sept. 14 meeting.

During the most recent commission meeting, over 100 residents living near the property turned out to voice their objections to the planned strip mall. At that meeting, the matter was tabled at the request of Hardwick and his attorney, Rulon D. Munns. Munns suggested they planned to discuss problems further with the residents before continuing to pursue the rezoning request.

Included on the agenda for tonight's discussion of the property are three recommendations on how the city should deal with the rezoning request.

The P&Z is recommending the commission deny the request, based on its original determination of incompatibility with the surrounding area.

The Director of Planning and Development is recommending approval of the request, based on similar rezoning matters and the land development codes.

City Manager Bill Simmons is requesting the public hearing scheduled for tonight be tabled.

The rezoning request is scheduled for the regular commission meeting, beginning at 7 p.m., in the commission chambers of the Sanford City Hall, 300 N. Park Avenue.

Way Back When

Do you recognize the couple in this 1937 photo taken on the shores of Lake Monroe? The young lady was one of the city's most attractive young people. That same year she was runner-up in a "Miss Sanford" pageant held at the Milano Theatre on the southeast corner of Magnolia Avenue and Second Street. She was Miss Elizabeth Cameron at that time, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. R.A. Cameron Sr., and the younger sister of Mrs. Myrtle Graddick, a former Sanford activist with the local SISTERS organization.

Elizabeth, now Mrs. John Huff of Panama City, and Myrtle, now a St. Augustine resident, had seven brothers. They were Robbe, Duncan, Earl, Bruce, St. Clair, Richard and Charles Cameron. All the brothers are now deceased. You may or may not know the young man. In the event you don't, he is The Herald's "Way Back When" columnist, Julian Stenstrom.

Shipments of citrus sections dwindle as imports take over

By Associated Press

BARTOW — Shipments of Florida citrus sections have dwindled as imports have taken over, and the end of a once-thriving brand may signal the industry's departure.

The decision by Procter & Gamble's Citrus Hill to abandon its brand made it the last company in the state to process its own brand-name citrus sections and sell them to U.S. retail stores.

The business of hand-packing fruit after cutting it into sections, and shipping it its own natural juices or with sweeteners, peaked in the 1960s.

Today, the chunks of orange or grapefruit on a restaurant salad bar or airline lunch tray are more likely to come from Mexico, Israel and Argentina.

In 1984-85, Florida's output of canned grapefruit sections totaled 124.8 million 8-ounce cans, according to the Florida Citrus Processors Association. It fell to 28.8 million by 1982 and has dropped dramatically since.

"We couldn't compete with product from offshore — Mexico — because of the cost of labor," said Citrus Hill fruit-procurement manager Jim Waller.

"That's why you see the U.S. industry fading," said Tom Cowan, vice president of marketing for Seald Sweet Growers, a longtime Tampa cooperative that relocated to Vero Beach two years ago.

A new Tampa company, operating in a converted produce warehouse, is aggressively pursuing the institutional market for citrus sections.

Homes

homes were sold in September compared to 766 in September of 1981.

The number was down from August, when 836 existing homes were sold but August is traditionally a high month for homes due to the fact that many people are moving before the school year opens, he said.

To get a more accurate picture of home sales, the previous year's figures need to be compared instead of the previous month's, he said.

The National Association of Realtors said sales of existing homes fell to 3.28 million at a seasonally adjusted annual rate in September, down from 3.31 million a month earlier.

The 4.1 percent decline in August was even sharper than the 3.2 percent estimate in the original report.

The 3.28 million rate in September was the lowest level since sales dropped to 3.22 million last January. It also was the sixth decline this year.

Sales of new homes also fell in August. The government is scheduled to report on September activity on Friday.

"Even with very favorable home buying conditions, consumers are holding back due to the sluggish growth of the economy," said Douglas T. Helfant, the Realtors' president.

Both mortgage rates and home prices declined in September.

Thirty-year, fixed-rate mortgages averaged 7.92 percent, the lowest monthly average since a 7.73 percent rate in June 1973. But rates have edged up since September, reaching 8.23 percent during the week ended last Friday, the highest since 8.29 percent during the week ended July 2.

The Realtors also said the national median price of a home fell 1.3 percent in September, to $103,200. The median means half of the homes cost more and half cost less.

Regionally, the West posted the steepest decline, down 5.6 percent to a 670,000 annual rate. The median price there was up 5.2 percent, to $145,200.

SHARE program in full swing

Aggravated child abuse alleged

Eddie Oliver Washington, 42, 97 Castle Brewer Ct., Sanford, was charged with aggravated child abuse when he was arrested on Friday by Sanford Police.

Police said his live-in girlfriend's son had been held in custody at the Sanford Police Department on retail theft charges.

Police said Washington admitted to striking the boy with wood, a belt and later brought out a wire coat hanger to be entered into evidence.

Police said the son, during the beating, jumped out of a window to escape.

Washington was taken to the John E. Polk Correctional Facility and held on $4,000 bond.

Domestic violence charged

Bobby Lee Green, 34, 1339 Elliott St., Sanford was charged with battery and domestic violence when he was arrested on Thursday.

Police said he "shoved and pushed" his wife and stepdaughter.

Police said that he had been arrested 14 hours earlier for threatening them with bodily harm.

He was taken to the John E. Polk Correctional Facility and held on $1,000 bond.

His wife, Max Unice Green, 46, 123 Academy Dr., Sanford, was later arrested on charges of domestic violence when he filed a complaint that she had struck him on the head with a pan and had scratched her back.

Burglary, abuse alleged

Erick Lamer Young, 19, 1300 Dixie Way, Sanford, was charged with burglary to a conveyance and child abuse when he was arrested by Sanford Police on Thursday.

Police said they responded to a burglary to vehicle in progress. They used the K-9 units to track him down when he ran, they said.

Police said the dog bit him several times in the process of capturing him.

Police said he was in the company of two juvenile boys, ages 15 and 17, when he was arrested. All three were taken into custody.

The child abuse charge is based on having the youngsters with him while he was committing a crime.

Young was treated for the dog bites by the Sanford Fire Department paramedics and HCA Central Florida Regional Hospital and then transported to the John E. Polk Correctional Facility where he was held on $1,000 bond.

Burglary charged

Brian Levett Spencer, 22, 1012 1/2 W. Third St., Sanford, was charged with burglary when he was arrested by Sanford Police on Thursday.

Police said he was arrested after the victim said she saw Spencer jump over the fence and enter her home and leave with her jewelry, which is valued at approximately $225.

He was transported to the John E. Polk Correctional Facility where he was held on $5,000 bond.

Contempt charges filed

Victor Earl McKinnon, 35, 570 N. Highway 17-92, Longwood, was charged with contempt of court when he was arrested by Seminole County deputies on Friday.

Deputies reported that when McKinnon reported to the John E. Polk Correctional Facility to serve his weekend sentence, he registered a .116 and a .108 on an intoxilyzer screening.

Warrant arrests

Steven Blake Molin, 31, 115 Ludlow Dr., Longwood, was stopped for speeding by Seminole County deputies. A computer check of his identification revealed that he was wanted on a felony warrant. He was transported to the John E. Polk Correctional Facility where he was held in lieu of $12,316.48.

Kenneth Charles Alreici, 22, 290 Orange Ave., Longwood, was already at the John E. Polk Correctional Facility on unrelated charges when he was charged in connection with a warrant for burglary to a structure.

John Anthony Floavanti, 27, 2900 Golden Birch Lane, Longwood, was charged in connection with a warrant on charges of violating the terms of his probation on charges of burglary and grand theft. Bond was not set.

SANFORD — People helping people.

That's the whole idea behind the SHARE program that got into full swing at the Zayre Plaza on Saturday. In all, 171 people traded volunteer hours for discounted groceries.

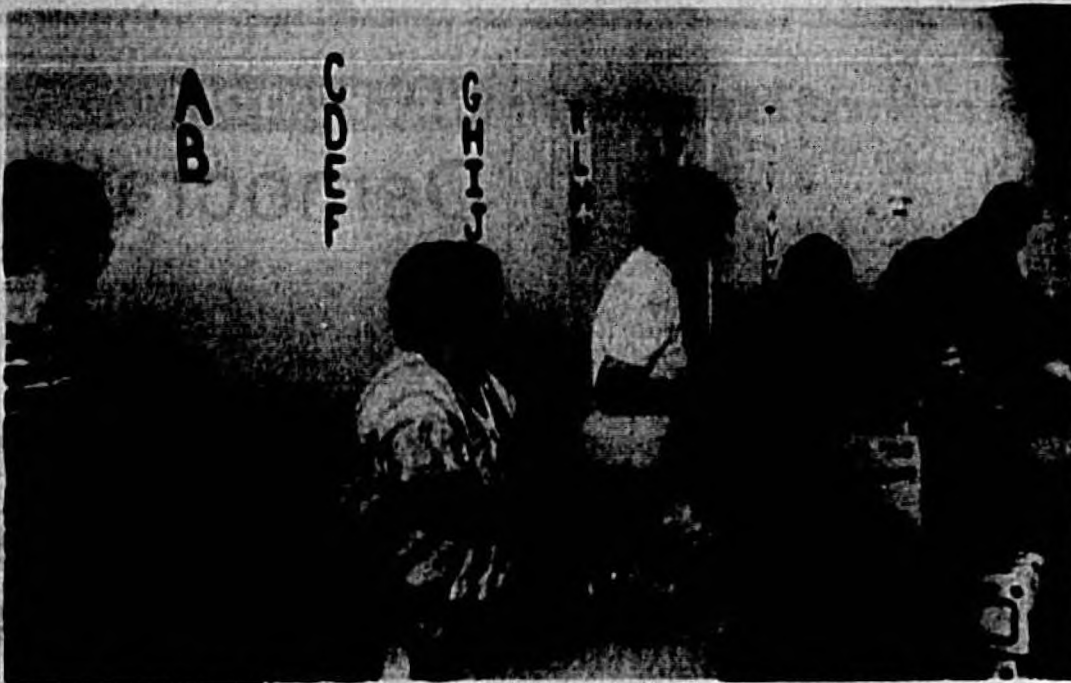

"This is certainly not a hand out," said Jean Metz, the coordinator of the Seminole County Project, on Saturday. "Anyone is eligible, regardless of income. The idea is to get people out there helping others."

For $13.50 plus two hours of documented volunteer time, participants can earn about $30 worth of groceries for themselves or others.

Pushing boxes along the assembly line on long tables, participants picked up frozen fish, turkey breast, a whole chicken, sausage, potatoes, onions, carrots, pancake mix, spaghetti, apples, pears, grapefruit and butter.

"This is good food," Bobbie Pariani, a volunteer with the SHARE program, said. "It's the kinds of things that we'd all buy."

Pariani said the participants in the program ranged from low income food stamp recipients to well-to-do people who spent their days in volunteer capacities.

"There's no shame in this," she said. "These people should be proud of what they are doing."

Metz said that several trustees from the John E. Polk Correctional Facility had volunteered their services to unload the trucks. Their families will benefit from their work or they can save their hours for after they are released.

Volunteers may sign up for the Nov. 21 distribution tomorrow and Thursday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. and on Saturday, Nov. 7 from 10 a.m. to noon at the SHARE office, 2970 Orlando Dr., Sanford.

Cemetery vandalism continues, officials tour

By BOB PEPERAW
Herald Staff Writer

SANFORD — City officials toured the area known as Pace Jackson cemetery Thursday afternoon. With continuing vandalism problems, efforts are underway to determine exactly who is responsible for the cemetery.

City Manager Bill Simmons, Police Chief Steve Harriett, and Howard Jeffries, grounds maintenance coordinator for the Parks and Recreation Department, toured the small area, which is located in the southeast quadrant of the Sanford cemetery, adjacent to the Masters Cove subdivision.

"What we have is actually two separate problems," Simmons said. "Preventing a continuation of grave desecrations is one matter, but this tour was based primarily on looking into responsibility for maintenance of the area."

"We've tried to find out who owns the land, but our title search has not been conclusive so far," he said. "Yet, with no one coming forward and saying that they own or manage it, people are still being buried there on an average of about one per week."

Simmons said he would like to hear from people who know about recent burials, to find out what they know about the ownership of the land.

"Without someone officially responsible for the cemetery," Simmons said, "there could be serious problems. For example," he added, "without records, how do people know where to dig for a new grave? Could they end up in an area already utilized?"

"The vandalism isn't new," Harriett said. "It's been going on since I first started on the police force, and no doubt it was happening for many years before that."

Simmons said the land is believed to be within the city limits. "According to what we have determined," he said, "the land was annexed to the city in 1974 as part of a larger area, but without being able to locate an owner, we aren't absolutely certain."

"For the time being," Harriett said, "until we find out more about the property, we are going to assume it is within our jurisdiction, and continue if not increase our involvement in preventing further vandalism not only at the Pace Jackson area, but the entire cemetery area which has all been subject to desecration."

Simmons and Harriett are expected to give a report on their Pace Jackson cemetery investigation during a regularly scheduled meeting of the Cemetery Advisory Committee, Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 p.m., in the recreation and parks department conference room at Sanford City Hall.

Wheelchair swing for park in Lake Mary

By GEORGE DUNCAN
Herald Staff Writer

LAKE MARY — The Optimist Club of Lake Mary is joining the Community Improvement Association in the city to provide a wheelchair swing for one of the city's parks. The swing is specially modified to allow use by handicapped persons in their wheelchairs.

"This was just something brought to our attention by a member. He saw it in a magazine and showed it to us. It's a good idea that other children have swings so it's a good idea that handicapped children can swing too," said Mary Coppock, the president of the Optimist Club.

The cost of the wheelchair swing is approximately $1,300. The Optimist Club will share the price with the CIA.

Coppock said the organization is currently setting up fundraising projects to buy the wheelchair swing. Members hope to have the chair installed in one of Lake Mary's parks by early next year.

"We don't know yet which park it will be. There's still a lot of loose ends that need to be tied up," she said.

Anyone wishing to make a contribution to the project should get in touch with Secretary-Treasurer Cathy Gehr.

Vote yes, yes, and yes on Lake Mary referendums

On the Nov. 3 general election ballot, citizens in Lake Mary will find three separate referendums dealing with the same subject: establishing run-off elections. We recommend approval of all three.

The matters are confusing as each was placed on the ballot for a different purpose.

Question 2 on the ballot is for proposed charter changes. Question 3 would add the run-off requirement to the new changes if they are approved.

Question 4 would add run-off elections to the present charter, if the new city charter is not approved by the voters.

The final question is the result of a citizens initiated petition requesting run-off elections.

Two years ago, with no run off provisions, Lake Mary citizens elected a mayor from among four candidates. The winner received more than each of his three opponents, but did not win victory through a majority vote of the people.

Run off elections cost money for printing, absentee ballot mailing, legal ads, and poll workers. Much of this is a duplication of what was required in the general election, and may appear to be additional expense.

One objection often heard from those who oppose run off elections is that they would bring far fewer voters to the polls. Using Sanford as an example however, this has not been the case in run off elections in either 1986 or 1988. The total votes cast in the run off for the two remaining candidates proved higher than the total cast for multiple candidates in the general election.

A good example of the need for run off elections is with the city of Longwood. Five persons are seeking the same City Commission seat. If the vote is relatively even, Longwood could end up with a commissioner selected by only slightly over 20 percent of the voters.

If, on the other hand, Longwood had a run off provision, the two candidates receiving the most votes, would then be presented back to the voters for a second decision, and the winner would have to receive over 50 percent of the votes.

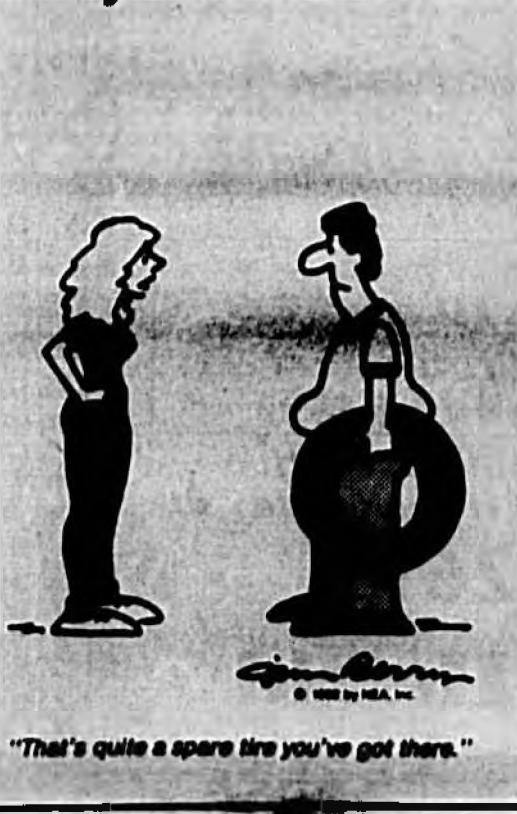

The additional cost for a run off would occur only occasionally. It is a small price to pay to allow citizens the right to select, through a majority decision, those who should serve.

Even though the three items all deal with the same matter and may seem confusing, we recommend Lake Mary citizens vote yes on items three four and five on the Nov. 3 ballot.

Democratic governor silenced again

In a full-page announcement, New York's Village Voice recently invited me and all to come to the Great Hall of Cooper Union — where Abraham Lincoln made the speech that caused his bid for the presidency to catch fire. I have been at many debates and discussions there, some fiery, but always, the clashing ideas could be heard.

This time Democratic Gov. Robert Casey of Pennsylvania was to deliver the speech the Democratic Party would not allow him to make at its "united" convention. Casey is a liberal Democrat. He has created and expanded, for example, a program providing crucial medical services to low-income pregnant women and young children, and he was responsible for the first increase in minimum teacher salaries in the state in a quarter of a century.

But Casey failed to pass the official Democratic loyalty test of Chairman Ron Brown. Casey is pro-life, and so he was gagged for the entire New York celebration of Democratic pluralism.

Finally, in the Great Hall of Cooper Union, the governor was to address the question that the Democratic leadership considers subversive: "Can a liberal be pro-life?"

Tony May, a press aide to Casey, told me: "We were looking forward to speaking in New York. It's an intellectual center, so we figured the level of this discussion would be higher there than we've been used to in Pennsylvania."

As moderator, I started what would have been the discussion by pointing out that this was an evening about free speech — not only that of the governor of Pennsylvania but also that of anyone in the audience who wanted to challenge him.

The hooting, screaming, pounding and whistle-blowing began. Strategically located at both sides of the hall — disruption by stereo — a preening array of hooligans made all speech except their own inaudible. They reminded me of the domestic brown shirts breaking up Jewish meetings in my youth, but these were howling soldiers of the left. (There is no difference, of course, between right and left when it comes to silencing the bearers of uncomfortable ideas.)

Among the opponents of any free exchange of ideas were ACT UP and various pro-choice cadres: WHAM (Women's Health Action Mobilization); and NYU Students for Choice, among them. None of these "pro-choice" groups, of course, gave the audience a choice to hear Casey.

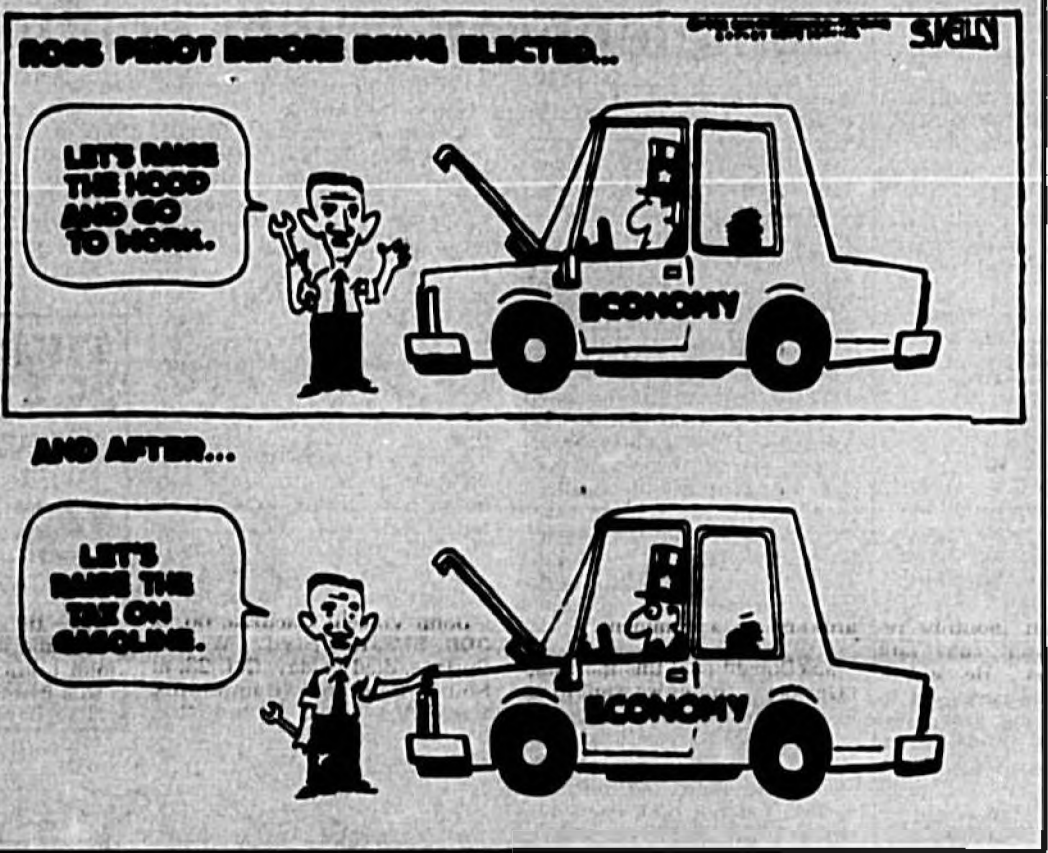

At least 80 percent of the audience wanted a chance to hear Casey and said so, as best they could, by applauding his attempts to get started. But they were no match for the speech muggers.

After several tries, Gov. Casey yielded. "The Democratic Convention suspended the First Amendment," he tried to say, "and tonight you did the same thing." Casey walked off the stage as the shouters congratulated each other.

An ironic obituary to the evening was the presence of an especially raucous contingent of righteous censors — a group concerned with the fate of Mumia Abu-Jamal, who is on death row in Pennsylvania. Convicted of killing a policeman, Jamal has exhausted all his direct appeals and his lawyers are now beginning to try other avenues, which will include a habeas corpus petition.

But they were no match for the speech muggers.

Clinton's integrity

In response to the issue of the integrity and character of Governor Bill Clinton, my husband and I wish to provide the American people with our personal reflections upon Governor Clinton's background.

First I would explain that my husband and I have spent our lifetime in the field of Arkansas public education. I have a professional degree in guidance and counseling. My husband, Henry, holds a master of education degree in educational administration and is a veteran of World War II, having received a purple heart for wounds crossing the Saar River into Germany. We both retired in 1977 after a 45-year career working with young people in our state. Having interacted with tens of thousands of students, one of which was Governor Clinton, we feel well qualified to provide insight into his character.

We would like to relate a touching account of the "real" Bill Clinton, a person who respects people, unconditionally. This anecdote was related to me by one of my students whom I met while shopping for housewares. It was election day and she was imploring me to vote for Bill Clinton.

"I came by bus to Hot Springs High School from a small rural area. As I approached the building I was frightened, not knowing where to go to register. I walked slowly, very slowly up the steps. Once inside the building, a nice young man came to greet me with his hand extended to shake my hand. He said, 'Welcome to Hot Springs High School — the best school in Arkansas! My name is Bill Clinton. How may I help you?' I need to enroll. I answered timidly. He took me to the office, helped me enroll, and then went with me to show me my classroom. As we walked, he discussed the activities of the school and said, 'If you need anything, you let me know.' All throughout high school I saw Bill in the halls, cafeteria, and at assemblies. He always spoke to me and asked how I was doing. He was a perfect gentleman and the kindest person I have ever known. Had it not been for Bill Clinton, I would not have graduated from Hot Springs High."

I was deeply moved as this young lady described the Bill Clinton we all know. I said to her, "I voted for him." As Bill's high school counselor and an observer of his personal and professional accomplishments, it is clear to me that he cares about people and has an understanding of the issues relevant to most Americans.

Bill Clinton is a highly intelligent, optimistic, and truthful person who loves God, his family, and his country. He has our trust and we want all Americans to carefully consider his plans to deal with the serious problems our country faces.

 and Edith B. Irons

Significant issues

The most significant issues in this election year are our economy...the financial health of our country, and our public servants' responsibilities to us, the voters.

America, the most powerful nation in the world, is operating like a non-profit organization, while individual taxpayers foot the bill, expecting a profit.

If we, as American businessmen, operated our own businesses like this, we would be in prison!

With all personal issues aside, without emotional film-flem and rhetoric, let's admit that America is a large multi-national business and what better person to manage this multi-national corporation than a corporate executive, Ross Perot.

We cannot continue to exist as a non-profit organization, and in order to compete successfully in a world market, perhaps we need a businessman in charge of our country, someone who appreciates the significance of the shareholder, the voter, in the survival of the business at hand, our democracy.

Ironically, most of don't realize how much power we have as individual "shareholders" in our corporation, America.

Our elected "officials" are our public servants! Not royalty, but our servants! Our public servants are supposed to be subject to our will, the will of the individual people.

Without our individual input, those "officials" act as if they have our approval! Our approval is our proxy, giving those elected servants the right to make decisions on our behalf! If they act without that approval, they act in breach of our trust and are essentially fraudulent.

We have the power...more so than ever! With our phones, faxes, telegrams, cables, express mail, messengers, and our letters, we have the tools to make a difference!

The most powerful tool of them all is our vote! With that vote we can elect a corporate executive for America that will lead us toward becoming a profitable multi-national corporation; to share the profits with all of us, the shareholders, the voters.

American cannot continue to be a non-profit organization any more.

Glenn's S&L ties may haunt him

WASHINGTON — Even senators with the right stuff can fall in with the wrong people.

That's the lesson painfully learned by Sen. John Glenn, D-Ohio, whose past relationship with S&L kingpin Charles H. Keating is threatening to capsize the former astronaut's political career.

In retrospect, Glenn's current nightmare traces back to his disastrous run for the White House in 1984, which left his presidential campaign with a debt of $3 million.

The debt ultimately drove him into the arms of deep-pocketed fund raisers like Keating, who is currently in prison for state securities fraud.

While Keating's ghost has come back to haunt Glenn, who describes this as "the worst year and a half" of his life, Republicans are re-living a rare political opportunity to beat an incumbent who has won three consecutive land-slides.

"In Ohio we have a happy coincidence in that we have our best challenger race being run by Mike DeWine," says one top Republican strategist. "If there ever was a guy who's been a political disappointment, it's been John Glenn. And so there it will help the president and the president can't win without carrying Ohio."

Glenn first met Keating in the 1970s when the S&L giant was a Cincinnati financier. Keating's mentor, Carl Linder, raised money for Glenn's campaign, and Keating would occasionally meet Glenn at cocktail parties and swap aviator stories. Their relationship jelled in 1984, when Glenn wrote or coigned five letters to bank regulators on behalf of Keating, asking that rules that would have reined in high-fliers like Keating be postponed.

A year later, Keating paid a courtesy visit to Glenn's Washington office. Bursting with charm and compassion, Keating told Glenn's wife, Annie, that her husband was a real American hero. By the time he left Glenn's office, Keating had volunteered to raise $200,000 in the next two years for Glenn's political action committee.

Annie's eyes filled with tears at Keating's announcement, and she put her arms around Keating as she explained how demeaning fund raising was for her husband.

Glenn has raised $1.7 million so far in his race to beat back a challenge from peppy Ohio Lt. Gov. Mike DeWine. Glenn, however, has raised only $3.25 this year toward retiring the $3 million debt.

For DeWine, Glenn's red ink and his relationship with Keating has been like a political banquet. In one successful campaign ploy, DeWine contributed $600 toward Glenn's leftover debt.

But the former Marine is returning DeWine's fire, making the Buckeye State brawl one of the most closely watched races this election. When Dewine first made the "contribution," a Glenn spokesman said, "Given (DeWine's) experience at the house bank, we're afraid (the checks) will bounce." The comment came in reference to the former congressman's 31 bounced checks totaling more than $13,000 at the House bank. Glenn is also criticizing the more than $40,000 in speaking fees DeWine has accepted from various interest groups.

Ironically, Glenn might not be fighting for his political life if his own Democratic colleagues had put partisan politics aside. The Senate Ethics Committee's Special Counsel, Bob Bennett, recommended in September 1990 that Glenn and Sen. John McCain, R-Ariz., be cut loose from the Keating Five after finding a lack of wrongdoing on their part.

Even senators with the right stuff can fall in with the wrong people.

Justments, Elderly Affairs Commission

Reason for seeking election: "I feel I can put different aspects and bring a different approach to city government," she said. "I would like to see less micro-management, more policy making, and a different approach to dealing with businesses as well as women."

Main problem or needs: "Drainage is the priority item I see," she said. "A lot of people don't want paving. In some cases, the right of way isn't large enough and it would hurt some homeowners. But the city has 12 miles of unpaved roads, and paving needs to be worked out together with the residents and the city together."

"Next," she said, "is the continuous improvements on the Boulevard widening project is finished, needed to get more business into the city, but keep it in a small town atmosphere at the same time."

"I can envision professional office areas on the north side of the boulevard, and small commercial businesses and shops to the south, with specialty shops in the downtown area," she projected. "As well as north of the boulevard."

Handling problems: "People already know I'm very vocal," she said. "I believe that is the way some problems must be handled and I won't change. I will be up front and honest with the people even though at times some might not like what I say." She added, "But citizens deserve the right to be heard and should be respected. Their input to government is important."

Operation of the city: "The commission must start operating with common sense," she said. "Over the last two years, there has not been much of that. Rather, there has been more self-promotion. They haven't been thinking of where the taxpayers money is going."

David Meador

Meador

Reason for seeking election: "Although I have had a recent opportunity to expand in my profession, I have decided to stay in Lake Mary, and seek office again," he said. "We have done much in the past four years, but so much remains to be accomplished that I want the opportunity to continue serving the citizens."

Main problem or needs: "We need to fine tune our overall system. The city needs to take advantage of GIS, Geographical Information System, which will give us more data to be used when working with the people," he said. "This will allow the city to be more sensitive to the needs of the people. Then when we do something, we will do it right the first time."

Paving and drainage: Meador said, "We have formulated a good plan that will allow both projects to be done on certain roads if at least 50 percent of the people on the road want it. If they don't," he said, "we should look into just drainage, and let the city address that problem by itself."

"The only way we could pay for it," he suggested, "is through the millage increase that is on the ballot. If that isn't approved, we'll have to seek additional sources, and they shouldn't be taxes because taxes are to provide services."

Handling problems: "We need to review reports from the city's department heads," he suggested. "They need to be monitored closely and we should be provided with monthly reports on complaint calls and people's concerns." He added, "If the complaints never get to the commission, we can't do anything about it. Then we are accused at being at fault."

Operation of the city: "I think fairness is the main point. There are times when I may appear to differ with a few people when it comes to making a decision, but my decisions are based on what I believe is best for the entire city and its people."

county commission will have to approve a transition contract to transfer the agreement from Mahoney to the bonding company before they can get another prime contractor," he explained.

Rabun said the matter is not scheduled for tomorrow's county commission meeting agenda. "If we find out that we can do this before the day is over," he said, "I'll try to get it on the agenda and maybe we can take care of this transfer agreement by as soon as tomorrow."

One of the organizers of the business group, Ken MacDonald, had a different viewpoint this morning. "We have been in contact with the bonding company," he said, "and they have told us they have already asked for bids to be submitted from contractors, and that they hope to have the bids closed by mid November, and construction crews back on the job by mid December."

In a letter distributed to business leaders, last week, MacDonald wrote, "Although we feel some progress is being made, we also are convinced there is always more our commissioners and elected officials can do to expedite the work on the boulevard."

He added, "As it stands now, there is no way Lake Mary merchants will enjoy even a reasonable Christmas season due to the present condition of the road."

The widening project on the boulevard has been at a standstill since July when the prime contractor, John Mahoney Construction, announced he could not finish the work.

Rabun commented today, "The only thing that has been actually accomplished so far is that the bonding company is paying for a maintenance team which has been working on safety hazards along the stalled construction area."

During a meeting of the merchants group two weeks ago, concern was voiced that no matter whether construction was back underway, or still stalled during the next 6 weeks, the merchants would still suffer losses from Christmas shoppers who might prefer to go to other areas where construction hazards are not as prominent.

MacDonald said this morning, "One of the things we want to do tomorrow is to find out if the merchants are still with us, and if they want the group to continue pressing for the construction to get back underway."

The meeting is scheduled for 8 a.m. tomorrow morning at Galleria Restaurant, 3837 Lake Emma Road, in Lake Mary Centre. It is open to all interested persons.

er for seven years until former county administrator Ken Hooper eliminated the position in 1987.

Warren previously worked four years as a teacher and eight years as administrative aide to Seminole County School Superintendent Bud Leyer.

Warren has attracted the endorsements of United Christians of Florida, Orlando Area Association of Realtors, and Home Builders Association of Mid-Florida.

Bertrand splits his career time between being a bad guy and a good guy. As a bad guy, he has participated in the Wild West Show at Walt Disney World. As a good guy, Bertrand works part-time as a corrections officer for Orange County. He has done both jobs for three years. Bertrand previously worked as a movie and television stuntman.

Bertrand has received the endorsement of the Seminole County Professional Fire Fighters.

Warren has been the subject of controversy during her term. At her first meeting, she called for a cessation of conflicts with the cities and a trimming of county legal staff. The demands foreshadowed the resignation of County Attorney Nikki Clayton, who had served for 10 years.

Warren later supported the stormy 1989 resignations of County Manager Hooper and his two top aides.

Warren voted with the majority in a 3-2 decision in 1989 to limit the widening of a portion of Red Bug Lake Road to four lanes although county engineers predicted the limitation would result in a traffic gridlock. Warren supported a modified restriction to accommodate a future narrow six-lane design.

"I took the high side for the community, not the high side for the traffic," said Warren.

Warren voted with her fellow commissioners in 1990 to allow industrial expansion in Spring Hammock, a decision that played a large part in the Sierra Club's decision to endorse her GOP primary opponent, John Tracy.

The environmental organization also criticized her frequent support for new borrow pits. Warren said she supported several pit requests to reduce the demand for the controversial Excavated Products pit at the edge of the Geneva Bubble, which she also endorsed. Warren said engineer's reports indicated there would be no damage to the community's drinking water supply.

In looking back, Warren said she would not have voted to oppose the massive Duda commerce park at the junction of Red Bug Lake Road and the expressway. Warren had successfully obtained several concessions from the developers to soften the development's impact on nearby residents, but then voted against the $168 million project.

"After I had extracted all the changes, I still saw a negative impact," said Warren. "Now, I think I would vote for it because it was much better than what we started with."

Warren said she will work to strengthen the county's economic picture by working to attract more businesses to Central Florida Regional Airport. To that end, Warren said she would support advancing construction plans to extend Silver Lake Drive from Lake Mary Boulevard to provide an airport link to the expressway.

Warren pledged to continue her water seminars which stage environmental, engineering and utility professionals in discussions of the state of the county's drinking water supply. She also pledged to continue her efforts to protect existing neighborhoods from the impacts of future development.

Bertrand said if elected, he would not approve any future borrow pits unless a county-ordered study showed more dirt was needed. He said growth should be slowed to accommodate environmental protection but would actively solicit companies to move to Seminole County, especially Sanford's airport.

Bertrand said he also opposes impact fees.

"It takes away from the American Dream and makes housing unaffordable for many people," Bertrand said.

But Bertrand said growth should be made to pay for itself. He said service improvements could be financed with the sale of tax-financed bonds. Residents would be relieved of the additional tax burden if new industry moved here, he said.

GM Chief Robert Stempel resigns

By ALAN L. ADLER
AP Auto Writer

DETROIT — General Motors Corp. Chairman Robert Stempel, under fire because the industrial giant has continued losing billions of dollars, resigned today.

There had been persistent reports members of GM's board wanted him out.

"I made this decision in the best interest of the corporation and its fine, dedicated employees at all levels of the organization," Stempel said in a statement released by GM.

"I could not in good conscience continue to watch the effects of rumors and speculation that have undermined and slowed the efforts of General Motors people to make this a stronger, more efficient, effective organization," he said.

In early trading today on the New York Stock Exchange, GM stock was up 50 cents a share at $34.

Stempel, 59, who joined GM in 1958, was the first engineer in company history to serve as chairman when he replaced Roger Smith in August 1990.

But published reports had indicated outside directors felt GM's downsizing was coming too slowly, and the board wanted a man with business background back at the helm. GM had hotly denied Stempel was under any pressure to step up the project or under any pressure to resign.

The company is expected to announce a third-quarter loss of more than $800 million later this week. The automaker lost $7 billion on North American operations in 1991, a year in which it lost $4 billion overall.

On Friday, GM accelerated its restructuring, announcing major manufacturing consolidations that eventually will lead to fewer vehicle models. Six separate car-making divisions will be reduced to four, meaning the groups of passenger car "platforms" — the chassis, axles and powertrain to which car bodies are added — will be reduced from six to four.

In December 1991, Stempel announced a massive restructuring that would close 21 plants and cut 74,000 jobs by 1995. But company efforts to reduce costs have caused labor problems.

Earlier this month, Stempel was hospitalized for several days for treatment of high blood pressure.

John Smale, chairman of the GM board's executive committee, said in a statement today that the board had accepted Stempel's resignation and asked him to continue as chairman until a successor could be named.

The board meets next Monday in New York, when it is expected to name Smale, former chairman of Procter & Gamble Co., as interim chairman.

Legal Notice

NOTICE TO CREDITORS

ROYAL OLDSMOBILE, INC. TO: ALL CREDITORS OF ROYAL OLDSMOBILE, INC.

Pursuant to the provisions of Section 6-107 of the Florida Uniform Commercial Code (F.S.A. 55.05107), you are hereby notified that on November 4, 1992, a bulk transfer of property will be made under an agreement entered into between the persons herein referred to as the Seller and the Buyer, in accordance with the terms of an Agreement for Purchase and Sale dated August 28, 1992.

1. The name and business address of the Seller is ROYAL OLDSMOBILE, INC., 1978 North Semoran Blvd., Winter Park, Florida 32789, and so far as known to the Buyer the only other names and business address used by the Seller within three years last past are: "Royal Oldsmobile" or "Royal Oldsmobile (Mitsubishi)" and 1177 North Semoran Blvd., Winter Park, Florida 32789.

2. The name and business address of the Buyer is HOLLER ENTERPRISES, INC., 808 W. Fairbanks Avenue, Winter Park, Florida 32789.

3. The Buyer is in doubt as to whether or not all the debts of the Seller are to be paid in full as they fall due as a result of the transaction.

4. The location of the property to be transferred is 1978 North Semoran Blvd., Winter Park, Florida 32789 and consists of new, demonstrator, and used motor vehicles; new, unused and current motor vehicle parts and accessories; usable gas, oil, grease, paint and body shop inventories; computer hardware; mobile office trailers; machinery and equipment currently used in the dealership; signs and other Oldsmobile proprietary materials; furniture and fixtures currently used in the dealership; licensed improvements to the dealership property; telephone number.

5. The estimated total of the Seller's debts as of the date of this Notice is $1,953,188.05, plus (1) contingent liabilities, which are expressly disavowed by Seller, resulting from currently existing and future litigation, and (2) claims arising as a result of contractual relationships with banks and other financing sources. The amounts set forth above were provided to Buyer by Seller, and Buyer can give no assurance that such amount includes all amounts owed by Seller to its creditors.

6. The addresses where the schedule of property to be transferred and the list of creditors of the Seller, as furnished by the Seller, may be inspected are: Buyer's address at 808 W. Fairbanks Avenue, Winter Park, Florida 32789, and Seller's address at 1978 North Semoran Blvd., Winter Park, Florida 32789.

7. The said transfer of property is not to pay existing debts of the Seller. The Seller has informed the Buyer that the Seller presently intends to pay all existing creditors as they come due. The Buyer can give no assurance that the Seller will pay all such creditors and Buyer assumes no responsibility for any such payments.

8. The said transfer of property is for new consideration. The amount of such consideration, which is to be paid on November 4, 1992 is currently anticipated to be approximately Three Hundred Forty Thousand and No/100 Dollars ($340,000.00) plus an as yet unknown amount for the Seller's inventories of motor vehicles (valued at net cost), parts and accessories (valued at wholesale cost) and usable gas, oil, grease, paint and body shop inventories (valued at wholesale cost). The amount of such consideration may change depending on what assets are actually purchased at the closing of the acquisition.

9. Creditors of the Seller may file their claims at Royal Oldsmobile, Inc., c/o Pamela O. Price, Grey, Harris & Robinson, P.A., Post Office Box 2666, Orlando, Florida 32822, within thirty (30) days after the date hereof.

Dated this 23rd day of October, 1992.

1. All items should be typed or written legibly and include the name of a person who can be contacted and a daytime phone number.
2. The deadline is 11 a.m. Thursday before publication.

PTA plans activities for the year

First PTA meeting
The Lake Mary Elementary School held its first general PTA meeting at 7:30 p.m. in the auditorium.

They introduced board members and chairpersons, as well as staff members. PTA's plans, goals and objectives for 1992-93 were presented with time for questions, answers, suggestions and comments. The meeting was well attended and it was pointed out by Nancy Lowe, membership chairperson of PTA, that there are 430 members signed up for PTA and that they are eligible for an Early Bird award if they get at least another 200-plus parents to sign for for 100 percent.

President Laurel Ricci had Donna Lane, the vice president in charge of programs, talk about the plans for an ice cream social in November, and a curriculum fair in January about which they hope to have the new superintendent of schools give them an update sometime in March.

The hospitality chairpersons are Joan Edwards, Betty Whitney and Jane Ivey who discussed their festive "Welcome Back Staff" party and the refreshments for the Dividends.

The treasurer's report was read and Sandy Lent, of the Cultural Arts Department, read the minutes for the secretary, Katie Newhauer, who was out sick. Sandy Lent also spoke of the national PTA art contest — "Reflections. The theme is "Imagine that...." Students may interpret the theme any way they feel appropriate. The four art categories in the Reflections program are literature, music, photography and visual arts. Each category is judged according to four grade divisions: Primary (K-3), Intermediate (4-6), Junior High (7-9) and Senior High (10-12). All entries must be in the state office by Feb. 24, 1993. They also hope to put on a spring art show on a Friday night in April at the City Hall Amphitheatre.

At present there are 826 children enrolled at Lake Mary Elementary. It was noted that Kathy Kern, the math supervisors coordinator, needs assistance.

There was further discussion on the great need Lake Mary Elementary has regarding ways to raise funds to acquire more computers and programs. Coach Plance talked about a carnival with an entrance fee only idea for the last week in February. The coach is in dire need of prizes being donated to the Physical Education Department for this event. Call Coaches Plance or Covell at 322-5218 if you know of someone or yourself who could donate stuffed animals and other good prizes.

New brats in town

On a lovely sunny and clear Sunday the 4-H "Bridle Brats" club held a "Showmanship Clinic" at Springdale Farms in Longwood. Judge McCarthy McCullough, of Apopka, where she has quarter horses, came to demonstrate showmanship and judging techniques when entering horse shows.

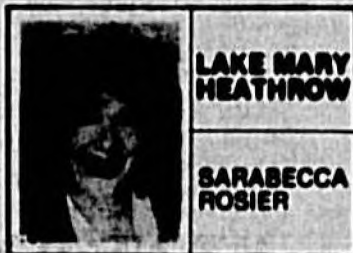

Approximately six members of the 4-H Bridle Brats were registered for the clinic. The judge brought her assistant, Marie Wyastyk, to assist where needed. The clinic taught club members how to show a horse at halter, correct ways to turn the rider and horse in front of a judge, lining up evenly on or off horseback, how to jog alongside of the horse as directed by the judge.

Also, a brief talk on the confirmation of different breeds of horses and a walk-trot-canter were requested of the club members who could demonstrate their varying degrees of ability.

Piano player needed

The Lake Mary Senior Center at 158 N. Country Club Road, needs a piano player for their day program. Jo Heron, their former piano lady, has volunteered to work at the school and will no longer be available to the seniors. Call 324-3060 if interested.

Further, any senior having a problem may also call the above number in the mornings between 9 a.m. and noon. They will find the answer for you even if it is unknown to them.

Seniors reminder: Tuesday, Oct. 27, 9:30 a.m., sewing classes for WOPIES, lap quilting, quilting bees and Christmas workshop. Wednesday, Oct. 29, 9-11 a.m., regular classes. 11 a.m., program with Ken King, botanist. "How Does Your Florida Garden Grow." This will be a joint meeting with the Lake Mary Garden Club. Lunch will be covered dish at 11:30 a.m. following the program. On Friday, the regular 9:30-11:30 a.m. line dancing, and noon to 3 p.m., bridge and cards. Don't forget to check the bulletin boards and to pick up the calendar of events for November.

Cooking for the holidays

"Easy and Elegant Holiday Entertainment," is the theme of the cooking demonstration to be featured at the Heathrow Women's Club membership luncheon meeting Nov. 9, according to Dr. Dorothy Purdy, program chairwoman. The meeting will take place at Doro's International Restaurant, 951 Greenwood Blvd.

Members and guests will enjoy their choice of four luncheon entrees and a dessert.

A post luncheon demonstration of easy and elegantly prepared foods will start at 12:15 p.m., and will include ideas for holiday entertaining. The luncheon fee is $11.

Just a reminder

The Blue Moon Ball, A Formal Commitment to Education, will be held on Saturday, Nov. 14, at the Sheraton Orlando North. Hora d'Oeuvres will be served from 7-8 p.m.; from 8 p.m. to midnight a black tie dinner and dance with a big band.

The event is $60 per person with corporate tables available.

All profits to benefit education. For information, call Valerie Williams at Arvida 333-1400.

(Sarabecca Rosier is your Sanford Herald correspondent covering the Lake Mary Heathrow area. To contribute to this column, phone 322-6468.)

Give Business The GREEN Light!

WE NEED YOUR HELP!

These Lake Mary businesses have come together to let you know that they want your business, and they are doing everything they can to get it, and to keep it. Some are offering discounts on their merchandise and services. Others are striving to make sure that your visit is as safe and convenient as possible. They will all work extra hard to take care of you when you get there!

Lake Mary Boulevard, when completed, will be a major Central Florida artery, well designed to handle business, school and residential traffic. Until then, the local merchants and professionals ask that you bear with them, and pardon the dust!

JOIN IN A COMMON CAUSE!

The next meeting of the Lake Mary Merchant and Professional Association is Tuesday, October 27, at 8:00 AM, at Galleria Restaurant, in Lake Mary Center.

"A lot has been accomplished and a lot of interesting facts have been discovered. Although we feel some progress is being made, we also are convinced there is always more our commissioners and elected officials can do to expedite the work on the boulevard."

All concerned merchants, professionals and citizens are invited to attend.

Campaign '92

Clinton takes southern bus tour; Bush heads west

By TOM RANS
Associated Press Writer

Democrat Bill Clinton is pressing his pitch as the candidate of "hope and change" while poking fun at George Bush and Ross Perot in the waning days of the presidential campaign.

"This country needs a president committed to jobs," Clinton told a rally in Winston-Salem, N.C. "We don't need Terminator II. We need to build up this country."

Clinton and running mate Sen. Al Gore were headed for yet another bus trip today after weekend polls showed the three-way presidential race tightening. Clinton and Gore, after appearing live this morning on a CBS "Town Meeting" planned to roll across North Carolina in a form of campaigning they have utilized repeatedly since the end of the Democratic convention.

In what could be the campaign's final bus tour, Clinton and Gore will visit traditional GOP bastions that Democrats this year see as a clear target of opportunity.

President Bush was headed to three states where he's behind Clinton in the polls - Colorado, New Mexico and Iowa.

Clinton and Bush took swings at Perot, putting aside the gentle treatment they have accorded him in the past. The billionaire independent has climbed in the polls to near 30 percent.

While no one had any expectations that Perot could rise far enough in the polls to be a true contender, the Dallas businessman was once again poised to be a factor in a number of key states - potentially affecting the outcome in those states.

Perot, who ventured out on the stump at rallies in New Jersey and Pennsylvania for the first time since he renewed his campaign Oct. 1, said Sunday that said a plot by Republican operatives to smear his daughter by distributing a "fake photograph" of her before her wedding had prompted his abrupt withdrawal from the campaign in July.

"It's preposterous. ... It never happened," said presidential spokesman Marlin Fitzwater. "There haven't been any dirty tricks against Ross Perot. This business about his daughter is just crazy and he's been told that and he knows that."

Clinton, speaking at a rally Sunday in the Detroit suburb of Sterling Heights, took pokes at both Bush and Perot.

Noting earlier reports - disputed by Perot - that Perot had hired a private detective to investigate Bush's children, the Arkansas governer said Perot was claiming "that Mr. Bush is investigating his children. Mr. Bush has already said that Mr. Perot investigated his children. They're worried about investigating each other's children."

"I'll tell you what, I want to investigate your children - their future, their problems, their promise," he told a cheering crowd of more than 10,000.

Clinton campaigned in the Detroit area with New York Gov. Mario Cuomo, who criticized the Republicans for pushing the country "into the Great Recession."

In North Carolina, Clinton said the Democrats "represent hope and change" and said he would be elected Nov. 3 "if you don't lose your courage."

He told some pro-Bush demonstrators: "You know what they think. ... Listen to me."

Bush told a rally in Sioux Falls, S.D., on Sunday that Clinton had misled Americans into thinking "everything was wrong with this country" and he renewed his charges that Clinton lacks the character and trustworthiness to sit in the Oval Office.

Bush also seized on a report in the Sunday Telegraph of London that Clinton's campaign had hatched a secret deal with the head of the European Commission to delay a world trade agreement until after the election.

Asked about the report, Clinton said: "No. Nothing to that."

As Bush sides said the president didn't expect to be back at the White House until after Election Day, there was talk on the Clinton campaign of going around-the-clock for the final three days.

"I'd like to," Clinton told reporters, but he said his doctor has warned he may lose his voice again - as he did just before the presidential debates.

"We've been at this for more than a year. Surely, we can go for another week," he said Sunday.

Perot says GOP dirty tricks forced his July withdrawal

By The Associated Press

FLEMINGTON, N.J. — Ross Perot says he can't prove that Republican operatives planned to embarrass one of his daughters by distributing a phony picture of her, but that he decided to protect her by withdrawing from the presidential race in July.

"It was a risk I could not take," Perot said Sunday as he made a rare public campaign appearance in Pittsburgh.

Perot told supporters at another rally in New Jersey that he learned GOP operatives planned to use a computer-doctored photograph to "smear her before her wedding and actually disrupt the wedding ceremony," Carolyn Perot was married in August.

Presidential spokesman Marlin Fitzwater called Perot's allegations "preposterous."

"It never happened," Fitzwater said. "There haven't been any dirty tricks against Ross Perot. This business about his daughter is just crazy and he's been told that and he knows that."

Perot told CBS' "60 Minutes" in an interview broadcast Sunday night that some of his information came from Scott Barnes, a shadowy figure who has tried to interest a number of news organizations in his claims of dirty tricks aimed at Perot.

Perot said he would not have withdrawn from the race based solely on information from Barnes, and that he received similar reports from two highly placed Republicans. He declined to identify them.

Bobby R. Burchfield, general counsel for the Bush-Quayle campaign, denied the allegations of dirty tricks and said Barnes had called the campaign several times.

"As soon as they found out that he was the crackpot that he so evidently is, they got him off the phone and did not follow up on any of his suggestions," Burchfield said on "60 Minutes."

Barnes could not be reached Sunday night. His home and work telephones have been disconnected.

Barnes has said he is a former intelligence operative for the government and wrote a book in the mid-1980s alleging the government sent him on a mission to Southeast Asia to locate POWs and MIAs. He says the team found live prisoners but was told to "liquidate the merchandise."

Perot said when he abandoned his campaign July 18 that he felt the Democratic Party had revitalized itself and that he could not win.

When he re-entered the race Oct. 1, Perot said he was doing so because "neither political party has effectively addressed" economic and other concerns that are on the minds of the voters.

Perot told cheering supporters in New Jersey that he didn't tell his daughter why he quit the race until after her honeymoon. He quoted her as saying, "OK, the wedding's over, get back in the race."

"They were going to smear her with a fake photograph that they had done with a computer where you put a head on another body and they were actually going to have people in the church to disrupt her wedding," Perot told the Boston Herald, adding that the picture was to be given to supermarket tabloids.

Perot also contends that the Bush campaign intended to wiretap his Dallas business office. The head of the Dallas FBI office told "60 Minutes" that investigation had found no evidence of wiretapping.

Competing economic programs are pushed

By MARTIN CRUTCHER
AP Economics Writer

WASHINGTON — George Bush wants to give everybody a tax cut, Bill Clinton wants to raise taxes on the rich while cutting taxes for the middle class and Ross Perot wants to raise taxes on everybody.

In an election campaign dominated by the pocketbook issues of jobs and the economy, there is no area where the three major candidates are further apart than tax policy.

Bush, singing from Ronald Reagan's supply-side hymnbook, is pushing for an across-the-board tax cut and has suggested that if he is able to get $132 billion in spending cuts from Congress, he would use those reductions to pay for a 1 percentage-point cut in personal tax rates.

Clinton, campaigning on a theme of tax equity, says that he would raise the top tax rate from 31 percent to 36 percent for families making more than $200,000 annually while providing $60 billion in tax relief for the middle class.

For Perot, the need to attack the federal budget deficit is of paramount importance, so his economic plan offers tax increases, not tax cuts.

Perot would raise the top tax rate from 31 percent to 33 percent, reduce home mortgage deductions, boost tobacco taxes and, in the best known of Perot's tax hikes, increase gasoline taxes by 50 cents-a-gallon over the next five years.

Each campaign defends its own tax proposals as the right prescription for a sick economy.

The debate between Bush and Clinton has grown particularly heated. Bush has charged that Clinton would abandon his promise only to boost taxes on families making more than $200,000 per year, once he gets in office, and would instead end up hiking taxes for people making as little as $36,000.

"To get $150 billion in new taxes, you have got to go down to the guy that's making $36,000," Bush said a week ago in the last debate.

The Bush campaign charges that Clinton's estimate on the money he will be able to raise from the wealthy and by closing business loopholes are inflated and that he will be forced to look elsewhere to find the revenues needed for his programs.

Included in the $150 billion in tax increases are $82.9 billion from higher taxes on the wealthy and $45 billion from closing loopholes that Clinton says allow foreign companies operating in the United States to avoid their fair share of federal taxes.

The campaign cites figures showing that 72 percent of the 46,000 foreign corporations operating in the United States escape paying corporate income taxes.

Private economists who have examined Clinton's program say that while the revenue estimate for the individual tax hikes is within the realm of possibility, they have serious questions about the $45 billion Clinton expects to get from foreign companies. Some said $5 billion to $10 billion was a more reasonable estimate.

"That is probably the largest error built into his revenue proposal," said Ross DeVoll, an economist at the WEFA Group, an economic consulting firm in Bala Cynwyd, Pa. "Foreign companies will simply find more ways to hide and transfer money around."

But Gene Sperling, a top Clinton economic policy adviser, defended the foreign tax, saying other estimates have put the amount of money being lost each year at three times the amount Clinton is seeking to collect.

And even if this revenue source falls short, another Clinton economic adviser, Roger Altman, vice chairman of the Blackstone Group, said that it was irresponsible for the Bush campaign to suggest that Clinton would automatically look to the middle class to make up the difference.

"The Bush people have been distorting this for weeks," Altman said. "Under no circumstances will there be middle class tax increases under the Clinton plan."

Clinton, himself, went to great lengths during the final debate to insist that he had no intention of raising middle class taxes.

"If the money does not come in there to pay for these programs, we will cut other government spending or we will slow down the phase-in of programs. I am not going to raise taxes on the middle class to pay for these programs," Clinton said in a pledge he repeated four times in the space of two minutes.

For his part, Perot is making no such pledge. His economic program seeks to balance the budget within five years, a goal not attempted by either Bush or Clinton. To accomplish that, Perot sets forth a host of tax increases and spending cuts.

IN BRIEF

OCS Rams escape upset

MAITLAND — Jon Sturman kept the Orangewood Christian School Rams from embarrassing themselves Friday evening.

Orangewood Christian, ranked in the Florida Athletic Coaches Association's state soccer poll, was minutes away from suffering a 1-1 tie at home with Sarasota Christian, which came into the game with a sub .500 record.

But Sturman ran onto a beautiful through ball by Hunter Tolbert and beat the Sarasota Christian keeper for a goal with less than two minutes to play, lifting the Rams (10-3-2) to a 2-1 victory over Sarasota Christian (5-7-1).

The subpar effort caused the Rams to slip to sixth in the FACA poll.

The Rams were without eight players, including four starters, who missed the game for various reasons.

Scott Armstrong scored Orangewood Christian's first goal, converting on an assist from Jakob Hardrick in the game's 25th minute.

Orangewood Christian outshot Sarasota Christian 16-13, forcing the visitors' goalkeeper to make 10 saves. Ram goalie Ben Maynard came up with nine saves. Sarasota Christian had a 3-0 advantage in corner kicks.

The Rams will play again this Tuesday at home in a 4 p.m. game against Master's Academy from Orlando.

Sailfest registration begins

SANFORD — Advance registration for Seminole County's 1992 Florida Citrus Sailfest is now open. Scheduled for Dec. 4-6, the regatta attracts nearly 700 boats and 3,000 sailors from around the nation and the world.

Advance registration is $35 for single-hand skippers and $40 for skipper and one crew. Each additional crew member is $10. In addition, all U.S. Sailing members receive a $5 discount.

To qualify for the advance registration fee, entries must be postmarked by Saturday, Nov. 14. Any postmarked after that date will be subject to a $10 late fee. Registration will close precisely at 9 a.m. Saturday, Dec. 5.

For additional information or registration forms, write to: The 1992 Florida Citrus Sailfest, Suite 2220, 200 S. Orange Ave., Orlando, 32801 or call John Gardiner Jr. at 425-0685, 423-0488 or (fax) 872-0879.

Lions take apart Bucs

TAMPA — With Rodney Peete as the director and Barry Sanders in a starring role, the Detroit Lions rescripted their ailing offense and should get rave reviews.

Peete directed three long scoring drives in the first half, and Sanders rushed for a season-high 122 yards and two touchdowns Sunday as the previously punchless Lions broke a four-game losing streak with a 38-7 victory over the Tampa Bay Buccaneers.

Peete threw touchdown passes of 29 yards to Willie Green and 63 yards to Herman Moore on the Lions' first two possessions, and Sanders broke loose on a 55-yard TD run that gave Detroit (2-5) a 31-7 lead late in the third quarter.

Detroit, 22nd in the NFL in total offense, amassed a season-high 400 yards against a Bucs defense that has gotten progressively worse during a stretch in which Tampa Bay (3-4) has lost four of five games.

Entman, Colts tip Dolphins

MIAMI — And then there were none — the number of undefeated teams remaining in the NFL — and Steve Entman is the reason.

Entman made a game-saving interception on the final play Sunday and returned it 90 yards for a touchdown as Indianapolis handed the Miami Dolphins their first defeat, 31-20.

The score came on fourth and goal at the Colts' 7-yard line, with Miami threatening to pull out the game. Taking the snap with 17 seconds left, Dan Marino drilled a pass toward the end zone, but Entman — standing just 5 yards in front of the quarterback — reached up and grabbed it.

Coming from behind Church softball leaders survive close calls

From Staff Reports

SANFORD — The three leaders all got scares but survived in a day of close games in the Sanford Church Softball League Fall Season.

Only one of the seven games was decided by more than three runs and four of the games were decided by only one run in the closest day of a very close season.

Fellowship Division leader Sanford First United Methodist fell behind 4-0, but came up with a seven-run third inning and went on to beat Lake Mary Nativity Catholic-Crusaders 9-6.

First Methodist's nearest competitor, Sanford Central Baptist, fell behind but came back to lead 4-1 going into the seventh inning. Sanford First Nazarene saved its best for last, however, and scored two runs to cut the lead to 4-3, but the potential tying run was thrown out at the plate to end the game.

The Fun Division leading Sanford Family Worship Center trailed 3-2 before rallying for five runs in the fifth inning and went on to win 7-5.

In the other games, Sanford Christian took advantage of a pair of errors to score three runs in the fourth inning and edged Sanford All Souls Catholic 3-2. Geneva First Baptist scored five runs in the seventh inning to tie and then scored two in the 10th to nip Antioch Baptist of Oviedo 10-9 and Lake Mary Grace United Methodist scored three runs in the bottom of the seventh inning to slip by Sanford Church of God of Prophecy 5-4.

The only game that was decided by a big score was only a 3-2 game until St. Stephen Catholic of

Calm before the storm

Local gyms will be quiet this week as students work their way through their nine-week exams. As a result, only nine matches are scheduled for the next four days. Next weekend, Jean Pierre (No. 3, left) and the Lake Mary Rams will host the annual Volleyfest boys' championship tournament. Meanwhile, Nikki Proece (No. 15, right) and her Lake Mary teammates will be preparing for next week's 4A-District 9 tournament.

Patriots bowl to SAC lead

From Staff Reports

CASSELBERRY — The Seminole Athletic Conference Bowling League held its second scheduled contest at Palm Bay Indian Hills in less than a week on Wednesday, Oct. 21, and left with a new leader in the Boys' Division.

Lake Brantley's Ken Mills rolled the highest game and series of the night to lead the Patriots to a 14-4 victory over previous boys leader Lake Mary. Mills had a high game of 231 and a 504 series as Lake Brantley leapfrogged both Lyman and the Rams to take over the division lead.

In another boys' match, the Greyhounds remained in second place by edging Lake Howell 10-8. Dan Botsay rolled a high game of 197 and a 566 series, second to Mills on the night, to pace the Lyman attack, while Eric Phillips had a best game of 209 and Brian Celso had a 480 series for the Silver Hawks.

The final boys' matchup of the evening found Oviedo outscoring Seminole 11-7. John Wagner topped the Lions with a 204 game and a 547 series. The Tribe leader was Chris Almon, who rolled a 229 game and a 543 series.

At the end of the night, the Patriots hold a 1.5-point lead over the Greyhounds, 81.5-80.0 points. Completing the standings are Lake Mary (78.5), Oviedo (68.0), Lake Howell (65.5) and Seminole (60.5).

The Girls' Division didn't have a change of leadership, but the standings really tightened up as Seminole made the biggest move and Lake Brantley also made up ground.

The Patriots got a 166 game and 462 series from Ticy Pitts as they knocked off the division leading Rams 10-8, despite a 198 game and 478 series by Lake Mary's Cheryl Scarborough.

But the Tribe made up the most ground in disposing of Oviedo 12-8 even though the Lions' Becky Miller bowled the highest game (211) and

Coaches want teams be a more offensive

Don't take this the wrong way...

but this year's collection of Seminole County high school football players are the most inoffensive group of young men that anyone can remember.

Ask anybody. Seminole coach Emory Blake on Oct. 23: "Our offense is self-destructing."

Lake Brantley coach Fred Almon, also on Oct. 23: "Our offense just isn't coming around. They're killing us."

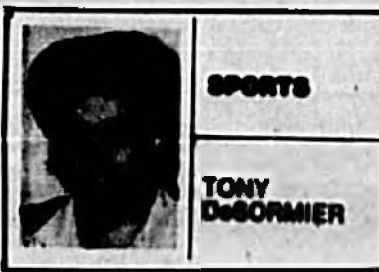

Oviedo coach Jack Blanton on Oct. 9: "We stunk on offense."

Lake Mary coach Doug Peters repeatedly during the season: "We've got to find a way to run the ball."

Lake Howell coach Mike Blacaglia on Oct. 2: "Turnovers killed us. We're real young on offense and it showed."

The reason that Lyman coach Larry Baker isn't quoted here is because his is the only team that has been able to do anything with any reasonable consistency on offense.

And the thing is, Seminole County schools have built a reputation of not only being offensively potent, but being offensively inventive. Seminole's aerial circus, Lake

SPORTS

TONY DESORMIER

Howell's ground assault, the razzle-dazzle of Oviedo, the undefensable sexbombs of Lake Brantley... scoring points has never been a problem.

But after this season, the county's head coaches may want to see if they can negotiate a bulk rate with some dentist to have their crowns reworked. The way they spend their Friday nights grinding their teeth in frustration, they won't have molars left by Thanksgiving.

And it's not just the frustration that goes with squandering opportunities (and games) that has county coaches talking to themselves and growling at everyone else. All six of the county's head coaches also directly oversee their squad's offensive units.

Compounding the problem is the pressure to make the state playoffs.

Mainland currently leads the 5A-District 4 standings with a perfect district record. Oviedo is second with one district loss with Lake Mary, Lake Brantley, Lake Howell and Lyman all bunched together with two losses.

All district games are important, but there are two that everybody will be keeping their eyes on this week. On Thursday night, Mainland visits Lake Mary and Lake Brantley travels to Oviedo. The district race will either be one step closer to being decided or even more muddled than it already is.

Seminole is in better shape, but only slightly. Currently, the Tribe is tied for first in 4A-District 7 with Leesburg. But the Seminoles have to travel to Leesburg on Nov. 13 to play the Yellow Jackets, who have been putting some serious points on the scoreboard.

It would be understandable if the county schools were going through the inevitable bottoming out of the talent curve. You can't expect to have players of national-caliber talent every year.

Yet, while there may not be an all-state offensive player in the county this year, they're as a athletically talented a group as any in the last decade. Just about every player at an offensive skill position in the county plays at least one other sport.

Next in the line of explanations might be a lack of size, talent or experience on the part of the offensive lines. But in their post-game comments, that hasn't been fingered as a problem by county coaches, who, to a man, aren't given to waffling when discussing their teams' performances.

"We're stopping ourselves," said Blake last Friday night after his Seminole squad struggled to a win over Lake Howell. "We threw an interception on first down, a fumble, penalties... dumb stuff. And the thing is, those are things you can't coach. It's self-discipline."

A look at Friday night's summaries shows what Blake meant: the five county schools (Lyman was idle) combined for nine fumbles (losing six of them), seven interceptions and over 220 yards in penalties.

That's what's really driving the coaches to distraction. If something's broke, you can fix it. But when something's just not working, there's not much that can be done except keep trying to get it right. And this late in the season, time is no ally.

What is a deciduous fruit?

Is it a new exotic fruit from South America? Is it a new variety of cold hardy citrus? The answer to both questions is no: deciduous fruits are simply those that lose their leaves or go dormant in winter?

There are many examples of deciduous fruits and I am sure most of you grow at least a few of them. Deciduous fruits include: grapes, persimmons, peaches, pears, pecans, plums, figs, blackberries, blueberries and raspberries to name just a few.

Caring for deciduous fruits is not difficult but there are a few things to consider. Deciduous fruits generally prefer a well drained site in full sun. Most will require additional water during dry spells and perform best if a mulch is placed in a ring extending at least 2-3 feet out from the trunk, unlike citrus which we do not mulch. Use care when placing trees near the house, always allow enough space between for proper air circulation and room for growth — always consider the plant's mature size. Some fruits like blueberries, raspberries and blackberries work well when placed in beds. Check the pH of the intended planting area and adjust if needed. For example, blueberries prefer an acidic site or a pH below 5.2; if the pH is 6.0, sulfur will be needed to lower the pH. Occasionally our crop choices for the planting site may need to be reconsidered. If the pH of the site is extremely different from the needs of the crop, the pH will continually need adjusting. A plant better suited to the site might be a better choice.

BARBERING

When preparing the planting site choose a large, sunny site near a source of water. Add lots of organic matter and broadcast a complete fertilizer (8-8-8 or 8-8-8) and incorporate. Always set plants at their original depth or at the same depth as they were grown in the container. Plants set too deep will eventually have problems with crown rot. Water in thoroughly at planting, being careful to wet the entire rootball, and once a week for the first month or so to help them get established.

Once established an occasional watering may be needed in situations of drought (two weeks without rain) — water deeply to wet the entire root system.

Fertilize on a regular schedule so that plants will receive a constant supply of nutrients. The fertilize schedule and amount of fertilizer will vary among the many different types of deciduous fruits, and individual needs should be considered.

Pruning deciduous fruits is quite different from pruning citrus! For example, pruning deciduous fruit trees to open up the interior should be done in the dormant season (early February in this area), while blackberries should be pruned back to the ground after harvest. Grapes need to be pruned to renew the canes and pecans are difficult to prune because most branches are out of our reach.

Maintaining deciduous fruits properly requires knowing the specifics about each plant and can seem overwhelming. Limit yourself to just a few in the beginning, particularly those of you that are new to the area — growing in Florida is definitely different! And to help you along, we are offering a special program dealing with the many deciduous fruits that you are currently growing or that you may be interested in growing. The "Care and Variety of Deciduous Fruits" program is free and will be held at the Agriculture Center on Nov. 9 from 10 a.m. until noon. Come join us and learn about your favorites and ask questions about the problems you are encountering in your yard! If you are interested in attending, please call the Ag. Center at 322-2500, ext. 5581 or 5558.

All programs by the Cooperative Extension Service are open to all regardless of race, color, sex or national origin.

Couple worlds apart on trip abroad

DEAR ABBY: I have recently come into a large sum of money (six figures). Now for my problem: I've been planning a two-month vacation for my boyfriend and me. I'm 37 and he's 35. I have told him that I would be willing to pay for airfare to and accommodations in the south of France. All he would have to do is save enough for his spending money.

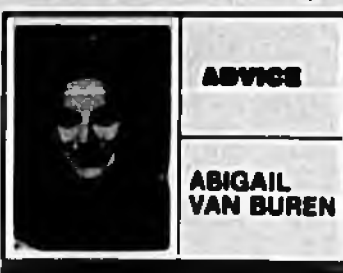

Abby, he has shown very little interest in this trip, so I went ahead and made all the reservations for plane and hotel accommodations to Paris, where we will rent a car and drive to Nice.

It seems every time I mention this trip, he complains about the hassle of passports, booster shots, etc. I can't understand his attitude. We have gone together for four years and could never afford a trip out of the country before, and now that I'm giving him the opportunity, he seems bored with it all.

Am I wasting my time? Should I continue with these plans or forget the whole thing? Who in his right mind wouldn't jump at the chance for a free trip? What do you think, Abby?

UPSET IN VANCOUVER, B.C.
DEAR UPSET: I think you're not getting the message. For whatever reason, your boyfriend is much less interested in foreign travel than you are. You could save yourself a rude awakening (and a lot of money) if you went without him. Why don't you consider it? You will soon find out if he's the man for you — or just a four-year habit.

DEAR ABBY: My family and I live in an upper middle-class residential neighborhood. Upon returning home from work today, I noticed that some prankster had thrown an egg at my front door. The same thing happened several years ago around Halloween. At that time, my housekeeper actually saw the kid throw it.

ADVISE

We confronted the parents and were not too surprised when they jumped to their child's defense. They even accused my housekeeper of having lied when she said she had seen the boy throw it!

Since there was no eyewitness to today's event, I can't make baseless accusations, although, I must admit, I have my suspicions. I suppose I should be grateful that the egg could be scrubbed off, although I was tired and irritable.

I know worse stunts could have been pulled, but I hope that if kids read your column (I know mine do), they will realize how poorly such stunts reflect on themselves and their upbringing.

EGGED ON
IN OVERLAND PARK, KAN.
DEAR EGGED ON: I see nothing amusing about defacing property. If this happens again, call the parents of the child you suspect and share your feelings. And if that doesn't put a stop to it, talk to your local police. They might like to keep a file on the youngster while the crimes are still "petty."

DEAR ABBY: A reader signed "Cooking With Alcohol" wrote: "I baked a Southern Comfort Cake that contained 1/4 cup Southern Comfort (80 percent proof alcohol) in the mix and 1/4 cup in the glaze..."

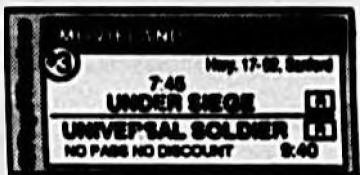

Abby, it can be 80 percent or 80 proof, but it can't be both!

Proof is twice the percentage of alcohol. Thus 80 proof is 40 percent alcohol. If Southern Comfort were 80 percent alcohol, it would be 160 proof.

STEPHEN DEAN, FRESNO
DEAR STEPHEN: Thank you for educating me. Thus far, you and Ralph Beaman of Boothwyn, Pa., are the only readers who corrected the error.

DEAR ABBY: Shouldn't you have told "Born to Breed in Kansas," who had a 3-year-old and a 6-month-old and was considering having a third child, that the world is desperately overpopulated?

RUBY DAVIS IN TACOMA
DEAR RUBY: Yes, I should have. And if you want to chastise me for that clunker, you may find yourself at the end of a very long line.
