

Bridge Planned For Louisiana

RAISON ROUEN, La. (AP) — The state Highway Department is putting together final plans for one of the most difficult construction jobs — building the 13-mile Atchafalaya bridge.

The 13-mile bridge will span the Atchafalaya River, a 170-foot-deep, fast-flowing waterway. The bridge will be 1.5 miles long and will have a total length of 2.5 miles.

The decision to build the bridge was made after years of controversy with the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads, which had insisted that an embankment be built.

Contractors will face a monumental task in moving construction equipment into the swamp. Rafting said contractors would have to build a road of heavy equipment by barges. Then they will have the problem of getting the job done in the swampy terrain.

The U.S. Bureau of Public Roads recently approved an additional safety lane for each span — meaning that drivers who have car trouble on the bridge will have a place to pull off.

"We will have to let the contractor in stages because the area is so inaccessible," he said. "We don't want one contractor to block the route of another."

Building the interstate through the swamp between Baton Rouge and New Orleans is also a tough job — not nearly so much as licking the Atchafalaya. Because an embankment will be used in the swamp between Baton Rouge and New Orleans, a barge with dredging equipment will be able to dig out all the mud and form a canal.

Then sand will be slung into the canal for fill. Once the sand has impacted and settled, the construction of the road will begin.

Volusia Needs To '90 Studied
Feasibility study for water and sewer needs to use in the urban areas of Volusia County will be made by the engineering firm of Clark, Dietz and Associates, of Urbana, Ill., said Sanford, it was reported today by B. C. Conklin, partner in the firm.

Accuse Industrial Board Of Passing The Buck

The "face-lifting" of downtown Sanford is placed directly on the shoulders of the Sanford Industrial Commission today by Clifford W. McKibbin Jr., president of the Sanford-Seminole Development Co., Inc. in a letter to Don E. Rathel, director of the SIC, who has attempted to shift this problem over to the development company.

"We point out that the SIC had 'instituted this action program—a joint study of proposed downtown renewal plans by the SIC and the SSC—but 'it appears that (you) want to bow out and leave the situation to SSC,'" McKibbin letter is in reply to one from Rathel dated Oct. 30, 1967.

"The McKibbin letter is a direct concern of the City Commission and its board members," Rathel stated in a letter to the commission dated Nov. 1, 1967.

LETTERS

To The Editor

It is with a sinking feeling that I read the Sanford Herald's editorial on the "Little People" of Sanford. It is a well written and well thought out article. It is a well written and well thought out article.

I have heard people say, "Mr. Paulson is a man of vision and ability to get things done." I have heard people say, "Mr. Paulson is a man of vision and ability to get things done."

What can we do, the "little people" of Sanford, to help Mr. Paulson? What can we do, the "little people" of Sanford, to help Mr. Paulson?

Just for your information, this letter is being written, not as an attempt to use the powers of public opinion, but as a letter from a very distressed citizen who sees nothing to City Hall or any other group.

These are reasons why I was heart sick upon reading Mr. Paulson's letter. In writing this letter, I'm not trying to do anything else other than to let you know what I've been doing since reading the Sanford Herald World War II.

For years, we've been hearing about the need for a new hotel, but we've never heard anything about it.

It would appear to me that the Sanford Herald is not doing its job. It is not doing its job. It is not doing its job.

Miss Drum, J. H. Domosley Exchange Vows In Miami

Miss Sharon Jeanette Drum, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Drum, Sanford, and Jack Harold Domosley, son of Mr. and Mrs. August Domosley, Williams, W. Va., were united in holy matrimony Nov. 4 at Grove Community Church, Miami.

Rev. Richard Seymour was the officiating clergyman at the candlelight double ring ceremony.

A large open Bible rested on the altar. It was accompanied by two round nine-branched standing candelabra interspersed with greenery and large white satin ribbons. Standing baskets of gladiolus, large mums, Puff mums, accented with greenery and palms flanked the altar. The family pew was marked with white satin ribbon and lilacs-of-the-valley.

Mrs. Robert McElroy, organist, presented appropriate musical selections and accompanied soloist David Nease, who sang "At Dawning," "Whither Thou Goest" and "From This Day Forward."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was radiant in a formal length gown of ivory bridal satin and hand draped Chantilly lace. The Empire bodice featured a sabrina neckline with applied lace encrusted with seed pearls and crystals.

The long sleeves terminated in wide bands of applied lace and tiny satin covered buttons. Her full Chapel train bordered by lace cascaded from the waist and was held in place by a Dior bow.

A Queen's crown of matching lace, pearls and crystals secured her three tiered tulle length veil of imported silk tulle. She carried a cascade bouquet of ivory roses, carnations and trailing ivy with satin and lace streamers, centered with a removable corsage of white orchids.

Miss Bonnie Sutton, Orlando, attended the bride as maid of honor. She wore an empire floor length gown in American Beauty rose. It was fashioned from silk shantung with a scooped neckline and featured a Dior bow in back and capped sleeves. The neckpieces of bouquet and corsage consisted of four tiers in American Beauty rose and shocking pink with a circular nose blush. She carried a long stemmed American Beauty rose with velvet leaves and shocking pink streamers.

Bridesmaid and matron were Miss Vicki McArdle and Mrs. James R. Morris, Sanford. They were given identical bouquets of honor attendant and carried identical bouquets. Diane Batten, of Mims, flower girl, wore a shocking pink gown fashioned along the lines of the other attendants. She carried a white basket with satin ribbon trim filled with lilacs-of-the-valley.

Thom Hightower, Miami, served the groom as best man and usher were Dale Bradley and Max Alt, also of Miami.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Drum chose a petal pink lace dress with long sleeves and matching accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Church Social Hall. Tables were overlaid with imported Belgium linen. The bride's table held a silver bud vase with a single American Beauty rose. The bride's book was kept by Miss Betty McArdle, of Miami and Miss Carol Cherie, of Dania.

The cake and punch table held a centerpiece of white carnations, gladiolus and Fuji mums. The three tiered wedding cake was surrounded by greenery and white carnations topped with a miniature bride and groom. Mrs. A. T. McArdle, Sanford, and Mrs. Dan Bradley and Mrs. Pam Miller, of Pompano Beach, and floral hostesses were the Misses Linda McArdle, Sanford, and Denise Batten, Mims.

For traveling Mrs. Domosley chose a rust ecruish. A line dress with brown cobra accessories and the orchid corsage from her bridal bouquet.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Murphy, J. N. Murphy, A. F. Murphy, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. McArdle, Vicki and Jack, Mr. and Mrs. James Morris and Robert T. Williams, all of Sanford.

Also Mr. and Mrs. Dan Batten, Denise and Diane, Miami.

Miss Drum, J. H. Domosley Exchange Vows In Miami

Miss Sharon Jeanette Drum, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Drum, Sanford, and Jack Harold Domosley, son of Mr. and Mrs. August Domosley, Williams, W. Va., were united in holy matrimony Nov. 4 at Grove Community Church, Miami.

Mrs. Robert McElroy, organist, presented appropriate musical selections and accompanied soloist David Nease, who sang "At Dawning," "Whither Thou Goest" and "From This Day Forward."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was radiant in a formal length gown of ivory bridal satin and hand draped Chantilly lace. The Empire bodice featured a sabrina neckline with applied lace encrusted with seed pearls and crystals.

The long sleeves terminated in wide bands of applied lace and tiny satin covered buttons. Her full Chapel train bordered by lace cascaded from the waist and was held in place by a Dior bow.

Miss Bonnie Sutton, Orlando, attended the bride as maid of honor. She wore an empire floor length gown in American Beauty rose. It was fashioned from silk shantung with a scooped neckline and featured a Dior bow in back and capped sleeves. The neckpieces of bouquet and corsage consisted of four tiers in American Beauty rose and shocking pink with a circular nose blush. She carried a long stemmed American Beauty rose with velvet leaves and shocking pink streamers.

Thom Hightower, Miami, served the groom as best man and usher were Dale Bradley and Max Alt, also of Miami.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Drum chose a petal pink lace dress with long sleeves and matching accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Church Social Hall. Tables were overlaid with imported Belgium linen. The bride's table held a silver bud vase with a single American Beauty rose. The bride's book was kept by Miss Betty McArdle, of Miami and Miss Carol Cherie, of Dania.

The cake and punch table held a centerpiece of white carnations, gladiolus and Fuji mums. The three tiered wedding cake was surrounded by greenery and white carnations topped with a miniature bride and groom. Mrs. A. T. McArdle, Sanford, and Mrs. Dan Bradley and Mrs. Pam Miller, of Pompano Beach, and floral hostesses were the Misses Linda McArdle, Sanford, and Denise Batten, Mims.

The Background of Integrity

There are millions of men in this world whose word is trusted—whose handshake is a binding contract—whose integrity others accept without question. We've come a long way from the days when a strong man and a solid fist were the needed means. And this growth in man's capacity for integrity has paralleled his growth in religious expression. Of course, the cynics will point to men and nations who still live by the code of the cave man. Must we believe that the clock of progress has turned... is it running backward? The sound, the sensible, the shrewd still find the strength of God's Bible in every generation. With these children they are finding new spiritual opportunity and hope in the Christian day church. Are you with them? Are you, too, pushing forward the frontiers of faith?

Light Turnout Seen In School Vote

By DONNA BYTES
Light turnout in Tuesday's special election was predicted today by Mrs. Camilla Bruce, supervisor of elections. "I really haven't the vaguest idea of how many will vote," Mrs. Bruce said, "but not much interest has been indicated."

A total of 28 absentee ballots in the trustee race and superintendent's question have been issued and slightly fewer in the millage election. The portion of the ballots which will most likely be of greatest interest is whether the post of school superintendent will remain elective or be designated appointive. When the question was last voted on in Seminole, 4,000 voted against while 1,000 were for the trustee race, with a 10-11 vote in the millage election.

The portion of the ballots which will most likely be of greatest interest is whether the post of school superintendent will remain elective or be designated appointive. When the question was last voted on in Seminole, 4,000 voted against while 1,000 were for the trustee race, with a 10-11 vote in the millage election.

Running are Ray Weldon, Sanford (incumbent), district trustee Fred W. Rutledge, Longwood (incumbent), and Jack L. Gale, Walter E. Hoberg and Jack O. Williams, all of Altamonte Springs, district trustees; Robert G. Pattee, English Estates, and Colleen Pope, Casselberry, district trustees; and Edwin D. Hunt, Sanford, (incumbent) district superintendent. The election is non-partisan. On the school superintendent proposition, the question will be, "Shall the... Constitution of the State of Florida be effective in Seminole County, Florida, providing that the County Superintendent of Public Instruction shall be appointed by the County Board of Public Instruction?"

Boaters from as far down the St. Johns River as Jacksonville and as near as Blue Springs are finding the Sanford Marina a welcome and needed haven, according to William Moody, harbormaster and manager of Monroe Harbour, Inc.

This past weekend, for example, he had boating parties from Altamonte, Lake George, Lake Brevard, Jacksonville, Blue Springs and Sanford using the storage and service facilities. Cruisers from 25- to 35-foot long tie-up at the floating docks where power and fuel are on hand.

Moody points out that owners and service for the boats and rooms and dining for their pleasure make Sanford an attractive overnight or weekend trip. Especially have the visitors remarked on the advantage of having both the Holiday Inn and the House of Beeth within walking distance.

The public ramps are being used more and more as the facilities of the marina become better known. These boaters also are finding the services useful with experienced mechanics on hand to solve mechanical problems and fuel available for easy gas tanks.

It is expected that to receive applications for appointment as executive director and assistant director will be set.

DECATUR, Ga. (AP) - Police reported today a three-year-old girl, Linda Foy, who disappeared from a church Sunday night has been found with an unidentified man in a pickup truck in Atlanta.

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. - (AP) - King Hussein of Jordan made the strongest Arab bid for peace with Israel so far Sunday, telling an American television audience Arab leaders are willing to recognize Israel's right to exist and possibly to let Israeli ships through the Suez Canal if Israel meets "the right conditions."

Replying to questions on the CBS program "Face the Nation," Hussein said a prerequisite to direct peace talks is the withdrawal of Israeli troops from all Arab soil it occupied in the June war.

Two escapes from the Seminole County jail are back in custody today after only one day of freedom this past week-end.

The man, Carlton Michael, Lewis, of Pasco County, awaiting arraignment in the Circuit court this week, escaped from the county jail Friday night.

Nix and Lewis were awaiting trial on charges of auto theft and aggravated assault, respectively.

Sheriff J. L. Hobbs said the men apparently stopped up the drain in their cells and, while they were being cleaned, hid under a table in another part of the jail.

The men then ran down the stairs, picked up keys by the front door and walked out. They were apprehended by a state trooper in Cross City Saturday afternoon when spotted in a stolen car.

Definite plans or initial steps to be taken in the project of Seminole Community Action to rebuild Bookertown will be made at the meeting of the executive committee of the organization scheduled for 7 p.m. Thursday, Robert Peter, president, reports.

The meeting will take place at the Health Department on South French Avenue. Consideration will be given to making appeals to churches, civic organizations and businesses to assist with the project.

It is expected that to receive applications for appointment as executive director and assistant director will be set.
