Police chief loses lawsuit

LOS ANGELES — The City Council voted Wednesday to set aside $255,000 to pay a police brutality judgment against Police Chief Daryl Gates. If the city loses on appeal, a City Hall source said.

A federal court jury decided Dec. 1 that Gates should pay more than $170,000 to Jesse Larez and his family, whose East Los Angeles home was ransacked in 1986 by several police officers searching for a gun believed used in a gang slaying. The gun was not found in the house and Larez had his nose broken during an altercation with the officers.

The judgment against Gates in U.S. District Court was believed to be the first in which a police chief of a major city was ordered to pay punitive damages for police actions that the jury determined violated the constitutional rights of the plaintiffs.

After meeting in private with Gates, the council voted in public session to transfer $255,000 to the city attorney's liability claims account.

Iranians say they caused crash

LOCKERBIE, Scotland — A Pan American jumbo jet apparently exploded on a Christmas flight from London to New York and crashed in pieces, killing all 258 aboard and at least 15 others on the ground in the worst commercial aviation disaster in British history, officials said.

A spokesman for "The Guardians of the Islamic Revolution" in Iran claimed his group "carried out this heroic execution" in "revenge" for the American downing of an Iranian airliner in the Gulf earlier this year. The validity of the claim could not be immediately determined.

"Yes, we have done it and we are very proud," said the man in a telephone call originating from London to United Press International's London bureau.

Vote totals certified

SANFORD — The city commission voted 3-2 Wednesday to certify Tuesday's election results that gave Lon Howell an eight-vote margin of victory over James Sweeting III.

The vote came after arguments by Commissioners John Mercer and Bob Thomas Jr. to authorize a recount of the ballots by hand to determine why the computer had rejected nine ballots cast at the polls and the election committee had rejected five absentee ballots.

Sweeting told the commission he was disappointed in its action. He now has 10 days in which to file an appeal of the election results to the circuit court but said after the meeting he has not yet decided whether to file the suit.

Commissioner A.A. McClanahan, who supported Howell in the campaign, made the motion to certify the vote. Whitey Eckstein, who was the commission's observer at the election office while the votes were counted, seconded the motion saying he saw the absentee ballots that were rejected and the reason why they were discarded.

In another accident, a man was killed when his car crossed the centerline of Howell Branch Road near Casselberry, and collided with an on-coming Ford pickup truck.

In the third accident, a driver apparently lost control of his car after suffering a heart attack in Altamonte Springs at about 7:30 p.m. Wednesday.

In that case, David Jeffrey, 33, of Orlando, was driving his car east on State Road 436 near Hermitas Trail, when according to his mother, who was riding

Kelley says Hooper not cooperating

By J. MARK BARFIELD
Herald staff writer

SANFORD — Seminole County Commissioner Jennifer Kelley on Tuesday accused County Administrator Ken Hooper of limiting her access to county records by not promptly providing her with reams of documents.

"I think he's putting up an obstacle," Kelley said of Hooper.

In addition, she expanded her request for records to include the Circuit Court Clerk's office.

It is estimated that the cost of copying the records for her would amount to hundreds of thousands of dollars.

In a memo to Kelley Tuesday, Hooper wrote he would take Kelley's request for the information, most of it dating back to 1970, to the county commission on Jan. 10 for approval. Hooper said that he would make every effort to fulfill specific requests and wrote that Kelley could "check out" any information she wanted from him or the county attorney's office.

Kelley on Monday requested copies of all planning and zoning minutes and meeting recordings, copies of all computer data, all letters issued from the county attorney's and county administrator office since 1970, lists of members, reports, minutes and audio tapes of all county committees since 1970, all expressway minutes and tapes, and all vendors paid more than $10,000 since 1970.

Kelley said she wanted to enter the information into her business's computer to research various topics and people to keep her informed on county issues.

In her initial memo, Kelley asked to have most of the information by Dec. 30, but later amended her request to spread the due dates over the next two months.

Hooper and several of Kelley's fellow county commissioners were shocked by the request, saying it would cost hundreds of thousands of dollars and would slow functioning of the county operations.

In a memo back to Hooper Wednesday, she wrote, "I regret to conclude that your response appears to be limiting my access to public records by using the 'big case' as an excuse for not starting work. It is absurd to imply that 'some' cannot be accomplished without damage to existing work programs."

SANFORD — Last Christmas Dan was at his parent's, trying to kick methadone, only the methadone was doing most of the kicking.

"I was so sick I couldn't do anything — eat, sleep — nothing, nothing but throw up" he said.

This year, he is receiving help for his addiction through The Grove Counseling Center's in-detention program known as T.A.S.C., Treatment Alternatives To Street Crime.

Participants say it's like being a child again. They are learning who they are, and how best to live. For Dan, it is minute by minute, day by day. Full concentration is given to becoming healthy and productive again. It will take time as the addiction took time — 17 of Dan's 35 years.

Lake Mary board focuses on recreation

By SANDRA BOUCHAHINE

LAKE MARY — Lake Mary officials recognize the need for an athletic recreation site in the city.

A group of seven individuals has met for the past several months to discuss short and long range goals for recreation. Comprised mostly of Lake Mary residents, the group will become known as the "Parks and Recreation Advisory Board" if city commissioners approve an ordinance to establish its existence.

At the last commission meeting, they approved the first reading of an ordinance that would establish such a board.

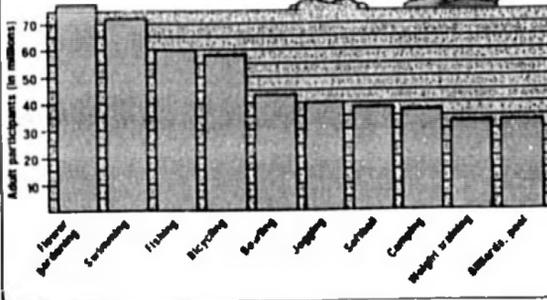

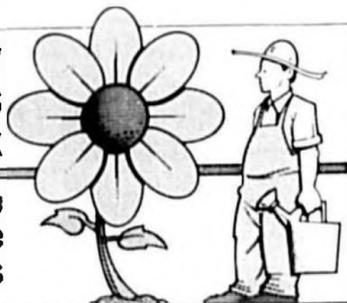

Ken King, a former commissioner who serves on the unofficial board, said, "The initial step is to decide, based on population and projected growth, what kind of facilities are needed and to determine what land to use," King said.

The plan, according to Mayor Dick Fess, is to acquire land for an active parks system to include baseball and softball diamonds, tennis and racquetball courts and some picnic areas. Several areas have been con-

Convicted killer maintains innocence

DAYTONA BEACH — Convicted child killer James Joseph Richardson maintained his innocence Wednesday, saying he hopes Gov. Bob Martinez grants him clemency so that he can be home for Christmas.

"I didn't have anything to do with it," Richardson told reporters at the Tokomo Correctional Institution where he is serving a life sentence.

"I feel that the governor should not only grant me a clemency, but should set me free immediately because I'm an innocent man," said Richardson, who turns 53 on Dec. 26.

Richardson, a fruit picker near Arcadia before his sensational murder trial, was sentenced to death for the 1967 murders of his seven stepchildren, who died from eating a meal laced with parathion poison.

Richardson's attorneys said the murders actually were committed by baby sitter and neighbor Betsy Reese, the only adult present when the children died.

Washington lawyer Mark Lane and Miami lawyer Ellis Rubin asked the Florida Supreme Court last week to order a new trial and continue their pleas to Martinez to grant clemency to Richardson. The request is pending.

State divides drug booty

TALLAHASSEE — Various state and local agencies will share $100,000 from the sale of a Bahamian yacht club used as a base by an associate of convicted Colombian drug kingpin Carlos Lehder, it was announced Wednesday.

Attorney General Bob Butterworth said the money from the sale of Valentine's Yacht Club at Harbour Island is only the latest in a series of forfeitures by Edward J. Goldberg, an American pilot who worked for Lehder.

"The evidence shows Goldberg used the club as a distribution site for his smuggling activities," Butterworth said. Distribution of the $100,000 from the club's sale, plus interest, was approved by Okcechobee County Circuit Judge William Henry.

The state had already seized and will auction $400,000 in property Goldberg owned in Okcechobee County, including 39.2 acres of land, two hangars, two mobile homes and one house, Butterworth said.

Okcechobee County was to receive $34,571 from the yacht club sale. The state's Forfeited Property Trust Fund and the Drug Abuse Trust Fund will each receive $17,285.

The Florida Department of Law Enforcement will receive $12,645 in reimbursement for investigative expenses. The remaining $20,447 will go to the state's racketeering and antitrust trust fund.

Charge dropped after DNA test

FORT LAUDERDALE — Despite having a detailed confession, prosecutors have dropped one sexual assault charge against a serial rape suspect because preliminary results of the suspect's DNA were negative, authorities said Wednesday.

Ezekial Owens, 22, called "Rape Man" by neighbors in his apartment complex west of Fort Lauderdale, confessed to the rape but the DNA tests show semen found at the rape scene was not from Owens, police said. Some officials are not convinced the test is accurate.

"There's no doubt in my mind (Owens) is the guy," Broward County Sheriff's Capt. Walter Laun said. "This guy knew everything about everything. He knew things that only those two people in that room knew about."

Although Owens will not be prosecuted in that case, he faces another rape charge and is being investigated in other sexual assault cases, said Dave Casey, a spokesman for the Broward County State Attorney's Office.

He is being held without bond in the Broward County Jail.

Aircraft seized after drug drop

MIAMI — Customs officers tracking a twin-engine plane watched Wednesday as the pilot dropped three bundles of suspected drugs to two boats below him near the Florida keys.

Customs officers in a Cessna Citation jet and a Sikorsky Black Hawk helicopter followed the Cessna 337 from the Keys and forced it to land at Fort Lauderdale International Airport, said Customs spokesman Michael Sheehan.

Federal authorities arrested the aircraft owner and pilot James Lyndon, 59, of Honeoye Falls, N.Y., and charged him with attempting to import marijuana and failure to report entry into the country.

"We're still searching for the suspected contraband and the vessels," Sheehan said late Wednesday night. "We've boarded several vessels, but without the contraband on them. It's hard to pinpoint which ones were involved."

Customs' aviation group supervisor Larry Karson said authorities are sure Lyndon dropped narcotics. "It's either cocaine or marijuana. There's no doubt about that."

Authorities also seized the airplane for having illegal modifications. Customs found an illegal fuel system aboard as well as a modified pilot's window for the air drop, Sheehan said.

NEWS FROM THE REGION AND ACROSS THE STATE

Robbers hold banker hostage

United Press International

FORT LAUDERDALE — The chairman of BankAtlantic and his family escaped injury Wednesday after he and his family were held at gunpoint overnight and he was forced to withdraw money from the bank.

Police had no suspects late Wednesday, but authorities have a description of three men believed to be involved.

The incident began about 7:30 p.m. Tuesday when three men acting as deliverers entered the house of BankAtlantic Chairman Alan Levan in Coral Gables, FBI agents said. The only people home were the couple's 6-year-old daughter and a maid, who speaks Spanish.

The Levan's were at a meeting in Broward County, agents said.

When the couple returned home about 12:30 a.m., they were confronted by the three armed men, who forced them into their daughter's bedroom. The family and maid were held as hostages in the bedroom by two suspects, while the third appeared to be watching out the front of the house, officials said.

At about 7:30 a.m., the daughter and wife were forced at gunpoint into the wife's Mercedes and were driven near the BankAtlantic in Fort Lauderdale by two of the suspects.

Fifteen minutes later, the third suspect ordered Alan Levan to drive his car to the bank. He gave Levan a suitcase and ordered him to fill the bag with large bills to avoid harm to his wife and daughter.

"Levan entered the bank and with the assistance of bank personnel he filled the suitcase with a large sum of money," the FBI said in a statement.

When he left the bank, he dropped the bag in his car, which was driven by a suspect.

"After leaving the suitcase filled with money, he was instructed to go back to the bank and await a phone call about his family's whereabouts," agents said.

At about 10 a.m., the bank received a phone call with details on the family's location, and Levan and bank officials found his wife and daughter in the trunk of her car a short distance from the bank. They were shaken but unharmed, agents said.

Levan's 1988 Mercedes was later found abandoned.

The maid was left handcuffed in a bathroom at the house until she was discovered by police.

All three suspects were described by agents as white males at least 25 years old who were wearing wigs.

The FBI did not say how much money was taken.

In Plantation, another Broward County community, two men broke into an assistant bank manager's apartment in a similar but apparently unrelated incident Nov. 4.

State names think tank for former governor

United Press International

TALLAHASSEE — A think tank intended to provide bipartisan solutions to politically difficult problems will be named after former Gov. LeRoy Collins and directed by Sen. Lawton Chiles, officials announced Wednesday.

The Collins Center for Public Policy will be headquartered at the Florida State University College of Law, but will draw upon expertise from all nine state universities and public-minded business interests, the officials said.

Collins said the purpose of the center will be "seeing things that need to be done and ought to be done, and still because of serious conflicts of interest and authority, it's difficult to do it under our system as it is."

Gov. Bob Martinez, who attended a news conference to unveil plans for the center, said the project could prove "a great source of information and intellectual integrity" as Florida faces the challenges of the future.

"These challenges do not discriminate against any Floridian on the basis of political persuasion or personal belief. These issues are equal opportunity problems," Martinez said.

Chiles said the center will put ivory tower thinking to practical use.

"These fellows shouldn't just sit up there and know all this. We've got to get them out here where they can help us," Chiles said.

The center is expected to open early next year, after Chiles retires from the Senate. It will be funded by interest on a $4 million trust fund, with half the money coming from blue-chip Florida corporations and half from state matching funds.

Chiles is assuming the Manning Duer Eminent Scholar Chair in political science at the University of Florida. However, he will maintain an office and spend most of his time at the center at FSU, in the shadow of the state Capitol and the Supreme Court building.

Charlie Reed, chancellor of the state university system, said the center will have access to a wide range of academic resources in law, social science, business, education and other disciplines from every state university.

FSU Law Dean Talbot "Sandy" D'Alemberte envisioned colloquia, research reports, seminars and other activities focused on public policy questions.

Collins will have no direct hand in running the center.

Nursing home to accept AIDS patients

United Press International

ST. PETERSBURG — A nursing home now being renovated will open a second-floor ward for AIDS patients in January, becoming the first non-hospital AIDS health care unit in Hillsborough or Pinellas counties.

Marjorie Boyd, administrator of the TLC nursing home, said Tuesday that employees are training to care for AIDS patients.

She said the ward will not open until the Florida Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services finishes inspecting the home, a review required for the facility to continue treating Medicaid and Medicare patients.

State and federal health officials stripped the 272-bed home, formerly called Wedgwood Health Care, of its license to care for Medicare and Medicaid patients in November 1987, citing poor treatment.

The license, however, was reinstated in October, when the home was sold to Canadian Robert E. Martin and the Health Care Services Group of Pennsylvania, said Carol King of HRS Licensure and Certification in Tampa.

Boyd, who has helped run similar nursing home AIDS wards for a Pasco County health care company, was hired six months ago to improve the home's reputation. She said she urged the owners to create a special ward for victims of acquired immune deficiency syndrome.

She said the number of beds set aside for AIDS patients will depend on demand.

"I was brave enough to take over this place and turn it around. I guess I'm brave enough to take AIDS patients," Boyd said.

She plans to contact area AIDS support groups and state health officials to notify them that TLC will care for AIDS patients.

"I'm really heartened by this," said Michael Condon, executive director of AIDS Services Association of Pinellas. "People here really have nowhere to go. I think a lot of nursing homes were just afraid to be the first one to take them."

"I'm thrilled. This is something we need desperately," said Hilda Kilgore, a board member of the Tampa AIDS Network. "It seems that now we finally have a nursing home brave enough to admit people with AIDS."

Bill Phelan, director of the Florida Health Care Association, which lobbies for nursing homes in Tallahassee, said less than a handful of the 500 or so nursing homes in Florida will accept AIDS patients.

POLICE BRIEFS

Police capture boat burglary suspect

SANFORD — Police captured and arrested a man suspected of burglarizing at least eight boats docked in Sanford Tuesday night. Police said the burglar was back at work when they caught him in a boat at the Sanford Marina today.

The man, who refused to identify himself, is jailed on burglary charges and held without bond in the Seminole County jail.

Lt. Mike Rotundo said the suspect is believed to be a transient. He was caught by patrolling police.

From the suspect police recovered credit cards stolen from boats, Rotundo said. The boats were vandalized, including the Rivership Romance, where the burglar ate food and sprayed whipped cream on a piano.

A fire extinguisher was set off in one boat, police said. Several owners of burglarized boats hadn't been identified Wednesday.

Baby's broken leg brings probe

OVIDEO — Seminole County sheriff's deputies are investigating how a 9-month-old Ovidio boy's left thigh bone was broken Tuesday.

Deputies reported that when the mother of Mark Kyle Landau, of 553 Robin Lane, picked him up from the house of his 54-year-old Ovidio babysitter at about 4 p.m., she took him directly to the hospital after discovering his leg was apparently broken.

An emergency room doctor at Winter Park Memorial Hospital told deputies it is unlikely that the injury to the baby was self-inflicted. Deputies have the name of a possible suspect in the case.

Wife alleges husband kicked, shoved her

WINTER SPRINGS — After a Winter Springs woman told police her husband kicked her and pushed her head against a wall at home early today, the husband was arrested.

After she threw a clock to the floor in their house, she said, Carter hit her, threw her to the floor and jumped on her.

"There needs to be no guilt, no anger, no hostility. It's history — we all need to feel a part of it."

This is the way Lurlene Sweeting introduces students to her black history course at Seminole Community College.

And that's the way she's inviting all of Sanford — black and white — to the 1989 Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Celebration.

Sweeting is chairperson of the three-day event that culminates Jan. 15, the slain civil rights leader's birthday. "Working Together Fulfilling the Dream" is the theme of the third annual event.

The committee has launched the celebration with essay, oratorical and poster contests in the Seminole County public schools. Winners of the contest will be announced at an awards breakfast at the Civic Center at 9 a.m. Jan. 14 as part of a Youth Day celebration. Scholarships will be awarded to grade 12 winners.

Youth Day will begin with the breakfast, where Orange County Elementary School Principal Minnie Boyer Woodruff will speak. The Freedom Run/Walk will follow at noon in Centennial Park at Park Avenue and Fourth Street. The first 150 youth to enter the free event will receive Martin Luther King T-shirts.

Festival in the Park will be from noon to 4 p.m. at no cost to the public. The festival will feature performers, exhibits and vendors.

A dramatic presentation at the Civic Center will close Youth Day. From 7 p.m. to 9 p.m., youth and adults will present choral groups, bands and speakers.

Sweeting invites the public to participate in rehearsals for the presentation Dec. 29 and 30 at the Civic Center from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

An Interfaith Religious Observance will be at the Civic Center from 4 p.m. to 5 p.m. Jan. 15. The Martin Luther King Jr. Celebration Choir will provide music for the service.

The final event of the celebration is a commemorative banquet at the Civic Center from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. Philadelphia educator and philanthropist Dr. Ruth W. Hayre will be the keynote speaker. Citizenship and brotherhood awards will be announced. Tickets are $15 for adults and $10 for children. For ticket information call Zonnye Dixon at 322-4777.

The batman cometh

United Press International

ORLANDO — Holy higher education, the University of Central Florida has hired a bat fighter! POW! BIFF! BAM!

Actually, it will be more like PLUG! SUCK! SPRAY! next week when Marshall Hanks, owner of Bay Area Bat Protection flies down from Sturgeon Bay, Wis., to exorcise the Education Building of its winged mammal infestation.

"The problem will be solved when I leave. This is nothing I haven't seen before," Hanks, 45, pledged over the phone.

Hanks is to arrive Tuesday to eliminate a problem that first surfaced humorously around Halloween but has since become no laughing matter.

Bats in the building, which houses the school gymnasium, first gained attention when they dive-bombed practicing basketball and volleyball players. School officials had some maintenance work done and proclaimed the building bat free.

But a couple of weeks later, a bat tested rabid, and 14 students and school employees who had contact with the critters underwent rabies shots. The bat problem surfaced again during winter graduation ceremonies last week as five bats buzzed the festivities.

"They're a nuisance, that's for sure," Hanks said. "But you got as much chance of catching rabies from a bat as getting struck by lightning seven times in a row."

Hanks said his strategy includes plugging the building's caves with "bat excluders," which allow them to fly out but not back in. To rid the building of bat feces — people have complained the smell makes them ill — bricks at the building's base will be removed and a high-power device used to suck out the bat waste.

Finally, Hanks said he will treat the walls with a chemical to encase any remaining waste in an airtight seal. The whole process will cost about $5,000, said university spokesman Dean McFall.

The school's difficulties stem from the bat-eradication plan used by maintenance workers who nailed chicken wire over the caves one late night in September when the bats were thought to all be out hunting for food. Instead, several dozen were trapped inside the building.

Removal of the barrels

Workers remove the second barrel from behind the Longwood public works building Wednesday.

Workers wear class 2 safety suits with breathing apparatus. Work continues today.

Now is the time to pull together

The composition of the Sanford City Commission appears set with the narrow victory Tuesday of Lon Howell over James Sweeting III for the District 1 seat.

Mr. Howell's runoff campaign, unlike that of Mr. Sweeting, had little to do with issues of substance.

The negative campaigning presented by Mr. Howell and his advisors, like certain state and national campaigns, proved one thing — it works.

Such campaigning may stoke the fires of the partisan core but, as has been clearly shown by national polls, voters consider the tactic a sharp slap in the face.

Negative campaigning indicates, among other things, that the candidate is more concerned about himself than the electorate. It also demonstrates practical savvy. The candidate cannot implement his vision for the greater good of the community until he captures the office.

The election is done with, however, and now is the time to settle to the business of good government.

Now is not too late for Mr. Howell to show that he can put forth a vision for the city.

Now is the time for Mr. Howell to show that his instinct for street fighting can be put to good use in wrestling with the city's problems.

Mr. Howell, who said he did not have the time to debate Mr. Sweeting on the issues during the campaign, says he talked one-on-one with a few hundred residents of his district in door-to-door campaigning.

Now is the time for Mr. Howell to tell the other 28,000 residents of the city what he expects to accomplish, and how.

Now is the time for leadership and the time for healing.

The city commission split 3-2 on Wednesday in favor of certifying Mr. Howell's eight-vote victory in the election in which 10 absentee ballots have been called into question on technicalities. It would have been better to count the ballots over than to have a lingering suspicion or, worse, the divisiveness of a court challenge, should Mr. Sweeting decide to exercise that legal right. It is not likely that a recount would change the outcome. Now is the time for Mr. Sweeting to concede and allow the commission to move on to the pressing problems of the city and its people.

And Mr. Sweeting still could have a role. The city should not lose the kind of time, energy and dedication to progress shown in the campaign by Mr. Sweeting. We encourage him to maintain his interest in public service and we urge the mayor and city commissioners to give him consideration when deliberating important appointments to city boards.

Now, too, is the time for Mayor Smith once again to take the lead in salving the irritations that split the commission. Valuable time and energy for debate and decision must not be wasted on political posturing and petty polemics.

Now is the time for Sanford to focus on solutions.

Will success spoil Dan Quayle?

On Friday, Jan. 20, J. Danforth Quayle will take the oath of office as vice president of the United States. For a lot of people that will be a particularly difficult moment, because during the campaign Quayle underwent a tremendous barrage of negative publicity depicting him as monumentally unfit to stand that famous "heartbeat away" from the presidency.

Fortunately that assessment is unfair, both to Quayle and to George Bush, who tapped him for the job. In several important ways, Quayle was a good, even a superior choice as Bush's vice president.

For one thing, Quayle is solidly identified with the conservative movement and the so-called "social conservative" wing of the GOP, neither of which can claim Bush himself as a charter member. Quayle's presence in the vice presidency is one of the chief reasons conservatives can, and do, feel comfortable with the Bush administration.

Second, and almost equally important, in eight years in the Senate, Quayle earned the high respect of his colleagues for the expertise he acquired in a number of important areas — most notably defense. His reputation in this regard was widely ignored during the campaign (though Sen. Kennedy broke ranks to pay tribute to it), but Bush, who presided over the Senate during the Reagan years, was of course well aware of it when he chose Quayle as his running mate.

Finally, Bush was unquestionably reaching out to the baby boomers, now just entering their 40s, when he picked one of their number for the vice presidential slot on his ticket. It wasn't primarily a matter of bidding for their votes. It was an acknowledgment that the time has come for them to join in leading the country.

What Bush overlooked — and in fairness let's admit that almost everybody else overlooked it too — was the significance of the fact that Quayle would be the first member of the Vietnam generation to run on a national ticket. Inevitably, the question of what he did during those years would loom large in the campaign.

Bush and his advisers clearly thought that Quayle's service in the National Guard was an honorable, indeed a laudable, answer to that question. Bush's own son, George Jr., likewise served in the Guard. So did Lloyd Bentsen's son, Lloyd III. And who wants to cast the first stone at New Jersey's Democratic senator Bill Bradley, who joined the Air Force Reserve and spent the Vietnam years playing pro basketball under a $500,000 contract?

But it was Quayle who ran for the vice presidency this year, so it was Quayle who wound up taking the heat, all alone. It was his misfortune, too, that he looked even younger than he is (he will be 42 on Feb. 4), and that his face is a rather blandly handsome one.

But he was elected nonetheless, and henceforth he will be, and ought to be, judged on his performance as vice president.

Early indications are that he intends to model himself squarely on Bush's own record in the job: as a man unwaveringly loyal to his president.

Quayle will be the first member of the Vietnam generation to run on a national ticket.

Voting returns portend problems for Democrats

WASHINGTON — The initial consensus among experts poring over this past November's election returns is that, while George Bush's election is far from good news for the Democrats, things could have been worse. However, the 1988 voting pattern portends some very serious problems for Democrats in coming years.

From the election of Franklin Roosevelt in the 1930s until Richard Nixon's election in 1968, the Democratic Party — except during the Eisenhower years — dominated national politics. Nixon broke that streak, and since the election of Ronald Reagan in 1980, Republicans have been looking for evidence that a fundamental realignment has taken place in which the Republicans have replaced the Democrats as the dominant party.

Some GOP strategists proclaimed the 1982 election — when Republicans captured control of the Senate — as evidence that "realignment" had begun. But the subsequent Democratic recapture of the Senate and the Democrats' continued strong House majority quickly put an end to that idea.

This year's results confirm that the GOP still does not dominate across the board. While George Bush was beating Michael Dukakis by an eight-point margin, Democrats increased their majorities in both the House and Senate, their governorships, and their control of state legislatures. Moreover, in terms of total votes cast in Senate and House elections, Democrats outpolled the GOP by the same eight-point margin by which Bush defeated Dukakis.

That's the good news for Democrats. No fundamental realignment has taken place. But in terms of presidential elections, the geographical and demographic voting patterns this year worry the Democrats greatly.

George Bush's victory marks the fifth time in the last six presidential elections that the GOP has won. Bush won this election because of the support he got in the nation's suburbs, small towns and rural areas. Michael Dukakis received about 60 percent of votes cast in big cities — traditional Democratic strongholds. The problem facing the Democrats in the future is that, because of changing demographics, big cities will have a much reduced influence on election outcomes.

This year's results in Maryland are a prime example. Maryland has been considered a relatively "safe" Democratic state. Going into Nov. 8, Dukakis was seen leading in the state. But when the votes were finally counted, George Bush emerged with a clear victory — about a 41,000-vote margin out of 1.6 million cast.

Democrats are saying the Maryland loss was a fluke due to an unusually low turnout in heavily Democratic Baltimore. Others say a controversial ballot amendment on regulation of handguns resulted in a very high turnout in conservative rural areas. A closer examination of handguns resulted in a very high turnout in conservative rural areas. A closer examination of the results seems to point to some more fundamental changes.

Simply put, George Bush won Maryland — not so much because turnout was low in the cities, but because suburban Maryland — like much of America — has been expanding while the center cities have contracted. And the Maryland suburbs — like suburbs all across America — are becoming increasingly Republican.

Demographers say that the suburbs are composed of four classes of voters: the upper class "country-club" set, middle-class families, so called "younger" families (most of whom are living in their first homes), and singles, most of whom live in the apartment complexes that are mushrooming throughout suburbia.

The upper class "country-club" voter has always been Republican, and Bush won this group by a solid 2-1 margin. As the middle class has become more affluent it has become progressively more conservative and Republican. Bush won this group by a 5-4 margin. But it is the younger suburban voters who pose the big long-term danger to Democrats.

Both young suburban families and suburban singles voted for Bush by about a 3-2 margin. What this means is that many in these two classes who are in their early to middle 20s have never voted for a Democrat for president. They voted twice for Ronald Reagan and now for Bush. Unless Democrats can start attracting these voters, the future could be bleak.

Unless Democrats can make inroads among younger suburban voters, it may be a long time before a Democrat again occupies the Oval Office.

Reagan sugar-coated in secretary's book

WASHINGTON — Helene von Damm invested 21 years of her life in Ronald Reagan — rising from his secretary to ambassador to her native Austria. Hers is a Cinderella story turned sour with a heroic president and a wicked queen by his side.

President Reagan keeps his Teflon coating in von Damm's soon-to-be-released autobiography, "At Reagan's Side" (Doubleday) — the first of the post-Reagan memoirs. Von Damm may have set the tone for Monday-morning quarterbacking of the Reagan era. The immensely popular president is portrayed as larger than life while the first lady takes the fall.

Von Damm claims that Nancy Reagan secretly forced her out of the administration in 1985 and plotted with moderate Cabinet members to soften the president's conservative agenda. The usual bad guys, Ed Meese and Lyn Solinger, rate favorable observations from von Damm. But she riffs the normally bullet-proof reputations of George Shultz and James Baker.

Our associate Scott Sleek reviewed an advance copy of von Damm's book.

Von Damm was Reagan's secretary when he was governor of California, and she followed him to the White House. There she grew restless, saying that the president was "so undemanding he never even asked me to sharpen a pencil for him or get a cup of coffee." She admits Reagan had a lax management style and describes her boss as a kind man with a great sense of humor who never spoke ill of anyone and was oblivious to White House infighting.

Nancy Reagan was not oblivious. Von Damm paints her as unpredictable and power-hungry. Mrs. Reagan felt threatened by the influence of then-National Security Adviser William Clark, particularly his hard line against the Soviet Union. Von Damm claims the first lady and her allies, Shultz, Baker and Michael Deaver, smuggled the Soviet ambassador into the White House to see Reagan in 1983 without telling Clark. It was their attempt to move Reagan toward warmer relations with the Soviet Union, she suspects.

"I can't say what their motivations were," von Damm writes. "But I believe that Shultz was after the acclaim of the press and possibly a Nobel Peace Prize, while Mrs. R was hoping the summitry would prove popular with the public for her husband."

Von Damm drops some juicy anecdotes about sexism in the White House. Male Cabinet members referred to then-presidential aide Elizabeth Dole as "schoolmarmish." They were even less flattering to U.N. Ambassador Jeane Kirkpatrick. "I remember how shocked I was, after Jeane had taken a particularly tough stand at a meeting, to hear the boys wondering if it was the wrong time of the month," von Damm writes.

Reagan promoted von Damm to be his personnel assistant, and then in 1983, he offered her an ambassador's post, but Mrs. Reagan stood in the way. She called von Damm in for a private chat and pressured her to turn down the post, saying Reagan needed her at home. "Apparently, in her eyes, my career had progressed far enough," von Damm writes.

Von Damm accepted the post in Austria, but that's where her carriage turned into a pumpkin. She divorced her husband and married an Austrian hotel owner. Von Damm said the circumstances surrounding her marriage gave Nancy Reagan ammunition to end her career. In 1984, Shultz told von Damm that the president wanted her to resign.

Male Cabinet members referred to then-presidential aide Elizabeth Dole as "schoolmarmish."

Stocks open mixed

United Press International

NEW YORK — Prices opened mixed Thursday in moderate trading of New York Stock Exchange issues, with blue chips outperforming broader market issues in an attempt to rebound from losses suffered in the previous two sessions.

The Dow Jones industrial average, which fell 1.43 Wednesday, was up 2.57 to 2168.21 shortly after the market opened. Declines edged advances, however, 419-401 among the 1,402 issues crossing the New York Stock Exchange tape. Early turnover amounted to about 11,950,000 shares.

Before the market opened, the Commerce Department reported that durable goods orders rose a sluggish 0.1 percent in November. The report, a key indicator of inflation, was in line with analysts' expectations.

Dollar mixed in holiday trading

United Press International

The dollar was mixed Thursday in pre-Christmas trading on major foreign currency markets. Gold edged slightly higher.

In earlier trading in Tokyo, the dollar rebounded against the Japanese yen, closing 0.40 yen higher at 124.62 yen.

Dealers said the dollar had little room to move up or down because trading was slow in the absence of market-affecting news.

In Europe, the dollar began the day in Frankfurt at 1.7115 West German marks, unchanged from Wednesday's close.

Traders in New York noted that shortly after the market opened in Europe, the West German Bundesbank intervened by selling some $27 million, a move that dealers said effectively put a cap on the dollar.

The dollar began the day in Zurich at 1.496 Swiss francs, down slightly from 1.4975. In Paris, the dollar opened at 6.048 French francs, down slightly from 6.0595.

The dollar opened in Brussels at 37.26 Belgian francs, up slightly from 37.23 and began the day in Italy at 1,302.37 Italian lire, down from 1,308.60 lire.

In London, the British pound began the day at $1.804 compared with $1.80725 on Wednesday.

Traders said the British pound eased against both the dollar and the West German mark in expectation of Friday's report on the British balance of payments figures for November.

Proposed linked slot jackpots receive preliminary approval

United Press International

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. — Gamblers at a half-dozen New Jersey casinos may soon be competing with each other for multi-million dollar slot jackpots in a "Megabucks" linked progressive slot machine game given preliminary approval Wednesday by the state's Casino Control Commission.

The Megabucks system would use a computer to link 81 slot machines in any New Jersey casino that want to participate. Six casinos — the Atlantis, Caesars, Claridge, Harrah's Marina, Showboat and TropWorld — have already signed on for Megabucks.

"We have a potential to turn slot players into multi-millionaires with one pull of the handle," said Stephen Morro, general manager of Atlantic City Megabucks, a system created by International Game Technology of Reno, Nev.

Kelley

Kelley further wrote she would start collecting information on her own until Hooper can provide the bulk of the copies, tapes and data.

"I don't want to cause a major impact," Kelley said. "I just want to keep it simple."

Hooper said Wednesday afternoon that he had to be in Tallahassee today and would respond to Kelley's latest memo on Friday. He had no comment on the contents of the memo.

The furor over Kelley's information requests expanded into the Seminole Circuit Court Clerk's Office. The clerk's office operates the county records office and is the custodian of county commission records.

Kelley requested certified copies of the minutes of all county commission meetings starting in January 1970, all county commission meeting records, microfilm or microfiche copies of all recorded documents and a copy of the record index. The request encompassed virtually all of the information stored in the records office.

Earlier this year, Kelley said her daughter, Monica, spent several days in the records office with their company's copy machine making copies of six years of commission minutes. Her request was to complete her files filled nearly two filing cabinet drawers in her office.

Although Kelley didn't place a deadline on the request to the clerk's office, Chief Deputy Clerk Bill Jacobs in a memo written on Tuesday ordered Records Director Billee Rozansky to supply the information by Dec. 30.

"I would seek to fulfill a similar request from any member of the public," Jacobs said Wednesday.

Brad Lang, county financial officer, said there would probably be no charge for the copies because the clerk's office serves and is paid as clerk of the county commission.

But Rozansky wrote to Jacobs on Wednesday, saying that copying all 762 cassette tapes of county commission meetings by Dec. 30 would burn out the tape copier since the duplication would have to be done continuously. Copying the minutes and the index books, all 32 of them, would require two people working full time on two copying machines. The records office has one copy machine, Rozansky wrote.

"This office, as always, will be happy to comply with anyone's request, but, as the extent of this request and the deadline given would cause us to neglect our regular work, I felt you should be advised before we attempted to comply," Rozansky wrote.

Rozansky was unavailable for comment Wednesday.

Jacobs said he would review Rozansky's memo and respond later this week.

"It looks like we'll be able to get some of it (Kelley) by the 30th, but not all of it," Jacobs said.

Seminole County Correctional Facility.

With a little caring a little support, a positive outlook can be had, according to Dee Miller, T.A.S.C. case manager. Dan and 21 other inmates suffering from drug and alcohol dependencies have that support.

"It's hard for us at this time of year," Diane, 23, said in the program for 2 1/2 months, said. "But this is the first year that I'll be celebrating Christmas for the right reasons. It's scary, but I'm doing something. I'm making changes."

Counselors with T.A.S.C. say they want to help people like Diane. They want to make a distinction between the crime and the criminal.

"If we can stop the addiction, we can stop the criminal behavior," said John Hagan, primary counselor. Only those who voluntarily express a desire to do something about their problem are accepted. Those charged with capital offenses, violent crimes, federal, out-of-state, or out-of-county offenses are generally not accepted.

Diane is in jail because she took a pair of her mother's earrings to pay for drugs. Dan forged a prescription and Charlene, mother of three and a former administrative secretary, was writing checks with no money in the bank.

They want others to know they are not bad people, although they did bad things. Life simply, or perhaps not so simply, got out of control, and they used whatever means possible to cope.

"I try to kill my mind at night," Charlene said. The memories hurt. Last year, she had it all — the tree, happy children, lights, presents, the works. Her disease, crack cocaine abuse, came quickly, and in seven months turned her life inside out. She's still reeling, trying to figure out how Many, like Dan, tried to handle the problem on their own. A change of residence, new friends, new job are all things abusers believed might help them with their problem.

with him, Jeffrey suffered a heart attack, police spokesman Jeff Hawkins said.

Jeffrey's car struck a car driven by Dorothea Pizzati, of Casselberry, and then crashed head-on into a telephone pole. His mother, whose name Hawkins did not have, was not injured, and Pizzati also was unharmed, he said. Hawkins said Jeffrey's mother said he had had four open heart surgeries.

The Florida Highway Patrol has not released the name of the man who died after his 1987 Nissan pickup truck, traveling north on Markham Woods Road, swerved to the right. The truck slid sideways to the eastern shoulder of the road, hit a fence and a small tree, and flipped over twice, a FHP spokesman said. The victim was found on the roof of the truck. His next of kin had not been notified by early today.

The third victim was killed at about 2:15 a.m. today. The FHP said Michael David Wright, 28, of Titusville, was traveling west on Howell Branch road when he lost control of his 1988 Pontiac and crossed over into the west-bound lane at Betty Avenue.

A Christmas program was held Tuesday for T.A.S.C. members — red and green crepe paper framed doorways, wrapped poles, and covered tables, a sheet cake was prepared, a small tree sat in the corner — it could have been any of thousands of office parties held in Central Florida. But, it wasn't. It was a group of people trying their best to move on with life, to find a smile where they could, and share a prayer for recovery.

Vote

McClanahan and Eckstein voted to certify the vote and Thomas and Mercer voted against it. Mayor Betty Smith broke the tie, voting to certify the vote after explaining she did so because the city attorney recommended any recount be done the same way the vote was initially counted — by computer.

Mercer told fellow commissioners, "There were nine votes from the Civic Center thrown out and we know not why. I don't think we should certify the vote until we see those nine ballots and determine why they were rejected."

Smith then asked City Clerk Henry Tamm Jr. to provide figures on how many votes were not counted by the computer in the Dec. 6 city election. Tamm read the figures from each district, which showed that between 1.1 and 2.5 percent of the ballots cast in each district were not counted by the computer, presumably because they were improperly cast.

"That's true, but in none of the races were the number of votes not counted enough to affect the outcome of the election," Mercer said.

City Attorney William Colbert told commissioners they could certify the election, or order a recount, but recommended the recount be done by computer. "If the votes are hand counted, the commission will be in a position of making judgements on why some ballots were rejected or accepted," he said.

He recommended the city maintain a neutral position in any court suit that could result from the election, citing as an example Oviedo, which was involved in a lawsuit in last fall's close city election.

Mercer said the uncounted votes were no higher than in most elections and that since a court challenge of the results would probably be filed anyway, the city should certify the results.

After the commission voted to certify the election results, Sweeting told commissioners, "I think the suggestion to recount the votes by hand was in the best interests of the city and I am very disappointed in the commission's actions.

"I want what is best for Sanford and I don't think a court case is in the city's best interests," he said, adding that it was presumptuous of McClanahan to assume that a court suit would be filed.

In arguing for a hand recount of the votes, Sweeting said, "I think no one should be disenfranchised because a bent ballot is rejected by the computer. I would have been satisfied with the results of a recount by hand. I don't think a judge should decide what the elected officials of the city can decide."

After Sweeting addressed the commission, his mother, Dr. Lurline Sweeting, chided McClanahan for his open support of Howell, and the Howell campaign for its tactics.

Dr. Sweeting also chided Howell's campaign tactics. "Since returning to this city, I have tried very hard, and my son has tried to build bridges between the black and white community, only to see my son defamed and campaign tactics used which play n prejudice," she said.

considered as potential recreation sites.

Presently, only a few parcels — tot lots, stair-step parks and an area off Country Club Road — serve as recreational sites for residents of the city. Little league baseball teams practice at Lake Mary Elementary School and an eight-week summer program is the only thing to keep children occupied during that seasonal vacation.

Fees said that recreation has been "a long-term goal of many commissions."

About $600,000 has been earmarked in the 1988-89 budget for land acquisition.

However, talk about the purchase of property for a park system is premature, officials said. "The problem with Lake Mary is there is not a lot of available land. Most of it has been developed," King said.

A possible park site would be on East Crystal Lake Avenue where the city owns in excess of 20 acres and is considering buying additional land for a natural, passive park, according to Fees.

DEATH

DAVID W. DE WOLF

David W. DeWolf, 31, 605 Markham Woods Road, Longwood, died Tuesday at Humana Hospital Lucerne, Orlando. Born Aug. 11, 1957 in Washington, D.C., he moved to Longwood from Miami in 1972. He was a free-lance artist and a member of the Shoestring Theatre, Lake Helen.

NATIONAL BRIEFS

North to be tried Jan. 31

WASHINGTON — A federal judge Wednesday set Oliver North's Iran-Contra conspiracy trial for Jan. 31, suggesting he is confident final roadblocks can be cleared to assure protection of national security secrets during testimony.

It marked the second time U.S. District Judge Gerhard Gesell has announced a trial date for the former White House aide, the first of four central figures in President Reagan's worst scandal to face prosecution.

The case has been bogged down for months over demands by North and his lawyers to see classified information and the threat they would expose it during a trial. There remains a strong chance of further delays.

Gesell, nonetheless, set the date as staff lawyers for independent prosecutor Lawrence Walsh disclosed that they again are seeking access to notebooks North kept while serving as an aide to the National Security Council.

In a brief pre-trial hearing, the judge focused largely on defense requests to use more classified information and to issue 25 or 26 subpoenas to Reagan administration officials and federal agencies.

Ironically, it was defense lawyer Barry Simon who prodded Gesell to set the new trial date in a somewhat contentious close to the hearing.

Patricide suspect arrested in LA

VALENCIA, Calif. — Police in Los Angeles County arrested a Barrington, Ill., high school freshman Wednesday suspected in the weekend shotgun slaying of his father.

Roger Tracy Braun, 15, and Mark Whigham, 16, were arrested at 4:30 p.m. by Los Angeles County Sheriff's Deputies in Valencia, Calif., near the Magic Mountain amusement park and were being held for Lake County, Illinois, authorities, said sheriff's Lt. Jeff Springs.

Whigham has been described by authorities as a runaway, and is not wanted in connection with the elder Braun's death.

Braun's father, Frederick Braun, 46, a corporate attorney, was found by a maid in the master bedroom of the family's posh home in the Chicago suburb of Barrington Harbor Estates. He had been shot once in the head with a shotgun, and police believe he was attacked as he prepared for bed late Friday.

Two arrested for allegedly selling secrets

United Press International

WASHINGTON — Federal agents arrested an Army intelligence officer in Georgia and a Turkish national in Florida Wednesday on charges they were part of a spy ring that sold U.S. secrets to East Germany and the Soviet Union for the last six years.

Army Warrant Officer James William Hall III, 30, of New York, Turkish-born Huseyin Yildirim, 60, of Florida and unidentified "others" conspired since 1982 to transmit "to agents of foreign governments information relating to the national defense," according to a court warrant filed in Savannah, Ga.

An FBI affidavit said Hall bragged to an undercover agent Tuesday night that he had sold secrets to the East bloc since 1982 and "admitted his motivation to be greed." Law enforcement sources described Yildirim as Hall's "courier."

Documents filed in court by the FBI did not elaborate about the "others" and it was unclear if more arrests were expected in what law enforcement sources characterized as a major espionage case.

Hall, an intelligence analyst who had been involved in intercepting East Bloc communications while based in West Germany, was arrested by Army intelligence agents in Savannah following a search of his home in Richmond Hill, Ga.

He is suspected of spying for East Germany and the Soviet Union during his three stints in West Germany since 1977 and also while on duty in the United States, authorities said. No formal charge was made immediately.

When he was arrested, Hall had been on active duty with the 24th Infantry Division at Fort Stewart near Savannah, according to an Army statement.

Under an executive order signed by President Reagan in 1986, active service personnel court-martialed for selling U.S. secrets to a foreigners during peacetime may be sentenced to die.

Tuesday night, FBI and Army agents searched the home of Yildirim in Belleair Beach, Fla., about 20 miles west of Tampa, and arrested him.

Drexel pleads guilty to six felonies, pays $650 million

United Press International

NEW YORK — Federal prosecutors said their probe of Drexel Burnham Lambert Inc. "definitely continues," despite the powerful investment banking firm's agreement to plead guilty to six felony counts and pay $650 million in fines and penalties in Wall Street's biggest insider-trading case.

U.S. Attorney Rudolph

Giuliani, announcing the contingency agreement Wednesday, said the Wall Street powerhouse would plead guilty to the six felony counts including mail, wire and securities fraud.

He said the nature of the agreement limited the scope of his comments at this time and noted it was subject to approval by the Justice Department and the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Jet may have exploded; all aboard perish

United Press International

LOCKERBIE, Scotland — A Pan American jumbo jet apparently exploded on a Christmas flight from London to New York and crashed in pieces, killing all 258 aboard and at least 15 others on the ground in the worst commercial aviation disaster in British history, officials said.

Portions of Pan Am Flight 103, a recently renovated 19-year-old Boeing 747, plowed Wednesday into a row of homes and a gasoline station, creating a huge fireball, and destroyed at least five cars on a main highway.

By dawn Thursday 150 bodies had been recovered, rescue officials said, including 60 that were found strewn around a golf course. Only seven people were hospitalized with injuries, none of them life-threatening. "The aircraft clearly experienced some form of explosion," said Scottish Secretary Malcolm Rifkin in Lockerbie.

"It is absolutely devastating. There are at least six separate locations where various parts of the aircraft have come down in some cases causing major damage," he said.

A witness said one house struck by falling debris "completely disappeared — there is just no trace of it at all."

U.S. Ambassador to Britain Charles Prie, who arrived at the scene with Rifkin, said at least 70 percent of the jet's occupants were Americans.

"The devastation is of such magnitude that it is just unbelievable," Prie said.

Flight 103 was en route from London's Heathrow Airport to Kennedy International Airport in New York when it crashed in Lockerbie, 330 miles northwest of London.

There was no official word on the cause of the crash. There was no warning and no reports of trouble from the jet, which was flying at 31,000 feet when it disappeared from radar screens at 7:17 p.m., 52 minutes after takeoff.

"All those in the aircraft are dead," said David Brook Royal Air Force air vice marshal John Boyd, chief constable for the area, said at least 15 more people were killed in the 40 homes and several cars destroyed in the crash, which rained fiery debris over an 8-mile area.

Twelve hours after the crash the smell of aviation fuel still hung over Lockerbie and lingered in a 50-foot crater plowed up by the wreckage. White smoke drifted from the rubble of homes.

A spokesman for "The Guardians of the Islamic Revolution" in Iran claimed his group "carried out this heroic execution in revenge for the American downing of an Iranian airliner in the Gulf earlier this year. The validity of the claim could not be immediately determined."

"Yes, we have done it and we are very proud," said the man in a telephone call originating from London to United Press International's London bureau.

On July 3, 290 people were killed when Air Iran Airbus A-300, flying across Persian Gulf from Bandar Abbas, Iran, to Dubai, was downed by missiles fired by cruiser USS Vincennes. The crew mistook the civilian craft for a fighter jet.

Pan Am spokesman Jett Kriender in New York said the airline had received no threats involving the plane or its passengers.

Families grieve for passengers

United Press International

NEW YORK — A woman collapsed and shrieked "My baby! My baby!" and others became hysterical when they learned the dreadful fate of Wednesday's Pan Am Flight 103 from Heathrow Airport in London.

Relatives and friends of passengers aboard the flight had gone to Kennedy International Airport to meet their loved ones, many who were to arrive home to celebrate the Christmas and New Year's holidays.

What they learned instead was the horrifying news that the flight crashed in Scotland, killing all aboard, including 38 students in a Syracuse University foreign studies program who were returning from a semester in England.

Grieving relatives and friends were directed to a room in the airport terminal where they were comforted and told of the latest news from the crash site. An unidentified woman shrieked "My baby! My baby!" when she was told of the crash and first aid technicians took her inside.

The Rev. Frank Rafter, a Protestant chaplain for the New York City Emergency Medical Service, emerged from the room and described those inside as hysterical.

"We're trying to calm them and we're trying to comfort them," he said, adding there were about 30 people in the room.

Shortly after 8 p.m. EDT Pan Am officials told those who had gathered to meet the plane there were no survivors in the crash.

Some of them took it very very badly," Rafter said. "There were a lot of tears."

Carla Abell, a nurse who was in the room, said "It's like walking into a hospital emergency. There is a lot of fear and there is total exhaustion and numbness. Some people have collapsed in total shock."

She said most of the people were from New York and New Jersey.

Barricades were set up in the arrivals area, keeping reporters at least 100 feet from room. Families who arrived at the airport to meet Flight 103 offered no comment.

Those awaiting word of the flight found themselves struggling for information, as Pan Am officials at the airport refused comment on the crash until later in the evening and a special telephone number for information about survivors was met with busy signals.

An elderly woman, who apparently had just learned of the crash, was led sobbing into elevator on ground floor of terminal.

Hundreds of people at Syracuse University held a prayer vigil to mourn 38 London exchange students who perished in the crash, which was returning them to the United States for a long-awaited holiday reunion with their families.

About 700 people, mostly students, turned out for the service at Hendricks Chapel on the university's campus, where clergyman representing four denominations led a prayer vigil for the victims of Flight 103.

The 38 students were among 250 in the Syracuse University program who studied in England for the semester and were heading home for the Christmas holidays, the university's Division of International Programs Abroad said.

"I can only think of those poor parents, who probably haven't seen their kids for four months, and probably won't see them again," said one student, Paris Wald, 21, as she tearfully comforted a grief-stricken classmate earlier in the day.

The Rev. Michael Rothemel, a Lutheran minister, told the mourners, "I think the best we can do is to be together, be ourselves, to extend our concern and our passion."

WORLD BRIEFS

Smaller earthquake rocks Armenia

MOSCOW — With the last women and children evacuated from Armenian towns and villages devastated by the Dec. 7 earthquake, efforts turned to rebuilding, even as a moderate tremor rocked another area of the southern Soviet Union.

The official Tass news agency said the Wednesday morning earthquake in Kirghizia, 2,300 miles southeast of Moscow and 1,200 miles east of the stricken Armenian region, damaged several houses but caused no casualties.

"An earthquake measuring force 6 (on the Soviet scale) in the epicenter occurred in southern Kirghizia at 11:21 a.m. (3:21 a.m. EST) on Wednesday," the news agency said. "According to preliminary data, the tremors damaged houses in the village of Shamalyd Sat but there were no casualties."

$735 million offered in Spanish lottery

MADRID, Spain — Millions of Spaniards Thursday anxiously awaited the results of the world's richest lottery, a 225-year-old Yuletide rite that will spread more than $735 million of holiday joy.

Spain comes to a halt each Dec. 22 as ticket holders across the country tune in to the three-hour draw, broadcast live on radio and television, hoping to hear their numbers called.

This year's winners will share $735.9 million in tax-free prizes, record stakes in the Christmas draw that rivals Santa Claus in popularity.

Five girls and 19 boys from Madrid's San Ildefonso orphanage were chosen to pluck the winning numbers from a huge wire drum and chant them out in a traditional sing-song.

Shakeups show Polish moderates gaining

United Press International

WARSAW, Poland — The Communist Party's removal of six veteran hardliners from its policy-making Politburo, hints of troop cuts and conciliatory gestures toward the banned Solidarity union indicate the party's moderates are gaining the upper hand.

During Wednesday's meeting of the 200-member Communist Party Central Committee, Prime Minister Mieczyslaw Rakowski urged acceptance of union founder Lech Walesa as a partner in implementing reforms in the country.

In a speech broadcast on Polish television, Polish leader Gen. Wojciech Jaruzelski said the government would shortly disclose a change in the country's defense posture "fitting the new European situation."

The ousting of hardliners from the Politburo, Rakowski's almost conciliatory speech about Solidarity and the suggestion of troop cuts signaled a victory for party moderates over conservatives during the Central Committee meeting, which was shown on Polish television.

Among those ousted from the Politburo were former Prime Minister Zbigniew Messner, who resigned with his Cabinet in September under pressure from the official trade unions because of the government's failure to implement economic reforms.

The other Politburo casualties were hardliners Gen. Jozef Baryla, former propaganda chief Jan Glowczyk and former ideology chief Tadeusz Porebski, plus two long-time members with working class backgrounds.

Zygmunt Muranski and Zofia Stepien.

They were replaced by eight people, enlarging the ruling body to 17. They included Stanislaw Ciosek, a partner in negotiations with Walesa on attempts to set up talks between the government and Solidarity.

The conservative element had been resisting efforts by Jaruzelski and other moderate leaders to reform the party, which many leaders contend has been a stumbling block to implementing economic and political reforms in Poland.

Charges dropped against disco blast suspects

United Press International

BERLIN — The West Berlin public prosecutor has abandoned its case against two people accused in the 1986 discotheque bombing that prompted the United States to bomb Libya in retaliation.

Meanwhile, President Reagan said in an interview to be aired Thursday that U.S. officials have discussed launching another bombing mission on Libya to destroy a chemical weapon factory in the north African nation.

The prosecutor's office said in a statement Wednesday that it had dropped the charges against West German Christiane Endrickelt, 26, and Jordanian-born Palestinian Ahmad Hasi, 38, because it lacked enough evidence to link the two to the explosion at the La Belle disco in West Berlin April 5, 1986.

The prosecutor's office said it could not firmly establish their guilt after hearing testimony from more than 300 witnesses.

Two American servicemen and a Turkish woman died in the blast and 230 people were wounded, many seriously.

U.S. officials claimed the attack was engineered by Libyan leader Moammar Gaddafi, and Reagan sent U.S. warplanes on a bombing raid that killed 17 civilians and wounded 100 others in Tripoli April 15, 1986. One U.S. fighter was downed and its two-man crew lost.

The Berlin prosecutor's office said it had not been able, despite extensive investigations, to establish the identity of a person seen carrying a bulky shopping bag at the disco just before it was ripped apart by an explosion.

Investigators said the blast was caused by more than 3 pounds of plastic military explosives.

Hasi received a 14-year prison sentence in November 1986 for his role in a bomb attack eight months earlier on the German-Arab Institute in Berlin. The same type of explosives were used in that blast as were employed in the assault on the disco a month later.

Endrickelt was arrested in January in the northern West German city of Luebeck and charged with obtaining the explosives used in the disco blast. She and Hasi said they did not know each other.

U.S., Vietnam have meeting on MIA issue

United Press International

BANGKOK, Thailand — U.S. and Vietnamese officials held a "positive meeting" on continued cooperation toward determining the fate of more than 1,700 American soldiers missing in Vietnam, a U.S. official and Hanoi radio said Thursday.

"Technical representatives of the United States and the Socialist Republic of Vietnam met in Hanoi Dec. 19-21 to discuss (prisoner of war) and MIA issues," said Lt. Col. Joe B. Harvey, who heads the U.S. delegation.

Harvey, who commands the U.S. military's Joint Casualty Resolution Center in Hawaii, said the talks with Nguyen Can, his Vietnamese counterpart, covered "all aspects of the issue."

"It was a positive meeting," he said.

Since September, Vietnam has allowed U.S. experts to travel into remote areas of Vietnam to question villagers and search for evidence of the fate of the missing soldiers. The MIA issue has been a highly emotional obstacle to better U.S.-Vietnamese relations.

Vietnam also returned the remains of 38 people believed to be missing Americans. These remains were found during unilateral searches by Vietnamese officials.

Official Hanoi radio said the talks reviewed the joint searches that focused on high-priority "discrepancy cases."

Those are cases in which U.S. officials have evidence that the men involved survived the crash of their aircraft and the Vietnamese should know their fate. The Vietnamese, however, have denied knowledge of the men.

A total of 1,747 Americans are still missing in Vietnam.

IN BRIEF

BASKETBALL

Cavs trim Celtics, 115-114

The Cleveland Cavaliers, owners of the best record in the NBA Wednesday posted a victory that has eluded them for 24 games over the course of a decade.

Ron Harper scored 26 points, Larry Nance had 25 and Brad Daugherty added 22 to help the Cavaliers hit a 10-year losing skid at Boston Garden, downing the Celtics 115-114.

The victory could not even be attributed to the absence of Boston star Larry Bird, as Cleveland played without starting point guard Mark Price, who was sidelined with a bruised back.

"They just did all the right things," said Boston Coach Jimmy Rodgers. "We just couldn't get them to crack. We played well enough to force them away from what they wanted to do and they didn't do it."

Elsewhere in the NBA, New Jersey tipped Dallas 122-120 in overtime, Utah downed Washington 98-82, Milwaukee topped Charlotte 112-100, Seattle beat Miami 109-101 and Los Angeles dumped Sacramento 129-102.

Astros sign Forsch, Trevino

HOUSTON — The Houston Astros have come to terms with free agents Bob Forsch and Alex Trevino, the team said Wednesday.

Terms of the contracts with Forsch, a right-handed pitcher, and Trevino, a catcher, were not disclosed, but the Astros said Forsch had signed a one-year guaranteed contract while Trevino inked a two-year deal with one year guaranteed.

Forsch, who was traded to the Astros from St. Louis in August, was scheduled to have his case heard by an arbitrator early next month. Trevino had turned down arbitration.

In 18 starts and 36 games over a 1988, the 38-year-old Forsch was 10-5 with a 3.26 ERA. Trevino, 41, batted .249 with 100 runners and 11 RBI in 78 games with the Astros last season.

Byrd bets a bushel on Fiesta

WASHINGTON — Sen. Robert Byrd bet a Presidential election Tuesday. As a member of West Virginia's apportioned electoral college, he will cast his vote in the Fiesta Bowl showdown with top-ranked Notre Dame.

Byrd responded by wagering a bushel of persimmons from Indiana, home of the Fighting Irish, that Notre Dame will win the Jan. 2 game.

The Mountaineers have had a record-breaking season this year, and are looking for their first win in the Fiesta Bowl against Notre Dame on Dec. 27, said Byrd's DWVA.

The bet's payoff will occur on Jan. 1, the day after the game, when Byrd and Governor Boone will meet on the steps of the U.S. Capitol.

The West Virginia University football team has always been a source of pride for all West Virginians, and I'm confident that the players will give their best effort," Byrd said.

Canadiens outskate Nordiques

Jean Perron learned the hard way that Montreal is not the place to slug a small-fisted hockey forward.

The usually heated, ultra-physical rivalry between the Montreal Canadiens and Quebec Nordiques took on added significance Wednesday night.

Perron, who coached the Canadiens to a Stanley Cup title three years ago, and was fired by them last year, returned to Montreal for the first time as Quebec's coach. The Canadiens put aside any sympathy they might have had and defeated the Nordiques 6-4.

Chris Chelios contributed four assists for the Canadiens, 12 of 2 in their last 14 home games. Montreal is 9-1-1 in its last 11 overall.

Elsewhere in the league, Buffalo routed the New York Rangers 5-2, Boston edged Hartford 4-3, Washington topped Chicago 4-3, New Jersey and Winnipeg tied 3-3, Vancouver surprised Edmonton 2-1, and the Angels outscored Minnesota 8-4.

Teamwork lifts Brantley over St. Thomas

By CHRIS FISTER

LAKE MARY — A motto for teamwork that hasn't been used until we stand divided we fall didn't like Napoleon say that. We are family. Sister Sludge from the 1980s it's been used. Aim to mean L.A. Rams taken.

Jennifer McMaster may have scored the first goal for Lake Brantley's Lady Patriots Wednesday night.

"When we pull together like we did tonight, we're awesome. That's the way."

The Lady Patriots played spectacular team soccer against one of the state's top squads Wednesday as they claimed a 2-1 victory over Fort Lauderdale St. Thomas Apopka in the semifinals at Burger King Classic before 1,000 fans at Lake Brantley Stadium.

Lake Brantley's 12 goals advanced to the tournament in a game caught at 8 when it will look to repeat as champions against the challenge of Lake Mary's Lady Rams. Lake Mary got by Bishop Moore 1-0 in Wednesday's second semifinal. St. Thomas ranked No. 1 in Class C, dropped to 8-1 and will play Bishop Moore tonight for third place at 8 p.m.

Lester says enough about the team to Lake Brantley coach Wolfgang Helwig said. "They can't be a great team and give their all in a matter of minutes. The circumstances don't help. It's a very difficult team to play against."

The Lady Patriots have the Lady Rams' record of 10-1-1 in the past two years. Helwig said the Rams were not the offensive aggressor. Lake Brantley's defense shut down Apopka's attack while limiting Apopka's offense to a few goals.

LAKE MARY — A goal in the 10th minute of the first half kept Lake Mary's Lady Rams on the step back to the top.

The Lady Rams, coached by Helwig, defeated Bishop Moore 1-0 in the semifinals of the Burger King Classic at Lake Mary's Don J. Reynolds Stadium.

Tonight at 8 p.m., Lake Mary will play defending Burger King champion Lake Brantley, 2-1 winners, for the Class C championship. Lake Brantley's Helwig says the Lady Patriots' defense shut down Apopka's attack while limiting Apopka's offense to a few goals.

LAKE MARY — Power overcame fatigue in the finals of the Lady Patriot Basketball Invitational as the Class 4A fifth-ranked Lady Blue Darters of Apopka powered their way past the tiring Lady Patriots of Lake Brantley 60-40 in the finals of the Lake Brantley Tournament in front of 900 fans.

The defense between the scrappy Lady Patriots and the smoothness and grace of the Lady Blue Darters was every bit of what girls' basketball is all about. There were times of brilliance and times of sluggishness. There were times of being the underdog and times of watching a blowout. However, in the end, the score was no indicator of the type of characters these two talented teams sported.

The final of the tournament's Lady Patriots played with the state powerhouses. Apopka team for 20 minutes, predominantly a game consists of 30 minutes. In the last three minutes with the 11-0 Lady Darters leading 48-46, Apopka's stud forward Betty House got a rebound and put a bucket while teammate Keshia Brown put in four straight points and a 4-0 lead.

Brantley's loss on the year got a score from Fort Lauderdale. The Lady Patriots could score against the Rams' front line Mull and point guard Tracy Brandenburg had both fouled out and

Seminole blasts Howell

SANFORD — Seminole High School cruised to its fourth straight win with a 64-40 defeat of Lake Howell Wednesday night in the central Florida Classic before 200 fans at the Battle and Physical Education Center on the campus of Seminole Community College.

The victory extended Seminole's record this year and set up a semifinal matchup with the champions of Orlando, Evans High School, a 64-62 winner over Satellite High School tonight at 9 p.m. Seminole Community College. The loss dented the Silver Hawks to 1-3 and they will now travel to Orlando to take on Brooksville High School tonight at 7 p.m. Satellite will play Lyman at 7:30 p.m.

In its victory over Lake Howell, Seminole pumped out to an 11-1 lead as Von Eric Small scored six, Tony DeHond three, and Bernard Ledy two. Thomas Lewis scored all four of the Silver Hawk points. Lake Howell took a time-out at the 4-0 mark to try and regroup and slow down the Fighting Seminoles but it was not to be.

Small scored to make it 11-1. DeHond scored again and Andres Reyes added a free throw for the Silver Hawks to make it 11-7, but the Seminoles' sophomore Robert Moore took over. After a Lake Howell miss was rebounded by Brandon Ledy, Ledy drilled the ball to Ledy who hit Moore with a beautiful pass for a layup. A steal by Ledy was turned into a dunk by Moore, and then Moore got a steal of his own and dunked it home again to give Seminole a 19-7 lead after one quarter of play.

Miami's leading receiver suspended

United Press International

CORAL GABLES — Andre Brown, the University of Miami's second leading receiver, was suspended Wednesday and will miss the Jan. 2 Orange Bowl game against Nebraska, said coach Jimmy Johnson.

Andre Brown has been suspended for a violation of team policy, Johnson said in a statement. He will not be permitted to practice with the team or play in the Nebraska game. As is the case with any internal disciplinary action within our team, the details surrounding the suspension will remain confidential.

A university spokesman said Johnson was in New Jersey on a recruiting trip.

Brown, a fifth-year senior from Chicago, was a starter for most of the season as wide receiver. He was Miami's second leading receiver in 1988 with 47 catches for 745 yards and a team-high eight touchdown receptions.

Sophomore Randall Hill, who has 21 receptions, 438 yards and four touchdowns, will replace Brown, Johnson said.

CASSELBERRY — The Lake Howell Silver Hawks (6-3) behind Ron Jenkins' two goals and another excellent goalkeeping performance by Didier Menard, blanked the Colonial Grenadiers (8-3), 2-0 Wednesday night before 101 fans at Lake Howell High School.

"We played a good solid control game tonight," said Silver Hawks coach Bill Stevens as the Silver Hawks were able to move the ball downfield, and score both goals on breakaways. The Silver Hawks caught Colonial napping on an offside trap play at the 25 yard mark of the Grenadiers side of the field, with midfielder Terry Miller setting up the approach shots near the Colonial net, and Jenkins nailing it home.

Both of Jenkins goals, his third and fourth of the season, came at the 20 minute mark of each half, with Miller getting credit for the assists, his second and third of the season.

The continued strong play of Didier in goal was another key for the Silver Hawks' win, as Didier had five saves, and posted his third shutout of the season, and he lowered his goals per game average to .66 good for second in Seminole County behind Steve Sharp of Lake Mary.

Lake Howell will now get ready for their first alumni game which will be held at the Silver Hawks field at 12 noon on December 30. The varsity will resume their season when they host Lake Brantley at home on January 3 in a Seminole Athletic Conference match.

Rams top 'Crabs, run record to 7-0-1

From staff reports

DAYTONA BEACH — John Mora scored a pair of record half goals to lift Lake Mary to a 2-0 win over Daytona Beach Seabreeze's Sandcrabs on Wednesday night.

"The first half was a slugfest," said Lake Mary coach Larry McCorkle. "Seabreeze gave us a battle."

With five minutes gone in the second half, Mora took a pass from Jim Abbott, cut to the left, and beat a Seabreeze defender and the goalie from 12 yards out.

The second goal, which came at 61:00, was scored when Mora corralled the rebound of a shot by Darren Forde and put it in the net.

Lake Mary ended up outshooting Seabreeze 19-13. Ram goalie Steve Sharp having to make seven saves. The Seabreeze keeper had to make 10. In corner kicks, Lake Mary also had the edge, 8-3.

McCorkle singled out Abbott, who is coming back from knee surgery, for his offensive and defensive play at midfield, and defender Eric Ravndal for holding the back line together.

The Rams, now 7-0-1, next play Tampa Leto next Tuesday at 4 p.m. at Boone High School in the first round of the Pizza Hut Tournament. Seabreeze, now 2-4-2, plays Boone in the first round of the Pizza Hut and could meet Lake Mary again in the second round.

"I expected a battle from them," said McCorkle. "They always seem to get up for us."

"They're a good team. Their record belies their ability. They've lost to four good teams this year, so their record is not indicative of how well they can play."

second period as Lake Howell was much more patient and controlled the offense. A basket by Reyes at the 1:57 mark cut Seminole's lead to nine, 26-17, but then Moore got another steal and dunk to push the lead back to 11. The half ended with Seminole in front 30-19.

Moore had 11 points and Small 10 to lead Seminole and Demps had eight to lead Lake Howell.

Both teams came out cold to start the third period as Seminole only scored eight points and Lake Howell four in the first 4:35 of the quarter to give Seminole a 15 point lead, 38-23. Small had four and Earl Williams and Cash two each for Seminole and Steve Johnson had all four of the Silver Hawk points. Lake Howell then made a 7-0 run to cut the lead to 38-30 with 1:59 to play. Johnson scored on a jumper and Josh Kohn got a layup after a steal before Johnson hit a three point bomb for the Silver Hawks. But then Seminole decided to go back inside to Moore who scored on a layup to make the score 42-30 after three quarters.

Seminole stayed hot to open the fourth and last period as baskets by Small and Williams put Seminole up 46-32 with 7:00 to play. Small then scored Seminole's next six as he picked up easy baskets off of offensive rebounds to give Seminole a 18 point lead 52-34. Seminole kept on applying the pressure and Kerry Wiggins' layup with ten seconds left gave Seminole its biggest lead of the night 24, 64-40.

In the nightcap Satellite kept coming from behind the whole game to finally tie it at 57-57 with 4:25 to play. Baskets by Delmar Potrat and Derrick Sharp put Evans back up by four 61-57, but Steve Estes hit a jumper and Jason Schwiager hit his third 3-pointer of the half to give Satellite its last lead at 62-61 with 1:55 to play.

Satellite then ran its delay game well to take a lot of time off the clock while looking for the game winning shot. Ron Keller of Satellite made a good move to the basket with twenty seconds left but the ball rimmed out. Satellite grabbed the offensive rebound but was unable to convert and Potrat rebounded

Hornets zap Rams; Raines rips Oviedo

By MARK BLYTHE
Herald sports writer

OVIEDO — Bishop Moore used a strong team effort and took apart the Rams of Lake Mary, 77-63, Wednesday night in a winners bracket game of the Central Florida Classic before 301 fans at Oviedo High School.

In the nightcap Jacksonville Raines used a second half surge to pull away from host Oviedo, 56-44, to advance to tonight's matchup with Bishop Moore at 9 p.m.

Bishop Moore, 6-2, used a halfcourt trap to offset Lake Mary, 4-3, and jump out to a quick lead, one that it never gave up. Owen Busch and John Guemple led the Hornets with 22 points each as Sean Fitzgerald netted 17. Those three killed the Rams all night as they constantly hit their shots.

"We finally played with some intensity," Bishop Moore coach Vernon Hair said. "The kids were really fired up for tonight's game. I think they realize they were playing flat footed the other night and wanted to go out and prove something against Lake Mary."

The Hornets proved early that they came to play basketball. After Lake Mary's Chris Davidson opened the game with a short jumper, Bishop Moore reeled off 11 consecutive points and never trailed after that.

Fitzgerald opened the run with a stick back followed by two Busch field goals, around a pair of free throws by Guemple. Guemple, who scored 17 of his points in the opening half, closed the run with a three point play to up the Hornets lead to 11-2 with 4:28 to play in the opening quarter.

The teams then traded baskets before Lake Mary's Bernard Mitchell got hot at the end of the period, scoring 10 points in the final 1:29 of the first eight minutes to bring the Rams to within 21-16.

The Hornets then went on a tear in the second quarter and put Lake Mary away for good. Owens opened the quarter with four quick points to up the lead to 25-16 with 7:20 to play. Lake Mary's George Gordon then hit a three pointer to trim th lead to 25-19 before Bishop Moore went on a six point run powered by two Guemple buckets.

The Hornets shot 12-15 from the line in the quarter, 29-39 for the game (74.4 percent), and built their lead to 45-29 at the intermission.

Lake Mary attempted a comeback, scoring the first eight points of the second half with Mitchell and Mike Merchie leading the way. Bishop Moore, though, was able to fend off the attempt and get back on track by being patient and working the ball inside.

Bishop Moore will now look to play a similar style game against Jacksonville Raines, a team with great team speed and quality athletes.

"We'll look to play the same way we did against Lake Mary," Hair said. "We can't run with them, they're much to quick. We have to be selective and take advantage of their mistakes. Hopefully we can come out and play with the same intensity as we did tonight."

Jacksonville Raines got off to a slow start but finally wore down Oviedo in the second half to claim a tough, 56-44, victory over the Lions.

The Vikings, 5-3, led just 25-17 at half before tuning their level of play up a notch to overcome a tenacious Oviedo team. The Lions were without Brad Bolton, a 6-4 starting forward, who missed the game with an ankle injury.

Raines dominated the backboards and wore down the guards of Oviedo, coming up with some clutch steals and conversion baskets in the third period to pull away from the Lions.

"We're beginning to show signs of a good ball club," Raines coach James Humphrey's said. "We showed patience on offense and played good team defense.

We'll be looking for a tough game tomorrow against Bishop Moore. They're the same style of team, they're patient and play good defense so it should be an interesting matchup." Jeffrey Robinson led all scorers with 17 points.

Tunney, Pamplin power Lake Brantley past Cobras

By DEAN SMITH
Herald correspondent

SANFORD — Lake Brantley jumped out to a 43-18 halftime lead behind the play of Matt Tunney and Bo Pamplin then held off a late comeback attempt by Ft. Pierce Central's Cobras to win, 63-50, and break a four game losing streak at Seminole Community College in a losers bracket game of the Central Florida Classic Wednesday night.

Tunney scored seven points as Lake Brantley jumped out to a 9-1 lead in the first three minutes of its game with Ft. Pierce. After the Cobras cut the lead to 9-6 Pamplin scored five straight points and the Patriots were back in the drivers seat. They led 20-8 with one minute to play in the quarter and settled for a 22-12 lead after one period.

Lake Brantley then really turned up the play and held Central scoreless for the first 4:25 of the quarter and without a basket for 6:05. Meanwhile the Patriots were running off 19 points of their own as they got there fast break going and led 41-16. Pamplin and Tunney scored six points each and Trey White added four during the run. Tunney had 13 first half points and Pamplin had 11 to lead Lake Brantley.

But despite the huge halftime deficit Ft. Pierce refused to go quietly and outscored the Patriots 20-10 in the third quarter as Wiggins scored seven and Marcello Brunson and Patrick Riggins scored four each. Pamplin and Tunney were the only Patriots to score in the third period as Pamplin scored six and Tunney four.

In the first game Dunedin only led 56-47 after three periods as the Bobcats hung close to the Falcons behind Cory Chandler and Hervy Owens. But in the fourth period Dunedin got its offense working and rang up 30 points to Wymore's 17. Tufariello had seven and Fresh and O'Neal Larkin six each in the fourth quarter. Dunedin also made 12 of 16 free throws in the period. In addition to Tufariello and Fresh the only other Falcon in double figures was Joe Camito with 10. Chandler was the only Wymore player in double figures and ended the game with 20.

Lady Hawks nip Winter Park, 1-0

By TONY DESORMIER

LAKE MARY — As the public address announcer so aptly put it, the saga of the Burger King Classic continues.

On Wednesday, six games were played at Lake Mary High School's Don T. Reynolds Stadium in the girls soccer tournament, four of them in the losers bracket. And it finally ends today with games at 10 a.m., noon, 4, 6 and 8 p.m.

The Lake Howell Lake Silver Hawks will be playing at 10 a.m. for the second day in a row, having beaten Winter Park 1-0 on Wednesday morning. Valerie Higgins scored the game's only goal at 62:29 on an assist from Dana Boyens.

Lake Howell will play Melbourne's Lady Bulldogs, 6-3 winners over Seminole in Wednesday's second match. Melbourne spotted Seminole a 2-0 lead, then ran up five unanswered goals.

Jennifer Lindamood scored Seminole's two first half goals and Melissa Schukman added the Tribe's third goal on a penalty kick. The Melbourne goals came from Julie Fleck, Christi Platt (a hat trick) and Carolyn York (two goals).

Lyman was down in its game against Largo Wednesday afternoon. Both teams were coming off tough losses from the night before (Lyman to St. Thomas Aquinas and Largo to Lake Brantley), but Largo's Lady Packers were able to come back stronger, beating the Lady Greyhounds 4-2.

Tracy Sher gave Lyman the early 1-0 lead but Christi Smith scored three consecutive goals to give the Packers a 3-1 lead midway through the second half. Anne Brewer scored for Lyman to cut the lead to 3-2, only to see Smith score her fourth goal to put the game away.

Heather Brann, Lake Howell's junior goalkeeper, makes a save in Wednesday's game vs. Winter Park. Brann recorded the shutout in the Lady Silver Hawks' 1-0 victory.

"The girls were terribly flat today," said Lyman coach Laura Roundtree. "They played phenomenally last night (in Tuesday's 1-0 loss to St. Thomas). They played the best they ever played against the best team they've ever played."

The Clearwater Central Catholic Crusaders advance to today's game after posting a 4-0 win over the Gainesville Buchholz Lady Bobcats on Wednesday. Buchholz goes on to play Lyman.

Jill Sabol, Cathy Gildea and Jody Pollock had goals for CCC in the win.

"It was a little sloppy," said CCC co-coach George Sabol. "I think they were looking ahead, wanting to play Largo.

"It's a good rivalry. We beat them 1-0 last year, but they're not on our schedule this year. A lot of the girls from the two teams play on the same club team the rest of the year."

For Coach Paul Webster's Lady Bobcats, Wednesday's loss and today's game with Lyman is a part of their ongoing educational experience.

"It was just like it was last night (against Lake Mary)," Webster said. "We played well, then we'd let up and give up a couple of goals.

entire half with Beth Schaefer and Karen Kopp leading the charge, the Lady Patriots found their way inside the goal with 18:02 left in the opening 40 minutes. Dawn Douglas sent a ball into orbit and it landed 10 yards from the goal where McMaster got a head on it and it was knocked out by St. Thomas keeper Jennifer Pudsey. Beth Schaefer corralled the rebound and sent a shot toward the goal and the only thing that could stop it from going in were the hands of St. Thomas defender Jennifer Wojcik.

The hand ball violation not only got Wojcik a yellow card, but gave Lake Brantley a penalty kick. Kopp drilled the PK past Pudsey to give the Lady Patriots a 1-0 lead.

For most of the half, St. Thomas could not crack the solid defensive wall put up by Brantley with Cindy Becker, Lisa Rock, Eva Snyder and Joyce Tullis applying the defensive shackles. The Lady Raiders' best chance to score came on an indirect kick from eight yards out with 2:05 left in the half. With the entire Lake Brantley team lining the goal mouth, Tania Sheremeta's shot was way wide and Brantley's 1-0 lead held up at the half.

Lake Brantley had a good shot at adding to the lead less than three minutes into the second half when McMaster made a brilliant run down the right wing, beat three defenders and had a one on one with Pudsey. Pudsey, though, came up with her best play of the night as she cleared the ball off McMaster's foot to stop the threat.

St. Thomas then went on the counterattack and came up with the tying goal at the 36:10 mark. Laurie Uustal got free inside the penalty area and Teresa Lois served her the ball. Uustal then blasted a shot inside the far post to make the score 1-1.

Any hopes of a momentum switch in St. Thomas' favor were quickly dashed as Lake Brantley put on a furious offensive surge in the next 10 minutes. With Tara Harding, Staci Fox and McMaster leading the way, Brantley continually beat the St. Thomas defense and created excellent opportunities.

The Lady Patriots snapped the tie with 25:47 remaining when Kopp picked up a ball St.

Holtgrefe boosts Lyman

By MARK BLYTHE
Herald sports writer

OVIEDO — Rich Holtgrefe scored a career-high 17 points to lead the Lyman Greyhounds over South Dade, 74-65, in a second round game of the Central Florida Classic before 101 fans at Oviedo High School.

In the others losers bracket game it was Brooksville Hernando upsetting Cocoa, 63-59, behind Jason Sartor's 22 points.

Holtgrefe was unstoppable from the floor as he missed just one shot on the night, a shot in which he was fouled on. Holtgrefe also dominated the backboards for the Greyhounds and allowed them to get their running attack going.

Holtgrefe, a 67 senior center, finished with 11 rebounds, four steals, three assists while blocking two shots to lead his team. Lyman, 3-4, placed three other players in double digits besides Holtgrefe with J.J. Miller, Mike Hardin and James Flint scoring 11 points each with Todd Patterson chipping right.

Donald Brooks led the Buccaneers, 2-6, with a game-high 18 points as teammate Connie Moore added 16, with Cal Burdick and Johnny Bangston each adding nine.

Lyman could never shake the smaller South Dade squad, though, as the Buccaneers used their quickness to hang tough. The Greyhounds, though, got their running game in the second half with Miller and Flint leading the way.

The Greyhounds jumped to a quick lead and held a 38-33 advantage at the half and went on a surge in the final minutes of the game to break it open. Lyman's quickness and board strength finally overcame the pesky Buccaneers who dropped another tough decision.

Lyman will now return to action at 6 tonight against Satellite Beach, a 64-62 loser to Evans High School at Seminole Community College.

In the opening game Sartor led Brooksville past a quick Cocoa team. Sartor finished 14 rebounds, five assists, four steals and a pair of blocked shots to lead the Leopards. Carlos Timmons added 11 points as Marion Jones netted 10.

Brooksville, 3-4, led the entire game and built a 14-point lead in the fourth period before holding off a rally by the Tigers.

Cocoa, 3-5, was led by point guard Jesse Grubbs who scored 22 points, handed out nine assists.

Thomas was trying to clear, made some nice moves in traffic and dished off to McMaster who again had a one on one with Pudsey. This time, "Mackie" buried it in the back of the net and Brantley had a 2-1 lead.

"We just kept pushing until we got what we wanted," McMaster said. "It took a great team effort to win tonight. Now we're going to come back tomorrow and give it our best shot."

Kopp nearly made it 3-1 with 4:50 remaining when she hit a bullet that bounced off the crossbar. St. Thomas then made its last ditch effort to tie in the last minute and had the ball in scoring position when Becker made the clinching clear with 10 seconds remaining.

"We really wanted to get back into the finals," Kopp, who was a key player on last year's championship team, said. "A lot of people didn't think we'd get there this year. And we wanted to show them that Brantley is still a very good team."

Team is the key word there. One more of those "awesome" team performances and the Burger King may belong to the Lady Patriots once again.

Orange and Gainesville Buchholz earlier in the tournament. Working on playing the ball back to Scott and building patiently from the back paid off against the Lady Hornets.

"We talked about it at the half," said Eiselle. "We wanted to use our skills to work against their tenacity. Instead of getting caught up in their game, we were going to play our game."

"We did that fairly well. What I am unhappy with is the way we finished."

Still, with Scott making the big play, one goal was all the Rams needed.

leading scorer in Seminole or Orange County. The marking duties were shared by Jamie Dombchik, Amy Alexander and Rohr.

"We marked her closely and tried to keep her out of her game," explained Lake Mary coach Bill Eiselle. "We tried to keep her from turning because she plays so well with her back to the goal."

And the more Lake Mary bottled up Bishop Moore, the more Bishop Moore's frustration grew until the Lady Hornets were forcing the action and trying to do things inconsistent with their usual style of attack.

"Lake Mary is very controlled," said Betsinger. "Their experience factor is high. We're still in the learning process of playing in pressure situations. It's easy executing in a game of lower calibre. We made two mistakes and a good team took advantage of them."

"These people are the No. 1 team in the state. They were ready for us."

Those fans paying attention know that Lake Mary was preparing for just such an occasion in its 9-0 blowouts against West

Drinking at parties tempered

By BRIAN HEDBERG
Herald People editor

Just as the threat of AIDS has put a damper on sexual promiscuity in America, alcohol-related fatalities and accidents have helped wake up the country to the effects of partying and driving, said a spokesman for Mothers Against Drunk Driving.

"More people are conscious when going to a party or hosting a party of letting intoxicated people drive home," said Beth Bridges, president of the Seminole County chapter of MADD.

"I think people tend not to drink so much if they know they'll be driving," she said. "I think that's because the laws have become stricter against drunk driving."

Media campaigns against drunk driving also have helped instill a conservative attitude toward alcoholic consumption before driving, Bridges said.

"People are afraid," she said. "They don't want to end up in a wheelchair for the rest of their lives or hurt someone else because of their own stupid choice," she said.

Although parties continue throughout the holiday season, the critical time for drinking-driving begins Christmas Day and continues to New Year's Day, Bridges said.

Of Seminole County's 27 traffic fatalities in 1987, 51 percent were alcohol-related, according to the 1987 Florida Traffic Accident Facts Booklet.

Bridges cautions against following close behind drivers who do not maintain a straight path, whether at day or night. With the drunk driver's judgment impaired, he overreacts to stimuli and might stop where he is for a stop light 1,000 feet away, Bridges said. She added that one should never attempt to pass a swerving driver.

One ounce of alcohol will leave the system in an hour, provided that one does not consume any more, Bridges said. She said party planners should consider this when serving alcoholic drinks to guests and not let their guests have more to drink than their system can dispose of before the party ends.

Mock alcoholic drinks, mineral waters, hot cider and soft drinks are good alternatives to alcohol at parties.

The American Automobile Association gives the following non-alcoholic recipe for eggnog:

NON-NOG EGGNOG
2 eggs, separated

1/2 cup sugar
1 tablespoon vanilla extract
2 cups chilled milk
1/2 cup water
1 cup whipped cream
Nutmeg

Beat egg whites at high speed in mixer until soft peaks form. Gradually beat in sugar until stiff peak form. In large bowl, beat egg yolks until lemon-colored. Gradually beat in vanilla, milk and water. Stir in egg white mixture and whipped cream. Mix well. Serve with a sprinkle of nutmeg over each cup. Makes 12 servings.

Hosts should make sure their intoxicated guests get home safely, either by driving them home, calling a cab or letting them stay overnight, Bridges said.

Planning the party

The drinking and driving of party guests may be the easiest concern of the host. But planning the party calls for organization, creativity and work.

For a party that guests will compliment long after it's over, one should plan every detail—number of guests, decorations, menu and other features—as far in advance as possible, says Fay Miller Morgan, senior meeting planner for R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Co.

"The planning is the key to giving a party of any kind," she says. "Be organized and make lists. I find that lists give the host control over any event, large or small."

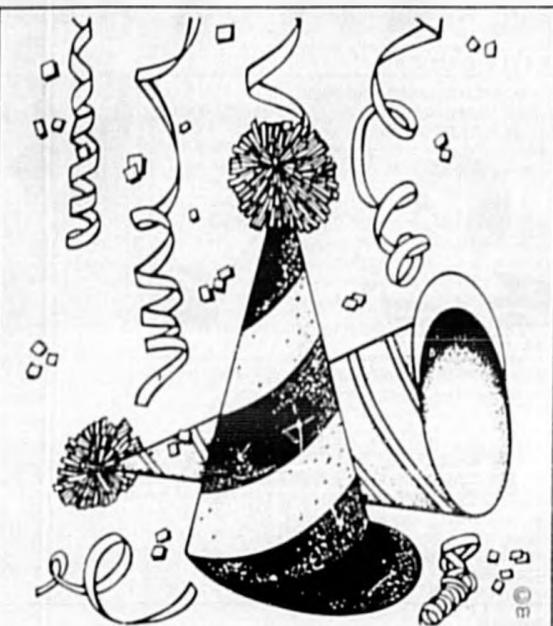

Once the guest list is completed, Morgan says, the planner should be realistic about space, equipment and budget.

"If you'd like to have a sit-down meal and table space is limited, it's fine to set up smaller tables, as long as the arrangements is comfortable."

The size of the guest list makes a sit-down meal impractical, Morgan favors an "open house," which allows flexibility and encourages guests to get acquainted and mingle.

Holiday decorations can be used to set the party theme, says Morgan, who views decorating as a matter of personal taste and creativity. Ornaments, bows, holly pine branches, and mistletoe—from the forest or a florist—set a festive mood.

Southern Comfort recommends helping to break the social ice for guests by making early introductions. Built style parties are best, allowing guest to mingle, as well as choose exactly what they like.

Celebrating safely

The following tips help ensure happy holidays for both the host and guest of seasonal parties:

The Host:

• Before the party, suggest that guests use the "Designated Driver" plan, in which one party-goer in a group refrains from drinking, and assumes responsibility for driving others safely home. An easy way to inform guests of the idea is to mention it on invitations.

• Offer non-alcoholic drinks as well as alcoholic ones. Do not force drinks on guests or constantly refill glasses. Respect guests' freedom of choice and ask if they want alcohol before you pour.

• Serve plenty of food. Drinking on an empty stomach results in alcohol being absorbed into the bloodstream at a dangerously high rate. Try high-protein snacks like nuts, meat and cheese, that slow alcohol absorption even further.

• Stop serving alcohol about an hour before the party is due to end.

• Watch your guests. Responsible hosts take care of their guests, so make sure they have a safe way home or allow them to stay the night.

The Guest:

• If you feel you're nearing your drinking limit, pass up rounds or switch to nonalcoholic drinks. You won't offend your host by failing to become intoxicated.

• Be aware that alcohol affects your judgment. If you know you've had a lot to drink, yet still "feel you can make it home," the alcohol may be impairing your judgment.

• The only cure for excessive alcohol consumption is time. Black coffee, cold showers or fresh air will not make a person sober. They may make a person less sleepy, but if you've drunk too much, you'll still lack the judgment, coordination and reaction time needed for driving.

• Be honest with yourself. Don't drive if you've exceeded your limit.

Switch to non-alcoholic party drinks

DEAR READERS: End-of-the-year parties don't have to end in an alcoholic haze. The following are a variety of festive beverages that will please without muddling. And best of all, they can be served to the entire family.

ROSY BLUSH FRUIT PUNCH: Blend 2 quarts unsweetened pineapple juice, 2 quarts apple juice, 3 cups orange juice, 1 cup lemon juice, 2 quarts seltzer water and 1/2 cup grenadine. Chill thoroughly before serving. Makes approximately 57 half-cup servings (a party's worth).

CRANBERRY FIZZ: Stir together 3/4 cup cranberry juice cocktail and 1/4 cup plain seltzer water. Serve over ice. Makes one drink.

TROPICAL COOLER: Blend in a blender until smooth 1/4 cup unsweetened pineapple juice, 1/4 cup orange juice, 1/2 cup cantaloupe chunks, and 3 ice cubes, broken or crushed. Serve garnished with fresh mint leaves. Makes one drink.

STRAWBERRY-APPLE SLUSH: Blend together 1 cup frozen strawberries, 1/2 cup apple juice and 3 ice cubes until smooth and ice is completely melted. Garnish drink with a whole strawberry slipped over the rim of the glass. Makes one drink.

HOT SPICED CIDER: Mix in a large pot 2 quarts apple cider, one 3-inch stick cinnamon bark, 1 teaspoon whole cloves, 1 teaspoon whole allspice berries and 1 teaspoon whole cardamom pods, lightly crushed. Heat just to the boiling point. Reduce heat and simmer gently 10 to 15 minutes. Serve hot in mugs, garnished with orange slices. Makes seven drinks.

DEAR POLLY: Often a dessert recipe with coffee flavoring will call for instant coffee powder. Can freeze-dried crystals be used in such recipes?
KAREN

HOMEMAKING

POLLY FISHER

DEAR KAREN: Freeze-dried coffee crystals should be fine, but they should be crushed unless the coffee is dissolved in liquid before blending with the dry ingredients. However, if a recipe calls for instant espresso powder, do try to use espresso instead of ordinary instant or freeze-dried coffee. The espresso powder has a richer flavor and darker color that may be important to attaining the full flavor of some recipes.
POLLY

RECIPE OF THE WEEK: Holiday parties get a spirited lift with this zesty rum-flavored cheese spread.

Blend together thoroughly 2 cups shredded Cheddar cheese, 1 cup crumbled blue cheese, 1/4 pound softened butter, 1/3 cup light rum and 1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce. Pack into a loaf or bowl. Cover. Chill several hours. Serve with crackers or vegetable dippers. Makes 2 cups.

DEAR POLLY: My family doesn't much care for regular pancake syrup. Do you have any recipes for other pancake toppings that are more interesting?
CAROLE

DEAR CAROLE: You can put just about anything on top of a pancake! How about peanut butter and jelly, applesauce, stewed fruit, sour cream, yogurt (plain or fruit-flavored), jam or marmalade, sliced fresh fruit, marshmallow fluff (!), hot fudge sauce (!!), ice cream (!!), honey, or fruit syrups?

And then there's creamed vegetables, chicken a la king, chili, cheese sauce, taco fixings or bacon, tomato and cheddar.

And if it's ordinary grocery-store pancake syrup that turns your family off, try giving them genuine 100 percent pure maple syrup. There's no comparison; the real stuff is delicious!

Finally, here's a simple topping that's really luscious: Just blend 1/2 cup butter and 1/2 cup honey in a small bowl. Serve this honey butter on top of pancakes, waffles or French toast—and stand back for the compliments!

DEAR POLLY: I've saved myself lots of frustration with this idea. We bought a huge roll of plain white paper table covering for $13. Ever since, we have used it as gift-wrap as well. This certainly beats trying to buy enough of one kind of wrap for the larger gifts. Add a classy ribbon or bow for the finishing touch.

Use a large mixing bowl to wash dishes in when there aren't enough dishes for a sink full of water. Set the bowl in the sink.
E.E.

DEAR POLLY: I am about to take a big step and purchase a microwave oven. I am still very apprehensive about the safety of its use. Can you tell me the latest findings on this matter? Also, how much does using a microwave oven affect the flavor of food?
JUDY

DEAR JUDY: Microwave ovens are generally recognized to be quite safe, as long as you operate your oven according to the manufacturer's directions. Don't use metal or non-microwave-safe utensils or dishes in the oven. Don't operate the oven when it is empty. Don't allow anything to be caught in the door seal (in which case it probably won't operate anyway). Keep the oven itself and the area where the door closes clean. And if you have any problems with the oven's operation, call a qualified repairman.

As for the flavor of food, it doesn't change because of the microwave cooking method any more than it changes with any other method. In fact, since microwaves cook so quickly, many foods retain a fresher, more deliciously natural flavor when microwaved as opposed to more prolonged or water-soaked cooking methods.

I do recommend you check in your library or bookstore for a good microwave cookbook in order to get the most out of your oven. Two of my favorites are "Microwave Gourmet" by Barbara Kafka (1987, Morrow) and "Mastering Microwave Cooking" by Marcia Cone and Thelma Snyder (1986, Simon and Schuster). Also, read thoroughly and use your own oven's operations manual and cookbook. It will be an invaluable source of information not only on how to use and maintain your oven safely, but also how to do basic cooking in the oven.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby

The old adage "eight ever, nine never" refers to the correct percentage play when you are missing only a queen and have either eight cards or nine in the suit in the combined hands. If you follow the adage blindly, you always finesse against the queen with eight cards and never take the finesse with nine. That would be fine if the game were played in a vacuum, but we all know that bridge takes place in the free atmosphere, so declarer should consider distribution and let logic overrule the adage when appropriate.

South got to four hearts after West had opened three diamonds. The jack of spades held the first trick, and a second spade was played. East tried to cash a third spade, but declarer ruffed with the nine of hearts. He played a heart to the king and on the basis of West holding length in diamonds, was inclined to finesse against East for the queen of trumps. But for more assurance, he first played ace of diamonds and another diamond. West won the 10 and played the king, ruffed by declarer as East shed clubs. Now South played to dummy's club king and came back with a heart, since there was now stronger evidence that the finesse was right. By this time West had shown up with three spades, one heart, seven diamonds and one club. If he were left with the heart queen, he would have a singleton club, so why didn't he lead it initially? Declarer, or should we call him Sherlock Holmes, therefore put in the jack of hearts and made the contract.

Low immunity sets off staph bacteria

DEAR DR. GOTT: What causes staph infection? Can it be fatal?

DEAR READER: Many microbes have the ability to cause disease. One such group, the staphylococci, is particularly common. Staph bacteria are normal inhabitants of the nose and skin of healthy individuals. Under certain circumstances, when a person's immunity is lowered, staph will cause infection.

Typically, this infection is associated with abscesses, pimples and boils. However, staph can cause food poisoning (nausea, vomiting and diarrhea), pneumonia, bone inflammation, blood stream infection and so forth. Post-operative wound infection is a particularly dreaded complication of surgery. Staph spread in the bloodstream can cause abscesses in any part of the body.

Most staph infections, especially on the skin, heal with simple treatment, such as scrubbing with soap of the use of hot packs to cause the boils to "point" and drain.

More deep-seated infections need antibiotics. This can be a problem because many strains of staph are resistant to penicillin and other common anti-microbials; the bacteria deactivate antibiotics by excreting a substance called penicillinase.

Therefore, penicillinase-resistant drugs have to be used. These include methicillin, nafcillin, cephalosporins, gentamicin and others. Internal staph abscesses may have to be surgically drained.

The major exception to the above characteristics is toxic shock syndrome, a type of bloodstream staph infection that is associated with high fever, vomiting, diarrhea, skin rashes, delirium and shock. It is often caused by the improper use of menstrual tampons, particularly in frequent changing of tampons.

MEDICINE

Certain patients with deficient immunity — such as newborn babies, intravenous drug users and people with chronic diseases — have to be especially careful of staph infections and must receive prompt and appropriate treatment if infections appear. However, for most people, serious staphylococcal infections are rarely a noteworthy problem.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I'm female, age 49. About a year ago I experienced terrible pain in my legs, feet, arms and hands. My hands became swollen and turned black, and the tips of the fingers became ulcerated. The doctor said I had Raynaud's syndrome and put me on Cardizem. I'm wondering if it's toxic shock.

DEAR READER: If you had fever, headache, nausea, diarrhea, kidney failure and liver malfunction, you may have had toxic shock syndrome. This is a type of staphylococcal infection that typically occurs in women who improperly use high-absorbency tampons.

On the other hand, your symptoms could have resulted from an unusual form of acute inflammation of the arteries, causing arterial spasm and a dangerous circulatory disturbance. Raynaud's syndrome is characterized by sporadic attacks of arterial spasm leading to interruption of blood flow to fingers and toes.

'How are you?' isn't asking for an inventory of problems

DEAR ABBY: I read with interest the letter from the woman who was embarrassed because of her husband's detailed report of his physical ailments when someone greeted him with "How are you?"

Some years ago I read about a lady who didn't want to lie about her condition, so when someone asked her in passing, "How are you?" she replied, "I'm better than I was, but not quite so good as I was before I got worse."

I thought the comment was so good, I often use it in my response to the greeting. It usually brings a chuckle.

"BETTER" IN TAVARES, FLA.

DEAR ABBY: Living in a retirement home where we're not supposed to discuss health or illnesses at the table, one of our residents has passed out copies of the enclosed.

TALK IN CALIFORNIA HOW ARE YOU?

When people ask, "How are you?" It's just a salutation — And common sense should bar you.

From a lengthy explanation, it's not the kind of query that requires a diagnosis. Of each and every dreary Reaction and neurosis. It doesn't mean devising an answer to the question. In which you're itemizing What's wrong with your digestion.

ADVICE

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

If operations scare you, Don't analyze and spell 'em. And when folks ask, "How are you?" For heaven's sake, don't tell 'em!

DEAR ABBY: I work for a large company in a large office. One of my fellow employees insists on brushing his teeth often during the day. I'm all for good dental hygiene, but this man starts brushing his teeth at his desk, then he walks past all the other employees on his way to the bathroom — brushing all the way!

He also flosses at his desk, which I find offensive. There is no way to avoid seeing this, as our office is set up with rows of desks in one large room with no partitions.

How should I approach this man to explain my objections?

Or am I being overly critical? REVOLTED

DEAR REVOLTED: Others may also be offended by this no-class man, so write him an inter-office memo — and make it a class-action project.

DEAR ABBY: Today, with things so vastly different from the traditions of long ago, please tell me what you think about having my 19-year-old brother as my maid of honor at my wedding.

He is the best friend I have ever had, and I couldn't be more pleased than to have him stand beside me on my "special day."

LUCKY IN TUCSON

DEAR LUCKY: Why not? He could assume the most important responsibility of the maid of honor, which is to serve as a witness to your marriage. Call him your "witness" (not "maid") of honor. And good luck.

(Problems? Write to Dear Abby. For a personal, unpublished reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Dear Abby, P.O. Box 69440, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. All correspondence is confidential.)

Arthritis pointers given

United Press International

WASHINGTON — Of the 31.6 million Americans who suffer from arthritis, about one-third are over age 65. For them, performing even the simplest chores and tasks can be painful.

The Arthritis Association suggests the following to reduce arthritic pain at points of stress:

— Don't allow your wrist to droop over an armchair while sitting.

— Don't rest your head on your knuckles or on bent elbows, or press down on your knuckles when getting out of a chair.

— Don't squeeze rubber balls or other objects for "exercise."

— Don't stay in one position for more than 30 minutes.

To avoid strains on fingers, hold a cup in the palm of your hand with your fingers curled up on the sides; use a scrub brush with a handle rather than a scouring pad; and press water out of washcloths and other items between the palms of hands rather than wringing out.

As a general rule, avoid grasping objects tightly and when possible, let the larger, stronger joints carry the burden.

is a matter you cannot manage on your own today, don't let your pride prevent you from requesting assistance, even if you have to ask for help from someone you dislike.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) You might be able to arbitrate a volatile issue between dissenting friends today and make each feel like the winner. You're the only one who can pull it off.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) It's highly probable your self-interest will be gratified today, but the methods you'll use to achieve this could cause others to think unkindly of you.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Today you could be more sensitive than usual where your ideas are concerned. This might cause you to overreact if they are challenged.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) In joint ventures today, either for social or business purposes, be sure your counterpart shares equally in all the risks and expenses involved. (C)1988, NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.

ocratic and treat everyone equally. However, today you might play favorites and this will not go unnoticed by two sensitive friends.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Be careful today that you do not discuss sensitive family matters with a person who has difficulty keeping secrets. This individual may broadcast to others a distorted version of what you say.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Any critical judgments you make today should not be based upon wishful thinking. You might choose to ignore the facts, but they won't ignore you.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) This is not a good day to juggle your finances around to where you use funds earmarked for essentials for something rather frivolous. Adhere to your budget.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Disagreements between you and your mate should be worked out privately today and not in front of others. If you involve friends or relatives, it will only add to the discord.
