Kiddie Korner

By John Miller
Well, I really WAS surprised. I mean, I didn't know they did it that way. It does help, you know. What am I talking about? Why, the field trip the staff of the Journalism Club took last Thursday to the offices of the Sanford Herald, edited by Mr. J. Marlin Harman (front page). Honestly, though, we all are indebted very much to both Mr. Harman and his fine staff. He spent two hours of his time to give us a really comprehensive tour, and I for one enjoyed it to the fullest. As I stated at the beginning of this literary effort, I was quite surprised to see how they actually printed the paper. It was done in a way that I did not know about at all. Another thing—Mr. Harman has the CUTEST protractor! I think I'm going to make lots of errors in this and then go down and watch her change them. She runs the picture-making machine, too. Negative, anyone?

Readers, I have been approached with a problem. This problem concerns the name of this column of Journalism, or, in other words, the Kiddie Korner. It seems like some people, including our illustrious president of the Freshman class, would like to see it changed. Now, I want to make it clear—it doesn't make any difference to me. It's YOUR column! I say write what YOU do. If you readers would like to see it changed, okay. The only thing I do do the majority of my "bop-to-the-top" readers was it changed? I talked to a few people, and it was about half and half. Tell you what: whatever your feelings on the matter, will you let me know about it? Yes, sopho, I mean you, too. Yes, even you, Arthur John DeYoung, Seniors and Juniors, too, you're interested. Yes, Dilemas, I KNOW your opinion. Well, let's have some opinions, you folks. (Editors note: I'd give you mine, John, but I can't publish it; just don't plagiarize!)

Mr. Layer Gets A Shoeshine

By PAM ST. JOHN
On Friday, February 7, Mr. L. Layer came into his 3rd Period Biology class sporting a shoeshine so bright one could almost see his face in it. The shine is a result of a brand-new kind of polish the sophomores are going to sell in a few weeks. The polish comes in a spray type can, and all you have to do is push the button and you have a shoeshine. It is a clear plastic that is guaranteed to make any leather shoe shine like crazy, and because it's clear it can be used on any color. One can sell for $2.00 and it's a one year supply for the average size family. The rest of the details can be obtained from any bright-eyed sophomore in a few weeks when they are released into our midst selling this stuff. Really though, the sophomores are far, far, deeper, deeper in debt and would appreciate the money. So if you have to polish shoes around your house or if you have a heavy date and all of a sudden you realize your shoes are a mess, buy a can and help the sophomores out.

Question Of Week

By Joyce Lynn Benton
(Editor apologizes for not having this column in for last week's edition.)
What do you think about going Dutch on a date?
Jimmy Cordell—I think they are great, but boys should pay "once in a while."
Kay Ivey—I think every girl should pay the boy's way into the show. (as dictated by Jimmy Cordell)
Bobby Harbour—I don't think it's right to Dutch date; boys should pay.
Janice Womach—Well they are O. K. once in a while.
Leo Turner—They're OK, I guess, but I'd rather pay.
Cindy Roumillat—It's up to the boy and girl to have an understanding.
Gary Baker—The guy who invented it should go down in history as a genius.
Jackie Herrn—It's strictly for the Dutch.
Mike Roberts—I LIKE it!
Judy Ludwig—I like it too!
Johnny Whitchel—I like 'em!
Niki Ashby—I guess they're all right for some people.
Buddy Kirk—It depends on where you are going.
Deanna Nichols—Uh-h-h-h!
Ladd McCoy—I don't know; I suppose they're OK.
Audrey Bolger—Hal Hal! It would never happen to me... I hope!
Gerald Jones—It's great!
Linda Anderson—It depends on how much it costs.
Wally Phillips—I like French better than Dutch! (Wally!)
Barbara Bradley—It's OK for some people.
George Prides—A boy ought to pay.
Kathy Carles—If a boy asks a girl out, he should foot the bill.
Larry Davis—I think the guy should pay!
Shirley Morgan—It depends on where you're going, with whom, why, and what you're going to do when you get there.
Greg Walker—I agree with Shirley.
Janie Brown—It's convenient when you're low on money.
Jimmy Jackson—I think it's a pretty idea.
Edith Hanson—I think it's a wonderful idea (for certain occasions).
Charmion Miller—There should be an understanding if there's to be a Dutch date!
Cliff McKibbin—It saves money, but the boy really should pay.
Charlie Higgins—I think it's all right because I don't have any money half the time.
Claudia Warmack—I don't like the idea.
Marcia Loehals—It depends on which of us has the money.
Diana Fischer—They're for the limited!

Problem Corner

By Ann Cry-Shoulder
Dear Miss Cry-Shoulder,
I asked my best girl out to dinner and to a movie one night last week, and later I found out that the family car had already been promised to my older brother. When I called my girl to explain, her parents insisted that I take their new car. I refused at first, but they told us to go ahead and have a nice time.
On the way home, a car hit us broadside and did a lot of damage. I was sick about the whole affair. Please tell me what to do.
Desperate Don
Dear Desperate Don,

That was a tough break all right, but things such as that do happen to the best of people. I suggest you apologize and tell them how terrible you feel and offer to pay the damage. Maybe your Dad will foot the expense and you can get a job and repay him. I wish you lots of luck.
Miss Cry-Shoulder
Dear Miss Cry-Shoulder,
I don't understand why the couple of the week is usually a couple who have only dated once or twice, when some couples around here have been going together for months. Could you explain this to me—we're getting fed up with this situation!
Complainer
Dear Complainer,
As far as I know, the person who writes the couple of the week is entitled to choose whom she pleases, but I also do agree that she should consider these things. Maybe when she sees how some people feel, she will give her column more thought. Thank you for expressing your opinion.
Miss Cry-Shoulder

It Won't Be Long Now

By Dolores Bailey
Monday, February 10, a committee of six seniors went on a trip to visit Mr. Knowles, City Manager, on the subject of Sanford's recreational facilities for teenagers.
The civic center (don't let the name throw you) is for the teenagers, students, youngsters, and everyone else, but principally for teenagers. There is a wing of the center designated for students alone. This wing will be open from 2:30 to 8:30, in the weekdays afternoons, from 2:30 until 12:00 on Friday afternoons and evenings, and from 10:00 A. M. to 12:00 P. M. Saturdays. If we students could that this is what we want.
The teen wing has two parts, a lounge and a game room, separated by a small section with vending machines in it (cokes, potato chips, etc.) In the lounge will be a TV set, a hi-fi set, and chairs in which to sit and read. The room is for lounging, strictly. The game room will hold a billiard table, ping-pong tables, card tables, and a jukebox to dance by.
A student league will be picked to carry out rules made by the teenagers themselves.
Students not attending school in Sanford may come to the civic center as guests, but as guests only.
The kitchen, from which 1000 can be served at one sitting, the banquet hall, and the auditorium are also for student activities. We have priority.
"The contract for the civic center calls for a deadline of April 1. You should be able to use the building by April 15, at least," Mr. Knowles said.
Speaking for the students of Seminole High, I'll say, I'll be mighty glad to have the center for recreation for teenagers.

Follies Big Hit

By Kathy Carles
Anyone who was fortunate enough to see the "High Fever Follies" this past week will surely agree with me that it was a success in every way. No one will ever forget seeing some of the leading townships at their withest and most talented.
I thought each performer did a superb job, but a few stand out in my memory: Miss Spook Hook, for instance, with her very enjoyable dance routines, and Gertrude Covington, who sang "I Love Paris" and several other selections. This fellow is blessed with one of the most beautiful voices I've ever heard. Who could forget Camilla Bruce (the scrub woman from the Yowell's scene) with her hilarious pantomimes?
I almost forgot to mention some of the talented people in our audience who danced so well for us. Mr. John Ivey, for example. (Thank you, Mr. Ivey.) If anyone ever told me I would see Bill Fleming and Captain Jim Reedy along with quite a few others doing ballet and other remarkable dances, I would have laughed out loud, but it happened at the "High Fever Follies."
Everything happened at the "High Fever Follies" and the entire program went through with such commendable clockwork and cooperation that we can't help but praise this very enchanting show with our very highest praise.
The Dead Sea contains no living creature. Its chemical contents have been estimated to be worth more than $1,200 million.

Be Possessed By Service Motive Says Minister

This is the second part of an address made before students of Seminole High School by Rev. Joe Courson of Pinecrest Baptist Church on the subject "Making a Vocational Choice."
Rev. Courson said:
"We should be possessed by the service motive. Former Senator Albert Beveridge believes that the greatest reward is not your fee, but the doing of a perfect piece of work." Similar ideals characterized W. L. Douglas in shoe manufacturing, Robert E. Lee in military service, Woodrow Wilson in statecraft, and Wilfred Grenfell in medical missions.
The matter of a life work cannot be approached with either bias or prejudice. These keep us from seeing things in an objective way. Only a willingness to be led into any activity will give the frame of mind necessary to weigh the merits and demerits of various types of work and one's qualifications for different kinds of service.
One must be like the clay George MacDonald used in the potter's shop, ready to be molded into a beautiful Corinthian vase, a less striking Egyptian vase, or an ordinary cuspidor. This is not easy, for all of us aspire to higher things. But it is necessary for finding then facing frankly all the facts and for a thoroughly independent decision.
One should try to avoid a circumstantial decision such as the desire to preserve the family tradition, or taking up an activity because educational or age conditions seem to necessitate it. Making decisions because of financial need, or flattering economic inducements, desire for recognition, suggestions of friends, or because one has failed elsewhere are too external and incidental to be decisive. None of these should be final influences. Rather each should be captain of his own soul, master of his own fate, so that he can say with Martin Luther, "Here I stand, God helping me. I can do no other."
In all likelihood one is better fitted for some one task than any other. It is reasonable to conclude that God's plan for an individual's life is in keeping with the talent given. God would not capacitate a person for one thing and then call him into something else. If you have the gift of speech, platform service, or music do something with that gift. The person with a business turn of mind will fit best into that type of activity. Your talents are yours. The editor of "Success Magazine" wrote, "remember that to work out that thing which God hath wrought in you... should be the main life purpose of every human being."
Particular aptitude must be considered and a careful self-analysis made of talents and abilities with due regard given for any physical handicaps. Sydney Smith has said "Be what nature intended you for and you will succeed."
Closely related to talent, and usually an indication of it, is interest. A starting point is to discover whether one is more interested in material things such as livestock or machinery, in intangible things such as facts or ideas or in people. Vocations must be analyzed from these viewpoints. Usually the work which attracts and thrills one most is the thing he should do. You consider seriously the work that you love and that gives the greatest satisfaction.
An inward look at talent and interest is not sufficient. One should also consider the various fields of service and the need in each. Everything else being equal, the service that humanity needs most and is getting least should make the strongest appeal.
In order to be satisfied with the life work you choose one must get a glory out of the task itself. "Fame is transitory and riches fade away, but when you get a glory, it is there to stay."
If you are in doubt about what you should do, consult capable friends who will help you to see objectively both your qualifications and the merits or demerits of the activity. Let us profit by their opinions, but not be influenced too much; for in the last analysis we must make our own decision.
We come back to the emphasis that we live in a God-built universe. That God has a plan for our lives and that He can and will help us find our place of service. He has created us and He directs us. He knows more about us than we ourselves or any other. He is interested in us and our success. He sees the scheme of things into which our lives are to be fitted; therefore He is the court of the first and last resort.
Let us not end our quest with self-analysis, vocational investigation, and the advice of friends, but let us listen for the "still small voice" and "follow the gleam."
"In all ways acknowledge him, and he will direct thy path."
(Proverbs 3:6)

Future Farmers Go To State Fair

By Burke Wain
On Saturday morning, February 7, at 4:00 p. m., all Future Farmers who desired to go to the State Fair at Tampa left, with three guests, Mr. Priest, Mr. Benham, and our bus driver, Mr. Harrison, who drove very well all the way.
We stopped for breakfast at 8:15 and arrived at Tampa by 8 a. m. We went straight to the Grandstand and stayed there until 11:00 a. m.
First the FFA State String Band played for about half an hour. Then, the newly elected officers were announced and they gave their speeches.
After a short skit was presented by the FFA, FFA Sweetheart, did her act.
The judges, in our opinion, did a very wonderful job. The boys on our judging team were Larry McQuarters, Roger Jimenez, and Bruce Crocker.
Following the program at the Grandstand, we were given some spare time during which we could do almost anything we pleased. Most of the boys went to see the cattle and swine. About a hundred boys went to the midget races.
At 4:30, that afternoon, right after the races, we boarded the bus and started for home. We arrived at school at 10, that night. All of us had a very enjoyable time.
We wish to thank Mr. Wain for being so helpful in teaching the boys in the judging team and also we wish to thank our hosts in Tampa who made our stay there so pleasant.

Everytime we see Vesta Kay Gehr, she is polishing her luscious diamond. Aren't you the lucky one, V.I. Sure wish I had one to polish! You've got quite a guy, too.
We're so happy to hear about Patty Taylor and Cooper. Lots of luck to both of you.

Unwanted Texas Oil, Gas Money Finds Solid Political Employment

WASHINGTON (UP)—That unwanted wad of Texas oil and gas money bundled together in gratitude for past and anticipated Republican votes to ease federal control over natural gas producers will find solid political employment after all.

President Eisenhower spurned the money as unclean. So did Chairman Meade Alcorn of the Republican National Committee. The chairman, respectively, of the Republican Senate and congressional campaign committees did not quite go along with that. Texas however are ingenious as well as rich. Finding themselves barred from spending their hoard to help Republican candidates, in this year's congressional election, they decided to pay off some old Eisenhower presidential campaign debts in Texas.

The Republican state organization owed $200,000 after the 1954 presidential election in which Eisenhower won Texas' 24 electoral votes from the Democratic candidate, Adlai E. Stevenson. Some of that deficit had been paid off from time to time but there remained a substantial red figure.

Most and perhaps all of that indebtedness will be retired from the spared proceeds of a $100-a-plate dinner at Houston, Tex. The Feb. 10 get-together was in honor of Rep. Joseph W. Martin Jr., (R-Mass.) and raised a hoag of approximately $100,000.

H. J. Jack Porter, Republican national committeeman for Texas, sparked the show and accidentally fixed it. Porter circulated over his own signature a letter announcing the "appreciation dinner" to Martin whom he acclaimed for rallying Republican votes last year in behalf of the angrily controversial gas bill. Eisenhower vetoed the bill in protest against the crude lobbying of one of its supporters.

The President was agreeable to re-enactment of the legislation, however, and that fact led Porter to a politically fatal error. He letter said:

"It will be up to Joe Martin to muster at least 40 per cent of the Republican House votes in order to pass the gas bill again this year. He has put Republican members from northern and eastern consuming areas on the spot politeally because the bill is not popular due to the distortion of facts by newspaper columnists and others.

This frank and substantially accurate appraisal of the situation startled Washington and smacked Eisenhower. It equally pleased opponents of the gas bill.

Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.) favors the bill but he was realistic in his judgment of the effect of Porter's letter on the pending legislation. Rayburn told the United Press Porter couldn't have done a better job if he had set out to defeat the gas bill. The legislation is dead for this season and, probably, for good.

None was more surprised than Porter by the political impact of his letter.

VAH-5 Is Awarded Conover Trophy

Heavy Attack Squadron Five was awarded the coveted Conover Trophy today by Capt. J. R. Reedy, USN, Commander Heavy Attack Wing One. The Trophy was presented to Cdr. J. M. Tully Jr., USN, Commanding Officer of VAH-5 in an impressive ceremony, attended by all units of NAS Sanford, which honored the winning squadron of the Fourth Heavy Attack Wing One Bombing Derby.

The Trophy is presented each quarter to the top derby squadron and has been won three out of four times by VAH-5.

Participating squadrons of the current derby were VAH-5 and VAH-11 from NAS Sanford and VAH-1 based at NAS Jacksonville, all flying the twin jet swept wing A3D "Skywarrior".

The three day derby, held the last week in January, included Radar Bombing of target cities throughout the southeastern C. S. and an actual drop of a simulated Atomic Weapon on a target in the Cape Hatteras area.

Each squadron entered three crews in the grueling three day competition which ran day and night in weather that produced plenty of low ceilings and rain. The winning crews for VAH-5 were: Ledr. F. S. Harward P/C,

Inspection, Plat Fee Requirements Set By Commission

The Seminole County Board of Commissioners set requirements for plat fees and inspections yesterday.

Counseling with a representative of the engineering firm of DeLew, Cather and Brill, the entire picture of the present plat law adopted by the Board of Commissioners was discussed.

Commissioners expressed the fact that it was "privately built roads for public use" and in time to be turned over to the county for maintenance that they would want to see brought up to the standards required.

Only by inspection and the proper filing of plats could this standard be met, they said.

Commission Chairman K. R. Kridler said "Let's not kid ourselves—the developers are not coming in to do us a favor—they're coming here to make money and it's not fair to charge the taxpayer for services that the developer alone receives the benefit."

Kridler stated "I feel that through these discussions we've found that we have a problem and we'll come up with some solution."

County Attorney Mack N. Cleveland Jr. told the board "It would be a good idea for the Board of Commissioners to draw up a description of these problems and present them to the State Association of County Commissioners and from them have some basis to present the State Legislature with corrective measures."

Cleveland explained the Seminole County is just one of many counties having the same trouble and the very same problems.

"This board could take the leadership in the state and provide other counties with a possible solution of these problems," said Cleveland. "Previous action setting fees for inspection of plats and inspection of roads was rescinded by the board.

Action adopted provided that plat inspection and examination would be made by the firm of DeLew, Cather and Brill for a fee of $33, and that the developer furnish the inspection of roads and road construction to be made by a registered engineer.

Move To Out Benson Builds Up Among GOPs

WASHINGTON (UP)—A new move to get rid of Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson gathered steam today among Republicans best by political trouble.

Democrats watching gleefully from the sidelines were optimistically predicting a GOP farm-belt revolt and the nation's economic ailments would result in a landslide Democratic triumph in the November elections.

The Senate Republican campaign committee was called into session by Chairman Andrew F. Schoepel (R-Kan.) possibly with the hope of clearing up one headache—a split in the ranks over accepting $100,000 raised by Texas oil men.

One committee member told the United Press he had written Schoepel saying he was against taking "any part" of the money already spurred by President Eisenhower and the GOP national committee. There was speculation—but no official comment—that Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R-Maine) quit the committee over using the funds raised to promote the natural gas bill.

Back to Hill

Secretary's departure reportedly was discussed at a secret meeting of 25 GOP lawmakers with House leader Joseph W. Martin and GOP national chairman Leade Alcorn Thursday.

Source said the group agreed they had to do something quickly. The question of putting it up to Benson to save GOP candidates at the expense of his leaving the cabinet is a new approach. Past public demands that he quit appeared to put Benson more firmly in place. He also has been backed to the hilt by President Eisenhower.

Now the strategy appears to be to make Benson himself decide whether he is a political liability.

Adjustment Board Reverses Zoning Board Decision

The Board of Seminole County Commissioners, sitting as a Board of Adjustment, reversed a decision of the Zoning Commission and ordered a permit issued for the construction of an Assembly of God Church in the Pinecrest area.

The appeal was made by Rev. H. St. Snow of 1118 Laurel Ave. who related the history of negotiations for the church to be located at the corner of 27th St. and Elm Ave.

Permit was granted, however, on condition that the church obtain two additional lots for off-street parking.

Rev. Snow told the Board of Adjustment that his church had only 40 members and "I'll cooperate in any way that is humanly possible for me to do so."

Speaking for the church, in addition to Rev. Snow, were Rev. Ralph C. Francis of Daytona Beach and Chief Warren G. Crews who lives in Little Venice.

Appearing to protest the location of the church at the 27th St. site were John C. Brown, W. H. Mahoney, Charles H. Rossman and John Burton IV.

Principal reasons for objecting to the church location were traffic congestion, a hindrance to personal property and lowering of the property's value.

Raymond M. Ball, chairman of the County Zoning Commission said that the vote to deny the construction permit was three to one, with each member of the board having his own reason for the denial.

However, Commissioner Lawrence Swafford said "I think the Zoning Commission should tell the church why they were turned down."

Commissioner B. C. Dodd said "I think a church will do the community good."

Commissioner Homer Little stated "The only objection they had was parking."

Commissioner Swafford told the board "I don't think the church will devalue the property" and proposed that the permit be granted "if parking plans are carried out."

$1,600,000 Jail, Court House Proposed To Board

A $1,600,000 court house and jail, to be built approximately in the center of county owned property was proposed to the Board of Seminole County Commissioners yesterday.

Architect John Burton IV presented a preliminary study of both a new jail and renovation of the present court house in comparison with new facilities throughout.

In concluding his report, Burton told commissioners "the recommendation of the architect is the construction of entirely new facilities."

He said "The cost differential (if the same total area is provided) between entirely new, and additions to existing facilities, is too small to justify the investment of the necessary amount of money in the present building."

Burton stated that the existing court house building can never be made efficient nor economical to operate due to the nature of the building. "It will be a comparatively few years until maintenance becomes unduly heavy and complete obsolescence is in the foreseeable future."

He also said "The jail facilities are so completely and wholly inadequate that discussion of re-use of this structure is pointless."

Burton stated in his report that to finance the new construction a levy of 1.6 mills would be necessary.

He also stated that a minimum of money be spent on the existing court house. "The ground floor and other less desirable areas could be utilized for storage by the various county agencies and other areas leased." By doing so, he said, "the county could recover enough from rentals that they could afford ten year's hence, to demolish the structure and provide clean grounds for the entire tract."

Cost of the proposal, broken down into units, would be $375,000 for the jail consisting of 12,500 square feet; $1,132,000 for the new court house consisting of 57,400 square feet; and $10,000 for existing building repairs.

A new jail construction and renovation of the present court house, Burton outlined in his preliminary study, would cost the county a total of $1,227,000.

Consultant with Architect Burton was James Gamble Rogers II of Winter Park who has been architect for 40 of the 55 new jails built in Florida in the last few decades.

Commission Chairman John Kridler told Burton that he commissioners would study the proposal and in "several weeks" will call a special meeting to discuss the proposal.

Saturday Big Night For 'Old Folks'

Tomorrow night is the big night in Seminole County for the "old folks."

The 33rd Annual Pioneer Night, staged by Frank Evans, originator of the celebration, will be held at the Lake Mary Chamber of Commerce Building.

Parking space will be at a premium for there will be hundreds of automobiles in Lake Mary tomorrow evening bringing folks for the event.

The annual celebration and event has become a tradition in Seminole County, looked forward to with enthusiasm.

All of the residents of Lake Mary will join hands in promoting Pioneer Night and will be on hand to assist Frank Evans as he emcees the program staged for the benefit of the "old folks of the area."

On hand to entertain will be the Seminole High School Glee Club under the direction of Miss Ollie Reese Whittle; Rev. Tim the Magician has a new line of magic for the packed auditorium; and Mrs. Ida May Kibbourn, Lake Mary's Queen Contestant in the High Fever Festival, will be presented.

The Deanna School of Dance will feature Wanda Nixon, Daryl and Debbie McLain, Joy and Sonja Wester, Jane Harward, and Deanna McManus.

There will be four speakers, J. J. Davis, a former FBI agent and now a law partner of Senator Douglas Stearns; Seminole County Judge Wilson Alexander, recently appointed; Professor Simon Nath, formerly of Southern Union College, Wadley, Ala.; and Carroll Burke, an associate in the law office of Representative Mack N. Cleveland Jr., will all address the audience of "folks over 60" attending Pioneer Night.

All of the "Pioneers" registering have been invited to see "For Whom The Bell Tolls" as guests of Manager Milton Hawley of the Ritz Theatre on Feb. 27.

There will be free transportation from Sanford with a bus furnished by the Yellow Cab Company leaving the corner of First St. and Magnolia Ave. at 6:45 p. m. tomorrow evening.

Frank Evans said this morning "I urge everybody to bring the old folks out to Pioneer Night."

"No doubt," Evans remarked, "we will have the biggest crowd in the history of the 33 years of Pioneer Night and I am looking forward to seeing all of them tomorrow night."

Male Chorus Appeals For Tenors

The members of the Sanford Male Chorus are reminded that there will be a regularly scheduled rehearsal for the group next Monday night at 8 o'clock, in the lodge room of Sanford Lodge No. 1241, B.P.O.E.

Chorus director Harry M. Weir urges a full turnout and invites all men who like to sing to come out for the practice. Weir said that more tenors are very urgently needed.

Brown Explains Zoning Problems

Jaycees learned yesterday that there is created a new social problem and that is the basis for zoning.

He said zoning is "an attempt to control what is happening before it happens."

The rate of growth in Seminole County is 46 per cent and there are many counties, faced with the problem of growth, that are having to "close their way out of the debris caused by the lack of zoning."

The problem of zoning he said, are merely selling to the people what zoning really is. In fact, he explained, "you are protected from your neighbor."

Countywide zoning, originally based on single residential dwellings, is a stop-gap measure to stop promiscuous building, said Brown.

"In the zoning office," he said, "we administer a building code—a minimum standard of safe construction." And, he explained, in inspection assures the builder of a minimum safety standard—a reasonably safe and sound structure.

"We are trying very hard to do one thing, Brown said, "use judgment in our problems."

"People have been nice," he said, "and people have accepted zoning—but we haven't relaxed in that the rules must be followed."

One point that Brown explained to the Jaycees was that "when the Zoning Commission permits non-conforming construction it is an indication that the entire area is being considered."

The county zoning director explained that the duties of his office were many. He said that land use maps are being prepared, the process of making plumbing and electrical codes, as well as sanitary codes is underway.

"And we are working with the school board to let them know where growth is happening," he said.

He explained that enforcement of the zoning regulations is provided in the Southern Standard Building Code which has been adopted.

"Through these measures," Brown told the Jaycees, "we can prevent sub-standard building in Seminole County."

You and your responsibility

At last this little bit of life is ready to become a part of your home. You are glad, and at the same time you feel a great responsibility.
Perhaps you already realize how much the Church can help you. From the day you stand before the minister and dedicate the little one to God, on through the various departments of Sunday School and young people's work, the Church is always ready to lend a hand. Its spiritual message strengthens you, its worship services enrich your life, its opportunities for leadership increase your ability.
In the Church you will find other fathers and mothers with problems similar to your own. You will find boys and girls, men and women, working together, and from these beginnings will grow a better home life, a better community, a better world.
Yes, this is a beginning. Start now to make your home a center of Christian activity . . . and make the Church your home!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

A Proposed New Courthouse-Jail Is A Much Needed Step Forward

Seminole County is on the way toward making a real name for itself—in the hearts of its citizens.

The first major move that will motivate, no doubt, a tax picture that will attract hundreds and even thousands to within its borders, was the appointing of an eleven-man board to discuss, study, and delve into the county's tax problems.

Now, on the heels of that major announcement comes the news that the first study and recommendation has been made toward a new Court House and Jail for Seminole County.

The structure, proposed by Architect John Barton IV, would cost Seminole County $1,162,000 and necessitate the levying of only 1 1/4 mills.

However, let's consider the fact that the new building would be a permanent, modern, fireproof structure in comparison to the costly renovation of the present courthouse and the addition of a jail costing over $880,000.

The latter would be useful for only about 15 years and take equally as long to pay for as the life of the building.

Surprising to many, the present courthouse is not a fireproof building but one of wood frame and considered, even as now, obsolete.

Such a building is the present jail. It is constructed on property much too small for the activity and the facilities it houses. It provides no means for housing of vehicular equipment of the Sheriff's Department. It fails to provide the means to house every type prisoner brought to it, such as juveniles, women, incompetents, and first offenders. There are many injuries made in the use of the present jail because of its inadequacy. Seminole County is in a position of having its jail declared obsolete and therefore necessary to condemn. If such an action became necessary the county would find itself in the position of having to farm out its prisoners to adjacent counties and become an expensive procedure.

We believe that the Board of County Commissioners has before it another important step to take. Certainly we realize that there must be some study made, plans drawn and completed, agreements reached, and resolutions drawn. But, time increases cost in these days of changing economic conditions. That experience has been felt in many other government actions.

This is an opportunity for Seminole County to provide for its citizens one of the necessary important services—a modern court house and jail.

It is a healthy step to take—healthy for the future of Seminole County.

A Necessary Question Answered

You may have a good driving safety record and feel you are in excellent health. Even so, there are circumstances under which you're not fit to drive.

That finding comes from the American Medical Association, and is elaborate in a new pamphlet. Here are some of the things that make a driver dangerous.

Emotional upsets. If you can't keep your mind on the wheel and off your worries, you shouldn't be behind the wheel.

Driver's attitude. Some drivers feel the other fellow is always wrong; some are aggressive and intolerant. They need to grow up—to become mature.

Sleepiness. Dozing is not restricted to night driving. On long trips the driver should rest every two hours and drink coffee or cola to stay alert.

Medicines. Some medicines, including sedatives, tranquilizers, cold tablets and others, may dull reflexes or impair co-ordination. Stimulants may make a person nervous. Consult your doctor about the side effects of drugs.

Other hazards listed in the AMA pamphlet include faulty vision, certain nerve and heart disorders, diabetes, old age—and, of course, drinking. All of these conditions can result in special hazards—all require preventive measures. It's a case where knowing ourselves and acting accordingly could produce a heartening drop in highway carnage.

Research Increases Dividends

Almost everyone who does anything at all about the problems of the farmer now realize that much of the farmer's trouble springs, paradoxically, from his growing ability to produce. The number of farmers is declining, the number of acres farmed is declining, the consuming public continues to grow, yet the output of food and fibre keeps ahead of consumption.

Two basic solutions are possible. One is to reduce production. The other is to increase consumption.

Reducing production has been tried, without notable success, during some years past. Ideas for increasing consumption are attracting more and more attention. One way of doing this is to encourage people, through advertising and educational programs, to buy more of those things that come from the farm. The dairy industry has tried this approach, with some success.

There is a limit, however, to how much consumption can be increased simply by urging people to consume. An alternative is to figure out new products—new industrial uses, perhaps—to be made of the raw materials of farm produce. As new uses are found for products of the land, new markets will develop.

The way to develop and test new products is through research. Up to now, agricultural research has concentrated mostly on ways of increasing production. Then new trend of research should be toward increasing consumption. Experience in other lines of research indicates strongly that nickels devoted to this purpose will be dollars in future dividends.

Foreign News Commentary

By CHARLES M. McCANN

United Press Staff Correspondent

Two rival Arab federations have now emerged to complicate the Middle Eastern situation.

First Egypt and Syria proclaimed a United Arab republic, of which President Gamal Abdel Nasser is to be the dictator.

Kings Faisal of Iraq and Hussein of Jordan have retorted by forming an Arab federation which they will rule jointly.

Both moves were hailed by their sponsors as dramatic steps toward Arab unity.

Actually, they appear to be promoting disunity.

The kings of Iraq and Jordan have formed their federation as a defensive move against the ambition of Nasser to make himself the master of the entire Arab world, extending from the Middle East to Morocco on the Mediterranean Sea.

Yemen Will Join

They Yemen is expected to join the Egyptian-Syrian union soon.

The two little states of Kuwait and Bahrain on the Persian Gulf are talking about joining the Iraqi-Jordanian federation.

Just how the two unions could do anything to promote Arab unity, it is difficult to see.

The fact is that there is only one unifying factor in the Arab world. That is bitter enmity toward the state of Israel.

Egypt and Syria started the new situation in the Middle East when they decided to seek arms from Soviet Russia and its satellites.

Naturally, the Arab kings and ruling Sheikhs want no parts of Communism. They also have no desire to risk losing their thrones by permitting Nasser to become the dictator of the Arab countries.

And Iraq, Kuwait and Bahrain have rich oil resources to protect.

Foreign Countries Unhappy

An interesting feature of the Egyptian-Syrian and Iraqi-Jordanian federations is that no foreign country, West or East, is very happy over them.

The United States and its allies, and Soviet Russia, all have said that they welcomed the federations.

Actually, it is pretty plain that they are smiling through their diplomatic tears.

The United States fears that Iraq eventually may withdraw from the Middle Eastern Treaty Organization—no the Baghdad Pact against Communist aggression—of which it is the only Arab member.

Russia Fears Merger

Russia fears that the Egyptian-Syrian merger may harm, and not help, its interests. For one thing, Nasser has done business with Russia for his own interests. He does not tolerate Communist activity in his own country. He is believed to be worried over the strong pro-Communist trend in Syria, and he may do something about it now.

The Egyptian-Syrian merger is rather an artificial one. The two countries are widely separated by Israel and Jordan. Yemen, which may join, is separated from both by Saudi Arabia.

Look Ahead At Top World News

BY UNITED PRESS
United Press correspondents around the world look ahead at the news that will make the headlines.

Backfire
The French cabinet would never admit it, but the Algerian conflict seems on the way to internationalization.

American good offices in the French-Tunisian dispute may end with the establishment of a joint or international police force—the first giant step towards internationalization. The second no less big step could be the planned rebel spring offensive backed up diplomatically by the formation of a nationalist government. Such a government undoubtedly would be recognized by many Afro-Asiatic nations supporting the rebels. Any French cabinet which at present would mention internationalization would be overthrown in a minute. But the Sakiet bombing may have set into motion a process which the French cannot Open Door.

King Saud of oil—spouting Saudi Arabia is really the key man to the future of the Iraqi-Jordanian merger. He wouldn't join Kings Hussein and Faisal in the union of crowns proclaimed last week—but the 22-year-old cousin has not given up hope. The new constitution leaves the door open for Faisal of Iraq to step down as "senior king" if Saud can be persuaded to join. If he does, well over half of the Middle East's vast oil deposits would be "unified" under one loose but potent federation. As a power block it would win a loud voice in the East-West politics and oil economics.

Space Detarrent
Congressional scores in Washington say the United States plans to study the effects of nuclear explosions in outer space during the Pacific test series starting in April. The plan is to hurl at least two nuclear warheads into space above the atmosphere and detonate them there. The theory is that radiation from the bombs would travel unimpeded in space until they hit a target such as an intercontinental ballistic missile. On striking the target, these radiations would be converted into heat energy which might vaporize the missile.

Chinese Checkers
It will come as no surprise to Far Eastern experts if Red Chinese Premier Chou En-Lai should announce withdrawal of Communist Chinese troops from North Korea even if the United Nations forces remain in the South. The move would be good propaganda—but little more since the troops could be pulled back across the Yalu River where they could re-enter Korea in a few hours. INCIDENTALLY, though the Reds keep calling for the withdrawal of U. N. troops, there is some reason to believe they wouldn't be too happy if they did go. The Reds are said to feel the presence of the U. N. troops will keep President Syngman Rhee from ordering an attack on his own.

Big Switch
Look for the Los Angeles Dodgers and the Cleveland Indians to stir up the baseball trading marts once the spring training season opens on a full-scale basis next week. The Dodgers are desperate for a first string catcher to replace the injured Roy Campanella and are looking to Cincinnati for either Ed Bailey or Smokey Burgess. The Redjags are interested in big Don Newcombe. General Manager Frank Lane insists the Indians must strengthen their infield and he still is looking for a second baseman, offering one of his ace relief pitchers, Ray Narveski, as trade bait.

INVESTIGATE PILFERING
PISA, Italy (AP)—Four American soldiers were questioned today in connection with alleged widespread pilfering from the giant U. S. Camp Derby Army supply center near here. Army officials would release no details on the investigation. Italian police sources said most of the material stolen consisted of small parts from the automotive supply pool. Seven Italians, including employees of Camp Derby, have been detained and some have made confessions, police said.

State Prisons Hold 5,813 Convicts At End Of Last Month
TALLAHASSEE—(AP)—Florida prisons held 5,813 convicts at the end of January, it was announced by the state Department of Corrections.

Only 287 of the total were women. Reiford led the list of prisons with 2,349 inmates. Next came the Road Department work camps with 1,701. The others were: Glades state prison farm, 315; the women's prison at Lowell, 285; Apalachee Correctional at Chattahoochee, 341; Chattahoochee, construction camp, 226; Sunland Training Center at Gainesville, 70; Avon Park Prison, 473; and Chattahoochee Hospital for the insane, 444.

My New York

BY MEL HEIMER

NEW YORK—There is a temptation, when you have a man like Robert Ryan, pinned against a wall and unable to gracefully get away, to talk flights until the days and weeks slip by. Ryan, still as lean and hard-looking as when he was the national intercollegiate heavyweight champion, was in just such a position today in his 18th-floor suite at the Goddard, and the talk was as you might imagine.

"Personally," I said, "I don't think Louis could've gotten away from Dempsey. Dempsey would have swarmed over him and . . ."

"Ray Robinson is the best I ever saw," he said. "His could box and hit and he had guts and . . ."

"They underrate Marciano," I said. "Of course, I think Patterson would take him now, but . . ."

"Dempsey told me once he'd never been able to beat Tunney," he said. "Listen, did you ever see the movies of the time he beat Willard, when . . ."

It went like that. But Ryan, a gray and genial soul who is that rarity among actors, a man who doesn't want to direct or produce—Heck, there are too many good directors now, and besides, I have enough trouble with the job I do now—had other fish to fry. For one thing, his years of living in the San Fernando valley have left him feeling like a hick when he returns to New York, where once he was a struggling . . . well, "a struggling nothing."

"Wow," he said, shaking his head. "All the confusion and rioting here, I can't take it any more. They always seem to be tearing New York down whenever I get back here. And how do you get a cab these days, anyway?"

ROBERT FIRST BLEW INTO MANHATTAN back in the early Thirties when, armed with his Dartmouth diploma and a restless urge, but no specific ambition, he took up residence in the Village with two pals. His kept the wolf from the door by the simplest and best method. "They paid the rent," he said. "They just let me live there."

Ryan had a vague idea he wanted to be a newspaperman and he pounded on the doors of city rooms—but at this point in the depression, there must have been 5,000 unemployed reporters walking New York's streets. "That fact saved you from a fate worse than death," I commented morosely.

There was a little modeling, a little work as a delivery man and a four-month stretch as a wiper—"that's the janitor of the engine room"—on a ship to Africa, after which Robert headed home to Chicago and began acting for fun with an amateur theatrical group at the prompting of a girl friend.

Then Ryan went to Hollywood and fooled around for a year and came, at last, back to New York and a job in the east of Clash by Night after Talullah Bankhead had seen and been impressed by him in summer stock. After which, the movies snapped him up.

"I should have stayed on Broadway longer," he said, musingly.

"But I was married and I knew I was going into service soon—and I wanted a contract to return to when I got out." So Ryan became a Marine Corps drill instructor and spent the war telling young leathernecks how to handle their weapons. "I got restless as all get-out," he said, "but never got overseas."

CURRENTLY ROBERT RYAN is the star—and part owner—of a movie called God's Little Acre, from the Erskine Caldwell novel of a quarter-century ago. "It took 25 years to get it past the censor," he grinned. "They wouldn't even discuss it for years." However, he feels it has been made into a good film and he's especially taken by the performance of saloon comic Buddy Hackett in a wistful-comic role.

Robert still is interested in fights and is an armchair-manager like the rest of us, with the can of beer and the television going full blast. It's also interesting to note that of the 50 movies he's made, he likes best his performance in The Set-Up, a modestly successful production that won prize at the Cannes Film festival—in which he played a "tenth-rate club fighter."

"Only," he said modestly, "I'd never have made it as a pro. Boxing college was all right; nobody ever gets hurt there, anyway. Knocked my ears off." He may have been unduly modest. Bob Ryan still looks as if he could go six fast rounds.

CALHOUN, Ga. (AP)—Everyone on the mail route of S. C. King, 69, retiring after 47 years of service as a carrier, found something in his mailbox this week. Into each box King put this message: "To my old patrons as well as my new ones—I wish to take this method of telling you goodbye. The time has come when I will not visit you daily as heretofore, but please believe me when I say: I will never forget you."

Mrs. Volie Williams Jr. Is New Garden Club President

Mrs. Volie Williams Jr. was unanimously elected president of the Sanford Garden Club Thursday when the annual luncheon and general meeting was held in the ballroom of the Mayfair Inn.

Mrs. Williams will take over the reins of the club from Mrs. Fred Ganas who has ably served for the past two years. The slate of officers was accepted from a list prepared by Mrs. Charles Cole and the nominating committee. Others who will serve with Mrs. Williams are: Helen Winquist, vice-president, Mrs. D. H. Stathers, recording secretary, Mrs. James Trullit, corresponding secretary and Mrs. Ray Peck, treasurer.

Arrangements for the luncheon Thursday were made by Mrs. Frank Evans. The tables were centered with arrangements of citrus and greens, made by individual garden circles. A cash prize went to the Mrs. Gardner's Circle for the arrangement judges thought to be the best. The centerpiece was made by Mrs. Ruel Robinson and featured cactus with the fruit.

Mrs. Fred Ganas conducted the brief business meeting. During this time reports were given by several chairmen. Mrs. Blanton Owen, chairman of the Junior Garden Club, requested more cooperation from members who are working with school children, and also asked for additional members to help with the school garden therapy.

A motion was made and carried that the money from the sale of the Garden Club building be held until such time as a new building may be built or purchased.

Pat presidents were introduced by Mrs. Ganas. Present were Mrs. Charles Cole, Mrs. A. W. Epps Sr., Mrs. George Hardin, Mrs. George McCall, and Mrs. L. E. Spencer.

Mrs. George McCall played "When Day is Done" while Mrs. Cole read the list of those nominated for office. Mrs. Ganas quipped "But not for them."

Mrs. Ira J. Varnedoe of Jacksonville presented the program for the afternoon. Mrs. Varnedoe has many friends in Sanford, and has conducted two flower show schools here.

She chose as her topic, "Flower Arrangement With Special Emphasis on Design."

Many beautiful containers were used as Mrs. Varnedoe explained the basic principles of flower arranging. Using spring blooms and dried grasses, she quickly demonstrated how easy it is to fashion a thing of beauty when one knows how.

Several guests were presented with her works as they left.

Mental Health Association Hears Reports

The newly elected president of the Seminole County Mental Health Association, Mrs. B. E. Chapman, presented the membership with an agenda of progressive reports at the meeting held on Monday evening.

The Finance and Budget Committee report was given by Mr. Sidney Ives III. In the absence of the chairman George Touhy, included in the report was the amount received from the United Fund Campaign, in which the membership participated last year. The total received was $1150.

A Nominating Committee was elected and includes: Dr. Charles Persons, chairman; Mrs. Volie Williams, Miss Barbara Ruprecht, Mrs. Sue Stevenson and Mrs. R. L. Wilson. Mrs. C. L. Park Sr. was complimented on the efforts of the Nominating Committee of the preceding term, which she headed.

The library chairman of the Educational Committee, Mrs. Gustave Bamberger, reported that the list of books and booklets on the Mental Health shelf at the Library has been extended and she urged the organization to persuade others to make use of this material.

A Resolution was made and will be presented to the County Commissioners stating "that separate facilities of four rooms for white and colored mental cases be made available in the proposed addition to the jail."

It was announced by Dr. Terry Bird that the long awaited Mental Health Worker is expected shortly after April 1. Dr. Bird is presently making the necessary arrangements to accommodate him.

Mrs. Margaret Reynolds told the group that a study course on the "Growth of the Handicapped Child" would be given by Dr. Charles Hye. The course would be held on March 31st and April 1st. The time and place to be announced at a later date.

Senator Douglas Stenstrom enlightened the group with a brief resume of the accomplishments of the state government in the various phases of emotional problems and Mental Illness. The Association was encouraged and pleased with this progress.

J. Collins Wed To Naval Officer

The ceremony took place January 28 in the First Presbyterian Church in St. Mary's, Ga., with the Rev. Billy F. Woods officiating.

The bride was graduated from Seminole High School. The bridegroom is a graduate of Duke University and was a member of Kappa Alpha social fraternity.

Marilyn Monroe Orders Chemise

Marilyn Monroe has ordered several sack dresses for spring. But they're sacks designed to display her curves.

John Moore, the young designer who does most of the blonde Miss Monroe's special occasion dresses, said the actress already has been fitted for three chemises from the regular collection he does for the wholesale firm of Talmack, Inc. And others are on order.

"But she's buying some fitted clothes too," said the designer.

The sack, as done by JM for Miss Monroe, is a fitted, princess silhouette front, but completely free waistline at back.

"All the curves are still there," he said.

The chemise suits Miss Monroe, but one New York specialty store Benoit Teller doubts that it is for every woman.

It stated its "policy" in an ad this week. "We believe," it ran, that the chemise, as modified by our American designers who know the American woman, will be an important fashion... with us some time. But we believe that the chemise will not monopolize the fashion scene because there are other equally important fitted or semi-fitted clothes and we believe women should not permit themselves to be led astray by too much propaganda."

Conning The News

By VIRGINIA CONN, Society Editor

Gert Dingfelder and daughter, Margaret Corey, are staying in Gert's Grandview Ave. home. Margaret is in Sanford on her annual "get away from the winter" sojourn, with her young son, age 20 months. Her husband Arthur, expects to join her in the end of March. The Coreys live in Boston.

John King returned Wednesday night from a trip to Columbus, Ohio. He visited Hank and Mary Roller there. Hank and Mary are former Sanford residents, who now have a five month old son. John reports that prouder parents never existed. Hank was insistent that his boy could lick three year old Ronnie King (who is one of the toughest individuals one could meet) with all respect to Dodie and John.

Virginia Johnston gave a baby shower for Sandy Ortmann Tuesday night. Shortly after the party was over, Sandy went to the hospital and produced a fine son—her first.

Jane Milner and Ruth Murphy were the hostesses for a shower for Leta Peterson Wednesday. Another baby type. Leta did not perform the same trick that Sandy did. The shower was held in Winter Park.

Today's Sports Parade

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK — The man who didn't know how to quit finally has.

Gaunt, dark-haired Ed Furgol, the batter with one good arm for 13 years made a gallant run over the fairways of the world.

And the man they called "Wingy" proved his class and his courage in 1951 by winning the U. S. Open golf championship.

But at last the one good arm has gone bad, too.

No, nearing 41 and discouraged with his play, Ed has left the pro golf tour. He's looking for a club job and everybody in the game hopes he gets the good one he deserves.

Lost His Speed
"I'm like a pitcher who has lost his speed," Ed explains disconsolately. "In order to compensate for my left arm, I have to whip the club through fast. I've lost some club through fast."

A year ago, Furgol suffered a torn triceps muscle in his right arm. Then, to complicate matters, he developed calcium deposits in his right elbow.

It was the arm which always had done the work of two.

Far when Ed was a 12 year old, he fell in the school playground at his native Utica, N. Y., and shattered the left elbow. Repeated operations failed to help and the arm became rigid and withered.

Ed refused to sit on the sidelines. He played all the usual schoolboy sports, including football and baseball, and as a caddy early learned a love of golf and desire to play it with the best of them.

As an amateur, he went to Detroit and won medalist honors in the National Public Links championship and stayed there to work in an automobile factory.

Predicted Own Victory
As an amateur, he won 23 of the 88 events he entered and then in 1940 decided to take a crack at the pro tour. It wasn't easy.

Putting in the clubhouse just before the 1954 Open started at Baltusrol, Ed was asked who he picked to win it. Modestly usually dictates the naming of Ben Hogan, Sam Snead or some such.

"I like my own chances," Ed said quietly. "After that, it's wide open."

That tournament is, at least, one golden memory he has to take with him.

Because a couple of days later he stood on the final tee needing a par five to win, and parlayed the withered arm and fighting heart into victory. He hooked his drive into the woods, gambled by slicing the ball up an adjacent, unused fairway, chipped to the apron and ran it down in two to beat Gene Littler by one shot.

The years of superhuman effort have caught up to Ed at last, however. But those in golf hope he

Dandridge, Lundquist Named To OBC Team

By JERRY COVINGTON
Sanford Seminole Guards, Ray Lundquist and Cecil Dandridge were named to the All-OBC ten-player squad at the tournament held last week in Winter Garden.

Both lads have been the spark that has carried the Seminoles through their most successful season since 1957 season.

Dandridge, a junior, got off to a fast start this season as he quarterbacked the football squad through its most successful season.

Ray, the first sophomore in the school's history to be named to a conference team, will probably be called the most aggressive guard in the conference. He stands only 5 foot 6 inches but has proved himself capable to do any job on the floor. Although Ray has hit for a healthy total of points this season, he was probably chosen on the grounds of his defensive work.

Cecil, with another season remaining, and Ray, with two ahead could very well be the most outstanding basketballers in the school's history. Both are small lads but make the best of every inch.

Congratulations to both of these fine athletes in their achievements this cage season!

Kader Tourney Results Will Be Out Next Week
The results of the W. E. Kader Tournament sponsored by Kader Jewellers will be out early next week. Those players who work during the week have until Sunday to finish their rounds. The cold weather has certainly cut down the field. However, the brave ones who defied the elements Wednesday to play, were amused by the various colorful outfits which appeared.

They were obviously strictly for comfort and not for style.

The local tournament had a few hardy entrants.

The winners were A class—Jeanne Foulk with a 72. B class—Ruth Herron with a 69 and C class—Barbie Morrison with a 55. The three worst holes were thrown out and reverted to par with a full handicap. Aule Russell won low putts with 31.

Pairings are as follows:
1. Ellen Betts, Augusta Russell, Dot Powell, Fanchon McRoberts.
2. Helen Carraway, Virginia Sullivan, Lucille Heard.
3. Myrtle Adams, Hazel Durso, Peg Butts.
4. Muriel Scott, Mary Wheeler Jo McDaniel.

NCAA Tournament Set Next Month

By TIM MORIARTY
United Press Sports Writer
M Temple and Duke wind up as opponents in the NCAA basketball tournament next month—and it could happen in the Eastern regionals—the sparks should fly.

Both teams know how to score—and they also know how to throw a headlock on the opposition.

The Blue Devils used a zone defense when they got into trouble against Navy at Annapolis and rallied in the second half to down the Middies, 77-63, for their 10th straight victory.

Temple also had to resort to some slick defensive maneuvers against Wake Forest. "freezing" the ball for most of the final five minutes in turning back the Deacons, 61-60. It was the sixth-ranked Owl's 15th straight victory.

Middle Size Snak
Duke switched into a zone defense when it fell behind, 48-44, at the eight-minute mark of the second half. Almost before you could say James Naalath, the Blue Devils ripped off 18 straight points and the Middies were sunk.

Wake Forest wasn't considered in the same league with Temple but gave the Owl a scare by pulling to within five points of the lead with three minutes left. That's when the Philadelphians adopted their "deep freeze" tactic and they successfully fought off Wake Forest behind the deft ball-handling of Guy Rodgers.

Villanova, La Salle, Boston College and Bowling Green strengthen their bids for berths in the National Invitation Tournament by posting easy victories.

John Scott scored 19 points and Tom Brennan added 17 in leading Villanova to a 73-61 victory over Pennsylvania; La Salle turned back Scranton, 86-60, despite a 20-point barrage by the losers' Ed Kazakovich; Bowling Green defeated Kent State, 83-45, and Boston College ripped Suffolk, 73-50.

Fit Wars Up
Pittsburgh, warming up for its appearance in the NCAA title chase, knocked off Carnegie Tech, 73-54. Niagara, an early NIT nominee, registered an easy 76-66 triumph over the Quantic Marines.

Undeclared Southwest Missouri State earned a berth in the NCAA Small College Tournament by whipping the Missouri School of Mines, 96-70, for its 19th straight victory. Steubenville College made St. Francis Pa. its 22nd straight victim, 66-48, and Kentucky Wesleyan upset Louisville, 83-69.

Eight Baylor, the nation's leading scorer, faces easy pickin's again tonight when he leads Seattle against Montana State. Notre Dame plays NYU in its annual visit to Madison Square Garden while St. John's entertains St. Louis.

The Winter Park Wildcats took a commanding lead at the half and were never threatened as they rolled to a 71-34 victory over the Sanford Seminoles here Tuesday night. This was the third victory in as many starts over the Seminoles but this was the first contest that the Parkers had, virtually, an easy time with the changeable Seminoles.

Big Bob Wacker was the big factor in the Parkers victory as he cleared the boards of practically everything and dropped in 19 points for the winners. He showed the stylish form that has won him his all-OBC honor.

All-OBC guard, Cecil Dandridge paced the losers with a 18 point total. Dandridge hit five field goals and three free throws to run up his impressive total. Cecil has been the big gun in many of the recent contests and continues to show the form that got him the conference honors.

Forward, Bruce McCoy followed Dandridge in the Seminoles scoring department with four field goals and a total of eight points. Bruce did a fine job on the boards and was helped under the basket by Joe High and Mike Tammy.

White Elephant Tournament, Steak Fry Rescheduled Mar. 2

National League Reveals Official 1958 Schedule

CINCINNATI — After one false start, the National League announced its official 1958 schedule including Los Angeles and San Francisco for the first time in history and an all-time record total of 274 night games.

National League officials originally had planned to announce their schedule on Jan. 24, but they had to go to work and draw up a new one when several of the Dodger dates conflicted with other events previously slated for their Memorial Coliseum ball park in Los Angeles.

The Dodgers ironed out their difficulties by scheduling four two-night doubleheaders at home. All National League clubs will appear on the West Coast by April 29 with the exception of the world champion Milwaukee Braves and Cincinnati Redlegs, who make their first official visit to California on June 3. Milwaukee, Cincinnati, Pittsburgh and Philadelphia now constitute the Eastern Division of the league.

This year's night game total represents an increase of 13 over the 261 scheduled last year, which was the previous National League high.

The Philadelphia Phillies are slated to play the most night games at home, 47, an increase of four over last year.

Pittsburgh made the biggest increase in its night game schedule, going from 27 a year ago to 33. The Cubs will continue their policy of no night ball at home.

The Pirates are scheduled for the most doubleheaders at home—11. The Dodgers will play seven Ladies who do not have "golfing" husbands may choose a partner or contact Mrs. Bill Foulk, FA2-4594. Single golfers choose own partner or contact Mrs. Foulk. Members of the Mayfair Country Club are invited, too.

It seems wish to attend the steak fry, they are asked to bring own steak. A charge of $1 for "fixin's" furnished by the Mayfair Club will be made. Contact Helen Andrews, FA2-2888 to make a reservation.

All contestants may arrange own fourcourses and starting times. Please register for this tournament with Mrs. Foulk, tournament chairman.

"Come on out all you golfers—everyone wins a prize," said a member today.

Vandermeer Will Manage Palatka Again This Year
ORLANDO — Former major league pitching star Johnny Vandermeer has agreed to manage Palatka of the Florida State League again this season.

Vandermeer signed his contract Wednesday, leaving all seven teams in the Class D League with managers.

League President Julian Jackson also announced that he expects to choose the eighth city in the league in the near future. Under consideration are three cities, he said. Definitely out of the running for the new franchise are Ocala, Leesburg, Sanford, Bradenton, Sarasota, and Clearwater.

In addition to the Giants-Dodgers inaugural on April 15, other opening day pairings call for Philadelphia at Cincinnati; Pittsburgh at Milwaukee, and Chicago at St. Louis in a night game.

The annual All-Star game will be played at Baltimore, July 8, and the National League season winds up Sept. 28.

'Seven Hills Of Rome' Starts Sunday At Ritz

Mario Lanza, whose voice has thrilled millions of moviegoers, concert audiences and record fans, plays his newest film role in "Seven Hills of Rome," a love story with songs, photographed in Technicolor against backgrounds in Rome.

Co-starring are Rome's top comedian, Renato Rascel, and the popular beauty, Maria Allosio, with American Peggie Castle heading a large supporting cast. A Le Cloud Production for M-G-M, the picture was produced by Lester Welch and was directed by Roy Rowland from a screen play by Art Cohn and Giorgio Prosperi.

With Lanza as its star, "Seven Hills of Rome" naturally abounds with music, and it is not only operatic but also includes an Italian version of Calypso and rock'n'roll. Among his songs are "M'Appari" from the opera "Martha," "Quella O Quella" from the first act of "Rigoletto," "All the Things You Are," "Come Dance With Me," "Calypso Italiano," "Lolita," "Ay, Ay, Ay," "Seven Hills of Rome" and "Arrividerci Roma." The last named, one of Italy's most popular songs, was written by Renato Rascel, who thus achieves a double fame in the film as actor and composer.

What will surprise audiences most is a sequence in which Lanza proves himself a remarkable imitator. In the scene he offers imitations of Perry Como singing "Temptation," Dean Martin singing "Memories Were Made of This," Frankie Laine singing "Jambalaya" and Louis Armstrong singing "When the Saints Come Marching In."

"Seven Hills of Rome" offers a tourist feast in its scenes shot in Rome not only amid such well-known places as the Forum, Colosseum, Campidoglio, Piazza Navona and St. Peter's Square, but also in its lesser known alleys and streets and cafes. A breathtaking panorama of the Eternal City is shown in a sequence in which the stars are given a trip in a helicopter, and Producer Lester Welch achieved a precedent for movies when he received permission of the Vatican to film a scene in a section of Vatican City.

The story casts Lanza as Marc Revere, a successful American singer of Italian descent, who leaves the United States following a quarrel with his fiancée, Carol (Peggie Castle), during a television broadcast. When the quarrel costs him his job, he determines to resume his singing career in Italy and on the way from Monte Carlo to Rome rescues the pretty Italian girl, Raffaella (Maria Allosio), who has lost her purse and is about to be put off the train. They find refuge with Marc's cousin, Pepe (Renato Rascel), pianist in a Rome cafe.

After fruitless interviews with night club owners, Marc discovers that no one knows of him and that he cannot get a singing job. But after a number of dramatic conflicts, a temporary reconciliation with Carol, a night club brawl, and an act upon the part of Raffaella which opens Marc's eyes to her love for him, all ends joyfully with the hero assured of both singing and romantic happiness.

INTERVENTION CHARGED

RABAT, Morocco—The irregular Moroccan "Army of Liberation" charged today that American-made airplanes of the French Air Force have intervened in the sporadic fighting between the liberation army and defenders of Spanish-held territories in the Sahara. A communique published by Al Alam, organ of the ruling Istiqlal Party, said that 40 such planes took part in fighting Feb. 11 at Segoukia el Hamra, and that 15 "borrowed" planes took part in fighting "last week" in the Spanish West African enclave of Ifni.

RAW GASOLINE SQUEEZED

BATON ROUGE, La.—A manufacturing firm announced Monday it has developed a device to obtain raw gasoline from a stream of natural gas. It said the process should make "millions of dollars" for gas producers. The Delta Tank Manufacturing Co. Inc., said its device demonstrated its ability to "squeeze out raw gasoline" in tests conducted recently in Texas.

Income Tax Tips

Society of Public Accountants

Did you receive any benefits for accident or sickness, or were your wages continued for the period that you were off work because of sickness or accident? If so, the amount you received because of accident or sickness, if received from an insurance company where you paid the premiums either directly or through payroll deductions, is not taxable income. The amount you received because of accident or sickness where your employer paid the premiums to the insurance company, or where your employer himself paid your wages while you were off sick, is not taxable income up to the first $100 per week you received after the first seven days you were off. If you were in a hospital for any day while you were off sick, then no part of the amount you received, under $100 per week, is taxable. If you were off because of personal injuries, then the seven day waiting period does not apply.

If you have received over $100 per week, the excess over $100 per week is taxable income to you, but only if you did not pay the premiums to the insurance company, or if your employer is simply continuing your wages. If you paid the premiums on the insurance yourself directly, or by having them withheld from your paychecks, then so part of any amount that you receive as sickness or accident benefits is taxable income.

If you receive medical expense reimbursement, then you cannot deduct as medical expenses the bills that were reimbursed.

If you deduct medical bills in a prior year, and this year receive reimbursement for them, then you should include in your income the reimbursement, but only if the deduction in a prior year gave you a tax benefit.

Where your W-8 slip includes payments to you which are not taxable because they are benefits for sickness or accident, or are wages paid while you were off work due to sickness or accident, as above, you enter the total amount of your wages on line five of the tax return.

Then deduct the tax free amount on line 6 (b).

Be sure to attach a detailed statement to your tax return showing how you figured this. When you were off-what happened. If you were in the hospital, etc.

The Internal Revenue Service and use it.

Collins Encouraged By Public Airing Of Assessment Plan

TALLAHASSEE (UP)—Gov. LeRoy Collins said today he was encouraged by the public airing of his drive for "full cash value" real estate tax assessments.

"I am encouraged and feel that I am on the right track," the governor told his weekly press conference.

Collins met with legislators, tax assessors and the public Monday and explained his views on increasing property taxes. Some legislators were openly hostile and others just lukewarm.

Collins said he merely made it clear he would uphold the law and also seek a definition of what "full cash value" means.

"I didn't find a protest to either plan," he said.

"The fact there was no more antagonism expressed than was expressed was quite encouraging to me. I think you are always on the right track when you follow the law, and that's all I want to do in this matter."

He said since there was a general movement in the state for full value assessment, the people will realize they will be treated more fairly than they are now under the present "hodge-podge" system.

Collins said it was not an objective of the program to put property on the tax rolls now because of the homestead exemption.

"That's not an objective," he said, "but it could be said to be a consequence."

He said that homesteaded property is now being assessed near full cash value than other property.

"Some people will pay taxes who are not now paying," he said. "But I still say that homestead owners will get indirect benefits under the program they are not now getting."

Asked whether he would be in favor of jacking the homestead exemptions up to $10,000, Collins said he didn't want to make any definite commitment at this time.

"Maybe after we get a full cash value assessment," he said.

Collins said he didn't know what progress was being made toward finding a definition of "full cash value." He said studies were being made by assessors, the comptroller's office and the Public Administration School at Florida State University.

The governor said a proposal to put a constitutional limit on millage "has some merit" and should be given study. But he said such a plan should follow a fair assessment.

Collins emphasized that the program was not designed to put more property on the tax rolls, but to be fair to all taxpayers.

Lili St. Cyr Says Hemmed In In New Movie

HOLLYWOOD

By VERNON SCOTT

United Press Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD — Strip-teaser Lili St. Cyr makes her second screen appearance in a movie fittingly titled "The Naked and the Dead," but the burlesque queen plays neither half of the title.

Most girls would be delighted with a shot at a role in a top-flight picture, but Lili complains she is hemmed in.

"They've been pretty stuffy about my costumes," she pouted. "I play an exotic dancer—that's a nice expression for strip-teaser—and I'm supposed to peel down to the bare essentials. Instead they've got me wearing an outfit that looks like a bath suit. And I just hate bathing suits."

Four herself some beer

The willow blonde moved to the bar of her Hollywood Hills home to pour herself a beer—in a champagne glass.

"I like to live gracefully," she explained, sipping the beer.

"Censorship is holding back progress," she said. "It always has. That's one reason why burlesque is dying out—just like vaudeville did."

"I've quit the strip circuit and only work in Las Vegas 10 weeks a year. Strip-teasing is washed up because the caliber of the product isn't what it ought to be. There's too little imagination. Nowadays girls just walk out on the stage and take off their clothes."

Red China's Army Is Making Bids To Better Relations

By WENDELL S. MERICK

United Press Staff Correspondent

HONG KONG (UP)—Red China's army is making another bid to improve relations with the civilian population.

The first step was to order army units to grow their own pork and vegetables.

The latter is an order under which virtually all private homes requisitioned from civilians will be returned. This decision came at the all-army barracks control work conference in Peiping.

Get "Eviction" Orders

The conference, according to the Communist New China News Agency, "Decided that excepting the Marine defense units, frontier defense units, anti-aircraft units, Railway Corps and the National Defense Engineering Corps which really need private homes and could continue to rent and use them, all PLA People's Liberation Army units should as from March this year, cease renting private houses they have already rented."

The requisitioning of private homes, along with the food problem, has angered farmers and city-dwellers for months along the coastal areas, especially in Kwangtung Province in the south and Fujian Province on the East Coast facing Nationalist Formosa, where the Reds found it necessary to take over private homes to house troops.

Apparently Fukien, which is regarded by the Chinese as a top-security area, won't be much affected by the new order.

But in inland regions, the army will have barracks for itself to live in, as well as produce much of its own food.

Know The People

It is all part of Peiping's campaign for the army "to get to know the people."

NCCA pointed out the extensive nature of the requisitioning in reporting the Peiping Conference held in January. It said that "last year alone, various units returned a total of 74,200 houses" to the original owners.

Judging from the fact that a new, wide-sweeping order has gone out to turn back housing, it can be figured that the number of dwellings still held by the army is far greater than the number already returned.

THE CARD OF THANKS
 Very often a Card of Thanks in The Sanford Herald meets a need which is difficult to fill in any other way. Not only is it a gracious expression of gratitude to those who have sent floral tributes but also courteously acknowledges the services and kindnesses of the many to whom a personal note of thanks cannot well be mailed.
 Newspaper Cards of Thanks are accepted as socially correct. Emily Post, the noted authority on etiquette, feels they serve many good uses.
 There is no prescribed form for a Card of Thanks. It can be as brief or as detailed as you desire. When the occasion comes you will find a sympathetically understanding member of our staff to assist you.
THE "IN MEMORIAM" NOTICE
 It is the custom of many families in this country to commemorate a bereavement by an "In Memoriam" notice in newspaper classified columns. They find a real solace therein. Preparation of selections of a suitable verse brings back to the tender, pleasant recollections. As Eliza Cook, the English poet has so beautifully expressed it:
 "How cruelly sweet are the echoes
 That start
 What memory plays an old tune
 On the heart."
 Most frequently an In Memoriam is inserted on the anniversary of death. However, other dates, which it is felt are appropriate or meaningful are also selected. The birthday of the departed, the wedding anniversary, Memorial Day, even Christmas are among other significant occasions chosen.
 If you are hesitant to express your tender thoughts in poetic form, you may avail yourself of the Herald's collection of original verses. These express in poetic beauty the emotions of the heart-strings. Among them are verses appropriate in any circumstance.
THE RATE
 Cards of Thanks and In Memoriam notices, due to the fact they may run to considerable length, are billed at $1.00 per column inch.

Canal Objections Raised By Fish, Wildlife People Removed

"Every objection raised by the fish and wildlife people has been removed from the project," Col. Herbert Gee, of the engineering firm of Gee and Jensen of West Palm Beach, said as he prepared to present a pre-arranged report before the Rivers and Harbors Board in Washington at a meeting of a waterways committee held at the Mayfair Inn Friday.

Also, said Col. Gee, the Sanford-Titusville Canal will not discharge any water into the Indian River as wording of the preamble was discussed by the eight waterways leaders.

Meeting Friday at the Mayfair Inn with John Krider, chairman of the committee, were A. W. Lee, Sanford; R. Malcolm Fortson, Jacksonville; Lester Bush, Palatka; R. W. Bradbury, Gainesville; Earl Brown, DeLand; and George Gibbs, Jacksonville.

Gibbs, Jacksonville shipbuilding company owner and world traveler, and an outspoken enthusiast of the Sanford-Titusville Canal, said as he spoke of the St. Johns River,

"They have made this thing big enough to take care of the Mississippi but they won't give us one bit of credit," and he emphasized that "Florida has far greater use on inland waterways and lakes than any other section of the country—nearly three times greater."

Committee members agreed that "We must have support of our Senators in order to make this appeal successful."

Dr. R. W. Bradbury, a consultant from the College of Administration, University of Florida, pointed out that "the outboard has been forgotten entirely by the engineers."

Gibbs stated that "the presence of boats today is probably 30 times greater than a few years ago and now is 'pooled' at by the engineers. The outboard has become the automobile of families because of a new thing that has been invented."

Dr. Bradbury told the committee "The engineers do not give benefits because the boat can be put on a trailer."

Admiral Fortson emphasized that the proposed canal would have a 64-mile ton benefit when compared to other proposed waterways.

opportunity to use them."

"The original report," said Col. Gee, "avoided reaching out for new benefits."

Earl Brown stated "With the move of industry and plants to the south do they assume that some of them will affect water?"

"Or," said Lester Bush of Palatka, "Do they say anything about a steel mill possibility which has been predicted?"

Admiral Fortson emphasized that the proposed canal would have a 64-mile ton benefit when compared to other proposed waterways.

To this Col. Gee stated that the Sanford-Titusville Canal is but an extension of the Cross State Barge Canal.

Col. Gee explained to the committee planning the presentation before the Rivers and Harbors Board that other industries will find sites along the waterway. The experience of the United States will be repeated in Florida, but no monetary benefit is estimated.

"For instance," Col. Gee commented "there will be movement of roll-on roll-off cargo on each barge bringing oil to Sanford. With the addition of another deck this movement will be expected from the terminal expected to be built at Sanford."

"The major commerce of Florida," said Earl Brown of DeLand, "is within 40 miles of Sanford and the major portion of canned goods is produced in Florida."

Commented George Gibbs, "It has been said about permits. It has been said: 'perry value along the 3 would increase 25 times.'"

However, Dr. Bradbury said the committee that "as a national policy, have real estate enhancement won't be allowed."

"It makes me sick to hear our Senator say," stated Gibbs, "I got $10-million for waterways when in the same release $400-million went to the Mississippi Valley and $300-million to the Pacific Coast where Florida has more waterways responsibilities than any other state."

The meeting held Friday to hear the initial report of plans for a presentation before the Rivers and Harbors was one of two before the hearing set during the latter part of April this year.

Weather
Partly cloudy through Tuesday.
Continued mild; low 56 to 64.

Whiteside Tells Probers Ousted Counsel Liar

A. W. "Woody" WEBBER
Speaker Says Public Relations Must Be Based On Sincerity

WASHINGTON (UP)—Thurman A. Whiteside, a Miami, Fla., attorney, told House investigators today they ousted counsel, Bernard Schwartz, is "an unmitigated liar."

He said Schwartz bore "false witness" in accusing him of "paying off" Richard A. Mack, a Federal Communications Commission member, for Mack's vote in the FCC's award of a lucrative Miami channel to National Airlines.

Schwartz, Whiteside said "knew that he spoke a falsehood."

"He bears false witness and is an unmitigated liar."

Whiteside, a heavy-set man wearing a dark blue suit and blue tie, testified under oath before the House subcommittee on legislative oversight.

He said Schwartz knew he was giving perjured testimony when he told the subcommittee 10 days ago Whiteside paid Mack at least $500 as a "payoff" in the Miami TV case.

Schwartz, he said, had information in his possession at the time which showed that the money was only a loan, that it was part of $7,500 he had loaned to Mack, a college classmate, at various times since April 26, 1950.

Mack said the total included a $1,000 loan on March 22, 1955, three months before Mack became a member of the FCC.

Schwartz had testified in connection with this amount that he did not know whether Whiteside and Mack had a "pre-arrangement" on the TV case.

Mack voted to give the channel to a National Airlines subsidiary when the FCC overturned its own field examiners' recommendation that the channel be awarded to Col. A. Frank Katzenine, a Miami radio station owner.

Whiteside also denied as "untrue" Schwartz's statement that he (Whiteside) was "employed" by National Airlines.

"Schwartz knew it was untrue prior to the time he testified," Whiteside said.

The Miami attorney told the subcommittee he had been watching the proceedings for a solid week and "I've wondered who is on trial here."

Subcommittee Chairman Otis Harris (D-Ark) said "no one is on trial."

Find Out The Facts
"This is not a trial," Harris said. "It is not our purpose to find anyone guilty or innocent. Our purpose is to find out the facts and let the people know what the facts are."

Whiteside was expected to be questioned for two or three days. Mack may testify on Thursday.

Harris, using reports that Mack was under pressure to resign, said any attempt by the White House to force him out of the FCC would constitute "interference" with the subcommittee's investigation.

Citizens Asked To Watch For Missing Loaded Gun

A Negro man was in critical condition Saturday night when he was shot by his "best friend" at a colored night spot on 18th St.

Leroy Tillman was taken to Seminoles Memorial Hospital with a gunshot wound believed to be "just under his heart."

Sheriff J. L. Hobby said this morning that Lewis Platt, 36-year-old Negro is being held in the Seminole County Jail pending the outcome of Tillman's condition.

Attaches at the local hospital could not be reached this morning to determine Tillman's condition.

Tillman told Deputy Sheriff W. L. Long, Saturday night, that "Platt shot me." According to the deputy's investigation, "there was an argument between the two men."

"They had been raised together and had been lifelong friends."

"We are attempting to get all the information we can get," Deputy Sheriff James Singletary said this morning.

Platt, according to Sheriff Hobby, left the scene of the shooting which took place near midnight Saturday. He ran through Goldboro, and downtown Sanford. According to the sheriff, Platt was taken into custody by Patrolman Herman Harriett of the Sanford Police Department and turned over later to Deputy Sheriff Singletary and Constable J. Q. "Slim" Galloway.

The 36-year-old Negro admits having the gun and to having fired it. But he told Sheriff's deputies and the Constable that "I got rid of the gun when I put it in a flower box."

"We're searching for the gun," said Deputy Sheriff Singletary. "and we want to be sure that everybody looks for the gun in flower boxes."

Singletary explained that the gun is a dangerous weapon and that it is loaded. The 33 automatic, said Singletary, will fire if the trigger is just touched by some child.

"We urge people of the entire area of Goldboro and possibly down Park Ave. to search their flower boxes for the weapon and call the Sheriff's office if it is found."

Morrison To Give 'Notorious' Quiz For Kiwanians
History repeats itself at the Sanford Kiwanis Club luncheon meeting Wednesday at the Yacht Club when Charlie Morrison, Sanford's "Goodwill Ambassador" entertains with another of his "notorious" quiz programs.

Charlie Morrison gave his first quiz program in Sanford at the Sanford Kiwanis Club 18 years ago and he said this morning "I'll have another of the 'notorious' programs with something new added."

More than likely the program will contain a little humor, some history, a few modern facts, and something strange from the past, according to the local man who will conduct the program.

31 Building Permits Issued Here Last Week

The issuing of building permits by the Seminole County Zoning Commission continues at an unprecedented rate.

During the week ending Feb. 21 said Zoning Commission Director Robert S. Brown, 31 permits were issued at a value estimated at $209,350. Revenue for the office, said Brown, was $237.

Slater Released Under $500 Bond

Tally D. "Ted" Slater had been released from the Seminole County Jail under a $500 bond after being charged Saturday night with "possession of moonshine whiskey."

Clogged Heater Causes Excitement At Jr. High School

A clogged heater caused momentary anxiety Friday when oil seeped onto the floor at the former "little red school house," now a Junior High School.

Students had just returned from lunch at the Sanford Junior High when Principal John Angel discovered the heater. The students were sent back to the Junior High School, and the Sanford Fire Department notified. Nothing was damaged except the heater, which has been replaced.

At the scene were Hugh Carlton, principal of the Sanford Junior High School, Stuart Gatchel, supervisor of secondary education, and Walter Teague, administrative assistant of County Schools.

Gatchel remarked "This could have happened in anyone's home. There is no cause for alarm."

Two fire engines were sent to the scene by the Sanford Fire Department.

THE CONOVER TROPHY WAS AWARDED TO VAH-5 at ceremonies conducted at the Sanford Naval Air Station Friday morning. Capt. J. R. Reedy presented the silver trophy to Cdr. J. M. Tully Jr. Other trophies were awarded to VAH-11 for the best bombing crew. Above photos show scenes from the presentation. Visitors watched the event from a special section. ## 207 'Old Folks' Enjoy Pioneer Night

Saturday night was the big night in Seminole County for the "Old Folks."

The 33rd Annual Pioneer Night was staged in Lake Mary by Frank Evans, originator of the yearly get-together of the folks over 60. This annual celebration has become a tradition in Seminole County and is looked forward to with much enthusiasm. All residents of Lake Mary join hands in promoting Pioneer Night so that it will be a night long remembered by the "old folks" of this area.

Carroll Burke, an associate in the law office of Representative Mack N. Cleveland Jr., related to the honored guests how pleased he was "to be a part of this area." He affirmed his belief in the ability of this area to grow and stated "the people here are a friendly group."

S. J. Davis, a former F.B.I. agent and now a law partner of Senator Douglas Stanstrom, told the group that "under the Constitution there are certain rights we desire to preserve and it is the responsibility of the pioneers to see that it is done."

Professor Simon Nath, formerly of Southern Union College, Wadley, Ala., made remarks on "The Frank Evans I knew as an employer 26 years ago."

The Seminole High School Triple Trio under the direction of Miss Ollie Reese Whittle sang "Blue Moon," "If I Loved You," and "Whispering," accompanied by Kay Ivey, Teddy Walker and Pat Donahoe sang "Dear One."

The Deanna School of Dance presented Wanda Mixon, Daryl and Debbie McLain, Jay and Sonya Wester and Jana Howard in several dance numbers.

The Rev. W. E. Timms, assisted by Daryl McLain, brought ohs and ahs from the crowd with his tricks of magic.

Sheriff J. L. Hobby presented Mrs. T. O. Tyner a white orchid for having been married the longest. Mr. and Mrs. Tyner have been married 61 years.

The latest man present was Dr. (Continued on Page 8)

VAH-7 Det. 36 Returns Sunday

The first contingent of VAH-7's Detachment 36 arrived yesterday afternoon at the Sanford Naval Air Station after nearly 9 months of duty outside the continental United States.

Returning to NAS yesterday were the five A-1J's and their crews headed by the Detachment Commander, Cdr. H. M. Cummins.

On hand to greet the approximately 30 officers and men were the wives and families who anxiously awaited the arrival of the group.

The VAH-7 plane came in formation and swept past the NAS group in the city and settling down on the runways.

Cdr. Cummins' plane lead the five planes into the hangar area as if "they were marching in."

"Here they come!" was heard shortly before 1:30 and the entire group became a happy crowd waiting for the crews to stop their planes within shouting distance of those alongside the hangar area.

First man aboard the station was Cdr. H. M. Cummins. Mrs. Cummins and the two children, Paul, 10, and Jane 4, were on hand to greet the Officer-in-Charge of Detachment 36.

Also on hand, waiting nervously for another member of Cdr. Cummins plane crew, was Mrs. Charles Winship and a 4-month old daughter. The Third Crewman, ADJ Charles Winship had never seen his daughter, Barbara Jean. This was one of the happiest reunions of the Detachment's return.

The Detachment consisted of nearly 100 officers and men who were deployed early in June of last year for duty aboard the U. S. S. Randolph in the Mediterranean area with the Sixth Fleet.

A small Detachment of the nearly 100 personnel was stationed in Port Lyautey to service the squadron's planes.

The "Mousquetaires," as they are known aboard the Sanford Naval Air Station will be greeted in downtown Sanford with a huge sign bearing "Welcome Home VAH-7 Detachment 36." A similar sign appears over the station's Ship Service on the main street of NAS, Sanford.
