Rumanian Permission Sought For Passage Of Russian Troops

Litvinoff And Comnen Plan Military Movements To Aid Czechs In Event Of Strife

Czech - German Breach Widens

Hittler So Engrossed He Fails To Make Scheduled Address

By Associated Press
Passage of Soviet Russian troops through Rumania to Czechoslovakia in the event of war was authoritatively reported to have been the subject of a conference at Geneva today between Foreign Ministers Maxim Litvinoff of Russia and Petrescu comen of Rumania.

Hittler himself was so engrossed in the crisis he failed to deliver a scheduled address to a women's auxiliary rally at the tenth annual Nazi party congress at Nuremberg.

Sharpning tempers in Germany and Czechoslovakia today widened the gulf over the Sudeten German issue which is troubling the peace of Europe.

High Nazis, in defiant mood, predicted Adolf Hitler would demand—and get—a plebescite for 3,500,000 Sudeten Germans of Czechoslovakia whose demands for autonomy he backs.

In Prague, Premier Milan Hodza of Czechoslovakia was flooded with telegrams urging that no further concessions be made to the Sudeten.

Signs of growing public clamor in London for an unmistakable warning to Germany to take no step that might drag Europe into war weighed on British cabinet deliberations.

France pressed Britain to follow her example of war preparedness. One source said the reason was that British diplomacy had failed to convince Germany that Britain would fight if Czechoslovakia were invaded.

Germany's anti-communist allies—Italy and Japan—rallied to her support. The Nasal view was that a plebescite would give the British an opportunity to "have face" over the failure of unofficial British mediation. Hitler has rejected all Czechoslovak offers of conciliation.

In Spain, the government reported it had re-occupied positions in the Caballeros mountains captured this week by the insurgents. In China, re-organized Chinese units said they had halted Japanese advances toward Hankow, the provisional Chinese capital.

Italian Warning
Italy, siding with Germany, advised Czechoslovakia semi-officially last night to heed the autonomy demands of her German minority.

The Italian position was outlined to information diplomatic. Diplomatic's attribute to it the importance of a government communiqué.

A round table discussion will be held at the close of the meeting, covering preparation of applications, financial arrangements and local activities.

Mr. Simpson announced that the first meeting of the newly appointed Merchants Committee of the Chamber of Commerce will be held in the Chamber building this evening at 7:30 o'clock.

DETROIT, Sept. 9.—(AP)—A peace parley between the United Automobile Workers and the Committee for Industrial Organization was deadlocked last night, a reliable source said, with the possibility that negotiations would collapse.

Complimenting Mrs. Moffett on the manner in which she has carried out her duties, James A. Logan of Geneva declared "I doubt whether there is another treasurer, report of any club in the United States that is so splendidly rendered, and I move that Mrs. Moffett be given a vote of thanks."

FDR To Limit Purge To Men Already Hit

Roosevelt Will Not Oppose Lonergan; Hoover To Discuss New Deal In Talks

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—(AP)—The New York Times said in a special dispatch from Hyde Park that "President Roosevelt's purge of the party conservatives and anti-New Deal Democrats will be limited to the present to the few candidates he has already marked for opposition in the primaries, it was indicated today after a conference between the Chief Executive and Attorney General Cummings".

The Times also said it was understood there would be no attempt by Roosevelt forces to dislodge Senator Lonergan at the Connecticut State Democratic Convention despite his record of opposition to New Deal measures.

PROVO, UTAH, Sept. 9.—(AP)—America may find the New Deal more sedate than liberal, Herbert Hoover declared as he traveled East by train to deliver three of three speeches.

Hoover said he would make three speeches at Kansas City, Oct. 28, Hartford, Conn., Oct. 29 and Spokane, Wash., Nov. 4 or 5, in which he would discuss the New Deal.

The youthful prosecutor filed a four page memorandum with Justice Pecora charging it was perfectly legal to merge charges of conspiracy with charges of defrauding the old Dutch Schultz death racketeers had ended with the death of Schultz in October 1935, and was outside the year statute of limitations for misfeasance.

Yesterday Justice Pecora bluntly told Dewey he would require more than citations of cases in other states to overthrow the decision in New York state.

Asked whether he had anything further to say, Dewey told Pecora that if the court doubted the continuance of the conspiracy in 1936 it was the duty of the court to permit the prosecution to re-open its case.

Pecora retorted that he would do so in inclined if the prosecution witnesses had better reputations for veracity than those already presented by the state.

In seeking the dismissal of the indictment, the defense laid its heaviest barrage against the character of the shady underworlds whom Dewey placed on the witness stand to link with testimony, the Tammany district leader v. the old Dutch Schultz death racketeers he is accused of having protected for pay.

Construction In Lake Mary Shows Upturn

26 Homes Have Been Built Or Extensively Remodeled In Past Two Years

Excellent Winter Season Expected

Store Owner Reports Increase In Business Over Last Year

New construction and remodeling in Lake Mary have reached unprecedented proportions, a Herald reporter learned on a visit to one of Seminole County's lead residential communities.

In the past two years, the cold winter reported, no less than 26 homes have been extensively remodeled or newly built in addition to a dozen or more houses on the Seminole County Hospital grounds.

MILDRED GAYDON IS ABSOLVED OF BLAME IN DEATH OF COUNT

JURY HOLDS CRASH OF GIRL'S AUTO AS UNAVOIDABLE ACCIDENT

The extent of the building program can be seen in the fact that the last 12 months gave birth to more than 200 new homes, and that in the last two years, no less than 100 families from Sanford have constructed homes on the shores of Lake Mary, many lakes.

Pointing out that the business recession had not affected his business, Alceo Shurman, operator of the G. and S. grocery in Lake Mary, declared he had done more volume of trade this summer than last summer.

He also expressed optimism over the prospect of a substantial increase during the winter season.

Pointing out that there are no homes in Lake Mary available for rent, Mr. Douglass expressed a belief that the city would be the center of additional construction throughout next year. There are a few homes vacant in Lake Mary at present but Mr. Douglass said that the would be occupied by the winter visitors who have already begun their annual trek southward.

Further reflecting improvements in condition in Lake Mary, Mr. Douglass, who is in charge of the post office, pointed out that post office records have just listed less than 500 during the past three years.

Lake Mary's excellent water supply was said to be one of the town's most valuable assets, and he pointed out that a recent test of the water supply revealed that the water comes from one of the purest states of water in the state.

Lake Mary residents also declared that there is a stronger feeling of cooperation and good will existing in Lake Mary than in any other town in the county.

"Those of us who are not Yankees are crackers," it was said, and you get along together just fine."

Several families who usually spend only the winter months in Lake Mary have remained through the summer and despite the unusually warm weather have characterized the summer weather here as pleasant.

Commenting on the cool nights, Mr. and Mrs. Weston of Massachusetts who have a home on the shores of Lake Mary, declared that the nights are even cooler than in many of the northern states during the summer. This is Mr. and Mrs. Weston's first summer in Florida, although they have spent many winters here.

The Lake Mary School opened for its 1938 term last Monday and C. W. Tabb, principal of the school, stated that he anticipates an increase of approximately 10 percent in the school's enrollment.

Mr. Tabb said that he ex-

Mr. Rawson will name various committees to work with him in the "get-out-the-vote" campaign and the appointments will be announced following another meeting of the committee in the Chamber of Commerce building next Monday afternoon. Mr. Rawson also plans to name a corps of workers for each rural precinct.

The new drink stand at the Municipal Zoo has been completed, replacing the old stand which was an open air affair. The new one is enclosed and has a door and glass windows.

I. Thorpe, local manager of the Western Union, leaves tomorrow on a three weeks vacation trip which he said would take him through several northern states with no particular destination. His place will be filled temporarily by H. H. Richardson.

The Municipal Water Department announced this afternoon that the City mains on West Fire Street would be cut off tonight at 8:00 o'clock for an indefinite length of time. Residents in that section were requested to draw enough water to last for several hours.

Leesburg To Meet Gainesville In Playoff Series

Gondoliers Defeat Islets By Close Score Of 2 To 1

Tuck McWilliams, Daytona Catcher, Drops Ball To Permit Winning Run To Cross Home Sack

Leesburg's Gondoliers went to the semi-final State League play-off with Gainesville Thursday night by defeating the Daytona Beach Islanders 2 to 1 at Leesburg.

Tuck McWilliams, Daytona catcher, dropped a throw to the plate in the ninth to permit Steve Rink to score from first base, giving Leesburg the game.

Tonight the Gondoliers engage the Gainesville G-Men in the first of their series for the Shaughnessy title of the Florida State League. Gainesville beat Orlando three out of four games last night to earn the right to meet the winners of the Daytona-Isle-Beach-Leesburg series.

In the first frame the Leesburg men took the lead by imitating across one run but Wick Wach's men came back in the fifth to tie the series, including the

Coaches Cheered By Aggressiveness Of Stetson Line

Deland's Stetson Line has emerged as the best of the ninth and tenth teams in the first series of all practice.

Coaches E. H. Clegg well an-

TOO HOT TO HANDLE

—by CHASSEY RAINES

What Has Happened So Far? Stevie, who has everything she needs to raise funds that will send the girl he loves, Alma Harding, on a South American search for her missing aviator father, and his new employer, Hunter, follows her. The means he has used to a faked compass, his employer financing the trip. Arriving in the tropics, Chris meets natives who all speak of him. Separating from Bill and Alma, he follows a trail into the jungle accompanied by his sound man Joselito.

Chapter Ten

It was dark when Chris and Joselito emerged from the jungle and climbed a short hill. Both were astounded at what met their eyes. A torch-lit, large clearing filled with natives, a ceremonial dance was in progress. From a huge pile of wood, lighted up by surrounding small fires, a native shaman had risen. Over the center was a pony. Attached to the other two were live chickens which fluttered and struggled on the ground, wild, excited movements, shouting and changing all the while. To one side, a high priest sat on a sort of throne, clothed in a thatched shawl, a gourd rattle in his hand, covering his face. Three or four lesser dignitaries were similarly attired. And in back of the high priest a small, thin, balding man.

As Chris and Joselito watched breathlessly, the high priest made a gesture and from a nearby hut four men emerged, carrying a litter between them. Started, Chris raised his binoculars and trained them on the body which lay on it. The dovers threw brush and leaves on the body, wild, excited movements, shouting and changing all the while. To one side, a high priest sat on a sort of throne, clothed in a thatched shawl, a gourd rattle in his hand, covering his face. Three or four lesser dignitaries were similarly attired. And in back of the high priest a small, thin, balding man.

"Yeah, we got a reel of you round-the-world stuff," Joselito said.

He could make out a white man sitting with a stolid head. "That's Harry! Stevie, all right!" Chris said grimly. "He looks about gone."

"You see that big fire they build?"

"I need that pole?" Joselito mouthed.

"You mean they're going to..."

"They never let anyone die... what you call 'natural,'" Joselito mouthed.

"We've got to move in!" Chris muttered desperately.

"With what?" Joselito demanded.

"With a gun," he said.

"We're not going to move in..."

"Yes, sir," he murmured. "That's bigger than the screen of the movie theater!" He turned suddenly. "Did you bring that test film?" he demanded.

"Yeah, we got a reel of your round-the-world stuff," Joselito said smugly.

"Wow!" Chris burst out. "So they go for magic, eh? Well we're going to move in there with a bang."

He reached for his projector and motioned Joselito to plug in the sound track.

Amid wild dancing, Harry's little projector whirred away, mounted on the middle pole. Two others stood by with flaming torches, ready to light the fire.

Chris, too, was toward a fanfare of trumpets and the sound of diving airplanes. Startled, the natives turned on mass to stare reverently at the cliff, on which the projector was mounted, still glowing.

Chris stood silent, staring at the scene he had before his eyes—a horrifying montage of newsreels, news bulletins, tanks, cavalry, naval battles, hopscotch games—all seeming to come directly out of the cliff.

Some of the natives turned impatiently, others of them fell to the ground in an attitude of prayer, their eyes rolling.

Chris watched grimly. "Now, remember, when I come on in tell me if you see any more of those gods and I've been sent here to take the White Bird God away and bring the White Bird Goddess."

"I got it," Joselito replied. "I got the big build-up."

The sound track started, carried on by the natives.

Joselito turned his own small microphone to the lead speaker and began to sing native jargon, following Harry's orders.

"I'm here at the gods, the gods have down grown in me, the power of them out of me, out of them, as Joselito sang.

"Okay, Harry," Alma said. "Okay."

Senate Group Will Probe Lewis' Charge

Committee To Investigate Commissioner Charged With Assisting Tydings

Labor Department Is Also Probing

Sheppard Demands Explanation Of Dismissals In Georgia

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—(AP)—Chairman Sheppard (D-Tex) today said the Senate Campaign Expenditures Committee was inquiring into a new charge brought by Rep. David J. Lewis in the Maryland Democratic senatorial race.

Lewis wrote the committee that Frank S. Revell, district immigration commissioner at Baltimore, was aiding the campaign of Senator Millard Tydings in Ann Arundel county.

Sheppard said this was the same matter which Secretary Perkins said was being investigated by the Labor Department.

The Senate committee, Sheppard said, would hold sessions late next and early tomorrow to clear up numerous complaints by both Lewis and Tydings before the Maryland voters go to the polls Monday.

Under fire for charging that there were political irregularities in the bitterly fought Kentucky primary, the Senate Committee yesterday demanded an official explanation of the dismissal in Georgia of two government executives backing Sen. Walter F. George, conservative Democrat, for renomination.

Chairman Morris D. Sheppard (D-Texas) and his group taking up the dismissal of Erie Cocke, former State director of the National Emergency Council, and Edgar B. Dunlap, former attorney for the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, with the heads of those agencies. He said that the committee also has sent to Veterans Administrator Frank T. Hines an affidavit from one of the department's employees in Johnson City, Tenn., protesting that he was discharged for political reasons.

Simultaneously, Sen. M. M. Logan (D-Ky.), sharply attacked Sheppard's group for its accusations yesterday that both factions in the Kentucky Democratic senatorial primary race solicited support and contributions from State and Federal workers. The committee reported that State employees handling social security and highway funds donated $71,843.60 to the campaign fund of Gov. A. B. (Happy) Chandler under conditions which indicated that many were "virtually assured" about 2 per cent of their salaries. It found that there were "flagrant violations" of Works Progress Administration regulations against coercion of WPA workers in the interest of the successful candidacy of Sen. Albert W. Barkley, the administration's choice.

FDR Expresses Opposition To State Poll Tax

Chief Executive Asserts Levy Defranchises Large Portion Of Population

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Sept. 10.—(AP)—The Great Roosevelt late yesterday expressed emphatic opposition to state poll taxes, saying they disenfranchise large portion of the population.

The President told his press conference in response to questions that state poll tax apparently were the outgrowth of requirements during the post Revolutionary War period that citizens own property before they could vote.

Mr. Roosevelt disclosed he previously had written to Brooks Hays, Arkansas National Democratic congressman, endorsing a proposed Arkansas constitution amendment to abolish the State poll tax.

The President talked with reporters on the front porch of the Summer White House a few hours before his scheduled departure for Rochester, Minn., where he will remain until after his son, James, undergoes a stomach operation Monday.

The President, asked about his recent conference with Gov. Elmer Benson of Minnesota, said only that the farm problem had been discussed.

He said he talked about numerous topics with Attorney General Cummings, who called at the Summer White House yesterday.

Acknowledged whether it could be inferred from the talk that the Administration would make no new efforts to defeat anti-administration candidates, the President said such a conclusion was not justified.

The President was told at the press conference that the impression had been growing that the United States was morally linked with European democracies in a "Stop Hitler" movement.

Hits Press

The Chief Executive replied that speaking of impressions among European travel and second, the unsettled business conditions in the north will cause business men from that area to want to be closer home than Europe.

Greatly improved travel facilities will add another reason for an influx of New Englanders and other northern folks in Florida this winter.

More than 100 columns of news and pictures incident to these showings appeared in important newspapers in New England, and many times the number of people who saw the pictures read the account of the showing of the beauty spots of this section in the newspaper of that area.

The Rotary clubs offered the most frequent opportunity for the showing of the Lake County pictures. On nine different occasions the Lake County secretary supplied the program for clubs, including the very large Rotary of Worcester, Mass., where 174 of their members witnessed the pictures.

Six Kiwanis clubs in five states offered other meetings for the showing of these excellent and much interested audiences, while Lions clubs participated in many interclub showings of the films.

City Officials Are Named In Indictment

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 10.—(AP)—Mayor S. Davis Wilson and four police officers were indicted yesterday on charges of "misbehavior in office for wilfully and negligently failing to suppress gambling houses and bookmaking establishments in Philadelphia."

A missing saloon keeper and 16 other unidentified persons were indicted by the August grand jury on evidence supplied by a special grand jury that has been investigating law enforcement in Philadelphia, for nearly a year.

The indictments against the 16 were impounded by the court "for the purpose of enabling the apprehension of fugitives."

The mayor was named in 21 true bills containing 40 counts.

He was also accused of "discrediting, hindering and preventing witnesses" from appearing before the Ruth legislative commission which recently completed an investigation of criminal justice in Pennsylvania; and with "the unlawful removal and destruction" of 10 officers of the police and five police commissioners in the city.

Mr. Weinstein said Sept. 20 was set as the date for organizing the group, the purpose of which, he said, would be to boost Sanford.

Rev. Bram Is Back From Tour Of Southeast

Local Minister Sees Outward Signs Of Prosperity On Trip

Rev. Martin Bram reported outward signs of prosperity in the Southeastern section of the United States upon his return from a three weeks' vacation tour which included New Orleans, the mountains of North Carolina, Virginia, and Washington, D. C.

Everywhere, Mr. Bram stated, there was much building activity under the WPA, with Louisiana especially outstanding in this respect. He said there were many new cars on the highways, and all reports indicated that tobacco crops in the Carolinas, Virginia, and Georgia were exceptionally profitable.

Mr. Bram, who was accompanied by his wife, left three weeks ago for New Orleans by way of the Gulf Coast drive through Pensacola and Apalachicola. From New Orleans they travelled to North Carolina, thence over the Skyline Drive to Abingdon, Va., where they visited Mr. Bram's sister, Miss Isabel Wagner, who is a missionary.

In Washington, the couple attended the public buildings and institutions including the White House and the new Supreme Court building, which Mr. Bram described as having extreme beauty and dignity. While in the Capital City, they attended a baseball game between the Senators and the Boston Red Sox which was featured by Fox's longest home run of the season and by the miraculous pitching of Monteguado, a rookie from Trenton, who registered nine strike-outs, three in one inning.

Mr. Bram said there were only 400 paid admissions to the game, which was played on Tuesday, the day after Labor Day.

On their return trip to Sanford, the Brams were accompanied by Mr. Bram's sister, Mrs. William L. Leach, and her husband, Richard W. Leach, who will be their guest at their home on Palmetto Avenue. On their journey to New Orleans they were accompanied by Mrs. W. A. Adams, Jr., who visited friends in Louisiana.

More Fighting By Pickets Reported

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 10.—(AP)—More pickets along the railroad lines and employer reports of beatings and intimidation yesterday accompanied indications that opposing sides were settling down to an endurance contest in the department store strike.

In the 24-hour period ending at mid-afternoon five additional persons were reported hurt in picket line encounters and seven new arrests were made, bringing the official total for the three-day-old strike to seven injured and 14 taken into custody.

The San Francisco AFL labor council, speaking for the 80 or more affected unions, announced the withdrawal of all compromises offers made on behalf of the workers prior to the beginning of the strike. This was taken to mean they again would present their original demands for a union scale, a 28-hour week and store-wide seniority.

More Fighting By Pickets Reported

CHICAGO, Sept. 10.—(AP)—The nation's major railroads gave notice last night that a 5 percent pay cut for their 229,000 employees would go into effect at 12:01 A. M. Saturday, Oct. 1.

The workers, who consistently refused to accept the reduction, after a series of conferences, are taking a nation-wide strike vote. The results of the referendum probably will be announced here Sept. 25.

The refusal of the employees to agree to a wage reduction in negotiation or mediation proceedings and their rejection of arbitration leave the railroads now with but one method of reducing wages under the law—to make the reduction effective," the carriers joint conference committee announced in a formal statement.

Secretary Ikes had announced that all applications for grants and loans must be made before Sept. 30, but because of a state law requiring the 30-day notice for elections the application must be delayed.

The "earliest date" in this case is one minute after midnight on Oct. 1 since the railway labor contract stipulates no change in pay rates can be made for 30 days after the termination of mediation hearings. The national mediation board's attempt to settle the dispute ended in failure on Aug. 31.

Under the law, however, several steps could be taken to forestall a wage cut and a walkout until Dec. 1, at least. If and when the 19 brotherhoods set a date for a strike, President Roosevelt will be given a chance to make a statement.

The first meeting of the Campbell Loring Post of American Legion will be held in the Legion Hall on the lake front Monday night at 8:00 o'clock. Officers for the coming year will be selected.

The weekly meeting of the Rotary Club will be held in the Valdosta Hotel Monday at 12:15 o'clock. Last week's luncheon was dispensed with because of the holiday.

The monthly meeting of the Board of Education of the Seminole County School Board will be held in the

Coleman Joins Supporters For New Hospital

Carraway Urges Elks To Express Opinions In Election

Walter S. Coleman, City Commissioner and large property holder in Sanford, joined supporters of the proposed county-owned hospital.

"We are very much in need of a new hospital," Mr. Coleman said in an interview with a reporter, and now is the opportune time to contact the public with the hospital issue," he said.

Andrew Caraway excused himself from the Elks Lodge after a large crowd of supporters of the proposed hospital had gathered to hear him speak.

Mr. Caraway urged Elks to take part in the referendum to issue bonds of $100,000 to pay the county's share of construction costs in order that a valid election will be conducted. He urged all Elks who are eligible to vote to be sure to express their opinions at the polls when the election is held on Sept. 27.

Mr. Coleman pointed out that there probably will be no other time when the people of Seminole County can secure a $125,000 hospital for $70,000. The residents of this county, he declared, should take advantage of the federal grant of 45 percent and construct the institution which is needed.

In the meantime, Eddie Rawson, chairman of the get-out-the-vote committee, is planning an extensive drive to get Seminole County's freeholders to the polls on election day.

Mr. Rawson will meet with members of the hospital committee in the Chamber of Commerce building Monday afternoon to make final plans for the drive and select the necessary committees to aid in the work.

Morrison was brought to an emergency room. He had a 32-caliber bullet wound in his upper arm and was suffering from shock and loss of blood.

Railroads Order Pay Cut Effective At Midnight, Oct. 1

CHICAGO, Sept. 10.—(AP)—The nation's major railroads which have been awaiting approval of the New York office for about four weeks, were mentioned prominently by President Roosevelt in his speech last Sunday in Morgantown, Md.

The workers, who consistently refused to accept the reduction, after a series of conferences, are taking a nation-wide strike vote. The results of the referendum probably
