

BUSINESS IN BRIEF

Casselberry Woman Heads Florida Legal Assistants

Mary Ellen Buehring of Casselberry was installed as president of Florida Legal Assistants, Inc., at its annual meeting in Orlando. Mrs. Buehring is employed as a legal assistant with the firm of Windersweede, Haines, Ward & Woodman, P.A., of Winter Park. Mrs. Buehring, a charter member and one of the incorporators of Florida Legal Assistants, Inc., served on the initial Board of Directors of the association for three years and then as vice president prior to her election as president for the 1980-81 year. She also served on the Board of Directors and Executive Committee of the National Association of Legal Assistants, Inc.

Mrs. Buehring is a member of Advisory Committees of the University of Central Florida, Valencia Community College and Seminole Junior College. She is an incorporator and owner of Florida Institute for Legal Assistants which specializes in short- and long-term training courses for legal assistants in specialized areas of the law and researching.

Mrs. Buehring has been active in promoting standards for legal assistants in Florida working with The Legal Assistant Committee of The Florida Bar and speaking at seminars throughout the state.

Gas Prices Hit New High

MIAMI—A sudden 1.24 per gallon jump in the average price of gasoline in December has pushed the average price of fuel in Florida to $1.772 per gallon at full service pumps.

The latest AAA Club of Florida Fuel gauge report showed that the sudden increase since November has wiped out a series of fractional price declines that began in the state in September.

The latest jump also established an all-time high in gasoline prices based on the series of Florida fuel gauge reports that AAA began in the state in 1974.

The latest survey shows motorists could save a cent per gallon by using self-service pumps. That is the same amount of saving reported in the November fuel gauge survey.

Average Annual Pay Rises

Average annual pay of Southeastern workers covered by state and federal unemployment insurance programs increased from $10,553 in 1978 to $11,494 in 1979, according to Donald M. Cruse, regional commissioner for the Bureau of Labor Statistics, U. S. Department of Labor, in Atlanta. While average pay in the Southeast rose at a faster rate than in the nation as a whole — 8.4 percent compared to 8.1 percent — the pay level for the region was below the national average of $13,137.

Within the region, average annual pay varied by state. Kentucky had the highest average at $13,276 followed by Alabama at $11,854. South Carolina and Mississippi had the lowest at $10,897 and $10,410, respectively. While all states in the region were below the national average, six of the eight states experienced over-the-year pay increases that were larger than the national average.

United Telephone Picks 2

Two Winter Park Telephone Co. officials have accepted positions with the United Telephone System-Florida Group, Altamonte Springs, which operates Winter Park Telephone and four other telephone companies in Florida.

Wayne F. Freeman has been appointed director of marketing, and Frank D. Hutzel has been appointed director-corporate communications and community relations.

As director of marketing, Freeman, who was formerly vice president of marketing and customer services for Winter Park will be responsible for all marketing activities of the United Telephone System companies in Florida.

In his new position, Hutzel, who served as vice president government and public affairs for Winter Park, will be responsible for coordinating internal and external communications, advertising and community relations for United's Florida Group of companies.

Farm Forecast Brighter

Forecasts for Florida farmers are brighter for 1981 than for the year just past. Nothing dramatic is expected to happen, but a steady improvement in net income is foreseen by U. S. Department of Agriculture economists.

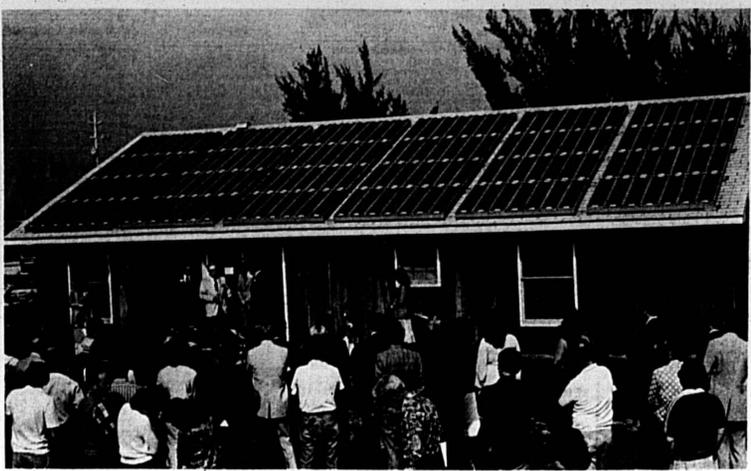

The projected net income for farmer in 1981 is for about $30 billion — somewhere between a low of $27 billion and a high of $32 billion. The comparable figure for 1980 is $24 billion net.

Prices paid to farmers for livestock and grain should continue to be on the improved side for the new year. Grain supplies are going to be rather tight because of high world demand, and this coupled with anticipated export sales of around $45 billion should improve the grain farmers' lot.

On the other side of the economic equation, production costs are not expected to rise as rapidly in 1981 as they did in 1980. No question but what inflation in farm input costs will continue to be a major factor in the net income figure. But a modest improvement in the situation can make a lot of difference in the bottom line.

Williams Gets Sun Post

The board of directors of Sun Banks of Florida, Inc., has elected two new members to its board. Elected to the board effective January 28, was U. S. Deputy Secretary of Agriculture James H. Williams. Also named was Hans W. Tews, president and chief administrative officer of Sun Bank. The election of Tews was effective November 20.

SOLAR HOME DEDICATED

The Florida Solar Energy Center's photovoltaic-powered research house on the center grounds is dedicated in Cape Canaveral. The panels on the south roof contain a total of 5,880 of the wafer-like photovoltaic cells (solar cells), which convert sunlight directly to electricity. This cell array can generate as much as 5,000 watts of power in bright sunlight. While present costs for a system such as this one are still far beyond the reach of most homeowners — about $50,000 — it is projected that within 10 years such a utility-interactive system will cost about $10,000 to $12,000.

Weak Housing Year Predicted

High mortgage rates, which have brought about a "virtual depression" for the nation's home building industry, will not subside for at least three to four months, and housing conditions will improve only marginally toward the end of next year, reports Merrill Butler, president of the National Association of Home Builders.

Speaking at an economic outlook conference here, Butler said that despite the incoming Reagan Administration's commitment to fighting inflation and improving the economy, mortgage rates will remain "in the range of unaffordable to unacceptable for the next few months."

Butler said NABH expects the prime rate to decline "only marginally during the first part of 1981, making it too costly to begin construction of single-family homes except under very isolated conditions. We think that both nationally, and in California, starts will continue to decline for the next 90 to 120 days, and then perhaps level off."

Butler said that the housing depression has gone from "bad to worse, and there is no sign of any great letup in the very near future."

The latest NABH estimate, he said, is that only about 1.2 million housing units will be built during 1980, compared to a need for 2 million. And nearly 42 percent of the 1980 total, he noted, will be due to a dramatic increase this year in the number of government-financed multifamily housing projects. Butler labeled it a "horrible" situation to have reached the point where the federal government is involved in the production of housing that "historically has been the right and responsibility of private enterprise."

The unemployment rate for the home building industry, meanwhile, is approaching 15 percent and continuing to climb, he reported. "We do not create this same impact, of course, in a specific location like the automobile industry, but we have well over two times the number of people out of work as the auto industry."

"Frankly," he observed, "our small and medium-size builders and a multitude of their associates are in serious financial jeopardy. And, as it did during the period from October of last year to May of this year, this industry is going to suffer casualties. I am sorry to say that I don't know of any way out of it."

Butler placed most of the blame for the housing slump on the federal government's "mismanagement of fiscal and monetary policies."

He said current high interest rates "are the direct result of the inflationary pressures of our economy which were generated through two decades of reckless spending by the Congress and the attempt of our government to try to penalize the industrious and reward the indolent."

However, despite today's unfavorable economic climate, Butler said that "in the long run, the good news outweighs the bad."

The good news began Nov. 4, he said, "when America voted to start giving up 20 years of federal deficits and policies that penalize the industrious people of our country."

NABH adopted a resolution calling for a balanced federal budget and personally delivered it to the White House more than three years ago, Butler pointed out.

"Until we conquer inflation, and until the federal government gets out of the private money market," he emphasized, "we in the home building industry are absolutely convinced that we will not have reasonable rates of interest for mortgages."

"If we don't reindustrialize our factories," Butler commented, "there won't be a need to build houses. But it also means that housing is going to have to fight harder for the money it gets. It's going to present a real challenge and involve great competition."

Little Difference Among Aspirin Brands

Dear Consumer: Is Anacin really better than any of the other pain-relievers you see advertised on TV?

Dear Reader: Aspirin is the pain-relieving ingredient in Anacin. There's little, if any, difference among brands, all of which must be formulated to meet official standards. Anacin does contain about 20 percent more aspirin than a plain five-grain aspirin tablet, but can cost four times as much! The prices of more expensive pain-relievers reflect, in large part, the cost of several million dollars worth of advertising to convince the public that something better than plain aspirin is being offered. CU knows of no reason to buy anything but the least expensive brand. Remember to drink a full glass of water or other liquid with aspirin to minimize possible stomach irritation.

New Baby Boom

Area Couples Deciding Now's The Time To Start Families

By DIANE PETRYK
Herald Staff Writer
Faced with a now-or-never situation, couples who postponed having children are choosing to have them now, in part accounting for what appears to be the start of a new baby boom.

Area hospitals are seeing record numbers of births, and state figures show the birth rate is beginning to climb. From a low in 1976 of 12.6 births per 1,000 population, the rate climbed to 13 per 1,000 in 1979 and is expected to exceed that when 1980 figures are complete.

"It's now or never for a large part of the population born during the last (post World War II) baby boom," said state Public Health Statistician Dick Downes. "That's a big part of what's happening. A lot of them decided not to have children for a while, but now they're deciding they'd better do it now or they'll be too old."

Also, there are just a lot of people right now the right age for having children, he said.

Downes said the birth rate has gone down consistently since 1966, when it reached a peak of 24.7 births per 1,000 population.

"We thought it (the boom) was over," he said. "But it's starting up again."

Seminole County figures are somewhat higher than statewide. From a rate of 13.2 births per 1,000 population in Seminole County in 1978, the rate climbed to 13.4 in 1979 and is expected to increase again in 1980.

At Seminole Memorial Hospital, 519 babies were delivered in 1979 and 580 so far in 1980, according to hospital Administrator Jim Teas.

Florida Hospital-Orlando has taken note of its own baby boom, according to spokesman Tamara Russell.

In the year between October 1979 and September 1980, Florida Hospital recorded 1,889 births — 112 more than the previous year, she said.

And during September of this year, 192 babies were born at the hospital, breaking the October 1977 record of 191.

The record number of births meant the hospital's obstetrics unit handled six to eight more patients per day than usual, she said.

The hospital's director of obstetrical nursing attributed the increase in part to the belief that a large percentage of those couples who decided to wait several years before starting their families are now beginning to have children, Russell said.

The director also attributed the increase to the growing popularity of childbirth classes offered through Florida Hospital's Parents Education Program and the growing number of young families in the south Seminole County area.

"We'd like to think more mothers are choosing to come to Florida Hospital," another spokesman said, "but that may not be the only reason."

At Orlando Regional Medical Center the obstetrical unit has been very full, according to spokesman Linda Carpenter. Bob Faria, director of public affairs, said the number of births increased from 4,388 in 1977-78 to 4,602 in 1978-79 and 4,845 in 1979-80.

Those who postponed having children are starting to have them now, experts say. Another baby boom may be on the way.

Iran Leader Labels U.S. Aggressors

Reagan Attacked For Statement

By United Press International
The speaker of Iran's parliament today responded to Ronald Reagan's description of Iranian hostage-takers as "barbarians" by saying the president and the United States were "aggressors and bullies."

The American television networks, meanwhile, aired a pool satellite link to Tehran to receive more possible film of the hostages, held for 82 days.

And in Washington, Algerian diplomats acting as intermediaries in the negotiations for the release of the 52 Americans were to meet for a third day today with U.S. officials.

In a speech to Iran's parliament, the Majlis, carried on Tehran Radio and reported by the official Pars news agency, Speaker Hojatoleslam Habibi Rafsanjani launched an attack on Reagan and the United States, indicating a new, heightened tension in the crisis.

"I don't know how they can call us civilized and barbarous the capture of 52 spies who had turned the place that the Islamic Republic government provided for them into a center of espionage and who were busy plotting against the Islamic Republic government," Rafsanjani said.

"But the crimes committed by the United States are not regarded as savage and uncivilized," he added.

Reagan said Sunday he would not pay ransom to "barbarians" for the release of the hostages and advised Iran to free the captives before his Jan. 20 inauguration in the strongest statement he has made on the crisis.

"I don't think you pay ransom for people that have been kidnapped by barbarians," the president-elect said in Los Angeles Sunday as he left services at the Bel-Air Presbyterian Church.

"We do not expect anything else from Reagan," Rafsanjani said. "His essence (Reagan's and America's) is that of aggressor and bully."

"These bullies have been committing these crimes for centuries in the name of civilization," the speaker said. "Whenever you want to commit crimes you begin by accusing people of barbarism."

"Human history does not remember anyone more barbaric than you especially the U.S. imperialist leaders," Rafsanjani said.

Rafsanjani accused the United States of pillaging Persian Gulf oil wealth and said, "The Islamic Majlis has deferred your punishment to another time."

He said the $24 billion demanded by Tehran for the release of the hostages rightly belonged to Iran. "Is this demanding ransom?" Rafsanjani added.

He repeated the accusation that Iraq, under President Saddam Hussein, launched its war against Iran as an agent of the United States and at Washington's orders.

"We have said repeatedly that we are at war with the United States," Rafsanjani said. "We do not consider Saddam's imposed war a war between Iraq and Iran, we regard it as a war launched by the U.S. and its agents against Iran."

Reagan, he said, "called uncivilized those who captured the U.S. spies in Tehran and who have kept them alive and hosted them and he interpreted our insistence on our rights as blackmail."

That, he said, urged U.S. "crimes such as Saddam's bombing of innocent people in Dresden on the orders of the United States, his bombing of hospitals in Iran, the crimes that the United States committed in Palestine (which) have made millions of Palestinians homeless throughout the world."

Iranians marched through Tehran's streets Sunday and urged their government to set a deadline for the United States to accept Iran's demands. Iranian revolutionary leader Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini compared President Carter to late Soviet dictator Josef Stalin.

Hostage Reveals Conditions Grim
By United Press International
Iran today released new film of some of the 52 American hostages in which the only black known to be held was shown for the first time and one of the women captives indicated they had been living under difficult conditions.

The 10-minute film, the fourth to be transmitted since Christmas Day, showed 18 of the hostages meeting in separate groups with Algerian diplomats on Christmas Day.

All the hostages shown had been seen in the previous footage except for Charles Jones, of Detroit.

Jones, 40, is with the International Communications agency and the only black known to be held.

All but 10 of the hostages have been shown either on film or photographs.

The new film also revealed that the hostages may have been held in a hotel or large house on Christmas Day.

One segment showed Col. Leland Holland, 52, of Scales, Ill., and John William Lambert, Jr., 37, in a room together and the camera then panned to an adjoining bathroom, which had a tub, two sinks and a toilet but with no door to the tank running.

Algeria's Ambassador to Iran Abdel Karim Gheraieb and Mohammed Bel Houssein, an Algerian Foreign Ministry official were taken blindfolded Christmas Day to the undisclosed location where 80 of the hostages were held. They met later the same day with the three Americans held at Iran's Foreign Ministry.

One of the two women hostages, Elizabeth Ann Swift, 39, was heard saying the hostages' ordeal has been a "frightening experience."

She indicated the hostages, as their captives claimed, had been moved about and held in places that were not all that comfortable.

"We've been here for one week," she told the Algerians of their new place of captivity, which had drapes, rugs, and furniture. "Things recently have been better."

The sound on the latest film was poor, but it was apparent the hostages shown were interested in the negotiations for their release.

At one point Thomas Ahern, 47, of McLean, Va., could be heard asking the Algerians, "They (negotiators) are in progress. Is that to say progress is being made?"

Reagan, he said, "called uncivilized those who captured the U.S. spies in Tehran and who have kept them alive and hosted them and he interpreted our insistence on our rights as blackmail."

That, he said, urged U.S. "crimes such as Saddam's bombing of innocent people in Dresden on the orders of the United States, his bombing of hospitals in Iran, the crimes that the United States

The Spirit Of Society

The Reagan administration can do much to clean up the mess in government. It can set new goals and provide the country with inspirational leadership. It can strip away the disincentives that retard economic growth. It can do a more effective job of providing for the common defense.

For example, there's a prevailing sloppiness in much of our work. A steel fabricator, said recently that much of the steel pipe made in the United States is inferior to the pipe manufactured in Japan.

The American automobile has become notorious for poor workmanship. People say: Never buy a car that was made on a Monday because Monday is the principal day for absenteeism on the assembly line.

We have a problem with cleanliness in this country that is related to on-the-job indolence. Many of our streets and highways are ankle-deep in litter. It is commonplace to see people throw trash out of their automobile windows.

The Rev. Samuel T. Cobb, pastor of St. Philip's Church in Charleston, S.C., recently touched on a related problem in a sermon. He said that there are two Greek words for time — one that refers to time as a meaningless passing of the hours, and in the time of a prisoner. The other word for time suggests the opportunities for achievement in the month. One is a negative view of time; the other regards time as a positive element.

In this country, we need to view time in its positive aspect. We need to strive to achieve change now, not tomorrow. In the past, Americans were goal-oriented. Our forebears didn't simply pass time.

We must regain that outlook in the United States. A new government can help create a proper economic framework for our national life. But there must be an inner change in the American people — a feeling that they have something to give and want to give.

Where there is no spirit, it is impossible to have a great country. Government plans and programs mean nothing if there isn't an inner renewal that revitalizes individual human beings.

No End To Crime In Suites

WASHINGTON (NEA) — In a new administration whose most important political positions are being filled by corporate executives, it's hardly surprising that plans for diminished scrutiny of "white-collar crime."

President-elect Ronald Reagan's transition advisers now reviewing the operations of the Justice Department, for example, are talking publicly about de-emphasizing investigation and prosecution of anti-trust violations.

Reagan apparently is committed to a significant shift away from the government's aggressive campaign of the past decade against "crime in the suites" and a return to the more traditional emphasis upon "crime in the streets."

But before the incoming administration's corporate businessmen proceed to implement that self-serving plan, they would be well advised to read — and consider the implications of — a new book and a recent magazine article.

The book is "The American Way of Crime," a compellingly written by Frank Browning and John Gerassi. The magazine article is the cover story in a recent issue of Fortune titled "How Lawless Are Big Companies?"

In a meticulously researched book that offers an unusually perceptive view of crime from colonial times to the present, Browning and Gerassi document the fact that the wealthy and the privileged historically have been among the nation's leading perpetrators of crime — although they regularly have evaded prosecution and punishment. Some examples:

— "Punish justice, contrary to myth, was not at all overhauled. For most of wealth accumulation, punishment was usually limited to fines ... Those who actually received the harshest and most frequent punishment were lower-class and working people."

In the 1700s, immediately before the Revolutionary War, merchant-patriots amassed fortunes through smuggling, tax evasion and other crimes. "Of all the wealthy pre-revolutionary smugglers," say the authors, "John Hatcock was the most notorious."

— In the 1850s, it was perfectly legal for Southerners to own slaves, to beat them and even to kill them — but it was a crime to help them escape from their sometimes brutal owners.

— In the 1870s, it was a crime for mine workers to strike for better wages — but it was legal for Pinkerton detectives employed by the mining companies to threaten, assault or even murder the strikers.

— "So flagrantly was the law abused to defend big business and prevent workers from gaining a decent livelihood" during the late 1800s and early 1900s "that it would not be unfair to characterize it as a dictatorship of the rich."

The book provides a similar analysis of more recent events, but the Fortune article contains an even more detailed — and disturbing — review of contemporary events.

Pentagon: Get Set To Fight 1 1/2 Wars

WASHINGTON — In all the talk about the nation's military preparedness — or lack of it — one question has never been asked publicly, much less answered: What, exactly, do the generals and admirals think they should be ready for?

The answer, spelled out in a top secret Pentagon report shown to my associate Dale Van Atta, is: "one and a half wars."

"The national strategy of the United States," the report states, "requires the maintenance of sufficient forces to fight a major war in Europe while simultaneously engaged in a lesser conflict elsewhere, sometimes called the 'one-and-a-half-war strategy.'"

The report, prepared for the Joint Chiefs of Staff, concludes bleakly that "the size, readiness and sustainability of U.S. conventional forces cannot ensure the success of the strategy they are required to support."

The dismal state of unreadiness is not surprising to the military leaders, to whom it "has been apparent for several years." But the critique says the problem has grown more acute in recent years, as the Soviet Union and

SCIENCE WORLD
Is Vaccine Effective?

By CHARLES S. TAYLOR
ATLANTA (UPI) — A pneumonia vaccine licensed three years ago and touted by drug companies as highly effective has yet to win the full endorsement of federal health officials.

A lack of definitive studies pointing conclusively to the effectiveness of the vaccine in high risk populations is cited by health authorities as the reason for the cautious approach to assessing the drug.

The national Centers for Disease Control has been pondering for several years what its recommendations should be regarding the possible use of the pneumococcal vaccine. "This still does not have in hand the hard scientific evidence it needs to recommend its widespread use. The result has been guarded statements by the CDC's Advisory Committee on Immunization Practices suggesting possible use of the vaccine in certain 'general concepts.'"

"The CDC feels it is very important to do studies to show that the vaccine does work," said Dr. Jeffrey Band, director of the CDC's special pathogens branch.

"I'd like to see the scientific data," Band said. The vaccine was licensed by the Food and Drug Administration in late 1977, with a claimed efficacy rating of up to 90 percent against the 14 most serious and prevalent strains of pneumococcal pneumonia. There are 83 types of pneumococcal, or bacterial, pneumonia, in addition to pneumonia caused by viruses.

Pneumonia is the fifth leading cause of death in the United States. Band estimated there are two to three million cases annually in this country with perhaps 400,000-500,000 of that number caused by bacteria. The overall case fatality rate is 3-10 percent. Drug companies have federal approval to advertise use of the vaccine in persons 50 years of age or older, one of the high risk groups, along with children under two. The CDC advisory committee says only that because the risk of getting and dying of pneumonia increases with age, "the benefits of vaccination should increase with increasing age."

It said field tests of the vaccine among young adult gold miners in South Africa, where pneumonia rates are extremely high, showed that a single dose of vaccine was highly effective. But Band said this country has not really seen large scale epidemics of pneumonia such as occurred in South Africa and that U.S. high risk populations differ from similar population groups in other countries.

Tests in this country in children under two years of age showed a poor response to the vaccine. But in another small group of older children with underlying disease, pneumonia appeared to be less common after immunization with the vaccine, the CDC said.

Because of the continuing lack of scientific knowledge about the vaccine, the CDC said it does not recommend the mass immunization of healthy people against pneumonia. In closed groups, such as those in residential schools, nursing homes and some institutions, it said immunization "might be an effective control measure."

The advisory committee, although declining to issue definite recommendation on the pneumonia vaccine, said it has the potential of reducing the disease by 60-65 percent. Band said apparent ambiguities in the advisory committee's recommendations were the result of a lack of data. The committee, he said, "came out with the best policies based on present knowledge."

DON GRAFF
Slow Learners, Maybe...

You've heard it before — frequently: Those who won't learn from the past all too often end up repeating it.

On the evidence, crisis-prone Eastern Europe is on the brink of a repetition. The current crisis is, of course, Poland, simmering since mid-summer with rebellion its socialist order. For almost as long, the Soviet Union has been poised for a preventive invasion.

It all sounds ominously like old times — specifically, 1953 in East Germany, 1956 in Hungary, 1968 in Czechoslovakia.

Those were eras in which there was much to be learned. They demonstrated that the subject peoples within the postwar Soviet empire could never be completely pacified, that Soviet hegemony had no basis other than Soviet force.

They were also painfully object lessons that the Soviets would not hesitate to apply that force, no matter what the political and economic consequences within the communist bloc and in its relations with the outside world.

And they taught the Soviets in particular an invaluable lesson: That no matter how outraged the reaction of the West, the latter would not move to retaliate in any significant fashion so long as the Soviets confined their police operations to their own sphere of postwar influence.

The West at the moment is exceedingly concerned about the situation in Poland. But predictably, it is expressing its concern through carefully imprecise warning statements. And if past experience is evidence, it is not likely to do much more whatever it does.

The West is far from alone in being concerned. Poland's East European neighbors are even more so. Their concern is not with statements but with direct involvement in which, should it come to the crunch, they stand to lose almost as much as the Poles.

Not so much Poland's immediate neighbors to the south and west. Czechoslovakia has been content since brought to heel in 1968. And the East Germans... Well, what you say except that when the Soviets say jump, the East Germans are prepared instantly to field an Olympic team.

Hungary, however, is a very different matter. Since the devastation of 1956, it has quietly but steadily transformed itself into the most liberal of the satellite societies. The Hungarians see themselves, and are widely seen as the neighbors to be influenced first and most powerfully by the Polish experience. It could also share in Soviet suppression of that experience, if it comes to that.

Then there is Romania, which does not treat its benevolent as more generously than do the Soviets their own but which for some time has been getting away with a cheeky independence in foreign policy. That situation might not survive a Soviet decision that the empire requires a general checkup.

The FBI claims the House committee's evidence did not prove that the recorded sounds actually came from the assassination scene. Yet a transcript of the Dallas police dispatcher's radio transmissions makes it clear that the sounds were indeed from the Dealey Plaza area — specifically from a motorcycle officer's radio which had stuck open and photographs proved that he was near the plaza at the crucial time. The FBI's insistence that no conspiracy was involved seems to have stemmed from a memo sent by Director J. Edgar Hoover to President Johnson two days after the murder. "The thing I am concerned about is having something issued so we can convince the public that Oswald is the real assassin."

disturbing conclusion apparently overlooked some crucial evidence buried in the committee's report. The House committee based its conspiracy theory on a recording of sounds from Dealey Plaza that indicated a fourth shot was fired — in addition to Oswald's three — from a different direction. Dorsett Drives Dallas Over Rams

IRVING, Texas (UPI) — What is it that can turn a football team from a deflated pile of frustration into a dynamic steamroller in the space of two weeks? How can a team gain only 96 yards on the ground against a club one night and then go out 11 days later and grind out 338 yards against the very same bunch? Dallas gained a club-record total of 338 yards on the ground, Tony Dorsett set a Dallas playoff record with 160 rushing yards and a youthful secondary — burred by the Rams in their recent 41-0 — held their own against their Big-Play opponents. The Cowboys thus moved up one notch on the Super Bowl ladder, advancing into the divisional playoff round. They will travel to Atlanta next Sunday to meet the AFC West champions who will be the Oakland Raiders.

When last they gathered in Anaheim, Calif., on Dec. 15, the Los Angeles Rams battered the Dallas Cowboys 38-14. Los Angeles seemed like a potential Super Bowl team. Dallas looked dead. But on an unseasonably mild day at Texas Stadium Sunday, the rebuilding Cowboys dominated like they have seldom dominated this year. After fighting the Rams to a 13-13 tie at the half, Dallas buried the Rams during the final 40 minutes of the game. The Rams' offense was reduced to a mere 100 yards in the second half. The ultimate accounting was 34-13 and Dallas advanced to the next round.

The Rams and Cowboys jostled evenly through the first half, with Dallas getting a break when Los Angeles missed an extra point after its initial touchdown but failing to produce points twice after moving inside the Rams' 40. A 1-yard touchdown run by Jewell Thomas and a 21-yard scoring throw from Vince Ferragamo to Preston Bennett were matched by field goals of 28 and 23 yards by Rafael Septien and a 13-yard run by Dorsett. Dallas drove 63 yards the first time it had the ball in the third quarter to score on a 10-yard pass from Danny White to Dorsett. The Cowboys next drove 70 yards with Butch Johnson catching a 35-yard touchdown throw from White. And to finish off the afternoon, Dallas took 7:41 to march 95 yards and finally score on an 11-yard throw from White to Drew Pearson.

"Today was just a super day for everyone, offense, defense and kicking game," said Dorsett, who bowled over Los Angeles cornerback Rod Perry to score on his touchdown catch and punt Dallas in front for good. Dallas gained a total of 328 yards — most ever for the Cowboys in a playoff game. The Cowboys had managed only 271 against Los Angeles in Anaheim, Calif.

Lady Hawk Tourney
Trojans, Eagles Meet For Title

By JOE DESANTIS

The 4th Annual Lady Hawk Invitational basketball tournament resumes today at Lake Howell after taking a Sunday breather. And for the second straight year it will be two of the Metro Counties' top squads battling for the tournament championship. Edgewater's Lady Eagles and the Lady Trojans of Evans High square off at 8 p.m. this evening in a rematch of last year's championship title. A season ago it was Edgewater, with a veteran-led lineup claiming a tight 51-49 tournament championship and tonight's rematch figures to be a repeat of a tight fight. Both the Lady Eagles and Lady Trojans earned berths in the title bracket Saturday evening with sure-handed semifinal victories.

AFC Wild Card
Raiders Rope Houston

OAKLAND, Calif. (UPI) — All week long, everyone kept telling the Oakland Raiders the only way they were going to beat the Houston Oilers was to stop Earl Campbell, something not too many clubs have been able to do the last three years. In 14 games this season, Campbell rushed for 1,934 yards as the Oilers won 11 of 16 games and made it to the playoffs for the third straight year. Only one man in NFL history ever rushed for more yards and that was O.J. Simpson, who once ran for 2,003 yards in a single season.

Historical Landmark Site Of Morgan-Lyon Wedding

Karen Maria Morgan and Ronald Allen Lyon were married Dec. 27, at 2 p.m., at the Bradley McIntyre House, Longwood, Rev. Bob Wilkinson performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Morgan, 206 Pine Wicks Drive, Sanford. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Lyon, 1256 Hibiscus Lane, Apopka.

The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Karen Enigh attended the bride as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Patsy Farron and Terri Lyon.

Tanya Nimik was the flower girl.

John McLain served the bridegroom as best man. Ushers were John Bringerdier and Mark Rhein. The ring bearer was Jason Turner.

Following a reception at Bradley McIntyre House, the newlyweds departed for a wedding trip to Key West.

They will make their home in Chapel Hill, N. C. while the bridegroom is working toward a degree in pharmacy at the University of North Carolina.

MRS. RONALD ALLEN LYON

Don't Return Items You Didn't Solicit

DEAR ABBY: Every year, around the holidays, we receive through the mail personalized key chains with our license numbers on them, fancy soap, assorted greeting cards, and a variety of other gift items we did not order. These things are supposedly sold to benefit disabled veterans, the blind, poor Indian children or handicapped children. They may be from legitimate organizations, but there is a limit to how far we can go in our giving.

Just before Christmas, we received a box of three-dozen Christmas cards with our names already printed on them. They were very nice, but we prefer to select our own cards. I might add that there is a minimum price on all these things, but we are urged to give as much as you can.

Abby, are we legally obligated to return things we didn't order? Why should we go to the trouble and expense of rewrapping and returning stuff we didn't send for? I'd feel guilty using these items, but it seems such a waste to throw them away. What should we do?

DEAR JONESSES: You are not legally obligated to return anything you didn't order. Give everything to the Salvation Army, then send a postcard to the senders telling them how you have disposed of them.

Jennifer Weber, the bride's niece, was flower girl. Following a wedding reception at the Matland Civic Center, the newlyweds departed on a wedding trip to the mountains in North Georgia.

The couple will make their home in Casselberry. The bridegroom is a fulltime student at University of Central Florida and is employed at a tire store. The bride is a legal secretary in Orlando.

Dear Abby

Lansverk-Mergo Vows Exchanged

Mary Beth Lansverk and Nichols Duane Mergo were married Dec. 27, at 1 p.m., at St. Mary Magdalen Church, Father Patrick J. Caverly performed the double ring nuptial celebration.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman B. Lansverk of Matland. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas J. Mergo of Sanford.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose for her vows a formal satin gown lavishly embellished with seed pearls and re-embroidered lace appliques. A lace and seed pearl headpiece secured her fingertip tulle veil of illusion. She carried a cascade of orchids and holly.

Susan Lansverk served her sister as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Genie Mergo, Patty Mergo and Sylvia Mergo. Each wore a burgundy gown fashioned with a knite pleated skirt topped with a sheer matching cape. Their flowers were cascade arrangements of pink and burgundy flowers.

Mark Canfield served the bridegroom as best man. Groomsman were Norm Weber, John Spolski and Tom Robare.

Leisure Classes Start

All of the following classes begin during the weeks of Jan. 5 and 12. These classes are self-supported by students fees at no expense to the taxpayer.

Aerobic Dance-Exercise—(morning, afternoon and evening classes)—A physical fitness course involving vigorous exercise to music. Different routines are taught with the emphasis on dancing for movement and exercise.

Jazz Dance-Exercise—(morning and evening classes)—Designed to introduce and develop coordination, muscle tone, control, rhythm, and agility, and most of all, an appreciation of music and total concentration, along with enjoyment.

Slim 'N Trim—(morning, afternoon and evening classes)—Designed to increase flexibility, endurance, energy, to release tension, to become more aware of proper diet, to lose inches, and to develop proper posture and breathing habits.

Fitness and figure control—(evening class)—Instruction in ways of improving fitness and appearance through diet and exercise. Each student participates in endurance activities, flexibility exercises and muscle strengthening activities.

Conditioning—(evening class)—Modern day conditioning using the Nautilus equipment. Jogging and calisthenics are also a part of the program.

Aerobics: Cardiovascular Fitness—(afternoon class)—Designed to acquaint the student with the basic functioning of the human cardiovascular system and assist each student in the development of a personal aerobic fitness program, which may include jogging, rope jumping, cycling and swimming.

WOMEN WIN OVER MEN
You'll have to hand it to the women this year. Last year during the holiday season, the Woman's Club of Sanford challenged the Sanford Kiwanis Club in a contest to raise funds by ringing bells and manning the kettles for the Salvation Army. The Kiwanians won by collecting the most money. But this year, the clubwomen wallopped the men by about $30. And everything came up all smiles at the last Kiwanis meeting for Mrs. Walter A. Gielow, left, chairman of the woman's club ringers, Capt. Carl Phillips of the Salvation Army, and Terry Goebel, chairman of the Kiwanis team.

Dooley Trading Sugar Bowl Barbs With Dan Devine

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — As head coach of Notre Dame's Fighting Irish, Dan Devine knows all about barney. And that's exactly what he believes he's getting from Georgia coach Vince Dooley — barney, with a shamrock cluster.

Dooley is trying to convince everyone who will listen that his po' ol' boys from down yonder, even though they are ranked No. 1 in the nation in college football and boast a perfect 11-0 record, don't match up to the behemoths from South Bend, Ind., for Thursday's Sugar Bowl game.

"We have not played a team that is as big or as good as Notre Dame," Dooley said Monday prior to putting his team through a workout. "They are the biggest and best team that we will play."

Dooley also likes to play on that Notre Dame mystique. You know, the traditions of "The Gipper" and "Rock" and "The Four Horsemen."

"Everyone knows of the rich tradition of Notre Dame," said Dooley. "They will always have that. As a kid, I listened to their games and knew of their great players. I am not sure if today's players are worried about mystique, but certainly they are aware of what Notre Dame has meant and means to college football."

Devine, however, believes Dooley's words are just a smokescreen. "I think he's conned our squad, but they've got a couple of days to get unconned," said Devine, who will be coaching his last game at Notre Dame in the Sugar Bowl. "I don't mean he has all our players conned. A team is a complex group of individuals. He may have conned some, but some of the others are not falling for it."

Devine doesn't put much stock in the fact that his club, ranked eighth nationally, has been listed as a slight favorite. Neither does he buy the idea that Notre Dame's rich tradition means much.

"It really doesn't make any difference who is favored," said Devine. "These two teams have a lot of pride, a lot of tradition. Georgia has as much as anyone, including Alabama, and a lot of talented players."

A big question hovering over the Irish is the matter of a starting quarterback for the New Year's Day contest. During the regular season, freshman Blair Kiel and senior Mike Courty shared the position but Devine refused to divulge which of the two would start against the Bulldogs.

The Irish defense, which broke against Southern California in a 20-3 season-ending loss, will be tested even more by Georgia.

Led by freshman All-American Herschel Walker, the Bulldogs are a big-play team. In addition to Walker, who had six touchdowns runs of 60 yards or more this season, the Bulldogs also have a talented quarterback in Buck Belue, who had two touchdown passes of over 90 yards; a standout kicker in All-American Rex Robinson, who kicked four field goals of more than 50 yards; and an exciting defensive back in All-American Scott Woerner, who ran a punt back 87 yards for a touchdown and returned an interception 98 yards in the same game.

MIAMI (UPI) — Oklahoma's game plan against Florida State in Thursday night's Orange Bowl Classic is no secret — run and hold onto the ball.

The run has been Oklahoma's blessing and the fumble has been its burden. In both of the 9-2 Sooners' losses this year, fumbles were a key factor.

But the speed-up wishbone ground attack has carried Coach Barry Switzer's troops to national rankings year after year and this season has averaged 360.1 yards rushing per game.

The Sooners are ranked No. 4 going into the New Year's night game and have high hopes of bowing past Florida State, No. 2, for the second year in a row and gaining the national championship.

With the wishbone, says Switzer, you have to live with the fumble.

"We don't count on fumbling coming into a game. But they don't startle us when they happen, either," he said.

"We put the ball on the ground more than we put it in the air our first five games," Switzer admitted at Monday's Orange Bowl luncheon.

The Sooners fumbled 36 times and lost the ball 21 times to opponents in the first five games. The fumbles hurt in Oklahoma's 31-14 loss to Stanford and 20-13 defeat by Texas.

Orange Bowl fans may remember that Oklahoma turned the ball over to Florida State four times in fumbles last Jan. 1 and still went on to win easily, 24-7. A major reason was the Sooners' defense, which shut down the Seminoles' vaunted passing attack of a year ago.

Although Florida State was undefeated going into its first Orange Bowl game, this time the Seminoles are 10-1 but more balanced. And the Florida State players and coaches, who last year were a bit awed by their first appearance in a major bowl, are more seasoned and eager for revenge and their own shot at the national championship if top-ranked Georgia should bow to Notre Dame in the Sugar Bowl.

College Basketball Roundup

By United Press International
The favorite son of Harrisonburg, Va., jumped Tuesday night, but for Ralph...

Lamp led Virginia, 7-0, with 17 points and Raker added 11 points and 11 rebounds.

At San Diego, Clyde Bradshaw scored 20 points, 12 rebounds and nine assists to help top-ranked DePaul capture its 11th consecutive victory.

At Lexington, Ky., Kentucky recovered from its weekend loss to Notre Dame by running up its highest point total in a season.

At Baton Rouge, La., Willie Sims came off the bench for 10 points and Howard Carter had 18 as LSU raised its record to 9-1.

At Billings, Mont., Texas A&M lost to the second straight night when Calvin Weinberg of Division II, Eastern Montana made a critical steal with five seconds left in overtime in a slowdown game.

At Detroit, Mike McGee's 21 points powered unbeaten Michigan to its eighth victory. Joe Kopicki had 29 points and 18 rebounds for Detroit.

At Honolulu, Kenneth Green scored 21 points and Curtis Glasper had 20 as Pan American sent Indiana to its second loss in less than six minutes to take a stall.

At Iowa City, Iowa, Vince Brooks tossed in 15 points and Kenny Arnold added 12 as the Hawkeyes limbered up after a 10-day layoff.

At Mobile, Ala., South Alabama won the Senior Bowl with Ed Rains scoring 22 points and Rory White 19.

Campbell and Jefferson were named on each of the 56 ballots cast by UPI's panel of writers, four from each conference city.

Joining Campbell in the All-Star backfield were quarterback Brian Sipe, who led Cleveland to its first playoff berth in nine years, and rookie sensation Joe Cribbs of Buffalo at running back.

The receivers included tight end Kellen Winslow, also of San Diego, and New England's Stanley Morgan.

Picked for the offensive line were Marvin Powell of the New York Jets and Leon Gray of Houston at tackle, John Hannah of New England and Joe Delamater of Cleveland at guard and Mike Webster of Pittsburgh at center.

Fred Steinfort of Denver barely edged New England's John Smith by two votes to earn the berth as the kicker.

On defense, Art Still of Kansas City and veteran Lyle Alzado of Cleveland were picked at end and Gary Johnson of San Diego and Fred Smerlas of Buffalo at tackle.

Buffalo's Jim Harlett was chosen as middle linebacker, flanked by Robert Brazile of Houston and Ted Hendricks of Oakland.

The defensive secondary consisted of NFL interception leader Lester Hayes of Oakland and Mike Haynes of New England at cornerback, Pittsburgh's Donnie Shell at strong safety and Gary Barbaro of Kansas City at free safety.

Roy Guy of Oakland was named as the punter.

The overall balance that produced a spectacular finish in the AFC playoff races this season was evident in the voting.

Six teams — Buffalo, Cleveland, Houston, Oakland, New England and San Diego — each had three players selected and two other teams — Pittsburgh and Kansas City — had two players each.

Powell, whose team was 4-12, was the only player chosen to the first unit from a team with a losing record.

Campbell became the second leading single-season receiver with 89 catches, and second-team choice Charlie Joiner to produce the first trio of 1,000-yard pass receivers on an NFL team.

Herbie Knight scored 29 for Flagship Bank. First Federal and Sanford Electric were tied at 18-16 after two periods of play, but First Federal out-scored its opponent 16-8 in the third period, building a lead that Sanford Electric couldn't overcome.

Shedrick Knight paced First Federal with 20 points, all from the floor, and Tim McKinney added 14. Clay Walton scored eight for the winners. Sammy Hill scored 19 and Shea Whigham eight for the losers.

The first half of the season closes this Saturday with two games at the Salvation Army, 700 W. 24th St. Flagship Bank plays First Federal at 9 a.m. and Atlantic Bank tackles Sanford Electric at 10 a.m.

per game. That defense will be tested, however, by Georgia's big-play offense, sparked by freshman All-American Herschel Walker, who had six touchdowns runs of 60 yards or more this season, quarterback Buck Belue, who had two touchdowns passes of over 80 yards, and All-America Rex Robinson, who kicked four field goals of more than 50 yards.

In Dallas, Baylor will be out to avenge an embarrassing 45-0 loss to Alabama in the two teams' only previous meeting. The Bears may very well make a better showing since they now have a proven quarterback in Jay Jeffrey while Alabama is not the overpowering force it was during that 1979 meeting.

Although the game in Pasadena may not determine the national champion, a lot of personal pride is at stake as Michigan coach Bo Schembechler tries to claim his first Rose Bowl victory against 5 losses and Washington's Don James hopes to prove the Huskies earned the berth on merit not by default. Five Pac-10 schools were ineligible for the conference title and post-season play.

March 5: Seeking its third straight Davis Cup, the United States was eliminated by Argentina, which won the American Zone title.

March 14: Fourteen U.S. amateur boxers and eight team officials were killed in the crash of a Polish jetliner near Warsaw.

Garden Ceremony Unites Anne White, S.L. Silver

Anne Bouchele White and Scott Landry Silver were married Dec. 20, at 11 a.m. The Rev. Lefroy D. Soper was the officiating clergyman at the double ring ceremony which was held in the garden at the Garden Lake home of the bride's parents, Dr. and Mrs. William W. White.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Paul Silver of Portland, Maine. Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose for her vows a formal organza silk and Venice lace gown fashioned along the empire silhouette. The high rise bodice which featured a V-neckline was accented with silk Venice lace. The full sheer Bishop sleeves were trimmed in the same lace.

The A-line organza skirt was highlighted with a chantly lace flounce embellished with silk Venice lace. The skirt cascaded into a sweeping chapel train. The bride's headpiece was a wide picture hat trimmed in eucharist lily to match her bridal bouquet. She carried a cascade arrangement of eucharist lily, narcissus and baby's breath.

Catherine White Massey attended her sister as maid of honor. She wore a soft green cotton gown fashioned with wide lace sleeves and a lace bodice. She carried a crescent-shaped bouquet of white chrysanthemums showered with green velvet ribbons. Mark Lawrence Ford of Portland served the bridegroom as best man. Jennifer Cleary Jones, the bride's niece, was the flower girl. The ring bearer was William Earl Higginbotham, the bride's nephew. For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. White wore a mint green dress complemented with a great green Cymbidium orchid corsage.

GARDEN OF THE MONTH

The grounds at the home of Ellen McBratnie, 1101 Cornell Drive were selected by the Jacaranda Circle of the Garden Club of Sanford as the Garden of the Month during December. According to a circle spokesman, the corner lot featuring a camellia area, beds of red ruffe and red wing dwarf azaleas and well cared for fruit trees.

A baggage camel can carry up to 600 pounds on its back and travel 25 miles a day in blinding desert sun.

New Year's Resolutions Geared 'Just For Today'

DEAR ABBY: Last New Year's Eve you published some New Year's resolutions. I cut that column out and taped it on my bathroom mirror where I could read it every morning. I want you to know that it has helped me to become a better person. I am not saying that I am any one of those resolutions every day, but I kept most of them, and they have now become habits that have made a remarkable improvement in my personality and character.

DEAR READER: These New Year's resolutions are based on the original credo of Alcoholics Anonymous: "I have taken the liberty of using that theme with some variations of my own."

Just for today I will try to live through this day only, and not let my feelings drag me down. I will try to overcome all my problems at once. I know I can do something for 12 hours that would appall me if I felt that I had to keep it up for a lifetime.

Just for today I will try to be happy. Abraham Lincoln said, "Most folks are about as happy as they make up their minds to be." He was right. I will not dwell on thoughts that depress me. I will chase them out of my mind and replace them with happy thoughts.

Just for today I will adjust myself to what is. I will face reality. I will try to change those things that I cannot change.

Just for today I will try to improve my mind. I will not be a mental loafer. I will force myself to read something that requires effort, thought and concentration.

Just for today I will do a good deed for somebody — without letting him know it. (If he or she finds out I did it, it won't count.)

Just for today I will do something positive to improve my health. If I'm a smoker, I'll make an honest effort to cut down. If I'm overweight, I'll eat nothing I know is fattening. And I will force myself to exercise — even if it's only walking around the block, or using the stairs instead of the elevator.

Just for today I will be totally honest. If someone asks me something I don't know, I will not try to bluff; I'll simply say, "I don't know."

Just for today I'll do something I've been putting off for a long time. I'll finally write that letter, make that phone call, clean that closet, or straighten out those dresser drawers.

Just for today, before I speak I will ask myself, "Is it true?" "Is it kind?"

Just for today I will be unafraid. I will gather the courage to do what is right and take the responsibility for my own actions. I will expect nothing from the world, but I will realize that as I give to the world, the world will give to me.

P.S. Have a happy, healthy New Year. And pray for peace!

LOVE, ABBY

ARE THESE SYMPTOMS FAMILIAR?

- DEPRESSION • ANXIETY
- VIOLENT MOOD CHANGES, LIKE:

WE MUST BE CALM. THE SAFETY OF THE HOSTAGES IS ALL THAT MATTERS.

I'VE HAD IT! SEND THE MARINES!

YOU MAY BE ONE OF MILLIONS OF AMERICANS SUFFERING FROM SCHIZKHO MENIA

THERE IS NO KNOWN CURE, BUT YOU'VE GOT IT. IT'LL HELP TO KNOW WHAT YOU'VE GOT, AND THAT YOU'RE NOT ALONE.

DADDY, WHAT COMES AFTER THE PRIMARIES?

THE CONVENTIONS.

AND AFTER THE CONVENTIONS?

THE CAMPAIGN.

AND AFTER THAT?

THE ELECTION.

AND WHAT AFTER THAT?

THE INAUGURATION.

AND THEN?

THE DISAPPOINTMENT.

Hostages and Politics Dominated 1980

January

Jan. 4: In response to the Afghanistan invasion, President Carter announced a cutoff of high-technology sales to the Soviet Union, a limitation of fishing privileges, a grain embargo and a deferral of new cultural and economic exchanges. In addition, Carter disclosed on Jan. 20 that the United States would boycott the Moscow Olympics if Soviet troops were not speedily withdrawn from Afghanistan.

Jan. 14: Indira Gandhi returned to power with a landslide victory by her Congress-I party in India's prime ministerial elections. She was her country's prime minister from 1966 to 1977.

Jan. 18: Gold prices soared to $835 an ounce on the London market trading floor, to have been stimulated by concern over Iran, Afghanistan and the United States. President Carter and former U.S. Ambassador George Bush triumphed in the Iowa precinct caucuses, the first electoral contest of the 1980 presidential campaign.

Jan. 28: Posting of Canadian and U.S. Embassy employees in Tehran, Iran, was suspended for two years. The FBI hatched two years surreptitiously videotaped and recorded meetings between public officials — and including agents posing as businessmen offering bribes on behalf of an Arab sheik. Six representatives and one senator were among those eventually indicted in what came to be known as Abacem.

February

Feb. 7: Thirty-three inmates were killed at the New Mexico state penitentiary in one of the worst prison uprisings in U.S. history. No prison employees died during the 30 hours of murder and vandalism.

Feb. 23: It was disclosed that the FBI hatched two years surreptitiously videotaped and recorded meetings between public officials — and including agents posing as businessmen offering bribes on behalf of an Arab sheik. Six representatives and one senator were among those eventually indicted in what came to be known as Abacem.

March

March 1: The United States voted along with the rest of the U.N. Security Council to call upon Israel to dismantle its settlements on the West Bank and Gaza Strip. Two days later, President Carter learned the vote a mistake that had resulted from a "communication failure" within the administration.

March 4: The forces of guerrilla leader Robert Mugabe triumphed in parliamentary elections to select the first black government of Zimbabwe, formerly Rhodesia.

March 13: John Gary was found guilty in Illinois of committing 33 murders more than any other mass killer in U.S. history.

April

April 2: President Carter signed legislation imposing a "windfall profits" tax on the oil industry. The tax, believed to be the largest ever imposed on an industry, was expected to bring in at least $27.7 billion over the next 10 years.

April 3: Banks lifted the prime lending rate to a record 20 percent.

May

May 15: Mazie Anderson and his son, Kris, completed the first balloon flight across the North American continent.

June

June 6: The Senate joined the House in overruling President Carter's veto of a resolution rejecting his proposed oil-import fee, which would have increased gasoline prices by 10 cents per gallon. This was the first time since 1902 that a veto was overridden by a Congress controlled by the president's party.

July

July 12: Suffering from multiple sclerosis, American hostage Richard Queen was released on "humanitarian grounds" by the Iranian captors.

July 14: Billy Carter, the president's brother, registered as an agent of Libya and revealed that he had received $220,000 from that country. In return, the Justice Department agreed not to bring charges against him for failing to report services rendered to the Libyan government since September 1978.

July 16: Ronald Reagan won his party's presidential nomination at the Republican National Convention in Detroit. What little drama occurred at the gathering centered on Reagan's selection of a running-mate; after flirting with former President Gerald Ford, Reagan decided upon George Bush, his chief adversary during the primary campaign.

July 17: The armed forces seized control of Bolivia to prevent the election of a leftist as president.

July 27: Shah Mohammed Riza Pahlavi died in exile in Egypt.

August

Aug. 5: The administration announced a new U.S. nuclear strategy that would give priority to attacking military and political targets in the Soviet Union rather than destroying cities and industrial complexes.

Aug. 13: President Carter won re-nomination at the Democratic National Convention in New York, as did Vice President Walter Mondale on the following day. Sen. Edward Kennedy, Carter's rival for the nomination, signed his candidacy for governor of Massachusetts on the first day of the convention after failing to win a crucial rules fight.

Aug. 25: Independent presidential candidate John Anderson announced his candidacy of Patrick Lucey, the former Democratic governor of Wisconsin, as his running-mate.

Aug. 27: Military strongman Chun Doo Hwan took control of South Korea's civilian government when he was elected president by the country's National Conference of Unification.

Aug. 30: After two months of crippling labor strife, the Polish government gave

September

Sept. 3: The off-again-on-again Middle East peace talks were again following assurances by Israel that it would limit itself to four more settlements on the West Bank.

Sept. 7: Premier Hua Guofeng and several other senior officials resigned in the nation's history books in Miami after the acquittal of four white police officers charged with the fatal beating of a black busman. The rioting left 18 persons dead, more than 300 injured and $100 million in property damage.

Sept. 12: The Turkish military seized power in what was said to be an effort to bring stability to the country.

Sept. 17: Anastasio Somoza Debayle, the Nicaraguan strongman, was expelled from his country, Paraguay.

Sept. 19: A fuel explosion at an underground Titan 2 nuclear-missile silo near Damascus, Ark., killed one Air Force employee and injured 21 others. According to the Air Force, the warhead was ejected from the silo and landed within the secured area of the missile site without causing significant environmental contamination.

October

Oct. 2: War with the potential of spreading throughout the Middle East broke out between Iran and Iraq over sovereignty of the disputed Shat-Ar-Arab waterway dividing the countries.

Oct. 3: Maine voters defeated a proposal to shut down the state's only nuclear power plant. It was the first change on the issue since the 1979 accident at Three Mile Island.

Oct. 2: A Senate subcommittee concluded that President Carter and high administration officials had exercised poor judgment in their handling of Billy Carter's relationship with Libya. However, the subcommittee found no evidence that the president's brother had influenced U.S. policy or that government officials had acted illegally.

Oct. 5: Chancellor Helmut Schmidt's ruling coalition won a majority of seats in West Germany's parliamentary elections.

Oct. 11: Two Soviet cosmonauts returned to Earth after setting a space endurance record of 185 days.

Oct. 17: The Commerce Department reported that the recession was over and was thus the shortest of modern times. As evidence, the department cited the 1 percent rise in the gross national product in the third quarter of the year.

Oct. 19: After 17 years of feuding, the J.P. Stevens Co. and the Amalgamated Clothing and Textile Workers announced a collective bargaining agreement for 10 years.

Oct. 25: The state trooper who pulled over Kennedy's 1979 Jeep became suspicious when he spotted a small, slightly open wooden box inside the vehicle. The box was later found to contain a small amount of marijuana, a spokesman said.

Kennedy and Okun were given summonses charging them with possession of less than 25 grams of marijuana. Under state law, the violation is considered less serious than a misdemeanor, and the spokesman added.

November

Nov. 2: The Iranian parliament approved terms for the release of the 52 American hostages. Those terms were a U.S. pledge not to interfere in Iran's internal affairs, the unfreezing of Iranian assets, the dropping of economic sanctions against Iran and the return to Iran of the wealth of the late Shah.

Nov. 4: Republican Ronald Reagan was elected president by a landslide margin of 40 electoral votes; Reagan took 51 percent of the popular vote to 41 percent for President Carter and 7 percent for independent John Anderson. The Republicans also captured control of the U.S. Senate for the first time in more than a quarter-century.

Nov. 21: Eighty-four people were killed and more than 100 injured in an early-morning fire at the MGM Grand Hotel in Las Vegas.

Nov. 21: An episode of the TV series "Dallas" — which finally answered the question "Who shot J.R.?" — was viewed by more Americans than any other regular-series show in history.

Nov. 23: Italy's worst earthquake in 65 years left some 3,000 people dead and more than 200,000 homeless.

December

Dec. 3: Poland's Communist Party issued a warning that "continuing unrest in leading our homeland to the brink of economic and moral destruction." It was feared that the Soviet Union was preparing to invade Poland, which had been suffering labor protests since summer.

Dec. 4: The bodies of four American women — three Roman Catholic nuns and one lay worker — were discovered in El Salvador. Rightist "death squads," allegedly in league with the military, were blamed for these and most of the nearly 10,000 other political killings reported in that country since Jan. 1, 1981.

Dec. 4: Former Bealle John Lennon was shot and killed at the entrance to his New York City apartment building. Hundreds of thousands gathered throughout the world six days later to honor his memory with silence and song.

Dec. 11: President-elect Reagan began disclosing the names of his Cabinet nominees. Most were categorized as moderate-conservatives.

Dec. 11: President Carter signed a five-year, $1.6 billion bill to clean up toxic waste spills and dumps.

Dec. 15: The state trooper who pulled over Kennedy's 1979 Jeep became suspicious when he spotted a small, slightly open wooden box inside the vehicle. The box was later found to contain a small amount of marijuana, a spokesman said.

Kennedy and Okun were given summonses charging them with possession of less than 25 grams of marijuana. Under state law, the violation is considered less serious than a misdemeanor, and the spokesman added.

July

July 12: Suffering from multiple sclerosis, American hostage Richard Queen was released on "humanitarian grounds" by the Iranian captors.

July 14: Billy Carter, the president's brother, registered as an agent of Libya and revealed that he had received $220,000 from that country. In return, the Justice Department agreed not to bring charges against him for failing to report services rendered to the Libyan government since September 1978.

July 16: Ronald Reagan won his party's presidential nomination at the Republican National Convention in Detroit. What little drama occurred at the gathering centered on Reagan's selection of a running-mate; after flirting with former President Gerald Ford, Reagan decided upon George Bush, his chief adversary during the primary campaign.

July 17: The armed forces seized control of Bolivia to prevent the election of a leftist as president.

July 27: Shah
